

Councilmen Pass Ordinance Regulating Garbage Collection

their regularly scheduled Thursday night, Littlefield City Council passed an ordinance regulating the collection of garbage in the city.

City Manager Jim Blagg noted a special portion of the ordinance which states: "Every owner, occupant, tenant, or leasee using or occupying any building, house or structure within the corporate city limits for a residence, church, school, college, lodge, commercial, industrial business or other purpose shall comply with these requirements: (A) All persons shall be required to use containers provided by the city for garbage and trash disposal. (B) All persons shall be required to first reduce the size of any bulky object before placing it in the container for disposal. Bulky objects shall include, but is not limited to cardboard boxes, paper containers, wooden boxes and crates, and other such objects that can be reduced in size. (C) Lids of all containers shall be kept closed at all times, except when the container is being filled. (D) It shall be unlawful for any person to disturb a sanitation container furnished by the city or to in any way disturb the contents of said container; however, this subsection shall not apply to the owner or occupant of the premises for which such container has been furnished, nor their employees, nor to the duly authorized employees of the city. (E) It shall be unlawful to make a fire or burn any material in a sanitation container, or to paint or mark upon, or to place any poster, placard, or signs upon, or to damage the container in any way. (F) It shall be the duty of every person placing garbage in any container to eliminate as far as possible all water and liquid from such garbage and it shall be unlawful to pour water or any liquid over the garbage. (G) It shall be unlawful to deposit any motor oil or other heavy petroleum base or asphalt base product in any container."

the lease agreement with the owner of the lake, Dr. Wallace of Amarillo, requires that permits be issued, and that several other requirements must be met before the lake could be opened for hunting. Councilmen also considered the cost of keeping someone there as a supervisor during the season.

At the close of the discussion, councilmen decided to study the situation and work up the proper procedures in time for the hunting season next year—and if possible for the last of the season this year.

Jack Christian, Roger White, Ray Wimple and Wayland Carrol appeared before the councilmen to discuss a swine breeding and production operation at the old pork raising site near the airport.

Christian, Wimple and Carrol represented the original SPF producers who went out of business after the large fire at the pork farm, and White represented the Four Star Farms of Brownfield, who are seeking to enlarge their pork production facilities.

White advised that if the company is given the proper options, and for a long enough period of time, the company plans to build a 25'x180' building and make other improvements valued at approximately $100,000.

Current plans are to produce 10,000 pigs per year, when and if the operation goes into effect here.

Councilmen advised all concerned that they would check with the Federal Aviation Agency on specifications that must be met on that property, and attempt to have an answer by the next council meeting date, Thursday, Dec. 5.

Jack Peel, who farms the adjoining city property, appeared to express his concern about the upkeep of the property that would be involved with the pork production. He expressed his concern with weeds that were allowed to grow after the previous operation was closed down.

Water, Inc. Membership Drive Is Underway Here

Workers in the 1974 Water, Inc. Membership Drive have launched an intensive new member campaign in Lamb County. The effort is a part of an area-wide membership drive and is aimed at swelling the regional organization's membership by more than 1,200.

"The theme of this year's membership drive, 'Action Today for Water Tomorrow', is more than an empty phrase," said Kip Cutshall who heads up the campaign in the local area. "Although we in Water, Inc., are doing all that is possible to speed up implementation of the project to import water into the area, the fact remains that a long lead time is required, and if we wait until our wells run dry, it could well be to late," he said.

Water, Inc., activities include work with state and federal agencies, coordination of efforts with other water organizations and public education. Its finances are derived entirely from membership dues. Its membership represents a cross-section of the area it serves (West Texas and Eastern New Mexico) and its activities are directed toward solving future water problems for the entire area.

Working with Cutshall in the local area are Hubert Henry and Paul Carmickle, chairmen for the Littlefield area. Chairmen for the various communities across the county will be named soon.

EDITORIAL

'My Get Up and Go Has Got Up and Went'

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This copy of "My Get Up and Go Has Got Up and Went" was brought to us by Mrs. Katherine Priboth. She says this expresses her sentiments in several ways.)

HOW DO I know my youth is all spent? Well, my get up and go has got up and went!

But in spite of it all, I'm able to grin, when I think of where my get up has been.

Old age is gold, so I've heard said, but sometimes I wonder when I get into bed.

With my ears in the drawer and my teeth in a cup, my eyes on the table until I wake up.

So sleepy, my eyes go to sleep, I say to myself is there anything else I should lay on the shelf.

But I am happy to say as I close the door, my friends are the same, perhaps even more.

When I was young my slippers were red, I could kick up my heels, even over my head.

When I grew older my slippers were blue, but still I could dance the whole nite thru.

Now I'm old my slippers are black, I walk to the store and puff my way back.

The reason I know my youth is all spent, is because my get up and go has got up and went.

But I don't mind when I think with a grin, of all the grand places my get up has been.

And since I've returned from life's competition, my schedules are schedules with complete repetition.

I get up each morning and dust off my wits, pick up the paper and read the obits.

If I see my name missing, I know I'm not dead, so I eat a good breakfast and go back to bed.

Watch That Cough

By DR. J. R. FAIN

IF YOU HAVE a nagging cough or persistent hoarseness it's a good idea to make a doctor's appointment.

If you are a cigarette smoker with a nagging cough or persistent hoarseness, it's an even better idea.

THESE VERY COMMON symptoms can sometimes signal something as serious as lung cancer, and the best way to protect yourself is to learn just what's happening in your body. Will it mean cancer? Probably not—but find out.

As the American Cancer Society says, "It's what you don't know about cancer that can hurt you." By that the ACS means that undetected cancer means untreated cancer and this is a disease that neither gets better nor goes away with the passage of time.

BUT, AS 1,500,000 Americans cured of cancer have learned, chances of cure are best when a cancer patient is treated early in the course of the disease.

So give yourself a chance—give up cigarettes, and, whether or not you smoke, a persistent cough or hoarseness should send you to a doctor.

Do it to give yourself peace of mind if nothing is amiss, and it might save your life if something is.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the seventh and last editorial in a series on the Cancer Warning Signals.)

A Moral Issue

KILLING CATTLE as a protest over inflationary costs and loss of profit has shocked the nation. The design of the protest was to produce such a shock.

The cattlemen who were shooting calves and dumping them in ditches on national television news have achieved at least that purpose.

THE SHOCK centers not only on the sickening sight of calves being shot and dumped into ditches to be covered over by bulldozers. It is also a shock to see a waste of food stuff in a starving world. That waste is going on all the time.

However there is something deeply offensive to humanitarian minded Americans to see it with their own eyes. This is especially true in a world that is knowing hunger like ours is.

Senator Mark Hatsfield has said for instance "The world hunger issue may be the last opportunity for Western Christianity to validate itself."

Christians who understand God's love know that He cares about starving people wherever they are. To see us waste potential food stuff because of economic dislocation is a shocking awakening.

IT IS DIFFICULT for us to understand hunger as it relates to multitudes of people. We also have a hard time having compassion when we can justify by finding flaws in the behavior or character of the person who is hungry.

We shrug our shoulders and somehow tell ourselves they "deserve it." The brutal fact is however that no one deserves it.

A world that can produce the kind of food stuffs we can with our God given potential stands responsible for producing it and distributing it to hungry people.

WE ARE CONFRONTED with a neighbor who has that problem dramatically demonstrated these days. The hurricane in Honduras has left in its wake the destruction of crops, the starvation and malnutrition problem, and the secondary infections that come out of that situation.

The world has responded by pouring resources into Honduras. It is only the beginning. The next several months will determine whether or not thousands more will die in Honduras.

A TEST OF Christian compassion for the people in the Southwestern section of the United States will be whether we understand we are to be our brother's brother in this time of crisis. It is heartwarming to see business men searching for transportation to get seed grain to Honduras for distribution.

It is encouraging to see people traveling across the country to do the deeds of help that need to be done. The rebuilding of houses, ministry of basic medical help, and feeding of people has become a major effort on the part of citizens of all walks of life in our state. The danger is that as the problem recedes from the headlines it will be lost from the minds and hearts of people.

THE BASIC TEST of Christianity is whether compassion and love exists when headlines are not there, when people are not expressing their gratitude for the actions, when we are encountering "underserving" people, and when the task becomes tougher.

The contribution of the insight of Jesus Christ to our world is that men are not valuable for the services they can perform. Men are valuable because God created them and loves them.

THE CHALLENGE to our genius today is to find some way to solve economic dislocations so that a fair profit can be made by the people who are producing the food.

The need for doing this is now before us.

The way to solve the problem is not to shoot calves or burn crops.

THE WAY TO SOLVE it is to find some means of making the growing of food economically feasible and the distribution of food just. To those who feel that these are the tasks only for experts the common people must say no.

It is the task for everyone. Explaining its complexities does not solve its challenge. What is needed is not simply discussion but action. In the mean time someone is dying for the lack of bread.

At one time people believed that every plant bore a sign that told which sort of human disease it cured.

A Woman's View

By PEARL BRANDON

THIS IS Thanksgiving time again. We have come a long way since our forefathers called a little group together to give thanks, back in July of 1623.

It had been a long hard winter, famine, cold and disease had decreased their little company from 120 to 25.

OF THE HANDFUL of women, only five remained. But God was the center of that little company. They lived by the book. Solemnity instead of pleasure marked that day of Thanksgiving.

Thanksgiving day belongs only to America. It is OUR holiday. A holiday like no other in the world, when men pause one day to give thanks to God.

THAT THANKSGIVING day in 1623 gave us a pattern to be repeated over and over.

Here we are 351 years later, a mighty nation—yes, we even call ourselves the strongest nation in the world—with ships on every sea and airplanes flying through the air taking Americans every where in the world.

We have diplomats in almost every nation on earth, we have fought many battles and came out victorious.

NOW WE SEND food and supplies to starving nations. Other people may criticize us and demonstrate against us but they still respect us and court our friendship.

We hear much now of recession and inflation and the stock market is watched by all of us.

WE HAVE GROWN so big and so powerful we are hard to govern, yet we still have our Thanksgiving Day when we pause again to give thanks to the great God above who has led us through many trying times and He will continue to do so if we allow Him to.

I am glad, "In God We Trust," is still our motto.

LET US NOT forget the father of our country when he was still just General George Washington on that cold December day at Valley Forge when he called his men together for Thanksgiving.

As the men knelt in the snow they thanked God for America.

IN SPITE of all the bad news coming in over the news media let us be thankful for America—this golden land of opportunity, where we can breathe free.

We can always find something to be thankful for. I have a dear friend whose sister is slowly dying. I heard her say, "I just thank the Lord every night over and over that my sister isn't suffering."

NONE OF US escape trouble, but there is always lovely things to be grateful for.

With David let us say, "Oh, give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good; His loving kindness continues forever."

HAPPY THANKSGIVING to all of you.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Hold On

By BOB W...

"THESE ARE TIMES that try mens souls" is an observation that has been made many times, in different generations. Sometimes the words have been different, but the conclusion has always been the same; and has been justified.

We live in such times, but this, in itself, should not be alarming. Those who lived before us lived during trying times, and those who will live after us will live in trying times.

IT SHOULD BE very clear to all of us that life is not easy. It is admitted that there are some people who manage better than others, and, for some, the life situation is more favorable; but all of us will be tested and tried.

Even after making allowances for the fact that living is not the same for each person, living is still a time of testing; but there is nothing wrong with this arrangement.

"HOLD ON" IS certainly appropriate exhortation, and is generally expressive of our personal need; the need to be courageous, determined, tenacious; and just as wise and knowledgeable as we can be.

All of this is to be accomplished within the framework of the very best set of values. The better the values we choose for ourselves, the easier it will be to "hold on".

MANY PEOPLE GIVE UP, because they feel completely overwhelmed. They lose their perspective, or perhaps they never did have a proper one. Some of these persons just let themselves decide that "it's not worth the effort".

Their thinking becomes more and more one-sided, and wrong-sided. This is not an inevitable fact for anyone, because we do have a

WE MUST NOT give up, even there may be some fleeting thoughts about doing so. The wise conditioning of our minds, according to the facts, will surely help us to be able to "hold on".

HOMINY GRITS

By CORNBALL BLEVIN

THANKSGIVING is just around the corner, and needless to say, there'll be a good many Scrooges who will be wondering just what it is we have to be thankful for.

We've become so used to griping, that it will be hard for us to be able to fashion a few words of thanks. It would be an entirely new language to us.—Especially when addressed to a total stranger!

WHILE I DO not hold with the idea that once a year is enough to stop and offer thanks to the ALMIGHTY, for His countless blessings, it is nice that our forefathers saw fit to call this obligation to mind at least this often.

I offer that no healthy man who ever walked the surface of this great country, but who had/had plenty to be thankful for. The big trouble we have is being able to recognize our blessings, and realizing where they came from.

GOD'S GIFT of life, love, and should we recognize their significance should be enough to tide us through of the tortures that may beset us.

Like the ad says: "Look up, and see what we've got!"

SEEMS AS THO it's, as always obvious that escapes us.

While most churches knock selves out, tryin' to improve themselves a priest up Colorado way comes up a very simple answer.

Turn Row COMMENTS

By EMIL MACH...

JUST A NOTE OF possible interest to you cattlemen who are putting cattle on wheat pasture.

Many of you have experienced a certain percent of stocker cattle dying each year on wheat pasture, and sort of pass it off as stocker syndrome or just a natural thing.

Some Oklahoma scientists think it's bloat, and there are things you can do about it.

The scientists state that "Wheat Pasture is a hot feed, the forage contains about 24 percent protein, twice as much as a stocker needs. The feed is also low in energy relative to its protein; it is digested rapidly, and it is high in water (70-80 percent). All of these things set the stage for bloat.

The rapid digestion of the feed in the rumen builds up gas. Meanwhile the breakdown of the excess protein can create high levels of ammonia. When more ammonia is produced that can be carried off by the bloodstream, it is believed that the excess may partially paralyze the rumen wall. Belching stops, and movement of feed out of the rumen into the rest of the digestive system slows down. As digestion in the rumen continues, more ammonia and gas are formed complicating the animal's condition.

As a remedy of this bloat, Poloxalene is suggested by the scientists. Poloxalene-based supplements soon be cleared for use on pastures. Even if poloxalene supplements aren't available, there number of ways you can guard against frothy bloat in stockers on pasture. According to the scientists they suggest giving cattle low-moisture hay or sorghum stover to cut down intake of high-protein wheat forage, this especially when the cattle are to overeat especially after a Wheat pasture is more likely to be when it is succulent and growing usually in early November and March. The scientists from Oklahoma state that one thing that cattle need while on wheat pasture is a type protein supplement.

Cattle should have access to a balanced mineral mix that includes calcium and magnesium. Bloat is not the disease as grass tetany or "pasture poisoning" which includes magnesium deficiency, primary in mature cows.

IF THINGS GET TO GOOD, if you can no longer blame circumstances for your character then the mirror your appearance... what this country needs... all you need to entertain some people is listen. Consideration for others is a primary ingredient in the making of a gentleman.

Forum Hears Program On 'Yesterday's Heroes'

November meeting of the Forum was held Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Frank Cummings.

Mrs. Hubert Henry, president, presided for the business meeting. She reminded members that the Musical Toys for Lubbock State School was a continuing project and urged members to bring books of stamps for the purchase of the toys.

One new member, Mrs. Harry Ford, was welcomed into the club. Plans for the Christmas party were discussed and names drawn for a gift exchange.

Mrs. Edward Betts brought the program entitled "Yesterday's Heroes Today", commemorating Americanism and the Bicentennial of our nation.

Mrs. Betts said: "Yesterday's Heroes Today" as the title to a program commemorating Americanism and the Bicentennial of our nation, caused me to wonder about its meaning. The word here, according to "Webster's Dictionary" means "a man admired and emulated for his achievements and qualities... or... 'the central figure in an event or period.'"

"The Hall of Fame for Great Americans was dedicated in 1901. Only 99 heroes of the past have been elected in the 73 years of its existence. One who is elected to the Hall must have been dead for at least 25 years, and he is eligible to have a bronze bust of himself, and a bronze plaque with a quote from him installed in the Hall's national shrine. The Hall is located in Bronx Community College of the City University in New York.

"Since the creation of this first hall of fame, some 300 more have sprung up, including 31 for the greats of sports, alone. However, the original Hall of Fame is the only one for Americans in general. The average American looking over the 99 names would probably agree with most of them.

However, he would have no idea who some of them were, and he would want to argue that there are names missing of many persons more entitled to be honored than some of those included.

"Our nation began with the writing of a Declaration of Independence. A committee was appointed to write the document. On June 28, 1776 the committee presented the finished document to the Second Continental Congress. When a vote was taken, and it looked like a deadlock could not be broken in the Delaware delegation, Caesar Rodney got word of the deadlock vote. Despite his illness, he rode 80 miles on horseback, through a thunderstorm, to break the deadlock.

Mrs. Betts said other "might have been" heroes in America's past were:

William Dawes and Dr. Samuel Prescott who rode with the famous Paul Revere to warn the Minutemen that British troops were coming to Lexington and Concord.

Haym Salomon an immigrant from Poland, was a leading financier in New York. During the years of the war the British arrested him as a spy and condemned him to death. He managed to escape to Philadelphia, where he made loans to the Continental Congress to the amount of $650,000. The debt was never paid.

Robert Fulton is remembered as the one who built the steamboat, but... John Fitch made a trial run of his steamboat on the Delaware River in 1787 and in 1790 with an improved vessel started regular passenger service between Philadelphia and Trenton and other towns along the way.

Dr. William Morton is credited with the discovery of ether as an anesthetic in 1846. But a Georgia physician, Dr. Crawford Williamson Long had been using it in a number of successful operations as early as 1842.

Some "might have been" women in the hall of fame were:

"Ernestine Rose who made a career of battling for human rights. Her free gratis lectures brought pleas for equal rights for women, emancipation of slaves, better pay and working conditions for wage earners, freedom of religion, and public education. This was in 1836.

Jane Addams, child of a wealthy family, purchased a building called Hull House in the slums of Chicago in 1889. She

TURKEY IS TOPS

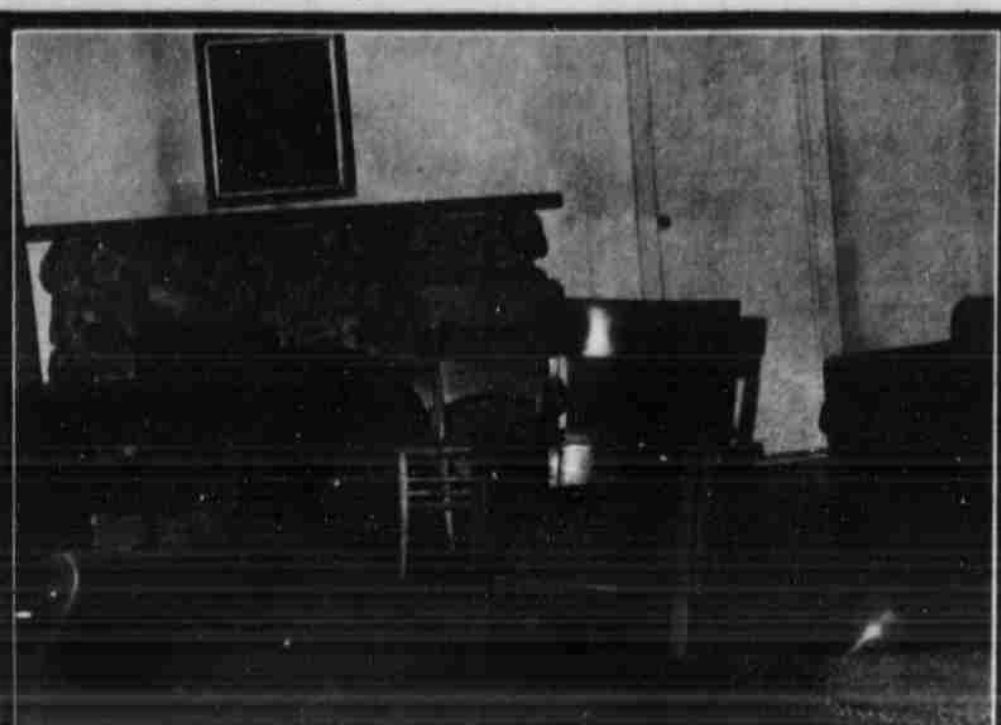

The turkey is an All-American bird, and it's looking its best this year. Turkey offers an excellent value, both in nutrition and in price, contends a poultry specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Turkey is high in protein and low in fats. It is also high in riboflavin and niacin—two important B vitamins. Although turkey is common fare for holiday meals, it deserves more use the year-round.

Study Club Hears Speaker

ANTON— Max Washington, Anton High School principal, was guest speaker for the Anton Study Club meeting Monday night at the home of Mrs. Leon Wooten.

Theme of Washington's address was "Changes in the Educational System in Texas Schools." He discussed the quarter system which has been in operation in the Anton schools three years. The quarter system will be mandatory in all Texas schools for 1975-76. The quarter system allows for students to receive a quarter credit for each quarter's attendance. The current requirements for graduation at Anton High is 61 quarter units.

The quarter system also allows for more flexibility in scheduling classes. An example used by Washington was that Abernathy has 19 courses of study. Other changes in Texas education is pointed to more individualized study and the opportunity for every student to receive a high school diploma. Washington used a group participation exercise on grading to show that many factors enter into decisions on what grade a student should receive.

A moment of silent prayer was observed in memory of Lera Harrington, long time member of the Anton Study Club.

Mrs. Reece Pritchard was elected corresponding secretary.

Mrs. Virginia Hart was elected hospitality chairman.

The CIA meeting Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m. at the High School auditorium was announced.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. S. M. Monroe. It will be a Christmas dinner with gift exchanges. Each member is asked to bring a gift for Girlstown.

Cotton Earns A New Trophy

America's cotton growers went duck hunting this year—and bagged a prize just in time for Thanksgiving.

But "Dirty Duck" won't ever appear on any dinner tables. Its appearance will be around the table—in the garments of American women and girls. "Dirty Duck" is a new 100 per cent cotton fabric created by the product development department of Cotton Incorporated and offered to U.S. textile mills by the company's apparel mill marketing group.

Cotton Incorporated is the marketing and research company representing America's cotton growers.

The new fabric has been adopted by Cone Mills for their spring 1975 line of cloth production. J. Nicholas Hahn, vice president for sales-marketing, said the fabric is a "Natural." "It is based on the 'trashy linen look' that has shown such strong fashion appeal in recent seasons," said Hahn.

He said the fabric has strong possibilities for use in casual suits, sportswear and jeans. Cone Mills ranks among the top ten textile mills in the United States.

Hahn said the development is another direct result of pinpoint marketing efforts by Cotton Incorporated in behalf of U.S. cotton producers.

December Gas Bills To Reflect Reduction

Pioneer Natural Gas Company notified the cities on its West Texas System that the average cost of gas purchased during the month of October was down 2.14 cents from the month of September.

This reduction in the cost of gas for October will be reflected in the bills rendered on the company's West Texas System during the month of December. In the letter of transmittal to the cities on the West Texas General Service rate, Pioneer included some additional information for the mayors and city officials.

During the past few months, several questions have come up regarding Pioneer's cost-of-gas adjustment. The questions reduced themselves into four general categories, and Mr. W.

N. Lampe, company vice president, provided answers to those questions as follows:

Q. Has Pioneer acted prudently in acquiring gas supplies during 1974?

A. We feel we have been prudent and are pleased with the results of the year in the purchase of gas for the West Texas System. An ultimate test of prudence is our complete confidence that any gas purchase contract or group of contracts could easily be assigned to other gas purchasers in Texas on terms satisfactory to Pioneer.
