Checks Keep Coming

Six of seven suspects in the robbery of company checks from L.B. Eady's Hog & Cattle Company and the subsequent forging and passing of several thousand dollars worth of the instruments have been arrested. Of the six subjects taken into custody, three have served from one to four terms each in the penitentiary.

Lamb County Sheriff E.D. McNeese said forged checks totaling $3,590 had come in through mid-afternoon Tuesday and that officials had no idea how many more would turn up.

Othelda (Ted) Williams, 35, of Levelland was arrested Friday on charges of burglary and forgery.

Bond of $2,000 was set for the forgery charge since Williams cooperated with officers in the apprehending of those who passed the checks, McNeese said. Bond on the burglary charge has not been set.

Arthur Lee "Pig" Jones, 34, of Lubbock, remains in the Lamb County jail with bond set at $2,000 on a charge of passing a forged instrument.

BAKER PLUGS HOME TRADE

Chamber Lauds 3 Citizens

Approximately 350 of Littlefield's citizens and their guests rose to standing Saturday night when three of the city's top citizens received the "Man of the Year", the "Farmer of the Year" and the "Citizen of the Year" during the Annual Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Banquet in the High School Cafeteria.

presented the plaques for the "Woman of the Year" and the "Citizen of the Year" to Mrs. Mary Davis and Warren Dayton respectively, and introduced Joe Blevins of the County SCS office, who introduced and presented the "Farmer of the Year" award to Ed Mitchell.

Bob Wear, minister of the Crescent Park Church of Christ, served as master of ceremonies, and kept the program moving with wit and humor.

Decorations for the affair included special "mousetraps" with bold red mice daring to set a toe on the trigger, atop a huge hunk of Swiss cheese. Members of "We, The Women" served as the decorations committee.

Theme of the event, "The Trap Is Set. We Would Like To Catch You!", was carried out in both the decorations and the speaker's message, when he encouraged businesses to set the trap and keep trade and business in Littlefield.

O. William Hayes of Amarillo, management consultant and lecturer, gave his subject the title "How To Keep Your Business In Littlefield," and presented several helpful hints in making improvements in business in order to keep trade.

He began with illustrations in findings revealed by surveys made by his company and emphasized that junk mail is one of the main things that takes money out of the trade area.

Keeping money at home comes largely by "a trait of personality — attitude!" The attitude one has about his business — whether in service or in supplying the products needed — has everything to do with whether the customer comes back.

"Attitude is the name of the game", he emphasized. "You have to have good management to have good help, and good help has the proper attitude."

"Know your products, know your business, and know what people want. It all comes under that heading of attitude," he stressed.

"As business leaders in the community, it is part of your responsibility to see that other people are brought along in positions of leadership," he said. He urged that employers praise their employees once in a while.

"Know the ingredients" of those who represent you to the public — "do they have will and determination?"

He stressed having good communication with employees — "make sure you set a good example for him to follow and pay attention to what he has to say."

"Encourage them (the employees) to never settle for less than they can do, and give them a good word now and then.

"Never take your fellow man for granted — give him identity," he stressed.

E. "Ed" Mitchell was presented the "Farmer of the Year" award.

HONOREES
Winners Serve Others

Community service figured significantly in the choices for the three top honorees at the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Banquet. The "Man of the Year" Warren Dayton has been a Littlefield resident only seven years during that time he has served the community in various phases of public activities. He is currently president of the Rotary Club and has been a member of the board of directors for the Chamber of Commerce for two years, completing a full term and then a full term. He is currently president of the Board of City and has served on the Army board three years and is in his fourth year on the official board of the Methodist Church.

from a boy scout to district chairman. He is district commissioner of the George White District now. Dayton's plans call for fulfilling his many present obligations, continuing work with the scouts, and becoming more active in church work.

The Dayton family moved to Littlefield from Plainview in 1965 when he became district manager of Southwestern Public Service. He is completing his 26th year with SWPS.

WOMAN OF THE YEAR, Mrs. Mary Davis, never has a dull moment with her many outside interests in community betterment. She is 72 years old, but as active as if the numerals are reversed to 27.

Achieve Family Communication

Ever feel like you're just not getting through to someone in your family?

You've got to know how to communicate effectively if you want to be understood and want to understand someone else, according to Jane Fleischer, family life education specialist at Texas A&M University.

"Only as you accurately understand and are understood can you achieve successful interpersonal relationships,"

Miss Fleischer said. "Communication is a processor or a tool. And the degree of success with which we use it helps determine the degree of success achieved in family relationships."

The specialist suggested some ways to improve family communication: "Respect the personality of each person as an individual. Answer the simple, direct questions children ask. Listen to what the person says — both in words and gestures or expressions."

"Try to prevent outbursts of anger and thoughtless remarks. If they do occur, follow with a sincere apology. When disagreements arise, talk them over before the molehill of bickering becomes a mountain of stony silence or an erupting volcano," she suggested.

Miss Fleischer said that each husband and wife and every family member needs to discipline himself in the early stages of anger to avoid any ridicule or nagging. "The opposite of these — thoughtfulness, appreciation, courtesy and gratitude — are like showers on parched land."

Another suggestion Miss Fleischer made for communicating effectively is trying to see things from the other person's viewpoint. "For example, the wife who insists on changing plans for some activity when she sees her husband is tired is a wise wife, indeed. A husband is also wise when he senses that his wife has had a rough day and decides to take her out to dinner."

An additional way to improve communication is to say a considerate word or do some simple thing out of impulsive affection. "Don't put off until tomorrow the thoughtful words you can say today."

"And finally, be as courteous to members of your family as you are to casual acquaintances. Give praise for a sincere effort from the other person; show appreciation for a favor, no matter how small."

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Think Of Others

By BOB WEAR

WE MUST THINK of others, but in order to do this profitably for others and for ourselves, we must think of ourselves. Self-interest is essential to continuing interest in others.

WE MUST THINK of ourselves, because we have our work to do; obligations to meet, self-betterment to be accomplished; and many personal needs to fill.

If these things are not done, we can accomplish very little in thinking of others. When we think of ourselves in a wholesome way, we will be able to think of others in the best possible way.

THINKING OF SELF ONLY soon becomes the most unsatisfactory life style known to mankind. It is even more unsatisfactory to disclaim all interest in mankind. It is even more unsatisfactory to disclaim all interest in self.

This attitude will never produce anything of value for anybody. The only profitable life view is in the maintenance of the necessary interest in self without forgetting others and the opportunities for helping them.

THERE ARE MANY WAYS in which we actually need each other, and can help each other. It may not be as easy to see all of these ways as it was some years ago, but if we adjust our vision so we get a true view, we will see.

Let us learn to think of each other in terms of how we may help and encourage.

WE CAN THINK OF OTHERS while we do justice to ourselves and our legitimate needs. This wise interest in others will be altruistic, but it will also be helpful to us.

We will gain additional strength for living, because we will draw from the strength of those about us.

THERE ARE MANY distractions, but we must not permit these to cause us to forget others.

Genuine thoughtfulness of other people, and how we can help them is good for them and for us.

"HE WHO DOES GOOD to another, does good also to himself, not only in the consequences, but in the very act; for the consciousness of well doing is, in itself, ample reward."—Seneca.

THE JUSTIFIED ESTEEM for our fellowmen is an open door to a broader, richer and fuller way of living. Someone has said that the things we send into the lives of others come back into our own.

This is not the only reason for being thoughtful to others, but it does encourage us.

WE CAN HARDLY SEPARATE wholesome self-interest and wholesome interest in other people.

For example: We can best protect and preserve our rights and privileges by carefully guarding and generously granting to others their rights and privileges.

IN THIS AREA of consideration, somebody must take the initiative. If everybody holds back, waiting for others to make the first move, nothing will be done.

We must not be afraid to make the first move. Of course, we will want to be guided by knowledge and good judgment.

EVERYTHING OF VALUE is a little better when we think of others.

We go around looking for talent scouts for a business. We need to smile! It's the easiest thing in the world to do! We all look younger when we smile, but somehow we're afraid to do it." "Any business in any community grows by keeping what they've got, and going out to get new customers and citizens. The way we lose customers is by taking what we have for granted," he stated. "I've stressed the point that businessmen sometimes lose customers when they are 'pushes' who don't put in any special effort to get what the customer wants — and the customer in turn goes to another city to do his shopping. We don't pay enough attention to other people. Do we know them by name? ... do we know them? It'll cut down on shoplifting if you know the name of everyone who comes in your store. Learn the names and use them and you'll gain respect," he stressed. Student Honor Roll Reinstated At LHS

For the first time in more than five years, LHS has a student honor roll.

"I am very happy and encouraged over the faculty's feeling that our honor roll should be re-activated," Principal Beryl Harris said this week.

"I certainly feel it will be an incentive to the students," he added.

The Court of Honor is made up of students who make all A's, which includes grades ranging from 90-100. These grades are also required in band, PE, choir, and all other academic courses.

The Honor Roll is made up of students who make A's and B's. It is those students who make 85 or better in all courses, including band, PE, choir and all other academic courses.

Both the Court of Honor and Honor Roll include only those students in upper level courses. Those taking any B courses are ineligible.

"The main reason for having the Honor Roll System," says Mrs. Ima Roycroft, counselor, "is to recognize students for academic achievements all during the school year instead of just at the annual honors assembly at the end of the year. 'Of course,' she said, 'We will still have the honors assembly.'"

"We also hope the Honor Roll System will encourage more students to start studying harder so that they will be included on the Court of Honor or Honor Roll," says Mrs. Roycroft.

For the first semester, grades have been averaged and from 103 seniors, one person was named to the Court of Honor and eleven were named to the Honor Roll.

Kathy Turner made the Court of Honor.

Those making the Honor Roll are Cynthia Adair, Larry Birkelbach, Chuck Blevins, Martha Brown, Timmie Campbell, Ralph Funk, Cathy Giles, Bob Grissom, Cindy McNeese, Amy Owens, and Mark Rogers.

For the first semester, from 100 juniors, four persons were named to the Court of Honor and 10 were named to the Honor Roll.

David Barton, Terri Birkelbach, Weldon Culp and Johnny Wimberley made the Court of Honor.

Those who made the Honor Roll were Pam Brandt, Donald Britt, Randy Dayton, Shelly Grant, Jackye Gregg, Larry Hobratsch, Tina Russell, Betty Carol Sanders, Debbie Sorley, and Nato Trejo.

For the first semester, from 156 sophomores, two were named to the Court of Honor and seven were named to the Honor Roll.

Jim Bob Harris and Andy Rogers made the Court of Honor.

Those who made the Honor Roll were Terri Chandler, Carol French, Maurice Gonzales, Larry Lobaugh, Barbara McBride, Bruce Peel, and Pam Turvaville.

He Digs Jesus

By DEBRA McANALLY

He really digs Jesus. David Coates, a newcomer to LHS who transferred here from Big Spring High School, is unique in that he carries a Bible at all times.

David's main hobby is playing the guitar. He really digs embroidery, but he hasn't learned how yet. "Helping people to find reality is a great desire that I have, but I don't think I could call it a hobby," says David.

"I became interested in the Jesus movement when I met Jesus Christ as my personal Savior. Then the Jesus movement was all about me. Everywhere I went people had love, love that comes only from God. I've been interested ever since April 12, 1971. This is when I met Jesus and really found out what life is all about. There's a coffee house in Big Spring called the 'Hidden Manna' that seems to be the focal point for the movement there."

David, a junior, is serious in his commitment to Christ.

"If you're not serious with

DAVID COATES

God, you're just yourself."

Concerning hippie drugs, David comments, "Let's take hippies first. I had them (1 John 2: 10, 11) hundreds of thousands of hippies are turning on to and finding a new way of love hippies the same as everyone else. The black my brother, the white my brother, and so on. Chicano. They all need David believes that if he had Jesus, they wouldn't any 'uppers' to get turned. 'Dope is something the false effect. Personally, Satan has deceived millions people by the effects of it."

Asked how he likes far, he said, "I really dig has a friendly atmosphere lets you meet everybody not too big and not too It's big enough that you can get involved in sports and athletics."

ACT Scheduled Here Feb. 26

The American College Test (ACT) will be given Saturday, Feb. 26, in the Littlefield High School cafeteria at 8 a.m.

Students living here and in surrounding areas who are taking the test should bring two sharpened #2 pencils, and the test center admission blank that was received in the mail.

Students also need high school code numbers, drivers' licenses, and social security numbers before taking the test. The test requires approximately four hours to complete and it will be given by Mrs. Ima Roycroft, high school counselor.

All students taking the ACT are advised to read the booklet that was received in the mail before taking the test. The exam resembles an achievement test and the areas of testing include math, English, social studies, and natural sciences. Students who have already taken ACT have received scores within a month.

Letter To The Editor

What do you say about a 33-year-old man who dies a cruel death, naked as a newborn baby, with sharp stickers in his forehead, dull iron spikes in his feet and hands? He even refuses a sedative that will dull his nerves.

You say that the POW's in the Far East suffer more than that every day. Yeah, some of them die, too, don't they?

Okay—What does my hero have to do with you? Just this: He never did anything to deserve capital punishment.

Do I think that Hitler's Jews deserved the infamous torture they received? No, of course not.

This man's seemingly senseless death had a purpose, unlike most other deaths. His words are stronger than mine, "I have come that you might have life and have it more abundantly. You shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free."

Isn't that beautiful? But this story does not end in a cemetery. Three days after the burial, His close friends came to pay their respects; they found an empty grave!

Honest!
He's alive!
Today!
Now!
You say that is too fantastic to be true?

Look around you. See that person who seems to have a sense of direction in his life? You reckon they might know something that you don't?

Gail Williams.

LHS Student Is Only Girl Paper 'Boy' In Town

By VELVA LEE

The paperboy is a girl. Brown-haired, hazel-eyed, Darla Sanderson is Littlefield's only female paperboy.

Darla, a junior at LHS has two paper routes. For the past four months, she has delivered the Amarillo Globe News and the Fort Worth Star Telegram. When asked how she became interested in delivering papers, Darla says money was her prime object. She had been selling subscriptions to a paper for Mrs. Gene Williams, when Mrs. Williams asked her if she would like to take over a paper route. Darla began her paper routes in September; in October she signed a contract making the routes hers.

Darla starts her day at six a.m. The papers for her routes are delivered by the mail truck at 6:15 a.m. Her paper routes start from the post office and she covers most of Littlefield in an hour.

Delivering papers isn't always an easy job. It does entail some hard work. After the papers arrive, Darla notes that they must be rolled and in wet or rainy weather each paper is wrapped in plastic to keep it dry. Once a month, Darla collects from the subscribers on her routes.

The job does have its difficulties. Darla says she's been chased by a dog, been stuck in the snow and has run out of gas while on the job.

Darla enjoys meeting people and she says:

"I like being the only girl paper boy in town."

She is also participating in a contest sponsored by one of the papers she delivers. A $500 prize goes to the paper boy, or girl, who sells the most subscriptions between January and March.

Darla is a member of band, choir, The Velvet Sounds, the Business Club and the Spanish Club. Her hobbies include collecting coins and stamps. She also plays the piano, cooks, and loves to go shopping.

When asked what her future plans are for continuing her paper routes, Darla said that she will deliver papers until she is ready to start college.

She also said she wouldn't mind having a paper route when she's in college.

Teacher Enjoys Sewing As Change From Routine

By CAROL CHISHOLM

Believe it or not, English teachers are human, too.

Mrs. Irene Lynn, senior English teacher, is proof of this. She has favorite hobbies such as reading, ceramics and sewing, just like everyone else.

Mrs. Lynn says that she started sewing later in her life. She did not receive training from a home economics teacher at school or from her mother at home. Instead, she taught herself after she married and after her daughter's first birthday.

Mrs. Lynn thinks of sewing as a hobby although she finds that sewing her own clothes is much easier than buying them. She sewed for her daughter until she married and moved to Ohio. She now sews for her one-year-old granddaughter.

"Everyone needs interest in something other than the routine of the usual workaday world," she said. "I find mine in sewing — an activity that is both relaxing and profitable."

Mrs. Lynn notes that she does not always follow a pattern. She has become creative by mixing two or more patterns to fit the effect she wants. She sews mostly casual styles, but she is very versatile and has made formal for her daughter's high school proms.

This tall, attractive, silver-haired lady has taught at Littlefield for 20 years. Before coming to Littlefield, she taught for four years at Bula. She is a wife, mother, a grandmother, and a talented, creative person.

And for those who are sweating out senior English, it is certainly fact, not fiction, that she is much more than a sew-sew English teacher.

LHS SPEAKS OUT

Grading System

A few students at LHS were asked to give their opinions on the current grading system with five letters contrasted with "P" for passing and "F" for failing. Here are a few of the students who gave their opinions:

BRENT WHITEAKER, senior — "It doesn't bother me like it is, but I think they should lower the passing grade to 65."

CAROL SANDERS, junior — "P for passing because grades aren't what is important. It is what you learn. Besides, P on a report card would be a lot easier to explain than a "D."

CARMEN MORENO, sophomore — "I would rather have five letter grades."

CLARA MORGAN, sophomore — "Five letter grades."

DIANNE MILLIGAN, sophomore — "The letter grades because parents wouldn't know if it was a high P or a high F. If it were a high P they wouldn't know how high or low."

BARBARA KEMP, sophomore — "I prefer the five letter grades and I might stand a chance!"

DENESE McCURRY, junior — "Good grief, no! I'd surely dislike the P and F system. Some kids get into trouble with their parents as it is."

MARY ELIZABETH SHOTWELL, junior — "I think that P for passing and F for failing would be a much more satisfactory system. This would eliminate the pressure on each student for good grades."

RUSSELL TURNER, senior — "P for passing F for failing with F starting at 60."

DANNY ESTRADA, senior — "I'd rather have the P's and F's

so I won't have to wonder a lot."

DEBBIE CROSBY, sophomore — "I would rather have P for passing, so if you made a "D" your parents wouldn't know."

JOHNNY PRENTICE, junior — "I like the five letter system because you know then where you are in your class of grades. The five letter grading system lets you know how you are passing your grades."

DANNY CUSHION, sophomore — "I would rather have what we have now because you can tell how you stand." MICHAEL CARTER, senior — "I am not sure if I like the idea of grades."

R. V. ARMSTRONG, junior — "I would rather have our present grading system but we should change it to 100-90 (A), 90-80 (B), 80-70 (C), 70-60 (D), and below 60 (F)."

TINA RUSSELL, junior — "No, my parents put too much emphasis on my making an A. They gripe if the grade is below an A even though a C is average."

CHARLOTTE JENNINGS, senior — "I like the five letter grades although the P and F would have its good points."

JIM HALL, senior — "I'd rather have our current grading system because this way you can tell how high or low your grades are and get a better idea of what you, yourself, need to do with your grades."

MATT GILES, senior — "I could care less."

One Arrested Cases Checked

City police arrested an adult male Sunday morning, and charged him with leaving the scene of an accident. He was tried Monday morning, fined and released.

Police are investigating an attempted breaking and entering case, and a case of theft and ransacking.

Public school officials reported to police that buses parked at the school bus barn were entered through the back doors sometime during the weekend, and that first aid kits were strewn about each bus. Some of the kits were taken from the buses.

A citizen reported that two subjects attempted to enter his residence through the back door early Monday morning. No damage was done.

WTSU Student Travels To France, Switzerland

Randy Lyles recently completed the Christmas holidays with a ski trip to Cowichevel, France and Geneva, Switzerland.

Two Injured, Car Totaled In Wreck

Both persons involved in a one-car turnover two miles west of Sudan about 2 o'clock Sunday morning were treated for injuries at the Amherst hospital, and the car was a total loss. Byron Dean West of Brownfield was driving and Tony Reasoner of Hobbs, N. M. was a passenger in the late model sports car. According to the investigating officer, the car came up on the curve on FM 298 too fast, hit the right shoulder and overturned one time.

Randy left for Houston on Monday, after Christmas to join other college students on the European trip. The agenda included eight days of skiing in Cowichevel, France. The resort town is situated at 6,105 feet in the center of snowfields. Randy participated in a giant slalom race with an awards party scheduled in the evening hours. The party was complete with awards, and trophies. The next day Randy skied at La Plange, then departed for Paris, where he expected to shop and sight see before returning to Canyon for the spring semester at WTSU.

Randy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rory Lyles of Canyon and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Vergil Fields of Littlefield.

6 Jailed In Forgeries,
Checks Keep Coming

Six of seven suspects in the robbery of company checks from L.B. Eady's Hog & Cattle Company and the subsequent forging and passing of several thousand dollars worth of the instruments have been arrested. Of the six subjects taken into custody, three have served from one to four terms each in the penitentiary.

Lamb County Sheriff E.D. McNeese said forged checks totaling $3,590 had come in through mid-afternoon Tuesday and that officials had no idea how many more would turn up.

Othelda (Ted) Williams, 35, of Levelland was arrested Friday on charges of burglary and forgery.

Top Players
In Concert

Eighteen Littlefield High School Wildcat Band members joined 121 other band students from B, A and AA schools, and eight Junior High School Band members joined their 113 junior high counterparts in an all-region concert Saturday night.

Arthur Lee "Pig" Jones, 34, of Lubbock, remains in the Lamb County jail with bond set at $2,000 on a charge of passing a forged instrument.

Chamber Lauds 3 Citizens

ceremonies, and kept the program moving with wit and humor.

LITTLEFIELD'S OUTSTANDING CITIZENS were honored Saturday night at the Annual Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Banquet, and guests heard an internationally known lecturer and management consultant speak on keeping business in Littlefield.

Decorations for the affair included special "mousetraps" with bold red mice daring to set a toe on the trigger, atop a huge hunk of Swiss cheese. Members of "We, The Women" served as the decorations committee.

Theme of the event, "The Trap Is Set. We Would Like To Catch You!", was carried out in both the decorations and the speaker's message, when he encouraged businesses to set the trap and keep trade and business in Littlefield.

O. William Hayes of Amarillo, management consultant and lecturer, gave his subject the title "How To Keep Your Business In Littlefield," and presented several helpful hints in making improvements in business in order to keep trade.

He began with illustrations in findings revealed by surveys made by his company and emphasized that junk mail is one of the main things that takes money out of the trade area.

Keeping money at home comes largely by "a trait of personality — attitude!" The attitude one has about his business — whether in service or in supplying the products needed — has everything to do with whether the customer comes back.

"Attitude is the name of the game," he emphasized. "You have to have good management to have good help, and good help has the proper attitude."

"Know your products, know your business, and know what people want. It all comes under that heading of attitude," he stressed.

"As business leaders in the community, it is part of your responsibility to see that other people are brought along in positions of leadership," he said. He urged that employers praise their employees once in a while.

"Know the ingredients" of those who represent you to the public — "do they have will and determination?"

He stressed having good communication with employees — "make sure you set a good example for him to follow and pay attention to what he has to say."

"Encourage them (the employees) to never settle for less than they can do, and give them a good word now and then."

"Never take your fellow man for granted — give him identity," he stressed.

Honorees
Winners Serve Others

Community service figured significantly in the choices for the three top honorees at the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Banquet.

Warren Dayton has Littlefield resident only seven years but during that time he has served actively in various phases of community activities. He is currently president of the Rotary Club and has been a member of the board of directors for the Chamber of Commerce for two years, completing an eight-year term and then a full term. He is also a member of the Board of City Commissioners, has served on the Army board three years and is in his fourth year on the official board of the Methodist Church.

WOMAN OF THE YEAR, Mrs. Mary Davis, never has a dull moment with her many outside interests in community betterment. She is 72 years old, but as active as if the numerals are reversed to 27.

Mrs. Davis is the charter president for the Littlefield Methodist Church.

Congressman Mahon made his announcement in Washington Tuesday that he will be a candidate for re-election in the congressional district which includes Lamb County.

Meanwhile, candidates have until Monday, Feb. 7, to file.

Those who had filed on the Democratic ticket through the first part of the week include James H. Whiteside, state board of education; Jack Young, district attorney; Bill Clayton, state representative; E. L. Yarbrough, Justice of peace precinct 6; Jack Peel, commissioner of precinct 3; E. D. McNeese, sheriff; A. J. Spain, commissioner of precinct 1; Max Sherman, state senator; and George Mahon, congressman 19th district.

Collection of filing fees under the new ruling is considered contempt of court.

Area county Democrats have adopted plans for donating what they would have paid in filing fees to pay for the cost of printing the ballots and other expenses.

The filing deadline for these offices are several months ahead of the official election date in November and almost a year ahead of assumption of the offices on Jan. 1, 1973.

Tax Collector Dunn said Tuesday he wouldn't mind donating a "reasonable" fee. Wilkinson said it is possible volunteers may have to hold the elections. There is some talk of cutting down the number of voting precincts and the number of personnel. Dunn pointed out that three persons spent 11 hours each holding the recent water district election in which only 21 persons voted.

In school board elections this year, the filing deadlines are 30 days prior to the election. Winning candidates generally take office at the next meeting of the governing body following the election.

School board members are elected for three-year terms, and three places are expiring on the Littlefield board. Terms of Wayne Streety, Werner Birkelbach and Bob Roden are ending. Streety moved out of the district and no appointment was named to complete his term. Birkelbach is completing his third three year term and said he did not plan to seek re-election. Roden is acting president of the board and is completing his first term. No one had filed at press time Wednesday.

Workers will begin contacting businesses Friday, and about 10 other workers are needed to make the contacts. The door-to-door drive will be conducted in March.

Lloyd Champion is serving as the other co-chairman on the business drive.

Financing for the Littlefield Girl Scout program comes primarily from donations of the citizens and businesses in Littlefield.

GIRL SCOUT officers make final plans for the Annual Girl Scout Fund Drive, which begins Friday with a kickoff coffee at the Girl Scout Hut at 8 a.m. Sorting cards are Joan Harrell, secretary; and co-chairmen, Lloyd Champion and Larry Sanderson.

File Date Near,
No Vote Funds

Mahon is unopposed thus far, and at press time none of the candidates on the Democratic ticket had filed an opponent.

Others whose terms are expiring this year and who have not yet filed are County Attorney Curtis Wilkinson; Herbert Dunn, tax assessor-collector; G. W. Finney, Justice of peace precinct 1 at Olton; and Ted Borum, JP of the Earth precinct.

Wilkinson and Dunn said they had not previously filed because of the uncertainty of the filing fees. The filing fee system was outlawed last week.

Achieve Family Communication

Ever feel like you're just not getting through to someone in your family?

You've got to know how to communicate effectively if you want to be understood and want to understand someone else, according to Jane Fleischer, family life education specialist at Texas A&M University.

"Only as you accurately understand and are understood can you achieve successful interpersonal relationships,"

Miss Fleischer said. "Communication is a processor or a tool. And the degree of success with which we use it helps determine the degree of success achieved in family relationships."

The specialist suggested some ways to improve family communication: "Respect the personality of each person as an individual. Answer the simple, direct questions children ask. Listen to what the person says — both in words and gestures or expressions."

"Try to prevent outbursts of anger and thoughtless remarks. If they do occur, follow with a sincere apology. When disagreements arise, talk them over before the molehill of bickering becomes a mountain of stony silence or an erupting volcano," she suggested.

Miss Fleischer said that each husband and wife and every family member needs to discipline himself in the early stages of anger to avoid any ridicule or nagging. "The opposite of these — thoughtfulness, appreciation, courtesy and gratitude — are like showers on parched land."

Another suggestion Miss Fleischer made for communicating effectively is trying to see things from the other person's viewpoint. "For example, the wife who insists on changing plans for some activity when she sees her husband is tired is a wise wife, indeed. A husband is also wise when he senses that his wife has had a rough day and decides to take her out to dinner."

An additional way to improve communication is to say a considerate word or do some simple thing out of impulsive

affection. "Don't put off until tomorrow the thoughtful words you can say today."

"And finally, be as courteous to members of your family as you are to casual acquaintances. Give praise for a sincere effort from the other person; show appreciation for a favor, no matter how small."

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Think Of Others

By BOB WEAR

WE MUST THINK of others, but in order to do this profitably for others and for ourselves, we must think of ourselves. Self-interest is essential to continuing interest in others.

WE MUST THINK of ourselves, because we have our work to do; obligations to meet, self-betterment to be accomplished; and many personal needs to fill.

If these things are not done, we can accomplish very little in thinking of others. When we think of ourselves in a wholesome way, we will be able to think of others in the best possible way.

THINKING OF SELF ONLY soon becomes the most unsatisfactory life style known to mankind. It is even more unsatisfactory to disclaim all interest in mankind. It is even more unsatisfactory to disclaim all interest in self.

This attitude will never produce anything of value for anybody. The only profitable life view is in the maintenance of the necessary interest in self without forgetting others and the opportunities for helping them.

THERE ARE MANY WAYS in which we actually need each other, and can help each other. It may not be as easy to see all of these ways as it was some years ago, but if we adjust our vision so we get a true view, we will see.

Let us learn to think of each other in terms of how we may help and encourage.

WE CAN THINK OF OTHERS while we do justice to ourselves and our legitimate needs. This wise interest in others will be altruistic, but it will also be helpful to us.

We will gain additional strength for living, because we will draw from the strength of those about us.

THERE ARE MANY distractions, but we must not permit these to cause us to forget others.

Genuine thoughtfulness of other people, and how we can help them is good for them and for us.

"HE WHO DOES GOOD to another, does good also to himself, not only in the consequences, but in the very act; for the consciousness of well doing is, in itself, ample reward."—Seneca.

THE JUSTIFIED ESTEEM for our fellowmen is an open door to a broader, richer and fuller way of living. Someone has said that the things we send into the lives of others come back into our own.

This is not the only reason for being thoughtful to others, but it does encourage us.

WE CAN HARDLY SEPARATE wholesome self-interest and wholesome interest in other people.

For example: We can best protect and preserve our rights and privileges by carefully guarding and generously granting to others their rights and privileges.

IN THIS AREA of consideration, somebody must take the initiative. If everybody holds back, waiting for others to make the first move, nothing will be done.

We must not be afraid to make the first move. Of course, we will want to be guided by knowledge and good judgment.

EVERYTHING OF VALUE is a little better when we think of others.

the XYZ Club which stands for X-tra Years of Zest. She helped establish and headed the Littlefield Hospital Auxiliary, and spends one day a week doing volunteer work for the organization. She teaches an adult women's Sunday school class at the First Christian Church.

She taught in public schools for 33 1/2 years and was a governess over a year, but retirement from her profession was not retirement from service. She has always liked to keep the homefires burning and still cooks, cans, and gardens.

Before moving to the South Plains, the late Mr. Davis stock farmed at Eldorado. After selling out, he took up bartering again, and they moved to Lubbock for a time before settling in Littlefield in 1951. Mrs. Davis has always enjoyed working. Her first job was keeping books at her dad's grocery store. In the late 30's she sent community news in to the San Angelo paper. After coming to Littlefield she taught school 14 1/2 years.

FARMER OF THE YEAR, W. E. "Ed" Mitchell was on the Soil and Water Conservation District board when the Running Water Draw shed project started. He has been interested in conservation measures for many years. He sees the transportation of water into West Texas as the only measure left to keep this part of the country from going back to dry land production.

Mitchell keeps his farming interests small to give him more time for working on conservation and community projects. The Lamb County SWCD is entering Mitchell as Outstanding Lamb County Farmer in the annual Texas Conservation Awards Program. He is picked for this honor on his conservation work and missionary work on the program.

Mitchell owns 160 acres three miles north and four miles east of Spade. He put down his first irrigation well in 1949 and added a second in 1964. He waters from underground tile to conserve water that is dropping three feet each year.

Student Honor Roll Reinstated At LHS

For the first time in more than five years, LHS has a student honor roll.

"I am very happy and encouraged over the faculty's feeling that our honor roll should be re-activated," Principal Beryl Harris said this week.

"I certainly feel it will be an incentive to the students," he added.

The Court of Honor is made up of students who make all A's, which includes grades ranging from 90-100. These grades are also required in band, PE, choir, and all other academic courses.

The Honor Roll is made up of students who make A's and B's. It is those students who make 85 or better in all courses, including band, PE, choir and all other academic courses.

Both the Court of Honor and Honor Roll include only those students in upper level courses. Those taking any B courses are ineligible.

"The main reason for having the Honor Roll System," says Mrs. Ima Roycroft, counselor, "is to recognize students for academic achievements all during the school year instead of just at the annual honors assembly at the end of the year."

"We also hope the Honor Roll System will encourage more students to start studying harder so that they will be included on the Court of Honor or Honor Roll," says Mrs. Roycroft.

For the first semester, grades have been averaged and from 103 seniors, one person was named to the Court of Honor and eleven were named to the Honor Roll.

Kathy Turner made the Court of Honor.

Those making the Honor Roll are Cynthia Adair, Larry Birkelbach, Chuck Blevins, Martha Brown, Timmie Campbell, Ralph Funk, Cathy Giles, Bob Grissom, Cindy McNeese, Amy Owens, and Mark Rogers.

For the first semester, from 100 juniors, four persons were named to the Court of Honor and 10 were named to the Honor Roll.

David Barton, Terri Birkelbach, Weidon Culp and Johnny Wimberley made the Court of Honor.

Those who made the Honor Roll were Pam Brandt, Donald Britt, Randy Dayton, Shelly Grant, Jackye Gregg, Larry Hobratchk, Tina Russell, Betty Carol Sanders, Debbie Sorley, and Nato Trejo.

For the first semester, from 156 sophomores, two were named to the Court of Honor and seven were named to the Honor Roll.

Jim Bob Harris and Andy Rogers made the Court of Honor.

Those who made the Honor Roll were Terri Chandler, Carol French, Maurice Gonzales, Larry Lobaugh, Barbara McBride, Bruce Peel, and Pam Turvaville.

NEW STUDENT

He Digs Jesus

By DEBRA McANALLY

He really digs Jesus. David Coates, a newcomer to LHS who transferred here from Big Spring High School, is unique in that he carries a Bible at all times.

David's main hobby is playing the guitar. He really digs embroidery, but he hasn't learned how yet. "Helping people to find reality is a great desire that I have, but I don't think I could call it a hobby," says David.

"I became interested in the Jesus movement when I met Jesus Christ as my personal Savior. Then the Jesus movement was all about me. Everywhere I went people had love, love that comes only from God. I've been interested ever since April 12, 1971. This is when I met Jesus and really found out what life is all about. There's a coffee house in Big Spring called the 'Hidden Manna' that seems to be the focal point for the movement there."

David, a junior, is serious in his commitment to Christ.

"If you're not serious with

DAVID COATES

God, you're just kidding yourself."

Concerning hippie drugs, David comments, "Let's take hippies first. I'm a Christian (1 John 2:10, 11). Hundreds of thousands of hippies are turning on and finding a new way of life. Love hippies the same as everyone else. The black man, my brother, the white man, the Chicano. They all need love. David believes that if he had Jesus, they wouldn't need any 'uppers' to get high. "Dope is something that has a false effect. Personally, Satan has deceived millions of people by the effects of it."

Asked how he likes Littlefield, he said, "I really dig it. It has a friendly atmosphere. It's not too big and not too small. It's big enough that we can get involved in sports and athletics."

ACT Scheduled Here Feb. 26

The American College Test (ACT) will be given Saturday, Feb. 26, in the Littlefield High School cafeteria at 8 a.m.

Students living here and in surrounding areas who are taking the test should bring two sharpened #2 pencils, and the test center admission blank that was received in the mail.

Students also need high school code numbers, drivers' licenses, and social security numbers before taking the test. The test requires approximately four hours to complete and it will be given by Mrs. Ima Roycroft, high school counselor.

All students taking the ACT are advised to read the booklet that was received in the mail before taking the test. The exam resembles an achievement test and the areas of testing include math, English, social studies, and natural sciences. Students who have already taken ACT have received scores within a month.

Teacher Enjoys Sewing As Change From Routine

By CAROL CHISHOLM

Believe it or not, English teachers are human, too.

Mrs. Irene Lynn, senior English teacher, is proof of this. She has favorite hobbies such as reading, ceramics and sewing, just like everyone else.

Mrs. Lynn notes that she does not always follow a pattern. She has become creative by mixing two or more patterns to fit the effect she wants. She sews mostly casual styles, but she is very versatile and has made formal for her daughter's high school proms.

"Everyone needs interest in something other than the routine of the usual workaday world," she said. "I find mine in sewing — an activity that is both relaxing and profitable."

Mrs. Lynn says that she started sewing later in her life. She did not receive training from a home economics teacher at school or from her mother at home. Instead, she taught herself after she married and after her daughter's first birthday.

Mrs. Lynn thinks of sewing as a hobby although she finds that sewing her own clothes is much easier than buying them. She sewed for her daughter until she married and moved to Ohio. She now sews for her one-year-old granddaughter.

This tall, attractive, silver-haired lady has taught at Littlefield for 20 years. Before coming to Littlefield, she taught for four years at Bula. She is a wife, mother, a grandmother, and a talented, creative person.

And for those who are sweating out senior English, it is certainly fact, not fiction, that she is much more than a sew-sew English teacher.

LHS Student Is Only Girl Paper 'Boy' In Town

By VELVA LEE

The paperboy is a girl. Brown-haired, hazel-eyed, Darla Sanderson is Littlefield's only female paperboy.

Darla, a junior at LHS has two paper routes. For the past four months, she has delivered the Amarillo Globe News and the Fort Worth Star Telegram. When asked how she became interested in delivering papers, Darla says money was her prime object. She had been selling subscriptions to a paper for Mrs. Gene Williams, when Mrs. Williams asked her if she would like to take over a paper route. Darla began her paper routes in September; in October she signed a contract making the routes hers.

Darla starts her day at six a.m. The papers for her routes are delivered by the mail truck at 6:15 a.m. Her paper routes start from the post office and she covers most of Littlefield in an hour.

Delivering papers isn't always an easy job. It does entail some hard work. After the papers arrive, Darla notes that they must be rolled and in wet or rainy weather each paper is wrapped in plastic to keep it dry. Once a month, Darla collects from the subscribers on her routes.

The job does have its difficulties. Darla says she's been chased by a dog, been stuck in the snow and has run out of gas while on the job.

Darla enjoys meeting people and she says:

"I like being the only girl paper boy in town."

She is also participating in a contest sponsored by one of the papers she delivers. A $500 prize goes to the paper boy, or girl, who sells the most subscriptions between January and March.

Darla is a member of band, choir, The Velvet Sounds, the Business Club and the Spanish Club. Her hobbies include collecting coins and stamps. She also plays the piano, cooks, and loves to go shopping.

When asked what her future plans are for continuing her paper routes, Darla said that she will deliver papers until she is ready to start college.

She also said she wouldn't mind having a paper route when she's in college.

Letter To The Editor

What do you say about a 33-year-old man who dies a cruel death, naked as a newborn baby, with sharp sticks in his forehead, dull iron spikes in his feet and hands? He even refuses a sedative that will dull his nerves.

You say that the POW's in the Far East suffer more than that every day. Yeah, some of them die, too, don't they?

Okay—What does my hero have to do with you? Just this: He never did anything to deserve capital punishment.

Do I think that Hitler's Jews deserved the infamous torture they received? No, of course not.

This man's seemingly senseless death had a purpose, unlike most other deaths. His words are stronger than mine, "I have come that you might have life and have it more abundantly. You shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free."

Isn't that beautiful?

But this story does not end in a cemetery. Three days after the burial, His close friends came to pay their respects; they found an empty grave!

Honest!
He's alive!
Today!
Now!

You say that is too fantastic to be true?

Look around you. See that person who seems to have a sense of direction in his life?

You reckon they might know something that you don't?

Gail Williams.

LHS SPEAKS OUT

Grading System

A few students at LHS were asked to give their opinions on the current grading system with five letters contrasted with "P" for passing and "F" for failing. Here are a few of the students who gave their opinions:

BRENT WHITEAKER, senior — "It doesn't bother me like it is, but I think they should lower the passing grade to 65."

CAROL SANDERS, junior — "P for passing because grades aren't what is important. It is what you learn. Besides, P on a report card would be a lot easier to explain than a "D."

CARMEN MORENO, sophomore — "I would rather have five letter grades."

CLARA MORGAN, sophomore — "Five letter grades."

DIANNE MILLIGAN, sophomore — "The letter grades because parents wouldn't know if it was a high P or a high F. If it were a high P they wouldn't know how high or low."

BARBARA KEMP, sophomore — "I prefer the five letter grades and I might stand a chance!"

DENESE MCCURRY, junior — "Good grief, no! I'd surely dislike the P and F system. Some kids get into trouble with their parents as it is."

MARY ELIZABETH SHOTWELL, junior — "I think that P for passing and F for failing would be a much more satisfactory system. This would eliminate the pressure on each student for good grades."

RUSSELL TURNER, senior — "P for passing F for failing with F starting at 60."

DANNY ESTRADA, senior — "I'd rather have the P's and F's"

so I won't have to wonder a lot."

DEBBIE CROSBY, sophomore — "I would rather have P for passing, so if you made a "D" your parents wouldn't know."

JOHNNY PRENTICE, junior — "I like the five letter system because you know then where you are in your class of grades. The five letter grading system lets you know how you are passing your grades."

DANNY CUSHION, sophomore — "I would rather have what we have now because you can tell how you stand."

MICHAEL CARTER, senior — "I am not sure if I like the idea of grades."

R. V. ARMSTRONG, junior — "I would rather have our present grading system but we should change it to 100-90 (A), 90-80 (B), 80-70 (C), 70-60 (D), and below 60 (F)."

TINA RUSSELL, junior — "No, my parents put too much emphasis on my making an A. They gripe if the grade is below an A even though a C is average."

CHARLOTTE JENNINGS, senior — "I like the five letter grades although the P and F would have its good points."

JIM HALL, senior — "I'd rather have our current grading system because this way you can tell how high or low your grades are and get a better idea of what you, yourself, need to do with your grades."

MATT GILES, senior — "I could care less."

One Arrested Cases Checked

City police arrested an adult male Sunday morning, and charged him with leaving the scene of an accident. He was tried Monday morning, fined and released.

Police are investigating an attempted breaking and entering case, and a case of theft and ransacking. Public school officials reported to police that buses parked at the school bus barn were entered through the back doors sometime during the weekend, and that first aid kits were strewn about each bus. Some of the kits were taken from the buses.

A citizen reported that two subjects attempted to enter his residence through the back door early Monday morning. No damage was done.
