A HUGE PROBLEM to the city and to private property owners these days is the carpet of six-foot and taller weeds that have been boosted by more than 19 inches of rain the past few months (up to 24 inches in some areas.)

Proposed Rate Cut Not Too Significant

Recently proposed statewide lowering of automobile insurance rates will show up in the form of small cuts on certain classes, and the possibility of raises in other cases, according to local insurance agents.

Lamb County policy holders will see very little effect on their policy rates, and most agents have indicated that the 11 per cent figure which is being headlined is misleading.

One agent stated that his information was concerned mostly with generalities—and no specifics—and that the final rate figures are yet to come.

Most agencies agree that this area would probably receive only a slight decrease, if any.

Lamb County agencies feel that a cut of approximately 3 per cent on a basic policy (which provides $10,000 per person in bodily injury coverage, plus $5,000 in property damage liability cover for the typical driver in class 1-B who drives to work but does not use his car in business, and does not have a driver under 25) may be expected locally if the proposed decrease were adopted by the State Insurance Board.

Collision coverage for the same driver could drop as much as five per cent.

Actual rates vary widely and are set according to a driver's age, where he lives, the kind of car he drives and how much he uses it.

If the cut is approved by the State Insurance Board, new rates will apply to policies written or renewed after Sept. 1, therefore a cut would not affect most persons immediately, unless their policy is due after Sept. 1.

Short rate cancellation penalties of up to eight per cent make cancellation of existing policies impractical as the penalty would probably dissolve the decrease a policyowner might receive.

The rate decreases were recommended during the State Insurance Board's annual car insurance hearing, and if they are approved, will be the first major cut in car insurance rates in the decade.

Olton Teenager Awarded 'Lone Star Farmer' Degree

An Olton teenager has received the state's top FFA honor, the Lone Star Farmer Award.

He is Robert Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cooper, who received the honor recently at the 44th Annual State Future Farmers of America Convention in Dallas.

Robert is a 1972 graduate of Olton High School, and has been active in FFA work four years.

He plans to attend Tarleton State College in Stephenville this fall, where he plans to major in agriculture education. He hopes to earn the organization's highest achievement, the American Farmer Degree.

Robert's brother, Gary Cooper, earned the Lone Star Farmer Degree last year.

During his freshman year at OHS, Robert began his vocational program with a market pig. He added show pigs the next year, and participated in stock shows in San Antonio, Houston, Littlefield and Olton, while showing Poland China, Crossbred, Duroc and Chester White swine.

In April, 1970, Robert began breeding Poland China and Duroc swine and while he was a junior, he showed various breeds in the San Antonio show and at Olton.

Besides his swine projects, he has begun a cow-calf operation and raised a milo crop.

City police officers are investigating three cases of breaking and entering which have occurred the last part of the past week.

Early Thursday morning, officers were notified that Godwin's Service Station on West Delano had been entered, and several items, including a flashlight, 11 cartons of cigarettes, two quarts of transmission oil, two filters, a Seth Thomas clock and cash, were taken.

Entry was gained through the front door and a front window was broken.

One can of the transmission oil and the two filters were located in grass near the station.

The Chevrolet had been left on the shoulder of the highway approximately 4 1/2 miles east of Littlefield on Highway 84.

The truck was owned by Jim Parker of Slaton and was being driven by James Bateman of Lubbock.

After the truck struck the car, the truck ran into a deep ditch to the right and continued up the embankment. The tractor was damaged but there was no apparent damage to the cattle or trailer, according to the investigating officer's report.

BUCK ROSS is all set as gatekeeper at Bull Lake, and has moved his mobile home to the location. On the weekends, Ross says he and his wife sometimes get to view as many as 50 boats on the lake, and they still have plenty of room. Proceeds from entrance fees will go into improving the lake facilities. At present, plans are to construct public restrooms, shelter areas for persons wishing to get out of the rain or hot sunshine, and fire pits for barbecues or cooking out-of-doors. Ross now has a few concessions at the new office.

MRS. GARY LEONARD HAIRSTON

Miss McCoy Weds Gary Hairston

Before an altar setting of a large arrangement of gladiolus, orchid asters and huckleberry foliage, flanked by candelabras, Miss Debra Gayle McCoy recited double ring wedding vows with Gary Leonard Hairston.

The vows were read Friday evening, July 28, in First Baptist Church Chapel of Littlefield, with C. V. Venable of Primitive Baptist Church, Clovis, N. M., officiating.

Large orchid bows marked the mother's pews for additional church decorations. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Gayle L. McCoy of Spade and L. E. Hairston of Littlefield.

Musical selections of "The Twelfth of Never", "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer" were sung by Nancy Bizzell of Spade.

The bride, given in marriage by her mother and father, was attired in a formal-length wedding gown of white organza. The Empire bodice of her gown was fashioned with a high Victorian neckline of ruffled, scalloped chantilly lace and long full bishop sleeves with wide lace ruffles. Chantilly lace enhanced the sheer organza, rounded yoke of her gown. Her softly gathered A-line skirt extended into a chapel-length train and was accented with a large bow at the back waistline. Ruffled lace encircled the hemline of her gown and train. A two-tiered veil of silk illusion was caught to a headpiece of clustered petals and pearls. She carried a bridal bouquet of stephanotis, greenery and tulle encircling a detachable Cattleya orchid corsage.

For "something old", the bride wore her grandmother's wedding band; "something new" was her wedding gown; "something borrowed", a white Bible; and for "something blue" she wore the traditional blue garter.

Miss Debbie Myers of Spade attended the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaid was Sherry McCoy, also of Spade. Their street-length dresses of orchid cheer dotted swiss, lined with orchid polyester and accented at the waistlines with a darker orchid velvet ribbon, were fashioned to that of the bride's gown. Tiny rosebuds, in a dark orchid shade, tipped the bow and orchid silk organza headpieces they wore. The attendants carried nosegays of asters and baby's breath.

The candles were lighted by Randy McCoy of Spade. Bob Adams of Lubbock served the groom as best man and groomsman was Larry Vrabel of Portales, N. M.

Wayne Matthews of Spade and Raymond Sewell of Lubbock seated the guests as they arrived in the church.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. McCoy was attired in a silk organza aqua dress, and the groom's grandmother was fashioned in a blue and grey knit dress. They both wore a glamelia corsage.

Markeeta Leonard and Terri Wallace assisted at the serving table during the reception that followed in the fellowship hall of the church.

For a honeymoon trip to Cloudercroft, N. M., Mrs. Hairston wore a hot pants suit and vest in an orchid shade of polyester knit.

The bride will attend Texas Tech this fall and the groom is a physical education major at Texas Tech.

They will reside at 3102 4th Street, in University Village, Lubbock.

Smiley Bride

W. B. Webster

Pat Smiley of Lubbock, sister-in-law of the bride, and bridesmaid was Miss Mary Jo Serve of Dallas. Their attire was identical to that of the maid of honor except the colors were a medium shade of pink and a lighter pink. They carried bouquets of feathered carnations in shades of pink.

Miss Melissa Myatt of Levelland, cousin of the bride and Blake Hawthorne of Dallas served as flower girl and ring bearer. Miss Myatt's gown of baby pink was fashioned like the other attendants. She carried a white basket with pink feathered carnations. The ring bearer carried a white pillow with the rings attached.

The sanctuary was decorated with greenery and pink ribbon bows on the swirl candelabras on either side of the altar. A memory candle and two other candles in an arrangement of pink carnations, similax, and greenery were on the altar. The aisle was decorated with 18 banners hung on the pews. The banners of green and pink had one word on each one that helped to celebrate the wedding. The words were: love, joy, witness, hope, truth, celebration, Christ, understanding, faith, God, life sharing, and four of the words were repeated.

Candles were lit by Miss Sharla O'Connor of Levelland and Miss Elaine Smiley of Canyon, cousins of the bride. They were attired in floor-length gowns of a medium shade of pink styled like the other attendants. They wore wrist corsages of pink feathered carnations.

The bridegroom was attended by Wallace Hughes of Dallas, as best man. Groomsman were Jim Morriss of Carrollton and Bob Hawthorne of Dallas.

Mrs. Joe Carlisle registered guests in the church foyer at a table decorated with a white invitation and a pink feathered pin and bride's book.

Guests were seated by Pat Smiley of Lubbock, brother of the bride, Larry Milner of Happy, cousin of the bride, Steve Kwan of Plano, and Calvin Hurst of Richardson.

The mother of the bride wore a pink silk linen A-line dress accented with pink leaf pearl trim with matching gloves and black patent accessories. She wore a cymbidium orchid corsage.

Mrs. Webster, mother of the groom, chose a dress of imported Japanese silk in beige with green and pink flowers. Her accessories were beige. She wore a cymbidium orchid to match her ensemble.

Organist was Larry Don Wiley of Levelland who furnished traditional wedding music. Miss Barbara Morgan of Dallas played the guitar and led the congregation in singing "They'll know we are Christians by Our Love."

After the vows were exchanged the couple sang "One Hand, One Heart," accompanied by the organist. Then they lit the memory candle and knelt at the altar while the minister and congregation repeated a prayer for the couple and Miss Morgan sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlor. The bride's table was laid with a formal-length white net and lace cloth, centered with the bridesmaids' bouquets. The appointments were silver and crystal. The four-tiered wedding cake raised on Gothic columns, rested on a base of English ivy, and featured a top of triple satin wedding bells.

The groom's table was laid with a hot pink linen cloth with a chocolate cake in the shape of two wedding rings intertwined with doves at the centering point.

Serving in the house party were: Mmes Harold Cole of Weatherford, Okla., cousin of the bride, Jim Morriss of Carrollton, Charles Heffington of Fieldton, Joe Don Parrott, Gladys Joplin, Buck Oldham, Glen Robertson, Billy Williams, Jack Barton, Preston Kenney and Miss Renee Kenney, all of Littlefield and Mrs. Milvyn Dutton of Petersburg.

NEWS ITEM: "Contract Mowers Needed" — Wonder if any one had thought of the Forrestry Service?

No need to sweat it, tho, few weeds get to be over one year old.

SPEAKIN' OF WEEDS, I've heard varying reports on the cost per acre of gettin' those weeds out of some of our crops. These claims run from six to forty dollars per acre! Sounds a bit high for two-bit cotton.

Guess when we get that guaranteed income, we'll have to get a bill passed, through the same Congress, makin' it unconstitutional for those weeds to grow. Only problem might be gettin' the weeds to understand this!

I've always been prone to censor those that blame the government for everything that happens. However, I'm of the opinion that here's one case where the blame might be justified.

WHEN WE LEAVE that old principle, "If one won't work, neither shall he eat," we're gonna run head-on into the very problem that we're enjoyin' right now!

Time was when a fellow knew that he had to work to get along, and to work, he had to have a job, and if he kept this job, he had to make a hand. —Yeah, I must be gettin' pretty old, but I DO remember!

SEEMS THE EAGLETON thing may get to be a little more stinky, before it gets better. When they start to splittin' the splits in the Democratic party, the factions are gonna be gettin' pretty small.

Then Jack Anderson ain't helpin' any. True, or false, the charges he's laid have done damage to Eagleton and Co.

THE RUMOR IS GOIN' around that the Republicans are aimin' to "not mention" Mr. Eagleton's former trouble, much the same as you don't mention a friend's deformity.

If they want the situation to be most effective, this is the way it's done. Just refuse to discuss the issue!

I used this treatment on an acquaintance once, who had accidentally discharged his rifle in the top of my car.

He had, only minutes before, given me a lengthy lecture on the danger of guns in the hands of the careless.

I PRETENDED THAT I hadn't even noticed the gun's discharge. He was quite distressed about the accident, and was anxious for me to help explain it away. I just looked at him and grinned.

I don't think he's forgiven me, til yet! I suspect this could be the cruelest thing the Republicans could do to the Democratic hopeful.

ANYWAY, WE'D HOPED that the Democrats could have shown a visage of strength, this year. We needed it to help keep the Republicans in line. At the rate things are shapin' up, the election's just gonna be a farce.

I hear tell that a good many of the Demos are just NOT goin' to the polls. This way they can blame both parties for the way things turn out.

Oh, well, it's about time for the Cowboy and college UPStart game to begin, so you figure it out!

END OF AN ERA!

Immunization

WHEN THE SCHOOL BELLS ring this fall, Texas school children will be among the best-immunized in the country.

The reason, according to State Health Commissioner Dr. James E. Peavy, is the state's compulsory immunization law.

UNDER THE REGULATIONS, grade school level children (and those attending day care centers) must be immunized against five communicable diseases —diphtheria, tetanus, poliomyelitis, measles and rubella. Measles immunization is not required if there is a history of measles illness. And smallpox, which originally was a required immunization, was removed from the list by the State Board of Health, which sets immunization guidelines for the schools.

Junior high school, high school and college-level students have lesser requirements for immunizations, said Dr. Peavy.

THE HEALTH COMMISSIONER noted that immunizations should have been started by last Jan. 1 and must be completed, according to age levels, before starting school this fall.

"I feel that almost all school children will have completed these requirements," said Dr. Peavy. About the only misunderstanding in the regulation was in the college level, he said. "If a collegian is 19 years of age or over, the only requirement is for the adult type tetanus-diphtheria immunization, or a booster shot within the past 10 years."

DR. PEAVY SAID local health units throughout the state contributed toward meeting the large demand for immunizations, and private physicians have boosted the total. In 1971 almost 4.5 million doses of vaccine were administered to Texans during regular local health unit clinics and special campaigns.

Dr. Peavy said the immunization law is a good one—one that had been needed for a long time. It forces parents to protect their children and in so doing protect themselves, their friends and relatives from these preventable diseases.

"WE ARE ANXIOUS to have children immunized long before they start to school," said Dr. Peavy. "In fact, they should start in the first year of life," he said.

"I feel that the immunization results will be reflected in the preventable disease total," said the Health Commissioner. "From past experience, we have seen a steady decline in preventable diseases—except venereal disease," he said.

Dr. Peavy said it was imperative that the very young children receive immunizations since a lot of diseases appear in those two years of age and younger. "The best prevention is early immunization," he said.

Dr. Peavy said there has been good cooperation from everyone concerning the mandatory immunization law, which has co-sponsorship of the Texas Medical Association.

THE LAW EVEN ALLOWS exclusions from compliance for religious reasons, or where a physician licensed by the Texas Board of Medical Examiners feels that immunizations are medically contraindicated.

Many school districts had varying immunization requirements, but none were standard. "Some just had smallpox, while others required several immunizations. Now, however, they will be uniform throughout the state," said Dr. Peavy.

ALL SCHOOLS will be required to maintain records of the immunization status of individual students, and this is a king-size job. Total registration for special education, kindergartens and grades one through 12 is expected to surpass 2.8 million students. Of these, almost a quarter-million will be entering first grade.

The end result of the mandatory program will be reflected in better health for all Texans, a goal of the State Health Department in its immunization program, said Dr. Peavy.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Forgetting

THE PAST CAN BE a mighty drag on the present, and it is for persons who do not master the art of forgetting.

"Living in the past" is a frequently used statement made about older people, and some do live in the past; but they are not the only ones who do this.

MANY PEOPLE THINK so much about the mistakes they have made; or about something unpleasant that happened to them; or about some good opportunity they missed; or about hardships they suffered; or about something else that should be forgotten; that they spoil the present.

All of these things should be forgotten, to the extent they remain where they belong; in the past.

WE HAVE LEARNED some lessons from the happenings of the past; surely we have.

The lessons must be remembered, and, if we think of the mistake, or the unpleasantness, or the missed opportunity, or the hardships; let us do so in relationship to the good lessons we learned from them.

WHEN WE THINK ABOUT our past achievements, let us do so as a source of encouragement; not as something to fill the whole lifetime.

"We ought not to look back unless it is to derive useful lessons from past errors, and for the purpose of profiting by dear bought experiences."

—Washington.

THERE ARE GOOD MEMORIES bad memories from the past. The memories can help us in many ways and we should think of these often as a source of encouragement and help.

The bad memories can be forgotten and must be forgotten. If they enter our conscious thought, we should banish them as quickly as possible.

WE MUST CERTAINLY FORGET wrongs done to us by others; forget the extent we can. This can be much more than some people realize and doing it is much more important to one's well-being than some folk think.

We can and must forget these wrongs so that they no longer upset us. Remembering can make our present miserable time and may lead to vengeance. We cannot afford to let this happen.

FORGETTING IS the way to better days, and better times for us. It is a noble forgetfulness—that which does not remember injuries.—C. Smith

If there is some correction we must make concerning our past actions, corrections can be made, forgotten. Forgetting is the only way. This is to subordinate the past to the present and we must never be foolish enough to subordinate the present to the past.

FORGETTING IS VERY NECESSARY keeping our living in the present, it belongs.

It Happens in TEXAS!

NOT EVEN the fish are safe from drunk drivers. The Texas Safety Association says that more than 1,500 Texans are killed each year by drinking drivers.

Meet Woody Owl.

He represents a major step forward in our fight against pollution.

A major step forward in getting our smoggy skies blue again. A major step forward in saving our forests, lakes and wildlife. And a major step forward in improving the quality of our environment. You'll be seeing and hearing a lot about Woody. He knows how you can fight pollution...and he needs your help.

Woody has a hooter. When he blows it, it goes Hoot! A Hoot is a pollution stopper. Some of Woody's Hoots are: Trees make many things possible, plant a tree. Recycle all cans, bottles and papers. Man paints houses only nature should paint forests. Sh sh sh sh sh...noise pollutes too. Trees and flowers can't hold their breath...smog's a killer. Tuned engines mean less smog. Keep your engines tuned.

In months to come you'll be hearing many more Hoots...over one hundred. If you have good Hoots...practical ways people can fight pollution, send them to Woody Owl, U.S. Forest Service, Washington, D.C. 20250.

Give a hoot! Don't pollute.

Residents Make European Tour

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hulise and Mrs. Walter Choate of Littlefield have recently returned from a 17-day tour of Europe.

In expressing their sentiments about the trip, they feel the old slogan, "America—Love It or Leave It," should be changed to "America—You've Got To Leave It To Love It."

They visited seven countries—Belgium, Holland, Austria, Germany, Switzerland, France and England plus the principality of Litchenstein—and were among a tour group of 42 persons who made the 25-hour, four-plane flight back to Lubbock.

SPENDING CEILING
Federal ceilings on agricultural commodity payments to individuals did little to check spending in this field, the Tax Foundation notes. Last year—the first with a $35,000 ceiling per commodity for individuals—the Agriculture Department paid $70 million more than it did the year before.

Meet The Minister

The J. C. Amburn Family

Rev. J. C. Amburn, pastor of the Assembly of God Church in Littlefield, will begin his second year as minister of that church in November.

Both Rev. and Mrs. Amburn are natives of Jack County, and two of their children were born there.

Rev. Amburn is a graduate of Perrin High School and took Bible courses by correspondence from International Correspondence Institute in Springfield, Mo. while serving in his early ministry.

Mrs. Amburn is a native of Jacksboro and attended all 12 years of her formal schooling there.

The Amburn family came here from Granbury, where Rev. Amburn was serving as pastor of the Assembly of God Church.

His first pastorate was at Graford, and from there he went to Winters, Hamlin, Jacksboro and to Granbury, where he pastored churches in those cities.

Besides his local duties inside his own church, Rev. Amburn is affiliated with the Littlefield Ministerial Alliance. "We enjoy the friendliness of this community, and are particularly enjoying the fellowship with fellow ministers in the city," Rev. Amburn stated.

Rev. Amburn has served on several district committees of the Assemblies of God when at other churches in the other districts, but he is new to this district and hasn't become involved in any specific jobs.

Rev. Amburn is a qualified electrician and refrigeration specialist, and has been called to several churches to install such equipment. He tinkers with his special hobby in a portable shop behind the parsonage near the church, and frequently works on electrical equipment and refrigeration units for people here. He has studied the subject in special courses for three years, knows a trade "to fall back on" if the occasion arises.

Mrs. Amburn, who mainly keeps the family going, enjoys sewing, singing, and playing the piano and organ. She serves as organist for the church while their oldest daughter, Olivia, serves as pianist.

Olivia will be a 17-year-old senior at Littlefield High School next month, and plans to go to college at Southwestern Assembly of God College in Waxahachie.

Brenda, their 15-year-old daughter, will be a sophomore at LHS and likes to sew. She is taking driver's education this summer, and will soon have her permit to drive with a licensed driver.

Noel, who is nearly 7 years old, will be in the first grade this fall. He likes to garden, and is now growing tomatoes, squash, okra, cucumbers and beans in his garden. He particularly likes to tend to "Nick" the family pet Chihuahua.

Pantsuits Here To Stay

"Pantsuits seem to be here to stay and women of all ages, interests and lifestyles consider pants a mainstay in their feminine wardrobes," said Texas Agricultural Extension Service clothing specialist Becky Dunlap.

Miss Dunlap said that pants and pantsuits have been accepted as a major clothing article.

"Length, perhaps more than anything else, distinguishes the many styles and types of pants on the fashion scene," she said. "Pant lengths may strike the figure at any and all intervals—from the shortest of shorts to those which graze the floor or at any combination (layering) of lengths."

However, she said that length by no means determines the occasion for which pants are to be worn. Shorts no longer mean summer sports, just as long pants no longer are appropriate only for casual wear.

Current fashions include pants that rise high at the waistline, with self belts banding the midriff. A new emphasis is trouser pleats at the waistline in a men's wear mood. Cuffs are becoming increasingly popular and so are pant lengths rolled up to mid-calf or above. Flared lines are popular, with many reaching widths of 27 or more inches.

"With so many styles of pants available, it becomes most important to select a style that minimized figure faults while emphasizing good features," the Texas A & M University specialist noted.

"Conduct a careful self analysis in front of a full-length mirror. Try to see your reflection as others do. What are the good points? Which ones would be best forgotten?"

"Matching hosiery and shoes when worn with short pants give this figure an illusion of added length."

Fit is especially important for a too-thin figure, since a too-tight pant reveals willowy legs. And a too-loose pant may tattle on a lack of curves.

Straight-legged trousers and smooth back-seam closings make great choices for tall, full figures. For full thighs, choose a bodice detail that draws the eye upward on the figure. Rich, subdued colors and subtle contrasts flatter the full figure.

Simple, vertical lines, straight legs and an easy unrevealing fit are ideal for the short, curvaceous woman. A lightweight, smooth surfaced fabric is most flattering.

"Every woman can enjoy the fun and excitement of wearing pants if she knows herself and chooses pants with her individual characteristics in mind from the many fashionable styles available," Miss Dunlap concluded.

A tall, thin figure wears all kinds of pants especially well. A too-thin figure can add pounds by choosing pants and pantsuits of richly textured fabrics or by layering separates. For example, an outfit composed of a blazer, vest, blouse and pants would add several layers and pounds.

Thicket Prairie Bought By Foundation

part of the Big saved for the en- all Texans, and ty residents who ed for preservation are rejoicing.

Conservation acting in a recent ed to buy a little e acres of the prairie in Liberty $4,882.50.

rysee Prairie is Highway 162 bet- and Moss Hill. 100 acres of near- rie remain of the miles of extensive grasslands which greeted the first white to Texas.

It is all of the prairie plant community which exists between Pine Island Bayou and the Trinity River.

According to the descen- dants of early settlers in the area, this portion of prairie has never been plowed or mowed. Local residents say that occasional wildfires swept the land the stimulated the exuberant growth of grasses such as Eastern gamma, Indian grass and bluestems.

Prairie wildflowers such as winecups and cornflowers, as well as species not found in any other part of Texas thrive on the Marysee.

Its proximity to forested land offers a unique opportunity to study the suc- cession between prairie and woodlands.

The Marysee Prairie is not part of any bill to preserve the Big Thicket.

The Foundation's purchase was endorsed by Mrs. Geraldine Watson of Silsbee and Professor Richard C. Harrel of Lamar University in Beaumont.

A $5,000 check from the Atlantic Richfield Corporation made it all possible.

The area will be fenced and preservation will involve occasional burning under the supervision of the Soil Conservation Service to prevent the invasion of alien plant species.

Texans interested in helping maintain this unique part of the state are encouraged to send their donations to the Texas Conservation Founda- tion, P. O. Box 12845, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711.

chosen Anton's "Man of the Year" in 1964.

Other business included the presentation of a check for $100 to Gordon Timms for the Anton Little League Baseball program.

Are there Prison Bars in YOUR Future?

There could be... if you have the idea that shoplifting is a game or a prank. The stores don't see it that way... neither do the police. Get the facts straight now. Get your head straight, too: shoplifting is stealing. And stealing is a crime. It can get you arrested, convicted, fined and put in jail. Then you have a police record, too... and THAT can mess up the rest of your life. Keep you out of college. Make it hard to travel. Bar you from your chosen career. That's a high price to pay for acting on a whim. You'd better just pay the clerk.

Shoplifting is a CRIME

Swine Meet

Slated Aug.

The role and value of performance testing in the industry will be the main topic of discussion at an educational swine meeting scheduled for Aug. 8.

The meeting will be conducted at the Bill Hollis farm on the northeast corner of Highway 101, according to Dr. Bill Hollis, area swine specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Dr. Bill Thomas, Extension swine specialist, Texas A&M University, will discuss the value of using "On-the-job" performance testing on animals in a breeding program. Maintaining proper herd health and sanitation program in conjunction with the use of performance tested animals will be covered by Mike Anderson.

Tom Eckhart from Iowa will then give a demonstration on the use of an ultrasonic machine and ultrasonic technique for estimating hog thickness and loin-eye muscling in live animals.

As a purebred commercial swine man, if you are interested in producing "right kind" of pig for today's consumer, you are encouraged to attend the meeting, says Hollis.

Swine Study Tour Group Plans Trip To Europe

Approximately 20-25 farmers, ranchers, and investors with a special financial interest in swine production will tour Germany, Austria, Switzerland and France in October on Grain Sorghum Producers Association's Swine Study and Market Development Tour.

The 15-day tour, beginning Sunday, Oct. 15, will provide the opportunity for studying both commercial and family owned swine, breeding, feeding, processing, curing, marketing and research facilities in central Europe. The itinerary also allows time for sightseeing and shopping.

People throughout the United States who are interested in any aspect of swine production are invited to participate in the tour.

The cost of $1,050 per person includes coach class air transportation from Lubbock or Dallas ($907 for New York boarding passengers), all transfers and ground transportation in Europe by deluxe motorcoach with English speaking guides, first class twin bedded hotel rooms, continental breakfast throughout, tips, and taxes.

The tour is a tax deductible business expense for tour members with swine and grain sorghum market development business interests. Ladies are welcome as tour participants.

Dr. T. D. "Tank" Tanksley, highly respected Swine Specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and Associate Professor at Texas A&M University, will be escorting the group as tour leader.

The itinerary includes visits to a hog finishing farm, a progeny testing station, a feed mill, the research farm of the University of Goettingen and the Institute of Animal Husbandry in Berlin. Highlights of the non-technical part of the tour are an excursion to the Bavarian castles, evening tours of Berlin and Munich, and sightseeing in Switzerland and Paris.

For further information about the tour and for making reservations, contact GSPA, 1212-14th Street, Lubbock, Texas 79401, telephone (806) 763-4425. Reservations must be made by September 15.

New State 'Symbol' Signs, Pavement Markings Adopted

A straight line isn't the shortest distance between two points—if it's painted white or yellow and it's on a Texas highway.

New "symbol" signs and pavement markings have been adopted by the Texas Highway Commission from the revised "Manual on Uniform Traffic Control Devices" released by the Federal Highway Administration.

In many cases, symbols, shapes and colors have been substituted for words. It is hoped that this will give the message to motorists at a glance and remove language barriers.

The new symbol signs that will replace the old word signs are pretty self-explanatory. For example, the new school sign will be shaped like a schoolhouse and will contain black silhouettes of two children on a yellow background.

The new pavement markings are not as dramatic looking, but are equally important.

There is an easy way to remember them: Yellow lines will be the only color used for centerline markings on two-way highways—for separating traffic flows in opposite directions. Yellow centerlines have proven to be more visible in fog than white stripes.

White will remain on multiple-lane highways—for separating traffic flows in the same direction as well as on one-way streets.

Red will be used on raised reflective pavement markers and will denote wrong-way movement. If you see red you are going the wrong way.

All broken (dashed) lines will be permissive in character while the solid lines will be restrictive. The combination of broken and solid yellow stripes will indicate to the motorist what is permitted.

A dashed yellow centerline will be used where passing is permitted. Two yellow lines, one solid and one dashed, will mark sections where passing is permitted in one direction (the solid yellow line will be on the side restricting passing).

Two solid yellow lines will be used where passing is prohibited in both directions.

With yellow as the only centerline color on two-way roads and streets drivers will have a continuing color reminder that they should expect traffic in the opposite direction.

Other uses of yellow will include the marking of obstructions and islands which must be passed on the right. Additional uses of white will include the marking of crosswalks and the edge lining of Interstate highways and other types of roads.

Pratt's Jewelry
5TH & 317

Locals Defeated In Olton All-Star Tourney

The ALMO (Amherst, Littlefield, Muleshoe and Olton) Senior Babe Ruth All-Stars were eliminated in the State Tourney in Olton Friday as the Lubbock All-Stars defeated them by a score of 4-1 Thursday. The San Antonio all stars defeated the locals by a score of 21-0.

Catfish Minimum Length Deleted

Catfish fans can leave their rulers at home from now on. Recent Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission action deleted the 11-inch minimum length from regulations governing catfish except in the Northeast Regulatory District. Daily bag limits and possession limits remain the same, 25 and 50 respectively.

Pratt's Jewelry Giving Away Diamonds With Class Rings

Pratt's Jewelry has arranged with Gold Lance Corporation of Houston, Texas, a class ring manufacturer, for a joint promotion offering high school sophomores and juniors free diamonds set in class rings purchased between now and August 31 at Pratt's. The diamonds range in size from .03 to .05 carat and will be set at a nominal setting charge, in any Gold Lance class ring purchased by a student. There will be no charge for the diamond. The class rings with diamond settings will be sold at their normal retail price. According to Gene Pratt, a class ring manufacturer and jeweler offering a free diamond is an industry first. In the past, a diamond has been an option too expensive for many, but between now and August 31 the cost of this option has been eliminated at Pratt's. Pratt's will also offer 2-4 weeks delivery on all class rings purchased this summer by students, in order for the students to enter school next fall wearing their class rings.

Uniform Laws Govern Killings

The Parks and Wildlife Department has adopted uniform laws regulating the use of spear, spear gun, and bow and arrow as means of taking fish.

Previously, only a hand spear or gig was legal for divers and flounder giggers to use on saltwater species.

A spear gun is now legal for taking any saltwater fish in Coastal Regulatory counties that a skin or scuba diver thinks he is big enough to handle.

"Rough fish" including carp, suckers, buffalo, gar, shad, Rio Grande perch, gaspergou, bowfin, pickereel, mullet and goldfish are the only ones open to freshwater fishing by spear gun and spear, and bow and arrow.

The usual fishing license is still necessary for both salt and freshwater fish.

Dear Abby

Change the wedding but keep the court

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-H. V. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I realize that many young people go in for far out weddings, which is all right. But when they depart from the conventional note for their wedding gifts, I think they are going a little far. Today I received what was supposed to be a "you" note for a wedding gift I sent to a young bride who was the daughter of dear friends, so I was expecting a silver coffee service.

The acknowledgment was a folded piece of paper with the front was "THANK YOU" commercially printed letters. When I opened it there was a photograph of the couple on one side, and a short poem on the other with the couple's names printed below. It was it! The bride did address the envelope by name, was the only personal touch.

I was appalled. I wouldn't have the nerve to bring the couple or to their parents, but thru you I have been able to fume accordingly. Any comments, please.

DEAR APPALLED: Glad you didn't have the nerve to say anything to the parents. After the kids say "do's" their parents are not responsible for their actions, agree, the customs do change, good manners do change, appropriate expression of gratitude is a personal note—The exception being when the number runs high hundreds or into the thousands.

P. S. That couple at least sent a card. I was that a young couple was sent a check for their gift, and the only acknowledgment ever received "thank you" written on the back of the cancelled check.

DEAR ABBY: I am an 18-year-old girl and I have been taking guitar lessons for some time now. I switched to a new teacher who is very attractive (about 20.) He has complimented me on my dark hair, and once he even said he thought I was beautiful. He has casually put his arm around me, touched my nudged my foot. From these actions I take it he is flirting with me.

Well, I want him to know that I have an eye for him, but in these situations I tend to turn red and I am hoping he will ask me out, but I am a little tired of waiting. Should I make some move toward him? Or should I let him make the first move?

DEAR TIRED: Don't make any sort of "move" toward him, but if something comes along that requires you to ask him. If he doesn't jump at the chance, quite probably has a girl friend.

DEAR ABBY: I have a neighbor lady who has a pet [a dog of questionable pedigree] tied up in her yard from 7:30 a. m. until 5 p. m.—five days a week she works.

The poor dog's leash is about 10 feet long, but she gets tangled up in some bushes and the pointer, preventing him from reaching the pan of water set out for him.

Also, there is no shelter whatsoever to protect from the sun's rays, which are very punishing. I've heard some pathetic cries for help when he is in trouble, and on these occasions I've gone out to him from his entanglement. But what will happen on my vacation?

I once told the woman that if she couldn't better care for the animal she ought not have owned it. "I need him for 'protection' at night, and my own business!"

Now what?
DEAR LOVES: Report her to your local Humane Society. If the animal is providing her with protection, the least she can do is to provide him with a comfortable shelter.

DEAR ABBY: Every time I read a letter in your column from parents complaining because of a child with a child I could scream! I would give my right eye to have their problem.

I am 23, married, and have been to several doctors dealing with sterility problems, and I have been told I am sterile. We want to adopt a child, but there is a long list of at least three years.

People who have "problems" with their children thank God every day of their lives that they have children—no matter what kind of problems they have with them. They are blessed and don't even envy them their problems with their children. Couldn't mean it more sincerely.

DEAR HEARTBROKEN: Apparently you want a newborn, American, Caucasian baby, which is fine. Babies of mixed parentage are available. Korean babies. Also children in orphanages, some handicapped. If you are sincere, and consider it a blessing, you need not remain childless.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think about a house is cluttered with pictures of himself? He has every room, framed and on the walls, and sitting on expensive frames on every end table, and on window sills.

This man is now fat and bald, and most of his features were taken long ago when he was young and had lots of hair and a trim physique. He would recognize him as the same person.

What is wrong with him?
DEAR WONDERING: Nothing need be wrong with him. Maybe he just enjoys seeing himself as he is.

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069, stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Know," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069, stamped, addressed envelope.
