George T. C. Peng, profes-Texas Tech, and architect ents Roger Gault, Burt Derr and Miles Melton have been in Littlefield since September taking surveys of each block in the city, and formulating a basic map of the city with overlays for every phase of city life, including population, community facilities, housing, water, sewer, business and industrial areas, etc.

Besides the basic map showing a block by block map of the city, other maps designating geographic location of the city in the state, soils, climatic conditions, population studies, population growth from 1900 to 1970 within the city and county, city image map, population distribution and transportation plan, were displayed on the walls of the council chamber.

The students made recommendations to keep the downtown area alive, during a slide presentation, and suggested that the city not be allowed to spread too far in one direction where shopping centers would gradually kill the downtown area.

They also recommended that an apartment complex be constructed near the eastern separation of Business 84 and the Highway 84 Bypass in the triangle created there, and suggested that a highway rest area be set up next to the intersection, west of the eastbound approach.

They also recommended that utility lines and poles be eliminated along XIT and LFD by burying the cables, that weeds be kept down, and improved facades be placed on the buildings (at

In discussing the ambulance contract, which will be signed by both the city and County Commissioners when it is satisfactory to both parties, the councilmen reviewed the proposed contract and made a few changes, then recommended it be presented to the county for consideration.

While discussing facts concerning the ambulance, an estimate of $800 to $1,000 will be needed to repair the old ambulance motor. Councilmen were reminded that the fire department's ambulance is presently being used for long runs because of the bad condition of the regular ambulance.

Another fact the councilmen learned was that the city provides gasoline and oil, as well as shop labor for repairs for the ambulance, items which have not previously been charged to the county as expense.

In their review of the Community Development Block Grant application procedures, the council looked at two plans for water lines and paving, to better serve the people living in those areas. After discussion, the council decided on paving and water lines for the area east of Hall Avenue (Highway 385) and south of Highway 54 over to Browning Avenue. The total cost of the proposed project is $250,000of which HUD may grant all or part

Following their decision on the area to be aided, they passed a resolution authorizing the city manager to make application for the grant, which funds, when received, are to be used by the city to improve and extend the city's water and street systems to conserve, and provide for the expansion of, the city's low to moderate income housing stock,

All councilmen, the mayor, city manager and city attorney were present for the meeting.

L.M. JONES, 70, was taken to Medical Arts Hospital by ambulance Thursday afternoon following a shooting at 101 N. Ripley in Littlefield. He was later transferred twice to Lubbock.

Old Doakes is out, Jones is gone

A shooting occurred at 101 N. Ripley in Littlefield Thursday afternoon, but no charges had been filed Friday.

After a madcap mixup and two ambulance rides to Lubbock, the "shootee" couldn't be found and the "shooter" couldn't be filed on because the witness and victim left the hospital and wasn't to be found.

Police received a call about 4:30 Thursday afternoon that there had been a shooting at 101 N. Ripley. Police and an ambulance were dispatched to the residence. A man identified as L. M. Jones, 70, was thought to be shot in the head. Jones was taken to Medical Arts Hospital and hospital authorities told ambulance attendants to take him on to Lubbock. When they arrived at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock, the hospital hadn't been notified by Littlefield doctors and Jones was sent back to Littlefield by ambulance. While treating him at Medical Arts, the attending physician discovered a second gunshot wound in the leg, and they sent the man back to Lubbock by ambulance to get the bullet removed.

City police, who also drive the ambulance, checked the man into the emergency room at Lubbock and returned to Littlefield. When they looked for the gunshot victim later to get him to be a witness to his shooting and file charges, the man couldn't be found. He had left the hospital.

Meantime, Jimmy Doakes, about 55, had been taken to the Lamb County jail where charges were pending. When Jones couldn't be found, Doakes was released to city officers Friday morning. It seems charges couldn't be filed unless there was a witness or victim and the witness and/or victim had flown the coop.

Doakes got supper, a night's lodging and breakfast at the jail. The tab on the run around on the ambulance trips back and forth to Lubbock amounted to $175. Police shrugged. "Old Doakes is out, and old Jones is gone," they said.

A total of $1,075 has been raised to date in the Littlefield Salvation Army Service Unit fund drive, according to campaign chairman, Rev. Roger Martin, at the first report meeting.

"We are making excellent progress. We are still $1,425 short of our $2,500 goal, but I am confident we will go over the top," Rev. Martin said.

Rev. Martin said many prospects have yet to be contacted by

"CHARGE OF SAN JUAN HILL"

Theodore "Teddy" Roosevelt was serving as Assistant Secretary of the Navy when the United States declared war on Spain on April 25, 1898. He resigned his post so that he could immediately join in the fighting. Roosevelt had already been actively recruiting a group of men to fight in Cuba-a group soon to become known as the "Rough Riders." On July 1, 1898, American troops began an attack on Santiago, Cuba. Roosevelt led his "Rough Riders" in the charge on the fortified San Juan Hill just out of the city. The reports of the charge spread, making Roosevelt a national figure. Theoretically, cheese may be made from the milk of any mammal, from the aardvark or the yak, including the dolphin. Most frequently used, of course, is the milk of cows, sheep or goats. WE HEAR IT DAILY. The price of food is increasing, the cost of living is going up, taxes are being raised, medical cost is going higher and higher, more and more crime is being committed, and the tensions among nations and peoples never seem to diminish.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE'

We enjoy life

This isn't all. There are many sorrows and disappointments in our personal life which are associated with our humanity. How can "we enjoy life"?

MANY OF THE THINGS we do in our efforts to escape realities do not help us, but only add to our problems and difficulties. To make the whole situation worse, our unhappiness is intensified by our frustrations.

We long for an easier way, but there doesn't seem to be an easier way. In the meantime, what shall we do? We can be upset and miserable, or we can manage ourselves so that we can "enjoy life". We do have a choice.

IT IS A BIG LOSS to us and to the people with whom we are associated, when we permit ourselves to be downcast, discouraged, and worried all of the time. We are not being fair to ourselves or to others. We cannot function effectively, and this failure adds to our personal difficulties.

Thus, we make our life situation worse and worse. We find ourselves moving farther and farther in the wrong direction, and a hopeless state of life begins to become a permanent life posture. There is no reason to happen.

Phi Eta Omega Chapter plans Little Miss Pageant

The Phi Eta Omega Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi had their Christmas Party and regular meeting Tuesday night, Dec. 14 in the home of Lisa Batson, who was hostess for the evening. Members decided to conduct a Little Miss Pageant Feb. 4.

Members stood and repeated the opening ritual. The secretary called roll and read the minutes which were approved.

The secretary reported that she had received a letter from the International Office thanking her for sending in the minutes on time and saying that the attendance of the Chapter is good. There was also a chart enclosed on "How Beta Sigma Phi Works For You."

Correspondence was also received by the vice-president reporting that the International Office had sent the wrong cultural program booklets. They sent the correct booklets so the members voted to keep the new booklets and return the wrong ones to the International office.

The president read a Christmas card received from Xi Nu Nu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

The treasurer reported that the balance remained the same since the last meeting.

Officers discussed and decided where and when to have their executive board meeting.

The chairman of City Council reported that the Valentine Dance would be held on Feb. 11, from 8:30 p.m. to 1 a.m. and that the tickets would be $4 per person or $7.50 per couple. It will be a country western dance.

Beth Anne Durham was chosen as the ticket chairman.

Ideas for next month's social were presented by the social committee and discussed.

Money-making projects were also discussed and the chairman of the Ways and Means Committee suggested that the chapter could have a Little Miss Pageant. The members voted in favor of the suggestion and the date for the pageant was tentatively set for Feb. 4 at 7 a.m.

There was no further business so the meeting was adjourned. Vice president, Terri Peel, conducted the Pledge Training that dealt with the opening ritual and significance of colors used in the rom corn to cotton precautions outlined mproducers who are thinking taking advantage of possible cotton prices next season by hing from corn to cotton may to reconsider if they used a cide this season called atra-agronomy specialist and a control scientist both warn atrazine-treated soils may grenough residue next spring mage young plants such as m, soybeans or sunflowers.

Movey Gifting Movey Gifting

Dr. James Supak, area specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and Dr. John Abernathy, research scientist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, both at Lubbock, say that only corn or sorghum can be planted on atrazine-treated land the following season, according to the atrazine label.

"If more than one pound per acre of atrazine was used on this year's corn crop, the possibilities of making a crop of cotton, soybeans, or sunflowers on the same land next year are very slim," they caution.

Conditions favoring breakdown of that herbicide in the soil, they add, involve wet, warm weather. The wetter and warmer this winter is, the more chance there is for chemical breakdown.

"A farmer may wish to take soil residue samples to ease his mind one way or the other," Supak and Abernathy suggest. "If so, the samples should be obtained in the spring to allow as much herbicide to break down as possible. A sample taken in the fall may not give a true picture, because the herbicide residue level in the soil will decrease during the following six-month period.

Abernathy and Supak say a farmer can test the soil himself simply by taking atrazine-treated soil and soil which has not had a herbicide applied this year, and place the samples in cups inside the house by a window. Cotton seed or whatever seed is being considered for planting next season can be planted in the cups, and observed for three or four weeks. Crop seedlings will usually emerge healthy looking, but begin to turn yellow and die after two to three weeks if too much atrazine is present in the soil.

"Some producers may be concerned about propazine, a herbicide commonly used in sorghum," Abernathy says. "Atrazine and propazine, both members of the triazine family of herbicides, persist for about the same length of time in the soil; however, cotton can tolerate only about one-fourth to one-half as much atrazine as propazine.

"If the amount of these two herbicides left in the soil is tion might be given to resistent varieties.'

Abernathy says that in research conducted at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock over the past three years, some 19 herbicides were tested in 48 cotton varieties. Certain of these varieties were much more resistent to triazine soil residues than others, he reports.

"Various cotton varieties ranged from no injury to 95 percent injury caused by the triazine herbicides. he adds.

Cotton varieties which were most tolerant of the triazine herbicides were Paymaster 303, GSA 71, and Auburn M.

Most sensitive cotton varieties were Lankart 611, Lockett 4789, and Paymaster 111A.

DECORATIONS FROM GARDEN

The yard or garden can provide inexpensive but elegant decorations for Christmas. Branches, fruits and leaves of many plants can add variety and color to any holiday decor. Yaupon, deciduous holly, pyracantha and pine branches can be used for wreaths while pine cones, lotus pods, cattails and cockleburs can be spray painted for added attraction. Leaves of magnolia, pittosporum and loquat are attractive either green or dried.

were untreated. Abernathy and Dr. James Supak, area specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in Lubbock, caution corn and sorghum producers who used propazine or atrazine this past season to analyze their soil for residue levels if they plan on switching to cotton in 1977. Pruning tips presented for damaged trees

Pruning not only trims back unwanted growth but can generate new growth to a tree damaged by ice, says Buddy Logsdon, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

A valuable shade tree can be saved and begin new growth with little or no damage visible if it is carefully pruned. A tree that has been damaged by ice should be pruned at the base of the limb that was damaged. No stubs should remain exposed.

Sometimes the damage may be severe enough to require that a tree be trimmed back to the main trunk or main branch. In this case the wound should be painted with a dressing that can be obtained at any good nursery or garden center, notes Logsdon.

Orange shellac serves as a good temporary tree dressing if one is not readily available. A proper wound dressing should be applied to the damaged tree within six weeks.

Sucker growth can become a

problem to the severely damaged tree if it is not continually pruned and cared for. This process may take a few years but it will prolong the tree's life.

Often the bark of a tree may be torn from the side of the main trunk or branch when a limb breaks. This bare section should be smoothed out with a kife or chisel and then coated with the tree wound dressing.

In cases when a trunk splits or a large part is broken off, a professional tree surgeon should be consulted, advised Logsdon.

All available DPS troopers will be on patrol through the holiday period in an effort to reduce, by both their presence and actions, violations that could lead to accidents. But it is only through the help and cooperation of the motoring public through their selfcompliance that the needed reduction can be realized.

Captain Melton stated, "possibly the most prevalent accidents occurring this period will be the one car run-off-the-roadway type accident which is directly attributable to driver inattention."

The Captain suggested that adequate travel time be budgeted in holiday plans, stop frequently and rest, reduce speed for road conditions and above all, don't mix alcohol and driving.

"Feel free to request needed assistance from any DPS trooper during your holiday travels. Let's all do our part to reduce to zero all holiday traffic deaths," Captain Melton added.

LA Times reports Wildcat overtime game

The recent marathon basketball game between the Littlefield and Lockney boys' varsity teams got some recognition last week in the hotbed of American basketball-Los Angeles.

In the Thursday, Dec. 9, edition of the Los Angeles Times, this story appeared in a sports shorts column:

"In Texas, Lockney and Littlefield were apparently having so much fun in a high school basketball game they didn't want it to end. It went seven overtimes.

"Littlefield won 59-57 by outscoring Lockney 4-2 in the seventh overtime. Five of the overtime periods were scoreless."

For trivia's sake, the wildcats' Kevin Gardner won the game for Littlefield by hitting both ends of a one-and-one after he was fouled going for a rebound with no time left on the clock. The Lockney player shall mercifully remain

The Bulldog's were behind at halftime, 33-32. Anton came roaring back in the second half and scored 47 second-half points while the Wolverines were held to 28.

Anton took control in the third period by blitzing the nets for 23 points to the Wolverines 13.

Anton's Rex Jones burned the nets for 22 points to lead the Bulldog's scoring.

Zane Butler and Tim Belcher scored 18 and 17 points, respectively, to be in double figures for the Bulldog's.

VA pensioners to get benefit rate increase

A 7 percent increase in monthly benefit rates for Veterans Administration pensioners, plus increases in the annual income limits on which the pensions are based. becomes effective Jan. 1, 1977.

The pension changes were approved by the President on Sept.

Affected are about a billion veterans and 1.6 million veterans' survivors receiving VA pensions. Jack Coker, VA regional director. pointed out.

The increases are estimated to cost $432 million in fiscal year 1977

Income limitations were raised as follows: To $3,540 for veterans or surviving spouses without dependents and to $4,760 for those with dependents under the current program; to $3,100 and $4,460 for those under the prior pension law: and for parents under the dependency and indemnity compensation program, the limits were raised to $3,540 for a single parent and $4,760 for parents living together or with a spouse.

The maximum unearned income limitation for children entitled under the current pension program was increased $190 to $2,890.

A significant addition in the new law provides for a 25 percent added differential to all pension rates for eligible veterans who are 78 years of age or older. Primary beneficiaries of this provision are some 318,000 World War I veterans whose average age is 80.

Aid and attendance rates for veterans on the pension rolls was increased by $22 to $155 and the housebound rate by $4 and $57. For surviving spouses on the pension rolls, parents receiving DIC payments and surviving spouses and parents receiving death compensation, the aid and attendance rate was increased to Another new provision permits payments of a reduced aid and attendance monthly allowance to eligible veterans whose pension payments are denied or terminated because annual income exceeded the statutory limitation by less than $500.

Pensions are paid to wartime veterans who are totally disabled from nonservice-connected causes if they are disabled before age 65 and come within income limits. After age 65, only income is taken into account. Pension payments to widows of wartime veterans are determined by income limitations.

The pension bill also makes permanent an 8 percent increase in monthly pension payments enacted last year with an Oct. 1, 1976, expiration date.

Fort Worth Stock Show to host cattle sales

The 81st annual Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth will host two sales for commercial female cattle during the show Jan. 28 through Feb. 6, according to W. R. Watt Jr., Stock Show general manager.

Making a debut will be a show and sale for commercial Angus females in pens of 15 head.

Some Hereford consignments will be coming from Boone Ranch of Littlefield.

WHAT MAKES A CHRISTIAN DIFFERENT?

What makes a Christian different from other people? Well, for one thing he knows he is an unfinished human being, and he knows that the finishing process is in God's

Paul said, "I am sure that God who began the good work within you will keep right on helping you grow in his grace until his task within you is finally finished on that day when Jesus Christ returns." (Philippians 1:6) A Christian is different in that he can be proud of what God s doing in and through him. He remains humble in spirit over how much more needs to be done to make him worthy

The Christian sees an unfinished world around him, filled with challenging opportunities of service and witnessing. He always has plenty of things to do. He begins with his church and he keenly interested in how he can help on a day to day basis-or on Sundays. He helps by teaching the Bible, visiting and calling on hospital patients and nome-bound invalids. You can always count on him to be a booster of his church and pastor A Christian is only one of a composed of many kinds, many types and many beliefs. But he is tough. He takes his lumps like everyone else. And he comes out of every crisis stronger than when he went in. Strong and vigorous, he offers himself anew unto God each day by saying, "Complete the good work you began in me, Lord, looking toward that great daythe coming of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ! -Paul M. Stevens
