Collision Injures Littlefield Woman

Ann Hughes Smith of Littlefield was injured in a two-car collision at the intersection of West 10th and West 11th streets Thursday morning.

Smith was hospitalized at Littlefield and is being treated for a broken rib. She was driving her 1968 Chevrolet northward on Westside and pulled out of a 1968 Ford Ranchero, which was traveling eastward on West 10th and was driven by George G. Taylor of Littlefield.

The front end of the Ford struck the front of the Chevrolet, causing the Ford to veer to the left front fender.

After the collision, two other vehicles were involved in a wreck on West 11th at the 200 block.

The Ford, driven by Crawford Elliott of Littlefield, backed from the curb and struck a 1964 Chevrolet, driven southward by Simona R. Garcia of Littlefield. Garcia's bumper struck the Chevrolet's rear panel.

MURDER CHARGE

Finch Arraigned In County

Willie Lee Finch, charged with his wife in connection with the murder of their three-month-old son, was arraigned on the murder charge in Lamb County Friday, and bond was set at $5,000.

Finch, a 20-year-old Negro farm laborer, and his 17-year-old wife Charlene, were arrested by Bailey County authorities last Monday and charged with murder, after their infant son, Johnny Ray, was pronounced dead on arrival at 2 a.m. June 7, at the West Plains Hospital in Muleshoe.

An autopsy performed by pathologists in Clovis, N. M. revealed the child died from broken ribs and a punctured lung.

The child's twin sister, Wanda Kay Finch, died March 20 at an Amarillo hospital, and hospital authorities ruled that she died of a massive brain

PROSPECTS STILL GOOD

Crops Growing Well After Late Planting

Lamb County crops over much of the county are getting off to a late start, but unaffected by recent hails, the cotton, grain sorghum and corn crops are ahead of normal development and promise excellent yields. Many farmers in the southern and western parts of the county now have cotton crops up and growing after planting for the second and third time, and some in the dryland Pep, Bula, Sudan, Lumsden and Beck Gin areas finally received enough rain to plant on, and most completed planting their cotton acreages this week and will soon have all grain sorghum land planted.

Today is the last date to plant grain sorghum unless application is made at the county ASCS office within 15 days after this date or by July 5 to remain eligible for history credit.

If cotton acreage that receives failed acreage credit is planted to another non-conserving crop or designated as set-aside acreage, the producer's price support payment per pound will be reduced by one-third (five cents).

County Agent Buddy Logsdon estimates about 10 per cent of the county's total cotton allotment has received some hail damage, and some crops were destroyed, but most of the land was replanted to cotton.

Most farmers who have late cotton feel that there is still a good chance to make at least an average crop this year, and say that indications point to a better than average price for short staple cotton.

Salvage Yard Switch OK'd

Littlefield city councilmen approved the application of Gene Hanlin for a special use permit for the purpose of salvaging used cars, during their regular meeting Thursday night, and decided to pay membership dues in the Southern Building Code Congress.

Gene Hanlin is buying out A.D. Ward's Wrecking Yard and the special use permit needed to be transferred. Councilmen advised him of the requirements necessary for securing and holding the permit.

Councilmen decided to pay the $25 membership fee in the Southern Building Code Congress. With the membership, the city may get current information on keeping building ordinances up-to-date. The city will be placed on a regular mailing list, which will inform of amendments, etc., making changes.

The Neighborhood Youth Corps Program was discussed and approved. Jack Christian is co-ordinator for the program. In 1971, 100 jobs and five youth—who qualify—will be carried in the city this summer.

Barbecue Set At Olton Center

The Olton Recreation Center will have its annual chicken barbecue Monday, July 5 at 7:30 p.m.

During the afternoon there will be swimming events for boys and girls of all ages and adults. Participation is not limited to club members.

76-YEAR-OLD MRS. A.F. WILSON

She's A Galavanting Granny

Mrs. A. F. Wilson has just returned to Littlefield from a trip to Germany. And after seeing the way people live there so crowded up, she says it's wonderful to get back to her own country and it makes her thankful for her own little home here.

Mrs. Wilson spent three weeks with her son Howell in Baltimore before flying on to Germany for a three-week visit with another son, Able Matt, who is in the Air Force and stationed in Germany.

Seventy-six year old Mrs. Wilson said her children called her last New Years Day and told her they were going to bring her to Baltimore and when she got there she was going to take her shots and go on to Germany from there. They had planned for it to be a Christmas trip, but her daughter, Mrs. Dub Berry of Littlefield, asked her why she didn't wait until summer when the weather would be nicer.

While in Germany, Mrs. Wilson said she was surprised at the way people lived "on top of each other" in many-storied buildings. Munich was so crowded, she said she didn't see how the people got through there.

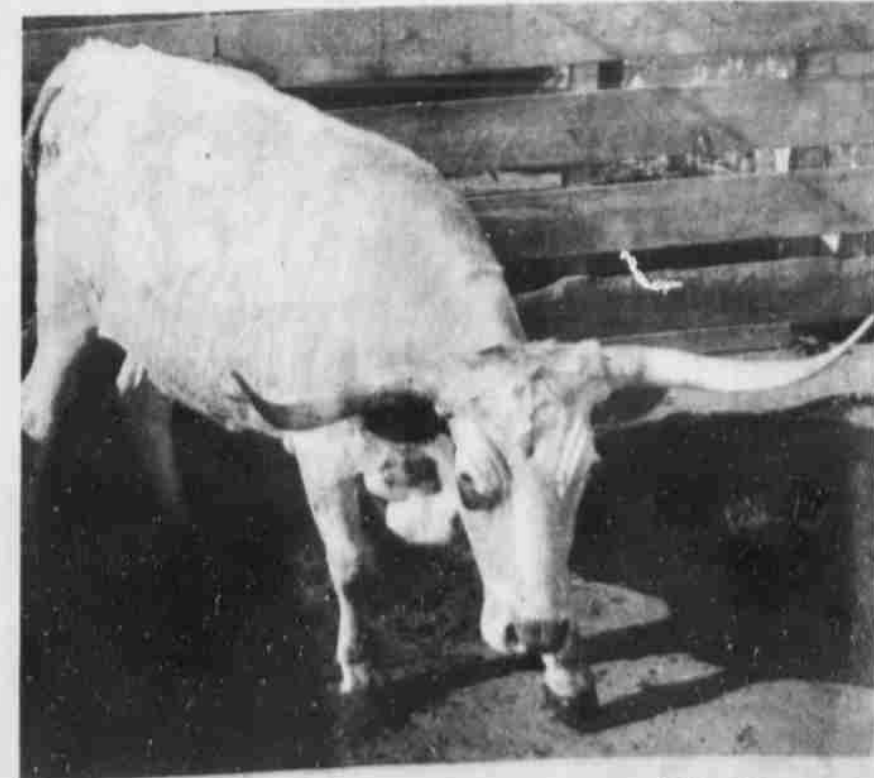

She thought the country was a beautiful place, but found the hilly country with the roads so twisted and the cars all going lickity-split a little scary since it's right up her son's alley to drive fast.

Things that impressed her was the way farmers picked up their hay with forks and hung it on the fences to dry like hanging out a washing of clothes. She said she was surprised to learn that the American dollar was worth only 75 cents in Germany unless the dollars were changed into marks before paying for things.

"If anyone destroys a tree, they have to

MRS. E. L. WILSON is affectionately called "The World Traveler" by her seven children now that she is home from a six-week trip to Baltimore and Germany. This week she received letters from her children teasing her about being a gad-about. E. L., in Downey, Calif., who always addresses his letters to "My Mom" added "The World Traveler" when he addressed his letter this week. And Howell, the son she visited in Baltimore, addressed his letter to "The World Traveler" 800 W. 8th Street (If There). Other children are Mrs. Dub Berry, Mrs. John Clayton and Robert Wilson of Littlefield; Ramey Wilson, Lawton, Okla.; and Able Matt Wilson, the son she visited in West Germany.

J. FRANK DAUGHERTY of Olton brought this 3-year-old Longhorn steer to a Littlefield locker plant this week. This steer and a 4-year-old member of the vanishing species had their departure hastened when the rancher decided to see how the animals dressed out and sample Longhorn T-bone steak.

Flower Talk

by Kip Cutshall

DID YOU EVER TASTE A FLOWER?

Did you ever eat a clove? It is simply the flower bud from a tropical tree. The seed from the flowers of anise, dill, coriander, cumin and lovage are used to flavor foods.

In some parts of the world flowering daisies and lilies are eaten. Violets are made into salads and wine is made from dandelions.

We feel they are to be seen, admired and enjoyed. Your order for flowers when placed with us, is given special attention. We love flowers, and it shows up in our efforts.

MR. AND MRS. LLOYD CRUME

Mr. and Mrs. Crume Given Reception

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Crume were honored Sunday afternoon on their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary with an open house in the Gwynne Owens home in Hereford.

Guests from Borger, Amarillo, Littlefield and Hereford were greeted by the couple with their son, Gary, a student at West Texas State University, and David of the home.

Other hosts for the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Tubbs and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gollehon, all of Littlefield. The Gollehons are parents of Mrs. Crume.

Crume married Frances Gollehon June 9, 1946. They now reside at 115 Northwest Drive of Hereford. The Crumes are former residents of Littlefield.

Wedding pictures, announcement clippings and the bride's book were displayed on the registry table for guests to see.

Refreshments were served from crystal appointments also used at the wedding reception as were the bride and groom atop the three-tiered cake.

Pink roses in silver candelabra centered the serving table.

Hereford Crusade To Begin Today

Designated as "Youth Night", Tuesday, June 22, will be dedicated to young people of the Panhandle with youth-oriented services, a giant reception, autographs and a panel interview with Debbie Patton, Miss Teenage America, and Terry Bradshaw, Pittsburgh Steeler quarterback.

It's all part of Encounter '71, the evangelistic crusade being sponsored by 10 churches and seven denominations in Hereford, June 20-24.

In addition, the regular 8:30 p.m. crusade services will have a full youth slant. Young people of the community will take over as ushers, choir members, and other phases for the evening. The full stage band, part of the crusade presentation each night, will also be strongly emphasized on "Youth Night".

Young people attending the Tuesday session will automatically be invited as special guests at a reception in La Plata gymnasium, in walking distance of the field, at which Debbie Patton and Terry

Bradshaw will appear for the purpose of signing autographs, visiting, and appearance in a panel interview, when they will answer questions the young people may wish to ask.

Preparations have been made to accommodate 5,000 youth at the reception.

Opening with Dale Evans today, Sunday, followed by Tom Lester, "Green Acres" tv star, Monday, and "Youth Night" Tuesday, Encounter '71 is scheduled with Vonda Kaye Van Dyke, former Miss America, on Wednesday, and will close with Paul Anderson, "The World's Strongest Man" Thursday.

Featured all five nights is the huge 200-voice choir, and evangelistic messages by Dr. Gerald Mann, who is widely recognized "the World's Strongest Man" Thursday.

The crusade is a layman-sponsored presentation, underwritten by 100 Hereford laymen who contributed $100 each to initiate the movement

Sudan May Purchase Emergency Ambulance

Sudan citizens will have an open discussion on the possibility of the Sudan Volunteer Fire Department beginning an operation of an emergency ambulance.

Robert A. Koonce, a field consultant with the Texas State Department of Public Welfare, will be present for the meeting at the Sudan Fire Department, Monday, June 28 at 7 p.m.

Koonce will present the program for all interested persons and public officials. The meeting is to encourage community awareness and concern toward the life-death importance of well-coordinated local emergency medical services. A film will be shown to dramatically illustrate how a small town saw the need for better emergency care and worked to fulfill that need, he said.

Alarming statistics released after a national study shows that 20,000 accident victims die unnecessarily each year as a direct result of inadequate emergency care and at least another 25,000 are permanently disabled from the same cause.

Communities can do something about it, and many are, he added.

PAUL HARVEY

Number One?

ONE MONDAY MORNING this month we awakened, looked up, and up there, overhead, three men in a space house; three Russian men.

In the big old catsup bottle the size of a railroad car, three men sleeping, eating, exercising and working away 150 miles above and beyond us.

THUS THE RUSSIANS had leapfrogged a year-and-a-half ahead of us into space, yet you've heard little urging, in Congress or out, for us to catch up.

It is as if we as a nation are coming to accept something less than being first. Former President Lyndon Johnson stubbornly refused "to be the first American President ever to lose a war."

NOW THE MAN who was his secretary of defense, who formerly subscribed to that position, says he was wrong and he is sorry.

Now Clark Clifford says he has an "obsession" to erase that mistake to the extent that he can, to get us altogether out of Indochina and to keep us out.

HOWEVER, the end results may be rationalized, this war is one we will not have won.

Similarly, in medicine we have moved from the front seat to the back. At least three other nations enjoy a happier doctor-patient ratio than ours.

IN INDUSTRY, Detroit is confessing that it cannot compete with imports.

American workers in automobiles—as in ceramics and textiles and electronics—have priced themselves out of the market. Other nations can produce better products for less.

JUST ONE WAR AGO—such a few years ago—it was downright treasonous for a United States of American to suggest that our country is or would ever be anything but the greatest, the strongest, the most powerful and the most prosperous.

Are we falling back? Is the United States no longer to be number one?

There is evidence aplenty that our individual standard of living remains the world's highest, our gross national product the world's most voluminous.

YET JAPAN, RUSSIA and West Germany, coming from behind, trying harder, are gaining on and threatening to overtake us.

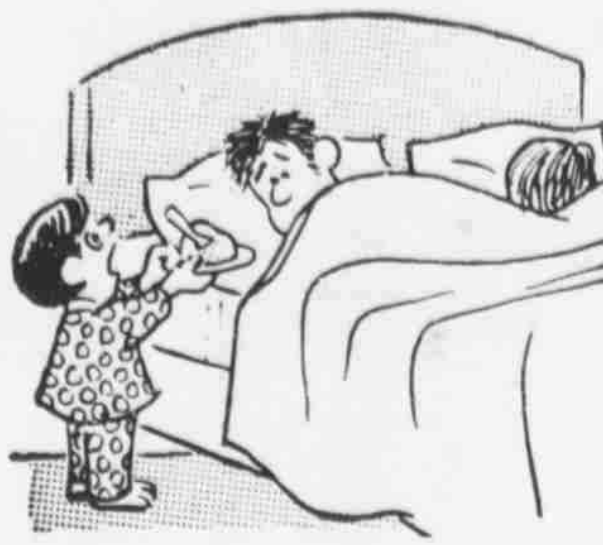

It can be argued that second place is not all bad. Even third or fourth place with its lesser challenge to excellence and its diminished responsibility for others may be more comfortable if we are, in fact, too fat and lazy to want to sweat any more.

Indeed, history makes it appear inevitable that no nation enjoys more than about 200 years at its zenith, and that is just about our time in the New World.

BUT PAUL HARVEY is so grateful for the glory that was ours and the material comforts which our energies produced that it's sad to him to witness the decline and fall.

And he cannot but wish that it were the other way around; that those were not Americans stuck in the monsoon mud over there and that those were Americans reaching for the stars up here.

AND THAT THE soundest dollars and the fastest airplanes and the best cars were still made here. I can wish that, however, both Scripture and history insist, we individually and collectively always get exactly what we deserve.

"Happy Father's Day . . . Have some ice cream!"

EDITORIALS

IT'S YOUR DAY, DAD!

Today is Father's Day—the day dad can sit around the house and relax, finally, after two weeks or more of hectic "get-ready-for-Father's-Day" activities.

Beginning today, Dad, you'll no longer be a stranger in your own house—until June of next year—with the exception of your birthday and Christmas.

After you get the BIG gift or gifts from the kiddies this morning, once again you'll be allowed to look in drawers and closets.

By now the kids, and the wife, and probably the dog have trooped in with the coffee and a gift or two, shouting "Happy Father's Day!" It will be a whole year now before you have to drink the cup of coffee offered (which you must) while three kids and the dog are jumping on the bed urging you to hurry up and open the gifts.

You'll know when get-ready-for-Father's Day is nearing next year, if you've paid any attention the past few days. It begins when the children start whispering to each other.

Remember to ask some questions. This is quite the game you have to play, and if you aren't curious, they'll think you don't care. But don't ask too many, because kids aren't good at keeping secrets, and if they bust the secret, it spoils all their fun.

Resolve right now not to worry about the kid's extravagance next year. You knew your daughter had been saving all her money since Christmas. So next year when she comes up and says she's got to have a bigger allowance don't ask her why. "I can't tell you," is reason enough. And remember how she stormed, "Oh, Daddy," and ran from the room in tears when you blurted: "I can't give you a bigger allowance and don't you blow all your money on a gift for Father's Day."

Don't offer to take her to the store if you overhear her talking to her mother about going to town, come next June. Remember last week when she wailed, "You can't take me," and left the room in tears again.

And until Father's Day is past next year, don't open the closet door looking for a sports coat you haven't worn in weeks. Remember that 6-year-old freckle-faced son with his arms outstretched, and that look of defiance when he said: "You can't look in there."

About this time next year you'll wonder again if you're getting 15 gifts or if that one gift has been hidden 15 times.

But you'll go through it again when you remember the shirt you got today. It's not quite the color you'd have bought for yourself, and maybe you'd prefer the tapered style.

By this time next year you may not remember which shirt they gave you. But you'll never forget the looks on the kid's faces when they handed you the package, and how they proclaimed all day: "That's the shirt we got you for Father's Day."

THE PHILOSOPHER

Litter Problem

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm tackles the garbage problem this week, not too successfully.

Dear editor: According to an article I read in a newspaper last night which I'd already looked at once but was better than the re-run I'd already seen three times on television, some ecologists were up in arms in some city. I forget which, because members of a woman's garden club served refreshments in paper cups.

Cold drinks, they contended, should be served only in returnable bottles or reusable glasses and the women ought to be ashamed to be contributing to the garbage problem.

They said they had nothing against garden clubs but the members ought to join the national drive to cut down on the millions of tons of disposable containers now plaguing the nation.

I have been thinking about this and I guess the ecologists are right, but they shouldn't stop with paper cups.

For example, what I'd like to see is a returnable automobile. These throw-away models are cluttering up the junk piles of the world.

The same goes for refrigerators, washing machines, box cars, baby beds, etc. I don't know about Congressmen. There're very few returnable ones. When one gets beat he rarely returns home to the people he claims he loves, he gets appointed to a job and stays on in Washington. They tell me there're hulks of ex-Congressmen scattered all over the place.

Or getting back to paper, take postage stamps, a small item you might say, but do you know how many billions are used every year? There's no need for the post office department to print up thousands of tons of stamps and ship them around to all the country's post offices, then haul them back one at a time on letters where they'll be thrown into the receiver's wastebasket with the envelope. All the post office needs is a machine that'll read numbers. You write your Social Security number on the envelope where the stamp goes, the machine reads it, charges your account and adds it to your income tax.

You might say, yeah, but what are you going to do about people who forge other people's Social Security number on their letters, and my answer is, let's change the subject.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

Imperfections

IMPERFECTIONS ARE part of us, and our living experiences. Therefore we must accept them without resentment; without disappointment; without discouragement; and, above all, without bitterness.

IN OUR TIME, imperfections in people; in government; in our social order; in our institutions; and in every other aspect of the human experience are being used as justifications for inexcusable, perverted human actions.

There is a right way and a wrong way to feel about and respond to imperfections.

SOME IMPERFECTIONS can be overcome, some modified and some must be accepted. In all of this, however, if we respond with hostility; or bitterness; or hatred; or in any other such unwarranted and useless way; we move in the wrong direction.

In fact, we intensify and enlarge existing shortcomings.

"HE CENSURES GOD who quarrels with the imperfections of men."—Burke. People who concentrate on imperfections; see nothing else, talk about nothing else, and act as if nothing else exists have chosen a miserable, useless and sometimes destructive manner of life.

WE CAN COPE with imperfections quite satisfactorily, when we put forth intelligent, constructive effort to improve what we can; and then accept, with good cheer and understanding, that which remains after we have done our best.

Otherwise, we create a progressive deterioration.

"NO HUMAN FACE is exact in its lines on each side; no leaf in its lobes, and no branch in its symmetry.—All admit irregularity imply change.—To banish imperfections to destroy expression, to check lovelier, and more beloved imperfections which have been appointed, THAT THE LAW OF LIFE MAY BE EFFORT, AND OF HUMAN JUDGMENT MERCY."—Ruskin.

We must labor, without growing to do the very best we can for ourselves; and be kind and merciful attitudes toward the imperfections of others, and toward imperfections in general.

THERE IS SO MUCH more perfection in us, in other people, life situation for us to see and about.

We are foolish if we refuse good, the beautiful, the decent, the excellent and the other and uplifting life elements. The as real as the imperfections.

"WHAT AN ABSURD THING pass over all the valuable parts and fix our attention on his inferior Addition.

Many people do this to themselves many more adopt this harmful their total life outlook.

IMPERFECTION is part of it is only a small part unless we king of life.

This must not be done.

NO, THANK YOU, I'm not after the President's job. Not that I'm really expectin' the offer soon, but, just thought I'd try to head off any preliminary offers of being drafted to the job.

About the only things that would make his job desirable would be the pay and the prestige. Since I'm not greedy for either one—NO, THANKS!

WHAT, WITH ALL the problems of my own, I wouldn't want to assume the responsibilities of the troubles of two hundred million more malcontents. I'm just too busy.

Anyway, about any critic on the block is smarter than the president! If you don't believe me, just ask anyone what ought to be done about any given problem on the national level. I just don't think I could generate enough interest in these minor problems to do the office due justice.

REALLY, IT'S a wonder the Chief don't die of boredom!

Take, for instance, the Vietnam problem. The answer is SO simple. All you gotta do is bring the boys home. Ask anyone!

AND THE REDS? Really, all they want is to be friends. In fact, they want to HELP us. Given opportunity, I'm sure they'd be willing to come over here, take over the oversight of our country and show us how to put their ways of problem-solv'n' into operation. In fact, I'd betcha they'd SOLVE our problems for us!

The national economy? No sweat. Just keep the economy up while keepin' inflation down! In doin' this the president would need to increase the value of the dollar and at the same time, see that everyone has plenty of them.

Electricity Usage On Rise In County

In what shape will Lamb County be this summer with respect to its electric power needs? Will the local area be faced with the power shortages that are in prospect in many sections of the country?

The situation is so critical nationally, that President Nixon called his cabinet into special session recently to devise steps that might be taken to ease the expected summer crisis and to discuss ways and means to provide for the steadily rising demand for electricity.

The demand doubles in the United States every 10 years or so, the Federal Power Commission's figures show.

In the area embracing Lamb County, residential consumption alone rose about 26 percent in just five years.

Despite the efforts made by most utility companies in the country to add new generating units to cope with this rapidly expanding demand, they have been unable to keep abreast. It takes a long time and a big investment to build new power facilities.

As a result, according to John A. Carver, Jr., of the Federal Power Commission, "a crisis exists right now. For the next three decades we will be in a race for our lives to meet our energy needs."

In Lamb County, the amount of current required for residential consumption has jumped because of the great increase in the number of electrical appliances that have come into use in recent years.

In a period of five years the rise in the local area was from 34,000 kilowatt hours annually to a high of approximately 43,000 kilowatt hours. Per household, the average went from 4,995 to 7,574.

Elsewhere in the United States, the

WORSHIP IN CHURCH

My "Pop"

... a grand guy in any language. A very special fellow at our house. Without him around night brings fright. But for him we couldn't eat as well, nor as much. He may be gruff at times; he may be firm when he disciplines. And we may answer "yessir" in agreement when he commands, but he is the very foundation of everything at our house.

It takes him to silence the doggie... to persuade Jr... to laud sister's successes and to heap high praise on all the things mother does... that's "My Pop". They possess rare qualities, these fathers. A good one is a source of joy to every child. Then on this Father's Day, let him have it right in the heart. Aim all the good things at him. Give him the treatment he so justly deserves and make him wish for another Father's Day very soon. Play with him but also pray with him. Be a worshiper with him at your church this week.

Carpet cleaning is just as thorough, with all furniture being moved; then the carpet is vacuumed. A machine with a different type brush is used on the carpet, rather than the rotary type. The carpet cleaner brushes roll forward brushing up the pile and at the same time putting a layer of foam on the carpet which is designed to lift the dirt from the carpet.

Then the vacuum is brought in for the final touch, lifting all the dirty foam from the rug and leaving it almost completely dry. After a few hours, a regular vacuum is run over the carpets and the furniture is replaced.

Beachcombers Comb Cars For Treasure

As Texans once again start their yearly exodus to the beaches and lakes to escape summer's heat, so do thieves whose business it is to go where the action is, says C. C. Benson, manager of the Southwest region, National Automobile Theft Bureau (NATB).

"A beach parking lot during the Texas summer is the closest thing we have to the Sahara desert and vacationers who dread returning to an ovenlike car will leave windows open, unwittingly inviting thieves to help themselves not only to valuables in the car—but to the car itself," Benson said.

Most bathers want as little with them as possible on the sandy shores. Benson noted, so cameras, handbags, clothing, binoculars and even billfolds and car keys are left in the car while the owners soak up the sun.

NATB advises families to take as few valuables to the beach as may be necessary. Keep personal property in the trunk of the car out of sight. The professional thief is deterred only momentarily by a locked glove compartment, so cash, watches and jewelry should either be left at home or kept with you on your beach blanket.

Benson also stressed that although the old "hide-the-car-keys-under-the-seat" trick might seem safe, it is one of the first places a professional thief will look and the unsuspecting sun-worshipper might return to find more than his valuables missing.

"The vacation vehicle, pickups with campers or motorized mobile homes is also a prime target of the professional thief in the Southwest," Benson added. "These should be locked when they are left—even for a short time.

"Don't let your vacation be spoiled by the pilferer or professional thief who thrives on the carelessness of honest people," Benson said. "Hot or not, lock your car or camper at all times and take the keys."

Spotty Grain Sorghum Is Plaguing Farmers

Spotty grain sorghum stands in High Plains fields are plaguing both area farmers and scientists at the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway.

The spotted stands can be attributed to a number of factors, such as drought, cold weather, seed germination, herbicide residue damage, etc.

Scientists at the High Plains Research Foundation have visual demonstration of damage from herbicide residues in minimum tillage plots at the Foundation.

According to Dennis Mooney, agronomist, in plots where Treflan was disk incorporated last year, sorghum stands have been reduced as much as a third compared to plots where the herbicide was incorporated with a rolling cultivator.

"It is easy to notice the difference where these plots are side by side," Mooney said. "We got better weed control from the disked method last year, but as can be expected, we have a greater problem with herbicide residue," he said.

Similar problems were noted in off-station minimum tillage tests.

The many reports of herbicide residue problems in grain sorghum this year is probably due to the extremely dry winter along with the cold weather during the month of May. Herbicide residue problem can be expected under these adverse conditions, particularly with minimum tillage.

In minimum tillage practices under study at the Foundation, Mooney said the land preparation before planting time was limited to a chisel operation to open the beds to allow moisture to penetrate the beds.

Mooney invites area farmers to come by the Foundation and observe first hand the herbicide residue problems encountered in the research work being done there.
