Olton Woman Recovers From Bite

An Olton woman is recovering from the bite of a Brown Recluse spider after a four-day stay in a Littlefield hospital.

Mrs. Wayne Moore said she felt a sting something like a mosquito bite when she carried out her trash. About five hours later she became sick, dizzy and a big black knot appeared on her arm where she had felt the sting.

Mrs. Moore's arm turned black from the top of her shoulder to her elbow, and her doctor said she was "lucky to be alive."

Definite identification showed the spider was a Brown Recluse.

Persons are advised to be cautious of spiders when working outside, and the Brown Recluse, like other spiders, likes to come inside out of the cold. The Brown Recluse is small and has a violin shaped design on the head.

Theft Ring Probe Under Way In Area

Thursday afternoon Department of Public Safety intelligence agents, Texas Rangers, Lamb County sheriff's office officials, DPS helicopter pilots and highway patrolmen in Littlefield swooped down on a theft ring thought to be headquartered in the Littlefield area.

Lamb County Sheriff E. D. McNeese estimated the value of the farm equipment recovered in this area Thursday at between $80,000 and $100,000.

A former Littlefield man, 38-year-old Jack Mixon, was arrested northwest of Clovis after a $14,000 truck which matched a stolen vehicle reported by the DPS was found on his property.

Mixon pleaded innocent to a charge of possession of stolen property at his arraignment and was released on a $3,000 bond.

About $60,000 worth of stolen farm machinery and equipment was recovered in the Littlefield area Thursday. A diesel truck was recovered in the east part of Littlefield. A combine was recovered at Pep. And two new diesel tractors were recovered on farms north of Littlefield.

The diesel truck and the combine which were recovered were both stolen from Hale County on the same date.

McNeese said search warrants were issued out of district court, and that the recovery of the stolen equipment climaxed two or three months of investigation by the three DPS departments and the sheriff's office.

Officials would not say how many persons may be involved in the theft ring, but they did confirm that they expect more persons to be implicated in the near future.

No further arrests have been made here, pending grand jury action.

Recovery of the machinery and equipment in Hockley County and Clovis was aided by Clovis police, the New Mexico State Police, and the Hockley County district attorney's office.

Besides vehicles recovered, officers said a diesel engine and parts of various truck-tractors were recovered. Several identification plates on the vehicles had been altered, according to officers.

'Messiah' Rehearsal Site Is Changed

Rehearsal for "Messiah" singers has been changed from this afternoon to Tuesday, Dec. 5, at 7 p.m. and will be held at First Baptist Church instead of First United Methodist Church.

This change has been necessary because of the expanded performance plan this year which will include instrumental accompaniment by guest musicians from Lubbock.

All singers, familiar enough with this piece of music are invited to participate and asked to join now.

This year's performance will be Sunday afternoon, Dec. 17, at First Baptist Church with the time to be announced later.

Drug Conviction Featured In Film

Anyone wonder what happens to a person who gets caught in possession or selling drugs?

After trial and conviction, then what?

A film showing true happenings involving "Jim" or better known as 212912, depicts his life in the Texas Department of Corrections after he was sentenced to a term in the penitentiary on a dope charge.

The free full-color film will be shown in Littlefield Monday night at 8:30 in the Junior High School Auditorium, and is being brought as a public service by the Littlefield Alcoholics Anonymous (AA) group.

Crop Harvesting Moving Slowly

Less than one week of good working days since the freeze is playing havoc with the 1972 grain and cotton harvest.

With harvest conditions about ready to resume, Wednesday's snow storm caught even the weather forecasters unaware and added days to inclimate harvesting weather.

Through Friday, less than 1,000 bales of cotton had been ginned at the five gins in the immediate Littlefield area putting this year's ginning at this stage just a little ahead of last year's slow harvest.

In addition to the cotton harvest being so long in getting underway, quite a bit of grain remains in the fields.

By the last week in November last year, less than 300 bales had been tagged out by Littlefield gins. In addition to an unseasonably late frost last year, several cold wet spells delayed the harvest.

This fall and the fall a year ago contrast sharply to 1970 when the harvest was almost over by this date with more than 100,000 bales already ginned over the county.

SCOTCH PINE Christmas trees are now on sale at the Band Boosters' Christmas tree lot on Highway 385 (Hall Avenue). Shown near the trees and advertising sign are Karen Carter, Junior High Band twirler, and Karol Terry, Wildcat Band twirler. Both won 1 plus ratings in the UIL contest recently. Karol is a clarinet player and Karen plays the French horn. Proceeds from the tree sales go toward equipment for the band. (Staff Photo)

Band Boosters Begin Christmas Tree Sales

The Littlefield Band Boosters' Christmas tree lot is now in operation on Hall Avenue, (Highway 385).

"The public will have a larger group of trees from which to make their selection this year, and the trees are the best that have ever been offered for sale in the Littlefield area," says Hubert Henry, Band Booster president. "There was an increase in price this year to the Booster Club, but we will sell the trees at the same price as last year."

"We believe that if the Christmas tree buying public will come by our lot, they will be pleased with the large selection and price that will be available," Henry emphasized.

The Band Boosters Christmas tree lot has had customers from all over Lamb County and the surrounding counties. There will be an attendant and a Band Booster on the lot from 9 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. weekdays and from 1:00 p.m. to 7 p.m. Sundays.

The trees are sprayed Scotch pine, grown in Wisconsin commercially for sale by groups such as the Band Boosters.

"The Littlefield Band Boosters would appreciate your patronage," Henry concluded.

Approximately 300 band students will benefit from the tree sales, as proceeds go into equipment for the bands.

Persons may call 385-4898, the tree lot, for home deliveries.

Key '73 Briefing Scheduled Monday

More than 130 denominations have pledged their support to the common mission of delivering to others the message of Christ's love and forgiveness in the year 1973.

The Littlefield Ministerial Alliance invites the public to attend a briefing Monday evening, Dec. 4, at 7:30 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church in Littlefield.

This emphasis will be discussed and plans made toward the local effort with each church taking part as each sees fit.

Those involved will be in step through the year as the program unfolds through national television networks and other media.

It is the sincere conviction of those concerned that this can be done without doctrinal compromises.

Briefly, the program is organized into six segments:

1. Calling the continent to repentance and prayer, January-February;
2. Calling the continent to the Word of God, February-March;
3. Calling the continent to the resurrection, March-April;
4. Calling the continent to new life, April-May-June;
5. Calling the continent to proclamation, July-August-September; and

6. Calling the continent to commitment, October-November-December.

Farm Trailer Tag Sales Are Lagging

The issuing of farm tags for cotton trailers is lagging in Lamb County with less than half the number expected to be bought issued at the tax assessor-collector's office through Friday.

Herbert Dunn said 1,415 tags had been issued. That figure is less than half of the 3,195 farm tags received in this county.

Dunn said the tags can be issued without delay if those purchasing the tags will bring their renewal notices with them. Only about one person in 15 is remembering to bring along renewal notices, and typing out the entire form takes about three times as long.

Farmers are reminded to bring along the renewal notices which were mailed to them last January, and an appeal is being made for all trailer owners to save their renewal notices this next year in order to speed up the licensing process.

WILDCAT BASKETBALL team, led by Dee Blevins and Lewis... In visiting both the coaches this past week... were both impressed with the Cats' showings. It's not easy coming out of a football season and then right into basketball. Mike Love, former Permian football, basketball and star was a classic example of this... who was courted (no pun intended) by every major university in the country but who knew all the time his desire to be a Church of Christ member was stronger than his desire for... and fortune on the gridiron... had trouble adapting to the pace of basketball. "Shoot," he said, "I'm used to resting 25 seconds between each play!"

Only eight players are currently signing up for the varsity team... Blevins wants to add a couple of more around the perimeter of the year or thereabouts. The small picture should be picking up Littlefield as Boomer has several young youngsters on the B-squad.

RECEIVED OUR first Santa Claus this past week and we made a letter so that we can publish it to the North Pole... the jolly old gentleman last week, he's urging all little boys to write this year and send the letter to the Leader-News office so that it can be forwarded on before Christmas and so that all little boys and girls have their letters put in the mail.

THERE HAS BEEN a discussion lately of which is the most reliable as a source—a newspaper, radio or television news reporter last week unwittingly gave a testimonial to the printed word. He was giving us a testimonial when he came to me that surprised him. "I won't believe this one until I see it in print," he said.

SENATOR MARGARET CHASE of Maine this month was elected in her bid for re-election to the Senate. We'll miss her for many years. Mainly because she was a loner and only for convictions. A politician, she went with the President only when she thought he was right.

Jennings-Gilley Wedding Vows Read

Elms Memorial Chapel of the First United Methodist Church was the setting at 8 p.m. Friday, Nov. 24, for the double ring ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Charlotte Denise Jennings and Harlen Ross Gilley.

The Rev. Wayland Dowden, Methodist minister from Clyde, officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Jennings and Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Gilley of Littlefield.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a formal-length empire style gown fashioned of luteson and beaded trim, with a V neckline and long puff sleeves with fitted cuffs. The bridal veil of silk illusion was attached to a matching capulet of lace.

The bridal bouquet was of baby rosebuds nestled among lily-of-the-valley and baby's breath.

For the traditional "something old" the bride wore her grandmother's lavilier. Her gown was "something new"; "something borrowed" was her veil, belonging to Mrs. Jennifer Cooper. For "something blue" the traditional blue garter. She wore pennies in her shoes dated the years of her's and the groom's birth.

The candles were lighted by Michael Jennings, brother of the bride.

Tommy Kelton, brother-in-law of the groom, served as best man. Cynthia Jennings attended her sister as maid of honor. Michelle Jones served as flower girl. They wore identical formal-length gowns of soft blue crepe radiance. The empire styled dresses were trimmed with blue velvet ribbon and had short puffed sleeves.

The mother of the bride wore a dress of blue knit with lace bodice and sleeves, accented with white accessories.

The groom's mother wore a soft gray two-piece knit suit and white accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white carnations.

Music was provided by Mrs. Richard Shipley, organist. Miss Halley Hinkley and Miss Denise McCurry sang "One Love".

The chapel was decorated with two baskets of blue tinted mums and carnations and in the center enriched by greenery and two candles. There was a vase of mums and carnations in the background.

The guests were registered by Miss Velva Lee of Fieldton.

A reception followed in the church parlor. The table was covered with a white lace table cloth over blue. The wedding cake consisted of three tiers, accented with blue roses. Mrs. Tommy Kelton, Mrs. David Jones, Mrs. James Blackwell and Mrs. Bill Taylor served the cake and punch. Miss Deanna Jones passed out rice bags during the reception.

For her bridal trip, the bride wore a brown crushed velvet suit with a mid-length skirt and brown suede boots. She wore the corsage lifted from the bouquet.

The couple will reside in Littlefield.

Common Diseases

TEXAS SCHOOL CHILDREN and some of the common childhood diseases, hopefully, will soon no longer be frequent companions.

Thanks to a mandatory school immunization law being implemented by state and local health authorities, Texas school children have the best protection against disease outbreaks they have ever had in the history of the state.

AFTER THE FIRST full year since implementation of the new state law began, state health officials report immunization levels will continue on the upswing.

As of May 1, 1972, the great majority of all school children in Texas had begun or completed their required immunization program for five common childhood diseases: diphtheria, polio, measles, rubella, and tetanus. Smallpox, the standard immunization school children received for decades, is no longer a required immunization.

WE FEEL GREAT progress has been made in the past year, particularly when you view the fact that out of 2.9 million school children in Texas some 2.3 million are on record in their schools as protected, said Dr. James E. Peavy, Texas Commissioner of Health. "Our forecast is for even better levels next May."

The mandatory immunization law passed by the Texas Legislature in April 1971 required a monumental effort on the part of health authorities, school officials, and private medicine. Prior to enactment of the law, each individual school district set their own immunization requirements and some had no requirements.

Quite often in those areas where children needed the full-range of protection, smallpox was the only immunization required. Under the new law, a child must be immunized against certain diseases to enroll in school.

SCHOOL AUTHORITIES worked closely with health officials to see that all parents were advised of the new requirements and that all school children began their immunization programs as soon as possible.

The result was that three-fourths or more of all Texas school children were protected against each disease by the end of that first year under the new law.

With the 80 school districts that began late campaigns and continued enforcement of the mandatory law in all school districts, state health officials foresee a substantially better immunization level at the end of this school year.

Our Immunization Program has spot-checked several school districts around the state, with most reporting a rise in their immunization level to include more than 90 per cent of all school children in their district," said Dr. Peavy. "Less than one percent of the school children involved admitted no immunizations at all. We believe the outlook for achieving close to 100 per cent protection among the school population is very bright."

OF THE 1,200 school districts in Texas, 400 are being revisited this year by state health authorities. School officials are offered assistance, advice, immunization clinics, and assistance to their school nurse from state or local health authorities.

"If it were not for the work done by local health departments and school nurses, the program would not have been as successful as it has been to date," said Dr. Peavy. "Of course, a lot of the immunizations were obtained through private physicians, and their cooperation has also been phenomenal."

TAKING ALL GROUUPS as a whole, probably among the best immunized at the present time in the state are Catholic school children, with better than a 90 per cent immunization level.

As of May 1, 1972 some 74 per cent of all Texas school children are immunized against polio; 79 per cent against diphtheria; 79 per cent against measles; 78 per cent against rubella; and 79 per cent against tetanus. Health officials believe the required two months spread between the three dosages of polio vaccine and the required booster dose were the factors that caused the polio statistics to trail those for the other diseases.

IN MANY CASES, as a result, complete immunization against polio was not reported by the end of the reporting period on May 1, 1972.

"We feel the pre-school age child, from birth to five years of age, is where the disease problem is now in Texas," said Dr. Peavy. "By May 1, 1973, occurrence of these common childhood diseases in the pre-school population will be our biggest remaining problem."

STATE HEALTH authorities have already mounted a massive pre-school immunization campaign. The Texas Immunization Program will now lay plans to work closely with the Department of Public Welfare in enforcing the required immunizations in kindergartens and day care centers.

Under state law, children attending such day care centers must be immunized against whooping cough (pertussis), polio, diphtheria, rubella, measles, and tetanus.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Can't Afford It

THERE ARE MANY, many things we can't afford. We usually apply this statement to things of material value which we would like to purchase, but, if we are wise, we don't make the purchase because we just do not have the money.

Some of us do not make this decision very graciously, and this is too bad.

We should not let ourselves become unduly upset over an action which is essential. In fact, we should be pleased that we have made a wise choice.

IF WE ARE FOOLISH enough to make purchases which we can't afford, we create unnecessary and discouraging problems.

Unfortunately, this particular foolish action never stands alone, but touches every facet of one's life. It can, and often does cause a state of hopeless discouragement.

WHAT IS WRONG with admitting that we can't afford it, especially when this is the truth?

Is it not better to do without than it is to add to the burdens we carry by piling on financial obligations we cannot discharge? Of course, it is.

WHEN WE FAIL to observe our financial limitations, the results are always unpleasant, and are sometimes bordering on the brink of disaster.

We must be honest enough, and sensible enough, and courageous enough to admit to ourselves and others (if necessary) that we cannot afford it.

THIS SAME GUIDELINE is applicable in other important areas of the living experience. There are many, many things that we cannot afford.

We must make ourselves aware of these things, the things which we afford to buy and the things we cannot afford to do.

CAN WE AFFORD to be unkind, hypercritical, self-centered, generally anti-social in our contacts, associations with others? Even some people think so.

There are times and places most of us seem to think so. Or, from the standpoint of all that is and true: none of us can afford to uncivil attitudes toward others. We afford to mistreat others.

SOME FOLK are unforgiving. One can afford to be unforgiving, or later all of us will need forgiveness if we have not forgiven others. May be no help for us.

"Life that ever needs forgiveness for its first duty to forgive."

THE FREE-WHEELING TOY another excess we can't afford more than foolish to glory in our "get others told", or to take pride in our willingness to say whatever we think, regardless of how it may hurt someone.

Such foolish action is a constant source of loss.

WE CANNOT AFFORD to have feelings of others; or deny their rights and privileges; or unappreciative of their abilities and accomplishments.

Why not make a list of all the we can't afford?

WHETHER BUYING merchandise, dealing with people; there are many things we can't afford.

HOMINY GRITS

By CORNBALL BLEVINSON

LUCKING STAMPS, dangerous to health—News item. Yeah, and this time of year, it can be a little hard on the pocketbook, too.

IT WAS WITH some feelin' of alarm, that I read the thing about 'The men's needlepoint cocktail hour' that's had it start up New York way. Just can't seem to predict what this women's lib thing might lead to.

Course I'm not so sure that women's lib had anything to do with it, but somehow it'd seem that if the women would just stay home and have hubby's cocktail ready, when he came in from work, the whole thing would have been unlighthearted.

SOMEHOW, IT seasier for me to think of Mrs. Daniel Boone takin' the ol' muzzle-loader out and puttin' a whole passel of Indians to flight, than to think of Daniel sittin' down and doin' needlework.

In the same edition of the paper was an article tellin' about the delicious dishes a bachelor doctor could cook up. Even included some of his recipes yet. Looks as tho this may be the dawnin' of the age of HE-WOMEN, and SHE-MEN!

NOW, IT'S not without a little embarrassment that I have to admit to a few lovely pieces of embroidery I did in the long ago, but I had a reason. The reason being that the better half and I had trekked down to an oilfield town, to become gainfully employed and become independently rich only to find that she could find employment and I couldn't!

Well, now, a guy's gotta find SOMETHING to do, while sitting around the house, without a radio, yet!—Probably a good thing, too—I might have gotten hooked on that old serial of "John's other wife!"

ANYWAY, THE spouse still likes to pull those things out. (At the most inopportune times) and show them off.

"This is what kept of Cornball from climbing the walls, while we were down at Oilfield," she explains. Wonder what she thinks wore that path across the ceiling?"

To say the least, if any of you guys are thinkin' of startin' one of those Needlepoint Cocktail things here, ya'd better include me out. Just know you'd have to seve the cocktails FIRST, and I don't imbibe!

ONE THING for sure, The air pirates are putting the adventure back into flyin'. In days of yore, the question was whether or not you'd get up and down with a landing you could walk away from.

Now the question concerns what foreign country you might be about to, unintentionally, visit!

COMMENTS

EMIL MACHA

As for as the parks go, I think they should have better lighting for night-time play in the summer. The equipment, such as swings, slides, seesaws and merry-go-rounds should be sanded and painted, and the all-around maintenance has a little to be desired.

"Another area that needs improvement is the schools. The grounds should be better. In other words they should have grass, trees, and flowers. Inside, the lighting should be better and the stairs should have more safety features such as banisters on both sides. My other suggestions for additions to Littlefield are a riding stable and school, a dancing school, another swimming pool or two, a skating rink and a passenger train service.

"Littlefield may need some improvements and adjustments, but I wouldn't live anywhere else."

OVER THE PAST few weeks reports from young people have indicated there was a need to improve our school system. Most every citizen here agrees. The school system does not have the money to make these improvements, so some organizations are trying to improve the grounds. Of course they can't do all of the necessary improvements looks like we may have to find another way to raise the money.

More than half of the students' parents that go to our public schools are not property owners, thus they do not pay taxes toward our school system. Of course this may not be their fault. Many people contribute hundreds of dollars to our school system and have never had a child to attend our school system.

Perhaps we may have to encourage another way to support our schools. Tuition sounds good, but may not be practical. If there was some way we could create some type of "Users Tax"—like gasoline or sales tax—to support our school then everyone would pay, not just a few.

Postmaster George Thompson announced today the 1972 Commemorative Stamp Folders are available to the Littlefield area.

The folders are 8-1/2x 11 and contain a description of each stamp along with a packet of S&H Green Stamps. Commemorative stamps issued during 1972.

This year," said Postmaster Thompson, "there are through mounts to the stamps in the folder, they should provide an easy way for collectors to protect their stamps."

The new Mini-Album folders contains a reproduction of the first U.S. postage stamp issued 125 years ago with the likeness of the first Postmaster General, Benjamin Franklin.

"As an addition," said Postmaster Thompson, "we're pleased that a new stamp honoring stamp collecting will also be available on the same day the Mini-Albums go on sale. That stamp also features the first U.S. postage stamp issued in 1847."

NOT EVERYTHING

Money isn't everything! Too many people still think that pouring money into a low-income country is the only way to assure its economic development. But UNICEF has learned that children are a country's greatest wealth and that developing their potential is the surest road to self-sustaining economic growth. Support the United Nations Children's Fund.

NEW PLAYGROUND equipment has been installed on the grounds of Elementary 1 and students wait their turns to walk on one of the two catwalks. Dear Abby

Age not, Pastor, specially by mail

By Abigail Van Buren

ABBY: The letter from the pastor's wife who because her husband ogled the cute young skirts tickled my funny bone.

... a man-of-the-cloth who gives more than a scantly clad girls of my parish—for preparing and delivering a scathing hell's fire against such further displays!

... fiftyish and capable of having "turned on" when such thoughts knock on the door of my mind. I do not invite them to be entertained.

... neither a qualified observer of my conduct nor an adequate interpreter of my actions, and unless that wife who wrote to you can attest to her husband's which case she should be exorcised] she had on her knees and ask the Lord's forgiveness for such presumptuous thoughts as she conveyed in "lack-of-faith letter to you.

ANOTHER PASTOR

PASTOR: Only a man-of-the-cloth who has been could be holier than thou.

ABBY: This year I didn't have any great big meal for my husband's family like I did last year. I will tell you why. Last year I worked like a man for two days to prepare a really nice Thanksgiving for my husband's parents, his two sisters, three and their kids, which numbered 19, including my children. I don't have any family.]

... the men filled up on egg nog before dinner and they ate anything. My sisters in law were dieting, so they had My mother in law is on a salt-free diet and my law has ulcers, so they didn't eat much.

... year-old nephew got restless at the table, so his father left the table and run around. Naturally, the other kids wanted to do it, too. What a madhouse! I was so disgusted I was ready to scream.

... year I just told everybody I wasn't planning anything. I was just feeding my husband and kids—and you have heard the complaints. Was I wrong? My husband has been sulking ever since.

HAD IT IN MILWAUKEE

HAD IT: Let him sulk. I'm with you.

ABBY: Regarding your advice to the divorcee to meet the eligible attorney: your suggested approach at the office" approach would be successful with an attorney of doubtful eligibility. Instead, why a mutual acquaintance?

... moreover, she may have a difficult time finding a who meets her qualifications—one "who puts God first and his job last." Usually the order is NON-LOOKING [AT THE OFFICE] LAWYER IN MERCED, CAL.

... NON: A mutual acquaintance is not always easy to find. It may be only a coincidence, but I know a beautiful, married woman who took her marital problems to an attorney. He not only separated her from her husband but he separated her husband from his money. Then she divorced her client.

ABBY: My husband and I want to donate our car after death, but don't know how to go about it. Can you help us?

GETTING ON IN YEARS

GETTING: To donate your eyes after death, contact your local Lions Club. To donate special parts (e.g., etc.), contact your nearest university medical center.

ABBY: I am 22 and have two children, 7 and 5. I got married the first time when I was 14. I grew up fast. I had to. My first husband and I divorced two years because he found somebody else. He married her the year after our divorce was final.

... was hurt and swore I'd never marry again, and I never did. I dated a lot, and then I married a man like he did women. I dated a lot, and then I married a man like he did women. I dated a lot, and then I married a man like he did women. I dated a lot, and then I married a man like he did women.

... I got off work yesterday I asked my mother if she would take care of my kids so I could go to the N. C. Club on a date for a while. All hell broke loose! She said she would take care of my kids while I ran around on my husband. I don't consider this "running around." I just consider it companionship—a few drinks, a dance or two and a conversation, or I'll go nuts. I work five days a week and am saving my money so John and I will have a nice home when he gets home.

... give me your thoughts on this matter.

LONELY IN TEXAS

LONELY: Married women who "seek male companionship" for drinks, dancing, and conversation are asking for trouble. Why tempt fate? Keep busy with the girls who come marching home.

ABBY: After 20 years of marriage, I discovered that my husband was having an affair. I went to the police. Since then he hasn't left the house, except for church choir. He spends all his evenings and spare time at home, but our relationship is miserable. There is absolutely no physical contact, and our conversations are only with superficial things. Any overture I make he rejects. He has never said he wants a divorce. I don't want to end my life. Should I allow him the freedom to go to his wife's ends. Should I allow him the freedom to go to his wife's ends. Should I allow him the freedom to go to his wife's ends.

... appreciate it if you would print this with your name. Maybe it will help to start a discussion, which would be impossible. Thank you. DEAD INSIDE

DEAD: You are being blackmailed! Your husband is blackmailing you. "Either you let me come and go as I please or I'll just sit around like a somnambulist in my martyrdom." There is a third choice. If you cooperate and be a husband, you'd be ahead of the game, while you're still young enough to be of any use to your own.

Meet The Minister

The Eddie Freeman Family

The Eddie Gail Freeman family moved to Sudan in July, when Rev. Freeman accepted the pastorate of the First Baptist Church at Sudan.

Rev. Freeman, his wife, Carol, and their three children, Kelly, Kevin and Kerry, went to Sudan from the Date Street Baptist Church at Plainview where he had been pastor five years.

Rev. Freeman was born at Ryan, Okla., but grew up at Odessa, where he graduated from high school in 1957.

Following his high school days, he worked two years with a musical band, and then began his studies at Odessa Junior College. He received his Associate degree in Applied Science in 1962, then entered Wayland Baptist College where he completed his BA degree in religion and English in 1970.

His first pastorate was at the Greenwood Baptist Church in Midland from June 1964 to Aug. 1967, then went to the Plainview church in Sept. 1967.

The family spent a year in Brownwood in 1963 while Rev. Freeman attended Howard-Payne College.

Rev. Freeman is a member of the Rotary Club, and when he has the time he likes to fish, play his guitar, write music and tinker with photography.

His wife, Carol, was born in Brownwood, but grew up in Midland. She graduated from Midland High School in 1960, and worked at the Reporter-Telegram a year before she entered Odessa Junior College, where she met Eddie.

They were married in Midland June 3, 1962, shortly after he completed his studies at OJC.

Their 7-year-old first grader, Kelly, was born in Midland; Kevin, 4, was born in Plainview; and Kerry, 7 months old, was born in Hale Center.

LVN Class Will Begin January 16

South Plains College will begin a new class Jan. 16 for persons interested in becoming a Licensed Vocational Nurse. The program objective is to train vocational-practical nurses who provide nursing care under the direction of a licensed physician, a licensed dentist, or a registered nurse. Lecture and clinical experiences are provided in the 12-month program. College housing is available on the SPC campus. Twenty-six weeks of pre-clinical instruction is taught on the South Plains College campus while the remaining twenty-six weeks are spent working in 40 hour week schedules in actual hospital work.

Gas Co. Acquires Rights

Pioneer Natural Gas Company has revealed that the company has acquired the right of purchase of more than $80 million worth of natural gas from 60,000 highly prospective acres in Ward, Reeves, Loving, Winkler, Crane and Pecos Counties in the Delaware Basin of Texas. In making the announcement, Burton P. Smith, president of Pioneer, said, "Pioneer is confident that the acreage will contain more than the 200 billion cubic feet dedicated to this right of purchase."

Smith pointed out that, in addition, the series of contracts with a producer provide for the purchase or exchange of an additional 18 million cubic feet per day of existing production. "These contracts, together with other previously dedicated but undeveloped acreage in the same general area, will constitute a major addition of future reserves to the gas supply of Pioneer," Smith said.

It was further stated that Pioneer was advised the Texas Railroad Commission by letter that the company foresees no unusual curtailments in the near future. It expects any curtailment of industrial customers during the winter of 1972-73 will be comparable to previous years during severe weather. Any necessary curtailment will apply only to customers having an interruptible provision in their contract.

The Texas Railroad Commission has called a hearing for November 30 to inquire into the ability of various Texas suppliers of gas to meet their commitments during the 1972-73 winter.

Pioneer also announced that its subsidiary, Amarillo Oil Company, is currently running final tests on a well in Roberts County. This well and four offset locations are committed to Pioneer under a preferential right to purchase. Amarillo Oil Company is presently participating in three deep wells in the Anadarko Basin, and a fourth test is drilling in the Delaware Basin.

Persons interested in entering the LVN Program at South Plains College must meet the following entrance requirements: 1. Be between the ages of 18-50 years old, 2. high school diploma or have passed the G.E.D. exam, 3. good physical and mental health (each applicant is required to have a physical exam before acceptance into the program, 4. moral integrity, 5. definite interest in nursing, 6. pass nursing aptitude exam and personal interview. Director of Nursing. Nursing Aptitude must be taken and January 15 or previous program. Persons in obtaining a time for taking the Aptitude Exam in the Guidance Dept. South Plains College 894-4921.

LETTER OF THANKS
Olton First United Methodist Church
Olton, Texas

Dear Friends,
I want to again express my thanks to all of you for the wonderful day we experienced at Methodist Church in honor of their 70th anniversary. It matters not whether it was the church's 68th birthday or the 111th. The important thing, I think, is that we paused to recall our history and reflect on our heritage, while renewing friendships and enjoying all of the activities and the lovely food. It was truly a marvelous day, every phase of it. I truly appreciate all that you people did to make it possible, and I feel sure that others do too.

Very Sincerely,
s/Mrs. Ruth Kennedy Gautier
Mrs. Gautier, who lives in Lubbock, is a former Oltonite and the sister of Mrs. Inez Yates.

Perk Up Your Leftovers With Fruits, Vegetables

Post-Thanksgiving menus might perk up leftover dishes with different fruits and vegetables wearing attractive price tags. Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University, suggested some of these economical buys. "Root vegetables offered at economical prices include sweet potatoes, white potatoes, turnips, carrots, rutabagas and dry yellow onions. "Mustard, collard and turnip greens of good quality still are available. Celery, cucumbers, green peppers, corn, cauliflower, and broccoli generally are moderately priced. "Apples continue to dominate fruit counters, and oranges and grapefruit show seasonal improvement in quality, along with price decrease." Other fruits the specialist termed "good choices" are pears, seedless white and Tokay red grapes, fresh cranberries, bananas, tangerines and tangelos. Beef counter features generally include chuck and rib roasts, chuck and round steaks, and ground beef often in packages of three or more pounds. Economical pork buys are whole, halves and portions of ham, and some brands of bacon offered at lower-than-average prices. NEED CONSIDERATION Because serious psychological side effects frequently can result from an unalleviated hearing loss, persons with impaired hearing need understanding treatment from family members and friends.

Crack Burglar Tells 'How I'd Rob Your Home'

Police try constantly to warn people how to protect themselves against burglary. Nobody listens. Senior Editor J. Robert Moskin asked Thomas Carter, who has burglarized more than 300 homes around Indianapolis, for his professional advice to homeowners. Here is what Carter had to say.

I'd usually leave my home about an hour before dark. I'd drive out into a fancy neighborhood and park on a street where I'd see three or four dark homes all together. Right at dark, house burglars usually only work from just before dark until maybe 10:30 or 11. It's not too safe after that because people might have come home and gone to bed.

I'd drive a new car, and a lot of times I wore a dinner jacket so I looked like I belonged. I've even carried a briefcase. Couple of times, I carried a vacuum sweeper, like a salesman. You can't sneak around, you'll get shot. If you act like you own the place, nobody pays any attention to you.

If no lights came on, I'd write down the address in my book with some fake name. Then I'd walk up to the house, ring the bell three or four times. If anybody answered, I'd say is Carl there or is Don there? When they said, no, I'd say, well, that's funny, I've got my address book right here, he gave me this address. Sorry I bothered you. They don't pay attention. How many times have people phoned you and said are you Mr. So-and-so? How many times have they come to your door?

If they didn't answer the door, I had an 18-inch screwdriver that I had made down into a chisel, real thin. I'd just put it in between the lock and the doorjamb and flip it back, and the door would open. After I'd got in, I'd open the back door and a window on a side away from the garage. If anybody did come home while I was in the house, I'd have three exits. Whichever door they'd head for, I'd take another.

One time, I had to jump out a window. I'd made enough noise to wake the dead. I got the tv set loose from the antenna, cords all up, put it on my back, all ready to go, when this guy came out of the bedroom. He was almost asleep, and as he walked into the living room, I hit him in the eyes with the flashlight. He tried to rub the light out of his eyes, and I just threw the flashlight right between his eyes. I went out a kitchen window.

I usually parked the car in somebody else's driveway. I'd stack all the small stuff into pillowcases from the linen closet and take them to the car, just like taking out the laundry. I'd carry this stuff out and put it in some bushes. If somebody does come home and I have to leave, I've got 15 or 20 minutes to load this stuff into the car and go.

Anytime you see light, a burglar won't mess with it. At least that was always my opinion. If people would leave a bathroom light on, that's the best. And leave the door cracked just a little where the light shines out. In a two-story house, leave a light upstairs or in a bathroom downstairs. If you're planning on being out that evening, leave the bathroom light on and the bed messed up. If a guy is bold enough to bust into a house with a light on, he'll see the bed messed up and the bathroom door opened partway and he usually won't stay.

But if the light's in the living room or bedroom, a burglar can walk by the side of the house and look in, and if he doesn't see anybody, he knows there's nobody at that house. Burglars are shrewd enough to know. Not all of them are idiots.

Timers that turn on a lamp are wonderful because you shouldn't leave a light burning in the daytime. There are burglars who work in the daytime too. I have. But the lamp should be someplace where they can't see into the room. I won't take a chance on a timer. Somebody might be there, and why take a chance, when right down the street there's some fool that hasn't got one?

Dogs are a good thing. People ought to have some sort of small dog—just a nosemaker. I'd carry some hamburger with me, but if he makes noise before you get near him, it's too late to be friends. He's woke up the neighborhood. Cats are not good, but your dog, if he's a good racketmaker, that's all you need. If he's vicious, you're just going to get him killed.

Also, if you've got venetian blinds, turn them up. If you turn them down, I can see in the whole house, if they're up, all I can see is the ceiling.

The best guards are a dead bolt and a chain. When a door has a chain on it, you can't get in unless you tear the whole jamb off. Too risky. When you splinter wood, it can sound like a shot.

I've got in through windows. You can flip one of those switch locks right around with a knife blade, just by squeezing the blade through the crack. The best thing is these metal blocks where you can't raise the window but about three inches.

Then, there is the problem of hiding things. Women have got peculiar habits. Every burglar thinks like a woman when he wants to find what a woman hides. They'll hide money in some of the likeliest places. I've found it in a vacuum sweeper, in between plates in cabinets, in brassiere cups in the dresser. They'll leave it out in the open. Usually, they'll have a metal box they'll put in a closet or bottom dresser drawer. When you've got the box, you've got all the money in the house.

Cameras should be locked up, but jewelry should be kept right out in the open because most burglars don't know a diamond from a piece of glass anyway. If they see it lying around, they think it has no value. In jewelry boxes, they should leave their good stuff lying on top. Burglars are always looking for those little compartments where you find diamonds and rings. But really, why don't people get a bank deposit box and keep their stuff down there? That's what they're for.

What if you're sleeping and hear somebody prowling around? I wouldn't try to stop him. I'd call the police. Don't even turn a light on. Close the door between you and him so he can't get to you quick. Let somebody scream bloody murder: wake up the whole neighborhood. There'll be the law quick enough. But don't try to meet him on your own, because you're going to get yourself or your wife or your kid killed. Don't ever corner him, don't ever argue. A lot of them are psycho anyway.

The biggest problem is when you go away. If you are planning to be gone over a couple of days, it's stupid to close the garage door. Leaves and trash that blows up there by the wind will stack up by the door, and you can tell it hasn't been used.

One time I saw this dark house about nine o'clock. I rang the bell and went around to the kitchen. On the kitchen door—if this wasn't the stupidest thing—there was a note to the milkman telling him to please discontinue the milk, they wouldn't be back for two weeks. I went in and packed up all the small stuff. Everything—pictures off the walls, ashtrays, any little knick-knacks, all the bedding. I took it all home, and the next morning, I telephoned three used-furniture dealers and told them I was moving to Florida and wanted to sell my furniture. All three came up and bid against each other. I got over $300. Never leave a note.

And here's the funny part. This woman from next door came over while they were loading the furniture, and I told her they're planning to stay on in Florida, and I'm their nephew. She said, that's awful. She didn't know. And I'm stealing everything they got. She should have called the police before she even came over. I'd have been snagged.

If you are really friendly with your neighbors, they aren't going to let anything happen to your home. Many times, if those fools just told their neighbors they weren't going to be home, I wouldn't be in their house. If you live in a closely knit neighborhood, you've got the burglar beat. If you see a strange car pull up and park, or somebody strange walking around, get the police right then. Once a house has been hit, let the neighbors all get together. If a burglar got anything, he'll be back hitting your home next. Your neighbor is really your best lock.

HOMEMAKING TIPS

Yeast Breads

We discovered that unlike the Swiss lake dwellers, the ancient Egyptians or even your mother, you have many methods to choose from... depending on your time schedule, your preferences or your taste. Each method will give you excellent results. Here are three more methods and some tips and techniques.

BATTER METHOD. There is no kneading in the batter method. The yeast mixture is a batter, thinner than a dough, simply mixed and allowed to rise in the bowl or baking pan. The texture is different for kneaded doughs, more open, a little rougher. Here's a batter method recipe to fix some morning and have some friends over. Then just sit back and listen to the praise place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Bake at 250 degrees F. 35 minutes, leaving about 2 inches between pans. Cool in pans. Remove from pans; wrap in plastic bags. Store in refrigerator up to 5 days.

When ready to serve, place on ungreased baking sheets. Bake at 400 degrees F. 20-25 minutes, or until browned. Serve warm or cold.

FROZEN DOUGHS. Now you can make your own dough at home and freeze it until you are ready to use it... up to four weeks later. You mix and knead the dough, then shape it right away without letting it rise, cover it and put it in the freezer.

When it is frozen, you can store it in plastic bags in the freezer. When you are ready to use it, you let the dough rise before you bake it.

Apple Crumb Coffeecake
(Makes 1 1/2-inch cake)
1 3/4 to 2 1/4 cups unsifted flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 package active dry yeast
1/4 cup milk
1/4 cup water
1/3 cup margarine
2 eggs (at room temperature)
2 large apples, cored and sliced
2/3 cup sugar
1/2 cup unsifted flour
2 teaspoons ground cinnamon
6 tablespoons margarine

In a small bowl thoroughly mix 1 cup flour, 1/2 cup sugar, salt, and undissolved active dry yeast.

Combine milk, water and 1/3 cup margarine in saucepan. Heat over low heat until liquids are very warm (120-130 degrees F.). Margarine does not need to melt. Gradually add to dry ingredients and beat 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer, scraping bowl occasionally. Add eggs and 1/2 cup flour or enough flour to make a thick batter. Beat at high speed 2 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally.

Stir in enough additional flour to make a stiff batter. Spread evenly in well greased 9-inch square pan. Arrange apple slices evenly over batter. Combine 2/3 cup sugar, 1/2 cup flour, cinnamon and 6 tablespoons of margarine; mix until crumbly. Sprinkle over apples. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Bake at 375 degrees F. 35 to 40 minutes, or until done. Cool in pan 10 minutes. Remove from pan and cool on wire rack.

BROWN AND SERVE. Brown and serve is the way to make yeast breads so that you can have fresh-from-the-oven breads for any occasion. You mix the dough or batter, knead it (if it is a dough), let it rise, shape it, let it rise again, and then bake it... until it is almost done.

When cool, the bread or rolls can be put in plastic bags and kept in the refrigerator for up to a week. Before serving, you brown them in the oven.

Brown 'n' Serve Mini Loaves

Makes 16 small loaves
Scald milk; stir in sugar, salt, and margarine. Cool to lukewarm. Measure warm water into large warm bowl. Sprinkle in yeast; stir until dissolved. Add lukewarm milk mixture and 3 cups flour; beat until smooth. Add enough additional flour to make a stiff dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board; knead until smooth and elastic, about 8 to 10 minutes. Place in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Punch dough down; divide dough into 16 equal pieces. Cover; let rest 15 minutes. Roll each piece of dough to a 4x7-inch rectangle. Shape into loaves. Place in 10 greased 4 1/2 x 2 1/2 x 1 1/2-inch loaf pans. Cover; let rise in warm

French Bread
Makes 4 Loaves
7 to 8 cups unsifted flour
1 teaspoon sugar
1 tablespoon salt
3 packages active dry yeast
3 tablespoons softened margarine
2 1/2 cups very warm tap water (120-130 degrees F.)
Corn meal
Salad oil
1 egg white, beaten
1 tablespoon cold water
Toasted sesame seed

In a large bowl thoroughly mix 2 1/2 cups flour, sugar, salt, and undissolved active dry yeast. Add margarine. Gradually add tap water to dry ingredients and beat 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer, scraping bowl occasionally. Add 1 cup flour. Beat at high speed 2 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. Stir in enough additional flour to make a stiff dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board; knead a few times and form a ball.

Divide dough into 4 equal pieces. Form each piece into a 15-inch tapered roll. Place on large greased baking sheet which has been sprinkled with

Olton Woman Recovers From Bite

An Olton woman is recovering from the bite of a Brown Recluse spider after a four-day stay in a Littlefield hospital.

Mrs. Wayne Moore said she felt a sting something like a mosquito bite when she carried out her trash. About five hours later she became sick, dizzy and a big black knot appeared on her arm where she had felt the sting.

Mrs. Moore's arm turned black from the top of her shoulder to her elbow, and her doctor said she was "lucky to be alive."

Definite identification showed the spider was a Brown Recluse.

Persons are advised to be cautious of spiders when working outside; and the Brown Recluse, like other spiders, likes to come inside out of the cold. The Brown Recluse is small and has a violin shaped design on the head.

SCOTCH PINE Christmas trees are now on sale at the Band Boosters' Christmas tree lot on Highway 385 (Hall Avenue). Shown near the trees and advertising sign are Karen Carter, Junior High Band twirler, and Karol Terry, Wildcat Band twirler. Both won 1 plus ratings in the UIL contest recently. Karol is a clarinet player and Karen plays the French horn. Proceeds from the tree sales go toward equipment for the band. (Staff Photo)

Band Boosters Begin Christmas Tree Sales

The Littlefield Band Boosters' Christmas tree lot is now in operation on Hall Avenue, (Highway 385).

"The public will have a larger group of trees from which to make their selection this year, and the trees are the best that have ever been offered for sale in the Littlefield area," says Hubert Henry, Band Booster president. "There was an increase in price this year to the Booster Club, but we will sell the trees at the same price as last year."

"We believe that if the Christmas tree buying public will come by our lot, they will be pleased with the large selection and price that will be available," Henry emphasized.

The Band Boosters Christmas tree lot has had customers from all over Lamb County and the surrounding counties. There will be an attendant and a Band Booster on the lot from 9 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. weekdays and from 1:00 p.m. to 7 p.m. Sundays.

The trees are sprayed Scotch pine, grown in Wisconsin commercially for sale by groups such as the Band Boosters.

"The Littlefield Band Boosters would appreciate your patronage," Henry concluded.

Approximately 300 band students will benefit from the tree sales, as proceeds go into equipment for the bands.

Persons may call 385-4896, the tree lot, for home deliveries.

Key '73 Briefing Scheduled Monday

More than 130 denominations have pledged their support to the common mission of delivering to others the message of Christ's love and forgiveness in the year 1973.

The Littlefield Ministerial Alliance invites the public to attend a briefing Monday evening, Dec. 4, at 7:30 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church in Littlefield.

This emphasis will be discussed and plans made toward the local effort with each church taking part as each sees fit.

Those involved will be in step through the year as the program unfolds through national television networks and other media.

It is the sincere conviction of those concerned that this can be done without doctrinal compromises.

Briefly, the program is organized into six segments:

1. Calling the continent to repentance and prayer, January-February;
2. Calling the continent to the Word of God, February-March;
3. Calling the continent to the resurrection, March-April;
4. Calling the continent to new life, April-May-June;
5. Calling the continent to proclamation, July-August-September; and

6. Calling the continent to commitment, October-November-December.

Farm Trailer Tag Sales Are Lagging

The issuing of farm tags for cotton trailers is lagging in Lamb County with less than half the number expected to be bought issued at the tax assessor-collector's office through Friday.

Herbert Dunn said 1,415 tags had been issued. That figure is less than half of the 3,195 farm tags received in this county.

Dunn said the tags can be issued without delay if those purchasing the tags will bring their renewal notices with them. Only about one person in 15 is remembering to bring along renewal notices, and typing out the entire form takes about three times as long.

Farmers are reminded to bring along the renewal notices which were mailed to them last January, and an appeal is being made for all trailer owners to save their renewal notices this next year in order to speed up the licensing process.

Theft Ring Probe Under Way In Area

Thursday afternoon Department of Public Safety intelligence agents, Texas Rangers, Lamb County sheriff's office officials, DPS helicopter pilots and highway patrolmen in Littlefield swooped down on a theft ring thought to be headquartered in the Littlefield area.

Lamb County Sheriff E. D. McNeese estimated the value of the farm equipment recovered in this area Thursday at between $80,000 and $100,000.

A former Littlefield man, 38-year-old Jack Mixon, was arrested northwest of Clovis after a $14,000 truck which matched a stolen vehicle reported by the DPS was found on his property.

Mixon pleaded innocent to a charge of possession of stolen property at his arraignment and was released on a $3,000 bond.

About $60,000 worth of stolen farm machinery and equipment was recovered in the Littlefield area Thursday. A diesel truck was recovered in the east part of Littlefield. A combine was recovered at Pep. And two new diesel tractors were recovered on farms north of Littlefield.

The diesel truck and the combine, which were recovered were both stolen from Hale County on the same date.

McNeese said search warrants were issued out of district court, and that the recovery of the stolen equipment climaxed two or three months of investigation by the three DPS departments and the sheriff's office.

Officials would not say how many persons may be involved in the theft ring, but they did confirm that they expect more persons to be implicated in the near future.

No further arrests have been made here, pending grand jury action.

Recovery of the machinery and equipment in Hockley County and Clovis was aided by Clovis police, the New Mexico State Police, and the Hockley County district attorney's office.

Besides vehicles recovered, officers said a diesel engine and parts of various truck-tractors were recovered. Several identification plates on the vehicles had been altered, according to officers.

'Messiah' Rehearsal Site Is Changed

Rehearsal for "Messiah" singers has been changed from this afternoon to Tuesday, Dec. 5, at 7 p.m. and will be held at First Baptist Church instead of First United Methodist Church.

This change has been necessary because of the expanded performance plan this year which will include instrumental accompaniment by guest musicians from Lubbock.

All singers, familiar enough with this piece of music are invited to participate and asked to join now.

This year's performance will be Sunday afternoon, Dec. 17, at First Baptist Church with the time to be announced later.

Drug Conviction Featured In Film

Anyone wonder what happens to a person who gets caught in possession or selling drugs?

After trial and conviction, then what?

A film showing true happenings involving "Jim" or better known as 212912, depicts his life in the Texas Department of Corrections after he was sentenced to a term in the penitentiary on a dope charge.

The free full-color film will be shown in Littlefield Monday night at 8:30 in the Junior High School Auditorium, and is being brought as a public service by the Littlefield Alcoholics Anonymous (AA) group.

Crop Harvesting Moving Slowly

Less than one week of good working days since the freeze is playing havoc with the 1972 grain and cotton harvest.

With harvest conditions about ready to resume, Wednesday's snow storm caught even the weather forecasters unaware and added days to inclement harvesting weather.

Through Friday, less than 1,000 bales of cotton had been ginned at the five gins in the immediate Littlefield area putting this year's ginning at this stage just a little ahead of last year's slow harvest.

In addition to the cotton harvest being so long in getting underway, quite a bit of grain remains in the fields.

By the last week in November last year, less than 300 bales had been tagged out by Littlefield gins. In addition to an unseasonably late frost last year, several cold wet spells delayed the harvest.

This fall and the fall a year ago contrast sharply to 1970 when the harvest was almost over by this date with more than 100,000 bales already ginned over the county.

It will also be shown Tuesday morning at 11 a.m. to an assembly of Junior High School students in the Junior High School Auditorium.

"If we can just keep one person out of the penitentiary, this film will be worth it," said a spokesman for the AA.

The film is narrated by 212912, and begins with his trip to the penitentiary aboard a Department of Corrections bus. He gives an account of how scared he was, and of the feelings he had about his imprisonment and the ordeals he went through while there.

212912 became involved in the drug traffic while he was in Vietnam, he said "because drugs were so easily acquired, and so many people use them there." He was discharged from the military, with a Purple Heart and a drug habit, and was arrested not too many months after his honorable discharge.

Members of the AA urge anyone who is concerned about drugs and the drug problem, or anyone who has a drug problem, to view the film for helpful information.

No admission will be charged, and the film is being shown courtesy the First National Bank of Lubbock, which loans the film to interested groups.

One Jailed, Two Thefts Reported

Sheriff's officers jailed Curtis McDaniel, 20, of Sudan Wednesday on a charge of no driver's license. He was released the following day after being fined $81.

The theft of tractor and paint tools valued at $150 was reported to the sheriff's office by Mrs. Clifton Petty last week. The items were taken from the Petty farm on the Bula Highway.

Breaking and entering of the 84-Drive-In Theatre was reported. The snack bar was entered by breaking the front glass. Missing items included 20 pounds of hamburger meat, nine packages of wieners, candy and gun.

EDITOR SEZ: "Today's housewife is not only able to cook and clean, she must be able to lick her weight

WILDCAT BASKETBALL team, led by Dee Blevins and Lewis is off and running. In visiting with the coaches this past week, we were both impressed with the Cats showings. It's not easy coming out of a football season and then right into basketball. Mike Love, former football, basketball and baseball star was a classic example of this.
He was courted (no pun intended) by every major university in the country but who knew all the time he desired to be a Church of Christ member was stronger than his desire for and fortune on the gridiron.
He had trouble adapting to the pace of basketball. "Shoot," he said, "I'm used to resting 25 seconds between each play!"

Only eight players are currently signed up for the varsity team, Blevins and Lewis to add a couple of more around the year or thereabouts. The small picture should be picking up as Boomer has several youngsters on the B-squad.

RECEIVED OUR first Santa Claus letter this past week and we made a copy of the letter so that we can publish it and forward it to the North Pole.
Along with the jolly old gentleman last week, he's urging all little boys to write this year and send the letters to the Leader-News office so that they can be forwarded on before Christmas and so that all little boys and girls have their letters put in the mail.

IT HAS BEEN a discussion lately which is the most reliable as a source—a newspaper, radio or television.

Television news reporter last week unwittingly gave a testimonial to the printed word. He was giving a report on football games when he came to one that surprised him. "I won't write this one until I see it in print," he said.

EDITOR MARGARET CHASE of Maine this month was re-elected to her bid for re-election to the state. We'll miss her for many years. Mainly because she was a loner felt he was right.

Senator Smith's latest crusade is an anti-her work.

Jennings-Gilley Wedding Vows Read

Elms Memorial Chapel of the First United Methodist Church was the setting at 8 p.m. Friday, Nov. 24, for the double ring ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Charlotte Denise Jennings and Harlen Ross Gilley.

The Rev. Wayland Dowden, Methodist minister from Clyde, officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Jennings and Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Gilley of Littlefield.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a formal-length empire style gown fashioned of lutesong and beaded trim, with a V neckline and long puff sleeves with fitted cuffs. The bridal veil of silk illusion was attached to a matching capulet of lace.

The bridal bouquet was of baby rosebuds nested among lily-of-the-valley and baby's breath.

For the traditional "something old" the bride wore her grandmother's lavilier. Her gown was "something new"; "something borrowed" was her veil, belonging to Mrs. Jennifer Cooper. For "something blue" the traditional blue garter. She wore pennies in her shoes dated the years of her's and the groom's birth.

The candles were lighted by Michael Jennings, brother of the bride.

Tommy Kelton, brother-in-law of the groom, served as best man. Cynthia Jennings attended her sister as maid of honor. Michelle Jones served as flower girl. They wore identical formal-length gowns of soft blue crepe radiance. The empire styled dresses were trimmed with blue velvet ribbon and had short puffed sleeves.

The mother of the bride wore a dress of blue knit with lace bodice and sleeves, accented with white accessories.

The groom's mother wore a soft gray two-piece knit suit and white accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white carnations.

Music was provided by Mrs. Richard Shipley, organist. Miss Holley Hinkley and Miss Denise McCurry sang "One Love".

The chapel was decorated with two baskets of blue tinted mums and carnations and in the center enriched by greenery and two candles.

There was a vase of mums and carnations in the background.

The guests were registered by Miss Velva Lee of Fieldton.

A reception followed in the church parlor. The table was covered with a white lace table cloth over blue. The wedding cake consisted of three tiers, accented with blue roses. Mrs. Tommy Kelton, Mrs. David Jones, Mrs. James Blackwell and Mrs. Bill Taylor served the cake and punch. Miss Deanna Jones passed out rice bags during the reception.

For her bridal trip, the bride wore a brown crushed velvet suit with a mid-length skirt and brown suede boots. She wore the corsage lifted from the bouquet.

The couple will reside in Littlefield.

Common Diseases

TEXAS SCHOOL CHILDREN and some of the common childhood diseases, hopefully, will soon no longer be frequent companions.

the state, with most reporting a rise in their immunization level to include more than 90 per cent of all school children in their district," said Dr. Peavy. "Less than one percent of the school children involved admitted no immunizations at all. We believe the outlook for achieving close to 100 per cent protection among the school population is very bright."

AFTER THE FIRST full year since implementation of the new state law began, state health officials report immunization levels will continue on the upswing.

OF THE 1,200 school districts in Texas, 400 are being revisited this year by state health authorities. School officials are offered assistance, advice, immunization clinics, and assistance to their school nurse from state or local health authorities.

As of May 1, 1972, the great majority of all school children in Texas had begun or completed their required immunization program for five common childhood diseases: diphtheria, polio, measles, rubella and tetanus. Smallpox, the standard immunization school children received for decades, is no longer a required immunization.

"If it were not for the work done by local health departments and school nurses, the program would not have been as successful as it has been to date," said Dr. Peavy. "Of course, a lot of the immunizations were obtained through private physicians, and their cooperation has also been phenomenal."

"WE FEEL GREAT progress has been made in the past year, particularly when you view the fact that out of 2.9 million school children in Texas some 2.3 million are on record in their schools as protected," said Dr. James E. Peavy, Texas Commissioner of Health. "Our forecast is for even better levels next May."

TAKING ALL GROUPS as a whole, probably among the best immunized at the present time in the state are Catholic school children, with better than a 90 per cent immunization level.

The mandatory immunization law passed by the Texas Legislature in April, 1971 required a monumental effort on the part of health authorities, school officials, and private medicine. Prior to enactment of the law, each individual school district set their own immunization requirements and some had no requirements.

As of May 1, 1972 some 74 per cent of all Texas school children are immunized against polio; 79 per cent against diphtheria; 79 per cent against measles; 78 per cent against rubella; and 79 per cent against tetanus. Health officials believe the required two months spread between the three dosages of polio vaccine and the required booster dose were the factors that caused the polio statistics to trail those for the other diseases.

Quite often, in those areas where children needed the full-range of protection, smallpox was the only immunization required. Under the new law, a child must be immunized against certain diseases to enroll in school.

IN MANY CASES, as a result, complete immunization against polio was not reported by the end of the reporting period on May 1, 1972.

SCHOOL AUTHORITIES worked closely with health officials to see that all parents were advised of the new requirements and that all school children began their immunization programs as soon as possible.

"We feel the pre-school age child, from birth to five years of age, is where the disease problem is now in Texas," said Dr. Peavy. "By May 1, 1973, occurrence of these common childhood diseases in the pre-school population will be our biggest remaining problem."

The result was that three-fourths or more of all Texas school children were protected against each disease by the end of that first year under the new law.

STATE HEALTH authorities have already mounted a massive pre-school immunization campaign. The Texas Immunization Program will now lay plans to work closely with the Department of Public Welfare in enforcing the required immunizations in kindergartens and day care centers.

With the 80 school districts that began late campaigns and continued enforcement of the mandatory law in all school districts, state health officials foresee a substantially better immunization level at the end of this school year.

Under state law, children attending such day care centers must be immunized against whooping cough (pertussis), polio, diphtheria, rubella, measles, and tetanus.

"Our Immunization Program has spot-checked several school districts around

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Can't Afford It

THERE ARE MANY, many things we can't afford. We usually apply this statement to things of material value which we would like to purchase, but, if we are wise, we don't make the purchase because we just do not have the money.

Some of us do not make this decision very graciously, and this is too bad.

We should not let ourselves become unduly upset over an action which is essential. In fact, we should be pleased that we have made a wise choice.

IF WE ARE FOOLISH enough to make purchases which we can't afford, we create unnecessary and discouraging problems.

Unfortunately, this particular foolish action never stands alone; but touches every facet of one's life. It can, and often does cause a state of hopeless discouragement.

WHAT IS WRONG with admitting that we can't afford it, especially when this is the truth?

Is it not better to do without than it is to add to the burdens we carry by piling on financial obligations we cannot discharge? Of course, it is.

WHEN WE FAIL to observe our financial limitations, the results are always unpleasant; and are sometimes bordering on the brink of disaster.

We must be honest enough, and sensible enough, and courageous enough to admit to ourselves and others (if necessary) that we cannot afford it.

THIS SAME GUIDELINE is applicable in other important areas of the living experience. There are many, many things that we cannot afford.

We must make ourselves aware of these things, the things which we afford to buy and the things which we cannot afford to do.

CAN WE AFFORD to be unkind, hypercritical, self-centered, generally anti-social in our contacts with others? Even some people think so.

There are times and places most of us seem to think so. Of from the standpoint of all that is true; none of us can afford uncivil attitudes toward others. We afford to mistreat others.

SOME FOLK are unforgiving, one can afford to be unforgiving, or later all of us will need forgiveness if we have not forgiven others. They may be no help for us.

"Life that ever needs forgiveness for its first duty to forgive."

THE FREE-WHEELING TONGUE another excess we can't afford more than foolish to glory in our "get others told," or to take our willingness to say whatever we think, regardless of how it may sound.

Such foolish action is a constant source of loss.

WE CANNOT AFFORD to buy feelings of others; or deny their rights and privileges; or unappreciative of their abilities and accomplishments.

Why not make a list of all the things we can't afford?

WHETHER BUYING merchandise dealing with people; there are many things we can't afford.

HOMINY GRITS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

"LUCKING STAMPS, dangerous to health"—News item. Yeah, and this time of year, it can be a little hard on the pocketbook, too.

IT WAS WITH some feeling of alarm that I read the thing about "The men's needlepoint cocktail hour" that's had its start up New York way. Just can't seem to predict what this women's lib thing might lead to.

Course I'm not so sure that women's lib had anything to do with it, but somehow it'd seem that if the women would just stay home and have hubby's cocktail ready, when he came in from work, the whole thing would have been antithought of.

SOMEHOW, IT'S easier for me to think of Mrs. Daniel Boone takin' the ol' muzzle-loader out and puttin' a whole parcel of Indians to flight, than to think of Daniel sittin' down and doin' needlework.

In the same edition of the paper was an article tellin' about the delicious dishes a bachelor doctor could cook up. Even included some of his recipes yet! Looks as tho this may be the dawnin' of the age of HE WOMEN, and SHE-MEN!

NOW, IT'S not without a little embarrassment that I have to admit to a few lovely pieces of embroidery I did in the long ago, but I had a reason. The reason being that the better half and I had trekked down to an oilfield town, to become gainfully employed and become independently rich only to find that she could find employment and I couldn't!

Well, now, a guy's gotta find SOMETHING to do, while sitting around the house, without a radio, yet!—Probably a good thing, too—I might have gotten hooked on that old serial of "John's other wife!"

ANYWAY, THE spouse still likes to pull those things out. (At the most inopportune times) and show them off. "This is what kept ol' Cornball from climbing the walls, while we were down at oilfield," she explains. Wonder what she thinks wore that path across the ceiling?

To say the least, if any of you guys are thinkin' of startin' one of those Needlepoint Cocktail things here, ya' better include me out. Just know you'd have to serve the cocktails FIRST, and I don't imbibe!

ONE THING for sure, The air pirates are putting the adventure back into flying. In days of yore, the question was whether or not you'd get up and down with a landing you could walk away from.

Now, the question concerns what foreign country you might be about to, unintentionally, visit!

NEW STAMP FOLDER

Stamp Folders Now Available

Postmaster George Thompson announced today that the new 1972 Commemorative Stamp Folders are available to collectors in Littlefield.

The new Mini-Album folders contains a reproduction of the first U.S. postage stamp issued 125 years ago with the likeness of the first Postmaster General, Benjamin Franklin.

"As an addition," said Postmaster Thompson, "we're pleased that a new stamp honoring stamp collecting will also be available on the same day the Mini-Albums go on sale. That stamp also features the first U.S. postage stamp issued in 1847."

Along with a packet of active commemorative stamps issued during 1972, said Postmaster Thompson, "there will be a through mounts to the stamps in the folder. They should provide an easy way for collectors to protect their stamps."

NOT EVERYTHING

Money isn't everything! Too many people still think that pouring money into a low-income country is the only way to assure its economic development. But UNICEF has learned that children are a country's greatest wealth and that developing their potential is the surest road to self-sustaining economic growth. Support the United Nations Children's Fund.

NEW PLAYGROUND equipment has been installed on the grounds of Elementary 1 and students wait their turns to walk on one of the two catwalks. Dear Abby

ge not, Pastor, specially by mail

By Abigail Van Buren

ABBY: The letter from the pastor's wife who because her husband ogled the cute young skirts tickled my funny bone.

am a man-of-the-cloth who gives more than a lace to the scantily clad girls of my parish—for preparing and delivering a scathing hell's fire against such further displays!

also fiftish and capable of having "turned on" but when such thoughts knock on the door of my I do not invite them to be entertained.

is neither a qualified observer of my conduct nor an accurate interpreter of my actions, and unless that wife who wrote to you can attest to her husband's which case she should be excoriated) she had on her knees and ask the Lord's forgiveness for such presumptuous thoughts as she conveyed lack-of-faith letter to you.

ANOTHER PASTOR

PASTOR: Only a man-of-the-cloth who has been could be holier than thou.

ABBY: This year I didn't have any great big meal for my husband's family like I did last I will tell you why. Last year I worked like a two days to prepare a really nice Thanksgiving for my husband's parents, his two sisters, three and their kids, which numbered 19, including my children. [I don't have any family.]

men filled up on egg nog before dinner and they anything. My sisters in law were dieting, so they ed. My mother in law is on a salt-free diet and my law has ulcers, so they didn't eat much.

4-year-old nephew got restless at the table, so his let him leave the table and run around. Naturally, other kids wanted to do it, too. What a madhouse! so so disgusted I was ready to scream.

year I just told everybody I wasn't planning any- was just feeding my husband and kids—and you have heard the complaints. Was I wrong? My hus- been sulking ever since.

HAD IT IN MILWAUKEE

HAD IT: Let him sulk. I'm with you.

ABBY: Regarding your advice to the divorcee to meet the eligible attorney: your suggested ment at the office" approach would be successful an attorney of doubtful eligibility. Instead, why a mutual acquaintance?

moreover, she may have a difficult time finding a who meets her qualifications—one "who puts God ally second, and his job last." Usually the order is 1. NON-LOOKING [AT THE OFFICE] LAWYER IN MERCED, CAL.

NON: A mutual acquaintance is not always easy may be only a coincidence, but I know a beautiful, married woman who took her marital problems eligible attorney. He not only separated her from her —be separated her husband from his money. Then ted his client.

ABBY: My husband and I want to donate our after death, but don't know how to go about it. Can us?

one I got off work yesterday I asked my mother if with my kids so I could go to the N. C. O. Club on for a while. All hell broke loose! She said she all with my kids while I ran around on my hus- bility. I don't consider this "running around." I just able companionship—a few drinks, a dance or two conversation, or I'll go nuts. I work five days a and am saving my money so John and I will have when he gets home.

give me your thoughts on this matter.

LONELY IN TEXAS

LONELY: Married women who "seek male com- pany" for drinks, dancing, and conversation are ask- ing trouble. Why tempt fate? Keep busy with the girls many comes marching home.

ABBY: After 20 years of marriage, I discovered that my husband was having an affair. I went age. Since then he hasn't left the house, except for and chores. He spends all his evenings and spare time in absolutely no physical contact, and our conver- sations only with superficial things. Any overture I he rejects. He has never said he wants a divorce.

appreciate it if you would print this with your Maybe it will help to start a discussion, which seems impossible. Thank you.

DEAD INSIDE

ABBY: You are being blackmailed! Your hus- banding. "Either you let me come and go as I please questions asked, or I'll just sit around like a som- nambulist in my martyrdom." There is a third choice. If you do cooperate and be a husband, you'd be ahead up the debris, while you're still young enough to be of your own.

Meet The Minister

The Eddie Freeman Family

The Eddie Gail Freeman family moved to Sudan in July, when Rev. Freeman accepted the pastorate of the First Baptist Church at Sudan.

Rev. Freeman, his wife, Carol, and their three children, Kelly, Kevin and Kerry, went to Sudan from the Date Street Baptist Church at Plainview where he had been pastor five years.

Rev. Freeman was born at Rayan, Okla., but grew up at Odessa, where he graduated from high school in 1957.

Following his high school days, he worked two years with a musical band, and then began his studies at Odessa Junior College. He received his Associate degree in Applied Science in 1962, then entered Wayland Baptist College where he completed his BA degree in religion and English in 1970.

His first pastorate was at the Greenwood Baptist Church in Midland from June 1964 to Aug. 1967, then went to the Plainview church in Sept. 1967.

The family spent a year in Brownwood in 1963 while Rev. Freeman attended Howard-Payne College.

Rev. Freeman is a member of the Rotary Club, and when he has the time he likes to fish, play his guitar, write music and tinker with photography.

His wife, Carol, was born in Brownwood, but grew up in Midland. She graduated from Midland High School in 1960, and worked at the Reporter-Telegram a year before she entered Odessa Junior College, where she met Eddie.

They were married in Midland June 3, 1962, shortly after he completed his studies at OJC.

Their 7-year-old first grader, Kelly, was born in Midland; Kevin, 4, was born in Plainview; and Kerry, 7 months old, was born in Hale Center.

Carol says her main job is keeping up with the kids and keeping the family going. She says she and her husband enjoy singing together, and hopes to teach their children to sing together.

Her hobbies—when she has the time—are learning to play the piano, reading and sewing.

Gas Co. Acquires Rights

Pioneer Natural Gas Company has revealed that the company has acquired the right of purchase of more than $80 million worth of natural gas from 60,000 highly prospective acres in Ward, Reeves, Loving, Winkler, Crane and Pecos Counties in the Delaware Basin of Texas.

In making the announcement, Burton P. Smith, president of Pioneer, said, "Pioneer is confident that the acreage will contain more than the 200 billion cubic feet dedicated to this right of purchase."

Smith pointed out that, in addition, the series of contracts with a producer provide for the purchase or exchange of an additional 18 million cubic feet per day of existing production. "These contracts, together with other previously dedicated but undeveloped acreage in the same general area, will constitute a major addition of future reserves to the gas supply of Pioneer," Smith said.

It was further stated that Pioneer was advised the Texas Railroad Commission by letter that the company foresees no unusual curtailments in the near future. It expects any curtailment of industrial customers during the winter of 1972-73 will be comparable to previous years during severe weather. Any necessary curtailment will apply only to customers having an interruptible provision in their contract.

The Texas Railroad Commission has called a hearing for November 30 to inquire into the ability of various Texas suppliers of gas to meet their commitments during the 1972-73 winter.

Pioneer also announced that its subsidiary, Amarillo Oil Company, is currently running final tests on a well in Roberts County. This well and four offset locations are committed to Pioneer under a preferential right to purchase.

Amarillo Oil Company is presently participating in three deep wells in the Anadarko Basin, and a fourth test is drilling in the Delaware Basin.
