Workers Retire Earlier

In Lamb County, as well as in most other communities across the country, "non-work" is one of the fastest growing occupations today. Counted in the non-work class in the local area are those able-bodied males over age 14 who are neither working nor looking for work nor going to school. The comparable percentage in 1960 was 10. Elsewhere in the United States, the non-workers represent 14 percent of the total. The proportion of non-workers among those over 65 is 22 percent greater than it was in 1960. In Lamb County there are many more men who are over 65 and no longer working than there were ten years ago. At that time the total was 455.

What do they live on? Outside of savings, interest, dividends and other income from investments that they might have, their main source of funds is from government "transfer payments." These include social security benefits, pensions, the proceeds of life insurance policies, veterans benefits, unemployment insurance and the like. Because retirement has become easier, financially, the proportion of non-workers to workers has been rising.

In the local area, on the basis of the latest figures, an estimated 13 percent of the male population over 14 is now in the non-school, non-work category. Throughout the United States at the present time there are 8.5 million men in this non-

Whitharral Ham

By NILAH RODGERS Leader-News Staff Writer Tom Burrus is putting Whitharral on the map. He spends several hours a day talking over his ham radio to points all over the world. Burrus promotes cotton through his hobby, too. "When I pick up a new guy," Burrus said, "I tell him I'm a cotton farmer. Then I ask him what kind of socks he's got on. They answer nylon," Burrus laughed. "Everytime." Burrus became interested in his hobby several years ago when he started out as a citizens' band member. "But 10 or 15 miles didn't satisfy me," he said. "I kept wanting to go further." "I just finished talking to Dr. Nowlin's brother in Houston. Dr. Nowlin and his brother have talked by phone patch several times."

Radioes Cotton

Burrus belongs to Military Affiliate Radio Systems, commonly known as MARS. He relays many messages taken in this connection. All new recruits can fill out a MARS form when they go through the processing line. Then a MARS station picks these messages up and relays them. Burrus takes all the "long hauls" that come his way. Long hauls are messages taken by anyone in the state the person is calling. The ham radio operator takes the message and then phones it collect. Overseas bases have MARS stations, too. "Royce Sisk radioed to his wife, Sharon, that he had a furnished apartment and to come on to Germany," Burrus said. "The person sending the message just couldn't BURRUS says there's no way to tell how many people are listening when he talks on his ham radio. "It's strictly a party-line deal," he says. Burrus always has a plug for Whitharral. "Then I have to spell it and tell them where it is. I tell them I grow cotton and ask them what kind of socks they're wearing," he quips.

Child Care Training Slated This Month

Lady Clare Phillips
County HD Agent

A series of three training meetings have been set for girls who are interested in learning to care for children and hire out for baby sitting jobs.

Girls who are 13 years of age and older are eligible to take the training.

The purpose of this training is to teach girls their responsibilities when they hire out for baby sitting jobs and learn more about child care.

There will be one meeting in which the parents of the children will participate in order to know what they expect of a baby sitter.

At another meeting a registered nurse will train girls what to do in case of emergency and give instructions on first aid and health.

After completion of this training then girls will be ready to hire out for jobs. As completion certificate will be issued the girls who attend all three meetings.

A telephone list will be published for those who may be interested in hiring a sitter, also a list will be kept in the Extension Service office. The training will be: Child Guidance Techniques, Getting Along with Children, Safety, Emergencies, First Aid and Getting Ready for Child Care.

Girls who are interested should fill out the form which has been prepared. They will be available at the schools, through Girl Scout organizations and the Extension office in the courthouse. Remember, the girl must be at least 13 years of age.

The three meetings are scheduled at the Pioneer Natural Gas Co., 500 W. 7th, April 27, 28 and 30 from 4 to 5 o'clock.

Pre-registration is necessary in order to make detail plans, so girls should get their enrollment forms so they can be returned to the County Home Demonstration Agent before the meetings start.

Six Accidents Investigated During March

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated six accidents on rural highways in Lamb County during the month of March, according to Sergeant Thurman Keffer, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed, one person injured and an estimated property damage of $2,975.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first three months of 1970 shows a total of 28 accidents resulting in no persons killed, eight persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $20,700.

The final entry in the 1969 Texas traffic records has been entered and closed. An all-time record of 3,551 persons killed, an estimated 223,000 suffered injuries, and an estimated property loss of $955 million was sustained.

Soybean Growers Favor Checkoff

Soybean growers in this area met at Springlake and other points Tuesday to discuss the future of growing soybeans.

Soybean producers discussed organized marketing associations, lowering the per-unit cost of production and producing quality products with a dependable supply at a competitive price.

Plans call for a uniform assessment of one-half cent per bushel. The referendum will have to carry by a two-thirds majority before the checkoff can be put into effect.

Such an assessment will enable farmers to pay their own research, disease and insect control programs and pay for education and promotion to encourage production, marketing and use of commodities farmers produce.

Will Rogers' Friend

IN HIS OWN delightful, highly personal, amusing style, Will Rogers lassoed the hearts of America in the 1920's and 1930's.

The Oklahoma cowboy was, in Damon Runyon's words, "America's most complete human document."

HE ALSO MADE a place as a newspaper or syndicated paragrapher, and like many other amateurs, was a "doctor who looked at literature."

Rogers enjoyed and appreciated his newspaper. All he knew, he said, was what he read in the paper.

THE PHILOSOPHER

Nature's Balance

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has found out about this new term, ecology, his letter this week indicates.)

I know that talking about the farm problem these days in the midst of city problems, world problems and planetary pollution is about like trying to get a specialist on ingrown toenails on the same program with a panel of heart transplant specialists.

As all these articles have been pointing out, it is necessary to keep an ecological balance on this earth if we want to keep it tuned up and running right.

Well now as everybody knows, farmers, who used to constitute 70 per cent of the population, have now dwindled to around 8 per cent and the figure is still going down.

PAUL HARVEY

Miniskirt View

GIRL'S SKIRTS started creeping upward in 1964. The higher hemline was then most conspicuous only because it rode up when she sat down.

Simultaneously, however coincidentally, crimes against women began a dramatic increase. FBI crime files show the rate of forcible rape--which had been delinquent for five years--shot upward in 1964 and each year since.

IN ENGLAND, where the short skirts had a head start, the rape rate those five recent years increased 90 percent.

In the United States, the increase has been 68 percent. Last year forcible rapes increased more than any other violent crime.

IS THERE A CORRELATION? The consensus of law enforcement officials in 50 states is "yes."

Women do not see miniskirts from the same point of view as men do. A girl accustomed to appearing in public in a swimsuit cannot comprehend the difference between that and the provocative promise of a possible view of intimate areas.

PROFESSIONAL LAW enforcement officials in 50 states were asked, "Does the short skirt invite sex crime?" Those in 61 percent of our major cities reported: 92 percent said yes.

The juvenile division commander of one large city spoke the consensus view when he said, "Some sex crimes are committed by individuals aroused by their sensory perception, and short dresses of some girls could provoke such an attack."

WHERE FORCIBLE RAPE is now our nation's fastest increasing crime, a separate category of came home last night unexpectedly and bloodshed ensued, or 'Jesse Bushyhead, our local M. D., is having one of the best years in his career, practically speaking--but they just won't pay him when they get well,' and 'Election ain't far off, and everybody is up for office that can sign an application blank.'"

"Now all that doesn't seem much news to you. But it is news, especially when you know the people and they are your own folks. So, no matter how punk you think your local newspaper is, let them take it away from you for a while and see how you feel. The old newspaper, I think, is about our biggest blessing. So let's read and be merry, for tomorrow the paper may not have enough ads to come out."

"A breakfast without a newspaper is a horse without a saddle. You are just riding bareback if you get no news for breakfast. Don't underestimate your paper. I don't care how small it is, and how little news you think it might have in it at that particular issue. Lord, kiss it, for the news that it does bring you."

The TEXAS OUTLOOK

"Well why didn't you say which movie star you wanted to look like?"

HOMINY GRITS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

I'M GLAD the Good Lord didn't make all of us just alike. I'm sure He knew what He was doin', and I've never been one to question His way of doin' things.

Think how boring it would be if we were all duplicates. Everyone would think alike, talk alike, and look alike. We'd like the same things, hate the same things, and do the same things. (Heck, it's had enough on me just to have to get up and shave the same ol' face, every morning!)

BUT, SHUCKS, I don't see any reason for there having to be SO MUCH difference!

Most anyone has a better deal than the rest of us. They have better jobs, make more money, live in better houses, drive better autos, and everything they do seems to be just the right thing. They really seem to enjoy living!

When I was on the farm, I just couldn't seem to do anything right, I'd watch the sky for the weather to settle before I'd plant. Sure enough, I most always managed to plant just before a big rain. I was sure I'd planted good seed, but only weeds and grass would come up! (My neighbors couldn't do anything wrong!)

WHEN I WISHED for rain, the wind blew. If I insured my crop against hail, it didn't, and if I didn't, it DID! A sure cause of rain would be my hookin' onto my combine, or cotton harvester.

The "Good-Book" promised rain "On the just, and on the unjust!" I waited. Finally one of my half-witty neighbors pointed out that it mentioned "just" before "unjust." That's when I sold out!

A WOMAN'S VIEW

Don't Know Me

By PEARL BRANDON

ONE MORNING when I sat down for my daily Bible Reading and meditation I was anxiously pondering over a nagging problem that continued to plague me.

I came across this quotation from Jesus in the fourteenth chapter of John. I had read it many times but it had never meant the same to me.

YOU KNOW in the wonderful chapter of 14th John Jesus starts out with "Set your troubled hearts at rest. Trust in God always." (New English Bible) And how He went on to assure his disciples, "I am the way, the truth, the life", and then "If you know me, you know my Father, also."

WE ALL REMEMBER how Phillip said, "Lord, show us the Father", then the meaningful words of Jesus when he said "have I been all this time with you, Phillip, and you still don't know me?"

For the first time those words of Jesus had a real meaning for me. I was in the sunset of a life that had known many heartaches and much suffering yet in every incident of this long meandering way He had always been there. He was lending me strength, bearing me when I prayed and holding me up even when I lacked the faith to pray.

HERE I WAS still fretting over little problems in my life and letting them keep me from being happy. He said to me, "Have I been with you so long, and still you don't know me?"

How ashamed I felt for my lack of faith. This wonderful Savior of mine who had guided me through all the difficulties of life would continue to lead me.

WE ARE LIKE little children we need to be assured over and over again of our Father's love. That is why we need to go to Him every day in quiet prayer and feel His Blessed Presence in our hearts.

Dear Lord, thank you for your continued love and protection and great strength all the days of my life...even as I grow old. Amen.

MY NEIGHBORS worry about their stocks and bonds. I only have to shake my piggy-bank. They worry about the depreciation on their new cars. I worry about keeping my old "smooth-mouth" running. They go home and mow their grass, while I mow my dandelions. (If they should re-name those things 'Chicory-Daisies' and find a market for them, I'd be rich!--Course, mine'd die out!) And when my peach-tree blooms, it's a sure sign of a hard freeze on the way!

IN MY YOUNGER DAYS, I kept chasin' after a pretty lass, until she finally caught me! Before I hardly knew it, we were sayin' "I DO"--and we DID! We've been stuck with each other, lo, these many years. We've raised five of the best kids you've ever seen. Have met and made friends of best people in the world, live in the best community there is, work for, and with the best people in this community, and serve like I said, I'm not one to criticize the Lord, but it seems a shame that He hasn't smiled on everyone, as He has on me!

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Look For Answers

By BOB WEAR

CONSTANT CRITICISM is obviously one of the predominant characteristics of many people.

In so many instances and situations, valuable time, great energy and other human resources are completely wasted in criticism.

After all is said and done, no improvements are being made in anything or in the life of anybody involved.

LOOKING FOR ANSWERS is commendable, but just finding fault as an end in itself is destructive. Criticism, when made, should be part of the search for solutions. This is what we call constructive criticism.

"Doubtless criticism was originally benign, pointing out the beauties of a work rather than its defects. The passions of men have made it malignant."--Longfellow. Such tragic perversion! Such loss for all!

"A MODERN PASTIME" is an apt description of the present widespread practice of criticism. It seems that most of it is being done in an effort to tear down somebody or something.

This is a kind of destructiveness we cannot afford. "Is it in destroying and pulling down that skill is displayed?--The shallowest understanding, the rudest hand, is more than equal to that task." Burke.

WHEN MISTAKES ARE MADE, or when something goes wrong, there is a tendency to give attention to the one responsible or to the mistake. Considerable time is spent trying to fix the blame, and, in some instances, this may be necessary; but this is not enough. Unfortunately, many people are so

DOWN TO EARTH

Who's Responsible?

By JIMMY R. ALLEN

EACH SUCCESSIVE STAGE of investigation of the sickening events at Song My raises new ethical issues for American conscience.

Despite all efforts, the actual massacre may never be established beyond doubt. The latest press reports of the Army's own panel led by Lt. Gen. William R. Peers, confirms that a tragedy of major proportions occurred, with the possibility that 175 to 200 persons were killed and that unthinkable acts of brutality and sadism were committed.

THE PRIMARY ETHICAL question: Who was responsible for the deeds and how could such a searing of conscience have occurred? Related questions now arising in the aftermath of investigation deal with the degree of responsibility individuals must assume within a system.

For instance it is now established that a whole chain of command is being called into account. The most noted figure in this chain appears to be the West Point Military Academy Commandant who requested transfer in order to clear that venerable institution from adverse publicity.

INVOLVED IN THE QUESTION are not only individual responsibility but also how much responsibility there is for reporting and securing correction and punishment for the misdeeds.

Military investigators are establishing that reporting of this event was watered down with each step up the ladder until finally only 20 to 28 civilian casualties were reported.

THOSE READY to vent their wrath on the military system should realize that this is not the only system which must face the ethical question of establishing individual responsibility for misdeeds.

They also need to see that the military is moving to meet the challenge by digging through the complexities to attempt to do justice.

It is true that the spotlight of publicity was a necessary ingredient for getting this done, but it is part of the process of securing justice in any society.

THE DILEMMA in civilian systems of business, labor, and government is very similar when it re-intent upon pointing out the error, and naming the person who made it that nobody looks for the way to correct it, or for the person who can correct it. Of course, the majority of critics criticize just for the sake of being critical. This doesn't leave many interested persons to look for the answers.

SOME THINGS will go wrong in the course of events. This is just part of the human experience. When this happens, it is not criticism we need; but answers.

We must give our thoughts and concern to the manner of correcting mistakes, and to finding persons who might be capable of doing so. "If something goes wrong, it is more important to talk about who is going to fix it than who is to blame."--F. J. Gable.

WITH SO MUCH criticism today, it seems that everything is wrong, and everybody is wrong, too. This is not helping anything or anybody.

It is not always easy to see what is right, but we must try and keep trying. If we refuse to see and commend what is right, and just think and talk about what we think is wrong: the time will come when everything will be wrong.

"Of all mortals the critic is the silliest: for, inuring himself to examine all things, whether they are of consequence or not, he never looks upon anything but with a design of passing sentence upon it."--Steele.

A HUMAN SOCIAL ORDER must, however, be imperfect. Nevertheless, if more people looked for true answers; and fewer people complained about the blemishes; we could build up and preserve rather than tear down and destroy.

Late Saturday morning, 1964 Chevrolet, driven by Robert Brandon, was on south on Sunset and was about to make a right turn into a private driveway when it was struck by a 1964 Chevrolet, driven by Tommy Kelton. Kelton was attempting to pass on the side and struck the vehicle in the right rear

Any problem comes along, you're supposed to be able to cure it." Burrus concluded.

SEVERAL PRINCIPLES emerge. One cannot escape individual responsibility simply because he has been told by a superior in a system to do a deed.

THE PRINCIPLE of individual responsibility for one's action was dramatically established in Adolph Eichmann's trial for the atrocities of World War II. The little man in the glass cubicle simply could not justify his deeds because he was only doing what he was told. The Bible is clear that "every man must give an account of himself to God."

WE MUST EACH ASSUME our responsibility for what our collective actions do. The chain of support is also a chain of responsibility.

Those of us who pay taxes, elect men who make decisions, and enjoy the privileges of citizenship bought by the sacrifice of others must give account of ourselves in this process.

ANY SYSTEM--political, economic, social, or religious--depends ultimately for its integrity, soundness, justice and morality upon the character of the individuals within that system. "Righteousness exalteth a nation,"

Student Council Attends Austin Convention

The Littlefield High School Student Council attended the Texas Association of Student Council Conventions in Austin.

The members of our Student Council who went are Lynn Barton, Dianne Perkins, Randy Parkman and Martha Brown. Mrs. Charlene Reast and Mrs. JoAnn Jordan accompanied them to Austin. Mrs. Reast and the Student Council members left early last Thursday morning so that they would be able to be in Austin in time to register Thursday night.

The Student Council meeting in Austin brought representatives from schools all over Texas. Close to 3,000 people were in attendance, for the convention.

The Student Council members lead one of the many discussion groups at the convention. The topic lead by the Littlefield

Student Council was "Planning an Effective Year Long School Program."

The program for the convention consisted of an opening General Session. Then, the schools broke into small discussion groups. The discussion groups were in conference all day Friday.

Saturday political rallies were held for elections to state offices. The members from different Student Councils across Texas voted. After the voting, a closing General Session was held.

Recruiters On Campus

Armed Forces Day was held in the LHS auditorium Tuesday, April 7 at 10 a.m.

Recruiting officers from the Army, Navy, Marines, and Air Force were present to give details about each person's military obligations.

Each representative gave the advantage of each different branch of the service. They also told of their personal experiences in the service.

Each recruiter emphasized that a high school diploma was essential in every branch of the service.

Economize On Food

To help economize on the food bill, here are some tips from Mrs. Lady Claire Phillips, Lamb County Home Demonstration Agent, about good buys in this week's market.
 At retail meat counters, look for best beef values on round steaks and roasts, chuck roasts and steaks and beef liver. Pork values include picnics, end cut loin roasts and chops and pork liver.
 Fryers generally are the biggest bargain in most meat departments but prices vary considerably among stores, she notes.
 Consider the whole bird rather than cut-up fryer or parts for lowest prices.
 Grade A large size eggs continue to offer the most quality and economy for egg money.

Roundup Gin Is Honored With Top Safety Plaque

Orville Bailey of the Roundup Gin in Anton was awarded a Top Safety Winner plaque last week in Dallas during the Texas Cotton Ginners Association Convention.
 The plaque signified outstanding accident prevention by the company.
 The Roundup Gin receives the Top Safety Winner recognition for 10 years of operation without a lost-time accident.
 More than 3,000 cotton gin operators, their guests and representatives of firms doing business with cotton gins, attended the three day trade show and convention April 5-7.
 Newly-elected Association President Otto Pfluger of Pflugerville praised the records of the 12 top gins in Texas which received the 10 year awards, as an outstanding achievement in accident prevention work.
 Pfluger said other gins in the Association's Safety program will be awarded plaques recognizing records of from one to nine years of injury-free operation.

 Keynote speaker for the convention was Texas Lieutenant Governor Ben Barnes. Other speakers were from the National Cotton Council and the Department of Agriculture.
 Other gins in the top 12 were A. Brandt Gin at Bellville; Buske Gin at Shiner; Lockett Gin of Vernon; McMullan Gin at Palacios; R. Morgan Gin at Corpus Christi; Paymaster Gin at Seagraves; Rayland Gin Co. of Vernon; Webb Farmers Co-op Gin and Supply Co. at Arlington; Wheeler Gin at Wheeler; Whitewright Gin at Whitewright; and T. M. Williams and Co., Gin, Inc., at Florence.

Sample Survey To Be Taken

The Bureau of the Census will conduct a sample survey of employment and unemployment in the area during the week of April 19.
 Mrs. Rosemary McNeese of Rt. 1 Amherst will visit households in this area.
 The households to be interviewed here are part of a scientifically designed sample of the entire U.S. population.
 The employment and unemployment statistics are collected monthly by the Census Bureau for the U.S. Department of Labor to provide a continuing measurement of the economic health of the Nation as a whole and of its major regions.
 Questions similar to those in the survey also are included in the 1970 decennial census. Census Bureau officials point out, however, that the monthly survey is essential as the source of current national employment data that can be obtained quickly.
 As in the decennial census, facts about the individual and the family collected in this survey are kept completely confidential and the results are used only to compile statistical totals.

IT PAYS TO TRADE IN LITTLEFIELD

Byers Has Grain, Feed Steam Rolled Milo

Byers Grain and Feed has been in business in Littlefield since the early 1930's, serving the farmers' needs in a better capacity every year.

Not only do they carry all the Purina Feeds and any number of planting grains, but they do custom mixing and steam roll grain sorghum. Research proves that cattle fed on rolled milo get 25 per cent more digestibility than livestock fed on ground milo.

Byers will store the grain sorghum you want to use for rolled milo. Then they will mix it with a concentrate and deliver this complete feed mix right to your barn. A charge of 35 cents per hundred for flaking milo is made, or Byers has milo for customers who do not have their own grain.

In the milo rolling and custom mixing, Byers delivers to their customers anywhere in the Littlefield trade area.

Little League Needs Coaches; Tryouts Slated

There was a good turnout of Little League parents for the work nights Monday and Tuesday.

Bob Bronlow, president, reported that more than 50 of the electric bulbs that light the playing field had been shot out and these will have to be replaced at a cost of $5 per bulb before Little League play can begin.

Approximately 50 more boys are needed to complete this year's schedule. Players in the nine-year-old category are especially needed, because only 24 nine-year-olds have signed up.

Coaches and umpires are still needed, too. An effort is being made this year to secure enough umpires so that each umpire will not have to umpire more than one night per week.

Little League tryouts begin tonight with 10-year-olds scheduled to try out from 5-6 p.m.

Eleven-year-olds will try out from 6-7 p.m. tonight. Tomorrow, April 17, nine-year-olds will try out from 5-6 p.m., and 12-year-olds will have tryouts from 6-7 p.m.

Boys should bring their own gloves and wear suitable clothing but a uniform is not necessary.

TWO FOR THE MONEY

Pioneer brand hybrids set the yield pace wherever grain sorghum is grown. Here are two performance proved varieties you can count on for this area. 845 is a relatively new medium-maturity hybrid that yields like most full-season varieties. It has produced over 10,000 lbs. per acre in an official Texas A & M yield test. 866 is a medium-early variety with an outstanding yield record for its maturity. This high-profit hybrid performs especially well on sandy soils. Pick the Pioneer brand hybrid that fits your requirements best. Then see your Pioneer dealer right away and get the seed you need for this year's crop.
