Christmas Seal Campaign Launched In Littlefield

The Christmas Seal Campaign of the West Texas Area of the American Lung Association was kicked Friday by a "flyin" by the WTA president, Douglas Boren, and campaign chairman, James H. Granberry, D.D.S., according to Ken Day, Lamb County Board member.

This way of meeting area volunteers personally, and sharing his enthusiasm with them face to face, was worked out by Dr. Granberry through the happy circumstances that the area president is also a pilot who flies his own plane.

"This year more than ever before the theme of the campaign emphasizes keeping young lungs healthy," stated Dr. Granberry. He continued by saying that over a period of years his interest in the area Lung Association (formerly Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease

"The idea", said Dr. Granberry, "is to reach youngsters before they're hooked. The risk of emphysema or other crippling lung disease increases with each cigarette."

We must help them to quit as well as to reduce the number of new smokers. This is why I am asking you to join me in this campaign and give more to the Christmas Seal fight against smoking and other causes of lung disease."

One way Christmas Seal contributions are put to work in this area is to provide young people with factual information regarding cigarette smoking and their health. Recently, a program of breathing exercises and physical fitness classes for children with asthma has been started. Nineteen children from the West Texas area are presently enrolled in this pilot project in Lubbock.

In a brief meeting Thursday night during their regular session, Littlefield's City Councilmen appointed Florence Dunn to the post of Municipal Judge, and discussed opening Bull Lake during the remainder of the duck hunting season.

Due to the retirement of Ben Noble, the position of municipal judge has become vacant, and Mrs. Dunn was appointed to fill the post for a period beginning Nov. 16 and ending Nov. 15,

Mrs. Dunn has worked in the police department a total of 12 years, and has been chief dispatcher the past 2 1/2 years. The new job will be a part-time

Appearing before the council to discuss the request for permission to hunt on Bull Lake was Johnny Yohner. Yohner had presented a petition bearing 44 signatures, requesting that Bull Lake ne opened for the remainder of the season. The duck hunting season is split this year. The first began Oct. 25 and continues until Nov. 25 and the second half is to begin Dec. 8 and continue through Jan. 20.

Councilmen suggested to Yohner that if enough permits could be sold to gain enough funds to pay yhe lake manager's salary while the lake is open, they would be willing to open the lake to hunters.

Hunters who wish to buy a permit are asked to contact the city manager's office, 385-4411, and indicate your wishes. If enough funds are guaranteed, then the lake will be opened.

Councilmen reminded Yohner that guns are restricted to shotguns, as the city's contract with the owner of the lake specifies. Because of livestock in the pastures around the lake, the restriction

Weather Balloon Equipment Lands In Fieldton

Eldon Hill was the first to arrive at a downed parachute on the Ruben Brock farm Tuesday afternoon.

A strange silver object ejected the parachute from a high altitude reserch balloon released from Holloman Air Force Base at Alamogordo, N.M.

When first spotted, the weather balloon was about 70,000 feet high and floating between Morton and Littlefield.

The balloon carried $ 900-pound payload of special high altitude atmospheric research testing instruments. The instruments gather information from 102,000 feet altitude and make meteorological observations determining temperature and atmospheric pressure. Readings are sent back to the base by a radio transmitter on the balloon, according to Major Bernard Burnett at Holloman AFB.

When the balloon test ended in the Fieldton area Tuesday, the balloon automatically ripped apart with a discharging device. The radio and recording instruments were then released from the balloon by the parachute which lowered them to the

The plastic balloon which was carrying the parachute and equipment landed about four miles northeast of Morton, according to AFB officers.

A four-man recovery team was directed to the downed location of the parachute by a spotter plane which also recovered the plastic balloon.

Officers said large numbers of balloons are launched each day by government and private agencies. Some do not carry instruments, but are tracked from the ground to determine wind velocity and direction at different

Gasoline Pump Stickers Must List Ceiling Price

"Because of recent changes in the Phase IV petroleum regulations, all gasoline and diesel fuel retailers must obtain new ceiling price stickers for each pump or grade of petroleum sold," according to Walter I. Perry, administrative officer of the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) office in New pump stickers and instructioncomputation forms may be picked up at the IRS office at: 1403 West 5th Street, Plainview, Texas 79072, and must be posted on pumps by 11:59 p.m. Nov. 21.

Written requests for stickers and instructions may be made at the IRS office listed above. Retailers should specify the number of stickers they will

"The new stickers should be posted on each pump in a prominent position to be easily seen by the customer. The old sticker should then be removed," Perry said. If more than one grade of gas is sold from a pump, a separate sticker must contain the new ceiling price and the minimum octane of the gasoline.

Anticipating additional changes, The Cost of Living Council (CLC) designed the stickers with four numbered blanks for inserting the ceiling prices for Nov. 1973 through Feb. 1974.

Under revised CLC Rules gasoline and diesel fuel retailers are permitted to increase their May 15, 1973 selling price to reflect, on a dollar for dollar passthrough basis, their increased petroleum costs.

This can be done more than once a month. Whenever an adjustment is made to the maximum permissible price, each retailer must adjust his posted price.

"On the reverse side of the posting instructions is a form which dealers must use to compute their ceiling price," Perry said. This sheet must be retained at the service station for IRS inspection to determine compliance with the new regulations.

A NEW GAS PUMP STICKER is to be posted by dealers by Wednesday. Nov. 21, 1973. Box number one is for listing the November ceiling price, and numbers 2, 3 and 4 are for December, January and February ceiling prices. Election Costs County $3.27 Per Vote

All expenses are not figured yet in the amendment election, but a quick estimate shows that each vote cast in Lamb County cost taxpayers an average of $3.27 each.

The approximate cost of the Nov. 6 election in this county is $2,500 for the 796 total votes cast.

In the past, approximately 12 percent of the voters represented the lightest turnout. This year less than 10 percent of the county's almost 8,400 voters expressed opinions on the constitutional amendments.

This is partially accounted for due to the state constitutional revision slated

The biggest cost in the election was for personnel. Figuring $2 an hour for 75 election judges and clerks, this totals about $1,300. The ballots cost about $220; election sets for voting precincts totaled about $375. Returning the ballot boxes to the courthouse and miscellaneous expenditures added another $100.

Some clear excesses in clerks seems evident, especially in two precincts. Precinct 2 at Earth used eight persons to hold the election that polled a total of only 68 votes. The polling place in the Lamb County Courthouse paid for 8 election officials and only 185 votes were

A suggestion to cut expenses in elections where light voter turnouts are precicted include cutting down on election judges and clerks and eliminating or combining precincts.

Effective for the November election are two new laws that should have been applied.

One reads that commissioners have the authroity to combine precincts. Since separate ballots must be printed for each precinct and separate precinct sets, judges and clerks must be provided for each polling place. Combining precincts offers a simple method of saving on election costs.

Another election law in effect now reads that no precinct shall have less than 100 nor more than 2,000 voters. Perhaps the county judge and commissioners should take another look at 16 voting precincts in Lamb County since there are five voting precincts with less than 100 voters. One voting precinct has four registered voters. One has 39 voters, one 85, one 89 and one has

Woman's View

By PEARL BRANDON

I THINK one of the hardest things for most people to understand is that God loves everyone individually.

"Why should the Lord care about me? I'm just a poor drunk, or sinner of some kind. I don't think very well of myself, so why should He care?

He does care about us all! I am afraid if we had to stand on our own merits, very few of us would pass

I DON'T LIKE the word "sinner". Sin means to err, or make mistakes-to break the laws of God. All of us do this-some, of course, more than others, but none of us are exempt. We see picutres from time to time of 'skid row". We are inclined to think, "Look at that old burn!" How do you think the Lord sees "that old

I THINK HE sees him as a poor, sick human being who needs Him more than many affluent people whose needs are

People can overcome almost any kind of handicaps by believing in themselves and believing in God's power.

Sometimes it takes a lot of "believing in God" to believe in ourselves. But I am convinced that there is no one outside of God's love if they only knew it. Our job is to get them to realize His grace and forgiveness-and His power to help.

HE MAY NOT remove your physical affliction but He will help you to live with it. He will also teach you how to find your place in life and give you peace of mind

Once I knew a man who suffered from stomach ulcers. There were very few things he could eat. Many times I've seen him go into a cafe about midmorning and order a glass of milk. He was out of work and had a large family to support and could hardly afford the price of a glass of milk.

It is hard to put ourselves in other people's places, but how would we feel if we had a large family to support and was in ill health and had no job?-Or how would we feel if we were a member of a minority race struggling to make a living and trying to educate our children?

Does God love these people? Of course He does, and they are as important to Him as any one else.

SOMETIMES we feel so inadequate when we are asked to do things. "Father, look at me-I'm not capable of doing that-I'm just a poor ordinary person. Or, I am too Young or too old, or I don't have enough education-or I am black-or poor.

ANY KIND of leadership roles exposes us to the public for criticism, or praise. Most of us feel unequal to the If we read our Bibles about the Lord Jesus as He walked here on Earth and the people He helped, we read of poor fallen women, the blind, the cripples, the lepers, and even, about that sick man they let down through the roof for Jesus to heal. Jesus forgave his sins before He healed him. HE CAN DO that too-forgive our sins and clean up our lives. He cares about people, the old, the sick, the sinful, the needy, the poor, and He also cares about the affluent and the rich. All have problems and He loves us all. HE IS ABLE to forgive our sins and help us solve our problems. He is able to pick us up when we fall and turn us in the right direction.

He cares about us in any situation. He is able to remove the boredom from our lives and make us feel useful. We cannot go beyond His love and care.

THE LORD SAYS in Psalm 50, "No. I don't need your sacrifices of flesh and blood. What I want from you is your true thanks: I want your promises fulfilled. I want you to trust me in your times of trouble, so I can rescue you, and you can give me Glory." Living Bible.

He doesn't require much from us-just to believe on Him and to fulfill our small purpose in the corner where

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Sportsmanship

SPORTSMANSHIP IS a desirable expression of some of the very best human characteristics, and is generally appreciated by most people.

We like to see it demonstrated by other people, and we always feel better when we are thoughtful enough and sufficiently self-controlled to display it in our behavior.

BASICALLY, sportsmanship refers to skill or ability in sports. This, however, is not the sense in which we usually use the word and is not the sense in which it is being used now If we say that someone is a good sport, we are giving the person a very high compliment. We are expressing approval of some of the best known traits of which we human beings are capable. WHEN WE TALK about "sportsmanship", we are talking about "fairness, courtesy, graceful acceptance of results, etc. Sometimes we may be referring to the general attitude of someone who is participating in some game, such as football, but, in the larger field of life, there is even greater need for 'sportsmanship"

IN THE ATHLETIC ARENA, "sportsmanship" includes such commendable behavorial qualities as "being charitable when winning, and being gracious when losing; being able to maintain a relatively even temper, regardless of how the game goes."

It also includes respect for the established rules of the game, and a manifest attitude of good cheer and good fellowship in submitting to these rules.

MOST PEOPLE LIKE to be winners, and like to be on the winning side; and there is nothing wrong with this unless the winners forget the feeling losers, and become boast generally obnoxious. Whether it athletic contest, or the greater life; no good purpose can be ser such conduct.

The undesirable social created is a kind of pollution harmful to all persons; winn

IT IS VERY IMPORTANT that "fair" and "just" in our assess with others. We are being wise follow the principle of "live as lives" Of course, we will be pleased we successes; and there is nothing with this, but we must also reneal be sympathetic in our attitudes to those who fail. THERE WILL BE some losses of us, and we must accept graciously; but this is not all. We learn to rejoice with others in accomplishments.

I HAVE TO AGREE with the gentleman from Lubbock on one point. That is, that morals can not be legislated. The Almighty, Himself gave us that lesson in Old Teestament times. Yet, on the other hand, I'm not of the opinion that temptation should be wilfully flaunted before the weak and unstable I REFER TO the court case pertaining to the showing of the naughty film in Lubbock. This principle applies to many other facets of our daily living. While it may be a matter of self-control as to whether or not I take advantage of the offerings of filth, it should also be legislated against for the benefit of the sick and unstable.

Otherwise, why have laws against drunkeness, dope, stealing, indecent exposure, and such like?

YOU DO NOT help a person that's been poisoned by giving him MORE poison! By the same token, you should not try to cleanse a dirty, sick mind by feeding it on obscenity and pornogrophy. You don't cure an alcoholic by setting a bottle and glass before him, nor would you set a needle and dope before dope-addict.

OVERHEARD A FEW comments about the food stamp program. The program is hardly 30 days old here and already there are reports that it is being abused

How is this for one gripe? $200 worth of food stamps for $80 cash and going to a person that should be meeting with the Weight Watchers and topping it off with a 1972 Olds 98. (Now Cornball, don't get the wrong idea, I should be going to Weight Watchers, but I don't get food stamps and we drive a 1965 Pontiac with only one door that opens and shuts like it is supposed to, and another door that doesn't open at all.) Another misuse for the food stamps is that they are good collateral in a crap game. Instead of putting up money, you can cover your bets with food stamps and play on their face value. We teach and preach "Love of they neighbor" and apparently they don't give a hang about our love, all many want is our handouts. Nuff said.

ENERGY SHORTAGE, gasoline rationing, daylight saving time, these words are headlining our news today and the solution could be simple. Now don't get me wrong all you young people, but you could solve the energy crisis. In doing so, your parents could get enough fuel to continue operating their business or farms. This will have to be done on a national level.

You could help on a local level, but to early get results, this idea should be carried out nationally.

The idea is that all students who live in the rural area ride the school buses to school and not drive the cars or the pickups. You students who live in the city limits walk to school. Besides walking to school or riding the bus already goes by your home, pleds stay at home at nights for a west each student in the United States w do this for one week and all do it same week it is my opinion that gast storage tanks would be overflowing

For one week's sacrifice, we may the fuel shortage enough that we have one more year of prosperity be our government will have to something rational.

There is over 58,845 households in United States and I believe that we be safe in saying that an average d person commutes to and from set and try the family auto for recrea Let us multiply 58,845 students by gallons of gasoline, assuming that students burns an average of 10 gall per week that would be 588,450 gall saved in one week in our nation. I'm sure that if all students would on the bandwagon to save gasoline the savings would be closer to a mil gallons saved. Think about it kids, you may save nation from a gas shortage. Be hered helping our economy.

GONNA LET Cornball think more our last math problem, before we ret the answer. Seems like we stumped on our first one.

Our problem for this edition is: wives go to the market to their eggs. On the way, Mary so Edna, "Please give me one of your so I shall have twice the number you have! Edna counters. No Pk give me one of yours, so I shall have same number you have. How me eggs has each woman?"

to past chairman Warren Dayton who has given so much time to this organization.

Salvation Army, though no longer working out of its own building, is active in Littlefield. Int the past year, 229 people have been helped.

Fifty Christmas baskets were distributed last Christmas to needy families and individuals. Local help, which included the Christmas food and toys, amounted to $903.33, while help to transients totaled $191.07. Littlefield also extended help to the Regional Salvation Army in the amount of $1,679.52.

"Some may be unfamiliar with the work of the Army.' stated Mrs. Behnke. "This is a non-denominational Christian organization that, simply, helps those in need, whether they be local people, disaster victims of some sort, or transients needing food, clothing or lodging. Last summer five boys from Littlefield were sent without charge to Camp Hoblitzelle, a camp for boys near Fort Worth. The people helped by the Salvation Army would perhaps not be eligible for any other kind of aid and most are in immediate need."

"Your help is asked in this year's Christmas Drive. Do you know of a needy family or individual who may not have a Chritmas this year? If you know of someone, please call 385-6043 or mail their names and addresses to Box 1047, Littlefield. Your help is needed to make sure that no a Christmas this year." "Yes Salvation Army is very much alive in Littlefield. Its work is quietly, but surely, carried on through the efforts of the Board members, and especially through tributions from many, Christians in Littlefield generously give of their and money to help the fortunate," she conclude

FUTURE

What will be the life style of the future? One thing we can be sure of . . . it will revolve around electricity. Without electric energy there is no hope of getting the pollution eliminators that only electricity can operate.

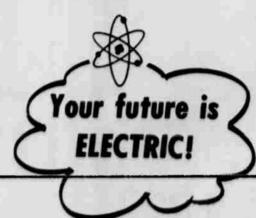

We'll need our factories, our refineries, our water treatment plants . . . all the things necessary for survival in a modern civilization.

But, without electricity none of these can function.

That's why our industry and we, as a Company, continuously plan for the future . . . contribute toward research and development of better, more efficient ways to get electricity to you.

We know we'll be needed in the future even as we are now . . . and we'll be there when the time comes . . . even as we are now...making sure that every kilowatt you buy is 100% usable.
