Nursing Home Auxiliary To Be Organized Here

Citizens of Littlefield are now organizing a Nursing Home Auxiliary to serve both convalescent homes in Littlefield—Jewel's Hospitality House and Knight's Rest Home.

Officials and employes in the homes have a full-time job caring for the 110 aged and disabled patients, and there is a need for volunteer workers to visit, read, write and do other things for the patients to brighten their lives.

Persons interested in becoming a part of the organization are urged to attend an organizational meeting Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 19, at 1:30 in the Flame

Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Co. Speakers for the meeting will be Randy Barnett of Lubbock, medical assistant for the State Welfare Medical Concern Association; Norma Visage of Lubbock, president of the Panhandle Social Concern Association; Donna Davidson, social coordinator of King's Manor and West Gate Nursing Home at Hereford; and Mrs. J. J. Durham of Hereford, president of the Panhandle Nursing Home Association.

Anyone wishing to acquire more information may call Mrs. Mary Cowan at 385-4815, Mrs. Edith Turner at 385-3048 and Mrs. Freida Rice at 385-6179.

Heart Association Sets Heart Sunday

The American Heart Association will sponsor its annual Heart Sunday campaign throughout the county this Sunday.

Every community will be conducting its own campaign, and volunteers are asked to contact community leaders in the drive effort.

Littlefield has been divided into 11 areas, with each assigned a chairman. All volunteers are asked to meet in the XIT Room of the Security State Bank Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. for assignments and work packets.

After all areas have been covered, workers will again meet in the XIT

Room to turn in donations, and refreshments will be served.

Chairmen for the Littlefield sections are Judy Vaughn, Cannon Terrace; Peggy Johnson, Sunset Addition; Mrs. H. L. Sawyer, Cook Addition; Sandy Bradley, Crescent Park; Josie Rangel, Monticello Addition; Deanna Friday, Eastside Addition; Julia Rodriguez, north of the Sante Fe; Karen Bridges, College Addition; and Jane Ann Jones, south of 84.

Accounts Opened For Tennis Court

A tennis court memorial account has been opened at the two Littlefield banks. Anyone wishing to donate to the fund which will be used to build an all-weather outdoor tennis court and basketball court may deposit any amount to Tennis Court Memorial at the First National Bank or Security State Bank in Littlefield.

An initial $3,000 toward building the court will be donated by attorney Robert Templeton of Amarillo and two Lubbock attorneys, John O'Shea and Johnny Splawn.

The annual fund-raising campaign will be discussed, and dates will be set for the campaign.

Representatives from all communities are urged to attend to help with the planning session.

Rep. Tells Judges, Commissioners, 'County Government Needs Authority'

State Representative Bill Clayton of Springlake told a statewide gathering of county judges and commissioners in College Station Wednesday, Feb. 6, that "county government needs more authority."

Among those attending from Lamb County were County Judge G. T. Sides, and county commissioners, Jack Peel of Littlefield and Hubert Dykes of Sudan.

"County government is going to face more and more critical issues as our state continues to become more urban, more industrial and more diverse," Clayton pointed out at the 16th annual County Judges and Commissioners Conference at Texas A&M University.

He cited waste disposal, recreation, water supplies and the overspill of people from cities into the country as issues that county government must contend with.

"Land use management is another critical issue that is coming to the forefront that county government must cope with," the state official said. "Yet, you can't handle these issues effectively with the current restraints being placed on you. That's why you need more authority."

Rep. Clayton also challenged the judges and commissioners to establish a closer system of communications between their offices and Austin, the seat of state government. "We need more communications from you so that we can help you with your problems. You must tell us about the wishes of the people in your county, and you must be willing to take on new responsibilities."

"With your hard work, I don't believe county government will ever be a failure in Texas," he emphasized. "But you've got to take an energetic approach to your work."

Another speaker at the two-day conference, W. J. Estelle, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Corrections, said that local government should have more control in solving local correctional problems. "No state or federal government should set down rules and regulations for local correctional problems. It's up to the local government and the local people."

Estelle continued, "I would like to see more emphasis on the use of community services in solving correctional problems. Such services could help with many correctional problems more effectively and efficiently than our jails and prisons."

The director pointed out that a recent survey of 29 county jails showed that the cost of maintaining a prisoner ranged from $3 to $33 a day and averaged about $8. Of the 17,000 people now in local jails, many are alcoholics. And the cost of keeping them in jail is tremendous. Instead they should be maintained and treated elsewhere. Estelle contended.

As far as many types of crime are concerned, Estelle noted that "work-release programs" at the county level could play an effective part in prisoner rehabilitation. He called for effective legislation so that such programs can be conducted effectively.

More than 500 county judges and commissioners were on hand for the annual conference which is sponsored by the County Officials Program of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

IN A RARE double gavel presentation, State Representative Bill Clayton (D-Springlake) was recently honored by House Speaker Price Daniel and the other members of the Texas Legislature. Clayton was presented two gavels—one representing his service as chairman of the House of Representatives Subcommittee on Water, which is charged with constant re-evaluation and study of one of the state's most important resources; and the other commemorating his service as vice-chairman of the important Local Government Committee which deals with all legislation affecting county, municipal, and area governments. ## FBI, Texas Rangers Called To Investigate Harassment West drama is unfolding for a woman who lives near Littlefield. The woman has a large ranch in Central Texas.

Over the past few months the plot of a western movie or the large three bedroom barn was burned. Two weeks ago the corn crib burned down.

Time later, just as the woman was about to leave the garage and drive away, a strong smell of burning was noticed.

At this time, she has received several "letters" with the words "cut out from newspapers and magazines in gangland style. Because of the threats and intimidations came in the mails, the FBI is being contacted. And Texas Rangers stepped into the investigation this week.

All the owner can deduct is that someone has it in for her or that the person or persons behind these acts hope to scare her so that she will be afraid and sell her land.

The latest vandalism involved a mile of new barbed wire strung on new steel posts. The full length of fencing was cut on both sides of the posts and the posts were bent over to the ground. The chain on the gate was cut and the chain and padlock were gone—just like the chains and locks disappeared from other gates and cattle guards.

If justice in the true western tradition prevails, the culprit or culprits will soon be apprehended and peace will settle over the range once again.

Spade Student Scholarship Recipient

William J. Anderson of Spade, in Lamb County, a graduate student enrolled in the master of agriculture degree program in feedlot management at Texas A&M University, was awarded the first Dan F. Jones Memorial Scholarship in ceremonies at College Station last week.

Robert W. Walker, TAMU development director who coordinated establishment of the scholarship, presented an engraved plaque and the $200 scholarship to Anderson, who is scheduled to complete his master's program this November.

Others taking part in the presentation ceremony were Dr. L. S. "Bill" Pope, associate dean in A&M's College of Agriculture program in feedlot management or related fields. It stems from a $10,000 fund set up by Dr. and Mrs. E. K. Jones of Amarillo in memory of their son who was an A&M graduate student when he died Dec. 29, 1971.

He was a semester away from receiving his master's degree but had planned to remain at A&M to work toward a doctorate. He has served as president of the Junior T-Bone Club.

Young Anderson enrolled at Texas A&M in the summer of 1973, after receiving a B.S. in animal science from Texas Tech University. He and wife, Ann, have a three-year-old daughter, Melissa. The Andersons reside at Route 4, Bryan.

Anderson is the son of the late Mr. Anderson and Mrs. Laura Hopper of Anton.

In presenting the recent gift to Texas A&M, Dr. and Mrs. Jones said, "We hope this fund encourages and helps ambitious young men to further their education and receive graduate degrees in the field that Dan loved so much and, at the same time, be a lasting, meaningful and worthy memorial to our son."

Karol Terry Plans Tour With WTSU Student Group

By special invitation, six West Texas State University Campus Services students, including one from Littlefield, will tour four southeastern Colorado high schools on Feb. 15.

Campus Services is a select group of students with the primary objective of acting as campus hosts and University representatives.

Included in the group is Karol Terry, a Littlefield student majoring in counseling.

The invitation was extended after Campus Service member Gail Konkell met with her Walsh, Colo. high school principal about the possibility of a WT recruiting visit. The response was so enthusiastic, however, that soon the neighboring high schools at Campo, Springfield and Vilas requested a visit also.

The four towns are located approximately 200 miles from Canyon in the flatlands of Colorado, and are primarily farming and ranching communities. Several of WT's drawing points, Miss Konkell remarked, will be the multi-million dollar Activities Center and the fact that "it is so friendly."

Originated in 1972, Campus Services members take visits to area high schools for the purpose of public relations, with special emphasis on each member's hometown.

While the Colorado visit will be the farthest they have travelled, the students have already visited Littlefield, Vega, Hereford and Happy.

The selection of the ten Campus Services students from sixty applicants was based upon counselor recommendations and academic excellence. Each receive a scholarship worth $400 a semester.

Area Residents Tour All Hawaiian Islands

By MRS. TOM STANSELL

SPRINGLAKE— Mr. and Mrs. Tom C. Smith of Olton and Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Allen of Plainview returned last week from a 13-day trip to Hawaiian Islands.

They flew first to Honolulu which is on the island Oahu. They viewed Pearl Harbor and the National Memorial Cemetery of the Pacific. The names of thousands of Veterans buried there are recorded on a tall granite slab. The travel group took the ocean sea life tour, viewed the Polynesian Cultural Center and saw the "kodaik show with its native singing and dancing. They dined at a hotel where the famous lauau meal was served.

At Ewa Beach the Smith's called on his niece and family. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nelson, Geana and Dan.

The party flew to Kauai known as the garden island. They saw the Grand Canyon of the Pacific, the Olu Pua Gardens and the Fern Gratto. On Mount Waialeali of Kauai there is the largest amount of annual rainfall recorded in the world. One side of the mountain receives 400 to 600 inches annually with the other side getting only seven or eight inches each year.

On Maui Island the tour showed the second largest tree in the world in a banyan tree which covers an area the size of an average city block. On Hawaii, the archid island, the members of the party were shown the Volcanic National Park with active volcanoes. They saw houses which have been erected on lava deposited in 1971.

They went in a glass bottom boat to the site of the monument dedicated to the memory of the Englishman Captain James Cook who discovered the islands in 1778. The area immediately surrounding the monument is the only portion of the islands owned presently by the British.

The black sand beach at Punaluu harbor was strikingly unique.

Crime Prevention Week

EVERY CITY, town and hamlet in the nation has reason to assess its status as a law-abiding community during the period of Feb. 10-16—National Crime Prevention Week.

The fabric of our society can remain whole only so long as each of us respects and lives by the rule of law.

Law enforcement agencies depend on the support of the people whose rights they protect. The streets of our cities and towns will be safe again when would-be lawbreakers—the purse snatcher, the shoplifter, the mugger, the burglar—know that the cards are stacked solidly against them by the force of the public opinion.

THOSE WHO BREAK the law can be deterred from their activities as the likelihood of apprehension is increased and the certainty of punishment is demonstrated by expeditious court trials and sentencing.

These are conditions which every community can and must work toward. Crime Prevention Week is an appropriate time for each of us to examine our own attitudes and year-round involvement in community efforts to curb crime where we live.

We can make no greater contribution to the living strength of the rule of law and the future of individual freedom and security in America.

Scouts' Birthday

THE BOY SCOUTS of America observes the 64th anniversary of its founding this year during the month of February. With some 6.5 million members, it is now the largest youth organization in the free world.

The purpose of scouting is unchanged—to build character, create awareness of citizenship responsibilities and promote mental and physical fitness.

But under a new Improved Scouting Program, adopted after three years of study, the approach to reaching these goals has been changed to meet the conditions of today.

TO REMOVE the inference of immaturity, Boy Scouts are now called just plain Scouts. They have more responsibility for guiding troop programs.

Recognition for progress comes more rapidly and more often. There is more flexibility in choosing scouting programs to fit the areas where Scouts actually live rather than the wilderness conditions of some distant forest they may never see.

BOYS AND GIRLS must become men and women of faith and integrity, able to live successfully and take part in today's complex world.

The Boy Scouts of America, with its Improved Scouting Program, gives a helping hand.

The Scouts deserve our thanks, our good wishes and our support.

Preamble Unchanged

AUSTIN—A mandate of the people of Texas was carried out Thursday by the Convention's passage of the Preamble and Bill of Rights unchanged from the 1876 Constitution.

The passage of the Preamble and Article I, the Bill of Rights, is the first language for the new proposed Constitution acted on by the full convention.

The Constitutional Amendment, passed by the people in November of 1972, calling the Constitutional Convention, directed not to change the bill of Rights in our present Constitution.

The Preamble, as drafted in the 1876 Constitution, reads: "Humbly invoking the blessings of Almighty God, the people of the State of Texas, do ordain and establish this Constitution."

This leaves intact such personal freedoms as the right to bear arms, citizen's right to his personal religious beliefs, and the right of free speech.

Also left as drafted in 1876 are a citizen's constitutional rights to free, fair, and speedy public trial; his protections against illegal searches and seizures and his right to be confronted with his accusers in a criminal action.

The first article passed by the Convention continues the preservation of citizen property rights and the right of local self-government and says that Texas is a free and independent state, subject only to the Constitution of the United States.

The Bill of Rights also retains provisions providing equal rights for all free men and providing that the government is founded on authority of the people for the benefit of the people.

Equality shall not be denied under the Bill of Rights because of sex, race, creed, color, or national origin. This continues to insure complete equal rights for all citizens.

Vandalism At Amherst, 3 Arrested Over Weekend

Heavy vandalism occurred at the Amherst school this weekend.

The building was entered through a window and a vending machine was torn up in the process of trying to get money from the change box. Then fire extinguisher powder was sprayed through the hall, auditorium and stage, and two training films were ruined. Total damages were estimated at $750.

Littlefield Feeders, Inc. reported the theft of a skil saw, jig saw, leather pouch with tools, and a Kirby vacuum cleaner from a building location northwest of Littlefield. The missing items were valued at $325.

County officers and highway patrolmen arrested three over the weekend.

Don Ray White, 23, of Waco was charged with revocation of probation.

Marvin Kyle, 51, of Littlefield was charged with driving while intoxicated Saturday. He was fined $300 plus cost and 30 days in jail, probated six months.

Jess Williamson, 59, of Anton was arrested on a driving while intoxicated charge Sunday. He was fined $100 plus court cost and 10 days in jail, probated six months.

... SCHOOL BOARD

purposes and approved the financial statement.

Hopping, who had earlier expressed to the board his desire to retire "if a replacement could be found and without putting the board in a bind," submitted his resignation for formal board action.

Mr. Hopping who has 22 years experience in the Littlefield system, recommended Carlton Parker (who had spent 2 1/2 years with the Littlefield school tax office) as his replacement.

After interviewing Parker, who is now with the Saginaw school tax office and who has a total of eleven years experience, the board unanimously elected Parker to the office on a two year contract at a salary of $13,900, plus $600 a year travel expense. The contract is effective April 15.

Blagg, in making the presentation to the council, stated that the city would like to contract with the school for the purpose of jointly assessing the taxes for both the city and the school district. He stated there were a number of advantages to a plan such as this and this includes savings in personnel and bringing the assessments into line with each other.

No formal action was taken but Blagg and City Attorney Ted Sampson are to prepare a contract for the school board's study at a later date.

The board also gave unanimous consent to the creation of a memorial fund for the purpose of building tennis courts and an outdoor basketball court. (Other details on this matter can be found in a separate story on page one).

The board, in discussing the applicants for the superintendent's position and the called meeting, also voted unanimously to set the salary at the state base of $18,300.

Citing the need for further study, the board failed to act on setting the percentage of assessment. A motion was made to set the percentage at 100 percent and the rate at a later date but the motion was withdrawn.

CLIPS & TIPS

By JOELLA LOVVORN

I WAS LOOKING through a recipe book published by the American Heart Association, titled "Recipes for Fat-Controlled, Low Cholesterol Meals", and found several helpful recipes for persons wishing to cut down on cholesterol-rich foods.

The Heart Association is currently conducting its annual fund-raising drive, and much of the money is spent on research and educating the public on the do's and don'ts in taking care of the heart.

As a matter of definition, saturated fats tend to raise the level of cholesterol in the blood and are therefore restricted in the recipes published in the booklet.

Saturated fats are those which harden at room temperature, and may be found in most animal products and hydrogenated vegetable products.

Saturated animal fats are meat fats from beef, lamb, pork, and ham; and the fat in butter, cream, whole milk and cheeses made from cream and whole milk.

Saturated vegetable fats are found in coconut oil, chocolate and many solid and hydrogenated shortenings.

Polyunsaturated fats are usually liquid oils of vegetable origin such as corn, cottonseed, soybean, sunflower and safflower oils. They tend to lower the level of cholesterol in the blood by helping the body eliminate excess cholesterol.

Olive oil and peanut oil are vegetable products, but they are low in polyunsaturated fats and neither raise nor lower blood cholesterol.

Doctors are recommending that vegetables be seasoned with herbs and spices, rather than oils; but if oils are used, use vegetable oils.

ADJUSTING RECIPES

If you want to adjust your present recipes, this is what you do. If a recipe calls for:

- 1 cup oil, use 1 1/4 cups margarine
- 1 Tbsp. oil, use 1 1/4 Tbsp. Margarine
- 1 cup margarine, use 3/4 cup oil
- 1 Tbsp. margarine, use 3/4 Tbsp. oil

HERE'S A RECIPE for Tomato Beef Stroganoff, which yields four servings.

- TOMATO BEEF STROGANOFF
- 1 1/4 lbs. flank or round steak
  - 2 Tbsps. vegetable oil
  - 1/2 cup chopped onion
  - 1 small clove garlic, mashed
  - 1 can (6 ozs.) mushrooms
  - 1 can tomato soup
  - 1 cup buttermilk
  - 6 to 8 drops Tabasco
  - 1 Tbsp. Worcestershire sauce

- 1/8 tsp. salt
- 2 Tbsps. flour
- 1/4 cup cold water

Trim all fat from the meat, cut meat across the grain in thin strips 1/4 inch thick. Heat oil in large frying pan; add the meat, garlic and onion. Cook until meat is browned and onion is golden. Drain mushrooms and add to meat.

Combine the tomato soup, buttermilk, Tabasco, Worcestershire sauce, pepper and salt; pour over meat.

Cover and simmer for 1 hour or until tender.

Blend flour with the water; add slowly to the beef mixture, and stirring, cook until smooth and thickened. Makes 4 servings.

HERE'S ANOTHER low-fat recipe from the booklet.

MEAT LOAF WITH HERBS

- 1 lb. very lean ground beef
- 1/2 lb. very lean ground veal
- 1/2 cup bread crumbs
- 1 very small onion, minced
- 1/4 tsp. summer savory
- 1/8 tsp. sweet basil
- 1 Tbsp. vegetable oil
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. black pepper
- 1/4 cup skim milk
- 1/4 cup red table wine

Put all ingredients into a mixing bowl, mix well and shape into a loaf. Place loaf on a baking sheet and bake in a 325-degree oven for about an hour. Makes 8 servings.

TIPS AND TIDBITS:

WHEN THE FEET of your child's pajamas begin to wear thin and there is still lots of wear left in the garment, you can use iron-on corduroy patches to give them an extra length of wear.

TO MAKE A HANDY pressing cloth, double a piece of cheesecloth two or three times. The cheesecloth contains no starch and you can see through it, making seams and pleats much easier to press in the right place.

LOSSES OF VITAMINS A and C occur when vegetable tissues are bruised. To prevent this, use a sharp blade when trimming, cutting or shredding fresh vegetables.

TO CUT YOUR little girl's bangs without upsetting her, have her hold wax paper over her face and under her bangs. You will be able to cut evenly, because you can see her face through the paper and she won't get hair in her eyes, nose and mouth.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Don't Overdo It

"YOU'RE OVERDOING IT" is a statement used frequently as advice or warning. We say this to others, and others tell us this. It may refer to anyone of the many things with which we human beings concern ourselves; and is usually spoken with kindly interest.

We must never resent or ignore it, because we may be "overdoing it"; and, if we are, we can make some reasonable change.

MANY ACTIVITIES which are good and desirable in themselves can become evil and undesirable by being overdone. Work, which should be one of the most delightful aspects of one's life experience, can, by excess, become despised.

Eating food is essential to living, and is one of life's delightful happenings; unless we over-eat. If we "overdo it", we are in trouble.

Even the best known virtues which are so important in themselves, and are so valuable in building a life and establishing a happy relationship with our fellowmen can, if overdone, become vices; some of the most objectionable vices.

For example: freedom which is overdone becomes license, and this ceases to be freedom. It becomes enslavement of the worst kind.

THE BEST PRINCIPLES, if pushed to excess, degenerate into fatal vices. Generosity is nearly allied to extravagance; charity itself may lead to ruin; and the sternness of justice is but one step removed from the severity of oppression.—Alison.

THERE IS A BALANCE which is essential to meaningful, personal satisfaction; and also substantial accomplishments and maintaining the moderation is the key.

THE EXTREMES may be but it is in these that our best and frustrating problems will be. Historically, the evidence of this conclusion is plentiful, and we evidence every day. It is a fact that we so frequently move to extreme to its opposite, when only trying to correct the first. We just "overdo it".

Many times we don't seem to that there is an appropriate place, a desirable point between extremes. We can be wiser than course, we are fallible; but instances, we can recognize the which we have most nearly balance we seek.

My memory isn't long enough to recall when our schools haven't had to keep scraping the bottom of the barrel, and borrowing money in order to meet obligations.

Then, too, I've wondered why so many aspire to be teachers in view of the size of their expected paychecks. Surely it must be some kind of dedication.

DUE TO SOME quirk of the seems that the major portion of the monies come from the state property. It appears to me the method isn't 100 percent fair. You think that property taxes are enough.

However unless we want a tax source of revenue, I'm quite sure I wouldn't want to turn the whole fish over to the Feds. (They're too much say-so, now!)

A good many of our property are of retirement age, and are in some sort of homestead, they're managed for over their lives. Even though they may have put their name, this doesn't mean they're affluent. Not only NOT have kids in school, their so low that their present tax real effort to meet.

Pioneer's Net Income Reaches High

Pioneer Natural Gas Company's consolidated net income reached an all time high in 1973 resulting in earnings per share, based on average shares outstanding, also exceeding any previous year in company history according to an announcement made by K. Bert (Tex) Watson, company president.

Consolidated net income for Pioneer Natural Gas Company and subsidiaries amounted to $12,397,028. This compares with net income of $9,852,272 for the year 1972.

Earnings per share were $1.67 on the average shares outstanding compared to $1.32 in 1972.

In making the announcement, Watson said, "Although consolidated earnings were higher in 1973, income from transmission and distribution operations was less than in 1972, with the fourth quarter being adversely affected because of heating weather being below average." Watson went on to say that improvements from sales of heavy equipment and extracted production increased income. The company's record earnings were reported in a report filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on March 7, 1974. The report is available to the public upon request. Pioneer Natural Gas Company's stockholders meeting will be held in Amarillo, Texas, and the annual report will be mailed to stockholders.

Clayton Attends National Conference

State Representative Bill Clayton of Springlake, has just returned from an executive committee meeting of the National Legislative Conference Feb. 9, in Sarasota, Fla.

The National Legislative Conference is a nationwide organization representing all 7,600 State Legislators and their staffs across the country.

As a member of the NLC executive committee, Rep. Clayton heard reports of the NLC's standing committees including the Intergovernmental Relations Committee, which is the chief federal-state policy-making body, and which Clayton formerly served as chairman; the Committee on Legislative Ethics and Campaign Financing; the Committee on Legislative Improvement and Modernization; the Committee on Science and Technology; the Program Review Task Force and the Reappointment Committee.

The executive committee also considered the proposed program for the NLC's 1974 annual meeting to be held Aug. 12-16 in Albuquerque, N.M.

Other agenda items included reports of a proposed merger of the three national legislative organizations (the NLC, the National Conference of State Legislative Leaders and the National Society of State Legislators); reports of pending NLC grant proposals; report on the future operations study of the National Governors' Conference, like NLC an affiliate of the Council of State Governments.

A report on current NLC activities in the federal-state area and in state services was also included on the agenda. Rep. Clayton reporting from his Austin office, noted that he felt that the varied reports given in the three-day session all expressed optimism for the future effectiveness of state legislatures. Clayton stated that many of the proposals made and innovations discussed would allow legislators and legislative employees to more effectively communicate with the people of the state, especially on issues where public opinion

Maternity Homes Reveal Effect Of Legal Abortion

What effect has legalized abortion had on one of the nation's oldest and largest maternity homes and adoption agencies?

CONSUMER ALERT

Legislature agreed, so odometer rollbacks were added to the specific list of trade practices outlawed under the 1973 act.

It is easy to understand that there may be circumstances in which an individual trading in an old car dealer selling one may not be able to swear to the actual mileage—because the car has had so many owners, or because of mechanical difficulties.

So the state law (and the federal act) include the language, "with the intent to defraud."

Deceptions, frauds and misrepresentations are the blocks we want to remove from the consumers' path to an equal footing in the marketplace.

If you are shopping for a used car, and have reason to doubt the seller's statement on mileage, there are several clues you can follow to ascertain the true figure: For one thing, examine the vehicle itself. Do the brake pads, emergency brakes or tires indicate more wear than the mileage would appear to warrant?

Almost any reputable seller also will encourage you—or at least, permit you—to drive the car to your own mechanic for an even closer check.

You are always free, of course, to talk to the previous owner. If he can't be identified easily, you can write the motor vehicle registration division of the Texas Highway Department—enclosing $1 and the vehicle identification number, and get a history of the title.

If a consumer suspects that mileage has been misrepresented, he can file a complaint under federal law, which prescribes penalties for violation of three times actual damages, a maximum of $1,500.

Or, a private suit could be filed under the new Texas law, and if the court determined that there was a violation, the judge could award three times actual damages.

JOKES

Have you heard about the fellow who sent out 40,000 Valentine cards doused in French perfume and, signed "Guess Who?" He's a divorce lawyer.

Once there was this couple who was by a window of a basement bistro when they noticed a teen-ager walking by. "Heavens!" said the wife, "Is that a boy or a girl?"

"A boy," said the husband, "He's wearing high heels."

IT IS VERY easy to recognize a fellow who has a hangover. He is always tapping remorse code on the bar!!

Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White will be keynote speaker at the annual meeting of Water, Inc. to be held Saturday, Feb. 16 at Lubbock.

The Texas Department of Agriculture, which White directs, has several ongoing programs aimed at expanding the economy of Texas as well as improving life for its

Texas Farm Bureau Asks Farm Exports Continue

The Texas Farm Bureau is urging President Nixon and Congress to resist any efforts to place restrictions on farm exports.

A resolution adopted by the TFB Board of Directors this week and sent to the President and members of the Texas delegation in Congress states that "agricultural exports are absolutely essential to farmers and ranchers and are vitally important to the nation as a whole."

The resolution said that "embargoes placed on any commodities are invitations to economic disaster."

Text of the resolution continues: "Loss of our farm export market would force us to cut production by one-fifth. Thousands of rural people would flock to cities. Workers in industries related to agriculture would flood the labor market looking for jobs. "On the other hand, if we can maintain our strong export market all segments of the economy will reap the benefits.

"Full production, which is dependent upon exports, enables us to cut per unit costs. This is reflected in lower prices in supermarkets and clothing stores. The consumer is the ultimate and major beneficiary. Full production in agriculture assures jobs in businesses related to agriculture. Nearly 40 percent of our work force is involved directly or indirectly in agriculture.

"Farm exports are a principal source of this Nation's foreign exchange, and have helped give us a favorable balance of trade for the first time since 1970. "Because of the importance of our overseas markets, the Texas Farm Bureau strongly urges that the President and Congress resist any effort to restrict farm exports."
