45 Years Old - - And New Twice Every Week

VOLUME 45

LITTLEFIELD, LAMB COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1969

NUMBER 44

County Soon Will Be Hog Raising Country

Lamb County's first major hog producing project is in its early construction period, it was disclosed Monday in the final portion of the annual Soil Fertility Day program.

The project, being built at Bainer Switch, some six miles East of Littlefield, is owned by former resident, Dr. Clifford E. Payne, now a Lubbock physician.

Finished feeders from the Payne pig parlor will be sold in Plainview to go into the Jimmy Dean SPF Pure Pork Sausage.

Making the announcement was former Anton and Littlefield resident Troy Pritchard, who is a partner in the pending sausage business with brothers Jimmy and Don Dean.

Dr. Payne's enterprise, when completed in the near future, will be stocked by 80 head of breeder sows from the Pritchard production herd. They are crosses of Hampshire, Duroc and Yorkshire.

Starting out slowly, Pritchard said the operation would progress on a paying basis until it reaches a 600-sow capacity, with production of approximately 12,000 slaughter pigs annually.

The benefit, Pritchard told the audience, would be the consumption of a re-produced grain sorghum...about 6 million pounds annually, according to his feeding formula.

Pritchard, who attended school in Anton and later in Littlefield before his father, V. E., moved the family to Plainview where he entered the ginning business, said there were three other operations of the type now under construction. They are at Lockney, between Kress and Tullia, and at Hereford.

These major production farms, along with Pritchard's 400-sow operation at Edmonson, will be the prime producers for the 175,000-head annual needs of the sausage business.

And Pritchard is quick to point out that that figure is based on the plant's eight-hour-day capacity. He says he's more than willing to keep the lights on for 16 hours a day if the hogs are available year-round.

The Plainview farmer-businessman estimated Dr. Payne will require only five to seven men to handle the 600-sow operation, once it gets into full production. He basis this on his own farm's requirements of three men to handle 400 sows for their production.

Cost of installation at the Pritchard farm, including stock, buildings and everything, were set at $600 per sow.

He said the initial figure was high, but paid over the long haul.

Pritchard discouraged small operations as a financially successful operation, stating if initial operation were too expensive for an individual, he should recruit participation from neighbors or city investors.

He was not sold on small, 25-head portable farrowing units, either. He was apparently referring to research on portable farrowing units announced earlier this month by Dr. Tom Longnecker, of the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway.

He often, during his talk, compared the benefits of permanent, airconditioned and heated buildings with good sanitation drainage built in, with the eight-foot by 24-foot pens to be used by the Foundation in its study.

The speaker even said the 200 to 300 operation in portable pens wouldn't make enough profit to make the farmer appreciate the hog business. "It takes volume," he said.

"With an investment it takes to make a good profit, you can't just turn it over to anybody. It requires your time, or the time of a well-trained specialist who is dedicated and will stay on the job," he said.

All the hog production operations he told about will be the SPF, or "disease free" hogs. This is for healthfulness of the animals that they

Water Plan Called 'Best Thing For Us'

"This new water plan is the best thing that ever happened to us," Littlefield farmer, John D. Smith, told farmers and ranchers attending the annual Soil Fertility program Monday in the Willy Room of the REA building.

"We were real disappointed with the first proposal," Smith told the group. "The engineers said the South Plains was just too big and needed so much water, they just left us out."

Smith told about the many meetings, with High Plains farmers voicing their disappointment. After many hearings, he said, the water

"The new water plan for Texas brings two-thirds of the planned water group reconsidered and drew up a plan including this area.

"This is the best thing that ever happened."

"With Bull Lake designated as one of the major storage points, Lamb County is in the bull's eye center," Smith said.

Smith believes that importing water from out of state is the only answer for the water needs years from now. California has done this, he said, and engineers say there is no problem getting the water from the Mississippi river up here.

"The problem," Smith said, "is the financing and getting the people in Mississippi to let us have their water."

In an earlier speech Dr. Lavon Ray, associate professor at Texas A&M University, Dr. Ray told the assembly to be careful in choosing cotton varieties. "Remember," Dr. Ray admonished, "in the long run, the longer staple cotton will pay off."

Don Johnson from Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, said the decline in long staple and in difficulty in selling the longer length of cotton was due to the mills switching to blends.

Johnson said the U. S. needed a carry-over of around 7 million bales per year for a continuous and stable supply of cotton. He said the present trend was "transporting cotton acres rather than cotton bales."

A free barbecue for those attending rounded out the annual program.

MR. AND MRS. WILEY Roberts have gone from half - soling shoes to portrait painting. Their "changing horses in mid-stream" is a major change in action. Their new vocation took them out of the shoe repair, labor class, into a white collar profession where they have respect and admiration of professionals on the national level.

IN A 'FLASH' The Roberis Changed From Shoes To Shots

WILAH RODGERS

Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Roberts have gone from shoe repairing to portrait photography.

"We call it switching horses in mid-stream," Mrs. Alma Roberts says.

Wiley Roberts worked in shoe repairing as a boy. As a young man in the 30's, he started to work for A. Lilly on Phelps Ave. in Littlefield. He worked for Lilly seven years and then bought the shoe repair shop in 1945. The Roberts ran their shoe shop until two years ago when Wiley sold the shoe repairing business to his brother.

Now after almost 30 years of shoe repairing, the Roberts are making a change for themselves in the field of photography.

Last year Mrs. Roberts had an oil painting portrait hung at the annual show. The portrait was among 200 entered and one of only two paintings in Texas to earn this distinction.

The Roberts have won many prizes at contests in Lubbock and other cities on the South Plains. "We are real proud of these, too," Mrs. Roberts said, "but these aren't like painting and winning in the national contests."

Wiley Roberts is the lighting expert and does most of the camera work and Mrs. Roberts is the color artist doing oil painting.

"To win on a national level, a portrait has to have 'impact,'" Roberts said. Every portrait is graded on its own merits. The judges look for originality in lighting, such as using only one light. Roberts said the picture has to have something unusual, that it must be something harder to do.

"Just beauty doesn't mean you'll win one," Mrs. Roberts said.

"You can tell what I like," Roberts said, motioning to the portrait-covered wall. "I've done one dog and all the portraits girls."

"In portraits you can control your lighting-go low key."

"It isn't easy to go from an amateur photographer to a professional," Roberts said.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberts have spent a great deal of their time studying since they decided to go professional. Both of the Roberts have been going to school off and on for the past six years.

They have both attended classes at South Plains College. Roberts attended the national school in Winona, Ind., in 1966.

Mrs. Roberts has been a student in a number of short courses and various educational workshops. She took six hours of regular art at SPC. Mrs. Roberts does still paintings in oil, too. "The brush strokes are the same as in painting portraits," she said. Both are working on becoming a master craftsman. It takes 25 merits. These are gained by becoming a specialist in one or more fields and then giving programs in this specialty to other associations.

This year the Roberts are going into photography deeper by buying their own color lab and processing and printing their own color film.

The Roberts Studio is American democracy in action. "Every year for the past three or four years," Roberts said, "we've doubled what we gained the year before. We made a 35 per

BURY THIS HATCHET in a cherry tree instead of me, seems to be the sentiments of Mark Coffman. Really the hatchet is only a paper one, and the ax job was unintentional. (We cannot tell a lie.) This is a reminder to readers that some federal offices which are normally closed on Saturday will be closed Friday in observance of George Washington's birthday. Cindy Thrash points to George Washington's whose birthday everyone can celebrate by shopping in Littlefield's big Washington's Birthday Sale this Saturday. ## Sudan Bank Depository

The First National Bank of Sudan will be Lamb County's depository for 1969-70, it was decided Monday by the commissioners' court.

Approval of the Sudan bank came after full discussion by commissioners of two bids. Hubert Dykes, precinct 4 commissioner, moved to name the Sudan bank and his motion was seconded by T. H. Lewis, Precinct 2 commissioner.

County Judge G. T. Sides joined Dykes and Lewis in voting for the motion. Precinct 3 Commissioner Jack Peel abstained and Precinct 1 Commissioner A. J. Spain was absent. The court order said the Sudan bank will be the county depository for Lamb County time deposits and all county monies for the next two years.

Prior to Monday's meeting, the court had named both the First National of Littlefield and the First National of Sudan as depositories, when a decision between the two bids could not be reached.

The Littlefield bank was the county

Judge, School 'Cook' Honored By Olton

Lamb County Judge Truitt Sides and Mrs. Ray (Margie) Slatten were honored as Outstanding Man and Woman of Olton for 1968 at the 14th Annual Olton Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Banquet Tuesday night.

Margaret Burrus, recipient of the 1966 Outstanding Woman award, presented a plaque to Mrs. Slatten, and Percy Parsons, 1966 Outstanding Man, introduced and presented a plaque to the Judge Sides.

Mrs. Slatten has supervised the Olton school lunch room 26 years and was lauded for her contributions to the Olton community, her church, family, friends and co-workers.

She went to Olton in 1921, graduated from Olton High School in 1924 and was married that same year. Her husband died in August, 1967.

Judge Sides was cited for service with Boy Scouts, Lions Club, Little League baseball, city council, Chamber of Commerce, school board, FFA, Methodist Church, Red Cross, Masons, P.T.A. and as a former teacher and implement dealer.

To begin the program approximately 250 Oltonites and out-of-town guests were entertained by the "Musical Phrases," who were accompanied by Fred Stockdale, band director at Olton High School on the drums and Tony George on the guitar.

Earl Spruiell, executive vice-president of the 1969 board, introduced the guests, and Basil Sherman introduced the speaker of the evening, Bill McAlister, president of television and radio at Lubbock and Austin.

McAlister told his audience that people could add 10 years to their lives by "installing a good sense of humor" as a part of daily living habits.

He said, "Every day we need to adopt the philosophy, 'This is the first day of the rest of my life,' and live that day accordingly. He continued, "If we are not making mistakes, we are not making worthwhile accomplishments."

He concluded his address with the thought that "we have a habit of being too critical of others. We need to develop a compassion for people, learn to be complimentary, and learn to laugh with God."

HONORED TUESDAY NIGHT at the Annual Olton Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Banquet were Mrs. Margie Slatten, left, and Lamb County Judge Truitt Sides, center, as the outstanding woman and man of the year. Max Malone, right, was presented a plaque in recognition of his service of president for 1968, and he will serve again in the same capacity for 1969.

Government Offices Closed

Some of Littlefield's federal offices will be closed Friday and Saturday, in observance of George Washington's birthday. The Post Office will be open Friday and will make regular delivery, but will be closed Saturday and no deliveries will be made.

Salyer-Medlin Wedding Vows Read

BULA—The Methodist Church of Bula was the scene for the double ring ceremony uniting Miss Sheryl Medlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Medlin Jr. of Bula and Glen Salyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Salyer of Bula, Saturday afternoon, Feb. 15.

Rev. Harvey Whittenburg, pastor, officiated.

Miss Beverley Nix, organist, presented nuptial music and accompanied Miss Patricia Grusendorf, soloist.

The couple exchanged vows beneath an archway of greenery and white glads and blue pom poms, flanked on both sides by swiveled candelabra, with blue burning tapers and huge blue bows.

Tapers were lighted by Miss Barbara Clawson and Miss Linda McCamish.

Pews were marked with blue satin streamers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal-length gown of crepe and lace, fashioned along A-lines with a lace bodice, long petal-point sleeves and high neckline with a chapel train that fell from her waist line. A floral cluster edged in pearls held her shoulder length veil of illusion.

Her cascade bouquet of white carnations, showered with streamers tied in love knots, were carried atop a white Bible.

She wore the traditional "something old," "new," "borrowed," "blue," and a penny in each shoe "1950", year of birth for both bride and groom.

Maid of honor was Miss Shelia Medlin, sister of bride. Other bridal attendants were Miss Elaine Tiller and Mrs. Pat Risinger of Bula. They wore identical dresses in light blue crepe, street length, low neck line, bell sleeves and empire waist, with matching shoes. They carried a long stem single white carnation, tied with blue ribbons. Serving as best man was Tom Newton of Colton Station. Groomsman was Larry Bowers of Levelland, brother-in-law of the groom and Merle Todd of Kermit also brother-in-law of groom.

Serving as ushers were Rodney Claunch and Mr. Richardson of Bula. Mrs. Medlin, mother of the bride, wore a two-piece double knit, yellow suit with black accessories and white carnation corsage. Mr. Salyer, mother of the groom, wore light blue two-piece suit with complementing hat, and black accessories and white corsage.

A reception followed the ceremony. Refreshments of white punch and bridal cake were served from a table laden with white net over white, centered with a blue flower arrangement. Appointments of crystal and silver, nuts and mints, completed the serving table.

Assisting in the service were Mrs. Dennis Medlin of Lubbock, sister-in-law of the bride and Mrs. Larry Bowers of Levelland, sister of the groom.

Mrs. Merle Todd of Kermit registered the guests. Both Mr. and Mrs. Salyer are attending Levelland Junior College where they plan to continue their studies.

THE CAST for the all school play waits with much impatience as the day for the first performance draws near. This year's school play will have a different twist as it will be a courtroom drama given in the Lamb County Courthouse. The courtroom drama "The Night of January 16th" will be presented this Friday and Saturday night, beginning at 7:30 each night.

THE SKAT

OFFICIAL LHS NEWSPAPER

All-School Play Presented This Weekend

WAYLON HUTTO, Allen Hobratchk, Charlotte Hinds, and Joanna Rogers were selected to represent LHS in the television contest show called "Live and Learn".

ATHLETICS IN ACTION

Last Tuesday the Wildcat basketball season for 1968-69 was ended with a 70-49 loss to Slaton. Leading the Wildcats in scoring were Roy Burk with 13 and Charlie Holt with 11. The game marked the end of high school basketball for five Wildcats—Joe Ross, Roy Burk, James Griffin, Wally Sanders, and Norman Kisner. The B-team also lost to Slaton, 41-24. Leading the locals in scoring were L. D. Holt and Albert Sanchez, both of whom had 8 points. The practice track meet scheduled for last Friday was called off because of rain. Saturday the Wildcat track team will enter the Brownfield invitational meet.

Tuesday night the annual Quarterback Club Football Banquet was held in the high school cafeteria. John Niland of the Dallas Cowboys was the featured speaker of the banquet. Niland spoke in place of Dan Reeves, also of the Cowboys, who could not return from Viet Nam in time for the banquet. Reeves is in Viet Nam visiting U. S. troops with other professional athletes on a moral-boosting tour.

THE BEAT GOES ON **

By DANNY GOWEN

Do you promise to tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, so help you God.

You have probably heard these words if you've ever seen a courtroom drama. A person is obligated to tell the truth as a governmental requirement, but it is a fact that the government is not obligated to tell the people the truth.

Even though every action the government takes affects our lives, we are seldom told the truth.

The President said last Wednesday that the federal government has the power to do anything, but does this mean they also have the power to lie and give false information to the public?

The government probably has a good reason for misleading the public.

During the Cuban missile crisis the government was afraid to tell the public that Soviet missiles lay only 70 miles off our coast, for fear of causing a panic.

But the question still remains, should a handful of men in Washington, D. C., carry the full burden of responsibility in matters of earth shaking importance?

Tonight, listen to a newscast and see if you hear the words "no comment" used. Although newsmen try their best to get the news as fast and accurately as they can, it can be said that the newsmen's motto is "Don't get it right, get it written."

I believe that on most things the government does tell the public the truth, but what about those things which affect our lives the most.

Are these things told to us?

Drivers Ed Students Enter 'Live And Live'

Tuesday, Feb. 11, Mrs. Marti Toulmin, LHS Drivers Education instructor, took four Littlefield High School students to the "Live and Learn" contest at Lubbock. The four students, all sophomores, were Allen Hobratchk, Wayland Hutto, Charlotte Hinds, and Joanna Roger, alternate.

The "Live and Learn" contest was held at 2 p.m. at KLBK studio.

The Littlefield students competed against students from Lubbock, Monterrey and lost 75 to 60.

Officer Fred D. Marshall of Lubbock asked contestants different questions about safety in driving.

When Mrs. Marti Toulmin was asked if she was happy with the results, she stated, "Yes, they started off very well. They were ahead 40-0 and finally lost after missing two questions which went over to the Monterrey side.

"I feel we were very well represented, because these kids put a lot of hard work into learning the material. We worked every day from 7:30 to 9:30 for about two weeks and they knew the material. I guess we just had a little bad luck."

THIS WEEK'S Guess Who is a senior. He stands about 5'9" and has brown hair and brown eyes.

4th Six Weeks Passes Quickly

Next week will be six weeks' test week and students around LHS will begin cracking the books.

This grade is a very important one to the seniors, who must maintain a C average this semester to become exempt from their final tests.

As this six weeks comes to an end, we see that the past six weeks have been filled with assemblies, the crowning of the basketball queen, the quarterback banquet, and other activities that have made the term a very pleasant one.

The test schedule will be as it has always been for six weeks' tests.

THOUGHTS

Money has little value to its possessor unless it also has value to others.

Reckless youth makes rueful age.

Receiving a new truth is adding a new sense.

FTA Girls Attend Convention

FTA members Janice Oldham, Janie Hyatt, Dona Seay, and Jean Keeling, and their sponsor, Mrs. Lynton Smith, will be traveling to Austin, Feb. 20 for the FTA State Convention.

In order to receive an opportunity to attend the state convention, one must work toward the development of receiving as many points as is possibly can. Donna Seay received a total of 88 3/4 points, Janice Oldham had 47 1/2, Janie Hyatt had 44 points, and Jean Keeling had 30 3/4 points.

While in Austin, the group plans to do some sightseeing. They will go through the state capitol building and plan to visit some friends at the University.

State delegates will elect new state officers and plan next year's work. During the convention, meetings of the districts will be held.

These four girls and Mrs. Smith will leave Thursday from Lubbock on a chartered bus. They will return from Austin about 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Feb. 23. Students and sponsors from Muleshoe, Olton, and Sudan will share the same bus with representatives from Littlefield.

QUINN MCKINNON and Garth Grizzle were two of the FFA members, who went to a livestock show in San Antonio last week. The FFA boys enjoyed the trip and were benefited by the things they learned about breeding and care of livestock.

STUDENT VOICINGS

Question: Do you favor the present draft system or proposed volunteer plan? Why?

L. D. Holt (Jr.)—The present system is unfair. The inductee isn't placed where he could benefit the most from the training he receives while in the armed forces. Also his pay is so small that he can't start any type of savings for future plans, and the pay is really small when you think of how often the risk their lives. The present volunteer system will give more pay and benefits. A person won't have the uncertainty before he is drafted like the present system. Employers sometimes avoid hiring the draftable men because of the expense in training men and having them taken away.

Robert Rendon (Sr.)—I favor the proposed volunteer plan because I believe a young man should serve if he wishes to do so under his own judgement.

Gary Houk (Sr.)—I favor the proposed volunteer plan because the way it is now, a person who graduates from high school must enter college or off he goes to the University of Vietnam.

Jerry Nipp (Sr.)—I favor the present draft system because if you do not have a present draft system or proposed volunteer plan, you will not have an army to fight for freedom, freedom of speech.

Dona Seay (Sr.)—I favor the present draft system because if the volunteer plan went into effect there would not be enough men in the armed forces to have a strong defense program.

Kay Harm (Sr.)—I do not believe that the present draft system is needed. Since 80 percent of the nation's military forces are made up of volunteers, they can afford to cut down the other 20 percent and still meet the nation's military active requirements.

David Cronister (Sr.)—Draft system. If we didn't have the draft there would not be a large enough army to defend our country.

National Merit Tests Given To Juniors

A National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test was given Tuesday, Dec. 18. The test was given to twelve juniors during the first three periods of the day, by Mrs. Jo Ann Jordan, LHS counselor, in the high school auditorium.

This test could have been taken by anyone who wished to be considered for a National Merit Scholarship. It is also a good practice test for college entrance examinations. The test provides a measure of educational development in four areas—English usage, mathematics usage, social studies, natural sciences, reading comprehension, and word usage.

Taking a NMSQT is a prerequisite for a secondary school student to be considered for the Merit Scholarships, Achievement Scholarships, and other awards given by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Students who score high on the NMSQT and who fulfill other requirements will continue in the competition for scholarships to be used at the college of their choice.

Results of this test will come within a period of six weeks to two months.

The students who took this test paid a fee of $1.25.

PROBLEMS?!

...by any chance had a little problem? A big problem? Maybe even a problem?

...been a small problem... scratch an itch on your... holding a large stack of... getting choked on a small piece... during a prayer at church, or... taking a foot in the mouth, (which... of us seem to be very good at)... to happen at the oddest...

...occur at many places, many... They are the unexpected to be...

...sometimes is learning how... with friends. If a person is rude... of talking about his friends... backs, then he's going to run... problems galore. But on the other... he's nice and complimentary his... will wonder 'what does he want'... does he think he is? So the one... that problem is just not to... friends!!!

...if you have a small problem such... long Algebra problem with 20... the right and left of the decimal... not have the faintest idea of how... to let your smart neighbor work it... copy it!

...sometimes come when you... walking down the hall and you... you're just going to die if you don't... drink of water. You're not very far... but the water fountain is at the... end of the hall and it's time for the... there's when you have problems!

...people can have a problem of... problems. On the other hand... would have a problem having... Anyway... Problems can be a... EEN!

"Which would you desire most in a boyfriend? Brains, wealth, or appearance?"

"Appearance," snapped Cathy Giles, "and the sooner the better."

Let a smile be your umbrella, but don't get a mouthful of rain!

A couple of days ago, we were asking Coach Trees for the sports news.

He replied, "There's not much happening now really. There will be a track meet March 8 at Plainview, but that's about all between now and then."

He continued, "I've been runnin' 'em though."

We answered, "Yeah, so we've heard. That's all the boys talk about."

Coach, quoting John Paul Jones, said, "Oh, yeah. You just tell 'em we have not YET begun to run!"

Keith Lowery asked us to announce that he has six long-haired kittens to give away. (Good luck, Keith!)

The freshman girls' volleyball team went to Brownfield Monday night. They lost the first two games, and therefore the match.

The girls played again Tuesday afternoon against Shallowater at the junior high gymnasium here.

The games are exciting and everyone is invited and urged to attend!

A sign in front of our school reads, "Please don't run over our students."

Underneath it is another sign that reads, "Wait for a teacher."

You're going to think we're crazy, but we suggest that you start studying for your six weeks tests. They're next week you know.

Due to misunderstanding information, there was a mistake in our column last week. The drivers' ed class started yesterday instead of Monday. STILL we warn you, "Watch out and always drive defensively!"

There is a sign over our water fountain that reads, "Old Faceful."

The student council's money raising project has finally started. It's a bake sale and Martha Brown, a member of the student council, can only say, "Please buy. It's the only money we've got."

And brother they need it! A lot of money has been coming from their own pockets, so please help out!

A list of all the cakes, pies, cookies, etc., can be found in most any store downtown. Your orders will be delivered to your home this Saturday. Thank-you.

Have a good week, and....Remember, keep smiling. It makes everybody wonder what you've been up to.

Lamb County Students Enroll At Texas Tech

Lamb County's 208 students enrolled at Texas Technological College make up one of the largest county delegations on the campus, according to figures released by the university's Office of Institutional Studies.

Statistics on the composition of the student body show that Hockley County, with 218 students and Hale County with 433 are also large contributors.

Forty-eight states, the District of Columbia, the Canal Zone and Puerto Rico sent a total of 1,057 students to Tech for the 1968-69 year, and 132 students came from 36 foreign countries.

India's 20 students make up the largest representation from a single foreign country, and Mexico's 10, the second largest.

Other counties which have large delegations on the Tech campus include Bexar (San Antonio), 480; Dallas, 1,619; El Paso, 232; Ector (Odessa), 371; Harris (Houston), 958; Gray

Spade Homecoming Is Termed Success

SPADE—Homecoming '69, an annual observance was held Friday, Feb. 14, at the Spade High School.

Using a Valentine theme in decorations, members of the senior class began registering guests at 4:30 p.m.

At 5 p.m. parents of the senior class members began serving a barbeque supper. Waymon Barker, vice president of the ex-student association, was in charge of the business meeting which began at 6:30 in the auditorium. H. W. Bradley gave the invocation and Wayne Matthews, president of the ex-students and community residents who were present Gayle McCoy gave the response.

Barker recognized those present from different graduating classes. Ila Sheppard Knight was presented with a gift and recognized as the earliest graduate present. Pearl Cook Wood was presented a gift and recognized as being the ex-student who came the greatest distance to attend homecoming activities.

Mrs. Kerwin Oliver read the minutes of the last meeting and gave the financial report.

New officers were elected: Gayle McCoy, president; Pat Moberly, vice-president; and Johnny Richardson as secretary-treasurer. Gayle McCoy concluded the program with the benediction.

Approximately 450 people went into the Longhorns gym to watch the double-header basketball game between the Spade and Hart teams.

The girls kept their conference record clean with a 64-56 win over the Hart ladies.

The Longhorns, however, found the going a little rougher and bowed in the last few minutes to play to Hart 76-71.

During half-time activities, Miss Carole Stubblefield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stubblefield, was crowned homecoming queen.

She was chosen by the Spade student body and her identity remained a secret until the coronation. She was escorted by her father, Jack Stubblefield, and was presented twelve long-stemmed red roses. She was crowned by the 68 Homecoming Queen, Miss Jackie Nix. Her attendants were Miss Belinda Thompson, escorted by her father, Bill Thompson, and Miss Joella Myers, who was escorted by her father, Bob Myers.

Little Tammie McCoy was flower girl.

Following the basketball games, the Spade teams were hosts to the Hart teams, for a barbeque in the school cafeteria.
