

Yohner, Stueart honored with B.T. Kisner Award

Bill Yohner and Jimmy Stueart, Boy Scout leaders, were presented the Bryson T. Kisner Award Thursday night, Nov. 11, during a special dinner in the Community Center.

The Bryson T. Kisner Award was initiated by the Roaming Coffee Pot Patrol of the George White District, Boy Scouts of America, to preserve the memory of Bryson T. Kisner.

Kisner, known as 'Kis', was the Scoutmaster of Troop No. 641, Littlefield, from 1959 until 1971. Kis graduated from East Texas State Teachers College and was employed with the Soil Conservation Service in Littlefield from 1955 until his death in 1975. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge, Littlefield, a member of the First United Methodist Church, the Littlefield Band Boosters, Littlefield Little League and Littlefield High School Quarterback Club.

As a member of the Boy Scouts of America, he had earned the Scoutmaster's Key, and was a Brotherhood member of the Order of the Arrow.

"Kis was one of those rare individuals who cared for and was interested in his fellow man. He lived the Scout Law, and was ever mindful of the opportunity to help and serve others. He went the extra mile," stated the initiating representative.

The award is made annually to the outstanding Boy Scout Troop, and Cub Scout Pack in the George White District. A unit to be considered for the award must achieve all of its annual goals. It must re-register on time, and have an outstanding program. It must actively participate in both district and council events.

BILL YOHNER and Jimmy Stueart received a special award, the newly-initiated Bryson T. Kisner Award, Thursday night, Nov. 11, during a dinner at the Community Center. The award is a memorial to B. T. Kisner, who devoted many hours to Scouting.

Boy Scout Troop marking property with engravers

Operation Identification is the name given to a program operated through police stations where engravers are available to mark CB radios, television sets, stereos, cameras and other valuables to deter theft of these items.

Operation Identification isn't something new in Littlefield, but it is getting a new emphasis this week. Boy Scout Troop 641 in Littlefield is taking over the Operation Identification program. Scouts in this troop are responsible for leasing the engravers for those who wish to mark their own personal belongings.

If persons can't come get an engraver, the boys will go to homes and mark these items for Littlefield residents. They also have stickers to put on homes and cars which shows that the valuable contents in these places have been marked with identification numbers.

Boy Scouts in charge of the program are George Davis, 100 E. 20th, telephone 385-3482, and Tommy Privitt, 500 E. 17th, telephone number 385-4701. Call them for renting engravers or ask them to come mark your property in your home office or car. There is no charge.

When you mark your property, here's what it does:

1. Marking makes stolen items harder to sell.

2. "Protected" stickers on your windows deters burglars because valuables can be identified.

3. Marking enhances your chances of retrieving stolen property.

4. Marking increases apprehension of criminals.

5. Seeing that your neighbors mark their property and display the sticker show the concern about crime that deters a criminal.

It is suggested you put driver's license numbers on property, preceded by TX to stand for Texas to aid in recovery if property is found out of the state.

For those without driver's license numbers, it is suggested that they use their last name, initials and the zip code of the city.

And once these things have been marked, it is suggested that persons display the decals that says property is marked.

$9,468,000 spent for food locally

For most Lamb County families, incomes were up in the past year and the rise was reflected in the amount of business done by local retail stores.

According to a new market report, consumer outlays for goods and services in the local area compared favorably with expenditures made in the previous year. To a considerable extent, however, inflation contributed to the increase in the dollar volume.

The findings are contained in a study just released by the Standard Rate and Data Service. It shows just how much was spent locally and in other sections of the country for food, cars, clothing, furniture and general merchandise.

In Lamb County, a large part of the outlay was for food. Out of every dollar spent in local retail stores, approximately 28 cents went to supermarkets, bakeries, butcher shops, grocery stores, delicatessens and the like.

Elsewhere in the United States, 21 cents was so-spent and, in the West South Central States, 23 cents.

All in all, the sales volume in stores selling food for home preparation and consumption added up to a grand total of $9,468,000.

This was solely for take-home food. It doesn't include the amount spent in restaurants and in other eating and drinking places.

If the expenditures were to be divided equally among the local population they would average out to $1,565 per household.

Stronger consumer buying was also in evidence in other local stores, the report shows.

Sales of automobiles, trailers, motorcycles, boats and other automotive equipment reached $8,381,000.

Department stores and other stores carrying general merchandise recorded a total of $1,223,000.

Apparel and specialty shops, including those selling hats, dresses, coats, shoes and other

Gas Users Association seeking testimonies

W. G. Green of Olton, president of the Lamb County organization of Plains Irrigation Gas Users Association, is seeking to get all farmers and other interested persons in the county to attend a meeting in Austin Tuesday, Nov. 30, to voice their opinions on the high cost of gas.

On that day, Senator Max Sherman's committee on Natural Resources will hold a hearing in Austin in the Lieutenant Governor's Committee Room in the state capitol, beginning at 10 a.m., to take testimony concerning the natural gas problems faced by irrigation farmers in West Texas.

In a letter addressed to Green by T. C. Measles, president of Plains Irrigation Gas Users Association, Measles states, "It is crucial for us to make an impressive showing at this committee hearing in order to kick off our legislative program before the next legislature actually convenes in January of next year.

Measles continued, "This committee hearing offers us an excellent opportunity to make a showing in Austin and to explain our problems, not only to the committee, but also to other state leaders in Austin and the news media."

Persons interested in presenting testimony at the hearing are asked to contact Green in Olton, 285-2065, or John D. Aikin, Box 1818, Hereford, Tex. 79045.

Aikin will coordinate the testimony of all those persons who wish to speak.

LETTERS To The EDITOR

Dear Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to acquaint you with a new lay educational resource on cancer that is becoming operational in Texas.

Called the Cancer Information Service (CIS), the program is sponsored by M. D. Anderson Hospital with cooperative assistance of many agencies in Texas concerned with cancer control. The program is funded by the National Cancer Institute (NCI), which established similar projects for the other 17 Comprehensive Cancer Centers designated by Congress.

The primary tool of the CIS is a toll-free telephone line to provide Texans with current, factual information on cancer reviewed by medical sources. Educational material distributed by the program unites resources of voluntary agencies (including the American Cancer Society), professional societies, health organizations and many government agencies involved with health education. The program enjoys the support of the Texas Medical Association and Texas Cancer Coordinating Commission.

The CIS also is co-sponsor with the American Cancer Society of a newspaper column, "Cancer Answerline," which is distributed to most daily and weekly papers in Texas. We hope your community paper utilizes the column.

You will probably be seeing newspaper articles about CIS in your area soon, since current plans call for the program to be operational throughout the state by early 1977. From time to time you may get requests for patient services through your Area Office that originated from the CIS in Houston. The toll-free number for Texas is 1-800-392-2040 and 792-3245 for the greater Houston area.

This new service supplements and complements other efforts in the state to assure Texans easy access to information on cancer.

CLIPS & TIPS
By JOELLA LOVVORN

IN THE United States, the story of Christmas is told in many different ways.

Immigrants from each country brought a different set of ethnic holiday traditions which, when put into the "melting pot," produced a fantastic brew! It's fun to sample the flavor of "Old Country" customs in the "New World." Renewed interest in preserving ethnic heritages makes it possible.

Colonial Christmas customs observed at Williamsburg are reminiscent of early English Christmases. Townspeople make great ceremony of bringing in the Yule log on Christmas Eve, and then toasting from the Wassail Bowl.

Then, on the day after Christmas, to honor the season, cannon volleys fill the air. Originally wassailing was an important English agricultural ritual — a salute to the apple orchards to insure a good crop next season.

The Lucia Fest, or Festival of Light, is a Swedish celebration on Dec. 13, ushering in the Yuletide. It was once performed at dawn in households when the oldest daughter portrayed Saint Lucia. She went to the bedside of each member of the family and presented coffee and saffron buns. Now, many Swedish churches, such as Old Swedes' Church in Philadelphia, perform the ritual for the public. Young members of the church parade in a beautiful candle-lit ceremony singing Swedish carols.

The Moravians in Bethlehem, Penn., focus much of their attention around the "putz," an elaborate Nativity scene. And at "love feasts" in church, they partake of simple food and drink as a symbol of breaking bread together — the highest form of love between individuals.

In Tarpon Springs, Fla. on Jan. 6, Greek-Americans celebrate the Epiphany with ancient water rites. A Greek Orthodox priest blesses the waters by throwing in a cross.

Las Posadas, a religious reenactment of Joseph and Mary's search for an inn, is an important part of Mexican-American Christmas tradition. And Mexican children look forward to bursting the pinata and being showered with goodies and gifts.

Even our native Americans, the Eskimos and Indians, preserve their heritage with dancing, feasting and game-playing. Many of their rites can be traced back to pre-Christian ancestors who celebrated the winter solstice — the time of year when the sun is the greatest distance away from the equator.

All over the country the cry is heard to preserve the past! Why not delve into some ethnic traditions and share them with your friends?

Don't forget that food is an important part of tradition, too. Experiment with different flavors like this oriental dish.

Chicken breasts have never tasted so good!

Sauce them with canned chicken giblet gravy sparked with ginger and soy sauce.

Elegant, simple, yet tasty. What more could you want for a holiday dish? Even those most devoted to "Old World" flavor will approve of this.

In recent months there has been a further increase in business activity generally. Consumers, less worried about the economy, are spending more and saving less.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

A fellow was talking the other day about his way of living. He was telling — actually bragging — about his experiences with "quite a gal". The young lady has no sense of morals; never mentions the word or gives it a thought. They live with each other. They cuddle and cuddle every day. She is wild about him and he is crazy about her. In hardly no time at all, she discovered how she could twist him around her little finger. He likes it, and that is putting it mildly.

There is nothing strange about this at all. His experiences, his way of living, is a natural way of living. It happens regularly and everywhere. And — thank goodness it does... Do you doubt or dispute this? Don't. Ask any Daddy to tell you about his 2 or 3 year old baby daughter. He will tell you how true it is, just as this man did... [Incidentally, the twist of this little story shows how easy it is at times to form a quick, mistaken impression, a wrong conclusion — before ALL the facts are known.]

THE ABUNDANT LIFE
No Complaints

THERE ARE MANY difficult people, and the chronic complainer is perhaps the most difficult one of all. This person may be and usually is more capable and better informed than most people.

Often, he is more energetic, more aggressive, and more highly motivated; and well above the average achiever.

This is not intended to leave the impression that all persons with the life qualities just listed are complainers, because they are not. Nevertheless, the people with these traits, who are complainers, are very difficult people.

SOME COMPLAINERS can be overlooked or ignored, because they are not the kind of persons who have to be taken seriously. They are not very capable, not well-informed, they are inclined to be lazy, are not really interested in life, and just seem to be drifting along.

These people will have many complaints about most everything, and usually spend the greater part of their time and energy complaining.

Other people are busy working, serving and doing; and carrying their burdens with courage and good cheer. We are thankful for these people, because life would be almost impossible if it were not for them.

IT IS ADMITTED that there are deficiencies, shortcomings, mistakes, failures, unpleasantness, problems, difficulties, and many other aspects of the human scene that are something less than desirable. We hasten to say, however, that complaining does not help.

We may be able to make some improvements and corrections, but not by our complaints. In fact,

Today's farmer feeds 50

At the time of the American Revolution, 19 out of every 20 Americans lived on a farm. Today it's just the opposite, only 1 out of every 20 live on a farm.

But farming is still one of the most important jobs. If it weren't for farmers what would we eat?

How can it be that so few farmers feed all the rest of us? It's because farming has changed so much.

In America's early days most farmers could produce only enough food and fiber to feed and clothe themselves and their families.

High blood pressure, a killer

Identifying and controlling high blood pressure is one of the best ways to reduce your risk of stroke and heart attack.

This is a message hammered home repeatedly by the Lamb County Heart Association.

"High blood pressure," says David Jones, president, of the Lamb County Heart Association, "is a silent killer." There are usually no symptoms. You can have it and still feel healthy. It is a mysterious killer because, in 90 percent of the cases, doctors don't know the cause. It can easily be detected by an inexpensive and painless medical examination. And once diagnosed, it can usually be controlled."

For those who ignore high blood pressure, the results can be devastating. Consider these statistics:

*High blood pressure is a major factor in 500,000 of the nearly 900,000 deaths in this country each year from stroke and heart attack.

*Of the approximately 23 million Americans who have high blood pressure, at least half don't know it. And half of those who do are not adequately controlled.

*In 1976 alone, heart and blood vessel diseases will kill more than a million Americans — 52 per cent of deaths from all causes in the U.S.

Fortunately, you can improve complaining will make our life worse, and cause the people around us to be unhappy.

We can actually drive ourselves crazy with our complaining. Everything goes from good to bad, when people are complaining.

THE COMPLAINER is the worst of all critics, because most certainly not going to do anything to make improvement. Such a person is probably a disconcerting of all people who devote themselves to the practice of discouraging people.

We know that constructive criticism is justified, now and then there is a distinct difference between the person who complains and the person who complains with an end in view.

"IMPATIENT PEOPLE" are their miseries and hoes comforts; sorrows are theirs come without invitation, and complaining minds send a wave of their troubles home.

"COMPLAINING is a sure way to take away from the happiness, and strength and to us; and, at the same time, the burdens we carry.

"NO COMPLAINTS" is a motto for people who wish the best of living.

This does not require any be naive, or unrealistic, or honest; but does help fashion a disposition of mind which people to appreciate blessings, cope with problems and difficulties.

your chances of living a healthier life," assures Dr. Jones. "But only your doctor can determine your individual risk. Only a physician can tell you how to reduce it. If you have high blood pressure, only a doctor can prescribe a diet and medical program designed to protect you. But only you can make it successful by following the physician's advice."

Your part is just as important as your physician's. You can control your part by:

1. Asking your doctor to check your pressure, or go to the nearest clinic or health center for a pressure check. You should do this even if you feel well, because blood pressure may not have noticeable symptoms.

2. If you have high blood pressure, follow your doctor's instructions about diet — including weight loss if you are overweight and changes in general habits, such as rest and recreation. These measures will reduce your risk of stroke, heart attack, and heart failure.

3. If your physician prescribes medications, keep taking them whether you feel well or not.

4. Cooperate with your physician. As a team, you and the doctor can almost always get your blood pressure under control.

Huber-Walker wedding solemnized Friday

Timothy Rene' Huber and Timothy Glenn Walker were united in marriage in a double-ring ceremony Friday night in the First Church of the Nazarene in Littlefield.

Lee Roy Baker, minister of the First Church of the Nazarene, officiated at the ceremony.

The couple stood beneath an archway decorated with greenery, carnations and burgandy streamers. Flanking the archway were two large bouquets and a memory candle ring in the center of the archway. White roses with greenery surrounded the baptistry, and lighted candles were in the window of the church.

The bride and groom are Mr. Leonard Huber of Littlefield and Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Walker, also of Littlefield.

Mr. Huber presented his bride in marriage. She wore a formal-length gown of silk organza with Alecon lace and a high collar. The gown was edged with iridescent sequins. The gown, with a high waist, featured high lace with accents on a V in the bodice and a ruffle over the back. The long lace sleeves were edged in a ruffle over the back. Tiny satin buttons formed a bow at the waistline. The skirt length skirt was accented with ruffles down the back and encircling the entire edge of skirt with wide ruffles of Organza and Alecon scalloped lace incrustated with iridescent sequins.

The Cathedral-length veil of English white silk illusion extended from a Coif applied with beaded Alecon lace with tiers of illusion forming a shoulder length veil.

She carried an all-white bouquet of feathered carnations, with iridescent sequins and long satin streamers with lift-out corsage.

For "something blue" she wore the traditional blue garter; her "something old" was an engagement ring which belonged to her maternal grandmother and pennies minted in the year of birth of the couple; for "something borrowed" she wore diamond earrings belonging to the bride's sister; and "something new" was her wedding gown.

Mrs. Denny Walker of Lubbock, sister-in-law of the groom, and Mrs. Alan Stubblefield of Denver City registered the wedding guests and distributed scrolls.

Mrs. Gary Jephcott, sister of the bride, was her matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Max Huber, sister-in-law of the bride, Littlefield, Miss Sharon Gowdy, cousin of the bride, Lubbock, and Miss Candy Stokes, Snyder.

They wore formal-length gowns of old rose icing crepe. The bodice had a V-neck accented with a wide ruffle that was edged in pink velvet lace and tiny burgundy velvet ribbon. The gowns featured a high Crescent waistline and long-belled sleeves. Each attendant carried a lighted candle.

Denny Walker of Lubbock, brother of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were Gene Williams, Lubbock, Steve Parker, Houston, and Ben McKinnon, Littlefield.

Andra Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Robinson of Los Alamos, N.M. and cousin of the bride, served as flower girl.

Jeromy Gowdy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Gowdy of Lubbock, and cousin of the bride was ring bearer.

Candlelighters were Karin and Kendra Whitten of Sudan, cousins of the bride.

Ushers were Max Huber, brother of the bride, Gary Jephcott, brother-in-law of the bride, and Ben McKinnon.

Miss Carla Sanders played traditional wedding music on the piano and accompanied Miss Linda Sanderson as she sang "Let It Be Me", and "If".

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Huber wore a formal-length gown of pink crepe, accented with venice lace on the collar and cuffs of the long sleeves. Completing the outfit was an old rose suede cloth jacket with fitted belt at the waist.

Mrs. Walker wore a formal-length gown of champagne-colored knit crepe with chiffon sleeves and a fitted waist with accents of brown and beige.

Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was served in the Willie Room of the R.E.A. Building. The bride's table was covered with white lace cloth, with appointments of crystal and silver. The white three-tiered cake with decorations of bells and angels was made by Mrs. Carl Davis. Antique crystal candle holders were centered on the table. Mrs. Denny Walker and Donna Hoggatt, cousin of the bride, served from the bride's table.

The groom's table was covered with ecru lace cloth with candle centerpiece and silver coffee service. Serving the German chocolate cake and coffee were Misses Cheryl Carter and Cheryl West, both of Littlefield. Jill Robinson and Kay Lynn Whitten, cousins of the bride, distributed rice bags.

Other members of the house-party were Mmes. Ira Jephcott, Levelland, Carl Davis, Dale Graves and Phillip Smith, all of Littlefield.

For their wedding trip to Mesquite, N.M. the bride wore a pink vested satin jabardine pant suit with a rose satin blouse, with beige accessories and a corsage lifted from the bridal bouquet.

They will reside at 314B E. 16th in Littlefield.

The bride is a 1974 graduate of Littlefield High School, attended WTSU at Canyon two years, and is presently attending Texas Tech.

The groom is a 1973 graduate of Littlefield High School, was in the U.S. Air Force two years, attended South Plains College, and is presently employed at Reese Air Force Base in Lubbock.

Bassett-Sides wedding solemnized Saturday

Miss Denise Lyn Bassett and Raymond Ross Sides exchanged double-ring wedding vows in a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening, Nov. 20, in the Crescent Park Church of Christ of Littlefield.

Phil Harguess officiated for the reading of the vows, as the couple stood at the altar which was centered with a large arrangement of pink and burgandy gladioli and flanked with spiral candelabras decorated with greenery.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Orville Bassett of Littlefield and Mr. and Mrs. Al R. Sides of Limon, Colo.

Presented in marriage by her father the bride wore a formal-length gown of white organza fashioned with a high neckline edged with scalloped Venise lace extended down each side of the bodice and onto the skirt and around the chapel length train. A large Dior bow of organza accented the back waistline. The headpiece was a Juliet cap of matching lace holding a chapel length veil of illusion.

For "something old" she wore a penny minted in the year of the bride and groom's birthdate in her shoe; "something new" was her wedding gown; "something borrowed" was a drop necklace from the bride's sister and "something blue", the traditional garter.

Mrs. Katie Boyd was matron of honor. Dana Bassett, sister of the bride, and Brenda Gattis all of Littlefield were maids of honor. They were attired in floor length gowns of American Beauty Rose peau de soie. The moulded empire bodices of their gowns were fashioned with a V neckline and long fitted sleeves edged with self ruffle at the wrists. The empire waistline and neckline were marked by a shade of pink Venise lace. They wore American Beauty Rose picture hats trimmed in Azalea velvet ribbon bands and a Dior bow in the back.

Richard Metcalf of Limon was best man. Groomsmen were Kenan Lichte of Littlefield and Tim Sides of Limon, brother of the groom.

Guests were seated by Brian Sharp of Borger, cousin of the bride, and Kenan Lichte of Littlefield. Candles were lighted by Courtney and Christopher Sharp of Borger, cousins of the bride.

Miss Mary Sides of Limon, sister of the groom, registered guests in the church foyer at a table covered with a hand embroidered cloth centered with a flower arrangement in the bride's chosen colors of pink and burgandy.

The mother of the bride wore a floor-length burgandy chiffon dress. Her corsage was a pink orchid.

Mrs. Sides, mother of the groom, wore a floor-length dress of navy blue knit. She wore a pink orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was served in the church parlor. The bride's table was laid with a formal-length, full-tiered white eyelet embroidered cloth, accented with a floral arrangement and appointments of silver and crystal. Serving the wedding cake and punch were Miss Doreen Sides and Miss Caren Sides of Limon, sisters of the groom. Guest received pink rice roses from Miss Lisa Sharp of Borger, cousin of the bride, during the reception.

For their wedding trip to Ruidoso, the bride wore away a one-piece burgandy jumpsuit with matching jacket and an orchid corsage lifted from her bouquet.

They are residing in Littlefield. Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Wagner of Amherst hosted the rehearsal dinner for about 40 guests. The banquet table was decorated in white, with white wedding bells and a white floral arrangement.

Mrs. Les Lichte, Mrs. Billy Smith, and Mrs. Bobby Brunson complimented Denise Bassett with a bridesmaid luncheon at K-Bob's Steak House Saturday, Nov. 20, at noon.

The table was decorated with Dresden Cherub circles of baby's breath, gladioli and daisies, carrying out Denise's colors.

The guests included the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Orville Bassett; the groom's mother, Mrs. Al Sides; Mrs. Ruby Bassett, Miss Dana Bassett, Miss Carmen Sides, and Miss Mary Sides, sisters of the groom; Mrs. Marvin Wagner; Mrs. Meredith Boyd, Mrs. Richard Sharp; and Miss Lisa Sharp.

The hostesses presented the bride with an electric hand mixer.

Each member present used a name atomizer to symbolize a variety of a beautiful Christian woman. She named the quality "grace" and read a Scripture to describe it.

Circle chairman, Dorothy Abbott, presided for the business session.

Debra Nixon read the prayer and Savannah Bradley read prayer for the missionaries who had birthdays that day.

Refreshments of lemon icebox and coffee were provided by the Bennett to members, Mmes. Abbott, Randall Crawford, J. Brantley, Maurice Brantley, Davis, John Faust, Lee, Glenn Willson, Bill Brad-James Holland and Charles

The company will immediately begin construction of a new cottonseed processing plant on the site recently acquired from the Cent-Tex Cotton Oil Mill at Thorndale.

Elms will assume his newly-assigned duties as a district manager for the division directing the activities of the facilities at Thorndale, Waxahachie, Temple and Richmond.

Thomas H. Wolfe, president of the Oilseed Processing Division of Anderson, Clayton and Co., said the new plant will include a solvent extraction unit, a miscella refinery and related material preparation equipment.

The plant will incorporate the most advanced technology available to the industry, and it will have a capacity to process 300 tons of cottonseed per day.

Elms served the Littlefield Mill 13 years as manager, five years as Lubbock Mills manager, and the past four years as manager of the Vicksburg, Miss. Mill and Elevators.

Both he and Mrs. Elms are natives of Littlefield and have been spending the Thanksgiving holidays with their parents, Mrs. M. A. Elms Sr. and Mrs. Dutch Higgins.

Harold Dean Carson speaks for Olton Club

SPRINGLAKE— Harold Dean Carson discussed "The Brotherhood of Man" at the meeting of Olton Study Club Monday evening.

Last summer, Carson and a friend, Malcolm Hughes of Amarillo, were staff members of Child Evangelism Fellowship with headquarters in Langenbruck, Switzerland.

Carson returned in August to resume his work as piano teacher in Olton, Springlake and Amarillo. He is also music director of Paramount Street Church, Amarillo.

Hughes plans to be back in the states by Christmas.

Carson's work was to create music for children's songs and to help print song books for use in teaching children who otherwise might never learn of Christ. Hughes, an artist, has illustrated film strips which are used in teaching the children.

Three songs that Carson has written were used in a week long conference of CEF where the Texans met a number of workers throughout the world.

Carson and his companion took several European tours. In the Bavarian Alps they viewed the Neuschwanstein Castle where the inside walls are painted with scenes from operas composed by Wagner.

They viewed Innsbruck and Salzburg, Austria and went to Florence, Italy, where they were in the famous Uffizi Art Gallery and saw Michelangelo's "David" in its gallery.

They heard a concert in an old church and were in Open Market with leather goods and many other items for sale.

In Rome they saw St. Peter's Cathedral, the Forum and the Coliseum.

They went to Paris, France where they viewed Eiffel Tower and the nearby fountain. After touring Mont Marte, the art section of Paris, they went to Bologne and on to Folkstone, England by way of sea-link. Among points of interest in London were the planetarium and Madame Tussaud's Wax Museum.

In Edinburgh, Scotland, they attended World Congress of Fundamentalists where they heard outstanding speakers including Ian Parsley of Belfast and Dr. Bob Jones, president of Bob Jones University in South Carolina.

They went by ferry to Kilarney, Cork, and Waterford, the last locality being famed for the manufacturing of crystal. They were on a ferry 20 hours before reaching Le Harve, France.

All this traveling was completed before June 30 when the printing of the hymn books began.

Carson and Hughes visited Huemoz L'Auri Fellowship where Dr. and Mrs. Frances Schaefer live and work.

Carson feels that by teaching foreign children about Christ much progress will be made in establishing the "Brotherhood of Man."

Glynis Hall to perform in SPC three-act comedy

The South Plains College drama department will perform a three-act, light comedy, "Tear Along the Dotted Line" by Jules Tasco, both locally and for the American Theater Festival next month at Texas Tech University.

Performances in Levelland are scheduled at 8 p.m. Nov. 29-30 in the SPC Auditorium.

Admission will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for SPC students with IDs. An American Theater Festival performance will be at 1:15 p.m. Dec. 1 in Tech's University Theater. Admission is $1.50 a person. The play is under direction of Helen Roberts, SPC assistant professor of speech.

The play concerns the trials and tribulations of two young girls who move into an apartment of their own, and the ensuing complications that arise when one of their mothers secretly moves next door to keep an overprotective eye on the pair.

Cast members include Tammy Jackson of Levelland, who plays Judy, one of the main characters; Joan Tupin of Seagraves as Stephanie, her roommate; Teresa Donnell of Levelland portraying Mrs. Newcome, the snooty mother; Glynis Hall of Littlefield as Mrs. Oldac, the apartment owner; Norman Tucker of Meadow as Rudolph, her son; Charles McCain of Bovina, who plays Kurt; and Sharon Adkisson of O'Brien who plays a pregnant neighbor, Karen Matthews.

Stage crew members include Oscar De Lua of Nixon, stage manager; Tom Harlow of Van Horn, lighting technician; and Tucker and Adkisson.

Schedule for the remaining performances in the American Theater Festival is as follows: 8:15 p.m. Dec. 1, Odessa College, "Children's Theater"; 1:15 p.m.

Dec. 2, Wayland Baptist College, "Waiting for Godot"; 8:15 p.m. Dec. 2, East Texas State University, "Ladies-In-Waiting".

Also scheduled will be Texas Tech's production of "The Royal Hunt of the Sun" at 8:15 p.m. Dec. 3, Angelo State University's performance of "Seascape" at 1:15 p.m. Dec. 4, and North Texas State University's production of "Panhandle" at 8:15 p.m. Dec. 4.

The SPC cast will attend a variety of workshops during the festival, including topics on acting and filming for television, makeup costume and improvisation. Workshops will be conducted by Dr. Robert Ekert of Southern Methodist University and Dr. Alice French, a Lubbock television personality. The festival is sponsored by the John F. Kennedy Memorial Center and Amoco Oil Co.

Six plays from 240 plays performed at area ATF festivals will be selected for performance at a regional Theater Festival in Fort Worth in February, said Mrs. Roberts.

She will select a group to attend the Readers Theater Festival Feb. 1 at West Texas State University.

Halsell family depicted in two-volume history book

Vinita, Okla., and Amherst or Carrizo Springs, Tex., are only small dots on the most detailed maps, but they are landmarks in the saga of one family which made a legendary impression on America's ranching history.

The story is chronicled in "A Ranching Saga: The Lives of William Electious Halsell and Ewing Halsell," by William Curry Holden, professor emeritus of history at Texas Tech University. The two-volume book is profusely illustrated with the historically accurate pen and ink drawings of Jose Cisneros.

Holden's book picks up the story of the Halsell family in 1854 when they first came to Texas and travels with the ranchmen through more than 100 years, until 1965, when W. E. Halsell's son, Ewing, died in San Antonio.

Interwoven are glimpses of other well known figures, rancher Dan Waggoner, who married W. E.'s sister Syclly Ann, and Will Rogers, Ewing's lifelong friend.

And there are glimpses of less well known but typical ranch workers—cooks, cowboys, managers and, from the Oklahoma years, the Cherokee Indian leaders who helped shape the destiny of their nation's dealing with cattle-men.

Most of all, through the lives of father and son the book deals with a history of ranching in the early West. Starting with the arrival in Texas of a family short on everything but imagination and determination, the history recorded is both a general overview of ranching development and a poignant, personal journal of a family's sojourn.

Unusual is the great difference in the two principal characters. W. E. Halsell was imposing physically and psychologically. Ewing Halsell was the opposite, and, unlike his father, his great attention to detail and management sustained and enlarged what the elder man had built of open land and a moderate collection of range heifers.

W. E. began as a ranch hand for his brother-in-law, Waggoner, but soon moved to Vinita in Indian Territory in Oklahoma. He built his Bird Creek Ranch just north of Tulsa. As he prospered, he spread out into Kansas and West Texas and established the town of Amherst, which served his Spring Lake ranch. It was Ewing who established the Big Creek Ranch in Oklahoma and, late in life, purchased and developed the South Texas spread at Farias between Carrizo Springs and Eagle Pass.

The Halsells loved the land, understood it and adjusted to its bounty and to its limitations. They understood the cattle business from production to marketing. They kept faith during the lean years, not as a matter of undue courage but as a matter of course, and the land and their industry rewarded them.

Holden has drawn his material from extensive records of the Halsell Collection, oral reminiscences, newspaper accounts, legal documents, correspondence and by personally traveling the trails the Halsells followed.

The author wrote "The Espuela Land and Cattle Company," which received the Amon G. Carter Award in 1970 for the best book on southwestern history. That award was made by the Texas Institute of Letters. He also was accorded the Award of Merit from the American Association for State and Social History for the same book.

His other books include "Alkali Trails," "Rollie Burns," "The Spur Ranch," "Studies of the Yaqui Indians of Sonora, Mexico,"

"Hill of the Rooster" which is his only novel, "Alton Hutson: Reminiscences of a South Plains Youth," and "The Flamboyant Judge," written with a co-author, J. Evetts Haley.

Cisneros of El Paso, has had his illustrations published in journals and magazines as well as in more than 40 books, including "Riders of the Border: A Selection of Thirty Drawings," "Journey of Fray Marcos de Niza" by Cleve Hallenback, "The Spanish Heritage of the Southwest" by Francis Fugate, "Morelos of Mexico" by William Timmons, and "Spanish Land Grants" Bowden.

Clayton proves he can run House

By A-J AUSTIN BUREAU

AUSTIN—When Bill Clayton took over the speaker's gavel at the opening of the 64th Legislature, there was a lot of head-shaking and muttering from political observers and politicians.

Sure, they said, he's a nice guy, but so conservative, maybe even reactionary, and he doesn't have any concern with urban problems.

When Clayton takes over the gavel at the opening of the 65th Legislature, there'll be some more head-shaking and muttering—but less than two years ago.

Clayton, when he was elected, promised a fair shake to all parties—and most members feel he kept that promise.

Clayton upset some members with his firing of four senior House employees—but while a few members attacked the action, Clayton contends many others have indicated to him that they agree with the decision, and the protests by a handful of members are hardly enough to pose any serious problem to Clayton.

Clayton's personal motto seems to be the three "E's"—efficiency, effectiveness and economy.

"He wants efficiency and he wants it to be with the smallest number of people possible," one Clayton watcher sums up.

And Clayton argued, when he fired the four, that the reasons were that they had opposed his reorganization plan, aimed at making the House more efficient, and that there were too many people in the House Clerk's Office anyway.

Whatever else the incident shows, it points up two things: that Clayton is sure of his position, and that members of the House are also.

There have been occasional rumors of possible challengers to Clayton—Rep. Buddy Temple of Diboll being mentioned most frequently—but Temple now seems to feel 1979 might be a better time than 1977.

Then again, it might not—since Clayton says he has "over 80" commitments for 1979, and he would need only 76 votes to win.

Clayton encountered less criticism than had been expected in the last session—and gave the appearance of trying to let all members "have a run" with their legislation.

In fact, the main danger Clayton seemed to present to members was from his vigorous gavel-wielding—or maybe it was inferior glue—that resulted in gavel heads whirling off into the audience from time to time.

He did startle the House by leaving the podium once against provisions in a bill—an unusual case (anyway) in one—and if those of the grumbled that it was members to vote Speaker, it also was handed in his opposition.

Clayton to speak at Farm Bureau meeting

Speakers at the 43rd annual meeting of the Texas Farm Bureau in Fort Worth Dec. 5-8 include Texas House Speaker Bill Clayton of Springlake, Texas Farm Bureau President Carrol Chaloupka of Dalhart, and Shirley Cothran (Mrs. Richard Barret) of Denton, Miss America of 1975.

Clayton and Chaloupka will speak at the opening general session, Monday morning, Dec. 6, at the Tarrant County Convention Center Theater. Miss Cothran will speak at a ladies' luncheon at the Sheraton Hotel.

Rep. Clayton, who has farming, ranching and banking interests in Lamb County, was first elected to the Texas House in 1962. He was named Speaker in 1975 and is seeking re-election in 1977 without opposition.

More than a 1,100 voting delegates from 210 organized county Farm Bureaus will adopt policies to guide the state next year. They will also make recommendations for policies that will be forwarded to the annual meeting of the Farm Bureau Federation Jan. 9-11 in Honolulu. The last order of the convention will be directors and the president immediately following at the TFB Board of Directors meet to select a vice secretary-treasurer.

GI home loan interest goes into decrease

The third decrease in the GI home loan interest rate ceiling this year was announced today by Administrator of Veterans Affairs Richard L. Roudebush.

The next maximum rate, effective Oct. 18, is 8 percent, a reduction from 8.5 set on March 30. The rate had been decreased from 9 percent to 8.75 on Jan. 5.

For a veteran buying a home with a 30-year, $30,000 GI loan, the .5 percent decrease lowers the monthly payment by about $10.50. It could result in a savings of almost $3,800 over the life of a 30-year loan, Roudebush said. The rate change does not affect existing loans. Once a loan is made, the interest rate remains the same for the life of the loan.

The 8 percent rate was agreed upon jointly with the Department of Housing and Urban Development. An increased supply of mortgage money is the principal reason for the lower interest rate, Roudebush said.

The VA guarantees loans made by private lenders to eligible veterans, unmarried surviving spouses and active-duty military people. During fiscal year VA guaranteed almost in home loans, a record volume.

More than 9.5 million have obtained over $12 billion to purchase homes. VA loan guaranty program inception in 1944.

COOL LARGE COOKIES

It's best to cool large cookies for one to two minutes before removing from the cookie sheet, unless the recipe directions tell you otherwise. That's because just-baked cookies are very tender and need the time to become just a bit firm before they're removed with a wide metal spatula.

Buster Feagley maps out farming strategy for '77

By NILAH RODGERS

E. O. "Buster" Feagley doesn't like to put all his eggs in one basket, but King Cotton is going into his largest basket in 1977.

Over 700 of his 1,200 acres were planted in cotton in 1976, and his cotton percentage will be higher this coming year.

"Cotton has always been king," Feagley said. "As a rule, year after year we make more money on cotton than any other crop. It's a cinch we can't produce grain sorghum and corn for what it sold for this fall."

The way Feagley figures it, cotton requires less water, less fertilization, less spraying, and doesn't cost as much to harvest. To make the same amount of net profit on grain sorghum as he does cotton, he says he would have to receive $5 to $5.25 a hundred for his grain.

"There is no way a farmer can come out selling that sorghum for $3.35 to $3.50 a hundred and stay in business," Feagley said. This year Feagley figured it cost him around $3.90 a hundred to produce his sorghum and about $4.20 a hundred to grow corn. Selling these products on the open market for less than production costs is ridiculous.

It is going to take a sharp pencil and some clever figuring to come out with a profit this coming year, and it is about this time of year when Feagley sits down and maps out his strategy.

For this Lamb County producer who farms east, southwest, and northeast of Littlefield, this includes deciding how much of what to plant, how much fertilizer and herbicides to apply, how to trim production costs, and how to market.

For Feagley this is going to include planting more cotton, applying less herbicides, especially Treflan, until planting time to allow for more flexibility when he does plant and possibly cutting back on irrigation.

"I'm going to cut all the corners I've already cut," he said. "This will probably mean cutting back on my yield, but it will cut costs in the long run, hopefully meaning more net profit," Feagley added.

Figuring that cotton sells for 60 cents a pound and you can produce three-fourth of a bale per acre, Feagley says that cotton would gross $225. He grosses more on corn, but says production costs are more than enough to offset his.

"Net profit is practically nil when you can grow 8,000 pounds of corn but sell it for $4 a hundred and still have to take production and harvesting costs out," he said. He has his own cotton strippers, but hires his sorghum and corn harvested, and he lists this as another reason for growing more cotton.

Feagley is convinced there will be plenty of farmers who plant more cotton in 1977. Some have indicated they plan to plant all their acreage in cotton; and this will probably mean lower prices next year. So Feagley plans to plant a little sorghum, but he plans to wait until planting time to decide how much.

Meantime, he is going to hold his 1976 feed crop until summer before selling any grain. "I figure I can keep that grain crop in the elevator and even pay storage for less than I can grow another one like it," he said.

"Everything is going to be

higher than it was this past year, with the possible exception of fertilizer," he predicted.

Feagley is sold on cotton as his major crop for a number of reasons besides conviction that it makes the most net profit. He likes the fact that he can come back on the same ground with sunflowers in the event he is hailed out or adverse weather demands a second crop. This past year he had 235 additional acres he planned to plant in cotton but he planted them in sun flowers when he didn't get a needed rain.

"There is going to be a greater demand for cotton next year," Feagley asserted. "The market depends on exports. I don't believe the foreign and nation-wide production in 1976 was as much as predicted."

Too, he thinks the world-wide recession that rode on the waves of the energy crisis year before last has reached its ebb tide. "People everywhere are aware that cotton is more comfortable to wear," he added.

In rapid succession he cited two more reasons he is promoting more cotton. "We can go a step further with our raw materials with our cotton seed processed through the oil mill in Lubbock," he said. "Another reason I'm high on cotton, I've got an optimistic eye on the denim mill in Littlefield. I like for my cotton to be marketed through the pool."

Feagley is on the Plains Cooperative oil mill board's executive committee, and is president of Littlefield Farmers Co-op Gin and Elevator. In addition he is the county representative on the Grain Sorghum Producers Association. At one time he served as chairman of the Soybean Producers Board.

He is lucky to have the land and water which allows him to grow cotton, corn, sorghum, alfalfa, soybeans or sunflowers. "I'd prefer to diversify 50-50 with cotton and sorghum or corn," he said. "But I can't get as much net income out of grain as production costs go up."

With yields like a bale and a half cotton per acre, 8,176 pounds of dry corn, 7,620 pounds of grain sorghum and 30 to 32 bushels of beans per acre, he knows what he is talking about when he rattles off production costs, fertilizer compositions and rates, and irrigation costs and statistics.

Selling through the American Cotton Growers marketing pool solves his cotton marketing problems. The first year cotton went through the pool, he averaged two cents a pound more than he would have if he'd sold the cotton at the time he probably would have marketed it.

In 1976, the 3,000 growers who put all their cotton production of 300,000 to 350,000 bales in the marketing pool got the 1976 loan price plus 13 cents a pound advance at that time. Additional payments above that price will be made over a year's period as the cotton is merchandized. These additional payments will depend on the spread between the loan price and what the pool sells the cotton for.

From 65,000 to 68,000 bales out of this pool will be sold to the ACG denim mill. This could mean as much as an additional 50 cents a pound for the cotton that goes through the mill. But only about one-fifth of the farmers' production in the pool will go through the denim mill.

"It is pretty hard to have to take a 43-cent advance for cotton that would bring 70 cents if you sold it to a cotton buyer," Feagley said.

"But I have no doubt that when the fiscal year for ACG ends Sept. 30 that I'll have more money for that cotton than if I sold it in November.

"All years we won't be getting 70 cents for cotton. When you take an advance on it and put it in the pool, this amounts to an average price for cotton where the other way you're trying to hit the high but may be hitting the low.

"The pool isn't designed to hit the peak price. Even the experts can't do that. In the long run, it is like holding part of your crop until after the first of the year before selling because the marketing is done over a longer period of time.

"In time I think there will be other member gins that will build other denim mills similar to this one," Feagley noted.

Feagley's cotton production started out at a 780-pound average, but it is down to 576 pounds due to several years of damaging hail, early freezes and other adverse factors beyond his control.

So with spiraling production costs and lower yields, he is experienced at trimming production costs.

Some of the sound practices he will incorporate this coming year include using a high seeding rate of 28 or 29 pounds acid delinted seed per acre when he plants that cotton the last of April or early May, and using 3 3/4 pounds of Temik to cut down on early insect problems.

He likes sprinkler irrigation over row irrigation for cotton so he can control the amount of water he puts on. He likes 4 1/2 inches for the pre-plant and not over 2 1/2 inches in the summer in one and sometimes two applications.

An overlay application of Cotteran or Caprol controls some problem morning glory spots.

When it comes to fertilizer, he is a stickler for phosphate in a balanced program. He likes 40-50-25 or 40-40-10 applied before he beds up. He depends on soil analysis to determine plant nutrients.

"It takes much more nitrogen and possibly more phosphate to make good yields on corn and grain sorghums," Feagley said.

"If you're short on one and long on another, it will still hurt your production," he emphasized. "The phosphate makes a healthier cotton plant and helps set forms to make more lint and seed. On milo it makes the grain heads heavier and gives you more pounds per acre."

Feagley has been a Lamb County resident since 1927. Mary Feagley has lived here since 1942. They married in 1945 after Feagley's return from WWII. They lived in San Francisco, Calif., until Feagley was discharged from the Navy. Then they returned to Lamb County and started farming. They have two daughters, four granddaughters, Jerry and husband Kenneth Bishop, daughters, Tracy and Tammy at Wolforth, Donna and husband C. A. Parker Jr. and daughter Lori Shea and Paige Levelland.

Their children and grandchildren are their delight and they are always ready to baby sit.

Mary's hobbies are cooking, reading and yard work. She belongs to the Oklahoma Ave. Demonstration Club and is a pending secretary for her school class of the First Baptist Church.

Lady Wildcats thump Abernathy for 4th win

The Littlefield Wildcat basketball collected a pair of wins over the Abernathy Antelopes. The lady Wildcats thumped Abernathy 67-45 while the Wildcat boys won their first game of the season 87-75.

Littlefield's girls were down at the end of the first period of play 14-12 but then blistered the Antelopes by scoring 24 points in the second period and holding Abernathy to 7 points.

Leading at the half 36-21 the Cats continued to rip the nets to outscore the Lopets in both the third and fourth period of play.

The female Cats had their greatest output in the final period of play by scoring 25 points and holding Abernathy to 12. The win lifts their season record to 4-0.

Monica Phillips burned the nets for 24 points to lead all scorers. Pennie Sexton ripped the nets for 20 points. Others scoring for Littlefield were Rhonda Hollingshead with 10, Wanda Williams with 9, and Carol Sexton with 4.

Top scorer for Abernathy was Jan Phillips with 13.

Wildcat boys even record with 87-75 win

The Littlefield Wildcat boys team evened their record at 1-1 by winning 87-75 over Abernathy.

Littlefield immediately mounted up a fifteen point lead, 29-14, after the first period of play.

The Wildcats outscored Abernathy in the second period of play by three points 23-20 to take a 52-34 halftime lead.

Abernathy came fighting back in the third and fourth periods of play as they outscored the Cats in both the third period 19-18, and the fourth period 22-15.

The Antelopes narrowed the gap to a five point Wildcat lead with 3:59 remaining in the game. But a technical foul called against an Abernathy player proved to be costly as Rudy Ayala sank the technical shot and made one of the free throws.

Littlefield then got the ball on the side and converted it into a basket to preserve the victory.

Richard Rodgers was the hot-hand for the Wildcats as he netted 15 points. Others Cats in double figures and scoring were Kevin Gardner with 13, Thomas Twitty, 11; Narva Simington, 11; Rudy Ayala, 10; and Ralph Mendez, 10.

Layne McKinnon added 8, David Jones 7, and Keith McCain 2.
