PARADE TODAY AT 5

Earth Rodeo Opens

A big down-to-Earth parade today at 5 p.m. marks the opening of the 3-day 27th annual Earth Amateur Rodeo. Following the "Agriculture and Water" themed parade, barbecue and all the winnings will be served at the S-E FFA Low Barn. The barbecue is free to anyone who has a ticket to the Thursday night performance. General admission is $75 for adults and $1 for children. Crowning of the 1971 Earth Rodeo Queen will highlight the first night's performance. Halliday Rodeo Company of Clovis, N.M., is furnishing the stock. Events include roping, bareback riding, girls' barrel racing, bull riding, team roping and saddle horse riding. Again this year, each performance will feature a pony express race. An added attraction is a wild mare race. Cowboys and cowgirls begin their performances tonight. Friday and Saturday nights at 9 p.m. Trophy buckles will be awarded to first place winners in each event. At the conclusion of the rodeo, a $350 keys saddle will be given away by the 17th Roping Club. Rodeo Queen contestants include Jennifer Templeton, JoAnn Coker, Pat Davinger, Sheila Lewis, Gay Ellis.

USDA Changes Loan Regulations

The USDA, on June 23, announced amendments to Commodity Credit Corporation loan regulations on cotton, grain and similarly handled commodities which will permit producers to enter into contracts to sell these commodities without loss of eligibility for loans. The amendments provide that a producer shall be eligible for loans if he enters into a contract to sell, or gives an option to sell, his commodity if, under the contract or option, he retains control, risk of loss and title to the commodity. Loan regulations previously provided that commodities which producers agreed to sell were ineligible for loans even though the producer still retained title, risk of loss, and control. This restriction has tended to hold down marketings and has limited the producer's freedom to agree to sell his commodity at the best price obtainable, USDA officials explained.

The manner in which loan collateral is released to the buyer remains unchanged under the new regulations. In the case of grains and similarly handled commodities, loan collateral will be released only upon the written request of the producer and written authorization by the county office of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service at the time of the release. In the case of cotton, a producer who gives written release of his warehouse receipts to a buyer or other persons to whom he transfers his stocks must present the release to the ASCS county office within 30 days. The county office as in the past, will not release CCC's security interest in the loan collateral until the loan has been repaid.

BAND DIRECTOR RESIGNS POST

John McGee, Littlefield High School band director, has submitted his resignation to Superintendent Paul I. Jones. McGee has been offered a position as junior high band director of AAA Pecos schools. Superintendent Jones said action would be taken on the resignation at the regularly scheduled board meeting Monday night unless out-of-town trustees get back and a special meeting is called sooner. McGee came here a year ago from West Texas State, where he completed work toward a master's degree. Under his direction the Wildcat Band copped a UIL Sweepstakes trophy last year.

JIM JONES shows off this six-day-old beard that he has started growing for Festivities Days. Many beard growers are getting ready for the big day when several of them will win prizes for their beards and none of them started growing their beards before July 1.

Firemen Slate Girlstown Fete

Littlefield Volunteer Firemen will build a fire under 2,400 pounds of beef Saturday night for a huge barbecue at Girlstown, U.S.A. Sunday afternoon. The barbecue is a portion of the program for the 22nd Anniversary Open House Celebration at the foster home for approximately 87 girls, located nine miles south of Whiteface.

The program begins at 3 p.m. on the lawn of the campus, when "Miss Girlstown U.S.A." will be crowned, and other entertainment will be provided. The barbecue will be served at 4:30, following the pageant. Littlefield firemen have tickets for sale at $1 each, or they may be purchased at the serving line.

18-Year-Olds Get Vote Privilege

Two hundred seven Lamb County youths aged 18, 19 and 20 who registered to vote in federal elections now have the privilege to vote in any and all federal, state, county, city, or other political subdivision elections. Effective July 1, the 26th Amendment to the U. S. Constitution lowered the voting age to 18 years. Persons who turned 18 years of age after the close of the regular 1971 registration period (Jan. 31) may still register for the current voting year, according to Herbert Dunn, tax assessor-collector.

Increase Tops 12 Per Cent

The middle of the year bank call found deposits up a whopping $5,821,763. The almost $6 million increase represents a rise of more than 12 per cent over the same period a year ago. Deposits in the six county banks, the Anton bank and savings at Littlefield Federal Savings and Loan for the quarter ending June 30, 1971, totaled $53,100,932, compared to $47,279,169 for the mid-year total last year. Total loans and discounts at the eight establishments are up almost $2 million. Loans out on the call date this year total $33,643,962 compared to $31,655,225 mid-year of 1970. At Littlefield Federal Savings and Loan, Mary Lois Thaxton reported that savings for the period ending June 30 totaled $13,652,981, up $1,909,034 from last year's savings of $11,743,947. Loans for the first six months of this year are $10,843,558, up $655,828 from last year's $10,187,730. Doyle Patton reported deposits at Littlefield's Security State Bank were up to $12,620,511, an increase of $1,390,600 over the mid-summer call last year when deposits totaled $11,230,011.

Loans and discounts at Security were down $662,411 this year. Loans totaled $5,877,034 at the end of June compared to $6,539,815 last year. Jack Wecker said local loans were up slightly, but that the bank had not entered into loan participation as they did last year when prime interest rates were up, switching to bonds instead.

Deposits and loans are up at the First National Bank of Littlefield. Deposits are up $274,258 from the same period a year ago. James Lee reported deposits of $4,638,371 compared to $4,384,113 in 1970. Loans and discounts were up from $2,860,646 to $2,900,010, an increase of $39,364.

Deposits are up and L&D down at Citizens State Bank at Earth. Deposits for this quarter were $2,936,080 compared to $2,611,937, up $324,143. Loans at the bank were $2,219,633, down $85,094 from L&D of $2,304,729 at mid-year, 1970.

Both deposits and loans and discounts are up at Olton State Bank. Gene Trotter said June 30 deposits were $8,337,356, up $989,964 from the 1970 summer deposits of $7,347,392. Loans for the reporting period totaled $6,738,502, up $1,423,202 from 1970 L&D of $5,315,300.

Neil Duffy at the First National Bank at Amherst showed deposits of $4,262,764, up $474,683 from the second quarter in 1970 when $3,788,081 was on deposit. L&D totaled $1,677,504, up $237,012 from the 1970 figure of $1,440,492.

S. M. Monroe at Citizens State Bank at Anton showed an increase of $193,980 in deposits, with deposits totaling $2,862,644, compared to $2,668,664 last year.

Loans at the Anton bank are up $348,443, with $1,712,856 this year compared to $1,364,413 last year.

Deposits at the Sudan First National Bank were $3,770,125, up $265,101 from '70 deposits of $3,505,024.

Loans totaled $1,674,865, up $32,396 from L&D of $1,642,470 a year ago. Some bankers attributed the increase in deposits to the increase in the number of acres planted to cotton this year. Others attributed the increase to the good crop in 1970.

JIM UPTON, first baseman for the Lions Club, sticks his tongue out at umpire Pat (Mrs. Paul) Yarbrough when she calls a Rotary runner "safe" in the annual civic softball game Saturday night. Money from the civic ball game and proceeds from homemade ice cream went to the Littlefield Baseball Association.

Home Repair Bills Land Two In Jail

Two 30-year-old Houston men were arrested by county authorities this week and charged with felony theft following home repairs involving elderly persons.

Richard Edwards and Mickey Lewellyn Smith were arrested at 12:55 p.m. Tuesday by Lamb County Sheriff E.D. McNeese and Deputy Jerry Collins. Bond has been set at $4,000.

The pair was arrested after the sheriff's department received complaints from elderly persons. Earth and Amherst. The elderly persons had paid exorbitant prices for home repairs they later learned were worth only a few dollars.

In one case, an Earth man paid the pair $2,500 for roof repairs valued at only a few dollars. An Amherst woman was charged $400 for minor roof repairs. Officials recovered $60 in cash and four handmade quilts the woman had paid the men.

None of the $2,500 the Earth man paid had been recovered at press time, but Deputy Collins said the victim's son said one of the men in custody had agreed to sell his pick-up and return the homeowner's money.

Both remained in jail at noon Wednesday.

County authorities jailed seven other persons over the July 4 weekend.

Saturday, two women were arrested and charged with liquor law violation. Benette Lucky, 33, Littlefield, was arrested by county officials and charged with violation of the liquor law. She paid a $147 fine and was released.

Dorothy Thomas James of Littlefield was arrested on a liquor law violation and released on $1,000 bond.

Two persons were charged with simple assault. Ronnie Ward was arrested Saturday and remained in jail at press time Wednesday with his fine set at $200.

Donnie Patterson, 24, was charged with simple assault Monday, and his bond was set at $250.

A 38-year-old man from Muleshoe was arrested for drunk and disturbance Tuesday and his fine was set at $100, and one drunk was arrested and fined $25.

Two juveniles from Panama City, Fla. were picked up by authorities on runaway charges.

17 Complaints On Fireworks Here

July Fourth in Littlefield and Lamb County was relatively quiet, law enforcement-wise.

A few tried to liven things up a little by shooting fireworks. Seventeen fireworks complaints were logged by police dispatchers, but no arrests were made nor charges filed against violators. One person had an eye injured when fireworks exploded, and he was treated for ashes that got in an eye.

Texas Highway Patrolmen didn't investigate a single accident over the long weekend, and Littlefield city police reported only three minor wrecks.

County sheriff's officials jailed two on liquor law violations, two on simple assault charges and one drunk over the holiday. City police jailed three on the Fourth on charges of drunk and disturbance, drunk in public and simple assault and disorderly conduct.

DRAMETIME IS a little boy floating in melted ice cream as Sammy Wilson, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Wilson, demonstrates. Sammy starts off just fine as he takes a big hunk out of his ice cream bar, but the 100-degree-plus heat soon makes it hard for him to maneuver the ice cream. Sammy decides to simply stuff the ice cream in his mouth, but ends up with a mighty dirty face. With an air of disgust, he looks at the photographer as if to say, "Are you sure you know what you're doin'? I tell you, it's melting!" But Sammy wants the ice cream pretty badly, so he devises a new way to eat it--with the stick.

EDITORIALS

Much LOST!

(EDITOR'S NOTE) The following was published in the Clyde Republican Newspaper Thursday, June 24, 1971. Clyde, Cloud County, Kansas, Phil Sherlock, Publisher. It offers much food for thought.)

"A youth was arrested for and convicted of the possession of marijuana. Did he lose anything? All he lost was the right to vote, the right to own a gun, and the right to run for public office."

He lost the opportunity of ever being a licensed doctor, dentist, CPA, engineer, lawyer, architect, realtor, osteopath, physical therapist, private detective, pharmacist, school teacher, barber, funeral director, masseur, or stock broker.

He can never get a job where he has to be bonded or licensed.

He can't work for the city, county, or Federal government.

If any or all this happened to you, would you think you had lost everything?"

THE ABUNDANT LIFE Learn Patience

"LEARN TO BE PATIENT" is instruction we must heed, because the challenges of life cannot be dealt with in the best way without patience.

It is admitted that there are instances when impatience seems to be the better attitude, but we must remember that it just seems to be.

that forbearance, as one arm of patience, is so often mistaken for some sort of weakness.

Wisdom reveals to us that forbearance has many practical uses, and is often the only way to the personal accomplishment we seek and need.

"IN ALL EVILS which admit a remedy, impatience should be avoided, because it wastes that time and attention in complaints which, if properly applied, might remove the cause."—Johnson.

The better life-posture is an intelligent patience.

WE MUST NEVER give up. This applies to the general life experience, and it applies in all well-thought-out and reasonable plans and purposes we adopt.

This is another strong arm of patience. It is wisely formulated steadfastness in the face of opposition, difficulty and adversity.

In the very strongest on-going life, there will be enough obstacles to eventually discourage the persons who never learn to be patient.

PATIENCE IS POSITIVE. If we keep remembering this fact, we will grow to a greater appreciation of it and will exert more effort to develop it as a working, personal characteristic.

"PATIENT ENDURANCE" is perhaps the most concise way to describe this essential life trait.

"Patience is not passive; on the contrary, it is active; it is concentrated strength."

IN BEARING PAIN or trials with calmness, and without complaining; we are being patient. This practical use of patience may appear to be passive, but it is not.

It is not a trait we inherit, or one that can be imposed upon us; but it can be learned. All of us may slip now and then, but patient endurance can become dominant in our life style.

When we can be truly patient in suffering, and in difficulties; we are dealing with these problems in the most positive way. If we are impatient, we just add to the burden and impede our progress.

"LIFE HAS SUCH HARD conditions that every dear and precious gift, every rare virtue, every genial endowment, love, hope, joy, wit, sprightliness, benevolence; must sometimes be put into the crucible to distill the one elixir—PATIENCE."—G. Hamilton.

ANOTHER FACET of patience is the forbearance we are able to manifest under provocation or strain. It is unfortunate if we refuse to be patient, or neglect to develop patience, we keep ourselves at a great disadvantage in every phase of our living; and cause ourselves to be less capable in the total experience of life.

HOMINY GRITS

ALL TOGETHER, NOW. We're entering the era of higher taxation and more regimentation.

OUR FARMERS AREN'T too happy over the situation, either. They're wondering—out loud—how many of these lawmakers are in the brake-manufacturing business. (—Brakes on all these old cotton trailers?) Whee-e-e, doggies!! Confusion, discussion and mayhem!

We're gonna have to put our best foot forward in order to keep from losing our cool!

And, would you please measure the tread on your auto tires before you take them to the State inspection station? No longer will the tire be legal that has the air showing through. It's gotta have tread!

DON'T LET THESE new regulations get you down.

ANYWAY, FOR this program to be a complete success, it's gonna take the full cooperation of the citizenry of this great state.

After all, we've gotta support our needy in the manner of which they wish to become accustomed.

And smile! The taxes you're payin' now may be feedin' you and me, both, in the next coupl'a years!

We've gotta have more funds for our schools. We've gotta have more money for our roads. And, after all, we might just have to raise our legislator's salaries.

After all, I'm about ready to join the other side, in this warfare!

DON'T FRET my friends. If Preston didn't have an idea that he may want to run for public office again, it could have been worse!

EFFICIENCY
Total manhours required in farming have declined from 23 billion in 1930 to 13 billion in 1950 to 7 billion in 1968. Consequently, output per manhour doubled in the two decades between 1930 and 1950; and almost tripled in the 20 years since 1950.

This would also be a good time to start practicin' takin' your keys outta your auto's ignition. You could get in more trouble for makin' it convenient for a thief to take your car than the thief would be in, if he's caught.

THE PHILOSOPHER New Chemical

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm tackles a new problem this week.)

Dear editor:

According to an article I read yesterday while resting my brain from all the secret documents the newspapers have been filled with lately, scientists have been working on a new chemical they claim will improve man's memory.

They haven't tried it on people yet, but they say it may be possible to develop a chemical that'll perk up the memory section of the brain and enable a man to remember far more than he now does.

If there ever was a piece of information that ought to have been classified as Top Secret and not to be published for at least a hundred years, that should have been it.

That sort of chemical, if it works, will wreck most governments of the world. What politician could stay in office more than one term if people remembered today what he said six months ago? From the Peloponnesian War to modern times, how many peace candidates have wound up as elected war leaders? Don't ask me because I forgot.

If taxes had been reduced every time a cut has been promised, a man could live mighty cheap just on pleasant memories.

If Congress is smart it'll ban this new memory chemical before it gets out of the test tube. A forgetful electorate is the key to a happy officialdom, and the same goes for most marriages, all human relations and a good many children.

Other people's forgetting is one of the handiest things ever invented to keep a man going.

Those scientists are working on the wrong chemical. What I want is one that'll blot out, not freshen, some of the recollections some of my neighbors have.

You show me a man who can remember everything and I'll show you a man who knows more than he should about you and me.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

OBITUARIES

George P. Carpenter, 91, a former Earth farmer, died Tuesday morning at his home in Muleshoe following a lengthy illness.

Funeral services are scheduled for 3 p.m. Friday in Muleshoe's First United Methodist Church, and burial will be in the Earth Cemetery, with Singleton Funeral Home of Muleshoe in charge of arrangements.

Born Jan. 20, 1880 in Hope, Ark., Carpenter had lived in Muleshoe eight years. He went there from Earth, where he had farmed several years. He was a 32nd degree Mason, and was a member of the Wesley Chapel Methodist Church at Vernon.

Surviving are his wife, Ann; two daughters, Mrs. J. W. Crim and Mrs. Andy Thompson, both of Muleshoe; a sister, Mrs. Lizzie Parker of Durant, Okla.; 10 grandchildren; 30 great-grandchildren and four great-great-grandchildren.

DAISY MAE MARTIN

Tickets Ready For Festivities

Representatives from all organizations throughout the county have been invited to enter the contest in distributing tickets for the prizes to be awarded during Festivities Days.

The tickets are now available in the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce office at City Hall, and may be picked up there.

The top three organizations which handle the most tickets will receive cash prizes.

Items to be given away in a drawing Aug. 28 include a 1971 gold-colored Plymouth Cricket from Garland Motor Company; a blue 1971 Indian motorcycle from the Cycle Shop; and a 1971 18" Sylvania colored portable television set from Ken's TV and Appliance.

Industrial Tour Set Wednesday

Directors of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce and other interested citizens of the city are invited to take an industrial visitation tour Wednesday, July 14.

The tour will begin at 10 a.m. and will leave from Gregg's Upholstery Shop at 601 Hall Avenue.

Several visitations are planned for the future, and the visitations are designed to show appreciation for industry in the community.

Citizens may also gain an understanding of some of the problems the industries face.

PAUL HARVEY Doing Nothing

TWO CONGRESSMEN have returned to report 10 percent to 15 percent of our Vietnam troops are hooked on heroin. That's 30,000 to 45,000 soldiers who will bring home the habit—if they live.

Last year alone, 26 of those flag-draped coffins contained GIs who'd been killed by a needle.

Under methadone treatment are sufficiently stable to be able to hold steady jobs.

BUT TO ALL the other users: Don't give up. Rescue is on the way.

An antidote for heroin did not come a day too soon. Last year in Chicago 277 died mainlining "H." Overdose, reaction, hepatitis contamination. Dead: 184 Philadelphians; 1,154 New Yorkers. And who knows how many others picked up a bullet while stealing to support a habit.

A SURVEY of 81 patients who "H" an average of 14 years each on methadone.

The number holding down doubled.

Their applications for welfare declined.

THERE'S NO OTHER way when it costs $50 to $100 dollars a day.

Already the drug disease is epidemic, has multiplied 10 times in San Francisco. And half of those who never came home from a bad trip were younger than 23 years old; several were not yet 15.

ARRESTS OF ADDICTS and ment are one-tenth what they were on methadone.

Such is the success of this therapy within the past year 10,000 heroin.

Detroit has opened four public sanitariums for methadone.

CHAIRMAN HAROLD HUGHES of the Senate narcotics subcommittee anticipates the hideous prospect of heroin-hooked vets using vicious military skills they learned in Vietnam to upkeep their habits back here.

But out of Beth Israel Medical Center, Manhattan, comes help for the helpless. The lifesaver is a drug the Nazi used during the Big War as a substitute painkiller.

WASHINGTON D.C.'s Black Development Center—federally allows heroin addicts to write methadone.

At Columbia University, a pilot has unhooked more than 200 New Yorkers.

San Francisco has given $120,000 to the Center for Special Problems—to write methadone.

THE DRUG, methadone, is itself addictive—but there's less pain, less craving and no danger.

And enough to unhook the H-user can cost less than $1 a day.

IT'S AVAILABLE. It's cheap, use it—and nobody knows it.

I asked Dr. Paul Cushman Israel, "Aren't you just getting one drug and onto another? What long-range effects? Might not the users develop a tolerance, fall back on heroin?"

HE SAID, "Let's toss out the drowning man any lifesaver we can get our hands on. We'll have time for deliberation. He has no time."

Just How Good Is Newspaper Advertising?

National Retailer tells ad men newspapers are irreplaceable

The proper handling of a retail advertising account starts with knowing that the "backbone of our advertising effort is still our newspaper advertising," the nation's foremost advertising agency executives were informed this week by William R. Johnson, sales promotion manager, J. C. Penney Company.

Johnson, in an address Thursday (May 13) at the 1971 American Association of Advertising Agencies annual meeting at the Greenbrier in West Virginia, told the agency heads there is no getting around newspapers as the retailer's basic medium for advertising.

"Some advertising people, especially in agencies," he said, "believe this is because we (retailers) are too flexible in terms of media, and are inclined to think too traditionally. Just try to tell this to our store managers who know what it takes to attract customers to the stores."

"Our store managers know that their newspaper ads produce sales dollars. They are perfectly willing, even eager, to use radio and television in carefully selected lines, but don't try to cut back on their newspaper budget. Broadcast is something you do with new money when increased advertising dollars are available to you."

Johnson said the effectiveness of newspaper advertising for a retailer is not hard to understand. "All you have to do," he said, "is notice how your wife reads her paper. She reads it like a shopping news. Sure she reads the news, the editorials, but if she wants to outfit her kids with shoes for school, she looks through the retail ads in the paper to find out who's selling what kind of shoes, at how much ... or how much they've been reduced in price."

"Sometimes she even tears out the ad and carries it into the store. Every Penney store manager has seen this happen hundreds of times. He has yet to see a woman come into the store carrying a television commercial. And he cannot imagine a woman sitting in front of a television set all day waiting for a children's shoe commercial. Can you?"

Johnson said "retail advertising has to work. It has to produce sales. So does national advertising have to work, but the difference is we find out, almost immediately. We know the next day if it produces. And so do our clients."

"When a store manager runs a children's shoe ad in Sunday's newspaper, he expects to see a crowded shoe department. The next day!"

As far as newspaper advertising is concerned, Johnson said all ads are still being prepared by Penney's own Central Office advertising service department, which creates and produces 5,000 different newspaper ads each year. He said annual newspaper lineage per its 1,700 stores runs from 8,000 lines in smaller outlets to over 2 million in the largest.

Anton Woman Returns From European Tour

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This article was written by Mrs. Delise McGuire of Anton, who has spent nine months in Kitzingen, Germany with her son, Bobby McGuire, who is assistant principal in the American school. She left Germany Sept. 8, 1970 and returned June 26. This is a story of her return trip.)

By DELISE MCGUIRE
ANTON—Preparing for a trip home always involves a great number of things. This particular time one of the things involved was a weekend trip to England.

My sister, Cecile Alden, of Los Angeles, Calif. had been with me on my trip to visit Bobby in England in 1968 and like me had been captivated by the English people and the countryside. Knowing we shouldn't, we surrendered to nostalgia and planned a weekend trip from Kitzingen, Germany across the Channel. Leaving after school on a Friday afternoon we drove like cross country racers to 400 miles to catch the ferry at Hook of Holland which would take us across to Harwich, England. We arrived seven hours later after the all night crossing, which turned out a little rough for us. At six thirty the next morning we drove off the ferry, headed for the little town of Braintree.

We had three main objectives. The first and foremost was to visit some of the small country churches which had commemorative brass plaques for outstanding knights and ladies of the 13th, 14th and 15th centuries. These brasses may be reproduced on paper with the aid of special wax crayons which you rub over the figures. The figures have been etched into brass plates and then placed in the churches, usually over the burial place of the person.

These reproductions may be framed in a number of different ways and are very attractive and interesting additions to the decor of a room. After breakfast we moved off to one such small church hidden away from the flow of 20th century traffic. Unfortunately I did not feel like doing much because I was still recovering in the back seat of our car from my first case of sea sickness. Finally, later in the day I recovered enough to rub two pairs of brasses. Each pair requires about one hour of work down on your knees.

This accomplished, we moved on to objective number two, a fish and chips shop that has the best fish I've ever eaten. We were staying with friends of Bobby's at a small country Pub and we were having our evening meal with them. In spite of this we still proceeded to get five large orders of fish and chips. (I forgot to mention that two teachers who taught with Bobby at Kitzingen were with us on the trip.) We ate the fish and chips on short order and two hours later tried to put away a large dinner. After my bout with the Ferry and the channel this wasn't too easy.

Our third and final objective was to drive around the small narrow tree covered lanes of Essex and look at all of the small thatched cottages, and rosegardens of rural Essex, including two thatched cottages where Bobby had lived and where we had spent many happy days visiting and seeing the country. It was all as green and beautiful as we had remembered.

Sunday we continued our drive up to Cambridge where we walked once again through the campuses of the many colleges that make up Cambridge. This time we got to see Ruben's famous painting "Adoration of the Magi" which hangs in the front of King's College Chapel. The building was under repair in 1968 and visitors were not allowed. It is really an impressive setting with many beautiful trees and flowers.

Monday, with the rain pouring down we headed out for Dever and the White Cliffs, where we were to have a new experience, riding the Hovercraft. It rides on a cushion of air at speeds up to 90 miles per hour. We drove our car in, it was securely tied down. We then went upstairs for comfortable seats. The journey across to Boulogne, France took only 35 minutes. This was not to be representative of the remainder of the trip. From there it took twelve hours to drive through France and Belgium and back to Kitzingen, Germany.

At one time we stopped in Belgium for gas and although Bobby had U. S. dollars, French Francs, Swiss Francs, German marks and American Express Traveler's checks, the station attendant wouldn't sell us any gas because we didn't have Belgian Francs. But down the road a bit we found someone more accommodating and after calling a friend to check on the exchange rate for the day, he accepted our American dollars.

We arrived home just in time to turn around and take my sister to the airport at Frankfurt for her flight home. As tired as we were we started packing for our flight home two days later. Sometimes you wonder what makes you do these things but then wanderlust is a strange affliction.

Friday morning at 4 o'clock we picked up Mrs. Gloria Layne, one of the teachers who had made the England trip with us, and took off for the Military Airport at Frankfurt. Soon after we reached Frankfurt we were joined by another one of Bobby's friends, Al Reithinger, who is teaching at Weisbaden. We ate breakfast and visited until our planes took off which of course were all late. It so happened that Al was traveling on the same plane with us. Mrs. Layne had married at Christmas time and was returning to Denver, Colo. to make her home. Reithinger was going to Florida to visit his father.

It was rather amusing to sit in the airport and watch the order in which they took the passengers. First they called for families of eight and nine and so on down to two and three and then the enlisted men and those traveling alone.

But somehow Al managed to stay close to Bobby and me and got on the plane ahead of us. He selected the best and comiest seats for us. He knew we needed all the room we could get, for we were carrying so many packages that we looked like traveling Gypsies. We had the space under the seats in front of us and behind us too all filled. We vowed never to do it again.

We had been traveling several hours when we were informed that we would have a two hour stop in Iceland for refueling. We were very pleased because we had not been to Iceland. We went into the shops in the airport and there were many, many beautiful things. We sauntered by a display of toy boats, and dolls. The dolls were beautiful in native costumes. Bobby said "Mother, we must buy three dolls and a boat for Don's children." "Oh, no!" I thought, I already had six dolls and a toy horse in my tote bag. Al nearly passed out when we got back on the plane with another package.

From Iceland we flew to Philadelphia and got in there about six o'clock. We changed planes and flew to Charleston, S. C. We spent several hours there along with many tired mothers and crying children, trying to get through customs. But finally when it came our turn, the man in charge passed us on through and did not bother to look at our baggage.

Bobby checked and found that we could not get a plane out before morning. We used some of our packages for pillows and slept on the benches. About four o'clock the fire alarm sounded and we were told that everyone must vacate the airport at once. We proceeded to the sidewalk with all of our baggage. When we got outside I spied a security policeman and asked him where the fire was and he said "I don't know I've not found one yet." We decided it must have been a fire drill.

Since we were on the sidewalk we decided to get a taxi and crossed town to another airport and of course changed planes again and flew to Atlanta, Ga. From Atlanta we flew to Dallas and changed planes again for Lubbock.

We arrived in Lubbock Saturday morning at 12:30—thirty-six hours after we left Germany. Don, Naomi and children were at the airport to meet us and after a good night's sleep we felt much better.

Bobby plans to return to Kitzingen, Germany in July. He will resume his duties as American School around first of August. I will spend summer in Anton and return to Germany around the middle of September.

Take Your Family Dog On Vacation

Most dogs love to travel. Yours may be no exception. Vacationing by car makes it easy to include him in plans—if you follow a few simple rules:

Be sure your pet is properly vaccinated and properly inoculated against his rabies, distemper and license tags are attached to his collar. Keep along all his immunization records.

Condition your dog for travel and his first vacation with several short jaunts to someone along specifically comfort him if the motion of a car unnerves him. If your dog is nervous or sickens, consult your veterinarian.

for a remedy. Remember, whenever you leave your dog alone in the car, be sure to provide a shady spot to sit in and provide fresh air.

Pack a small suitcase with a canvas bag with the dog's food dish, water bowl (unbreakable), can open, spoon, walking leash, collar, line exercise leash, collar, etc.

and brush for grooming, muzzle, and some old towels for drying the dog or wiping paws. Include several of favorite toys and a good supply of dogfood.

Insist on discipline while traveling. Don't allow your dog to hang his head out the window, bark at passing traffic, cavort with children, or interfere with driver. Train him to sit or lie on your seat—or, in a station wagon, the back deck. Pad spot with an old blanket or rug.

Frequently stop the car on the highway in a safe, secluded place. Snap the exercise leash on your pet before opening car door (surprising how he prevents runaway dogs). Briskly exercise him, then provide him a drink of cool water from an insulated jug you carry for this purpose.

Although a dog can watered several times on the forego feeding until you stop the day. Most motel operators accept pets, but you need know for sure—in advance where your dog is welcome. Local service station desk can offer you facts about motels in the area.
