Councilmen Set Limit on Camping

Littlefield city councilmen voted to install plastic pipe and a sprinkling system at the sewage treatment plant grounds to place a 14-day limit on camping at the city's free camp site.

At the regular meeting Thursday night, councilmen considered the difference in installing plastic pipe with that of aluminum pipe, and decided that in the future, the plastic pipe would cost less because of the labor involved in moving aluminum system.

City Manager Jim Shearer was urged to get several estimates on plastic pipe for the project.

Although very few have abused the camp site since it was first established, they felt a rule should be governing the length of time camping is available.

Councilmen voted to grant permission for the sidewalk sale of handcrafts made by students at the Littlefield School for Handicapped Children. The sale was scheduled Saturday, May 17.

Other matters of business the council considered and approved minutes of the regular meeting.

Approved bills for payment.

Councilmen made a decision on suggestions of the Highway Department concerning the placement of street lights at the intersections of U. S. Highway 84 and Avenue, northwest and southeast of Littlefield. They promised to consider the project at the beginning of the next budget year.

They heard a report concerning the sewage treatment plant. The original contractor agreed to correct all existing problems, as specified in the agreement.

County Probes Two Break-Ins

Two break-ins were reported to city law officers recently.

County Breaker complained Thursday that a four model 71 flexible John Deere type planters had been stolen from a farm two miles north of Amherst.

Breaker said the planters were valued at about $150 each.

Subjects apparently used a trailer to transport the equipment off.

Last week 1500 pounds of 1/2 or 3/8 inch reinforcement rods from scales were stolen from the Amherst elevator north of Littlefield.

Bradley reported the theft to the sheriff's department.

Turbulent Weather Keeps Area On Guard

The sky clattered up and clobbered the Littlefield area again Thursday and Friday, putting the county under tornado alert for the fourth consecutive day.

Friday a twister struck a $10,000 blow to the Joe Fisher farm near Amherst, and another tornado bowled over a trailer house and battered a pickup truck near Lazbuddie. A tornado was sighted near Bula at 4:29 p.m.

At the Fisher farm, 7 miles southwest of Amherst, a John Deere combine was picked up and flopped on its side about 25 yards to the west of where it had been standing.

A truck was pulled backward approximately 30 yards, ending up near the combine, and only 25 yards from the house.

A trailer, loaded with 4,000 feet of aluminum irrigation pipe, which was parked near a barn on the south side of the premises, was relieved of its load and hurled 50 yards to the north. It was sucked into the west end of a barn after the west wall had blown out.

The irrigation pipe, in 30-foot joints, was scattered over approximately 160 acres, draped in trees, wrapped around machinery, and one section was left dangling on the family television antenna.

Five large fruit trees were uprooted and scattered over the premises, destroying a "bumper crop" of peaches which had grown to about an inch-in-diameter size. Several other trees of different varieties were broken and uprooted, but the Fisher home escaped damages.

Joe Fisher said he "watched the action through the entire operation when it should have been under something."

He saw his combine take its tumble and noticed the pipe "up as high as I could see."

He continued, "We feel we are lucky not to have had it any worse. This is something that always happens to the other fellow."

The cold front pushing through the area was accompanied by gusty winds and blowing dust as the heavy storm spewed.

LUMS CHAPEL CAUGHT HAIL

SIX INCHES OF muddy rain water poured into the Lums Chapel Grocery after 2.5 inches of rain fell in less than 30 minutes Thursday afternoon. Kelton White scoops up a handful of the pea-sized hail that hammered the Lums Chapel area Thursday. The lake of water in the background flooded the Lums Chapel Baptist Church, parsonage and gin yard.

Memories Of '24 Honor Students

When He Played Hooky . . . And She Wore Middy Blouses

By NILAH RODGERS
Leader-News Staff Writer

What are the valedictorian and salutatorian of Littlefield's graduating class of 1923-24 doing now?

Not what the class prophecy predicted. Valedictorian Mrs. Ruth (Roy) Wade isn't a flapper, and hasn't been any time between the Roaring Twenties and the Jet Age. And salutatorian Sid Hopping never moved to his ramshackle, non-progressive farm and donned his tattered overalls as the class prophet prophesied.

Mrs. Wade is executive secretary of the Lamb County Red Cross and Lamb County veterans' service officer. Formerly she worked for the state welfare office more than 13 years.

Sid Hopping is business manager of the Littlefield schools. Prior to this position, Hopping was a respected and dedicated Lamb County deputy and sheriff for 14 years.

WHAT ARE THE MOST VIVID memories of these two honor students?

Sid Hopping recalls the sports program and the day the principal joined them when they played hooky.

Mrs. Ruth Wade remembers her long socks, bloomers, middie blouses, and the outdoors basketball games that were played in snow, sand and rain, regardless of the weather. Debates and the literary events are high on her list of fond memories.

The year these two graduated, the school board allowed $125 for the athletic program for the entire year. (The athletic budget for 1968-69 was $21,000.)

To supplement the meager budget, the senior boys were made custodians of the school, and $40 per month was paid to the athletic association. Two to a room, the boys cleaned the basement, ground floor and upstairs auditorium and classrooms of Littlefield's first brick school house. Then they carried in enough coal to heat the building.

THERE WERE 13 boys on the football team, and games were played on rocky, sticker-studded ground.

Agricultural teacher Ed Parnell and principal M. F. Merrell coached football and track.

With only two substitutes, everyone got to play.

Sid was the quarterback. The annual described him: Sid Hopping—with the unusual combination of brains and beauty.

Boys could play until they were 21 years old, and Sid talked brother Earl into going to school another year to help out the team.

Other boys in the 1924 graduating class were Earl White, Larry Barber, Fontaine (Funny) Parker, Armond Logan and Loyd Springer.

When Littlefield went to a track meet, every business in town closed, everyone packed a picnic lunch and the whole town turned out for the social.

THE BOYS PRACTICED basketball on the outdoor court on the school grounds.

but their games were played "downtown" on a vacant lot between Stokes Drug Store and the Willis Barber Shop.

"When we played at school," Sid said, "we couldn't get anyone to come and watch us. So we built a fence around the vacant lot down town, and then we'd charge everyone a quarter to get through the gate to watch."

On Sundays the boys played the men's town team. Pat Boone Sr., Alvin and Herbert Miller, and Jake Hopping were some of those on the town team.

Schools weren't classified as B, A, AA, etc. They played the schools in the county, and the county winners went to district in Lubbock. Littlefield played Olton almost every Friday afternoon. All of the games were played during the day, since there weren't any lights for night games.

PLAINVIEW WAS THE only school in this area with an indoor court. "And I didn't like it," Sid said. "I could play better out in the gravel and stickers than I could inside."

Football and basketball games were matched with Lubbock, Plainview, Brownfield, Abernathy, Farwell and Hale Center. They played some of these schools twice.

There weren't any bleachers, the cheerleaders and fans alike ran up and down the sideline. There weren't any concession stands either, but the girls sold sandwiches at all the games to raise money for their games and activities.

"We didn't play hooky much," Sid said. "There wasn't any place to go when we did. And everyone in town saw us. There weren't but one or two houses between the stores and the school house."

ONE WARM SPRING day, all the boys decided it was time to do a little

Chest X-ray Unit Comes Here May 26

Littlefield residents, over 12 years old, will have the opportunity Monday, May 26, to have chests x-rayed for tuberculosis or other lung disorders.

The Christmas Seal X-Ray Unit of the West Texas Tuberculosis Association will be south of the First National Bank from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., and is being sponsored by the Rotary Club.

A token payment of $1 per person is needed to help pay for the costs involved in film and development. The West Texas Tuberculosis Association bears the expense of the reading and reporting to each individual, by mail, the results of his x-ray film.

Members of the Rotary Club urge everyone over the age of twelve years to take advantage of this facility. In the next months, the unit has been responsible for locating case after case of possible tuberculosis, both active and inactive, as well as many other lung disorders.

Mrs. Merrifield Enjoys Decoupage

By LAQUINTA LONG
MRS. MERRIFIELD

Linda Merrifield likes to cook, go swimming and skiing, make artificial flowers, and decoupage.

"My family is the outdoor type and we spend most of our summer days boating and skiing," said Mrs. Merrifield.

Linda and her husband, Jimmy Merrifield, have been residents of Littlefield all of their lives. They have a son, Chris, who is 5 years of age. Linda attended Littlefield schools and Jessie Lee's School of Beauty in Lubbock. She works part time as a beauty operator.

Jimmy is employed by Tide Products.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrifield are members of the First Baptist Church and attend the Adult I Sunday School Class.

The recipes that I've submitted are easy basic recipes," she said.

The Earth is HIS

The soil is God's priceless gift to man. It is a tangible gift neither plant, animal, nor man can live without. We depend on soil for just about everything. Although a mixture of dead plants, animals, rocks and other forms of life, it constantly changes through weathering to retain its perpetual productivity. But man has upset its natural balance with tools and fire and set in motion damaging erosion. Americans are guilty, and that's what we've got to stop. Jeremiah said, and let us say with him, "The whole land is made desolate, because no man layeth it to his heart." Then grieved Jeremiah said, "They have sown wheat, but shall reap thorns." Oh, God, let us be good Stewards of His Precious Soil, for, surely This Earth is His.

Widen Your Horizons

REV. R. B. HALL
First Baptist Church

A WOMAN who had had eye trouble for years went to see a specialist. The doctor asked, "What do you see as you look out of your window at home?" The woman replied, "Mountains in the distance." "Good," he said, "practice looking at those mountains for 15 minutes each day and your eyes will get better."

THE PSALMIST once said, "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help. My help cometh from the Lord which made heaven and Earth."

Few things will lift the heart, strengthen the body, build up the mind and refresh the spirit like a visit to the mountains. Each summer our church sponsors several weeks of camps in the mountains near Santa Fe, N. M.

I look forward to spending a few days there, for each time I go I receive renewed courage and vision for my task "back home." To those of us who live on the plains even an ant hill looks big, so to really visit the mountains is a treat indeed.

MOUNTAINS MAKE THE VALLEYS of my life fertile and fruitful as God's love comes streaming down to bless my deepest being.

How encouraging to go early in the morning to sit atop a lofty peak and watch the world below begin to come alive with the activities of a new day.

A VISIT TO THE MOUNTAINS and hills will make one's world bigger. We are city-dwellers in one sense of the word, and we get closed in by life.

A visit to the mountains enables us to see our perspective and helps us lift our eyes from the problems that would press in upon us. Invariably when I visit the "high plains" we have put eye and heart-stretchers on horizons are always widened.

THE HILLS ARE A CHALLENGE to climb a little higher. They cause us to have deep dissatisfaction with ourselves and our past accomplishments. This is always a healthy experience.

THE GREATEST BLESSING that comes from a visit to the mountains is that it brings us in touch with God.

David, the Psalmist, said, "I will lift up my eyes...to where God is."

Agnes Boyd has expressed it so well in poem "Temples of God":
How thrilled we stand beneath the peaks
That tower up to God,
And gaze upon their ragged cliffs,
Where man has never trod!

Majestic mountains, lofty, bold,
Projecting in the sky,
Seem mighty temples of the Lord,
With spires of crags, on high.

And like the Psalmist, we look up
Unto the heights whence cometh help
For all our needs, at length.

MY FRIEND, I hope you will have opportunity soon to visit the mountains, you too might "widen your horizons"

Tryouts Set For Musical

All Littlefield young people in grades 9 through 12 are invited to attend the Bag Session at First Methodist Church, May 18, at 3 p.m.

This first rehearsal for the Youth Folk Musical "Tell It Like It Is", will deal with "What is your bag?" That is, what part of the Folk Musical could you best fit into.

There will be choruses and solos for those who like to sing, and plenty of opportunity for those who play instruments. Since the whole concept of the musical is youth telling it like it is to the world and community, "Tell It Like It Is" will be performed entirely by high school youth under the direction of Al Jordan, Minister of Music at First Baptist Church, Littlefield.

The Folk Musical will be presented in a public performance at Wildcat Stadium on Wednesday, June 18, sponsored by the Littlefield Ministerial Alliance.

Mobile X-Ray Unit Slated

The Christmas Seal Mobile Detection Unit of the West Texas Tuberculosis Association will be in Olton May 20, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m.

The x-ray unit is being sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce as a community health project.

The Christmas Seal X-ray Unit of the West Texas TB Association will be in Earth May 21, under the auspices of Earth-Springlake Schools.

Many other abnormalities besides TB are detected by this unit. On the last trip to Olton, a total of 396 x-rays were taken.

Five cardio-vascular abnormalities and three other chest problems were pin-pointed.

The $1 pays for the film and the developing and the West Texas Tuberculosis Association bears the cost of having the film read and reported to each one in the survey.

A post card is mailed to those having a normal chest film. The ones who have an abnormal reading are notified by a first-class letter which urges them to contact their private physician or the local health officer for further examination.

Everyone is urged to keep the card with the number of their x-ray film and the date taken. These films are stored at the office of the Association, and can be made available to physicians on request.

An old film can be valuable for comparison purposes if some trouble develops in later years.

Children under 12 years old are too small to be x-rayed on this type unit, but every adult is urged to take advantage of this opportunity.

Jimmy Dean Meat Company Stages Grand Opening

A new era of West Texas agriculture begins Saturday and Sunday, May 24-25, as some of the most important Texas leaders converge on Plainview for the grand opening and dedication of the Jimmy Dean Meat Company.

Activities for the two-day event are designed to herald the arrival of a pork industry on the Texas High Plains.

Texas Governor Preston Smith will be among guests present for the dedication ceremonies at the plant located northwest of Plainview on Highway 87.

Master of ceremonies will be Jimmy Dean.

With a bill like this on the top, it's an almost surefire guarantee of one of the biggest events to come to West Texas. And this is what is planned.

Dedication ceremonies will begin at 11 a.m. with Governor Smith cutting the ribbon and presenting the principal address.

Following the dedication, the Jimmy Dean Meat Company will be open for grand opening activities with tours to be conducted until 6 p.m.

Open house will continue Sunday from 1 p.m. until 6 p.m. with Jimmy Dean on hand to greet all visitors.

Participating with the meat company in arranging activities for the dedication and grand opening are members of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce and the Chamber's Women's Committee.

1924 SCHOOL ANNUAL

Ruth Courtney (Mrs. Wade) in voice, but powerful in really laughs about that Mrs. Wade said. "I get louder Mrs. Wade said. "But my hard of hearing, and I worked for a man who had trouble sometimes now I just have to myself when I'm talking on the was rather quiet and shy then."

DEBATES AND literary events

"fun" things in the Twenties. "Lyceum" was the main event. Whole families would buy for a year. Then different talents come in from time to time. The would be held in the at night. "And oh, we really forward to these," Mrs. Wade said. "aren't any radios then. Other school plays and the ball games, that fed them, then leave them there on to school." "We were so glad to get the buses. Mrs. Wade said. "We didn't have any inside conveniences in the building. But we dedicated the annual to 'the untiring efforts of the administration and faculty we are able to enjoy and to the SUPERIOR educational advantages'."

ALL OF THE SENIOR girls participated in the basketball and track program. They wore their long ribbed cotton socks, bloomers, middy blouses and their hair tied up in their neckerchiefs.

"We were very modest," Mrs. Wade said. "When we were going off to a game, we wore skirts over our long bloomers and didn't take them off until we were ready to play."

Senior girls included Ruth Courtney, nine tornadoes and funnels over the South Plains in its wake.

Littlefield, Amherst and Cotton Center got another 1.5 inches Friday night.

Deluging rains closed Highway 303 south of Sudan. U. S. 70 six miles west of Earth was impassable late Friday, water rising over a three-mile stretch of the road.

The twister that struck the Sudan area let down at 5:08, wrapping irrigation pipe around objects like so many wet noodles.

Littlefield residents went scurrying to safety when the warning whistle went off at 5:35. The all-clear sounded when the tornado warning was lifted about an hour later.

Rain reports from over the county for Friday evening included .6 at Sudan, 1.2 at Spade, .50 at Whitarral, .2 at Beck Gin, .25 at Hale Center and .2 at Bula.

Reports from Thursday evening included:

Up to 2.5 inches of rain in less than 30 minutes was dumped on the Lums Chapel area south of Littlefield.

Driving pea-size hail stripped the leaves from crops, trees and shrubs, and carpeted the ground and roof tops with hail stones so thick it left the impression of a snow storm.

The deluge came so fast ditches and culverts couldn't handle the water.

Water flooded the Lums Chapel grocery store with six inches of water before enough dirt and mud could be thrown up both inside and outside the doors to divert the water.

Six inches of muddy rain water also covered the living quarters of the Lums Chapel Store where the Alton (Whitey) Whites live.

Roadside ditches flowed like swollen tributaries of the Mississippi, the tumbling water dark with eroded soil.

Basements of the Billy Wells and David Jones homes were filled with water.

Residents said the flooding didn't start until the rain was over, but the discordant note of rushing water lasted long after the rain ceased.

Ed Blackwell who lives a mile south of Lums Chapel received 1.8 inches and a fine, sharp-edged hail stripped the leaves from his April cotton.

About three miles out on the Spade highway small hail stacked up two and one-half to three inches deep.

Two-inch rain gauges near the Bula school overflowed.

Littlefield school buses ran where they could Friday morning. Drivers reported almost dry conditions in places and impassable roads on other parts of their route.

Rainfall amounts logged around the area to a late hour Thursday included Amherst .11, Anton 1.80, Earth .05, Olton .15, Spade 1.0, Sudan .77, and traces at Springlake and other points.

Eunice Spickard, Carrie Ivie, Beth and Dixie Yantis and Velma Jane Gray.

The dads of the team members took turns taking the girls to the basketball games when they played other teams. "There weren't any paved roads," Mrs. Wade said. "And we got stuck in the sand nearly every time we went to Olton. We'd all have to get out and dig."

Cassie Paul was home economics and math teacher, and coached girls' basketball.

R. L. Speight was the superintendent, Edward D. Farnell, principal, and Marie Patton taught English and History.

MRS. WADE IS VERY modest about being the valedictorian. "With just 13 in the class, that isn't a lot to crow about," she said.

"You know, when we took our report cards home, our parents had to sign their names and fill in a blank showing how many hours the student averaged studying at home each evening."

"They don't do that any more. I guess there was more emphasis on studying then."

Both Mrs. Wade and Hopping furthered their education after high school.

Mrs. Wade studied business at West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon.

Sid Hopping attended North Texas Arlington College, where the University of Texas of Arlington is now, and Texas Tech.

Another similarity the 1924 honor graduates share is that each family has two children, a boy and girl each. Bill and Madelyn Wade and Billye and Clifford Hopping all graduated from Littlefield High School.

The Wades and Hoppings are both proud grandparents, too. The Roy Wades have four grandsons, and the Hoppings have three grandsons and three granddaughters.

All Library Books Near Readers

Anyone need a book? Any library in the United States is as close as the home town library.

The Telex hookup with Texas State Library in Austin and 10 libraries in major cities throughout Texas, enables the Lamb County librarian to locate any materials not available in the local library.

This material may consist of books, government documents, magazine articles and answers to reference questions.

Lamb County Library is one of the libraries in the 26-county area served by Lubbock City-County Libraries.

Requests are telephoned to the Lubbock library and filled, if possible—if impossible, the request is relayed to other libraries, including university and special libraries throughout the United States.

When the material is located, the library housing it sends it to the library originating the request and it is checked out in a regular manner.

Many of the books are received by requesting libraries within six days.

In making a request for books unavailable in the Lamb County Library, Mrs. Jack Hicks, librarian, explained that the patron should give the author's name, book title, publisher and copyright date.

If some of the mentioned information is not complete, the librarian will take available information and try to locate the material.

The patron is asked to pay the postage of the book, or the cost of photocopying if the information desired is found in books or magazines which are not circulating.

The Telex system of inter-library loan is provided for under Title III of the Federal Libraries Services Act.

"Any book being circulated by major libraries is available to any patron, even by a telephone request," the librarian said.

Twister Hits Joe Fisher Farm

A BARN WAS DAMAGED considerably when the west end was blown out. A trailer, just inside the damaged end, had been loaded with 4,000 feet of aluminum pipe before it was blown 50 yards to the north and sucked inside. In the foreground is one of Fisher's prized fruit trees.

THE FOUNDATION of another barn was exposed when the building was moved about six feet to the north. The white arrow indicates the southeast cornerstone of the foundation.

A CORNER POST of the back yard, indicated by white arrow, was bent to the ground near a huge tree which grew just inside the fence on the southeast corner. The combine and a truck were deposited at the corner, 25 yards from the Fisher house.

Bill On Water Well Drilling Passes

AUSTIN—The Senate has given final legislative approval to a bill by Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake that clarifies the duties of the Water Well Drillers Board.

The bill, HB 248, eliminates the requirement that the board send a copy of all amendments together with an "informative summary" to all licensed drillers before the rules establishing standards of conduct can be amended.

It also modifies the requirement that the description of equipment required to be licensed be all vehicles, trailers and rigs, to just be "all rigs." The bill now goes to the governor for his signature.

Also headed for the governor's desk is HB 128 by Rep. Clayton. This bill provides that electors of the Panhandle Ground Water District No. 3 must approve any spacing of irrigation wells regulation before the board of directors could make the rules.

House Bill 574 by Rep. Ralph Wayne of Plainview was also given final approval by the Senate. It provides for an increase in the per-diem compensation of members of the State Board of Medical Examiners.
