Local Businesses On Guard After Bogus $20's Turn Up

Phony Bills Taken At Banks, 11 Firms

At least 11 counterfeit $20 bills were passed in Littlefield this week.

And after some of the bogus bills were detected at the two banks here about noon Thursday and the word went out to businesses to watch for the counterfeit bills, all twenties changing hands at business places and banking establishments got close scrutiny.

Three of the imitation $20s showed up at each of the local banks around noon Thursday. Billie Angel, head bookkeeper at Security State Bank, took one between 11:30 and 12:30 and it was detected later by a teller, Naomi Hyatt. Bank employees found two other bogus bills in money already taken in by the bank.

Patsy Jones, a teller at the First National, found a counterfeit $20 in a business deposit received about the same time. Another of the fake bills was found in money already tabulated and a short time later another of the $20's showed up in cash deposited by another Littlefield business establishment.

First National employees found two more counterfeit $20s in deposits made Friday morning.

Secret Service agents said the bills were new to them and had not been passed anywhere until they started showing up in this area. All Series 1969, they had the seal of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas and either the serial numbers K 13165560 A or K 13165562 A.

The word "TWENTY" across the seal on the front of all the bills was a little shaky, and the green on the backs of some of the bills was a little light in color, but the counterfeit notes with good color were considered good and extremely hard to spot by the money experts. The paper was a lower grade than that used by the Federal Reserve Bank, but efforts had been made to reproduce the red and blue threads found in the high quality paper used by the Federal Reserve.

James Lee, at the First National, said the bogus bills with good color were the best counterfeit job he had seen.

Businesses getting the counterfeit bills through Friday afternoon were S&J Service Parts, Renfro's Grocery, G&C Auto Supply, Heffington Gulf, Crescent House Restaurant, Wylie's Deep Rock Service Station, Field's Men's Wear, Mode O' Day, Hill Rogers Furniture, Coca Cola and McCarty's Funeral Home.

Fake bills detected after a patron has turned them in to a bank are charged against the bank and turned over to the Secret Service. But a phony discovered before a banking transaction is completed is the customer's loss and the customer must let the bank turn it over to the Secret Service.

The Federal Reserve Bank is sending an exhibit of counterfeit money to the banks in Littlefield in the near future to educate the public of what to look for in bogus bills.

Meantime these points are given on how to spot counterfeit money:

In genuine currency the portrait stands out sharply from the background and the eyes appear lifelike. The background is a fine screen of regular, unbroken lines. In counterfeit currency, the portrait may merge with background. The eyes, etc., may be dull or smudgy. The background may be dark, with some irregular and broken lines. Face may seem unnaturally white.

The seal on genuine currency has saw-tooth points around the rim that are even and sharp. The saw-tooth points on counterfeit may be uneven, blunt, or broken.

Serial numbers on genuine bills have figures that are firmly and evenly printed, well spaced. On Federal Reserve notes prefix letters always agree with the district letter in the seal. Counterfeit serial numbers may be out of line, poorly spaced, printed too light or too dark, and the prefix number may or may not agree with the district letter in the seal.

Scroll work in real money has fine, crisscrossing lines that are sharp and unbroken. In the counterfeit, the lines may be blurred and are often broken.

Paper used for genuine notes is very high quality. Small red and blue threads are in it, but may not be visible if the bill is badly worn or dirty. Counterfeit paper may feel different, or may be whiter than genuine paper. Threads may be imitated by fine red and blue lines made by a pen.

Rubbing a bill on a piece of paper is not a good test. Ink can be rubbed off genuine as well as counterfeit bills.

Consult an experienced money-handler if you get a counterfeit bill:

a. Write your name and the date on the back of it, so you can identify it later.

b. Write down all the details about how you got it: Who gave it to you? Where did you get it? When did you get it?

c. Contact the nearest U. S. Secret Service office, the local police, a commercial bank, or any Federal Reserve Bank.

Anyone convicted of passing a counterfeit may be fined as much as $5,000 or imprisoned for up to 15 years, or both.

COUNTERFEIT $20s were passed to Littlefield merchants this week. Security State Bank Bookkeeper Billie Angel shows the first of three bogus bills discovered at Security Thursday. Three counterfeit $20s also turned up at the Littlefield First National Bank Thursday, and before businesses closed Friday, 11 of the fake notes were detected.

Anton Man Held After Year-Old Boy Beaten

Charles Allen Nance, a 20-year-old man from Route 4 Anton, is still in the Hockley County jail in Levelland following charges of assault with intent to murder a one-year-old boy on a farm near Anton.

The beating of the baby reportedly took place about 7:30 Wednesday evening, and the boy was reported in critical condition Friday night in the intensive care unit of the Methodist Hospital.

Lubbock police said the suspect was arrested about 9:45 Wednesday night in Lubbock at 19th and Quaker for a traffic violation. Officers then learned that he was the man sought by Hockley officers in a broadcast earlier.

The child is the son of Mrs. Kay Jordan, who lives south of Roundup, and the father is in the armed services in Vietnam.

RETIRING AFTER 35 YEARS AS TEACHER

Busy Times Await Mrs Houk

Mrs. Gladys Houk is looking forward to retiring after teaching 35 years - 31 of these years in Littlefield.

Mrs. Houk will miss the association of teachers and students, but she is anxious to get started on the things that will take the place of her many years in the classroom.

Since Mrs. Houk was Miss Gladys Jones and started teaching, she has never been "just a homebody."

Although all of her teaching years haven't been consecutive, she has always worked. Her teaching career began in Govee in Knox County where she taught for four years.

She came to Littlefield with her parents in 1930. Except for three years as an elementary teacher, her tenure has been in high school, with most of her time devoted to sophomore English. She taught high school math several years, too. An athlete in her high school days, she was offered and accepted a job coaching girls' basketball. The two years she coached, her girls won every tournament but one.

Miss Jones became a war bride in 1952 when her hometown sweetheart, K. Houk, was drafted and stationed in San Diego, Calif. Mrs. Houk worked with Consolidated Aircraft in California five years until the couple moved back to Littlefield.

K. had worked in a meat market before the war and on their return the Houks went into the grocery business on the main street in Littlefield. Mrs. Houk kept the books and helped mind the store until 1952 when K. went into real estate and Mrs. Houk went back to teaching.

Mrs. Houk says following Littlefield High School graduates is a rewarding experience. Two of her students, Jimmy and Prentice Walker, went into administrative jobs in the Library of Congress. Carson Glass is a congressional secretary to a U. S. senator. "And Pat Boone Jr. won the interscholastic league meets in public speaking and ready writing in both county and district the same year," Mrs. Houk said of District Judge Boone. "That was back when the administration saw to it that everyone entered and the titles really meant something."

Mrs. Houk's first principal in the Littlefield schools was J. E. Chisholm, father of Mayor Chisholm. Since that time she has served under 12 principals and nine superintendents.

Mrs. Houk knows she will miss her teaching, but she says she is glad to leave the profession with the excellent group she has now. "I've lived a full life, and I'm very healthy," she said. "I'm looking forward to being with my family and doing things that I should have started a long time ago."

Mrs. Houk likes to travel and visited Havana, Cuba, before Castro took over. After retirement she hopes to go to Europe. Other retirement plans include gardening, arranging flowers, and doing many of the things she did when she was a member of the garden club.

Mrs. Houk was secretary of the Women's Club, vice president of the Junior Study Club (now the Forum), and she chartered the Future Teachers organization in Littlefield, so club work is in her plans. She is a member of the First Baptist Church and plans to continue to teach an adult Sunday school class and stay active in WMU.

She is retiring from teaching, only, not living.

MRS. GLADYS HOUK is retiring from the teaching profession after 35 years, with all but four years of her tenure in the Littlefield schools. Her retirement plans include more time devoted to her family, traveling, and "catching up on things that should have been started long ago."

TRUCKS AID SHOPPERS
Because trucks can go anywhere, during all seasons, the shopping habits and menus of American families are vastly different from "the old days." Now, daily truck deliveries to the nation's shopping centers, large and small, downtown and in the suburbs, offer Americans a veritable king's ransom of choices and values.

JUST HAPPENED to run across a unique dish using left over ham. Totally different, the idea combines ham with cheese and crackers in a taste-tempting casserole that is sure to please everyone in your family.

This dish consists of baked cheese and cracker sandwiches filled with ham and surrounded by an egg and milk custard-good for your family and high in protein nutrition.

In the past, it is said this type of recipe was sometimes called "Strata" and was made with trimmed crusts of bread. In this up-dated easy to prepare version, saltine crackers enhance the delicious flavor. Garnishes of tomato wedges, sliced olives, mushrooms and parsley can be added individually or mixed together for a really festive touch.

"Ham, Cheese and Cracker Casserole" is great for Saturday lunch or for an evening meal, accompanied by a green vegetable and salad.

Flower Talk
by Kip Cutshaw

Man has used flowers for thousands of years in making perfume. Scents from roses, lilies, and hyacinths are among the oldest known types. Perfumes were once produced from actual flowers, but today most of them are made from chemical processes. With the scientific ability of the true fragrance is always difficult. We have yet to capture the just right, delightful scent that fills the air around an orange grove on a balmy evening. There is no substitute for real flowers, and we are exceptionally proud of the arrangements and bouquets we prepare right here in our shop.

'Sewing'

Household
Word In Home

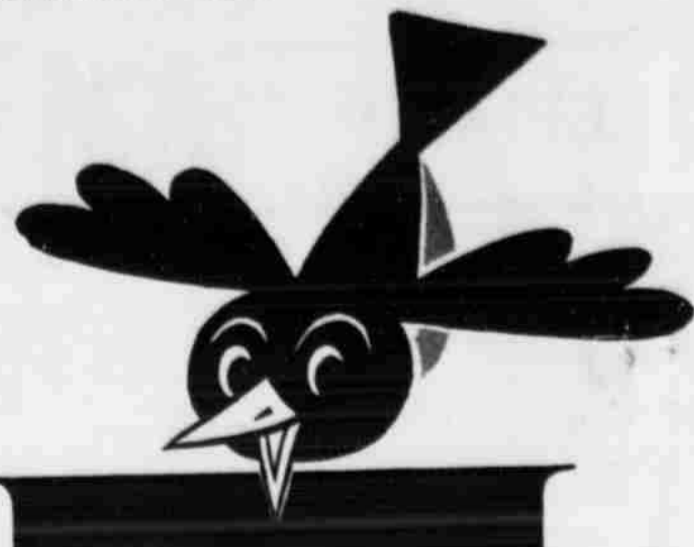

"Women and girls are sewing more these days than ever before," says County HD Agent Lady Clare Phillips. "According to pattern companies 500 million garments are made a year. Women and girls in Lamb County make their own clothing because those they make are better quality and those who have a fitting problem can have a better fit. From 60 to 70 percent can be saved by making them at home," she says.

"Home demonstration club women are studying sewing at home this month. Many women find sewing a satisfying outlet for self expression and creativity," she continued.

One of the first steps in sewing is matching fabric to the pattern. Materials fall into four main types, stiff, crisp, thick and limp. Patterns should conform to the type of material. Cotton knits are very popular at this time. Most are washable but it is important to consult the label for instructions on care.

Using a special ball point sewing machine needle is an aid to sewing on knit fabrics. Also using thread with more "give" like the core spun thread may be desirable.

Prune Flowering Shrubs To Encourage New Growth

"It is not too late to prune back those spring flowering shrubs, to encourage the growth of new wood for next season's show," according to Mrs. Lady Clare Phillips, County Home Demonstration Agent. "Thin out old canes and remove dead wood making all cuts close to the ground. Included in this group are the forsythia, (Golden Bells), mock orange, flowering quince and spirea," she advises.

In the northern section of Texas, bagworms are probably feeding on your evergreen trees and shrubs. Sevin is very effective if used while the worms are small. Plants should be watched closely when Sevin is used as its use frequently leads to an increase of spider mite population since many of their natural enemies are eliminated by the Sevin.

Crape Myrtles bloom on this year's growth. For ample flower production provide an adequate supply of nutrients. Using a 12-12-12 fertilizer or its equivalent, use about 1-1/2 pounds of fertilizer per 100 feet of bed area and water thoroughly.

Flowers cut late in the afternoon, then placed immediately in warm water and allowed to stand in a cool draft-free room until the water becomes cool, will last much longer than those cut in the early morning.

'We, The Women' Enters Parade, Plans Projects

Newly-elected president, Mrs. Mary Beth Willey, presided at her first meeting of "We, The Women" last Tuesday during the meeting and luncheon held in the Reddy Room of Southwestern Public Service.

Twenty-five members and two visitors were present, and one new member joined the organization. She was Mrs. Craig Wallace.
The group voted to build and enter a float in the Loyalty Day Parade. Any prize money that might be won would go in the fund to help secure a foreign exchange student.
Lynn Barton, Jay Trammel, Marsha French and Martha Brown spoke to the group regarding securing a foreign exchange student to attend Littlefield High School.
Nearly $650 has been raised of the $1,000 needed.

NEED DOCTOR'S HELP
A protective wax is secreted in the human ear canal. However, excessive amounts of this wax can collect in the ear canal and cause a temporary hearing loss. When this problem is encountered the person should seek help from a doctor, and not attempt to remove it himself.

It's PIONEER® again this year.

Here's why:

CLAUNCH & SONS, Bula, averaged 5,920 pounds of grain per acre last year from 300 acres of Pioneer brand 846. The crop was planted May 1 and harvested October 10. It was watered three times after planting. Rainfall was about three inches. The Claunches like the way 846 performs with limited water. They plan to plant 350 acres of this dependable pioneer hybrid again this year.

DEAR EDITOR

What Our Readers Think

Jesus, No Hippie!

Dear Bill:

If I was a hippie, I would wear my hair down around my collar. But if I was not a hippie I would not be a dissimulation so people would judge me to be a hippie with my long hair.

I have read and heard of some people claiming that Jesus wore long hair, and that every picture they had ever seen of Him, He had long hair.

No one has ever seen a picture of Jesus. The pictures called Jesus is the picture of a man who posed for it. He may have been a criminal. Or some artist did paint a picture and called it the picture of Jesus.

No one has seen Jesus for over eighteen hundred years. No one can know how he looked. There is not one word in the Bible to substantiate that he did have long hair. I will take the written word of Paul who was here when Jesus was here and very likely did see him, and it is logical that if Jesus had long hair that some of his Apostles would have had long hair. And we know Paul did see them.

Luke traveled a lot with Paul and might have been present when Paul wrote in the Eleventh Chapter of First Corinthians: "Doth not even nature itself teach you that if a man have long hair it is a shame unto him." You that like, go ahead and defend long hair if you like it that way. But please, oh please, quit trying to make the people believe that Jesus Christ was a hippie, for He was not.

PAUL HARVEY

Jesus Freaks

TO AN OUTSIDER, a newsman's desk usually looks like an unmade bed; sifting that accumulation is sort of like panning for gold.

We find more sand than gold. But then—sometimes—gold.

HEADLINES: "Jesus People Tuned in to the Word." This is not some purely religious publication. This was in the St. Petersburg, Fla., Times. "Orderly Students Jam Beaches: 'Sweet Jesus' Songs Fill The Air."

Now this was last Easter vacation, the annual migration of school-agers from everywhere to Fort Lauderdale Beach. But this year was no beer bust. This year was a sing-in for Christ.

THERE WERE self-described "freaks" wearing long hair and shoes and bells. But there were no narcotics, there was no lewdness; they were carrying Bibles, being baptized in the surf, singing old-fashioned gospel songs such as "Sweet Jesus" and new ones like "Put Your Hand In The Hand of the Man From Galilee."

Now, what was this "demonstration" on Florida's beaches? A one-shot emotional binge—or a symptom of a trend?

THE JESUS PEOPLE have taken Hollywood's Sunset Boulevard away from the hippies.

In Owensboro, Ky., 300 school-agers are taking to the streets and shopping centers with their Christian testimony.

IN HOT SPRINGS, Ark., 20-ex-junkies walked into the police station and handed over their supply of hashish and LSD.

explaining quietly that they'd been "talked to" by another ex-junkie in church last Sunday and "now we're enjoying the wonderful high from which there is no letdown."

More evident: The pastor of one of the largest churches in Detroit is a college sophomore, David Johnson, 20, and unapologetically "a fundamentalist."

"FUNDAMENTALISM" is a designation from which modern clergy have run scared. The fundamentalist believes the Bible means what it says. No rock music, no slang sermons.

And this young David says his generation has "re-realized" that moral values do not change, should not change. Today's youth has tried permissiveness and compromise and hypocrisy and escapism and has tasted the bitter fruits and is looking again for the timeless, unchanging, comforting security that one finds with his hand in the hand of The Man.

HE SAYS the lost generation wasn't lost until it lost sight of the Cross.

There's more evidence of a youth-sponsored revival. An elder in the thousand Vicki says young people "have been away, are coming home."

PERHAPS IT HAS occurred to our enlightened young as it did once upon a time to me.

That if our "faith" is, as the unbelievers believe merely a form of self-hypnosis, nonetheless it affords an inner peace which passeth all understanding. And if it is what we believe it to be, we have all this and heaven, too.

A WOMAN'S VIEW

Can't Quit

PEARL BRANDON

WELL I ALMOST did like Cornball this week and not make the deadline.

What with the Woman's Club breakfast and the Loyalty Day Parade and company coming... it seems like everything is happening at once... and how that phone does ring.

SOMEONE SAID to me this week, "you try to do too much." Of course I know that, but there seems to be no place to quit.

I couldn't possibly do all these things without the help of all the wonderful people.

THERE NEVER was a finer group of women than the members of Littlefield Women's Club.

I guess I'll have to brag a little bit about them. This year they have contributed to the school for retarded children; gave a scholarship to a Littlefield High School girl, contributed to the Library and to Girls Town.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Doing Good

By BOB WEAR

"A DO-GOODER" has become an uncomplimentary expression, and rightly so. These are the people who think they know how everybody should live (physical environment, and in other ways, too); what they should have; etc.

They try to bring all of this about whether the other people want it or not. They are actually busybodies and meddlers in other peoples' business.

THEY DO MORE HARM than good. Even granting that they may have good intentions does not excuse their actions.

Doing good, in the true sense of doing good, must not be confused with the "do-gooder" problem.

There is good to be done that all of us can do without imposing upon the persons being helped. There is good that will help us, too; and in the way we will appreciate.

NO HUMAN BEHAVIOR is more enabling than doing good, in the right way, for and to others.

"He who does good to another, does good also to himself, not only in the consequences, but in the very act; for the consciousness of well-doing is, in itself, ample reward."—Seneca.

"IT IS MORE BLESSED to give than to receive." the benefits resulting from the right kind of good being done are very constructive. The recipient of the good is assisted, encouraged, and upbuilt.

The one doing the good, however,

Besides this, they have presented nine good programs for the year. The May breakfast is the last meeting this year until September.

AT THE MEETINGS they always have delicious refreshments and beautiful decorations. In fact all committees function very smoothly and efficiently.

I want to say "Thank You", also to Elaw C. Caldwell, who so kindly teaches my class, along with his, at our church school on Sunday morning when I can't attend.

I WOULD ALSO like to thank Joella who so graciously straightens this column out and makes it look decent, especially on days like this when I don't have time to type it.

Thanks Joella.

I'LL SEE YOU next week, the Lord willing.

receives the greater benefits. These, however, are not the only ones profited. When the right kind of good is being done, many persons are blessed.

ONE GOOD DEED is often multiplied many times, and is never in vain.

Those who observe good being done will often be encouraged to do goodthings. In fact, this kind of doing good is often a chain-reaction force that moves on and on among human beings.

Even people who, at sometime, receive this help often become more alert to their opportunities for helping their fellowmen.

NEED AND OPPORTUNITIES for doing good are all around us. They are easily recognized if we are looking for them.

They appear in many forms, and are hidden from no one, except those who refuse to see. We may not be able to do everything we see needing to be done, but all of us can do our best.

"GOD HAS SO CONSTITUTED our nature that we cannot be happy unless we are, or think we are, the means of good to others.—We can scarcely conceive of greater wretchedness than must be felt by him who knows he is wholly useless in the world."—Mason.

When we do good solely for the sake of doing good, with a sincere spirit of brotherly love, our efforts are never in vain.

HOMMY GRITS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

I SUPPOSE IT'S ABOUT time we should give up on the idea of LEGISLATING morals. Surely, by this time we should realize that such is impossible.

You cannot force people to "be good", this control must come from inside the person, himself.

Sure, you've gotta have laws to protect us from the incorrigible. We must recognize that there are those that can, only, be controlled by force.

AND, WHILE WE'RE at it, the idea that the public schools should be responsible for your kids' conduct and mode of dress, it's for the birds!

Actually the way the kid dresses and behaves in school is a reflection on the influence of the home environment.

BUT STILL, THE school must have rules for the protection of the decent and serious seeker of education. AND, to be sure, the school should be able to furnish the environment and personnel conducive to proper behaviour and incentive for the students' achievements, both academic and moral.

However, the idea that people will "be good" just because they're told to, is false.

IN ALL PROBABILITY, the apple (or, whatever it was) wouldn't have looked so enticing to mother Eve, if she hadn't been told to leave it alone!

Sad to say, that's a hangover the whole human race has had ever since. That which is forbidden becomes much more tempting when we learn that we shouldn't do it, or, that it's naughty to participate in such!

THE ANSWER, THEN, is that we should give men the incentive to be what they should, and the proper example to go along with it. It's appalling to see the waste of people-power that's so common in our times.

People with the abilities and good character accomplish so much who still have for a "mess of pottage" are to be

MANY OF OUR KIDS are lost because the parents are dedicated to the career of "money" and a place in society. They are simply a by-product of the present desire of "self-satisfaction".

The career of raising a child becoming a lost art to our moderns. We have the kids then turn them to the baby-sitter and the school to be

I'M CONVINCED THAT the general restlessness and among our youngsters is the lack of proper hero to be patterned. Someone with strength of character command their respect. Some

The parent, or, school teacher that is always so anxious that his way and wants for nothing, is the type to steer these youngsters right direction. He needs some follow that he thinks is worthy of his rules, and don't look for the easy

THE SAME PRINCIPLE holds government. When law enforcement soft, it loses the respect of its human nature for people to consider the ropes, just to see how far we can

When all restraint is removed become disturbed and restless and fearful because we know we're on strange ground, and are no longer ourselves. Uncertainty can be

WE CAN'T TELL our kids behave, we must SHOW them! Until they will continue to try to cover fears by whistling as they walk these strange woods.

Cook allowed 10 hits in the game. Chuck Robinson, Terry Pace, John Pace, Gary Pace and Ricky Richards got a single off Cook. Johnny Villafranco had two hits. The oldest FDIC Bank in Lamb County, record books date back to 1923. Walden pointed out that 75 to 80 per cent of the area economy depended solely upon farming.

Walden entered the banking profession at the age of 17, August 12, 1928, following graduation from Melissa High School, near McKinney. After three months as a student at a business college in Dallas, he was hired by the vice-president of the Collin County National Bank and except for three years as a bank examiner has been in the banking business.

Keeping informed on the latest banking laws, and changes was stressed to the students interested in entering the banking profession. Walden also pointed out to the girl students the many opportunities open to them in this field.

Students making the tour were Rickey G. Bo Lance, Barbara Black Withrow, Brent Wilkins, Linda Bandy, Angela Vallarie Newell, Betty Freddie Maxwell, Boyles, Roger Bellan, accompanying the student Mary Tollett, business instructor in Sudan High School.

Nilah Rodgers Wins Writing Contest

Winners of the non-fiction contest sponsored annually by the South Plains Writers have been named by Louis Boggess, well known author, lecturer and teacher of creative writing.

First place was awarded to Arthur Berg, of Lubbock, for an article on traffic safety titled "Break Up the Accident Teams." Mrs. Boggess commended the extensive research and strong reader impact.

Nilah Rodgers of Littlefield placed second with an entry entitled "Caesarian Farrowing," which the judge complimented as fresh, unusual material with definite national magazine sales possibilities.

For third place, Mrs. Boggess announced a tie, shared by Beverly Daniel, of Lubbock, who wrote "Journey to the Past: The XIT Ranch" and

Sarah Fallis of Idalou, whose piece was titled "Which Way, PTA?"

Mrs. Rodgers, a staff writer for the Lamb County Leader-News, originally wrote the article as a feature story and it was published in February. The article is on the Earth Swine Breeders, Incorporated, SPF hog farm and the germ free pigs taken by caesarian section.

Louise Boggess has conducted professional writing classes for 14 years at the College of San Mateo, Calif., and three years at the University of California. She has written several books, among them "Fiction Techniques That Sell," "Writing Fillers That Sell."

A native West Texan, Mrs. Boggess attended the University of Texas, is a member of the Authors Guild, and is listed in "Who's Who of Contemporary Auditorium and Foremost Women in Communications."

Wayland College Flying Queens Sponsored By Hutcherson

22 Years

When Plainview businessman Claude E. Hutcherson agreed to fly the women's basketball team of Wayland Baptist College to Mexico and back in 1949 as a goodwill gesture, he had no idea that 22 years later he would still be sponsor of the national championship team. Hutcherson returned to Plainview April 4 with his team. The Hutcherson Flying Queens of Wayland Baptist College, from the National AAU Women's Basketball Tournament in Council Bluffs, Iowa. The Queens are again National AAU champions and brought back this title for the eighth time.

It was back in 1949 when the enthusiast president of Wayland, Dr. J. W. Marshall, got into a discussion with the sports enthusiast, Hutcherson, and Hutcherson became sponsor of the team. Hutcherson entered the picture of the Queens when he provided four Beechcraft Bonanzas to fly the feminine team to Mexico as a good will measure. It was a "one shot" promotion as far as Hutcherson was concerned, but it was also the beginning of a new era at the small Baptist school.

Shortly after that trip, Dr. Marshall, then president of Wayland, told Hutcherson that he would be forced to drop the team unless he found someone to sponsor it.

As Hutcherson recalls, "I said that I would take them if nobody else could be found and Dr. Marshall said, 'They are yours. I will look no further.' Since that time, my wife and I have been sponsoring the team and flying it all over the United States and Mexico in Beechcraft Bonanzas."

When asked his comments on his sponsorship of the team for the last 22 years, Hutcherson replied, "It has been lots of fun and Wilda (Mrs. Hutcherson) and I have really enjoyed it. It is quite rewarding to see these girls come to Wayland and grow up and mature to become top rate citizens."

Hutcherson went on to point out that of all the girls he had known as members of the Flying Queens, there was only one of whom he is not proud.

At the Amarillo National Invitational last week, he saw the mother and father of a former Flying Queen that he had not seen in some 20 years.

Hutcherson, an ex-Waylander himself and the 1927 welterweight champion boxer at Texas Tech, admits that enthusiasm for the team sometimes leads to neglect of business during the season. He points out that "ordinarily we use four Bonanzas to transport the team but have added as many as five more to fly fans free of charge to the games. All told, we fly about 10,000 to 12,000 miles a year to play basketball."

It is estimated that Hutcherson has logged more than two million miles in sponsoring the Flying Queens. So far as is known, this is an air record for an athletic team. In all that flying there has never been an accident and, as Hutcherson points out, "We have never had even a split second of difficulty during flight operation."

As extra protection for the Wayland players, the Hutcherson carry an almost unprecedented amount of insurance, $100,000 a seat per plane. He has never had to use this precaution, a fact for which he is grateful, because of his insistence upon safety in his flying. In fact, Hutcherson, entered his 32nd year as a flyer, has never had an accident in one of his planes. He is such a stickler for safety that he refuses to fly when the weather is bad. The best example of this safety emphasis was when he missed his daughter's wedding while he was weathered-in on a Queen's trip to Kansas City, Mo. The disappointment of missing the wedding was great, but the satisfaction of a perfect safety record was greater, and the daughter, a flyer herself, understood.

Hutcherson's association with Wayland Baptist College has been a long and close one. He was a student at the college from 1924-26, back in Wayland's junior college days, receiving the Associate of Arts degree.

It was Claude Hutcherson, with a dream for a new gymnasium and physical education center at Wayland Baptist College, a new home for the Flying Queens and Wayland Pioneers, who made the first donation to the facility back in December, 1957, to Dr. A. Hope Owen, then president of the college.

It was also Claude Hutcherson, when the college began a full-scale drive to raise funds for a new physical education center, who came across with the largest pledge to the building, some $150,000. Because of his continuing generosity to Wayland through sponsorship of the Flying Queens and his generosity on the particular project of the physical education center, members of Wayland's Board of Trustees recently unanimously voted to name the center, The Hutcherson Physical Education Center.

In the recommendation of the Board it was proposed that "the new physical education center be officially named The Hutcherson Physical Education Center in recognition of the major donation toward its construction and the 21 years of generous support to the Wayland athletic program with special sponsorship of women's basketball by Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hutcherson of Plainview."

The Hutcherson Physical Education Center is expected to be completed by August.

Besides sponsorship of the Queens, Hutcherson is a member of various committees for the improvement of women's basketball and, working hand-in-hand with Flying Queen Coach, Harley J.

Redin, for 16 years is trying to further the women's game. The two fought hard as advocates of international rules for women, which put just five women on a team instead of the previous six. This gives women unlimited dribble and full-court play.

In pushing for this rule change and others, Hutcherson spent many hours in committee meetings and working for what he feels to be important changes in the women's game.

Hutcherson's $25,000 plus per year operation of the Flying Queens is not without its rewards. He admits that his sponsorship of the women gives Hutcherson Air Service one of the finest bits of advertising that he could buy. While traveling with the team even strangers ask for information that often leads to sales which might never have been made if it were not for his sponsorship of the team.

The Queens have become internationally famous due to Hutcherson's sponsorship. They have broken many records in women's basketball. Their seven years of National AAU championships attest to their ability and in years passed, the Flying Queens have formed the nucleus of two United States Pam-American teams, and have formed the basis for United States teams to Russia and Switzerland in 1961, and to the World Tournament in Peru in 1963.

They also broke the record for consecutive wins with 131 straight, a record which still stands.

The colorful fleet of Bonanzas has carried the Hutcherson Flying Queens over a wide range of territory in the past 22 years. In addition to trips to Mexico, the team has played in major cities in Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Tennessee, Missouri, Georgia, Iowa, Colorado, California, Kansas, North Carolina, and in New York at Madison Square Garden.

Not only do the Hutchersons fly the Queens to games but pay all hotel and food bills and buy such equipment as the players' colorful blue and gold uniforms. At the end of the season, they also provide the awards.

Much more than a business relationship is maintained by Hutcherson with the Queens. He receives genuine satisfaction from helping the women play basketball and frequently reaches into his own pocket to help them finance a car following graduation or meet incidental expenses while attending college. He keeps a close correspondence with most of the former Flying Queens.

Pretty Gardens No Accident

There's no foolproof plan for growing an attractive garden, but soil preparation, fertilization, watering, and the use of good plants are some practices that can help.

Garden soils should be loose and friable to prevent crusting during dry spells with digging up the soil and working in of plenty of spagnum peat moss. A layer of three to four inches should be applied over the bed and worked into the soil to six or eight inches.

Fertilizer should be mixed in when preparing the flower bed at the rate of two to three pounds of complete fertilizer per 100 square feet. Janne notes that a proper fertilizer should have an analysis of 8-8-8 or similar type, and light monthly applications during the summer with thorough watering after each application will insure large plants with ample flowers.

Young plants must be thoroughly watered at transplanting time. Plants should be watered regularly except during rainy periods. A thorough soaking every five to seven days is better than a light daily application.

Gardeners that take advantage of the new and better varieties will be rewarded with more flowers and brighter color throughout the season. Gardeners are warned against trying to save seed from the new hybrid lines since the results are usually disappointing.

Oil Drilling Continues At Whitharral

A Lamb County exploration, Gulf Oil Corporation's number one A. L. E. Bartlett, has been plugged and abandoned after being drilled to total depth of 8,666 feet.

The drillsite is 660 feet from the north and west lines of Section 44, Block W, E. K. Warren Subdivision, Survey Number one.

Oil exploration continues in the Whitharral area in Hockley County. Champlin Petroleum Company completed number one Hezzie Carson as the second producer in the recently opened Whitharral (lower Clear Fork) field, four miles east of Whitharral.

Perforations from 6,793-6,933 feet potential to pump 264 feet barrels of load water in 24 hours. Gas-oil ratio was 119-1. The section was stimulated with 3,000 gallons of acid and fractured with 60,000 gallons of fluid plus 84,000 pounds of sand.

The drillsite is a northwest offset to Marathon's number one Marathon-Champlin, Jones. That well yielded 221 barrels of 26.4 gravity oil plus a trace of water on a 24-hour potential test of perforations at 6,913-6,938 feet.

The number one Carson drilled to a total depth of 7,100. It set four and one-half inch casing at that point and plugged back to 6,957 feet for the completion through perforations.

SEDELL'S BARBER SHOP

Haircuts and Hairstyling by Appointment beginning Saturday, May 1st.

I will offer a new service to the men and boys of Littlefield and surrounding Area. This is a service that I think anyone who has better things to do than wait, can appreciate. Keep in mind, there are two kinds of appointments. Standing appointments for the man who wants to get his barber work on a regular basis, and call in appointments for the man who must get his haircuts between jobs or just when he can find the time. On week days these appointments are usually made just a little while ahead of time. Or call a day or two ahead and name your own time.

In addition to the usual type haircuts I have been offering, I will now be giving the Roffler Sculpture Kut and styling and the Avante. Also, I now do hair straightening and hair coloring and sell the very best custom made hairpieces that you can buy anywhere. I urge any of you men that have been considering a hairpiece to call for an appointment to discuss these. I have the Capillo Scope and can analyze and treat scalp and hair conditions and deficiencies. So any of you fellows that your hair is coming out by the handfuls, call for an appointment. We may be able to save it for you.

In His Hand

What high company; What a privilege to be held in the palm of the strong hand of God. No man dare trying to stand alone... to walk without Him. Just as surely, no man can fail when God is with him. "My Father, which gave them me, is greater than all; and no man is able to pluck them out of my Father's hand." John 10:29. He has everybody in His Hand. He who would be wise should step upon the strong hand of God this day and take Him at his word. He said, "My grace is sufficient for thee." Only trust Him. Help support His cause ~~through~~ every week and may the Lord ever be with thee.

You In The Church The Church In You form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the Church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us worship. Let us support the program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

Payment Reduction Ruling Is Softened

Original regulations of the 1971 cotton program decreed that farmers who lost cotton crops after the normal cotton planting season would lose a third of their cotton payments if the same land was replanted to another crop for harvest or if they chose to use the "failed acreage" as set-aside.

Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. and other producer spokesmen objected to this provision on the grounds that producers should not be penalized for hailstorms, sandstorms, drought or other phenomena over which they have no control. And the ruling is now being softened by new regulations which permit the payment reduction to be waived in certain cases.

Generally, the new rules say payments are not to be reduced if a farmer can convince the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Committee and a representative of the State ASCS Committee that he has made an honest, conscientious effort to plant and produce a cotton crop and has been prevented from doing so by the elements.

County ASCS offices have now been instructed that "A reduction of the price support payment will not be required if (a) the crop is not planted because of adverse weather conditions in an area designated by the Secretary as a disaster area, or (b) a standing crop is entirely lost due to a sudden, violent natural disaster such as a hurricane, tornado, hailstorm, sandstorm or flood."

Other conditions which must be met under the new directive to prevent payment loss are (1) the disaster must continue through or occur after the end of the "normal planting season," (2) the producer must request "prevented planting or failed acreage" credit in sufficient time for a representative of the County office to visit the farm to confirm evidence of the natural disaster, and this must be done before crop remains, if any, are disturbed, and (3) the request must be approved by the County ASCS Committee and a representative of the State Committee.

The "normal season" varies from area, and specific dates which producers will be required to replant acreage to cotton are assigned for each of the growing counties in the State. Of the 25 High Plains counties represented by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. the planting season for payment purposes will be: May 20 for DeWitt County; May 25 for Garza, Castro, Swisher, Floyd and that portion of County which lies above Caprock; June 1 for Lamb, Cochran, Lubbock and Crosby; for Motley, Borden, and the area below the in Briscoe; June 15 for Garza, Yoakum, Lynn, Dawson, Martin and June 20 for Garza.

PCG Executive President Donald quotes one ASCS official saying "It has never been intention to penalize who are hit by disasters, nor do we make full cotton price payments to a farmer doesn't do everything with power to produce a crop."

TOPS Club Names Queen

The Be-Little TOPS Club in a regular session Tuesday evening, April 27, named a woman being weighed in as the club's queen.

The meeting was presided over by Hazel Davis, club president, and the club's president said in union.

Roll call was answered by the number of pounds gained. The minutes were read and approved.

Queen for the week was Norma Holtkamp with 15 pounds loss; runner-up Jimmy Hayes with a 10 pound loss.

Veida Gage read an award for "Surgery Used Weight."

There were twenty members and one new member present.
