SIMON D. HAY WINS COUNTY JUDGE'S OFFICE IN LAMB COUNTY

GOVERNOR MOODY LEADS STATE TICKET; MAYFIELD LEADING CONNALLY

POLITICAL CAMPAIGN CLOSES IN A BATTLE OF BALLOTS TOTALING 2177 IN ALL VOTING BOXES THRUOUT CO.

Probably the most exciting campaign ever waged in the history of Lamb county was concluded Friday night when the campaigners all over the county withdrew in preparation for the battle of ballots on the morrow, complete returns of which are not yet available, and will not be until the ballots are checked next Saturday at the county seat.

The principal interest was centered in the county judge's race between Judge E. N. Burrus, of Olton, and Commissioner Simon D. Hay, of Sudan. The compiled record indicates that Hay was elected by a majority of 425. The county vote, as reported in contested offices, is as follows:

County Judge — Simon D. Hay, 500; E. N. Burrus, 76; Tax Assessor — Roy Gattis, 1269; Roy Gilbert, 879; County Clerk — A. H. McCracken, 1926; County Treasurer — M. Brittain, 1901; County Attorney — T. Wade Potter, 1865; Sheriff — Tax Collector — Len Irvin, 1848. The vote of contesting offices in Littlefield box was: Hay, 500; Burrus, 138; Gattis, 420; Gilbert, 324; Connell, 324; Horn, 288; Kay, 1; Snow, 169; Elms, 336; Willis, 1; Jones, 246; Jeffries, 161. J. F. Foust was elected County Commissioner in Precinct 4, and C. E. Strawn in Precinct 3. The vote of Foust at Littlefield was 507; at Abilene, 23; for Cantrell at Littlefield, it was 42; at Amherst 238. In Precinct 3 the voting was: Field — Strawn, 99; J. M. Blessing, 8; Low House — Strawn 96; Blessing, 23. For the legislature the Littlefield vote was: Smythe, 195; Tarwater, 71. State reports in the race of state senators show little change over that shown on the first of the week. Governor Dan Moody's majority is 398. There will be a run-off between Mayfield and Tom Connally for senator. Returns from 245 of 253 Texas counties, including 94 complete, in Sunday's democratic primary, as compiled by the Texas election bureau, gave: For United States Senator: Mayfield 172,272; Connally 156,291; Owens 111,456; Blanton 106,095; Cunningham 25,915; McLemore 8,971. Governor: Moody 375,862; Ward 219,367; Hawkins 27,916; Willis 15,825. Lieutenant Governor: Miller 259,089; Parnell 168,818; Parnell 64,073; Darby 39,233; McCall 35,072. Comptroller: Terrell 381,408; Jones 317. State Treasurer: Hatcher 334,505; 190,448. Superintendent of Public Instruction: Marrs 260,402; Garner 109,479; Jones 94,697; Davis 82,612. Land Commissioner: Robison 257,399; Terrell 150,356; Britton 69,399; 47,451. Railroad Commissioner: Lon Smith 195,957; Jefferson Smith 139,288. Judge Court of Criminal Appeals: Brown 338,401; Pierson 187,775. Eighteenth District, 53 counties returns from 44 counties, 13 complete: Jones 37,716; Bell 21,388.

Appointments Made By Rotary Club For The Coming Yr.

The principal feature of the Rotary meeting held last week was a very interesting address by Dr. Hunt, president, McMurray college, Abilene, who is holding a union meeting in Littlefield at this time. R. E. McCaskill, vice-president had charge of the meeting, which was opened with community singing by the 16 members present. Committees for the ensuing year were appointed as follows: Aims and Objects—K. F. Allbright, J. S. Hilliard, R. E. McCaskill, T. W. Potter, Geo. E. Turrentine. Vocational Service—R. E. McCaskill, Otto Jones, Sam Rumbach. Club Service—A. C. Chesher, W. J. Harris, G. E. Turrentine, E. A. Bills, C. C. Clements, T. S. Sales, Clyde Willis, T. Wade Potter. Community Service—Geo. E. Turrentine, J. E. Barnes, F. G. Sadler. Classification—W. J. Harris, E. A. Bills, F. G. Sadler. Program—E. A. Bills, Max McClure, R. E. McCaskill. Fellowship—C. C. Clements, F. G. Sadler, A. C. Chesher. Educational—Clyde Willis, Geo. E. Turrentine. Public Relations—T. Wade Potter, W. H. Harris, Mack McClure.

THE PLEASURE IS MINE.

It is indeed a pleasure at this time to express my appreciation to the many friends and voters who so loyally supported my campaign for County Judge in the primary of last Saturday. I am indeed grateful, and shall do my utmost to merit your confidence when I come into this office by giving my constituents of my very best endeavors. —SIMON D. HAY. Itc

YOUR VOTES APPRECIATED

Not because it is customary, but because I sincerely appreciate the votes and good will of the people residing in Precinct Three, I am herewith expressing my sincere thanks for all your good will and favorable acts prior and during the Democratic primary last Saturday. After all, good service is the best commendation of an officer serving the people, and I assure you it shall be my endeavor to give my constituents even better service in the future than during the past. C. E. STRAWN.

Lfd. Association To Give Dividends To Its Members

At a called meeting of the Littlefield National Farm Loan association, held last Friday, it was voted the capital stock be increased to $15,000.00. The stockholders were also notified of the declaration of a three per cent dividend for the six months ending July 1. The association has never failed to pay less than six per cent on its stock, and has sometimes gone as high as 10 per cent during the past five years, according to Secretary E. C. Cundiff. It is a fact worthy of notice that the Federal Land Bank, of Houston, has recently raised the land valuation around Littlefield $6.00 per acre, giving a present value of $45.00 per acre $22.50 being the loan value. The local association has now placed more than $266,000.00 with the farmers of this section. The present membership is 76.

MY APPRECIATION TO THE VOTERS OF LAMB COUNTY

Out of the spoils of battle there comes victory and defeat. I am grateful for being numbered among the victors of Lamb county in the Democratic primary of last Saturday, and take this opportunity of expressing my sincere appreciation to those who favored me with their votes and influence. It shall be my desire and effort to serve my constituents the coming two years even better than during the past. To those who did not vote for me, I wish it to be known that I bear no ill will against them. We are all brothers and citizens of this great county, so let us work together for its betterment. May I also take this opportunity of expressing my appreciation of the clean campaign waged against me by my honorable opponent, Roy Gilbert. I consider him a gentleman of the highest order. He tells me he will again be a candidate for the office of tax assessor two years from now, and I commend him to your confidence. Itc —ROY L. GATTIS.

THANKS TO VOTERS

I wish to express my sincere thanks to the citizens of Precinct 4 for the vote given me in the primary for Constable.—J. O. CONNELL. 16-Itc

NOTICE OF HEARING

Property owners within the City of Littlefield, Texas are hereby notified that the City Equalization Board will be in session Thursday, August 16th, for the purpose of adjusting tax values within the city. All property owners will be mailed notices of the tax value as placed by the board. If those values do not meet with the approval of the owners they should appear before the Board and so state their reasons. The meeting will be held at the City hall, starting at 1:00 p. m. 16-2tc —J. C. WHICKER, Chairman.

Business Condition In the State Much Better Now

AUSTIN, July 31.—Business and industrial conditions at the end of the first half of the year were encouraging, according to Bervard Nichols, editor of the Texas Business review, issued monthly by the Bureau of Business Research, at the University of Texas. "Favorable influences outweigh the unfavorable factors," he said. "Prosperity over the entire United States so far this year has been due largely to three important industries—automobiles, steel and building. Since only one of these, building, is important in Texas, this state has had to look to other lines to account for the half-year's progress. "The outstanding development has probably been the improvement in agriculture, which shows favorable weather conditions, high prices and ample labor supply. Livestock is in good condition. Business is active, as is indicated by the large volume of checks cashed. Loans and discounts at member banks of the Federal Reserve system have increased seasonally. Interest rates are higher, but there is no change in the four and one-half per cent rediscount rate at the Dallas Federal Reserve Bank. "A new high record was established in the number of charters granted during the first six months of the year, with a total of 1,414 new companies being capitalized at $234,000,000. Petroleum, as an industry, still improves. Textile mills curtailed output seasonably. Cotton sales fell off. Spinners' margin also decreased one point. Seasonal curtailment is general in the lumber industry. Wholesale prices were downward.

THANKS TO THE VOTERS

I wish to take this opportunity of expressing my sincere thanks and appreciation to the citizens of Lamb county for the large and favorable vote accorded me in the recent Democratic primary, and for all their good words and works in my behalf. Two years from now I shall again be a candidate for the office of tax assessor in Lamb county, and am at this time asking your favorable consideration.—ROY GILBERT. Itc

Opportunity For College Training at Home Will be Taken Advantage of By Boys and Girls From the High School

Now that the Littlefield college is beginning to assume real physical proportions, many of Littlefield's young men and women are discussing matriculation, and several of the high school graduates during the past two or three years, have decided upon a higher education, since it may be obtained so conveniently. A college in any community is always worth while, because of the ideals it sets forth and the high quality of the citizenship it brings to that community in its faculty members and student body. It is worth while to any community because of the saving it brings in giving sons and daughters the opportunity of pursuing their studies at greater length, which might otherwise be prohibited for lack of funds to attend a similar institution away from home. Then, too, many of the high school graduates are not yet settled in their course of living, and a couple of years spent at home in a junior college furnishes the parents a considerable satisfaction, at the same time giving the pupils an opportunity to "find themselves" more thoroughly before taking the senior work. A college education is worth while. The great social and economic places of life are filled by the men and women who are prepared. The old adage, "room at the top," was never more true than today. There is always a crying need for those who are trained to occupy the positions of responsibility in labor, business and professional life. True, some one occasionally gains wealth or prestige who is not well educated, in a literary sense; but that is invariably an exception to the rule. By far the major number of those who hold the coveted prizes of life are the ones who have striven and prepared themselves for such. Education is the gradual emancipation from the thralldom of incompetency. It teaches orderly thinking, cultivates the faculties of reason and judgment, where, most of the failures of life arise. It is not because a student learns so many facts, formulas or statistics in college that gives him or her the advantage, the almanacs and encyclopedias contain all these and they may be obtained upon brief research; but the fact that the mind of the student is developed in application, concentration, the power of analysis, the ability to grasp former processes or to logically establish new precedents, is what marks them for efficient and successful futures. Association with minds that are trained and with those already having high ideals established is one of the college boons. Many a great man today pays tribute to the personal contact, influence and advice he enjoyed with his professors during his college career. They are bright memory spots that will never be effaced so long as he lives. It is in the college that the value of books and friendships are learned and placed at their highest values. Books are guideposts along the highway of life. Many of them are the true lifeblood of great men and women. Without the limitations of time or the inconvenience of travel they permit one to keep company with the great and good of all generations. Through history and biography one can intelligently interpret much of the present in the light of the past. Very few college graduates are there but who look back to their college days with a pride and joy, not only because of what the curriculum has taught them, but also for the never-dying friendships formed and the memory of associations never dimmed. A college education furnishes one with a broader and firmer outlook upon life. It breeds tolerance, champions reality, and furnishes a readiness to accept truth, no matter from what source it may come; to batter down the prejudices of the past looking with optimistic view toward the future, and to lift the boot-strap of one's mental being until their feet have been placed upon a plane of ideals where real values and qualities are recognized as paramount, and one is best equipped for the prosecution of the needed things of the world, and for enjoyment of the best and noblest to which the human race is heir. Now that the opportunity is presented, every Littlefield boy and girl who has finished high school should not fail to avail themselves of the privilege of attending college.

A T-Anchor Reunion Held at Canyon On August 23rd

CANYON, July 31.—August 23rd has been set for the date of the annual T-Anchor reunion at Canyon, according to R. E. Baird, who has been assisting with the formation of the program for the annual event. John Arnott, of Amarillo, is president and Miss Laura V. Hammer, of Amarillo, is secretary of the association. Those eligible for admission to the big round-up must show evidence that they have been engaged in the cattle business, either puncher, owner or otherwise engaged in the business up to and including the year 1895. This is not an old settler's picnic, and the committee has decided that cards for admission must be presented to the puncher at the gate before one will be allowed at the roundup. These cards will cost $2.00 for the head of each family, the widows of cowmen and punchers being exempt from this charge. Barbecue, frijoles, sour dough biscuits and black coffee will be on the menu of the day. On the opening of the twenty-third, "Skillity Bill" Johnson's camp fire and story hour will take place. He requests that all old cowmen bring their bedding and camp out for the night. Features for the evening's program will be the sour dough biscuit at the supper time and the old time fiddling and informal talks following. MOTHER SETS EXAMPLE That Miss Carmaleta Baze, formerly of Littlefield, but now of Oklahoma City, has recently been married, is the information received by the Leader just as this paper goes to press. Full details of the wedding will appear in next week's issue.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT PROVIDING FOR A STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION AND RELATING TO TERMS OF SCHOOL OFFICERS.

H. J. R. No. 14.]

Proposing to amend Article 7 of the Constitution of the State of Texas by adding thereto Section 16, providing that the term of all officers of the public free school system, including State institutions of higher education, may be fixed not to exceed six years; proposing to amend Section 8 of Article 7 of said Constitution, authorizing the appointment or election of a State Board of Education to serve not to exceed six years; requiring said amendments to be submitted to the people for adoption and making appropriations therefor.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Article 7 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto Section 16 as follows:

"The Legislature shall fix by law the terms of all officers of the public school system and of the State institutions of higher education, inclusive, and the terms of members of the respective boards, not to exceed six years."

Sec. 2. That Section 8 of Article 7 of the Constitution be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

"The Legislature shall provide by law for a State Board of Education, whose members shall be appointed or elected in such manner and by such authority and shall serve for such terms as the Legislature shall prescribe not to exceed six years. The said board shall perform such duties as may be prescribed by law."

Sec. 3. The foregoing constitutional amendments shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State, at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1928, at which all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:

(1) "For the amendment to Article 7, adding Section 16, providing that school officers, including boards of institutions of higher education, shall serve for a term not exceeding six years."

"Against the amendment to Article 7, adding Section 16, providing that school officers, including boards of institutions of higher education, shall serve for a term not exceeding six years."

(2) "For the amendment to Section 8 of Article 7 of the Constitution, providing for the appointment of a State Board of Education."

"Against the amendment to Section 8 of Article 7 of the Constitution, providing for the appointment of a State Board of Education."

Each voter shall scratch out one of the above listed clauses on the ballot, leaving the one expressing his vote on the proposed amendment to which it relates.

Sec. 4. The Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation ordering an election to determine whether or not the proposed constitutional amendments set forth herein shall be adopted, and to have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State. And the sum of five thousand ($5,000.00) dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated from any funds in the State Treasury, not otherwise appropriated to defray the expenses of printing said proclamation and of holding said election. Aug. 2, 9, 16, 23, 1928.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT — AUTHORIZING LEGISLATURE TO EXEMPT FROM TAXATION PARSONAGES, AND CERTAIN PROPERTY OF ASSOCIATIONS FOR RELIGIOUS, EDUCATIONAL AND PHYSICAL DEVELOPMENT.

H. J. R. No. 20.]

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION.

Proposing an amendment to Section 2, Article 8 of the Constitution of the State, so as to authorize the Legislature to exempt from taxation any property owned by a church or by a strictly religious society for the exclusive use as a dwelling place for the ministry of such church or religious society, and which yields no revenue whatever to such church or religious society, and property used exclusively and reasonably necessary in conducting any association engaged in promoting the religious, educational and physical development of boys, girls, young men or young women operating under a State or National organization of like character; providing for an election upon such proposed Constitutional Amendment, and making an appropriation therefor.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Section 2, Article 8 of the Constitution be so changed as to read hereafter as follows:

All occupation taxes shall be equal and uniform upon the same class of subjects within the limits of the authority levying the tax; but the legislature may, by general laws, exempt from taxation public property used for religious worship, also any property owned by a church or by a strictly religious society for the exclusive use as a dwelling place for the ministry of such church or religious society, and which yields no revenue whatever to such church or religious society; provided that such exemption shall not extend to more property than is reasonably necessary for a dwelling place and in no event more than one acre of land; places of burial not held for private or corporate profit; all buildings used exclusively and owned by persons or associations of persons for school purposes and the necessary furniture of all schools and property used exclusively and reasonably necessary in conducting any association engaged in promoting the religious, educational and physical development of boys, girls, young men or young women operating under a State or National organization of like character; also the endowment funds of such institutions of learning and religion not used with a view to profit; and when the same are invested in bonds or mortgages, or in land or other property which has been and shall hereafter be bought in by such institutions under foreclosure sales made to satisfy or protect such bonds or mortgages, that such exemption of such land and property shall continue only for two years after the purchase of the same at such sale by such institutions and no longer, and institutions of purely public charity; and all laws exempting property from taxation other than the property above mentioned shall be null and void.

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held throughout the State on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1928, at which election all voters favoring said proposed amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words "For the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, exempting from taxes property owned by churches or strictly religious societies for the exclusive use as dwellings for the ministry;" and all those opposed shall write or have printed on their ballots the words "Against the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, exempting from taxes property owned by churches or strictly religious societies for the exclusive use as dwellings for the ministry."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have same published as required by the Constitution and existing laws of the State.

Sec. 4. The sum of Two Thousand Dollars ($2000.00) or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State not otherwise appropriated to pay the expenses of said publication and election. Aug. 2, 9, 16, 23, 1928.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT — AUTHORIZING LEGISLATURE TO GRANT CONFEDERATE PENSIONERS REGARDLESS OF DATE PENSIONER CAME TO TEXAS OR WHEN WIDOW

MARRIED PENSIONER OR WHEN SHE WAS BORN.

H. J. R. No. 15.]

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION.

Proposing an amendment to Section 51, Article 3, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, authorizing a tax levy for Confederate soldiers and sailors and their widows, and providing for submission of same to the qualified electors of this State at any election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1928, and providing the necessary proclamation and appropriation to defray expenses of proclamation, publication and election.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Section 51, of Article 3, of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to read as follows:

"The Legislature shall have no power to make any grant or authorize the making of any grant of public moneys to any individual, association of individuals, municipal or other corporations whatsoever; provided, however, the Legislature may grant aid to indigent and disabled Confederate soldiers and sailors under such regulations and limitations as may be deemed by the Legislature as expedient, and to their widows in indigent circumstances as may be deemed by the Legislature as expedient; to indigent and disabled soldiers, who, under special laws of the State of Texas, during the war between the States, served in organizations for the protection of the frontier against Indian raids or Mexican marauders, and to indigent and disabled soldiers of the militia who were in active service during the war between the States, and to the widows of such soldiers who are or may be eligible to receive aid under such regulations and limitations as may be deemed by the Legislature as expedient; and also grant for the establishment and maintenance of a home for said soldiers and sailors, their wives and widows and women who aided in the Confederacy, under such regulations and limitations as may be provided for by law; provided the Legislature may provide for husband and wife to remain together in the home. There is hereby levied in addition to all other taxes heretofore permitted by the Constitution of Texas, a State ad valorem tax on property of seven ($.07) cents on the one hundred ($100) dollars valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the payment of pensions for services in the Confederate army and navy, frontier organizations and the militia of the State of Texas, and for the widows of such soldiers serving in said armies, navies, organizations or militia; provided that the Legislature may reduce the tax rate herein levied, and provided further, that the provisions of this section shall not be construed so as to prevent the grant of aid in cases of public calamity."

Section 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1928, at which all ballots shall have printed thereon "For the constitutional amendment authorizing aid to Confederate soldiers and sailors and their widows in indigent circumstances, and authorizing tax levy therefor," and "Against the constitutional amendment authorizing aid to Confederate soldiers and sailors and their widows in indigent circumstances and authorizing tax levy therefor." Each voter shall scratch out one of said clauses on the ballot, leaving the one expressing his vote on the proposed amendment.

Section 3. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State. The sum of $5,000.00 or so much thereof as may be needed is hereby appropriated for the expense of publication of said Amendment. Aug. 2, 9, 16, 23, 1928.

herent in the human mind, is being attested to by the union meeting in Evangelism of the Methodist and Presbyterian Churches of Littlefield. Those who would like to consider themselves members of the intelligensia might say that curiosity was all that brought out the throngs who have listened, and are still listening, to the words of the Gospel. Curiosity might bring a person out once, perhaps twice, but curiosity has never, in my experience, brought the same people out night after night, and day after day; nor yet did curiosity ever place upon the faces of the people the intent look such as they have had during these meetings. It is the desire to know, and to know now, what it is in our inmost being that, perhaps subconsciously, is seeking an outlet; the Spirit of the Almighty, and of His Son, Jesus, is the cause of the attendance and attention.

The meetings so far, have been a tremendous success. Hundreds have come to listen to the Word, and many have departed conscious of the power of the Holy Spirit working in them. We have listened to powerful preaching upon issues, that many people like to consider dead, but which are more tremendously alive today than ever before.

Dr. Hunt, a former Methodist pastor, present President of McMurray College of Abilene, and an educationist of note in the State of Texas, is the man whom we have been fortunate enough to obtain to conduct these meetings. It has been the privilege, or the misfortune, of the writer to have listened to many of the well known evangelists of the day, and, with the exception of one or two they have lacked even a modicum of brains and their insincerity was apparent even to a child in the audience. Littlefield now has the opportunity of hearing one who is sincere, who is a forceful preacher, and who has had an education comparable with the best. I have had the privilege of being in the company of Dr. Hunt several times during the past ten days, and I have found him to be a most sincere man, a brilliant thinker, and one who makes an appeal to me as being a man's man; these being characteristics all too few in evangelism. His sermons have been full of power, full of common sense, and to the point. The fact that it takes a man to be a follower of the Master is plain to all who have had the privilege of knowing Dr. Hunt. Those who do not believe that it takes manliness to be a Christian, and that Jesus Himself was a man of all men, let him read the twenty-third and twenty-fourth chapters of Matthew.

Though hundreds have heard him, and have come under the influence of his message, there are yet hundreds more who have yet to hear him, and it is to those that we make this appeal. Can we not, as men, give one hour of our time to That One who laid down his life that we might live? Each one of us possesses what Immanuel Kant, the greatest philosophic mind since the days of Plato, calls "The Sense of Oughtness," and it is this same sense of oughtness that should teach us to follow the Master. Kant destroyed what the so-called "pure reason" could not vindicate. We may think we are rationalists, but are we?

Sunday night will be the last opportunity to hear this great preacher, and I think that each one of us should take the opportunity now, while we have it, to listen to his messages. Tonight Dr. Hunt will preach a sermon upon the evils of the modern dance, showing to us what the different branches of the Church think of it, and what they have said concerning it in their conferences and assemblies. "A Social Engagement a Young Man's Ruin" will be a warning well worth taking to ourselves. On Friday night the sermon will be "The Trails That Lead to the Alkali Bogs." At this hour Dr. Hunt will reminisce, telling us of his experiences of the "Trail." All those who have been cowboys, or have in anyway been connected with this cattle country in its early days are especially invited to attend. There will be services both mornings, and one Saturday evening. Sunday morning and evening will bring the end to a powerful ministry. "Come all ye that weary and heavy laden and I will give you rest," saith Jesus.

"Flies have caused more deaths than all wars," says Major Ransom of the Medical Department of the United States Army. "Since the fly came into the world it has been synonymous with epidemics of pestilence and disease." But with FLY-TOX it is a very simple easy matter to rid the house of flies—to keep it fresh and clean, free of insect taint. FLY-TOX is the scientific insecticide developed at Mellon Institute of Industrial Research by Rex Fellowship. Simple instructions for killing ALL household insects on blue labeled bottles. Decline in used car values is shown by a survey of the Blue Book prices compiled by the National Association of Finance Companies. Average appraised value of a one-year old car is now 88 per cent of the original list price. Five years ago, the average appraisal was 54 per cent. Similar decreases are shown in cars of an older vintage.

that is winning new thousands every week

Pontiac Six has long served as an outstanding example of quality—of materials, of design and of workmanship. No other six so low in price offers bodies by Fisher—with the high-grade coachwork and materials which the Fisher emblem represents. None other offers a 186 cu. in. engine —together with the stamina and long life for which Pontiac is famed. And none other enjoys the advantages of being built in the world's most modern automobile plant. Why not learn what such high quality of materials, design and construction means to a motor car? Why not drive a Pontiac Six today?

Editor and Publisher

Subscribers who change their addresses, or fail to get their paper, should immediately notify this office, giving both new and old addresses. Communications of local interest are solicited. They should be briefly written, on only one side of the paper, and must reach this office not later than Wednesday noon of each week. The right of revision or rejection is reserved by the publisher.

Advertising that does not show in its text or typography that it is paid for must be marked as an advertisement. All local advertisements remain in this paper for the time specified or until ordered out. All notices, matters not by whom nor for what purpose, if the object is to raise money by admission fee or otherwise, is an advertisement and when sent in for publication must be paid for at the regular advertising rate per line for each issue printed.

Obituaries, cards of thanks, and resolutions of respect will also be charged for at the same rate.

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of the Littlefield Leader will be gladly corrected upon its being brought to the attention of the publisher.

In case of errors or omissions in local or other advertisements, the publisher does not hold himself liable for damage further than the amount received by him for such advertisement.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Anger has some claim to indulgence and railing is usually a relief to the mind.—Junius.

ANENT HOME LABOR

¶ In last week's issue of the Leader, "Subscriber" called the hand of this editor for permitting foreign labor to glut the local market and at the expense of home bread-eaters and would be tax payers. "Subscriber's" objection is timely, and the Leader appreciates very much the compliment paid its czarism, but unfortunately, it has no more direct authority in the matter of enforcing the use of home labor than it has in that of making some of its citizens vote for home interests in political matters.

True, the Leader has oftentimes called attention to the error of its buyers in spending their money abroad, thus boycotting local business concerns specifically, and mitigating the welfare of the community generally. It has also frequently attacked the labor problem and numerous other problems, irregularities and misdoings, with more or less favorable results.

There was a distinct understanding between the Littlefield college committee and officials of that college that local labor was to be used wherever possible in the building constructions. Upon direct question by the Mayor, it was also the answer of a representative of the Dozier Construction company that they would employ local labor in the street paving now in progress, where such was acceptable to the quality of work at hand.

Nearly every municipality has individuals and factions that are incorrigible to majority interests and inimical to community progress, yet remain there sapping their substance, like plethoric leeches, from the body economic; but give nothing in return.

Whereas the principal purpose of a town is the rearing together for community good and convenience, there are also some of any given incorporation who join the group of residents apparently with the idea of getting for themselves all they can from the rest, while the getting is good. This statement is made in a general way, and with no direct application to the two concerns previously alluded to in this editorial.

Only last week a local business man called our attention to another dealer who recently built for himself and friend wife a delightful little cottage. The contractor for the job was imported from a nearby city. When it was finished, the owner proceeded to buy his furniture from out of town concerns, with the exception of 15 cents worth of picture cord, which was purchased locally. This is but an illustration of what this Apostle of Home Loyalty has to put up with. Numerous others could be cited.

It would be a cruel person indeed, who would go into a hospital and tear off the bandages from the sores of its patients without pouring on any healing oils or offering any comforting prescriptions. And the "Subscriber" who calls attention to a festering sore on the body of our economic and political community without suggestion of any means of alleviation is about as thoughtless and hard hearted. It is always easier to criticize than to praise; yet constructive criticism is often helpful, especially where it carries even a modicum of method for improvement.

The Leader is glad to have this criticism of "Subscriber" anent the local labor situation. We will also be glad to give "Subscriber" room to state the causes, effects and how such conditions may be remedied. There are a host of citizens here who would appreciate such analysis and corrective.

That the majority of Lamb county voters are a judge of good Hay was demonstrated in the primary last Saturday.

PICNIC DAYS

¶ The picnic and outing season is now here in full blast, and there is no more pleasing custom in American life. Picnics break down the stiffness of indoor gatherings and give people more chance to romp like the children they really are. Somehow the standoffishness melts away at a picnic, and many a fellow that we thought was a stiff, touch-me-not proves to be a good scout when he gets thawed out.

It is a good thing to get away from the narrow streets that bound the gaze and form the same picture day in and day out. Sameness is a disease, and life grows stagnant without change. In picnics we get right down to earth; we eat, we sit on the ground, we feel the wonderful comfort that soft grass and cool earth can give as nothing else gives. We get a chance to relax, to breathe more easily and the best part of all—to talk to our friends and relatives with a mind on the conversation instead of on business cares. It's the kind of conversation that puts us on a more friendly basis with those who share this neighborhood with us; the kind that makes us realize just how fortunate we are in having right around Littlefield some of the finest men and women and boys and girls that can be found in this or any other community on the face of the earth.

If you haven't attended a picnic yet this year, get out and hunt up one. And if you can't find one get busy and circulate among your friends and neighbors and make arrangements for holding one. You'll find it one of the happiest and most enjoyable jobs you ever undertook.

Back in the days when girls put more of themselves and less of their money in clothes it wasn't necessary to look in the dictionary to find modesty.

BEING TOO THRIFTY

¶ Again the man with the long lead pencil and penchant for infinitesimal statistics has got busy.

This time it is Lord Askwith, of England, who figures that the world suffers a loss of thirty billion dollars a year by the rusting of metals. It must take considerable patience to diagnose the almost ultra-microscopic oxidation of a single piece of metal, then bunch it all together for a vision that needs an ultra-high power telescope to get the eye and mind around it; but such has been the case.

The Lord says the biggest portion of this sum loss is by farmers who leave their tools unprotected from the relentless elements of the weather and if all the world offarmers are like most of them in this part of Texas one can readily believe the statement. Out here the principal type of implement shed in vogue is the fence corner, where the plow, harrow or lister is forgotten from the last time of usage until the first need of the following year. Implement dealers have figured the depreciation on farm implements caused by lack of care at from two to ten per cent per annum.

Yet there is another side to this question. If farmers protected their implements against rust and decay, it would mean they would need fewer implements, and that, in turn, would mean cutting down the working forces of the factories that turn them out. So where one part of the world would be saving, another would be losing by reason of their thrift. Farmers, notwithstanding their constant crying need, are in the main generous hearted folks, tho it has never occurred to us before that perhaps they were deliberately boycotting the lumber dealers and leaving their machinery out in the open weather, sheltered under the blue canopy of heaven for the particular reason of keeping the factories busy and their workmen employed. Perhaps here is a philanthropy and a discrimination which hitherto has not been generally recognized.

Thirty million dollars is a lot of money, yet if saving a big part of it means losing another big part, maybe we can just as well afford to forget it, and go ahead letting rust have its own way.

It takes a marriage license to get married on, and sometimes an auto license to boot.

WALKING ON ROADS

¶ We note in an exchange where an estimable woman was struck and killed while walking along a highway, a motorist running into her while going around another car in a blinding rain.

This deplorable tragedy can be used here and now as an object lesson to Littlefield people, and as a warning to them of the danger that accompanies everyone who walks on a road over which autos are operated. The general rule of the road is, of course, to stay on the right.

But this has been found to be more unsafe than walking on the left-hand side. When one walks on the right hand side of the road he is directly in the path of a machine coming up from the rear which cannot be seen. This puts the burden of watchfulness on the motorist and if anything occurs to obscure vision, such as the headlight of an approaching machine, it is almost impossible to see unlighted objects ahead. Many accidents occur from this cause. It is safer to walk on the left-hand side of the road, facing traffic coming in the opposite direction, so that in case of an emergency one can step into the untraveled part of the highway, or even leap into the ditch if necessary to achieve full safety.

But the principal thing is to be safe, and to realize that with auto traffic growing heavier every month every road is a dangerous road. Teach the children the advantage of using the left-hand side of the road or to avoid the road altogether if there is a convenient path that will serve their walking purposes and keep them off the main part of the road altogether.

OUR TRADE TERRITORY

¶ Twenty-five years ago the farm located five or ten miles from a given town or city was thought to be quite a distance. In those days taking a twenty or twenty-five mile trip was considered something big, and generally, a day or two in preparation was necessary.

Today conditions are quite changed instead of plodding along those five or ten miles with a wagon or team, eating the dust as one went, 25 or 30 miles can be made in the automobile as quickly and much more pleasantly in the same time.

Today it is easier for merchants to draw trade 40 or 50 miles than it was to draw it 15 or 20 miles a few years ago. It is also easier for the enterprising competitor in the next town to get in his work. Farmers, a few years ago did practically all their trading at the nearby town, now go to the farther away town or city to do much of their bargaining, if they do not get the service and prices they think they should have in the home town.

Littlefield has several good business concerns and they get some of the distant trading, but the Leader believes that with more effort and more cooperation that amount could be doubled. During the past year there has been little effort made to extend the trade territory of this town.

Nothing brings a deeper sigh of regret than the belief that the old-fashioned mother is fast losing out in his country.

SAVE THE RELICS

¶ All over the country we have art museums and museums containing specimens of animals, birds and insects. Now why doesn't someone start a new and different kind of museum, one that will attract wide interest during the years to come. Why not a museum filled with farm life tools and equipment, with every section contributing to it.

We wouldn't be surprised but someone around here could dig up a husking peg, a pioneer ash-hopper, a well sweep, candle moulds, candle snuffers and other articles like that. Someone might find an old flae, once used in making pallings, or a flail, used in beating the wheat from the chaff; there's no end to the interesting things that could be dug up for such a museum.

And think how interesting it would be to the generation now of school age, to say nothing of the generations yet to come.

Each year finds us getting farther and farther away from these things; each year finds them harder to get.

Wonder if our congressman can't "start something" by bringing up the subject next time he gets into a conversation with his colleagues in Washington City?

LITTLE LEADERS

Next to a good cigar for a nickel, nothing is more out of date in Littlefield than a horse and buggy.

Every Littlefield wife thinks his boss should have a heap more faith in her husband than he has—and pay him accordingly.

After a Littlefield couple have lived together about twenty years you can't hand very much of that "companionate marriage" bunk.

We've always noticed that the Littlefield man who continually goes around with a chip on his shoulder winds up by getting his block knocked off.

The reason some Littlefield men would like to be traffic cops is because then they would have a chance to talk to somebody else the way their wives talk to them.

The things that some Littlefield fellows get on their radios now sounds just like what they would get if they went rolling in home about 3 o'clock in the morning.

Littlefield girls are not crazy for liking boys—that's natural. But they're plain idiots when they start out to try to be like boys.

Heaven to the average Littlefield married man is a place where it isn't necessary to try to keep a step ahead of his neighbors.

A Maine woman 100 years old attributes her long life to the fact that she has always minded her own business. We recommend her remedy to several in Littlefield.

Considering the size, handkerchiefs the average Littlefield woman uses is no wonder she always regrets having a cold in the head.

Any Littlefield woman who has been married about ten years, can tell you that she didn't marry the best man at her wedding.

Many a Littlefield man who acts like a rabbit when he is talking to his wife roars like a lion when talking to the children.

There are a good many things that give the average Littlefield woman a lot of pleasure, but she gets the biggest kick out of being able to send some other woman against whom she has a grudge.

SOME QUESTIONS

E. A. Bills:
A certain town in Lamb county with the semblance of a commercial organization also has a Rotary club of selected members who meet regularly to do nothing but eat and have a little program. How long will it be before the lawyers of that town quit going 30 miles to the county seat?

Carl Arnold:

HUNDREDS OF PEOPLE APPLY FOR HOMES
 HERE WHERE THERE IS MUCH VACANT LAND

Not every land-worker can be a land-owner is a well known fact, and local real estate men declare the development of this particular section of West Texas is being considerably retarded because many of the land-owners will not give the land-workers an opportunity.

Lamb county is 30 miles square and about 95 per cent of its land is tillable. Much of it is owned by non-resident land-owners. True some of it has been improved and put under cultivation, yet there are many thousand acres more still lying idle and unproductive. And every day there are folks coming to Littlefield—folks who have learned the virtues of this section and are anxious to become citizens here, yet cannot because there is no farms for rent.

The days of the grass lease have gone, never to return. These are days of wheat, corn, cotton and other grain row crops. This fine land is too good to be lying idle when, with the expenditure of a few hundred dollars in improvements it could be made productive and home-like to some family wishing to live in this section.

One Littlefield real estate man says he has more than 100 applicants for farms to rent, and not a single one to supply. Another realtor declared he could locate 50 new tenants in the immediate vicinity of this town if the owners of vacant land would give him the opportunity. "And," he added, "I think there should be some concerted action taken by our local commercial organization toward filling the vacant lands with industrious people who want homes in this section, thus increasing the general population of the country, increasing business conditions generally and increasing the income of the land-owner."

DOCTOR FRANK CRANE SAYS

THE BEST WORK CONDITIONS.

I suppose every writing man or any successful man is constantly in receipt of letters asking about his personal habits. The correspondents all want to know under what conditions he does his work best. They even enquire as to what he eats and what kind of clothes he wears.

One of these correspondents once wrote Bill Nye, asking what clothes he wore and how he dressed. He answered, "In the morning I wear morning dress and in the evening I wear evening dress and at night a night dress."

About the best rule for doing your best work is to find those conditions that suit you best wherein the brain functions most effectively. What these conditions are varies in the case of different people.

Elie Metchnikoff, the little Russian Jew who became one of the famous "microbe hunters" and discovered that in the human body are cells hostile to disease microbes, said he could always carry on his experiments best when pretty girls were close by. In your case, however, this kind of surroundings might have a disturbing effect.

Paul Erlich, another experimenter, used to have the grind-organ musicians play dance music outside of the laboratory. He said that his best ideas came when he heard gay music like that.

Dickens always had to have the same kind of slips of paper, blue ink and a quill pen when he wrote.

Stephen Foster, an American song writer, composed his melodies in a silent room with heavy carpets and draperies.

Newspaper men, used to the ceaseless noise of typewriters and the bustle of a copy room, sometimes find they cannot work so well where all is quiet.

Mark Twain used to write his best stuff lying in bed wearing an old-fashioned night gown. Frank R. Stockton produced his famous "Rudder Grange," dictating it while he lay in a hammock sipping lemonade.

Hazlitt, the essayist, spoke enthusiastically about the benefit of a brisk outdoor walk. Many other people cannot think while walking.

Schubert scratched off some of his best songs at odd moments. One of his famous pieces was jotted down on the back of a bill of fare of a beer garden as he waited for a friend.

So the best thing to do is to not try to imitate somebody else, but to find the time when your own thoughts flow with the greatest ease and then work hard.

A Georgia grand jury asserts that at least 95 per cent of the canned heat sold by hardware stores, druggists and 5 and 10 cent stores, is purchased for the sole purpose of obtaining the alcohol. Originally the basis of this "fuel" was wood alcohol, but when grain alcohol was substituted the sales have increased almost beyond belief.

The reason some fellows don't get a smaller size hat is that they don't know the world is laughing at them instead of with them.

GEORGE—CULP

Last Friday Robert Culp surprised his many friends by motoring to Justiceburg, where he met his fiancée and brought her to Lubbock where they were married by the pastor of the Methodist church of that city.

The bride was Miss Edith George, of Cleburne, and is a charming young woman.

Mr. Culp, with his brother, is owner of the Culp Bros. Tire shop in Littlefield, and has a host of friends who extend hearty congratulations to him and his bride.

GROW TAKES CONTINENTAL

C. H. Grow, formerly of German, this week took over the management of the Continental Oil Co., in Littlefield. Before coming here he was the manager of the Magnolia Oil Co., at German.

Grow has been interested in Littlefield for the past four years, owning a farm about six miles south of town and another tract adjoining the town-site.

He is an enthusiastic booster for this section and will be heartily welcomed into local business circles.

HONOR MRS. LOWRIMORE

Mrs. John W. Blalock, Mrs. Otha Key and Mrs. Acree Barton were hostesses in one of the most beautiful occasions of the season last Friday afternoon, when they gave a farewell party, honoring Mrs. Wm. Lowrimore, at the home of Mrs. Mid Seale.

The home was decorated with cut flowers, zenias, dahlias, daisies and ferns were artistically arranged about the spacious living room.

The afternoon was spent in various games and contests. Mildred Barton gave a reading, and 15 minutes were spent in criticizing the state of political affairs, followed by a beautiful and expressive presentation speech given by Mrs. L. W. Jordan, the story being that of Ruth and Naomi, portraying Mrs. Lowrimore as Ruth. The honoree was presented with a set of lead tea spoons, as a token of love and friendship from the Ladies of the W. M. U. After a response from the honoree, the old, beautiful hymn, "God be with you "till we meet again," was sung by those present.

Delightful refreshments of vanilla ice cream and angel food cake were served to: Mrs. C. C. Tremain, Mrs. Shirley, Mrs. Weiland, Mrs. Lowrimore, Mrs. Hart, Mrs. L. W. Jordan, Mrs. Ed Aryain, Mrs. Jno. Arnett, Mrs. E. K. Hall, Mrs. W. H. Cox, Mrs. F. O. Boles and mother, Mrs. Henderson, Mrs. J. P. Spinks, Mrs. Alex Reeves and mother, Mrs. Simpson, Mrs. Pryor Hammons, Mrs. J. E. Barnes, Mrs. Zora Norman, Mrs. J. W. Keithley, Mrs. W. E. Jeffries, Mrs. Theodore Parker, Mrs. Jno. Blalock, Mrs. Otha Key, Mrs. Mid Seale, Mrs. Acree Barton, Mrs. J. E. Brannen and the honoree.

WE'RE "GOING SOME"

Radio fans around Littlefield had a good opportunity during the recent political conventions to see just what a wonderful gift has been placed in the hands of man. And "listening in" to the complete convention reports, the same as having a front seat at the proceedings, didn't cost him anything in railroad fare, hotel bills or admission fees. Now they know what is meant by "getting something for nothing."

It may interest them, however, to know that it was a costly proposition for someone, because the Radio Corporation of America, that did the broadcasting, says it used 15,000 miles of telephone wires and that putting the Kansas City convention on the air alone cost $77,000. The one at Houston was about as expensive. Figured close, it amounts to $1 a second for every second the broadcasting was going on. Owners of radio sets received the benefit of the programs free, and the world got an example of how fast we're speeding in these days of modern miracles.

What has become of the pessimist who used to start worrying about this time of year for fear we would have a draught in August?

Minneapolis flour mills are said to be breaking all records for producing flour. Must be a big demand for political pie crust this season.

People who try to conceal their ignorance by using a few big words succeed at it about as well as the woman who tries to conceal her age with paint.

There's always something. If Lindy keeps on flying he may get hurt and if he quits the workmen in the machine factories get laid off.

Burning your bridges behind you isn't so bad if you can swim.

DRESS WELL AND SUCCEED!

It's true that clothes don't make the man; but they give him a hearing when nothing else can.

Members of the Farm Bureau Have Big Meeting Here

general farmers county-wide meeting has been called for August 10th at the Palace Theatre in Littlefield, according to the announcement by J. W. Hammock, field service representative of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association.

"The purpose of the meeting," Mr. Hammock said, "is to hear details of the new marketing contract of the cotton cooperative marketing association, which provides for optional or daily pools and withdrawal privileges, as well as a number of minor changes in the present standard marketing agreement, which it is believed will be attractive to members, non-members and business interests generally, resulting in a substantial membership increase and deliveries to cotton cooperative marketing channels."

"The Board of Directors of the Association have had this subject under consideration for some time," Mr. Hammock said, "but final approval to the new contract was not possible until several weeks ago when the entire program was worked out from legal angles. At our meeting we will have M. S. Hudson of Hale Center, district director of the cotton association present to explain in detail the various features of the new contract, price fixation pooling plan, how the contract may become operative, etc."

LITTLEFIELD, TEXAS

It is felt that the meeting will be one of the most interesting farmers meetings ever held in the county, and farm leaders contemplate an exceptionally large attendance, not only on the part of members but non-members and business interests closely allied with progressive agriculture.

"Lamb county has been counted with the leaders of cooperative marketing of cotton, so we are counting on the membership to be well represented at Littlefield Friday, August 10th," said Mr. Hammock.

COLLEGE NEWS

R. O. Conner, business manager, and Jno. R. Freeman, president, of Littlefield college, were in town this week. They are well pleased with the progress that is being made in the construction of the college buildings.

The two dormitories of 31 rooms each will be finished within a very few weeks. Work on the administration building is to begin soon. Temporary building are being constructed, which will be ample for the housing of the school until the permanent building is finished. It is hoped that these temporary structures will be in part displaced in the early fall, and entirely so before the middle of the coming season.

The management of the college gives to the citizens of Littlefield renewed assurance that school will open for all grades, from primary to the junior college, inclusive, on the 25th of September, 1928. Prospects are fine for a good enrollment.

Miss B. Angie Boyle, head of the English department of the college, will arrive during the early part of next week, and will spend the remaining part of the summer in organizing and enlarging the library of the college.

Oliver A. Burk, dean of the college, and head of the department of Latin and Greek, will move his family to Littlefield about August 12. Prospective students who desire information concerning courses and credits should address him here or see him at his home after that time. Until that date he will do his office work from Gunter, Texas.

TO THE PEOPLE

If you want a chief who can grin and smile. Just try Al Smith a while.

If you want a chief with brains and nerve, Our dear old Al is the one to serve.

If you want a chief who is tried and true, Governor Al will surely do.

If for him you want a running mate, To help him sail the Ship of State, Then all vote for Farmer Joe.

And you will see her jump and go. If you would turn the rascals out, Just let Claude Bowers loose his shout.

If you want to see them sweat and foam, Just whisper low, "Tea Pot Dome."

If you want to give them sure 'nough fight, Just keep Reed and Walsh in sight.

Now let's vote the ticket straight. And see the rascals pull their freight. —Contributed.

This country is beginning to take its politics seriously at last. It now requires nearly as many newspaper reporters to cover a convention as it does to cover a heavy-weight prize fight.

It takes a lot of people to make an auto, but earning the money to make the payments on it is left to just one man.

Widely Mourned

Earning more and more money and spending it for more gorgeous bathrooms.

The early settler we admire: Our heart with love he fills, For on the first of every month He promptly pays his bills.

A GOOD BARN EARNS MONEY

Every practical farmer knows that a good barn earns, because it saves. It saves labor—saves waste of hay and grain, saves time in caring for cattle and other work stock. Don't forget at this time the

Low Cost of Lumber
A good barn will always add more to the value of a good farm than the bar itself will cost. It makes the farm more appealing. We have some excellent barn plans we would enjoy talking over with you—come in and see us when in town.

We'd hate to be making our entire living selling furnaces this kind of weather.

To know WHAT to do is wisdom; To know HOW to do it is skill; To DO the thing as it should be done is service.

JEWISH LAUNDRY
"Izzy," demanded the boss, was that Mr. Epstein's undershirt? "Naw," snorted Izzy, "that was the Katz pajamas."
