COMES, I'M READY! -- Decked out in coat and umbrella, Warren McCarry takes time from plowing in a dry field to plea for rain, a very scarce commodity on the South Plains nowadays. Official U.S. Weather Bureau records show that the last trace of moisture in Littlefield was .12 inches, recorded Dec. 27 after a 1-inch snowfall.

Springlake Boy Is Hit After Getting Off Bus

A nine-year-old Springlake boy was injured about 4:10 p.m. on U.S. 70 in Springlake when he was struck by a car getting off a school bus.

The boy was taken to a Dimmitt hospital and injuries were Tommy's son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Brown of Spring-into another parked car, a 1959 Ford owned by L. L. Sharp of Littlefield. Damage to the Mustang was $700, while the Plymouth had an estimated damage of $225. Rangel and a passenger in the Mustang, Blaz Trevino, 21, of Littlefield, were taken to (See BUS, Page 12)

Motorists Warned About Stopping For Buses

Concern was expressed this week by the Texas Highway Patrol over the recent traffic accidents involving autos and children getting off school buses.

The injury of a nine-year-old boy who was hit by a car Monday while getting off a school bus at Springlake was the second such accident in two weeks, reported Bill Angel of the Department of Public Safety here.

Article XIII, Section 104 (a) of the Texas Motor Vehicle Laws states:

"The driver of a vehicle upon a highway outside of the limits of any incorporated city or town upon meeting or overtaking from either direction any school bus which has stopped on the highway for the purpose of receiving or discharging any school children shall stop the vehicle immediately before passing the school bus, but may proceed past such school bus at a speed which is prudent, not exceeding ten (10) miles per hour, with due caution for the safety of such children."

Penalty for a violation of the law when no injuries occur is up to $200, Angel said. Maximum penalty for a violation when injuries occur may be $1,000 and two years in jail, with charges of aggravated assault with a motor vehicle.

"Actually, the Highway Patrol tries to stress that motorists should start only after the bus has started moving and the driver is sure all children are clear of the road," Angel said.

men's souls even in the complain department at Mcay's, but they are average reports recorded on the log of the Littlefield Police Department during an average day's work.

Every call made on the radio at the PD here must be recorded on the department's log. To save space and time, all reports are recorded in code and in abbreviations.

Hence, a report filed on the police log looks like the combination of a three-way basketball game score and a failing paper in a stenography class. Every call that comes in or goes out from the local PD over the radio waves is recorded, whether it's about a lost dog or an accident. Communications may concern reported prowlers, need for medical help, abandoned autos or fires.

Before anyone can read a police log, he needs to understand the code used by the police. For instance, if a police unit is in service, it's 10-8. When out of service, it's 10-7. A 10-28 is a call requesting information of an auto registration. Then there is always the 10-12, the way of

Big Crowd Expected For Chamber Banquet

C-C Committee Chairmen Named

Chairmen for the 1967 Littlefield Chamber of Commerce committees were announced this week by Jim Kelly, chamber executive vice president. The 21 committees will function under four divisions of organizational improvement, agriculture, civic affairs and business development. Each division is headed by a vice-president director.

Deadline Near For 1967 Voter Registration

Total number of voter registration certificates issued in Lamb County climbed to 2,364 Wednesday morning as the Jan. 31 deadline drew nearer.

Herbert Dunn, Lamb County tax collector-assessor, said, however, that almost half that many certificates should be issued during the final days before the deadline.

Some 1,754 people had registered at the county courthouse in Littlefield by Wednesday morning. Other tabulations across the county showed 883 at Amherst, 186 at Olton, 108 at Sudan, 36 at Springlake and 192 at Earth.

Voter registration should be down this year, compared to the record number of 5,939 voters who registered and paid poll taxes to vote in the 1964 presidential election.

Dunn noted that all persons between 21 and 60 years of age must register before they are eligible to vote. Persons who will be 21 during the year also must register before the Jan. 31 deadline just like everyone else, he said.

However, persons 21 this year will not become eligible to vote in any election until after they are 21, he said.

Fire Occurs Here Wednesday

The Littlefield Fire Department responded to a fire in the home of Joyce Frances at 1301 S. Phelps Wednesday at 11:50 a.m.

Fire broke out in the bathroom when gas leaking from a broken connection to the hot water heater ignited. Fire Chief Durham reported that the damage was slight, causing only smoke and damage to the hot water heater.

Committee chairmen for organizational improvement, with Bill Turner as vice president, include Tex Rogers, publicity; Charles Duval, membership; Budget and Finance: Joe Montgomery; Ted Sansom, policies and by-laws; and banquet, Chic Conway.

Chairman of the ambassadors committee will be named later.

E. J. Foust Jr., head of civic affairs, will have six committees in his division and their chairmen are L. E. Sullins, civic club; John Clayton, municipal liaison; Brian Engel, Christmas window decorations; E. B. Luce, recreation improvements; Dr. W. C. Nowlin, aviation; and Mrs. T. L. Dunlap, convention.

The agriculture division, headed by Slick Chandler, will have three committees and chairmen which are Kenneth Reast, businessman-farmer relations; Buddy Logsdon, agriculture development; and Arthur Duggan, legislative affairs-water.

SAM KUYKENDALL

Assistant County Agent Due Here

A new assistant county agricultural agent will join the Lamb County Extension Service staff here Feb. 1.

The next Extension worker is Sam Kuykendall, 23, who is a midterm graduate of Texas A&M University, according to an announcement by the Lamb County Commissioner's Court and Extension Service District Agent Billy C. Gunter, of Lubbock.

Kuykendall replaces Ronnie McNutt who resigned last fall to become the Parmer County Agricultural Agent.

The new assistant agent holds a BS degree in Animal Science from Texas A&M.

He had attended San Angelo College for two years before transferring to A&M. At San Angelo he was a member of the student council, livestock judging team, Concho Aggie Club, and Rodeo Club.

At Texas A&M, Kuykendall was a member of both the junior senior livestock judging teams, the junior wool judging team, Saddle and Siroloin Club, and Alpha Zeta.

While attending high school in El Paso, where he was born, Kuykendall served as president of the Future Farmers of America chapter.

He attended Central High School in San Angelo his senior year and was a representative on the student council there.

The new assistant agent is married to the former Miss Diane Bagwell, from Menard.

Pat Abeyta Is Lions Club Essay Contest Winner

Pat Abeyta, 19-year-old resident of Littlefield, will represent the Littlefield Lions Club as its entry in the Lions International $50,000 Peace Essay Contest.

Pat won the right from five entries to enter the District level of judging enroute to the Grand Prize, with his essay entitled, "Et Unum Sint" (That All May Be One).

A total of $50,000 in awards will be made, including a first prize of $25,000 in educational and/or career-assistance grant, eight semi-finalist awards of $1,000, and travel expenses to Chicago, Illinois for these semi-finalists in July. At that time, the first prize winner will be chosen from the eight. Also, more than 20,000 local, district and multiple awards will be made. Pat received $15.00 cash and a plaque award locally.

His essay was selected by a panel of three judges: Troy Armes, local Chevrolet dealer, Jim Mangum, County Judge, and James Lee, local banker.

The contest, which is the largest Peace Essay Contest in the world, was initiated to stimulate and elicit the views of today's youth on peace.

If Pat succeeds in District 272's contest, his essay will be judged in the Multiple District contest and will have an opportunity to be judged at the World Division level.

Pat's essay will be judged, with the other club winners in District 272, at Lubbock on February 15.

Abeyta is presently employed at Lubbock. He plans to enlist in the Army in two weeks and if he passes the qualifications, he will be placed in the Special Forces school for six months where he will receive training in four languages.

Pat was born in Tucumcari, N.M., and graduated from Pontifical College Josephinum in Worthington, Ohio in 1964. He attended Littlefield schools until his eighth year. He also attended the University of Dallas in 1964-65.

Basketball, Football Queen Nominees Named

Nominees for 1966-67 football and basketball queen honors have been announced with naming of the Wildcat Basketball Queen slated Friday night during the Wildcat-Brownfield game here.

The 1966 Football Queen will be named at the annual Quarterback Club Banquet slated Feb. 4. Candidates for Football Queen are Jackie Maner, Jan Holder, and Jenny Turner.

Jackie, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Maner. A senior, she has been a cheerleader for six years and a member of the band and choir. She has received the honors of All-

Houston Chemist To Speak

An outstanding speaker, optimistic theme and announcement of the winners of the community's top awards will highlight the program for the annual Littlefield Chamber of Commerce Banquet beginning at 7 p.m., today, in Littlefield High School Cafeteria.

Up to 300 persons are expected for the event in which Littlefield's outstanding citizen and outstanding farmer will be recognized. Jim Kelly, chamber executive vice president, said Wednesday morning that more than 275 tickets had been sold, and more were expected to go.

Guest speaker will be F. J. Spencer of Technical, Economic and International Services of Houston.

Spencer has become widely known through the Southwest as a chemical engineer, technical writer and speaker.

Master of ceremonies for the evening will be Jack Barton. Jerry Sanders is banquet chairman, and Mrs. T. L. Dunlap is in charge of decorations.

Making the award for the "Outstanding Citizen of the Year" will be Jack Wicker. Kenneth Reast will present the "Outstanding Farmer of the Year" award.

Dinner music will be by Miss Ann Farmer. Caterer for the banquet is Fly Thornton, and members of the home economics class at Littlefield High School will serve.

Jim Joyner is incoming chamber of commerce president. New president-elect is Warren Dayton, and treasurer is Horace Mitchell.

Vice presidents include Bill (See BANQUET, Page 12)

Mrs. Buddy Logsden Submits Favorite Recipes

Mrs. Buddy Logsden submitted two recipes for our recipe feature this week. Two of her favorite recipes are Busy-day Casserole and Congo Bar. Shirley commented that the casserole recipe was one of her favorites because it contained all the items for a balanced meal and was quick to prepare.

Shirley lists cooking as her hobby. Having two boys and a husband that enjoys the outdoors she is also interested in all kinds of sports.

Buddy is the county agent for Lamb County. His work is his hobby. He especially enjoys attending stock shows. He likes to water ski when he finds the time.

The Logsdens have two very active boys. Rodney, who is age 10 and Cory, age 9. The boys take after their dad in that they love animals. They are kept busy taking care of their stock and going to school. Lambs, a horse, chickens, pigeons, fish and hamsters need a lot of care. The boys will be showing three of their six lambs at a stock show in El Paso.

Buddy and Shirley are natives of Levelland, but they really enjoy living in Littlefield and all the people they are connected with seem extra nice.

Pan fry the hamburger and onion (if desired), cook until brown. Add: tomato sauce, well drained corn and peas. Simmer 10 minutes to blend flavors. Cover with macaroni and shredded cheese. Heat just long enough to melt the cheese.

Pep Altar Society Meets

PEP -- At the meeting of the Altar Society of St. Philip's Parish, held last Wednesday evening, January 18, in the Parish Hall, Mrs. Marilyn Greener, a guest and member of the Morton school faculty, reviewed the book, "Follow Me, Be Human," by Father Salloway of Canyon.

Mrs. Greener spoke of the infancy and hidden life of Christ beginning with the Nativity scene, and later his public life. She stated that the last part of the book is packed with things that happened before the persecution and last week of Jesus' life.

The president, Mrs. Billy Gerik called the meeting to order, with Rev. Stanley leading the opening prayer. Reports were heard from the Committee Chairmen on their projects. Mrs.

Green reported that the Catholic Life Insurance Co. had donated $20 to the CCD.

Mrs. Billy Gerik announced that the Ways and Means Committee has charge of doughnut Sunday next month.

During the business discussion, the members decided by vote, to sponsor a Day of Recollection in the near future.

In the attendance drawing, Mrs. V.H. Diersing received the door prize.

Mrs. Ann Greener was also a guest at the meeting which adjourned with the closing prayer led by Rev. Stanley, after which refreshment of Apesl Struddle, home made ice cream, soft drinks, and coffee were enjoyed. Hostesses were Mrs. Clara Albus, Mrs. Leonard Albus, and Mrs. Evelyn Albus.

Even the ash tray rides smoother in Chevrolets

When you're down at your dealer's trying out a new Chevrolet, be sure you pull out the ash tray. Notice how nice and easy it glides, never hanging up or even scraping. The reason is, it rides on ball bearings. Four shiny little ball bearings. (Take the tray all the way out and you'll see them.) You say you don't even smoke? Then look at it this way. That ash tray is a symbol of the way we make cars: Paying extra attention to the little things as well as the big ones, as a way of making extra sure your '67 Chevrolet gives you

Pastor Engel Previews Meet

Pastor Brian Engel of St. Martin Lutheran Church here previewed the district committee meeting of Publications and Ministry of The Southern District of the American Lutheran Church this past Monday in Austin.

Engel is the secretary of the district, with responsibility for the states of Texas, Louisiana, and New Mexico.

In Austin he left to attend the district meeting at Texas Tech University in Lubbock, near Amarillo. Highlight of the meeting was the address and guidance given by the Rev. Lester Heins, director of the American Lutheran Church with headquarters in Minneapolis, Minn.

Members of the committee will be in a thorough program of evaluation of each congregation in the field of public communication, and in an improved program of publication of church magazines.

Nowlin Makes State Band

W.C. Nowlin, son of Dr. and Mrs. W.C. Nowlin, was named All-State Band. He was one of 42 area high school students from out of more than 400 contestants named after Saturday morning in the building at Texas Tech. Nowlin, a senior in the Littlefield High School Band, plays the trumpet. He has been in Littlefield for seven years, beginning when he was in the sixth grade.

All-State Band will perform in concert in Houston Feb. 11.

Shocking Experiences

By Bill Turner

THESE ARE shocking times in Littlefield, just the other day, I settled myself into Glenn Batson's pickup, then reached for the door handle.

I got a sizzling jolt of static electricity. On almost any cool, clear day nowadays, all you have to do to get a thrill is walk across a carpeted room or slide out of a chair.

As Glenn and I got out of the pickup to get a cup of coffee, I asked him: "You ever get shocked when you get in and out of this pickup?" "Yeah," he said, "I get a charge out of it."

THESE WINTERTIME shocks, although they don't do you any physical harm, can make you nervous.

Whenever the door bell rings at our house, you'd think we were afraid the internal revenue man was coming.

Nobody particularly wants to answer the door.

It's not that we don't welcome visitors. It's just that we're anticipating another jolt --- of static electrons.

EVERY TIME I get in and out of my car, I'm on guard. Same way when I push an elevator button, or open a file cabinet. According to experts, it takes friction between two different materials to build up static electricity.

Almost anything will work: shoes and carpet, shirt and chair, wool overcoat and plastic seat covers, rubber tires and pavement, comb and hair, nylon underwear and bare skin, a boy's hand and a cat's back. Or for that matter, a man's hand and a cat's back.

Night and Day, our all-black and all-white cats, have gotten to the point where they try to climb a wall every time I go near them.

THERE ARE WAYS to fight back at static electricity. After awhile, if you can keep from getting gun shy, you start to figure out ways to survive.

I've found that if you grab hold of the door handle of a car and keep hold of it while you slide across the seat, it helps.

If you do the same when you're getting out, it sort of drains off the charge while you're creating it.

When you go to the door of your house, slap the door handle quickly with your palm before you actually grasp the handle.

That'll help, unless somebody's watching. If they see you going through all those motions they'll think you're nuts.

OF COURSE, you can't dodge the shocks all the time, unless you can figure out a way of personal ground wire.

A human could probably ground himself by taping a piece of copper wire to his leg and letting it trail along the floor.

That'd probably be okay for the women because in today's fashion circus, it would never be noticed.

As far as that goes, maybe the women wouldn't pay much attention to a man's personal ground wire.

They'd probably design one for us that would look like a ball and chain.

BE CAREFUL. IT HAS A 6 FOOT TONGUE

Has LBJ Lost Touch?

BY PAUL HARVEY

President Johnson has given the impression of pouting since last November's election. His immediate reaction bristled with defiance: "No change in our prosecution of the Vietnam war."

Subsequent press conferences were impromptu, sparse, meatless.

His State of the Union message urged a tax, most punitive to the people he thinks are Republicans.

What a splendid opportunity this President overlooked.

Immediately following that dark-for-Democrats November day, LBJ might have gone before the nation to say:

"The people have spoken. This Administration will alter its program to reflect the will of the people."

Then, with the electorate appeased, he could have gone ahead and done as he pleased. Instead, with a most uncharacteristic lack of political acumen, President Johnson, so eager to be liked, taking the election return as a personal affront -- sulked.

Has President Johnson lost touch? Colorado's Senator Gordon Allott thinks so. He says, "The Great Society should be cut back. This was the message from the people in the election."

Instead, the President proposed a 4 1/2 billion dollar increase in taxes, aimed mostly at the most industrious -- while asking a 4 billion dollar increase in Social Security payments.

California's landslide for Reagan should be most revealing to an astute pulse-taker. He got all of the Republicans and 25 per cent of 30 per cent of the Democratic vote!

Reagan campaigned for cost cutting in a welfare state.

Reagan urged more bombing of the fat targets in Vietnam: "I say you knock them out at the places where you can get them in the biggest bunches."

Reagan, on the draft, stood opposed to the whole idea. Fearful of long-time compulsory military service, he urged "a program of inducement to enlist, incentives to enlist, voluntary program..."

Reagan proved himself "in touch with the people" by an overwhelming million margin. If Republican victories elsewhere were more marginal, less easily interpreted -- the issues were ill-defined -- not so in California where the issues were crystal clear to the victory was decisive.

Yet President Johnson has deafened himself to the voice of the people and watched his own popularity sag to an abysmal low.

And he should know, they'll kick you when you're down.

The controversial Manchester book outlining the President and the off-Broadway play accusing him, by implication, of responsibility for the assassination -- such grotesque indignities would never be possible against a popular President.

So, as Senator Allott says, "The President should spend a little more time getting back in touch with the people."

"Let us . . . cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armour of light. Let us walk honestly, as in the day." Romans 13:12-13

The story Lassie, the ideal collie dog, thrilled many of us. The novel revolves about a poor English family. Hard times had knocked at their door. The father reluctantly decided to sell the dog in order to provide food for the family. Lassie was taken to a new cage, and finally scaled the fence and returned to her master, little Joe.

After the happy reunion of the boy and dog, the boy had to learn a hard lesson in honesty. Lassie had to be returned, for she had been sold. The father said, "Sometimes when a chap don't have much, Joe, he clings to being honest harder than ever . . . there's a funny thing about honesty; there's no two ways about it . . . Honest is honest, is it?"

Of times we need such a reminder. The world that prefaces the use of the word honesty with "old-fashioned," it is well to hear again the ringing exhortation, "Let us walk honestly, as in the day."

PRAYER: Dear God, Thou dost see us as we are; we cannot hide anything from Thee. Help us to order our lives aright and to honestly that we may feel clean within. Jesus' name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: Honesty may be easy, but it is essential to a better world. -- John H. Hires, Jr. (Florida)

AMY'S ADLIBS

Of Bugs And Things

By Amy Turner

Last month, we had another interesting visit from Uncle Roy, The Publisher's bumpy bachelor brother.

Now, this is not meant with any disrespect. It's just that he's unusually fond of bugs and varmints and things which is probably quite natural since he is, by profession, a biologist or something like that.

Visits from Uncle Roy are always rather interesting because of the friends he brings along---fish, tadpoles, snakes, turtles---not to mention the rocks, leaves, sticks, microscopes. I mean he comes PREPARED.

ANOTHER THING about Uncle Roy that I have learned is never, never to open any mail which bears the return address of the college where he is a professor.

I learned this the hard way. Once, I opened an innocent-looking brown envelope only to have fall into my unsuspecting lap a test tube containing one leech. The track coach came around to see me after hearing about the record I set. A note attached to the tube commented:

"I thought the children might find this rather interesting." Not a word about the rate of heart attacks in mothers of children with biologist uncles.

Another time, he sent a test tube of worms to the children.

"These make ideal pets," he explained. Unfortunately, this particular worm is the type that can simply disintegrate and this is just what they did somewhere in a U.S. post office.

I spent three weeks studying that test tube before I found out they weren't awfully small worms --- they just weren't there.

LAST MONTH, when Uncle Roy visited us just after Christmas when the snow hit and The Publisher and I were still commuting from Olton. He had really planned to leave that morning but, being the gallant bachelor, decided it would be unsafe for me to drive alone to Littlefield.

This was after The Publisher had arrived in Littlefield and phoned back to say:

"Amy, you'd better be careful on the road because you know that stop light at Spade?"

"Yes, of course," I replied.

"Well, this morning," he explained, "the car and I didn't stop there."

So, Uncle Roy drove me to Littlefield and the News and Leader office, where he became enthusiastically involved in the publishing business. I looked in on him after a few hours and commented to one of the girls in the office:

"I think this is getting to Uncle Roy. He's in there chewing and puffing on a cigar."

"So, yeah?" she responded in the gentle way that journalists speak to one another.

"Uncle Roy doesn't smoke," I said.

A HARD day later, Uncle Roy and I started the return trip to Olton. During the course of the day, we had heard of a wildcat well near Fieldton, and he suggested we run by and have a look.

We pulled up at a small store in Fieldton and I would like to record for future reference, one of his comments here:

"Hummmmm....I see they have a gas pump in front. Better park out of the way."

We chatted awhile with some nice people in the store, then drove back into a field for a closer look at the well, drove back to the highway, backed a half mile BACK to the field (to clock the distance for accuracy) and finally started home, where I was long overdue.

Uncle Roy has an unusual car. It doesn't cough, sputter or give any warning. It merely said "Glunkgh" and died...on the spot, which happened to be in the middle of nowhere and it was COLD.

"Would you believe," he suggested, "that I am out of gas?"

Now there was a time when I wouldn't have believed it, but, at my age, yet, I believed it...all too well.

A KIND gentleman named Hukill came to our rescue and furnished us with enough gas to get to Hart Camp, where, you guessed it, the store was closed.

"Now this is an interesting situation," Uncle Roy The Teacher lectured.

"Uncle Roy," I sighed, "I can honestly say that you are always interesting." Pointing to the north, I asked:

"Do you see those sandhills over there?"

"Ah, yes," he said, "I believe they are noted for Indian artifacts and...."

"It might interest you to know," I interrupted, "that I am part Indian and if you can just get me across those sand hills...."

"I CAN WALK TO OLTON."

"Of course, we could," he mused, "and when you consider the temperature of the human body, along with the heat generated by the exercise of walking, computing the distance and the time, of course....."

Well, that's Uncle Roy.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

The Family Restored

By BOB WEAR

The first family of human beings was established by God for the happiness of the man and woman He had created, and for the procreation of the race. Since the beginning, many things have happened to weaken the family. Nevertheless, it is an established fact that the family has always been the foundation of civilization. It is now the basic unit in our social structure.

The family should be and can be strong and should provide the most rewarding of all human relationships. When the family is strong, the nation is strong; when there is order in the family, there will be order in the nation. When the family is godly, the nation will be godly, too. We are thankful for the strong families, the godly families, and the families where good order prevails; but all available information indicates that there has been a general breakdown of orderly family life in our nation, and we are concerned.

Unfortunately, there seems to be a helplessness feeling among the people. We know that family life has suffered and is suffering because of the acceleration of the pace of human activity. If what we can see and hear is accurate, the ties that bind the family together are usually strained, and often broken by the almost constant burden of a successive stream of demands on time, energy, ability and money supply. So long as the family is subjected to unreasonable demands it must function in a climate that is something less than desirable. In this unwholesome influence, all persons involved suffer great loss. Of course, this can be corrected when the members of a family want to do so. Mutual love, appreciation, respect and sympathy, together with related qualities of personality and character can restore what is being lost.

Too many folk stay home only when they cannot find some place else to go, and, in many families, when they do stay home, it is not a pleasant situation. There are feelings of distress, boredom, frustration or some such feeling which produces strife and bickering. In such a state of being, it is impossible for desirable human traits to flourish. General conditions can be better, if we will establish a proper sense of values, with God and His expressed views on family life given a continuing place of prominence, we can make significant progress in the improvement of the family. When family life is improved, there will be improvement in the community, state and national life.

Family relationships should be comfortable and pleasant, in a climate of warmth, companionship, tranquility and other related qualities. In a family where the parents respect God and the children respect the parents, there will be found all of the essential elements of good family life. Human beings function best, and desirable personality and character traits grow best, when the family is in accord with the Divine pattern.

THROUGH THE YEARS

(Taken from the files of the Lamb County Leader, Thursday, January 24, 1952)

State Highway Department of Texas, will build a new, greatly enlarged storage and road maintenance warehouse with construction slated to start early this summer, if steel and other needed materials can be secured, H.C. Edmonds, chief engineer of the Lamb County branch of the State Highway Department was authorized to announce this week.

Construction of the first of several high voltage electric transmission lines connecting Southwestern Public Service Company's new super power plant in Lamb County to the existing system has been started according to H.R. Shelby, Littlefield District Manager.

A total of 4, 119 poll tax receipts had been issued by the Lamb County Tax Collectors offices as of noon Wednesday, more than doubling the amount that had been issued at the turn of the year.

The possibility of organizing a School-Community Health program in Littlefield is being worked out, under the direction of Mrs. Dalton Teague, head of the health department. On the school community advisory health council will include school officials, board members, doctors, and other citizens of the community, as well as special advisory consultants.

The third annual FFA and 4-H Club project show will be staged in Littlefield sometime in March, and will be sponsored by the local Chamber of Commerce, according to an announcement made this week.

Federal auto use stamps, good for the remainder of the fiscal year 1941-42 went on sale at the local postoffice Monday morning according to Postmaster W.D.T. Storey, who stated that the cost of the stamps for the five months remaining of this fiscal year is $2.09. As of July 1, a yearly stamp costing $5.00 will be substituted.

A boxing tournament that will rival the district Golden Gloves tourney in Lubbock, will be staged at the local high school gym tonight, Thursday, and Friday nights. The tournament here is sponsored by the Downtown Quarterback Club, and part of the proceeds will be used to purchase United States Defense bonds.

Amherst Board Opposes Junior College District

AMHERST -- The Amherst school board voted unanimously in a recent meeting to oppose a proposed junior college district which would encompass three counties.

The proposed district would include 11 independent school districts including Friona, Bovina, Lazbuddie and Farwell in Parmer County; Bula, Three-way and Muleshoe in Bailey County; and Springlake-Earth, Olton, Amherst and Sudan in Lamb County.

The Amherst board decided that because of the financial burden it would impose on the taxpayers in the district, the proposed junior college district could not be supported, according to Frances L. Melton, school board secretary.

Committees for Muleshoe are meeting with the school boards of the various districts to secure a voluntary steering committee, Mrs. Melton said.

Under procedure set out by the state junior college board, a steering committee in the proposed district must be formed and a petition must be circulated in each district. The petition must contain 10 per cent of the qualified voters in each district in order for that school district to be included in a general election.

She explained that if the proposed college is voted on by the majority of school districts in the junior college district, the college will be authorized. Tax to support the district would be from 19 cents to 28 cents per hundred dollar valuation, it was estimated by the Muleshoe committee.

Hufstедler Ends Marine Training

Marine Private Ronald M. Hufstедler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Hufstедler of 110 Bell St., Amherst, Tex., was graduated from eight weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot in San Diego, Calif.

He will now undergo about three weeks of individual combat training and then, after leave at home, will report to his first Marine Corps assignment.

The intensified Marine recruit training emphasizes rigid physical conditioning and survival techniques, both at sea and ashore, to develop self-confidence and endurance. Marksmanship with the M-14 rifle and 45-calibre pistol are equally stressed, and close order drill instills the traditions of Marine Corps teamwork.

A thorough study of basic military subjects; hygiene; first aid and sanitation; and the customs, courtesies, history and mission of the Marine Corps serve to polish the new Marine's recruit education and prepare him to join Marine combat forces.

SPC 14th Among State Junior Colleges

South Plains College has now reached a new high of enrollment, ranking number 14 in the 33 public, junior colleges in the state of Texas.

Only one private junior college, South Texas Junior College of Houston, enrolled more students than SPC this year. SPC ranks number 15 in enrollment of the 53 state's junior colleges including the twenty private junior colleges.

This announcement was made by the newly appointed Coordinating Board of Texas.

It was announced this week that within the next decade, there will be systems of junior and community colleges providing two years of advanced education beyond high school for everyone in the nation, according to Dr. Edmund J. Gleazer, Jr., executive director of the American Association of Junior Colleges. He calls it "one of the great educational phenomena of the age."

This year, 1.5 million students are enrolled in junior and community colleges. The U. S. Office of Education predicts that there will be two million enrolled in these two-year schools by 1971.

HART CAMP

MRS. EDWIN OLIVER
262-4242

Word has been received from Sp/4 Larry Lopez from Vietnam that fighting there is very rough and that the Viet Cong have quit playing games and started the real thing. He wrote that four of his buddies had been killed in the last few days. Larry is a resident of this community and a graduate of Olton High School. His older brother, Louis Lopez, Jr., is probably in Vietnam by this time as he was to be sent there following his trip home for Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Johnson have returned home from a three-week stay in Liberty Hill.

New residents in the community are Mr. and Mrs. Duane Gray and Children of Spade. They have moved to their farm south of Hart Camp. Other new residents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cowan and family who moved here from Spade, also. They are living in the house formerly occupied by the Willard Loman family. The Cowans have a hardware store in Spade.

Mrs. J. C. Muller visited in Littlefield Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Harold Robinson and two of Mrs. Robinson's sisters, who were visiting in the Robinson home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Muller attended graveside services Friday afternoon in Littlefield for Mrs. Pearl Owens. Mrs. Owens and her husband lived in the Fieldton area many years before their deaths.

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Wheeler visited in Odessa over the weekend with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Taylor, Marty and Johnny Mack. They returned home Sunday night.

Mrs. M. W. Wheeler spent the day, Tuesday, in Friona with her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Olen Latham. Mr. Latham is ill following a light heart attack Sunday. He had a heart attack last spring, also.

Karen Hipp of Olton spent Friday night in the V. L. Foster home with Pam Foster. Karen McGill, also of Olton, spent Friday night with Kimmie Foster.

As an observance of Layman's Day at the Baptist Church, the men of the church met at 7 a.m. Saturday for breakfast at the church, served by the men of the Brotherhood. Hot cakes, eggs, bacon and sausage, biscuits and all the trimmings were served and prepared by the men. Attending were Rev. John Nelson, Blanton Martin, D. R. Leonard, Elma Burleson, Edwin Oliver, Dewey Parkey, M. W. Wheeler, Kerwin Oliver, Ed Kinsky, Steve, Mike and Greg Burleson, Danny Leonard and visitors from the Fieldton Baptist Church, Ray Muller, George Harlan and Truman McCain.

Suzanne Martin attended a wedding at Clovis Friday night. United in marriage was Miss Judy Bergstrom and Alvin Gary, both former students at Wayland Baptist College. Accompanying Suzanne home from the wedding was Miss Peggy Ramsey of Morton and Wayland. She spent Friday night in the Martin home and returned to Morton on Saturday.

Mrs. Joe Spikes and Jimmy Spikes of Lubbock were supper guests in the Blanton Martin home Saturday night. Mrs. Spikes and Mrs. Martin are sisters.

Debbe Oliver spent Friday night in the Aubrey Neinst home with Ramona Neinst, and attended the Lockney-Olton Basketball game in Lockney with them.

Mrs. Edwin Oliver attended a bridal shower Thursday afternoon at Spade honoring Miss Evone Stubblefield, bride-elect of Kerwin Oliver.

Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Lynch returned home Saturday afternoon from Phoenix, Ariz., where they had spent the last three weeks. While there, they played in a shuffleboard tournament.

Jimmy and Jackie Overman attended a 4-H Club meeting Thursday night in Olton. Mr. and Mrs. James Overman and daughters, Jeanette and Joy, were in Frenship Thursday night where Mr. and Mrs. Overman attended a Planning Meeting for the National Spotted Swine Conference coming to Lubbock later this year.

Mitzi Wheeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Wheeler of Lubbock, spent Saturday night and Sunday with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Wheeler. Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Wheeler, Donnie and Shelia were visitors in the Wheeler home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Foster, Pam and Kimmie, visited Sunday in Brownfield with Mrs. Foster's mother, Mrs. Minnie Barnes.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Neinst were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Ball.

Mrs. H. J. Loman and Mrs. L. W. Sullivan visited at Medical Arts Hospital in Littlefield on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. R. S. Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Puckett were in Paducah Sunday to attend funeral services for Mr. Faulkenberry, who is the father of Mrs. Sherman Rushing.

Mr. and Mrs. James Overman and children visited in Artesia, N. M., recently with Mrs. Overman's mother, Mrs. Nila Andrews. They also visited in Hagerman, N. M., with her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Watson and children.

Miss Evone Stubblefield of Spade was a Sunday guest in the Edwin Oliver home.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Hukill and children of Lubbock, were Sunday night supper guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hukill.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Joe T. Harmon

Lions Visit Girlstown

WHITHARRAL -- Forty Whitharral Lions Club members and their wives visited Girlstown near Whiteface Thursday evening on their regular meeting night.

Lions and their wives were supper guests of the home, eating in the dining hall with the girls. Lion J.E. Harbin gave the invocation. Girlstown cook for many years, Ertaween Harris, assisted by several of the girls served a meal of roast beef, gravy, green beans, tossed salad, whipped potatoes and peach cobbler.

Girlstown residents Elaine McCord, Patsy Archer, DeJoni Cobb, Linda Neal and Debbie McCulough sang several folk songs to the accompaniment of a uke.

Rafe Rodgers introduced members of the club and their guests. Marshall Cooper introduced all the Girlstown residents.

Robert Avery, secretary of the Whitharral Lions Club, presented a check for $95 to Marshall Cooper. The amount represents the 25¢ per member per month the Whitharral Club recently agreed to give annually to help sustain Girlstown.

Personal checks for $25, $12 and $10 from Hank Matthews, Rafe Rodgers and Mack McClure also were given.

The club also paid $1.25 for each meal served to the guests and members.

Following the meal, each couple was shown through all buildings by a Girlstown resident.

Those attending reported a very enjoyable evening. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Hank Matthews of Levelland, Lions Queen and Sweetheart Paula Reding and Judy Wade. Others visiting were Messrs. and Mmes. Robert Avery, Danny Grant, Rafe Rodgers, Bobby Grant, T.C. Wade, Ed Johnson, J.B. Harbin, V.D. Hodges, Clifford Throckmorton, J.W. Borders, Lowell Herring, Lewis McCormack, Ralph Wade, Coy Grant, O.L. Harris, Woodrow Howard and Jeanean Whitely.

Rev. Willson Guest Speaker

Rev. Johnny Willson will be guest speaker Sunday night at the Sunset Avenue Missionary Baptist Church. The service will be held at 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Willson was the pastor of the church before becoming a missionary elect to Australia. He started his deputation work the first of January.

The church extends a welcome to everyone to come hear him speak. The church is located on North Sunset Avenue.

Law Help Families in Housing

U. S. Department of Agriculture's Farmers Home Administration is better equipped for low and moderate income Lamb County families as a result of legislation recently passed into law, according to J. Jones, Farmers Home Administration county director.

Jones said the Demonstration and Metropolitan Development Act, signed last month by President Johnson, makes possible a broader range of housing credit under the Farmers Home Administration.

The new legislation, Jones said, makes more mortgage credit available to low and moderate income families in Lamb County by increasing the activity of the Agency's housing loan program. It also allows some of the other programs in the rural housing program administered by the Farmers Home Administration.

Lamb County families need to go the long route of planning, contracting and building a house can now buy a house through the new legislation, these families could only purchase through occupied buildings. The new legislation has lifted low-income families now obtain housing credit through the Farmers Home Administration on the basis of a co-signer, previously, only those rural families 62 years and older were eligible for this assistance.

The new legislation increases the amount of assistance available to make for emergency repairs or improvements in rural housing. The new legislation is not designed to build a building but only to help with the health and safety of the family and community.

Applications by the Farmers Home Administration are made to County applicants who are to obtain credit they need from private lenders at reasonable rates and terms.

Applications for Farmers Home Administration rural housing loans may be made at any Lamb County office which is located in the basement of the Post Office Building in Littlefield.

COTTON TALKS

From Plains Cotton Growers Inc.

Beginning Feb. 1 those farmers on the High Plains and elsewhere who used 500 or more man-days of hired agricultural labor in any calendar quarter of 1966 will for the first time be required to pay a $1 per hour minimum wage.

The minimum will go to $1.15 an hour on Feb. 1, 1968 and to $1.30 per hour on Feb. 1, 1969. There the escalation steps — unless Washington legislators succeed in their efforts to pass additional legislation.

Despite the proximity of the new minimum wage law's effective date, Ed Dean, Labor Relations, Inc., says explanations of exactly how it will work, and issuance of the extensive administrative regulations that will be necessary are far from complete.

"But there are some unofficial indications filtering down from Washington as to how the law will be administered," Dean says, "and from these producers can get some idea of what to expect."

The most important consideration of farm employers at the moment is the keeping of employment records. Dean advises that any farmer who thinks he may have even come close to using 500 man-days of farm labor in 1966 or who may come close to that figure this year should be keeping complete and accurate records.

The law does not prescribe a special form of record, but specifies only the items which must be included and that the records be accurate. So records kept for other purposes will suffice if they contain the necessary information.

Employers who utilized more than 500 man-days of agricultural labor in any calendar quarter of last year will have to record for each employee to whom the minimum wage provisions apply the hours worked each day and each week, the wages paid and additions to or deductions from wages.

Employers who are likely to utilize more than 500 man-days this year are only required to keep a record of each employee's name and address and a count of the man-days of labor in the overall operation. But should the year's man-day count reach 500 it will be to the farmer's advantage if he has accurate records showing hours worked and wages paid.

A "man-day" is defined in the law as any day during which an employee performs as much as one hour of agricultural labor.

Excluded from the man-day count are the employer's wife, parents, children or other members of his immediate family, and local, daily commuting hand-harvest pieceworkers who worked in agriculture less than 13 weeks in the preceding calendar year.

For the purpose of determining what counts toward this 13-week test, each period of seven consecutive days in which an individual was engaged in any agricultural labor on one or more days is included.

In a situation where custom work or contract labor is involved, the key is the employment relationship. A crew leader who merely assembles a crew and brings it to the farm to be supervised and paid directly by the farmer is considered an employee of the farmer and both he and members of his crew are counted in determining whether or not the farmer used 500 man-days of labor.

The same situation would apply if, under the same circumstances, the crew is hired at so much per acre for their work.

In meeting the $1 per hour minimum wage, employers will be permitted to include the reasonable cost of furnishing employees with board, lodging or other facilities. The "reasonable cost" will be determined by the Secretary of Labor through the Labor Department's Wage and Hour Division, which will administer the law.

However, reasonable cost is defined in the law as the actual cost to the employer without a profit, and would include the cost of operation and maintenance, depreciation, and not more than 5 1/2 per cent interest on depreciated capital, but in no case more than the fair rental value or fair price of the facilities provided.

Another point to remember is that the facilities must be provided for the benefit of the employee and not for the benefit or convenience of the employer.

The Act takes a single work week as its standard and does not permit averaging of hours over two or more weeks. An employee working on a farm subject to the minimum wage must be paid not less than $1 for every hour worked in each week.

Logsdon has said that a community 4-H Club here would take the youth organization out of the schools, which would undoubtedly cut down on the club membership. Since the 4-H Club is operating in the schools now, there are probably some youngsters who belong just because they can miss a few classes now and then.

With a community club, those who join will be doing so knowing that just about all their work will be done on their own time, and that includes attending meetings and completing projects.

Even though the 4-H membership in Littlefield may be cut down, the quality should offset the quantity.

Mr. and Mrs. George Walden have been named as adult organizational leaders to help in founding the new club. The next meeting of the organizers should be in early February, Logsdon says.

There was something mentioned at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Task Force confab last week in Lamesa about increasing the cattle feedlot operations in West Texas, making it an ever bigger business.

Well, the cattle business in Texas appears to be doing mighty well, according to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, but it lags behind some other states.

The service reports that cattle being fed for slaughter market totaled 674,000 head for the State on Jan. 1, which is about a 25 per cent increase from the 538,000 on Jan. 1, 1966.

Most of the beef, 610,000 head to be exact, was fed on 278 large feedlots, with each lot having a 1,000 head and over capacity. These figures look pretty impressive, because that's a lotta beef. But they aren't really, when you consider that the capacity of those 278 feedlots is 1,041,510, for a 59 per cent occupancy.

In the meantime, while Texas had 674,000 cattle feeding on Jan. 1, 1967, California had 984,000, Iowa had 2,025,000, and Nebraska had 1,308,000.

The odds are about two to one that most of those cattle in Iowa and Nebraska were penned in feedlots, simply because there isn't that much rangeland available.

Seems that Texas could really make the feedlot business a going concern, especially in the South Plains area. Crop and Livestock reports that in the South Plains area there are only 21 large feedlots. In 1963, there were 23 large feedlots in the area.

The head of the American Farm Bureau Federation, perhaps the largest farm organization in the county, has asked for an end to government farm controls. Forty years experience with such controls, he said, has shown that "government supply management in agriculture does not work."

He added that one of the chief causes of mass-starvation in India is price controls imposed by the Indian government. The theory of the government's program of controls in this country has been to protect farmers against the depressing effect of over-abundance. But rapid population increases in the U.S., and throughout the world have all but ended the age of surplus.

As the Farm Bureau spokesman suggested, the government now could devote its attention to production, marketing research and promotion of international trade. The time is drawing near when every available acre of tillable land will have to be used for food and fiber production, and the efficiency of the American farmer will be needed as never before.

Bowlings, Farmers Take Honors At Sudan Show

The Bowlings and Farmers out-stripped high winds and blowing dust Saturday as members of their families took top honors in the annual Sudan 4-H and FFA Livestock Show Saturday at Sudan.

Rodney Bowling showed the grand champion beef, while Tracy Bowling showed the reserve champion. Both animals were Angus.

Then, in the lamb division, Ronald Farmer exhibited the grand champion, a Dorset, while brother Phil showed the reserve champion, a Hampshire.

Grand champion swine, a Duroc, was shown by Phelps Blume, and Gregg Burgess showed the reserve champion, a Hampshire.

Show superintendent was Louis Fields, who was unable to attend the judging. Calvin Wiseman substituted for Fields Saturday. Other superintendents were Kenneth Burgess, beef; Houston Black, swine; S. A. Farmer, sheep; and Pubb Wiseman, secretary-treasurer. Judge was Ken Cook, assistant Lubbock County Agent.

Lumpkins Ford Store furnished the grand champion trophies, and all awards were presented by the Littlefield District FFA Sweetheart, Sharon Baker, of Sudan, and the Sudan FFA Ploggirl, Nancy Nix.

Results of the show were:

County Agent Buddy Logsdon has really been beating the drum for the case of forming a community 4-H Club in Littlefield. Seems that he may have some pretty good arguing points on his side, too.

More USDA Food Donations Enroute To Texas Schools

Increased supplies of food for school lunches are on the way to Texas as a result of recently stepped-up purchases by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, according to John J. Slaughter, Southwest Director, Consumer Food Programs, Consumer and Marketing Service, Dallas.

The food will be distributed to schools participating in the National School Lunch Program through the State Department of Public Welfare.

adequate meals at a reasonable cost to the students, he explained.

Texas's share of recent purchases, which USDA expects to deliver in January and February will include 1,360,000 pounds of dry beans, 1,069,200 pounds of frozen beef, 1,038,390 pounds of butter, 436,800 pounds of cheese and substantial amounts of other commodities.

USDA has also announced intention to buy a large quantity of frozen orange juice, probably starting next month, and supplies should reach many schools in March. The Department is also buying fresh pears.

Other items supplied by USDA donations this year have included raisins, milk, rice, shortening, flour, corn meal, processed wheat and, rice.

In supporting the agencies in the administration of the National School Lunch Act, USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service donates plus some cash to help schools. On a national basis, 23 percent of the total cost. State and local funds, including children's lunches.

Screwworm Cases Reported Higher

The 1,203 confirmed screwworm cases in 87 Texas counties in 1966 was more than triple the number detected in 1965. Most of the cases, 1,036, were reported in the period from Sept. 11 to Dec. 31.

Now that the situation is again under control, eradication program officials say their efforts are being directed toward the Mexican side of the barrier hoping to push screwworms as far south as possible in order to decrease the pressure that migration will bring next spring.

Once nematodes get at your cotton, yields go down and so do profits. But with FUMAZONE® 86 soil fumigant applied at only 1 to 2 gallons over-all an acre, you can take care of root-knot, sting, meadow and other nematodes—those tiny soil pests that attack plant roots, suck away profits. FUMAZONE 86 soil fumigant increases yields up to $200 an acre. Many High Plains ranchers just like yourself tell us that's exactly what happened to their yields after their soils were treated with FUMAZONE 86. It can be applied right from the drum. No mixing, no diluting, no nozzles clogged with foreign material. You can use the chisel method, the plowsole method or inject FUMAZONE 86 into your irrigation water. Could you ask for greater flexibility? Sure you could. So here it is. Apply FUMAZONE 86 before planting, at planting or after planting. It's the only type of soil fumigant that can be used on living plants. Ask your Dow Farm Chemicals supplier about it. A school in West Texas only provide new people for the area, also benefit those in the profession, Richard Amandes, dean of the new Tech School of Law, told old Lions Wednesday. Amandes said about 75 students are expected to enter the school in its first year, and plans are being made to accommodate about 500 when the school is well established.

The Texas Tech law school will be an accredited school in Texas, he said. But its main objective is to be accredited by the American Bar Association. The library, of course, is one of the most important parts of a law school, Amandes said, and the Tech law school will have at least 10,000 books the first year. More are expected with the help of grants and donations from individuals and private institutions.

Amherst Pep Squad Gives Annual Football Banquet

Amherst -- The Amherst pep squad sponsored a football banquet honoring the 1966 Am-Bulldogs, on Saturday, Jan. 21, 1967. The theme was "Happiness is a Spirit A.H.S." The banquet was held at the Amherst school. The speaker was Neal Dillman, Superintendent of Schools from Muleshoe. He was introduced by Lamar Kelly, local superintendent. Barbecued ham was served to approximately 91 football players and members of high school faculty. Eighth grade girls served the meal. The event began with Leon Hardwick giving the invocation. Donna Gilliland gave the welcome with James McAdams giving the response. Kathy Campbell presented the toast. Following the delicious meal, Lamar Kelly, introduced the speaker. Coach Grimes then introduced each of the players. Johnny Norwood gave a presentation to the coaches. After the group sang the school song, James Settle gave the benediction.

Lamb World War Vets Get $19,000 More Aid

World War veterans in Lamb County will have their financial status improved this year to the tune of $19,200. That is the approximate sum they will receive out of a total of $211 million that will be paid to veterans of World War I and World War II who have maintained their GI insurance policies. The money has become available for distribution because the death rate among policyholders continues to be lower than the rate on which the premiums were gauged. Interest earned on the accumulated dividends has also been a factor. It has helped to build up reserve funds, enabling the Veterans Administration to make the return to the policyholders. Sharing in the distribution will be 4,222,000 veterans of World War II who hold National Service Life Insurance policies and 196,000 World War I veterans who are covered by U. S. Government Life Insurance. Of the 1,976 veterans in Lamb County, according to the latest Government survey, only about 400 of them will be on the receiving end. As for the local residents who saw service in the Korean War, they will not participate in the dividend, the Veterans Administration states. The policies they hold do not provide for it. Nationally, only a fraction of the GI's, about one out of every five of them have the insurance to qualify. Those that do will receive an average of $76 each, if they are World War I vets, and about $46 if they are veterans of World War II. For the 400 in Lamb County, the total is estimated at $19,200. Much of it, it is expected, will reach the cash registers of local retail stores in short order. Its impact on business activity will be several times as great, however, because of the multiple effect that new money has when put into circulation. For those ex-servicemen who are eligible to receive dividends, the Veterans Administration points out that their checks will arrive on the anniversary dates of their policies. It adds that the preparation and distribution of the checks will take place automatically and that no application for them is necessary.

DPS Faced With Greatest Manpower Shortage Ever

The Texas Department of Public Safety is faced with the greatest manpower shortage in its history. In order to replenish the ranks of the uniformed services, employment procedures have been changed to allow for immediate employment, announced Major Harry Hutchison, Regional Commander of this area. Applicants who successfully meet all the requirements can be placed on the payroll within 10 days, and will be assigned temporary duty at any of the regional, district or sub-district DPS offices over the state until a recruit training school begins. Periodic training schools will be held at the DPS

Amherst Gets Win Over Smyer

Amherst chalked up a first round championship in District 4-B Tuesday with a 82-45 win over Smyer, as Royce McAdams tallied 21 points. Amherst also claimed a girls' victory as Kathy Campbell dumped in 19 points for a 34-19 win. The girls B team made it a clean sweep for Amherst as they won 38-15.

stumbling, poor hand and eye co- ordination in playing ball or picking up things, temper tan- trums, and even unsociability can have a visual background.

Behavior while reading is sig- nificant in many cases, including some of the less severe visual problems. Holding the book too close to the face, frequent blink- ing, closing one eye, tilting the head, poor posture, rubbing the eyes, and easily losing the place are particularly meaningful.

COMPLAINTS
Young children are most likely to avoid use of their eyes if they hurt. Their symptoms of pain are often nebulous and mis- understood, but as interest in learning develops, and the pres- sure of school increases, compla- ints become more frequent and important. A healthy, normal pair of eyes should be able to meet the demands of school- work without fatigue or symp- toms of discomfort.

Complaints of headache, diz- ziness, blurred vision, seeing objects double, itching or burn- ing of the eyes, and discomfort of any kind associated with use of the eyes are abnormal in children of school age. Car sick- ness, nausea, and nervousness may be related to incorrect vis- ual responses.

Parents who know the ABC's of vision can prevent what might hinder their child's school pro- gress, and may save him some precious vision besides.

The above information pre- pared by the Vision Conserva- tion Institute is presented in the interest of better vision by the local members of the South Plains Optometric Society.

Journey To The Past

BY EVALYN PARROTT SCOTT

HISTORY OF SUDAN PIONEERS, THE LATE JOE G. WILKINSON AND HIS WIFE, MARY (CUMMINGS) WILKINSON. (Material submitted by Mrs. Wilkinsons)

The late Joe, G. Wilkinsons, well known Sudan pioneer, was a native of Oklahoma born in the Indian Territory, Feb. 10, 1901, at the present day town of Reck. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Wilkinsons and highlights of his early school days was attending school in a half-dugout after the family moved to Beaver County, Oklahoma in 1907. Each child had to provide his own desk, which was home-made and usually from wooden boxes.

The Wilkinsons family moved in 1915 to near the present day Duncan, Oklahoma then known as West of Liberty, where he attended Red School.

It was in Beaver County that Mr. Wilkinsons became acquainted with the Wisemans, another well known Sudan family.

In 1918 the family moved to a place near Duncan, a half-mile from the home of his future wife, the former Mary Cummings, who was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles (Charlie) Cummings.

A native of Texas, Mrs. Wilkinsons was born at Charlie, Texas, May 10, 1901, but the family left there not long after her birth and moved to Beavers Crossing, Nebraska. In 1907 the Cummings family made the trek back, this time settling in Apache, Oklahoma where their daughter, Mary, attended Stony Point school near Apache. In 1910 the Cummings family moved back to Beavers Crossing, but in Jan. 1912, they retraced their steps to Oklahoma this time settling near Liberty where Mary finished grade school, then later attended high school at Duncan.

It was near Duncan the couple met and later married, Feb. 13, 1921. After one year of farming there the couple decided to make a move together -- along with his parents, destination - the Plains of Texas.

Thus, they became one of the early Pioneer families of Sudan. In Oct. 1922 the late Joe Wilkinsons and his parents loaded two covered wagons with the household belongings of both families and headed for Sudan to join his sister and family, the Allen Smiths, and his brothers and families, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Wilkinsons and Mr. and Mrs. William Wilkinsons who were already here and living at that time in half-dugouts, as did the newcomers. States Mrs. Wilkinsons, "They were warm in the winter and cool in the summer."

However, Mrs. Wilkinsons did not make the trip through in the covered wagon, as she waited in Oklahoma until January of 1923 following the birth of their second daughter, Mrs. Wilkinsons gave birth to two babies during the year, 1922, the first child being born Jan. 1, 1922, and on Dec. 29th, another daughter, Genevieve, was born. When the latest daughter was twenty-one days old on Jan. 19, 1923, the Wilkinsons, (Joe having returned during Christmas of '22 to bring his family to Sudan) entrained for the Plains, but, due to being one hour late they landed in Amarillo too late to catch the only train coming this way that day.

According to Mrs. Wilkinsons she remembers vividly the day and night spent in Amarillo and at the time it seemed to the family to be the coldest place on Earth. Upon their arrival in Sudan, the Wilkinsons met the train with a wagon filled with quilts, a welcome sight to the travelers, as it was snowing hard.

Their first home, a half-mile from the home of his future wife, the former Mary Cummings, was who was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles (Charlie) Cummings.

loose as well as chickens. The mud holes in main street were used by the hogs for wallows following a rain.

The City Park had a wind mill where some of the people obtained their water, hauling it to their homes. Later water was piped from the wind mills to the different houses.

In the spring of 1923 there was a terrible prairie fire from the northwest which burned off all the country. The Bar 77 Ranch was west of the Wilkinsons home and the fire killed a good many small calves. The cause of the fire was a steam engine being used to break land which started the blaze accidentally.

All able bodied people helped fight the fire with equipment such as wet sacks, brooms, and it was remember that one of the Kerkendall boys used a leather coat to fight the fire and needless to say when the blaze had been brought under control there wasn't much coat either.

According to Mrs. Wilkinsons there aren't many left that were here in 1922 and 23. Of early day families she remembers were the E. L. Weldons, the Jack Rowsons, the Joe Wests, Bill and Clara Olds, Lynn and Ima Olds, the Hammocks who lived 1/2 mile south of them and the A. I. Wens who lived west of them.

A FIRST FOR SUDAN
Joe and Mary Wilkinsons provided a first for Sudan in having the first set of twins born in the town in 1926. All the people and neighbors came calling to see the twins.

The Wilkinsons children were Opha A. Wilkinsons, born Jan. 1, near Duncan Oklahoma, died Sept. 28, 1934; Genevieve J. Wilkinsons born Dec. 29, 1922, near Duncan, graduated from Sudan High School, 1941, married Henry L. Chamberlain of McMahn, Texas; E. Wayne Wilkinsons, born April 10, 1925 who served in the Armed Forces during the second World War. He volunteered in May, 1943 and received his discharge in 1946, was in the Philippines and New Guinea, he then married Fay Cloud of near Lubbock, Jan. 11, 1947; Floyd L. and Loyd I. Wilkinsons, twins born July 9, 1926. Loyd died Nov.

26, 1926; Floyd married Modena Whisenant of Odessa, Texas; Mary Joe Wilkinsons, born Aug. 2, 1928 married Jack Attaway of Littlefield, March, 1948; Ada J. Wilkinsons, graduated from Sudan High School, married Ted J. Green, Dec. 9, 1948 of West Virginia; Mable L. Wilkinsons, born Dec. 1932, 1930 graduate of Sudan High School, married James R. Wages, Dec. 1950;

James A. Wilkinsons, born Aug. 20, 1935, Sudan High School graduate, 1954, entered the Army in 1954 and served two years in Korea, married Nov. 12, 1965, Dianne Jordan of Farmington, New Mexico; Ruby G. Wilkinsons, Nov. 3, 1943, married Carl D. Thomas of Muleshoe, Feb. 5, 1960.

McMurry College Chanters Present Concert Locally

A variety of sacred music ranging from the 16th century to the 20th century will be included in the concert to be presented by the McMurry College Chanters from Abilene in First Methodist Church on January 26 at 7:30 p.m. The Chanters visit is sponsored by the First Methodist Church.

Professor Paul Engelstad, formerly director of the Texas Lutheran College Choir, has directed the McMurry College Chanters since 1963 and has earned an enviable reputation as one of the finest choral conductors in the Southwest.

The concert will include compositions of the masters such as "God Be In My Hand" by H. Walford Davies; "Puer Natus Est Nobis", a Gregorian Chant; "O Vos Omnes" by Vittoria; "Exsultate Justi" by Viadana;

"The Noise of the Multitude" and "The Paper Reeds by the Brooks", both by Randall Thompson; the Motet, Opus 29, No. 2 by Brahms, which include "Create in Me a Clean Heart, O God", "O Cast Me Not Away", and "Grant Unto Me the Joy of Thy Salvation."

Also on the program are several other outstanding selections, including "I Want Jesus", a spiritual arranged by Jester Hairston; "Bell Carol", by Willis James; "O How Beautiful the Sky", a Danish Folk Song; and "Wake, Awake", by F. Melius Christiansen.

The collegiate singers are currently on a tour that will take them to 13 cities and towns including Lubbock, Amarillo and El Paso. They will present 20 concerts in churches and schools during the 10-day tour scheduled for January 21-31.

Tax Funds Used For Non Road Items

State and federal governments channeled an estimated $22 billion of the special taxes paid by highway users into non-road programs during the years 1957 through 1966, Oil Facts reports.

Over the 10-year period, federal highway user taxes withheld from road-building totaled more than $17 billion. The figure for fiscal 1966 alone was $1.8 billion.

During the same decade, certain states diverted a total of more than $4 billion away from their highway programs. The annual diversion figure grew from $205 million in 1957 to a record $656 million in 1965, according to figures published by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads.

State highway user tax figures for 1966 are not yet available, but Oil Facts says no reduction in the amount of money diverted is anticipated.

Bad Checks Business Project

The Chamber's Better Business Committee under the chairmanship of C. W. Conway undertook the job of a cut-down on bad checks. With the cooperation of the county attorney, satisfactory results were achieved.

The committee combining with the Small Claims Court also attempted to improve the payments of charge accounts.

This committee, whose members were Norman Renfro, Merlin Yarborough, E. J. Foust, Jr., Clarence Sperling, A. F. Tubbs, and Don Kirby made studies of ways in which credits and collections might be improved.

The rare and unusual Venus's flytrap, an odd, insect-eating plant, grows wild only in the Carolinas.

OUTGOING DIRECTORS this year in the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce are Kenneth Reast, top left, Joe Montgomery, top right, and C. W. Conway, above. In chamber work for 1966 Reast was vice president in charge of agriculture and tourist industries, while Conway was chairman of the retail council and better business committee. Montgomery was chairman of the municipal liaison committee.

UP IT GOES — This is one of the signs, which was erected as a project of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, to attract visitors to Littlefield. Workmen from the Southwestern Public Service Company and the City of Littlefield aided in erecting the sign.

Visitors Object Of Chamber

Activities toward greater tourist promotion were undertaken by the Publicity and the Tourist Promotion Committees.

The principle achievements of these committees were the large highway signs erected inviting travelers to visit Littlefield, and the formulation of a map of the city which would show the location of industries, recreation areas, and various points of interest.

Members of these committees were Jerry Roberts, Landon Grissom, Jack Christian, Fly Thornton, Vergil Zoth, Allen Hodges and Lee Burnett.

In Recreation Improvements

Major project for the year of the Chamber of Commerce Recreation Improvements Committee included a roadside camper park to provide an overnight stopping area for travelers.

The committee, with E. B. Luce as chairman, provided this park with its 10 campingspaces.

Each space is supplied with a picnic table and charcoal broiler. The grounds have been beautified with trees and grass.

Committee members on the project were J. E. Chisholm, Tom Hilbun, Warren Dayton, C. A. Duval, Richard Bean, Mrs. T. L. Dunlap and J. H. (Dick) Carl.

Working toward more diversification in farming was the principal goal of the Agriculture Development committee during 1965.

The committee, with Troy Armes as Chairman, investigated sources of farmers' incomes to provide advisement toward diversified farming. In attempting to inform the area farmers more about diversification, the committee held a meeting in the High School auditorium. This meeting explained how the production of crops such as vegetables, swine raising, and cattle feeding might aid in the farmers' income.

The ELECTRIC Company

Among the awards presented by the Chamber of Commerce each year is the "Outstanding Citizen of the Year" award. Receiving the honor in 1965 were Kenneth Ware and Dr. William Orr.

Their outstanding co-chairmanship of the downtown improvement project which made Littlefield an All-American City

Industry Sought For City

The activities of the Industrial Services Committee and the Municipal Liaison Committee for 1966 centered around providing information to industrial prospects for Littlefield.

These two committees of the Business Development Division compounded industrial, freight, and labor surveys of the town to provide information which would encourage more new industry.

Committeemen engaged in these projects were C. A. Duval, L. D. Onstead, Richard Bean, Warren Dayton, Tom Hilbun, Allen Hodges, Kenneth Ware, Pat Downs, John Richey and Jim Tom Brittain.

Heading these committees were Jim Copeland, chairman of the Industrial Services Committee, and Joe Montgomery, chairman of the Municipal Liaison Committee.

They also worked for a common decision of the Water Flood Project.

candidate made them excellent recipients of the award.

Orr, a native of Memphis,

Tex., came to Littlefield from Shamrock in 1932. He graduated from the University of Texas College of Dentistry in Houston in 1930.

Among Orr's many achievements were his part in the building of the Littlefield Hospital. He also served for 12 years on the School Board, seven of which were as president. An active member of the Rotary Club since 1937, Orr is presently serving as president. In addition to organizations and dentistry he also raises cows on his farm near Spade.

Orr and his wife, Leila, are members of the Methodist Church. They have two sons, William, a dentist in the Sharps-town Center in Houston, and Robert Lee, also a dentist specializing in orthodontistry in Grand Junction, Colo.

Kenneth Ware, who has lived here since he was seven months old, is manager of Ware's Department Store.

He took over the management of the store after his graduation from Texas Tech and his completion of four years of military service. Ware's Department Store was begun by Kenneth's father, J. H. Ware, shortly after Kenneth's birth and has been located in its present location since.

Kenneth and his wife, Faye, have one daughter, Carrie, age 9, and are members of the First Methodist Church.

E. O. Feagley Received 1965 Outstanding Farmer Award

Each year the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce selects an "Outstanding Farmer of the Year." Receiving the award in 1966 was E. O. Feagley, who has been a farmer in the Littlefield area since 1947.

Feagley has 1,200 acres of which approximately 1,000 is under cultivation. These farms are both dry land and irrigated.

A native of Chillicothe, he moved to Lamb County in 1927, where he lived in the Rocky Ford community. He farmed southwest of Littlefield beginning in 1947, until 1958 when he moved his present home three miles east of Littlefield on the Spade Highway.

Feagley and his wife, Mary

Helen have two daughters, Mrs. Kenneth Bishop of Littlefield, and Donna Rae, age 17, a senior at Littlefield High School.

Feagley is a progressive farmer and last year in conjunction with the High Plains Conservation Office put some of his dry land acreage in terracing.

FAA Grant Will Help Airport

Among the achievements of the Chamber's Aviation Committee was the acquisition of a $103,000 Federal grant to improve the city's airport facilities. An addition to the office building at the airport was also built.

Chairman, Werner Birkelbach, and committeemen, Allen Purdy, Dr. W. C. Nowlin, Bob Kirk, Kenneth Ware, Alvin Webb and Richard Bean, have endeavored to promote a public interest in aviation in this area.

Credit, Management School Was Retail Council Project

A highly successful school on credit and credit management was one of the projects undertaken during the year by the Chamber of Commerce Retail Council.

The school was held in the XIT Room of the Security State Bank for four days, Oct. 31 - Nov. 3. Conducting the school was Theron Lee, training specialist from the University of Texas. The training was made available by the Distributive Education Program of the University of Texas and the Texas Education Agency. Principles of credit and collection procedures and problems were explained and discussed during the four sessions.

Persons employed in retailing, wholesaling, servicing and professional offices attended the school. The participants were presented with certificates at the end of the school's ten-hour course.

Under the leadership of co-chairmen, Amos Ward and C. W. Conway, the council also sponsored the George Washington Birthday Sale, the annual Sidewalk Sale, the Stock-in Festival Sale, in preparation for Christmas, the Mad Rush Days Sale, two days prior to Christmas, and Dollar Days, staged the first Monday of each month.

Visitors Given Transportation

Transportation was arranged for various VIPs who visited Littlefield during 1965 by the Chamber of Commerce Transportation Committee under the chairmanship of B. D. Garland.

The committee provided transportation for these visitors while they were here and to and from the airport.

Ambassadors End Second Year

The Ambassadors committee which is in its second year of operation, entertained the guests of the city during the year. They also acted in their official capacity at various club meetings which entertained out-of-town guests.

The committee under the chairmanship of C. A. Duval and J. E. Chisholm, along with groups of chamber members, greeted the guests of the Mid-Winter Conference of the Lions Club. They also greeted the guests for the Summer Area Meeting of the TOPS Club. Also among their activities was aid in several downtown projects.
