Notaries Are Told Of Filing Date

Secretary of State Frank Lake announced that all qualified Notaries Public desiring re-appointment for the new term ending June 1, 1963 must re-qualify by the payment of the required fee and the filing of a new oath and bond with the County Clerk of his residence between June 1, 1961, and June 10, 1961.

Lake emphasized that Notaries Public should not send requests for re-appointment or for commissions directly to the Secretary of State. The law specifically requires that the County Clerks approve notary bonds.

The Secretary of State further pointed out that each person applying for a commission as a Notary Public must be at least 21 years of age and a resident of the county for which he is appointed. The exact name and permanent address of the applicant must be furnished the County Clerk.

Attend the Church of your Choice Regularly

ASK - SEEK KNOCK

Everyone knows that success comes not to those who merely desire it, but to those who achieve it through long, hard work.

It is odd then, that in the spiritual area of life some people should expect blessings to come for the asking.

Those who really understand PRAYER know that it's more than mere asking. It is seeking. It is the hungry search for truth and moral enlightenment... digging for spiritual gold in the hills of life.

But PRAYER is something more even than seeking. It is knocking... meeting life's obstacles bravely... waiting with patient determination until closed doors open... entering portals that the more timid pass by.

We wouldn't really need churches if spiritual growth came for the asking. But we do need churches to help us seek the treasures of God. And through our churches, with the united strength of millions of Christians, we knock on the portals of the more abundant life—and there find it.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Gary Cooper. He played a large part in telling the true stories of the west and in many cases the part of cowboy who helped settle this part of West Texas. Texans owe him a lot for bringing the state to great national prominence through the movies. Cooper will live long in the memories of just about everyone who saw him in a movie. He was at the top of the heap for many years, but yet when he appeared on the screen, everyone thought of him as an everyday guy and many spoke of him as if they had met him personally. It will be a long time before anyone can take his place.

Texans have always said there's nothing lower than a cattle thief, and Texas cattle raisers have always led the nation in their fight against these parasitic criminals who brutally steal and butcher from another man's herds. But cattle theft is still a big problem in Texas and elsewhere. Modern transportation methods, tranquilizer pellets thrust into the victimized animals, and shade tree butchering places have updated rustler's techniques and often make them more difficult to apprehend.

It might not be a bad idea if the cattle raisers went back to the old days when cattle thieves were strung up when they were caught. It might just stop the urge to steal. Us modern folk look back and think that "old time" justice was pretty severe, and in some cases it was, but it was swift, which is more than you can say for today's justice.

Well, the U.S. backed down again at the conference table. I thought the new "frontier" wasn't going to stand for the insults and international slaps dealt us by the Russians. This time England, one of our supposed allies, sided with Russia and more or less forced us to accept the Red dictates. The Monroe Doctrine looks more and more inviting each day.

The Texas Highway Department is divided into 25 Highway Districts, each being responsible for about ten counties and about 2,000 miles of highways.

All Star Grid Classic Planned In Amarillo

AMARILLO - Frank Hodnik, general chairman of the Panhandle Grid Classic, announced that the 4th annual high school all star football game will be held Saturday August 19, at Price College Stadium in Amarillo.

The selection committee is now in the process of choosing the players and coaches who will participate. Sponsored by the Price College P-TA the game matches high school graduates from AAAA and AAA (City Slickers) schools against AA, A and B (Sodbusters) schools.

For the past three years this game has proved an exciting and hard hitting contest with the City Slickers winning two and the Sodbusters one. The Sodbusters will be out to even the series this year to show that small schools can also produce great players.

Individual Americans Must Preserve Freedoms

The key to the preservation of our freedoms lies in the understanding mind and patriotic heart of individual Americans.

Not in fuzzy wishful thinking about the aim of communism...

Not in fainthearted unwillingness to meet its deadly challenge...

But in knowing where we stand, and why... what we must do, and how, individually and as a nation blessed with a priceless heritage of liberty.

Let us get with it!

This theme ran ringingly through remarks of two eminent speakers in San Diego recently.

One of them was former Vice President Richard Nixon.

The other was Carlos P. Romulo, Philippine ambassador to the United States.

Said Nixon, in his call for direct involvement of every individual American in the great issues of our times:

"It is easy to talk of freedom in the abstract and fail to recognize that it is impossible for any individual in a free country to sit on the sidelines. Whatever your politics may be it is the responsibility of people in your stations of life to provide leadership for our political institutions.

"The political bosses, to whom some want to leave government, are only as good as people like you. Only to the extent that you provide leadership can our possibilities for development be realized. Only in this way can you make the ideals you believe in prevail in this world."

Romulo, speaking at the sixth and last "Pillars of American Freedom" luncheon sponsored by the San Diego Kiwanis Club, gave three premises by which Americans should judge our nation's actions in international affairs.

First—The United States is not imperialistic. Second—The basic Communist objective is world domination.

Third—The United States is engaged in a life and death global struggle with the "ruthless monolithic ideology that is communism."

These are valid yardsticks—borne out by the record, ours and the Communists'.

We neither sought nor accepted an inch of territory after emerging victorious with our allies from World War II. In fact, we shared our abundance with prostrate friend and foe alike.

At the same time the Free World was opening the gates of independence to millions, the Soviet Union and Red China were enslaving even more millions of once-free peoples.

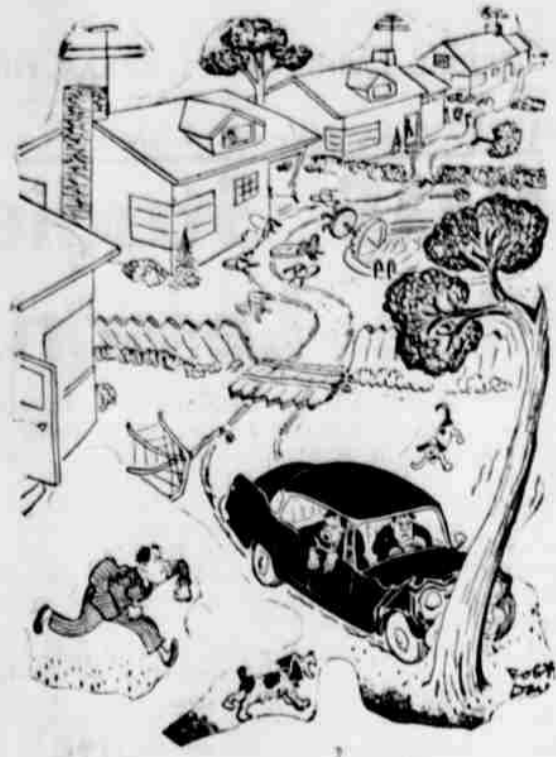

Neither Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev nor Communist China's Chairman Mao Tse-tung have denied that the ultimate goal of the Communists is world domination. On the contrary, they boast of its inevitability.

These are the facts that we must face squarely and accept unflinchingly.

To do less is to fail our forefathers, to forfeit their legacy of liberty.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

By Vern Sanford Texas Press Association AUSTIN - A showdown is near in the 57th Legislature's money-raising battle.

Final round apparently will be between Gov. Price Daniel, who is anti-general sales tax, and a Senate group, which has indicated leanings toward a sales tax.

Sen. Wardlow Lane of Center, chairman of the Senate State Affairs Committee, also is serving as chairman of a subcommittee to consider the House-passed sales tax bill. Other members are Senators Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi, Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo, J. P. Fuller of Port Arthur and Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells.

Speaking before a Senate committee hearing on the sales tax bill, the governor minced no words in saying he would veto it... or anything similar to it.

He urged consideration of a "package bill" that would levy selective sales or excise taxes in eight areas. Affected would be gas pipelines, motor driven tools and appliances, jewelry, utilities, stock transfers, soft drinks, beer, liquor and restaurant meals.

This plan, said the governor, would bring in $166,000,000 a year—enough to cover the general appropriations bill pay raises for teachers, and leave a nest egg for next time.

HOUSE VOTES TEACHER RAISE - House gave one of the biggest votes of the session to a bill that would give teachers the full $810 a year salary raise they seek.

Rep. L. DeWitt Hale's bill was approved 143 - to 2 and sent to the Senate.

It would raise the minimum pay for teachers with a bachelor's D TO 1 1/2, 2 1/2 AND F O MASTERS DEGREE TEAS T $4,239. Yearly increases for experience would be doubled, from $54 to $108.

Superintendents and principals would receive from 20 to 40 per cent more than the base for classroom teachers.

JOBLESS AID INCREASED - A bill to increase unemployment pay, both in amount and duration, RECEIVED PRELIMINARY HOUSE APPROVAL.

Rep. Tony Koriolth of Sherman is original sponsor of the much-amended bill. It would raise maximum weekly payment to the jobless from $28 to $35 and increase from 24 to 30 weeks the period during which the unemployed worker could receive state help.

It would require that the applicant be out of work for one week before receiving unemployment compensation.

Bill would cost employers an extra $6,000,000 to $8,000,000 more more money.

CD BILL FILIBUSTERED - A proposal to give the Legislature emergency powers in event of enemy attack came in for attack itself in the Senate.

Sen. Culp Krueger of El Campo is sponsor of the proposed constitutional amendment that would allow the Legislature to fill offices made vacant because of enemy attack. As first offered, it also authorized the Legislature to "take such measures as may be necessary," even to suspension of the Constitution.

Opposing the bill were Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo, the constitution's most vocal defender, and several other senators.

Even with the offending phrase deleted, the measure was approved by only a 14 to 12 vote. Two-thirds approval is needed for a constitutional amendment.

HOUSE REDISTRICTING OKAYED - Legislature is moving slowly ahead with the politically painful task of realigning the state's congressional and legislative districts to conform with the 1960 census.

House has given final passage to a bill re-shuffling the House districts. It will increase the number of city representatives and reduce the number of rural representatives, but in general, the city members will represent about twice as many voters as the rural members. The increase is due to the constitutional limit of one representative to 100,000 people in urban areas.

If the House bill is finally enacted, a number of representatives will have to retire or run against another House member whose district has been combined with theirs.

House also got two congressional redistricting bills out of committee after passage of a "hurry up" resolution. Texas is due one extra congressman for which Dallas County is vigorously bidding.

Senate action on a bill to rework the senatorial districts has been slowed by Sen. J. P. Fuller's filibustering objections.

ESCHEAT BILL FAILS AGAIN - House voted 72 to 60 in favor of letting the abandoned property bill remain abandoned.

This bill was defeated earlier in the session, despite Governor Daniel's insistence that he would call a special session, if necessary, to get it passed.

Rep. Charles Hughes, sponsor of the measure, tried to get it called up and put on the calendar for a second time, but was turned down.

Bill would set up machinery whereby the state could take over property or bank accounts of persons who die or disappear without heirs. Governor Daniel has estimated it would bring the state some $17,000,000.

SPILT JURY BILL ADVANCED - A bill to allow less than unanimous jury verdicts in civil cases - an issue on which the legal profession is sharply divided - was approved by the Senate Jurisprudence Committee.

Under the bill, 10 to 2 verdicts would be allowed.

Opponents of the bill say it would reduce the number of jurors and cause "by one blockhead."

PLEAD FOR PRISON FUNDS - State Board of Corrections is making a last stand before the conference committee on the appropriations bill to get more funds for the prison system.

Texas prison situation is "explosive," said Director O. B. Ellis, who warned of the possibility of riots unless the board gets funds for needed improvements.

Crowding three men into six-by-eight foot, one man cells and requiring 72-hour work-weeks for guards were cited as examples of the problems.

Appropriation measures passed by the House and Senate give the Department of Corrections about $19,000,000, compared to the $24,000,000 it requested.

Conference committee is the "court of last resort" for those seeking changes in a bill. Each house must vote on the conference committee report on "take it or leave it" basis.

LOAN BILL PANEL NAMED - After weeks of argument and delay, the Senate State Affairs Committee sent the problem of small loan regulation to a special subcommittee.

On the committee are Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo, Chairman, Senators Abraham Kazen, Jr. of Laredo and George Parkhouse of Dallas.

Senator Hardeman is Senate sponsor of the House-passed small loan bill which would regulate loans of up to $3,000 and would allow charges ranging up to 40 per cent.

Representatives of small companies making loans of $100 and less have urged a different - and apparently higher - scale for loans in this category.

TRADING STAMP BILL HENCHED - Proposed legislation to outlaw the use of trading stamps would be unconstitutional, Attorney General Wilson ruled.

Wilson ruled that prohibiting trading stamps would go beyond authorized power of the state.

Proposed bill, said the opinion, cites no reason why use of trading stamps could be considered a danger to the public interest.

SPOTLIGHT ON HIGHWAYS -

Sandhills Philosopher Rockets Are Easier Solve Than Farm Program

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discusses steer hides and space, among other things, in his letter this week.

Dear editor: I was using the margin of a newspaper to do some figuring on last night, what I was figuring was how many cow hides it takes to buy a pair of shoes, on account of I had a prime Jersey steer butchered the other day and discovered the hide which weighed 32 pounds brought $2.56, which is 8 cents a pound, and based on a pair of $20 shoes, that's eight hides to pay for one pair, and while I have never made a pair of shoes, I don't believe it'd take that much leather, even for a size 12. In fact, I glanced down at my feet, or rather out, as I had them propped up at the time, and I calculated a careful worker ought to get three or four pairs out of one steer hide, and by that time my figures had run out the margin and into a news article and to get my mind off the lack of parity in steer hides and shoes I read it.

According to it, Secretary of Agriculture Freeman told Congress a "successful long-range farm program is more to this nation than in space."

Now I agree with cent, but what Mr. Freeman is that putting space, as hard as it is to get our minds around the earth, but I believe it'd be figuring out a successful long-range farm program don't have either you want?

Some people keep what space explained out, what we're going there that's worth it, they miss the point. The purpose of it is to get our minds around the earth, but I believe it'd be figuring out a successful long-range farm program don't have either you want?

Personally, I'm in learning how to get around the earth, but I believe it'd be figuring out a successful long-range farm program don't have either you want?

Yours faithfully, J. A.

Out of the five in Texas, only 3% to the highway program is diverted way purposes.

Need to avoid "hardening of the highway arteries" will be emphasized during Highway Week in Texas, May 21-27.

State Highway Engineer De Witt C. Greer noted these warning signs:

1. More than one-third of Texas' total highway mileage is obsolete.

2. Building of farm-to-market roads (now a 33,000 mile system) has outpaced the money to maintain them.

3. Revenue from road user taxes (on gasoline, etc.) is constantly in danger of being diverted to uses other than highways.

SHORT SNORTS North Texas State College in Denton will become North Texas State University on August 27. A bill making the change has been signed by the governor.

Senate voted final passage of a bill that would give the Texas Aeronautics Commission three-fourths of all unclaimed tax refunds on aviation gasoline. Remaining one-fourth goes to the unclaimed refunds at some $70,000 to $100,000 annually.

Latin American Move Needed To Stop Communism

It may be that Senator Fulbright of Arkansas, chairman of the foreign relations committee in the upper house, is not over-optimistic in finding a "good side" to the Cuban invasion fiasco. He thinks that there now has developed a greater alertness to the Communist danger in this hemisphere, not only in Congress and the administration but in Latin America.

Fidel Castro's proclamation of a Cuban "socialist republic" may be more responsible than invasion attempt, but Brazil apparently has taken the Latin American lead in reappraising the Cuban situation for its threat to the continent. President Janio Quadros has called a cabinet meeting for an analysis in the midst of a newspaper clamor for a conference of foreign ministers of the Americas to consider the Cuban problem.

Whether such a conference is held or not, the fact of Brazil's concern over the turn of events is encouraging of some sort of Latin American action. It may be too much to expect unanimity in the region with respect to Castro and communism, but his open declaration of socialism, which is synonymous with communism in the Soviet jargon, may alarm at least a group of Latin American nations into acting in concert. And if the issue were joined the group would grow.

In the absence of a definite U. S. policy for dealing with Castro, Latin America is almost compelled in its own security to formulate a policy for the danger to that region is infinitely greater than it is to the United States which after all is hardly vulnerable to subversion from Cuba.

The region is more apt in any case to shape its own policy than it is to follow a policy recommended by the United States. The U. S. administration, which has shied wide from the possibility of open military intervention in Cuba, reportedly is reviewing the whole range of policies toward Cuba and Latin America. Maybe it should keep its decisions under wraps for a while—until it is seen what action the Latin American governments propose to undertake.

Who's Who In The Agriculture Department

Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman is not a fellow to forget his friends. The Secretary, who rode to Minnesota's governorship with a big boost from James G. Patton's socialistic National Farmers Union, has been so busily stocking his balliwick with members of the Patton group the union now has an iron influence over the Agriculture Department. This reporter has discovered that the following important decision makers, now toiling in Freeman's garden, have been connected with the small, but powerful Farmers Union.

(1) Willard Cochrane—though never technically a member, he has long been considered the NFU's "intellectual" leader and is now Kennedy's key farm braintruster as Director of Agricultural Economics.

(2) John A. Baker—a former legislative director of the National Farmers Union (lobbyist is another word), he's been appointed to a policy-making post as Director of Agricultural Credit Services.

(3) Robert G. Lewis—formerly the Farmers Union newsletter writer, he is now Deputy Administrator of Price Supports in the Commodity Stabilization Services (CSS).

(4) Arthur T. Thompson—Director of Grain Division for the CSS.

(5) Emery S. Jacobs—Deputy Administrator of Production Adjustment for the CSS.

And that isn't all. Of the 32 top staff personnel who have been connected with farm groups, a spokesman for the Agriculture Department says 14 have been linked to the Farmers Union: 7 with the National Grange (which supports Freeman's farm program), and only 11 with the largest farm organization, the conservative Farm Bureau. Moreover, it is estimated that scores of staffers at lower levels come from the NFU.

Freeman's penchant for planting Farmers Union members in his department will no doubt be carried over in his selection of members of the proposed Agricultural Commodity Committees which will establish the price supports for each commodity under the Administration's farm bill, HR16490. (See What You Can Do Section.) Staffed with Farmers Union members and their philosophical supporters, these committees are expected to favor high price support, not only for high-floated ideological purposes, but for the more prosaic reason that the Farmers Union has a vested interest in the high price support program which helped create the Federal food surpluses.

Last year, for example, the Grain Terminal Association, a Farmers Union Co-operative in St. Paul, Minnesota, received the eighth largest sum from the government for storing and handling of surplus commodities—$4,089,595. The Farmers Union Jobbing Association in Kansas City Missouri, cashed government checks totaling $2,469,409.

The influence over the Administration by the relatively unrepresentative Farmers Union (which has an estimated 300,000 members as opposed to the low price support favoring Farm Bureau with its 1.6 million members) can be gauged by another fact too. Wesley McCune, Director of Public Relations for the NFU, has moved his business office from Denver to Washington, D.C.

Uncle Sam's Enterprises

Indeed the Government is, among other things, the largest electric power producer in the country, the largest insurer, the largest insured, the largest lender and the largest borrower, the largest land-lord and the largest tenant, the largest holder of grazing land, the largest holder of timberland, the largest owner of grain, the largest warehouse operator, the largest ship owner, and the largest truck fleet operator. For a nation which is the citadel and the world's principal exponent of private enterprise and individual initiative, this is a rather amazing list.

Rowland Hughest, U.S. Budget Director, 1955.

Kimbrough Explains Necessity Of New Feed Grain Program

By W. R. Kimbrough
Lamb County Agent

Why do we have an Emergency Feed Grain Program for 1961? What can be expected in the future in the way of programs governing agricultural output? These are among the questions, are now being asked. We know that the Secretary of Agriculture, the President and Congress will probably attempt to enact additional legislation aimed to give fair and reasonable prices to producers in relationship to other segments of our economy.

First, let's start off with just what has happened in Feed Grain Storage over the past two years.

Stocks in all storage positions as of April, 1961, were a record for a third consecutive year. Holdings were slightly over 9 per cent last year and 66 per cent above average. Disappearance of what from all positions during the first quarter of this year (January - March) was a record of 362 million bushels, up sharply from the same quarter in 1960, reflecting heavy export movement. Nearly eight-twelfths of the United States stocks were government owned or under price support.

Storage in all positions were up almost 15 per cent above a year earlier and record high for April 1. Farm holdings were 3 per cent less than the amount stored on farms last April. About 94 per cent of the off-farm stocks were owned by or under loan to C.C.C. Off-farm were up 18 per cent from April, 1960.

Storage in all positions on April 1 reached a new high of 3,649 million bushels, which was 286 million bushels more than the previous record in April, 1960. Stocks in off-farm positions were 20 per cent higher and on farm a record 2 per cent higher than last year.

Corn owned by or under loan to the government comprised 91 per cent of the off-farm stocks. Thirty-four per cent of farm stocks were under loan, as compared with 27 per cent for April 1 of last year. Disappearance from all storage positions during first quarter of this year was a record, 2 per cent higher than during the same period last year (1,051 million bushels).

Oats: Storage in all positions totaled 559 million bushels, almost 15 per cent above the small holdings last April, and about equal to the average. Farm stocks were up 14 per cent last year, and off-farm storage was nearly 25 per cent larger than a year ago. Oats under loan to or owned by C. C. C. accounted for less than 10 per cent of the total stocks.

Disappearance during the first quarter of 1961, was 7 million bushels greater than the same period a year ago, but otherwise the lowest bid for this quarter since records were started in 1944.

Barley: Stocks in all positions were nearly the same as last year, but a third above average. Farm stocks were estimated at 5 per cent larger than a year ago, but off-farm storage was 5 per cent below that of last April. About 41 per cent of April 1 stocks were owned by or under loan to C.C.C. as compared with 48 per cent a year ago. Disappearance from all storage positions during the first quarter of 1961, was second only to the record of 116 million bushels for this quarter last year.

SUMMARY
You see that in every case, except oats, the amount of feed grain storage is the highest on record. Storage costs on these grains have been high. The main objectives under present farm programs are (1) reduce storage costs, (2) reduce carry-over stocks, (3) increase net farm income, (4) reduce production, and (5) assure both farmers and consumers.

It's the Law in TEXAS YOU CAN'T ENFORCE A BET. Is a bet with a friend, with witnesses present, a valid contract upon which you can collect in court? Can you force a person to pay off a bet that he made with you? Jim was the town's most loyal supporter of the Marysville baseball team, even though the team was having a disappointing season. Tom, a supporter of Johnston, a rival team, offered to bet Jim a sizable sum of money that Johnston would beat Marysville. Jim was quick to accept and asked several bystanders if they would be witnesses to the bet. That weekend Marysville won, but Tom refused to pay. Jim claimed that the bet amounted to a valid and binding contract. He wanted to bring a lawsuit against Tom to collect the money that he felt Tom legally owed him. However, he was advised that he did not have a case. The bet that they made was a gambling contract, and as such was illegal. Where both parties assert rights founded on a contract which is illegal and void, the court will refuse to enforce it, leaving the parties just where they placed themselves, and as they were before coming into court. The court has said that they owe it to public justice and to their own integrity to refuse to enforce contracts essentially violating morality or public policy. It is a judicial duty always to turn a claimant upon such a contract out of court regardless of how the character of the contract is made to appear. In this case, even though Jim could prove that he had made a contract with Tom, and regard-

Hi-Plains Hi-Lights Grass And Legume Study Is Begun

The High Plains Research Foundation is extending its private enterprise research program into the field of grasses and legumes. The Board of Trustees of the Central Rainland Experiment Station in Anglo-Egyptian Sudan. Others from Amman, France; Morocco; and Johannesburg, South Africa, included also are grasses and legumes from throughout the United States.

"These new programs are a part of the search for new crops for the area," Dr. Earl H. Collister, Chief Agronomist, said when he announced that the grasses and legumes planting had taken place.

"Finding new grasses and legumes for West Texas is of interest not only to the livestock industry, but also to farmers searching for additional crops. Deep-rooted grasses and legumes will be beneficial by adding humus to the soil and also improve the tilth and structure of the soil," Dr. Collister said.

Letters To Editor

Dear Editor, Possibly you have been printing the addresses of those who represent us in Austin from this area and also those who represent us in Washington, D.C. from this area. If you haven't, why not? This may sound funny, but I think even the President and Vice President's addresses should be in the paper once in awhile. It might give more people the idea to write to those who govern us. We can only express ourselves in this manner as long as our country is free. We are living in a critical time. I think we should keep our people informed even in this seemingly insignificant way, so people can express or think to express their concern, ideas, and rule over us. Let's don't let our country's welfare have an excuse. (not even a little excuse). Sincerely, Mrs. Hubert L. Gohlke R. 1, Littlefield.

About Your Health

AUSTIN - Accidents killed 93,000 Americans last year - including more than 5,200 Texans. How many of those people died because they were "accident prone?"

There is no way of knowing, of course. "Accident prone" is a phrase coined by the experts - psychologists, industry men and others on the theory that many accidents result from the victims' emotional make-up.

Studies by agencies interested in health and safety have shown that relatively few people are responsible for a high percentage of accidents. Conclusion: a person who has had one accident is more likely to be involved in another one than a person who has had none at all.

An industrial firm tries to reduce accident rates among heavy equipment operators by ordering a painstaking investigation into every mishap. Everything from shop environment to operator reaction time is checked.

The accidents continue despite an intensive educational campaign. But when the operators with bad records are transferred to other jobs, accidents involving heavy equipment fall to one-fifth of the former rate.

The transferred operators? They keep on having accidents on their new jobs and at home.

The experts have traced definite personality patterns among accident-prone people. Almost invariably they are impetuous, following impulses without deliberation or planning. Their decisiveness is, in reality, a drive for independence and self-reliance.

For the most part, investigators have found they have a history of neurotic traits in childhood. They simply reach a point, in their failure to handle an emotional situation, when an unpleasant happening becomes a physical and emotional necessity. Result: An "accident."

But while admitting that such a thing as accident proneness exists, Texas health officials still prefer to stress environmental hazards and biological conditions such as fatigue, temporary stress produced inattention, impaired vision or hearing or underlying disease, as the major culprit in accidents.

Too much emphasis on accident proneness, they feel, tends to obscure the need for correcting defects in industrial equipment, slum housing, inefficient traffic systems and inadequate playgrounds. (A weekly feature of the Health Education Division, Texas State Department of Health.)

Patrol Reports Eight Wrecks During April

The Highway Patrol investigated eight rural accidents in Lamb County during the month of April, according to Sergeant D. S. Lawson, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for eight persons injured and a property damage of $5,070. This brings the total for 1961 in this county to four killed, 29 injured, and a property damage of $26,405.

"A driver who learns and complies with traffic laws can never present as many accidents as a driver who learns and complies with both traffic laws and defensive driving procedures," the sergeant stated. A traffic law described what a driver must do or not do. Procedure describes ways in which a driver can comply with the law or do something extra that will increase his safety and prevent congestion.

"For example, the law says that no person shall park a vehicle upon the paved or main-traveled part of the highway. A driver complies with this law on a rural highway when his car barely clears the pavement. Procedure, in this instance, when possible or reasonable would require the driver to park a greater distance from the pavement," the sergeant explained.
