Working On Water Wells; Hope To Increase Pressure

CITY WELL NUMBER SIX might well have a question mark hanging over it as city officials ponder whether or not repairs now going on will make a producer out of the well which went out early this week. The well is being worked over and it is hoped it will again be one of the big water producers for a town sorely in need of more domestic water. (Staff Photo)

The water situation in Littlefield remained in a critical, almost desperate status this week, with only three wells running full time, delivering little more than half the normal amount of water used at this season of the year. Wells 2, 4 and 6 were pumping around the clock and still only putting 1,584,000 gallons into city mains, when citizens would ordinarily be using about two and a half million gallons daily.

Lamb Pioneers Reunion Set For Tuesday

The program for the seventh annual Lamb County Pioneers Reunion, August 23, was announced this week by Gus Shaw, program chairman for the reunion. The meeting will begin at 2 p.m. Herman Neuschwander will deliver the opening prayer, and Troy Armes, president of the Chamber of Commerce will give the welcoming address. Marshal Howard will make the response, and Mrs. Arbie Joplin will read the minutes of the last meeting. Departed members will be honored in a brief ceremony presided over by Pat Boone. The Serenaders from Lubbock will present a musical program followed by the traditional square dance exhibition, with Buck Ross in charge.

While workmen frantically tried to clean out well number 5, the other wells were running after being overhauled in emergency efforts to keep them going through the hot dry month of August. Wells 2, 4, and 6 have been reworked to keep them in operating condition even though they are not pumping nearly enough water to satisfy the needs of normal water usage in the city.

Residents are asked to continue cooperating by not watering lawns or washing cars until officially notified that the shortage has ended. Although, the prospects for any immediate settling of the water problem appear to be growing dimmer daily. Early this week the pipe fabricator for the concrete coated, steel pipe to be used in the connection of well 6 and 7, called the Littlefield City Commission, advising them that it will be from four to six weeks before steel can be delivered for fabricating the pipe needed.

The Prescott system of rank has been instituted in the Wildcat band, according to director Beryl Harris. Harris explained the system uses seven ranks: starting with no designation, the lowest rank is known as Band Aid; one stripe entitles the wearer to the title of Bandsman; two stripes is Bandsman, 1st class; three stripes, Instrumentalist; four stripes, Instrumentalist, 1st class; five stripes is the badge of Musician; and six stripes tells the world the wearer is a Musician, 1st class. One stripe may be earned by playing a first class solo or ensemble and making a first division at contest, or by playing for the director two books which cover all scales and practically all the rhythm patterns.

The system is divided by years and a stripe is given for each year's work played for the director. Seniors will be given one stripe for their service to the band. Seating arrangement is according to rank now. From the entire band of about ninety members, there are 17 bandsmen, six bandsmen 1st class, four instrumentalists and one musician. Mr. Harris declined to name these students, saying the band is showing up remarkably well in practice each Tuesday and Thursday evening and he is confident there will be other ranks earned rapidly. "Everybody," he declared, "is coming out for practice, including the mosquitos."

Lfd. Women Teachers To Meet Tuesday

The third annual meeting of women teachers, past or present, has been called for August 23, at 12:00 noon, in the Town House Restaurant. Reservations may be made by calling either Mrs. A. B. Brown or Mrs. Audie Collins.

These meetings have been called in the past as an outgrowth of smaller meetings for the purpose of fellowship with past associates and coincide with the Pioneers Reunion held each year in Littlefield. Last year the group included women from Lubbock and other area towns and cities. An even larger attendance is expected this year for the gabfest and a permanent organization will probably be formed at the conclusion of the meeting.

All women teachers in the Littlefield school system, either past or present, are cordially urged to attend.

Little League Playoffs Start Tonight

Littlefield's Little League teams will start their playoffs tonight (Thursday) at 6:30 and the nightcap will start at 8:00. The first game will pit the Woodmen against an unknown opponent, either the Lions, VFW or the Jaycees. The second game will feature the Rotarians against another unknown opponent. The game that was to be played yesterday at 4:00 o'clock between the Lions and the VFW will decide the other playoff team. The Jaycees will be tied with the winner of that game for third place and they will flip a coin to decide who they play, Rotary or WOW.

The WOW and the Rotary will be slight favorites to win the first go-around, but if the teams play ball as they have at times this year, any of them are capable of winning the title and the large trophy that goes with the championship.

As far as pitching is concerned, the Rotary & WOW have the best all-around pitchers, according to the records for the year. Only Max Ball of the WOW, Tom Lewis of the Lions and Pete Estrada has managed to win five games. But several teams have pitchers with 3-0 records that prove they have the stuff when called upon.

The Woodmen won first place in the regular season schedule and has already won the trophy that is being given by Allan Hodges of the A&B Office Supply. This trophy is now the permanent possession of the WOW but the trophy that goes to the winner of the playoffs will be kept for only one year by the team. They have to win it two years in a row before it can become the permanent possession of that team. The trophies will be given the last night of the playoffs. The A&B trophy will be presented to the Woodmen by Allan Hodges and the Little League trophy will be presented to the winner of the playoffs by Bob Manley, president of the Littlefield League in ceremonies following the last game of the playoffs.

Here is a quick rundown of the teams, how they finished and the pitchers records.

WOW

The Woodmen finished the season with a record of 11 wins against 4 losses. They beat the Rotary twice, Jaycees twice and both the Lions and the Smith and Badger three times. They lost one game to the Rotary, one game to the Jaycees and two games to the VFW. Their pitchers include: Max

Ball who has won 5 and dropped two. Ball is the best percentage-wise pitcher in the League and both of his losses were only by one point. Jerry Koller has three wins against no losses. Koller got a late start in the pitching department as he is the Woodmen's catcher. He has pitched in four games and has given up only four hits in a total of 24 innings. He pitched six innings against the Jaycees and had to leave the game when the score was tied. Ken Moore has a 2-0 record and will be the number one reliever for Coach Jimmie Chapman's Woodmen. He will be backed by Tom Morgan (1-1) and Jerry Connell, who has no record but has pitched in six games this season.

ROTARY

The Rotary finished the season with a ten game win and five losses recorded, and finished only one half game out of first place. Rotary has managed to beat every team in the League. They beat the VFW and Smith and Badger three times, the Jaycees twice, the WOW and Lions one each, while dropping two games to the Woodmen and Lions, and one game to the Jaycees. They have three good pitchers also and they all have three wins apiece. Eugene Reeves who got a late start in the pitching department as did Koller has the best record. He has 3 wins and 1 loss. His only loss was to the League leading Woodmen. Both Larry Elder & Shelly Duval have a 3-2 record and are the main stays on the mound for the Rotarians. Bobby Dow, another of the pitchers has a 1-0 record.

JAYCEES

The Jaycees lost four of their first five games but came back in the last two go-arounds to gain a playoff berth. Their starter most of the season has been little Pete Estrada who has a 5-4 record. Most of the losses that Es-

STEVE SHORT is shown walking across the plate in the bottom of the second as the VFW had the bases loaded and Geo. Nickelson of the Lions walked Dennis Mote of the VFW to give Short a free ride home. Lions won the game 8-6. (Staff Photo)

Lions Keep Hopes Alive With 8-6 Win

The Lions pulled a minor upset and beat the VFW for the first time this year Tuesday night by the score of 8-6. The win for the Lions made the two teams tied for fourth place and they were supposed to have played their other rained out game yesterday (Wednesday) to decide which team will enter the playoffs. The WOW, Rotary and Jaycees are the other teams in the playoffs.

Tom Lewis who came on to relieve George Nickelson in the bottom of the third was credited with the win, his fifth of the season against four losses. Joe Williams who came on to pitch the top of the seventh after Huber had pitched six innings was the losing hurler. This was the first appearance for Williams this year and he now has a 0-1 record. The Lions gained a one run lead in the top of the first. Mac Osbourne started off by striking out. Gene MacAllister, hitting star of the night for the Lions, got a single before Spike Jones grounded out. Tom Lewis got a hard hit single over the centerfielder to score MacAllister, but Lewis was thrown out later trying to steal third to retire the side. The VFW got four runs in the bottom of the first. Joe Williams fled out. Steve Short walked and Joe Huber and Dick Thompson both got hits to score two runs. Dennis Mote struck out and John Foley got a double to score Thompson with the third run. Billy Webb walked and Foley stole home on a pass ball to score. Billy Thompson then struck out to end the first inning.

Johnny Weaver started the second off by walking, but Jackie Brooks, George Nickelson, and Troy Myers all struck out to retire the Lions. Thomas Bryant struck out for the Vets to start the bottom of the second. Joe Williams went down on called third strike and Steve Short walked. Joe Huber got a single and Dick Thompson walked to load the bases. Dennis Mote walked to bring in one score but John Foley went down swinging to leave three men on for the Vets. Jimmy Melton struck out to start the third inning for the Lions. Mac Osbourne grounded out and Gene MacAllister got on an error. Spike Jones struck out to end the top of the third. Lewis came on to strike out Billy Webb and Billy Thompson before he hit Thomas Bryant with a pitched ball. Joe Williams struck out to end the third.

The Lions picked up two runs in the fourth. Tom Lewis grounded out and George Nickelson got a double followed by Troy Myers and Jimmy Melton's single to score two runs. Mac Osbourne struck out to end the top of the fourth. Steven Short struck out for the Vets in the bottom of the fourth. Joe Huber got a double and Dick Thompson struck out. Dennis Mote walked, but John Foley struck out to end the fourth with the score 5-3, Vets leading.

Gene MacAllister got a single to start the fifth for the Lions. Spike Jones and Tom Lewis struck out and Johnny Weaver got on on an error when Weaver got on to close the gap at 5-4.

The VFW got off to a good start but has all but completely fallen apart in the final go-around. They have depended mostly upon Joe Huber who has a 4-4 record. Little 9-year-old Lefty Thompson has been the chief reliever. He has a 3-2 record and Joe Williams who has appeared in only one inning has a 0-1 record. Dick Thompson has appeared in several games but has no record. They have beaten the Smith and Badger three times, WOW twice and Jaycees and Lions once each. They have lost three games to the Rotary, two to the Jaycees and one each to the WOW and Lions.

SMITH AND BADGER
Smith and Badger won only one game, but gave all other teams in the league a run for their money each time they played. Roy Gene Edwards was their main pitcher. He ended up with a one win and five loss record. Ulen Kennermer had a 0-3 record. James Standford and Ronny Waldon and Gary Lightfoot each had a 0-1 record and Billy Bangston had a 0-3 record. They managed to beat the Lions once, but also dropped two to the Lions. They dropped three games each to the Rotary, WOW, Jaycees and VFW.

The above story does not include Wednesday afternoon's game between the Lions and VFW which was too late for press time.

The Veterans were up and down in order in the bottom of the fifth. Billy Webb flew out and Walter Grissom and Joe Williams struck out.

George Nickelson started the sixth by striking out and then Jimmy Bangston got a single and Billy Bangston got on on an error. Mac Osbourne struck out and the Vets needed only one out for the victory. Gene MacAllister walked up to the plate and lifted his third hit of the game over the head of the right fielder to score both runners and put the Lions ahead 6-5. Spike Jones struck out to end the top of the sixth. Steve Short struck out, and Joe Huber got a single. Huber stole both second and third to get into scoring position. Dick Thompson struck out and with Dennis Mote having a two strike no balls count. Joe Huber stole home to score and Weaver dropped the ball on the tag. This tied the game and Mote struck out to force the game into an extra inning.

Joe Williams came on to pitch for the Veterans in the top of the seventh. He walked both Tom Lewis and Johnny Weaver. They both scored as Bobby Manley and George Nickelson grounded out. Jimmy Bangston was hit by a pitched ball, but Billy Bangston struck out to retire the Lions. John Foley walked, Billy Webb got a single and James Dudley walked to load the bases for the Veterans with no outs. Tom Lewis then bore down with some of his best pitching of the year to strike out Thomas Bryant, Joe Williams and Steve Short to end the game.

Final score:
Lions 8
VFW 6
Winning pitcher, Tom Lewis (5-5)
Losing pitcher, Joe Williams (0-1)

Jaycees Take 15-8 Win Over VFW

The Jaycees clinched a playoff spot Saturday when they beat the VFW 15-8 in a game that was postponed from Thursday night.

Allan Dunn was the winning pitcher, his third game of the season against no losses. He came on to relieve Bennett Hutchinson in the top of the third. Joe Huber went all the way for the loss. It was his fourth of the season against four losses.

The Veterans scored five runs in the second inning, one in the third, one in the fourth and one in the fifth. The Jaycees scored two in the first, three in the third, six in the fourth and three in the fifth.

This was a very important game for both of these teams. It meant a playoff berth for the

THE SANDHILLS PHILOSOPHER . . .

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher Johnson grass farm discussed the pleasures of farming this week, in his own way.

Editor:
 I have across a statement the other day
 that has kept running through my mind.
 The statement was: "The satisfaction of the earth—that is what makes a farmer's life a nice, profound-like statement, but only trouble with it is that about half of it ain't true.

For example, I know several farmers that made them farmers was going busted again. I know some more who are still going because they never made enough to go to town to try their hand at going busted of course there are a lot of farmers who are farming because they like it, they like to be their own boss, and they make money at it.

But the idea that you have to like to till
 the soil to like being a farmer doesn't set with me. Sure, it's fun to plow, up to a certain point, but after that point it gets monotonous, which is the reason you see farmers frequently standing up while plowing.

Understand, though, there are lots of satis-
 factions that come from farming, and tilling the soil is one of them, but it's not the best. For example, one of the biggest satisfactions I know connected with farming is getting out of the bank with a deposit slip when the price is right. There just never was a piece of ground whose turning with a plow could equal the satisfaction of folding
 a deposit slip in your billfold and heading for the store.

I admit there's a lot of real satisfaction
 in seeing your own herd of cattle grazing
 on your own land, when the grass is lush
 green, but there's even more satisfaction in seeing your calves go through an auction and going by the office to pick up the check.

Farming is about like any other job. It has its pleasant, interesting moments, but pay is what adds zest to the whole operation. It's sort of like editing a newspaper. The editing is fascinating, but what's more fascinating is opening a lot of letters with subscription checks in em. I aimed to put one in this letter, but the pleasures of plowing
 my mind off of it.

Yours faithfully,
 J.A.

Anniversary of a Revolution

The people who visit the campus of Michigan State College at East Lansing during the August 15-20 period will be fortunate.
 They will see the Centennial of Farm Mechanization—which marks one of the greatest peaceful revolutions of history.

Until a century ago farming methods had changed but little since human life began.
 It meant that the dawn-to-dark work of the great majority of the population had to be devoted to producing food and fiber. Now a relatively small minority can produce an abundance of food for everyone—so the rest
 can work at producing all the other goods and services which contribute to the American standard of living.

This is why the Centennial is not just significant to the farmer. Farm mechanization had a tremendous influence on urban life as well. Progress in industry and progress in agriculture go hand in hand, and one could be impossible without the other.

The observance at Michigan State will be a full-dress affair, with more than 100 acres of space devoted to exhibits and demonstrations and pageants. Complete exhibits in the fields as machinery, soil and water, rural electrification and transportation, home

Through A Glass Darkly

By CARROLL PONCEY

As president of the Pogo Fan Club I feel
 it my bounden duty to report that the latest episode of this considerabobble funny comic strip is the best ever drawn by Walt Kelly,
 a man of considerabobble talents. It deals with the efforts of two of Okefenokee swamp
 critters to write a teevy show starring Albert the Alligator in a series to be called
 "Flossie, The Noble Dog".

Here is a sample of the sparkling dialogue
 already prepared for the opus: "A feller wins
 two elephonts in a raffle. He takes them home and tells his wife they are dogs. What kind of dogs, asks his wife. They are boxers,
 the feller says, can't you see their trunks.

Well, it may not seem funny to you unless you are also a president of the Pogo Fan Club. Everybody that belong to the club is president. That way you don't have any high level squabbling about policy making.

All you indoor sports fans are recommended to read Paul Gallico's column in the current issue of Esquire. Mr. Gallico takes up the cudgel and handily knocks the props from under a lot of phony "sportsmanship connected with the boxing game. Mr. Gallico knows whereof he speaks, being the founder of Golden Gloves boxing, and he says he is thoroughly ashamed of having had anything to do with it. But, read it for yourself.
 We think you will be entertained and also given some food for thought.

Are we being taken in by the lovey-dovey attitude of the scummunists? Are they for real. It is amazing how the attitude of a nation can change almost overnight as we are changing in our attitude toward the redskins. We are swapping junketing farmers and politicians and are even offering the commies a look at our secrets. Theoretically, of course, we are playing the part of peace-
 makers, with no secrets and no hidden knives in our sleeves. This we know we are. But what about them. Are they equally honest in their friendliness, or are we just being set up for a quick pushover. I do not wish to appear pessimistic, but after all, would you want your sister to marry one.

Growing old may bring you wisdom. But it sure leaves you a short time to make use of it.

Down Memory Lane

Taken from the Lamb County Leader, August 16, 1930:

Cotton Co-operative Meet is set for Monday. Plans for new marketing system of Federal Farm Board will be heard at mass meeting in Palace Theater.

City gets two new industries. Cotton Oil
 Plant to cost $20,000, $16,000 Creamery.
 Construction of Oil Mill will start in spring.

Rain brings assurance of bumper crop of cotton for county.

Littlefield is progressing. Accomplishments in last 11 months include four rural telephone lines, new highway to Hale county line, all county roads and city streets improved, houses numbered, streets marked,
 new city directory in progress new city hall,
 installation of natural gas in the city, the highest total of building permits in the history of the city.

Mass Distribution in Action

It is reported that the nation's department and specialty stores experienced an excellent first quarter, and that there was no letup in the improvement noted in the last three months of 1954. The most important aspect, the report says, is found in an increase in profits.

From this it might be judged that each
 time we spend a dollar in one of these stores,
 a large amount sticks in the hands of the owners. That is hardly the case. For, even with the improvement, the stores' profit accounted to but 1.4 per cent of sales, after taxes. In the same period last year it was 1.1
 per cent.

This is mass distribution in action. A good total profit is made by selling a vast amount of goods at a very moderate unit profit.

equipment and on down a long list will be seen. The hundreds of thousands of people who attend will have a rewarding experience indeed.

NOT THE BEST OF RECOMMENDATIONS

Those garden tomatoes will taste especially good if you slice them and sprinkle them with a dressing of wine vinegar, sugar, salt, pepper and basil. Use the fresh basil leaves, if they are available, and mince them; otherwise use crushed dried basil.

Good fried fish filets can be made this way. Beat an egg with a tablespoon of water, a teaspoon of salt and a dash of pepper. Dip two pounds of fish filets (cut in serving size portions) in the egg mixture, then into fine cracker crumbs. Fry slowly in a generous amount of melted butter or margarine until golden brown on both sides.

If sour cream is available at your market, you'll find it makes a delightful topping for sliced filets. Serve with a grating of nutmeg.

Swindle of the Century

The active public power promoter is often a highly articulate individual whose mental agility borders on the acrobatic. The success of the unremitting propaganda campaign carried on by these people is graphically illustrated by the astonishing growth of federally owned electric generating facilities, which accounted for seven-tenths of one per cent of the nation's capacity in 1933, and 12.4 per cent just 20 years later, in 1953.

If projects already authorized are completed, the federal government's share of the nation's electric generating capacity will be 17 per cent.

This whole empire is built on the shakiest of foundations. Federal power enjoys the use of treasury funds interest free and further cuts in operating costs through the avoidance of most of the taxes which private electric utilities have to pay, including the federal income tax. Taxes take nearly 23 cents of every private power company's income dollar. Special privilege attaches to public plants through the preference which municipalities and cooperatives get over private utilities in the allocation of federal power.

If the highly qualified Hoover Commission has accurately appraised the situation, less than 10 per cent of the people will benefit directly from the tax outlay of all the rest of the country's citizens when all presently authorized federal power projects are completed. The whole thing is a giant swindle in which 90 per cent of the American people are the victims. The remarkable thing about it is that the promotional activity has been so successfully and continuously carried on that a great many Americans look upon federal power development with complete faith, not realizing that the private electric industry has consistently grown ahead of the needs of the country and is responsible for the development of electric energy as we know it today.

It's time we lost some illusions. We're going to pay for government in business, either through increased taxes or greater debt and depreciated money, and in either case through decreased freedom and opportunity for the individual citizen. Federal power is no gift horse and it is time we looked it squarely in the mouth.

Grass Roots Opinion—

WOODBURN, OREGON, Independent: —
 "Our American system of production and distribution of good and services is based on private rather than public ownership . . . and this incentive system has made the nation the greatest producer of goods, services and jobs. Therefore there can be no sound or fundamental reason why the production of the power requirements . . . should not be met by the same methods. It is high time that our representatives put the economic welfare . . . ahead of petty power politics."

Rossiter Smith, editor of the weekly Tri-County Leader at Gouverneur, N. Y., the most widely known and traveled weekly newspaper in the United States, is in Italy for the first time in 12 months in western Europe. He is the special correspondent for the Littlefield Press and Can-Am News. His purpose of the visit is to "take a look" at the western world after the war, against the backdrop of earlier visits after World War II, and to attempt a series of pictures of Europe today, from the point of view of the people, their living conditions, their problems, their outlook on the world and their role in it. He is accompanied on his trip by his wife, Jane, and two boys and two girls (Sooki). 21; Tim (19); Marion (17); and Frederick (16), who may be expected to appear regularly in the News during the trip.

There are other differences, too, as in the frank and unhesitating statements of the concierge when we checked in that afternoon at the new Hotel Tyrol in Innsbruck. We had asked, as in Italy, for the nearest garage where we might leave the cars, and he'd raised his eyebrows. "A garage, of course, sir, if you want it," he said, "but most of our guests just lock up their autos and leave them just here in front of the hotel. You see," he added with a stiff smile, "the police station is just over there, and there is lots of light." But no concierge in Italy would, as they told us so many times, "take the responsibility for advising us otherwise than to leave your car in a garage"—even if a police station were just around the corner.

Much of the warmth and kindness, which is part of the Italian personality, floods over into Austria, and even into Germany, too. Although there is an icy correctness and cool efficiency about the hotel management and the head waiters in the dining rooms in Austria and Germany, there is such obvious goodwill among most of the other people one meets, from the porter who carries your baggage into the hotel to the clerk in the store, to the people from whom you've asked directions as you find your way about a strange town.

For example, too, one Ruddy Hochreiter, proprietor of the Hotel Veldidena in Innsbruck to whom we had been referred by a California publisher, Moton Holt of the Riverdale, California, Free Press, had visited Innsbruck a few years ago, intended to stay a couple of days and remained a month or so, enchanted by a beautiful country and its friendly charming people. It was in memory of that visit that Ruddy Hochreiter now poured some local red tyrolean wine into my glass, gave me a complimentary, autographed copy of a handsome photographic brochure on Innsbruck and then mapped out a route and places to see for our one remaining day in town.

A glass empties slowly in friendly conversation—we must have talked an hour or more, this short, stocky, dark blonde man with the pleasant smile and friendly manner speaking of the war, his eight years' military service (including two of fighting the Russians on their own soil), and war's terrible destruction and terrible aftermath. But Innsbruck he noted, had all but rebuilt in ten years, indeed today you look for the scars on the face of a city which was very badly battered as a railway terminus on the way to the Brenner Pass, through which Rommel channeled many of his tanks and much of his ammunition and petrol for the war in North Africa—even as the Caesars had moved troops and war materials centuries before him, once they'd built the road up through the pass into what is now Austria and on into Germany and from there into Gaul whence they crossed the Channel to Britain. The Hotel Tyrol, which had been completely wrecked, is now brand new and modern, with a magnificent view of the Hungerburg. We were to climb that mountain by automobile, two cable cars and, finally on foot to the very top the following day.

"I sure will be glad when we can afford a car."

Herr Hochreiter's Veldidena (named for the original Roman settlement in Innsbruck, ruins of which were turned up in the bombed-out buildings and roadways during World War II) itself was badly shattered, standing as it did near the western railway station or "bahnhof" of the city. But he, too, had repaired and rebuilt. "Ten years," he said simply, "make their changes."

Hitler's great mistake, he observed, lay in doing what needed to be done—such as uniting the Germanic peoples of Germany and Austria—but in the wrong way, making enemies instead of friends. "We have all been Germans in these two countries," he said, "long before there was a Earth News ...

The clerk provided a pen-drawn map, and the other men followed me there, while we talked of the four-power conference in Geneva on the way. "You may have noted," he said, "that the dollar is higher today. It is probably that the remarks of your President Eisenhower have raised world's hopes for peace."

"Well," I replied, "we have all had quite enough of war."

"Yes," he said, slowly and deliberately, but without hatred, "I lost a child in one raid, and my wife in another." Looking about Munich, the downtown section of which is very nearly rebuilt, and mostly in the most modern type architecture, one could understand this remark, for the evidence still remains elsewhere—many a broken house, apartment, public building and monument, chipped, scarred and blackened if not totally destroyed—yet this man took me all about the city, eventually to find a severely rationed Leica (most of the model I wanted are "for export," a small quantity literally being rationed to camera shops in Germany, and most of these had already sold their July quotas to American visitors before we arrived in the country). Refusing any remuneration, he said simply, "I am happy to have been of service, sir."

Like most of the Germans and Austrians we have seen, he looked healthy, well-fed, and—unlike 1947, when I visited the country before—today people on the streets are laughing and smiling. The shops are filled with a huge array of merchandise, much higher priced than eight years ago, but variety, volume and price are comparable with the United States. There are many new cars, motorbikes and motor scooters in the streets. Foot and vehicular traffic is heavy.

But one suspects there are memories, too, here in the Germanic countries, even as there are among the wives, sweethearts and parents of Americans who fought here ten years and more ago. Maybe they are the kind of memories which make for peace.

Plan First Summertime Drama Meet
By DAVE CHEAVENS
SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Tentative hopes of developing the Southwest's first summer drama festival here have jelled into reality and a longer season in 1956 has been assured.

The stepping-stone to this was the growing crowds that thronged the grounds of San Jose Mission to see Ramsey Yelvington's sub-searching study of the heroes and common soldiers of the Alamo in his play "A Cloud of Witnesses."

Paul Baker's company of young players from the Baylor University Theater gave the look at the raw material of freedom a mature and often stirring dramatic interpretation in a stark setting appropriate to the theme of the play.

Yelvington—a young Texan with tremendous promise as a writer of drama—did some interesting "debunking" in the process and this reporter came away from the play feeling that in it "freedom received a forward thrust." That phrase is repeated in the play several times, and so is a warning to us today to beware of complacency, be on guard against halting the symbols of freedom (Such as the physical structure of the Alamo) rather than breathing new life into it every day.

Yelvington's play has been given a number of times at Waco to standing room only audiences, and before its July 4-9 run was over here, the seating capacity of the improvised playhouse at San Jose Mission was strained.

That led officers of the San Antonio Conservation Society, which sponsored the event, to say flatly that the summer drama festival here is now assured. They plan to bring "A Cloud of Witnesses" back for another run.

"The success of this first season of the drama festival is astounding," said Mrs. O'Neil Ford, president of the Society.

"It is astounding because San Antonio is not only noted for its apathy toward novelties, but also because the play was put on with just a few weeks of preparation, without a big advance publicity build-up or fanfare."

Baker was pleased at the reception the play received here.

"San Antonio is the logical place for a permanent drama festival in the southwest," Baker said. "With the success of this season, such a festival seems definitely assured."

Yelvington's penetrating study of the souls of men in a play blending ancient dramatic techniques with some modern touches skillfully staged by Paul Baker and Crew is deserving of a wider audience. That's what the Conservation Society hopes to give it next summer.

The Society is a group of San Antonio people interested in preserving historic shrines and protecting the old world atmosphere of Bexar from oblivion. It has now moved into the area of preserving ancient but never outworn ideals in its wholehearted approval of Yelvington's sometimes-shocking treatment of freedom.

Store the candles you are going to use on a party table in the refrigerator overnight. This cold treatment may help to prevent excessive dripping?

"We just couldn't bring it to give up the old completely."

WHAT'S YOUR ANSWER, DAD?

Every dad should answer these four questions for the benefit of his growing son:

- (1) Does your boy know how to use firearms safely?
- (2) Does he know how to fish and understand its joys and hazards?
- (3) Can he identify the many forms of wildlife?
- (4) Does he know what real conservation means?

If you answer "No" to any of these questions, learn what a BOYS OF WOODCRAFT SPORTSMEN'S CLUB for boys 8 to 15 years old can do for your son. He will have fun while receiving instruction in the safe use of firearms, fishing, fly and bassbug tying, accident prevention, first aid, the study of wildlife and conservation of natural resources.

From now until September 24 there's a special Dovy Crockett Boys of Woodcraft membership campaign in full swing. Ask a representative listed below to tell you how your boy can enjoy these lifelong benefits together with safe, sound, legal reserve life insurance protection at a cost of only a few pennies a day.
