ACCEPTS SAN MARCOS POST

Richard Bean Resigns City Manager Position

RICHARD BEAN

Richard Bean, Littlefield city manager the past two years, resigned the post late Saturday to become city manager at San Marcos.

Bean's resignation will become effective about Aug. 1. Mayor J. E. Chisholm said no definite date has been set.

Regarding Bean's service here, Mayor Chisholm commented, "We hate to lose him, but are grateful for the two years he has been with us. He has turned down several good offers before accepting the post at San Marcos."

San Marcos has a population of approximately 20,000 persons, more than twice the size of Littlefield. Currently, Bean is in McAlister, Okla., for summer training in the U. S. Marine Reserve. Mayor Chisholm said he will be back in his office Monday July 24.

Bean came to Littlefield in 1965 from Lockhart where he was city manager about two years.

He was born at Brownwood but moved to Lubbock where he spent most of his childhood. He is a graduate of Lubbock High School and received a degree

No 'Employable' Adults Are Under County's Care

A decrease in Lamb County's monthly average welfare costs was noted during payment of June bills Monday by county commissioners in regular session.

County Judge O. J. Mangum said availability of employment is the chief cause of the low cost to the county.

Also the judge reported only 24 families on the county's commodity-only roll, with no able-bodied employable person listed. Only adults on the roll either are not employable or are certified by a physician as unfit for work.

"Only those providing a physician's statement are now being considered," Judge Mangum explained.

June welfare payments approved for payment by Commissioners Court totaled $1,602,066.

A breakdown of the amount shows $1,124,555, hospital expenses; $211,366, prescription medicines; $219,888, transportation to and from hospitals in Galveston and Houston, and $46,277, storage charges on commodities.

A County Welfare office spokesman said Wednesday monthly payments will go as high as $2,000 to $3,000 in winter months and as low as less than $1,000 in summer months, and the decrease is based on cumulative average cost per month.

(Judge Mangum said the county's welfare records were audited Tuesday by the State Welfare Dept.)

Other bills paid Monday were sheriff's expenses (primarily food for prisoners and upkeep of vehicles), $670,711; law library expense, $122; Civil Defense, $25; Precinct 1 expenses, $732,32; Precinct 2, $1,056,97; Precinct 3, $3,190,40; Precinct 4, $1,523,91, and general expenses, $3,178,77.

Bills paid totaled $12,102,14, including the welfare figure. In other business, the court accepted a bid of $18,420 from Plains Machinery Co. of Lubbock for a new motor grader for Precinct 3, with trade-in included in the amount.

A second bid submitted came from Ribble Machinery Co. of Amarillo for $16,749, including trade-in. After consideration of the two bids, the court chose Plains Machinery.

J. L. (Roy) Yeager of Precinct 3 made a motion, which was approved, to use $9,420 from the lateral road fund and $9,000 from Precinct 3 funds in payment for the grader. County Tax Assessor-Collector Herbert Dunn was authorized to compile a delinquent tax roll dating from 1940 through 1966, in compliance with recently enacted legislation.

The legislation provides for canceling all delinquent ad valorem taxes due to state, county, municipality and other defined sub-divisions prior to and including Dec. 31, 1939, Dunn said.

He stated the cancellation will be "very scanty" in Lamb County as only a few small items remain on the books prior to 1940.

The court approved reports from Extension Service personnel Buddy Logsdon, Sam Kuykendall and Mrs. Lady Clare Phillips.

Authorization was given to pay $100 in dues to the County Judges and Commissioners Assn. of Texas.

Treasurer's report was approved and authorization was given for publication one time in Sudan Beacon-News.

Olton Absorbs 600 To 800 Field Workers

OLTON--Olton is jumping these days with the influx of 600 to 800 workers for the cucumber harvest, according to spokesman at Jack Straw Gin Co. who added, "And a few are still coming in."

About 1,000 acres in cucumbers in the Olton area will be harvested between now and Sept. 1, the spokesman said.

Most of the sudden upsurge of Olton's population, primarily from South Texas, has been housed in camps and barracks at gins in and around the city.

Earlier there had been talk of housing some of the workers in neighboring towns, but the spokesman said he believed quarters had been found in Olton to date.

CALLED MEETING
Littlefield City Council has set a called meeting at 5 p.m. today to open bids for airport construction.

COTTON CHOPPING has gone into full swing over Lamb County, following the rains of June. The hands found plenty of work this week, as well as high temperatures. Several fields in the county are starting to bloom. Though considerably later than usual, stands and temperatures give indications of a good "white gold" year.

Judge, Attorney Reply To Notice

Lamb County Attorney C. R. Wilkinson and County Judge O. J. Mangum have filed a Reply to Notice of Contest concerning the May 27 election which created Earth-Springlake Hospital District.

A petition protesting the election was filed June 30 by 22 voters in the Earth-Springlake District asking the election be declared void and another one be called because of alleged "grave irregularities."

Contestees "deny all the singular allegations as set forth in Contestant's Petition to Contest Election, say that the same are not true, in whole or in part, and demand strict proof thereof.

It further replies, "Contestees say that the said election as contested by Contestants was in all things properly ordered as to form, that no illegal votes were cast and that the election was fairly conducted."

The reply was filed July 7 at the office of 154th district clerk.

Request Made For 'Re-Run' Of Festival

City and area residents responded warmly to Littlefield's "Sing Festival" hosted Sunday night at the Crescent Park tennis courts, with several participants requesting such songfests be staged at intervals throughout the warm months of the year.

The crowd began gathering at the park an hour early. Lee Burnett, president of "We The Women" of Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, described the crowd as a "very good turnout" and Mrs. T. L. Dunlap, project chairman, said the event drew "good individual participation."

To ascertain the number attending was not possible because of the informal come-and-go quality of the event. People still were arriving almost until the adjournment time of 10 p.m. Still others remained in their cars.

Committee members made a conservative estimate of from 100 to 150 average crowd on the courts.

Spicing up the program were Mike Sanders, with his guitar, and soloist Glenda Parrott, John Clayton and Alvis Jones directed group singing.

Mrs. Dunlap expressed gratitude to the contribution of their musical talents, to Hill Rogers for building and carpeting the stage and to the City of Littlefield for spraying the park. "We had practically no mosquitoes," she commented.

City Preparing Parking Space

Preparation for off-street parking is underway on the City's lot in the 400 Block of W. 3rd St.

Mayor J. E. Chisholm said the City has owned the lot about three years. Although the space is needed, he explained, the project is not urgent and has no definite completion date.

He said work is being done between "spring mosquitoes, fixing streets, and other current jobs."

'Fiesta Days' Gets Go-Ahead

A "Fiesta Days" promotion, scheduled for Sept. 14-16, was given the go-ahead by the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce board of directors at a meeting Tuesday night.

The promotion will tie in with observance of Mexican Independence Day.

A committee headed by Jim Reddick is to work out details for the event and raise funds for its promotion.

In other activity, the board authorized a raise of $25 per month for Executive Vice-President, Jim Kelly, who has been in the post for the past seven months.

OF LITTLEFIELD

Christian College. Wear is an experienced columnist and at one time appeared regularly on television at Amarillo.

MEET THE MINISTER

Bob Wear's Ministry Has Encompassed Many Fields

One of this city's most vigorous personalities, Bob Wear, of Prescent Park Church of Christ, combines that vigor with talent, ability and keen interest to serve many people in many fields of life.

Businessman, author, minister, former columnist for a metropolitan newspaper who had his own television program -- Bob Wear is all these things, and he also is a man who, accompanied by his wife, visits the sick in Littlefield's hospitals daily in the late afternoon hours.

And, concerning his accomplishments, during a recent interview Wear smiled at his life who was seated beside him in the couch and said, "I couldn't do these things if it weren't for Vinita and her wonderful attitude toward my work."

Mrs. Wear -- Vinita -- who says her main hobby is "people," possesses her own abilities. She says she loves cooking and sewing (Wear recollects, "She's an excellent seamstress") and has done ceramics and China painting.

Under the instruction of Dr. Emilio Cabellero at West Texas State University, she has taken courses that touched on most of the mediums used in painting and hopes to take up painting in the future.

The Wears, who came here three years ago from Canyon, live at 100 E. 23rd and a glance at the home's beautifully roomed grounds is quick evidence of Wear's main hobby. He spends his leisure time working in the lawn and grounds. Wear takes to play an occasional game of golf, whenever time permits.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Wear are natives of Seminole, Okla. He received his formal schooling from East Central State Teachers College at Ada, Okla., majoring in mathematics, and earned bachelors degrees in secondary education and in counseling and guidance at WTSU.

He is a certified counselor with Texas Education Assn. and has teaching certification at all levels in Texas and Oklahoma. Mrs. Wear studied through extension courses at University of Oklahoma and attended WTSU.

The Wears spent 10 years at Canyon and, prior to that, nine years at Hereford. During World War II, Wear served with the U.S. Infantry. Before the war and for a short time thereafter, he was associated with Gulf Oil Co.

During depression years, Wear worked with churches in the Seminole, Okla., vicinity. "In those times, churches couldn't afford ministers. I had a good job and was a public speaker and could be of help to them."

At Canyon, Wear temporarily stopped his church ministry. "We planned to retire," he explained. "We bought a home and went into the real estate business. Then we decided to come to Littlefield." With a chuckle, he added, "Really, my wife decided. She said she couldn't stand sitting beside me in church!"

Wear, who served as president of the Canyon School Board, helped charter the cities of Canyon and Hereford when they became large enough to change to home rule form of government. He organized Toastmasters and Toastmistresses Clubs at Hereford and Canyon and helped organize the Hereford Kiwanis Club.

During that period, he wrote a daily column for the Amarillo News about three years then a Sunday editorial for the Amarillo Globe two years. For many years he has written regularly for religious publications and has authored one published book, "Ideas To Live By."

While writing for the Amarillo papers, Wear had a television program on Channel 4, in the early and middle 1950's. "They were still experimenting with lights then. One day I would look fat, the next day I'd have a long skinny head, and so on," he recalled with amusement. "But it was one of the most challenging and delightful speaking experiences I ever had."

Currently, Wear writes a column for Lamb County Leader and County Wide News.

The Wears have one son, John, a junior at Abilene Christian College, who currently is visiting with his parents. After serving two years with the U.S. Navy, John has been working full time and going to school the last two and one-half years.

John brought with him his seven-month-old German Shepherd "puppy," named MacArthur of Grass Burr Hills.

AMY'S ADLIBS

Sorry About That

By Amy Turner

EVER BEEN JARRED out of a deep sleep about 2 a.m. by the sound of the telephone ringing?

Remember that panicky, sinking feeling in the pit of your stomach as you struggle up out of a fog of unconsciousness?

For most people, a telephone call in the middle of the night promises nothing good, so you brace yourself against impending disaster and bravely answer . . . to what?

A wrong number. Now, admittedly, this is pretty infuriating. I mean, there you are, all prepared for a disaster of magnificent proportions and all you get is a stupid mistake.

But then, to most people, this really doesn't happen very often. There are a group of juveniles around who like to make up and ring numbers in the middle of the night for kicks but, when you look at the odds, they aren't likely to hit you very often.

Most people can tolerate a mistake or a prank, simply because of the infrequency. But consider what might happen to your boiling point if this sort of thing occurred regularly night AND day and your were helpless to do anything about it.

I WOULD LIKE to make a public apology to a certain Littlefield lady, namely Mrs. B. E. Turner, who is not, and I repeat NOT, the wife of "that newspaperman Turner."

There are certain professions, newspapering being one, where you expect various and sundry calls night and day. Now, I didn't say you get used to it. I just said you expect it.

Neither Mrs. B. E. Turner nor her husband is in the newspaper business. They do not expect these calls. They just answer them and burn.

Well, maybe by now, they do expect them but I would imagine they're still burning. I would be.

Unfortunately, or maybe fortunately for us, that "newspaperman Turner," alias W. B. Turner, alias Bill Turner, is not listed in the telephone directory.

We moved to Littlefield after the book had been published and, although it grieves me to tell this, our number is 385-3738.

I UNDERSTAND something of that other Mrs. Turner's problem.

Telephone calls are part of The Publisher's business and most of them are legitimate information tips, which he not only encourages but considers vital.

Every newspaperman recognizes the value of his precious "pipelines," established and nurtured with loving care. About the worst thing that can happen to a journalist is not to know.

But then, they really don't know everything and this can get pretty amusing.

After awhile, you learn to expect those calls asking how to spell a word, or what is the address of a certain congressman, or what does existentialism really mean.

You just run and look it up and try to give the answer to the best of your ability.

After all, that's better than having them know the truth . . . that you're just as stupid as everybody else.

I DON'T KNOW how that other Mrs. Turner has been handling the situation lately, which interpreted means, I'm afraid to ask.

I really don't know what to tell her, either, since the new telephone directory (in which we will be properly listed) won't come out until fall.

There's one consolation. She may learn the definitions of lots of new words between now and then.

I have faced a similar situation since moving to Littlefield and have worked out my own solution but I don't know that it would help her any.

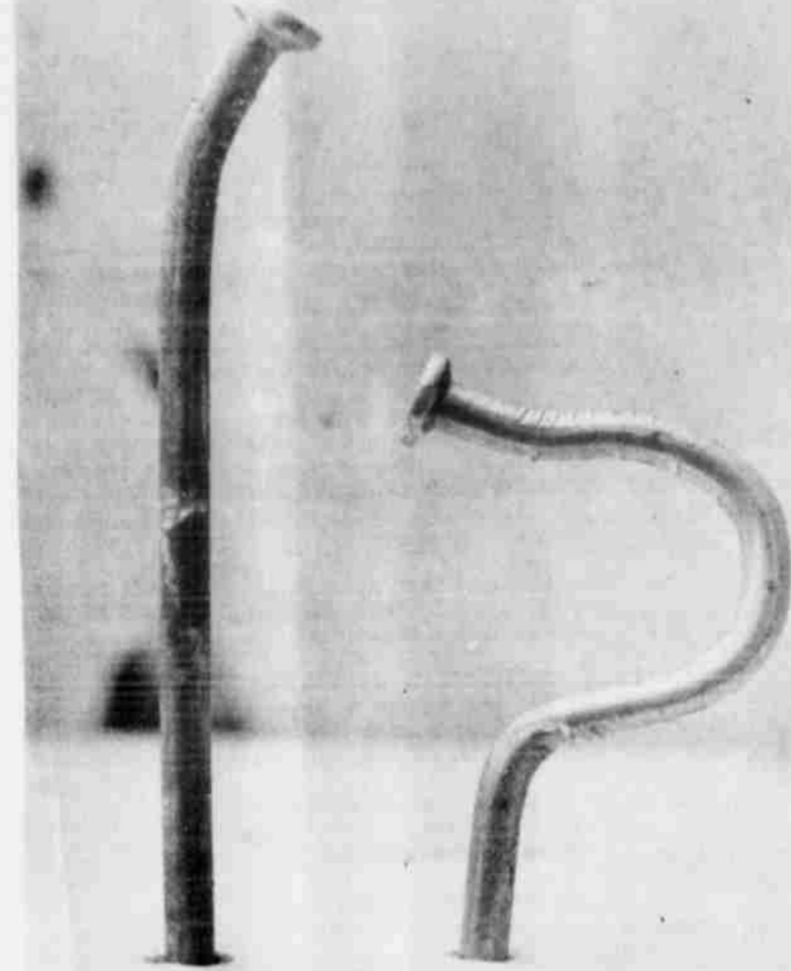

Actually, we ARE listed in the telephone book. That is, our number is listed in the telephone book.

It is listed under the name of the Happy Day Nursery.

At last count, I had signed up 463 applicants.

OWNERS REPORT

By Bill Turner

MARK TWAIN, in his reporting days, was instructed by an editor never to state anything as a fact that he could not verify from personal knowledge.

Sent out to cover an important social event soon afterward, he turned in the following story:

"A WOMAN giving the name of Mrs. James Jones, who is reported to be one of the social leaders of the city, is said to have given what was purported to be a party yesterday to a number of alleged ladies.

"The hostess of the purported party claims to be the wife of a reputed attorney,

Public Whipping

By PAUL HARVEY

New York City streets were "unsafe" for the visiting Premier of Russia; his own security men and our police warned against a visit to Times Square.

Congressman Glenn Cunningham is reluctantly advising his constituents, "I cannot tell you that it is safe to visit Washington, D. C. . . ."

Man alive, this is awful! The very idea that our city streets are unsafe for government guests and vacationing Americans is a terrible indictment of what we are holding up to the world as a "Great Society."

REACTION is setting in. Some police officials have had enough.

Col. Walter Stone, superintendent of Rhode Island State Police, says his department will no longer be guided by the "do-gooder decisions of the Supreme Court."

Stone ordered his force to get tough with known troublemakers. "We are going to become policemen again!"

In Chicago, respected retiring Police Superintendent Wilson is leading a group of prominent criminologists and law specialists into an organization called "Americans For Effective Law Enforcement."

They agree we've been overemphasizing the rights of the accused; now it's time to reaffirm the rights of society.

WHILE we are contemplating a systematic return to the authority of the policeman and the objective integrity of the court, let's consider resuming public whipping for chronic punks.

One out of six boys under 18 has been at least once in juvenile court; many are there regularly.

Serious crimes increased an unprecedented 11 per cent this past year, and the National Crime Commission estimates that there are three times as many crimes committed as are reported.

The conclusion is inescapable; Lenience, tried, has failed!

A municipal judge in John Day, Ore., has been sentencing juvenile law violators to sweep city streets under the supervision of a policeman and there have been no repeaters.

SAN QUENTIN'S prison psychiatrist says, "The one reason most of these men are here is that they were spoiled as kids."

Joseph Kennick, former president of the National Conference of Juvenile Agencies, says, "Children want and need firm, fair rules."

FBI Director Hoover says most troublemakers "are victims of a society where discipline has been replaced by indulgence."

The several states which have revived the practice of permitting teachers to paddle unruly students report measurable improvement in deportment.

WHAT ABOUT a court ordered, police supervised public whipping for incorrigibles to humiliate the young rebel and to sober any potential imitators.

Let some states try it so we can measure the results.

If the idea sounds repugnant, it's only because young criminals have been fed such a steady diet of candy-coated justice recent years that we have forgotten what a splendid deterrent the old whipping post once was.

AND we are forgetting that the hooligan kid who does not get taught a painful lesson now will eventually pay for worse crimes with more cruel punishment.

Nobody likes a purgative, but sometimes it's the only antidote for poison.

The Countrywoman

By LIBBY MUDGETT

SHE WATCHES a farmer dejectedly planting peas. This is his fourth planting of the year. His first beautiful stand of cotton succumbed to drought and blowing sand; his second washed away in flood waters; his third was beaten into nothing by stinging hail.

Now it is too late for anything but peas. And as he plants he knows that peas will pay for only a small portion of his debts, not many necessities and no luxuries.

It is an all wise Father that prevents us from seeing in our springtimes what all will happen to us before our winters, no matter how much better off we think we would be to foreknow.

SHE CONSIDERS two different sayings, one old and the other new, each representing a completely opposite philosophy from the other, each being wise advice under different circumstances.

"If at first you don't succeed, try, try again."

"If at first you don't succeed, quit before you make a fool of yourself."

Perhaps the saying that should be heeded depends upon WHO is trying to do WHAT -- and WHY.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Bitter Or Better

We can control many of the happenings in our lives, and should be wise and energetic in doing so.

There are, however, other happenings over which we cannot exercise full control. It is very important that we learn how to accept these experiences so that we can be most effective in living.

If we do not learn how to feel about and react to these, we are doomed to a miserable life.

If we insist upon feeling persecuted because of mistreatment; beaten down because of misplaced confidence; sorry for ourselves because of illness, limitations and reverses; and cynical because of the many imperfections and injustices in human behavior, we are reacting unwisely.

IT IS VERY important for us to realize fully that we have great power to determine the effects of our experiences upon our lives.

We can accept these experiences, good and bad, as we wish. We can, for instance, let our failures lead us on to other failures; or we can profit from them and often use them as stepping stones to successful action.

We are certainly on the way to victorious living when we learn that our trials, difficulties, sufferings, disappointments and such like can be, and must be, used to strengthen and enrich our lives. We may need help in learning how to control our reactions, but the first step is in the realization that we can control them.

THERE ARE LIMITED devices that can help us control our reactions. We can develop a wide "indifference margin", we can assume a "stiff-upper-lip" attitude or we can wallow around in defeatism.

SANDHILLS PHILOSOPHER

Us 8 Per Cent

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has had some trouble napping, if we understand his letter correctly.)

Dear editor:

At first I thought I was suffocating but when I finally woke up under the tree where I was napping I discovered a copy of The Fort Worth Star Telegram had blown over my face and when I flailed around and got it off I decided I might as well read it. Sometimes this is a good way to get back to sleep.

It didn't work, because of two articles I found in it.

One was a report quoting a big city mayor as saying every city in the United States needs help from Washington. New York alone could use 10 billion in the next few years.

The cities' problems are so big and so complex, he said, that the financial burdens are now too big to bear alone. "No big city can exist without help from Washington," he said. "The problems of slums, ghettos, schools, crime, traffic, violence, drinkable water, sewage disposal, air pollution . . . these can't be solved without outside help."

The other article said the farm population has now dwindled to only 8 per cent of the population. In other words, 92 per cent of the people in this country are non-farmers.

I got to thinking about this and it's got me worried.

Clearly, while they need more money, the cities can't tax each other to keep going, and Washington can't tax itself, so who does that leave? You're right. It leaves us 8 per cent who are farming and ranching.

What it means is that 92 per cent of the population is saying it can't make it without help from us 8 per cent.

Now this is flattering enough, and I sure would like to help and would hate like anything to see New York City or Chicago or Philadelphia go under, but I've just looked over my Johnson grass farm and I'm afraid that if they're looking to me for financial salvation they're in worse shape than they realize.

They'd do better trying to get their notes renewed, or maybe turning to some other country, say Cuba, for foreign aid. Or try some testimonial dinners.

No use looking to Washington. The farmers tried that and the farm population dropped from 30 per cent of the population to 8 per cent.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Making Town Friendly

Dear Editor:

You are making Littlefield FRIENDLY. Last week, while sitting in the car in front of the Post Office . . . three different people smiled and spoke to me. None of them knew me as far as I know.

Mrs. Weir

All of these are limited in helping us cope with unpleasant and undesirable happenings.

None of them can enable us to turn these experiences into our good. There is, however, an element of life which provides a working formula by which we can not only endure the difficulties of life; we can actually turn them to our good.

This is the formula of faith. Here it is as inspiration presents it: "We rejoice in our sufferings, knowing that suffering produces endurance, and endurance produces character, and character produces hope, and hope does not disappoint us."

The practical result of personal faith is well expressed by the following: "We are troubled and oppressed in every way; but not cramped or crushed; we suffer embarrassment and are perplexed and unable to find a way out, but not driven to despair; we are persecuted and hard-driven, but not deserted to stand alone; we are struck down to the ground, but never struck out or destroyed."

WE CAN NEVER know the real joys of living until we face our problems and tribulations with intelligence and courage.

This means that we learn to let them make us better rather than bitter.

We have the power to decide between these two possible reactions.

If we permit troubles and reverses to make us bitter, we are only increasing their damaging influences upon us.

If we permit them to make us better, and we can do so, we are, at least, turning them to our profit.

Our adversities can make us bitter or better, and we have the opportunity and the power to choose which it shall be.

Why Closed Meeting?

Littlefield, Texas
July 11, 1967

Dear Bill:

This letter is written to you only as a very interested and tax-paying citizen of Littlefield, and concerns your fine reporting on the closed "Executive Session" of the Littlefield School Board which was held last Thursday night, July 6, 1967.

I realize that this board has the legal right to declare any meeting it so desires as being in "Executive Session," thereby banning everyone except members of the board from attending.

But, does this make it morally right? I, for one, depend on the different news media to keep me informed on current events, which I realize is impossible for you or anyone connected with the news media to do if attendance is not permitted. I feel that this meeting was of much importance and interest to every citizen of Littlefield and should have been given sufficient coverage. I would like to know why this meeting was closed to the news media.

Sincerely,
/s/ Jim Graves

BITS AND PIECES

A-Golfing We Will Go...

My Mom's a golfer. And when she's in practice, she can beat me game for game.

She can beat me when she's not in practice too, darn it.

But then, that's not too surprising, because she's younger than I am. She always has been -- since we've both been adults, that is.

But Mom doesn't play golf like most people do. She plays it like moms do.

SHE ALWAYS wears a sassy little straw hat with a brim -- which would drive me wild with its ribbon under the chin -- because she "simply can't stand" for that wretched old sun to turn her "black and ugly." (Now if she could just figure out a way to keep that nasty, drying old wind at bay . . .)

And, of course, the next important point for good golf is a cute, attractive golf bag.

In fact, she steadfastly has refused to play here in Littlefield until I made a special trip to Plainview to bring my club set, with its bright red bag and new club covers. (Her golfing accommodations have become worn and we're too broke to buy new ones.)

Now she is sufficiently armed and fortified to face the challenge of the course.

So -- one day soon she will don her "sweetest little slack suit," perch that perky hat on a well-groomed head, load my Patty Bergs and their "darling red bag" into the car and set out for the great conquest.

AND WHEN she approaches that tee box don't let the frills fool you.

The background music will be "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

She'll pull out that No. 3 or No. 1 wood (depending on her degree of confidence that day -- although everyone knows she should be using Wood No. 2) and, ever so daintily, approach that unsuspecting tee box.

She'll think a minute and, shaking her head for emphasis, say, "Yes. I think yellow is the color today."

Replies For Goldberg

June 28, 1967

Dear Mr. Turner:

Ambassador Goldberg has asked me to thank you for your letter regarding the current crisis in the Near East.

Although the pressures of his duties at the United Nations prevent him from replying to you personally, the Ambassador wanted me to assure you that the United States will continue to support every effort to settle all the outstanding issues between the conflicting parties so that the peoples of all the nations in this troubled area may live together in peace.

In this connection, I am enclosing a copy of Ambassador Goldberg's statement to the Emergency Session of the General Assembly which outlines our approach to an eventual settlement of this extremely difficult set of problems.

With the Ambassador's appreciation for your concern,

Sincerely,

And then she'll select a yellow tee and you'll catch a glimpse of her private brand of self-conversation.

WHEN SHE shoves the tee into the ground, it's as likely as not to be pointing due north-east, but, nevertheless, that shiny little white ball sits there on it like an angel.

Then she sets that clubhead down beside the ball, plants her feet firmly apart and proceeds to break every rule known to golf form.

On her backswing, she pulls so far away from the ball you think she's taking a bow backwards and her backswing is the fanciest crocheted half-circle you ever saw.

But that all-seeing right eye is glued to that ball, and don't you forget it.

SOMEHOW known only to the Good Lord and His Heavenly Hosts, as the club arches earthward she straightens, pulls forward and is perfectly arched as her club bears down on the small white target.

There's a "SMASH!" And as she begins to follow through, that club comes to a perfect point.

And she isn't kidding, friend. The head of that club is pointing exactly where that ball had better go -- and, believe me, it doesn't dare deviate an inch.

After a few seconds of anxious silence, there's a distant "plunk" and the most surprised and pleased smile you ever saw instantly replaces that "I mean business" look.

"Well, I'll declare," she exclaims innocently. "It landed on the green!"

AND THERE it sits, big as life -- round, white and shiny -- not two feet from the hole.

Then's when she always looks at me (not quite able to hide that little "I knew it would" smirk), smiles ever so politely and says, "It's your turn now."

Need I go on? I'd rather not.

Legion Tournament Set To Begin Here Monday

American Legion District 19 baseball playoff tournament will get underway here Monday night, and wind up Tuesday night, with the winner advancing to the state playoffs.

Littlefield has already been mathematically eliminated. According to fans of Legion ball here, no Littlefield team has ever made the playoffs. The city has, however, hosted the tournament before, about four years ago.

Actually, play in both the North and South zones is so tight that representatives of the two areas will not be named officially until Saturday night when the final round robin games are played.

The tourney will be made up of the top two teams from the North, the Littlefield zone, and the South.

North teams also include Brownfield, Slaton, Levelland, Post 808 of Lubbock, Plainview and Anton. In the South zone are Lubbock Auto, Bell Red Checks of Lubbock, Coronado of Lubbock, Big Spring and two clubs from Midland.

Monday and Tuesday games will be played at 6 and 8:30 p.m. Coaches will decide prior to the first game Monday whether to play seven or nine innings in the two-night event.

Admission will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for children age 12 years or younger.

Umpires will include Jim Hill, Sherod Fielden and Jim Graves of Littlefield and Arthur Hedges of Amherst. They will rotate duties at the plate.

Trophies will be presented to the top two teams.

Members of the gate committee are Joe Pat Hart and Leroy McCormick. Grounds and advertising committeemen are L. J. Walker and Judd Walker.

WOW, unable to score in the top of the seventh, yielded a score to Optimist in the bottom of the seventh, which gave the latter the victory.

Randy Cook, allowing only five hits, was the winning pitcher. Losing pitcher was Juan Villafranco.

Star batter for Optimist was Allen Mackey, hitting a double and two singles. Best hitters for WOW were Billy Ledbetter and Rickey Sanchez both getting a double and a single.

Batson tied the score in the bottom of the fourth as they brought in one run.

Then in the last half of the third, Batson leaped out front 2-1 as they brought in another run.

The game got really exciting when the Lions tied the score once more in the top half of the sixth inning.

Batson broke the tie and got their victory point in the bottom of the last inning.

Game Grabbed By Ware-Richey

Ware-Richey edged Roden Drug 10-8 Monday night in Pony League action.

The game thrilled the crowd from beginning to end. Ware-Richey stepped out front 2-0 in the first inning.

Then in the third the tables turned as Roden Drug jumped 6-2.

At the end of the fourth Roden led 8-2.

Ware-Richey failed to cut Roden's lead until the bottom of the sixth, when they got three more runs. At the end of the sixth Roden still held the lead 8-5.

But Ware-Richey sprang alive in the last inning and rushed in five runs which gave them the victory 10-8.

Winning pitcher was R. Sanchez, Norman Jackson was the losing pitcher. But Norman was top man at bat in this game hitting a homerun, a double and a single.

G&C Auto Beats VFW

Monday in Minor League competition G&C Auto topped VFW 14-12.

VFW leaped to a strong lead in the first inning by nabbing 10 runs to G&C's two. At the end of the second VFW still maintained the lead 12-7.

In the third inning VFW was unable to score but G&C got one run.

The fourth inning was similar to the third, with VFW unable to score but this time G&C took over as they brought in six runs.

The game was called because of the 7:30 rule but G&C got the victory.

Winning arm was that of Royce Merrifield. Tommy Hutson was losing pitcher.

Star batting performers for G&C were Rickey Wilson and Gary Lichte, each hitting a double, a single and a triple.

Butane Adds Second Game

Saturday night in Major League action Lfd. Butane downed Optimists 15-9.

Optimists led the first two innings 6-0, then Butane narrowed the lead by getting three runs in the top of the third.

The fourth inning ended 8-4 with Optimists still on top. But in the fifth, Lfd. Butane came to life and brought in eight runs which gave them a 12-8 lead at the end of the fifth.

In the sixth Lfd. Butane crossed the plate with three runs and Optimist could nail down only one.

We Salute The Forgotten Man

WE ADMIRE HIM because he is honest, reliable, and will always do his part when he is needed. He tries to take advantage of opportunities when they come his way, and when they don't he does the best he can without complaining. He accepts his responsibilities to his family, his community, his neighbors and his God. He pays his bills, never expects something for nothing, has a small savings account to help educate his children, and chips in when the hat is passed.

HE IS SOMETIMES called the "common man" or the "average man," but we have never felt these terms to be appropriate. In our opinion he is both "un-common" and "above average." He is the man you can count on, in good times and bad, to do the best he can, and usually does a pretty good job of it. He is self-supporting, self-starting and self-sufficient, so when he gets hailed out, washed out or blown out, he just hitches up and starts over. When his business is slow or when some misfortune hits him, he just tightens his belt and keeps trying, secure in his faith that he can work things out and "it will be better next year."

HE HAS A HEALTHY RESPECT for the law, for regulations, and for his fellow man. He is a good husband and father who feels responsible for his children. He wants them to be God-fearing and law-abiding, so he does not hesitate to discipline them when necessary and lets them know he expects the best of them.

HE IS DEPENDABLE and responsible and there are millions like him, though we sometimes forget him when we see and read about so many kooks, sophisticates, pseudo-intellectuals, dead-beats and four-flushers who try to stir up trouble and make so much noise.

WE ARE PROUD OF HIM and proud that so many of his kind flourish in this area. Let's all salute the Forgotten Man.
