High School Bands to Lead Large Parade

Today, Thursday, is the big day, and 3 o'clock this afternoon is the magic hour, awaited by every kid in Littlefield and all the other kids within a radius of goodness only knows just how many miles—because today is the day when Santa Claus comes to town.

There has been some whispered reports that maybe Santa couldn't get here on schedule, but those reports were proved to be without foundation by Doug Howell of the Chamber of Commerce, who has been making all of the arrangements for Santa's visit here in Littlefield—when Doug got a North polegram direct from Santa.

So up to the schoolhouses went Doug, where he found the superintendent and principals, and all of the teachers in a Christmas mood, and when he told the good news about Santa Claus—well, they were so glad about it all that they immediately announced that exactly at 2:45 today, school would be dismissed and the entire student body would then have fifteen minutes to get to the downtown section to welcome Santa Claus.

They also said that the High School and Junior High band would help make Santa's visit by leading the parade that will bring Santa Claus right down town aboard a city fire truck, and that if necessary, teachers and the bigger students would help Santa Claus in giving out his gifts of candies, etc., to every single kid lucky enough to be on hand for the big Santa Claus parade and pageant.

It's really too bad that Santa couldn't have come in the evening, when all of those beautiful downtown Christmas street decorations (Continued on back page) and sending to Santa Claus this Christmas season, and being published in each issue of the Lamb County Leader? If you haven't, start right now, with this issue, and read every one of those Santa Claus letters, and you will truly get the Christmas spirit. Each issue for the past few weeks, the Leader has been printing these Santa Claus letters, and will continue to do so right up to Christmas, when the big Christmas issue is printed just before Christmas. And to the children of this section, we want to also say that there is still time for you to write your letter to Santa and mail or bring it to the Leader office, still time to get it printed, so that Santa Claus will get to read it and know what you really want this year. And remember, too, that this year The Leader is offering prizes to the little folks who write the best-est letters of all. Maybe you will be a lucky winner. First prize, $3; second prize, $2; third prize, $1. And wouldn't that help with your Christmas shopping?

Children! Write Your Letter To Santa Now

Mass Meeting In Protest Of New Bible To Be Held Friday Night In High School Auditorium

Texas Needs To Increase Donations To Fight Polio

Texas and Lamb County will have to raise more money in the 1953 March of Dimes campaign than they did this year, if they are to carry their share of the financial burden.

It has been announced that the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has poured more than $1,000,000 into the state so far this year, and will probably add several more thousands before January 1.

Texas raised about 2,100,000 in January, of which half was sent to the national foundation.

Kid collectors are writing Santa for such items as toy reproductions of Colonial stage coaches, ranch buggies, prairie schooners and old-fashioned automobiles.

ANNUAL CHRISTMAS RUSH IS ON AT LITTLEFIELD POST OFFICE

Halsell Ranch Manager Is Taken By Death

Judge Otha F. Dent and Lamb County Commissioner Fred Wilson attended funeral services in San Antonio Wednesday afternoon for L. D. Gaither, who passed away Tuesday. Burial was made in a cemetery at Merkel.

Gaither was well known here, having managed Halsell Ranch in Lamb County for a great many years. For the past few years he had been manager of a ranch owned by Halsell near San Antonio.

The annual Christmas rush is on at the local post office, and the postmaster and all employees of the office are agreed that the rush is not only on, but that it will increase between now and Christmas—and that they are in for a busy two more weeks, with overtime certain for many.

Already the order has gone out that post offices shall remain open both Saturday afternoons between now and Christmas.

Despite the fact that the local post office is better equipped than ever to handle the rush, says Postmaster Storey, the full co-operation of patrons will be necessary if the Christmas rush is to be most efficiently handled, dispatched and delivered. (Continued on Back Page)

A mass meeting in protest of the New Revised Standard Version of the Bible will be held Friday evening, December 12, at 7:30, in the Littlefield High School Auditorium.

Meers, pastor of the Littlefield Missionary Baptist Church, will speak on "The Predecessors" of the New Bible, and Dr. Frank A. Godsoe, pastor of the Central Baptist Church, Amarillo, Texas, will speak on "The Product."

Every Bible-believing fundamental and evangelical church of Littlefield and this area is invited to attend and lend their support in opposing this "New Bible."

A number of local churches of this area have already signified they would be present with a delegation of their members.

Everyone is invited and urged to be present at this important meeting. There will be no admission charge or offering taken.

Wedding Vows Read At First Baptist Church For Local Couple

In a beautiful and impressive double ring ceremony performed in the auditorium of the Educational Building of the First Baptist Church Tuesday night, December 9, at 7:30 o'clock, Miss Georgia Barbara Ferguson daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hal G. Ferguson, became the bride of Buddy Leroy F. Miller.

The pastor, Rev. Lee Hemphill performed the wedding rites before a background of a trellis of greenery interwoven with pink rosebuds, flanked by white tapers in tiered candelabra. Large baskets of white chrysanthemums were placed on either side of the altar and in front of the candelabra.

Candles were lit by the bride's brother Hal Gordon Ferguson, and her cousin Joe Mack Henderson of Lubbock.

Prenuptial organ music was furnished by Mrs. Dewey Hulse, who played traditional wedding marches, and who accompanied Mrs. Weldon Findley when she sang, "Ah! Sweet Mystery of Life." Miss Phonicille Pillion played the piano accompaniment for Miss Patsy Phillips who sang "Because."

Father Gives Bride Away

The bride given in marriage by her father wore a white wedding gown made of imported Chantilly type lace, nylon tulle and satin, designed with sheer yoke outlined with double net ruffle held with tiny satin cord tied in bows. The fitted satin bodice had long sleeves ending in points over the hands and terminated with depe point at center front of the waistline. Joining this, was an immense length skirt made of shirred nylon tulle over satin, designed with fan shaped panels of lace at regular intervals, worn over hoops and crinoline to emphasize fullness.

The veil of silk illusion was finger tip length outlined with wide band of lace and joined to a tiara type cap of iridescent beads, pearls and rhinestones.

She carried a white Bible topped by a single white orchid. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. She carried a white linen and lace handkerchief belonging to an aunt, Mrs. Bob Torrence of Lubbock. For something borrowed and something old she wore an heirloom lapel watch, belonging to her maternal great grandmother, handed down through generations, now owned by an aunt, Mrs. Ralph Cahill of Lubbock.

Miss Beverly Noble of Lubbock, a Texas Tech student served her cousin as maid-of-honor. She wore a formal aqua colored gown of net over taffeta. Her accessories were white and she carried a colonial bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

The bride's table was laid with a handsome imported linen hand tied embroidered cloth. The three tiered white wedding cake was decorated with blue flowers and wedding bells, topped by the traditional miniature bridal couple. The bride's orchid was placed on the table.

Other decorations in the reception room were an arrangement of pom mums placed on the piano and on the register was the maid of honor's bouquet.

After the bride and groom had cut the first slice, Miss Ethel Pope cut and served the cake.

Miss Phonicille Pillion played appropriate piano music during the receiving hours.

Leave On Wedding Trip

When the couple left on a wedding trip to South Texas, the bride was wearing a smart wool jersey suit of gray and red, with red shoes and bag, and white hat and gloves. She wore an orchid corsage fashioned from her bridal bouquet.

Annual Christmas

Here are a few suggestions, ways in which the patrons of the office can co-operate.

Mail all cards and letters with the addresses and stamps facing the same way.

The local cards together separately from other. Tie those addressed to rural routes separately in bundles.

Also tie bundles of out-of-town cards (addressed to same towns) in separate bundles.

Use the air mail slot to mail all air mail letters.

And twine to do the above suggested tying can be obtained at the general delivery window.

And extra patience on the part of patrons and clerks will be appreciated and necessary to insure on-time delivery of the big Christmas mailing rush which will climax during Christmas week.

Furr Food

and streamers were glowing with lighted lights, but it just couldn't be that way, and Santa Claus will get a pretty good idea how pretty Littlefield is decorated for his visit—even though the lights don't shine so brightly in the daytime as they do at night.

And, also, Santa will be pleased when he sees how Littlefield stores are just bulging at the seams with Christmas gifts—dolls, skates, bicycles, tricycles, books, mechanical toys, radios, TV's, furniture, Christmas trees, lighted and unlighted tree decorations, candles, nuts, fruits, cakes, pies, clothing items of all kinds—and goodness only knows what else.

And he will also be glad when he learns of all the organizations like the Red Cross, Salvation Army, Jaycees, churches and others, have made plans to see that every needy child gets gifts—that every needy family gets a big Christmas basket and dinner.

Hurray! Santa Claus is coming today, and all of Littlefield has the spirit to royally welcome him—the Christmas spirit.

their annual shipment of Christmas trees, and parked them alongside their store, where one and all could see and select.

Sometime during Saturday night, Santa Claus in the probable guise of a bunch of juveniles, started pre-Christmas distribution of trees, and many households were agreeably surprised Sunday morning to find that Santa had "been," and left them a nice new tree.

Chief Walraven is not so sure of the Santa Claus suspect, and is searching for the thief or thieves who stole and disbursed the trees.

The Renfro Bros. are also assisting, and here and there recovering one or more of the trees, which are a bit more expensive than in many former years.
