Littlefield Press Supports.....

Saturday, June 2 is an importnt day in Texas. An important day because Texans will go to the polls and choose the men they desire to take offices at the head of the state government.

In keeping with a statement made after the First Primary and with the policy of this newspaper, its publisher and editor...have studied the qualifications of the various candidates, the following candidates have the support of this newspaper. The candidates supported are those who are deemed hest qualified for the offices they seek. Part of the information studied came from a supplement released to the Texas Legislature. Parts of this supplement express the feelings of this newspaper and are used throughout the statements.

Regardless of how you vote, the important thing is that you DO VOTE!

STATE REPRESENTATIVE-Bill Clayton of Springlake Clayton is a young and energetic conservative Democrat who is not afraid to stand up for what he believes. He was raised in Lamb County and knows the problems facing this

Clayton does not represent any special interest group, he favors a balanced state budget, a one per cent across the board sales tax and elimination of wasteful duplication in governmer. He also favors improvement of law enforcement procedures and statutes on the hot check law, small loan legislation and prohibition of obscene movies and literature. GOVERNOR -- John Connally of Tarrant County

By comparison between the two candidates, Connally stands squarely for basic conservative principles while his opponent, Don Yarborough, is openly and wholly devoted to the far left liberal-labor philosophy. Connally older of the two candidates, has the stability and farsight to lead Texas ahead and in financial soundness.

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR--Preston Smith of Lubbock Smith is the conservative candidate for the office against James A. Turman, the liberal candidate. Smith's long record in the House of Representative and the Senate is consistently conservative. He is respected by every member of the Texas Senate, most of who are his close and long-time friends. His long experience in the Senate assures his understanding of Senate prodeedings and the acceptance by all Senators, whatever may be their philosophy, of his leadeship.

ATTORNEY GENERAL -- Waggener Carr of Lubbock Carr is the conservative candidate for this post, while the labor-liberal support is being his opponent Tom Reavley. Carr spent four years as Speaker of the Huse of Representatives. He has also been County Attorney of Lubbock County and Assistant District Attorney, Carrwas acting chairman of the House Crime Investigaiting Committee and helped create the Law Enforcement Study Commission. He believes that every man must be accorded his full rights under the law, but no man can be CONGRESSMAN-AT-LARGE -- Joe Pool of Dallas Pool is a veteran of the Texas Legislature with a consistent conservative record. His opponent, Woodrow Bean of El Paso, is also a former member of the Texas Legislature but with a consistent and extreme labor-liberal record. The conservative and Liberal philosophies are a sharp issue in this race. Pool has an outstanding record in the Legislature.

man, received a small gash rear door of the building, Plaster from the wall above the door fell on him causing the injury. Several firemen were overcome by the smoke, but none were taken for treatment.

The fire was reported at 4:04 a.m. Wednesday by John Holder, an employee of Huckabee's Cafe. Firemen arrived at the scene and began pouring water in the building through a high window at the rear of the store. Alvis Tubbs, one of the store owners, arrived and unlocked the front door, but only one of the department's oxygen masks were operative and the rear door then had to be broken open so that firemen could get to the blaze. The rear door, a metal covered wood door, is burglar proof and only after several firemen using axes and pry bars did it give enough for the bar holding it shut to be removed. Once inside the firemen quickly extinguished the blaze. The fire burned through the ceiling in several places but never broke through the roof. Cardboard boxes holding canned goods burned off leaving the charred cans exposed. The fire burned through a petition between the back and front, causing some damage to the meat market portion of the business. A ceiling beam burned causing the ceiling to fall in (See Fire on Page 3)

Some have referred to this method of voting on the run-off election as "Russian Roulette"a game in which a person takes a revolver, loads one of the six chambers, spins the mechanism and without looking. places the gun gainst his head and pulls the trigger.

If the voter wants to vote for Mr. Yarborough because they think he will make the better ply. governor, or because of the things he represents...namely organized labor andultra thinking, certainly it is their business and their American privilege.

"reverse twist" of voting because Yarborough might be easier for Cox to defeat in November is anothermatter. I don't know where this idea of "reverse voting" started, but it does appear extremely dangerous...and just about as profitable as the game of Russian roulette.

Jimmie Guillentine, editorpublisher of the Hereford Brand says along this line, "Many people who voted for Marshall Formby did so with the belief that they would lose their vote...but they knew that Formby was a good man who represented the things in which they believed. This same sincere honesty should be followed in the second primary. Pick out the candidate who comes nearest to representing your beliefs and interests whether he be Connally or Yarborough, give him your vote and support."

Agree with me or not, the important thing is to get out and vote Saturday If Penn and I can stay here until past midnight to publish the vote, the least you can do is go vote!

Two screwballs at a vacation resort rented a hotel boat and found great fishing at a certain spot in a nearby lake, It was so good that they decided to mark the place so they could come back for more sport the

At the dock, one asked the other, "How did you mark the spot?"

CONTRARY to what we an nounced last Sunday . . , all of the Littlefield grocery stores weren't open Memorial Day. Pioneer Super got burned out and their business was mostly a day of standing around and looking at the smoked and burned up merchandise. In talking with partners Al-

I was also impressed by the many who came and offered to help them and expressed a desire to be of service.

started, I believe we are now close and frequent observation on the road toward eradication of all wounds before they beof the screwworm in the Southwest. " This statement by R. L. Murphree, DeWitt county, expresses the feeling of officials of fested animals and frequent the Animal Disease Eradication Division, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Texas Animal Health Commission and Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation.

"I have had only one screwworm case up to mid-year," Murphree continued, "Normally, I would have had 15 to 20 cases. Though part of this may be due to the winter freeze I have found several blows or egg masses which have not hatched. They have just dried up and indicate the release of sterile flies in the area is helping now."

Gillespie County ranchman Clint Hardin, Willow Springs, described how he found a baby calf with its navel covered with screwworm eggs. It was not doctored but the eggs did not hatch. This section has been a hot spot for screwworms in the county, according to County Agent C. A. Stone.

USDA officials explains the apparent leveling of of screwworm cases in many countles during the past week is just a preview of results that will be obtained once the new 75-million per week sterile fly production plant at Mission goes into operation. Production has been increased to almost 30 million flies per week at the temporary facilities at Kerrville, but this has not been sufficient to do the job.

Progress of construction at the Mission plant is another reason for the favorable outlook, the officials explained. Work is ahead of schedule and the plant should be completed by mid - June. Fly production will be underway by July I,

Eventual eradication of this costly livestock pest wil come from a combination of the release of sterile flies and work by livestock owners. Stockmen should adhere closely to good screwworm management practices to protect their herds and help reduce screwworm populations in order that maximum results can be obtained from the sterile fly releases.

"We hope that no one had the idea that there would be no screwworms in Texas this first year," commented Claude Mc-Can, Victoria County ranchman and a member of board of trus-tees of the SWAHRF, "Although we have had fewer cases than in the past in many areas it is a question of each individual stockman staying with the McCan added that they had ust dehorned and castrated the hird round and have had only two screwwarm cases. Normally, at this time of the year they expect 100 to 150 cases. "Since Victoria county is in real screwworm country," he said, 'you could normally expect almost 100 per cent infestation when working or dropping cal-ves at this time of the year." Every case of screwworms put out of commission now prevents thousands of cases three to five weeks later. In turn, this helps make more effective use of the limited supply of available flies and will speed up eradication, explained the officials.

Officials stressed that stockmen should now follow a regular preventive spray program using Co-Ral or Korlan, following closely the instructions on the labels. These sprays give protection for two to three Cattleman in Texas are due praise for the support already given but officials of the cooperating agencies stressed that no one should let up in his responsibilities to the program now, the officials said.

for the State Legislature, Now I'd be the first agree that the people need to be informed and they need to be entertained, by television, al-though there have been times when I have been more entertained than informed by political speeches and more informed than entercained by entertainment programs.

But here's the thing: it's not fair to the people to have tant to keep the cow as cool as possible, and to provide her with plenty of feed during the cooler part of the day , explains Richardson, He suggests practicing night grazing on high quality crops and feeding a high - quality rougage and a high - energy, low fiber concentrate. In addition to prodiving adequate shade and high - quality feed, the dairyman should also provide a large quantity of clean cool, fresh water at all times. The water should be located so that the cows are not forced to walk long distances to it. Water is probably the most important nutrient during hot weather and certainly the cheapest, says Richardson, Cows may need 80% morewater on hots days than on cooler, more comfortable days.

Cows should not be made to stand in crowded holding pens for long periods, especially in the open on hot concrete. Fly control can also add to the comfort of the cows and encourage greater milk production. Be gentle and kind when handling cows, and don't rush them around, advises Richardson.

Girls go to the be ..es to see and be seen; men go to see note: The Sandhills | he's running for Justice of the gunsmoke, for example, put off the air temporarily for a political speech they don't wan to hear, and it blamed sure ain't fair to the the candidate to be the one who does it.

Haven't you noticed in a Western or nearly any other TV drama there are long stretches of silence like when the killer and the marshal are stalking each other just prior to the show-down fight?

Why couldn't TV producers stretch these stalking periods out a little longer and let a candidate come on for a few words connecting the election of him with the preservation of civilization? When the marshal is chasing the outlaw on horseback in a Western, or the private detective is chasing the killer by car in an Eastern, why not let them go two miles or ten blocks longer, as the case may be, and during the silence work in some more of the candidate's speech?

Then everybody can go to bed, entercained and informed, and not sure which he's the sleeplest from. It's worth thinking about.

This is a serious problem and needs solving right away. Yours faithfully, diverting low - quality conton and cotton by products into a bagging material for cotton bales has been announced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The raw material for the bagging would come largely from the short fibers removed from cotton during ginning by lin-cleaners. This line, much of it now burned at gins, can be combined with other cotton by products or low-grade cotton to make serviceable cotton bag-

Under the pilot program, a payment of $1 per bale will be made for the use of all cotton bagging, up to a maxim-um of 100,000 bales. Payment will be from funds provided by Public Law 320. The program will begin on a date to be announced and terminate with the

The cost of the bagging will exceed that for jute which is now used, Producer organizations have indicated a willingness to assume part of the added cost during the initial stages of manufacturing and introduction of cotton bagging. As production machinery and methods are developed, costs are expected to be reduced to make the material competitive with other types of bagging. In addition, the used cotton bagging will have a greater reuse value than the present jute bagging, the USDA officials

Scriptures Recount Soil Conservation

By REV. JACK ELLZEY "In the beginning God crea-ted the heaven and the earth, and the earth was without form. and void; and darkness was upon the face of the deep. And the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters." With these words the Holy Scriptures begin the story of creation and the story of life. The author places water very close to the beginning processes of life on this earth, Most of us have come to understand that water "flows from the hand of God" and is part of the Power that sustains us; as vital as the air we breathe and the food we

Although this water which belongs to God, is dispersed by the hand of God in various forms and amounts over and beneath the surface of the earth, man has with his God given ingenuity, developed its usage to help to live abundantly. For example; in this semi-arid climate there are many irrigation wells drawing up the "streams of life" to nourish bountiful crops and increase the wealth of the community.

We should be and are thankful. But our thanksgiving is selish and thoughtless if we do not recognize we are God's stewards, accept our stewardship, and act as responsible persons in the use and conservation of this God - given resource. As intelligent, thoughtful persons we will continue to work for the new and better methods of conserving and replenishing the water of this area along with the conservation and replenishing of all other natural resources. Two Receive Insurance Award

Two Littlefield men, W. D. Chapman and Edgar McCanlies, have been awarded a Certificate of Outstanding Achievement in 1961 by the Fraternal Insurance Counsellors Association at the annual meeting in Chicago.

In making the announcement the association statement said that in order to receive the FiC designation and be a member of the Association, an insurance counsellor must complete an extensive basic and advanced training course, pass two sealed examinations, and meet certain production requirements. The counsellor must then, by skill and consistent service to his clients, earn their full confidence in order to receive the gram involving date of planting of cotton is being conducted over a period of years by the High Plains Research Foundtion in coopertion with the Lubbock Agricultural Experiment Station No. 8. This information was obtained from the portion of the test conducted at the High Plains Research Fondation, On each of the six different dates of planting, four varieties were planted. The planting dates were April 22, May 20, June 3, June 13, June 21, and June 30. The four varieties that were used in the test represented both early and late maturing cotton.

The yield and stand of the cotton was reduced extensively by excessive rainfall and seedling diseases . The highest yield obtained was 653 pounds at lint per acre.

The following table gives the date of planting, average lint yield per acre of the four varieties, and gross value per acre.

Date	Yield	Gross Value
April 22	543	$163.20
May 20	458	131.3
June 3	464	136.20
June 13	287	68.00
June 21	148	33.70
June 30	30	6.5

The June 13, June 21, and June 30 plantings were considered un profitable as compared to a normal crop of grain sorghum planted on these dates, sometime between the dates of June 3, and June 13, it would no longer be profitable to plant cotton but more profit could be realized from planting grain sor-

June Named Dairy Month

June is a time of recognition by the nation of the dairy industry's vital contributions to the health and wealth of America. The month - long observance , now in its 26th year, continues to pick up promotional steam, says A. M. Mackma, extenion dairy specialist, and ranks as the biggest single dairy food sales and informaion campaign in the food field.

lune was selected as the time to tell the dairy industry story for production is at its peak during this season, explains Meekma. Businesses of all kinds endorse and support the observance and nationally 13 organizations cooperate with the American Dairy Association to sponsor it.

Richard M. Riley, a well known Travis County dairyman is serving as Dairy Month chairman in Texas, according to Maakma. Riley is an immediate past president of the ADA of Texas and currently a member of the Association's Board of Directors. He is also president of the Mid-Texas Milk Producers Association; vice president of the Travis County Dairy Hard Improvement Association and a member of the Travis County Dairy Program Building Committees.

Maskma and Riley point out that dairies throughout Texas and the nation will be holding "open-house" during June and that many special events ranging from a "three-minute cow cash" to milk drinking contests will help acquaint the public with the dairy industry and make dairymen better known to the the public they serve.

Food editors, natritionists, and others concerned with the American diet will emphasize milk as "nature's most nearly perfect food" during the month and point out that proper diets for every American should include milk and milk products.

The two dairy leaders extend an invitation to the public to take advantage of the open house offer by dairymen and pay them a visit.
