NIXON'S GRADE 'A' PITCHING STRESSES SOX YOUTH TREND

By Bill King

BOSTON — Owner Tom Yawkey's fond hope of developing his own baseball dependables in the Boston Red Sox's extensive farm system is being bolstered this season by Willard Nixon, the 23-year-old righthanded pitcher from Lindale, Ga.

Another youngster to watch is 21-year-old Leo Kieley, a southpaw brought up from Louisville late in June. He beat Washington and Chicago in two of his first three starts, limiting the latter's righthanded batting order to four hits.

Bu Nixon, with a bit more experience, is the youngster Manager Steve O'Neill has been nursing along since he succeeded Joe McCarthy a year ago.

At the halfway mark, thanks to O'Neill's expert spotting, Nixon had appeared in 20 games, nine of which he started, and boasted an impressive record of six victories against two losses.

Pitching a total of 87 innings, Nixon gave up 45 runs, 87 hits, 37 bases on balls while striking out 49 batters. His triumphs included two over the Philadelphia Athletics and one against the fast-traveling Chicago White Sox, the Detroit Tigers, St. Louis Brown and Washington Senators. But Nixon's slugging teammates let him down in his other tries against the White Sox and Browns.

Mace Brown, that keen student of pitching form now scouting for the Red Sox in the south, first spotted Nixon at Alabama Polytechnic Institute. There Nixon had a record of 18 wins and three defeats in two seasons.

After Nixon signed his first professional contract in 1948, he was assigned to the Red Sox, Eastern League farm at Scranton, Pa., where he fell into the expert hands of Mike Ryba.

When farm director Johnny Murphy noted Nixon's 11-5 record, he pitched triumph. He appeared in 20 other games for the Red Sox a year ago and wound up with an 8-6 record.

That stamped him as the most promising flinger to blossom on a Red Sox farm since Mel Parnell blinded the Eastern League with Scranton in 1946.

husky Georgian was promoted to Birmingham in the Southern Association and, in 1950, to the Louisville American Association club.

Nixon, back in Ryba's hands, got off to a flying start with the Colonels. By July he had compiled an 11-2 record. A few days after O'Neill succeeded McCarthy as Red Sox manager, Steve was in dire need of pitching strength. And he demanded youngsters.

Nixon attracted O'Neill's attention with a one-hit victory over Milwaukee and he was pulled up to the parent club. Eight days after stepping into the American League Nixon drew a starting assignment and delighted O'Neill with a well-

Boom Stirs British Columbia Industry

VANCOUVER, British Columbia—B. C. stands for more than British Columbia. Today, it means boom country.

Along the far-north coast, where the coast range tumble the rivers steeply into fjord and sea, on Vancouver Island's timberclothed slopes, in the deep interior where the Rockies tower above the ugly smelters, in the Okanagan where the hot sun is ripening the fruit, along the banks of the swift Fraser, plunging like a sword through the caribou rangeland, in the quiet green pastures of the lower Fraser Valley, men are dreaming of a new empire.

Since the war, it has struck British Columbians that they have within their borders the stuff for a mighty industrial upheaval.

Provided, as author Bruce Hutchingson told University of British Columbia graduates recently, they do not desecrate the land.

"We ask you," he said, "to preserve this land—to preserve it from that ravenous prodigality which already has gutted a large part of the American continent, consumed its forests, fouled its waters and swept its precious cargo of life-stuff, the top soil, down to the sea."

Just 102 years ago, B. C. was made a crown colony. It was less than 50 years since Simon Fraser had made his fantastic and courageous voyage down the river which now bears his name.

In 1881, there were only 49,459 persons in B. C., 25,000 of them Indians. By 1940, there were 895,000. In the last 10 years, the population has increased by nearly 43 per cent to its present 1,150,000.

In 1940, the gross value of manufacture was $311,000,000. Today, it is around $1,000,000,000.

Production in the four basic industries—forestry, mining, agriculture and fishing—showed an increase last year of some $40,000,000 over the previous year. Forestry topped $400,000,000; mining $135,000,000, agriculture $131,000,000 and fishing $68,000,000.

Bank clearings were nearly $1,000,000,000 greater than ever before.

British Columbia's industrial empire builders are only beginning to realize the fabulous potentialities that lie within the province's 366,255 square miles of river, forest and valley.

Man has hardly yet looked at that half of the province north from the Skeena to the 6th parallel of latitude.

Today, men are hacking a road through the wilderness on the northern coast where a $550,000,000 aluminum industry will rise.

Recently brought into production are a $35,000,000 cellulose plant near Prince Rupert a $19,000,000 sulphate mill and a $1,000,000 pulp mill on Vancouver Island and a $1,300,000 plywood plant at Queen in the northern interior. Another $11,000,000 is being spent for newsprint mill at Duncan Bay on Vancouver Island.

In 11 years, capital invested in the pulp and paper industry in B. C. has risen from $58,000,000 to $225,000,000. But the surface has barely been scratched. B. C. has 27 per cent of Canada's softwood suitable for pulp. Quebec, which produces more than half Canada's

INDEX OF TEXAS BUSINESS ACTIVITY — The over-all level of business in Texas during June remained practically unchanged from May, said Dr. John R. Stockton, director of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. The composite index of business rose 1 per cent after adjustment for season variation. (AP Photo) total output of 8,000,000 tons annually, has 35 per cent.

Far in the southern interior Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co., biggest lead-zinc-chemicals producer in the world is planning a $65,000,000 expansion. Abandoned mines are being brought back into production and new power projects are going ahead.

A steel industry appears not far off for B. C. Demand for steel is growing and the navy is spending millions for new warships being built at Victoria and North Vancouver. The hunt for iron ore, oil and gas is being expanded and quickened.

Construction crews are laying steel for the northward extension of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway to Prince George, where it will connect with Canadian National Railway's Transcontinental line. It will also be extended south to Vancouver at a cost of $12,000,000.

The John Hart Highway through the northern muskeg to the Alaska Highway is scheduled for completion this fall. It will cut 950 miles from the present road-rail route from Seattle to Alaska through Edmonton. It will also open up British Columbia's block of the Peace River. The land there is rich and under it is an estimated 2,000,000,000 tons of coal.

Twelve new base metals mills are being built. A mill has developed in the mining industry. Development of the "just starting," says Minister R. C. Macdonald.

Health Talks

Presented by the State Medical Association of Texas

Continued as basic for... are those which the body requires to... carry the load for the original source of trouble or because the other parts are not receiving the material they need. It is quite true that all people do not have the same needs of foods. Some are born with organs that have not the capacity for proper functioning and others develop some sort of illness that changes the function of the organ. But even at that, the basic requirements which are called the "seven basic foods" make up the normal adequate diet and any change in the diet that is made by the doctor is made with that diet in mind, as it must be applied to each individual. Two people can eat the same foods, and one will grow fat on the diet while the other will remain underweight. That is proof that it is not the intake of food alone which governs the size of a person. Consumption of the seven basic foods is essential to good health; after consumption comes combustion, the way in which the body uses those essential foods it is given.

Through those years when you eat what you want without any thought except for your pleasure in food that tastes good, you probably do not give your body all the things that are considered essential. And through those years some parts of your body are probably not receiving the ingredients that keep it in fit working order; after years of abuse, you can see that some part of your body may be slightly out of whack, not completely disabled but enough off the track to keep you from feeling your best.

Overeating or putting on excess weight overworks many organs of the body. Those organs have adjusted themselves as well as possible to the strain you've put on them. If you suddenly change the diet completely by picking up some fat reducing diet, you can see further that such a drastic change in diet will affect the whole body and not just the digestive system.

That is why your doctor and all his fellow-workers repeat again and again not to take up some wild diet that is guaranteed to take off a pound a day or even five pounds a week. Unless an emergency exists, the most weight that should be reduced is two to two-and-a-half pounds a week. Since 15 to 20 pounds above normal weight for your age and height is considered overweight, you can see that a reducing diet should be a 7 to 10 week affair, never a 10-day wonder.

The only way to reduce your weight without threatening your health is to eat less of the seven basic foods, including some fat, though that is what you will cut the most. For all purposes you must eat less of those foods than you have been eating until you get down to the proper weight and then, though you may eat a little more than you were while reducing, you must eat less than you did while you were putting on extra weight.

There is no short cut to reducing without an accompanying threat to your health. A reducing program means a change in the amount of food you will consume from that time forward. You need some exercise while reducing not only to help a little in using up the stored fat but mainly to keep your body from getting flabby when the fat is taken off parts of your anatomy. You need vitamins in the food you eat, which you will get in the

SPRINGLAKE NEWS

GO TO COLORADO
Mr. and Mrs. Glen McCleskey will leave for Colorado Friday for a two weeks vacation. They will seven basic foods; if some of those foods must be eliminated from your diet, you will need supplementary vitamins to keep your body in proper order during the reducing regime.

And you must have sufficient bulk of food in your diet to keep you from getting constipated. This last item is the one most often overlooked in the popular reducing diets, accounting for months and years of discomfort when the excess weight may no longer be a problem.

The only one of the seven basic foods which is usually excluded from an authorized reducing diet is cereal. All sweets will normally be cut out, including candy and sugars, carbonated beverages and sweetened drinks, with saccharin used to sweeten. Though bread will be included, hot breads, coffee cakes, hot cakes, sweet rolls and waffles will be excluded, along with cakes, cookies, pastries, puddings and all rich desserts.

Avocado and dried fruit are not part of a reducing diet nor are fried meats and such fatty meats. CONTINUED ON NEXT PAGE. Continued from preceding page— as goose, pork and sausage or fish canned in oil. Cream soups and thickened soups won't help you take off weight and dried beans and dried peas are not considered slimming. Catsup, chili sauce, cream sauce, gravy, nuts, olives, pickles, relish, and alcohol are taboo when an honest attempt at taking the pounds off is underway.

There are a few other broad general omissions in the reducing diet, but those listed above are the essentials. If you just omitted those foods and kept on with your regular diet you'd probably find yourself losing some excess poundage as time goes by. That would probably be the least painful method but would take a little more time than others.

SURE, a trim new Buick makes a mighty pretty picture when you see it in your driveway, or watch it wheel by. But if you could get a mechanic's-eye view of this big, broad beauty as it sits on a lift, you'd see an impressive picture of rugged brawn that makes good-to-look-at Buicks give such a good account of themselves on the road. You'd see the full-length torque-tube drive that firms the whole power relay system, and steadies your going like a giant hand beneath you. You'd see big sturdy wheels with really wide rims that provide surer footing, give better car control, make tires last longer. You'd see all four wheels cushioned by stout coil springs that are completely service-free, practically breakproof — and a principal reason for the ever-level Buick ride. But mainly, you'd see the massive foundation that backbones every Buick — the deep, wide, X-member frame that's rugged as a rock, and a brute for strength. So when you look at the beauty of a Buick — the big mileage power of its valve-in-head Fireball Engine — and the moneysaving ability of its Dynaflo Drive* — don't overlook the tough stamina that goes with it all. And don't overlook the fact that a new '51 Buick, with all its heft, costs less per pound than any other car of comparable size, structure and weight. Better come see us first chance you get — and find out what a smart buy this is — from every angle.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Buicks.

wide basis with the decision based on a local option basis. In other words, the total vote over the entire district will determine if by a simple majority such a district will be set up, but if a municipality should vote opposite to the county in which it was situated then that municipality would not participate in the district or vice versa.
 The district would cover all or portions of these counties: Armstrong, Bailey, Briscoe, Castro, Cochran, Crosby, Deaf Smith, Dickens, Floyd, Garza, Hale, Hookley, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Oldham, Parmer, Potter, Randall, Swisher and Terry.
 Under powers granted by a legislative act, the district could make and enforce rules for the conservation and recharging of underground water.
 Make and enforce rules to prevent waste of the underground water;
 Require spacing of wells;
 Require records of wells;
 Acquire lands for erection of dams and install pumps and other equipment necessary to recharge the underground reservoir;
 Enforce its rules by injunction secured in court.
 The district is authorized to levy a tax, not to exceed 50 cents on the $100 valuation. Such evaluations would be on existing county records.

Promises No Heavy Tax
 Fortenberry said creation of the district would bring no "burdensome tax."
 "In the original proposal," he said, "a tax of ten cents on the $100 evaluation was proposed."
 He said the legislative bill was amended to provide a higher figure to take care of any unforeseen needs.
 But Fortenberry said a five cent tax on the $100 valuation was more in line with present thinking.
 There are 6,500,000 acres of land in the district, he declared, and he said a budget of $50,000 to $60,000 was in mind. "You could get this much if you only charged a penny an acre."
 Victor Bouldin, a Houston attorney, was more or less moderate for the proponents. He questioned each closely on his beliefs as to how the district would benefit the area.
Geologists Are Witnesses
 Nicholas A. Rose, a Houston geologist, and W. L. Broadhurst of Geological survey, were among other witnesses.
 Fortenberry and others said the district was the best guarantee that there would be no state or federal control of the underground water.
 Fear of such control was among the reasons for pushing for creation of the district, proponents admitted.
 Wendell Hedrick of Abilene, public information director for the West Texas—Chamber of Commerce, said the WTCC was in favor of the district. Fortenberry said that while there is no direct water problem now, there would come a time when there would be if conservation wasn't started.

Experience Teaches Valuable Lessons

Mrs. Lula Nelson, 1702 E. 63rd St., Los Angeles, Calif., is the very young mother of seven children. The youngest child is two years old and the oldest is 11. The two youngest children are pictured here with Mrs. Nelson, Murlean, the two-year-old, and Richard, who is three years of age. Now, there is probably very little about raising children that Mrs. Nelson doesn't know. Experience has taught her how to safeguard the well-being of her youngsters. And her experience with today's great family formula, HADACOL, has also taught her something valuable. For Mrs. Nelson had been having annoying aches and pains, didn't rest well and felt run-down. She heard how HADACOL was helping other folks who were suffering from a deficiency of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin and began taking it. HADACOL helped her so much that now all the Nelson children are taking their HADACOL regularly, too.
 Here is what Mrs. Nelson says about HADACOL:
 "I was run-down, couldn't sleep at night, had aches and pains and with seven children to care for I couldn't get my work done. After three bottles of HADACOL I felt so much better I could do more work than ever before. I've been taking HADACOL ever since and feel so good. I now give it to my children and it has helped them, too."
Give HADACOL a Chance

If your system lacks these essential elements, you, too, will be amazed at the wonderful results HADACOL can bring you, as it has to thousands of other fine folks who suffered a deficiency of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron, which HADACOL contains. Here On Earth—a better rodeo anywhere in the world than at Earth. This year I am connected with a rodeo at Portales. While we may have a bigger rodeo we can't have a better one, and neither can anybody else. And I expect it to be announced soon that Willis Branscum will furnish the stock for the Portales rodeo too. The main part of the show will be held on Thursday and Friday, September 2 and 3, three performances, and everybody is invited. We don't want to pull anybody away from the Littlefield fair that week but we will have a rodeo, and after all there are some strange characters who would rather rodeo than look at pigs and chickens. And we're going to have an all-bred horse show one night during that week, probably Wednesday night but that date hasn't yet been definitely set.

 The thing that makes the Earth rodeo so good is the spirit of the people around Earth and Springlake. Where else in this

There was farm more than all this seen and heard at the Earth Rodeo. I wish I could tell it all. But if you were there yourself you don't need to hear it, and if you weren't there no amount of telling can compensate for what you missed. So let's just wind up in saying (right out in print) the Earth Rodeo may not be the biggest rodeo in the world but it is the very best.
