Crop Prospects Bright Despite Additional Rain

Despite continued rains this week, crops "look good" agricultural experts said Wednesday.

Around Olton, especially the crop outlook is bright, Roland Willis, Work Unit Conservationist with the SCS says.

Cotton is late throughout much of the county, and needs dry weather to hasten growth and curtail insect infestation, but most farm leaders foresee an excellent crop for the county.

In the north sand hills where the soil is tight, the outlook is not so good as in other areas, says L. D. Aten of the ASC office here. "But in all other areas, the crop is making good progress."

Aten says the county "still will have one of the best yields in its history, barring unforeseen developments."

He points to the fact that the rains have not done the damage that had been expected, although admitting that insect damage is likely to increase. On the other hand, he says, acreage is unusually large, and "land that was above the allotment anyway."

He pointed out the fact that only 46 cotton farmers, out of a record number of 768 farmers participating in the "B" cotton program have changed to the "A" plan.

Under the "B" plan farmers may plant larger acreages but the price will be lower, while under the "A" plan the reverse is the situation. "If farmers were greatly worried," he concludes, "more of them would be changing to the "A" plan."

Last year he said 275 farmers out of 534 switched to the "A" plan after the growing season started. "Even so," he says, we had a high yield of cotton and the total production was far above average for the county.

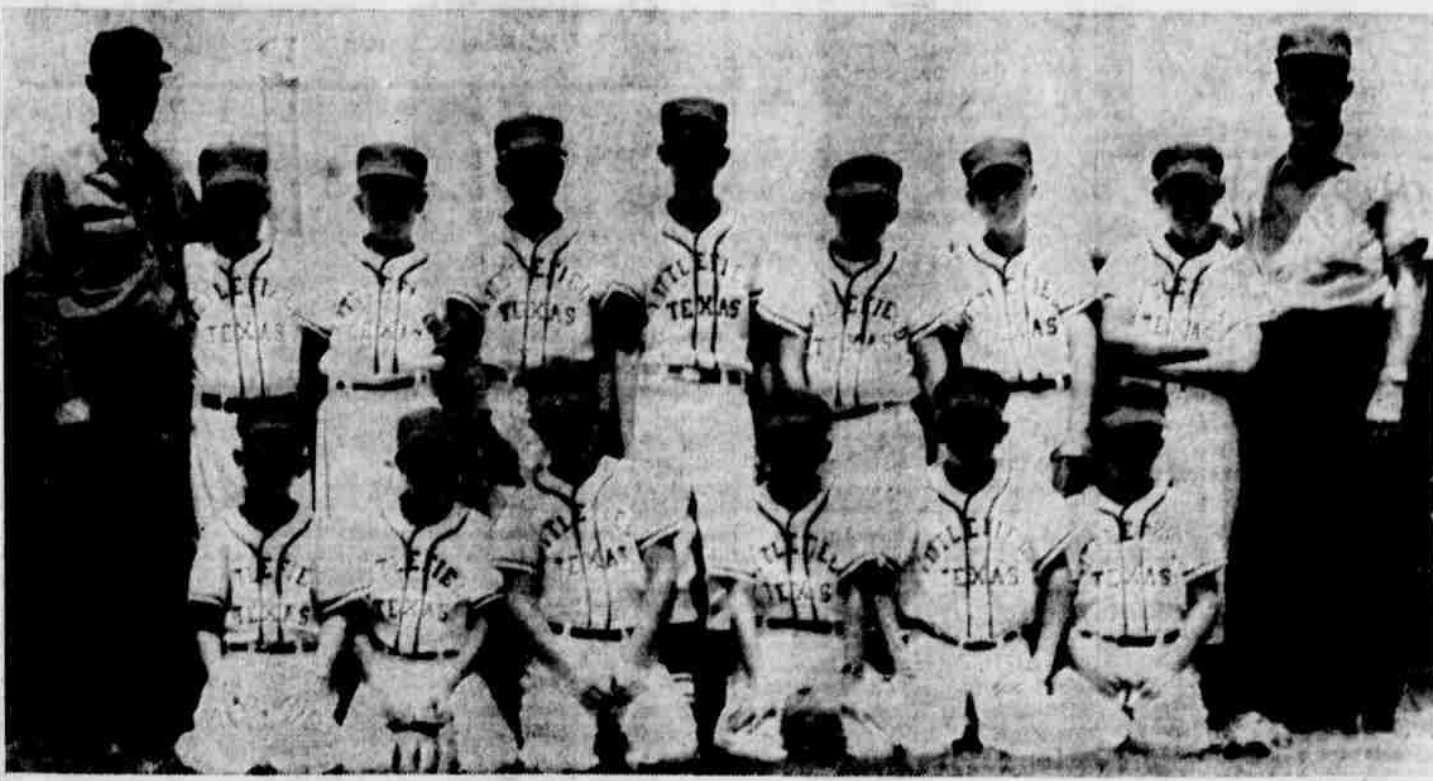

"This year, with 220 more producers in the "B" program, the switchover is far lower. From this I conclude that not too many farmers are worried about the cotton outlook."

Most of the county received from 1 to 1 1/2 inches of rain during the past week to run the total in some regions to as high as 15 inches for the month.

Much heavier infestation of insects, particularly boll worms, is likely to develop due to the continued rains, and early morning dews are further hurting cotton growth.

County agent, J. W. Kimbrough says hot day weather is needed badly to aid the cotton growth and to keep down blight.

He recommends intensive cultivation as a means of curbing blight. This is the only method, he says, that will clear up the blight. (Continued on Page Eight)

Cut Weeds, City Urges To Curb Encephalitis

With unusually heavy July rains boosting Littlefield's mosquito population, the threat of an outbreak of encephalitis spurred city officials Wednesday to urge Littlefield residents to cut weeds and to check all cans or other containers that might hold water at breeding places for mosquitoes.

J. W. Harrison, city manager, said the city "will do all within its power to rid the town of mosquitoes, by staging a regular nightly dusting program on streets and alleys, but he added, "we can't do an effective job if weeds are left as daytime hiding places for mosquitoes."

Last year the city attempted to keep all weeds mowed along streets and alleys as well as on vacant lots. This proved to be a Herculean task "and we didn't have the heavy rains we have had this year to spur the growth of weeds."

This year, he explained, it is almost impossible for city crews to do the weed-cutting job, "so we are asking the citizens to do their own weeding projects."

He said that the mosquitoes do not breed in the weeds, but that they offer ideal hiding places for the pests during the daytime. "Normally mosquitoes can fly only about three miles from the place where they were hatched," he said, "but in this area where we have strong winds they have been found as far as 10 miles from their breeding places."

For this reason, no area is free of mosquitoes, and it is possible that some of the insects are of the variety that carry encephalitis. The disease is contracted from chickens, and while the mosquito is immune to the disease, if it bites a diseased chicken and then bites a human being it is possible for the individual to contract the disease.

Encephalitis, which causes inflammation of the brain that may lead to permanent damage, can not be passed from one individual to another.

Meantime, the city is staging a dusting program in all alleys and streets. Once a week power machines are being used to dust DDT and VHC in alleys and streets. The work is being done at night with the heavy dews helping to hold the insecticides on vegetation.

Farm Bureau Board To Meet

Lamb County Farm Bureau directors will meet tonight for a dinner session at Ellis' Steak House, Ted Hutchins, county president, said Wednesday. The meeting is to start at 8 p.m.

The board will discuss the annual Farm Bureau queen's contest, to be staged somewhere in the county Aug. 19 Hutchins said. Delegates also are to be named to the Farm Bureau Institute at Austin, July 31, Aug. 1, 2, and 3.

The queen contest is always one of the high spots of the summer for the Farm Bureau, and a number of girls are expected to be entered in the contest from all parts of the county.

All members of the board were asked by Hutchins to be present for tonight's session.

Group Would Ban Indecent Literature

A group of citizens interested in ridding the City of Littlefield newstands of indecent literature met Tuesday at noon in Ellis Steak House to map a course of action.

The group discussed measures to be taken and elected a committee to give further study to the situation and make recommendations. The primary purpose of this committee will be to contact personally those persons who handle obscene literature and movies.

The group also has petitions bearing the names of approximately 350 signatures of persons desiring to do away with objectionable literature and movies. The citizen's group hopes to obtain more names on the petitions.

It was pointed out at the meeting Tuesday that the nation's leading law enforcement officials and agencies have traced a large per centage of sex crimes and sex perversions to this literature. Teenagers and younger children have access to this as well as adults.

There's only one way to have fun at a national party convention: Get busy and work like the dickens.

That's the way Billy Clayton, Springlake, alternate Texas delegate to last week's Democratic party convention, sums up.

"If a fellow is going to get anything out of the convention, then he's got to work at it, and believe me, there was plenty of work for everyone at the Democratic convention," Clayton sums up.

By "work" he means attending the caucuses, visiting other delegations, promoting a candidate, helping in the hospitality room, running dozens of errands — "In short, just doing anything that counts along," he explains.

Many Texans probably saw Clayton on TV as he helped lead the demonstration for Johnson following the Texan's nomination for president. Clayton was co-captain of the demonstration. "It sure was fun," Clayton said, "but the parade ran into a lot of work."

He said each candidate was allowed 50 tickets for demonstrators in addition to the delegates, "but no candidate demonstration was made up of just that many folks. There had to be a lot of gate-crashing in order to pull a first-class demonstration for a candidate. Gee, I felt sorry for those poor cops on the doors."

He said that there was a bit of trading went on, too. If a favorite son candidate was being nominated, then other delegates might join in the demonstration to give the candidate a good showing. It was expected, of course, that the favor would be returned.

Clayton, who thinks that a anybody interested in the welfare of the United States should attend

City Council Gives Final Approval To Revised Cannon Terrace Project

Littlefield's newest housing program, Cannon Terrace No. 2, passed its final legal barrier this week when the City Council approved the latest plan after a public hearing in the council rooms.

No one appeared at the legal-required hearing to protest the project which eventually will add 55 new homes to Littlefield's southwestern edge.

Following the hearing, Don Page, local representative of Trans-Western builders said the company will start work immedately on the first of 27 homes to be erected as installment No. 1. Three homes in the new addition already have been sold, Page said, and one was sold last week in Cannon Terrace Addition No. 1.

The project has had to surmount several hurdles, and actual construction has been delayed some two months, pending final approval. As ordinarily drafted, the plat had space for 66 houses, but the project was rejected in-

Lutherans To Install New Pastor At Sunday Services

Littlefield's newest pastor, Rev. E. M. Hohle, will be installed at services Sunday at Emmanuel Lutheran Church, 402 E. 3rd. It was announced Wednesday.

Services installing the new pastor are to be held at 3 p. m. at the church with Rev. E. G. Neunaber, pastor of Redeemer Lutheran Church in Lubbock, as the preacher. He also will install Mr. Hohle.

At the services, Rev. Edwin Wolk, pastor of St. Paul Lutheran Church, Plainview, will serve as liturgist, and the services will be followed by a reception for the new pastor and his family.

Mr. Hohle, who is married and has two children, comes to Littlefield from Latimer, Kans. Mr. Neunaber has been serving as interim pastor since April when the former pastor, Rev. Rufus Young, became pastor of a Lutheran church in Shawnee, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. Hohle are now on vacation but are expected to arrive in Littlefield Friday to establish their home. Both are former Texans.

June Accidents Injure Nine In Lamb County

Lamb County had nine rural traffic accidents during June, one a fatal accident, Sergeant D. S. Lawson, Highway Patrol supervisor for this area, reported Wednesday.

Five of the accidents resulted in property damage and three in personal injury. These wrecks caused a total property damage of $6,615. The three wrecks listed as causing personal injury resulted in four persons being hurt.

Sergeant Lawson pointed out that this brings the total for 1960 to three killed and 19 injured. Total property damage was estimated at $24,700 for the first six months.

June's only fatal accident occurred just southwest of Littlefield June 7 when a car driven by Mrs. Vesta Juanita Cooper, 63, overturned on a dirt road leading off FM 54. The accident occurred at 8:30 p. m. and Mrs. Cooper died an hour and half later of chest and other internal injuries.

During the same period in 1959, 25 persons were injured none fatally. (Continued on Page Two)

DAY LILIES seem to enchant Helen and Johnny Wicker, children of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wicker of Littlefield. They are in the yard helping their mother take care of the flowers and stop to look at the brilliant yellow of the lemon lilies. Mrs. Wicker says her hobby is flowers has plenty of proof of the fact. In addition to the yellow flowers she has pink and bright red lilies plus an assortment of petunias, roses and daisies. Mrs. Wicker says that she has different types of flowers that bloom from early spring to late autumn.

Church Hosts Former Pastors At Homecoming

The Littlefield Church of the Nazarene will observe its annual homecoming and reunion Sunday, July 24, with all-day services and dinner on the grounds.

Several former pastors and many former members of the church have indicated they will be here for the occasion.

Rev. James Poe, the present pastor will bring the morning message and Rev. Harold Davis former pastor here and now pastor of First Church of Nazarene in Amarillo, will bring the evening evangelistic message.

Other former pastors will be heard in the afternoon service which features singing, testimony, and special music. Prior to the evangelistic service in the evening, there is to be a young people's service with a special program for them.

Rev. Poe said that the local congregation extends to the many friends of the church a hearty welcome to attend this homecoming service. The services are: Sunday School — 9:45 a. m.; morning worship hour — 11:00 a. m.; afternoon singing — 1 p. m.; afternoon service — 6:30; evening evangelistic service — 7:30.

The church is located at 91 Phelps Avenue. The church was organized in 1834 with the members having church in their homes. The present building was built in 1938 and the congregation has been worshipping here since. Again we extend an invitation to the public to attend any one or all of these special homecoming services.

Marine Wives Learn Judo

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP) — Who is more deadly than a United States Marine in hand-to-hand combat?

Possibly his wife, if she's a member of the Dependents' Judo and Jujitsu Classes being conducted at this East Coast Marine Camps Recruit Depot.

Every noon hour and Monday and Wednesday evenings and Saturday mornings, the base judo hall echoes with shrill screams and feminine laughter as the wives learn the Oriental art of self-defense.

Clad in judo-gi, the traditional judo uniform, the wives strengthen muscles, slough off excess weight and study technique which may come in handy in emergencies.

"We started the classes last May in answer to demands from some of the wives whose husbands belong to the Parris Island Judo Club," says S-Sgt. Jim Giles.

The students learn body mechanics to better understand why jujitsu techniques can be so painful. They learn the location of the vulnerable points of the body, and why a blow or kick to one of these points can render an assailant powerless.

Next they learn about arm bars, come-alongs, take-downs and throws. After that they advance to more complex and effective techniques.

"Probably because of their natural grace and sense of rhythm girls learn judo and jujitsu about six times faster than men," says Sgt. Ernie Cates, all-Marine judo champion and an instructor here.

Giles says that after four months, the girls who have made a serious study of jujitsu usually protect themselves effectively.

With Mom and Dad flexing their judo muscles, Junior didn't want to be left out. So now there's a special class for youngsters.

"It's good training," say later. "It teaches the boys poise, balance and coordination and, of course, an exciting and interesting sport."

The youngsters go through about the same preliminary training as grown-ups — about two weeks of conditioning and strength training in pushups, sit ups and running.

"The daily exercise seems to be giving me a world of good," says Mrs. West G. Miller, wife of a gunnery sergeant. "Incidentally, I've lost about 10 pounds."

8 MEETS TONIGHT

In The Martin Manner

By Ramon Martin

CAME the Tuesday after Sunday, July 17, 1932, and the president of the Kiwanis Club said, "We have very brave members in our club. At this time I would like to have him stand up and take a bow. I consider him the bravest man in our club to get married at a time like this. Ramon, stand up and take a bow I stood up, pink.

It was 28 years ago last Sunday that a quaking young reporter stood up stiffly in his white linen suit beside a girl dressed in blue and we exchanged "I Do's". It was eight o'clock on a Sunday morning, since early morning weddings were the fashion of that day, presumably to give a bridegroom opportunity to spend the rest of the day trying to make enough money to buy food for supper. Times were that tough.

There were only the parents, the preacher's wife, and another preacher present on that hot July morning when the two of us stood at the chancel rail and went through our ceremony. No flowers, no music. Even if we had had the money (which we didn't) "big" weddings were not in good taste, what with the state of the nation's economy.

AND AFTERWARD we got in the two-year-old Chevy and drove 100 miles south to Fort Worth for a one-day honeymoon. "For travel dress, Mrs. Martin wore." The account in the local newspaper read, "Travel! 100 miles?"

We visited the missus' rich kin in Fort Worth. They lived in a Georgian colonial home in the silk stocking district. I know they were rich because he drew a salary of $100 a week! Well, we drove out to see them and spent a few hours before heading the 100 miles back to Hometown.

"I'll never forget the departure. This house had a long, sweeping driveway that led up to a high-vaulted front porch with colonial columns. Since the day was hot, we sat on this big front porch. Then when I got ready to leave, we walked and got in the Chevy, and that's when the embarrassment started.

THOSE WERE the days when Chevys had a knack of locking their starters. Seems that the starter gear and the flywheel gear frequently failed to mesh with the result that the whole shebang froze together than a Minnesota windmill, in January.

There was only one remedy: Put the car in high gear, gather as many people around it as possible, and rock the car back and forth until the jammed machinery, "broke loose". And me in my white linen suit!

Well, wedding day or not, the car had to be rocked, and the wealthy kin came and helped, as did one or two of the neighbors who had had similar experience.

When finally the starter gear unfroze after considerable rocking it was a very red-faced bridegroom who got in the car and drove away at top speed — 35 miles an hour.

WE WERE so afraid the same locking experience would occur again that we didn't stop the engine until we got home. Even left it running while we ate supper, recklessly burning up gas that cost 14 cents as gallon, too.

And the next morning, the bridegroom went to work as usual as a reporter on the newspaper where he drew $25 a week. Just to be sure the missus would have money for groceries for the next two weeks I left a $10 bill in the kitchen table when I went to work. Of course the mere fact that I had $10 showed that I was in the plutocrat class. That, however, is a slight deception; for I see I had been saving up for several months just so I would have $10 ahead.

AND AT THE office that Monday morning, the managing editor, a swell guy from Pittsburgh, who had come west to get soot-free air, grabbed me by the hand and pumped it long and hard — sympathetically, in fact. He had not known that we were to be married the day before.

And the crew at the paper attacked and bough us as set of pink Zostara, an elaborate wedding gift for those days. And throughout the next two weeks everywhere I went, people said congratulations — but in a sort of sympathetic manner, as if to say, "Well, old man, you asked for it. But getting married at a time like THIS . . . ?"

THERE HAVE been good times and bad during the 28 years between the July Sunday morning and last Sunday's anniversary. Incidentally, this is the first time I can recall when the anniversary again has come on Sunday.

But good or bad it's all been fun, and I can personally recommend the ancient and honorable state of matrimony heartily.

One of my favorite persons is Walter Brennan, the actor, who was quoted Sunday as saying that he had lived with the same woman for 40 years "because I like her better than any woman I've ever known," pretty well sums up the situation with me.

So, depression or not, if I had it all to do over again I would go right through the ceremony, even to the starched and uncomfortable linen suit and the balky automobile starter, not to mention the uncertain times. Times are always uncertain, and marriage (to the right person) is one of the CERTAIN things of life.

About Your Health

At the end of June — July 2 — there were only 19 cases of paralytic polio in Texas compared to 92 cases during the same period last year. State Health Department figures show.

Only two cases were registered in the week ending July 2. The five-year media for the corresponding week has been 19 cases of paralytic polio.

Nonparalytic polio shows a significant drop with a total of 14 cases compared to 23 cases last year at this time.

Despite the encouraging figures, polio continues to strike hard and too often — most often at children below four years of age.

The series of three Salk Anti-polio shots has proven overwhelmingly successful. Parents are urged to have their children of preschool age polio protected.

A fourth "booster" shot is recommended for added protection.

During 1959 there were six documented deaths attributed to sports in Texas. Two of the deaths occurred from boxing injuries — the remaining four were caused from football, according to State Health Department figures.

Both boxing fatalities were in organized boxing. The two deaths were to persons 21 and 19 years of age.

In football, two deaths occurred among high school players in scrimmage contests. One death occurred to a 13-year-old in junior high school during football practice.

The fourth fatality was from injuries to a youth of 11, while playing football at home with friends.

Scholastic regulations demand stringent physical examination before students are allowed to participate in organized athletics with in Texas' schools. Fatalities are usually the result of freak accidents or an unknown physical condition.

Organized athletic deaths are far below figures from other accidental causes — such as drowning. Each year thousands of Texas students engage in competitive athletics, indicating a small percentage of deaths resulting from athletic activity.

Convention

ernia and Alaska, and I personally visited all three groups aimed a plea for Johnson.

In addition to the three states assigned to Clayton, he contacted scores of people from other states, "and there isn't any way of telling how much literature I passed out," he adds. "We didn't leave any stone unturned."

He explained that many of the states' delegations promised to vote for Johnson on the second ballot but were committed to Kennedy on the first ballot. As it turned out, they didn't get a second chance to vote; Kennedy was nominated on the first ballot.

In addition to working in the Johnson camp, Clayton said he worked on the security committee, the Texas labor office, helped staff the Texas headquarters in the convention hotel, "But lots of the time I was working for Johnson," he admits.

As to the nomination of the Texan as running mate for Kennedy, Clayton says he believes "Johnson strengthened the Democratic ticket more than any other candidate possibly could." Of course the Texans admit they were disappointed that Johnson failed to wind up as top man on the ticket.

He said it was difficult to follow the convention procedure, due to the poor acoustics of the auditorium, and Clayton adds that the people watching on TV "probably knew more about what was going on than many of the delegates — and all the people in the balcony — knew about the convention."

He said that if he hadn't been actively working on the program he would have had difficulty keeping up with happenings, due to the noise and confusion on the convention floor at all times. He was high in his praise of Governor Collins of Florida who presided.

"Texas should be very proud of Johnson," Clayton concludes. "I believe he will go down in his history as one of the truly great statesmen of our time. Those of us who were working with him realize his greatness even more than those who have followed his career only through the press."

Clayton also praised the Texas officials who were there for the convention, such men as Governor Daniel and Attorney General Will Wilson. "They were great workers and did a tremendous amount of work for the ticket," he says. "All Texas congressmen also worked hard."

Asked if he has future ambitions in the party, Clayton said, "Well, if the right opening came along at the right time, I would be available."

He says if Kennedy and Johnson are elected in the November elections, "I would like to go to Washington for their inauguration in January."

For the present, however, Clayton says he must put politics aside and "get busy on the farm that I have neglected for several weeks. Gee, those weeds sure did grow while I was away!" he concludes.

lly, and property damage amounted to $29,975.

On a state-wide basis, Sergeant Lawson reported, 784 fatal accidents were reported during the first half of 1960, "and from these accidents, 962 persons died needlessly," he added.

In the 29-county 5-A district of which this area is a part, Palo Pinto with four deaths lead in number of persons fatally injured during June, and Lubbock, with three, was second. Wise County had two deaths while Jack, Garza, Floyd, Crosby and Lamb counties each had one fatality.

Only two counties in the district, Kent and King counties, had perfect records for June.

Total property damage in the 9 counties last month amounted to $147,647, and 114 persons were injured. A total of 199 accidents was reported in the 29 counties; sixty-nine of these resulted in personal injury and 119 in property damage.

ing, exhilarating, little inspiring. We little person who we of these can keep to vote. We like to faces and persons with names in the to grasp a little of the contradictions to share the disappointments, the joy underdogs, the joy ners. It's as good as game any day, and meaningful.

Every American reacts differently to these "spectaculars." Some are bored, others confused, disgusted, or disillusioned by the noise and milling, the trumped-up demonstrations and obvious "hoss-tradin'." Anyone who takes his party politics seriously will feel either that the world is about to be saved, or else is going rapidly to pot, depending on who are successful antidotes.

LL Tournament Action Starts Today

Chapman Ends Five Year Stint

Falk Named New Legion Coach

Jimmy Chapman, who resigned as coach and manager of the Littlefield American Legion team at the end of the season, has announced that Bob Falk will take over in that capacity next season.

The Legionnaires ended their 1960 season in Lubbock Sunday as they dropped a tight 4-3 decision to Levelland in the District 19 Tournament. The loss was the second for the locals in the tourney and eliminated them. They had lost Saturday to Bell Checks 16-2.

Saturday night, Littlefield registered their only win in the tourney, a 12-4 decision over Plainview.

Chapman began Legion baseball in Littlefield five years ago. Since that time, his teams have been in the playoff tournament every year. He also coached the WOW Little League team for three years, at one time coaching both teams in the first year of Legion ball. His WOW team won the championship one year and finished second the other two outings.

In 1959 Littlefield's Legionnaires won the Lorenzo Invitational Tourney.

"I think that the teams that have played for me have done very well," Chapman said "considering that we are the only team in the league that does not have high school baseball."

"While the other ball players can begin their training and practice in March or so on their high school squads, Littlefield waits until the Legion season starts. They have an advantage."

Chapman said that he hopes that a baseball program can be worked out in the high school here.

Gene McCantles who has helped Chapman with the teams over the past three years also ended his coaching tenure with the team at the end of this season.

During the 1960 schedule Legion play, Littlefield had an impressive 8-0 district record. The locals had previously beaten the Levelland team that beat them in the Lubbock tourney twice in scheduled play.

"I think that the victory stands out most vividly in my mind over the years is our win over the Bell Checks last year," Chapman said.

"We were ahead 3-2 in the last inning and the Checks loaded the bases on us. Jerry Bridwell then struck out the side and saved the game for us."

Bell Checks went on to win the state title last year.

The roster for the 1960 Littlefield Legion team included:

Van Ashley, Joe Bellar, Jerry Bridwell, Robert Conley, P. C. Conteras, Pete Estrada, and Tony Estrada.

Also, Dewayne Holland, Jerry Koller, Tom Lewis, S. Middleton, De Pierce, Larry Pollard, Gene Reeves, M. Stephenson, and Ronnie Rice.

Union Compress Knocks Bankers To Get Crown

Union Compress gained the championship of the first half of the Minor League Tuesday night by downing Security State 15-2.

The playoffs for the season's championship will begin at 6 p.m. Monday in the LL Park when Compress meets the winner of the second half in the first game of a best-two-out-of-three series.

Security scored its two runs in the top of the first on hits by Joe L. Ross and Robert Ogle.

Compress was scoreless in the first but went on to score runs in every inning after that. Three

THE OUTFIELD - The outfielders who will be roaming the pastures for the local All-Stars in tourney play are, left to right, Jimmy Langford, Al Mann, Boyce Bussey and James Black.

Littlefield-Morton Tangle At 4 p.m.

The Littlefield All-Stars tangle with the All-Stars from Morton this afternoon at 4 in the opening game of the Area 1 Tournament to be played at the LL Park here.

Two other games will be played this evening. At 6 two teams from Levelland, the National and the American stars, will meet followed at 8 p. m. by a contest between the All-Stars from Ropesville and Sundown.

Littlefield has met Morton twice before in playoff competition in the past two years. In the district championships at Canyon in 1958, the local All-Stars inched by Morton 3-2.

In 1959 in the Area games at Levelland, Littlefield again managed a one run victory over Morton 7-6.

Friday night's action will see Mueshoe, who drew a bye in tonight's play, meeting the winner of the Littlefield-Morton game at 6 p. m. The winner of the Levelland game will battle the victor in the Ropesville-Sundown tilt at 8.

The two surviving teams will meet for the championship Saturday at 8 p. m.

The champion of the Area 1 tourney will go on to the District playoff in Plainview July 28-30.

The district winner will then go to Wichita Falls for the Sectional games.

Austin will play host to a 11 Sectional champions with the winner there going to Louisville, Ky. for the Southern Regional championship.

The Southern winner will then travel to Williamsport, Pa., the original home of Little League baseball, to the Little League World Series. Four teams - Sectional winners from the North, South, East and West will meet to decide the world champion.

Howard Horne, Area 1 Tournament director, has worked to make this year's tourney one of the best in the history of Littlefield. The playing field is in good shape despite the recent rains.

The officials are Charlie Lobo Falk, first base; R. C. Dearam, pitcher; and Gene scorer.

PNY Stars Drop Contest To Hereford 5-3

Littlefield's PONY League All Stars fell before the Hereford PONY Stars Tuesday night 5-3 in Hereford.

With the score tied at 3-3 in the bottom of the fifth inning, Hereford centerfielder Gaylor Otts hit a home run with a mate abroad to push Hereford ahead and give them the margin of victory.

Littlefield scored all of its runs in the top of the fifth. Eddie Wheeler doubled to open the inning followed by a single by Joe Priest and another double by George Jones.

Roy McKinney started on the mound for Littlefield but had help from Donnie Stephenson in the fifth.

Lynn Warren went all the way for Hereford.

The Family That Prays Together — Stays Together

Diligently Pray For The Work of Your Church

This Series is Sponsored By the Business Firms and Individuals Listed On This Page. These Firms Along With the Ministers of Littlefield Hope That Each Weekly Message Will Be An Inspiration To Everyone.

FOUR STRINGS

Only four strings! But these four strings offer endless possibilities of tone and harmony. They open to man new horizons of beauty and happiness.

And yet, improperly played, these four strings can bring forth unbelievable discord!

There are four strings in life — with similar possibilities. Mind . . . Character . . . Courage . . . Faith!

The truths that fill our minds, the ideals that mold our character, the purposes to which our courage is given, the realities in which we believe; these can fill our lives with rich beauty and happiness or drab ugliness and sorrow.

For centuries the Church has been the maestro of these strings of life — helping men to bring from their own souls the harmony and beauty God has put there.

You can find music in everyday living through participation in the work of the Church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

stead. City ordinances prohibit lead - end streets.

Another feature of the original plat which the city planning commission and the city council had half - streets at the south edge of the project. Ordinances specify that the streets must be of standard width and paved.

The entire plat, as a result of these objectional features, was withdrawn, and the program divided into two installments. Thirty-three building spaces now are provided on 12th and 13th streets leading from Mockingbird Lane on the west to Sunset Boulevard on the east.

Page said the Lubbock firm plans to build all 33 houses in the plat immediately with costs ranging from $8,250 to $15,000. Less expensive homes will be built first in the north part of the plat, while the more expensive houses will be erected as part of the second installment development.

He said no houses will be built covering two lots or more. "We plan to build a house on each of the 33 lots in project No. 1," he explained.

The second installment will be developed along 14th Street from Mockingbird Lane to Sunset.

All houses will be brick or brick trim with asbestos siding.

Crop Prospects

Other crops were making progress. Field corn, grown extensively in some parts of the county, is described as "the best in years" in some years. Lamb County plants as much as 25,000 acres in "soft" corn, although this is not considered a corn - growing region.

Vegetables, too, are making progress, although the continued rainy weather has increased insect infestation in this area too.

Cattle shrinkage can cut down profits or, in some cases, can even mean the difference between profit or loss. Handle cattle to keep shrinkage at a minimum, advises Lloyd Bergsma, extension livestock marketing specialist.

A STREET scene in downtown Tokyo. The bridge in the foreground crosses the Sumida River which runs through the center of town.

A FISHING boat gets a good cleaning before going to sea. Fishing is one of the largest industries in Japan and much of it is done in small privately owned boats such as this one.

JAPANESE SCHOOL children look forward to school and the uniforms that they wear. Shown is a group of school boys in their black and white uniforms. They are worn throughout the years in school. Girls wear a costume similar to these — black and white dresses with large middle collars.

And there are the small places Ones with four or five stools attached to a battered bar that offer scratchy rock and roll music from a pre-war crank victrola.

Inn keeping is a practiced art in Tokyo — and in all Japan. The city presents to the traveler gingantic and fashionable hotels such as the Imperial and the New Japan.

The Imperial, designed and built by Frank Lloyd Wright, leaves nothing to be desired in the way of comfort and convenience. The New Japan, Tokyo's newest and most modern hotel, has combined the East and the West. The visitor has his choice of the western type room with bed, etc., or the Japanese style with straw flooring, low tables a floor sleeping.

Staying in one of the less expensive and completely Japanese hotels is an experience that the traveler should not miss.
He is met at the door by the owner and his assistants who bow ing to the crowds the wares of its owner.

Fun on Sidestreets
Tokyo finds most of its excitement on the side streets. Cafes offer food from every country in the world. The traveler can have his ham and eggs, his spaghetti or pizza, or his crepe suzettes all with a block radius.

And in the streets, tiny stalls
— crowded with three customers — served the delicacies that the Japanese love above all foreign dishes — rice and egg noodle soup, charcoal broiled tidbits of low and with much dignity. He removes his shoes (they are cause of the dirt that they leave on the straw mats) and puts on a pair of comfortable cloth slippers.

His room is small and compact.
A low table dominates the center of the room. Over it hangs an electric light encased in a figured pa-

Warm green tea, weak but i-

To completely put the visitor at rest, the maids show him the

the basement of the hotel.
Inside the large room the bath-is taken before entering the pool.
Small wooden buckets are dipped into the water and the bather soaps and cleans himself. Once thoroughly clean, he enters the pool to soak. The water is usually a very few degrees below boiling but once used to it, the bather finds it relaxing and unlike anything he has ever known.

He can make new acquaintances and talk to friends because the bath is communal.
As for shopping, Tokyo ranks second only to Hong Kong as the trading spot of the Far East. Store

AUSTIN — Although budget balancing is the most discussed of the problems facing the next Legislature, many lawmakers expect redistricting wrangles may raise more blood pressures.

Legislature is required by the Constitution to re-define legislative districts after each federal census. It used to put off this troublesome task, but a 1948 law provides that if it fails to act in the first session after a census, a Legislature Redistricting Board shall take over.

This, in fact, as it did in 1951, that the Legislature will redistrict — somehow, some way.

Battle will be between the big city delegations who will demand more representation in line with their swelling populations and rural members who will try to hold on to as much as they can.

In their election campaigns, many representatives promised their constituents they'd be in there pitching for the home area. Members from growth areas said they'd go after extra representatives, state senators and congressmen.

A rural legislator told his people, "At least twelve rural districts will disappear in the next year. I certainly do not want this district included in that twelve."

Incumbents cited their experience as an asset. Personal feeling often enters into redistricting and lawmakers are notably reluctant to "squeeze out" a popular its inspection requirements. Green said the new federal approach will necessitate no change in Texas procedures.

Texans who have been motoring cross-country during their summer vacations will not find this hard to believe. So noticeably superior are Texas roads to those of surrounding states that returning Texans usually give a sigh of relief when they cross the state line.

SPEAKERS' BATTLE BOILS — Candidates for Speaker of the House continue their months-long battle of "claimsmanship."

Rep. Wade Spillman added five to his list of House members pledged to support him and said this gave him a "rather conclusive lead. Rep. James Turman of Governor claims a definite majority of 79.

Votes of 76 of the 150 House members are needed to elect.

Spillman also has invited the House General Investigating Committee to look into charges that members were being subjected to improper pressure on how to vote.

COLLEGE FUNDS SOUGHT — Texas Commission on Higher Education will ask the next Legislature for an appropriation of $3,082,183 for the 1961-63 biennium.

Bulk of the increase asked is for meeting expected enrollment increases in the 18 state-supported colleges and universities.

In a discussion with members of the State Finance Advisory Committee, the Commission considered recommending an increase in state college tuition charges — now $100 for a nine-months term. Dr. Ralph Green suggested raising this by $5. It would bring the state an extra $5,000,000 a year in new revenue, he said.

PRISON NEEDS CITED — Texas Board of Correction also wants more money — a $2,554,846 increase over their present allocation for the next two years.

"If the amount is granted, Texas prisoners will cost the state $1.89 per day per man," said State Prison Director O. B. Ellis. "This is just a little more than half the national average."

Ellis and Corrections Board members regard prison needs as critical. Board Chairman H. H. Coffield of Rockdale reported that "the prison population trends indicate it will keep on multiplying."

WILSON HONORED — Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has been named by the National Association of Attorneys General as the registered of that association's award for outstanding service in 1960. He was cited, as being the most outstanding Attorney General in the nation when he received the Wyman Award at the Annual Meeting of the National Association of Attorneys General recently in San Francisco.

Award is given to the Attorney General who "has done the most to advance the objectives of the association to help make the United States a better place in which to live for all." Wilson won the honor on the basis of his contribution in strengthening state antitrust programs and in the field of interstate compacts, as well as through his service on the habeas corpus committee of the association. He also was chairman of the association's Antitrust Committee during 1960.

provides for the systematic mging of dirt the shortest distance possible. By knowing exactly how much dirt must be moved and exactly how far it must be moved, the exact cost can be determined.

Details of Dr. Billingsley's plan can be obtained in Bulletin MP-48, published by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Tech Economist 'Plays Checkers' With Fields

The grand old game of checkers isn't just something for irrigation farmers to play when the weather's bad, a Texas Tech economist reports.

Those same farmers can "play" it scientifically with maps of their fields and make it pay off in dollars and cents, Dr. Ray Billingsley says.

The Tech economist has adapted a mathematical technique resembling a "checkerboard" pattern for land leveling, a practice that assures an even stand of crop, improved yield, and water savings when a field is irrigated. His study was conducted in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

No field is exactly level. All have low spots and high spots. When a field is irrigated, the low spots are watered too much and the high spots not enough, reducing the yield and wasting water.

With Dr. Billingsley's system, a farmer can tell exactly how cuts and fills can be made most efficiently and exactly how much they will cost.

Billingsley's plan begins with a land grading survey by engineers, showing the bumps and dips on a topographic map. The map is laid out into a "checkerboard" of 100-foot squares.

Utilizing this technique, the "least-cost" procedure of moving dirt from the "cut" blocks can be systematically selected.

Some squares will have a plus amount of dirt, others a minus amount. Once the plus values are minus values are marked on the checkerboard, the farmer can move the nearest plus-square into the nearest equivalent minus square.

SIDE-DRESSING TIME

There Is a Difference in Fertilizers

TRY

Liquid Fertilizer

And You'll Know What We Mean

Terry Farmer Averages Over 2 Bales . . .

VERNON FARRAR — "Yes, sir, side-dressing really paid-off for me last year," reported Vernon Farrar, who farms northwest of Brownfield. He added: "I had 50 acres of cotton on which I gathered 124 bales, and then I had some land that wasn't too good from which I got 167 bales. I am a firm believer that you need to give the plants nutrients when they are hungry — that's why I side-dress. Another thing — when you use Liquid Fertilizers, as I do, you reap additional benefits from the fact that it's easier to handle . . . I get faster results from it being a liquid and ready to go to work instantly and I can put down more acres per day and cultivate my cotton at the same time. Liquid Fertilizers have helped me to put more money in the bank in the form of net profits."

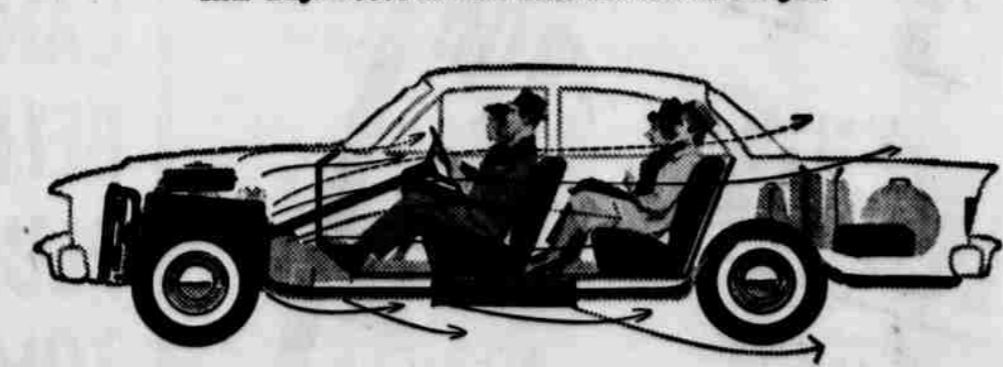

Once you have tried, you, too, will see why so many farmers have changed to Liquid Fertilizers. The versatility of this type of fertilizing — you can do more than one job at a time: Fertilize . . . cultivate, and even apply insecticides, . . . all in one, easy operation. Go by your nearest Liquid Fertilizer dealer and let him tell you more about the advantages of LIQUID FERTILIZER!

Anton Cadets Undergo Training At Fort Hood

Cadet Clifford N. George, 21, and Cadet Norris D. Alexander, 20, of Anton, Tex., are receiving six weeks of training at the Army Reserve Officer Training Corps summer camp at Fort Hood, Tex. The training is scheduled to be concluded July 23.

During this training the cadets are receiving practical experience and instruction in tactical, technical and administrative subjects, with special emphasis being placed on the duties of a second lieutenant.

The men are 1957 graduates of Anton High School.

Cadet George, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne George, Route 2, is a student at Texas Technological College in Lubbock.

Cadet Alexander, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Alexander, is a student at West Texas State College in Canyon.

There's more to the production of a bale of quality hay than just planting and mowing a field of forage. George McBee, extension pasture specialist, says that hay quality is affected by harvesting curing and fertilizer use. The crop should be harvested before it reaches the mature stage, cure as rapidly as possible and fertilize just the same as other crops.

Dig out your favorite tuna fish salad recipe -- the Tea 'N Tuna! Prepare a heaping bowl of crisp, tart --- another bowl filled with crackers, toast strips, corn chips --- and a frosty pitcher of iced tea. It's menu to lighten your heart and your budget. See how easy it will be with Piggly Wiggly's low prices on Star-Kist and Lipton Tea --- and earn your bonus of S&H Green

BROILED TUNA AND CHEESE SANDWICHES

1 7 oz. can Starkist tuna, drained, flaked
1/2 cup chopped celery
1 tbsp. chopped green pepper
1 tbsp. minced onion
2 tsp. lemon juice

Salt, pepper
1/3 cup Miracle Whip Salad Dressing
4 slices white bread, crusts trimmed
4 peeled tomato slices
4 Slices Old English Pasteurized Cheddar Cheese

Combine the tuna, celery, onion, green peppers, lemon juice, seasonings, and salad dressing. Toss lightly. For each sandwich, toast a slice of bread on one side. Spread the untoasted side with the tuna mixture; cover with a slice of tomato and top with a slice of cheese. Place the sandwiches under the broiler or in a moderate oven, 350°, until the cheese is melted. Serve with tall frosty glasses of iced tea.
