BIG PLANS LAID FOR W. T. C. OF C. EL PASO MEETING

What will perhaps be the largest military parade in the United States since the World War, will be staged in El Paso October 25, during the three-day convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. The entire First Cavalry Division at Fort Bliss, comprising approximately 5,000 officers and men, will parade through the downtown section of the city to the music of a score of West Texas bands.

A review of the First Cavalry Division at Fort Bliss will feature the afternoon program of the opening day of the convention, Oct. 24. Troops from army posts throughout the Southwest are expected to be here for the giant spectacle according to Maj. A. D. Surles, chief intelligence officer at Fort Bliss, who is in charge of the military part of the convention program.

Sports enthusiasts will be treated to a feast in the form of the First Cavalry boxing championship bouts at Fort Bliss on the opening night of the convention; a night football game between two West Texas college teams in the high school stadium, Oct. 25, and bull fights in Juarez both in the afternoon and evening of the final day.

That the program will be so diversified as to provide features of interest to everyone has been one of the main concerns of the committee in charge, according to E. C. Heid, general chairman.

Women visitors at the convention will be honor guests of the women's department of the Chamber of Commerce at a reception in Liberty Hall on the evening of the opening day, Oct. 24. Wives, sweethearts and friends of the visiting delegates will have an opportunity to meet their hostesses and El Paso leaders in women's club work.

The crowning event of the convention will be a gorgeous Spanish fiesta in Juarez on the closing day. Bull fights in the arena both afternoon and evening will form part of the program, of which Angel Martinez is in charge.

Throughout the convention, exhibits by West Texas communities will be on display at booths in San Jacinto plaza, with band concerts arranged at intervals throughout each afternoon and evening. Between 75 and 100 steel booths will be erected in the plaza to accommodate the exhibits. A large platform in the plaza will be the stage for a number of specialty acts and entertainment stunts.

POLICE GONG TO BE INSTALLED ON BANK BUILDING

Arrangements have been made by the City Commission with the State Telephone Co., whereby a large gong or bell is to be located on the First National Bank building to be used for police purposes. Following the installation, citizens in the residential section in need of police service may phone in for such and the gong will be rung by the telephone company as in the case of turning in a fire alarm.

The Commissioners at their meeting last week also voted to sell to Arthur Jones the remainder of the city property on the north side of the railroad track where the city water wells are located, and in such amount as was deemed unneeded by the city. This will amount to 10 or 12 acres. The consideration price is $125 per acre.

City Marshal Brown was instructed to conduct a campaign of sanitation regarding all open toilets within the city limits.

W. F. Tarpley was appointed night watchman. He is an ex-Santa Fe railroad officer, also served for two years as a city marshal.

It was ordered that the peddling ordinance should be enforced.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE SECRETARY SAYS LITTLEFIELD CROPS WILL TOTAL $4,000,000

That Littlefield and surrounding territory is soon to enjoy an era of great prosperity, is the estimate made by Secretary J. W. Hale, of the Chamber of Commerce, at the Tuesday noon meeting held at the College cafeteria.

Mr. Hale says, "In the immediate territory of Littlefield the cotton sold will amount to $2,500,000, the feed crops $1,000,000, and the money realized from the sale of real estate $500,000, making a total of $4,000,000 turned loose in Littlefield within the next four months. This is an average of $1,000,000 per month, $250,000 per week or $40,000 per day." Mr. Hale said this sum should certainly put Littlefield on the map, and by pulling together and working hard, the farmers and business men of Littlefield can be put on a permanently prosperous basis.

In the absence of President J. E. Brannen, J. S. Hilliard presided at the meeting.

J. W. Hale and R. E. McCaskill were elected delegates to the annual meeting of West Texas Chamber of Commerce to be held in El Paso.

Mrs. R. E. McCaskill being present, made a strong appeal in behalf of the boys and girls of the community, asking the commercial body to back a program soon to be launched by the local Parent-Teachers association. Her plea was unanimously sanctioned by the organization.

NEW MANAGEMENT TAKES CHARGE OF PALACE THEATRE

Last week a deal was consummated whereby A. C. Chesher purchased the interest of his partner, Max L. McClure in the Palace theatre, this city, taking charge Monday. Following this a partnership was formed with Wm. J. Chesher, brother to A. C. Chesher, whereby the latter will have management of this popular movie and play house.

Wm. J. Chesher has had several years experience in operating a movie picture theatre, and for the past two years has been connected with the Paramount Film Co., at Dallas. He states that this week the theatre building is being rehabilitated, new draperies, curtains and rugs being installed, bringing it up to a de luxe level, also carpenters are busy adding necessary fixtures and improvements required for the "talkie" pictures which are expected to be installed sometime during the coming week.

"It is the desire of the management," said Mr. Chesher, "to make the Palace a theatre equal to any and second to none on the South Plains. We will bring here in the future even higher class pictures than during the past, and in addition, the very best of vaudeville troupes and in talking, singing and dancing pictures. All pictures will be single night runs with the exception of the big specials which will be run two nights."

The management is also opening another theatre just across the street from the Palace, to be known as the "Ritz," where equally good pictures of their class will be shown. This week this building is being put into condition by carpenters, who are thoroughly making it over, repainting, etc., ready for opening Saturday night of this week.

Max L. McClure, the retiring member, has purchased a theatre at Hale Center, which he took charge of last Monday. During the five years he has been in Littlefield, Mr. McClure has been one of the leading citizens here, taking an active interest in every movement for the betterment of this growing little city, and his departure is greatly regretted by his large circle of friends and acquaintances.

HALE, NEW SEC'Y C. OF C. SAYS HE IS SOLD ON TOWN

J. W. Hale, of Colorado, Texas, who was last week elected secretary of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce by its Board of Directors, has entered upon his new duties with vim and enthusiasm born of a determination to produce definite results.

Several Littlefield citizens have been acquainted with the new Secretary for some time past, and declare he is a man who "puts things across." He has wide experience in various business and professional circles as city and county superintendent of schools, secretary of chamber of commerce, mayor, president of various clubs and county organizations, and incidentally was one of the leading spirits in bringing about the consolidated school program in Fisher county which ranks among the first of its kind in the state.

After making a hurried survey of Littlefield, Mr. Hale states that some of the outstanding problems here are: a new and modern hotel, city hall, general repairing and grading of all streets, cotton seed oil mill, feed mixing mill, better poultry market facilities, 100 new residences, foster the College, bring 1,000 new farmers into the territory and all pull together.

Mr. Hale spoke highly of the natural resources of this section and of the possibilities of Littlefield's immediate and larger growth. "The farmers of this section are soon to enjoy the fruits of a bountiful harvest which is attracting attention of all other sections of the state, said Mr. Hale, while the fine, wholesome spirit of the people and the bracing atmosphere of this section puts a smile on one's face in a day. I am truly sold on Littlefield.

C. H. Grow, former secretary, has launched out into the insurance business, opening an office in the First National Bank building.

FIRE PREVENTION IS COEVAL WITH THE PROGRESS OF MAN; IMPORTANT PROBLEM

Fire prevention is a subject that has been beginning with the progress of man. When man began to build, the first and most serious problem was that of how to prevent fire from destroying that which he had built. There is no problem of more importance to the American people at this time than the one which has been created by our extremely heavy fire loss. Fire is a destroyer of life as well as of property, and is surpassed only by automobiles in the number of people killed each year. Fire is classed as a common accident by some people. An accident is the result of doing something in the wrong way. The remedy for all kinds of accidents, including fire, have been aptly grouped under the three E's—Engineering, Education and Enforcement, and the object of these is education. We should educate our people to demand proper building and equipment, better laws and stricter enforcement. There is a cause for every fire that occurs, and the finding and the elimination of this cause is the one big purpose of Fire Prevention. Fire hazards may be divided into two classes, physical and moral, or personal, as they are sometimes called. The physical hazards are inherent in the risk itself and in its surroundings, and may be partially measured or estimated and to a certain extent controlled. Moral hazards arise from personal desires, and are hidden, presumed, or than know, not to be measured or estimated.

Our annual fire loss for the past five years has been approximately 250 people burned to death, with an annual approximate loss of $20,000,000. We are paying for this loss in everything we eat, drink and use. The cost of fire is certain and cannot be escaped by any. How long can we continue to pay this annual cost and be a progressive people. Fire Prevention is BY the people, OF the people and FOR the people.

COCHRAN COUNTY OIL WELL MAY PRODUCE 250 BARRELS

Oil storage tanks have been erected at the Continental well on the Slaughter land in Cochran county, about 40 miles south of Littlefield, and the well is being put on the pump.

Last week, following a 90 quart nitroglycerine shot put in the well, about 20 barrels of oil were bailed out in two hours.

Experts who have been studying the well for the past two weeks say the well as it now stands will produce around 250 barrels of oil daily. The oil is now standing about 1,000 feet in the hole.

FALL TIME

Poets not infrequently paint Fall time as the death-bed of the year, and as the leaves of the forests begin to ripen, the verdure to decay and the prairie grasses to turn grey, they dip their pens into more sombre ink, but fortunate for most of us we are not poets.

At this time of the year when perspiration ceases to make shirts sticky, vacations are over, BVD's feel a little thin and fishing streams have lost their lure, with the most of us in West Texas it is a time of hustle.

Harvest time is here, and harvest means labor. The fields are now white and golden. The farmers are reaping their rewards of labor. Likewise, the streets are thronged, for the increment of harvest always means money with which to make needed purchases, so merchants are busy. The farmers are happy that they have money with which to buy, and the business man pleased to sell him needed commodities.

Fall time may be a serious time of the year, but it should also be a happy time for all. There is no greater zest than tackling an interesting job during autumn days. Labor loses its mentality and tasks at other times more or less irksome, become attractive, for Fall labor shows direct results.

Happy is the man who has work to do in the Fall.

HAVING A RESERVE

A few days ago we read this statement in an ad: "Let the man of position lose his job and see what happens

Then it is his neighbors begin to pity him and his friends to go down the other side of the street."

But that's never true of the man who has had the intelligence to save something. It is only the man who is on the way to being down and out who is being passed by his neighbors. And no man who has had the forethought to save is ever down and out. He may be down for a few days, but his property not only keeps him from being out but, on the contrary enables him to get right in again.

That's why we are always preaching the blessings of saving, and urging Littlefield parents to encourage their children in the ways of thrift. Who can say there will never be any rainy days, or that the future holds no lean years? Saving now is the only insurance against both of these.

The man with the hoe doesn't get as far nowadays as the man with the hokum.

ORGANIZATION

The day of individual effort in the life of a city or town has gone by. We have to look to organizations to get things done.

If a person has some good idea for a useful and practical improvement, little or nothing is accomplished if that one person agitates for that proposition alone. People would say it is just one person's notion, and it will probably fail to attract much attention.

But if some organization takes up that idea and pushes it, then it is more generally accepted. People feel that it is the conviction of an important group of people, and it must be considered on its merits. Politicians and business people are impressed, and with active promotion work, it should become possible to accomplish such a project.

That is why every community needs an organization like a Chamber of Commerce, and needs to support it generously after it is formed. Such associations take ideas that are lying fallow in the minds of the people, and give them vitality and power through organized influence.

The new front-wheel drive car is here, but we presume that even a great number of these will still be directed from the back seat.

HENRY FORD'S HOBBY

Henry Ford was a complete fizzle as an editor, squandering enough on his weekly paper in the course of a very few years to have kept all the weekly editors in America out of the poorhouse for a hundred years to come. So now he has turned to a new hobby—buying up historic landmarks and antiques.

Up at Dearborn, Michigan, where he resides, he has a million dollars worth of relics, including a complete inn of ancient vintage and a blacksmith shop.

Now he has bought a court house in Illinois, the one in which Lincoln once practiced law. He proposes to move it bodily to Dearborn. It's an expensive hobby, yet Uncle Henry is past the point where he need worry about expenses.

But it is a hobby that helps to put a little of his tremendous wealth into circulation so the average citizen ought to be glad enough to hope that he will keep right at it and that every section of the country will have a chance to unload a few antiques while he is in the market for them.

Now that we are to have autos but 50 inches long, auto agencies probably will be pestered with shoplifters.

KICKING THE TARIFF

Some 40 nations have protested our proposed new tariff rates. They all object to a few specified rates that will affect them and they complain that they will be hurt commercially. But none of them deny that the making of American tariff rates is purely America's affair.

In establishing schedules our government does not favor one nation over another. The rates are determined by what, in the judgment of a congress majority, will best serve American needs. Of course, the foreign viewpoint must be considered; we must trade and we must encourage other nations as far as we can to trade with us.

We are not doing any more than European nations are doing in making tariff rates, and in England alone more than 100 articles made in the U. S. are not permitted to be shipped in.

Any Littlefield citizen who may feel inclined to kick at our tariff laws should remember that there are two sides to every question, and that while Uncle Sam wants to be fair and equitable and just he still keeps in mind the fact that our own protection comes first.

The best thing about the old-fashioned bicycle built for two was that five couldn't ride it by sitting on one another.

LITTLE LEADERS

What Littlefield seems to need most now is more absent-minded installment collectors.

Love may not make the world go round, but it sure makes a lot of Littlefield young folks dizzy.

There are still a few fellows around Littlefield whose troubles are due more to a lack of energy than a lack of luck.

It's a good idea for the Littlefield father of today to try to bring up his children in the way he should have gone.

Sometimes when a Littlefield man can't think of anything else to brag about he'll brag about how dumb he was when he was a boy.

When some Littlefield women can't think of anything else to say about their children they tell how good they are about taking medicine.

Littlefield boys will remember that while love is a great thing it takes a pay envelope to keep the pot boiling after marriage.

We occasionally run into a fellow around Littlefield who is so agreeable that he'll probably be calling Saint Peter "Pete" in two hours after he lands in heaven.

Any time a Littlefield girl goes to the door to meet a young man and her complexion is upstairs on the dresser it's a sign the young man is about as popular with her as a case of smallpox.

The old-fashioned Littlefield woman who used to hold clothes pins in her mouth and talk to a neighbor across the back fence now has a daughter who hangs out the window of a sedan and bawls out traffic cops.

Just because a man has a lot of iron in his blood is no sign he should let himself get rusty.

PAVEMENT PICKUPS

Bart Denton says lots of funny things happen, but he never expected to see liver sold as high-class meat.

According to Art Mueller, the only thing that hasn't changed in the last 10 years is restaurant gravy.

Otto Jones was telling the other day about reading of a fellow who mistook a bridge for a truck and turned out to let it go by. Then he passed on.

"Speaking of stinginess," says Bill Chesher, "how about the Scotchman who bought an auto because his wife had gas on her stomach?"

"You say this is a good hair tonic," enquired a baldheaded Grand Drug store.

"It surely is, replied week Lee Fraley pulled a bottle of this same kind with his teeth, and now his mustache growing."

Wayne Harless said he never advertised, but he had a good idea what it is. "All the scribe. "An advertisement," says Wayne, "is a picture of a man eating, wearing, holding something that somebody sell."

"Righto," we replied.

Charles Zeicher of Los Angeles his wife for divorce because she refused to reduce her weight.

AGRICULTURE NOTES
 By D. A. ADAM
 Lamb County Farm Agent

E. Tomes, Amherst, planted his maize this year with the two row skip one method, with cow peas in this blank row, and harvesting finds that he has a slightly higher yield and much better quality than he followed this practice than he has where he followed the conventional 36 inch row system.

E. C. Cundiff and County Agent D. A. Adam attended the first Guernsey bull sale to be held in the p/handle at the Tri-State fair in Amarillo, last week. Mr. Cundiff purchased one of the finest Guernsey bulls offered for sale to head his herd. He says that good bulls are the cheapest way to get production into one's herd, and substantiates this by buying the one he did at Amarillo.

At this time of the year the County Agent has many calls to poultry flocks to see after various ailments, which can be avoided by following the old rule that one ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure. For the prevention of colds and roup, and to get poultry in good condition for winter laying the County Agent advises the following procedure: Worm the entire flock with some good standard wormer, which will do the work, vaccinate with Mixed Bacterin Avain for the prevention of roup, etc. Clean up around premises to get rid of insects, such as mites, lice, etc., and put the flock on a good laying ration. During the past few days several requests have been made for a good laying ration which will include the use of home grown feeds, and skim milk. The following is one which will do this: 100 pounds ground grain sorghums, 10 0 pounds ground oats, 100 pounds wheat bran, 100 pounds wheat middling or shorts, and feeding this with all the skim milk that poultry will clean up. If skim milk is not available, use 100 pounds bone meal in its place mixed into above ration. For best laying results keep this before flock at all times.

A good dairy ration to use is: 60 pound ground grain sorghums heads, 20 pounds bran, 20 pounds cotton seed meal, 50 pounds ground alfalfa hay all mixed and fed in the proportion of 1 1/2 pounds to each 2 1/2 pounds available ground hegari or kaffir bund-milk produced. Where no pasture is les should be used for roughness. Where farmers have their feed in bundles to mix above ration it is best and more utilization will be gotten to de-head bundles use the head in the above ration, and using butts for roughness.

Vocational Agriculture
 By R. A. BOX, Instructor

J. C. Dykes, itinerant teacher-trainer from A & M College, was a visitor to the vocational agriculture department Tuesday. He expressed himself as being well pleased with the present outlook for a good year, and was especially pleased with the large enrollment in the two classes being taught. His talk to the classes on "Project Work" was very timely. He stressed the fact that in a successful project, the boy must have ownership of his project, which also means that he will have full management of it. The boy must also try to use as many improved farm practices as possible, and strive to make a large money return for his work. "All these things will come," Mr. Dykes said, "as a result of an agreement between the boy and his dad, and his teacher."

August Clark has already begun his project work for the year. He has 200 Barred Rock baby chicks which he will feed, care for, and keep records on. When the cockerals are large enough, he will caponize them, and feed them out for market. The pullets will become the property of his mother who is helping him finance the project.

Raymond Reynolds, of Cudahy, Wis was sentenced to 30 days in the house of correction for tearing down and trampling upon several American flags.

Charging that her husband smeared his face with red ink and pretended that he had killed himself to cause her anguish, Mrs. Dolores Higgs of Marion, Ind., filed suit for divorce.

Our four branches of B. Y. P. U. reported 52 signing cards on time last Sunday evening. Our fine choir, under the direction of Brother Jordan, is rendering song programs second to none, and every heart was made glad last Sunday evening as we listened to the special number by Brother Jake Hopping.

—JOE F. GRIZZLE, Pastor.

There is a "Death Chamber" in the FLY-TOX factory. This chamber is about the room size. It is used to test the quality of FLY-TOX as a spray to kill flies, mosquitoes, bedbugs, roaches etc. During a test a large number of young, healthy insects are placed inside the cabinet. These insects are raised in incubators for testing purposes. While the insects are flying and crawling around in the "Chamber of Death" FLY-TOX is sprayed inside. Less than a teaspoonful is used. Instantly there is a change. Within five minutes not a buzz is heard. All insects are dead. To make sure they are really dead, the insects are carefully removed from the "Chamber of Death" and placed in incubators in an effort to revive them. If a wing flutters, the FLY-TOX tested never leaves the factory. This test is your guarantee of FLY-TOX quality. It does what you want it to do—kill insects in and about your home. Yet FLY-TOX is positively harmless to people. FLY-TOX was developed at Mellon Institute of Industrial Research by Rex Research fellowship. It will not stain. Has a delightful perfume-like fragrance. There is only one FLY-TOX—insist upon the genuine in bottles with blue labels.—Adv.

Weekly community sales will be a Saturday feature from now until Christmas time, according to Auctioneer J. W. Horn, who states that while farmers and others are trading here on that day, they may also bring in their livestock, farm implements and household goods which they wish to trade, barter, or have auctioned off.

In 1927 there were 116,763 industrial wage earners in Texas who drew in wages $116,535,580.

The Cabriolet Body by Fisher

Proof that Oakland is America's Finest Medium-Priced Automobile

WHEELBASE Only one car as low-priced as Oakland has a wheelbase as long as Oakland's, which is 117 inches. That car requires a turning circle to the left of 42 feet as compared with Oakland's 36 feet. Six higher-priced cars have shorter wheelbases.

PISTON DISPLACEMENT Oakland's 228 cubic inch piston displacement is greater than 12 of the 20 cars in its price field. Of the 8 remaining cars, 7 are much higher priced than Oakland.

RUBBER ENGINE MOUNTING Only Oakland in the entire field employs rubber "biscuit" insulators. While others claim rubber mountings, none offers such resilience and permanent freedom from vibration as Oakland.

BRAKES Only Oakland and one other car in its field use the fine type of brakes which Oakland employs. And no car in the field equals Oakland's 290 square inches of brake band area. Oakland's separate emergency brake operates on the transmission. Seven cars in the field have no separate emergency brakes, although three of them exceed Oakland in price.

FISHER BODY Only Oakland and two other cars in the field offer bodies by Fisher. And one of the two is nearly $100 higher in price than Oakland. Of the 18 cars which have less-known bodies, 11 are priced above the All-American Six.

Oakland All-American Six, $1145 to $1275, f. o. b. Pontiac, Mich., plus delivery charges. Spring covers, low-joy Shock Absorbers included in list prices. Bumpers and rear fender guards extra. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

Consider the delivered price as well as the list (f. o. b.) price when comparing automobile values. . . . Oakland Pontiac delivered prices include only authorized charges for freight and delivery and the charge for any additional accessories or financing desired.

UNTIL you have actually compared today's Oakland All-American Six with other cars of its price you cannot appreciate how much more Oakland is offering for your money. For Oakland provides a combination of advanced engineering features which no other medium-priced car in the world has matched.

878 individual comparisons have been made between the All-American Six and twenty other medium-priced cars. Of these comparisons, Oakland proves to be definitely superior in 451 or 51.37 per cent. The twenty other cars combined are at best equal to Oakland in 382 comparisons or 43.50 per cent. And 13 of the 20 are higher-priced than Oakland!

Before you buy any car within $300 of Oakland's price, be sure to come in and see the complete results of this comparison. And when you have seen them, we will clinch the proof of Oakland superiority with a demonstration—convincing you beyond any question that this is America's finest medium-priced automobile!
