Court here Friday against G. L.
Branson, 39, cattle buyer of Winfield, Kansas, charging him with driving a motor vehicle on a public

NEWS FROM THE C. C. CAMP

Each week we intend to give you a little news concerning Camp SCS-15-T, Co. 3802, CCC. You all know there is a Camp, but do not know much of the activities of the Camp. We believe this should be of interest to you.

Lt. Charles C. Cook, 1st Lt. Infantry Reserve, is the Commanding Officer, and is responsible for the Camp. At present we have no second in command, as Lt. Kneupper was transferred to Kaufman, on Sept. 19.

J. A. Von Lancken, is the Educational Adviser, in charge of the educational program.

A Contract Physician looks after the health of the enrollees, and camp sanitation.

A. B. Chapman, recently transferred from the Technical Service at Memphis, is Camp Superintendent, and is responsible for the work in Soil Conservation.

During the past two weeks we enrolled about seventy new boys who take the place of those discharged September 30th. The men discharged had completed two years service or were over 24. These new boys were selected at Amarillo, and Lubbock and sent to this Camp, where they were enrolled in this Company.

In addition to this number, twenty-seven were selected from Lamb, Bailey, and Hockley counties, examined and sent to Phoenix, Arizona, for replacements in that District. Some of the boys who were chosen by the Welfare Department were rejected for physical disability.

All new enrollees are kept in Camp for two weeks during which time they are vaccinated against smallpox, and receive typhoid immunization.

As soon as the boys are enrolled they are measured for clothing, shoes and what not, and an order is sent to the District Headquarters, where the warehouse for the District is located.

There are always some boys who cannot "take it," and they "go over the hill," CCC, expression for desertion. Some of these boys do not stay in camp over one night. On the whole the present enrollment has given us a very good group of boys.

Chaplain Kellem spent Thursday and Friday in Camp. On Thursday evening he gave a talk to the enrollees, after this he showed two reels of film. The first was a "talkie," on Forest Protection, the other a picture of Eskimo game hunt hunting. Chaplain Kellem, has been transferred to Fort Worth, and will leave the first of the month. He will be missed by all.

The educational program is now a very important feature of camp life. Four years ago there was no program, two years ago there was the beginning of a program, now it is an active part of the CCC. From 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. the Camp area looks like a College campus, with boys going to and from classes. Courses range from elementary subjects to High School courses. Credit will be given for successful completion of High School Courses.

Vocational training is an important feature of the educational program.

Senator Nelson Writes His Views In Revenue Matters

The Leader received the following letter from Senator G. H. Nelson, which will be of interest to the readers of this paper—as follows:

"Although I favor economy in State government, this does not mean that I favor sacrificing either the pressing needs for Social Security or the reduction in necessary appropriations to support our educational institutions. I have assumed the position as taken by the framers of our Constitution that Democracy can survive only by means of education of the masses and special preparation for life's work.

"I make no apologies, therefore, but on the other hand I am happy that I, as your Senator, together with the aid of your representative, have been successful in our efforts to defeat any cut in the appropriation made for Tech College. The fight is over in that respect, and we have won an important battle so far as our section of the State is concerned.

"Likewise, I make no apologies for voting for such necessary tax as may be needed to adequately finance our secondary schools, and more particularly, to secure the needed revenue to carry on the transportation of Texas school children to Texas school houses. Certainly, I favor the elimination of all unnecessary departments, bureaus, and commissions, and the elimination of all unnecessary employees in those that may be retained. This has been my program in the past and has, I think, been well demonstrated by my votes in the Texas Senate. During this session I have tried to abide the mandate of the people to provide adequate revenue for the blind and dependent children, for the Teachers' Retirement Fund, and for Old Age Assistance. I have done my best to raise this revenue from sources as would be least oppressive on the masses of the people, and to levy a tax to secure this needed money as far as possible on the non-essentials of life.

"In this program I have had the full cooperation of my constituents. Not one letter of criticism has been received by me during this session as to the position I have taken on these matters, for all of which I am happy and deeply grateful.

Yours very truly,
G. H. Nelson."

evening: "The Greatest

Day of all Days" is announced as the sermon subject; dealing with the Judgment day of Almighty God.

Prof. Alvin Breeden's music has captivated his hearers from the start. Being invited to play for the Rotary Club Luncheon, an enjoyable and entertaining program was presented, which, obviously, was enjoyed by all. The club was amazed at the high notes reached by Rev.
Herschel Murphy in two vocal numbers, and all agreed that the "High-toned Irishman" was rightly so named by admiring friends.

The public is invited and urged to attend the last few services of the campaign and enjoy the feast of good things. Truly the presence of the Divine has been felt in the midst.
Several have come forward to an old time altar of prayer and found peace for their weary souls. Greater things are expected before the meeting shall come to a close.

LUTHERAN CHURCH

Sunday our congregation will celebrate the annual Reformation

Festival. On this day we with thankful hearts recall the many blessings God bestowed upon the Christian church in general and particularly the Lutheran Church thru the Reformation. Among these treasured blessings we value most highly the Open Bible and the Scripture doctrine of Justification by Faith Alone. We would be happy to welcome any visitors at any of the three special services to be held Sunday.

English services begin at 11 a. m.
The pastor will speak on the topic
"Our Reformation Legacy and Our Obligation" based on Luke 12:48.
Our Sunday School begins at 10:30
a. m. The German service at 9:30 in the morning.

A special children's service will be held Sunday night at 8 o'clock in which a portion of the Reformation history will be reviewed. The Choir will render Luther's hymn,
"A Mighty Fortress."

At the regular meeting held last Sunday afternoon Mr. C. Boriack was chosen as the delegate to the meeting of the General Synod Convention to be held next June in St.
Louis, Mo. Mr. L. Horrisberger was chosen as alternate. The new pension plan for the workers of the church instituted by the general Synod was adopted also for this congregation. It is similar to the plan which has been introduced by the government for business concerns. Any member who was unable to attend the meeting Sunday may receive further information from the pastor.

A stride forward in the line of service for our community was made in the decision to hold two services every Sunday morning henceforth. So every Sunday morning English services will begin at 11 o'clock and Sunday school at 10:30.
German services at 9:30. Every Sunday night English services will begin at 8 p. m.
Next Wednesday Rev. W. Luecke will make the address on the Radio

Broadcast from Lubbock. This broadcast can be heard every Wednesday at 4:30 p. m. A quartet which was heard last Wednesday will again be heard.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Baptist stock is going up. The markets may be going down but in the face of a rushed crop season, the interest and attendance continues to increase. Better days are ahead for all of us. God is good to give us the abundant crop and people are grateful for His manifold blessings.

The pastor spoke to a laymen's conference at Lubbock last Sunday afternoon and Miss Winnona Pardue gave a special musical number at the gathering. The pastor will preach in his own pulpit at eleven Sunday, then drive immediately to Sunnydale where he will preach at 12:10, then at three o'clock will preach at Valley View. The public is invited to any or all of these services.

B. T. U. starts at 6:45. The B. T.
U. is growing and Mrs. Hobbs is leading in a faithful way. Miss Par-due is developing the choir and special music will be heard at every service. Come and worship with us and may the Lord bless you.

lift in her car but had pressed upon her an invitation to dinner.

"I'm mad about writing," she was saying now. "I'd give anything to do newspaper work. Won't you tell me about it?"

Natalie laughed. She glanced at her small wrist watch, which the loan agent had refused to take from her even for a fifty-cent piece.

"You are flattering," she said quickly. "Do you realize that, even nominally, I have been in the newspaper business only about twenty-six hours? I haven't the first idea what it's all about."

She told this girl the story of what had happened.

"I read your story this afternoon," the girl told her. "It was splendid. I can't understand how you could do so well when you have just begun."

"You mean about dancing with Mr. Wallace?" Natalie responded. "I think I was just thrilled by everything and I didn't try to do it in newspaper style. I wrote it just as if I were writing to a friend whom I didn't know very intimately."

"And can anyone do that?"

"Of course. But then there is another kind of newspaper writing. I made a mess of a piece like that this afternoon and got a quick lecture on it and had to do it over."

They talked on. Natalie liked the lovely Sunny but she was shortly aware that the girl was merely making conversation. She had no interest whatever in news writing. She was mildly interested in Natalie herself. But there was something more than this behind the dinner invitation and the talk.

"I wonder," she heard the girl ask finally, "if I might go with you sometimes on assignments. I would love it and we could use my car."

"Why, of course. Any time. That would be very grand for a reporter."

As she spoke, Natalie saw a mingled look of delight and annoyance cross the other girl's face. Something had happened which was both pleasing and displeasing to Sunny Marion and she had not been able to keep from revealing it.

A moment more and she knew what that something was, for Mont Wallace stood beside the table. He was smiling down at them. He was speaking to them both, asking if he might join them.

THE CLASSIFIED SECTION
BUY AND SELL HERE

Natalie smiled in response but there was a secret meaning in her smile for she knew now why she had been given an invitation to dinner. This gleaming child was jealous of her. She had feared that Monty intended spending the evening with Natalie. She had planned to circumvent the invitation and she had made sure of success as far as she could.

Now Sunny was delighted to see the flier once more but chagrined to find that she must share him with this dark girl.

Natalie left most of the conversation at first to Mont and Sunny. The girl was quietly eager for talk and Natalie's heart was too full for the effort at light badinage. Mont's eyes came to hers at intervals in a manner that seemed more eloquent than his words. But they were mostly on this blooming blond girl with the auburn hair, and she knew that Sunny would find fuel there for the fire of her adoration.

As calmly as she could in the turmoil of her heart, Natalie tried to study the two. In fact, she included herself in the lesson and made a valiant effort to cnat up the values that each of the three represented.

the clothes rod to hold the hat racks. Next I drove three nails directly under the top shelf for my most used bags. A nail was driven into the door for my little sister to hang her belts on.

"After this I took an inventory of my clothing and planned my clothes for the year. I did not find this as easy as it first appeared to be. I do not have a weekly allowance, so in order to find just how much I spend on clothing, I am keeping an account of my clothing expenditures. I was glad to find that my heaviest expense would be in the fall, when I will need a coat and as I plan to make some money working in a local store I will be able to buy my coat at that time. I try to be at all times economical and to spend wisely. I have learned the fuller value of money since I make part of my own and am probably more saving than I would otherwise be."

"In the meantime I made two pot holders, a tea towel, a smock, a red marquisette dress and taffeta slip to match for the county clothing contest, five other dresses and a bonnet for my little sister. I also repaired two garments and renovated two dresses. This clothing work has been worth $58.15 to me this year. This does not include the improvement of my clothes closet."

Jewell made another dress and slip for the district contest. This dress was a dark red cotton dress, simply tailored, with a blue scarf.

By the middle of October Jewell had realized $117.00 from her garden with her mother's help. She sold the vegetables to the stores. Jewell grew 100 feet of row space of vegetables for each member of her family. A large part of these have been canned for winter use.

Jewell said: "I have thoroughly enjoyed my demonstration and have profited greatly by it."

SANTA CLAUS TO COME TO TOWN DECEMBER 4TH

Plans Underway For Huge Christmas Celebration Here

Plans have practically materialized for the Christmas Celebration being sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, according to Gus Shaw, one of the strong endorsers of the movement.

December 4 will see Santa Claus come to town with a mammoth parade at 10:00 o'clock in the morning and an unusually fine display of fireworks that night will be shown.

The fireworks entertainment to introduce the Christmas shopping season will be something new in the history of West Texas. Eighteen brilliant displays, each unusual, will attract many visitors from the Littlefield Trade Territory.

Details of the parade and other features will be worked out as special committees to handle the program are named.

Tahoka Piggly Wiggly Store Awarded Sales Increase National Prize

Roy Young, who is operating the Piggly-Wiggly Grocery and Market at Tahoka, won the national prize for showing the greatest increase in sales of any Piggly-Wiggly store in the United States for the month of September 1937, over the same month last year.

J. O. Garlington, Manager of the local Piggly-Wiggly organization, stated that if Mr. Young shows increase enough to win two more months, he will be awarded a new 1938 Willys Sedan car, as a grand prize from the Piggly-Wiggly corporation.

The local Piggly-Wiggly won a similar prize for increase of sales two years ago for the last three months of the year, receiving a loving cup as the award, and in 1935 for the last three months of the year, the local store received the second prize.

Third Installment

Monty Wallace has just arrived in California having broken the East-West cross country airplane record. Natalie Wade, mistaken by him for a newspaper reporter, writes the exclusive account of Monty's arrival, and succeeds in securing a trial job with a paper in exchange for the story. Natalie becomes attached to Monty.

"Listen, kid—you ring the bell. I'm with you, see? You ask for the old man and flash that smile at the butler. Tell this Marion guy you hear he's going to build a special plane for Wallace to beat his own record. He likes publicity and, even if he hasn't thought of it, he'll probably go for it."

Instinct told the girl to give only her own name when the butler appeared and she gasped when the manufacturer presently appeared and ushered them into his library, for there sat Monty Wallace surrounded by a dozen beautiful women.

Monty came at once to Natalie's side. "This," he told the manufacturer, "is the young lady, who wrote my story for me. You'd better tell her all, for she'll get it out of you anyway."

The sleek, gray-haired elderly man promised he would do that, and Jimmy set about at once posing the flier and the plane maker at the library desk.

"Wait," the photographer suddenly spoke. "Where's the woman interest?"

He turned to a gorgeous blond girl of remarkable beauty and demanded that she become a part of the picture.

In the introductions that followed, Natalie learned that this was the stunning daughter of the house, Sunny Marion.

"Her name is Sonia," Marion explained, "but she turned out not to be the Sonia type and so we call her Sunny."

Natalie saw at once that the girl had eyes only for Monty Wallace, though she said little and treated the others with quiet courtesy. She was so splendid a creature that Natalie felt quick jealousy of her, as though an instinct had warned her the flier could not resist her charms.

The story was much as Jimmy had guessed, Marion's company had seen the possibility of capitalizing Monty's gift. Marion had taken the matter in hand for himself and had rushed agreement through.

By good luck and Jimmy's uncanny hunch, the two had another exclusive story but it was not a big smash. The business office would see publicity in it and hold back the editorial department. But it meant big stuff later and they were in on the ground floor, he pointed out.

The two were hurrying back to the office in Jimmy's car.

"Boy, did you see that little blonde go for Wallace?" Jimmy rambled on. "She'll let him walk over her any minute now. What is there about these avvy-ators?"

Natalie laughed in spite of herself. The boy was uncanny. He had missed nothing in that brief interview.

"I saw," she said. "She's only one of a couple of million women that will be dreaming about Monty Wallace for the next few weeks. It's really too bad for him. Nothing spoils a man so."

"You kind of go for him a little yourself, don't you, kid?"

Natalie colored helplessly. There seemed nothing this amazing youth could not guess. She felt a surge of anger at him, but realized that anger was foolish.

"One of the two million," she parried. "Let it go at that."

That afternoon on another assignment they passed Monty Wallace in the Marion girl's handsome car.

Natalie was surprised at the quick slash of pain her jealousy struck through her. It was not possible that this one man in all the world held so terrifying a power to hurt her by casual action.

And yet the very sight of him, whom she had never seen until the day before, was enough to stir her, and to see him in the innocent company of the little blonde beauty was exquisite torture.

Turning quickly to Jimmy Hale, Natalie covered her emotions with a scornful laugh at her own vulnerability.

"Now, now!" Jimmy chuckled. "Don't get catty. It won't do any good to cut the girl's throat."

For once the photographer had misunderstood, but his guess was close enough. She laughed again but this time in better spirit and Jimmy seemed satisfied.

But the girl realized she had a battle to fight with herself even yet. She hadn't counted on the lash of jealousy, hadn't believed the hateful emotion possible to her.

She went about her work with Jimmy and hurried back to the office.

Mack Hanlon was again on duty. He paid little or no attention to her when she came in to write her late story, but when she had turned it in and was wondering if she might then leave the office for her own devices, he called her to the desk.

"That was a good job you did last night, Miss Wade," he said, and you turned out another one for the afternoon paper. But this thing is a mess of tripe. Don't worry about it, but do it over again and remember that a newspaper story is one thing and a signed article is another. When you are signing your stuff there are no rules. But when it comes to writing straight news there are plenty of them. Throw the yarn at them in the first paragraph and then clean up around the edges."

It was good advice and she was quick to see it. Though her cheeks flamed a little, she went back to her typewriter, patterned the story she was to write on those that appeared in other copies of the paper scattered about and finished it quickly. "That's better," the suspended little editor told her and she knew a triumph out of all proportions to the importance of the matter.

He slashed the copy a couple of times with quick pencil, thrust it into a basket and turned to her as she was about to leave for the night.

"Here's another little tip," he said, putting the flame of a match to the small, straight pipe he smoked.

"You've got this guy Wallace eating out of your hand. Keep him that way. He's the kind of an egg that is likely to make news any time. You'll go a long way if you can string him along enough to keep the edge on his stuff."

The girl sat for a moment on the corner of a desk and listened to what he had to say. He was friendly and unselfish, at least as far as she was concerned. She sensed somehow that he wanted her to do well, perhaps because it was he who had given her a trial.

"Dad used to tell me a lot of things about this business," she said, "but I wasn't interested then. Now I'm beginning to find out how fascinating it is. I'll be glad if you'll give me all the help you can."

"I'll do that. But watch out for this game," he cautioned. "It's a fool business. You get so after awhile you can't quit and you can't afford to go on. But maybe it won't get you the way it does a man."

He turned back then to his desk, his soiled suspenders, conspicuous across his lean shoulders. Vaguely she was sorry for the little man.

Now she went into the dingy hall. She glanced at Jimmy's office but it was empty. He was probably in the dark room unless he had left his prints to dry and gone home.

She walked down the single flight of stairs and out into the street.

It was well on to dinner time. The glow of sunset on the harbor and distant ocean had turned the town for a few minutes into an enchanted land.

Natalie turned with a curious exhilaration to walk toward her home.

Now she walked briskly and it was not till the musical chime of an automobile sounded twice that she looked up to find the blond Sunny Marion beckoning to her from the big machine she drove.

They sat across from each other in the town's one exotic restaurant. Sunny Marion and Natalie Wade. And they made a picture of contrasts.

The daughter of the airplane maker had hair like white ash. She Natalie had slipped her own hat from her lustrous dark hair that first day at her work when she wore a linen suit of cream brown. It set off the velvety of her skin and seemed to enhance the color of her large, dark eyes.

She was vastly curious at this den attention from Sunny Marion. For the girl had offered not a

"Sailing Sam"
 Yours truly, Sam, went on a trip this summer and thought he might take up a little space by telling about it.

I got on the train and started to say my wife goodbye. That train was so fast I missed my wife and a negro standing on the rear platform of a station seventy miles away. And the railroad was so crooked in those backwood hills that when the conductor wanted the engineer to stop he just reached out the window and patted him on the back.

A Scotchman got on and sat down right in front of me. He started spitting on the ceiling when the conductor came through he said: "Why are you spitting on the ceiling?" "Well," said the Scotchman, "There's a sign down at the end of the car that says, 'no spitting on the floor.'"

I slept that night with my head under the window and when I woke up the next morning at Ft. Worth, I had three mail sacks hanging around my neck. I got off at the station and the first thing that struck me was a street car. I got me a job the next morning taking pictures (frame and all). I went into a restaurant one day and ordered a plate lunch. The waitress said, "Shall I bring knife, fork, and spoon?" I said, "Lady, do I look like a man that would eat with a shovel?" From there I went into a jewelry shop to get my watch fixed. I had to stand in line and heard a Jew talk for a good alarm clock. The jeweler said, "Here's the best clock in town, it will run eight days without winding." "Chee!" said the Jew, "and how long will it run if you wind it?" Me and my friend were out trailing a wildcat one day and I went up a tree to look for the wildcat. He came up from behind some bushes and my assistant grabbed him. I said "Ezra, do you want me to come down and help catch him?" "No," said James, "Come down and help me turn him loose!" Here I have said a whole lot of nothing about everything and everything about nothing and will be back next week doing the same thing.

SCOUT DRIVE TO BE STAGED HERE NOVEMBER 8TH
 Chairman Elms Has Already Named Committees for Drive

There will be twenty men working on the Boy Scout Finance Campaign to be held here November 8, according to J. C. Elms, Chairman of the Finance Committee.

The purpose of the campaign in Littlefield is to abolish the deficit that has accumulated over a period of several months, and raise the present Sustaining membership roster to a place where the monthly income will take care of the regular payment into the Council Office for Littlefield's part in the Council Budget.

Elms has selected four men that are to serve as Captains of teams and these men will be responsible for the selection of the four men that are to work with them on the drive. The town will be divided into Districts and each team will have a definite district to work.

Littlefield is a part of the South Plains Council, that promotes Scouting in twenty Counties in the South Plains. At present there are approximately 1500 boys and 415 men registered in the Scout Program in the Council. There are approximately 10,000 boys of Scout ages between 12 and 15 in the twenty counties and 7,000 boys of Cub age, boys between 9 and 11 years of age.

Plans are being made here for a leadership training course to be conducted here in the near future. Reports from the Council Office show that there are more than 200 men trained in Scout Leadership in the South Plains Council each year. A council camp is maintained at Post for all Scouts and Leaders and is available for use at all times. ### Additional Cotton Pickers Needed In This Section

With the largest combined cotton crop ever known on the South Plains, the labor situation in Lamb and surrounding counties is anything but satisfactory. Counties below the caprock are still reporting shortages and the South Plains counties have a small percentage needed. Voluntary movement of pickers from South Texas has practically stopped with more pickers going back than are coming out.

Littlefield Chamber of Commerce officials visited the main offices of The Texas State Employment Service and the Works Progress Administration. Every effort is being made to urge pickers to come to this area and remain until the crop is gathered.

The WPA in East and South Texas is running projects only absolutely necessary and plan to make it difficult for returning laborers to obtain work when they could have remained in West Texas and earned money through November and December. Practically all West Texas WPA projects have been closed down in an effort to alleviate the labor shortage.

The district office of the Texas State Employment Service located in San Antonio, felt that pickers in truck-load quantities could be obtained in that city by proper routes and gave definite instructions to the Chamber of Commerce how to handle the situation and all farmers of Lamb County who can get after pickers are urged to call at the Chamber of Commerce Office in Littlefield for these instructions, as there are laws and procedures that must be thoroughly understood before these laborers can be obtained.

By simple arithmetic, if Lamb County makes 50,000 bales, as many predict, it will take 12,000 average pickers to move the crop in 30 days. With a prospect of 400,000 bales in this area, 60,000 laborers will be needed.

Girls are running full capacity already, but it is pointed out that the cotton should be picked and stacked in piles before damaging fall rains and dust storms come. These would lower the price one or two cents, and every time the price goes down one cent, it will cost Lamb County $400,000 and the South Plains area $2,000,000.

Both the Littlefield and Sudan chambers of commerce are working on plans to assist the farmers

Littlefield Junior Wildcats Rout Amherst Bulldogs

A 26-13 score ended when the Littlefield Juniors, otherwise called Wildcats, won their first victory over the Amherst Pupples last Thursday afternoon. The first play by the Juniors against an opposing team was lost to the tune of about 6-7 or 6-8-0.

Amherst was victorious for the first scores, one touchdown, but no extra point. About the middle of the second quarter, Littlefield made 7 points to match with the 6 of Amherst.

About the first of the third quarter, Amherst again made a touchdown and her extra point, thus making the score 13-7.

Littlefield soon recovered, Ben James catches a pass, raced for a touchdown, but made no extra point. 13-13.

The fourth quarter, always a critical part of the game, was in favor of the Littlefield Wildcats. Madame Fortune smiled and the locals won having doubled their score, 26-13.

Dr. Ira Woods, Rev. Donald Harris and Bill Street attended a men's fellowship meeting at the Presbyterian Church, Plainview, Monday night.

"UNIVERSITY SHOW" WITH POWELL AND WARING BAND, TO BE FEATURED AT PALACE THEATRE

"Varsity Show," Warner Bros. production, has its long-anticipated premiere. Starring the ever-popular Dick Powell and introducing in a new manner to motion picture audiences, Fred Waring and his nationally famous orchestra, the Pennsylvania "Varsity Show" which is featured at the Palace Sunday and Monday only marks a new era in musical and comedy entertainment. In school presentations, Daly overcomes many obstacles before a successful production by Professor Biddle, jams members of the east through special scholastic examinations and then figures in a student strike brought on when Biddle ousts him from the campus. The undergraduates take matters into their own hands. The show must go on.

It does. Playing side by side in "Varsity Show" are Dick Powell, veteran of many Warner Bros. Musical productions, and Waring and his Pennsylvanians, newcomers to the screen but old hands in front of a radio microphone, Rosemary and Priscilla Lane.

Dick Whiting and Johnny Mercer combined their talents to turn out an engaging musical score.

Deanna Durbin Comes to Palace Theatre Sunday Midnight

The motion picture in the news spotlight is "100 Men and a Girl." The fact that Deanna Durbin has achieved the heights of movie stardom in her second picture, of itself, attaches new interest to this production. The little singer has won the acclaim and sympathy of radio and screen audiences. That the leading musical figure in America, Leopold Stokowski, has devised a new method for enriching screen music and giving it perspective in sound, makes the film increasingly significant.

This Universal comedy drama with music, "100 Men and a Girl," which will be featured at the Palace Theatre Sunday midnight, Oct. 31, features many players who have played in notable hits. Deanna Durbin, Alice Brady and Mischa Auer scored in "Three Smart Girls." Miss Brady, Mischa Auer and Eugene Pallette also registered in "My Man Godfrey." Adolphe Menjou won praise in "Sing, Baby, Sing," "A Star is Born," "One in a Million" and "Cafe Metropole."

The film was made by director Henry Kostor and associate producer Joseph Pasternak, who also guided "Three Smart Girls" to success. Both offerings were under the supervision of Charles R. Rogers, executive producer.

Mischa Auer, the madcap musician, has a genius for torturing musical instruments. He declares he is the only pupil of his uncle Leopold Auer, able to play music which cannot be scored on paper. Mischa adds that it might be possible with a squeaky pencil on a shrieky slate.

Mrs. P. S. Hanks Features Native Shrubs In Yard

Mrs. P. S. Hanks, yard demonstrator for Sunnyside Home Demonstration Club, has found that the three leaved sumac have made the best growth this year of all the shrubs in her yard. These shrubs were secured from the sand hills and were transplanted last year. Flowering willow and bear grass are both used in Mrs. Hanks yard. These take less water and do better than other shrubs as they are native to West Texas. Native grass is used in the yard with some bermuda grass.

The tap root on bear grass should be cut the year before transplanting it so feeder roots will be forced out above the cut.

Mrs. C. G. Ivey Prepares Soil For Spring Garden

"We have just plowed under the fertilizer that we added to the ground where we intend to have our garden next year," Mrs. C. G. Ivey told the home demonstration agent this week.

Five loads of fertilizer were added early in the summer. Cotton burrs will be spread over the plot this fall to prevent the sandy soil from blowing. These burrs will be plowed under in February. Mrs. Ivey expects this to aid in holding moisture in the ground. Root rot in her garden is the reason for moving it. Mrs. Ivey is the home food supply demonstrator for the Rocky Ford Home Demonstration Club.

HELP KIDNEYS

To Get Rid of Acid and Poisonous Waste

Your kidneys help to keep you well by constantly filtering waste matter from the blood. If your kidneys get functionally disordered and fail to remove excess impurities, there may be poisoning of the whole system and body-wide distress.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination may be a warning of some kidney or bladder disturbance.

You may suffer sagging backache, persistent headaches, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel weak, nervous; all played out.

In such cases it is better to rely on a medicine that has won country-wide acclaim than on something less favorably known. Use Doan's Pills. A multitude of grateful people recommend Doan's. Ask your neighbor!

Car Crash—

into flames immediately following the accident.

She suffered burns on her hands and arms, feet and legs; her hair was burned from her head, and she also sustained cuts and bruises. She is still confined in the Payne-Shotwell Hospital, but reported as improving. Branson received a head injury and possible internal injuries. He is also confined in the hospital though not considered serious.

The three victims were rushed to the Payne-Shotwell hospital by George Vaught, dairyman, who lives near the scene of the accident.

Mrs. Wilson is a sister of W. S. York of Yellowhouse Switch, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and the York family had all attended a family reunion at Brady the Sunday previous, and the Wilsons who were en route home to Arizona, had stopped for a short visit at the York residence, which they had left just prior to the accident.

At Brady they had visited Mrs. Wilson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. York, and two sisters, Mrs. Jack Flanigan, and Mrs. Elmer Wallace.

Mrs. Wilson has two children, Evelyn Hightower, aged 22, and Burrell Hightower, aged 24, by a previous marriage. Besides W. S. York, she also has two brothers, C. C. York of Kilgore and Robert York of Lampassas county.

At the time of the accident Mr. and Mrs. Wilson were driving west on Highway No. 7, and Branson was travelling east, and apparently going to Lubbock. The collision took place at the intersection of the road along the east side of the cemetery and Highway No. 7.

Weldon Lawson and T. C. Laws, members of the Highway Patrol, came to Littlefield from Lubbock to investigate the crash.

Sam Hutson, chief deputy sheriff of Lamb County, with City Marshal A. A. Anderson, earlier investigated the accident and reported the Wilson car completely burned, the radiator of the Branson car smashed in, and the frame and body badly damaged.

George Vaught, the first to arrive at the scene of the crash, assisted in pulling the Wilson car from the car. He was described as weighing approximately 200 pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson had left Peoria, Arizona, Oct. 12.

Arrangements were being made Wednesday to ship the body to Peoria, Arizona. Date of funeral was indefinite late Wednesday.

WILDCATS TO PLAY CROSBYTON AT CROSBYTON FRIDAY; DEFEAT RALLS

Littlefield Wildcats will seek their third conference win of the season when they meet Crosbyton at Crosbyton at 2 p. m. this Friday.

Littlefield has played four conference games this season, winning two and losing two.

The Littlefield Cats defeated Ralls here last Friday, 71-0, Littlefield making 22 first downs to Ralls four.

Littlefield opened her touchdown drive in the early minutes of the game with a 75-yard drive with Elms, Burleson, Henson and Anderson alternating carrying the ball. Burleson scored on a line play. After the kick off the Wildcats were held for downs and were forced to kick, Burleson kicking out on the one yard line. Ralls attempted to punt when O. Walker blocked the kick and recovered for a touchdown behind the goal line, Elms making the extra point.

Ralls received the kick and returned up to the 30-yard line. Ralls was held for downs and kicked to Elms who returned to the 35-yard line behind good blocking, Henson making eight yards off left tackle, and on a fake play Burleson went over for a touchdown.

Ralls received the kick off and returned to the 40-yard line. On the first play Ralls threw a pass that was intercepted by Jim Walker who ran the remaining distance for a touchdown.

Ralls received the kick off on the 10-yard line and returned to the 20. Ralls was held for downs and was forced to kick to Elms who brought the ball back to the 30-yard line. A pass from Lee to Henson was good for a score.

Littlefield showed better blocking and tackling in this game than in any previous game this season. If the team tackles and blocks in the Crosbyton game like they did in the Ralls contest, Littlefield should win.
