Everybody's Dream Is Cheshers' Reality In Vacation To Europe

When all of us dream of an extended vacation in Europe — became a reality for the Cheshers of Littlefield.

London Taxis — The British, who Billy June said resembled American north-erners in their attitude, were cool, but not unfriendly.

The food on the continent was far superior to that served in the British Isles, but nothing could match London taxis.

At least one member of the family — Billy June, of course — wants to return to Europe. She may return, too, next year — to study at Oxford.

The tour began when the family boarded the R. M. S. Caronia at New York on June 2 and sailed for England. They landed at Southampton June 17, and Billy June says the first "foreign-looking things" she noticed were the tiny railroad cars the British use. They puff along the tracks, coat their whistles and lose half their steam.

Pleasidly Lighted Up — From Southampton the Cheshers went to London, where they visited Westminster Abbey, the Tower of London, Buckingham Palace and Pleasidly Circus. Pleasidly was described as "exciting—all lighted up and beautiful now that there is no war." The family found war damage in London to have been extensive, but reported that all bombed-out sections had been cleared of the wreckage.

The party also took a ride on the underground in London, built much deeper in the ground than subways in American cities.

Fall Fair Is Set For Aug. 28-30

CATS START TRAINING FOR VICTORIES

Starting Tuesday morning at 6:15 A. M. Coach Jay Fikes will start working out some 36 boys in his project of rebuilding his football club, after losing 16 regular players of last season.

However, Coach Fikes with his usual stamina is optimistic in believing that with lots of hard training the boys are going to step right out in front.

He stated he was starting out at 6:15 A. M. Tuesday, and would work out the boys from that time until 8:30 each morning; and from 7 to 9:15 o'clock each night. This program will continue for two and a half weeks, stated Mr. Fikes.

Coach Fikes is being assisted, as last year by Assistant Coaches Forrest Martin and Pat Patterson.

Big Consumption of Cotton

More than 900 cotton manufacturing plants in the United States consume the great bulk of the American cotton crop annually to produce billions of yards of fabrics for an infinite variety of apparel, household, and industrial products.

Topline head already written — The annual Lamb County fair, slated to be the biggest county event of the year, will be held at the fair grounds in Littlefield, August 28, 29 and 30.

Ten members of the Lamb County fair association met Friday night at the court house and made further preparations for the event, which is expected to attract a large crowd from all parts of the county and much of the Plains area.

The board of directors decided to carry out a plan made earlier and no admission fee will be charged at the gate. The move to drop the gate charge was made at a meeting earlier this year and is expected to attract both a large number of visitors to the fair and a greater number of entrants in various Fair contests.

V. J. (Pete) Peterson, president of the association, said "We want to make the fair this year an event that will be a credit to the county."

The fair, which will begin Thursday morning will be highlighted by a gala parade Friday, square dances at night a negro free-for-all slugging contest and exhibitions of livestock, farm produce, machinery and merchandise shows.

Buck Ross, who was put in charge of square dancing, said he wanted to make his part of the affair the "highest type entertainment possible for everybody that

Lamb County Farmers Are Among Group Protest Cotton Slashes

Several Lamb County farmers and ginners were among the large group which met at the Lubbock Hotel in Lubbock Wednesday to protest proposed cotton production cuts in this area.

A flood of telegrams were sent to Washington, directed to Texas senators Tom Connally and Lyndon Johnson.

The telegrams were in opposition to the Pave Cotton allotment bill, which would cut cotton production in this area 255,000 acres in 1951.

The bill has already been passed by the House and is being considered by the joint congressional committee.

Plains-area farmers and ginners named on committees at the meeting at Lubbock included Walter Martin of Lamb County, E. C. Hutton of Lubbock county, Wimer Smith of Lynn, Herbert Green of Dawson, Ray Carter of Bailey, Jim Plems of Hockley, Homer Winston of Terry, Will Wright of Garza, Pete Todd of Cochran, Posey Cunningham of Castro, John Manaire of Floyd county and Dale Puckett of Gaines.

Cotton Control Bill Affecting West Texas Comes Before Senate

The Senate Agriculture committee heard a parade of witnesses today give conflicting views as to whether new cotton crop control legislation is needed.

Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) suggested that all controls on production might be lifted for next year's crop, in view of the international situation.

Later H. L. Wingate of Pelham, Ga., representing the Georgia Farm Bureau federation, testified it would be unpatriotic to remove controls and cause a mad rush among farmers to plant all the land they could in the fiber.

"You'd make a terrible mistake to junk this program," said Wingate.

Californian Opposes Bill

Knowland argued that the House-passed bill should be amended, if passed at all. He said the bill would work a hardship on California and other western states which have gone into large scale cotton production in recent years.

"It would tend to shift production from low cost areas to high cost areas," he said.

Wingate estimated 20,000,000 bales would be grown in 1951 if no restrictions were imposed, compared with the 19,500,000 bales expected this year.

"Those people who don't want controls imposed now feel that way because the price of cotton is high," he said. "But when the price drops, they're right here wanting controls."

Strong Opposition Voiced

Strong opposition to the bill was voiced by several West Texas and Arizona growers. They said they were satisfied with the 1949 law. This law will continue in force if the bill is not enacted.

One section of the bill would apply only to Texas. It proposes that in states which planted more than 3,000,000 acres in 1950 the future allocations should be based on plantings in a previous four year period, with full credit given to grain sorghums, flax and other so-called "war crops."

The effect would be to shift allotment of more than 400,000 acres from four South and West Texas congressional districts to the remaining 17 districts.

Pecos Man Raps Plan
Under existing law the quotas in Texas are based on actual cotton plantings in 1947 and 1948.

J. C. Wilson, of Pecos, speaking for the Trans-Pecos Cotton association said:

"We oppose passage of this bill in its entirety because it reflects a totally selfish motive for the benefit of certain areas and discriminates against other areas which are struggling for survival. The area I represent is made up mostly of new land developed from the desert by means of drilling water wells and clearing desert vegetation."

He said irrigated lands in his part of Texas yield more than a bale (500 pounds of cotton per acre, compared to less than a half of bale to the acre in the old cotton sections in the eastern half of the state. He gave the production in figures at 600 and 300 pounds per acre, respectively.

The total cost of production in the Trans-Pecos area, where mechanical pickers gather nine bales a day, is just about the same per acre as in East Texas where virtually all harvesting is done by hand, he said.

Similar testimony was presented by Louis J. Ivey of El Paso, representing the El Paso Valley Cotton association, and W. O. Fortenberry, Lubbock, who said he spoke for various individual farmers in that area.

"The farmers in my area are anxious to work out from under controls instead of perpetuating them and we feel that now is the most opportune time to begin this process," said Ivey.

When Fortenberry remarked that the Korean war situation might sharply increase the demand for cotton, Senator Ellender (D-La.) said there is a total carryover of about 7,500,000 bales and that the presently foreseeable requirements for 1951, considered with controlled production next year, probably would not reduce the carry-over below 4,000,000 bales.

Four Point Cotton Ginning Program

A four point program for improving cotton ginning is now being promoted on a belt-wide basis, according to F. E. Lichte, extension cotton gin specialist of Texas A. & M. College.

This program was initiated because of complaints received from the spinners about the ginning qualities of the 1949 cotton crop.

Lichte says that the first point in the program is to maintain uniform loose coils. In addition to giving better grades of cotton and higher income for the producer, this practice reduces the power cost of ginning.

The overflow should be kept to a minimum. A by-pass on ginning machinery allows overflow cotton to be ginned without the redrying and recleaning which often cause two-sized bales and damage to the cotton fiber.

If valves and by-passes are installed in the ginning machinery a selection of machines is possible, and only the necessary equipment must be used. Rough or machine-harvested cotton may require the use of 12 to 22 cleaning cylinders plus extractors. Clean hand-picked cotton should be handled carefully and with less equipment.

Only enough drying should be used to insure smooth ginning. Green, damp or low-laden cottons require drying only for smooth preparation. Mid-season trash or machine-harvested cottons may require extra drying for better cleaning. Late-season harvested weather-damaged cotton "at stand more drying than earlier premium cottons. Net values from drying should be measured in terms of both grade benefits and weight losses.

Lichte says that practically

Broken Ankle Is Sustained By Bronc-Rider

Leroy Steffey of McKinney sustained a severely fractured left ankle about 3 p. m. Friday, when attempting to mount an unbroken horse on the farm of his brother, Claude Steffey, one mile north and three miles east of Littlefield.

Steffey, who had arrived at 10 a. m. Friday from McKinney, had one foot in the stirrup when the 3-year-old, unbroken Tennessee walking horse wheeled and threw the rider off-balance, according to Jesse Steffey, another brother of the injured man. Steffey's left foot struck the ground at a twisted angle and caused the compound fracture of his ankle.

The three-year-old colt had been ridden twice before, one of those times by Steffey earlier Friday. He was preparing to make the second ride when the accident occurred.

10 SOURCES of POWER -and more to come!

10 base load power plants are operated by your Public Service Company to meet your needs for dependable, low-cost electric service. These 10 power plants are strategically placed approximately 100 miles apart.

These 10 great power plants are tied together by a 2700-mile network of transmission lines. The heart of our system—a 115,000-volt transmission line—makes electric power generated at our Riverview plant available at Carlsbad, New Mexico, if needed.

To further assure you a continuous and economical supply of electricity, your Public Service Company has provided a central load-dispatching center which allocates generation to each plant for most economical operation. In this manner the local area plant is still able to meet increased demand for electric service within its own area when necessary.

To meet your growing needs for electric power, important 1950 plant expansions will be made at Amarillo and Moore County, and a new unit has already gone on the line at Roswell. More Care Should Be Given To Laundering Cotton Dresses

Laundering a cotton dress today requires just a little more care than tossing it into the washing machine with the family wash says Miss Mary Routh, extension clothing specialist of Texas A. & M. College. Especially is this true if the dress is one of those smart fashionable cottons that the housewife wants to keep looking smart through the season.

Today, cottons can be washed in the tub just as easily as ever if the finish of the material received close attention. Miss Routh recommends looking to the label of new goods, whether piece or ready to wear, for information on residual shrinkage and color fastness when subjected to light and washing.

In regard to special finishes on cottons, such as the crispness of organdie or the glazed chintz, she advises checking carefully to make sure that the finishes are durable. A durable finish will wash for the life of the fabric.

Miss Routh says that light laundering of a garment before it becomes badly soiled will extend the life of the material by removing the dirt, dust and perspiration before they become deeply embedded in the fabric, cutting the threads and quickly wearing them apart.

Some laundering suggestions which Miss Routh recommends especially for finer cotton dresses are the removal of any trimmings, buttons and buckles that may be damaged in the laundering, the removal of any spots or stains that need a special solvent or cleanser before wetting the dress, the handling of colored garments as quickly as possible, and using heavy suds made from mild neutral soap in warm water.

Referring to the actual washing process, she says, immerse the entire dress and squeeze the suds through the material. Never rub or scrub delicate fabrics. For heavier soiled spots, such as those on collars and cuffs, use a small brush and brush lightly.

Rinse in two or three waters, being sure that the first rinse is the same temperature as the wash water. Cold water hardens soap and makes it adhere to the fabric. Soap left in the garment may cause yellowing or weakening of the fabric.

If the label on the garment says "permanent finish" or if the fabric is wrinkle resistant, no starch is needed in the garment. A closely woven fabric such as gingham or chambray should not be starched for the first four or five launderings. It will retain a new look longer without starch.

Miss Routh recommends caution in using new soaps or synthetic detergents which require no rinse. She says that clothes which are washed and not rinsed have a tendency to scorch easily during the ironing process.

Recipe Of The Week

Crepe Sponge Cake

4 egg whites 1 cup flour 4 egg yolks, 1 1/4 teaspoons baking powder, 1 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

To mix: 1. Measure all ingredients. Sift sugar through fine sifter one to four times before measuring. Use pastry or cake flour and sift once before measuring. Separate yolks and whites of eggs. They will give more volume if at room temperature.

2. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry and beat in gradually 1 tablespoon sugar for each egg white (out of sugar called for in recipe and, set aside).

3. Add liquid to egg yolks and beat until lemon-colored and so thick that beater turns with difficulty. Beat in remaining sugar.

4. Combine yolks and whites and fold together with spoon until mixture is even.

5. Mix and sift remaining dry ingredients and put into egg mixture. Do not beat after adding flour to avoid breaking air bubbles.

To fill pans: Pour into unbuttered tube pan (9-inch), two 9-inch layer pans, or 12 to 18 muffin tins. Cut through mixture several times to break large air bubbles.

To bake: Bake 1 hour or more in moderately slow oven (325 degrees F.), if in layer cake pans or individual tins.

To cool: Invert on wire cooler and let stand until cold. Loosen with spatula or knife.

Defensive Aggression . . .

Now that Uncle Sam has taken over the weed-killing job in Korea, the world wonders if he will stick with the south patch or move up into the north.

So far we have called our actions a war for peace. The United Nations has not yet officially referred to Russian slave nations as such, and is not apt to do so.

But the U. S. can.

All of us know that Russia, since she war, has been performing and applauded for performing her duties on every nation near her.

The Communists, by shouting that they are liberating the world from the grasping claws of capitalism, have been able to appear as the underdog and have won sympathy.

Such sympathy, a war-tick world and American sympathy have made it possible for Communism to overrun more territory than Hitler ever dreamed about.

The situation in Korea makes it even more evident that the United States should continue on the defensive aggressive with the establishment of a Democracy underground in Communist-held nations just as the Communists established Communist undergrounds in those nations when they were free and Democratic.

How far we could go toward pushing the K. back to his den would depend on how ready he is for total war. Anyway we might be able to win at least a portion of that territory at a price much cheaper than we will pay when total war does come.

Using the underdog defensive theme to describe a step across the thirty-eight parallel into North Korea would be a plausible excuse for liberating at least a few of the people now serving Russia as slaves. It would be a more honest excuse than Russia ever gave when she placed other nations of the earth in her servitude.

Perhaps the most difficult question to answer is not "Which excuse will we use?" but "Why is an excuse necessary in the first place?"

The exact location of the wildcat, which will be drilled by H. L. Hunt of Dallas, was reported last week.

A water well is being dug, a road is being built to the location and rotary material is being moved in for the prospector.

Actual drilling is slated to start this week.

The wildcat will be drilled as a result of a deal worked up by O. L. Johnson of Midland and returned to Hunt to drill.

Johnson retains overriding interest in the project.

The safe, reported stolen Friday, August 4, from the Irvin gin office here, has been found.

Arlan Johnson and Wayne Ranken, employees of Arthur Ranken, found the safe opened and abandoned Sunday afternoon in a pasture about 10 miles southwest of Littlefield. They immediately notified the Sheriff's department.

When it was taken from the gin office, the safe had contained almost $1,000 in cash and valuable papers but the contents had been rifled and the cash taken out before it was discovered.

The deputy said some of the papers were found scattered over the area near the site where the safe was discovered.

Cannery Official May Contact Growers Here

Worth Ware, owner and manager of the Hereford Canning company, came to Littlefield Thursday and expressed a desire to contact blackeyed pea growers, possibly for the purpose of securing contracts for crops to be harvested this fall.

Ware also indicated he was interested in establishing a pea sheller plant in the Littlefield area.

"At the present time," he said, "We are working full capacity on the green bean pack at the cannery, but that will soon be over and we would like to contact blackeyed pea growers in Lamb County."

Ware may be reached by mail at the Hereford Canning company, Hereford.

The company, now working about 20 hours a day, has a peak capacity of about 50,000 cans per day. Ware said they are equipped to can all types of foods even meats. With an eye toward possible curtailments because of the war situation, the cannery at Hereford plans to run at full capacity as long as possible, Ware said.

Growers in the Hereford area are at present harvesting crops of green beans, lima beans, cantaloupes, potatoes and some black-eyed peas.

"More than 80,000 pounds of blackeyed peas are imported into Texas every year to meet present demands. With climate and growing conditions as they are, black-eyed peas could become one of the

Tax Collections At Anton Schools Reach High Record

Tax valuations and collections for the Anton Independent School District have reached an all time high, according to E. R. Williams, president of the board of trustees.

Here are some of the figures released by Mr. Williams last week:

The 1949 Assessed Value	$2,880,577.
Tax Roll at $1.25	26,006
Actually Collected	35,363
Credited to delinquent roll	64,355
Delinquent Taxes Collected
During the Year	453.55
Total Taxes Collected
During the year	35,815.73

The 1950 Tax Valuation jumped quite a bit, giving a larger figure, and the board of trustees also hiked the Tax Rate from $1.25 to the maximum rate allowed, 1.50 which gives the following figures. The 1950 Tax Valuation 3,003,204 1950 Tax Roll (1.50) -- 45,049.11

Mr. Williams stated that the board felt that Mrs. Pirtle, the tax collector for the District, deserved praise for the excellent job of collecting.

The increased valuation with the increase in the Rate will give the school nearly ten thousand dollars in additional revenue with which to operate the school system.

DALE CARNEGIE

AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING"

Meet Fear out in the Open

VIRGINIA LAYNG, Forest Hills, N. Y., says that all the time she was growing up, she was just about the most confirmed worry wart she has ever known. She worried about all the things that could happen to her but never did — as a very little girl. Just how she started this worry habit, she doesn't know, but she does know that it made her childhood far less happy than it might have been. As an adolescent, that sensitive period in the life of a young girl, or a growing boy, she suffered intensely. The remarks of her schoolmates penetrated and hurt although most of the time they were not meant for her. She lay awake at night worrying about these remarks.

It was at the tender age of eight that her father attempted to teach her a philosophy to help her hurdle her worries. She was so young that she didn't realize the full import of what he was doing at the time, but as the years went on, she gained immeasurably from the lesson she was taught one day when a thunder storm arose.

Both Virginia and her brother were deathly afraid of thunder. They had not known anyone ever to be struck by lightning, and if they had only stopped to think, they would have known that no noise can hurt one physically unless it strikes the ear drums, which, of course didn't happen to them. However, when thunder and lightning appeared, the two children would hide under a bed or in a closet where they thought they could not be reached by this terrifying booming and flashing.

One day when a storm was brewing, their father called them to go out into it. Oh, how could they? Why would their father do such a cruel thing to them? Nevertheless, he piloted them up to the golf course where they had to face the storm out in the open.

Virginia says that to her then great surprise as the storm broke, they were not harmed. They never had been afraid of rain. In a few minutes they began to see beauty in that storm as their father pointed it out.

Not only was she never again afraid of a storm but as the years went by, she realized that other things she feared lost their terror when she faced them "out in the open."

Chrysler Announces First All-Electric Window Lift Car

The first all-electric window lift to be offered as standard equipment on American-built automobiles was announced today by David A. Wallace, President, Chrysler Division, Chrysler Corporation. At the present time, these new window lifts are being installed as standard equipment in Chrysler Imperial models. This new electric window lift is lighter, less complicated and easier to install and service than other power window lift systems, and will function satisfactorily even at sub-zero temperatures, it was said.

In most other power-lift systems, hydraulic fluid, hydraulic tubing, flexible hydraulic connections are necessary and one central motor powers several unit servos to operate the entire system. A single servomotor is a complete failure of the entire structure.

By the elimination of these hydraulic fittings, the electric window lift is not only easier to install and service, but as each door contains its own complete unit and individual motor, the operation of any one window is independent of the operating condition of the others.

Street Paving Going Ahead

Work, which began a short time ago on the paving project in Littlefield, was making steady progress this week.

The laying of all curbs and gutters has been completed on the portion of 16th, Wroe and Twitchell Streets, being paved by the city, and partially completed on East Side avenue, according to City Engineer Ralph Douglas.

Curbs and gutters were expected to be complete at the end of this week on the portions of 9th and 5th streets being paved. Friday, Contractor L. A. Purcell of Lubbock had completed curbs and gutters on one block being paved on East Side avenue, and was beginning the second.

One block of 9th street and five blocks of 5th are scheduled to be paved under present plans.

Another city project, the construction of a lift station in Laguna park, is slated to get underway as soon as possible. Although summer rains have filled the park almost completely with water, Douglas said a road would be built to the site of the proposed station so that work could go ahead.

Morton Man Is Bitten By Snake

O. L. Benefield, Cochran county farmer who resides six miles east of Morton, was reported resting satisfactorily in West Plains hospital here after having been bitten by a rattlesnake about noon Tuesday.

Some snakebite serum was on hand here, but Van Greene, Morton farm implement dealer, flew to Lubbock in his private plane to obtain additional serum in case it was needed.

Contract For Paving Lamb County Roads To Be Let Aug.

25 Miles Of Pavement To Be Included

To Cover Several Farm To Market County Roads

Bids have been called for, and will be opened Wednesday, August 16, for the letting of the contract on the paving of 25 miles of roads in Lamb County.

This project will include the road from Speers Gitz to Fieldton; from Fieldton south to Farm-To-Market Road 54; from Otton south to Hart Camp; and from Hart Camp east to the Hale county line.

All bids to be considered will have to be in the hands of the State Highway Department by August 15.

It is understood that the contractor will use local common labor if available, but that they will bring their skilled labor with them.

Almost 40 Families Move Into Hereford

Magnolia Oil corporation is moving almost 40 new families into the Hereford area, according to Ward Ware, Hereford business man.

Magnolia is expected to begin oil explorations within a 200-mile radius of Hereford and to be occupied there during three or four years.

Mrs. Ann Poling, 609 Delaware St., Indianapolis, Indiana, who was suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Iron, and Nicotin, smiles as she pours herself another cup of coffee. Mrs. Poling says life lately is like it used to be years ago. "That is, of course, since I've been taking HADACOL." She can't get over what a difference HADACOL has made in her outlook on life.

Mrs. Poling says, "Three months ago a good friend of mine told me about HADACOL—she knew how much stomach distress I have had. Any type of food that was fried or that had acid in it I just couldn't eat. It affected my sleep, too. In fact, I couldn't have been in a worse condition. When I ate what I wanted to I felt miserable and when I didn't eat these things I didn't have a good diet and still felt bad. Then when I started taking HADACOL, I feel better immediately. I've got a bottle in the house now—and will continue to keep HADACOL from now on. I have told many folks about HADACOL—and they all thank me for telling them about HADACOL. They all have gotten wonderful results from HADACOL like I have. Now I eat anything I want and get a good night's sleep. I can't praise HADACOL enough."

HADACOL Can Help You, Too! It has helped thousands of others whose systems lacked Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Iron and Nicotin. Yes, even hundreds of doctors have recommended HADACOL to their patients. The HADACOL formula is so effective for stomach distress, nervousness, insomnia, constipation, aches and pains of, neuritis, and a general run-down condition caused by such deficiencies.

Make Up Your Mind... to give HADACOL a chance to help you, as it has helped countless thousands of others. Remember, there are no substitutes for HADACOL. Always insist on the genuine HADACOL. No risk involved. Buy a bottle of HADACOL, either the trial size, $1.25, or the large family or hospital size, $3.50, and if HADACOL does not help you your money will be refunded.

JUNK CAR NO. 44 CRACKS TRACK RECORD THURSDAY

Junk Car No. 44, owned by Fulton Radiator Shop and driven by Pat Jenkins, covered the race in 21.9 and smashed the Littlefield track record of 22.5 Thursday night, August 10.

No. 44 won both the trophy race and the main event and carried away the greater part of the prize money, which is a percentage of gate receipts.

In one of the five races Thursday night Bill Brownlow of Hereford, driver of No. 701, missed death by only a few seconds when his car collided with C-47 of Littlefield, spun out, hit an embankment and sheared the car top completely away. When the car struck the embankment the jolt shook Brownlow's safety belt loose, and he jumped clear seconds before the top of the car was shaved away.

Cars from Lubbock, Morton Levelland, Hereford, Plainview, Slaton and Littlefield raced on the quarter mile track, which is located three miles from Littlefield on the State highway and is lighted with flood lights.

The races, which begin at 8 every Thursday night, include one trophy race, two heats, one Australian pursuit and one 25-lap main event. Cars winning first and second places are awarded a prize consisting of a percentage of the "take" at the gate.

Bill Thompson, who commanages the races with Vernon Foreman of Antox, said junk cars of every make, model, year and uncommon description are eligible for the contests.

Thompson and Foreman reminded Lamb County fans that it is unnecessary to bring cold drinks or sandwiches with them, since a hot dog stand is on hand to provide these essentials for those attending any sports event.

Mrs. P. W. Waller, patient of Baylor Hospital, Dallas, is reported to be somewhat improved. Mr. Walker and their daughter, Mrs. Wilson, has been remaining in Dallas with Mrs. Walker. Mr. Walker was home a couple of days, but has returned.

Sees Texas First Says M. Y. Fields

Mr. and Mrs. M. Y. Fields and daughter returned to Littlefield this week, after having made a two-week vacation trip to almost all the large cities of Texas. The Fields, who spent their vacation seeing the Lone Star State, visited in the historic Alamo at San Antonio, inspected the State capital at Austin and saw other points of interest in San Antonio, Austin and Ft. Worth.

Carrol Hirst Polio Victim

Carrol Hirst, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hirst of Polks and nephew of the late E. B. Brown of Littlefield, is in a Texas hospital this week undergoing a long rest for polio.

Mrs. Hirst said her son was born in 1937. He was first noticed in a very early stage of the disease when he was 10 months old. He has been in the hospital since that time.

Lamb County Fair—

(Continued From Page 1) sees it or takes part in it. Visitors may take their choice, just standing on the sidelines watching or they may dance to their hearts' content," Ross said. Arrangements are being made for square dance music and for special exhibition dances.

It was decided that arrangements for the parade would be turned over to the Lamb County Sheriff's posse. A total of $100 in crisp U. S. Treasury bills will be presented to the four organizations which sponsor the four best floats in the parade, which will begin at 2 p. m. Friday and march through Littlefield.

A move was suggested that schools be asked to dismiss for one day during the fair — possibly on the day of the parade — so that Lamb County youngsters could join in the fun. The day of dismissal would depend on the decisions of superintendents and their schedules over the county.

Manell Hall was named to arrange for the sale of concessions at the fair.

A free-for-all slugging match between several negroes is slated to be one of the most entertaining events during the entire three days. Buck Ross, who suggested the contest, said the fighters would be provided with boxing gloves and released simultaneously in the ring, and that the last man standing would win a cash prize.

A committee was named to investigate the need of additional buildings on the Fair Grounds and scheduled a meeting Monday to arrange for work on the project.

Those who attended the meeting Friday night included Peterman, Ross, A. C. Chesher, David Eaton, Judge Otha F. Dent, J. T. Elms, Chamber of Commerce manager Bob Crowell, Nelson Naylor, Jack Yarbrough and Archie Brown.

Ott Eudy Passes Away Thursday

Ott Eudy, 72, passed away at the South Plains Cooperative hospital Thursday, at about 9 p. m., as a result of a kidney ailment, following an illness of over four months, during most of which he was a patient of the hospital.

Mr. Eudy had been making his home with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Roberts of 8 miles south and 4 miles west of Littlefield.

Burial in Heaton The remains were carried overland by the Hammons Funeral Home to Heaton, Oklahoma, and burial took place in the Heaton Cemetery.

Survivors include two sons, Frank Eudy of Dallas, Bill Eudy of near Levelland; and three daughters, Mrs. A. B. Roberts of 8 miles south and 4 miles west of Littlefield; Mrs. E. P. Bennett of Littlefield and Mrs. Buford Clark of Ardmore, Okla.

Everybody's Dream—

Waterloo Undoubtedly one of the most interesting phases of the journey was the family's visit to the battleground of Waterloo. In the monumental building there they saw the mammoth painting of the battle in which Napoleon's star of genius reached its zenith, tumbled and changed the fate of humanity. Still intact, still sunken was the trench-like Obain-Braine (Allend road, which became the awful grave of the glorious French Army (Napoleon unwittingly ordered his gleaming cuirassiers, infantry and artillery to advance against the English. They did so and tumbled, line after line, wave after wave, over the steep decline of the sunken road, crushing one another as they fell.

The Littlefield party passed near the spot where the gallant French officer, Cambronne, stood with his handful of men, waiting to die, and yelled "Merde!" in reply to an English demand for surrender.

Wooden Shoes

It was in Belgium that the Cheshers first saw people wearing wooden shoes. They saw many more, of course, when they went into Holland. The family stayed at a small but the beautiful resort town of Scheveningen on the coast of the North Sea.

Regular Scheveningen as their headquarters, they went out into Holland, visiting Rotterdam, Amsterdam and The Hague. Although the party saw many Dutch windmills, tulips were out of season. Billy June said one of the most interesting sights in Holland was the point where the Germans under Hitler opened the dikes in an effort to destroy the land. It is now the most fertile land in the country, she added.

Holland has produced more artists than any other nation — large or small — on earth. At the huge art gallery, Rembrandtplein, in Amsterdam the Cheshers saw original works of Rembrandt, Van Gogh, Van Meer and the other Dutch "greats."

From Scheveningen the party journeyed into Germany, making their first stop at Wiesbaden, where they visited the huge casino which had been converted into a recreation center for American soldiers. Another resort town, Baden-Baden, visited by the family, is famous over the world for its porcelain factory and healthful waters and springs.

See Passion Play Another highlight of the trip was the visit to Oberammergau, where the party watched the Passion Play, described as one of the most inspiring spectacles in the world.

In Frankfurt, Germany, they paid a visit to the headquarters of American Zone Occupation forces. They considered a trip to Berlin, but decided against it when they learned that it was necessary to secure a red-tape-lined permit from high authorities.

From Germany the family crossed Austria and made their way to Lucerne, Switzerland. At Lucerne they stayed in a hotel which presented a view of beautiful Lake Lucerne, or "Lac des Quatre Cantons", which is nestled between great limestone mountains. While in Switzerland the Cheshers made trips up into the Alps, even going so far as to enter a glacier, which Billy June described as "all full of beautiful blue ice and kinda scary."

Communism Falling In Italy they visited Villa Deste on Lake Como, where Benito Mussolini was caught and later hanged by the heels. Incidentally, the Cheshers reported Italians consider Mussolini one of the greatest leaders Italy has had since the fall of the Roman Empire. The popularity of Communism, they said, seems to be definitely declining.

In Venice the group from Littlefield saw the home once occupied by the poet, Lord Byron, and the dungeon in which he stayed when he wrote "The Prisoner of Chillon."

They visited Florence, next, where the main attractions were in the art galleries. In Rome they explored the ancient ruins of the Roman Empire — the Colosseum, Forum and the Vatican city. The Swiss guards in the Vatican were described as magnificent.

The next stop was Nice, France, where gasoline sold for 80 cents per gallon and Fiat cars drove along on the "wrong side of the street." The group saw the villa of Ollie and Willie, the Duke and Duchess of Windsor on the Riviera.

See Latin Quarter

Paris, said Billy June, stands out above everything else on the trip. The group from Littlefield saw "everything" there, including the sidewalk cafes, the Arc d'Triomphe, the Eiffel Tower, the Palace of Versailles, Cathedral of Notre Dame and the Latin Quarter. On a tour of the Latin Quarter the Cheshers had a chance to interview students from almost every nation in the world.

When questioned about the men in France, Billy June replied they seemed "very handsome and charming."

During a heavy rain at midnight at Cherbourg, France, the group went on board the R. M. S. Queen Mary and began the trip home.

A Dream

The Queen Mary, which stands second only to her sister ship the Queen Elizabeth, as far as speed is concerned, made the trip to New York in five days. On the way, Mr. Chesher made arrangements for a tour of the engine room and conducted his family down into the bowels of the greatest ship ever built. He saw the gigantic machinery necessary to move the ship. When they had finished their tour, Billy June said that it was all very interesting. That's what it is for us, too.
