

March of Dimes Needs Stressed In Message

An appeal from national headquarters of the March of Dimes Campaign to send immediately half the funds collected in the 1951 campaign was received in Littlefield Friday by G. M. Shaw, campaign chairman for Lamb County.

The telegram cited the urgent needs for funds by the national organization to carry on the fight against infantile paralysis. The national treasury was sadly depleted by the unparalleled drain in the 1950 epidemic, which was particularly acute in Texas.

Half the money collected in the March of Dimes campaign remains in the local community where raised and half goes to the national organization, Mr. Shaw said.

The county now is completely organized with chairman for each community, Mr. Shaw said following a circuit of the county Thursday. The community chairmen:

Pleasant Valley — Mrs. Oscar Allison; Springlake — Mrs. Herman Haberer; Sudan — Mrs. Edgar Chance; Olton — Mrs. C. S. Silcott and Pink Lawson; Amberst — Mrs. Dave Eaton.

In Littlefield, all civic and social clubs are working directly with Mr. Shaw in conducting the campaign.

Through three radio programs over KVOW by Mrs. Ed Packwood, $82 was raised for the fund through song dedications, Mr. Shaw said.

The chairman was unable to give an estimate on money raised to date in the county but said in Littlefield alone probably more than $1000 had been given in the first week. The goal of the campaign here, which ends Jan. 31, is $10,000 for the county.

The chairman will leave Sunday for Kerrville to spend a week. In his absence, J. B. McShan will serve in his stead, he said Friday.

Washington — (AP)—The third trek of Texas business and civic leaders to Washington in a decade has started in quest of industrial and commercial expansion for their state.

The first one started just before the advent of World War II. The larger cities were in first, some even assigning full-time representatives here to proclaim the advantages of their areas for federal installations.

Soon delegations were coming from towns not even large enough to maintain a chamber of commerce. And not long afterward army camps air bases, shipbuilding yards and plane factories sprang up where cotton grew or cattle grazed.

These installations meant payrolls for the men who built them and the men and women who worked in them, and those dollars filtered down to the grocer, the barber and the church collection plate.

After Germany and Japan surrendered, disposal of government surplus property brought these same business and civic leaders back to Washington. They frequently bought up for a few cents on the dollar, or for the nominal price of $1 if public interest was concerned, installations that originally had cost them and other taxpayers millions of dollars.

Then came the Korean war, and with it the third influx of alert Texans. Among those here for conferences the past week were: Former Mayor Hugh Ramsey of Harlingen, teaming up with Rep. Lloyd Benison, Jr., of McAllen, in

*New Buick Special Is Nation's Newest Car

STYLE-LEADER and pace-maker of the 1951 Buick line is this four-door six-passenger Special, or Series 40, sedan. Representative of the entire Special Series which is completely new this year from stem to stern, this car has a new chassis, a new body, new front end, new sweepover molding, new trim, and new fender and hood ornaments. Its re-styled fender lines flow backward through the doors in a graceful curve which is paralleled and accentuated by the brilliant sweepover which runs the length of the car. The unique Buick front end, entirely re-designed for 1951, is more distinctive than ever. For the first time, Buick's powerful F-303 engine is offered in the Special Series, delivering 128 horsepower with Dynaflow Drive, and 128 horsepower with Synchro-Mesh transmission. Wheelbase of this model is 121 1/2 inches.

Leo R. Hewitt Motor Company to Display New '51 Buick Saturday

The Leo R. Hewitt Motor Company will have on display Saturday, January 20, the new 1951 Buick automobile.

The Buick Company are introducing their new 1951 line of cars highlighted by an improved special with new body and new engine.

The new line contains three series of cars, ranging from the low-priced Special up through the Super to the luxury models in the Roadmaster. They will go on display in all dealer showrooms Saturday, January 20.

Important advances in styling features coupled with major chassis and body improvements combine to make the 1951 Buick the greatest value in our history," Ivan L. Wilson, Buick General Manager, said.

There are eight models in the Special Series, six in the Super and four in the Roadmaster.

Completely New Throughout
The 1951 Special is completely new throughout. It has a new body, a new chassis and is powered with the F-303 Fireball engine introduced in the Super last year. This engine develops 128 brake horsepower with Dynaflow and 128 with Synchro-Mesh transmission.

The rear fenders are integral with the rear quarter panel, eliminating the "dents" line which comes in both standard and deluxe trim, is mounted on a 11 1/2 inch wheelbase and has an overall length of 164 1/2 inches.

The Riviera "hardtop" convertible, which Buick pioneered in 1949 to start a new trend in automobile styling, has been extended to the Special, giving Buick three of these models for the 1951 market.

2 And 4 Door Models
The Riviera styling available in the four-door sedans in the Roadmaster and Super series last year, also has been extended to both two- and four-door models in the Special. Also available in the Buick line for the first time since the war are low-priced convertible and a three-passenger coupe in the Special series.

The entire line has been restyled and boasts many new features in design, engineering and interior trim.

Many important changes have been made in the Roadmaster, Buick's top model in the luxury class. A chrome rocker panel molding extending all the way along the bottom from the front fender to the gravel shield, adds to the exterior beauty and offers better protection from stones and dirt. The four fender ornaments on the Roadmaster are of different design than those on the other series, lending even more distinction to the car itself. There is a wide variety of interior trims offered in this series, including two-tone effects at extra cost, for those who demand the utmost in luxury.

Brakes More Powerful
New and more powerful brakes developed from those used in tanks built by Buick during the war are featured on the Roadmaster. The lining of these brakes is divided into segments, cemented to the drum, instead of being in one continuous piece riveted to the drum. Tests show that the segmented lining gives more positive action, longer wear and keeps cleaner and cooler.

Many changes also have been made in the Super, lending added beauty and luxury to this series.

The most significant change in appearance in the entire line is in the new bumper-grille combination which proved so popular in the 1950 Buick. The grille, containing 25 bars of tough, stamped steel, is located behind the bumper. The bumper itself is the wrap-around type, composed of a stamped steel bar reinforced by two larger bumper "bombs" and two extra grille guards. The grille is bolted to the bumper and flexes with it, reducing the possibility of damage.

Other new features include a

Lamb County Hospital Reopens; Dr. Watt of Dallas in Charge

Dr. Donald Watt, Osteopathic Physician and Surgeon, formerly of Dallas, has announced the re-opening of the Lamb County Memorial Hospital, formerly known as the Lamb County Memorial Hospital, which is ready to receive and care for patients.

According to Dr. Watt, this institution will be operated as a clinic and hospital.

Dr. Watt was graduated in 1927 from the College of Osteopathic Physicians, Philadelphia, Pa., and has taken considerable special work in Cancer, and has expert qualifications in the field of X-ray. He was licensed to practice medicine and surgery in the State of Texas, having passed the required examinations in 1943.

Dr. Watt operated his own hospital in the State of Maine, and was associated with two hospitals at Dallas.

It is planned to have several lecturers on the staff of the Lamb County Hospital.

Dr. Watt is a 1942 Degree Mason, also a member of the Commandery.

new hood ornament and emblem, new fender ornaments, and sweepover molding, which enhances the beauty of the long-flooding fenders. The sweepover molding, first introduced on the Roadmaster is available on all series.

Four Power Ratings
There are four horsepower ratings in the 1951 line.

All cars in the Special and Super series are powered with the F-303 engine which develops 128 horsepower with Dynaflow. With synchro-mesh transmission the horsepower output with synchro-mesh is 124. The horsepower rating of the Roadmaster remains the same, 152 at 3600 rpm.

Dynaflow, which has been improved for 1951, continues as standard equipment on the Roadmaster and optional on all other series. More than 425,000 Dynaflow transmissions were built in 1950. Thus for the second consecutive year Buick equipped more cars with a fully automatic transmission than any other manufacturer.

There are 18 body types in the 1951 line. Most of them are of the four-back design which gained such widespread popularity last year. Other new features include a ped around type, composed of a cars are six-passenger except one, the three-passenger coupe.

When you're buying acorn squash choose the green-colored ones; the yellow-colored squash of this type are likely to be stringy. Acorn squash are good baked and served as is or removed from the skin and mashed with butter or margarine or drippings and salt and pepper; and a little brown sugar too, if you like, as seasoning.

Amherst and Anton Boys Win In First Round of Tournament

Amherst and Anton High school boys teams and Sudan and Spade girls teams advanced to the semi-final round in the Anton High School Invitation Basketball tournament that opened Thursday.

Amherst topped Hale Center, 47-41; Anton walloped Witharral, 46-25; Sudan girls trimmed Hale Center, 39-33; and Spade edged Littlefield, 30-26.

A near capacity crowd jammed its way into Anton's new gym to watch a full evening of basketball and was well rewarded with four close games.

Friday's games paired Spade and Shallowater and Sudan and Littlefield in the boys bracket, along with Anton and Shallowater and Amherst and Witharral in the girls bracket.

SUDAN GIRLS WIN

Amherst had its hands full taming Hale Center, but put on a drive that netted it a six-point victory. Baird, with 16 points, and Nuthall, with 12, paced the winners. Gerry Johnson had 10 and Bob Johnson 11 for the losers.

Anton toyed with Witharral in moving up the ladder Ken Sud-duth hit 16 points followed by Bob Watson's 11 for the winners. Gage had nine and Westmoreland, seven, for the losers.

Sudan's girls got the tournament under way with a close game against Hale Center. McWhorter of Sudan and Menyard of Hale Center tied for scoring honors with 16 points each. Williams of Sudan had 14 and Burgess of Hale Center had 13.

GIRLS GAME CLOSE

The Spade-Littlefield game was close all the way with the Spade team pulling out a tight four-point win. Inklebarger of Spade and Clements of Littlefield each had 12 points. Owens of Littlefield had 11 and Sladek of Spade had eight.

Grid Coaches Doubt Wholesale Switch From 'T' Offense to Wing Formations

BY WILBUR MARTIN ASSOCIATED PRESS STAFF

Will there be a wholesale switch from the "T" formation to single and double wing next football season?

Most coaches say there won't. Most say there will be a gradual mixing of these formations, but that the "T" has too many fine features to discard.

"It'll depend mostly on the material," said George "Red" Forehand, coach of Brackenridge school in San Antonio.

Forehand, like most other coaches in Texas, was a single and double wing supporter. But he switched to the "T" when he figured his material fitted it better.

If a coach had a quarterback like Larry Isbell of Baylor, there wouldn't be any doubt as to the formation he would use. It would be the "T".

It takes a slick quarterback to make this formation work. Either running the straight "T" or the split "T" or the wing "T".

"You need powder for the single and double wing formations. Hard driving, solid backs who can take a beating. You get it when you send your halfbacks charging through the line time and again.

But there's no doubt that the popularity of the "T" has waned and there's no doubt that the single and double wing formations are going to be fore in evidence next season.

And don't be surprised if some of this year's linemen turn up as backs next year.

As a matter of fact, there are at least two coaches who are figuring on converting guards into running halfbacks next season. They're compact, solid and the mentors figure can hit a line like

SPORTS

Basketeers Become 'Team' in Tourney Schedule

The Sudan girls have amassed a record almost as impressive. While they have lost about four games, they have played more than the boys.

Last week the Sudan girls were runners-up at Abernathy in the girls' division of the tourney.

Francis Smith is coach of the boys and Johnny Cardinal coaches the girls' quintet.

Misses Quincey Carraway and Mecca Grant, students of T. S. C. W., and Billy Jim Evans and Johnny Merle Evans, students of North Texas State, spent the past week end with their respective parents here.

Hale Center Cage Tourney Date Set

Boys and girls teams from eight schools have accepted invitations to enter Hale Center High school's annual basketball tournament, Jan. 25-27. Coach Ralph Huntington announces.

Participating in the three-day meet will be teams from Dimmitt, Happy, Anton, Petersburg, Kress, Cotton Center, Hart and Hale Center.

Cotton Center won the championship of the girls' division in last year's tournament, with the state championship girls finishing in second place. Farwell, which is not entered in the tournament this year, won the boys' division title.

Cotton Center and Dimmitt are heavily favored in the girls' division of this year's meet.

Anton Loses Twin Bill to Whiteface

Whiteface took two games from Anton at home Friday Jan. 12 capturing the girls contest, 40-16, and taking the boys scrap, 44-28.

Peggy Peters' 24 points sparked Whiteface to the girls victory. Glennis Bagley had 12 points, and Wanda Wylie had four for the winners. Reep was Anton's top scorer with nine points.

In the boys tilt, Whiteface held a 19-15 halftime lead, and was only a few points ahead of the Bulldogs until the fourth period. Then the hometown crew pulled away.

Clifton Bizzell's 13 points took high-point honors for Whiteface. Teammate Wendell Walker had eight counters, and Watson of Anton had 10 points.
