Clean Washed Hosiery Should Be Deposited With Local Merchants

According to Miss Beatrice McCurdy, County Chairman of Hosiery Salvage Committee, the drive for the collection of worn-out hosiery began nationally on Monday morning, November 16, 1942. "Each woman should feel it her responsibility to deposit her hose in the container set up by local merchants for that purpose and designated as 'Hosiery Collection Depot,'" said Miss McCurdy.

All kinds are needed:

- All silk.
- All nylon.
- Mixture of silk and nylon.
- Mixture of silk and rayon.

Crop Insurance Paying Off

All-risk cotton crop insurance is paying off for some Texas cotton farmers this year.

Already, approximately 4,636,604 pounds of indemnity cotton have been claimed on 1,846 insurance contracts. Major causes for losses in Texas this year are hail, flood and insects.

According to Donald L. Cotran, state insurance supervisor, yields and rates under the 1943 program have been completed for all Texas counties and will be available to producers within a few weeks, however, signing of applications will not get underway in many counties until after January 1, 1943.

Under the 1943 program individual contracts will be signed in counties under the supervision of local AAA committees, he explained.

Offered for the first time in 1942 Texas farmers led the nation in Federal all-risk cotton crop insurance when 54,252 units were guaranteed $38,306 bales on 1,488,690 acres.

Either 50 or 75 per cent of the average cotton yield may be insured against all unavoidable hazards.

Short Period Until Dec. 1 Stated As Insufficient Time

State Officials Put Pressure On Congress Wednesday

Five Texas state officials in Austin telegraphed members of Congress Wednesday, urging postponement of gasoline rationing, scheduled to begin December 1, for at least 90 days.

The five members of the state government transportation committee said:

"We find compliance with the regulations in the brief period until December first is impossible since local boards report they cannot process the various forms and applications and issue coupon books in the remaining nine days after registration is completed, two of which are Sundays.

The message was addressed to Rep. Wright Patman of Texas, chairman of the Texas delegation.

The telegram follows: "We, as members of the Texas government transportation committee, will greatly appreciate it if you and all others of the Texas delegation in Congress will give emphatic support to the resolutions now before the House to postpone gasoline rationing, for at least 90 days.

"We are aware that you and your colleagues realize fully that conditions in Texas are vastly different than in small eastern states." (Continued on Back Page)

Registration For Gasoline Rationing Starts, Fri. And Sat.

Schools Close So That Faculty Members May Carry Out Program

F. A. Hemphill announced today that Littlefield schools will be closed Thursday and Friday in order that the members of the faculty might carry out the registration for gasoline rationing.

In order to facilitate this work, faculty members will take part in the registration program, which will take place in the High School building.

Hemphill announced that registration will take place from 8 a. m. until 6 p. m. Thursday and Friday; and on Saturday from 8 a. m. until 8:30 p. m. He stated that facilities for registration would be available late Saturday because of the fact that so many car owners are employed until noon, and the late hour of registration open Saturday would assist them in carrying out the registration of their cars.

Instructions are being distributed to homes through the pupils represented in the schools, which instructions set out the following:

Below is what you MUST do before you appear to register reported Saturday by the County rationing officials.

FIRST. Obtain an application (OPA form R-534, part A) from any filling station or tire inflation station; fill it out; be sure to list serial numbers of the five allowed for each vehicle, as well as those of any excess tires in your possession. If, however, you have more than five tires for any one vehicle these must be turned in before you can register.

SECOND. Have your this year's registration receipt showing that your vehicle is licensed in your name.

THIRD. Have your certificate of title or your application therefor. (Continued on Back Page)

Dealers To Get Ready For Consumer Sales Of Tires

Under the new regulations which are part of the Government's rubber conservation program dealers are now increasing their stocks of passenger car tires so as to be ready to make consumer sales when the new mileage rationing program becomes effective December 1st, Lamb County War Price and Rationing Board have announced.

Dealers may acquire stocks of new tires made of reclaimed rubber as well as recapped and used tires for sale to motorists who receive rationing certificates from the local War Price and Rationing Board.

Rationing of these tires is a part of the Government's plan to keep the nation's passenger car rolling on essential mileage.

Forms on which dealers may apply for their allotments are now available at the Littlefield War

Price Rationing Board office, in City Hall.

Many dealers do not now have adequate stocks of tires of this kind which are defined as Grade III tires in the rationing regulations. Before this change in the regulations, there was no way for them to increase the size of their inventory by purchases from resellers because for every tire they bought they had to turn over the replenishment portion of a rationing certificate which had been taken in from a purchaser.

The new tires, made of reclaimed rubber, are now in production for the rationing program. Under the plan to get these Grade III tires into dealers' stocks only establishments which have filed September 30 inventory reports on OPA Form R-17 in compliance with the

Will History Repeat Itself?

"History repeats itself" has become a truism in the experience of mankind. In our own nation's history, national experiences seem to come to life again and again as the years click along. Especially is this true of political history.

America became a leading participant in World War No. 1 during the last two years of that conflict. Today finds our nation again engulfed in a World War after the conflict had been raging in Europe for some time. Germany was our chief antagonist in 1917-18. A Hitlerized Germany declared war on the United States in 1941 before the echo of the Jap guns at Pearl Harbor had died away.

A great president of the United States, Woodrow Wilson, led the nation in World War No. 1 as it battled to victory. Wilson led the world as plans were outlined at the peace conference to "make the world safe for democracy." He was recognized as the greatest figure in the world as he strove with other Allied leaders to outlaw wars and establish peace for all mankind.

Wilson's plan, embodied in the provisions of the League of Nations, was adopted by several other nations but was rejected by his own. "A little group of willful men" in and outside the United States Senate fought it with criticisms and crippling amendments. Because of a political landslide which took away the President's majority in Congress, the document finally passed by the Senate so emasculated the peace plan that the Chief Executive and his cabinet refused to accept it. In an attempt to carry the issue to the people, the health of Woodrow Wilson broke down and in time he was in his grave.

The party that came into power after World War No. 1 continued to rule under three presidents. A modified plan brought forward by President Harding got nowhere. Meantime the League of Nations, minus the support of the United States, proved itself ineffectual in world affairs.

In 1929, less than a year after President Hoover took office, ten years after the peace conference, the worst depression this nation ever experienced broke over the country. By 1932, affairs had reached a desperate stage. Banks followed each other into bankruptcy, business firms were failing everywhere, suicides were mounting, the unemployed tramped the streets and roads by the millions, farmers and stockmen were getting almost nothing for their products, and parts of the country even faced revolution.

In that dark hour, Franklin D. Roosevelt came to power. Within a few hours after his inauguration steps were taken to bring order out of chaos. Bank failures became negligible, business revived, hope came back to the ordinary citizen. Conditions had so improved by 1936 that the Roosevelt ticket carried every state but two. The election of 1940 saw another endorsement of Roosevelt, in spite of the third term issue.

World War No. 2 broke on America in December 1941, has grown in intensity to this day. Isolationists, pacifists and obstructionists had prevented preparedness to such an extent that our nation could not immediately take the offensive. An all-out war effort has been getting underway for almost a year. Many proposals for speeding up the effort have encountered opposition in Congress and elsewhere. Reverses on the war fronts have been experienced by United States troops for the first time, but now the light begins to gleam through the darkness and we well know that American arms fighting with her allies will in the end be victorious over the Axis powers.

Opposition to the administration crystallized during the weeks immediately preceding the general election and the voters reduced the Roosevelt majority in Congress. Absolute agreement cannot be expected in a democracy such as we live in; ordinarily that is not to be desired. But opposition may be extended too far and hamper the very nation's safety, especially during a crisis such as war.

Will this kind of opposition mount higher and higher when the new Congress convenes in January? Will this nation lose the fruits of victory following this terrible World War 2 as did the leadership under President Wilson less than a generation ago? Will partisan opposition be pushed forward under the guise of such high-sounding phrases as "loyal opposition," etc? Will another depression follow on the heels of a peace to come? Will there be a THIRD WORLD WAR as the result of disunity? Will the next quarter of a century repeat the record of the last one? —Kerrville Times.

Over an item concerning the recovery by police of a stolen saxophone, the Haverill (Mass.) Gazette writes, "Law enforcement gets worse and worse."—Detroit News.

Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Willkie differ on pronunciation of the word reservoir. But neither one of 'em calls it rezzyvov, which a lot of folks seem to think is correct.

The proposed nationwide registration of women will bring out all the information except their ages.

town after November 22 will receive the greatest portion of business that has heretofore been migrating to the next largest town. The rural trade within a five to ten mile radius can also be expected by every small town community.

This condition offers to the business people of the small community not only an opportunity but a challenge. As long as the tire shortage and gasoline rationing exists the people in and nearby the small towns will of necessity do their trading there. This represents the opportunity for the home town merchants. To make trading at home inviting, desirable and pleasant is the challenge offered to home town merchants. The rubber shortage and gasoline rationing will end. By then the habit of trading at home need not end if the merchants show the spirit of aggressiveness and the desire to serve that will make trading at home preferable to trading away from home.

Throughout the nation the home town merchants are modernizing their places of business making them more attractive and displaying greater ingenuity in store arrangement.

Mr. Buster Owens, manager of Wm. Cameron & Company, points out that for a very reasonable expenditure, 75 per cent of the business places in small towns can be made bright and cheerful as well as convenient and inviting. Notwithstanding the various priorities and freeze orders on critical materials, satisfactory modernization work can be accomplished.

The wide-awake small town business man is the one who will be found consulting the local building materials dealer who can offer a "Complete Building Service" in the commercial modernization field and who is discussing the consistent and general use of advertising space in his home town paper.

The old saying, "It's an ill wind that blows no good," is certainly applicable in the case of gasoline rationing as it affects the small town. Those merchants who have the foresight and aggressiveness will use the wind to blow people into their stores.

SHOULD REPORT CHANGE OF NAME TO SOCIAL SECURITY

In commenting on the heavy increase in the number of marriages within the last year, John D. Palmer, manager of the Lubbock Social Security Board field office, said that persons who have been issued social security account numbers and have changed their names through marriage should notify the Social Security Board.

"It is essential that when a woman marries and changes her name she notify the Board accordingly in order that we may make our records conform" Palmer stated. "It thus prevents confusion and costly errors in recording her wages that could result if her employer reported her wages under her married name while the Board's records still showed her maiden name."

Any individual may apply at the Social Security Board office in Lubbock for a "Change in records" form, he added, they should bring their account number cards with them. It is then possible to issue a new card immediately, showing the changed name under the same number. Women who apply for "Change in records" by mail should enclose the original card until the new card is received. Palmer also emphasized that employer should likewise be informed of the change so that the card as shown on the corrected account number card.

The reporting of such corrections and changes is necessary in order that the Social Security Board may maintain accurate records all times to assure prompt payment of old-age survivors insurance claims, Palmer said, who stated that there is no charge for the corrections of such records.

Make Trading At Home Inviting

Cycles of prosperity have come to our nation not in a stated frequency of years but largely because of some industrial evolution.

The railroad, electric light, telephone, automobile, radio, automatic refrigerator, each was the beginning of an era of new and unprecedented industrial activity in the nation. Each produced a measure of the abundant life and each, while providing conveniences, comforts and pleasures, brought about increased employment and consequently enlarged buying power.

With each of these advancements in our mode of living there were the usual and unpreventable lists of casualties. The kerosene business, the manufacturers of kerosene lamps and wicks, many telegraphers, the harness makers, the blacksmiths, the buggy makers, the vaudeville entertainers, the ice man, and many others related to these lists of businesses were victims of progress.

With the acquisition of an automobile for each four families in the United States came the need for, and realization of proper highways. The victims of the concrete ribbons that criss-cross our nation were the small towns. The gloomiest prophets told us during the middle 20's that the small town would almost entirely disappear during the coming decade. Happily, these prophets of gloom were not entirely right but it can hardly be denied that their prognostications were at least 50 per cent correct. The small town merchants, and by small town is meant any town within a radius of 100 miles of a bigger town, have seen their business dwindle to the point where it was almost impossible to keep the doors open. The casualty rate among the small town business men has been tremendously large.

To close observers of business practices as well as to outstanding economists there is another cycle of business activity now in its embryo stage. This is the return of the small town to a position of greater prominence in the business field. This new era will be brought about by the rubber and gasoline situation that exists in America today. Accompanying this revival of the small town are to be found numerous casualties just as fell victims to the cycles mentioned above. The small

Pfc. Pryor Hammons of the U.S. Marine, Paratroop Division, has recently been graduated from Camp Gillespie, Parachute Training Base, at Santee, near San Diego, and transferred to Camp Elliott, 15 miles from San Diego.

Before receiving his certificate, Pryor, Jr., had to make six day jumps from an airplane and one night jump. He was then assigned to Camp Elliott for advanced training.

The certificate awarded Pfc. Hammons on his graduation was as follows:

"This is to certify that Private First Class Pryor Hammons, Jr., U.S.M.C.R., has satisfactorily completed the prescribed course in parachute packing, ground training and jumping from a plane in flight. He is, therefore, entitled to be rated from this date, Nov. 2, 1942, as a qualified parachutist in the U. S. Marine Corps.

When Pryor, Jr., left Littlefield he weighed 170 pounds. He now weighs 182 pounds.

At the time that President Roosevelt made a tour and inspection of the U. S. Army troops, Pryor, Jr.'s, platoon was inspected by the President, as was also that complete division. Pryor, Jr., was also in the News of the Day—a reel that was taken of the Marines the day before President Roosevelt arrived.

Mrs. J. H. Carl received a letter from her husband, Monday last, which was postmarked November 16, stating he was getting along fine, and never felt better in his life. He is in the Navy, somewhere in the South Pacific, and assigned to the U.S.S. Chester.

Cpl. Morris Replin, who has been stationed at Camp McQuaide, Calif., has been transferred to Chicago, where he is attending radio school. He has been in Chicago for the past two weeks.

Cadet Sam Blessing was recently transferred to the advanced flying school in Waco, where he will receive his "wings." He had been in training in the Army Air Corps at Corsicana. He is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Blessing.

Cloise Knowles, who enlisted in the U. S. Navy last week, was believed to be enroute to the United Naval Training Station at Great Lakes, Ill., for boot camp, his sister, Miss Marie Knowles, reported this week. Mrs. Knowles is employed in Lubbock. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Knowles of near Littlefield, and formerly was employed by a food store here.

WITH MEN IN SERVICE

Staff Sgt. E. J. Foust, who is stationed at Salt Lake City, in the Air Corps, arrived in Littlefield Sunday on a 15 day furlough. Mrs. Foust, who makes her home in Roswell, N. M., during her husband's absence, joined him at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Foust.

Sgt. Jo Wingo, who is stationed somewhere in East Texas, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Wingo, of near Littlefield, last week end.

Lieut. Buford Eagan, in the Air Corps stationed at Camp Hulen, Texas, near Palacios, Texas, flew an A. P. 34, Big Twin engine bomber, from camp to Lubbock, arriving there Saturday. He was accompanied by his co-pilot. Accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Eagan of Lubbock he came by car to Littlefield and visited his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Dobbs.

Avery Sullivan, who enlisted in the Navy September last, and has been waiting to be called, left Tuesday for Lubbock where he is taking naval cadet training.

A. B. Taylor, who enlisted on June 1, also reported in Lubbock for cadet training Tuesday.

Pvt. Marshall Allred, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Allred, who is stationed at the Army Air Base, Deming, N. M., recently wrote his wife at Long Beach, Calif., requesting that she have the Leader sent to him, as he said he knew he would enjoy it, that it would be like reading a letter from home. We thank Pvt. Allred, and will be pleased to enter his subscription.

Pat Boone, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Boone of Littlefield, has been assigned to Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, as a shipping clerk, for the reception center. He likes his work and is getting along fine.

Lieut. W. C. Heinen of Camp Bartley, Abilene, and Mrs. Heinen, arrived Wednesday of last week, and visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Heinen, until Sunday, when they left for Albuquerque, and other scenic points in New Mexico. Lieut. Heinen is in the Medical Division stationed at Camp Bartley, Abilene, and was on a furlough.

Pfc. William T. Mauk, formerly in charge of the radio department of the local Western Associate Store, has been transferred from Los Angeles, Calif., to Camp Murphy, Fla., to continue his training in the Signal Corps. Mrs. Mauk and daughter, who were with him for several weeks in California, returned recently to Littlefield where they are making their home.

Werner Birkelbach, recently promoted to staff sergeant, returned after a brief furlough to continue his training in the Glider Training Detachment at Stuttgart, Arkansas, Sunday morning.

Staff Sgt. Elbert Bell, formerly of Littlefield, in the Medical Corps, stationed at Fort Benning, Ga., and Mess Sgt. Rasco Carter, sent the Leader a letter recently for publication, which it is believed will be of much interest to the readers of this newspaper. The letter follows: "We believe you will find a really interesting story in our Army Mess. We think it the most original and unusual kind in the Army. It serves 3000 men an hour!

"The mess hall features an unusual 'Buffet and Smorgasbord Service' and the interior is so remote from other Army mess halls inasmuch as the walls are covered with portraits; canaries sing continuously; goldfish swim to and fro in their huge bowl, and popular music is played during the soldiers' 'chow time.'

"Not only is our hall known for its speed in service, the care and preparation of food—which now affords no waste—and the manner in which the men are handled, but we modestly boast about our special mess hall features.

"We have weekly birthday parties presented to the men whose birthdays fall during the week. Here they sit at a special birthday table and cram themselves full of creamy chocolate cake flooded with candles, while a merry roster of cooks gather 'round them singing 'Happy Birthday.' Community sings go popularly with the men and so we have one each week, where they do full justice to the old-time ballads and present them like they've never been sung before! Every Friday night we have a special supper where we have the best in delicacies and cold drinks. A weekly story hour is also held in our huge mess hall, where a favorite book is read and discussed; and every month the boys slick their hair down for a dance, held in our huge mess hall amid hanging flowers, decorations, music, refreshments, and GIRLS!

"The officers eat right along with the enlisted men claiming that the officers of the 24th General Hospital are fed better here than in the regular officers' mess!

"When friends, wives, and sweet-hearts of our soldiers visit us, they are immediately whisked away to the mess hall, where they are seated at the officers' tables and fed royally (as usual). We always welcome visitors at the 24th Mess Hall because they always come away 'licking their chops,' and asking if they can return again tomorrow. Lt. Clifford E. Clinton, the Californian who became famous through his 'Golden Rule—Pay What You Wish' cafeterias displayed all through California, is the Mess Officer who made these 'mess hall blue-prints' come to life.

"He and the personnel of the 24th General Hospital, figured that perhaps YOU would like to taste the chow, listen to the canaries serenade you, and feast your eyes upon this 1946 'Clintoneria.' This treat comes only once in a lifetime and we are cordially invited to be our guests at some date and eat with us. You only enjoy our food, but put on your bib and grab your it's CHOW TIME AT THE "Cordially yours, Staff Sgt. Elbert Bell, "Mess Sgt. Rasco Huie Redman, former class of the U. S. Navy, stationed at Norfolk, Va., home Tuesday of last week 14-day leave. He is visiting parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. man of the Yellowhouse community.

May Train For Commissions In U. S. Army

General J. Watt Page, State Se- lective Service Director, today urged III-A registrants, desiring to train for commissions in the U. S. Army, to contact their local boards im- mediately for instructions and proper application forms.

State Selective Service Headquar- ters has notified, General Page said, that there are vacancies for regis- trants now classified in III-A for training for commissions in the fol- lowing branches of the service: Anti-Aircraft Artillery, Coast Artil- lery, Cavalry, Chemical Warfare Service, Engineer, Infantry, Field Artillery, Ordnance, Signal, Military Police, Tank Destroyer and Agmor- ed Force.

Such registrants volunteering to try for a commission, General Page emphasized, must be American citi- zens with at least four years high school education. Volunteers under 21 years of age must obtain the written consent of their parents or guardians, he stated.

General Page pointed out that colored registrants who can meet the requirements will be given the same opportunity to make applica- tion for this training.

Riddling Family Return From Calif.

The Leader is in receipt of the following letter from Mrs. Ray Rid- dling, Lubbock. Thinking it will be of much interest to the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Riddling here, the letter is being published:

"Dear Mr. Drake,
"Enclosed find check for the Lamb Co. paper.

"Hope to get it this week as we enjoy reading about the boys who are called to the Army as we know most of them since we have lived in Littlefield 15 years.

"We spent the last seven months in Brawley, Calif., working. Wages were very good but had to come back here to a higher climate on account of our boy's health.

"The Imperial Valley was too low for him. I am working here in Lub- bock at Wilson Cleaners.

"Ray is in Clifton, Ariz., working on a defense job. The climate is warmer there than here.

"Yours truly,
"Mrs. Ray Riddling."

Floyd Coffman, superintendent of the Littlefield Hospital, left Wed- nesday to attend the convention of the West Texas Hospital association which convenes Thursday and Fri- day at Sweetwater.

Navy Recruiter At Littlefield Each Thursday Morning

Branding as false the rumors that voluntary enlistments in the U. S. Navy would soon be discon- tinued, the Navy has instructed its recruiting personnel to accept ap- plications of all physically fit men, 17 to 50, who volunteer.

"The Navy needs more and more men, in all branches of its service, just as quickly as it can enlist them," the notice said, "and they must be volunteers, since the Navy does not draft its men." Navy of- ficials pointed out that more open- ings for petty officer ratings, and more opportunities for special train- ing, were now available than ever before, and urged all eligible men to investigate at the Navy Recruit- ing Station, in the Lubbock Post Office, or contact the traveling re- cruiting when he visits regularly each week in nearly every Plains town.

Navy training schools are run- ning under capacity, and are anx- ious for young men, 17, 18, 19 and 20 years old, to volunteer for special training in a trade of their choice. Especially does the Navy want to train young men as Radio Technicians, airplane mechanics, gunners and as hospital corpsmen, etc.

Many new openings have been made available in the Seabees, or Navy Construction regiments, for men with much or limited experi- ence as cooks, bakers, barbers, me- chanics, engine operators, clerks, storekeepers, carpenters, truck drivers, accountants, electricians, oil field workers, etc. Men applying for ratings in the Seabees should make arrangements to be intervi- ewed in Dallas, with expenses paid, November 17, 18 or 19.

For the convenience of Lamb county men, the traveling recrui- ter will be in Littlefield at the Post Office each Thursday at ap- proximately 9 o'clock a. m. to give full information and take applica- tions.

American women stand shoulder to shoulder with their men in helping to fight this war.

They're serving in the home by preserving the home.

They're ably replacing men called to the Service by taking over their work in hundreds of industries.

They're serving as nurses — and as WAAC's and WAVES.

They're buying War Bonds and Stamps — and they're selling War Bonds and Stamps.

Women everywhere in this country are fighting the Axis — not in the front line of the far-off Solomons — not in U-boat infested lanes of the Atlantic — not in the misty Aleutians — but right here — workers and housewives and volunteers are united in campaigns to promote the sales of War Bonds and Stamps.

Women have more at stake in this war than men have.

First — the lives of their husbands, sons and sweethearts have been laid on the altar of sacrifice.

Second — it is their war because it is a war against the suppression of the weak.

Third — they will lose the great gains in economic, social and religious freedom, for which their sex have been fighting ever since Eve came out of the garden of Eden.

Fourth — the security of the homes and welfare of every child that will be born unto them are at stake.

Women love these four gifts as dearly as they love life itself. It is their nature to fight for the things they love. The hour has struck when they must turn out and fight Hitler with everything they have, including the Kitchen Stove.

Our government is asking for, and must have, a loan of 10 per cent of the earnings of every citizen. This is a pittance to lend ourselves (the government, after all, is ourselves) for the purchase of freedom and justice for all men everywhere. Why does the government need the loan? Because this war is staggeringly expensive. It is fierce and furious. It will have to be fought on all fronts. Liberty is in mortal danger of perishing from the earth and it will perish unless a hundred and thirty million Americans put all they have into this titanic struggle.

Hitler's philosophy of life isn't worth a dime, but we will have to take him and his philosophy unless women ring every doorbell, button-hole every wage-earner and contact every citizen and enlist them all in a fast and furious campaign for four specific purposes:

1. Buy Bonds.
2. Make Bombs.
3. Stamp Hell out of Hitler.
4. Give Democracy a new lease on life and rebuild a wrecked world on freedom and justice for every man, woman and child on this planet, regardless of race, creed or color.

If this is done Hitler and his philosophy of life will be done for.

Women Are Saving On "Little Things" To Buy Bonds

The Women's Division of the War Savings Staff has a recipe to increase the consumption of War Bonds and Stamps by the American people.

With additional bombers, destroyers, tanks and guns as its yield, every woman in the country is being called upon to try this new recipe in her own home every day for the duration. Its main ingredient is the spirit of sacrifice, to which is added a major portion of planning, a dash of imagination, and a cheerful outlook.

The women of America have the courage and determination to make sacrifices . . . to conserve . . . and keep up the home morale!

WOMEN-AT-WAR BUY WAR BONDS

We join the women in the nation in helping to preserve the American home. We know our customers are buying war savings stamps and bonds . . . but we are making an urgent appeal to these customers to get together as one working unit to rally everyone behind the planned effort . . . Women in America are at War . . . Women are urged to sell more War Bonds and Stamps and to buy more War Bonds and Stamps . . . To give our Armed Forces the fighting equipment they need to win — and to save for security after the war.

Besides taking a vital part in the campaign for buying and selling more War Bonds and Stamps . . . the women have the job of keeping up the home morale.

The aim of every beautician is to help the women-at-war on the home front to retain an impregnable beauty front — natural, poised, charming!

When you buy War Bonds — we will appreciate your pledging the bonds to the Beauty Shops of Texas. These bonds will help to purchase Bomber planes for our fighting men.

We urge our customers to help us in our war effort . . . Help us prove to the government that beauty services are essential.

THANKSGIVING

Thanksgiving . . . 1942 . . . will be more than a day of thanksgiving for many blessings and for the joys and privileges of living in a free land . . . Thanksgiving . . . 1942 . . . will be a day dedicated to greater recognition of our American Rights and Our Pledge to Protect Them.

Life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness . . . responding words that for all time for all Americans will aptly sum up our code of living. This, Johnny Doughboy knows, is worth fighting for . . . this, Mother Brown staunchly says, is worth saving and scrimping for War Bonds . . . this, little Jimmy Jones pipingly shouts, is America! Each of us has as his birthright, regardless of color, creed or race, an established set of Rights . . . by law, handed down to him from his forefathers as far back as the first Thanksgiving. And on Thanksgiving . . . 1942 . . . let us celebrate this birthright and resolve to preserve it!

Thanksgiving Day . . . traditional observance of the greatest of feast days since the time of our Pilgrim Fathers. An occasion for national rejoicing throughout American households. Up to now, through days of opulent plenty, we have taken this day of heavily laden festive boards for granted . . . the ritual of browned and crackling turkey, bright, tart, shining cranberry sauce and rich, crusty, delicious pumpkin pie. Not this year . . . we are awakened from our lethargy . . . we are mindful of the proud, humble thanksgiving in our hearts for the food that is before us, for the multitude of blessings still showered upon free America. We sit down to a table with our sons, husbands or daughters in uniform . . . or young stranger in uniform who is much like our own. And just before we will once again make pledge to fight, work, sacrifice . . . do everything in every way to keep us forever . . . Thanksgivng and our American Rights!

We, the citizens of Amherst proudly give special recognition to this Thanksgiving time to the valiant young men of our city and Lamb County who are in the service of their country, and we offer fervant prayer for their early, safe, and happy return to our midst.

This message of Thanksgiving . . . This prayer for the safe return of our valiant men in the service is sponsored by the following Amherst firms and individuals:

Beyond Compare To Be Featured In "The Journey" At Palace This Week End

The headlines on the newspaper is the comparison of the adventure film "The Journey" at the Palace Theatre tonight, and continues Monday. Titled "The Journey," it tells the story of a British crew who are shot across Europe to and Reagan) of the crew who are forced down in Germany are played by Alan Hale, Arthur Kennedy, and Ronald Sinclair. They are taken to an intelligence officer, played by Raymond Massey, for questioning. Reagan plants a right on Massey's jaw, knocking him cold, and they all make a getaway. When Massey recovers he gives out orders which start a vast manhunt.

The five travel only at night and make very slow progress. By subduing some Nazi guards and taking their uniforms, they make their presence less conspicuous and it is in this manner, plus some luck that they are able to board a private car attached to a hospital train that is bound for Berlin. An angry Nazi officer, discovering them, kicks them off in the suburbs of the large city, and is himself severely reprimanded for not having recognized the Englishmen.

Being in a strategic position, and knowing that they might never again have the opportunity, Flynn leads the men on a very dangerous mission. They enter and set fire to the factory that makes Germany's incendiary bombs. While making their escape from this inferno, Ronald Sinclair is seriously wounded.

Flynn, whose knowledge of German has gotten them out of many tight places, locates a doctor, through the help of a young German girl, portrayed by Nancy Coleman who

Estimate Of Cotton Crop Is Lowered

In regards to the 1942 cotton crop, Dewitt Lamb, in the Lubbock Sunday Avalanche, says:

"The Department of Agriculture says it was too optimistic during October. The 1942 cotton crop estimate now has been lowered from last month's estimate to 13,329,000 bales, or by about 489,000. Price trends still are upward. Cotton grades and cotton prices are better, and demands are heavier. Loan values also have been raised. Surpluses are going to be consumed, and carry-overs are going to dwindle; storage is going to be found, and with a tolerant sun shining the South Plains cotton crop, one of the biggest and best, is going to be harvested.

"That is the general picture. In some counties the crop is two-thirds picked (but not yet ginned). In others, like Lubbock county, the big crop is said to be half gathered. To the north, northwest and northeast, maturity has been retarded and labor has not moved in so rapidly, and most of the crop is yet in the fields. But rapid progress is being made, even in those directions.

"The West Texas cotton crop is a bigger one this year. The harvest is proceeding more rapidly than it did last year, and much faster than anyone from any vantage point, prophesied that it would, or could. Labor is, and has been, more plentiful than anyone said it could be. The weather for a whole month throughout the South Plains has been nearly perfect for cotton picking.

"Even so, farmers have hauled cotton to the gins in wagons, in trailers on the rim, behind tractors. Some of them have had no tires. Many have had to wait and hunt for labor. Labor has been higher than in past years. Labor also has been scarcer. Women have deserted the homes and children have deserted the schoolrooms temporarily to invade the cotton patches. Picking has been ahead of ginning, and in some counties there is reported to be as much cotton on the ground waiting to be hauled to the gins as the gins have turned out already. Farmers have been harassed by every conceivable kind of delay and unexpected expense and loss of time. But in spite of these handicaps, the farmers have been getting their crops out of the field.

"On top of a double harvest (feed and cotton to save at the same time) there has come the unending stream of blank application forms to be filled out, the search for clerks in town at some desk in some corner to unwind millions of yards of red tape, and once the waiting lines of truck and car owners have found the right place to "sign up" they have been told the deadlines and rationing dates and penalties and embargoes have been postponed and delayed and they "may come back later."

Without in the least pretending, he said the farmers are one group who would go ahead smiling, and uncomplainingly and finish this war-time job on time.

Meat rationing is set for Dec. 1. The individual allotment is two and a half pounds of meat a week for each individual, which is believed ample — but will it be available. Some authorities say not.

"Grain, forage, and hay supplies are generally abundant. Some row crop farmers have turned cattle and livestock into their fields because the sorghum grains could not be saved before freezing weather ruins or damages it. Grass has not cured in the sun, because rains have been more than ample, and it is not so nourishing now since frost, and not the sun, has turned it brown. Wheat pasturage is furnishing the best of grazing, but in a few areas, notably, in Castro county, there is some thought that grain fields may not adequately support the extraordinary number of cattle herds that have been hauled in to be grazed.

"Cattle and calves are going into the winter with good weight and finish. The movement into West Texas has been heavy everywhere. Marketing is hitting a rapid pace already. Sheep and lambs are going into colder weather months carrying good flesh.

"There is growing fear of shortages of dairy products, especially of milk, and rationing of butter is predicted. There seems to be no surpluses of poultry meats nor eggs, and there certainly is definite promise of good market for all the meats of every kind that can be produced.

The Triple-A and other agricultural war-time agencies are rounding out programs, rules, regulations, acreages, benefit payments, prices, and other quotas for all sorts of farm crops and farm work for next year, and the farmer, if he has time, is almost compelled to read the newspapers regularly if he stays in a thousand miles of keeping up with the changing production picture.

"He may, as a group, get around to it as soon as he finishes up the current harvest, and then he will have a little time to plan his work, with another 12 months of no tires and no labor available.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Norman received a letter last Friday, November 13, from their son, Pfc. Jack Norman, who is on Guadalcanal Island. The letter was written on October 29th by Pfc. Norman, who stated that he was all right—that his 25th birthday had come and gone—and the experiences he had been through made him feel that he was 75 years old! He is in the signal corps of a radio battalion of the U. S. Marines, and since Mr. and Mrs. Norman had not heard from their son since they received a letter written August 14th, they believe that he has been in the jungles on the island. He tried to tell them why they had not heard from him, but the letter was censored.

Douglas Howell, who has been a civilian instructor for the army air corps at the airfield at Fort Stockton, this week enlisted in the officer's reserve of the army air corps.

Cpl. Granville Clark, who has been stationed at Camp Barkley, Abilene, has been transferred to another camp; but his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jo Clark haven't learned just where he is located.

J. D. Jordan, seaman second class of the U. S. Navy, is stationed at San Diego, Calif., where he is in the photographic division of the navy. Mrs. Jordan and her sister, Miss Katherine Hanks, will leave today, Thursday, for California, where they will visit Mr. Jordan and other relatives, for the next few months. Mr. Jordan was a farmer in the Sunnydale community before he enlisted in the Navy two months ago.

More Than 10,000 Farmers Attend War Production Courses

More than ten thousand farmers of Texas are attending the 606 Rural War Production training courses now being offered in 388 communities in Texas, according to Rob't A. Manie, State Director of Vocational Agriculture of the State Department of Education, who is in charge of the new program. M. F. Thurmond, State Supervisor of the new program, expects all of the 687 Vocational Agriculture Departments approved for offering this training to be in operation by January 1.

Nearly a half million dollars in hand tools and equipment for farm machinery were placed in the Vocational Agriculture Shops last year for the Out-of-School Youth Training.

On the new program this equipment is being used in 382 courses in farm machinery repair being offered farmers in 198 counties in Texas. These farm machinery repair courses are ten weeks in length and the meetings are usually at night, three hours a night for five nights a week. In these courses farmers bring in their farm implements that need repair, and, with the aid of their instructor, make the necessary repairs of their equipment. No charge is made for attending, for the use of tools and even for certain limited amounts of consumable supplies. In addition to getting their farm machinery in a good state of repair the farmers learn how to do simple welding, blacksmith, and general repair work on their own implements. In many instances these farmers have completely overhauled their tractors, cultivators, disc plows, stalk cutters, grain drills, plows, row-binders, combines, and middle-busters; while an ever increasing number of single-row horse drawn implements are being converted into two-row tractor drawn implements. In one shop twenty cotton dusters and other needed implements were constructed from scrap metals.

tes, and that the rationing restrictions imposed will work economic and un-necessary hardship all over Texas and thus cripple the war effort. While making every effort to cooperate with OPA demands, we find compliance with the regulations in the brief period until December first is impossible since local boards report they cannot process the various forms and applications and issue coupon books in the remaining nine days, of which two are Sundays.

"The 68-page technical instruction book has just been received by local boards and it is impossible to be ready by Nov. 19 for registration even. This represents the situation all over Texas. Webb Chewing, chairman of the Travis county rationing board, outlined the necessity for delay to Leon Henderson, but received no reply.

"Your support of the postponement resolution will benefit not only the Texas government and people but the war effort as well, the Texas people and Texas government already are conserving rubber to the utmost by driving 35 miles an hour and eliminating unnecessary travel, and as you know we have more gasoline than we can sell."

The telegram was signed by William J. Lawson, secretary of state; DeWitt Greer, state highway engineer; Homer Garrison, jr., director of public safety; C. H. Cavness, state auditor; and Lt. Col. Neil Banister, of the adjutant general's department.

rationing regulations, will be eligible for allotments. The only exceptions are establishments operated by tire manufacturers or mass distributors, who are eligible under a special provision.

The size of the allotment for each establishment will be governed by the dollar amount of a firm's 1941 sales of passenger-type tires and tubes and the number of Grade III tires already in stock at the time of application for an allotment. This will apply to wholesale as well as retail where a firm does both types of business.

In the case of an establishment where there is no inventory for Grade III tires and there are no replenishment certificates authorizing their purchase, the allotment may be made in the ratio of one tire for each $1,000 of 1941 sales. However, there is a limit of 200 tires of this grade for any establishment regardless of the 1941 sales total. On the other hand an allotment of 12 Grade III tires may be authorized for any establishment regardless of whether the 1941 sales total would warrant that.

Where an applicant already has an inventory of Grade III tires, these must be deducted from the amount of the allotment that would be made if the establishment had no such inventory or certificates.

If the Board determines that an applicant is eligible, it will compute his allotment and issue him a certificate authorizing the necessary purchase of tires. The certificate authorizing the necessary purchase of tires. The certificate must be presented to the supplier from whom the applicant makes his purchase. Only one allotment may be made for each establishment after purchase of the number of tires allotted. All subsequent purchases from suppliers will have to be accompanied by the transfer of replenishment portions of rationing certificates which represent sales to consumers.
