1955 Tax Levy Set By Court

The Lamb County Commissioners Court met in regular session Monday afternoon, and set levies for the 1955 tax roll. The general fund levy will be 25 cents; court house and jail fund, 25 cents; the jury, general and special road and bridge funds will be 15 cents each. The general road and bridge fund will carry a special 2 1/2 cent sinking fund. Road district 1A 1941 levy is 50 cents; 1A 1946 is levied at 30 cents; Road district 3 levy is 60 cents; four is $1.00, and six is 40 cents. The Court agreed to underwrite repairs to fair buildings in the amount of $250; and also to pay for construction of 50 chicken coops for the poultry exhibit at a cost of about $225. The Fair Board agreed to repay the Court if the funds are available, but if they are not, the County will pay the costs anyway. The proposed salaries include the county judge at $7200; commissioners, $5100; sheriff, $6,000; district clerk, $4800; tax collector, $6,000; county clerk $6000; treasurer $5500; and county attorney $6000. Because there is little court business to transact in the present six terms of county court, the Commissioners have set the county court terms to total four only during 1956 and thereafter. The terms will begin on the first of January, April, July and October, and continue for three months each. The new system will become effective January 1, 1956. The Commissioners advertised for a continuous photo copy machine for the County Clerk's office.

Wildcat Caravan To Take Fans To Hereford Game

Wildcat football fans planning to attend the Hereford game Friday night will be offered some protection enroute, it was disclosed here Wednesday morning. Carl Keeling, chairman of the Quarterback club transportation committee said that all fans going to the game Friday night will go in a caravan and remain in line enroute to Hereford and return to Littlefield after the game. The caravan will begin lining up near the Dalmont place on highway 51 at 5:30 pm Friday. They will be parked in line as far back as needed to make one continuous line of cars. The school buses carrying the football team and pep squad will leave the school at 6 pm and the caravan will fall into line immediately behind the buses. A highway patrol car will escort the caravan, making sure there is no passing or weaving in and out of line while enroute to Hereford. Across the Deaf Smith county line, the sheriff will meet the caravan and escort it to Hereford and a specially designated parking place for the Littlefield visitors. Keeling said the caravan is designed as a safety measure in view of the increasing number of accidents on the highways during the football season.

Chrysanthemums Are Now Available Blooming in Pots

By MRS. JED CLARIDA

Chrysanthemums are potted several to a pot and grow into blooming clumps very shortly. The cuttings taken earlier in the season and have been kept pinched back for sturdy growth.

Lifting, dividing, and resetting the chrysanthemum clumps is a very old method of propagation and many gardeners choose to handle chrysanthemums in this manner. However, for a number of reasons many gardeners have taken the means for increasing stock by making cuttings and rooting them. In this method, where the plants are held in a greenhouse or coldframe until early fall, a great deal of care and many hazards to growing are avoided.

Chrysanthemums, according to J. E. Chisholm, local florist, need constant care in spraying, dusting, feeding and watering. Fertilizing must be done at least every two weeks in order to give color in abundance to the fall garden. For the specialist in growing chrysanthemums, there must not only be this same detailed growing care, but also pinching back and disbudding for growing exhibition blooms.

Florists have a good supply of these plants in white, yellow and burgundy. There is no substitute for fall color which takes the place of chrysanthemums.

THREE AUTO—

The third accident happened Monday morning about three miles on the Anton highway. Serefin Sanchez of Austin, Texas was driving a 1953 Ford truck loaded with heavy railroad equipment. He was enroute to Flagstaff, Arizona. Patrolmen investigating the accident said he was towing a two-ton air compressor trailer. He drove up behind a vehicle and applied his brakes. The brakes locked and the trailer began to sway back and forth across the road, throwing the truck into the bar ditch and overturning it.

Sanchez was uninjured, although considerable damage was done to the truck and machinery. Patrolmen filed on Sanchez for driving with an expired license.

Patrolmen issued 16 traffic tickets Friday night after the Clovis-Littlefield game between Muleshoe and Farwell. Fourteen of the tickets were given Littlefield drivers.

A four year old Olton child was seriously injured late Monday when she was run over by a pickup truck while visiting her grandparents two miles west of Olton.

The child was Ronda Gullett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gullett. Reports say the child was hit by a pickup driven by a Mexican farm hand.

She was rushed to a Lubbock hospital for emergency surgery.

GRAND JURY—

(Continued from Page 1) $5,000 was verified by a second audit ordered by the grand jury, but the inquiries apparently failed to satisfy them as to who actually took the money from the cash drawer in the city hall where money received on water bills was kept.

Some dissatisfaction was expressed over failure of the grand jury to make a more complete report of its findings.

Do Not Condone Gambling

The grand jury also included in its report a mild slap at the money raising practices of some local organizations. Their reprimand reads, "As a result of a certain investigation before the Grand Jury it was brought to our attention that certain Civic and Charitable organizations in Lamb county have, in the past engaged in questionable money raising practices to support their worthy causes. The Grand Jury would like to take this means to express their opinion that even though the money realized from such practices is used for the benefit of the Community and County as a whole, the Grand Jury does not condone the use of such practices."

One Desertion Charge

Russell Burke, Jr., of Farmington, N.M., was indicted for desertion of his family. His wife and five sons (one born last week) are now living in Earth. The oldest of the boys is six.

Willie Roney was indicted for forging a $40 check on Jim Greener and passing it at Foust Food.

charges him with forging R.D. McDonald's name to a Paymaster Gin check and passing it at Piggy-Wiggly.

An indictment for passing a worthless check was returned against a person not yet in custody.

Another indictment charges Joe Owen Hughes with passing several worthless checks totalling $550 at a Jaycee Smoker in Earth. Hughes was on probation for the same offense at the time and has been placed under arrest by Houston officers for violation of his probation. He will be returned to Lamb County for trial on these charges also.

Subsequent DWI

Franklin Reed was indicted for driving while intoxicated. He has previously served a term in prison for the same offense, and has been convicted once in county court for the same thing since he was released from prison.

Manuel Sanchez, Jr., and Tom as Gonzales, both 19, were indicted for theft of an automobile at Olton. Gonzales is now on probation from a previous conviction on the same offense. A younger boy also involved in the theft will be handled by juvenile authorities.

Tom Hilburn was foreman of the jury. District Attorney Joe L. Cox and County Attorney Curtis Wilkinson assisted the jury in its investigations.

Wildcats To Tangle With Hereford Fri.

The Littlefield Wildcats will journey to Hereford this Friday where at 8:00 pm they will take on the Hereford Whitefaces in their second football game of the season. Last Friday they dropped their opener to the Clovis Wildcats by the score of 19-6.

Coach Mayfield says that the boys in his opinion are making progress and the team as a whole is running better now than it was a week ago. The backs are gradually getting their timing down but the main weakness for the Cats is reserve strength. The Cats have the smallest number out for football that they have had in 12 years.

The Hereford Whitefaces have 12 lettermen back from last year and last week they beat the Muleshoe Mules by the score of 47-7. Muleshoe is a member of the same district as Littlefield. G. C. Merritt and Wayne Smith, regulars at the halfback slots last year for the Whitefaces will handle most of the running chores for Coach Scot Russell's White faces. Bobbie Geigel will probably be at fullback and they have three good boys out for quarterback, the same as Littlefield, Bobbie Geigel will prob-

Spade Longhorns Drop Opener To Flomot Friday By Score Of 25-21

Coach Cecil Bailey, head coach of Spade high school, has fifteen boys out for football this year with only eight men having earned letters before.

The Longhorns dropped their season opener last week to Flomot but it was close and the game could have gone the other way if Spade had got a few breaks. The final score was 25-21. They take on Wellman there this Friday.

Spade last year won six games in District 2-B Six-Man and lost three. Bailey says he doesn't figure to do that good this year because graduation hit his squad hard and he has the best players along with

Dunbar Will Play Lamesa Bobcats Here Tonight In Conference Game

The Dunbar Tigers, fresh from their victory over Slaton last Thursday will take on the Lamesa Bobcats here tonight (Thursday) in another conference game. Kickoff time is set at 8:00 at Seely Stadium.

Coach W. M. Cheney announced that he would start the lineup as he did last Thursday, but that he would run from the Double Wing and straight punt formation and would probably go to the air more than last week. George Brockington, who did a fine job of quarterbacking the team last week will handle most of the passing chores for the Tigers.

Starting lineup for the Tigers will be: Ends, George Gaston, 145 and Tommy Wormley, 170. Tackles, James Vine, 150 and Bookers T. Ross, 150. Guards, Raymond Thornton, 140 and Duwayne Lee, 135. Center will be W. T. Ervin, 143. Quarterback, George Brockington, 170; fullback, Charles Holmes, 170; halfbacks will be Ralford Light, 140 and Herschel McCarty, 165.

All of the games played by Dunbar will be conference games. They will play Plainview here on Oct. 7 and then play LeFlore on Oct. 14. They will then have a bye week when they will take on Slaton there Nov. 10. They will have more games but the definite dates have not yet been set. Coach Chaney has been here only two weeks but the Dunbar team is showing rapid improvement under his guidance. They looked better last Thursday than any team in the history of Dunbar.

Chaney was well pleased with his boys, but said as the season rolls on he may make a few changes in the lineup. He would like to move big Charles Holmes from the fullback spot up into the line if he could get someone to take over the fullback chores. Coach Chaney and Superintendent Maurice Powell invites all of the Littlefield football fans to attend their games. They will see good football and that is one of the reasons they play on Thursday nights, so it will not interfere with the Wildcats games away from home.

Arlen Wesley Will Start For Tech

LUBBOCK, Sept. 13—If Texas Tech can win the Border Conference this fall, co-captain Arlen Wesley will have the distinction of having played on nothing but championship Red Raider teams. Starting right guard, Wesley lettered as a freshman on Coach DuWitt Weaver's initial team, the

'51 outfit, was sidelined scholastically in '52 when the Raiders dropped to second and regained his eligibility for the '53 and '54 seasons.

Wesley played mainly tackle on the '51 team that went on to win Tech's first bony victory in history, 25-14 over College of the Pacific in the Sun Bowl. In '53 he was still at tackle, on the No. 2 line that was given a major share of credit for containing Auburn's offense in Tech's '14 Gator Bowl triumph, over Auburn 35-13.

Tech needed guards badly last year, and Wesley made the switch with a minimum of difficulty. Noteworthy is the fact that Tech's only losses of '54, to Louisiana State and College of the Pacific, came while Wesley had a sprained ankle.

But from the University of Arizona game on, Wesley was ready for full duty. Wesley's blocking was an important reason why the Red Raiders averaged better than 51 points a game those final four contests. For the way Wesley helped open holes in Arizona's heavier line in the pennant-deciding 28-14 victory, the Wildcats voted him to their all-opponent team.

Wesley gained a second team all-conference berth. Up to 105, 10 pounds heavier than last year, he's better able to shoot for higher honors now.

NOTHING IN ITS FIELD CAN MATCH CHEVROLET FOR ACCELERATION!

Drive with care... EVERYWHERE!

Great Features back up Chevrolet Performance: Anti-Dive Braking—Ball-Race Steering—Out-rigger Rear Springs—Body by Fisher—12-Volt Electrical System—Nine Engine-Drive Choices.

When you need a quick sprint for safer passing, this V8 delivers!
It's pure dynamite, and you have to go way, way up the price ladder before you ever find its equal.

Chevrolet's new "Turbo-Fire V8" packs a Sunday punch for safer passing that no car in Chevrolet's field can match!

The proof was burned into the sands of Daytona Beach at the NASCAR* trials earlier this year. In acceleration tests, Chevrolet simply walked away from everything else in its field. Plus—and get this—all the high-priced cars except one!

Surprising? Not when you consider that this beauty's been cleaning up on all corners in short track stock car events this season. That's where acceleration really pays off, as well as handling ease and cornering ability—things that mean safer, happier highway driving. Come on in and let a new Chevrolet show you what we mean.

REDDY'S Farm Report

FROM THE AGRICULTURAL DEVELOPMENT DEPARTMENT
SOUTHWESTERN PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

It's Christmas in September as Mrs. Oscar Detten puts ginger bread men in her freezer to use for Christmas treats, while Marilyn Detten, age 9 and Billy Detten, age 11, prepare to eat some samples.

It's a smart woman who, early in the fall, if not before—prepares and freezes traditional foods, novel snacks and special treats that will help make her holiday season a more comfortable and leisurely time of year.

Realizing what a great time saver the freezer can be, Mrs. Oscar Detten, who lives on her farm seven miles northeast of Amarillo, prepares and freezes most of the food for her Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners in September. She already has her pies, breads, cakes, vegetables and turkey in her freezer awaiting the busy days ahead. Dressing, or stuffing for poultry, should not be made until you are ready to roast the bird, however.

Coffee cakes and cinnamon rolls from the freezer make for more festive breakfasts and most welcome Christmas gifts.

"You can hardly think of Christmas candies without including Christmas cookies in the same thought—so," says Mrs. Detten, "while you're in the mood, freeze some of both. Save some of the gingerbread men and fancy cookies to decorate the Christmas tree. Make up some strings of cranberries for the same purpose and freeze them too."

A supply of hamburger patties and buns stored in the freezer will be another welcome answer to the cry of hungry holiday guests.

Mrs. Detten knows the importance of proper packaging of foods for her freezer. She carefully packages foods in moisture-vapor-proof material so that they will be just as good when she takes them out as they were the day she put them into her freezer.

If you'll try some of the ideas given here, you'll have an easier and more enjoyable holiday season.

"You can't really know the continuous satisfaction that a food freezer gives until you've owned one!" says Mrs. Detten.

Betty Sue Thompson and Patsy Braden.

Tech Welcomes 7,000 Back to Campus In Week's Activities

Texas Tech this week is welcoming the largest student body in its history.

Officials estimate more than 7,000 students will be enrolled by the final registration deadline Monday, Sept. 26, Tuesday, Sept. 27 is the last day to register without paying a special fee.

Most of the students will have completed signing-up procedures Wednesday or Thursday of this week. Classes begin Friday.

The campus will empty suddenly after Friday classes, however, as more than 5,000 students faculty and other Tech supporters head for Austin. The Red Raiders will open their 1955 football season there at 8 pm Saturday, meeting the University of Texas Longhorns.

Tech alumni will hold a pregame meeting between 2-5 pm Saturday in Austin's Driskill Hotel.

Earlier this week freshmen and other newcomers were in the spotlight as guests at special receptions and meetings designed to make them feel "at home" and make their enrollment as smooth as possible. They also took pre-registration tests which will help them plan their college careers.

Entertainment lighting enroll freshman "mixer" Student Union appearances of the Norman Petty instrumental trio and Bowman Brothers vocal trio.

Cheer Leaders Chosen Tues.

"With the quantity storage a home freezer gives you, many food problems are eliminated. For example, we use one shelf for bread alone, storing and using as many as 10 loaves per week."

"With handy compartments, it's easy to keep track of the foods you freeze or buy. Shopping trips are cut to a minimum, never more than once a week. And, there is real economy in quantity buying."

Mrs. Lewis is delighted as she examines package of frozen chicken. She says, "Many foods can be kept indefinitely including some meats and vegetables. Our electric home freezer gives us a greater mealtime variety."

MULCH plow following a rotary stalk shredder in a heavy grain sorghum stubble.

Board Says Get Equipment Ready For Sudan and Sorghum Mulching

Supervisors of county Soil Conservation Service technicians recommend the shredding and working of it into the top soil on irrigated land; this method is known as mulch tillage. Stubble mulching is a method of using a chisel sweep or one of the special stubble mulch plows for plowing the stubble; this type of plowing leaves almost all the stubble on top of the ground, but it will get the volunteer grain up. Stubble mulching is recommended for both dry and irrigated land. The advantage of leaving the residue on or mixed into the top soil is that it helps prevent wind and water erosion, increases the soil water intake, slows down evaporation, and helps prevent crusting and compaction of the top soil, which is some assurance of a stand in the spring.

JUNK REPORT
CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—State Police Supt. R. W. Boyles told about the unnamed motorist who brought his 1942 sedan to a garage to comply with West Virginia's new auto inspection law—and wound up junking it.

Col. Boyles said the car had three different brake defects, light out of adjustment, two windows broken so bad they obscured vision, and fog light which were out of focus and didn't burn anyway.

erants, indeed, and bad rulers, the progof knowledge among the mass of manis a just object of terror; it is fatal to and their designs."—Henry Brougham,

The Love of Baseball—

Love of baseball dies hard in the heart of a grown up boy who spent every possible moment playing the game in the street as a child. It can be killed.

Repeated displays of poor sportsmanship in every game, the professionals are driving away those people who like baseball and don't care for fussing. Of course, those are not the noisy ones. Those fans who don't rather watch a fight than a ball game do a lot of whooping every time a fight or a player argues with an umpire.
The volume of noise, perhaps misleads the crowd into thinking that's what the crowd

Sandhills Philosopher—

The note: The Sandhills Philosopher sees tiredness this week, another subject has only a theoretical knowledge of farming.

and in a farm magazine the other night,
of these magazines edited mostly by city people whose aim is to convince a farmer he needs a tractor all day and never lose time in his trousers, where equipment manufacturers are working on ideas to take time out of farming.

think this is fine, and my only regret is they haven't been able to hit it yet.
I know that farming isn't as tiring as 50 years ago, or at least that's what they say, but just from observation I've noticed that a man doesn't fall asleep any faster right after he's plowed four acres with a plow than he does after he's plowed four acres with a tractor.

When equipment makers say they're taking the fatigue out of farming, they mean they're increasing the amount of work a man can do in a day, with the aid of a machine remaining constant. I ain't seen a farm yet that couldn't take all the energy out of a man he has.

I admit it takes more energy to chop 40 acres by hand than it does to plow 40 acres with a tractor, but I'm not sure chopping 40 acres takes up any more energy than plowing 40 acres, although I'm like most farmers, the very time any crop needs any labor is the same time it needs the experienced care of a tractor, with me under the tractor, umbrella up.

As a matter of fact, I think there is a lot of misunderstanding over the place of the machine in life today. A machine enables a man to do a lot more work, but if a machine has cut down on the amount of fatigue, then I don't see it. Leastwise, everybody seems to be as tired as he ever was. The only way to know how to take the fatigue out of farming is to rent your land out and move to town.

Whenever you take town jobs. Machines have taken over a lot of the work load in the form of white-collar jobs, from banking to making soda to making change with an automatic cash register, but nearly everybody I know in town almost invariably complains of being dog-tired every day.
Machines may be simply outsmarting us, but we can't turn out more work with the same amount of fatigue. That's s. they may be outsmarting you, but not me. When I find myself working harder for a machine than I would for me, I drain its radiator and let it cool where it stalled.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Through A Glass Darkly

By CARROLL POUNCEY

Our operator 34-A just drifted into town from a tour down east. Reports seeing Gomer Cool in Starved Rock, New Hampshire, or Idaho, couldn't be sure which. Gomer was trading trinkets with the natives, and as usual trying to make a reasonable margin of profit on the transaction.

Our agent brought along a little memento from kindly old Gomer. It is the genuine tintype reproduced below in this column. This is Gomer in a typical pose, just before giving somebody the finger—I mean just before making a trade with someone.

Note, if you will, the slightly glazed expression in Gomer's good eye. The other, or off, eye, is of genuine imported type glass, and like the owls, comes out at night.

GOMER COOL, ESQ.

Gomer is quite proud of his false eyeball, and justifiably so. He has several in various stages of blood-shot, from an early in the evening model veined with only a few streaks of red, down to a 3 o'clock in the morning model that has a little American flag right on the front of it.

Well, we knew you would be delighted, as we are, to see this latest portrait of Gomer.
And it is unusual. Notice, please, the absence of numbers across the bottom of the picture.

Gomer said the sheriff was such a good photographer that he just bought a half dozen of the best prints.

He sent this along as a thought for the weekend: That voice crying in the wilderness is probably just a golfer who has found his ball.

Had another grisly wreck Sunday morning, which in itself is enough to make anyone feel sick at the useless loss of life. But what makes you even sicker is the morbid, blood sucking idiosyncrasy and curiosity of the throngs that flock to the scene of an accident like a bunch of stinking vultures.

Gorging their feeble minded curiosity on the misfortune of others is about the very lowest level to which so-called human beings can sink.
These thrill seeking creatures not only interfere with the officers carrying out their sad duties, but they create wonderful traffic hazards for motorists who have sense enough to try to pass the grisly scene of carnage.

Thank goodness, I don't belong to the human race. I turned in my belly-button long ago and resigned from it entirely.

And speaking of smoking. It definitely makes a woman's voice harsh. Just try throwing ashes on the rug.

CAN THE TAIL WAG THE DOG?

AIRPORT STYLE
PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Greater Pittsburgh Airport, completed three years ago at a cost of 33 million dollars, soon will have a fabulous entrance. Workmen are putting the finishing touches on a $240,000 water fountain. The fountain will be surrounded by a plaza and landscaping that will cost another $30,000. A 20-foot floral display will be featured.

Laws Should Reflect Facts

The Wall Street Journal recently published a thoughtful editorial on the almost insuperable problems involved in regulating and establishing the rates charged by the various commercial carriers. It said: "Obviously anyone who has the authority to set rates for these competing carriers has the power, by raising the one or lowering the other,
to shift traffic from one carrier to another. The 'authority' has the power to dispense either prosperity or depression quite apart from anything the carrier itself does.

"And in deciding, the regulators find it impossible to determine what is an 'equitable' rate for all carriers, with their many variations in cost, or for all shippers, with their many different needs. So almost inevitably the argument becomes simply one of judging what is the 'right' proportions of shipping volume which, as a matter of policy, 'ought' to go to each carrier. That loses a political dispute that defies the wisdom of Solomon."

The paper continued that our existing system of all-inclusive rate making may have made sense in the vanished days when the railroads were practically the only form of bulk transportation. But now, it went on,

... it is about time we got rid of a rate-making system as outmoded as the covered wagon. Returning more of the rate-making authority to the power of competition would let the public get the full benefit of transportation progress."

Monopoly has long since disappeared in commercial transportation. Competition is wide open and increasing. Let the laws reflect the facts.

Jobs For The Handicapped

A Presidential committee urges that five per cent of the labor force of business as a whole be made up of handicapped workers.
If this goal is reached, the 2,000,000 who are disabled at the present time would be given jobs, and so would 250,000 who become disabled each year. Of last year's rehabilitated disabled, jobs were found for only 65, 000.

Hiring the handicapped is good business too. A Bureau of Labor Statistics study found that handicapped workers have lower accident rates, lower absentee rates, five to nine times less turnover, and a better production record than others.

Every business, large or small, should do what it can to help the nation reach that five per cent goal.

Mason Rossiter Smith, editor and publisher of the weekly Tribune-Press at Gouverneur, N. Y., and one of the most widely-known and widely-travelled weekly newspapermen in the United States is spending 2 1/2 months in western Europe, as the special correspondent of the Littlefield Press and other U. S. and Canadian newspapers. The purpose of the visit is to "have a look" at the western Europe of 1955, against the background of other earlier visits after World War II, and to attempt to sketch a series of pictures of western Europe today, from the perspective of the people, their customs, their living conditions, their problems, their outlook on a domestic and world affairs.

Mr. Smith is accompanied on his journey by his wife, Jane, and four children—two boys and two girls: Jane (Sue), 21; Mason Everett (Tim), 19; Marion (Mimi), 16; and Frederick (Ricky), 7—all of whom may be expected to participate in the series of articles appearing regularly in the Lamb County Leader during the summer and early fall.

This is the Eighth of a Series of Twelve Articles

By MASON ROSSITER SMITH
THE HAGUE, Holland—Judging from the number of people we have encountered again and again in several different cities over here since landing at Naples some six weeks ago, the conventional European tour seems to follow a rather well-established pattern. All the "tours" don't visit the same cities and the same countries at the same time or even in the same sequence, but generally speaking they cover the same territory, Rome, Florence, Venice, Munich, Paris, London and one or more places in Switzerland—these appear to make up the "basic" circuit, but important, interesting and attractive as they are, these cities in themselves offer not more than a reasonably fair glimpse of Europe. For Europe—like America—is best revealed in her countryside, and you must see much of that in the small states as well as the larger ones, if you are to frame the real picture of this whole.

Luxembourg, for example, constitutes a veritable fairyland of storybook castles, rolling hillsides cultivated fields and enchanted forests, all encompassed within the relatively small land area of a good-sized American county. This delightful, hardworking friendly little country lies outside the stream of tourist traffic, yet here is an important part of the great European tapestry of past and present. In a similar way Belgium, many times larger than Luxembourg but smaller than most American states—and the most heavily populated area in the world—is an impressively proud, powerful little country whose cordial but tough and wry people are proud of their tradition of hard work. She can justifiably boast of almost every kind of scenery one might desire, from rolling hills and woodlands near Bastogne to the flat-as-a-pancake griddle lowlands along the sea coast; historical Belgium is a youngster among nations—50 years younger than the United States, in fact—but ancient in history and tradition which reach way back to Roman times.

This, too, is an important part of Europe and the western world, culturally, economically and politically. (Militarily, too, as the last two World Wars have demonstrated. "We are getting used," a Belgian told me in Brussels just the other day, "to having those people"—he made a wry face and humped a bitter shoulder toward Germany—"overrun us every 20 years or so. Not that we like it very much!" And to the north lies the Netherlands, historically one of the world's great economic and political powers and still extremely important in the world of today—shipbuilder, diamond merchant, trader and colonial power that she is. Again, this is a lovely countryside, almost all of it as flat as the ocean floor from which much of its land area has been at one time or another reclaimed by means of an ingenious system of dikes to keep out the powerful and at times vindictive North Sea; it is filled with flowers, picturesque farms, castles and historic sites by the hundreds. Its people are jolly, hard-working, friendly and very kind.

Specifically these three countries should be of rather special interest to Americans because—instead of just talking about it—they are actually in the process of accomplishing the very thing which we have urged so strongly upon our friends in western Europe. Right here in the Benelux countries (Belgium-Netherlands-Luxembourg), already a customs union exists, and two of these states—Belgium and Luxembourg—use the same currency. When you drive your car across the border from France into Luxembourg, for example, on the first leg of a trip which will take you into Belgium and thence into the Netherlands, you'll have no occasion to show your car documents leave the Benelux countries for and Holland—only when you leave the Benelux countries for somewhere else. In fact, you'll search in vain for any kind of customs barrier, or roadblock between Luxembourg and Belgium—you cross over with even fewer formalities than the very few required between the United States and Canada. In fact, you aren't even asked to show your passport until you move from Belgium into the Netherlands, and even here the customs and immigration procedure is so simple, fast and efficient as to merit no serious mention.

These three states are not as yet united in any kind of formal federation, but the goal and the intent are perfectly clear, as their people study calmly and intelligently the whole maze of problems which eventual federation must produce. Certain industries, say in Belgium, will find it difficult to compete with others in Holland or Luxembourg—and may therefore be forced out of business—once existing tariffs and other forms of protection for the home producer are removed. The same holds true, of course, for various kinds of agriculture and industry in all three countries. There are problems in finance, in management of the colonies, in political alignments, in establishing a standard of living, equal in all three countries—it is unequal now, the Belgian receiving greater income for his labor in Brussels, for example, than his Dutch cousin who does the same kind of work in the same kind of job in The Hague. But the important thing is, they are working it out—and with characteristic thoroughness they will do it well.

In fact there is a great deal here in all of Benelux to excite the admiration of Americans, for we are supposed to be the kind of people who "get things done." These folks are cut from the same cloth—and their efforts since the end of World War II have produced an amazing pattern. Remembering the air photographs of Rotterdam during the war—little more than a hollow, charred and smoking shell of a city after the Germans go through working it over—it is hard to believe this wonderful new city which rises now before your eyes. But it's here, it's real—and these people, pounded as they were during the war, making all kinds of sacrifices afterward and facing all kinds of problems, not the least of which was the spectre of genuine economic ruin when their Indonesian colonies broke away—have done this miraculous job in only 10 years. We've helped them a lot but with this kind of result, this is help we should be very proud to have given.

Little Luxembourg knew what war was like, too, but in the capital city and all through the countryside which not so long ago shook to the tread of tanks and marching feet and the thud of high explosive shells and bombs, you must search today to find the damage. He as in Belgium and Holland, the ruin has been very nearly all erased, and in its place even now new building continues to go on everywhere. Eight years ago it was possible to see the first

"Don't you think it's about time your relatives went home?"

—and even then miraculous—stages of the work, when the Marshall Plan was just an idea expressed in a speech by our then Secretary of State. Now it is all but finished, and it is a beautiful job.

The Luxembourger, the Belgian and the Hollander are quick to note that they haven't by any means solved all their problems—taxes are far too high, and almost everything they buy, whether it's butter or automobiles or a new bicycle (and there are hordes of bikes throughout Benelux, especially in the Netherlands), is very dear. (The American dollar goes a lot further here than in France, for the exchange is more realistic, value for value). There's the inevitable compromise with the past, the constant competition between the old and the new, between tradition and new ideas. You may have new and wider streets, for example, all in the American style, all resulting from modern studies of traffic flow and traffic control, only to see your carefully planned movement drastically slowed up and occasionally snarled by an occasional horse and wagon smartly clippity-clopping along on rubber at four miles an hour; and with the constant hazard of thousands of bikes and motorcycles which may appear in veritable regiments, or even singly and out of nowhere.

The question of modern mechanization also raises its head on the farms, where the tractor appears more and more widely, but hasn't even begun to replace the horse or the hard, back-breaking labor of man who still mows his grain with a hand scythe and binds it by hand and shocks it even as his grandfather did a hundred years ago. Where an how does the American style automobile and electric refrigerator economy apply in a society which clings to the things and the traditions of the past—both for practical reasons and on account of tradition?? But the people are happier, better dressed and better fed and they live in more and better houses and flats than in 1947 or even 1952. The stores are filled with attractive merchandise, there are dozens of brand new Thruway and autobahn type highways and thousands of new cars on the roads. In Belgium, incidentally, you don't have to take an examination for an operator's license—no license is required. It may or may not be a sign of the times—but on the highways there's no speed limit either. Copyright, 1955, by Mason Rossiter Smith

There is an election next week—in which dates are not known. Election of Texas' new national committee will place ousted Wright run," he said. Reuben Senterfitt of San Saba is the only announced candidate for governor so far. He's busy building his fences. Active also is State Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angelton, although as yet unannounced. Another possible is James P. Hart, former chancellor of the University of Texas. And Will Wilson, associate justice of the supreme court.

Not to be overlooked is Coke Stevenson, former governor. It appears there may be a build up urging him to enter. Stevenson has been inactive politically since his 87-vote defeat by Lyndon Johnson in the Senate race seven years ago.

Look for House Speaker Jim Lindsey of Texarkana—in the attorney general's race. Also being talked for that job, if Hart runs for Governor, is Will Wilson. He would not run against Hart.

NEW VETERANS LAND PLAN
Texas' veterans land program is off to a fresh start. Under new laws the board places responsibility for administration squarely on the shoulders of the land commissioner. Ex-officio members, the governor and attorney general, are charged only with policy-making functions.

Inoculants Help Increase Yields For Most Legumes

The cost is small but the returns, in terms of increased yields and better quality legume crops, are great. Yet, says L. C. Coffey, extension agronomist, farmers still plant legumes without spending the few cents an acre required to do the inoculating job.

He says 50 cents will buy the inoculant needed to take care of enough alfalfa or clover seed to plant up to five acres. Less than 25 cents an acre will inoculate winter peas or vetch. Coffey points out that different strains of bacteria are effective on different classes of legumes. Be sure and get the culture recommended for the crop to be planted.

The seed inoculants contain beneficial bacteria. The bacteria attach themselves to the roots of leguminous plants where they absorb energy from the plant and in turn help the plant to take nitrogen from the air. They do this by a process known as "nitrogen fixing."

Both effective and ineffective bacteria may occur naturally in the soil but Coffey says why take a chance on lower yields and quality by not inoculating the seed.

He says seed inoculants can be obtained from seed dealers and that it is important to follow the directions on the container. The seed should be planted soon after it is treated.

About 5,000 Americans are drowned every year.

NEW CAB STYLE—Ford's F-100 pickup truck with wraparound windshield and hooded roof is available in a 110 or 118 inch wheelbase to carry either a 45 or 65 cubic foot box. Powered by a 223 cu. in. I-block six cylinder engine rated at 133 hp, or a 272 cu. in. Y-8 rated at 167 hp, the pickup has five transmissions available: standard, overdrive, Fordomatic and heavy duty 3 speed and 4 speed. Ford's 1956 trucks go on display at 6,800 Ford dealer showrooms September 23.

Ford Introduces 1956 Truck Models In Dealers Showroom September 23

Ford's 200 new 1956 truck models with greater engine performance and payload capacity go on display in 6,800 Ford dealer showrooms throughout the country September 23.

Two new models have been added to the Ford truck line—a T-750 tandem axle model in the heavy truck series, and a new, longer wheelbase pickup.

Gross vehicle weights extend from 5,000 pounds on the pickup to 42,000 pounds on the heavy duty tandem axle models.

For 1956, Ford's cab design introduces increased visibility of wrap-around windshields and optional wrap-around rear windows.

Introduced for the first time to the trucking industry are two standard safety features—a safety steering wheel and safety door latches. Seat belts are optional.

The safety steering wheel is designed with a rim three inches above the horn button to give the driver's chest added protection from the steering column in case of a crash.

Also, a new safety door latch reduces the chance that doors will open in an accident, providing occupants added protection from being thrown out of the cab.

Tubeless tires, standard equipment this year, increase Ford truck economy. Larger payloads can be carried because tubeless tires and wheels weigh less, which is important to a trucker with as many as 10 tires on his truck. They reduce tire-change time up to 70 per cent.

Ford's short stroke, low friction engine design has been continued this year in eight engine combinations developed for more power, fuel savings and durability.

Horsepower has been increased in all engines, by 12.7 per cent in the smallest 223 cu. in. six cylinder engine rated at 133 hp to 17.6 per cent in the largest 332 cu. in. heavy duty Y-8 engine rated at 200 hp when equipped with a four barrel carburetor.

In the medium-heavy truck series, a special heavy-duty 168 hp Y-8 engine is available equipped with a four-barrel carburetor—one of the most powerful engines in this weight class.

In the heavy truck series, an optional power package consists of four-barrel carburetion, dual exhausts and special cold air intake. The intake is a hood air-scoop, increasing efficiency and performance. The 332 cu. in. engine develops 200 hp with this equipment.

Another option is a thermostatic fan which adds power to heavy trucks by disengaging the engine fan at low operating temperatures. This provides up to 18 more usable horsepower at the clutch.

In all engines, improved manifold and valving moves the fuel mixture in and out of the combustion chamber more efficiently.

In addition to wraparound windshield design, styling advances include a new one-piece grille with integral head lamp hoods and housings. The hooded 1956 roof extends ahead of the windshield, and acts as a partial sun visor.

In the Customized cab, foam rubber cushioning five inches deep in the seat and three inches deep in the seat back contribute to driver comfort.

All Ford cabs are available in a choice of eight single colors or eight two-tone color combinations.

A standard 12 volt electrical system provides better ignition performance, higher generator output and faster cranking speeds.

Power steering will be available this year as an option on conventional heavy trucks. It is standard

RESPECT SCHOOL TRAFFIC

Thousands of school children are trooping back to school. Many of them will be transported by school buses. Fortunately most people are careful when approaching a school bus which may be standing beside the road or school to pick up school children or allow them to alight. But, nevertheless, we have had some very bad accidents because a child or a motorist, or both, were careless at that very time.

Most Texans are aware of the law which requires a driver to come to a complete stop when overtaking from the rear a school bus which has stopped to receive or discharge school children. After stopping immediately behind the bus, he is then allowed by law to proceed past same at a speed "which is prudent, not exceeding ten (10) miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children."

What many persons do not realize is that the very same rule applies when MEETING a stopped school bus. While everyone is interested in protecting our children, unthinking violators of this law are a real menace to the number of those who comply. Failure to follow the law in this case can lead to fines up to $200, even when no accident occurs. Following an accident in which some child is injured or killed, the penalties are naturally much more serious.

Although the above rule does not apply when passing a stopped school bus in a business or residential district of a town, the necessity for extreme caution even in those locations is obvious.

When it comes to overtaking and passing moving vehicles, exercise of ordinary common sense will generally keep a driver within the law. For instance, when passing a car it is only common sense to proceed on past it a safe distance before cutting back to the right side of the highway. Also, any driver would realize the danger of increasing his speed while another is attempting to pass him.

In the same category is the prohibition against passing on the right under most ordinary conditions. Of course, you may legally pass on the right in a few specific instances, such as when the vehicle overtaken is making or about to make a left turn, or upon a one-way street with two or more lanes, or upon a four-lane highway.

However, our traffic laws state that even when passing on the right is allowed, it shall be done only under conditions permitting such movement in safety. And, in no event should such passing be accomplished by driving off the pavement or main-traveled portion of the roadway.

Familiar to all are the no passing zones designated by dash lines placed to one side of the center stripe on our highways. Not so well known are the restrictions against crossing the center line when approaching within 100 feet of or when traversing any intersection or railroad grade crossing.

A driver should never cross the center line of a highway when the left side of the road is not clearly visible and free of oncoming traffic. Generally speaking, when not engaged in passing another vehicle, one should not drive to the left of the center of the roadway.

Set For Visit To Aiken Farm

By DAVID F. EATON, jr.
At the request of several farmers throughout the county, we have arranged with Dr. Loden and Bob Gibson, manager of the Paymaster Farms in Aiken, Texas, for the farmers of Lamb county to visit their farms, Tuesday, September 27.

The main purpose of this tour will be to inspect cotton. Particularly varieties, yields, disease resistant varieties, irrigation methods, and soil improving practices they have been carrying out on the Paymaster Farms.

Dr. Loden has been in charge of the Paymaster cotton breeding work on the Paymaster Farms and will be able to show some of the new varieties that will be released to growers in the next few years that will be better adapted to machine harvesting, have the ability to carry a more favorable micronaire reading and carry some disease resistant qualities.

There has been a great increase or speeding up of the supply of Angular Leaf Spot or Blight on cotton in Lamb county the last two years. At the present time, the only thing that we can do to decrease this Blight is to rotate crops, seed treatment and planting of resistant varieties to this disease.

It has been our privilege the last two years to spend a day on the Paymaster Farms and we have found them to be most informative days—studying the research carried on in cotton work, bind weed control, deep breaking, grain sorghum varieties, fertilization practices, application of compost materials, irrigation trials, and improved planting and cultivation practices. If you are interested in making this tour, we would appreciate hearing from you so that we may have some idea of the number of cars needed and also the number of people that will attend with our group.

In America no one has a monopoly on knowledge, therefore, by visiting such research centers as the Paymaster Farms and having a free and intelligent discussion of the farming practices carried on by this group of men we can strengthen our own positions in agriculture on our respective farms. I urge all farmers that can possibly find a free day from their farming operations to set aside September 27 and make the tour with us to the Paymaster Farms.

"How Many Loaves Have You"

By TOMMY WILLIAMS, Minister

The multitude of four thousand men, besides the women
and children,
had continued
with Jesus for three days.
Feasting upon the words of life which proceeded from his mouth, and drawing strength from his presence, the people had not returned to their homes and villages to obtain necessary food for their bodies.
Jesus told his disciples that he would feed them before they went away.

The disciples were perplexed, "Where is so much food to come from?"

"How many loaves have ye?" asked the Master.

They answered, "Seven
and a few small fishes."

Was that enough. In the hands of the disciples, it was not enough. In the hands of Jesus, it was enough and to spare. All the multitude was fed and seven baskets full were gathered up after they finished.

Now, what have you wherewith you may be a blessing to mankind? Is it little or much? Maybe you feel that it is very little compared to the great needs. In your power alone, maybe it is small, but bring it to the Lord.
Place it in his hands, and let him bless it and put his power behind it, and it will count for so much more. Do not try to serve of yourself alone, but serve in the name of the Lord. Your good will be multiplied many times.

"I can do all things through Christ who strengtheneth me" (Philippians 4:13).

Water Conservation District Asks Court To Shut Down Well

The High Plains Underground Water Conservation District has a petition in Hockley county asking for a permanent injunction to prevent F. J. Bryson of Whiteharral from pumping a well drilled on his place this year. Bryson's application for the well was denied, but he drilled the well anyway and is now using it to irrigate.

The case is the first in the district to test the new underground water law and is expected to go all the way to the state supreme court, regardless of its outcome in the lower courts.

Bryson has employed R. H. Munsterman to defend his action in drilling the well. Munsterman, as legal representative of the Hockley County Water Users Association, battled unsuccessfully to prevent passage in the last legislature of amendments strengthening the power of underground water districts.

The permit to drill was allegedly denied because the well was to be located less than 400 yards from an existing well on another landowner's land. The "existing well" is on land belonging to Bryan Hulse, which adjoins Bryson's land. It is 17 yards from the line dividing their property.

Munsterman denies that conservation of water was the basis for denying Bryson's application to drill.

"If they were going to save water it would be a different matter," he said. "We feel that the action of the board was arbitrary and capricious and that its ruling to Mr. Bryson has no relationship to the prevention of waste of water. We feel that Mr. Bryson is just as much entitled to use of irrigation water as is his neighbor."

an son, have moved back to Kermit, where he will be employed.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Reed were Lubbock visitors Saturday.

Mrs. Jean Onstott and Vanean were visitors at the showing of the Cavalcade of Homes Saturday.

Reports Are Due on 1955 Hybrid Corns

Corn producers who enrolled last spring in the Texas Hybrid Corn Production program are reminded by Extension Agronomist Ben Spears that reporting time is near.

While the final date for submitting reports, October 25, is still several weeks away, he says participants should get their records in to him just as soon as the weighing and tabulations are made. Early reports from over the state indicate that yields will be good. Weather conditions after the late freeze were favorable for top production and Spears is expecting many yields in excess of 100 bushels an acre.

He says, as has been the case in years past, producers who planted good seed, properly prepared the soil and used plenty of the right kinds of fertilizer and proper cultural methods are coming through with the best corn crops.

Spears encourages all farmers who have enrolled in the program to complete their report forms and pass them on to the local county agent for transmittal to the state office.

The state selection committee will commence their work of naming the 1955 winners just as soon as possible after the October 25 closing date.
