BACK FOR ANOTHER YEAR—These three Wildcats were the All-District players that reported to Coach Fikes Tuesday for the first day of Spring training. They were issued their same number that they wore last year when they helped the Cats capture top honors in District 7-AA. No. 31 is Cam Jordan, Right Tackle. No. 14 is Bill Brantley who played Right End and No. 45 is M. C. Northam who was a Fullback last season but will be back in his old position as Tailback this coming season. Northam also received honors on the All-Regional team and is the only three year letterman on the squad. The spirit was good in opening drills and the Cats have the material for another winning team.

Littlefield Area Gets Nearly 3 Inches Of Moisture; Rain General

Littlefield area got a measure of one-third of an inch of rain during Thursday night, and the moisture to be received during the time since late in the afternoon the total moisture here during the first three and one-half months of the present year to 2.25 inches.

The storm broke here about 11 p. m., and continued intermittently for several hours.

Anton, 12 miles east, received about the same amount of moisture as was received here.

Reports to West Texas Cotton-oil mill here, where the official rain gauge is located, said that the moisture was lighter between here and Muleshoe to the west, but even heavier rainfall was reported west of Muleshoe and on to Vaughn, New Mexico.

The Bula section also got a good rain, which extended south and west to Portales, New Mexico.

Olton section also received heavy moisture, as did Springlake and the rain received there and intermediate, measured about the same as was received here, approximately one inch.

More than an inch of rain was reported at Amarillo Thursday morning, but only a few stray drops fell here at that time. Heavy hail, and more than an inch of rain was reported in the area around Seminole, early Thursday evening, and prior to the rain which fell here.

Farmers in this area were jubilant over the moisture received, and many irrigation wells which have been pumping around the clock were shut down Friday, for the first time in several weeks.

Skies remained cloudy through out Friday, and prospects seemed good for additional moisture.

Statewide "Cancer Sunday" Observance Set For April 20

Sunday, April 20, is Texas' fourth annual Cancer Sunday. Jewish congregations will observe Cancer Sabbath, Saturday, April 19.

Clergymen, priests and rabbis all over the state and nation are being asked to offer brief, inspirational messages to their congregations weighing the cancer problem in the spiritual light of their faiths.

Cancer Sunday is a special event which gives strength and inspiration to the American Cancer Society's annual educational and fund-raising Crusade against this Number Two killer of the American people. However, this observance is not intended as a fund-raising device, but rather, as an educational and spiritual approach to focus the public's attention on the cancer problem.

Imogene "Mo" Upton, a University of New Hampshire co-ed, was fifth in the women's slalom in the Winter Olympic Games.

Spade Consolidation School Petition Circulated In Littlefield Thursday

A vote on the matter of consolidation of the Spade Independent School District with the Littlefield Independent School District, became practically assured Thursday afternoon, when a petition asking such an election carrying 29 signatures of residents of the Littlefield School District was filed with County Judge Otha Dent.

The filing of this petition followed presentation of a similar petition, carrying 40 names of residents and taxpayers of the Spade Independent School District one day earlier.

Under the law, when petitions carrying 20 names or more, from both interested districts, asking an election, if petitions are in order, it is practically mandatory that the election be called. Further, it must be called, not less than 20 nor more than 60 days following the filing of the petitions.

Judge Dent has not yet set a date for the election, but indicated that it would shortly be called, and a date set after the closing of the present school term in both districts.

The Littlefield Schools are scheduled to close on May 23, and the Spade School, at or near the same date. A late May or early June election is indicated.

If the consolidation is effected, it would add approximately 250 students to the Littlefield School enrollment, and bring a sharp increase in the number of teachers employed here.

Lamb County Included In New Television Stations Proposed For State Of Texas

Lamb County can look forward to its own television on a new station which may be built under a plan of the Federal Communications Commission, in Littlefield.

The FCC plan, which has just been adopted for 173 new stations in Texas. Most of them will operate in the Ultra-High Frequency range, which is an untapped section of the radio spectrum. Use of this UHF band—and expansion of the present Very High Frequency service—should eventually permit nearly 1,000 new television stations in every section of the nation. The 108 television stations now operating in the United States are in the VHF range.

"The adoption of the UHF plan in conjunction with the expansion of VHF means the beginning of a truly nationwide television service, with visual entertainment and education brought to remote areas miles from the nearest cities," stated Dr. C. B. Jolliffe, vice president and technical director of the Radio Corporation of America, who pioneered the development of UHF television. "We are ready to build the transmitting and receiving equipment to bring about this national television service."

The FCC decision to use UHF for television is based on years of scientific research and on field tests conducted by RCA and the National Broadcasting Company at Bridgeport, Conn., where in 1949 they built the country's first UHF television station to operate on a regular basis. These field tests, Dr. Jolliffe reported, showed that UHF when properly allocated geographically and properly used, was comparable to service provided by present VHF broadcasts.

When new stations are built, they will be low quickly, in the low frequency areas. Based on tests conducted in Texas, more than 1,250 stations can be built after the UHF band is opened.

More than 200 Scouts are expected to attend the camporee, and during the overnight outing various contests will be staged along with exhibits of Scout crafts. The emphasis in these will be on a fellowship, rather than competitive basis.

Health Talks

Prepared by the State Medical Association of Texas

Galen, a Roman medical scholar of the first century, presented an unique idea of a health Utopia by writing at great length on how a boy born with a perfect physical structure should be raised to maintain that perfect health. Galen was so intent upon physical health, however, that his so-called perfect specimen was to devote himself to no other pastime than the care of his body.

Such preoccupation with health today is considered an unhealthy attitude in itself, but since Galen was a pioneer in the field of physiology he established this hypothetical perfect torso in order to impress upon his readers some of his ideas about the proper care of the body. And his readers were impressed—so impressed that for about 1500 years Galen's theories dominated all medical learning.

Even today much of his medical lore remains impressive, though certainly no one today would be encouraged to live for health alone. Health is an important part of life but not the whole of living.

The predominant note of Galen's writing that does hold sway in modern medicine is the damage to health which excesses can cause. A perfect physical constitution can be damaged by excessiveness, too much of anything, even good things. Today as in Galen's day the first premise in maintaining a healthy body is the practice of moderation.

The too-muches and the too-littles are the deviations from moderation which can change the most perfect physical specimen into a case history in the doctor's book. An awareness of the needs of the body, which can be gained by a minimum of health education, does not mean abnormal preoccupation with thoughts of health.

You don't need to know everything about chemistry and physics in order to drive an automobile, but you do have to learn how to drive it. You have to take time to learn the rudiments of driving, which once learned need little review thereafter. Knowing how to drive the car doesn't make the car run. You have to have a key and you have to be behind the wheel in order to manipulate all the gadgets that keep the car going. You have to know how to stop the car and you have to keep an eye on the traffic in order to avoid mishaps. There are certain safety rules which you not only have to know but you also have to obey.

So it is with health.

You may not know what the gasoline does to make the car go but you do know that the car needs gasoline, oil and water. It isn't essential that you know what food, air and water do once they get inside of you, but it is essential that you get them to your insides in the proper amounts. A gas tank will hold only so much gasoline before it spills over; your own "gas tank" spills over in the form of excess weight when you eat too much food. Overweight is just as much an indication of waste as the spilling of gas when the tank overflows.

An automobile that is seldom used requires much less refilling of the gas tank than one that is much in motion. A person who exercises little also requires considerably less "gas" than the active person.

Automobiles are wonderful inventions but become a simple mechanical toy when compared with the complexities and wonders of the human body and mind. If you would make yourself as aware of the needs and uses of your body as you are of those of your automobile, you would have less apprehension and fear when something does go wrong and you have to haul yourself in to the "mechanic."

Your doctor is versed in detecting sputters where there should be hums, rattles where there should be silence. But like the automobile mechanic, your doctor often feels that if you had just know how to take care of your "car" in the first place, it wouldn't have gotten into such sad shape.

Dale Mitchell of the Cleveland Indians has batted under .300 only once in his major league career. His best mark was .336 in 1948. His worst was last season when he batted only .290.

Max Zaslofsky, one of the top basketball players in professional ranks, was only a substitute on the St. Johns college cage team.

Lamb County CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS NOTES

by the local Soil Conservation District is given on bench leveling, a method of irrigating land for sloping areas. The amount of the slope is the determining factor in the width of the strip. The purpose of benching is to level the slope or to level the land in order to achieve three purposes: (1) Reduce erosion from rain and irrigation water. (2) Make maximum use of water that falls on the land by holding it evenly over the surface. (3) Obtain more uniform irrigation water.

sleeve type canvas pipe attached to the valves to discharge and distribute the water. Underneath the pipe, the water is distributed evenly, and avoids wasting land for ditches, eliminates ditch maintenance, and saves time and work in applying water over the land. There have been several thousand acres benched in the Lamb Conservation District and the demand is increasing steadily for this type of irrigation land preparation. So great is the demand that it will be impossible to bench level all the land during the months between the cropping seasons. Some of the land will have to be laid out or summer tilled and benched during the summer months if the District is to keep up with the demand.

For a BETTER COTTON CROP

Bacterial blight is a disease which cotton growers have become more and more aware of in recent years. The disease is also known as angular leaf spot, boll blight, blackarm, sore shin and damping off, depending on time of year and part of the cotton plant affected.

On the leaf, bacterial blight appears as watersoaked, angular spots which become brown upon drying. On the bolls, the watersoaked round lesions become sunken and black upon drying. The blackarm phase of the disease occurs as black elongated lesions on the stems and fruiting branches. Sore shin and damping off are seedling diseases and infect the shank of young cotton just after it comes up.

The angular leaf spot infection maintains the disease in the field during the entire growing season and may then spread to the boll blight phase of the disease which probably causes the greatest loss. In boll blight, the bacteria may stain fibers, thus reducing the grade of the lint. Boll blight lesions may serve as avenues of entrance for boll rot fungi which normally would not infect healthy cotton.

Treating cotton planting seed with Ceresan M is helpful in preventing bacterial blight during the seedling stage.

Hair Care For Glamor Babies

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor
When mother glances at her tiny girl in the bassinet she invariably has visions of her little offspring as a future glamor girl. When she visualizes baby daughter at toddling age, she usually thinks of her as acurly-haired tot resembling an angel or a doll. Few mothers ever dream that their little girls will grow up to have straight hair.
And so Susie's locks grow out straight as a reed, and mother-love being what it is, she often abides by nature's choice and consoles herself that there are many more advantages, perhaps, in having straight hair.
Mothers who refuse to give in to straight hair as their youngster's lot spend long anxious hours trying to get a curl to spring from their baby's scalp. In past gener-tions mothers curled daughter's hair around the hot stove poker, and this was a mild form of torture. Daughter's kinky hair might impress the neighbors, but the scalp of the little tot was often red and bruised, from occasional slips of the hot iron.

In recent year, many mothers employed the sugar-and-water technique—thought to be a hair stiffener—or used wave lotion to train ringlets on baby daughter's head.
This was done by winding locks of hair around a smooth wooden rod.
One satisfactory hair treatment is said to give baby soft fluffy ringlets in a jiffy. It does not contain waving lotion. The treatment is supposed to begin when the hair has achieved a one-inch length.
After baby's bath, hair is dried thoroughly, and the treatment is applied with a cotton pad in an upward circular motion. The action is continued with a baby hair brush and the hair is dried. This daily treatment is said to help keep baby's hair in soft lustrous ringlets.
A good baby hair treatment should be used on a tot whose hair doesn't seem to respond to normal treatment. One mother, after two years of waiting for her

Glamor Tricks In The Tub

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor
A few new bath accessories will put you in a truly feminine mood.
Springtime baths go with trou-frou femininity. Fragrant bath powder and bath oil can perk you up for the working day.

A warm bath is a wonderful way to relax before that big date, especially. A roomy robe of terry cloth and big bath towels can give a luxurious feeling. Don't take the pleasure out of a good tub soaking by not having towels at hand when you emerge from the tub.

Bath gadgets can make your bath especially relaxing. A bath-tub headrest is now made with suction cups, so that it can be attached to the tub without danger of slipping out of place.

Soap yourself liberally and lie back with your head on the head-rest. Skin experts say that some of the fatty acids necessary to keeping the skin young are contained in soaps.

If you are budget-minded, one new bath oil comes with a cup-shaped dispenser, an economical and convenient device for measuring just the right amount of oil needed. The dispenser fits into the mouth of the bottle when the cap is removed. Tilting the bottle releases just enough oil into the cup for one bath and no more.

The girl who is a shower enthusiast will appreciate shampoo goggles edged with terry cloth to help keep soap out of the eyes and plastic hood cap with viewing window to keep the hair perfectly dry.
Pretty up your bathroom as much as possible. Light metal shelves can be attached to tiled wainscot

National Home Demonstration Week

Texas home demonstration club women will join in the observance of the seventh National Home Demonstration Week, April 27 to May 2 announces Maurine Hearn, state home demonstration leader with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The theme, "Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World," was adopted for the first national week in 1946 and is now accepted as the theme for home demonstration work.

Home demonstration work is that part of the Extension Service that deals with the home. Of the 3,107 counties in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico, 2,365 counties employ one or more home demonstration agents and assistants, a total of 3,600. Of this number, 255 are in Texas.

During the week the more than 41,000 Texas members in 2,023 home demonstration clubs will observe the week by informing the public on the work offered by the organization. Special effort will be made to organize new clubs and secure new members in old clubs. The aims and purposes of home demonstration work will be publicized through editorials, news stories, special newspaper editions, radio programs, educational exhibits and tours of result demonstrations.

Miss Hearn points out that in keeping with the theme, home demonstration agents and club women are planning to highlight the fact that home demonstration work aids families in developing and maintaining those qualities valued in a democracy. A successful home is dependent on a well-informed homemaker who helps the family develop pride in making the home comfortable, attractive and inspiring. A special effort is being made to interest younger homemakers. Rural women through organized planning and action are making a lasting contribution to community improvement and rural living.

Children Susceptible To TB Germs

Speaking of the susceptibility of children to tuberculosis, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, said today that few people realize that babies and young children are very likely to become infected with tuberculosis if they are kept in rooms with persons who have the disease, use the same dishes, sleep in the same beds, or are handled and kissed by persons who have tuberculosis.

"Babies and young children pick up the germs of tuberculosis just as readily as they pick up the germs of measles or whooping cough, or of any other of the so-called children's diseases," Dr. Cox said. "But tuberculosis unlike most diseases, has more than one form. Babies who get tuberculosis may not show the symptoms we associate with the disease in older persons. But the disease in most cases develops rapidly and is likely to end fatally. Tuberculosis in babies and young children is a very serious matter, although recent studies have shown that if young children are removed promptly from contact with the disease and given the necessary care, many lives can be saved."

Dr. Cox said that if the presence of tuberculosis is recognized in its early stages and if medical attention is secured promptly, a great deal can be accomplished whenever the disease develops, whether in young or old.

"Tuberculosis doesn't just simply happen. Nobody is born with the disease. Everybody who develops tuberculosis gets it from some other source, and children and young people who have been in contact with persons having tuberculosis are especially likely to contract it."

The privilege or rule against self-incrimination makes news from time to time in connection with court proceedings and legislative committee hearings. The statement, "I refuse to answer on the grounds that it may tend to incriminate me," has become familiar to many. Some do not understand the background of the legal principle which allows a person to remain mute in such circumstances. Lawyers say this is one of the most important basic rights of the individual in this country. The Fifth Amendment of our Federal Constitution provides that "no person shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself." The early American statesmen insisted that this guarantee become a part of our law for excellent reasons. The doctrine against self-incrimination is most probably an outgrowth of "trial by ordeal" practiced in the ancient days of England. A person accused of a criminal offense had to plead either "guilty" or "not guilty" at the time he was arraigned for trial, and still does today. However, in those days the accused had neither the benefit of counsel nor the right to testify in his own defense, and either plea ultimately amounted to just about the same thing.

If the accused pleaded "guilty" he was hung a little sooner than was the case if he pleaded "not guilty." This situation, understandably enough, caused many persons charged with crime to stand silent on arraignment and not plead either way. When that happened, the accused was subjected to torture to induce him to plead one way or the other. Incredibly, methods of making a person talk were used with almost total success. In some cases the accused was placed in close confinement with a bit of bread to eat one day, a sip of water the next, and so on from day to day until he consented to plead or died of starvation. On other occasions heavy weights were placed on his chest above the heart and attendants stood on the weights, or he might have been forced to recline on a bed of sharpened stakes. Investigations in those days arose primarily because of alleged dereliction from the rules of the Church. With memories of such atrocities, it is plain to see why the colonists from England made sure that such practices would be prohibited by their fundamental laws. The privilege against self-incrimination is not only incorporated in the Federal Bill of Rights, but is also guaranteed under the constitution of all but two of the 48 states. Our Texas Constitution provides that an accused "shall not be compelled to give evidence against himself."

The right of a witness to refuse to answer on these grounds has been repeatedly established by the courts of the United States. Although the U.S. Supreme Court has not directly passed on the question of self-incrimination before a legislative committee, there is a fair inference that the privilege established by the Fifth Amendment protects witnesses in Congressional

Parkview Baptist Church News

Revival in progress at the Parkview Baptist Church this week will continue through Sunday night. The pastor, Rev. John C. Taylor, is preaching and L. L. Dunn, and his son Joe Dunn, are leading the music. Joe has had charge of the song service through tonight and his father will lead it for the rest of the week.

On Monday night Mrs. Norman Renfro, of the First Baptist Church, told the children a Bible story of the Baby Moses with puppets on a miniature stage. Her daughter, Glenda, and niece, Janice Renfro assisted her with working the movements of the homemade puppets back-stage. Last night they presented the story, "The Good Samaritan."

This club of children is named the "Way Beyond The Blue" club because their theme song is "Do Lord" and half the group sings a tenor part with repeated words of "Way Beyond The Blue" through out the chorus.

This club will present a radio program on the local station, KVOW, Saturday morning at 10:45-11:15 under the direction of Rev. Taylor and Mr. Joe Dunn. It will be a well-prepared program of the children singing choruses with part music, five year old Jana Sharp singing, Jesus Loves Me in English and in Spanish, a surprise appearance of a resurrected Bible character to teach the children a lesson, and a story of the Tower of Babel told by the pastor, Rev. Taylor.

The Parkview Church reports good attendance thus far in their Revival. The series of services began with over 40 attending a Sunrise Service on the Blackwater draw of the Brazos river at the Joe Gilmore farm at 5:30 Easter morning. The Sunday School attendance broke an attendance record with 160 present. There were 183 by actual count of the ushers in the Easter Worship service and 151 on Sunday night. The reported attendance for Mon., Tues., and Wed., has been 101, 112, and 140, respectively. There have been twelve conversions coming also for Baptism and five joining the Parkview Church by letter up to today.

Last Sunday night the Parkview Baptist Church held their first Baptist services in the new Baptistery just completed. The scenery was painted by Mrs. L. J. Crawley of Levelland, whose son, John, is a member of Parkview. Her grandsons, Johnny and Bobby Crawley were baptized in this first service. Also baptized Sunday night were Clyde Hendrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hendrick, of 103 E. 13th and Doyel Reeves, son of Mrs. Bernice Reeves, of 903 W. 9th.

It has been announced that the popular male quartet, the "Littlefield Four," will bring the special music at services (on Thursday night) tonight.

Rev. Taylor's subjects for the remaining services will be: Tonight, "What is a Christian?" Friday, "Heaven or Hell," Saturday, "Desires of the Heart," Sunday morning, "Jesus, Passing By," and Sunday night, "The Great White Throne of Judgement."

Weldon B. (Sonny) North Is Drowned In South Dakota

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Trotter received telegrams Wednesday from a Funeral Home at Onita, South Dakota, advising them of the finding of the body of Weldon B. (Sonny) North 15-year old son of Mrs. Trotter who was formerly Mrs. Nellie North, at or near that place in South Dakota.

Mr. and Mrs. Trotter, a daughter and her husband, immediately left by automobile for South Dakota, and will probably accompany the remains here for funeral services, although no announcement of arrangements has yet been made.

Details received here of how the death occurred are vague, and even the actual cause of the death of the youth has not been revealed here.

Young North went to South Dakota a few weeks ago, accompanied by Jimmy Brown, a close friend, and the two planned to engage in hunting for a week or so, and then work in a wheat field, as tractor hands. They had both been promised employment by Arlice Williams, who owns some South Dakota land, and who left for that place about two weeks ago, and the two boys were probably working for him at the time of his death, although this, also has not been confirmed.

Young North is survived by five brothers and sisters, whose names were not ascertained and his parents.

The family moved to Littlefield

Operators Of Eating Places To Meet In Court Room

A meeting of all operators of restaurants and other eating and drinking establishments, including drug stores with soda fountains, has been called for 2:00 p.m., Wednesday, April 23 in the County Court Room. Out of town cafe operators of this area are also urged to attend the meetings.

The new Ceiling Price Regulation (CPR 124) which covers the operations of eating and drinking establishments, effective April 7, will be explained by officials of the Lubbock district OPS office.

Representing the price stabilization agency will be Luther Gray, restaurant pricing specialist.

He reminded cafe operators that ceiling prices must be posted not later than April 25 by restaurants in a place where they will be easily visible to customers.

The new regulation freezes restaurant prices at the level shown on menus or charged during the week of February 2-9, 1952.

Price officials pointed out that the new regulation specifically applies to restaurants, European-plan hotels (including room service), taverns, cafes, cafeterias, soda fountains, catering establishments, field kitchens, lunch wagons and delicatessens.

Dining cars, boarding houses and American-plan hotels will continue under CPR 11. However, sales of food or beverages by these hotels and boarding houses where a separate charge is made will be covered by the new regulation. Institutions, hospitals and colleges are excluded.

The highest total of goals scored by two teams in an American Hockey League playoff game was 14, when Buffalo defeated Cleveland 12-2 in 1943-44.

An Important Message

TO OUR CUSTOMERS AND FRIENDS

We are happy to be able to tell you that the lawsuit brought more than four years ago against Ford Motor Company and Dearborn Motors Corporation by Harry Ferguson and Harry Ferguson, Inc. has been settled by agreement of the parties.

There are three points connected with this settlement which, as a present or possible future owner of a Ford Tractor, we want to make clear to you. Regardless of what you may hear to the contrary, these are the FACTS.

3 POINTS OF INTEREST TO OUR PRESENT AND FUTURE CUSTOMERS

1. Ford Motor Company will continue production of the present Ford Tractor without interruption, and Dearborn Motors Corporation will continue to market them nationally as in the past. By the end of 1952, Ford Motor Company has agreed to make two simple changes, and only two changes, in the means of operation and control of a pump used in the hydraulic system in the Ford Tractor. After these simple changes have been made, there is nothing in the settlement of the suit to prevent Ford Motor Company from continuing the manufacture of the present Ford Tractor for as long as it may choose.

2. Ford Motor Company will continue to produce and Dearborn Motors Corporation, and ourselves as dealer, will continue to supply all repair parts for all past, present and future Ford Tractors.

3. Ford Tractors will continue to offer all the advantages of the present system of hydraulic control, the present method of attaching and operating implements, and all other features responsible for their wide popularity. Dearborn Motors will continue to offer its same complete line of implements.

It is a source of deep satisfaction to us to be in a position to debunk conclusively and finally in this way the assertions that have been made and the propaganda that has been spread over the past four years.

A STATEMENT

By Mr. Henry Ford II

"In normal times Ford Motor Company would carry such a suit to a final conclusion in the courts. These are not normal times. Under the circumstances we were glad to get rid of the litigation to avoid the expense, harassment, and further interference with our tractor business involved in additional years in the courts.

"The settlement in no way interferes with Ford Motor Company's continuing to offer to the farmer the lowest priced tractor with hydraulic control and the present method of attaching and operating implements."

STATEMENT OF HARRY KLINE OF KLINE-HUFSTEDLER LITTLEFIELD CONCERNING THE RECENT FORD TRACTOR LAWSUIT

HARRY KLINE of KLINE - HUFSTEDLER, Ford Tractor and Dearborn Equipment Dealer, today emphasized three points of interest in connection with the settlement of the lawsuit brought more than four years ago against Ford Motor Company and Dearborn Motors Corporation by Harry Ferguson and Harry Ferguson, Inc.
