REQUIREMENTS ARE GIVEN BY RALEY, SIKES

Amherst, Sudan, Levelland
And Odessa Represented

"Only through enlightened citizenship can Littlefield go forward," J. A. Raley, manager of the Lubbock division of the Federal Housing Administration, stated at a meeting Tuesday night of lumber dealers, architects, contractors, realtors, and representatives of financial institutions, newspapers, and utilities with representatives of the Federal Housing Administration.

Compliment Local Concerns
Mr. Raley complimented the local lumber concerns on demanding the best construction, and he stated that the 20 homes that have been built in Littlefield during the past two years, according to FHA plans, were among the very best that were approved on the South Plains.

Mr. Raley was accompanied to Littlefield by R. E. Sikes, mortgage conference representative of Dallas.
They were introduced by B. L. Cog-dill, secretary of the local Cham-

FOUR HUNDRED ATTEND CLINIC IN LITTLEFIELD

Enjoyable Band Event
Under Leadership of
D. O. Wiley

"A colorful, instructive, enjoyable day," is the description given by high school students who attended the Band Clinic in Littlefield Friday.

Colorful, because of the many beautiful uniforms worn by the members of the bands from various South Plains towns — purple and white, yellow and white, blue and white, black and red, green and white, and many others combined, added color to the local high school as well as to the streets of Littlefield.

Instructive, under the leadership of D. O. Wiley, director of the Matador band at Texas Tech and associate professor of music, who conducted constructive, worthwhile classes to the group.

Enjoyable, because those students and visitors from town were all interested in band music, and derived enjoyment from hearing the many selections played throughout the day.

The boys will enter judging con-

Booster Group Meets in Regular Monthly Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce will be held Tuesday noon in the basement of the Presbyterian church.

Plans are underway by the secretary, B. L. Cogdill, to have a splendid program for the occasion.

Among several matters to be discussed, according to Mr. Cogdill, will be the matter of securing paving projects for Littlefield.

A good attendance is urged.

Rats Aid Students In Home Economics At Local School

"You Rat!!!!!"
Perhaps the most interesting experiment the third year foods class of Home Economics in the local school had this year is the feeding of four white rats, under the supervision of Miss Oval Lytle, instructor.

These rodents were purchased recently from the Home Economics department in Texas Tech, and are being fed different diets, to help the girls in the class to distinguish between the proper food and that food that is detrimental to the growth of a person.

The rats have been designated as "Mr. and Mrs. Will Try" and
"Mr. and Mrs. Won't Try."
Experiments similar to this have been made in numerous high schools and colleges, but these are the first rats the local high school has experimented with.

These rats are so interesting that members of the science classes and girls in the clothing classes, as well as first and second year foods students are watching them with keen interest.

Number Of Lamb County Boys Will Enter The Cotton Contest

According to Lee H. McElroy, assistant county agent, a number of boys plan to enter the cotton contest which is as follows:

- Objects:
1—Enroll in the cotton contest to promote the growing of better staple cotton by gin communities and to stipulate a greater interest in efficient production.
2—To reduce the cost of production by efficient methods in improved practices.
3—To increase profits per acre.
4—To develop cooperation in selling the cotton in pools and on its merits rather than on "hog round" basis.

- Rules:
1—Enroll in the cotton contest
program.
2—Plant good seed selected by club sponsor.
3—Plant not less than three acres.
4—Each community plant the same variety if possible.
5—Arrange for certain gin days for cotton to be ginned.
6—Pool cotton with other boys of the community and sell on its merits.
7—Keep complete set of records on all operations for production of cotton, harvesting of cotton, and marketing of cotton.

- 8—Write a story on the production of the crop giving dates of all operations.
9—Irrigation and dry land farming will be separate.

Judging:
The largest net income per acre will determine the winner.
Special record forms will be furnished for keeping records on the production of cotton. This contest will furnish valuable records to farmers interested in production of better cotton next year. Awards will be furnished according to the interest of the boys in this contest.

About 20 per cent of the 4-F members are preparing cover for a wildlife demonstration. Quail will be furnished boys that have proper protection for the birds. It is probably too late to get the birds this year as the cover was not complete soon enough to insure adequate protection.

Plans are increasing for ways and means to build the club house. Not one club in the county has failed to meet its program plans for the year. This is a very good record for boys most of whom are new in 4-F work.

ROTARIANS AND JUNIOR C. OF C. WILL BE HOSTS

Next Regular Meeting of Local Group to Be March 14

T. L. Fontaine of Houston, president of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce, and R. G. Hughes of Pampa, executive vice-president, will arrive in Littlefield this morning, (Thursday) and be guests of the local Junior Chamber of Com-noon.

Mr. Fontaine and Mr. Hughes are making a tour of the Panhandle, and before coming to Littlefield,
they visited in Amarillo, Pampa,
Borger and Perryton.

Is Newly Organized
The Littlefield Junior Chamber of Commerce was organized several weeks ago, and Frank Bartley, president, stated that the chapter was indeed fortunate to have the Texas president and vice president visit in this city so soon after the organization.

Texas Assn. Formed in 1928
The Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce was organized in June, 1928, and approximately 20 organizations are numbered in the state.

"The Junior Chamber of Commerce is in the nature of a training ground for young men toward civic and commercial leadership. It provides a vehicle of collective activity through which the younger men of a given community, working in cooperation and harmony with the elder men, can address themselves to a program of accomplishment for the city in which they dwell, and to a study of economic problems that affect the welfare of the nation as well."

To Be Guests of Rotarians
Officers of the local Junior Chamber of Commerce will also be guests of the Rotary club at noon today.
The next regular meeting of the local organization will be Tuesday night, March 14.

Born Objectors

Chronic objectors are—as a rule, the main impediment to civic development and social welfare. Theirs is the voice of malcontent and grim satire. They are never happy unless they are unhappy over something or some body. In politics — of course, the objector's demonstrations are largely gestures for effect. The disturbing influence of born objectors has been felt in Texas, during the past week, in the cases of Clifford B. Jones who was elected President of Texas Technological college, and J. C. Hunter who was appointed to head the Highway commission.

In the case of Mr. Hunter, the appointee himself, very gracefully withdrew and put a stop to the bickering of the East Texas objectors. Two of the trustees of Tech, called for an opinion from the state's Attorney General as to the legality of the election of Mr. Jones. While there is every reason to believe that Clifford B. Jones will remain at the head of the institution which he — more than any other man, helped to build; the objectors have succeeded in casting doubts where there should be naught but faith and full co-operation. We believe that Mr. Jones and the people directly interested in Tech's welfare, will overcome the shadows cast upon his administration by these questioners, but the definite damage of the poisoned barbs, has been accomplished.

The loss of so capable a man as J. C. Hunter is indeed a serious one. When we heard of this appointment, we felt that our new Governor had made a brilliant choice. Mr. Hunter is recognized as one of the ablest business men and an executive of exceptional organization ability. It appears that on account of the narrow vision and selfish aims, of a few legislators, the entire state has been deprived of the services of an outstanding fine man.

These two cases have been cited merely for the purpose of showing how far-reaching the results of objectors' activities may become. Whenever you check up on any worth-while

The Fifth Horseman

In the Vision of Saint John the Divine, which he set down in the Book of Revelations, the inspired writer saw four horsemen. They were War, Famine, Pestilence and Death, the four great enemies of humankind.

To those Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse former President Hoover added a fifth in a speech a short time ago. He referred to "intolerant ideologies" as being as great a menace to the people of the world as were those whom Saint Joseph saw in his vision.

Mr. Hoover, was, of course, referring to the nationalistic spirit of the present-day dictatorships, and the insidious growth of their intolerant spirit throughout the world.

Not since pestilence, in the form of the plague which we call influenza, came out of Manchuria in 1918 and swept the whole world at a cost of 25 million lives, has there been such an insidious and menacing enemy turned loose in the world.

People can fight a foe whom they can see; nations can guard themselves against physical threats to their safety. But it is immensely more difficult to protect ideals, beliefs and principles against the onslaught of ideas.

There is always the danger, especially in times of economic distress, that great numbers of people will be deceived into believing that the new idea is better than the old one, and that somehow they will fare better by discarding the ancient beliefs in such things as freedom of thought, the rights of individuals as superior to those of the state, the privilege of religious liberty, the right to speak and preach one's opinions.

It is against the insidious approach of the "intolerant ideologies" of the dictatorships which now control so much of the civilized world that America needs to be on its guard, far more alertly than against the weapons of physical warfare.

achievement, you will discover that at the tribute roll call — the objectors will be absent. In other words — progress is made by those who dare and do — in spite of objectors.

New Pope Elected; Takes Name of Pius XII

Vatican City — Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli was elected pope Thursday of last week and took the name of Pius XII on his 63rd birthday in one of history's shortest conclaves. He was chosen on the third ballot in the first day of voting. He became the 262nd pontiff, spiritual ruler of 331,500,000 Catholics and temporal sovereign of Vatican City just 20 days after the death of Pius XI, whom he served as papal secretary of state for eight years.

He is the first pope ever to have been in the United States. As papal secretary of state he went there in 1936 and was received by President Roosevelt.

Not since 1721, when Innocent XV was elected, has the college of cardinals made a Roman the bishop of Rome and sovereign pontiff of the Catholic world.

Vatican prelates and Italians alike expected Pius XII, a member of a noble Roman family long prominent in church affairs, to carry on in many respects the policies of Pius XI.

But many also expected the new pope to show an even wider acquaintance with world affairs, in his actions and pronouncements.

Howdy Folks:

Herb Martin, our witty district attorney, told an ancient yarn which is always good for a chuckle:— A barber was convicted on a charge of murder, and sentenced. The judge asked him whether he wished to make any statement or request before he was executed. "Yes," replied the condemned man, "I'd like to shave the district attorney— just once, before I die." The district attorney refused to comply with the wish — claiming, that he didn't need a shave at that particular time.

As I write this — my thoughts turn to wasted opportunities and a somewhat misspent life. All about me — the butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker, are talking and worrying, about making out their income taxes. It's most embarrassing for me. Everytime a feller asks me — Have you made out your income tax report? — I shrivel in the consciousness of my failure and start talking about the next baseball season, Adolph Hitler or Lee O'Daniel. There's an idea— whenever you run out of alibis and don't know what to pin your griefs and misfortunes onto — try Hitler or O'Daniel. You can usually get a pretty good bunch of sympathy even if the reason may be a bit far fetched. At any rate — these major topics, cover up beautifully, in cases like the one I have mentioned.

Sometime — before the evening shadows wrap themselves about this poor misguided human, I am going to take an afternoon off, and write a large book about failures and successes. These two words have been juggled about more than any in the language. And usually — they drop in the wrong places. I am afraid — that the popular gauge is still the dollar mark. I heard a very wealthy man discuss the mis-demeanors of some kids, the other evening. He was endowing them with a full quota of understanding and worldly knowledge. Here was a ripe adult who couldn't grasp juvenile delinquency. I think it was the same successful gentleman who usually shoves kids out of his way and speaks impatiently to them. Oh yes — I forgot to tell you; there are going to be quite a few hidden chuckles in this here book that I'm going to write — when, as and if.

A week from today, or to be exact — on the evening of Thursday, March 16, the Littlefield Little Theatre will produce a three-act mystery melodrama, "The Devil's Host," by Carl Glick. Twelve local amateurs will display their histrionic talents, and the proceeds will be applied to the Boy Scout building fund which is being raised by the Rotary club. So — when one of the Rotarians approaches you, and asks you to buy a ticket for the show — please bear in mind that two thirds of the price of the ticket, will be used towards providing a recreational building for our boys. Incidentally — It's going to be a very thrilling show and pretty well acted — if I do say it myself.

I've ordered me a sport jacket for spring. It's dark green and invisible red checks in it — plenty gay and loud. Watch me strut out when the bluebirds sound the Easter call. Think I'll get a pair of noisy slacks and one of those "Don't Care" poeple cravats. Just be on the lookout for me if you want to shed some years and capture youth in its full sartorial glory. I am determined to forget my greying hairs, my stiff knees and evidences of having reviewed too many calendars, and put up a brave battle for my youth. I think that old age, weakness and pep, are largely conditions of the mind — anyway. Saw a lot of spring flowers at the grocery store — the other day, and forgot about sandstorms and flu. If things are not exactly right with you — remember that spring is right around the corner. If you'll kind o' absorb this idea and — maybe, get you a green jacket too — you might kid yourself into a fairly good sized batch of contentment — and enjoyment. So Long, DAVE SCHEIN

1938 Lamb Crop Breaks All Records Texas Girls

The largest lamb crop was produced in Texas during the year ending Jan. 1, 1938, surpassing record-breaking production of the previous year, according to a bulletin from the Texas Department of Agriculture. The expansion in sheep continued into the fall and the Western cattlemen, despite heavy marketing, said: "The number of sheep on farms, ranches and feed lots was estimated at 9,356,000 Jan. 1, as compared with 9,100,000 a year earlier," the bulletin added. "The number of lambs was estimated at 9,545,000, with 9,100,000."

Substantial increases in hogs and goats, the bureau added, largely offset decrease in number of cattle, horses and mules.

"Oh, my dear!" said Marjorie, her eyes clouded with tears of sympathy. "Oh, if I had only known sooner!"

"Oh, don't you cry!" said Betty. "You've come, and I can't tell you how wonderful it is just to have it warm here again and have something to eat, and not be frightened about mother and father. I'm sure I'll love you afterwards for yourself, but just now I can't help being thankful for the things you've done. Maybe I can make you understand sometime, when I'm not so tired. But you see I've hated you and blamed you for being better than we were so long! I see now it wasn't fair to you. You couldn't help what they did to you when you were a baby of course. Only I never dreamed they wouldn't tell you anything about us. Mother said Mrs. Wetherill had said they would tell you you were adopted, and I supposed of course you knew, and didn't care to have anything to do with us."

"I don't think Mrs. Wetherill knew much about you either," said Marjorie, thoughtfully. "Not till mother came to see her. And she never told me about that at all. She just left a letter."

"I see," said Betty sadly. "I was all wrong of course. But I guess that was what made mother suffer so, thinking she had let you go. She has cried and cried over that. Whenever she wasn't well, she would cry all night. She said Mr. Wetherill came to her when she was weak and sick and didn't realize fully what she was doing. Father was threatened with tuberculosis and Mr. Wetherill promised to put him on a farm and start him out. Besides he gave them quite a sum of money to have me treated. It seems I wasn't very strong and had to be under a specialist for a long time. They said I wouldn't live if I didn't have special treatment."

Betty's eyes grew stormy with bitterness.

"I used to wish sometimes they had let me die. I thought mother didn't love me at all, she mourned for you so much."

"Oh, my dear!" said Marjorie coming close and putting her arms about her sister. "My dear! I think we are going to love each other a lot!"

It was very still in the little dreary kitchen for a minute while the two sisters held each other close. Then Betty lifted her head.

"I'm glad you've come, anyway!" she said. "You've been wonderful already. And I'm glad for mother that she needn't fret for what she did any more. As soon as the doctor's been here I want to tell her. It will cure her just to know you are here, I know it will."

"Well, you'd better ask the doctor if it won't excite her too much. There! Isn't that the doorbell! Perhaps he's come! But it isn't quite 2 o'clock!"

Betty hurried to answer the bell, and Marjorie lingering in the kitchen saw through the crack in the door that was the doctor. Betty took him upstairs at once, and Marjorie stood for a minute by the kitchen window looking out.

We Gagged our Ad Writer!

HOW LONG SHOULD A GOOD AD BE? Our ad writer always answers by quoting Lincoln's saying that a man's legs ought to be long enough to reach the ground.

By which I mean," he continues, "that an advertisement should be as long as necessary to tell the complete story, to give all the convincing, action-producing facts."

But we still like short ads and this time, at least, we are having our own way. And this is published the shortest Phillips advertisement on record. See if you don't agree that the 52 words below are enough to sell you a trial tankful of Phillips 66. Phillips Petroleum Co., Bartlesville, Okla.

W. E. HEATHMAN

WHOLESALE AGENT FOR PHILLIPS "66" PRODUCTS

Then she remembered the pantry which she had been putting to rights, setting the supplies up in an orderly manner on the shelves.

She stepped on a box to reach the top shelf, and there she discovered a handleless cracked cup with little tickets in it. Were they milk tickets or what? She wiped off the shelf, stepped down with the cup in her hand, and stood there examining the bits of paper. Each one had something written on it.

"Six plain sterling spoons," one said. "One brussels carpet," said another. "Three upholstered chairs." Marjorie stared at them in dismay as she realized what these bits of paper must be. They were pawn tickets. They represented the downfall of a home! A precious home where these her own flesh and blood, had lived!

She went on with the tickets. "One child's crib-bed. "Six dining room chairs."

She stood studying them, trying to make a rough estimate of the entire amount loaned for all those articles, when suddenly she heard the kitchen door open and a boy's voice said:

"What's the idea, Betts, of having the cellar window open? Did you think it was milder out than in?"

Marjorie turned startled, letting the pawn tickets fall back into the cup, and facing him, not realizing that she still held the cup in her hands.

She saw a tall boy, lean and wiry, with a shock of red hair and big gray eyes that had green lights in them.

He stared at her first with a bewildered gaze like one who had come in out of the sun and could not rightly see in the dimmer light.

"You are Ted, aren't you?" He stiffened visibly, realizing that he was in the presence of a stranger.

"Yes?" he said coldly, lifting his head a trifle, with a gesture that in a man would have been called haughtily. He was alert, ready to resent the intrusion of a stranger into their private misery.

Then he saw the cup in her hand, and putting down the bucket of coal he had picked from the dump he stepped over and took the cup possessively.

"That wouldn't interest you," he said coldly, reprovingly.

"Ted!" said Marjorie impulsively, "I'm your sister! Don't speak to me that way!"

"My sister?" said Ted scornfully.

"Well, I can't help it if you are, that doesn't give you a right to pry into our private affairs, does it?" An angry flush had stolen over the boy's lean cheeks and his eyes were hard as steel.

"Oh, please don't!" said Marjorie covering her face with her hands. "I wasn't prying. I was trying to help!"

"Well, we don't need your help!" said the boy with young scorn in his eyes.

"But you see, Ted, I'm not a visitor. I'm one of the family, and Betty and I are working together."

"Betty? Does my sister Betty know you are here? Where is she?"

"She's upstairs now with the doctor."

"The doctor? Is my mother worse?"

"I don't know. I haven't seen her yet, but as soon as I heard she was so sick I begged Betty to get the doctor. You know pneumonia is a very treacherous disease."

"Yes, and who did you think would pay the doctor?" asked Ted in that hard cold young voice so full of anxiety and belligerence.

"Oh, Ted! I'll pay, of course!"

"Yes, and what do you think Mrs. Wetherill will say to that?"

"She won't say anything, Ted. She's dead!" There was a bit of a sob in Marjorie's voice in spite of her best efforts.

The boy looked at her speculatively and frowned.

"If you are family why didn't you ever turn up before when mother was fretting for you?"

"Because I didn't know anything about her or any of you except that you had let me be adopted!"

The hardness in the boy's face relaxed.

Then they heard the doctor coming downstairs, with Betty just behind him, and by common consent they froze into silence. Marjorie with a hand at her throat to still the wild throbbing of her pulses. Then they heard the doctor's voice:

"No, I don't expect her fever to go higher tonight. Oh, perhaps a little more. All she needs is rest and nourishment and good care. Be

4-H CLUB ACTIVITIES

Enrollment in 4-H work is increasing and the officers of each club are trying to see that new members are added and old members are retained. Extensive plans and programs are being carried on at each club meeting. Each member will receive demonstration record books during this month and most members have definite plans for demonstrations.

Pig Club Underway

The Lamb county pig club is well under way and all members having registered gilt or sow are eligible to compete for awards in this contest. Most of the gilts will farrow during March and the boys are doing a real job with these demonstrations.

Early Chicks Are Fall Layers

February and March opens the chick season for the poultryman who expects to get production of eggs in the fall months when egg prices are the highest. The rush is on, getting ready for the chicks that are to replace the laying flocks in the fall.

Generally early hatched chicks are more profitable to the farmer than late hatched chicks. There is less danger to early hatched chicks from diseases, especially coccidiosis. The early chicks grow off faster. The cockerels can be ready for market at an earlier age. Higher prices can be expected from cockerels that are marketed early in the year. Early pullets will make better layers for the fall and early winter production when egg prices are the highest.

The average poultryman makes his profit in eggs in the fall and early winter months. March hatched chicks are the proper age to produce eggs early in the season. The late hatched pullet, such as June pullets, ordinarily do not come into production until the following spring. This is the season of low egg prices. This pullet must be kept until she is 16 months old before she starts paying a profit to the farmer.

A good start with early hatched and properly brooded chicks will mean added income to the poultryman for the year 1939.

INTEREST RATE TO MEMBERS PLAINVIEW PRODUCTION CREDIT ASSOCIATION REDUCED ONE-HALF OF ONE PER CENT

The interest rate to members of the Plainview Production Credit association was reduced one-half of 1 per cent on all money advanced beginning Feb. 24. Mr. R. Snyder, secretary-treasurer, announced for the board of directors of the Plainview Production Credit association.

"This is made possible," said Mr. Snyder, "by the continued ready sale of Federal Intermediate Credit bank debentures to the investing public bearing low rates of interest and the favorable operating results of the Federal Intermediate Credit banks and the production credit associations during 1938." Mr. Snyder explained that the association discounts the farmers' notes which it takes with the Federal Intermediate Credit bank of Houston.

"The new rate will be 4½ per cent per year, and as usual interest will be charged only for the period which the members actually have the money. It should, of course, be understood," continued Mr. Snyder, "that all money advanced before Feb. 24 will continue to carry the 5 per cent rate until paid. The reduction also is effective in all the other production credit associations throughout the country."

Otha Key of Littlefield is field representative for the association.

Attorney General Uses Desk He Found In Capitol Basement

Visitors in the office of Attorney General Gerald C. Mann admire a handsome, massive, solid walnut desk with beautiful carvings upon which he lays legal papers and documents. Valuations on the desk average $500.

Mann lets his visitors admire the desk. Then he tells its history. He found the desk with other discarded furniture in the basement of the capitol.

He had the desk rubbed down, and a new cover put on its top, and moved it to his office. Someone in the past had driven nails into the top. The nail holes have been filled, but they still serve a useful purpose. They convince visitors who examine them closely that the desk really came out of the basement.

Community Dinner Held at Earth Sunday Last

An old time dinner and get-together was held at the home of Uncle Bob and Mrs. Kelley Sunday, Feb. 26, as an appreciation of the services rendered the Earth community by this fine family who are moving to Bovina. Plenty of good food, laughter and Christian fellowship made it a most successful occasion; the sort of an occasion these plains need more like, where priceless friendship is shared and flowers of appreciation are showered upon the living. Uncle Bob does a good job of successful Christian living before his fellow men and the spirit of "I am my brother's keeper" abides in their home.

The moving away of such a home is a loss to any community and an asset wherever they dwell. This family has taught us so well this lesson:

There is a destiny that makes us brothers,

None goes his way alone,

For that which we send into the lives of others,

Comes back into our own.

Those who were there to wish them God speed, were: Rev. and Mrs. C. T. Jordan, pastor of Earth Baptist church; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Kelley and Billie Ann, Mrs. B. F. Ataway, Oklahoma City; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Littleton, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kelley and Jerry, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mize, Stevin and George, Mr. and Mrs. Al Sanders, Ima Fay and Jim, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Terry, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Barton and Mary Joe, Mr. and Mrs. George Wallace and sons, T. W. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ortega, Irene and Mary, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Smith and Kelvin, Misses Wanda Jean Russell, Claudia Marie Cupp, and Nina Smith.

Farmer Receives 40 Cents of Consumer's Food Dollar in 1938

The typical workingman paid $321 for food his family consumed in 1938, and of this the farmer received $130 for his part in raising the products. The rest, $191, went to transportation agencies, processors, and distributors.

The farmer's share of the consumer's food dollar in 1938 — 40 cents — was the smallest in four years, according to C. E. Bowles, specialist in cooperative marketing of the Texas A. & M. college extension service. The figures were compiled by the USDA bureau of agricultural economics.

The calculation was based on a list of 58 foods consumed annually by a typical workingman's family. The 40 cents received by the farmer in 1938 compares unfavorably with 45 cents in 1937. The lowest mark in 26 years was in 1932 when the farmer received only 33 cents of the consumer's food dollar. The highest mark was reached in 1917 when producers received 60 cents of the consumer's food dollar and only 40 cents went for process and distribution costs.

Bowles said the long time trend showed that the farmer was getting a smaller and smaller part of the consumer's dollar. The average share in the years 1913-20 was 55 cents, the 1921-29 average was 46 cents, and the 1930-36 figure 39 cents.

Two and a Half Per Cent Sales Tax for Pensions Suggested

The House constitutional amendments committee at Austin Monday voted 13 to 2, with two present and not voting, to recommend that the legislature submit the question of a 2 1/2 per cent sales tax to the people of the state three months hence, to finance bigger old age pensions.

The next development will be on the house floor, where spirited argument may start early next week. Sales tax opponents plan a hard fight to either reduce the levy or eliminate it.

Grand Jury Will Report Late Today

The grand jury now in session at Olton will, it is expected, return a report and several indictments, sometime this afternoon, according to reports from the sheriff's office, late Wednesday evening.

The first term of the 64th district court proved to be one of the busiest terms in recent years. More civil and criminal cases have been disposed of during the present term than during any one session in the past two years.

The exact list of indictments, and sentences will not be available until Judge Russell declares the session closed and the grand jury is discharged. But court officials declared themselves as particularly well pleased with the condition of the court docket at the conclusion of the year's first term.

Girls Volleyball Team Win Tourney At Sudan Saturday

Littlefield girls cannot only win most of the games in the district basketball tournament, and lose only a few games during the entire season . . . but they can also win volley ball tournaments.

Such was the case Saturday, when the local volley ball team took the winning honors at the tourney at Sudan.

With the volley ball season in full swing in Lamb county, the first tournament found eight schools represented. The Littlefield girls defeated Sudan and Whitharral in the first two games, only to meet their old foes from basketball, the Spade team, in the finals. They took the lead in the score in the final game, winning the tourney.

Morgan Layfield, coach and sponsor, reported that the local girls played excellent volley ball, and with two of the first string players absent, they were able to bat for a victory. These schools entered in the tournament were Sudan, Amherst, Spring Lake, Olton, Hart Camp, Spade, Littlefield and Whitharral.

Fay Nolen, who has been connected with the Littlefield Furniture store for the past five years, moved to Clovis, N. M., Tuesday. He plans on entering business for himself.

careful about the temperature of the room. Of course don't let her get chilled. That is the greatest danger. No, I don't think her lungs are involved yet. Good care and rest and the right food will work wonders."

"Doctor, my sister — has been away some time. She has just come back. Do you think it will hurt mother to know she has come? She has been grieving to have her at home."

"What kind is she? Will she worry your mother, or will she be a help?"

"Oh, she'll be a help. She's rather wonderful!"

Ted stole a sudden shamed glance at Marjorie, with the flicker of a grin of apology in his young face.

"Well, then, tell her about it by all means. Joy never kills. Perhaps you'd better wait till she wakes up."

When the door closed behind the doctor Marjorie had a sudden feeling of let down as if she wanted to sit down and cry with relief.

Betty's face was eager as she came out into the kitchen. She looked straight at Marjorie. Perhaps she didn't see Ted at first.

"He thinks maybe she won't have pneumonia after all," she said with relief.

"Oh, Ted, you've got back. I've been so worried! You went off without any breakfast, and you had no dinner last night!"

"Aw, whaddaya think I am? A softie?" said Ted.

"I've been keeping the soup hot for him," said Marjorie. "Here it is, Ted." She placed a bowl on the box and brought the thermos bottle. "There's coffee too, and a plate of sandwiches." She set the things before him.

"Gosh!" said Ted dumbfounded. "Where did you get all this layout?"

"You don't know what's happened since you left, Theodore Gay! A miracle has come, that's what!" said Betty. "We've got another sister, and she's just like Santa Claus. She did it all!"

"Gosh!" said Ted, wrinkling his nice mahogany brows, "but I don't think we ought to take it."

"Well," said Betty, "I thought so too, but I found out it was a choice between that, and dying, and she seemed determined to die with us if we did, so I let her have her way."

Marjorie felt a sudden lump coming into her throat that betokened tears near at hand. She felt so glad to have got here in time before her family starved to death! How awful to think they had been in such straits while she feasted on the fat

TIGHTROPE WALKING, EMBALMING CATS, OTHER OCCUPATIONS OF STUDENTS FINDING WAY THROUGH TEXAS "U"

Texas. —UP— Ninety types of jobs — ranging from tightrope walking to embalming — are performed by United States students who are finding their way through college. One per cent of the United States students earn all of their expenses, with an average monthly income of $20. One hundred students are working on National Youth Administration projects and an additional 1,000 are employed in part-time jobs by Austin merchants.

Dean Arno Nowotny, director of the student employment bureau, listed 35 positions that he thought university students could fill. Applicants showed, however, that they were proficient at 55 other types of work.

The most unexpected jobs were those as funeral directors, gasoline workers, tool dressers, tree surgeons, cotton buyers, cheese makers, tightrope walkers, boiler makers, beekeepers, pneumatic hammer operators and concrete mixers.

In addition, two boys are embalming and selling cats to zoology students' experiments and a girl manufactures and sells costume jewelry in her spare time.

Propose Adding Three Stories to State Capitol

A house of representatives committee decided after a survey of rentals paid by the state in Austin that a state office building, advocated by former Gov. James V. Allred, might be a saving proposition. Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel said before taking office that he preferred to "cut out" part of the agencies occupying the offices.

On investigating committee found that Austin real estate dealers collect $129,000 a year from the state and that one building costs more than $60,000 a year to rent.

One suggested a remedy, without eliminating any agencies or building a separate office building, is to add two or three more floors to the four-story state capitol. Proponents of this plan believe $1,000,000 might be diverted from the county and district road bond fund surplus to provide for all renting departments at the capitol.

Tech Students Favor Plan to Train 20,000 Civilian Reserve Pilots

Lubbock. — Students are minded at Texas Technological college and are expressing their interest in the plan of the civil Aeronautics authority to train 20,000 civilian reserve pilots annually for national defense. President Clifford B. Jones has given assurance of favorable consideration by the college of the suggested plan.

Men students in a class in vocational guidance have written to Congressman George Mhan endorsing the student aviation training plan which would be available in 3300 schools throughout the nation if a program recently recommended by President Roosevelt is approved by the congress.

Representative student opinion as expressed in the letters to Congressman Mahon reads as follows:

"The proposal for training in aviation has created much interest on the campus. . . I have heard several boys say they would take aviation if it were inaugurated. . ."

An advantage of aviation training at Texas Tech is that there is plenty of smooth country for forced landings. . . As a student whose interest lies in the field of aviation, I am in favor of training student aviators. . ."

Climatic and geographic conditions in Lubbock are favorable for aviation training. . . Aviation courses in college would be beneficial for the cause of national defense. . ."

An aviation course at Tech would be an incentive to patriotism and a service for the youth of this section. . . The location of Tech would be ideal for the placement of an air corps since its campus is as large as any in the United States. . ."

The proposed plan to make Texas Tech a student training center for aviation has great possibilities — out of its enrollment of 2,300 men students, many would take the training."

"Too Bad They Didn't All Freeze," Some Folks Would Say

El Paso, Texas. —UP— When 15 of the city's parking meters were twisted out of shape and pulled almost off their posts, the police department had a puzzle.

Finally an amateur scientist discovered that rain, entering through the coin slots, had been collecting for three years, and that when the temperature dropped to 17 degrees the water froze, the expansion dislodging the meters. Bars of ice three and a half feet long and three inches in diameter were taken out of the shafts.

To prevent a repetition of the damage, holes were bored at the base of the posts to allow the water to drain out.

Paul Whiteman To Direct Band From Saddle

Fort Worth, Texas. —UP— Paul Whiteman, "King of Jazz," is going to try directing his band from a saddle.

John B. Davis, general manager of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show, said that Whiteman would enter the show arena at 19 performances of the rodeo, riding a horse, and would remain on the horse while he directs the orchestra.

Whiteman will wear a big hat, boots, spurs and chaps. The exposition will open March 10.

COOKING SCHOOL AT GAS CO. OFFICE NEXT THURSDAY

Mary Alice Crosson Will Be in Charge of Event

Mary Alice Crosson, Home Service Director for the West Texas Gas company, will conduct a Cooking demonstration, next Thursday at the offices of the gas company. The lecture and demonstration is scheduled to start at 2 p. m. Miss Crosson will visit the homes of Gas Appliance users in the city, before the date of demonstration, and aid them in their cooking problems. She requests that the visitors feel free to consult her and ask questions. Miss Crosson says that she attributes the success of her demonstrations to the fact that they are informal affairs and the home-makers discuss their problems with her rather than attend a formal lecture.

man 22 years of age came to Texas, making his home in Montague county for many years, or until five years ago. For the past five years he has made his home with his sons, C. H. and H. A. Collins of Littlefield.

First Wife Dies

Deceased was united in marriage to Miss Dicy Maddox, when he was 22 years of age, to which union were born two children, a boy and a girl. The boy grew to manhood but preceded his father in death in 1926. The daughter is now Mrs. Ella Vowell, who lives near Oklahoma City, Okla. Mr. Collins' first wife only lived seven years.

Mr. Collins next married Miss Mellie Maddox, a young lady by the same name, but no relation. To this union were born four children, two sons and two daughters. The girls, who were twins, are both deceased. Mrs. Dovie Bandy died in 1934 and Mrs. Dolly Vaughn died in 1904. The sons are C. H. and H. A. Collins, who make their home near Littlefield. I will support any and every Public Improvement which is worthy and worthwhile to the city as a whole.

I stand for keeping taxes and tax rates as low as is absolutely possible — and pledge myself to do my best to keep the expenses of the City government in every department, as low as possible, and will always be interested in knowing that the city gets 100 cents of value for every dollar which it spends, in both supplies and in services.

I will appreciate the support and the influence in behalf of my candidacy of every man and woman in the city, and it will be my endeavor, when elected, in return for that support to try at all times and in all possible ways to make of our city, a Bigger, Better, Cleaner, More Healthful, and Happier place to live and to make all of our citizens a Good Home and Home City.

FHA Meet—

as to the requirements so that they may in turn inform the people of their community and assist them in making applications for FHA loans.

40 Attend Meeting

Approximately 40 attended the meeting, with 24 out-of-town visitors, including representatives from Amherst, Sudan, Levelland, and Odessa.

Wm. H. Clark, Jr., state director of the Federal Housing Administration, reported that 9,010 mortgages on homes in Texas have been accepted for insurance, amounting to $35,311,125 as of Dec. 30, 1938. He said that October, 1938, showed a volume increase of 271 per cent over 1937 and that indications pointed to a far greater increase in home building during 1939.

Requirements Given

Eligibility requirements of the borrower, property and location were explained by Mr. Raley, who emphasized the importance of selecting a suitable location or building site with desirable neighborhood features upon which to build a new home.

It was pointed out that a borrower with a good credit rating and sufficient income can obtain an FHA loan for 90 per cent of the appraised value from a private lending institution with whom the government agency agrees to underwrite or guarantee the repayment of the mortgage funds.

The term of the loan, in cases of property valued at not more than $5,000, not to exceed 25 years with maximum interest rate of 5 per cent plus 1-4 per cent mutual mortgage insurance premium on the outstanding monthly balance.

Considerable interest in the FHA plan was indicated by the large number of questions asked during the open forum.

Mr. Raley and Mr. Sikes remained in Littlefield Wednesday for the purpose of making informal inspections of proposed sites for residential construction and furnishing information to lumber and material dealers, realtors and representatives of financial institutions.

Four Hundred—

Morgan Layfield, director of the Littlefield band, stated that all those present received much benefit from the clinic, and the local school was indeed fortunate to sponsor the program, and have Mr. Wiley as her guest for the day.

Mr. Wiley complimented the local band members, declaring that they made good hosts and hostesses to the 400 visitors and were making much progress in band work under the leadership of Mr. Layfield.

Grand finale of the clinic was the concert Friday night at the high school auditorium, given by a completely instrumented band, made up of selected members of all bands present and directed by Mr. Wiley. There were 86 players in this concert. A large crowd attended this program, composed of those people who appreciate the band music, and are interested in the finer arts.

Bands present were Slaton, led by Jim Nevins; Lamesa, led by Con-way King; Lubbock, led by H. A. Anderson; Floydada, led by M. T. Camp; Post, led by W. M. Shepherd; Clovis, led by H. A. Barton; Hereford, led by Ralph Smith; Levelland, led by H. M. Daugherty; Brownfield, led by L. S. Cavanaugh; Portales, led by Howard Braunfield; and Littlefield, led by Morgan Layfield.

Urge Wiring of Houses

Dear Sir:

This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of February 16th, 1939. The construction contract for your project indicates that approximately one-half of the prospective members adjacent to your proposed lines must have signed for service before the contract was executed. You are to be commended for this excellent work.

Final decision and action on your B application is being delayed and will depend to a certain extent upon how many members along the lines of your A section take service the moment your lines are ready to be energized. Please advise us what progress is being made in this respect.

LAMB COUNTY LEADER

SECTION TWO

LITTLEFIELD, LAMB COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, MARCH 9, 1939

NUMBER 49

CUNNINGHAM ESTABLISHES SEED BUSINESS SATURDAY

Cunningham has established a store for this season in Phelps Avenue, southeast of the Littlefield station, formerly occupied by Smith Battery & Electric, which opened for business Saturday.

Cunningham has on hand a line of seeds, including field grain sorghums, Cotton, corn, peas, beans, etc., a line of bulk and packaged seeds and plants.

Cunningham has always been in all problems relating to the government farm program. He was instrumental in organizing the State Certified Seed Growers association some 10 years ago, and for a number of years was secretary of this organization.

He was also for some time director of Texas State Seed Breeders association, comprising all the breeders of the state, including corn, cotton, wheat, oats and alfalfa. At the last meeting in Austin he was elected as vice-president of this association.

Last season Mr. Cunningham established his seed business in the rear of Piggly-Wiggly building, discontinuing when the season closed.

Farmers May Stay Within Their 1939 Acreage Allotments

College Station, March 5.—Price adjustment, or "parity" payment rates, announced recently by the AAA, make it possible for Texas cotton, wheat and rice producers who stay within their 1939 acreage allotments to get more than $30,000,000.

The rates are: Cotton, 1.6 cents a pound; wheat, 11 cents a bushel; and rice, 12 cents a hundredweight, or 19 cents a barrel.

Price adjustment payments, which are in addition to "conservation" payments at rates previously announced, are made on the 1939 normal yield of each producer's acreage allotment, for cotton, wheat or rice.

A producer forfeits his right of such a payment if he produces on any fraction of an acre more than his acreage allotment, George Slaughter, chairman of the Texas agricultural conservation committee, cautioned.

Counting both price adjustment and conservation payments, the total payments to be made to cotton, wheat and rice producing participants in the 1939 program are: Cotton, 3.6 cents a pound; wheat, 28 cents a bushel; and rice, 22 cents a hundredweight, or 35 cents a barrel.

"With prospects of large world production in each of the three crops, and an uncertain market for 1939 in every case, it is reasonable to suppose that most Texas farmers will take advantage of these guaranteed income supplements by producing within acreage allotments this year," Slaughter surmised. "The payments will enable many farmers to abandon the one-crop system and get on a more secure, diversified basis, using acreage diverted from cash crops to grow soil-conserving crops and feed and vegetables to supply domestic needs."

IRRIGATION PLANT IS INSTALLED ON BRADLEY FARM

Work has been in progress for the past several days on the installation of an irrigation plant on the farm belonging to Jim Bradley near Hereford. Mr. Bradley stated that when the project is completed that the 332 acres in cultivation on his farm at that place would be under irrigation.

Feelings Rise As Bund Holds Rally

NEW YORK, N. Y. . . Plenty of emotion is expressed in the faces of these anti-Nazi demonstrators who gathered outside Madison Square Garden recently as the German-American Bund held an "Americanization" rally inside the building. Mounted policemen, reinforcing patrolmen on foot, quelled a riot of two hundred of the demonstrators.

MRS. O'DANIEL WILL MAINTAIN USUAL MONTHLY "FORMAL" OPEN HOUSE

Austin, Texas. —UP— Mrs. W. Lee O'Daniel hopes to maintain the usual monthly "formal" open house at the Texas executive mansion while her husband is governor, but she plans to add three times a month an informal party.

The governor's wife, who conducted his campaign from the dining room of their home in Fort Worth, said that one "dress" affair would be held each month at the mansion. On that occasion her friends can wear their latest, most formal frocks.

For the other three weekly affairs, however, the guests can dress informally. Molly O'Daniel, daughter of the state's first family, will assist at these functions.

Mrs. O'Daniel said that being a hostess was a pleasure for her, but that she intends to remain first-of-all a dutiful mother of her three children, Pat and Mike, her sons, are students at the University of Texas and Molly expects to enter that school next fall. Many of the mansion's guests are youthful friends of the children.

The silver-haired, slender "first lady" found that her new responsibilities made it advisable to retain a social secretary, so Miss Bobbie Wilson, who served in that capacity for Mrs. James V. Alfred, has been chosen.

Mrs. O'Daniel's other interests include gardening, of the real "dirt farmer" variety, the family said; church work; and a limited amount of women's club work. One of her first spring tasks, she said, will be to plant some rose-bushes sent by a friend in Tyler.

The Market Basket
 By OLETA COLE
 Home Supervisor for Farm Security Administration in Lamb and Cochran Counties.

Long before questions-and-answers became a major indoor sport, the United States bureau of home economics was answering thousands of queries from homemakers eager to get the latest scientific slant on their jobs. For modern homemaker is a blend of many sciences.

Every day, the mailman delivers a bagful of question-letters at the headquarters of the bureau. They are from homemakers all over the nation, who want to know everything, from the food value of a potato, to how to make holiday candy; from how to plan a food budget, to how to get the most for your money when you buy fresh vegetables.

Some questions appear over and over again in the bureau mailbag. Here are a few of the most popular, with answers by bureau specialists:

Question: Are home-canned tomatoes a good source of vitamin C?

Answer: Yes, home-canned tomatoes are a good source of vitamin C if they are canned in the right way. The acid of the tomato helps protect its vitamin C against destruction by heat and air in canning, as in cooking. Practically none of the vitamin C (ascorbic acid) of tomatoes is lost in home-canning if you use the hot or cold pack method. Probably more vitamin C is destroyed in the open-kettle method because the tomatoes are exposed to the air for a longer time while they are hot. But even tomatoes canned from the open kettle still retain considerable ascorbic acid.

But home-canned tomatoes do gradually lose some of their vitamin C after they have been stored for some time. Canned tomatoes may lose from one-third to one-half of their vitamin C if stored for six months at room temperature. But even tomatoes stored for this long a time will contain enough vitamin C to make them a noteworthy addition to the winter menu.

Question: My new recipe book says searing doesn't help to hold in the juices when you roast meats. Is this true?

Answer: Your new recipe book is absolutely correct on this point. Instead of holding the juice in meat, searing actually drives it out. If you want to retain all the juice possible in a tender roast keep your oven at a moderate, even temperature from start to finish, say about 300 degrees Fahrenheit. And do not overcook the meat. Well done beef is bound to shrink and lose more juice than a roast cooked over to the "rare" stage.

Question: Should you roast a leg of lamb or ribs of beef in a covered or an open pan?

Answer: All tender meats with a good covering of fat are better roasted in an open pan. Strangely enough your tender roast will be more juicy if you keep the oven temperature moderate and follow the excellent motto of "use no cover, add no water." A cover on the roaster and added water both make steam, and steam draws out the juices. They are lost from the meat, though they may be saved in the gravy.

But if the roast is tough there is a different answer. Steam is necessary to help soften the tough tissues. But don't steam-jacket a tender roast unless you want to make a pot roast of it.

Question: Why does the meringue on my lemon pie shrink and get watery when I take it out of the oven? It is always so high and so nice and brown when I first take it out.

Answer: Probably you bake your meringue in too hot an oven, so that it browns over the top before the egg has cooked through. Meringues will usually be cooked enough to hold their shape if you bake them in a very moderate oven (325 degrees Fahrenheit) for 20 minutes. But if your meringue is piled high on the pie you will be wise to bake it more slowly and for a longer time.

Add a few grains of salt to the egg white when you start beating. The salt will help make the foam stand up better. And be sure to use the correct amount of sugar. About two tablespoons for each egg white usually works best.

If you beat the egg whites by hand — the usual custom — add the sugar when the foam is stiff enough to stand in peaks. A wire whisk makes for more fluffiness than a Dover beater. But if you use a power beater, add the sugar before beating the egg white, then your foam will be sure to stand up.

Another help in getting a foam that stays high and fluffy is borrowed from angel food recipes. That is the use of cream of tartar or lemon juice. The addition of a small amount of acid in this way makes more foam, and a foam that will both stand up better and be more tender than it would without the acids added. Good proportions are 1 teaspoon of lemon juice or 1-4 teaspoon of cream of tartar to three egg whites.

Question: Can you please tell me what caused the chocolate on the mint candies I dipped to have light and dark streaks? It was also much too thin on the candies.

Answer: Probably you melted the chocolate at too high a temperature, and dipped the mints while the chocolate was still quite warm. For the best dipped chocolates you should buy the kind of chocolate especially designed for this purpose. It should be melted over lukewarm water (130 degrees Fahrenheit), not over hot water; so that the chocolate will never really warm to the touch. This low melting temperature is necessary for two reasons. It prevents the starch from thickening and causing the objectionable streaks. Also dipping-chocolate contains a very large percentage of cocoa butter that melts at a low temperature, and scorchs easily.

Before dipping mints, or any kind of candies, the chocolate should be cooled still further (to 85 or 90 degrees), or until it is just as cool as you can get it without it becoming solid. Then it will leave a rich, heavy coat on the candies. But if the chocolate is warm — and thin — it will "slide" right off.

Question: Does the color of the shell of an egg make any difference in its food value?

Answer: No, the color of the shell of an egg is determined by the breed of the hen, and as far as can be learned has no influence on the flavor or food value of the egg. Even the color of the yolk is not a reliable indication of its food value, as either pale or deeper colored yolks may be rich in important vitamins and minerals.

Is High Ranking Homemaker Among Security Families

Mrs. James H. White of Littlefield is the high ranking homemaker among the Farm Security Administration families of Lamb county, according to Miss Oleta Cole, home management supervisor. She raised 75 per cent of her living at home.

Other high ranking homemakers are Mrs. Homer B. Campbell, Olton, who reached the 75 per cent mark; Mrs. Thomas E. Davis, Amherst, 67 per cent; Mrs. James W. Huggins, Olton, 66 per cent; Mrs. Eugene E. Bussey, Hale Center, 62 per cent; Mrs. Erwin F. Dolle, Littlefield, 61 per cent; Mrs. Grady H. Finney, Olton; Mrs. Enoch S. Haggood, and Mrs. Willie H. McGuire, both of Littlefield, all of whom made 60 per cent.

They have received certificates bearing blue and red ribbons from the state supervisor, Ruby DeLong Mathews, to attest to their merit. Eighty-nine families in West Texas reached the blue ribbon class; and 125 the red ribbon of 60 per cent living. Many excellent homemakers were handicapped by lack of sufficient vegetables for canning.

To reach the 75 per cent mark, the homemaker must have canned at least 100 quarts of vegetables per person in the family. Mrs. Mathews says. Other requirements are 20 quarts of fruit per person; two hogs to butcher, one beef to can, 50 hens and the raising of 150 baby chicks, and a good record book of income and expenses.

The 60 per cent mark is reached by those who use 80 cans of vegetables per person, 15 quarts of fruit per person, with other requirements slightly lower.

One of the first avenues toward more secure living for farmers is the building up of a live-at-home program, Mrs. Mathews points out. "We hope to have every farm family in West Texas in the blue ribbon class in a few years."

Encouragement of building of cold frames for early spring use is one of the methods by which Mrs. Mathews hopes to raise the number of families with a 75 per cent record of living at home. She gives the following instructions:

Have the frame, built on the south side of the house or other windbreak, any length desired, but not over four or five feet wide (this so it can be cultivated without stepping in it).

The walls should be about 12 inches high, and can be made without cost by using scraps of old lumber, and is for the dual purpose of keeping out the cold and avoiding the hazards of high winds. Have cover so it will roll back, and on warm days roll it back so the garden may have the benefit of the sun, but cover it again at night. Within a few weeks Miss Cole will be giving some demonstrations for making the frame garden and if you are interested, she will be glad to talk with you at her office in the city hall building in Littlefield.

The SERVEL ELECTROLUX Gas Refrigerator

IT'S PERMANENTLY SILENT because it has no moving parts in its freezing system

Since the Servel Electrolux refrigerator operates on gas, a single burner takes the place of moving, wearing parts . . . a tiny flame circulates the refrigerant, without wear or noise.

These are important advantages in themselves, but equally important are the other results that you get in refrigeration freezing without moving parts . . . the fact that the low operating cost is never increased, that Servel gives you more years of service, and actually can save enough in food alone to pay for itself.

Ask your friends and neighbors who own Servels what they think of gas refrigeration . . . then, before you decide on any make, get all the facts about Servel Electrolux "the gas refrigerator you hear about but never hear!"

- YOU GET these advantages:
- ▶ NO MOVING PARTS in its freezing system
  - ▶ PERMANENT SILENCE
  - ▶ CONTINUED LOW OPERATING COST
  - ▶ MORE YEARS OF DEPENDABLE SERVICE
  - ▶ SAVINGS THAT PAY FOR IT

INCREASE IN STAPLE OF TEXAS COTTON MEANS $3,000,000 TO FARMERS OF STATE

The 1-32 inch increase in the staple length of Texas cotton in 1938 over that of 1937 meant better than $3,000,000 to farmers, according to H. H. Williamson, director of the Texas A. & M. college extension service.

The 1-32 inch over-all increase in staple brought an additional 20 points in price, or $1 per bale, he explained.

The 22,589 farmers in the 213 one-variety cotton communities, with less than 7 per cent of the 1933 Texas cotton acreage, cut more than a third of the $3,000,000 million for themselves when their quality cotton brought in an extra $1,159,211.

With the 632,897 acres in organized one-variety cotton blocks bringing in almost $2 an acre extra through increased staple length and care in harvesting and ginning, the director estimated that Texas cotton farmers would have received an additional $16,040,206 from the 1938 crop had all of the 9,153,000 acres planted to cotton been similarly handled.

"In other words, Texas farmers missed a sixteen million dollar bet in 1938," Williamson said.

Increased price for their quality cotton was only one of the benefits members of one-variety cotton association reaped during the past year, he pointed out. For one thing, county agricultural agents reported that varieties used in the blocks yielded an average of 37 pounds of lint per acre above the state average of 164 pounds.

Report Average of 175.7 Eggs Per Hen Is Highest Recorded

A record of an average of 175.7 eggs per hen, or almost three times the state average production of 63 eggs, was set by the poultry flocks of farm people who worked with county agricultural and home demonstration agents on poultry improvement in 1938.

More than 20,000 persons, including 3,650 4-H boys and 6,469 4-H girls, took part in various phases of poultry improvement work, according to Geo. P. McCarthy, poultry husbandman of the Texas A. & M. college extension service.

The 1938 average of 175.7 eggs per hen is the highest that has been recorded since extension service poultrymen began the demonstrations in 1930, McCarthy said. The 1930 average was 142.1 eggs per hen, or 33.6 eggs under the 1938 figure.

The poultryman said attention to breeding for production, improved feeding practices, culling out low-producing hens, disease prevention, sanitation, and similar factors were responsible for the high average. His annual report, for instance, shows 12,676 flocks were treated for internal parasites during the year.

The average price received for eggs was 21.2 cents per dozen, and it cost an average of 10.8 cents to produce a dozen eggs. The feed cost per hen averaged $1.52 for the year, and demonstrator's flocks returned an average profit above feed cost of $1.60 per hen.

Infants' garments, 741, such as gowns, slips, dresses, and panties. Men's overalls, jackets and pajamas, and garments, 742, shirts, shorts, jumpers. Women's garments, 956, gowns, dresses, slips, shorts, suits and aprons. Household articles made from scraps, such as quilts, 41. Drivers May Use Operators' Licenses After April First

Texas drivers may continue to use their operators' licenses after April 1 the statutory expiration date for all such permits the public safety commission has announced.

The commission said an indefinite period of extension was advisable pending legislative action on two proposals for reissuing driving permits. The two bills referred to in the legislative hopper are Senate bill No. 3 and House bill No. 50.

Licenses issued to drivers classed as chauffeurs or commercial operators were not affected by the safety department's orders for extensions as these permits expire one year from date of issuance.

Since Texas' drivers' license law was enacted in 1939, two and three-quarter million licenses had been assigned to passenger vehicle operators. These permits were issued by tax collectors over the state under the statute which stipulated that they would expire on April 1, 1939. However, no action had yet been taken by the 46th legislature to provide for renewal or reissuance of the licenses.

Department officials said the new expiration date would be announced later.

Cotton Growers Co-Op Organized At Amherst Feb. 21

A group of farmers met at the Amherst school building Tuesday night, Feb. 21, and completed plans to buy the Terry and Boyles Gin. The by-laws governing cooperative gins were read and approved by the members present and adopted by them. The directors selected were Harry Brantley, president; P. S. Dean, vice-president; Kirby West, John Fieldton and Glenn Peoples.

An interesting talk of the evening was made by John Dean, of Sudan, who explained the set-up of the gin, and answered questions pertaining to the problems of organization.

C. V. Harmon of the Farmers cooperative was there giving a few pointers and also making a speech.

Donkey Basketball Game at Spring Lake Tuesday, March 21

On Tuesday night, March 21, an unusual basketball game contest is to be played in which the players will ride long eared burros, that is, they will attempt to do so, while making their passes and shots at the basket. Four teams will play one quarter each. The donkeys are trained for the business and will wear rubber shoes in order that the floor may be protected. Not much protection is guaranteed the contestants. It will be a rip-roaring hee-hawing affair. Not all the hee-hawing will be on the mules either.

The donkey basketball game is being billed at Spring Lake for the first time in this part of West Texas, so far as we know. Tickets will be sold in advance by the Spring Lake Athletic association.
