Residents Protest Paving Plan

NEW LODGE -- Littlefield's new Masonic Bank building, will move to its new quarters. The outside of the building is red brick, with the Masonic emblem in the front and rear walls.

Some 50 to 60 residents of Littlefield appeared before the city council, Monday night, to protest the proposed half million dollar paving program.

The citizens, all property owners on the streets named in the proposed paving program told the council they were satisfied with their area, and did not feel the proposed paving would enhance the value of property on a number of streets included in the program.

The biggest protest came from owners of Reed Street property, as some 11 owners expressed their feelings as being against the paving, which would cost $4.02 per foot for curb and gutter.

Mayor Pro-tem Paul McCormick told the gathering the council and the city would not take any action on the project at the meeting, but they were most interested in the feelings of the property owners on the designated streets.

Mixed feelings on the paving of Austin Avenue prevailed as 15 property owners appeared to state their feelings. Ten owners of property on Austin, from the North property line of West 1st to the south property line of U.S. 84, told the council they favored the paving, the other eight voiced their opposition to the move.

In the other city streets discussed by the council, at the hearing, affected property owners were fairly well split in their evaluation of the paving program. Many property owners said they did not feel the proposed pavement would help the value of their property, and they opposed the city's move to pave their streets. Some did however say they felt the city would pave some of the streets, but wanted to be on record as being against the plan.

The discussion on curbing and guttering the U.S. 84 business route brought several comments from property owners. As representatives of the Santa Fe Railroad stated they opposed the assessment, but after hearing a complete resume of the project said they would reconsider the proposal.

In order for the state to improve and repave the business route, the city must curb and gutter the highway. Estimated cost of the curb and gutter on 84 is $2.49 per foot or an estimated $31,000 for the entire length. The curb and gutter will be installed on an assessment basis.

In addition to the proposal on business 84 there are currently 15 other units included in the project which if the entire amount is carried out will cost an estimated one-half million dollars, including the state's portion of the highway paving.

In the course of the meeting Mayor Pro-tem Paul McCormick, said it would be several weeks before any decision was reached, indicating there are still some areas to be considered.

Following a recess, the council heard a request from property owners on the west end of Smith Street for their street to be included in the summer paving program.

Lester Orr, one of the property owners, delivered to the council a petition, signed by the majority of property owners in the area, calling for paving. Orr told the council he had contacted the majority of property owners in the area, and all had expressed their desire to have the street paved.

City Manager Richard Bean said if all the property owners were in accord it would not be necessary to hold another public hearing on the proposal, but indicated it would be a couple of days before the city had a chance to look into the request.

Under the original proposal the city had hoped to begin the summer paving program in time to beat the fall rains. Now the city may have to postpone the starting date, and reconsider the requests that some streets be deleted from the program.

Industrial Corporation Gains Support

Efforts by the Littlefield Industrial Corporation continued to bring results as the committee assigned to raise the needed funds reported the sale of an additional $500 in stocks.

According to Troy Armes, chairman of the fund raising committee and Mancil Hall, secretary of the corporation, the drive continues to bring slow but steady results, as the company tries to raise $50,000 in cash and $100,000 in pledges to assist with the financing of industries for the Littlefield area.

A representative of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce said Wednesday morning, that progress with several industrial prospects was progressing well, and one has indicated he is anxious to come to Littlefield as soon as all the details on the arrangements have been worked out.

The industrial corporation is seeking to raise the funds to develop the 33 acre industrial site, and to provide money to help industries locate in Littlefield.

The most promising prospect for the immediate time has indicated his intention to purchase ten acres, of the corporation's 33 acre tract, which would allow for future growth. A representative of the firm said in the beginning the company would employ only 25 or 30 people, but there are already plans for future expansion. The ultimate goal of the current prospect would be an installation employing close to 200 people, and would use the agricultural products of the area in the manufacturing of their products.

In recent weeks the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce and the Industrial Corporation has been contacted by several prospects, and they are currently in the process of gathering information and material to be used in talking with these and other prospects. The most recent addition to the rolls of the Industrial Corporation is Brittain Pharmacy which increased its participation in the affairs of the company, in an effort to help reach the goal.

City Is Spraying For Mosquitoes

The Littlefield street and sanitation department is preparing for a mosquito invasion, should such an invasion occur here.

An invasion from the mosquito is expected in some parts of the South Plains, though not in the Littlefield area, according to latest reports.

The city's insect sprayer has been in expanded service during the past two weeks in the city, and spraying is expected to continue, as this is a prime time for increased numbers of the mosquito.

Much rain recently in the county, humid weather and some pools of stagnant water have provided breeding places for the mosquitoes, but city efforts should cut down on the numbers in the city.

Residents of the city can help reduce the swarms of insects by spraying their own yards and gardens and making sure there are no pools of stagnant water around their property.

SMALL BUT POWERFUL -- Bob Hill, of the Littlefield Volunteer Fire Department is holding a small piece of equipment that connects onto a fire hose, and sprays a wall of water 30 feet high and higher. The device, made by members of the fire department, cost nothing to make, and firemen say it will be indispensable in fighting fires, allowing the men to get closer to the flames with their regular hoses.

"News-Grams" Replies Now Possible

Through arrangements with the local Military Affiliate Radio System, the Lamb County Leader and County Wide News has learned that replies from "News-Grams" sent through the MARS network are now possible.

According to the Littlefield MARS representative, the messages can be sent anywhere in the world, where communications are not restricted and where the addressee can be reached. The latter applies to land based operations only. Under the present arrangements, persons sending messages, via MARS can receive replies, which will be sent at no cost to the service man.

As was stated when the program was introduced all messages sent to members of the U.S. armed forces will be sent at no charge, the only restrictions governing the transmission of the messages is that they not exceed 25 words, and that no emergency messages be sent. The Lamb County Leader and County Wide News have both carried official "News-Gram" forms, and will carry others in the future, it is not necessary however to use the form from either paper. MARS message forms can be picked up at the Littlefield Publishing Company's offices, 313 West Fourth. Neither the Littlefield Publishing Company nor MARS can insure delivery of the messages sent, but the local MARS station said every effort will be made to see that messages are delivered. Under the arrangements with MARS messages can be sent to any station by a friend or relative. The message should be of a non critical nature, and should be used to boost the men and women in uniform.

Several batches of messages will be sent each week, and when replies are made they will be delivered as soon as possible.

The Littlefield Publishing Company and the local MARS station expressed their hope that anyone having friends and relatives in the service, would use this public service means of letting our young men and women know the folks at home are thinking of them, and are appreciative of what they are doing.

Cleaning Up Yards, Alleys Kills Mosquitoes

Residents engaged in the task of cleaning up their yards and alleys can do a two-fold duty during the next few weeks.

First, the clean-up campaign helps make Littlefield beautiful and classifies it with the more progressive and industrious communities of the state and nation.

And secondly, cleaning up city property helps reduce the spread of insects, mainly mosquitoes.

There is not better time to fight mosquitoes than during this clean-up campaign, say city officials and J.P. Ray, clean-up supervisor.

The insects thrive in high grass, weeds, pools of stagnant water held in cans, tubs, around water faucets or wherever.

SO MUCH FOR ME -- Paula Manning, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Manning, E. 23rd, has about decided mowing lawns and growing up. Handling a big lawn mower is as much fun as swimming or sitting in the shade eating ice cream, she says. So, Paula thinks she will spend the summer at the swimming pool or just being lazy. To heck with mowing lawns!

Medicare Program Will Begin July 1 In County

The nation-wide Medicare hospitalization program will go into effect Friday, July 1, and Littlefield's hospitals report they are ready for the first of the program's patients.

A Social Security representative from Lubbock was in Littlefield this week to inspect the hospital facilities and see if all was ready for the July 1 starting date.

The local hospitals were given the okay.

R.W. Manley, administrator of Littlefield Hospital and Clinic, says he doesn't anticipate any enormous influx of sick elderly people Friday into the hospital.

"We have plenty of beds available, all necessary forms and are ready to go, but probably there won't be any large number of persons waiting at the door to get in," he said.

Manley said the persons enrolled in the hospitalization plan will have to pay a certain amount of the hospital and doctor's expenses to begin with and some of the people won't, or can't pay these expenses upon entrance.

"This deductible will hold some of the people back from trying to get into the hospital," Manley said he didn't foresee any real problems with the Medicare program as far as the hospitals are concerned.

"There will be increased paper work and accounting problems, and we can always use more good nurses, but there should be no difficulties with the physical plant."

He reported Littlefield Hospital so far has not had to invest in any new or additional equipment and no additional staff.

"Accounting problems probably will give us a few headaches," he said. "Accounts of the people over 65 on the program have to be kept separately from the other patients."

Mrs. Charlene King, administrator at Medical Arts Clinic, said she expects some immediate increase in patients, but no great influx.

"We are ready to go, all forms, staff, everything," she said. "Probably there will be about a 20 per cent increase in patients over a year's time."

Social Security representatives estimate about 1,500 persons are enrolled on the plan in the county.

The Medical Arts Clinic has not had to invest in any additional equipment or hire new staff members, so far, reports Mrs. King.

"We will just have to wait and see how the program will go," she said. "We might find it necessary next week to revise our estimates that there would be few or no problems connected with the program. But so far, I anticipate no critical problems in administering the program."

Hospital administrators said Littlefield, and area, hospitals were approved for the hospitalization program on a year to

Sprouse-Reitz Gets New Store Manager

Richard Lindberg is the new manager at Sprouse-Reitz Variety Store in Littlefield.

He calls Albuquerque his home and has had various jobs in and around the city. During the last year Richard was the assistant manager at the Sprouse-Reitz store in Albuquerque.

(See SIGN PROGRAM, Page 14)

Richard graduated from a high school in Albuquerque and attended New Mexico State University for two years.

Richard is 27, and single. He says this is the first job he's had in Texas and likes Texans. "Littlefield is a nice town, and very friendly," he said. "It and very friendly," he said. "It and very friendly," he said.

Part of a giant project to attract tourists, the sign program will point out the attractions of Littlefield, the downtown project, and the variety of shopping facilities available in the city.

The program discussed Wednesday morning would give the city a total of 12 road signs, all calling attention to Littlefield, the downtown project, and things of interest to be seen in the area.

The move by the chamber has begun several months ago, since that time various committees have been working on designs and wording of the signs, which will direct travelers into the city.

Richard has been in Littlefield about a week, and says he has been so busy "getting things in shape" at the store he hasn't had time to look around the town much.

He says fishing is probably his favorite hobby, though he said he hasn't had time for much fishing since he started working for Sprouse-Reitz.

He attends the Methodist Church here.

News And Leader In New Location

The Littlefield Publishing Company, publishers of the Lamb County Leader and County Wide News, is now in their new location, 313 W. 4th, the old Lamb County Electric Co-operative Building.

The announcement by the president of Littlefield Publishing Company, Jerry Sanders, stated the move was completed only this week, with today's issue being put out from both locations.

Office hours of the two papers will remain the same as will the telephone numbers of the papers.

The move to the new location comes after the Leader and News has occupied the building at 506 Phelps Avenue for the past several years.

In an announcement made several weeks ago, several changes in the two papers will be made, the first Sunday, when the County Wide News will go to a 6 column measure on the front page.

first part of June from Atoka, Okla., and reside at 313 East 13th. Doyle is cashier at Security State Bank.

Bank Cashier And Family Move Here From Oklahoma

"One of the things we like best about Littlefield is the climate", say this week's featured newcomers, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Patton. They explain they are glad the weather here is not humid.

Doyle and Sonja Patton and their three attractive, brown-eyed children moved here the first part of this month and live at 313 East 13th Street. Doyle is cashier at Security State Bank. He held a similar position at a bank in Atoka, Okla., a little more than a year before moving here.

The three small children keep Sonja quite busy. Pat, whose real name is Doyle Patton Jr., is four years old. He is a very talkative youngster and Sonja says you can never tell what he might say next. He wishes there were some boys on his block to play with as he says he is tired of girls. Elizabeth, the blonde three-year old, is a little shy and her favorite pastime is playing dolls. She likes to be a little mother and is especially happy helping Sonja in the kitchen.

The youngest member of the family is Jennifer, who is ten and one-half months old. She has been walking about a month and really gets around. Sonja explained that the reason she started walking rather early was probably because she wanted to be able to keep up with her brother and sister.

Sonja is a native of Stillwell, Okla. Doyle grew up in Midland but his parents now live at Colgate, Okla. Doyle and Sonja met while both were attending Oklahoma City University. They both have BS degrees from this university. Doyle's favorite pastime is playing golf. Sonja enjoys cooking and likes to sew. Her favorite outdoor activity is water skiing. Both Sonja and her husband like to play bridge. Doyle is a member of the Lions Club.

We are happy to welcome the Pattons to Littlefield and know they will be an asset to our community.

According to recent research made by the American Institute of Laundering, fitted sheets with elastic corners wear longer than those with non-elastic corners. In the research tests, sheets with elastic corners were washed for 52 weeks and repaired after only 21 weeks. Both were compared with non-elastic corners.

Fitted bottom sheets do not last nearly as long as flat sheets which can be used to distribute the wear evenly.

Mrs. Mangum Shares Recipe For Easily-Made Hot Rolls

There are any number of methods for making hot rolls ranging from the sour dough variety to the yeast rolls which require a lot of time and effort in the mixing to the refrigerator rolls. Mrs. Mangum consented to share the recipe for refrigerator rolls which to us sounds like it would require less time than we have made. The ingredients of dough is mixed in a bowl with an electric mixer and the dough is not kneaded. The time required in the dough is about ten minutes.

PREPARES HOT ROLLS -- Mrs. Jim Mangum is kept pretty busy in the kitchen preparing meals and snacks for three active boys, Mack, Martin and Steve. She says she has almost burned the family out on hot rolls as the recipe she uses is so easy to make that she makes them quite often. We know our readers will enjoy having Edna Mae's recipe, which requires no mixing by hand or kneading. The less the dough is handled, the more light the rolls are. The dough is quite thin when mixed but becomes stiff after being kept in the refrigerator over night.

action Bible School which was held last week. Jim will assume duties as co-seer judge the first of the year. He has been a partner in Mangum-Hilburn Insurance Company over 15 years and will continue ownership, although he will not be working in the office. Edna Mae has been an assistant school teacher a number of years and during the last semester served as a teacher's side in the Title I remedial reading program in Elementary II. Favorite pastimes listed by Edna Mae include sewing, cooking, boating, fishing and trolling.

Jim enjoys fishing and boating. The family likes camping trips and have a camping trip planned for later in the summer. Edna Mae's recipe follows:

REFRIGERATOR ROLLS

2 packages of dry yeast or 2

cakes of yeast
1/2 cup lukewarm water
3/4 cup oleo (1-1/2 sticks)
1 cup boiling water
2 eggs
3/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup sweet milk
6 cups flour
Add yeast to 1/2 cup lukewarm water. Let set. Into large electric mixer bowl place oleo and boiling water. Turn mixer on. With mixer still running and after oleo is melted, add eggs, sugar, milk, salt, yeast mixture and flour in order. Leave dough in mixing bowl and let rise two hours. Take hand mash down. Cover and refrigerate over night. This dough keeps well, so remove only the part you desire to cook and handle only enough to get out air bubbles. Make into rolls in greased pan. Let rise two hours before baking. Bake in 400 degree oven until brown. Note: Do not knead this dough.

Interested persons should contact Mrs. Ernest Spain at 4801 Avenue Q or at 4801 Avenue Q.

There is no charge for this workshop. Mrs. Ernest Spain, 4801 Avenue Q, will be the first eleven persons to be accepted for the workshop.

Interested persons will go to the workshop on July 9 for a second chance to approve or veto a $60,000 bond issue which was defeated here in the April election. City councilmen of the election after a petition bearing 208 signatures presented. The proposal's approval had asked for another election on the basis of light and dark blue. The proposal would have passed if more facts had been made known to voters. Members of the committee will not result in an increase of taxes. W.C. Finley is judge, and Eldon is named elector.

Brenda Hyatt and Miss Dora of Amarillo, both of Texas Tech were in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hyatt Sunday.

Don Shepard and two others of Odessa visited in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ford, several this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Rucker and relatives in Oklahoma attended the wedding relative last week.

Mr. L.G. Elkins and Mrs. Elkins left Tuesday for Phoenix, Ariz. Mrs. L.G. Elkins will visit in the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. D.W. Stockham and children. Mrs. Cleo lives in Tucson.

Charlie Reynolds of Brownsville is here visiting friends, and was a pioneer Olton resident.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin White of Long Beach, Calif. are here

The board of directors of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. will meet in Lubbock at 6 p.m. June 30 to adopt the organization's budget for the 1966-67 fiscal year, according to PCG President John D. Smith of Littlefield. The meeting is scheduled in the Johnson House, 4801 Avenue Q.

"The primary purpose of the meeting is to set up our 1966-67 budget, but other cotton-interest matters will also be discussed and all producers and cotton related businessmen are invited to attend," Smith said.

The PCG finance committee, of which M.A. (Rip) Elms, of Littlefield also, is chairman, will meet in the PCG offices at 3 p.m. just prior to the board meeting. It is the job of this committee to work with the staff in outlining budgetary items and amounts and recommend an overall budget to the board.

PCG has two directors, one cotton producer and one businessman, from each of its 23 counties. Support for the organization is largely from cotton producers who pay 15 cents per bale dues through their ginner, and Smith is urging all directors to attend the meeting and represent their county's producers in the budget adoption.

He points out that it is unlikely that cotton planted this late can utilize additional fertilizer and that it will not need more than one summer irrigation. And the cotton that gets one or two more timely rains will need no irrigation at all, he says.

Defoliants or desiccants should not be used, according to Ray, because the late-planted crop will need the full growing season.

Using less water, less fertilizer and no harvest-aid chemicals has the double advantage of improving chances for producing a mature crop and at the same time reducing expenses. And Ray says the grower should remember that the income from replanted cotton at this time of year is almost sure to be relatively low, so keeping expenses to the absolute minimum will be an important factor in the producer's net income position at the end of the year.

Donald A. Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., has announced the probability of a new service to the cotton producer organization's 25,000 members.

Johnson says a personal newsletter, called "The PCG Cotton Review" will be mailed monthly to each of the members beginning in July. He refers to the service as a probability rather than a certainty because this item of expense is yet to be approved by the PCG finance committee and board of directors.

"However," Johnson said, "the lack of sufficient communications between the organization and its members has in the past been criticized by various members of the board, and I believe this monthly newsletter, written especially for and mailed directly to the members will be hailed by the board as a valuable addition to PCG services."

He also pointed out that adjustments are planned in other parts of the budget to offset the additional cost.

According to Johnson, the letter will be used to keep members informed of all PCG activities, promote the adoption of proven cultural practices in cotton production, analyze legislation affecting cotton producers and for whatever other purposes will serve the interests of the High Plains cotton industry.

Exact date of publication has not been decided on.

Dr. L.L. Ray, agronomist at the South Plains Research and Extension Center north of Lubbock, has issued some valuable advice to cotton producers who have had to replant cotton late in June because of hail, wind or rain damage.

Area Auto Insurance Rates Increase $4

The average motorist in Lamb County will pay $4 more for automobile insurance if the proposed change in rates is made by the State Board of Insurance, according to the Southwestern Insurance Information Service of Dallas.

Present cost of insurance on a new Ford of Chevrolet private passenger car driven to and from work and not driven by a male under 25 years of age is $138. The new cost would be $142. This includes basic liability coverage of $10,000 for injury or loss of life of one person, $20,000 for two, and $5,000 property damage; $100 deductible collision; and full coverage comprehensive insurance.

Under the new rates, motorists would pay $1 more for bodily injury and property damage liability and $5 more for comprehensive. But the cost of $100 deductible collision would be reduced $2.

Cost for the same coverage but with $50 deductible collision would be increased $4 also, from $151 to $155.

Other types and older cars would have different rates. Texas has 26 rating territories and eight automobile classifications. The cost estimates given are for cars in classification will have to be worked out before the act becomes effective.

Even with the rate increases, Texas would rank about 30th among the states in the cost of automobile insurance to policyholders.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

It's tourist season at the historic Texas State Capitol Building.

On any summer day, visitors from all parts of Texas, many other states and even foreign countries can be found in its spacious rotunda and in the splendid legislative halls or on the green, tree-shaded grounds. More than 200,000 tourists looked over portions of the 78-year-old state house during the last year, estimates the Capitol Tourist Bureau which is operated seven days a week by Texas Highway Department personnel.

Two-hour free parking is available for visitors on a lot at 11th and Congress Ave., across from the south Capitol grounds. Limited parking also is provided on a first-come-first-serve basis in marked tourist spaces on the grounds.

HOME OPENED -- A part of the famous Capitol dome was reopened last year for the first time in 12 years. Visitors can now go to the fifth floor landing (in company of a guide) and are rewarded by a spectacular view of the capital city from an outside balcony.

Six guided tours a day take them from the fourth-floor elevator stop -- up 112 spiral steps to the fifth floor.

Many less-adventurous visitors are content to wander on their own through the columned corridors, to look up their Legislators' pictures in the House or Senate or to drop by the Governor's office and sign the guest book.

CONSTRUCTION -- The Capitol covers three acres of ground and has 192,374 square feet of floor space.

At the time of its completion in 1888, it was said to be the seventh largest capitol building in the world.

In 1879, the Legislature appropriated more than three million acres of land in 10 panhandle counties to pay for the building.

Construction was begun February 1, 1882. Owners of Granite Mountain near Marble Falls in Burnet County offered free of charge to the state all granite needed to complete the building. (Original plans called for construction of Texas limestone.) Extended labor problems delayed completion, but Texas finally got a building that cost more than $3,700,000 in exchange for her three million acres of land.

Rising to a height of more than 309 feet (from basement floor to top of the Goddess of Liberty statue on the dome), the building is seven feet higher than the National Capitol in Washington.

It is 565 feet long and 299 feet wide, including outside steps in both measurements. OX-POWERED -- Fifteen thousand carloads of Texas red granite for exterior walls were hauled into Austin from Burnet County by ox-power and a specially built railroad. Texas limestone forms interior and dome walls.

Wainscoting of oak, pine, cherry, cedar, walnut, ash and mahogany would reach a length of seven miles.

Door and window frames are all in oak and pine, except those in the Governor's ornate reception room, which are of cherry.

The original copper roof covers 85,000 square feet.

Original floors were of hand-blocked clay tile, glass and wood. New hall and rotunda floors are of terrazzo, all Texas rock aggregate except for the blue in the U.S. Seal which was imported from Italy. These rotunda floors tell the story of Texas history and are regarded as among the largest and most beautiful terrazzo floors in the world.

Modeled after the classic design of the National Capitol, the Texas Capitol is built in the form of a Grecian cross.

ALWAYS WORK -- Maintenance requires almost constant effort. Crews of painters, carpenters, electricians and plasterers are at work in some portion of the sprawling building almost every day. Many areas, including the Governor's quarters, have been remodeled, modernized and air-conditioned.

Most dramatic of the maintenance work is painting the interior of the Capitol dome every seven years. Painters work on a platform suspended 260 feet above the star on the rotunda floor.

There are still a few oldtimers around who remember when the grand old building was brand new.

OTHER ATTRACTIONS -- "The Texas Capitol is more than a seat of government; more than a fountainhead of law," one writer has said. "With its treasures of Texas, it acts like a lodestone upon even the 'summer soldier and the sunshine patriot.' And those who enjoy deeper drafts of history may stand again and again before the Capitol's paintings, sculptures and documents, each time finding something they had missed before. Here, one must thrill to the feel of an undercurrent of the tremendous energy and vigor which continue to keep Texas great."

While the Capitol used to house all agencies of state government, now only the Legislature and its agencies, plus the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State and State Comptroller are under its spreading roof.

Many other state agencies are located in modern buildings just off the Capitol grounds. Visits to some of these buildings are also well worthwhile.

Especially fascinating is the fine Archives and Library building east of the Capitol.

The Capitol Tourist Bureau, one of nine such units of the Highway Department, maintains complete information about other Austin attractions and pro-

Phyllis Diller, as a maid who doesn't confine herself to household duties, questions her boss (Bob Hope) about the origins of those lipstick marks. "Boy, Did I Get a Wrong Number!" will open Sunday at the XIT Drive-In Theatre through United Artists release. The film also stars Elke Sommer. It is in Color by DeLuxe.

Sells' Son-In-Law Succumbs

Funeral services for Don Sides, 36, of Friona, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sell, 521 East 16th Street, were conducted at 2 p.m. Wednesday in the First Baptist Church, Friona. Sides died Monday in Houston following open heart surgery.

The Rev. J.B. Fowler, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Bovina, officiated the rites. Burial was in Resthaven Memorial Park, Lubbock at 5 p.m., directed by Claborn Funeral Home, Friona.

Sides was born Sept. 2, 1929, in the Canyon community near Lubbock. He was a graduate of Roosevelt High School, a member of the Masonic Lodge and Methodist Church and was active in little league baseball in Bovina.

Survivors include his wife, Ernestine; three children, Gary, Larry and Sandra, all of the home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H.H. Sides, Lubbock; two brothers, Ben Sides, Midland, and Billy Sides, Friona; and a sister, Mrs. Bob McKinney of Muleshoe.

Last year, these bureaus played host to 753,000 travelers out of a record total of more than 12,600,000 out-of-state people who were passengers in autos visiting the state.

Sharp Pencil - A Dangerous Weapon

Some of our news hawks are overeager to jump to preconceived conclusions.

This lack of integrity in the press was dramatically demonstrated on the night of June 17 in London.

Morning editions in the United States published grotesquely distorted reports of evangelist Billy Graham's visit to Soho.

Let this be understood: Paul Harvey makes no pretense at "objectivity." I am FOR certain things and I am AGAINST certain things and these editorial columns are most likely to quote those whose views parallel my own.

But many Americans have been misled to imagine that the reports which they receive from the scene of news events are entirely unbiased. Let such Americans be advised that the ideal degree of journalistic objectivity is impossible of attainment.

In the very selection of subjects which the telecaster mentions or the camera records, somebody's "opinion" is being expressed.

And only if Americans are properly forewarned, can they be forearmed.

The Soho district is London's most lurid square mile of sin. Billy Graham intended to stroll those gaudy streets and to invite any interested to hear him preach at Earl's Court Arena.

But America awakened Saturday morning to read:

"Graham in seclusion after being caught in mob scene." "Evangelist's Soho visit ends in fist fights."

The UPI reported: "Billy Graham fails to conquer Soho."

The traditionally conservative CHICAGO TRIBUNE caption read: "Crowd bars Graham trip to vice dens."

The impression which was left with the readers was that Graham had been most unwelcome to Soho, though the opposite was true.

The facts, buried in later stories or ignored altogether, made it clear that the evangelist was being welcomed so enthusiastically that "police, unprepared for such a turnout, feared they could not control the admiring crowd, thus the friendly crowd unintentionally dissuaded Graham from his appointed rounds."

But even after the "clarification" was available, a London reporter called the crowd "a screaming, fighting mob of thrill seekers."

Another (AP) reporter's "objective" coverage of the event referred to the evangelist as "a victim of the efficiency of his own publicity machine."

Perhaps I am hypersensitive about the distorted image of Billy Graham which I so often see in print. There are many more flagrant examples in my files of news names seen through jaundiced eyes.

Richard Nixon, lashing back at a conspicuously hostile press, once said that a man can suffer "crucifixion by omission at the hands of a skillful user of words." This I believe.

There is no proper remedy for this situation except for Americans to enlighten themselves. You may lean somewhat on editors and journalists you have learned to trust. But in the end, it will have to be your own "sixth sense" which separates the wheat from the chaff.

July Fourth Traffic Count - 1966?

What will this July Fourth bring traffic wise? If it is similar to the ones in the past it will be deadly, injurious, and destructive. Our forefathers thought back in 1776 after declaring Independence future generations would be free from wanton deaths and destruction. However, they were greatly mistaken to what the future would bring.

During the last 190 years since our nation declared its Independence there have been eight major wars claiming 1,130,393 American lives. The automobile has been in existence for about 65 years claiming 1,599,950 lives. Thus, the battlefield has been a safer place than the "homefront."

The 1965 July Fourth holidays covered a period of three days in which there were 19 persons killed and 372 persons injured in rural traffic accidents in Texas.

The 19 persons killed were involved in 14 fatal accidents. These fatal accidents involved 21 hazardous violations and one pedestrian violation. The 372 persons injured were involved in 178 injury accidents. The injury accidents involved 167 hazardous violations and 11 vehicle defects. There were 395 property damage accidents involving 344 hazardous violations, 28 vehicle defects, and one pedestrian violation.

Psoriasis is a skin disorder which affects at least one out of every 100 persons in the United States, pronounced so-called.

Psoriasis appears as red patches on the face, neck, scalp and hands. TODAY'S HEALTH magazine of the American Medical Association.

Psoriasis affects both men and women and most frequently between the ages of 15 and 30 years. The individual will appear and disappear and usually will exist in degrees of severity for the rest of a person's life.

Psoriasis is a chronic disease. There is no cure. Some skin specialists believe that the tendency to psoriasis may be hereditary.

Psoriasis may be caused by injury to the skin, such as a cut or a burn. Psoriasis often is seasonal, occurring in the winter months and flare-ups during periods of stress and emotional stress.

Doctors have found that psoriasis responds well to sunbathing, sunlamp treatment, ultraviolet light, and ultraviolet light.

In recent years skin specialists have had some success with corticosteroid creams and lotions, particularly in the areas covered with plastic film wrappings.

Some particularly severe cases of psoriasis have responded to some of the drugs used in treatment of psoriasis.

Federal, State, Local Level Tax Controversies

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS

One of the important reasons the Federal Government needs to adopt a greater sense of fiscal responsibility -- in curbing excessive spending and holding down the burden of taxation -- is that State and local governments also must look to the same citizens for support of their operations. When a clear delineation is lost as to the proper role of Federal, State, and local governments, a trend I have opposed, a clear delineation is also lost as to sources of revenue each level should rely upon.

It seems apparent from the growth of the Federal budget that more and more Americans want and expect more from the Government in Washington. A theory of centralization in government activity has become more and more accepted as the years have passed, and its advocates are not limited to any one political party. But at the same time as Federal activity has expanded, so has that of the States and local governmental bodies. They, too, have attempted to deal with heavy demands for more, better, and costlier services. The extent to which the States and local governments have met these requirements is often overlooked. A new report of the Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations, a body set up by Congress to study the intricate relationships among levels of government, makes the point that there has been a 300 percent post-war increase in State-local general government spending.

Between 1948 and 1964, the annual level of State and local governments' spending for general purposes increased by $52 billion compared with a $14 billion increase in Federal general expenditures for civilian domestic purposes, according to Commission figures. The number of State-local government employees increased by 90 percent compared with a 22 percent increase in Federal civilian employment. The per capita debt of State-local governments increased $355 while Federal per capita debt actually declined by $91.

Some States and city governments -- particularly those in huge metropolitan areas -- have been looking more and more to Washington because their own ability to finance such rapid expansion has become jeopardized. Grant-in-aid programs have increased enormously. A publication of the Congress entitled "Catalog of Federal Aids to State and Local Governments" contains 154 pages in the initial document and 257 pages in supplements issued to it. Together they list the myriad of Federal grants-in-aid and other forms of assistance to States and their political subdivisions. Many of these programs were enacted to assist revenue-short State and local governments -- at their request. Others came as a part of the centralization of Federal activity and were forced into the States, whether they wanted the programs or not. Some programs in this latter category have, despite the Federal contribution, forced States into activities they'd have preferred to avoid.

At its command, the Federal Government has a vehicle for raising revenue -- the personal income tax -- that from modest beginnings now has grown to produce some $50 billion a year. Because the income tax is directly tied to the degree of prosperity, meeting requirements quickly in an expanding economy, State governments have been more and more attracted to it -- and now 33 States collect income taxes to raise more than $3.5 billion. Texas, as you know, does not levy a State income tax. But because of the growing conflicts in taxation, we are certain to hear more about proposals that the Federal Government share more of its Federal income tax revenue with the States, and this is a controversy that will not easily be resolved.

SEND A NEWS-GRAM TO A FRIEND OR RELATIVE IN VIET NAM

The Lamb County Leader and County Wide News, in co-operation with the Military Affiliate Radio System, now makes it possible for you to send a message to a friend or relative in Viet Nam, free of charge.

The coupon below, mailed to Littlefield Publishing, starts a 6,000 mile communications chain to send your 25-word message. The message will be relayed to a MARS station and transmitted to Viet Nam.

In Viet Nam, your message will be decoded and delivered to the serviceman. If he's in an inaccessible area, it will be read to him over the telephone.

If you want to send a message, fill out the coupon and mail it to Littlefield Publishing. Be sure to include your serviceman's full name, rank, serial number, and the name and number of his military unit and APO number.

The message and signature should be no more than 25 words, not counting the address.

This News-Leader public service is not intended for emergency messages, but only those of a personal or "morale-building" nature.

While neither the News & Leader nor the MARS network can absolutely guarantee delivery in that volatile area, every effort will be made to do so, if the form is filled out completely. Messages can be delivered to land-based operations only, and not to ships in waters off Viet Nam.

Grain Sorghum Irrigation Requires Careful Planning

Grain sorghum irrigation is important when planning the irrigation schedule on Lamb County farms.

Grain sorghum uses less than one-tenth of an inch of water per day up to about the seven leaf stage and then the use rate increases rapidly.

The peak water use of more than 3 inches per day comes between the boot and bloom stage.

RESEARCH INDICATES
 Research indicates the best grain sorghum yields are produced when available soil moisture is kept at or above about 45 percent of capacity from the pre-boot to the soft dough stage.

This watering schedule is seldom the most profitable and it results in extremely inefficient water use.

Two well-timed seasonal irrigations will generally give good yields and probably near maximum net return on grain sorghum. The agent says these two irrigations ideally should be applied at pre-boot and at the late-bloom stage.

Research indicates one irrigation on grain sorghum gives the most efficient water use. If rainfall is short, the boot stage is the approximate time to apply the one irrigation.

However, the County agent says, if conditions allow delaying this irrigation to the milk stage, research shows yields will be better earlier moisture is shorter the plant maturity.

EXCESSIVE MOISTURE
 No matter how the conditions are applied, excessive early moisture should be avoided on grain sorghum if possible.

The agent explained elongation preceding stage followed by stress during grainment is likely to cause as a result of this.

This irrigation reformation may not be as expected on any. But local farmers can the basic ideas and that fit into their crop situation.

The county agent detailed information on research and recommendations available at the extension office.

To promote basket dance in 1966, the K.A.A. offered $55 worth of scrips to be used as tickets.

High-frequency soil be used to drive from cotton fields.

Current Life Issue Devotes 18 Pages Texas' Power, Sweep

Life's July 8 issue, will concern itself with individual Texans who have distinguished themselves in various fields of endeavor.

Life associate editor David Nevin, himself a Texan, wrote the test that follows the photographic story. It's titled "A People Out For Stars, Not Peanuts" and in it Nevin describes the unflagging excitement and vitality "that sets Texas apart from the rest of the nation."

"The frontier of Texas," he writes, "is still close in time, close enough to give the state a special flavor of self-reliance, of freedom from the strictures of older societies -- a kind of tacit statewide agreement that what a man did or was yesterday counts for nothing against what he can accomplish today."

"It is an atmosphere in which men can act. And the great pools of capital that come from oil gives them the capacity to act. These two bases of action interwork, each lending strength to the other, and make possible -- even expectable -- such coups as that of the Leidtke brothers, who were able to gain controlling interest in United Gas Corp."

The Life article is not completely uncritical of Texas. "Our of a population of 10 million, 800,000 are functional illiterates," the magazine says, "and a million workers earn less than the $3,000 that the federal government considers the poverty cutoff. In south Texas, heavily Mexican-American, more than half the people are living below the poverty level."

Minor minus Life found include the fact that "there are few nightclubs or good restaurants in all of Texas, and the state liquor laws are puritanical."

Yet, with it all, Life says,

"the old excitement of the frontier becoming the present still grips Texas: the action is faster than it has ever been. The nights sparkle with the lights of great cities; the days are rimmed with a huge sky."

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

by Vern Sanford

GIVING YOUR DOG A PILL—Giving your dog any sort of medicine is a real chore. But to get a pill down his throat is a job to tax any man's temper.

You can save a lot of cuss words and the dog a lot of misery if you will take hold of the mutt's jaw, press his cheeks against his teeth so that he can't close his mouth, and toss the pill far back in his throat. Then, quickly clamp the jaws together and stroke his throat until he swallows.

You can almost see the pill slide down.

TIME TO HUNT SQUIRRELS—This tip is meant for the beginner who is taking his first squirrel hunt.

The time of day most bushy-tails are running actively is real early in the morning, just at sun-up, or at sundown, just before dark. And that's the time to hunt 'em.

This applies whether you are still hunting, or sneaking through the woods.

DRYING OUT SLEEPING BAGS—Sleeping bags are likely to get damp, or even wet, after a night's use. However, they may be dried quickly by opening the car hood and draping them over the running engine. Tie to the radiator ornament or hook to hold the bags in place. Turn the bag, or bags, now and then, as you would any other apparel.

CLEAN ROD FERRULES—Ferrules that are balky when you try to pull the rod sections apart, show that they need cleaning and lubricating.

Use a soft rag, moistened with gasoline, to swab both male and female parts of ferrule. Then lightly lubricate.

After this treatment you will find that the ferrule parts separate with nothing more than a little pop of resistance.

ROOFING IN THE DOGHOUSE—Your bird dog deserves a dry place to run and sleep.

Cover the floor of his shelter with ordinary roofing material. Then pave the runway of the kennel with the same stuff. First be sure the runway is elevated with enough packed dirt to assure good drainage.

COLD NOSE IS OFTEN NATURAL—The belief is almost universal that a warm, dry nose on a dog indicates that the animal is sick. However, unless this dry condition continues for several days, there probably is nothing to worry about.

Short intervals of dry hotness can merely indicate that the nose glands that regulate the moist discharge are only temporarily off the job.

Irrigation Tubing Distributor Named

Appointment of a distributor in this area for a new portable irrigation system of thin-wall plastic tubing which completely eliminates seepage and evaporation water loss common in open-ditch systems has been announced by Petro-Tex Chemical Corporation.

Econo-Flex Pipe Co., 711 Oakland Street, Plainview, has been named distributor in this area. B.F. Samman and W.F. Bowser, well known Plains area businessmen, are partners in Econo-Flex.

Made of Bu-Tuf resin, the new systems are being marketed after a three year program of testing and development.

The new system overcomes limitations of open-ditch irrigation while providing increased economy and convenience. It is manufactured in a wide range of diameters and wall-thicknesses and -- since it is in a collapsible, lay-flat tube form -- can be supplied in rolls of great length.

"By any standards, this is a significant improvement over other methods of irrigation," said J.M. Kincaid, development engineer for Petro-Tex Chemical who has been working with farmers in the area in recent months. "Bu-Tuf tubing can easily be installed and moved by one person. The farmer using it has a far greater degree of flexibility in field layout since he can move the tubing to direct water to any area of the field.

Control of seepage and evaporation in open ditches "is impossible," Kincaid said, "yet the ditches have remained in wide use because there have been no attractively-priced alternatives. With the Bu-Tuf system the farmer eliminated the open stretch of ditch between the well and the point where the water transfers to the furrow. The Bu-Tuf system directs the water to the field -- not the long open ditch."

In development of the new irrigation system, elimination of seepage and evaporation was a major objective because a Texas Technological College study showed that water losses of 20 percent due to these two factors were found to be typical in the Texas South Plains area. Kincaid said.

"Typical pumping costs for this South Plains area in 1964 ran about $12 per acre," Kincaid said. "On a 160-acre cotton farm, a loss this size could be valued at $385 and could represent 45 percent of the seed costs."

Kincaid said the new Bu-Tuf irrigation system should be "especially attractive to farmers who do not own the land they farm since the system is portable and can be moved from one farm to another."

Bu-Tuf tubing is sold in standard lengths of 400 feet, Coupling devices have been developed which provide positive seal and simplicity of operation.

Water Conservation Necessary

Water conservation is a practice as necessary as life itself. Many farmers in the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District have done an excellent job in conserving water. Many others have failed to make any attempt at all to conserve water.

The day of habitually letting irrigation tail water run down country road ditches is about over for farmers within the District.

The Board of Directors of the District has instructed the District personnel to eliminate, by one means or another, the loss of irrigation tail water.

Several notices to stop wasting water have been issued in the area during the past few days. Court injunctions have been served to several land owners and tenants. If after receiving a notice to stop wasting water, a farmer continues to let water pour out of his fields, a court injunction will be served. Many have been given warning in previous years, but will not be warned again.

Studies in the area where tail water was escaping from the land, reveal that a quarter section will lose an average of 37 acre feet of water during the irrigation season. This could easily irrigate about 18 acres of land for the entire irrigation season.

Valuable top soil is also lost when irrigation tail water is allowed to fill bar ditches and lakes.

If you are allowing your tail water to escape from property you own or control, you should begin now to make plans to eliminate this waste. You too, will soon receive a notice and if compliance is disregarded, a court injunction will follow. The Water District is much more interested in motivating a desire in the minds and hearts of high plains land owners to want to conserve their life-giving resource than it is in law enforcement.

The administrators also reminded persons enrolled in the plan to bring their medical cards with them to the hospitals, whenever they come. It is essential that they have their cards with them.
