Goodland Gin Destroyed By Fire Wednesday Afternoon: R. D. Shepard Owner Badly Burned

Damage was variously estimated at from $50,000 to $100,000 after a fire destroyed the Goodland Gin, at Goodland at about 5:00 p.m. Wednesday afternoon when the gin was completely consumed in the flames after an explosion.

R. D. Shepard, about 40 years of age was badly burned when the butane powered motor in the gin exploded, and was rushed to the Payne-Shotwell Foundation even while the flames raged in the gin, being brought here by his wife and daughter, where his condition is described as serious but not critical, having suffered burns of a third degree nature. He was badly burned about the face, forearms, shoulders and left thigh, and was also suffering from shock.

Mr. Shepard, besides being owner of the gin, is also a well known farmer of the Goodland community, in Bailey county.

A neighbor to Mr. Shepard, and friend of the family told a Leader reporter, that Mr. Shepard had just completed extensive remodeling and improvements at the gin, in preparation for the 1951 run. The gin was ready to open, but had not ginned its first bale.

He said the fire started as the result of backfiring of the big butane burning motor which powers the gin. Mr. Shepard had been making some adjustments on the motor. Upon completion, he attempted to start the motor, and it is probable that the carburetor had flooded to an extent, which caused the motor to backfire, and flames quickly resulted in the engine room, and then spread to the gin.

Mr. Shepard was not able to be interviewed late Thursday afternoon at the hospital, and therefore, no statement was forthcoming as to whether ginning services would be available at his Goodland gin this season, but it is considered doubtful, in view of the fact that ginning machinery is practically impossible to obtain, and the further fact that there would hardly be sufficient time to rebuild in time to handle this year's cotton crop. The loss was said to have been partially covered by insurance.

VARIETY OF LAMB COUNTY CROPS IS SEEN IN EXHIBITS

Partial List of Winners Given In This Issue

The fourth annual Lamb County Fair is now on in full swing—as this is written Friday afternoon—with the biggest day of all, Saturday, yet to come. Fair officials are predicting that total attendance will surpass any of the three preceding fairs.

Attendance was estimated at between 1500 and 2000 on the opening day, despite the fact that a cold front had moved in—following Wednesday's above 100 temperature which cracked all previous late September records on the Plains.

With a warm-up Friday, an ideal Fair day unfolded, and the second day's attendance bid fair to easily exceed the opening day.

Saturday, will be the big day, however, which will feature the mammoth parade Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m., followed by a show in the arena both afternoon and night. Also the big colored battle-royal is all set for that night, an event that always provides plenty of amusement, if not excitement, and the big aerial act by Bud Lucas of Wichita Falls, and others.

A trip through the exhibits on display in the several buildings, again easily proves the diversity of Lamb county farms, as well as soil and farming qualities; proves beyond any doubt, that we have vastly increased the number and improved our hog herds; improved our dairy herds, and imported pure breeds; and show some of the many fine herds of pure bred strains in both dairy and beef cattle.

Much of the success of the farm of all kinds from various and all sections of the county, is due to the efforts of the FFA and 4-H boys clubs, and the same is of course true in the livestock show buildings.

One of the highlights of the exhibits of the Fair is the community exhibits, assembled by several of the FFA chapter boys of the county. Three different FFA chapters of the county arranged displays, and each received an award.

Littlefield won first place with a 901 score out of a possible 1000; Olton won second, scoring 800 (only one one-thousandth less than Littlefield), and Springlake third, scoring 885.

Another exhibit which is in the district quality class is the miniature model farm home display, showing a working model-arrangement of buildings, drives, walks, and other details of the model and modern farm home on the South Plains. The beautiful cabinet work displayed by the V. A. cabinet school, is another display that should be on the "must see" list of every Fair visitor.

Another highlight of the Fair is the crop-rotation display, with several entries—but judging here had not been completed as we toured the exhibits Friday afternoon.

The women's divisions have played a large part in making this a highly successful Fair—exhibits arranged, prepared and created by the women of Lamb county are on display in profusion, and these also include, a beautiful exhibit of home grown flowers and their arrangement.

Seven separate Women's Home Demonstration Clubs entered club displays, in a variety of subjects. Sof House H. D. club, won first place on a display showing the al-

The session opened at 12 noon. Included in those present was George Hine, state manager of Abilene.

POSTMASTER AND MRS. STOREY HAVE INTERESTING TRIP TO WASHINGTON

Postmaster and Mrs. W. D. T. Storey returned early Thursday from the Postmasters National Convention, which convened from September 16 through September 21 at Washington. Headquarters for the meeting was the Statler Hotel.

Postmaster and Mrs. Storey had a very enjoyable trip and were guests at several social functions. They visited in the home of cousins of Mrs. Storey, Mr. and Mrs. George Wythe. Mr. Wythe is with the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

Sunday, the first day of the convention, Postmaster and Mrs. Storey were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wythe at a luncheon at the Navy Country Club. That afternoon a tea was given complimenting Mrs. Storey at the Wythe home.

On the following Monday Mr. and Mrs. Storey enjoyed lunch with Congressman and Mrs. George Mahon in the Congressional dining room, and also had lunch with Cong. Mahon the following Wednesday in the Speaker of the House Diningroom.

On Tuesday, during the week of the convention, Mrs. Storey attended a banquet at the Statler Hotel given by the Orient Chapter in honor of the Postmaster General's wife, Mrs. Donaldson; Mrs. Vincent Berg, wife of the Assistant Postmaster General, and Mrs. North. (Continued on Back Page)

Bailey County Fair Set For Oct. 5-6

ATTEND SAFETY PROGRAM

Mrs. Charles Latham, president of Elementary P.T.A. and Mrs. Edwin Brown, safety chairman of the same P.T.A. organization attended a district safety meeting held at Lubbock Thursday.

ANNUAL SOIL CONSERVATION FIELD DAY PROGRAM IS ATTENDED BY 200

Approximately 200 farmers, business men, ranchers, and boys from three F.F.A. chapters in the county, including Springlake, Olton and Littlefield, attended the annual "field" day tour of five farms, Tuesday, sponsored by Lamb County Soil Conservation District, T. C. Williams, work unit conservationist with offices at Amherst, was in charge of arranging the tour.

The group met at Fieldton at 9 a.m. which was the starting point of the tour. They were served hot coffee and doughnuts by Littlefield Chamber of Commerce.

Three farms were visited during the morning hours and included a visit to the Buck Fredericksen farm, located 3 miles northeast of Fieldton, where a demonstration on flood irrigation on bench level land and irrigation through underground tile was given. The farm consists of 320 acres.

The next stop was a visit to the Charely Jones ranch of five sections of land, where a herd of beautiful Whiteface cattle were shown, and a demonstration on killing of sagebrush by spraying was given. This farm is located between Olton and Hart Camp.

The next stop was a visit to I. V. Fent's 160 acre dairy farm, located 4 miles east of Olton. Mr. Fent has a fine herd of Holstein day.

The group was served lunch at Olton school cafeteria.

The first stop in the afternoon tour was a visit to E. C. Jones' 160 acre farm, one mile east of Olton, when an illustration on general diversified farming was shown.

The last stop was at the Guy Daugherty farm six miles northwest of Olton showing a demonstration on the planting of legumes.

COUNTRY CLUB DANCE

Approximately fifty-five couples attended the first dance of the fall season at Littlefield Country Club, and enjoyed dancing to music furnished by Ireland's orchestra of Lubbock.

GUERNSEY HEIFER SHOWN BY BILLY BALES PLACES FIRST AT LAMB FAIR

One proud boy at the Lamb County Fair Friday was Billy Bales, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bales of Broadacres Addition, and he had a right to feel proud as he won first prize on his year old Guernsey heifer, which he raised from a small calf. The animal was red and white spotted.

Billy is in his second year of vocational agriculture. Last year a

Poland China hog he showed at the Lamb County Fair placed first, winning a blue ribbon.

Billy is printer's apprentice at the Lamb County Leader in his spare time from school, but his duties have been sadly neglected this week as he has been busy getting his animal ready and staying with her at the Fair.

Local WOW Officers Are Guests of Big Spring Lodge at Barbecue

W. D. Chapman, WOW district manager, and Littlefield lodge officers and degree team attended the Log Rollers Convention, at which the Big Spring WOW lodge was host at that city Thursday night.

Included in those attending from the local lodge, besides Mr. Chapman, were: Merle Beard, Bob Kirk, L. E. Stanaford and H. C. Sisson, and members of the degree team, who put on work for the Big Spring lodge.

George Hine, state manager of Abilene, was among the visitors.

A barbecue was given in the city park at 7 o'clock Thursday night for the visitors.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at 2 p. m. from the First Baptist church at Sudan. Rev. Wayne Perry, pastor, officiated. Burial was in Sudan Cemetery and Hammons Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Surviving are the husband, five sons, Milton, R. C., Willit, Glen and Jimmy and one daughter Rosetta all at home. Other survivors include her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Seymour, Lubbock, and five brothers, D. C., Lee, Buck, Bea, and L. J. and four sisters, Mrs. Tessie Boltwright, Mrs. Zell Augery, Mrs. Myrtle Collins and Mrs. Gladys Stone.

Progress In Defense

Senator McMahon, as chairman of the joint congressional committee on atomic energy, is well informed in the field of atomic weapons and our resources for producing them. Hence, his view that mass production of such weapons is possible as a substitute for conventional armament merits attention.

Most pleasing to oppressed taxpayers was the senator's suggestion that the shift to atomic weapons would permit a saving of $30 billion a year in the military budget. However, taxpayer optimism is dampened by the further explanation that at least three years would be required for this transition.

Another comforting idea from Washington has been embodied in the recurring statements that this nation has "fantastic" weapons to make aggression unprofitable, if not suicidal. Skepticism has developed with respect to these broad generalizations, which are calculated to arouse a sense of false security. The modern type of saber-rattling is variously regarded as a possible deterrent to aggression and as an incitement to it before more super-weapons are produced. One can have his choice of those two opposite opinions.

Unfortunately, the enemy, too, may be discovering "fantastic" weapons. What the future has in store for the world rests in the lap of the gods, but for the time being we must rely on huge defense budgets, heavy taxes, and the slogging foot soldier with his rifle. In fact, none of the announcements of our progress in weapons and atomic armament has dampened so far the fighting in Korea. The future may be brighter, but that is a hope.

MOVE TO LIMIT FEDERAL TAXING POWER ALARMS HAPPY SPENDERS

The happy spenders in Washington and throughout the nation are becoming really alarmed at the progress that is being made in the movement calling upon Congress to submit a Constitutional Amendment that would place a limit on the taxing power of the federal government.

The legislatures of state after state have passed identically worded resolutions calling upon Congress for this action.

As time goes on and the appropriations by Congress mount into astronomical figures and additional taxation is levied each year to pay them, it is evident that the adoption of this amendment is the only method by which the taxpayers will have anything left and ruin prevented.

It is well within the memory of many that when the 16th Amendment was adopted in 1913, it was feared then, that some future Congress would have the temerity to levy as much as a 10% tax upon incomes, but this argument was pook-pooked as being fantastic. It is no longer fantasy when the maximum reaches 94½% for federal taxes only, and the end is not yet in sight.

No real businessman would ever make such a blanket commitment against the future and no real statesman, if he has the interests of his nation and his constituents at heart will oppose its adoption, for without it, those who are in power both in the administration and in Congress will not hesitate to wring the last dollar available from the taxpayers regardless of the actual need.

The happy spenders and opponents of this proposed amendment in their arguments against it, say that the government must have the money for the defense effort, but therein their pleas fall flat, for the proposed amendment plainly states it is inoperative in time of war or national emergency.

It is inconceivable in the light of what has happened since 1913 how any blanket amendment that reads as follows:

"The congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes on incomes, from whatever sources derived, without apportionment among the several States, and without regard to any census or enumeration," could have been submitted by the Congress and then be ratified by the Legislatures of 37 States. The fact remains that it was, and every man, woman and child has felt the sting of its power, especially during the last two decades, who have earned over a certain amount each year.

Practically every State and local taxing subdivision has limitations as to their taxing power, what is wrong with a limitation upon the federal government, the government that is exacting the greatest tax toll in history from its citizens?

Lutheran Hour Begins Sunday, September 30

The world's most wide-spread broadcast, the international Lutheran Hour, will open its nineteenth season of broadcasting Sunday, September 30 with a gigantic rally in the Chicago Stadium. It has been announced by Dr. Eugene R. Bertermann, director of the global broadcast.

Originating from Chicago's Mutual studios (WGN), the first broadcast of the nineteenth season will also feature the initial address of the Reverend Armin C. Oldsen, successor to the late Dr. Walter A. Mair, founder and first speaker on the program.

The rally in the afternoon, which is expected to attract 25,000 people, will feature a colorful pageant tableau "Send Out Thy Truth" depicting the forward march of Christianity through the centuries and culminating in a presentation of the story of the Lutheran Hour's rapid growth.

Began on two stations in the early thirties, the broadcast has shown remarkable growth throughout the years until today it is beamed over 1,034 stations in 52 nations in 36 different languages. The Lutheran Hour conducts the world's largest Bible Correspondence Course with approximately 100,000 people enrolled in the program, and its mail exceeds 500,000 pieces annually.

The Voice of America uses the Lutheran Hour as one of the programs it beams behind the Iron Curtain, and the Armed Forces Radio Service includes the Lutheran Hour in its broadcast schedule.

Sponsored by the Lutheran Laymen's League, an organization of over 60,000 Lutheran laymen throughout the United States and Canada, the $1,400,000 annual budget is defrayed through the contributions of its sponsors, its friends, and its listeners.

Following are the topics of the addresses to be delivered by the Reverend Prof. Armin C. Oldsen over the Lutheran Hour Mutual network broadcasts on the next six Sunday:

- September 30, 1951—"A Message from God."
- October 7, 1951—"When God Is Near."
- October 14, 1951—"The Foundation for Life."
- October 21, 1951—"A Bulwark against Hell."
- October 28, 1951—"God is Waiting for You."
- November 5, 1951—"A Christian Home is Heavenly."

CHOOSE A DISHPAN WISELY

The dishpan is an item most housewives use two or three times a day. For this reason, home management specialists with A&M College Extension Service, urge that you choose wisely the type dishpan for your kitchen.

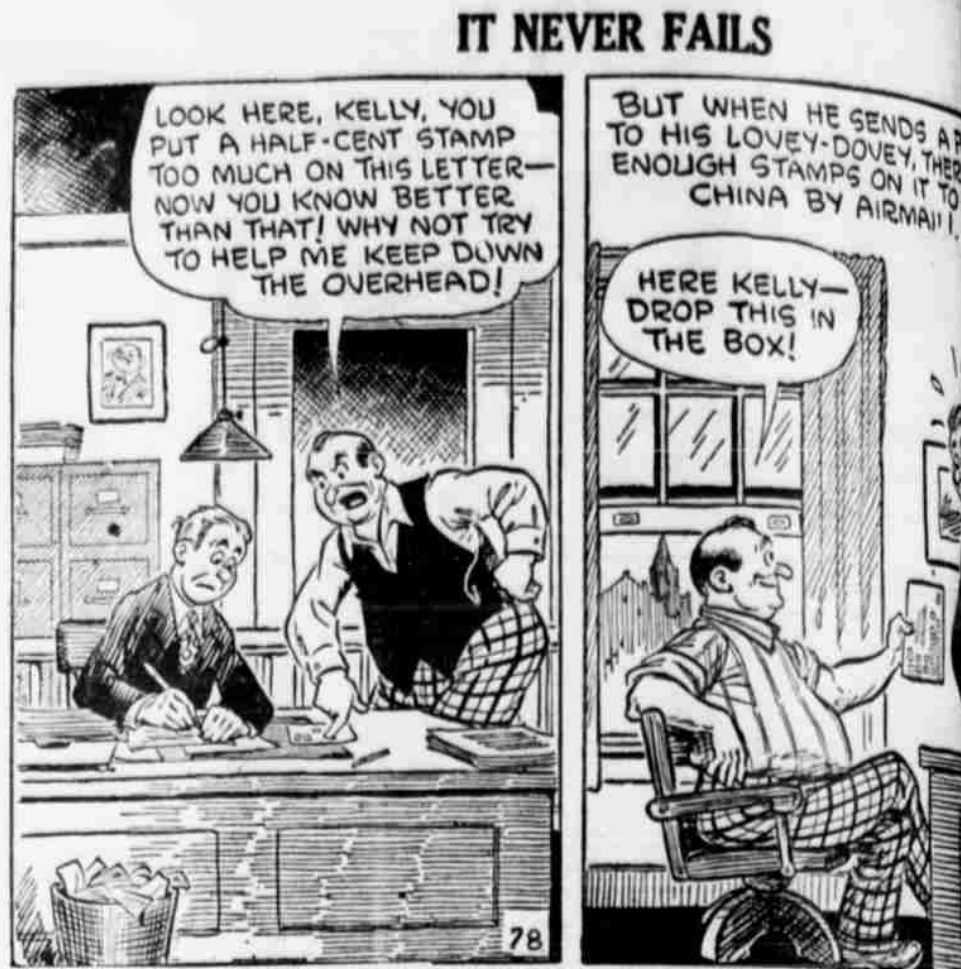

Aluminum, white or dark enamelware, or tinware dishpans are available. If aluminum is chosen, select one which has a stain-resisting finish which will not be darkened by soaps or dishwashing.

South Plains counties of Texas will participate in the one-day meeting. An informative program on cancer, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, has been arranged, with the public invited. A discussion of county cancer control programs and a business session will occupy the afternoon session. State leaders of the society are expected.

The meeting will precede a special cancer teaching conference for physicians of the district, to be conducted by staff members of the Nix Tumor Clinic of San Antonio. This cancer conference will attract many of the cancer society's medical leaders in the district Tuesday evening.

Arrangements for the meeting of American Cancer Society volunteers are being made by Dr. Malone and Lubbock county lay leaders of the society, Mrs. Howard Hampton and Dr. E. N. Jones.

Counties in District 3-South are: Bailey, Briscoe, Castro, Childress, Cochran, Cottle, Crosby, Floyd, Ford, Hale, Hall, Hardeman, Hockley, Lamb, Lubbock, Motley, Parmer, and Swisher.

Sudan Woman Attends World Meeting As Rebekah President

Muleshoe Chapter, OES, to Celebrate Fifth Anniversary

Muleshoe Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star will observe its twenty-fifth anniversary Tuesday evening, October 2nd, at 7:30 o'clock in the Masonic hall.

Past matrons and past patrons of the chapter have been asked to fill stations they were filling at the time of the initiation of the present matron, Mrs. Bettie Burkhead. After the regular meeting of the chapter a tea will follow in the recreation hall of the Masonic building.

Among the guests will be a large number from Littlefield chapter. Other chapters invited are Earth, Bovina, Friona, Hereford, Sudan and Clovis.

All former Muleshoe chapter members, who have moved away, are especially urged to attend.

Sudan had a prominent member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and Rebecca's to attend the world meeting at Indianapolis, Indiana from Sept. 15 through the 21st, as a delegate from Texas. She is Mrs. R. P. (Theima) Gage, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary Patriots Militant branch of Texas, which is the highest branch of Rebecca hood.

Representatives from all the states and Canada, except nine, were in attendance.

Mrs. Gage said over 3000 members registered during the meeting. While in Indianapolis, she attended services at the Cattle Chapel, a non-denominational church, which has a seating capacity of 10,000 people. On that particular Sunday, it was estimated that the chapel was over half full. She also attended Sunday school for an international religious lesson and over 200 were in the class.

During her tenure of office, Mrs. Gage estimates she has visited 100 towns in Texas and has traveled over 30,000 miles since her appointment last October.

Mrs. Gage will attend a meeting in Longview Oct. 5-6 and will be in Tyler in time for the annual rose festival.

A state meeting of her branch will be held in Amarillo in October when she will be honored as outgoing president.

The next world meeting of the Odd Fellows and Rebecca's will be held at Dallas, September 1952.

Mrs. T. L. McClarty Re-Named President First Baptist WMU

The WMU of the First Baptist church will meet Monday afternoon in the church parlor of the Educational Building for a regular monthly business meeting, and for the installation of the newly elected officers for the year.

Mrs. T. L. McClarty who has served as president of the organization for the past year, has been re-elected president for the ensuing year. Other officers will be announced next week. Mrs. Ralph Nelson will serve as the installing officer. Mrs. Jack Fore will bring the devotional.

Quarterly reports will be given by chairmen of various committees.

Annual WML reports will be given at the West Plains Baptist Associational meeting to be held at Lums Chapel Baptist church, Friday, October 12th.

Weevils and Pink Bollworms Reduced by Destroying Stalks

Who takes the chance of crop from this year's weevil and pink bollworms from their arch enemies? A. C. Gunter, entomologist of A&M, will respond to the question and start growing and the chances are slim that cotton will ever be as good as this late growth.

What happens says the cotton insects and immediate work on every new boll. Examination will show very high percentage of weevils have been at work on the cotton. Next spring they will start working on the young cotton, thus causing yield losses and large expenditures for insecticides.

Gunter says that research has proved that next year's population of boll weevils and pink bollworms can be greatly reduced if cotton stalks are destroyed at least 30 days before the first killing frost. The reason is simple. By destroying the stalks early, the food supply of these pests is completely cut off and they are forced to go into their winter quarters hungry. A large percent will die before the next cropping season begins.

Early stalk destruction also cuts off one or more generations of the bugs and thus greatly reduces the number going into hibernation. Cotton farmers have demonstrated many times the effectiveness of early stalk destruction in controlling cotton insects, and especially when carried out on a community or county wide basis.

In areas where early cotton stalk

Small Grains Helped By Rains

Recent rains over most of the state have provided enough moisture to insure a stand of the small grains. Supplemental grazing crops are badly needed at this time to take the place of the pastures that have become victims of the drought. M. K. Thornton, extension agricultural chemist of Texas A&M College, says don't forget to use fertilizer on the small grain crops. Using plenty of the right kind of fertilizer will increase yields and give the plants a fast start, he adds.

Scarce feed items in the winter months are abundant in small grains such as wheat, oats, barley and rye, says Thornton. These grains contain over 20 per cent protein when they are at their best stage for grazing. Rye grass and rescue also supply good winter grazing in the areas where they are adapted.

Small grain pastures should be sown at once, says Thornton, and the use of fertilizer will improve your chances of producing a good winter grazing crop. On the sandy soils of East Texas where legumes have not been turned under, small grains should be fertilized with 300 pounds of 5-10-5 or 5-12-4 per acre at the time of planting. For maximum production a top dressing of from 20 to 40 pounds of nitrogen per acre in the late fall and a similar application next spring is needed. This nitrogen can be supplied, says Thornton, by using from

You Should Give Dairy Cows A Rest, Explains Extension Specialist

The dairy cow is a highly complicated piece of machinery and unless she gets a good rest between lactation periods she may not produce a strong healthy calf nor her full quota of milk.

During her rest period, the dairy cow has three important jobs to do, says R. E. Burleson, extension dairy husbandman of Texas A&M College. She must recover from a heavy milk producing period, build a calf and store up reserves for the next lactation period. How well she does these jobs depends upon the length of the rest period and how well she is fed and cared for during the dry period. She needs from six to eight weeks rest, good care and a good ration.

A good cow, during heavy peak production, will deplete her body reserves of minerals and nutrients, says Burleson. Unless she is given sufficient rest and proper care and the right feeds, lower production during the next milking period will result.

The problem of feeding the dry cow is practically solved if she has access to a good pasture. If a good pasture is not available, hay and feed will depend upon the condition of the cow, but generally the same grain mixture can be fed to the dry cows as is fed to the milking herd. Burleson says, every dollar that is put into a good, dry cow ration is a wise investment. Here's the reason: a dairy cow that is well fed and cared for during the dry period will very often produce 25 per cent more milk during her next lactation period. And it's milk in the bucket that counts in the dairy business.

65 to 135 pounds of ammonium nitrate; 130 to 250 pounds of sodium nitrate or from 100 to 200 pounds of sulphate of ammonium per acre.

An application of 30 to 40 pounds of nitrogen per acre made before or at the time of seeding small grains for pastures in the Blacklands of north and central Texas and on the heavier soils of the West Cross-timbers areas will materially increase the pasture's value. On the sandy and sandy loam soils of the same areas, Thornton suggests the use of 200 pounds of 4-12-4 or 5-10-5 at seeding time and a top dressing of 20 to 40 pounds of nitrogen per acre early next spring.

Clay tile was installed in the floors of birdhouses in 18th Century Vienna.

destruction cannot be practiced and where pink bollworms exists, it is better, says Gunter, to leave the cotton stalks standing until after a hard freeze before destroying them. The insects that are hibernating in the dried up bolls and other waste on or above the ground surface are more likely to be killed by the freezing weather if they are left exposed.

Gunter points out that there are many types of cotton stalk cutters but adds that the shredder types seem to do a better job because they cut the stalks into smaller pieces and this makes the turning under job easier. A final word of caution, Gunter says, be sure the plants are completely destroyed so they will not sprout. New growth provides the insects with new supplies of food and gives them a new lease on life.

When better automobiles are built BUICK will build them

YOU'RE going to be surprised about lots of things the first time you and this Buick get out on the road. Take the easy way it responds to your every wish — steps away from a stop light — soars up a hill — lets loose a surge of power at the touch of your toe on the treadle — or gentles to a stop at the touch of the brakes. Take the way it rides the road — with an easy stride, sure-footed on turns, level as a lance on straightaways. Take the way it steers — so light and true that it seems to guide itself.

Take its ease of control. More than a million owners now know the wondrous freedom from tension and strain that goes with Dynaflo Drive.*

It's easy to see where this eager beauty gets its standout performance, when you glance at the list of all-star engineering features shown above.

But how about price? Can you afford it? "Easy does it" is the answer to that one too. Fact is — if you can afford a new car, you can afford a Buick. Better come in to see us soon.

Vocational Agricultural Exhibit at Fair Is Declared Outstanding Display

One of the exhibits at the Lamb County Fair, which attracted many special interest was the display prepared by the Littlefield F.F.A. group.

Working with the cooperation of vocational agricultural teacher Hal the boys prepared a model farm featuring a layout of a farm house and other buildings.

The buildings are constructed in miniature and were as realistic as if they were actual full size buildings.

The landscaping and general detail is perfect in fact the entire exhibit would well qualify as a model of farm which a farmer could establish in his home and general surroundings.

No surprise was the exhibit that miniature tractors were working in the fields and the family old was part way into the garage.

Square dancing at the Dugger Hanger proved to be a popular form of entertainment Thursday night. A large crowd was in hand for the dancing.

Friday night, there was no form of special entertainment except of course the carnival that has been on the grounds all week—due to the fact that Littlefield and Raton were playing football here at Seelye Stadium.

South and White Hospital, Temple, to go through the clinic and was shown home when she was contacted at Gorman, Friday.

Several arrangements had not been made as the Leader went to town. I expected, however, that the funeral services will be held at the First Methodist church, Sudan, with Rev. Earl Sherrill, pastor, officiating Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Stroyer had no children.

Pittsburgh, Penn.
"We've gone to hear boys all the way to beat that streak of yours," said Frank Eck, who was in "good luck."

Frost was a complete man from way back, and he was a realist as to what he could do without any.

All Gettysburg worked the first game. I hit the first ball for a double against the pitcher. I felt well in my own mind. In the second game against Transfer I was out and gave up. Transfer hit me then a Frank hit me in the ribs and I was out for the rest of the game. I was Hornsby's record set in 1925.

I got the record through it games for him. We stopped me in Chicago. I was at the Wagon Field and was in line to take a lesson. "I've never seen the Stroyer," he said as they wanted to see me. I was there. Charles Grimm, then the manager, was more than that. He ordered his pitchers not to walk me. I gave the every chance to hit. The Cubs won the pennant that year too.

Another time I was in small came in the first game of the year.

Fundamentalist Church Organized at Sudan

Dr. Edwin Mears of Littlefield visited Sudan at Sudan at about great interest was manifested.

At the close of the meeting a new fundamental Baptist church was organized, and Rev. Curtis Morris was called as pastor. The new church was named the Central Baptist Church.

The congregation will meet in the vacant building for services. The public is invited to attend.

When Mears a single I hit down the left field line enabled Johnny Sox to beat Bobby Feller, 1-0. The wind was blowing straight in at Sudan. Fred and after missing the attempt to hit to left I composed myself. Phil Mad in the next inning. What made it a bigger game was the fact that Feller nearly pulled Max off second base in a good throw to Lou Boardman. We made only two singles off Feller that day.

My next recent thrill, of course, was being named manager of the Sudan Braves.
