Regulation Of Rules Of Hi-Plains Water District Okayed At Meeting

Permits to drill water wells in the 13 counties in the Hi-Plains Underground Water Conservation District, which includes Lamb County, will be required after Feb- ruary 15, and possibly as early as January 1, according to a decision made at a general meeting of the precinct directors and the county committeemen held at Hereford Thursday.

Spacing will be left to the dis- cretion of the county committeemen. Property owners will have the right of appeal to the district board of directors, who will call upon the service of hydrologists and other specialists in difficult rulings.

Can Regulate Spacing In practice, the water district cannot prohibit a property owner from drilling a water well on his property, but it can legally regu- late the spacing.

The meeting was held at Hotel Jim Hill, with Tom McFarland, Lubbock, manager of the district, presiding. There were committeemen present from each of the 13 member counties. Reports from county meetings held last week indicates that all except the Parmer County group favored permit and spacing regu- lations.

PUBLIC OFFICIALS ARE SPEAKERS AT CHURCH MEETING

Improvements In Government Are Chief Discussion The Parkview Baptist Church held an open forum on local govern- ment last Thursday night in the church auditorium at the monthly Brotherhood meeting. The Brotherhood met in the edu- cational building for a fried chick- en supper at 7:30 with program participants as special guests. The open forum program was presided over by the pastor of Parkview Baptist Church, Rev. John C. Taylor. The Brotherhood had invited the following local public officials for the discussion: County Judge Otha Dent, County Attorney Curtis Wilkinson, County Clerk Joel Thomson; Tax Asses- sor and Collector Herbert Dunn, Treasurer Mrs. Bill Pass, Mayor A. C. Chesher, City Police Chief J. L. Walraven, and County Sheriff- Elect Dick Dyer. Those attending the supper and open forum program were Judge Dent, Mr. Wilkinson, Mrs. Bill Pass and Mr. Thomson. The Veterans school that meets every Thursday evening at the public school building has been study- ing government, and they were in- vited and attended in a group to participate in the discussion. Judge Opens Discussion Judge Dent began the discussion with a short talk on government. He explained that there can be no perfect government as long as it is (Continued on Back Page)

Whitharral Panthers Win Over Whiteface Team To Tune Of 39-7

Whitharral high school football team won over Whiteface to a score of 39-7, in a district 4-H conference game played at Whitharral Thursday night. Left Half Roger White and Right Half Jerry Gage led the assault on Whiteface as both contributed two touchdowns each. White scored the first score of the game on a one yard plunge and Gage added the second on a 30 yard scamper around the end. Loy Lewis Whitharral fullback scored the next touchdown for the Whitharral team when he powered his way 22 yards for the next score. Leslie Hulfe intercepted one of Johnny Barrington's passes and raced 28 yards for the next Whitharral tally. Gage scored the final touchdown on a 32-yard pass from quarterback Doug Stevenson, who kicked four of the Panthers extra points. Johnny Barrington, the outstand- ing player of the game, passed five yards to End Jack Spurlock for Whiteface's only score. Barrington added the extra point on a reverse play. Whitharral has won three out of four games while the Antelopes are still looking for their first win after three setbacks.

Tungsten Booms Town As Vital Defense Link

AP Newsfeatures TUNGSTEN, N.C. — Because Chinese Communists control much of the world's supply of tungsten, this little mining town has become a strategic center in the U.S. de- fense program. It is one of the few places in the country where the metal has been found. The Hamme mine and mill is working to maintain supplies and build up a stockpile. Tungsten went into the A-bombs in World War II. It will also have a part in the H-bomb if and when it is built. It is used in jet engines, light bulb filaments, radio and radar. Cutting tools and armor-piercing shells also use it. The deposit here was discovered in 1901. The trouble with mining it is that prices varied so sharply. It cost $100 for 20 pounds in World War I, but imports from China later brought the price down to $12 for 20 pounds. Now the U.S. government has guaranteed a price of $63 for 20 pounds to domestic producers and the Hamme works are booming.

Increase Fall Egg Production With Lights

Egg prices have steadily climbed since the summer slump in egg production started weeks ago. It is a situation that happens just about every year, says W. J. Moore, poultry husbandman for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, but good flock management can help overcome some of the trouble.

A practice that will pay dividends during the fall and winter is the use of lights in the laying house. For maximum production, a hen needs 12 to 14 hours of light each day, says Moore.

He recommends that lights be used from about the middle of September until spring. The light, he adds, must fall on the birds, feeders and waterers for best results. It makes no difference whether morning or evening lights are used; however, the more common practice is to use morning lights because of convenience. In using morning lights, the recommended procedure is to turn the lights on about 30 minutes before daylight in the fall of the year as the days begin to get short, and to turn them on a little earlier each morning as the days get shorter.

When evening lights are used, the lights are turned on in the late afternoon before dark and are allowed to burn until the birds receive their 12 to 14 hours of light per day. Moore cautions poultrymen to dim the evening lights for a few minutes before turning them off so the hens will have time to get on the roosts. Large light bulbs are not necessary. Moore recommends the use of two 25 or 40 watt bulbs for each 400 feet of floor space.

Value Of Soil Test Demonstrated

Many farmers are not sold on the value of soil testing but Edwin Sager of the Arneckeville community, DeWitt County, is not now numbered among this group.

Last spring Sager visited the office of DeWitt County Agent Dewey Compton seeking information as to the grade and amount of fertilizer he should use to insure a good crop of red top hay. The county agent suggested that a soil sample from the field to be planted be submitted to the laboratory operated by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at College Station.

The suggestion was carried out but when the returned to Sager, he returned to Compton with the remark that he couldn't afford to use that much fertilizer under his hay crop. The recommendation was that 400 pounds of 10-10-0 fertilizer be applied per acre.

There were good reasons for questioning the recommendation, says the county agent. The land was an eight acre block that was being rented. It had been in cultivation for many years and was a poor lime rock soil. The best corn yield that could be expected from it was about 20 bushels per acre and conditions had to be right to get such a yield. The doubts thus were justified.

After further discussion, Sager decided to follow the recommendation made by M. K. Thornton, Extension agricultural chemist who has charge of the laboratory. And that is why today he is a strong believer in soil testing.

In July, he cut and baled 1,073 bales of excellent red top hay from the eight acres. That figures 134 bales per acre and at market value the crop was worth $167.50 per acre. The cost of seed—and he seeded heavily—and fertilizer was $22 per acre and labor for planting and baling pushed this to $59.58. A little simple arithmetic shows a net income per acre of $107.92.

Compton concludes in his report that very few fields of cotton in the county will yield such a return. Sager concludes the dollar he spent for the soil test was the best investment he had ever made.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON

BY TEX EASLEY
AP Special Washington Service

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 (AP)—Democratic congressional candidates in strong two-party states won't get the help this year that a couple of seasoned Texas congressmen usually lend in the November election campaigns.

Speaker Sam Rayburn of Bonham and Rep. Wright Patman of Texarkana will have their hands full in Texas, what with the Republicans threatening there this year.

"It's the first time since 1928 that we've needed to get out and work for the Democratic ticket in Texas," said Patman.

"I think Texas will stay Democratic, all right, but we must get out and work to prevent a repetition of the Herbert Hoover debacle." Democratic congressmen maintain an organization dedicated to helping out one another when they face a tough scrap in the general election against a Republican. Such close states as Pennsylvania, New York and Ohio, where some candidates are constantly in need of help, send out an S.O.S. for a big name Democrat to come in and speak on their behalf.

Rayburn and Patman are always in top demand in such emergencies, not only to put in a friendly pat on the back for the individual Democratic candidate but for the party ticket generally.

So close does the presidential race appear in Texas this year that all of the Texas Members of Congress are on the spot as to whether they will actively support Stevenson.

Stevenson's coming out for federal ownership of the "tidelands" messed up things for the Texas legislators.

When an individual Texas congressman decides what to say or do about supporting Stevenson, he has to keep in mind not only the way his choice sets with the constituents but its effect on his standing in Washington.

Getting down to the current situation, top Democratic congressional leaders are keeping an anxious eye on the Texas congressmen.

Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.), author of the states ownership tidelands bill, has called on Texans to stand by the party notwithstanding Stevenson's position on that issue. He dropped what may be interpreted as a hint that some of the support Texas, Louisiana and California got on the tidelands fight might not be forth coming in the future if they desert the party.

Around the Capital: The heaviest federal court criminal dockets in the entire nation are in Texas, according to a report just issued by the Administrative Office of the United States Courts.

Prosecution of "wetback" Mexican aliens for violating immigration laws is responsible.

There were 6,594 criminal cases filed during the year ended July 1 in the Southern Texas federal district and 5,901 of them involved "wetbacks." There were 5,211 criminal cases filed in the Western Texas federal district, including 4,334 immigration cases.

The brunt of handling these cases was borne by U.S. Judge

James V. Allred in the Southern District and U.S. Judge Ewing Thomason in the Western district. There were 520 civil suits filed in the Eastern Texas federal judicial district during the year ended July 1; there were 365 such cases pending when the fiscal year began on July 1, 1951 and 378 pending when it ended.

The national average of new civil cases filed per judge during the year was 236.

U.S. Judge Joe W. Shufely of Tyler is the lone jurist of the Eastern Texas district, which extends from Texarkana down through Beaumont-Orange-Port Arthur.

Legislation creating a number of new federal judgeships throughout the nation, including a second such position in East Texas, was passed by the Senate last year but never got through the House.

Only Texas and New York have four federal judicial districts. The other three Texas districts have more than one judge. Sitting in each are:

Northern district—Judge William H. Atwell, Dallas; Judge T. Whitfield Davidson, Dallas; Judge Joseph B. Dooley, Amarillo. Southern district—Judge Thomas M. Kennerly, Houston; Judge Allen B. Hananay, Houston; Judge Ben C. Connally, Houston; Judge James V. Allred, Corpus Christi. Western district—Judge Ben H. Rice, Waco; Judge Ewing Thomason, El Paso.

Elmore Whitehurst, formerly of Dallas, is one of the lawyers in the judicial administrative office who compiled the report. His offices are in the state Supreme Court building.

The report stated that an acute shortage of judges is causing a logjam of undecided cases on the dockets, resulting in injustices to litigants who may have financial interest tied up awaiting settlement.

LET'S TALK LIVESTOCK

By Ted Gouddy

FORT WORTH—Heavy pressure continued on cattle and calf prices this week. Another excessive run of grassers and shortfeds appeared at the 12 major markets Monday when over 165,000 cattle and calves appeared and roughly 75 percent of these were grassers and stockers and feeders at many markets. This was over 23,000 over a week earlier and over 42,000 over the same day last year.

Most cattle and calves ruled 50 cents to $1 or more lower at Fort Worth, with some spots $1 to $1.50 off on calves and yearlings and the plain and medium steers. Stocker demand remained narrow over the country and packers reported excessive supplies of meat other than strictly choice grain fed beefs.

Deterioration of pastures in Kansas and Oklahoma increased the rush from those areas. Continued lack of moisture dampened prospects for wheat grazing over the Texas-Oklahoma-Kansas plains.

Hogs opened the week with 25 to 50 cents higher prices and a top of $20.75 to $1. Sows drew $17.50 down. Sheep and lambs opened steady.

Good and choice fed steers and yearlings sold for $23 to $30, odd club calves $33 and $34, while plain and medium slaughter kinds sold at $14 to $15 grades from $16 to $18 steer yearlings $24, with a choice $25. Stocker calves $25 down.

Fat cows cashed at $13.50 with canners and $13.50. Stocker cows $13.50. Bulls sold $19.

Good and choice steers cleared at $29 to $31 medium slaughter $14 to $19, with odd calves sold mostly $14 while plain and medium from $15 to $18.

Good and choice lambs from $18 to $22 and feeder lambs sold from $14 to $18. Cull lambs, yearlings sold from $8 to $10, lambs and sheep $2 under woolskins.

Yearling wethers down, and two-year-olds $12.50 down. Aged wethers $10 down. Standard from $5.50 to $7, and mouthed ewes drew $7 bucks cashed at $4 to yearlings sold from $10

Boy Scout South Plains Council To Hold Business Meet

The annual business meeting of the South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be held Tuesday evening, October 7 in the conference room at the Council office, 2109 Avenue X in Lubbock, starting at 7:30 p.m. Local scout officials will participate, said Dr. William Orr.

This year's Annual Business Meeting is being held some six weeks previous to the Annual Council Banquet. Heretofore, both the banquet and the business meeting have been held on the same day.

J. Edd McLaughlin of Rails serving as the Chairman of the Nominating Committee of the Council's Officers for 1953 will make his report to the Council.

All Institutions in the twenty counties are urgently requested to have Institutional Representatives present for this very important business session. All members of the Council's Executive Board representing every community on the South Plains are expected to attend.

Royalties from his popular spelling book gave Noah Webster 29 years time for writing his dictionary.

Parkview Baptist Church NEWS

Reaches Mission

The Parkview Baptist Church reached a Mission goal of $213 last Sunday night. They had set this goal of $1.00 per member average in August to be reached by September 28, the round-up day for Texas State and Western Missions Offering.

The Texas Baptist Convention operates its Mission work through an efficient, sharing program called the "Co-operative Program." This is worked through the regular systematic budgets of the churches cooperating. They take three outstanding special offerings a year. One for Foreign Missions called the Little Moon Offering, one for Home Missions in America called the Annie Armstrong Offering and the other for State Missions called the Mary Hill Davis Offering, which always comes in September.

This year the Texas Baptist decided to set up a loan fund for Western States Missions, New Baptist Churches organizing and building in the western states cannot borrow money out there so Texas Baptist will loan for their buildings. This fund is to include $1,000,000 raised by Texas Baptist in September.

Parkview Baptist Church set a goal of their share, one dollar per member, and placed a thermometer on the wall of the auditorium to watch the progress in the amounts coming in. Sunday night just before Church it went over the goal of $213 and at the present is at $251.

The Pastor, Rev. John C. Taylor, emphasized that he asked for no one to give a great amount but for everyone that could to share. So far 126 of the members have had a part.

Week Of Prayer

The Woman's Missionary Union of the Parkview Baptist Church met every day last week at the church from 9 to 10 AM for an hour of Mission study and Prayer. It was to Southern Baptist week of prayer for State and Western Missions.

A program was presented each morning explaining the state and western mission work. It was under the direction of Mrs. Melton Dunn and shared by every one in the W.M.U. The prayer meetings followed the programs and were lead by the President, Mrs. A. B. Askew.

Every morning Mrs. H. F. Wood, Jr. kept the nursery and lead the Sunbeams, a missionary teaching organization for the small children. Brotherhood Executive Committee The executive committee of the Parkview Baptist Brotherhood met

Number Plan To Attend Fort Worth Church Meeting

The Baptist General Convention of Texas will open in Fort Worth October 20, and continue through October 24.

The W.M.S. and Brotherhood Conventions will be held Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 20 and 21.

The General Convention will begin Tuesday night at the Will Rogers Coliseum. Several from the local church are planning to attend.

at the home of the President, Mrs. Pete Hendricks, Tuesday night, at 7:30 - 10:00. Mr. Hendricks presided. The Committee planned the work for the Brotherhood organization for the next six months.

The executive committee is made up of the pastor of the church, Rev. John C. Taylor, and the following officers of the Brotherhood:

President—Mr. Pete Hendricks
Sec. Texas—Mr. "Boots" Askew
Membership Vice-Pres.—Mr. Reed Yandell

Visitation Vice-Pres. Mr. John Clayton
Social Vice-Pres. Mr. Johnny Askew

Activities Vice-Pres.—unelected
Plans were made to make a membership drive for Oct. and Nov. closing with a family night at the monthly meeting in November. The President and Pastor of the Church are to explain and teach "The Organization and Operation of Brotherhoods" in the October meeting.

The Christmas meeting which falls on Christmas day are to be decided upon in the Nov. meeting.

A plan is to be presented to the Brotherhood, subject to approval of the Church to set up a small loan fund for Community Mission projects.

W.M.U.

The Parkview Woman's Missionary Union met at the Parkview Baptist Church Monday morning at 11 o'clock for business meeting and Bible Study. There were 10 ladies present and each brought a covered dish for lunch served to families of attending ladies.

The meeting time for the weekly W.M.U. was changed from 4 o'clock in the afternoons to every Monday morning at 9:30. The W.M.U. voted to pay Baby-sitting fees for the Pastor's wife's children on one day a week, while she served as Secretary in the Church office.

Mrs. John C. Taylor lead the Bible Study based on the Book of Psalms. Mrs. A. B. Askew, the President, presided. The meeting adjourned at 3 P.M.

Miss Marie Jane Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Taylor of Fort Smith, Ark. and Douglas J. Fowler, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Fowler of Anton, were married Sunday in First Baptist Church at Fort Smith.

The Rev. J. Harold Smith officiated at the double ring vows.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a light blue velvet suit with a corsage of white orchids.

Miss Cella Pola of Fort Smith, maid of honor, wore a gray taffeta faille suit with an orchid corsage.

Jack Hall of Baxley, Ga., served as best man.

Ushers were Richey Taylor and Carl Corley Jr. of Fort Smith, Jack Smith of Barling, and Clifford Hambrick of Wichita Falls, Tex.

For a wedding trip to New Mexico the bride wore a suit of brown faille. The couple will be at home after Oct. 15 in Fort Smith.

The bride attended Baylor University in Waco, Tex. and the bridegroom attended Texas Tech in Lubbock, Tex.

Mrs. Leonard O'Dell Honoree At Pink and Blue Shower

Mr. and Mrs. Miller Have Out Of Town Guests This Week

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Miller have had guests in their home this week. Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher C. Smith of Boswell, Ind., aunt and uncle of Mr. Miller spent a few hours in the Miller home Thursday enroute to Los Cruces, N.M., where they were going to attend the funeral of Mrs. Smith's father, Cameron Bazzill. Mr. Bazzill had lived in Albuquerque for sometime previous to his death, and had divided his time between his two daughters in that city. He had previously lived at Los Cruces.

Mrs. Miller's sister, Miss Irene Williams, of Washington, D.C. who serves as Secretary to Congressman Kilday of San Antonio, arrived Thursday, and is a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Miller.

Mrs. Harold May Honored At Bridal Shower Monday

Mrs. Harold May of Amherst, the former Doris Arimi was the honoree at a bridal shower Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Oby Blanchard at that city.

Guests registered in the bride's book. The linen covered table was centered with an arrangement of lavender winter daisies. The hostesses alternated in serving iced punch and assorted cookies.

Mrs. May, who is a registered nurse at the Amherst hospital receiving a lovely array of gifts including a set of heavy aluminum cooking ware from the hostess group who were: Mesdames Blanchard, Bennie Mann, Neil Duffy, Rogers, Willett, Wiley Lide, Lou Carlgile Dexter Baker, Jim Humphreys, J. T. Bench, Annie Sipes, and Misses Bera Murrell and Jane Day.

High School Band Officers Listed

Howard Harvey was elected president of Littlefield senior high school band recently. Other officers elected at the same time were Willis Giddens, vice-president, and Ethel Pope, secretary and treasurer. Nancy Morrow is head librarian for the band, and Joan Parrack is her assistant.

Honoring Mrs. Leonard O'Dell Jr., five hostesses entertained with a pink and blue shower Wednesday evening, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Woody, E. 15th Street, from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock. Co-hostesses included Misses Mary Rose Fox and Marjorie Renfro and Mesdames Granville Smith, Oma Fox and Woody.

An arrangement of dahlias and roses were used in decorating the entertaining rooms, and were also used as a centerpiece for the refreshment table.

Miss Renfro and Miss Fox presided at the table, from which cookies, sandwiches, coffee and spiced tea was served.

Lovely gifts were attractively displayed. The hostess gift was a nylon gown.

Mr. O'Dell is a gunners mate, 2nd class in the United States Navy, and is aboard ship, stationed in the Korean area.

er Your Hat

SEE IT—This love-designed by James York hair stylist, is a fall coiffure.

NOW YOU DON'T—What's the point of having a pretty hair-do if you cover it up with a hat, asks hair stylist Caesar.

our skills merge to create a perfect picture. The way things are today a woman must choose between having a becoming hair style or wearing a fashionable hat. She should be able to have both.

Mr. Caesar believes that this is necessary since most women wear hats for a relatively short period each day. When the hat comes off, hair must be exposed. So the coiffure is very important whether the hat is on or off—an attractively arranged coiffure should form a soft, feminine frame for a pretty face, even underneath the hat. He explains:

"The cloche is only passably attractive even on the very young and beautiful. Every woman, no matter what her age, needs the softness of a feminine coiffure. When all the hair is hidden she is denied of an important quality, and might as well be bald."

--- Home Freezer Hints ---

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Here's news for families who like to put prepared foods in their freezers so that they can pull out a main dish or a dessert at a moment's notice. Heat-resistant glass dishes may be used for freezing the foods, then they may be taken from the freezer or the freezing compartment of the refrigerator and put directly into a preheated oven for thawing and cooking. This way baking takes a little longer than for unfrozen foods, but it does save time to skip the longer period needed for thawing at room temperature.

Pies and coffee cakes may be baked first, frozen, then taken from freezer to oven for thawing and reheating. They will taste like freshly baked food. And the nice part is that the heat-resistant dish they were baked, stored, and reheated in, can now be used for serving.

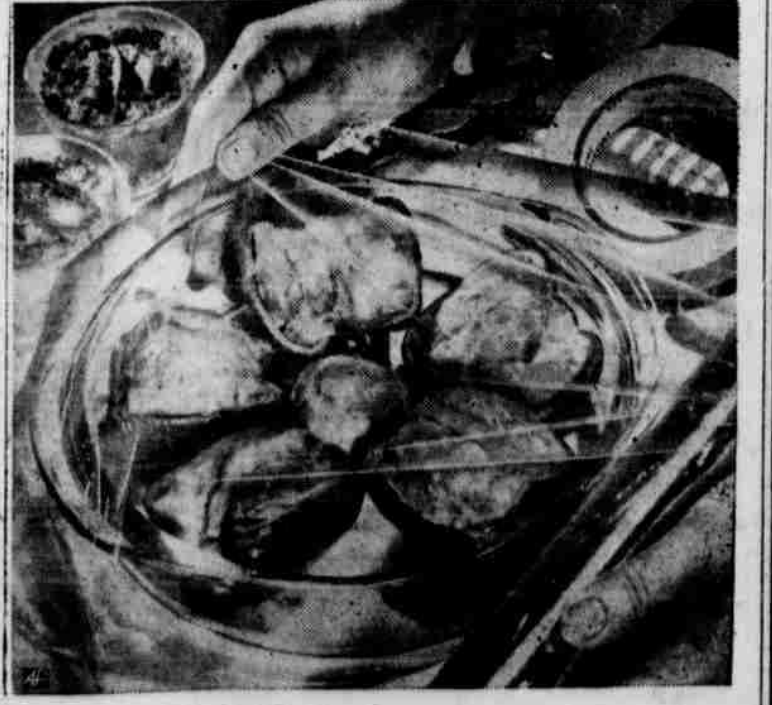

But don't think you have to have a freezer to try the following recipe. You can make it up and serve it immediately, of course, for a delicious main course.

STUFFED GREEN PEPPERS

and INDIVIDUAL HAM LOAVES

Ingredients: 2 eggs, 1 cup milk, ½ teaspoon ground cloves, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 1/3 cups fine soft bread crumbs, 1 ½ pounds raw tenderized ham (ground), 3 green peppers, 1 pimiento (cut in strips for garnish), 8 teaspoons brown sugar.

Method: Beat eggs, milk, cloves and mustard until blended. Mix in bread crumbs and ham thoroughly. To prepare STUFFED PEPPERS, cut peppers in two lengthwise; remove stems, seeds and white membranes. Cut four small strips from one of the half-peppers to use for garnish. If any of this half-pepper remains, chop and add it to ham mixture. Garnish with pimiento strips and arrange in greased heat-resistant glass round cake dish.

To prepare INDIVIDUAL HAM LOAVES, press remaining ham mixture into four greased 5 1/2-ounce heat-resistant glass custard cups; sprinkle each with 2 teaspoons brown sugar. Garnish tops with strips of green pepper.

To Freeze: Wrap glass cake dish containing stuffed peppers, and the custard cups with ham loaves, in freezer wrap material; label and freeze.

To Thaw and Bake: Remove freezer wrap and place stuffed peppers or ham loaves directly into oven. The heat-resistant glass goes safely and conveniently directly from freezer to oven.

HANDY TIP

Post a list of frozen foods near your freezer, and list the foods and date of freezing as you put the foods in. Check each one off when you take it out of the freezer. Here are headings for your inventory form: Type of food; Package Size; Number of Packages; Date Frozen; Location in Freezer; Number of Packages Removed.

Baptist Leader Lauds Eisenhower On His Stand on Tidelands Issue

By STEWART M. DOSS

A Baptist executive Tuesday blasted the Democratic party's stand on the tidelands and said it "ought not to be hard for any patriotic Texan to know how to cast his vote" in November.

At the same time, A. B. Culbertson, executive vice-president of the Baptist Foundation of Texas and a lawyer, commended the Republican party and its candidate (Dwight D. Eisenhower) for "expressly championing the right of Texas to her public domain."

Culbertson explained that his stand was personal. But there was little doubt that such a stand by a Baptist executive would command considerable attention among the state's million-odd Baptists. Such forthright political opinions are rare among religious executives of the state.

The Baptists' Baylor University at Waco, said Culbertson, has an undivided interest in minerals lying along the Gulf of Mexico extending twelve miles out to sea.

"If the decree rendered by a minority of the Supreme Court of the United States—(some members disqualified themselves out of a vote)—is carried out, this valuable mineral estate will be taken away from us and Baylor University," Culbertson said.

"Can any alumnus or friend of Baylor University vote for any candidate who expressly states in advance that he will use his presidential veto, if necessary, to cinch this steal? (This was in reference to Adlai Stevenson, Democratic presidential nominee, who has issued statements giving full backing to federal control. Stevenson also approves President Truman's veto of the state-ownership bill.)"

Culbertson said that Baylor's tidelands mineral interests were a part of the estate of the late Dr. H. H. Ogilvie of San Antonio donated for benefit of Baylor University. Dr. Ogilvie, a physician, died in 1945, but the estate until recently had been tied up in litigation.

Culbertson said that "I made up my mind long ago I wasn't for the thieves" and that it wasn't his discovery recently of Baylor's tidelands minerals that prompted his stand.

The foundation has assets of about $20,000,000 which it manages for benefit of Baylor and other Texas Baptist institutions.

Culbertson said he cited the Baylor mineral interest as an example of how "this steal affects people in Texas."

His stand was given in a statement, and later elaborated upon. Culbertson called the attempt to get the tidelands under federal ownership "a travesty."

"It is as if the courts of France should decree that Napoleon did not legally transfer the title to the Louisiana Territory, and, therefore, the property now belongs to France."

"Or as if the courts of Russia should determine that Alaska was not properly transferred in a controversy between it and the United States."

Culbertson said the essence of the whole thing was the United States' joint resolution by which Texas entered the union.

"Every schoolboy in Texas can read and understand the resolution," said Culbertson.

"The resolution of annexation expressly states what is ceded to the United States, namely, all means pertaining to the public defense, and what is retained by the state, namely all public lands within its limits. Its limits seaward had been recognized as belonging to Texas and fully established."

Arthur Duggan Named To State Water Committee

Arthur P. Duggan, Jr., of Littlefield has been named on the committee on water conservation by Gov. Allen Shivers.

The committee consists of 73 members of organizations and individuals interested in water problems, with J. B. Thomas, of Fort Worth as chairman.

Although rain has fallen around the state and Central Texas has had a flood, water is still the number one economic problem in the state. Crop and livestock losses have run into many millions of dollars. Many communities and farms are rationing their water and some places have to haul water to supply household and domestic needs.

MOLASSES PIE
 ... old fashioned dessert with a modern topping
 "Just like Grandma used to make, only more so!" That may sound strange, but it's a fact... here is a tasty improvement on Grandma's famous molasses pie. It combines all the wholesome goodness and rich flavor of old time molasses with the crispness and nuttiness of corn chips. For an enjoyable dinner to special dinners we recommend molasses pie.

Corn Chip Pie Shell
 Next time you want a crisp, flaky pie shell with a rich nutty flavor, we suggest you try this pastry recipe using corn chips. You'll be amazed how the corn chips point up the flavor of pie fillings... both fruit and cream.

1 cup flour
 3/4 tsp. salt
 1 tsp. baking powder
 3/4 cup shortening
 1 cup crushed "Fritos" corn chips ice water

Directions:
 Mix shortening with dry ingredients. Add corn chips and enough water to hold together. Roll on floured board. Line pan and prick with fork. Bake at 460 degrees for 10-12 minutes.

MOLASSES PIE
 3 eggs
 1 1/4 cup molasses (unsulphured)
 1/2 tsp. nutmeg
 1/2 tsp. cinnamon
 1/2 tsp. salt
 2 tbsp. melted butter or margarine
 3/4 cup brown sugar
 1 tsp. corn starch
 3/4 cup crushed "Fritos" corn chips (measured after crushing)

Directions:
 Beat eggs, add molasses, nutmeg, cinnamon, salt and melted butter or margarine. Combine sugar and corn starch—add to molasses mixture. Pour into an unbaked pastry shell. Sprinkle with "Fritos" corn chips. Bake at 400° for 15 minutes. Reduce heat to 350° and bake for 30 minutes.

Sudan Student Council To Put Out School Annual

The Student Council of Sudan announces that it will again publish the Sudan School Annual.

At a meeting Monday, officers for the annual staff were elected as follows: Bill Peacock, editor-in-chief; Mary Joyce Prijar, high school editor; "Toots" Hall, grade school editor; Lynn Shannon, sports editor, and Joe Kent, business manager.

This year's sponsor for the annual is Coach Jim Green.

David White Is Honored On His Fourth Birthday

Mrs. George White entertained a group of little children Monday afternoon honoring her little son, David, on the occasion of his fourth birthday.

David and eleven little friends celebrated by having a picnic in the White yard. The children had jack-o-lantern picnic baskets with their individual lunches in them and each received favors of balloons, marbles or a charm bracelet.

They entertained themselves on the slides, swings and other play things in the yard.

David's guests were Ann Farmer, Shelly Underwood, Debby Hewitt, Patty Wayne Howell, Susan and Tommy Haupt, Robert Maurer, Teddy and Sally Duggan, Richard Jones, and Mike Grisson.

run by imperfect humanity. He said:

"But it can, and should be bettered constantly. Government can be bettered by bettering men who operate it."

Rev. Mr. Taylor led in the open forum on the subject of "What public officials have a right to expect of Christian people."

Judge Dent said: "The church fails in failing to better man because man operates government."

County Attorney Speaks
Attorney Wilkinson said:

"Six things we public officials have a right to expect of all citizens and particularly Christians:

1. Quit accusing, gossiping, and tale bearing about public offices where you don't know facts. This does not help better local government. It hurts it.

2. Report what you see and know. (Don't gossip and talk to other citizens about it. That is cowardly.)

3. Witness in our courts courageously, to the things you see, report and know. That won't lose your jobs and friends or hurt your business. It will command the public respect for you and will help better our local government.

4. Serve on jury and fine heavy for bootlegging and driving while drinking.

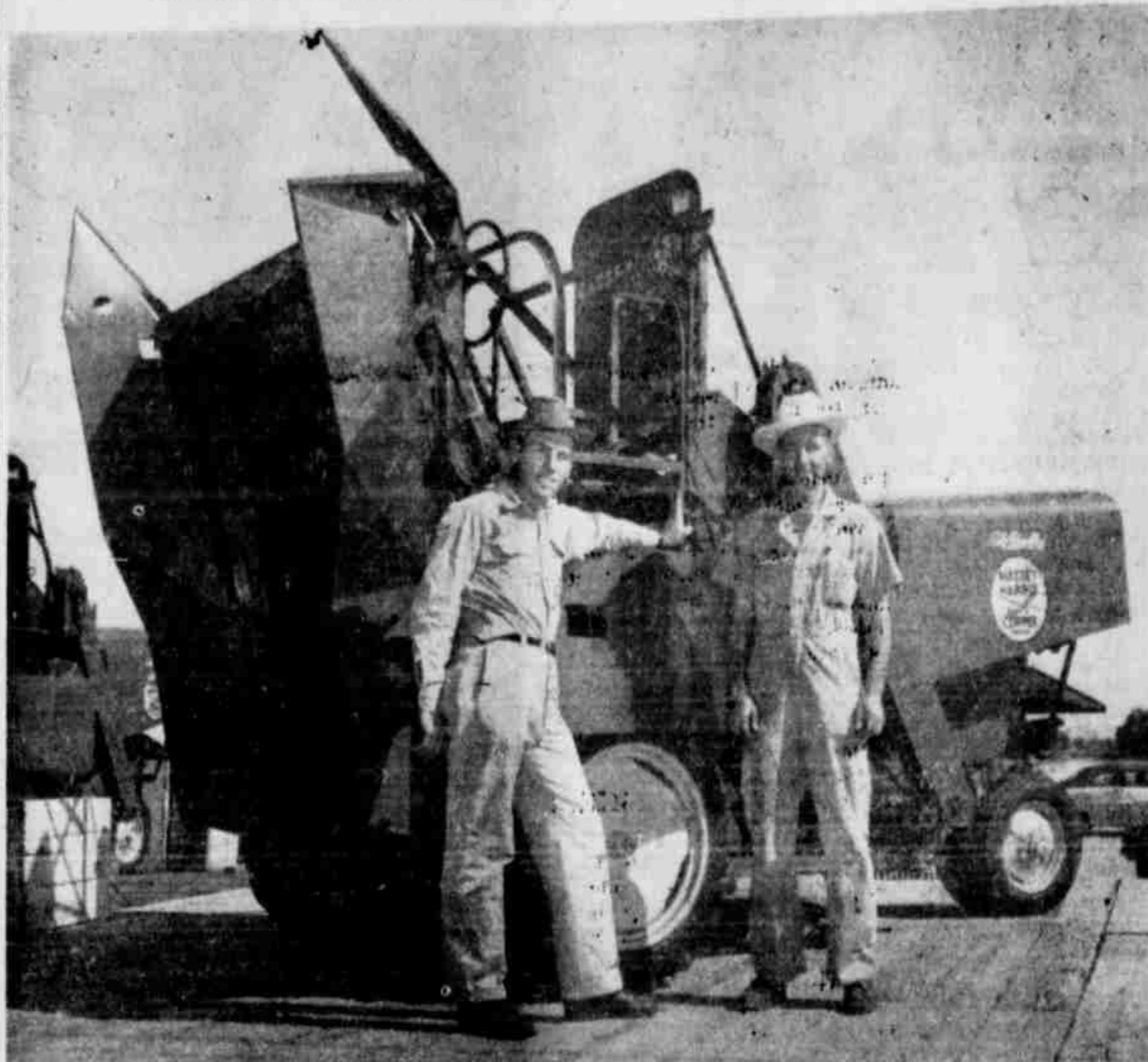

5. Set an example in abiding by the laws.

Bootlegging Discussed

The subject of bootlegging in Lamb County and Littlefield was discussed very freely. State highway patrolmen told of the difficulty in catching local bootleggers because of the weakness of laws and short-handedness of law enforcement officers, and unwillingness of local citizens to testify in court.

The question was asked of the public officials attending if they thought Christians had the right to expect public officials to be of high Christian moral standards in their lives. All seemed to agree that church members should thoroughly investigate all candidates for local elections concerning their personal

Combines Here For Harvesting Castor Beans

Four castor bean combines, for use in the harvesting of Lamb county's castor bean crop, arrived in the county this week and were unloaded at the Santa Fe freight dock.

There are 1,500 acres in castor beans in Lamb county. The nature of the crop is such that the beans must be harvested when they reach a certain development.

The combines were purchased from the Massey-Harris Co. by the United States Department of Agriculture, and will be leased to farmers through the Production Marketing association.

Delivery of the combines in Lamb county was through the Littlefield Implement Co., Massey-Harris dealers in Littlefield, who will extend their facilities to the farmers in the maintenance and servicing of the combines.

C. T. Oliver, Sr., is manager of the Littlefield Implement Co. Associated with him are C. T. Oliver, Jr., and I. B. Palmer.

lives as well as ability in serving in office.

Dr. Hemphill Speaks
Dr. Lee Hemphill, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Littlefield, gave a ten minute talk on "What we Baptists feel we have the right to expect of our local public officials."

He began by saying:

"We have developed here in America an open disrespect for law. Even little laws of speed, and laws about beer and liquors."

He gave examples and cited facts. He commended the suggestions to Christians and churches by the group in discussion.

He said: "We expect of public officials to do at least the following four things:

1. Enforce the laws we have as best they can.
2. Show no partiality in public office, even to ministers, friends or the wealthy.

3. Lead the citizens in changing laws that are weak or ineffective.

He said: "We should not attempt anything on the liquor and beer laws except to put them on a basis with the narcotics and drug laws where they belong."

4. Public Officials should always be courteous. Courtesy and humanity on the part of law enforcement officers particularly builds public respect for law. Courtesy at all times encourages citizens to abide by the law.

5. Christians feel they have a right to expect all public officials to be law abiding citizens with high moral standards and active church members.

Marlan, that I've grown up to be a "fraidy cat" or that I think it's cute to put on that delicate act in front of things like mice when there's a man around to appreciate it. Gals that do that are the kind that pick up a broom and knock the little critter senseless when they are alone. Nope, it's just all in what you're used to.

Remember that big bull frog Cousin Blanche and I brought home from Green Pond and made such a pet of one summer? You can't forget how scandalized the lady next door was when she heard us calling him Jug-O-Rum! But that's what he said when he croaked, which was loud and frequently.

I hesitate to ask you if you remember what happened one afternoon when you were "putting on the dog" for the Garden Club anniversary celebration because I don't know if you've ever lived it down—but did Cousin Blanche and I laugh!

And you'll have to admit, the effect was PERFECT. And after all the trouble you'd gone to to have that water lily arrangement frozen into a cake of ice for an island in the middle of the punch bowl (I imagine you could already see the write-ups in the society section) . . . the chance was just too good to miss. We had no trouble at all in persuading JUG-O-RUM to cooperate.

Well, I'll never forget the gasps of delight Mrs. McClary, the president, and all those ladies let out when they saw the refreshment table. And there you were in the middle of them, "bridling and smiling. "So realistic," they said . . . "the frog sitting just under the edge of an overhanging lily pad." "Frog?" you asked vaguely. Then with sudden realization, "Frog!" You whirled on the table and saw JUG-O-RUM sitting there on the island in your punch bowl. You froze solid. At that moment, one of those inquisitive, "I've-just-got-to-touch-it" kind of ladies got a little too close.

With one deep croak, JUG-O-RUM dived into the lime ice!

Of all the shrieking and snatching up coats and purses, I've ever seen! The house was emptied in five minutes!

Cousin Blanche and I were under the table laughing so hard that we almost forgot JUG-O-RUM floundering around in the punch. The sides of that big cut glass bowl were so straight and slick, he couldn't get out of it. He gave us the most reproachful look with those big, unwinking eyes when we finally fished him out. I bet he thought that lime ice was the queerest pond water he'd ever dived into!

There's another escapade of mine involving frogs that comes to mind. Kids around here will be prevented by the nature of the weather from capitalizing on it so it will do no harm to mention it. I bet folks out here in WEST TEXAS never even heard that old SOUTH Georgia expression about raining bull frogs.

Well, down where I lived it didn't ever rain bull frogs—the size of JUG-O-RUM—as I recall (I won't ask these Texans to swallow a tall tale like that even after the ones they've expected me to swallow!), but it rained frogs! At least after a big rain, the ground along the road to the mail box and school bus stop would be literally

Field Representative From New York Holds Girl Scout School of Instruction

Sixty-three members of Lamb County Council and four Girl Scout workers from Abernathy were in attendance at a Girl Scout School of Instruction conducted in the local Hut, by Miss Virginia Burgess, field worker from the New York City office, held here Thursday afternoon and all day Friday.

Mrs. T. A. Hilbun, secretary of the Council introduced Miss Burgess who led in a round table discussion at the afternoon meeting Thursday. During this time the group discussed the constitution, and moved that it be taken at a regular meeting.

At the meeting President Nelson, siding presented the proposed revised Council membership, a film on the proper conducting a model meeting.

Friday, Miss Burgess, leaders, assistant leaders, and committee members. She organized Girl Scout troop government planning.

carpeted with the tiniest frogs imaginable. They were simply minute! And you could hold hundreds of them, it seemed, in one hand—even a six-year-old's hand.

One morning I scooped up a bunch of them just as the school bus came over the rise and stopped to let me get on. I made my way innocently as one of the devil's own to the middle of the bus and sat down. This morning I didn't mind sitting on the seat in the center of the bus where there was nothing to lean back on. (All the side seats were filled miles back down the road with high school kids.) I had better range from this central spot.

The little frogs in my hand were squirming like worms and tickling. I knew I'd be laughing out loud in a minute, so I let 'em fly.

Talk about your temper in a tea pot—that bus turned into a tin can full of Mexican jumping beans behind the driver's back. Shrieks from every corner of the bus . . . everybody scrambling to get his neighbor's place . . . lunches and books so neatly piled in the owner's laps a minute ago, now tumbling in all directions . . . proud, high pompadour in disarray . . . hair ribbons askew. The effect was most gratifying. And the big boys laughed when they found out what happened. Granddaddy said I should have been horse whipped, but he laughed so hard I knew he didn't mean it.

Those little frogs were cute and nobody would mind picking them up. One time on a dare from some visiting cousins, I even caught a dirty old toad under the house and tried to take it into the kitchen. Grandmother saw me coming, slammed the screen and hooked it. But I draw the line at horned toads.
