

Seeks Office Of Railroad Commissioner

Pierce Brooks, for several years prominent in Texas politics, today announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Railroad commissioner. Brook's announcement for the place now held by the veteran Lon A. Smith ends speculation which has been rife for months as to whether or not he would be a candidate for this office. Two years ago Brooks polled more than 400,000 votes in a runoff campaign against one of the most popular men in Texas, Coke Stevenson, who only defeated him by a narrow margin.

Picture Of Local Corps Of Salvation
Army In War Cry

In a recent issue of the War Cry, Salvation Army publication, a picture is shown of officers and Sunday school teachers of the local corps, along with eight other groups from Texas. The picture was taken about a month ago.

Nine corps in Texas won banners for standard of excellence, and the local group is among the nine.

In the picture are Capt. Eula Trimmel, Lieut. Vera Evans, Misses Dorothy, Edith and Bessie Lee Jackson, and Edna Weschke, Mrs. R. M. Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Paterson.

The huge Aepyornis, extinct bird of Madagascar, laid eggs that would hold two gallons of water.

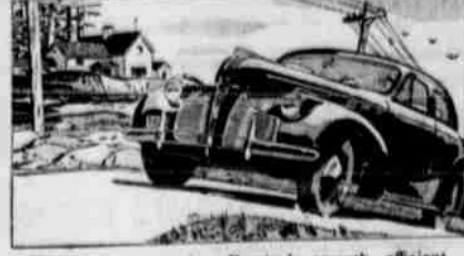

"500 MILES TODAY AND I FEEL FIT AS A FIDDLE!"

Pontiac owners frequently mention this car's superiority for long distance travel. They're the same miles but they seem shorter, and they're more delightful, in a Pontiac.

As Pontiac owners compare notes with other drivers on their trips, they also discover that few others can match Pontiac's gasoline and oil economy (18 to 24 miles per gallon).

Up in the mountains, Pontiac's smooth, efficient power-packed engine really thrills you by the way it goes to town. And Pontiac's handling ease stops driving fatigue before it starts!

And whether you go across town or 500 miles a day, it's a shorter trip in a Pontiac with Pontiac's marvelous "Triple-Cushioned" ride!

Special Six 2-Door Touring Sedan, as Illustrated $838*

IF YOU LIKE TO get out and see the country, go in a Pontiac and travel de luxe. Pontiac's "Triple-Cushioned" ride and big, wide seats bring every passenger in at night feeling fine and ready to go again at the first crack of dawn. Pontiac's noteworthy steering ease, its big-car road balance, and the super quietness of Pontiac's power-packed engine save wear and tear on driver's nerves.

And it's more economical to go in a Pontiac. Owners report 18 to 24 miles to a gallon of gas—and never a drop of oil in between the regular oil changes. You'll like Pontiac's price, too. It's right down with the lowest!

"Johnny Appollo" To Be Featured At Palace Saturday Midnight, Sunday, Monday

Not since "Jesse James" has Tyrone Power had a role like that of "Johnny Appollo" in the 20th Century Fox drama of that title which co-stars him with Dorothy Lamour at the Palace Theatre Saturday midnight, continuing through Sunday and Monday.

"Johnny Appollo" is the alias of a young college man, a banker's son who turns mobster when the father he idolized is sent to prison and his wealthy friends turn against him.

Dorothy Lamour is more alluring than ever as "Lucky" Dubarry, the hard-boiled night club entertainer who understands and loves the boy, no matter what he does.

Production Chief Darryl F. Zanuck carefully selected the imposing supporting cast. Edward Arnold is seen as the banker father; Lloyd Nolan plays Mickey Dwyer, the gangster whose mob Johnny Appollo joins. Charley Grapewin is cast as a tipping ex-judge turned underworld lawyer, and Lionel Atwill is seen as the banker's lawyer, to whom Johnny appeals in vain for aid for his father.

"Johnny Appollo" is climaxed by one of the most thrilling jailbreaks ever screened, featuring one of the most amazing hand-to-hand battles—between Tyrone Power and Lloyd Nolan—in film history.

Highlighting the story are two special new song hits, sung by Dorothy Lamour, "Dancing for Nickels and Dimes", by Lionel Newman and Frank Loesser and "This is the Beginning of the End," by Mack Gordon.

"Dr. Kildare's Strange Case" At Ritz Theatre

Lionel Barrymore's one hundredth feature picture has been booked for the Ritz Theatre to be featured Saturday midnight continuing through Sunday and Monday. This is "Dr. Kildare's Strange Case", medical-detective story, in which Barrymore plays Dr. Gillispie, gruff mentor of young Dr. Kildare, played by Lew Ayres.

Harold S. Bucquet directed the picture, with Lorraine Day as the heroine, Marie Blake, Nat Pendleton, Walter Kingsford, Alma Kruger, Nell Craig, Frank Orth, Samuel S. Hinds, Emma Dunn and George Reed are among the principals.

"Dr. Kildare's Strange Case" takes the young doctor into the field of insulin shock as an insanity treatment. Willis Goldbeck and Harry Ruskin adapted the screen play.

Phoka's Minor g Show Of et Saturday

Maxie McKnight Places High In Three Events

Max Minor's scurrying feet carried all individual honors in sight of the District Three Interscholastic track and field meet at Tech on Saturday, but consistent runner, third, and fourth placing by Maxie McKnight's well rounded team added up to points to win the meet, displacing Tech's Westerners for the first time in four years.

Minor led the field in 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, 220 yard low hurdles and broad jump that gave him 20 points second place for day. Lubbock's Westerners, champions for the last three years, failed to third with 13 points.

The meet reached its climax in the relay, final event on the card, and Phoka were all even 20 points, although at this time the Mustangs hadn't yet won any place. Both had teams in relay, which was run in two McKinney and Lubbock took the lead in the first heat, but the Hedgewoods running the third and fourth laps took it right back and finished far behind and out of money.

Twins between them placed in events, besides the relay. Both in the century, Willis chaser in and Willard coming in second. Willard finished second in shot put and 440 yard dash and again chased Minor in the yard dash.

The second time in two days, Phoka Terror equalled the yard dash mark, but his assault on other records failed. The yard low hurdles mark of 25.2 which he set in the preliminary Friday stood as he captured event in 25.6. He was .3 of a second off the 22.8 mark he showed in 220 yard dash last year. In 20 yard dash his best leap was inches short of the record.

More than for the century dash tied for the sixth time since set in 1923 by Jenkins Ater block, no records were ended. Most of the really good boys, McKnight and the Hedges were entered in so many events they were too tired to hang up best times in Saturday's races.

Ed Altman to pitch for Hubbers
Maxie McKnight goes to Canyon for regional track meet Yellowhouse Switch to have baseball club

Big, rawboned Ed Altman, the port-side whirlwind from Littlefield has made the grade with the Lubbock Hubbers. He has been designated as one of the big guns of the Lubbock team's pitching corps. Ed should do big things this year if he has the proper backing a pitcher should have. He has the speed, and the control, to make a real pitcher. Ed is the type who is always in there giving his best no matter in what position the cards may be stacked. All Littlefield and territory are pulling for him to make the grade in a big way, and whenever it is his turn to hurl the pillota at opposing hitters it wouldn't be at all surprising to see many a home town fan in the Hubber stadium pulling for their boy to "Mow 'Em Down!"

The red headed streak from Littlefield, Maxie McKnight, will head for Canyon the latter part of the week to compete in the Regional Track and Field Meet to be held in that city Friday and Saturday. Maxie stands a good chance of carrying away some of the top honors in this meet, because of his spectacular performances in previous meets over this territory. Maxie is outstanding in the hurdles, broad-jump, high jump and the pole vault, and is a mighty serious threat to anyone's records in any one of these four events.

Yellowhouse Switch has announced that they are going to have a fine baseball club this year. The club last year was young, fast and dangerous to the high standing of and top flight club that they pitted their playing skill against. As it is to be remembered, they gave the Littlefield aggregation one hectic afternoon before finally being defeated by a very close score. Any team that came that close to defeating the strong team that Littlefield had was bound to have a good ball club. They were a swell bunch of ballplayers last year and this writer is wishing them another successful season.

Brannen Hardware Robbed Tuesday Night; Articles Taken

The Brannen Hardware was entered Tuesday night, and about 25 pennies, a .44 Colt pistol, some pocket knives, and an automobile clock taken.

Entrance was gained by taking a pane of glass out of the back door unlocking the door, taking down the bar, which was used across the wide doors. On going to his hardware establishment Wednesday morning, Mr. Brannen missed the above articles and also noticed that the pane of glass which had been taken out of the back door was also missing. The thieves had taken time to pull the doors closed, and also to rest the bar against the door.

FITTED SLIP
Have you had difficulty buying slips that fit as smoothly and slimly as they should, under your figure-molding dresses? So many large women have, and therefore we designed this slip (8423).

We put darts under the arms, to take care of bust fullness and to prevent bulkiness, and darts at the waistline to make you look slimmer, and your dresses melt in without a line or wrinkle.

Pattern provides for both built-up shoulders and straps. Once you see how beautifully this slip fits, you'll want three or four like it, in satin or lingerie crepe.

Pattern No. 8423 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50 and 52.

Pattern 8660—Little girls who hate to take time out for getting dressed and undressed will be made very happy by this design (8660) which buttons, on a slanting line, like a coat and has sash belts tied in the back.

They can put it on and take it off in a jiffy—nothing tight or fussy about it, and it's just as cute as it can be. Pattern gives you a choice of very short kimono sleeves or set-in puffed ones.

This is an easy dress to make and to iron, and, simple though the pattern is, a detailed sew chart is included. Make the frock and panties of sturdy cottons like gingham, line or percale, and trim with ricrac.

Pattern No. 8660 is designed for sizes 4, 6, 8, 10 and 12 years.

Building A Low Cost Home—

Intelligent planning of the low-cost home is of paramount importance to the safety of the investment, declares Howard Leland Smith, chief of the architectural section of the Federal Housing Administration.

Homes in the $2,500 price range, to be constructed under liberalized FHA requirements covering low-cost home construction, must be of sound design, for on this feature to a large extent rests the marketability of the of the property.

Four fundamentals should be kept in mind when designing these homes:

- 1. The home should be simple in design. 2. It should be dignified in character. 3. It must contain no false elements. 4. The design must allow economical construction.

There is no place in the design of these homes for unnecessary frills, according to FHA recommendations. No unnecessary corners should be tolerated, and halls should be kept to a minimum to prevent needless waste of floor area. Wherever possible, plumbing should be concentrated, such as placing the kitchen next to the bathroom, to effect savings in cost of labor and materials.

Home builders are urged to place emphasis on elements which grow in value and which increase the stability of the investment rather than those which tend to deteriorate with time and add considerably to cost of maintenance. Trees and shrubs not only enhance the beauty of the small home but contribute much to its marketability. It was also pointed out that most landscaping becomes more valuable as it attains enough magnitude to give the property an air of mellowness.

Room sizes must necessarily be small to cut costs and conserve heating expense, it is pointed out, but in limiting floor area it is necessary to study wall areas with a view to permitting proper placement of furniture.

Rooms should be dimensioned to take standard lengths of structural members, it is advised, and roofs should be framed as simply as possible. Unnecessary gables and other needless architectural frills should be eliminated, as they create added cost.

The use of stock designs in doors, windows, and trim is encouraged to effect further economies.

The SNOOPER SAYS ...

Barbers in Matador have closed their shops, and most of them have gone fishing... but a few have to stay around town to serve the men who are having their mustaches trimmed and dyed.

Time has turned back the pages 40 years in Motley county, as hundreds of men and youths are growing mustaches of the vogue in that little country two decades ago. The long-vanished tonsorial custom, revived by the Matador Lions club last month, will continue until the Matador Roundup and Rodeo May 17-18. With but few exceptions every male resident in the county, who is old enough, is growing a mustache. And those who are not old enough, look longingly at their elders and hope that they will have acquired a small mustache by this time next year.

Buy a Blue Bonnet next Saturday!

The American Legion is sponsoring the sale of the Texas State flower, and proceeds will be sent to the Veterans Home Council, and will be used for the re-establishment of the Texas Confederate Home in Austin.

April was proclaimed "Bluebonnet Month" by Governor O'Daniel. The State Highway Department has been planting bluebonnet seed along highways.

We'll be glad when bluebonnet start growing in West Texas.

Miss Irene Hobbs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Hobbs, will arrive home about June 1. She has been attending Simmons University in Boston, and has not been home for two years. She is working on a Master of Arts degree. A former teacher in the Littlefield schools, Irene sponsored the publication of the school paper here, and is interested in journalism. Two years ago she attended school in Chicago, and was an instructor at a girls' camp in Maine.

Irene lived in Lamb county many years, and during summer vacations she helped her father overhaul his cotton gin. Her brother, Earl, told me this story... When his father owned the Yellowhouse Gin, Irene painted the entire building, inside and outside, and did a good job of it, too!

Obey That Impulse!

Along about this time of year comes the Great American Urge. The first sunny days, the first birds singing around the corner of the house, and the average man's hands itch for the heft of a spade or the feel of a paint brush. And his wife's thought's lightly turn to slipcovers and new paper for the dining room.

It's a laudable urge, and what with business a little better during the past year, and prices holding steady, there should be an awful lot of slicking up going on pretty soon.

The best of it is that, especially on the outside work on the house and lawn, you not only get the satisfaction and joy out of it yourself, but the sum total of it all raises the tone and looks of the whole town, and everybody shares in the general brightening up.

Let's make the old town shine this spring as never before!

Florence Bates, the portly woman who plays Mrs. Van Hooper in the early scenes of "Rebecca," coming to the Palace Theatre next month, once practiced law in San Antonio. Later, she operated an antique shop there... Her real name is Florence Raabe and she took a law degree at the University of Texas.

Ruth Millet, columnist of New York, says:

"There is evidence on every hand that the American people, fed up with the world today, are turning back to other days for their entertainment, interests and ideals.

"Song publishers—alert to this nostalgia—are reviving old songs like 'Come Josephine in My Flying Machine!'

"Women are buying pretty hats—not smartly grotesque ones—more evidence of the new wistfulness of the old days.

"People who turned from religion in their college days are blaming lack of religion for much of the world mess. They want their children to be more religious than they themselves.

"Psychologists know that every individual adult subconsciously craves a return to his infancy when life was lived in simpler terms—when 'things were better.' So probably psychologists have a name for this larger thing—this national nostalgia. We don't like the sight before our eyes—so we have turned our backs and are straining toward the past—which at the moment looks brighter than the future."

If people start looking backward, will civilization advance? We have to live in the present, not the past nor the future, and if great books are not written now, new songs written, new styles created, new thoughts originated by the present generation, the people 100 years from today will be just like we are, still looking back, because we haven't offered them anything new. Good Afternoon, MARGIE.

THURSDAY—London — Britain's Skagerrak and Kattegat with eight planes lost in day's fighting.

Berlin—German news agency reports eight British bombers shot down in raid on Nazi bases; authorized German sources admit Nazis taking little headway in efforts to protect kingdom in Norway with present Norwegian government.

Stockholm—Norway's fighters to complete ring of steel around German-held Oslo; seven German warplanes reported bottled up in Oslo; Premier Hansson reaffirms Sweden's determination to defend neutrality; unconfirmed reports Norwegians sank remaining 4 German destroyers at Narvik.

Paris—Allied-German cannon thunders along 30 mile stretch western front.

New York—Danish consulate says Danish ships on high seas to go neutral ports.

ships in the convoy were hit by torpedoes, the result being unknown." "In addition, the Alster, of 8,514 tons, has been captured and three trawlers, Friesland, Nordland and Blankenberg have been brought into a British port.

"All these ships are in addition to six supply ships and the Raunfels, which were sunk off Narvik by the second destroyer flotilla on Wednesday last, was announced in the House of Commons by the prime minister.

"The following scuttlings have taken place:

"The tanker Skagerrak, 6,044 tons on being sighted by a British cruiser.

"The German ship Maine, of 7,624 tons on being sighted by the Norwegian destroyer Draug, who picked up some 60 of the crew and conveyed them to a British port.

"The Draug now forms part of the Allied naval forces.

"It has been reported that the German tanker, Kattegat, has been sunk by the Norwegians in the Skagerrak.

FRIDAY—London — Seven German destroyers are reported by Britain in the second naval engagement at Narvik in four days; King George VI in message assures Norway's King Haakon that the Allies are sending "all the help in their power." British strategists broadened suggestions to Norwegians on how to resist advancing Germans say help coming quickly.

Reports by the British admiralty said:

The German "pocket battleship," Admiral Scheer, was successfully picked by His Majesty's submarine Spearfish in the early hours of Friday morning, last. It is probable that the Admiral Scheer was by more than one torpedo.

H. M. S. Truant torpedoed and sank a German cruiser, believed to be the Karlsruhe on Tuesday last. Sinking of this cruiser has already been announced and admitted by the Germans.

Other successes included the sinking of the following German transports and supply ships:

- Tanker Poseidonia, 3,911 tons.
- August Elshardt, 2,593 tons.
- Great, 2,359 tons.
- Bio De Janerio, 5,261 tons.
- Spion, 3,102 tons.
- Antare, 2,593 tons.
- Moorland, 321 tons.

Also an unknown German ship about 4,000 tons. Also on April 17 two more unknown German ships were sunk, and four other German damaged; Japanese report blows against Chinese supply road from Indo-China.

MONDAY, April 15 — Rome—A declaration by Giovanni Ansaldo, editor of Foreign Minister Galeazzo Ciano's newspaper, Telegrafo, that Italy may soon enter the war, has climaxed a week long campaign against the Allies by the Italian press and radio. Diplomatic sources believed that if Italy entered the war, it would be on Germany's side.

London—Balkan diplomats have received reports that Italy has quietly concentrated a fleet in its Dodecanese islands off the Turkish coast at the eastern end of the Mediterranean, about 400 miles from the Suez canal.

Great Britain announced that her forces "now have landed at several points in Norway, while the combined might of British sea and air strength rained new blows on the German invaders.

Two German transports were reported sunk by the British, and 4 torpedo hits had been scored on a transport convoy attacked on the Skagerrak.

Germans admit at Berlin that the 10,000 ton pocket battleship Admiral Scheer had been successfully torpedoed; that Narvik had been taken by the British and the Germans routed over the hills.

Norwegian military headquarters Monday announced recapture of Narvik, Arctic ore port, with the aid of British naval units and said British marines and soldiers landed at several Norwegian coastal points with new night artillery and complete equipment.

These units have been joined by the Norwegians, the Norwegian command said, and a "great number" of Norwegian pilots who have been grounded by a lack of warplanes, have been attached to British naval units as a result of the delivery of British planes.

Washington — President Roosevelt declared that the 21 American republics must be prepared "to meet force with force" if their system of peaceful relations is challenged.

The president spoke before the governing board of the Pan American Union in commemoration of the Union's 50th anniversary, and radio carried his voice to most of the world.

He said that he prays that the Western Hemisphere never shall have to resort to force for its defense. But should strong measures be necessary, he said, he was convinced that the Americas would be "wholly successful" in defending their way in life because "the inner strength of a group of free people is irresistible when they are prepared to act."

TUESDAY —Paris—Premier Paul Reynaud told the French Senate today that Germany has lost almost one-third of her navy in the past week of fighting in Scandinavian waters.

Specific figures, the premier said, are, officially, 30 per cent of the Nazi navy, including 20 per cent of Germany's cruisers and 25 per cent of her destroyers.

Reynaud placed the Nazi sea losses at 78,000 tons during the past week when he said Allied navies had lost "not a single pound". (He evidently referred to British and French merchant shipping.)

Berlin—Authorized German sources, commenting on President Roosevelt's recently expressed disapprobation of the Nazi invasion of Norway suggested bluntly Tuesday that he would do well to mind his own business.

"All we ask," these sources said, "is that American history be examined from the viewpoint of necessities at various times for national expansion. We believe there are striking parallels between American needs in the past and German needs at present."

WEDNESDAY—April 17—three blows to Britain's navy in the North Sea were reported today—one by the British themselves—as the Germans hurried to entrench themselves in invaded Norway against the threat of arriving Allied forces.

DNB, Germany's official news agency, said a British battleship was hit squarely by a bomb of the heaviest caliber when German warplanes successfully attacked British naval forces off the southwestern Norwegian coast.

The British admitted the loss of the 1,575 ton submarine Thistle, a new $1,400,000 vessel which normally carried 53 men. The admiral said she was overdue and must be considered lost.

The German high command asserted a British destroyer of the "Tribal" class was sunk by a submarine northeast of the Shetland islands.

She was the second of her class claimed by the Germans—a sister-ship of the 1,870 ton Cossack which they said was set afire and stranded at Narvik in a naval battle Saturday. The British have not admitted the Cossack's loss.

The German communique also reported a large British transport "hit squarely by the heaviest caliber bombs".

Washington—Blockades by Great Britain in the Atlantic and Pacific coupled with President Roosevelt's extension of the combat area forbidden to American ships, have interrupted or hampered American foreign trade involving nearly $1,300,000.

Iceland and the United States arranged last night to enter into direct diplomatic relations now that Denmark, sister kingdom of Iceland has been taken over by Germany.

Hitherto, Iceland's relations to this country have been conducted through the Danish legation here and through a special trade commissioner in New York.

After the German invasion of Denmark, however, the Icelandic parliament voted to conduct its own foreign policy.

Secretary Hull announced last night that he had received a telegram from the prime minister of Iceland, Hermann Jonasson, saying that the Icelandic government was anxious to enter into direct relations with the United States.

"I want to thank you folks for the nice business you extended me during the time I was in business. You were loyal to us, and we tried to give you service.

"I am no longer in the produce business.

"I decided to enter the race for Justice of the Peace after a large number of my friends urged me to be a candidate. If the voters of this precinct think I am capable of filling the office, I will appreciate your vote and influence.

"If you see fit to make me your justice of the peace, I guarantee that I will be on the job at all times, and will do my best to make you a hand.

"As you know, service is my motto. I promise to show no partiality to anyone; to give each matter coming to my notice careful attention; and otherwise carry out my duties justly, and in such a way as to be worthy of the trust placed in me.

WTCC To Meet At Big Spring May 16

The 22nd annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to be held at Big Spring May 16, 17 and 18, marks a break with precedent.

Heretofore the convention dates have been at the first of the week. The 1940 convention, in fact, was originally set for Monday-Tuesday-Wednesday in the week of May 13 to 15, but last week it was announced the big show would be held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of that same week.

Reason: the convention theme, the "American Way of Life," to be dramatized in a great All-Youth Parade set for 2:00 o'clock Friday afternoon, May 17. Heads of boy and girl organizations of the territory met with the convention committee in Big Spring and asked for the change in dates. Youths in large numbers can come and participate in the convention at the end of the week. Another factor—very potent—was that Boy Scouts of Buffalo Trail were anxious to combine their annual Roundup with the WTCC convention, and this would not have been possible with a first-of-the-week setting. Big Spring is always the host city to the Scouts' Roundup, to be held this year on Friday and Saturday, May 17-18, the last two days of the convention.

Besides the Boy Scouts, marchers in the All-Youth Parade will include 4-H club boys and girls, Future Farmers of America units, Girl Reserves, Girl Scouts and Campfire Girls—and all the convention bands. The marchers will carry banners affirming the priceless heritage and blessing of American citizenship against the bloody background of Europe. The parade will end at the Big Spring Municipal Auditorium, with an address on the American way of life by a nationally known speaker.

L. B. Williams Is Educational Advisor At Local CCC Camp

L. B. Williams is the CCC Camp educational adviser at the present time, succeeding J. A. von Lankin, who was transferred to the camp at Lamesa last June.

Mr. Williams is in charge of the camp school, and he is very much in favor of helping enrollees attain what President Roosevelt termed as the more abundant life.

He has been with the CCC camp since November 1, 1938, serving as foreman in the Soil Conservation Service until he was appointed educational adviser. He came to Littlefield from Floydada, where he taught commercial law and business administration in the high school. The educational objectives of the CCC are fourfold: (1) to increase employability for each enrollee; (2) to increase the enrollee's ability for civic and social participation; (3) to remedy former educational deficiencies and (4) to train for worthy use of leisure time.

Every outfit must have its leaders. In the CCC leaders are trained insofar as it is possible to do so. As life in the Corps is made up of three main activities, living together, working together, and learning together it is necessary to have leaders in each of these fields.

For this reason courses are offered in leader training, foreman training and teacher training. Before one can possibly become a good leader, however, it is first necessary to learn to become a good follower. Opportunities are offered whereby the enrollees can learn both--what they do with these opportunities

Anton Farmers, Merchants Hold Dinner

J. C. Elms Reported To Be Improving

Elms, cashier of the First National Bank, Littlefield, who is suffering from complications of flu for the past three weeks, underwent a rib resection at the Littlefield hospital last week for the purpose of inserting a tube to drain pus from his lungs. Mr. Elms is improving nicely, according to a report from the hospital.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work--do not act as Nature intended--fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery. Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes--a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination. There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

Continental Oil Co Sponsors Farm Raid; Is State Wide Event

The annual farm raid, which is sponsored by the Continental Oil Company, was underway last week.

According to G. R. Sandige, local wholesale dealer, this is a goodwill tour made by the merchandisers and district superintendents over the state, who contact the customers of Continental oil and solicit business.

Superintendents and merchandisers of the company gathered in Plainview Sunday night, April 7, and in a business session Monday morning were each assigned their territory.

Bob Biggs, merchandiser of the city of Wichita Falls, was assigned to the Littlefield section, and spent Monday and Tuesday of last week here.

Vegetable Laxative With Proved Feature

The punctual, satisfying relief from constipation and its headaches, biliousness, bad breath, so often experienced by users of this laxative, is mainly due to its combination of purely vegetable ingredients.

BLACK-DRAUGHT'S principal ingredient has high medical recognition as an "intestinal tonic-laxative"; helps impart tone to lazy bowel muscles.

A little of this spicy, aromatic product by simple directions at bedtime, generally allows time for a good night's rest; acts gently and thoroughly next morning.

Next time, take time-tested, economical BLACK-DRAUGHT.

Majority Favors Traffic Control On Main Street

Forty-eight business firms answered the questionnaires on traffic control in Littlefield last week, and 42 forms had "yes" written favoring the control of double parking, and six against the question.

Favoring the installation of traffic lights, 53 votes were cast, while 13 voted against them, and three did not say. Thirty-four reported to be against "U" turns on main street, and one voted for them.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT
BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

YOU can figure it out for yourself from what you see in daily traffic. Buick's pacing the pack. Has been for years.

It called this year's style turn a year ago.
It set current performance standards in '38 with its Dynaflex engine. It still leads the crowd for riding qualities with BuiCoil Springing, now in its third year.

So where's a more logical place to look for next year's "big news" than in this year's big and roomy Buick?

It may be smoother engines. Buick is the only car that now balances power plants after assembly.

Coil springs all around may come. Buick's never need lubrication, are practically indestructible, even cut down skid-risks.

Maybe it'll be heavier frames—Buick has the heaviest of any car of its price.
Or maybe many of Buick's "extra touches" like the safety-latches on rear doors, Sealed Beam Headlights out of the way of bumps, Two-Way Direction Signals with automatic cut-off.

You get all of these things now in Buick.
Get them at a price that suggests a six instead of a husky, man-size eight.

Just go try a Buick. Look it over, inside and out. And get the prices.

List figures begin at $895 *delivered at Flint, Mich.; transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), optional equipment and accessories—extra.
Prices subject to change without notice.

You get a "Good Deal" Two Ways
from Your Buick Dealer

A good "deal" when it comes to old-car allowances—and a whale of a lot of automobile in your new Buick.

"Best buy's Buick!"

M. C. MOODY

Mr. Cogdill stated that the general opinion of business men and farmers, seems to be that double parking should be stopped on Main street, but no definite action has been taken at the present time.

A city ordinance was passed many years ago in Littlefield, prohibiting double parking, but the last few years this ordinance has not been enforced.

Roy Young who until recently operated the Piggly-Wiggly Grocery and Market at Tahoka, has sold out and returned to Littlefield, where he is employed at the First National

R. E. McCaskell And Son Establish Gas System Business

R. E. McCaskell and son have opened a new business in Levelland and are featuring the new type Flash-O Gas system, as well as Phillips butane gases, and propane, and butane appliances.

The new firm is located one block north of the Burson Motor Company next door to the E. K. Hufstetler and Sons implement house. R. E. McCaskell, Sr., and R. E. McCaskell, Jr., are owners of the new business and they are assisted by J. N. Williams and H. E. Mowry, experienced salesmen.

"We are featuring the new improved type system which is known as Flash-O Gas system. This system is recommended by the U. S. Bureau of Standards because it takes the liquid from the bottom of the tank and vaporizes it as the gas comes out, thus giving an even heat content to the gas which absolutely eliminates the plant from freezing down when you need it most," said Mr. McCaskell as he described the new system the firm is introducing in Hockley and Cochran counties.

Besides this gas system, McCaskell & Son have a franchise for this county to deliver Phillips Petroleum butane gases and propane. The new concern also features Stoper ranges, Adams heaters, Rex water heaters, Woods brooders and other butane equipment.

Spring Lake FFA Plant Shrubs On School Campus

Future Farmers of America at the Spring Lake school have planted about three acres of grass, 400 trees and 50 shrubs on the school campus. In addition, they have pruned all of the trees and trimmed hedges.

One of the purposes of this work is to beautify the campus, and make it one of the most attractive in this section. Also the boys believe that the planting of these shrubs will help to check the blowing of sand across the school yard.

Violations To Be Penalized

Farmers adopting practices which tend to defeat the purposes of the AAA will be deprived of all or part of their payments in 1940.

Eight practices have been defined by the state Agricultural Conservation Association committee in accordance with a ruling of the Secretary of Agriculture, as "defeating the purposes of the program" in recent notices to the county committees. The state committee requested the counties to make every possible effort to enforce these provisions.

All payments with respect to a farm will be withheld if the producer adopts any of the following five practices, the committee said:

- (1.) Coercion of a tenant by a landlord to require him to pay all or part of any government payment which the tenant is to receive or has received for participation in the 1940 program.
- (2.) Requirement by a landlord that a tenant or sharecropper pay, in addition to the customary rental, a sum of money equivalent to all or a portion of the government payment.

(3.) Intentionally depriving or attempting to deprive any landlord, tenant or sharecropper of payments by omission of names on an application for payment for or any other official document required to be filed in connection with the program; showing incorrectly his or their acreage shares of crops or unit shares of soil-building practices; or otherwise falsifying the record.

(4.) Requirement by a landlord that a tenant execute an assignment ostensibly covering advances of money or supplies to make a current crop but actually for a purpose not permitted by the regulations.

(5.) Offsetting compliance on a farm or farms operated by a producer as an individual by operations of a partnership, association, estate, corporation, trust or other business enterprise in which the producer is financially interested and the policies of which he is in a position to control. On the other hand, if such a business entity carries on its operations so as to qualify for payment but an individual producer interested in the business offsets its performance by individual operations, the payments to the business entity shall be reduced by such an amount as the state committee finds is commensurate with the individual's interest.

Three other practices, according to the committee, will result in deductions from the payments to a producer:

- (1.) Offsetting compliance in one state by operations in another state.
- (2.) Renting land for cash or for standing or fixed rent to another person who the producer knows or has good reason to believe intends to offset the producer's performance by substantially overplanting the acreage allotments for the farm which includes the rented land.
- (3.) Participation in the production of a crop on a farm other than a farm in which he admittedly has an interest but which is operated out of compliance or in such a manner as to tend to defeat the purposes of the program. A producer is considered as participating in such production if he furnishes machinery, work stock, or financial aid for the production of the crop and

Boy Scout Circus To Be Held May 3

Bigger and better will be the third Boy Scout Circus to be staged by 1,900 Boy Scouts and Cubs of the South Plains Council, May 3, at Texas Tech Stadium in Lubbock, according to all indications. O. J. "Bo" Sexton, general chairman, has revealed.

Scouts and Cubs from all over the 20 counties of the council will participate in this huge spectacle of boy-program, its theme "The American Way." Tickets for the Circus will be sold to all to pay the expenses of the production.

Already assignments to troops and packs have been made and committees have been assigned. Events will be 15 in all, starting with a prologue of "Dictator Youth Movements," the grand entry of all Scouts and Cubs. The Circus program will have plenty of action, rope-spinning, whip-cracking, first aid, signaling, chariot racing, camp-

Under the AAA regulations, either the county committee with approval of the state committee or the state committee itself can withhold payments or require payments to be returned if the producer is found to have violated any of these provisions.

ing scenes, a stockade of timber, towers and Indian scenes and dancing. Some 3,000 persons are expected to witness the mammoth production.

Troops and packs are urged to send in their acceptances of assignments and proceeds with rehearsals as units, Sexton said. The program on Friday, May 3, includes a 2 p. m. parade, a 3 p. m. rehearsal and the 8 p. m. circus. Superintendents have been asked to dismiss Scouts and Cubs from school on this day so that they can participate in the show.

Mrs. Harry Pugh Smith

CHAPTER IV SYNOPSIS

Janet Phillips finds herself left out of things when her wealthier friends in Bay City come home from finishing schools and colleges. Priscilla Leigh—at the moment in Janet's old friend Gordan's—Key—is making herself disagreeable. Jim Phillips, Janet's brother, has just met red-headed, wealthy Helen Sanders through pampered Howard Leigh. Jim is supposed to give Miss Sanders as golf pro for the summer. Although he doesn't like her, he is fascinated. Meanwhile, she has returned home from her apartment, wondering if, after all, love means little money everything. She complains of their lack of funds to her mother, pointing out Mrs. Leigh's "how she has got on!"

It depends on what you want or life," said Anne. "She was never the least in love with Henry. She was supposed to be quite wild about a young man who worked at her father's butcher shop. I think he's still working in some of his butcher shop, although I don't know if Jennie Leigh has thought of him in years."

"There you are," muttered Janet, smiling. "Love doesn't matter in a year or so it doesn't matter whether you married for love or not, because if you did, by then the thrill has gone out like a candle."

"The thrill didn't go out," said Janet, looking at her mother with a catch in her breath.

"I never drew a long breath as if I had been granted a reprieve. I don't know for you, did it?" she asked unsteadily.

"Never."

Janet laid her hand over her mother's and Janet clung to it. "Thanks for being you," she whispered.

There were tears on her cheeks. Nothing has struck at her emotional roots, thought Anne and had her desire to gather Janet into her arms and protect her from everything which menaced her.

"How about a little food for the table of the house?" shouted Jim, opening the front door.

Janet was astonished to find that it was dark. "Heavens," she cried, "I'm going to her feet, 'we should all starve!'"

However, no one betrayed an appetite although there was a delicious aspic salad and a plate of cold roast beef and baked potatoes which Janet had scooped out and mashed and then set back in their shells at the last minute to brown with paprika and cheese. Jim usually ate as if his long, gaunt body were hollow, but not on this occasion.

"I met Howard's newest girl friend this afternoon," he announced abruptly.

"Helen Sanders?" inquired Janet. Her brother nodded. Anne looked at him quickly. Jim was red clear down inside the collar of his soft blue shirt.

"Priscilla says that Helen is the prettiest girl and the worst snob that ever lived," remarked Janet.

"She's a spoiled brat who needs a good going over with a bundle of sticks," muttered Jim, but he still was hiccupping with laughter and Jim had about run out of breath when Danny's mother came to the rescue.

"I don't need to ask if my son is here as usual, making a nuisance of himself. You can hear him down the block," said Cathy Wood in her low slurred voice.

Jim picked up Danny and swung him high into the air. "Tell your old lady, Sonny, that the only thing we'd like better is twins just like you."

Janet was gazing curiously at Cathy. It was strange to think of Cathy as a mother. She was only twenty. Sometimes Cathy looked like a mere child. She had been left an orphan when she was fifteen. She had, she said, slept on park benches and washed dishes in cheap restaurants before she secured a place in the chorus of a third rate did not meet Anne's eye.

"Hi, Jim!" exclaimed a small piping voice from the direction of the rear porch. "Come and get me!"

"You bet!" cried Jim.

The interruption ended a disagreeable tension. Anne detected relief in Jim's face as if he was glad of an excuse to leap up from the table and from the disturbing topic of Miss Helen Sanders.

He got down on all fours and when with some assistance Danny mounted, his steed proceeded to buck and cavort around the dining table to Danny's vast delight. He road show. The company made brief stands on what the professional labels the tank circuit.

"You remember the theatrical couple in the play 'Lightning?'" asked Cathy. "The ones who got married in Peoria and it rained? Something like that happened to Danny's father and me. He was a chorus man and neither of us had any folks and it snowed all that week and everybody was blue. It was anything for a change."

They were married and the company gave them a wedding supper on the stage after the show. Dan was a good kid, but he was not strong and he was never much of a dancer. When business grew worse he would undoubtedly have been let out, except that by that time Cathy was expecting a baby and the manager felt sorry for both of them.

"I worked up to the last two weeks because we needed the money for the hospital bill," Cathy explained. "Of course the company had to go on to the next stand. Danny cried when he left me. Maybe he had a hunch. But he went because his job looked like the most important thing on earth to us right then. He wrote me every day to hurry and get well. He said he was dying to see his son. I didn't know he was actually dying until I got the telegram."

"You see, he caught a heavy cold. He should have been in the hospital himself. But he went on dancing every night in order to send me the money. He went on even after he was delirious. He was trying to do a cartwheel when he fainted. They carried him off. It was pneumonia and he hadn't a chance."

For six months Cathy had been dancing in the floor show at the local night club. The salary was not large, but she did not have to go to work until eight in the evening and she was finished shortly after twelve. She had a room in the flat across the hall with an old German couple. Grandma Bauer was glad to keep an eye on Danny when his mother was away. Cathy paid extra for this service and for kitchen privileges.

"She's such a game kid," thought Jim now, staring at her over Danny's golden head.

"Come on, Sonny, time for bed," warned Cathy.

"Want me to carry you over and put you in your crib, Sonny?" suggested Jim gently.

Danny snuggled his cheek against Jim. "Yes, please."

"I'll drive you down to the club, Cathy," Jim went on.

Anne saw the light in Cathy's violet eyes before she remembered to veil them with her short black lashes. "I don't want to put you to any trouble, Jim," she said softly.

"No trouble," said Jim. "It's right on the way to the office."

"I forgot, Jim," interrupted Janet as he turned toward the door. "You're supposed to take me to the dance tonight."

Jim stopped short. "The heck I am! What's happened to that boy, friend of yours? We never used to be able to step for him around this place."

Anna caught her breath. Janet glanced at her defiantly, and then at Jim. "Gordon broke a date with me for Priscilla, if you want to know, but you needn't take me to the dance. I'll live without it."

Jim departed carrying Danny whose small head was drooping with fatigue. However, before Jim left to drive Cathy over to the night club he came out upon the Bauer back porch which was separated from his own merely by the landing of the rear staircase, and called out to Janet.

"I'll be back in time to doll up for the dance, Jan, old thing, old dear. Get my white flannels out, there's a good girl, and see if you can locate a decent shirt for me."

Jim Phillips, that same evening, stood outside one of the wide French doors opening off the Country Club lounge onto a screened veranda. From his point of vantage he could observe without being observed.

He tried to fasten his gaze elsewhere, but was unable to turn it from the scintillating person of Miss Helen Sanders. Howard Leigh was dancing only with Miss Sanders.

As a rule Howard did not choose to carry his rudeness too far where Ruth Hethcote was concerned. It was no part of his intention to let her escape him entirely. However engrossing his current affair might be, he usually gave some thought to Ruth's pride, but not this night. Jim, looking on with a frown, could not bear the stricken look on Ruth's face.

"Howard, do run and get me a drink," murmured Miss Helen Sanders who had again strolled out onto the veranda between dances. "A champagne cocktail, if you can find such a thing in these parts," she went on languidly. "If not, anything except that perfectly atrocious concoction your floor committee calls punch."

Howard laughed. "I'm practically there and halfway back with a champagne cocktail, Beautiful."

He erred slightly, because he had not expected to be buttonholed outside the bar by Jim Phillips. "Heaven knows why," said Jim grimly, "but you can wreck Ruth Hethcote's evening without half trying."

"And what's that to you?" inquired Howard.

"Just this," snapped Jim, "you're going over there to ask her to dance or I'll push your face in. Remember all the mean little tricks you played on me when I was a caddy and you could get by with it? If you think it wouldn't give me the greatest amount of trouble to ruin your fascinating countenance, you're all wet."

The small silver tray on which Miss Helen Sanders' cocktail rested quivered slightly in Howard's grasp. "I'm not afraid of you," he said thickly. "Of course I'll dance with Ruth. I meant to all along."

"I'll deliver the cocktail," said Jim curtly. "You're going to walk right along beside me like a little man and dance with Ruth. It's now or a punch in the jaw."

"You make me sick," said Howard peevishly.

Nevertheless he carried out instructions with Jim at his elbow. Miss Helen Sanders was still leaning against the railing of the veranda staring pensively at a silver-gilt moon riding rakishly high in a mauve sky when Jim, with a flourish that was pure bravado, presented her with one cocktail.

"Oh, it's you!" she murmured and eyed him with listless composure. "Do you combine hopping tables along with your other duties at the club?" she inquired.

Jim flushed. "You'd be surprised. I even double as official bouncer if necessary."

Helen Sanders arched her delicate eyebrows. "So I've been stood up. It's a unique experience."

"I can well believe it," said Jim and then to his shocked dismay he heard himself going on. "I'm the world's worst dancer, but you might find me possible as a substitute in a pinch."

There was a prolonged silence in which Jim's heart pounded painfully. "Aren't you being unforgettably presumptuous?" asked Miss Sanders in a cool sweet voice, the essence of disdain. "Surely even in comic little towns like this the hired help do not mingle with their superiors."

Back to his old observation post he lit one cigarette after another and smoked them with vicious speed. He told himself that it was the best thing which could have happened.

It was almost an hour later, and to Jim it had seemed a year or two, when he heard hesitating footsteps behind him and a slender hand touched his arm.

"It develops I've made a particularly nasty blunder," murmured Miss Helen Sanders in a voice that angels might have employed. "Miss Hethcote has explained to me that you aren't the golf pro as Howard let me believe, or a waiter, to which conclusion I leaped unaided."

The Cotton Mattress Program is now getting underway in Texas, according to C. L. Baker, secretary of the Lamb County A.C.A. The cotton is being furnished by the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation. Mattresses are being given free of charge through the assistance of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and the Extension Service of Texas.

There is a regulation, however, as to who may receive these mattresses. Mattresses received through the above agencies are to be given farm families whose gross income was less than $400 for the year of 1939.

These mattresses are to be made by the people who receive them under the supervision of Mrs. Ruth E. Perry, Home Demonstration agent for Lamb county, and the Home Demonstration clubs of Lamb county.

Lamb Represented At Poultry Meeting

V. S. Jones, county agent, E. L. McElroy, assistant, and Mrs. Ruth E. Perry, Lamb County Home Demonstration agent, will attend an all day meeting at Farwell today (Thursday).

Representatives from four counties, Parmer, Bailey, Hockley, and Lamb are expected to be present.

George McCarthy, Extension Poultry Specialist, of College Station, will be present and deliver the main address.

The meeting will open at 9:30 a. m.

F. O. Boles, County School Superintendent, announced Monday that he was delivering for the Lamb County School Board, checks for school pupil transportation reimbursement in the approximate amount of $20,000. This represents about half of the transportation aid granted by the State to Lamb County schools and is in addition to the salary aid, high school tuition aid, vocational aid, and the scholastic apportionment.

It might be interesting to note that, even under economical administration, Lamb County schools spend about $300,000 each year and that the State of Texas provides approximately $165,000 of the necessary funds. With the exception of Henderson County, Lamb County receives from the State more transportation aid than any other county in the State.
