

Agent Still Pegs Cotton At 150,000

County Agent Bill Kimbrough said Wednesday he is sticking with his earlier prediction of 150,000 bales of cotton in Lamb County this year.

Other observers had predicted more production in the county. And the combined September estimate of the Lubbock Cotton Exchange and the Plains Cotton Growers forecast a 165,000-bale crop for the county.

"This hot weather has cut into the yields," said the county agent. "We're going to have some short fiber cotton, but the grades may be pretty good."

Kimbrough said farmers may do better this year if they go ahead and start picking cotton as soon as possible, because their grades may be better now than they will be later in the fall.

"The difference in the grade right now probably would pay for the picking," he said.

The agent said that farmers who wait for mechanical harvesting are running the risk of having more bad weather, and poorer grades.

Kimbrough said the feed crop south of the Sandhills this year is the "sorriest" in the past three years. This is the result of a cold wet spring followed by the present dry spell, he said.

On cotton, "it's probably too late now for rain to do us any good. We need warm dry weather now, so that farmers can get in and start harvesting cotton."

Weather conditions have been ideal in recent weeks for cotton

Plainview Again Has Heavy 11

By JIMMIE HINE

"The season opener is always the game. We can look at the Plainview roster and tell at a glance that we have our work cut out for us Friday night."

That was the way Littlefield Head Coach Don Williams sized up the Cats' season opener at the close of Tuesday's practice session.

"We don't know for certain who Coach Buzz Warren will have at each position on his number one unit, but Plainview always fields a team of big boys, and they'll be doubly anxious to win after our 14-8 victory last year."

But Williams added: "We'll give 'em a full 48 minutes of football."

The Wildcats will match their T-formation against the single-wing offerings of Plainview in the area's top gridiron clash here Friday night at 8 p.m.

Littlefield's coaching staff had its charges brushing up on all the fundamentals this week after dropping a scrimmage game to the Bower Bulldogs, 6-3, Saturday.

The Wildcats had a blocked punt, a couple of pass interceptions and lost the ball on a fumble, all of which helped set up half of Bower's tallies.

Plainview has two of the biggest boys in District 3-AAAA this year in 290-pound Jim Ferguson and 255-pound Joe Ferguson. (The two are not related.)

Plainview's talented tailback, 160-pound Jimmy Carter, may be a problem for the Wildcats, as will Vic Yarbrough, who occupies both were offensive standouts last season. A complete list of the Plainview offensive lineup was not available.

However, 185-center Center Don Cumming will be back as will tackles Don Coleman and Joe Ferguson.

Coach Warren will probably use Robert Marshall at the right end position with Leslie Reaves or Jackie McCurdy at left end. Plainview has but seven returning lettermen.

Littlefield will have several grid-dirs playing out of their regular positions due to injuries. End Nathan Hutson will not see action and Weldon Pace, another end, will be listed as a starter in hopes that he is over his pulled ligaments. Jerry Marsh will fill in at Hutson's spot. Marsh is a regular tackle.

Leading the Wildcats will be tri-captains De Pierce, James Blackwell and Bo Roberts.

Firemen Called Out 3 Times

Littlefield volunteer firemen do used blazes Saturday, Sunday and Tuesday—one in a building, another in a truck and a third in a car.

The first one came Saturday about 6 p.m. when a blaze was reported at a building on Highway 51, next door to the former location of Melvin West Body Shop, which burned to the ground in May.

Pickett Ray, the city's fire marshal, said damage to the building was about $500. The building, owned by J. E. Dillon, had fertilizer belonging to L. E. Sullins stored in it. No estimate was available on the fertilizer loss.

Fire broke out Sunday morning about 10:40 a.m. in a truck at the Gallini-Langford tomato shed east of Littlefield. Damage was minor, according to firemen.

The Tuesday fire, which came about 2:30 p.m., destroyed the back seat of a car. The auto is owned by Jim Tom Brittain.

City Moves James Cox To New Night Chief Post

City councilmen Tuesday approved a reorganization plan in the police department and okayed two requests for oil projects in the city.

The action was taken at a special meeting Tuesday afternoon. Councilmen gave Assistant Police Chief James Cox a new title and raised his salary $25 per month.

Cox was named night chief, effective Sept. 15. Duties of Police Chief F. A. Fitzgerald were not altered.

Under the new organization plan, the council will keep Chief Fitzgerald on duty during the day shift, but will move Cox to the new night chief post so that an experienced officer will be in charge and on duty at night.

In the past, both Fitzgerald and Cox have worked the day shift, leaving less experienced officers on duty at night. While working the day shift, both officers were called out at night on many occasions when out-of-ordinary conditions arose.

Aside from giving Cox his new duties, the council said it is looking for a patrolman to replace W. O. Word, who resigned last week. Word took a job with D. W. Bawcom, local oil company consignee.

Oil well permits approved Tuesday by the council were for George Livemore, drilling block 70; and for W. J. Chesher, drilling block 80.

The Livemore well will be on Wicker Street between 1st and Reed. The Chesher well will be near the intersection of Wroe and 3rd.

Distillers Find Bourbon Barrels A Bottleneck

ROLL OUT THE BARREL: Bourbon whisky barrels, which cost $30 before use, sit on a Louisville distillers' dock awaiting sale for 25c apiece.

By DORMAN CORDELL, LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) - Bourbon whisky distillers get more headaches from whisky barrels than drinkers do from the contents.

Bourbon may be aged only in new charred white oak barrels. They cost about $30. After one use, the resale value is about 15 cents.

"If somebody could figure out how to salvage used whisky barrels he'd never have to work a gain," says one distillery executive.

But a man whose firm sells used barrels said, "I don't even like to mention the subject. Everytime anyone does, we get a million letters suggesting all sorts of crazy things to use a whiskey barrel for. None of them are ever any good."

The barrel buying firm sells mostly to pickle makers and foreign distillers and blended whiskey firms.

Some bourbon distillers don't even bother to distill the used barrels. "Mostly we knock the hoops off and burn them," says one official.

About two million barrels are used each year in the whisky industry. A barrel holds about 50 gallons of bourbon at first, but during the four or more years of aging required about 15 gallons are lost by evaporation and absorption.

Some enterprising persons from time to time have steamed the whisky from old barrels and drunk or sold it. The Internal Revenue Service frowns on the practice. Besides, the product isn't very good most of the time because of tannic acid from the wood or fusel oil and tars absorbed from the bourbon.

"The barrel represents about 50 per cent of the cost of producing whisky," said Joe Scholnick, public relations director at Brown-Forman Distillers.

"Actually it is one of the most important factors in producing good bourbon. We must use only the best white oak, and it's better than furniture oak."

Brown-Forman and several of her distilleries have created their own cooperage companies to make the barrels.

Distilleries in making blended whisky can use barrels five, six or seven times to store grain alcohol used in the blend.

The weight of whisky barrels is one thing that cuts down the possibility of reuse. A new barrel with inch-thick staves weighs from 80 to 85 pounds. After one use, it weighs about 100 pounds. To ship an empty barrel from Louisville to New York costs $7.

A suggestion that a way be found to age bourbon without using charred white oak barrels gets responses ranging from mild disgust to unconcealed outrage.

Says Julian P. Van Winkle Sr., president of Stitzel-Weller Distillers: "For years they (sciencists) have been saying they could produce whisky overnight and never use a charred barrel. It's a damned lie."

Van Winkle isn't looking for a new way to age bourbon. A sign in his distillery warns: "No scientists allowed in this distillery."

Distillers Find Bourbon Barrels A Bottleneck

ROLL OUT THE BARREL: Bourbon whisky barrels, which cost $30 before use, sit on a Louisville distillers' dock awaiting sale for 25c apiece.

By DORMAN CORDELL, LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) - Bourbon whisky distillers get more headaches from whisky barrels than drinkers do from the contents.

Bourbon may be aged only in new charred white oak barrels. They cost about $30. After one use, the resale value is about 15 cents.

"If somebody could figure out how to salvage used whisky barrels he'd never have to work a gain," says one distillery executive.

But a man whose firm sells used barrels said, "I don't even like to mention the subject. Everytime anyone does, we get a million letters suggesting all sorts of crazy things to use a whiskey barrel for. None of them are ever any good."

The barrel buying firm sells mostly to pickle makers and foreign distillers and blended whiskey firms.

Some bourbon distillers don't even bother to distill the used barrels. "Mostly we knock the hoops off and burn them," says one official.

About two million barrels are used each year in the whisky industry. A barrel holds about 50 gallons of bourbon at first, but during the four or more years of aging required about 15 gallons are lost by evaporation and absorption.

Some enterprising persons from time to time have steamed the whisky from old barrels and drunk or sold it. The Internal Revenue Service frowns on the practice. Besides, the product isn't very good most of the time because of tannic acid from the wood or fusel oil and tars absorbed from the bourbon.

"The barrel represents about 50 per cent of the cost of producing whisky," said Joe Scholnick, public relations director at Brown-Forman Distillers.

"Actually it is one of the most important factors in producing good bourbon. We must use only the best white oak, and it's better than furniture oak."

Brown-Forman and several of her distilleries have created their own cooperage companies to make the barrels.

Distilleries in making blended whisky can use barrels five, six or seven times to store grain alcohol used in the blend.

The weight of whisky barrels is one thing that cuts down the possibility of reuse. A new barrel with inch-thick staves weighs from 80 to 85 pounds. After one use, it weighs about 100 pounds. To ship an empty barrel from Louisville to New York costs $7.

A suggestion that a way be found to age bourbon without using charred white oak barrels gets responses ranging from mild disgust to unconcealed outrage.

Says Julian P. Van Winkle Sr., president of Stitzel-Weller Distillers: "For years they (sciencists) have been saying they could produce whisky overnight and never use a charred barrel. It's a damned lie."

Van Winkle isn't looking for a new way to age bourbon. A sign in his distillery warns: "No scientists allowed in this distillery."

Olton Takes On Floydada; Anton Goes To Whitharral

By JIMMIE HINE

Over at Olton Friday night, Coach Joe Turner's Mustangs will face one of the Panhandle's toughest AA schools — the Floydada Whirlwinds of District 3-AA.

Coach Preston Watson's charges are expected to be a strong district contender. The Whirlwinds opened their season last week with a smashing 20-0 victory over Abernathy.

Keep your eyes on HB Randoe Buchenau, center Phil Neimast, and guard Tommy Wilson of Olton. All three turned in commendable performances in the Mustang's 7-6 win over Petersburg Friday night.

The Whirlwinds have top material in Danny Shipley, Bill Gilliland and Don Vickers.

Whitharral vs. Anton
 The top area pigskin game of the week between a Class A and a Class B school will be unveiled at Whitharral tomorrow night. Coach Max Dickerson's Panthers of District 3-B entertain D.A. Smith's Anton Bulldogs of District 3-A.

The Panthers managed a 20-14 victory over Lorenzo in their season opener with Donny Polk scoring on a spectacular 65-yard TD run in the closing seconds.

Anton racked up Amherst 26-14 last week as Ronnie Biffle scored three touchdowns and added two points more via the PAT route. The passing duo with Jan Crews throwing and Biffle catching could prove to be the deciding factor in the game.

Springlake vs. Idalou

Springlake's Wolverines host Idalou's Wildcats of District 3-A this week. Springlake was impressive in its 12-12 deadlock with Portales Friday night. Halfback Hal Hudson's running and passing will probably deal Idalou some gridiron miseries. Hudson passed to Bill Starkey for a TD and helped set up Norman Clayton's touchdown.

Idalou dropped its season open-

 The Sudan Hornets of Class A take on the Double 'A' Mules of Muleshoe at Sudan Friday night. Both of these teams lost last week. Sudan dropped a one pointer to Morton 7-6, and Clovis ground out a 26-13 victory over the Mules.

Sudan's John Humphrey bears watching at the halfback post. Paul Galvan and Gary West add zip to Hank Brown's squad.

Muleshoe has a promising passer in the person of Jim Young and a fine runner in Lyndall Black.

Amherst vs. Hart
 The Bulldogs of Amherst travel to Hart Friday night to test the District 2-B Longhorns after losing their opener to Anton last week.

Coach Chastain's Bulldogs are little but are growing with determination and spirit everyday, and should take Hart. Amherst has a two good open-field runners — James Breshears and Ronnie Schroeder. Fullback Carl Enlow is called on for the plunges and us-

Spade vs. Nazareth
 Saturday marks the season opener for Coach Joe Giddens' Spade Longhorns. Coach Giddens will be making his debut as a head coach.

The six-man contest will be fast as Giddens will rely on the pass-attack with Donny McCall, Lee of David Jones and Wallace Pearson and Joe Hand providing Holly. Wingback Larry Lockwood some open-field fitness, also.

TOWN AND COUNTRY BY WENDELL TOOLEY

We get all kinds of letters here at the newspaper, many of them concern subscriptions to the paper, many are letters of news to print... many are humorous. I noticed this letter in Editor and Publisher, which an area editor received. "Dear Mr. Dennison, For years I've been sending in the news of our Missionary society meetings and you're always getting them balled up. And when you try to correct your errors, you sometimes get them balled up. In fact you've done such a poor job of printing our Missionary society news, from now on when I send it in, just don't print it."

Our area farmers are beginning to talk about the shortage of cotton picking labor... many are discussing the possibilities of using defoliation and machine pullers... and the main thing that controls either method of harvest is the big question, "HOW SOON WILL THE FIRST KILLING FREEZE HOLD OFF." Needless to say, we'd all like to see it hold off until late November, but we can only hope for the average which is November the seventh.

We don't want one of those early ones like the Oct. 7th one in 1952. It's interesting to note that from 1940 until 1951 the first killing freeze was from October 31 to as late as November 22nd. Then in 1952 we hit a series of six down to October 31 to as late as November 22nd. Then in 1952 we hit a series of six down to October 31 to as late as November 22nd. Then in 1952 we hit a series of six down to October 31 to as late as November 22nd.

Rex Love, winner of the first Lamb County bale of cotton has been out making the rounds of Littlefield businessmen and first bale grower Don Foley will get around $600 for that first bale. We hope that the town will be better organized to offer some kind of premium for the first bale next year.

A premium for the first bale is a custom that has come to the South Plains of Texas from the deep deep south. Some area towns have gotten away from giving a premium for the first bale with the idea that the farmer who produces the most cotton per acre should receive the premium. Many first bales are burned up dry land cotton.

Until two years ago Littlefield merchants gave a premium for the first bale, then after one or two first bales came from out of the trade area, it was decided to stop giving premiums for the first bale.

Because our economy is based so strongly upon cotton I think the agricultural committee of the chamber of commerce should be organized with some kind of premium for the first bale or for the farmer who produces the most bales per acre next year. We can't do anything about it this year. Rex has done a nice job of getting out and collecting a premium, but it's not too early to plan ahead to next year's cotton crop... and boy, cotton's gonna be high next year cause it's election year!

Looks like grain sorghum is going to sell for just a little higher than the government price of $1.31. The market price in this area now is from $1.40 to $1.45. Many farmers will be selling for that price... other farmers who have storage and financing will hold it over and see what it's worth early next year. A lot of our irrigation farmers have let the sorghum crop suffer while they endeavored to keep the cotton from hurting for water... and that's smart... certainly the cotton will be worth a lot more than the sorghum.

Just let the steel strikers continue their cotton picking strike! It's a good time for the aluminum field, Jim Claunch is opening his companies to make a good inroad to production of items that "used to be" made of steel.

Look what the steel strikes do to our farmers. We've always had many good grocery buys in to-day's paper.

Shortest day of the year is in Fort Greely, Alaska, where the sun appears for only two hours out of 24 hours. This happens only during January and February. By the 21st of March the sun shines 12 hours a day.

ey cause more inflation... since 1940, inflation has cut our dollar in half. Its vicious effect has been felt by everyone from steeplejack to farmer. No one knows better than the latter how prices have risen on tractors, trucks, cotton strippers and all the other farm essentials.

Once again Mr. McDonald is attempting to force an inflationary wage increase on the steel companies. If he succeeds, the companies will be forced to raise prices to meet the increased costs. If the settlement is non-inflationary, steel prices will hold firm for the rest of this year, say two of our leading steel companies.

But even if there were little or no increases in steel prices an inflationary wage boost could mean higher living costs for everyone. This is because of the so-called "ripple" effect. For example, back in 1957 when steel prices were raised to meet higher employment costs the steel in a $2.00 farm tractor rose only $5.23. The manufacturer's cost to produce the tractor was $972. When the company gave its employees a five percent wage boost it raised the production cost $86.00, or almost ten times the increase in the price of the steel going into the tractor.

The steel companies are today asking the unions to eliminate waste and provide better and more efficient production methods. The resulting gain in economic progress could then be shared by all... the steelworker, the company and the consumer. To date, Mr. McDonald has refused to consider this sensible solution.

Well, it does me good to harp on the steel strike... the eastern writers love to take on over the farmer's pull on government funds... while they overlook the steel boys' strike that will affect the entire nation.

See the Sports Arena has old Cowboy Carlson back Saturday night... Ford Motor is starting one of its little economy cars (Falcon) on the road to Littlefield, Jim Claunch is opening his companies to make a good inroad to production of items that "used to be" made of steel.

Look what the steel strikes do to our farmers. We've always had many good grocery buys in to-day's paper.

Diligently Pray For The Work of Your Church

This Series is Sponsored By the Business Firms and Individuals Listed On This Page. These Firms Along With the Ministers of Littlefield Hope That Each Weekly Message Will Be An Inspiration To Everyone.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Psalms	34	1-4
Monday	John	14	1-3
Tuesday	Habakkuk	3	18-19
Wednesday	Luke	10	25-27
Thursday	Matthew	13	18-23
Friday	II Thessalonians	1	3
Saturday	Isaiah	58	1-2

Through All Of Life ...

Perhaps you see no significance to the hourglass superimposed on the Bible. But to the believer, it means that all of life is sustained by God's promises. Every day, every hour, He gives strength and help to His followers. The light of His Word shines steadily through the passing of time. The more you read, the deeper will be your understanding, the greater will be your joy. By entering wholeheartedly into the work of the Church, by giving it your support, you increase the value of your own life, and help others to see the light shining through each day's experience.

Throughout life's entire span, the Church will help us, the Bible will speak to us of God. Does the picture mean that to you? It will, if you look at it through believing eyes.

Harlin Injured In Lubbock Mishap

Troy Harlin, 27, Littlefield, was released from Methodist Hospital, Lubbock, Sunday after receiving treatment for injuries suffered in a traffic mishap late Saturday in Lubbock. Harlin's car struck a parked vehicle about 11:15 p.m. Saturday, officers said.

THE FORD FALCON, first of America's new-size cars, represents a "breakthrough" in automotive design that may materially alter the future of the automobile industry. The Falcon Fordor shown here is more than two feet shorter and three-quarters of a ton lighter than a standard 1959 Ford.

The Falcon, Ford's New Small Car, Coming To Hall Motor Co. Oct. 8

Ford Division of Ford Motor Company released first official photographs of the Falcon this week and said it expects to build 100,000 of the new economy cars by the end of 1959. The Falcon will be shown in Littlefield by Hall Motor Co., beginning Oct. 8. James O. Wright, company vice president and Ford Division general manager, said assembly of Falcons already is under way at the division's Lorain, O., assembly plant, and will start shortly at plants near Kansas City, Mo., and San Jose, Calif. Falcon engines are being tested at Ford's Dearborn, Mich., engine test center. Wright said the keynote of the Falcon will be economy of operation and maintenance. "For example," he said, "the Falcon will have gasoline economy 50 per cent better than the largest of the so-called 'compact' cars of American manufacture, and 35 per cent better than the smallest domestic car made by the same producer. Compared with the latter, the Falcon has 35 per cent more luggage space, 70 per cent more windshield area, and a full foot more of rear seat width. Wright said that in the area of replacement parts a Falcon fender will cost 50 per cent less, a windshield 40 per cent less and a muffler 30 per cent less. With regard to air-cooled vs. water-cooled engines, Wright said the Falcon's water-cooled, front-mounted engine will require only $1.80 worth of anti-freeze in the winter—50 per cent less than a full-sized car. Wright said the Falcon will be introduced publicly Oct. 8 at 7,000 Ford Division dealerships across the country. "Based on the amount of public interest in the Falcon already being reported by our dealers," he said, "we are expecting our busiest introductory period in years." Wright said the Falcon combines economy of operation and smaller exterior dimensions with ruggedness, "big-car" roadability and passenger space comparable to that of standard cars. "Its wheelbase is 8 1/2 inches shorter and its over-all length 27 inches shorter than a 1959 Ford Fairlane, yet it is a full six-passenger car with interior roominess approximating that of standard models," he said. "For example, front leg-room in the Falcon is only one-tenth of an inch less than in a 1959 Ford and front head-room is actually seven-tenths of an inch greater. Rear-seat passenger space also compares favorably." He emphasized that the Falcon is "all new from the ground up." None of its parts will be interchangeable with those of standard Ford models. The Falcon, which features unitized construction to combine maximum strength and rigidity with minimum weight for this type of vehicle, will be offered in two-door and four-door models. Optional equipment will include automatic transmission, radio, heater, safety padding, seat belts, tinted glass, and interior and exterior deluxe trim. Falcon styling is simple and functional, with decorative trim and chrome at a minimum. An

A Final Demonstration Climaxing Ford's 3 Years and 3 Million Miles of Research and Development on the New Ford Falcon... EXPERIENCE RUN, U.S.A.

TODAY...10 P.M. THE NEW-SIZE FORD STARTS ON ITS WAY TO YOU!

The Falcon, the New-Size Ford, already is the most thoroughly tested and proven new car in history. Today this new Ford Falcon starts EXPERIENCE RUN, U.S.A., over every mile of numbered U.S. highway

This is not a test run in the ordinary sense of the word. For in its 3 years of development and over 3 million miles of proving, the Falcon has already passed and repassed every kind of test that could be devised.

It's been dust-tested, heat-tested, and endurance-tested on the test track at Kingman, Arizona. Wind-tested and rain-tested in the 300 mph wind tunnel at the University of Maryland. Shock-tested, curve-tested, brake-tested, noise-tested, paint-tested, stability-tested, service-tested... everything tested on Ford's own proving grounds. The Falcon has already proved to engineers that it takes anything they can dish out.

Now, Experience Run, U.S.A. will show you what the Falcon can do over your kind of roads.

How many miles to the gallon? Records will be kept of every drop of gas used. Better gas mileage? The Falcon will average up to 30 miles per gallon!

On October 8, the New-size Ford will be at your Ford Dealer's... for you to experience. See your Ford Dealer today for more information on the Ford Falcon.

... does your water heater GROWL AT YOU?

Old water heaters often get so ornery they do growl at you — and, in the middle of the night, that can shake you up a little. If you have a rumbler at your house, replace it now with a rapid recovery electric water heater — the hottest thing inside and cool as can be outside. Safe, too, with insulation all around and the elements inside. Put it anywhere at all — it has no vents because it has no fumes. No growls nor rumbles, either.

Ball Time Again

Friday night, Littlefield's Wildcat footballers to the gridiron for the resumption of that annual game . . . football season.

And junior will get that glaze in their eyes when they see a TV set . . . for they'll be thinking Saturday game. Mom will resign herself to that there just ain't nothin' that can be done football time also means a time to review personal sportsmanship code. If you're planning to watch a game in person, especially the variety, remember that they're just kids who are watching. They can make mistakes, and just playing a game with the outcome not important as how they play.

Littlefield is probably going to have another win this year. It might develop into a real contest of the district championship.

It doesn't—don't get hot under the collar—they're just kids—not professionals.

If you are watching a high school game try to do that sportsmanship is more important than this theory of "victory at any cost" is for victory is important, we agree, but only when it is earned by hard play and true sportsmanship who can keep his head when the going gets . . . instead of blowing his top and getting . . . is more valuable to any team.

Who can keep his head when the going gets is more valuable to the team than the other second variety should stay at home for they have no part at a high school athletic it over.

Keels Crime

National Review: "In the rest of the world crime, big city crime is mounting rapidly. The Commissioner of Police, Sir Joseph Simpson, says that in 1958 there were 151,795 'indictable' crimes, more than the preceding year, and many as in 1954. The sharpest increase was in the 14-20 age group. (There was no increase in the 21-30 age group.) Among the causes of crime are: the new racial tensions; of police to traffic duties; excessive leniency in the treatment of juvenile delinquents."

As this country is concerned, the last cause is the big one. That is the opinion of J. Edgar Hoover and other law enforcement authorities. Hoover says that the country is seeking to blame crime on anything but the juveniles themselves. If not most, of the states newspapers are adding to print the names of juvenile criminals, putting them from the kind of publicity that make other juveniles think twice before performing criminal acts.

Self defense, should work on the principle that crime is crime, no matter what the age of the criminal.

And Opinion

ANTON, N. C., ENTERPRISE: "Now, women in the responsible financial position of trust in the penny-pinching housewife to the woman of a bank, they are recognized for their good sense. And the men don't seem to mind anything. Members of the fair sex have taken over the reins of trust."

All part of the struggle of woman to gain an equal share with her counter-part in society."

ANTON, N. J., TIMES-BULLETIN: "Unfortunately we still have too many youngsters who are neglected . . . It seems incredible to me that a parent does not take that interest in a child, 'asserted' states Surgeon General Leroy Burney in urging parents to have their children inoculated with the Salk vaccine."

Added that results of the Salk vaccine have been 'dramatic and miraculous'—protecting about 90 percent of those vaccinated against paralytic polio.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights
 by Vern Sanford
 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

By VERN SANFORD
 Texas Press Association
 AUSTIN, Tex. — People who have been writing Gov. Price Daniel in the past few weeks say "no more taxes, please."
 In mid-August the governor announced he would call a special session to raise money for higher teacher pay only if the people demanded it. He said he also wanted to find out how legislators felt after they had had a chance to be home a while and talk with the folks in their districts.
 In the weeks that have transpired, there has been a heavy volume of mail running strongly against the special session idea. Lawmakers also are taking a dim view of being called for a fifth round of money hunting.
 Whether this means that proposals for a teacher pay session are out remains to be seen. It could mean only that the teachers, their families, friends and other school-minded people have been too busy with "back to school" work to get their letters off to the governor.
 On the other hand, it could mean that the people are getting tired of taxes, and spiraling wage scales.
PINCH ALREADY FELT — Perhaps the reason many Texans weren't eager to have another tax session was that they were beginning to feel the bite of new taxes already passed this year.

 State Treasurer Jesse James' report shows that many stocked up on cigarettes and liquor during August, before higher taxes on these items became effective in September.
 Sale of liquor and cigarette tax stamps soared to $5,227,842 in August. This is $1,698,496 higher than sales for August, 1958.
 No statistics are available for the pre-tax selling of items which got hit for the first time. But it is indicated that merchants hoped buyers would clear their stores during August of such items as air conditioners in order to avoid the 3 per cent sales tax.
GOVERNOR DEFENDS VETO — Governor Daniel's office has suggested that the State Hospital Board tap its $1,200,000 emergency fund to eliminate any fire hazard to the 800 oldsters housed in the Confederate Home in Austin.
 Governor Daniel vetoed a legislative appropriation to build new quarters for these patients. His action brought some reactions of surprise and criticism. State Hospital system's safety officer was quoted as labeling the 50-year-old frame buildings as "definite fire hazards."

A spokesman for the governor reported that the appropriation the governor scratched would not have emptied the Confederate Home. He said it would have provided quarters for only about 300.
 He suggested the State Hospital Board use its emergency funds to re-double safety precautions for the old folks.
LONG TIME, NO PAY — Legislative employees will have to wait until Nov. 4 to get their next pay check.
 In its last special session the Legislature approved a $330,000 fund transfer for these between-sessions expenses by voice vote. But all bills not passed by a two-thirds record vote cannot take effect until 90 days after the session ends. Hence, the November date for this action.
 Legislature also appropriated $1,000,000 for legislative expenses, but this was vetoed by the governor. He said he felt they could get along on the $330,000.
 Arrangements were being made for some 20 House and Senate employees, who've missed two pay days now, to get low interest loans from loan companies.
ATTENTION, ALL BOAT OWNERS — State Highway Department has announced that registration and licensing of boats under the new water safety act will begin next month.
 Boat owners will have until March 1, 1960, to get their certificates and identification numbers.

 Forms now are being printed and will be distributed to boat dealers, county offices, Highway Department Offices and other public offices.
 Cost of the licenses will vary with the size of the craft. Here is the scale: Boats under 16 feet in length, $1; 16 to 26 feet, $5; 26 to 40 feet, $10; 40 feet or more, $12.50.
 Boats, regardless of length, if equipped with a 30 hp motor or less, will be exempt from the tax as well as the numbering provision of the law.
 The Highway Department will deal only with the registration phase of the new law and not with safety enforcement.
SENATE INVESTIGATORS — Sen. Wardlow Lane of Center has been appointed chairman of the Senate General Investigating Committee.
 Others named to the committee by Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey are Sens. A. M. Alkin Jr. of Paris (reappointed), Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo, Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi and R. A. Weinert of Seguin.
 This committee succeeds a panel headed by Sen. Charles Herring of Austin which selected remains of material on the ICT Insurance Company, the state insurance liquidation division and tax collecting procedures in the state controller's office.

COST OF CITIZENRY — In the past ten years Texas prison population has rocketed from 5,000 to 11,000.
 Some might wonder if the state is reverting to the lawless ways of the Old West. Not so, according to O. B. Ellis, general manager of the Department of Corrections. Seemingly, it's "progress"—or at least a parting with old ways—that's causing the trouble.
 In citing what he feels are the reasons more Texans are getting behind bars, Ellis put "urban movement" at the top of the list. "A good old country boy moves to the city," Ellis explained, "has a 40-hour work week and doesn't know how to use his time."

 Ellis also blamed no jobs for youngsters and misplaced values — "too much emphasis on the big home, the big auto."

Sandhills Philosopher

Why Chinese Farmers Fail To Meet Production Goals

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm writes about Chinese farming this week. At least, we think that's what he's writing about.

Dear editor:
 Everybody is supposed to be polite to Mr. Khrushchev on his visit to the United States, even if he is a Russian Communist dictator, but nobody has said we had to be polite to the Chinese Communists, and I was reading an article last night that made me laugh at how dumb the Chinese Communists are.
 As I understand it, a few years ago the Communist bosses over there decided they were going to show the Chinese farmers how to farm, so they reorganized the whole business. What they did was throw all the farmers in "communes," this is, herd farmers in groups of around 5,000 into one place, build barracks for them, and run farming like it was a military operation.

What the Chinese bureaucrats failed to realize is that you can't throw people together in close quarters with any success. Any big city proves that.

Also, they must have been working on the theory that a farmer lives in the country because he can't afford to live in town. They are wrong. Actually, these days, very few people can afford to live in either place, town or country, but the way I see it, you can fail to make ends meet a lot more privately in the country.

I don't know about those Chinese farmers, other than that the news has leaked out they aren't happy about being herded up in barracks and agricultural production is far short of the goals the bosses set up, but the reason I live out here on this Johnson grass farm instead of in a big city is not because I couldn't swing city life if I tried. It's not because there's not room enough there for me. There's not room enough for the people already there, but that has no bearing on it. Cities keep on getting bigger anyway.

The Chinese Communists have another think coming if they believe they can improve agriculture by putting farmers in towns. I've seen lots of farmers move to town, but it didn't help their farming ability. Most of them wound up becoming barbers or bankers or grocery clerks or merchants or bookkeepers or they ran for office. Of course I know some city people own farms, but generally speaking they're not causing the agricultural surplus.

Yours faithfully,
 J. A.

It is conceded that Congress never has specifically granted the Secretary of Labor authority to set minimum wages for farm workers. But, it is argued by those backing the order, neither has it ever said that he cannot issue such an order. So, it is contended, issuance of the order would not be a violation of any law.

This, we think, is not valid reasoning. The order, if put into effect and not reversed, could become a precedent that would open the way for other agencies to, in effect, make laws by interpretation.

A Legal Ruling Months ago Secretary Mitchell, an able and conscientious administrator, asked Attorney General William P. Rogers for an official ruling on whether he had the authority to issue the proposed order. After long study Mr. Rogers ruled (1) that the authority was "implied" in the 30-year old Wagner-Peyser Act which established the U.S. Employment Service in the Labor Department, and (2) that there is nothing in any law specifically prohibiting him from issuing such an order. The order, if made effective, would delegate to the U.S. Employment Service authority to require that farm employers who obtain out-of-state workers through USES pay at least the prevailing wage in their area. The farm employer also would have to agree to meet housing standards acceptable to the USES, and to pay transportation of the workers from their home and return when the USES determines that to be a "common practice."

The question isn't whether these regulations are fair and reasonable, but rather the fundamental issue of the authority of an administrative agency to make rules and regulations not clearly authorized by Congress. This seems to us to be a serious threat to our constitutional division of authority between the legislative and administrative branches of government.

THIS WEEK In Washington

With CLINTON DAVIDSON MATTER OF PRINCIPLE The basic philosophy underlying our democratic system of a division of responsibility between the legislative, judicial and administrative branches of government is being tested in Washington this week.

The public has been invited to hear and participate in debate over whether an administrative agency should issue an order having the effect of law without the specifically stated consent of Congress.

Secretary of Labor James Mitchell, will decide, on the basis of the arguments whether to make permanent a tentative order that would delegate to his subordinates the power to establish minimum wages and working conditions for more than one million hired farm workers.

The question, however, is much deeper and broader than that of applying minimum wages to farm workers. It involves the whole concept of the function of an administrative agency, of which this is a part.

Rev. Edwin Hall, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Muleshoe, is holding a revival in the Amherst Methodist Church. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Hall of this community.
