

Unbeaten Wildcats To Meet Undefeated Demons In Gridiron Tilt At Dumas

With Dahart, Andrews, and Slaton strung on their three-game winning streak, the Littlefield Wildcats will be off next Friday to face the Dumas Demons on their home field. Both teams enter the game unbeaten this season.

The Wildcats may find a couple of handicaps tucked in with their equipment for the journey to Dumas. A back injury, sustained by Cam Jordan in practice Monday will probably prevent any participation of the 177-pound tackle in the Dumas game although he was released from Payne-Shotwell Thursday. Jordan, tri-captain of the team, will be replaced by John Terry in the Wildcat starting lineup.

Coach Fikes Wednesday listed M. C. Northam's participation as "questionable." Northam, tailback, has not recovered fully from a foot injury received in the second quarter of the Andrews game.

Coming off the injured list and into the tailback position for the tilt with the Demons is Jackie Beckner who started working out in equipment for the first time last week since a back injury received in August in a fall from a horse.

In gridiron circles, the orange and black Demons from Dumas have a reputation for living up to their name. And not only a reputation. They've got the scores to back them up.

In their opening game of the season, the Dumas Demons trounced the Price College eleven at Amarillo, 51 to 13. In a September 19 meeting with Tulsa, the Demons swept to a 33-6 victory over their opponents. Last week saw the Demons across the mid-field stripe from the Shamrock eleven whom they flattened with a 26-0 romp around the Shamrock goal posts.

Chief offensive threat of the Demons is fullback Joe Pat Mowery, 145-pound all-regional back. In the game with Price College, Mowery scored three touchdowns and rolled up 275 rushing yards.

From tackle to tackle the Dumas line is large, averaging 189 pounds overall; however, the Demons have a light backfield, averaging 148 pounds.

Probable starting line-up for the Demons October 16 is as follows:

1300 Cotton Workers Needed As County's Bale Total Reaches 2,500

TAXES TOTALING $95,075 ARE IN SIGHT FOR 1952

Approves 3,000 Feet of Sewer Line Extension

An estimated two thousand five hundred bales of cotton were ginned at Lamb County gins by the first of this week, according to figures secured by J. D. Jordan, manager of the local Texas Employment Office.

In the second week of the cotton pulling and picking season, work in the fields, gins, and employment office has been greatly accelerated. Six hundred additional cotton pickers were placed at farmers' disposal in comparison with the 450 previously placed by the office. The fields in Lamb county, however, need 1300 more hands to do the work efficiently.

To meet the cotton farmers' demand several extra employment workers have been placed on the job to locate and pick up workers. James Preston, assistant to Mr. Jordan in the local office, has set

Construction to Start Next Week On New Home For Littlefield Piggly-Wiggly

Construction will start early next week on the new building for the Piggly-Wiggly Grocery and Market at East 8th Street and Farwell Avenue, according to Winfred Stout, Manager of the Littlefield store.

The building will be erected by L. C. Hewitt for Davis & Humphries of Lubbock, owners of the Piggly-Wiggly on the South Plains.

Timmore Construction Company, Lubbock, are the contractors for the new building, which will be ultra-modern in design and semi-fire-proof.

Cost of the project will be in excess of $100,000. The new building will be 65x140 ft. and will be set back on the property to provide ample parking space for about 150 cars.

The real estate was purchased from Pat Boone, Mrs. Neal A. Douglass and Homer Sewell. The property extends 200 feet along Eighth Street and a frontage of 50 feet at 7th and Farwell; the latter piece to be used exclusively for parking.

The entire project, in addition to the 200 ft. on Eighth Street, will

December 1 Deadline For Reporting Farm Practices For 1953

Instructions have been issued for the Leader for publication benefit of the farmers necessary that Owners REPAIRING K FARR and Operators get together and work out a plan concerning the most needed Practices for their farm so that they may be ready to assist the Community Commit-tee when he makes his farm-visit. The Community Commit-tees will not have sufficient time to make more than one trip to your farm concerning your MOST NEEDED PRACTICES for 1953. We realize that it is very difficult to determine six months or a year ahead just what practices you may wish to carry out on account of weather conditions, but you are urged to give this your most consideration so that it will not work such a hardship on your community committeeman. December 1, 1952 is the DEAD-LINE date, and if everyone waits until the last minute there will be some that will be left out in the cold. According to information, we have received, the P.M.A. Offices in Amherst will not be able to take your requests for Practices for the 1953 Program. Federal Crop Insurance We would like to again remind all producers having Federal Crop Insurance, that if you have a loss, to report the loss immediately. If your cotton fails to produce what you are insured to make, this loss must be reported in writing within 15 days after completion of harvest, and in no case later than December 31, 1952. The cotton stalks MUST NOT BE destroyed until an adjuster has made an inspection of the Land and released the land. If you have more than one farm, and they constitute more than one unit, you must keep production records separately. If you think you have a loss after harvest, come by the County PMA Office and a clerk will assist you in determining if a loss has been incurred. Cotton Loans Price support for middling 15/16 inch cotton of the 1952 crop in Lamb County will be $1.71 cents per pound.

Price support rates vary according to location, but are based on an average rate of 30.51 cents per pound for Middling 7/8 inch upland cotton, and 31.98 cents per pound for Middling 15/16 inch cotton. Cotton prices will be supported by means of loans and purchase agreements. Loans will be made on cotton represented by warehouse receipts issued by warehouses approved by the Commodity Credit Corporation. Loan forms are available through approved cotton warehouses, approved lending agencies, and PMA County Committees. Purchase agreements, whereby COC agrees to buy—toward the end of the marketing year—a stated amount of cotton at the price support rate, may be obtained only through PMA County Committees. Loans will be made through lending agencies, principally banks, approved by CCC, or directly by the Corporation through County Committees. Funds Available For Deep Plowing A limited amount of funds are available for carrying out the deep plowing practice on sandy soils to prevent wind erosion and also for the seeding or improving pastures, for the 1952 year. If you are inter-ested in carrying out either of the above practices come by the PMA Office in Amherst and we will be glad to discuss these practices with you. October 15, 1952 has been set as the final date for the seeding of adapted grasses in Lamb County for the 1952 ACP Program year.

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Joyce Logan and Ivan E. Kirk

Miss Joyce Logan, daughter of Mrs. Gean Logan of Portland, Ore. became the bride of Ivan Eugene Kirk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Kirk, formerly of Littlefield, but now of Portland, Ore. in a double ring ceremony read at 7:30 p.m. Friday, September 12, at the First Methodist Church, at Vancouver, Washington.

The groom's parents formerly operated the Dandy-ee Drive-Inn here previous to moving to Portland last year.

The bride wore a white net and satin ballerina length dress and finger tip veil, with a red rosebud corsage.

Miss Jann Smith of Portland served as bridesmaid. She wore an orchid net and velvet ballerina length dress, and a yellow rosebud corsage.

Dick English of Portland served as best man.

The happy couple honeymooned at Seaside Resort at the Beach.

The bride is a senior at Lincoln High School in Portland and will continue her studies.

The groom is employed by Olds & King Department Store in Portland.

Linda Clayton Honored At Birthday Party

Linda Clayton of Amherst was honored on her fifth birthday Tuesday of last week. A party was given in her honor by her grandmother, Mrs. Horace Woodward.

Games were played on the lawn of the Woodward home. Pictures were taken and the little girl received many nice gifts.

Refreshments of cake with "Happy Birthday Linda" lettered in pink, and ice cream were served from a table which was centered with an old fashioned cookie jar with a bird on it carrying a sign "Happy Birthday."

Those attending were Judy Tollett, Susie Cargile, Rickey Humphreys, Elaine and Larry Don Black, Guy Douglas and Jimmy Dwight Hufstler, Steve Graham of Amherst and Ronny Cathy and Rexann Clayton of Littlefield.

Miss Virginia Whitaker and Don Chaffin Wed In Evening Ceremony

Miss Virginia Whitaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Whitaker, 1220 Monticello street, became the bride of Don Chaffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Chaffin of Sudan in a beautiful evening ceremony at 8 o'clock in the Church of Christ at Sudan, Sunday.

Bro. Norman Warren of the Bula Church of Christ read the double ring ceremony.

The church was decorated with lighted tapers and arrangements of daisies and roses.

Before the ceremony, Don Williams of Olton sang "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life." "Because," "I Love You Truly."

The bride wore a rose suit with navy accessories. Her bridal bouquet was an arrangement of roses on a white Bible. She carried a handkerchief that had been carried by her mother on her wedding day.

Betty Woody of Roswell, N.M., the maid of honor, wore a gray suit with black accessories and a corsage of roses.

Set. Raymond Chaffin, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Calvin Wiseman, Jr., and Billy Wiseman, both of Sudan.

The couple left immediately on a wedding trip to Santa Fe, N.M. Since Wednesday, they have been at home at 819 Avenue 8 in Lubbock where the groom is attending Draughons Business College.

The bride was graduated from Littlefield High School and attended Eastern New Mexico University. The groom is a graduate of the high school at Sudan.

The bride's parents have resided in Littlefield since 1928. The groom's parents have lived in Sudan for the last 12 years.

Amherst P-TA Stage Night Supper Meeting

The Amherst P-TA held their initial meeting of the year Thursday night.

Supper was served in connection with the Lion's Club meal.

Supt. W. D. Kay welcomed the members and guests. Mrs. David Harmon was program chairman for the meeting. Dianne Davis, Melva Dean Edwards and Oveta Pugh, a girls trio, furnished the music and were accompanied by music instructor Mal Wynne.

Mrs. Darris L. Egger spoke on the subject, "Faith in our School."

Mrs. Madge Beason's room won the award for having the most parents present. The P-TA entered a float in the county fair. The group voted to furnish funds for three underprivileged children at the luncheon, as one of their projects for the year. They also voted to present a gift to Mrs. A. T. Hedgpath, supervisor, for serving delicious meals. Mrs. John Humphreys served as the moose chairman.

The parents visited the rooms of their children and were shown schedules and plans for the year work.

REBEKAH'S CONDUCT BUSINESS

A small attendance at the regular Rebekah business meeting Monday night heard a report from Mrs. Pete Yohner and others who had attended the annual celebration of the lodge at Muleshoe last week.

used where the hair is thickest—perhaps at the nape of the neck—companion pieces used at the sides.

Long slim barrettes of twisted golden wire or big flat golden bows are popular with older girls who wear their hair long in back. Little pony-tails keep hair back prettily for the younger set. These little rings of metal or plastic grip the hair securely without damaging it. Fancy examples have gold or rhinestone tipped wings.

Coronet bands are popular this year, particularly for formal dances. These are dazzling bands which slip across the crown. Single bands can double as necklaces and elaborately worked pieces can enhance any campus queen. Tiaras or tiny crowns with delicately colored stones of pink, pale blue, chartreuse or topaz are flattering to party belles.

Brighten Up Your School

If you want to be a little gem, bring some joy to your classroom with flowers or greens. Philodendron, African violets, Coleus and any number of interesting plants can perk up the school room or even your room at home. Take cuttings from original plants and you will have new ones in a matter of months.

You can enjoy a touch of spring by forcing crocus, daffodils or tulips. Hyacinths come in lovely shades of yellow, blue, pink, white and red and their fragrance will permeate every cranny of your schoolroom or den.

Dutch hyacinth, tulip or daffodil bulbs can be bought from any local or mail-order garden dealer and many supermarkets.

Open the bags of hyacinth bulbs and leave them in a cool (50 degrees) dry, dark place until December 1. Special hyacinth glasses can be filled with cool water, and a bulb placed in it so that just the root base touches the water. A little charcoal helps sweeten it.

The glass is placed in a cool, dark closet or cellar (about 50 degrees) and left until the top growth is about four inches above the bulb. This takes about two months. Then place the glass in a window in a warm room, adding water if necessary, but not changing it.

You can force tulips, daffodils and crocus to flourish from early February until Easter if given enough light and moisture. Hyacinths may be potted any time up to December; tulips, daffodils and crocus should go in during October and November. Set tulip and daffodil bulbs one-half inch apart with the tips of the bulbs protruding above the surface. Crocus bulbs should be completely covered. About one-quarter of the upper part of the hyacinth bulb should be exposed.

Pots should be watered thoroughly after planting the bulbs and stored in a cold (40 degrees) dark place. It takes from eight to ten weeks for roots to develop. The flower buds will be out of the necks of the bulbs then, and can be brought into the house. Keep the pots in partial light at a temperature of 60 to 65 degrees for the first week, then place them in a window that gets lots of sun. Water them as needed to keep the soil from drying.

Program At WSCS Meeting Discusses The Current 'Status Of Women'

The Womens Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church met at 9:30 Monday in the church parlor. The following were present: Mrs. S. H. Bluhm, Mrs. Dick Carl, Mrs. W. C. Thaxton, Mrs. John Woods, Mrs. Calvin Young, Mrs. M. P. Reid, Mrs. Joel Thomson, Mrs. Leonard McNeese, Mrs. H. W. Johnson, Mrs. Ben Joplin, Mrs. Carl Arnold, Mrs. Van Clark, Mrs. Belle Dow, Mrs. Jack Wingo, Mrs. Ethel Giddens, Mrs. L. M. Fowler, Mrs. Harry Vanderpool, Mrs. Dysart, Mrs. Mattie Blewitt, Mrs. W. P. Kirk, Mrs. I. T. Shotwell Jr., Mrs. W. C. Cannon, Rev. Harry Vanderpool, and Mrs. Roy Wade.

Mrs. W. P. Kirk gave the devotional reading from second Cor. 5: 17-21 verses. She stressed the importance of the theme for the year "Ambassadors for God."

The program was led by Mrs. W. C. Cannon in the office of "Status of Women"—She stated that a card life was being made this year in which will appear every name of all Methodist Women, stating their abilities and talents.

Rev. Harry Vanderpool gave a very inspirational talk on "Our Obligation as Christian Citizens," stating that everything one possesses should be used for the good of others; and that women should not only use their talents for Christian work but should observe their right to vote.

It was announced that there would be a Conference Wide Day at Floydada Methodist Church on Wed., Oct. 1, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. The meeting closed with a prayer.

"Open Door" Theme Emphasized At Presbyterian Woman's Meeting

Prayer Retreat was conducted at the Presbyterian Church Monday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. with about 20 women present.

The theme for the afternoon's program "The Open Door" was presented by Mrs. Lloyd Neeley, spiritual life secretary, who presided.

Mrs. Henry Haupt gave a devotional on the subject, "Behind Closed Doors." A duet was sung by Mrs. Fred Faust and Mrs. Mackey Greef. At the organ was Mrs. Ira Woods.

Several short talks were given including those by Mrs. J. B. McShan and Mrs. Fred Faust. Mrs. Hector McKay talked on "Hinges," "Doorstops" was the topic of Rev. Haupt's address.

Upon arrival at the meeting, members were presented with attractive programs, designed and executed by Faith Helen Faust. Programs, cut in the shape of a Gothic church door, opened up to disclose the theme and order of the meeting.

Mrs. E. A. Bills closed the meeting with the benediction.

PRINTING which give you the news of a modern world in your newspaper has made great advances in the 500 years since

Johann Gutenberg first produced a Bible from movable type. But over in Mainz, Germany, where Gutenberg did his work is a museum where printing is still done by his methods. These pictures show some of the ancient processes performed by men in 15th Century costumes.

Dunbar Tigers Rip Through Slaton Wolverines For Easy 57 to 12 Win

Following a 20-0 defeat from Lamesa last week in their stride, the Dunbar Tigers went on to trample the Slaton Wolverines 57-12 Tuesday night in the second game since the organization of the Dunbar football team. Coach John R. Singleton commented that the boys were "more sure of themselves" and appeared in much better form since their first game defeat.

At the half, Dunbar was 24 points out in front of the scoreless Wolverines. In the third quarter Slaton managed to add two touchdowns on passes to the top-sided score.

The Tigers main offensive powerhouse was M. D. Wormley who engineered six of the eight Dunbar touchdowns. Halfback Washington and Quarterback Brockington accounted for the other two TD's. Dunbar points were racked up on running plays. The seven out of eight conversions are credited as follows: Washington, 3; Wormley, 1; Davis, 2; and Brockington, 1.

The two final points were gained on a safety made by Center Holmes. In high spirits, the Dunbar Tig-gers will journey over to meet Plainview on their own field next Tuesday.

Mrs. W. P. Kirk spent the weekend in Levelland, visiting her son, Walter B. Kirk and family, who formerly lived in Littlefield.

Mrs. N. A. Douglas and daughter, Erna, returned to the city Sunday from a visit with relatives in San Angelo.

Grand Opening Introduces New Western Auto

Over 2,000 people called at the grand opening of the home owned Western Auto store in the Peyton Reese building next to Reese drug store Saturday to see the fall displays of merchandise and appliances.

A number of prizes were awarded during the day with the grand prize of $50 going to Mrs. Bryan Douglas, superintendent of nurses at Littlefield hospital.

Floral arrangements from friends and business associates were crowded together all over the store.

Luther Faulkner and Deverelle Lewis, owners of the new store, express their thanks to those who gave them such a warm welcome into the business circle of Lamb county.

LUTHERAN 35th ANNIVERSARY DAY IS HAILED AS GREAT ACHIEVEMENT

Two inspiring messages, overflowing crowds, large thank-offering for a new church, presence of former members now living far away, were just a few of the things which made members and friends in attendance at Emmanuel Lutheran's Thirty-fifth Anniversary celebration last Sunday, September 28, declare that it was truly the Lord's day.

Guest speaker Erich Wildgrube of St. Paul Lutheran of New Orleans set the tenor for the entire celebration when on the basis of Psalm 9, 11, he urged all the morning worshippers to praise God for past, present and future blessings showered upon Emmanuel Lutheran. At 3 p.m. he conducted another special service which urged the children of God to rededicate themselves to God on the basis of 1 Corinthians 15, 58. Special music added to the program.

Crowds present for the anniversary services at Emmanuel Lutheran overflowed into the school annex and beneath the shade of an old elm tree in front of the church. Almost 500 people were present for both special anniversary services. Special sound equipment made the worship of God more pleasant for those outside.

In addition to gifts for Emmanuel's running expenses and missions and also the new organ fund, a special effort made it possible for Emmanuel Lutheran's members together with their happy friends to amass $3200 towards the building of a new church at 417 West Third Street.

Friends and former members came from all over, seemingly Lubbock, Plainview, Lamesa, Clovis. Portals were just a few of the cities represented. Coming the farthest was Mr. and Mrs. Dave Deisel, former members of Emmanuel Lutheran, who now live in Springdale, Arkansas.

For the success of Emmanuel's 35th anniversary—in the opinion of many, outstanding—the members of Emmanuel Lutheran worked hard, spurred on by the central committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Synatschek, Mrs. Martin Hobrtasch, Herman Gohlke, and Walter Timian.

program and then sat back to hear Mahon, the keynote speaker, assert that "war is not inevitable. . . . This country and the world can move all obstacles, whatever they be, to a better day."

It was all a part of the sixth annual Sudan Fall Festival, which had "The United Nations and World Peace" for its theme. Parade floats, every store in the city, virtually every citizen of Sudan were decked out in an international flavor.

Could Change World

Highlight of the day was Mahon's address. He told the crowd of an estimated 10,000 persons that "the weak would give up in despair, but not us, not Americans, not freedom-loving peoples."

Mahon was introduced by Chas. A. Guy, editor and publisher of The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, who termed the Sudan celebration "in many respects the most amazing undertaking I have seen since I came to the South Plains."

Based On Understanding

The address by the congressman, chairman of the House sub-committee on military appropriations, followed a colorful "parade of nations" parent presented by Sudan citizens. Mrs. Sib Stone, announcer for the pageant, said "this program is designed to be a step toward world understanding . . . (based on) faith, love, trust and friendship."

"The United Nations is our best hope for peace with freedom," she said. "The people of the United States are made up of all nations and they are proud of their ancestry."

Costumes Are Impressive

As Mrs. Stone talked, residents dressed in the costumes of every member nation of the UN organization moved across the huge outdoor stage in the city park. Later, the International Choir from Wayland College and a Negro choir entertained with several songs.

Throughout the day, the people of Sudan could be seen in their flashy costumes. They and their thousands of visitors roamed the streets, looking at the store windows decorated to represent each of the United Nations. Hundreds of spectators passed through the

Sister of Local Woman Dies At Lubbock Saturday

Mrs. James R. Carter, 64, 1614 8th St., Lubbock, died at 12:20 a.m. Saturday in West Texas Hospital after a short illness.

Born in Ladonia, Tex., she had been a resident of Lubbock 29 years.

Funeral services were conducted at 10 a.m. Monday in Trinity Baptist Church, Lubbock, with the Rev. John P. Baker, pastor, officiating. Burial took place in Tech Memorial Park under direction of Sanders Funeral Home.

Survivors are her husband, two sons, Sam Rayburn Carter, Lubbock, and Sgt. James Randall Carter, presently at Fort Dix, N.J.; a daughter, Mrs. Syble Pendley, Lubbock Route 4; a sister, Mrs. Beulah Shelton, Littlefield; a brother, James W. Roberts, Friona; and a step-brother, Dwight G. Hale, Colorado Springs, Colo.

United Nations room to inspect literature about the customs and peoples of foreign lands.

In the parade before noon, floats carried out the world peace and brotherhood theme. Beginning at 11 a.m., the parade lasted for more than an hour and was led by four sheriff's posses carrying flags of 60 nations.

Six Bands In Parade

Six high school bands, including the Dunbar band from Lubbock, marched in the parade. Almost three dozen floats passed in review. The winning floats were those of the Sudan High School, Watkins Gin, and Bill Nix, in divisions of clubs and organizations, business, and agriculture, respectively.

Chosen as the best band in the parade was that of Oilton High School. Others included Littlefield, Friona, Muleshoe and Sudan.

Other floats which received honors included those of Robert Master and A. W. Ormand in agriculture, R. D. Nix Implement Company and Salem's Dry Goods in business, and the 1950 Study Club and the Littlefield Jayceettes in organizations. Miss Fall Festival, 14-year-old Barbara Otwell, reigned over the parade and all festivities.

Cochran Posse Wins

Winning sheriff's posse was that from Cochran County, while Hockley County placed second. The best store display, according to the judges, was that of Smith Dry Goods, which represented Bolivia. Second was Jones Dry Goods, representing China, and third was Salem's, which represented Luxembourg. Honorable mention went to Patterson's Shoe Store, Afghanistan, and Allen Drug, The Netherlands.

Although Saturday was the end of the official celebrations, the festival committee doesn't see an end to its work. The deadline for receiving world peace formulas has been extended to Oct. 18 and the presidents of three West Texas colleges will be the judges.

Clubs May Enter

Any club or organization anywhere in the world is invited to submit a 150-word formula in competition for a $100 prize. Also, a big clothing drive is planned in Lamb, Bailey, Cochran and Hockley Counties for Oct. 24. United Nations Day, as a continuation of Saturday's celebration.

Joe T. Salem, chairman for the festival, said "we hope that our celebration will be the beginning of a crusade that will catch fire throughout the world and unite all men behind the common cause for peace."

He and J. W. Miller, general manager, said the U.S. Department of State will publicize the event throughout the world and the committee itself will send information to every member of the United Nations concerning the celebration.

4-H Livestock Takes Top Honors At Plains Fair

Joe Peterman of Amherst and Allen Doyle Turner of Pleasant Valley, two Lamb County 4-H club members collected a basket full of ribbons and premiums in livestock judgings at the Panhandle South Plains Fair Tuesday.

The milking shorthorn heifer, won by young Peterman in a Sears program last year, took second place in that division at the fair in Lubbock. Previously the heifer had placed first at the Lamb county fair and third at the Tri-State fair in Amarillo last week.

A Duroc gilt, which had placed first in the county show and second in the district show at Tech for its owner, Allen Turner, walked off with almost all the honors one hog can take at a fair. The gilt placed first in the boy's division in the South Plains fair judging ring, first in the open division in the Duroc class, and was named Junior Champion. Turners' gilt went on to win the Reserve Grand Champion ribbon.

vention. The Southern Baptist work was established in Arizona in 1921 and has spread into the adjacent states mentioned.

In his work as secretary of the Brotherhood and Foundation work, Mr. Packwood will be the directing head of the brotherhoods in all the states and the administrator in the securing and handling of endowment funds in connection with the Foundation work. His work will involve a vast amount of travel.

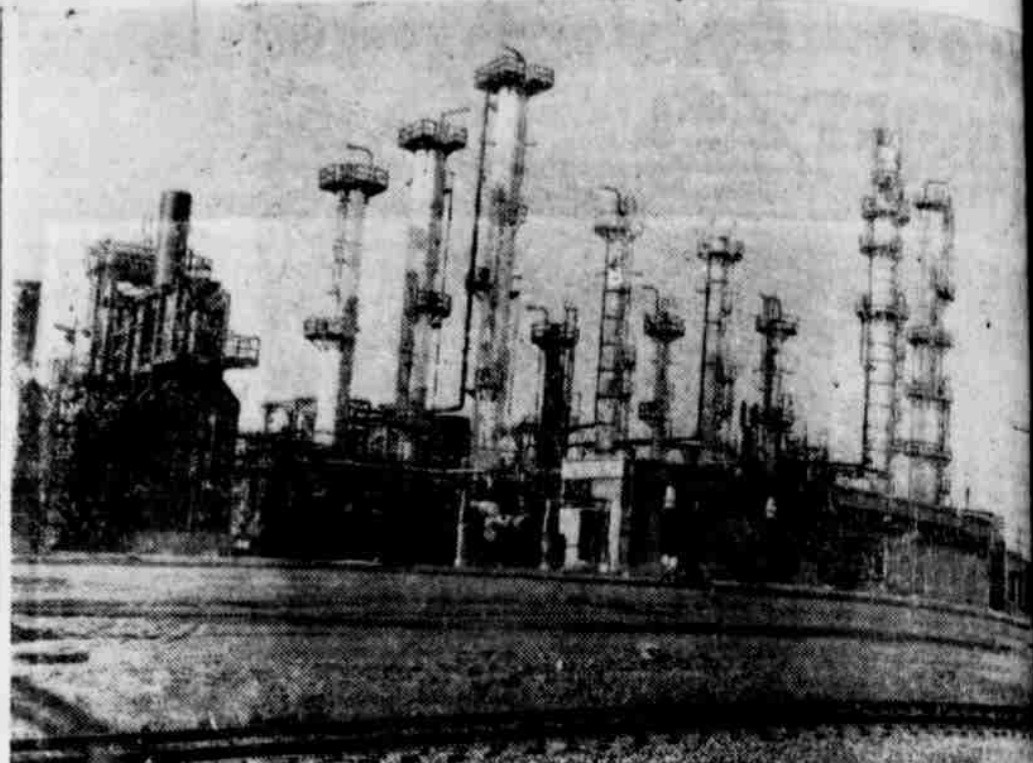

Dr. Willis J. Ray, former pastor of the First Baptist church in Littlefield, is the secretary of the Arizona convention and all work comes under his general supervision. Dr. Ray has been secretary of the convention for the past six years. He went to Arizona from San Antonio, where he was district missionary.

Mr. and Mrs. Packwood and their family have been among the most active members of the First Baptist church here. Both have served actively in various branches of the local work. In addition to his work in the local church, Mr. Packwood has served for the past two years as associational Sunday school superintendent, and at the present time is vice-president of the Panhandle Pastors' and Laymen's conference, which includes virtually all of West Texas.

Mrs. Packwood has been particularly active in the musical work of the local church. She was pianist for seven years and organist for the past year. In addition to her music work in the church, she has had a 15-minute organ program over KVOW for the past two years.

Mrs. Packwood has taken the lead in elementary Training Union work in the Littlefield church, and, in addition, has helped to promote Training Union work throughout the state. She has found it necessary to cancel a number of important engagements in this work on account of the move to Arizona.

Mr. and Mrs. Packwood, in announcing their early departure for Arizona, expressed their deep appreciation for the many, many courtesies extended to them in their residence in Littlefield, and will cherish deeply the friendships and associations which came their way as residents of Littlefield. They are by no means severing all their ties with Littlefield and West Texas. They have a married daughter, Mrs. Johnny Edwards, in Littlefield; a married daughter, Mrs. Hal Ray Hall, of Midland, and a son, Fred, who is attending Oklahoma Baptist University at Shawnee, Oklahoma.

COSDEN PRODUCES NEW PRODUCTS—This is the Cosden Petroleum Corporation's new 3½-million dollar BTX plant east of Big Spring which has begun producing benzene, toluene, and xylene, as the company has ventured deeper into the petrochemical waters. Delivery will be made on initial orders of the products in advance of the scheduled date October 15. The plant is operated as an adjunct to the Cosden Refinery at Big Spring and is the first of its type in the nation to go into production.

up a shed-office on the Lubbock highway to intercept workers. A Mexican national is on duty at the depot. Two other employment commission workers will be in the Oilton and Muleshoe areas, contacting workers and prospects.

In addition to the urgent need for 1300 more cotton pickers, J. D. Jordan has announced openings for the following occasioned by the seasonal pick-up in local business: fountain clerks, cooks, auto mechanics, waitresses, carpenters, and a legal stenographer.

Make Do

AP Newsfeatures
AN EMPTY adhesive tape spool provides a handy way to store and use a plumb line. The line (3) is tied to the spool (1) with the plumb bob (4) tied to the other end of the line. When the cover is closed over the spool the line is kept from unwinding more than desired. This idea is from the technical guide pool of the American Builder.
