COTTON CO-OPERATIVE MEET IS SET FOR MONDAY

CITY GETS TWO NEW INDUSTRIES

COTTON OIL PLANT
TO COST $250,000;
$16,000 CREAMERY

CONSTRUCTION OF OIL MILL WILL START IN SPRING

Two important industries for Littlefield are definitely assured, according to announcement made Tuesday at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce. They are a $250,000 cotton oil mill and feed mill, construction of which will be started next spring, and a $16,000 co-operative creamery, which will be completed and in operation late this fall.

The cotton oil mill will be erected by the Anderson-Clayton Company. Ground has been purchased, and trackage rights obtained from the Santa Fe.

J. O. Stone has been obtained by the creamery association to sign up the necessary number of cows to guarantee the success of this project.

Poultry Marketing
Arrangements are being made whereby a co-operative poultry and poultry products marketing association can operate in conjunction with the creamery. Plans provide for having the creamery and poultry marketing organizations functioning early in October.

The obtaining of the cotton oil mill and the creamery loom prominent in a progressive program, which has been carried out by the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, under the direction of J. E. Brannen, past president of the chamber; R. E. McGee, president; and J. W. Hale, secretary-manager.

Orphan Children From I. O. O. F. Home Will Visit Sudan

Forty orphan children from the I. O. O. F. home at Comstock will arrive in a chartered bus on August 23 and spend one day and night in Sudan. The Sudan I. O. O. F. lodge has appointed a committee to arrange for their reception and entertainment during their visit. These children will render a program to the public on the night of the 23.

Two Millionth Six Is Turned Out By Chevrolet Company

Another automotive record toppled at Flint, Michigan, last Thursday when the Chevrolet Motor Company turned out its two millionth six cylinder car less than 20 full months after the introduction of this type.

The two millionth six—a coach—rolled off the line at Flint, with Chevrolet and General Motors executives in attendance to witness the final assembly of the car, for which no further ceremonies were planned.

NEW SCHEDULE SPEEDS UP SERVICE ON

FOOTBALL SQUAD TO

LITTLEFIELD BUSINESS FIRMS PAYING
COST OF TRIP

The Littlefield High School football squad, with both Coaches Tucker and Hemphill, will leave for Muleshoe on August 28, where four days of training in fundamentals of football will be given. Plenty of swimming and other diversifications will be had to make the trip interesting. All of the expenses will be paid by the merchants of Littlefield, thereby making the trip cost the squad nothing.

This is something new for the local high school squad, but will be an essential factor in the development of the team, inasmuch as early games will have an important bearing on the outcome of this sub-district championship, which will be decided by November 5. It is the desire of the coaches that every eligible man go, as there will be no expense. All will be expected to make the trip.

All members of the squad that expect to make the trip should report to either of the coaches before August 17, but if that is impossible, everyone who makes the trip will have

The schedule of the west bound Santa Fe passenger train was changed Sunday from 5:48 p. m. to 8:03 a. m.

Eleven hours have been clipped from running time on Santa Fe service from Fort Worth to points west of here.

Passengers destined for points in the West heretofore have been routed from Fort Worth through Temple. The new schedule calls for a routing over the Texas and Pacific to Sweetwater, where direct connection is now available with the Santa Fe.

The train from Sweetwater will arrive in Littlefield at 8:03 a. m., arrive in Clovis, N. M., at 9:25 a. m. and in Los Angeles at 5:45 p. m. of the second day.

Connection at Clovis will be made with train No. 22, "the Missionary," which carries through sleepers to Grand Canyon, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Better service to Carlsbad and Roswell, N. M. will be provided under the new schedule by eliminating an all night lay-over at Clovis.

to report at the high school building at 8 o'clock on Wednesday, August 27, in order that equipment and instructions can be given out. Each member will take his own bedding, and eating utensils.

Possibly no other city on the South Plains, not even Lubbock, has carried out such a big program in such a short time.

A partial list of accomplishments, which have been effected in less than 11 months, follows:

Four rural telephone lines; new highway to the Hale County line; all county roads and city streets improved; Littlefield yards and lawns beautified; houses numbered; streets marked; new city directory in process of completion; an improved telephone service; new city hall; new pavement; installation of natural gas for general use in the city; the highest total of building permits in the history of the city; a Texas Cotton Co-operative Association branch office; a creamery, which will start operations this fall; a cotton seed oil mill and a feed mill on which construction will start in the spring; a definite program of diversified farming and the feeding out of feeds grown in this territory; new sign boards at points where highways enter Littlefield; a complete federal weather station; plans worked out for beautification of the City Park property; 100 per cent improvement in

Prominent Speakers Are To Outline Cotton Co-operative Marketing Plan At Big Littlefield Gathering August 13

Series of Meetings Will Follow Littlefield Session; Chairmen Are Announced for All Districts

Plans for putting the branch office of the new cotton co-operative marketing system of the Federal Farm Board over big for the Littlefield district were formulated at a meeting of county and community chairmen with Herman F. Dieterich, district organization director, in the Palace Theater Tuesday afternoon.

The campaign will be officially started with a big mass meeting in the Palace theater in Littlefield next Monday afternoon, August 18, at 2 p. m. At this meeting prominent speakers from Lubbock will be present to explain fully the new marketing system for cotton, whereby the federal government, through the Federal Farm Board, will see to it that the subjects of King Cotton get a square deal from the time the product of their toil leaves the cotton fields until it reaches the spinners here or abroad.

District Governor To Address Local Rotary Club

The Rotary Club met Thursday at the regular weekly luncheon at the Methodist church, with J. S. Hilliard, secretary, presiding, in the absence of the president. The club met Wednesday night this week in lieu of Thursday, at which time Ray Nichols of Vernon, Rotary governor of the forty-first district, was present.

Miss Fern Thornton has returned to her home here following a visit with relatives in Breckenridge.

A. G. Hemphill and family left yesterday for McAuley where they are in attendance at a family reunion held at the home of his brother, P. S. Hemphill of that place.

"It's the federal government that is putting up the money to organize the cotton farmers of the south," declared Mr. Dieterich. "And it stands to reason that the government will have things run right. The new co-operative marketing system will be as much under government supervision as the Federal Reserve Banking System. The Federal Farm Board at Washington gets daily and weekly reports of the progress of the organization campaign and all the plans and marketing operations of the Texas and American Cotton Co-operative Association have to meet with government approval."

A Reasonable Solution
R. N. Carpenter, chairman for Lamb County, said that never before had the farmers of the country been offered a reasonable solution with government support, and with this set-up it should be as easy to sign up 50 per cent of the cotton growers of the district as five per cent.

"The most convincing reason cotton growers should join the new Texas Cotton Co-operative Association," said Mr. Carpenter, "is the fact that the Federal Government is behind this thing. We certainly can trust

LITTLEFIELD POST OFFICE RECEIPTS SHOW BIG GAINS

TOTAL FOR FIRST SEVEN MONTHS OF
THIS YEAR $8,377

GAIN OF 17 PER CENT
OVER SAME PERIOD
OF 1929

A sharp gain in postal receipts for the first seven months of this year over the same period of last year, offers important evidence of the growth of Littlefield.

During the first seven months of 1930 a gain of more than 17 per cent in postal receipts at the Littlefield post office, over that of the receipts for the same period of 1929, has been realized, according to J. E. Brannen, postmaster.

Total receipts were $8,377.24 as compared with $7,124.81 for the same months last year. Receipts for 1929 were over 30 per cent more than those of 1928, the comparative figures being: 1929, $14,469.83; 1928, $10,748.16.

Littlefield's receipts for 1929 were 72 per cent greater than those of 1925. Each succeeding year showed phenomenal growth, namely: 1925 8,216.31; 1926, $9,438.93; 1927, $9,453.27; 1928, $10,748.16; 1929, $14,469.83.

Money order sales for 1929 were $133,278.49 as compared with $85,838.62 for the previous year, or more than 55 per cent.

Month	1930	1929
January	$1,544.34	$1,434.64
February	1,045.09	943.16
March	1,300.14	1,016.81
April	1,421.49	1,209.63
May	1,095.01	938.01
June	922.10	768.57
July	1,049.07	1,032.99
Total	8,377.24	7,143.81

We are proud of our record of receipts for this year because they show in a very clear way the wonderful growth of Littlefield," the postmaster said. "We believe there are few towns the size of Littlefield that will compare with this office in gain. We even think we are doing better than Lubbock."

WESTERN ELECTRIC SOUND SYSTEM TO BE INSTALLED AT PALACE THEATER

The Western Electric Sound System, through which to better present the best in talking pictures, will be installed and in use at the Palace Theater with the afternoon performance of Sunday, September 7.

The feature attraction for the opening program with Western Electric Sound System will be announced later.

By selecting this system, Manager W. J. (Bill) Cheshier is choosing a sound equipment that has already been accorded superlative recognition through its selection by a large majority of the motion picture producers and the wired houses in America.

Eleven producers of talking motion pictures, comprising the leading makers of films in the industry, and more than 2500 theaters in America have selected this equipment as the best to record and reproduce talking pictures.

The Eleven producers are: Warners, Fox, Paramount-Famous-Lasky, Universal, Metro-Goldwyn, United

More than 2500 theaters have also attested to the superiority of this reproducing system by having it installed.

In fact, all cities of over 5,000 population, with a theater of any consequence, are equipped with Western Electric Sound System.

Local Scouts To Enter Contest At South Plains Fair

Troop No. 25 of the local Boy Scouts met Friday evening in the basement of the First Baptist church, in regular session, under the direction of Scout Master Morris Morgan.

Plans were discussed relative to the troop contending for prizes to be awarded for Scout craft work at the South Plains Fair, to be held at Lubbock in September.

"Every Scout in the troop expects to participate in the contest and prospects are good for the local lads to take off a good portion of the prizes, as the scouts are enthusiastic over the prospects of entering the contest," said Mr. Morgan.

Further plans were also discussed to raise sufficient funds with which to purchase uniforms for the scouts.

RAIN BRINGS ASSURANCE OF BUMPER CROP OF COTTON

Rainfall Throughout Lamb County Thursday and Friday Averages One Inch; Big Crop of Late Feed Is Anticipated; Much Pro

bumper crop of cotton and feed Lamb county was assured by the rain of Thursday night and Friday, according to D. A. Adam, county agent. There was an average of at least one inch of rain throughout the county. Some sections received one-half inch of rainfall, while in other localities there was as much as two inches. All sections gained sufficient moisture with the exception of very limited areas in the Sudan and Olton sections. Mr. Adam said that the cotton crop in Lamb county promises to equal, if not exceed, the crop of last year, and that the feed crop will be about the same as last year. While the crop of early feed will not be as great as last year, any loss in volume in that connection will be made up by reason of the fact that this year there is an exceptionally big crop of late feed. Mr. Adam said that the brief period in which there was a shortage of moisture, did not hurt the cotton to any great extent.

All Sections Benefitted
The entire South Plains from Plainview south to Big Spring and from Spur and Post west to beyond the New Mexico state line, was visited by fairly general rains last week and farmers are rejoicing over the much improved crop prospects.

Muddy roads and delayed motor traffic prevailed Thursday and Friday as the showers came. Considerable delays also were reported Saturday morning.

The rainfall varied from a half to an inch and a half. The rains were general, with several sections reporting heavy local showers.

Friday night and Saturday bar pits were full or nearly so, while pools of water several inches or more deep were reported on many places. In some instances the water was as much as ten inches deep.

Crops present a better appearance than for some time past, and apparently has a better and grime of the nearby fields.

Farmers in the county are rejoicing over the rain, "crops are looking good."

GRAIN SORGHUMS POSSESS HIGH FEEDING VALUE, LIVESTOCK EXPERT DECLARES

Recent findings by the agricultural experiment stations of Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas show that grain sorghums have a feeding value almost as high as that of corn and much higher than has been generally accredited to them. J. M. Jones, chief of the division of range animal husbandry, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, told the livestock section at the Farmers Short Course, A & M College of Texas, in speaking on "Finishing Texas Lambs on the Grain Sorghums."

"Only a few years ago it was quite generally believed that the feeding value of grain sorghums was considerably below that of corn," the speaker said. "The results of a series of five lamb feeding tests at the Spur substation in Texas, in which ground threshed milo, kafir and fetterita were compared with ground shelled corn, show conclusively that these feeds have practically the same value as corn for fattening purposes. In view of the fact that these feeds as a general rule have a larger yield an acre in the western part of the state than does corn it is obvious why some thorough research efforts were planned to gain additional information on this subject. This finding alone has been worth millions of dollars to Texas farmers and feeders."

Since sorghum grains are more often used in head form and since the average head consists of seventy-five per cent grain and twenty-five per cent head-stem, experiments have also been conducted to determine the value of these feeds in the ground head form. Ground milo heads, consisting of only about seventy-five per cent grain, proved to be ninety-two per cent as valuable as ground shelled corn, showing that the head-stem is of considerable value as well as the grain, Mr. Jones pointed out.

If your sheep, calves, or pigs have a husky cough at this time of year, look out for lung-worms. Isolate infested animals and give them special care and feed. Put the animals on high, dry pasture, or put them up and feed dry feed. Give plenty of pure water and provide them with some kind of shade.

IS "NEW DEAL" DECL. OF COTTON CO-OP. JACKERS

Leaders in the movement point out that the Texas Cotton Co-operative association represents an entirely new deal for Texas cotton growers. This association is as much under government supervision and inspection as the banks in the Federal Reserve banking system.

The actual marketing of cotton will be done through the American Cotton cooperative association, with headquarters in New Orleans and in charge of President E. F. Creekmore. The A. C. C. A. acts as the central marketing agency for all the various cooperative cotton marketing agencies endorsed by the Federal Farm Board.

The savings to cotton growers through proper grading by government licensed graders alone will put many extra dollars into the pockets of farmers.

In the Lower Rio Grande Valley reports state that the majority of cotton growers there are placing their cotton in the seasonal pool, drawing a substantial advance on their cotton and taking a chance on profiting by higher prices later in the season. This plan also permits the cooperative to market a higher percentage of cotton in an orderly manner and thereby have a strengthening influence on the market.

Farmers have the choice of the daily pool they sell at the prices daily, optional or seasonal pool. By prevailing the day the cotton is marketed, after being graded by government licensed graders. By the optional pool, a substantial advance is made and the farmer sells at whatever time of the season he dictates to the association.

In the Levelland district, where first efforts were made to organize in the South Plains area, soliciting teams composed of business men working with farmers in each school community have been making a systematic canvass and are meeting with success. In some communities it is expected that 90 per cent of cotton growers will be signed up for the new marketing system of the Federal Farm Board.

THOUSANDS OF HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB WOMEN MARKETING PRODUCTS OF FARMS UNDER SPECIAL LABELS

College Station.—Standardization of a large variety of farm home products on a high quality basis and the establishment of simple, co-operative markets have made it possible for thousands of home demonstration club women in Texas to earn money for improving their homes and family living, according to Miss Mamie Lee Hayden, Home Industries specialist in the Extension Service.

"Every woman desires a certain degree of financial independence," she says, "and we have found that a new source of income is often needed to enable the farm wife to increase the living standards of her family. Our home demonstration marketing simply gives the farm woman a weapon with which to continue her fight for better living conditions."

All home demonstration marketing is based on quality products. To secure uniform quality, standard recipes have been worked out for certain foods such as strawberry preserves, grape juice, jam and conserve, canned beans and peas, okra and tomato gumbo, watermelon rind products, pickles and relishes, fruit cakes and steam puddings, sugar-coated pecan halves in three flavors, and canned pork.

Going still further, some products have been standardized under the label of "Texas Better 4-H Products" and are prepared and sold in various markets. Included in this list are canned black-eyed and cream peas, grape juice, crystallized figs, sugar-coated pecan halves, grape fruit marmalade, candied citrus peel, beans, corn, okra and tomato gumbo, fruit cakes and steam puddings, canned chicken, pickles and relishes, cottage cheese, American cheese, eggs, brown bread and cakes.

Miss Hayden has worked out details for standard containers, cartons, labels and jars, including brown paper boxes for fig packages, green ribbons for tying packages, egg cartons, gummed stickers with 4-H emblem for wrapping products, 4-H tags for standard products and small 4-H labels for household and textile articles.

The work in the counties is in charge of home demonstration agents many of whom have helped women to organize special market days and to find special markets for quality products.

Dr. and Mrs. Cobb Home After Seven Weeks In North

Dr. and Mrs. M. V. Cobb have returned home after seven weeks in the north and east. They were accompanied on their return trip by Miss Katherine Bickford of Auburn, Maine, cousin of Mrs. Cobb, who will remain here until September 1, when she will return north to assume her duties as school teacher.

The Cobbs left Littlefield in order to be with Mrs. Cobb's mother, Mrs. E. E. Pearl of Leeds Junction, Maine, who sustained a shock. She was attended by Dr. Cobb. Her condition now is good.

The Cobbs made the trip to and from Maine by automobile. They visited many northern cities, including Niagara Falls, Auburn, N. Y., Cleveland, Indianapolis, St. Louis and Kansas City.

Dr. Cobb reported on arrival in Littlefield that on the return trip a large percentage of the journey was through country which has been visited by drouth.

LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE CALLS ARE INCREASING

Long distance telephone communication is on the increase and during 1929 more cable for toll business was laid than in any previous year. This trend is probably due to the fact that long distance communication is continually growing cheaper and that service is being improved. At present 95 per cent of all toll calls are completed while the portion calling remains at the instrument, as compared with 70 per cent five years ago.

THOUSANDS ATTEND THREE DAY AMHERST BIRTHDAY PROGRAM

RODEO, DANCING AND BASEBALL CHIEF EVENTS

With a total attendance estimated at 13,000, Amherst's three-day seventh annual birthday celebration, was a big success. Opening Thursday night, the celebration was carried through Saturday. The chief events took place on Friday and Saturday.

A prominent event was the rodeo, which was well attended both Friday and Saturday afternoons. There were the usual events of roping, bulldogging, calf roping, steer riding, wild cow milking, and various other stunts familiar to the people of this section.

In the riding events B. Northfleet won the 3-8 mile race and Tom Andrew Myers the quarter mile race. There were several other novelty races.

The baseball games provided the stellar attractions. Amherst had a winning team entered in the tournament with Sudan, Muleshoe and Earth, all traditional rivals.

Friday afternoon Amherst defeated Muleshoe 3 to 2 in a hotly contested game that went 11 innings before the locals won. Sudan had an easy victory of Earth, 12 to 3.

Saturday afternoon in the opening game Sudan had to go three extra innings in order to nose out Muleshoe 3 to 2.

Sudan and Amherst clashed in the closing contest, which lasted until nearly 7 o'clock, with the visitors taking the long end of the 4-3 score. The game was hard fought and the Sudanites copped the $100 prize purse of the tourney. The baseball games were in the field adjoining the county fair grounds.

Carnival Attended
The carnival was well attended, the Greater London shows putting on the performances. There were rides, swings, dips and the usual attractions of a carnival. Hundreds of people were attracted to the carnival grounds.

Beginning Thursday night and continuing on all nights of the celebration, open air pavillion dancing furnished diversion for large crowds.

County candidates and representatives of state candidates made addresses.

Sewer and Water Systems at Levelland Are Being Extended

Good progress is being made by the Erick Construction company of Plainview on the new extensions of Levelland's sewer system, officials of that city report, with prospects of the work being completed late in August or early in September.

At the same time Joe Winsett, of Dallas, in charge of water mains and extensions, expects to complete his work at about the same time.

Footage of the extensions is practically the same as that of the original system, which cost in the neighborhood of $120,000. Of this $65,000 was for water mains and a system and $55,000 for sewers.

These projects, however, included both a sewage disposal plant and a water supply. This additional work, city authorities say, does not include more wells or disposal plants and the entire $60,000 additional bond issue is being spent for extensions.

THE PERFECT SUMMER RESORT

When the weather sizzles, when cooling drinks are in constant demand—when milk sours, vegetables wilt and meat spoils. When temperatures and thermometers rise to the boiling point—then we resort to the one cooling, refreshing alternative—ICE. Clear, sparkling, invigorating ICE, made from sterilized and distilled water. The sizzling summer heat serves only to emphasize the fact that day after day, year after year, winter and summer, no other commodity can substitute or serve the purpose of REAL ICE.

TRAFFIC REGULATIONS

Littlefield has a motorcycle officer who is directing a part of his time to the regulations of traffic. But the purpose in placing this officer on duty is not to persecute the driver of an automobile. The action of the City is influenced by a desire to make the lot of the driver of an automobile all that could be properly expected.

Littlefield has traffic regulations.
They have been put into effect for the direction of automobile owners, and to eliminate hazards as far as possible. But it is not the desire of the city, in the event of an infringement of a regulation, to pounce down on the offender in an offensive manner. The new officer is carrying out his work, not as a bully, but, on the contrary, is endeavoring to be of even greater assistance to motorists than is generally required of an officer.

We know of a certain Texas city which, suffering under the delusion that it had become a great, immense metropolis, though only possessing a population of between 15,000 and 18,000, put into operation very drastic traffic regulations. Those who had wanted the new laws soon wearied of their operation, because it was found that the new rules were driving people from coming into that city to shop, and to transact other business.
The city referred to depended very largely for its existence and growth on the farmers. The foolish traffic regulations soon were discarded.

Littlefield is a growing, prosperous city, depending on the farmers for its existence. This city, by the introduction of a traffic officer, does not intend to persecute the residents of Littlefield, the farmer who comes into the city, or the stranger who visits "The Pulse of the Plains." The placing of an officer on duty is prompted entirely by a desire to make this city a better and safer place to live in and to visit.

In every city there are to be found certain drivers of automobiles who delight in displaying recklessness, caring not at all what happens to the drivers and occupants of other automobiles, or to pedestrians. The new officer is a genial, smiling young man, but the reckless, clever element should beware; they will probably find the new "cop" very firm.

The Bible out of date? It is the only book that is always and forever up to date. And that, beyond doubt, is the reason why it outsells all the fiction and all the philosophy of the moderns.

LUTHERAN CHURCH SERVICES

There will be no morning preaching service at the Lutheran church Sunday, due to the absence of the pastor, but Sunday evening at the regular hour, Rev. Scaer of Wilson, will fill the pulpit.

SPELLING

Years ago one of the tests of a "good speller" was his or her ability to spell such words as "Constantinople" and "Christiania" correctly. But the young people of today have some altogether new problems in spelling.

There isn't any Constantinople any more. The name of the old Turkish city has been changed to Istanbul.
Likewise Norway has thrown Christiania into the discard and calls its great port Oslo.

To simplify the use of foreign place-names and make their spelling easier to those familiar only with their own tongue, the English centuries ago coolly changed the names of many places on the continent. They altered Roma to Rome, Napoli to Naples, Firenze to Florence, Livorno to Leghorn, Wien to Vienna, and Gravenhage to The Hague. We in America have followed that style, but now that international relations are closer than ever before and the nations of Europe are feeling their individual importance more than ever, an international movement has been set on foot for the uniform spelling of place names everywhere.

The standard, of course, is that of the local official usage. Thus the town in Silesia which the Germans called Lemberg now appears in Polish as Lwow, and you can guess at the pronunciation as well as anybody else can. The Finnish people resort to use of Helsingfors, a Swedish corruption of their own name of Helsinki.
On old maps you will find a town in Europe called Philippopolis, but Poles are incensed if you write it any way except Plovdiv.

The patriotic young republic of Estonia has changed the name of its capital from Reval to the more ancient name of Tallinn. Smyrna is no longer spelled correctly except as Izmir.

The United States Government is trying to get people used to these modern and corrected spellings. The U. S. Board on Geographic Names has in preparation a complete list which will be available in a few months for everybody interested. But so long as the old maps and geographies are in existence, there will always be a high percentage of children growing up to be familiar with the Anglicized spellings that are not only out of date but incorrect and, moreover, offensive to the nationals of the countries which they misrepresent.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Hudgens, who have been visiting here, left Thursday of last week for their home at Roscoe.

Their father, Jacob Hemphill, age 86 years, three sisters and four brothers, together with about 40 additional relatives, will be in attendance.

THE BOOK OF BOOKS

We hear a great deal of loose talk about the decline of religion. People are no longer interested in the ancient beliefs, so the critics of religion say. The church has lost its hold and nobody reads the Bible any more, if you believe them.

It is encouraging, therefore, to those who hold fast to the faith of their fathers, to learn from the report of the American Bible Society that more Bibles were sold and distributed last year than ever before in the history of this great organization.

The figures themselves are amazing.
Eleven million, one hundred and two thousand Bibles in 179 different languages were printed and distributed by the American society last year, while the British and Foreign Bible Society in the same period distributed nearly twelve million. In the United States alone more than four million Bibles were bought by people, presumably, who wanted to read them. That does not sound as if interest in religion were dying out.

As a matter of fact, more people are reading the Bible than ever before.
Whatever other religious books
there are, they must have the Bible.
It is the Book of Books in every sense of the word. No "best seller" ever approached it in point of sales; none of the standard classics has endured in popularity as has the Bible.

Consciously or unconsciously, almost everybody who speaks the English language quotes from the Bible almost every day. The words and phrases, proverbs and other quotations of every-day life, a good half of all the allusions in modern literature, and from the King James version of the English Bible. For that reason, if for no other, familiarity with the Bible is an essential part of the education of everybody who would call himself an educated man. One not familiar with the Book of Books loses the savor and the intimate meaning of half of the world's great literature.

We have not found any better way of expressing many of the great truths and eternal facts of life than the way in which they are expressed in the Bible. How a single phrase expresses the whole ideal of tolerance: Let him that is without sin among you cast the first stone." Or how has the penalty of evil-doing been better phrased than in: "Whatsoever ye sow, that shall ye also reap?"

OAKLAND-PONTIAC PRICES REDUCED

up to $170

We have just been advised by the Oakland Motor Car Company that, effective August 11th, prices on all current model Pontiac Big Sixes and Oakland Eights have been reduced . . . with reductions up to $170.

Pontiac Big Six—now $665^{and up}

A big car at small car price

Oakland Eight—now $895^{and up}

America's lowest-priced Eight

These reductions are made because in the winter the factory will present two new cars which, while changed enough to classify as new models, will remain practically unchanged in appearance, size and design.

The two new cars will have the same type engines used in the cars now offered.

These new prices give you an opportunity to own a big car at small car cost and at a great saving.

Don't miss this opportunity. At their new low prices these cars are the greatest "buys" in the automobile field today.

COUNTY AGENT ADAM WARNS FARMERS TO WATCH FOR COTTON LEAF WORM

Farmers are warned by D. A. Adam, county agent, to watch very closely for cotton leaf worm, which has been reported in the Muleshoe section and southeast of Littlefield.

Two preparations were suggested by Mr. Adam for destroying the worms. They are:

Two pounds of calcium arsenate to 50 gallons of water for spraying or dusting; or one pound of Paris green to four parts of hydrated lime for either dusting or spraying.

Mr. Adam said that, in using the Paris green preparation, farmers should exercise special care not to hurt the plants.

He also warned the farmers against using other lead arsenic preparations, or stock dips.

A. A. WHYTE'S RECORD AS TAX ASSESSOR OF FLOYD COUNTY

Last Monday a committee of representative citizens of Lamb County went to Floydada and examined records of Floyd County to learn the truth about my record as Tax Assessor of that county.

After reading the auditor's report and examining, as far as they knew how, the record of errors in the Collector's office, they found that I had made as good a Tax Assessor as the assessors who served before me, or after me, and agreed that they would so report to the citizens of Lamb County.

Sincerely,
A. A. WHYTE,
Candidate for County Tax Assessor.

"Things I Ate Hurt Me"

"I HAD a severe case of indigestion," says Mrs. Bell Buckheiser, 7 River St., Piedmont, S. C. "So many things that I ate hurt me, I almost quit eating."

"I would burn in my chest. I had severe headache, and such a tight, smothering feeling. I would be obliged to eat a little, then it would hurt me."

"A friend said to me: 'Why don't you take Black-Draught?'"

"I was just too weak then to do my work. I began taking small doses after meals and in just a few weeks I could eat anything I wanted to, then take my small dose of Black-Draught and feel fine. I soon regained my health and strength."

Costs only 1 cent a dose.

ASKS FARMERS PARTICIPATE IN COTTON CO-OP FOR PRESENT, FUTURE WELFARE

Farming is inherently a gamble with the elements and cotton growers now should take a chance with the Federal Farm Board's new cooperative marketing system, George Dupree, prominent Lubbock attorney, told more than 250 Garza county farmers at a mass meeting at Post.

"You hold within your hands the future destiny of America," declared Mr. Dupree. "By organizing and co-operating and holding together for your mutual interests you can command a fair value for your product. The farmer has no more to say about the price of the things he sells than the negro on the street corner."

"This plan worked out by experts of the government and crystallized into law presents to the framers of the nation an economical remedy for their troubles and a practical way to get relief from the government. You are powerless as individuals. Organized you can be the greatest power for progress in the United States.

Plenty to Gain

"You are interested in the welfare of your homes and the future of your children. What kind of a heritage are you going to leave them? If this new marketing system can help you in some way and place farming on a business basis, it is worth while."

"For the sake of your homes, for the sake of your families and all that you hold dear, approach this proposition of the Farm Board with an open mind. Give it fair consideration and a fair trial. You have nothing to lose and a lot to gain. With the United States Government behind it and your cooperation some day you will get a fair return for your toil."

The farm problem was described by Mr. Dupree as the biggest problem confronting the entire nation. Having been reared on a farm, Mr. Dupree said he could approach the farm problem from the farmers' viewpoint.

Farmers' Big Opportunity

"In the past the farmer usually has been the goat," said T. R. Greenfield, president of the Post Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the organization committee for Garza county for the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association. "But this time if there is any goat, the government will be the goat. It is taking all the chances in this $500,000,000 marketing set-up."

It's the first time in history that the farmer has had a chance to put his hands into the Federal treasury and get back some of the tax money he has been putting into it, the farmers were told by R. J. Murray, president of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the organization committee for the Lubbock district of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association. He said it was an opportunity that comes once in a life time and should not be passed up.

LAMB COUNTY SCHOOLS ARE OUR MOST IMPORTANT INSTITUTION

To the Voters of Lamb County:

Friends, do you believe in honesty, truthfulness, and a square deal?
Are you interested in your school and the schools of Lamb County?
And are you interested in who shall be placed at the head of your schools as County Superintendent of Lamb County? I believe that you are, and for this reason I am making this statement.
I find that numerous false statements and reports have been circulated over the county concerning myself and my qualifications for County Superintendent. These statements were evidently made for the purpose of injuring me, and to deceive the voters of Lamb County.
It has been circulated that I am only a primary teacher, having never taught above the third grade. In refuting this statement, I wish to say I taught high school work for several years before coming to this county. I taught high school work in the Sudan School; and have taught in the Littlefield Grammar School four years, and the only primary work I have ever taught was the first two and one-half years I taught in the Littlefield School. I have been principal of rural schools and have worked with the School Boards in solving their problems.
It has been circulated that I only hold a second grade certificate. This is untrue. I have a PERMANENT STATE Certificate valid in, and entitling me to teach in any accredited High School in the State of Texas. I have held a First Grade Certificate, or a better certificate, since the year 1910.
It has been circulated that the Rowe's are rich; that we own three farms; two abstract plants in Texas, and a big one at Roswell, New Mexico, and that I do not need the office. This is untrue.
We have a farm in Lamb County in which we own an equity of about $5.00 per acre. We own a one-half interest in an Abstract Plant in Lamb County, and some town lots and a little home in Littlefield, all of which are incumbered for about half their value. We do not now, and have never, owned any property of any kind at Roswell or any other place in the State of New Mexico. We, like a majority of other citizens of Lamb County, have to work hard and manage well to pay our debts and meet our obligations.
It has also been reported that I am a "High Society Lady," (whatever that means). This statement, like various others which I have not mentioned in this article, was intended to prejudice the people living in the country against me. I wish to say that I was reared on a farm. My father and mother live on a farm now, and have always lived on a farm, and my brothers and sisters live on farms. Since I finished school I have taught for a good portion of the time, and have kept house and reared two children besides. So consider for yourself whether I have had much time for any "High Society."
I wish to call the attention of the voters to a circular that was handed out by the relatives and friends of my opponent on the day of the last Primary Election. This circular was handed to the voters as they approached the polls at various voting boxes in the County, and at a time when they did not have an opportunity of investigating the truth of the statements made. It solicited your support for L. D. Rochelle, and contained this statement: "SEVEN YEARS' EXPERIENCE TEACHING IN THE BEST SCHOOLS OF LAMB COUNTY." This statement was untrue, and was evidently intended to deceive the voters, as he has only taught FOUR years in Lamb County, three years at Amherst and one year at Littlefield. He taught at Sudan about two weeks at one time while the Amherst school was closed.
I have taught seven full nine-month terms in Lamb County, and I invite any voter to investigate me or my record. Ask any school board where I have taught, or any patron whose children have come under my supervision, as to my service and qualifications, and whether or not I stay on the job, and qualified, and attend faithfully to my duties.
The law requires that the County Superintendent shall visit the schools four days in each week. If elected, I will have a schedule so that any one connected with any school will know where to find me on any week day. I will visit each school under my supervision, approve vouchers and attend to other duties while there. I pledge the citizens and school patrons my most constant and loyal service.
In asking for this office, I am not doing any more than most other women in Lamb County toward making a living. In making a canvass of the County I find most women working in some way toward helping their husbands to make an honest living. Some raise poultry, milk cows, work in stores and offices, and in fields. I am asking for the office of County Superintendent on the grounds that I am as well qualified, and as capable of filling the place as my opponent.
On account of the short time between the two primaries it will be impossible for me to make a house to house canvass and see each voter again before the second primary. Therefore, I take this means of asking for the support of each and every voter in Lamb County, in the next primary on August 23rd.
I would further request the voters of this county, that in case any statements or reports should come to you concerning me or my race for County Superintendent, that you investigate the truth of such reports, and ascertain the facts in the case before casting your ballot for County Superintendent. I think if there is any place where truth, honesty and fairness should be taught and practiced, it is in our schools and at the head of our schools, where we are training our boys and girls and educating the future citizens of our country.
Most of the citizens of Lamb County were attracted here because of the excellent school conditions of this county. All parents are anxious for the future welfare of their children. Practically all other offices of this county have to do with the financial and business affairs of the county. The office of County Superintendent has to do with the moral and mental training of the boys and girls who are to become the future citizens of this county and of the nation in general. It is an office for the development of character. Necessary as it is that the business affairs of the county be properly handled, it is more important that your children be given the best preparation possible for their future life.
The office of County Superintendent is YOUR OFFICE, at the head of YOUR SCHOOLS, and for the benefit of YOUR CHILDREN; you should investigate fully, and weigh carefully the facts before casting your ballot.
In voting for a County Superintendent you are casting a vote for the future welfare of your children. I assure you in advance I will be true to that trust.

Yours sincerely,
MRS. SUSIE C. ROWE

Young America Goes in for Fresh Endurance Contests

A Philadelphia entrant in the national tree-sitting contest, Jimmy Donaghy, is protected against the weather.

Jack Richards of Kansas City has been up a tree since July 14 and expects to stay until school begins. He had to have a hair-cut.

"TREE SITTING" ENDURANCE CONTESTS THE LATEST FORM OF SUMMER FUN FOR BOYS

By CALEB JOHNSON

When the Hunter boys of Spartan, Ill., broke the world's endurance record in flying they started something.

Every boy in the United States, it would seem is trying to emulate the young flyers.

True, the boys haven't any airplanes, but that makes no difference—to a boy. Jimmy Clemons of Racine, Wisconsin, first conceived the idea of climbing up into trees and staying there, as a test of endurance. That was early in July, and the news of his attempt passed from boy to boy and from town to town by the mysterious "grapevine" telegraph whereby such news is transmitted in boyland. Before the newspapers discovered what was going on there were hundreds of boys, literally, all over the United States, engaged in the most curious contest ever staged.

Nobody but a boy would have thought of tree-sitting as a sport. But for a sport it is just as good as any other.

Jimmy Clemons, who started it all, only managed to stay up a tree for 38 hours, which isn't much of a record. Many of the boys who have taken up tree-sitting in a serious way have already stayed up for several times as many hours and the Summer is as yet hardly under way.

Jack Richards of Kansas City climbed up into his tree on July 10, and as this is written he is still among the branches, imitating Tarzan of the Apes, and holding the unofficial record. Jake is 14 and says he can sit just as long as if he were older. He's going to stay in his tree until school begins—says he.

A good many of the early entrants in this curious championship event were "forced down" after a few hours because they found it harder to sleep among the limbs of a tree than they had anticipated, or because their "refueling" arrangements were imperfect. But Louis Saunders, Jr., of Chicago, after sitting it out for 65 hours, had to withdraw from the contest because his refueling arrangements were too good. His playmates sent him up too many sandwiches, cakes and bottles of soda that he got a regular old-fashioned stomach-ache and had to climb down and go home to bed.

Jack Harris and Truman Kirkpatrick, 12 and 15 respectively, were among the first tree-sitters to make adequate preparations, comparable to those of a trans-Atlantic flier. They first built themselves a comfortable house up in their tree. It is big enough for them to walk around a bit, and they can stretch out full length to sleep, besides having a roof which keeps out all but the worst of the rain.

Billie and Archie Thompson started in the contest with a promise from their mother that she would send them all the food they wanted, and from their father that he would give each of them $1 for every day they broke Jimmy Clemons' record. A good many other parents have hailed the tree-sitting contest as a sure way of knowing where the boys are during their vacation time.

From the Mississippi Valley the tree-sitting craze spread East and West. As this is written Bill Kearny of Kansas City claims a longer record than that of Jack Richards. The late entrants do not expect to win the championship, but many of them are shrewd enough to capitalize the craze.

There is John Norwood, a colored boy at Pensacola, N. J., who lives in a barrel up in a tree and shines the shoes of people who come to see him, pulling them up on a string and charging a dime for a shine. A firemen's carnival at Audobon, N. J., seized upon the tree-sitting fad as an added attraction and promised three boys $100 if they would stay in a tree on the fair grounds for ten days. One New Jersey grocer is paying two boys 25 cents a day each to sit in a tree opposite his store, figuring that they draw customers to his part of town. Everything is not rosy in a tree-sitter's life. Martin de Bree of Northarrytown, N. Y., got in only eleven hours before the mosquitoes drove him from his perch. In sunny cities the rude and unsympathetic police have interfered with tree-sitters in the public parks. But the boys have been getting a barrel of fun out of it, and after all that's what vacation is for.

Tree-sitting is not the only form of endurance contest, however, in which boys are indulging this summer. Bicycle riding is going strong as an attraction. On Long Island the other day I watched two boys who were taking turns at riding a bicycle back and forth over a quarter of a mile of paved road.

"We're going to see how long it will take to wear the bicycle out," they informed me!

Donald Mohr and four other boys of Newark, N. J., were still taking turns at riding a bicycle around a city block in Irvington, after two weeks of continuous wheeling, as I write this. Jimmy Dooley of Hackensack and his team of five cycling endurance riders were hopeful of lasting longer than the Newark boys, because their bicycle was in better condition. In a dozen other New Jersey cities from one to five teams of boys were trying to break the cycling endurance record.

Nobody knows how long anyone has ever kept a kite in the air, but several teams of boys in the East are trying to set a record which will go down in history. Five days and nights is the longest period of success recorded as this is written.

Sundry teams of roller-skates, running in relays, are after a world's endurance record in that field also. And the girls have joined in, with day and night continuous swinging and sawing.

Altogether, it seems as if the children of America were having a pretty good time this Summer!

Anton Introduces New Sport To This Territory

Anton has a new sport, pitching washers. The sport, says Herbert Coekorell, has been going on so long it is almost old. These are two teams the same as in horseshoes or quoits. Each player pitches or tosses five washers a distance of about 12 or 15 feet, into a small depression. Points are counted and a game is either 60 or 100 points, according to agreement. The game most frequently is seen in front of the Anton Drug store, where nearly all day long one game at least is in progress.

Traffic congestion causes a loss to St. Louis estimated at $37,000,000 annually. Elimination of all downtown parking and construction of subways are recommended as essential remedies.

GRATEFUL LADY PAYS TRIBUTE TO NEW KONJOLA

Now Giving This New And Different Medicine to Her Children—Read Her Statement.

MRS. J. D. RHYNE

There is a reason why Konjola is America's best known medicine, and that reason can be summed up in just three words—Konjola makes good, even when all else tried has failed. Consider, as a typical example of Konjola's 32 ingredients at work, the case of Mrs. J. D. Rhyne, 616 East Eleventh street, Amarillo, who says:

"I was in a terrible condition for many years, with constipation, nervousness, indigestion and kidney and liver ills. It seemed no use to try medicines and treatments further, for I kept growing worse right along. I lost weight and had headaches and dizzy spells and bilious attacks. Food caused indigestion, and many a night I lay awake until two or three o'clock. But words can not express my surprise over what Konjola did for me. All of my ills have vanished and now I am giving Konjola to my children, and my husband is about to start the treatment.

Konjola is a medicine for all the family old and young. That is why Konjola is a household word in tens of thousands of American homes.

Konjola is sold in Littlefield, Texas, at the Eagle Drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

SECOND PRIMARY ELECTION RESULTS CAN BE RECEIVED IN LITTLEFIELD

Results of the second primary on Saturday, August 23, will be given out in Littlefield in practically the same manner as were the returns of the first primary on Saturday, July 26, according to E. C. Cundiff, who will again have charge of the information dissemination.

There will be a smaller number of candidates on which to ballot on August 23, compared with the first primary, and, according to Mr. Cundiff, an effort will be made to have the returns available much earlier than in the first contest. He said that all county returns probably will be available by midnight, or soon thereafter.

The returns will be posted on a large bulletin board, located on the vacant property opposite the First State Bank. Returns will be received by telephone and telegraph.

An effort will be made to furnish the results of state contests as rapidly as possible.

There will be a good bill on the screen at the Palace theater for those wishing some diversion between the receiving of the returns.

Special arrangements also are being made by Littlefield restaurants and drug stores to serve the great numbers who are expected to come to Littlefield to learn the election results.

Many thousands of people were attracted to Littlefield to learn the results of the first primary, and it is expected that practically as much interest will be manifested in the results of the second primary.

RAIN ASSURES BUMPER CROPS

Sufficient moisture to insure the "making" of late feed crops all over the South Plains was reported from nearly every section. Cotton also benefitted greatly by the rainfall.

Towns reporting more or less rain Thursday and Friday included: Brownfield, Seagraves, Ropesville, Seminole, Hobbs, Lamesa, Big Spring, Littlefield, Shallowater, Abernathy, Ackerly, Tahoka, O'Donnell, Meadow, Plainview, Monroe, Hale Center, Levelland, Morton, Slaton, Post Idalou, Southland, Anton, Amherst, Sudan, Olton, Clovis, Spur, Floydada, Lockney, Ralls, Crosbyton, Petersburg, and Silvertown.

Business Will Improve
Business men in a number of towns Friday and Saturday expressed the opinion that the rain would stimulate business all over the area.

"Farmers have not felt like spending much money because of the general dry conditions," one business man stated. "Now that we have had this rain it appears to me that the farmers will feel more cheerful and will be inclined to do a little more than just mere necessity purchasing."

Cotton men and ginners all over the South Plains are getting their gins in shape for the fall season. The rains will spur ginners on to making additional repairs, it was said.

OIL LEASE IN HOCKLEY COUNTY IS TRANSFERRED

Transfer of the lease for oil and mineral rights to four leagues of land less, 1,700 acres, in southwestern Hockley county north of the town of Ropesville, has been filed with the county clerk. Location is on the Ellwood properties.

The Ellwood estates about three years ago leased the land to the World Oil company, Inc., and this concern in turn transferred the lease to the Shell Petroleum company.

Property involved includes all of leagues 6 and 7, and league 8, except 850 acres and league 5 except 850 acres.

The location is between Smyer, in eastern part of the county, and Ropesville. It is understood that the World company made a test for oil on this location several years ago.

Only a few oil and gas leases are being recorded at this time. Hockley county has been the center of some interest in times past. About three or four years ago there was an extensive leasing campaign, but many of these leases have run out or lapsed Clerk J. W. Pearcey reports.

There has been no recent renewal of interest in leasing of land or sale of royalty.

SCHOOLS HERE TO SHOW INCREASE OF 182 SCHOLASTICS

A great many of the accomplishments can be credited to the Chamber of Commerce; others have been brought about by other organizations, and still others have been effected by organizations which have worked in conjunction with the Chamber of Commerce.

The members of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, and citizens generally, are high in their praise of J. W. Hale, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, who has a long list of accomplishments to his credit in the less than 11 months that he has been serving this city.

Marvelous Progress of the LITTLEFIELD -- LEVELLAND SECTION of the South Plains

U. S. Census Figures

Population	1920	1930
Lamb County	1175	17,449
Littlefield	225	3,218
Hockley County	137	9,297
Levelland	none	1,661

The major portion of this great increase has taken place in the past six years, and the government figures tell the true story of development.

All That is Necessary

at this time for the homeseeker or investor to decide as to the true worth of this section, is to be on the ground, open his eyes, take the authentic records of development, yield of crops, as well as many other advantages, and use his judgment.

FROM THE 1928 CROP

Lamb County ginned about 32,000 bales of cotton, and the town of Littlefield alone shipped over 1700 carloads of grain, not mentioning the large amount hauled out by truck of which no record was made.

FROM THE 1929 CROP

Lamb County ginned over 51,000 bales of cotton, which was the second largest production of any county west of Fort Worth. In addition, large shipments of grain were made.

PRICES AND TERMS THAT APPEAL

Our Yellow House and Spade lands, surrounded by development, consist of 100 per cent agricultural, also combination farm and ranch tracts, at prices and terms that appeal to the homeseeker and conservative investor.

Rid Your CHICKENS AND TURKEYS of Worms One Treatment of Parke-Davis C-A WORM CAPSULES

Kills Both LARGE ROUNDWORMS and TAPEWORMS in Chickens and Turkeys.

The harm produced by worms is chiefly due to the amount of nourishment they absorb from the intestinal tract at the expense of the birds they infest. When you feed worm-infested birds you are feeding the worms and helping them to grow to their full development at the expense of your flock. Further, it is a well known fact that intestinal worms excrete or throw off a poison, which, when absorbed, undermines the health and constitution of the bird.

Palace
in "Feet First"

When the director orders "Action" for a Harold Lloyd picture, that's exactly what he gets—and plenty of it. For the sagacious Harold of the horn-rimmed spectacles learned long ago that one of the chief qualities in a film, if it is to be a successful film, is the quality of action, action, and more ACTION.

Consequently every film this astute young comedian has ever produced has been a successful film. He has never allowed the action continuity to lag for a minute.

When he made his first talkie, "Welcome Danger," he was confronted with a problem: would dialog slow up action?

He attacked the problem with his customary vigor and as a result made a huge success of "Welcome Danger." As most folks will remember, dialog was not permitted to slow up action in that show. Rather, action carried dialog along with it. "Welcome Danger" was a happy teaming of the two, with a slightly greater burden on action than on dialog.

Now comes the most recent confection from the happy ha-ha house of Lloyd—"Feet First," which will be screened at the Palace theater Sunday and Monday.

It is crammed full with action. Of course, "Feet First" is a talking picture, and the lines are, in their proper places, funny, romantic, whimsical, uproarious, descriptive, tense. But the action carries the main burden of the production.

Audiences will see Harold in all kinds of scrapes. Just for an example, his boss' wife comes into the shoe store where he is clerk, to be fitted for a pair of shoes. At that moment a pretty girl stops nearby. Harold, in his confusion, gets the wrong shoes on the wrong foot and takes a terrible tongue-lashing. Then in trying to make amends, he nearly tears the soles out of the stockings of this haughty and important customer. When he learns she is the boss' wife—!

And then there is the breath-taking situation when he finds himself dangling in mid-air from a painter's scaffolding. Lurching, clutching at the ether, scrambling for a foothold, missing it, almost falling, a dozen times, to the street hundreds of feet below.

But those are only two incidents in a picture which, for thrilling, pulse-stopping, amusing, rollicking, and breath-taking action, one must see to appreciate.

Pep Paragraphs

The Community Club meeting of last Friday night was well attended. An interesting program was given. Mrs. G. C. Keith and Miss Jean Lupton each gave an entertaining reading. An interesting debate was held on the question—Resolved: That it is better to teach school a half day throughout the cotton picking season than to close schools a month at a time.

Mrs. Chas. Keith and Mrs. W. P. Lupton had the affirmative side of the question while H. J. Green and Chas. Sanders maintained the negative.

Each side argued its side of the question spiritedly. The decision as to the winning side was left to the audience, who decided in the affirmative.

Echoes from the primary room—Santa Claus in all his glory, driving his reindeer, borders the front black-board. The sand table tells the Christmas story. The three wise men are coming on their camels from the east. The shepherds are watching their flocks on the hills, while in the foreground the stable of Bethlehem is constructed very realistically. The infant Savior is lying in the manger.

When the manger was being constructed, the teacher said she would have to get some straw for the manger. Now the little boys in the primary room are very fond of their teacher. She knows how to smile and she has a heart that understands little boys. They serve on her slightest wish with the devotion of young knights errant. When little Jodie went home to lunch that day, there was no straw at home but that didn't discourage Jodie. He was determined his teacher should have that straw. Jodie has a way of getting what he wants when he wants it.

How Jodie manipulated the deal I do not know, but that evening two young men, mutual friends of Jodie and his teacher drove up to the school with a truck load of straw. The primary teacher was mystified when informed that a load of straw at the door awaited her disposal. When she heard Jodie's name mentioned in connection with the straw she understood at once. She was sorry she could use only a handful of the straw but she was just as grateful to all concerned as if she used it all.

where—Miss Lennox and Chittenham and I. It is pure chance that I came here today, something seemed to force me to come . . ."

"Poor Lawrence!" Julie whispered. He winced and turned his face away.

"I've been a fool—all my own fault . . . and yet—you never cared for me, Julie . . . I always knew that you never cared."

"I don't care for anyone," she said harshly. "I will never care for anyone again. It hurts too much—it's not worth the little happiness one gets flung to them in return."

They were both silent for a moment, then she broke out feverishly: "Why did you send my letter back to me? Why were you so cruel?"

He told her unhesitatingly: "A man named Lombard . . . a man named Chittenham. He said that you and he spent the night together on the St. Bernard . . ." He turned his sad eyes to her. "Forgive me, Julie—I must have been mad to have believed it."

"Forgive you? I don't understand—what do you mean?"

Then suddenly she knew, and the blood rushed in a burning tide to her face.

"You thought that!" she whispered.

"Yes."

The last streak of sunset warmth had faded, and there was a chill wind blowing in from the sea. Julie shivered and rose to her feet.

"It's cold. I must go."

"Let me come with you, Julie. Now I've found you—don't send me away like this—without saying you forgive me."

"It cannot matter to you whether I forgive you or not."

"It matters everything in the world, Julie, if there is anything I can do for you—anything, anything—to make amends for the past . . ."

Julie half smiled as she looked at him. It mattered so little to her that he had been unjust; he had never had any real power to hurt her; forgiveness between them would be an easy thing.

She touched his hand with sudden kindness.

"Don't let us say anything more about it, Lawrence, it's over and done with. We'll part friends, shall we?"

"And you will come back with me to England?" he asked eagerly.

Her face grew cold.

"Come back to England . . . I never want to go back again."

"But, Julie, your happiness—"

She laughed mirthlessly.

She tried to free herself:

"Yes." He released her wrist, but now she made no effort to leave him.
There was a haunting sadness in his eyes that held her against her will.
"But there is still Chittenham," he said very quietly.
Julie tried to speak but no words would come, and before she could resist he had drawn her down to sit beside him on one of the seats overlooking the sea, and was holding her hand in both his.
"We've been searching for you day and night, Julie—it seems a lifetime since you went away."
Her lip curled scornfully.
"A lifetime! Only two weeks—"
"Sometimes two weeks can be an eternity," he told her with unusual eloquence. He did not heed when she tried to interrupt him—he went on rapidly.
"So much seems to have happened
since . . . since you and I parted.
You know—" he stopped abruptly, only to go on again with quiet deliberation. "Chittenham's wife is dead
—Chittenham is free."
Julie tried to speak, but her lips felt too cold to frame any words. She sat staring before her at the fading sun with a sense of numbed reality.

was something comforting in the knowledge that she could so easily out the width of the sea between herself and the things from which she desired to escape.
She crossed to Ostend by the midday boat and took a room in a cheap little pension which at any rate had the merit of great cleanliness. And there Julie stayed for a fortnight, sleeping and resting, and trying to forget.
She never thought of Schofield—it was too bitter a memory. He had been the rock in her sea of distress to which she had always unconsciously clung, and he had failed her even as everything else had failed her.
And then one evening as she was walking along by the sea with the sunset light in her face, she met him.
He looked ill, she thought, and old!
And as her eyes searched his face, it seemed impossible that only a few days ago she had seen him and talked to him—surely months must have dragged away since she told him he must go out of her life.
And Schofield gripped her wrists with fingers that bruised, as he said hoarsely—"Thank God—I've found you."
Julie managed a laugh.
"Do you know that you actually sound sincere?" she taunted him.
"I was never more sincere in my life. Where can we go to be alone?
I have so much to say to you. . . ."
Julie glanced down at the almost deserted sea-front.
"If you have anything to say that must be said, I hardly think any one will over hear you. But I am in a hurry . . ." Her voice broke angrily. "Why are you here at all?"
"We have been hunting for you ever since you left London." His agitation was unmistakable; she could feel how his hand shook as he held her wrist.
Julie laughed again.
"We?" she queried.
"Yes—Giles Chittenham and myself."
"Giles Chittenham?" The color died from her face. "I am indeed

BASEBALL

By Embert Mueller

Many of the ardent baseball fans wonder what really happens in a spring training camp. How do the contestants take the hard knocks that confront them in their battle for a position on the team?

Those first few days in the training period are never to be forgotten. Muscles that have been idle during the winter are rejuvenated and reluctantly obey the impulse of the individual to use them. With few exceptions, the atmosphere carries to the inmates had longed for the chance to show their ability in fast company, are rewarded by being given the opportunity to show their mettle.

Shifting to the playing fields we see some pitchers in the making, warming up on the side lines. That fellow in the middle is muscle bound, his grimace of pain every time he throws, proves that his path to the pitching mound is uncertain. In the outfield a host of seemingly aged young men struggle after elusive fly balls, while on the infield progress is retarded by a similar scene of aching, throbbing, obstinate muscles. The daily routine of exercise, combined with the beneficial rubbing treatments of the club trainer, soon eradicate all semblance of aching muscles. The battle for supremacy then begins in earnest. The question is frequently asked, how can a manager judge the ability of every man in camp, when the number reaches 50 or 75 determined human beings? Every man that shows any natural ability of becoming league timber, will so assert his qualities by unconscious effort that he will stand out prominently, even in a crowd. These managers are mighty shrewd fellows, and are watching players when they least expect it, for example, I will relate an experience I had.

I was fielding ground balls around shortstop and was feeling exceptionally spry. The ball seemed to jump into my glove, as though a magnet was propelling it into the pocket. Childish like, I began to look around for the manager, to be sure he was noticing my antics. My search did not reveal my man. I had almost given up hope of finding him, when I was arrested by a cool voice behind me, and there stood Manager Phelan, in person. He had been pacing along back of the infield, the only place I had failed to look. Phelan informed me that my efforts were as awkward as a rank amateur's, while I stood by in open mouthed amazement. Time was called and we began a school session on fielding, much to my embarrassment.

Incidents both humorous and pathetic, occur frequently. I am reminded of the story related to me by an old timer, concerning a green rookie that had joined a club after spring training had begun.

This rank rookie reported for duty and when questioned concerning the position he played, he replied in the following manner:

"Well, I'll tell you, fella, down in Cedarville I was the whole team. I played third base most of the time, that bag was the weakest until I took it over. I pitched some, too. My in-drop was a dinger, and those ole country boys down there couldn't hit her. Say now, listen, mister, I can play any position; where do you need strength?"

The manager had listened intently to this greenhorn's chain of service down in Cedarville, and replied evenly:

"Son, I need strength to restrain me from doing bodily harm to a certain young fellow, but I know the need your services down in Cedarville more than we do here. So I'll let you go unmolested, but in case you play your kind of baseball I'll know and you can be captain."

HERE'S SOMETHING I CAN'T TELL MY HUSBAND

HOPE he reads this ad. That's the only way he'll know I'd rather have a Tiffin Model Magic Chef Gas Range than anything else in the world. He thinks all I like are dainty things to wear and would never believe I actually prefer a stove for Christmas. But what a stove!

This Tiffin is the most enchanting thing I've seen for years. It is to the kitchen what a grand piano is to the living room - a real mark of distinction. So compact, so colorful, so unusual; every woman falls in love with it at first sight. And all my friends who have them say they're perfect bakers.

I've always wanted a stove with a Red Wheel Oven Heat Regulator. I'm tired spending hours needlessly fretting in the kitchen. The Tiffin has a Red Wheel and every other modern improvement to make it easy to cook the kind of meals people praise.

Like other women, I prefer a gift I can share with the family, and we'd all enjoy the advantages of this wonderful, new gas range. The price of the Tiffin is almost unbelievable - it's so low. Maybe my husband will surprise me and have one installed. Here's hoping.

It is a GOOD Gas Range That Has This Red Wheel

ANTON

The farmers of Anton will gin 1000 or more bales of cotton this season if the weather allows them to save all their crops.

Hardy Grissom of Abilene, who purchased a large tract of land about 10 miles south of Anton, is now having two residences built, and making arrangements to put about 2200 acres in cultivation this winter, and have it ready for the coming planting season. He has purchased four tractors and other breaking equipment.

The first quarterly conference for the year 1930 and 1931 convenes at Anton Methodist church December 14. The Rev. C. A. Bickley, the presiding elder, will preach at 11 o'clock, and the business of the conference will be transacted at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Mrs. J. P. Minto underwent an operation at the Lubbock sanitarium recently, and is reported doing nicely.

W. E. Harper, who was taken to the hospital after being struck by an auto, is improving steadily.

POULTRY COURSE IS BEING CONDUCTED AT AMHERST SCHOOL

A poultry course is now in progress at the Amherst high school, and is being taught by Prof. J. E. Smith, local vocational agriculture teacher. The course started Monday, December 1, and will continue each Monday and Thursday night until 12 or 15 lessons have been given.

The problems of winter egg production for profit; of culling, caponizing, selecting breeders, the selection and care of hatching eggs, problems of incubation, brooding and proper housing of chicks, will be discussed. Then a discussion of the feeding problem, which is one of the secrets of success in any poultry enterprise, will be taken up. Next there will be a discussion of the prevention and treatment of diseases in poultry.

This course will be free to any man or woman who is interested in any way in poultry. The sessions start at 7:30 p. m.

Lubbock Housewife Testifies

"I've Suffered 15 Years and Since Taking One Bottle Argotane Feel Fine"

"I've had a long hard struggle with ill health but by the help of Argotane I have found relief at last," said Mrs. J. C. Harper of 506 Avenue K, Lubbock, Texas, while talking with the Argotane representative.

"I've had stomach trouble so bad for fifteen years that my life was miserable," she continued, "but I'm a lot better since I began taking Argotane. I was in such a run-down condition, I couldn't eat anything I wanted and was losing in weight and got weaker every day. After eating even the smallest meals I would have severe headaches and was weak and nervous, sometimes thought I would be compelled to stay in bed. I took all kinds of medicines but kept getting worse until I was discouraged and almost lost hope of finding anything that would help me.

"I read so much about Argotane that I decided to try it. It may be hard to believe, but it's the truth, I feel better than I have in fifteen years and I've just taken one bottle of Argotane. I am no longer bothered with my awful headaches, my appetite is splendid and I can eat anything I want without it hurting me in the least. My heart doesn't bother me as it did and I feel better in every way, my nerves are quiet now and I sleep fine every night. Buying Interest Is Increasing, Auto Manufacturer Says

DETROIT, Mich.—Pointed indications of a resumption of buying interest throughout the nation are manifest here in hundreds of reports on file at the home office of the Chevrolet Motor Co., revealing that the reception accorded the new 1931 Chevrolet Six during the early days of the national showing had only one parallel in the history of the company.

To meet the needs of dealers, the manufacturing organization consisting of twenty domestic plants is working on a tentative production schedule for the month of November of more than 6,000 cars. Despite the fact that this is a high goal for the month, the output of cars has already fallen considerably behind orders already booked, the sales division reported.

Telegrams from dealers and field officials in all parts of the country, offering an excellent cross-section of the public attitude, reveal that despite general business conditions unusual buying enthusiasm is being displayed. Particular interest is centering on the new sport models in the line, as well as the new commercial cars which are constantly accounting for a larger proportion of each year's output.

The price reductions, coupled with the increased size and improvements, attracted to dealer showrooms crowds estimated as second only to the attendance during the early showing of the new six at the time of the change-over from the four-cylinder car in 1928. Many points reported a greater number of appraisals than in any previous year, and when the tabulation of orders now being made is completed, the mark for the first fifteen days is expected to compare favorably with any similar period during a normal year.

The reception the new car received throughout the country lent substance to the statements of Chevrolet officials that business conditions during the year were due primarily to a buyers' strike, and that an upward trend is imminent. To lend impetus to this move, Chevrolet advanced by seven weeks the date for the announcement of the new models, and thus insured extraordinary activity during two normally dull months for the thousands of people directly dependent upon the company for a livelihood.

Raising Broom Corn Successfully In This Section

This section of Lamb county this year has had a large acreage in broom corn and farmers who have had the crop have made good money, it is reported.

Most of the acreage is on land to the south of Littlefield. The crop was planted largely by farmers who came in to this section from around Lindsay, Okla., and other broom corn sections. Knowing of the crop there, they planted it in their new location and with satisfactory results.

SAND HILL CLUB

The Sand Hill club met at Mrs. Morris Womack's home recently. Fourteen members and three visitors were present. Seven different kinds of candy were made. Also various articles were shown, which make very pretty inexpensive Christmas gifts. We meet again December 21 at the courthouse at 2 o'clock. Every member is requested to come and bring a visitor. THE PUNISHMENT

They Get in the First Few Minutes Decides How Long They Will Last

And so it is with your motor... 40% to 60% of all motor wear occurs in the first few minutes after starting, because ordinary oils drain away in idle periods. But CONOCO Germ-Processed oil is always on guard duty, never drains away, penetrates metal surfaces, reduces starting wear.

A step on the starter always takes ordinary oils away, and it is then that most damage occurs in your motor. By draining away during idle periods, ordinary oils "let down their guard" and let your motor in for severe punishment at a time when protection is vitally needed.

On the other hand, Germ-Processed oil always has its guard up. Its film penetrates and clings to every working part while the motor is idle.

The first motor revolution finds ready lubrication guarding every clearance. The 40% to 60% of wear which might have taken place before you ever shift a gear is substantially reduced.

Thousands of motorists have found that this improved motor oil prolongs motor life and gives better all-round performance. You can find CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil wherever you see the CONOCO Red Triangle.

The biggest and best exclusive dairy show ever held in Texas is the aim and plan of the directors of the Texas Panhandle-Plains Dairy show, who met in Plainview, twenty strong, to plan the details of the fourth annual show which will be held in Plainview, its permanent home, April 6, 7, 8, and 9, 1931.

"This year above all years, dairying and dairy farming have meant more to the Panhandle-Plains section of Texas than any other industry that we have, and our dairy show should be more widely supported than ever before. It behooves us to give especial attention to make that the greatest show of them all," President Sid J. Payne, of Tulia, said in opening the directors meeting, which lasted for over two and a half hours.

Two departments were expanded and one reorganized without affecting the total amount of premiums offered by the show. The Dairy Calf Club show department will be stressed more this year under the leadership of E. R. Duke, county agent of Hartley county, and newly appointed superintendent of this department. A county group in each of the divisions, Jerseys, Holsteins, and Guernseys was added, and the premiums more widely distributed in the other classes.

COTTON MOVING OUT

LEVELLAND—More than 8,000 bales of cotton have been shipped out of Levelland, over the Santa Fe, according to reports. Levelland has four gins and there are more than that number in the territory surrounding the town.

Increased Buying Denotes Prosperity, Says Tractor Dealer

The increase in the buying of farm machinery indicates the advancement of prosperity in Texas, in the opinion of Charles A. Seikman, manager of the Dallas office of the Oliver Farm Equipment Sales Co., who recently received a solid trainload of some 30 cars of tractors, valued in excess of $200,000, to be distributed to dealers in Texas.

Mr. Seikman said the large shipment of tractors "is proof of the stability of Texas business and its farming industry, as well as of the faith and confidence of my firm in this state's future."

All of the tractors were sold before shipping, and the shipment will be followed by another shipment by the same firm of $150,000 worth of special tractor farming equipment, which will arrive during December and January for immediate distribution to farmer buyers.

The train of tractors was carried over the T. & P. lines all of the way from the factory in Charles City, Iowa, to Dallas, where the train was broken up and shipments made to various dealers all over Texas.

L. E. Davanay, local dealer for the Oliver line, received two carloads of the tractors, and according to the Dallas News, only two other cities in Texas received shipments this large. Dallas and Corpus Christi received two cars each.

Conoco Is Back On Air With Programs Of Unusual Merit

Good news for radio listeners is contained in the announcement by the Continental Oil Co. that Conoco is back on the air again with a new type of program.

The feature of this radio hour is that the listeners themselves have a hand in building the programs. The broadcast will be known as the Conoco Listeners' Hour and will be on the air once a week for 26 weeks from 17 stations scattered throughout the country.

The radio audience will be represented in the studio by Pat and Peggy Patterson, an average young married couple. Pat and Peggy will supervise the programs from a listener's point of view. In arranging the broadcasts they will be guided by the ideas, criticisms and suggestions sent in by other listeners throughout the country.

The programs will be of the musical and variety type. In addition to Pat and Peggy, the regular program staff will consist of the Conoco orchestra and the "Rondoliers," a male quartette. Each week an outstanding personality from the world of music, art, the theater, etc., will be featured.

Among those who will appear on the programs are Bud Gisher, cartoonist, creator of "Mutt and Jeff"; Frank Umbraco, accordionist; Roy Cropper, tenor, who sang the lead in "Hit The Deck," "The Student Prince," and other shows; Betsy Ayres, popular radio soprano; Bobbie Watson, comedian of the "Follies" and the "Winter Garden"; Margaret Speaks, niece of Oley Speaks, the composer, who will sing his songs; and Blanche Ring, musical comedy and light opera star.

Conoco is not a newcomer on the air. Last year's "Conoco Adventurers" series was very successful and Continental officials believe the new type of program will prove even more popular.

The Conoco Listeners' Hour will be broadcast every Monday evening in this territory by WFAA, Dallas, from 6:30 to 7.

Texas is growing more industrially minded and its ambitious communities are adopting the idea that "large trees from small acorns grow," the selfsame idea that has brought industrial development in the North and East.
