House Committee Approves British Aid Measure

FOUR AMENDMENTS ADDED TO STATUTE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30 (AP) — The administration's British-aid bill was approved by the house foreign affairs committee today after efforts to write in a financial limit had been defeated.

The committee's action cleared the way for house debate of the measure, probably Monday.

Vote on final approval was taken quickly after the committee had defeated a proposal to place a $2,000,000,000 limit on transactions under the bill.

When the committee broke up, Chairman Bloom (D-NY), announced the bill was reported out for house action with four major amendments adopted yesterday, but he decided to disclose the vote by which the committee gave its approval, saying "you'll have to ask individual members about that."

Other sources reported the vote was 17 to 8.

Bloom disclosed that in the last few minutes of its meeting, the committee had rejected six amendments, ranging from an entirely new bill based on loans of money to Great Britain to a proposal to strike out a section authorizing the secretary of war and navy to acquire arms and ammunition in a foreign country.

The four amendments which were approved by the committee would:

Limit the operation of the bill to the period ending June 30, 1945.

Require the president to consult with army and navy chiefs before disposing of any war material produced specifically for the defense of the United States.

Require the president to report to congress at least every 90 days on transactions under the bill, except that he would not have to disclose information he considered incompatible with the public interest.

Provide specifically that nothing in the bill grants any power for the president to order naval vessels into service to escort cargo convoys.

The committee action today was taken about the time James W. Gerard, World war ambassador to Berlin, testified before the senate foreign relations committee that the nazis would "seize" Mexico if Great Britain were defeated. He said he favored declaration of war against Germany.

Testifying before the senate foreign relations committee, the elderly former diplomat asserted he could see no hope for a negotiated peace.

"I think the American people, like the British, would rather die standing and free than kneeling in appeasement before the nazis," Gerard declared.

"We are faced by what they call a blitz war—a lightning war—and this bill provides a lightning defense. This is no time for parley and meetings. We can trust our president with these powers—powers which he may have to exercise at a moment's notice in the world and our civilization is to be saved."

It was the third big Italian citadel captured by the British since Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell's army of the Nile launched a counter-offensive into Libya last Dec. 15, following in the wake of Bardia and Tobruk.

Bengasi, base of Fascist Marshal Rodolfo Graziani's forces, is apparently the next objective of the British onslaught. It lies 150 miles west of Derna.

Bardia fell Jan. 5 and Tobruk Jan. 22.

British and German warplanes violently shattered a 10-day lull in aerial warfare overnight, with RAF bombers smashing at the big German naval base of Wilhelmshaven while nazis raiders again showered death and destruction on London.

Undetermined casualties resulted from the wrecking of an officers' billet adjoining a London hospital. One body was recovered as rescue workers dug through the rubble to reach others believed trapped.

The empire capital had three daylight alarms by mid-afternoon, with "some" fatalities.

In a northwest English town, a low-flying German plane sprayed the streets with machine-gun bullets as citizens ran for shelter.

Hitler's high command acknowledged numerous civilians were killed and wounded by British raiders attacking two localities on the northwest coast of Germany, but asserted the damage was limited "exclusively" to residential sections and a work camp.

As an aftermath of the bloody revolt in Rumania last week, it was officially announced that more than 2,000 rebels, including 32 "gun women," had been arrested in Bucharest alone, along with the seizure of 32,655 machine-guns, rifles, revolvers and hand grenades and almost 400,000 rounds of ammunition.

The appointments as tax commissioner were criticized in the senate on the grounds Halle in reality was a resident of Kansas.

Halle was named to the pardons board for a six-year term expiring Feb. 1, 1947. He would succeed J. E. Keith of Stephenville.

The salary of a board member is $3,600 a year.

Red Cross To Conduct First Aid Class Here

Forty Expected At Course Starting Monday Night

Dr. Frank R. Boyle, chairman of Howard county Red Cross first aid instruction, announced Thursday that a Red Cross-sponsored first aid course in first aid would be inaugurated Monday at 7 p. m. in the city hall courtroom. The course is to meet three hours five nights per week over a two weeks' period.

The program will be conducted under the direction of Roger Plaisted of St. Louis, field man for the Red Cross. Plaisted is well-known to local people, having been in Big Spring on previous occasions to supervise a life saving course.

First aid students from over the West Texas area are expected to take part in the study, Dr. Boyle said. A similar course was conducted in Texarkana recently to take care of the eastern part of the state.

"We expect about 40 people in all to attend the course of instruction," Dr. Boyle stated. He added, "I didn't expect the thing to be quite so large but call for information from El Paso and Abilene lead me to believe it is going to be a pretty big thing."

The course is open to all who have passed the standard first aid course. This training is due to be of special interest to state employees, since the state government hopes at some time to give all its workers a foundation in first aid.

Dr. Boyle is supervisor of instruction for the training school. Theory of first aid will be given in the city courtroom, with field work carried out in the fire department's recreation hall.

Those completing the thirty-hour course will be given an instructor's certificate from the Red Cross and will then be qualified to teach first aid.

Dr. Boyle said five first aid students would come from Lubbock, three from El Paso, five from Pecos, five from San Angelo, five or six from Abilene, and three from the local high school.

Procrastination

FORT WORTH, Jan. 30 (AP)—Let this be a lesson in restraint to employees who are eager to get their clutches on every pay check.

Mrs. A. W. Spencer of Stephenville only today got around to collecting her wages for a partial week's work at a packing plant (Swift & Co.) 23 years ago.

Explaining that it was the first opportunity she had to get back here in all the 23 years, Mrs. Spencer appeared at the office and within five minutes E. F. Walker, assistant personnel director, had placed her original pay check in her hand—a somewhat belated wedding present.

It was for $6.55.

Navy Gets Fund For Air Defense

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30 (AP)—Legislation authorizing a $400,000,000 expenditure to increase the navy's protection against air attack was signed today by President Roosevelt.

It was the first bill passed at this session of congress.

Under its terms the navy is authorized to install anti-aircraft guns and armor on 86 combat ships and 103 auxiliary craft already in service.

The additional defenses were requested by the navy as a result of lessons learned from the war in Europe.

Burns Receives Court Judgment

Judgment for John L. Burns was granted in 70th district court Thursday, permitting him to get passage over land controlled by C. E. McDaniel, Jr. and the City of Big Spring.

The court held, however, that the defendant was entitled to have gates locked and ordered that keys be made available to all interested parties. Cost incurred by reason of the City of Big Spring being insured herein was assessed against the plaintiff.

THEFT THWARTED

HOUSTON, Jan. 29 (AP)—Charles A. Toca, vice president of the American Aircraft Engine corporation, said today he had thwarted what he believed was an attempt to steal the plans for three airplane engines which the company is building for government consideration in the national defense program.

Willkie Has Fun His Own Way In London Pubs And Streets

LONDON, Jan. 30 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie had his way today, paying an unassorted call on London's off-quoted man-in-the-street and man-in-the-pub, drinking and talking with the "boys" and playing darts—the last with a losing score.

The American visitor jammed considerable of London into his tour. He is curtailing his visit, starting for home next week.

He said he would be delighted to appear before the United States senate committee hearing on the aid-to-Britain bill when he was told that Senator Nye, isolationist leader, had said Willkie should be heard.

At the first place visited, also a pub, Willkie was readily recognized by a group of soldiers and other customers. The proprietor invited him behind the bar.

Secretary Says 65 Billions Is Enough Debt

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30 (AP)—Secretary Morgenthau said today that army and navy plans for great purchases were overly optimistic and a $65,000,000,000 public debt limit should cover all needs of the next fiscal year, regardless of needs of the aid-to-Britain program.

"If congress passes the loan-lending bill, and I am sure they will," the treasury head told his press conference, "whatever orders are placed by the army and navy, the productive capacity of the country is such that they will not be able to draw on the treasury in excess of the president's program whatever the amount of British aid turns out to be."

He explained that he had several reasons for believing the proposed debt limit, which he advocated in a house hearing yesterday, would be sufficient.

"I think the army and navy estimates of expenditures are optimistic x x x their eyes are bigger than their stomachs."

"If the army and navy do spend as much as they expect, the president has estimated the debt of June 30, 1942, will be about $55,000,000,000, and with a $65,000,000,000 limit, we will have a $7,000,000,000 cushion to take care of the British."

"The productive capacity of the country is limited so that it might be impossible for both the army and navy and the British to buy all they want to buy, and one of the other might have to reduce its requirements accordingly."

The secretary declined flattery to give any indication of how large the British aid program might be.

Job Selling At Abilene Camp Probed

ABILENE, Jan. 30 (AP)—Investigation of alleged job selling in connection with construction of Camp Barkeley, a new $5,000,000 training center project, brought Alex C. Cason, III, investigator of the Texas attorney general's office, to Abilene here today.

Cason, member of the anti-trust and law enforcement division under Attorney General Gerald C. Mann, said his attorney general had received numerous reports of job selling.

"We do not know that this practice is being followed here, but in view of what has happened at other national defense projects we believe the charges warrant an investigation," Cason said.

Cason sought out complainants for interviews last night and planned to return to Austin today. He said he would return to Abilene next week.

Crowded In Undersized Rooms -- Negro Kids Do School Work Eagerly

By HELEN POOL. Coats, large and small and some dangling to the floor, hung damply under the window sill, one on top of the other. It was there the only place and only way there was to hang them in the crowded stuffy room more than 20 Big Spring negro boys and girls call "school."

On at one side one wide-eyed youngster sat quietly plating another's hair. Here was a little fellow who turned questioning eyes on the visitor. Others were trying to get a "look-see" at the sixth grade rhythmic lesson that was in the throes of being born.

Out of this confusion, J. H. Allen, the principal, called for a little less noise and more order.

Poll Payment Deadline Only One Day Away

Total Issued Slightly Lower Than Same Date Year Before Last

Down the homestretch headed prospective voters Thursday as the deadline for paying poll taxes moved to within one day.

At noon Thursday the total stood at 2,569 plus 99 exemption certificates. This was 144 less polls than the 2,713 issued as of the same time two years ago. Exemptions totals were only three behind the comparable date in 1938, the previous "off" election year.

Deadline for paying poll taxes and securing exemption certificates was Friday evening. The same applied on all ad valorem taxes.

County, state, common and independent school district tax payments were in good shape, but the city was still lagging behind its goal, H. W. Whitney, city tax collector, said. That payments were quickening, but that they had yet to reach the "boom" proportions characteristic of the last few days.

Taxpayers were reminded that starting Feb. 1 current taxes become delinquent and draw a one per cent penalty and half a cent interest. Thereafter, each month one per cent penalty and half a per cent interest is added until July when the penalty jumps to eight per cent and the interest keeps on piling up monthly as long as delinquency continues.

All citizens who would vote in any election during 1941 must secure poll taxes or exemptions if they reside within Big Spring. They must secure them not later than Friday.

Farmer Receives 42 Cents Of Food Dollar

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30 (AP)—The farmer's share of the consumer's food dollar averaged 42 cents last year, the agriculture department said today.

This share compared with 41 cents in 1939, a modern-day peak of 60 cents in 1917 and a record low of 33 cents in 1933. The department said, however, that advances in farm prices in December had boosted the farm share to 45 cents at the beginning of 1941.

ABILENE, Jan. 30 (AP)—Col. James C. Styrone, chief of staff of the army's 45th division, was here with two other officers today to inspect Camp Barkeley, to which their command will be transferred from Fort Sill.

Nazi Claims No Quarrel With USA

BERLIN, Jan. 30 (AP)—Adolf Hitler said today that "Germany has no quarrel with the American people," but declared that if "non-European powers try to intervene here, Europe will rise. Every ship that comes within the reach of our torpedoes will be torpedoed."

These words drew the longest applause of his entire one-hour and 32-minute speech in Berlin's great Sportsplatz, where nazi party men and the government celebrated the eighth anniversary of Hitler's rise to power.

"Germany never attacked the American continent," Hitler said. Then followed, to a tumult of cheering, his reference to "non-European" intervention and the torpedoing.

For his immediate hearers and the entire nation at its radios he predicted "victory within the year."

"The period lying behind us has already practically decided this war.

"France has been defeated and England crowded off the continent," the Fuehrer said, in the shadows of banners saying, "victory is with our colors."

"We are standing on this continent and where we are standing nobody can crowd us off.

"When the hour comes, we will land a decisive blow."

Turning to the British he asked: "What are they hoping for? For America."

"I can only say we have calculated every possibility. There will be victory within the year. Germany has no quarrel with the American people. x x x

"This time you do not find a weakened Germany, but one that is highly mobilized and full of fight."

"As regards Italy, let no one invent revolutions in Milan, but let them rather look out so there will not be revolutions in their own countries."

"We will settle scores, square mile for square mile, the Duce and I are neither Jews nor monsters."

"Perhaps they are hoping for other states they can drag in. I do not know, but you who know me will realize that every contingency has, in a master-of-fact manner, been calculated."

"One English statesman figures out I have made seven mistakes in the past year. I checked up and found I had made 734 mistakes, but my enemies 4,385,000."

There was laughter at this juncture.

Hitler devoted 25 minutes of the address to a bitter attack on the British empire, which he described as the product of 300 years of robbery. He called Britain the most "anti social" state in the world, "a paradise for a few, continuous misery for the masses."

"The lie is constantly spread around the world that the authoritarian states want to conquer the world. In reality our enemies are the ones who have the lust of conquest," Hitler said.

House Passes Lower Rate Unemployment Tax Statute

AUSTIN, Jan. 30 (AP)—Emergency bills to cut the unemployment compensation tax in half and to preserve the state's mineral rights in lands leased to the war department were passed unanimously today by the house of representatives.

The tax reduction measure already had been approved by the senate, and therefore awaits only Governor W. Lee O'Daniel's signature before becoming law. Its effective date is March 31.

The bill sent to the senate was intended primarily to bring about the lease instead of federal government condemnation of a large coastal area wanted for a bombing range. It was amended to provide that commercial fishermen or other interested residents could protest at a hearing before leases are executed.

Rep. Price Daniel of Liberty, the bill's author, opposed the amendment on grounds that the federal government might be unwilling to wait until after a hearing can be held.

"Mr. Giles (Bassett Giles, state land commissioner) told me," Daniel said, "that the federal government was willing to hold up condemnation proceedings until the legislature could pass this bill but he did not know whether it would consent to any further delay."

Reps. Howard Harzaog of Port Lavaca and Jimmy Phillips of Angleton, sponsors of the amendment, answered that a hearing would require very little time. They admitted that protests against the bombing range by commercial fishermen probably would have no effect but said that any citizen feels better if allowed to air his grievances.

ELKS TO MEET. A meeting of the local Elks lodge has been called for 8 o'clock tonight by Boyd McDaniel, exalted ruler. Initiations and other important work will be taken up.

British Repair Port At Tobruk

ABOARD A BRITISH WARSHIP AT TOBRUK, Libya, Jan. 30 (AP)—To maintain the momentum of the British drive across Libya, the Royal Navy and engineers are swiftly rehabilitating this captured port and are turning it into an advance supply base more than 200 miles from the nearest railroad in Egypt.

Their first task after Tobruk fell Jan. 22 was the removal of Italian mines guarding the entrance to the harbor. This done, the British turned to clearing away the wreckage of 17 Italian ships, whose submerged hulls menaced transports coming in with men and supplies and moving out with thousands of fascist prisoners bound for internment camps in Egypt.

Divers still labored in the harbor today, searching for sunken wrecks.

Among the submerged vessels were the old Italian cruiser San Giorgio and three destroyers, which the fascists destroyed after they had been hammered by British guns and bombs.

Besides these craft there were at least 15 supply ships sunk, and the passenger steamer Liguria, which formerly plied between Italy, Egypt and Libya, still was burning. Two seaplanes were wrecked.

One large Italian freighter loaded with coal was untouched.

Club Woman Has Been Named As Demonstrator

Women of the Hiway home demonstration club made Mrs. L. C. Matthews club demonstrator for 1941, and for good cause, too.

Mrs. Matthews has been demonstrating just this thing for a long time without a tittle. So well has she done her work as a housewife that her sales of poultry, eggs, cream and other articles has paid for what supplementary foods are needed, leaving enough surplus to buy gasoline and clothes for the family.

Her "demonstration" includes supplies of meat, grain, dairy and poultry products in addition to fruits and vegetables. Currently, the Matthews family still has six pigs to butcher for home food supply. Always the family has a supply of pork for the year around, with the exception of a little fresh bacon in the late summer.

The Matthews go no further than their farm for their annual supply of poultry and dairy products. Occasionally they kill a beef for home consumption.

Due to a limited water supply, Mrs. Matthews has no irrigated garden, but when the season is good she has a varied field garden, canning much surplus for winter use.

One of her goals for 1941 is a frame garden so that she may have fresh vegetables at all seasons to supplement her stock of canned and cured vegetables and meats.

Fruit production is uncertain, so Mrs. Matthews gets around this obstacle by buying fruits in quantities for canning when the trucking market is glutted in the summer.

This year she is keeping accurate records on her home food supply and is insuring a balanced diet for her family.

Miss Laneous Notes

By MARY WHALEY

It's an odd thing about children. Most of them are so uncomplacent and simple that they make adults seem foolish. They have no caste system, no feelings of obligation, and no inhibitions.

Little ones do not know that there are some things that must be done with deference, some with a patronizing air, and stand in fear of others.

Watch a child sometime. His elders sit in stony silence and watch with wary, wary eyes their contemporaries. But when a little child appears, he starts a tour of investigation. He is by turns shy, forward, backward and bold. No one can resist him.

Old dodgers with lines of meanness and hate in their faces, bend down and smile and the child doesn't notice anything but the smile. Others judged by world standards and labeled liar, thief, and sinner, are moved to give him gifts of candy, pennies, and such.

When the child has made his rounds, he comes back satisfied. He knows they all like him, he likes them and all feel reassured. Maybe it was by accident and maybe by design that the child ignored a man in the corner. The grown-ups would seek him out for his favors and position, but the child knows. He can sense friendliness and there is none in his corner.

Colorado City Football Squad Feted By Club

COLORADO CITY, Jan. 30—Members of the 1940 football squad of Colorado City high school were feted by the Hiwayer club with a dinner at First Methodist church Tuesday evening.

The team, coached by John L. Dibratt with Tommy Beane as assistant, won the regional championship.

A miniature of Colorado City's Cantrell field centered the main table. A rose bowl and a sugar bowl centered one side table, a cotton bowl and an orange bowl the other. The school colors, scarlet and black, were used. Trophies were arranged on a center table.

Mrs. Nat Thomas, Hiwayer president, was toastmaster. Mrs. J. G. Merritt had the invocation. Singing was led by Johnny Grubbs of the football squad with Mrs. E. L. Latham accompanying.

Popular music was played during the meal by Ethel Coffey, who later presented her kindergarten rhythm band in several numbers.

At 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening a service for young people was held in the church auditorium with Billy Louise Standefer of Lamesa presiding. A song service led by Ella Frances Scott opened the meeting. Mattie Moore gave the devotional. Ernestine Gambill sang "Evening Prayer," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Weldon Lindsey.

Billy Louise Standefer introduced Mrs. J. M. White, WMO president of district 8, who gave a talk on the girls' emancipation, to be held next July. Others introduced included Mrs. R. O. # People Of Nation Dance And Donate To Aid Crippled

Local People To Aid Cause One Day Late

Big Spring's contribution to the president's infantile paralysis fight comes Friday night, instead of Thursday night.

While most of the nation dances and gives for the aid of the crippled tonight, Big Spring's three balls are being held a day late in order to secure better orchestras, according to G. C. Dunham, county chairman.

Dances will be held tomorrow night at the Settles hotel, the Crawford hotel and the Elks club the latter place to be the scene of old-time dancing. Tickets will be $1.65 per couple, and are good for admission to any and all dances. Sandy Banderson's orchestra will play at the Settles. This group has played all season at Hotel Lubbock, and is popular with dance crowds in that area. At the Crawford, Gerald Liberty's orchestra will play, the regular ensemble to be supplemented with an electric organ.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief
Many sufferers relieve nagging backaches quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 1 pint a day. When diseased, kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, settling up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Nation Greet Man In White House With Parties For Charity

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30 (AP)—The nation said "happy birthday" today to the man in the White House.

President Roosevelt was 69—a bit grayer for the passing of another twelve months, and with deeper creases around his blue eyes. But the broad shoulders showed little sag, despite the strenuous burdens of two terms, and the war-beset responsibilities of a third.

Anniversary or not, the day brought Mr. Roosevelt scant respite from the cares of office. Apart from a flood of greetings and congratulations, it meant the usual hours at his desk, the usual work, the usual run of appointments.

For tonight, however, a dinner and party will be given at the White House for intimate friends who have gathered around the president every Jan. 30 since 1921. Throughout the land, other Americans by the thousands will

Here And There

H. A. Craven swears that Wednesday was his lucky day. Accepting a ride from a friend, he got out midway in the 900 block on Main street and walked across to his house. When he got home, he reached for his pay check and it was gone. After a frantic search, he had the bank stop payment on the check. Returning to where he got out of the car, he found the check lying in the street.

No injuries were reported when cars driven by Sonny Buebe and G. E. Smith were in collision on W. 3rd street Wednesday evening. The machines, however, were damaged as one car turned left across the street and another caught it broadside.

A bicycle belonging to P. S. Wilkins was reported stolen from the 900 block on Runnels street Wednesday, but it was later returned, police said Thursday.

It's hard to hurt an Irishman. Mickey Holmes, city street sweeper, suffered cuts about his head and ears when struck shortly after midnight by a car driven by G. L. Graham. Coahoma. He was treated at the Big Spring hospital and released.

D. T. Mann is minus a good tire and tools someone stole from his car while it was parked in the 1000 block on Johnson street Wednesday night.

The millinery department formerly at Toby's dress shop has been moved to Lloyd's shop on Main street, it was reported Thursday.

Three Mexican boys were given a good talking at the police station Wednesday after a city officer had caught them in a game of dice, or craps, if you prefer.

Officers delivered a death message to Earl Evans Tuesday night after relatives at Robert Lee had been unable to contact him. He left for that place on receiving the call.

Villa Walker, who gave Abilene as home, had a difficult time in getting her baggage from a travel unit man. She complained to authorities that she had been put from a car at Midland and when she caught up with the man here, he refused to relinquish her baggage. Officers intervened, and she got her grips back.

From the Methodist information bureau comes word that Texas is well represented with bishops, having 400 per cent more than its quota if they were assigned one to a state. Bishop Frank A. Smith, dine, dance and dig into their pockets at birthday balls and other celebrations to help finance a campaign against infantile paralysis, a movement to which Mr. Roosevelt has dedicated each birthday since he became president.

It was that disease which weakened the chief executive's legs and gave him his biggest handicap. Yet, by keeping him confined closely to his desk, friends say it has been partly responsible for his ability to handle a tremendous volume of work.

The money raised by the birthday celebrations goes to research institutions, to hospitals, and to agencies which help victims of poliomyelitis.

In Washington, there will be receptions, parties, balls, special programs at theatres, and more than a dozen movie, radio and sports stars making the rounds of all of them with Mrs. Roosevelt.

Midland has included a couple of Big Spring men as directors in its annual rodeo, scheduled for the Labor Day season. They are M. M. Edwards and Curtis Driver.

Figures Show Balls Actual Aid In Fight

By STEPHEN J. McDONOUGH Associated Press Science Writer.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30 (AP)—The people who dance tonight at the president's birthday balls are actually helping others to walk, statistics of the U. S. public health service demonstrate.

Profits from the dances and other celebrations honoring Mr. Roosevelt's 69th birthday help finance the fight against infantile paralysis.

"Polio" cases reported to the health service dropped from a high of 18,790 in 1931, shortly before the annual birthday balls were started, to 1,705 in 1938. Although the number of cases increased from the 1938 low to 7,348 in 1939 and 9,700 in 1940, at the same time the number of deaths decreased markedly in ratio to cases reported. A proportionate decline was noted in the number of days of illness in the patients under treatment.

Federal Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt said today "the most hopeful story on infantile paralysis is that we now know how to take care of its victims so that the tragic effects of the disease can be lessened and the crippled restored to normal life."

Research workers are striving at present to isolate the virus which causes the malady to determine the way it is transmitted, and to discover means of preventing the disease or treating it quickly after it is acquired.

During the past year, McNutt said, new reservoirs of the infection have been discovered, and new methods of prevention have been tried.

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Jan. 30. The patients of the Warm Springs Foundation will dine tonight in Georgia Hall around a birthday cake "iced" with dime.

The silver cake is a symbol for the birthday of President Roosevelt, whose "Little White House" is here. The dime were contributed by patients as their part in the campaign against infantile paralysis. Mr. Roosevelt has sent one of his birthday gifts, an electrical organ, to the Foundation patients.

Tools Recovered

Jess Andrews had recovered a chest of tools reported stolen Wednesday, the sheriff's department said Thursday. He discovered the tools in a clump of brush and weeds about 200 yards from his house at 200 State street.

Lookin' 'em Over

WITH JACK DOUGLAS

According to present plans a crew of Big Spring bowlers will trek up to St. Paul in the spring to take part in one of the country's greatest sporting events, the American Bowling Congress.

All-Stars Edge Hotel Bowlers

Billy Simon's All-Stars edged out the Douglas Hotel bowlers Wednesday night in a matched game that is scheduled to be the first of a series of warmup sessions for the Hotelmen preparatory to entry in the American Bowling Congress tournament in St. Paul, Minn. The Douglas Hotel bowlers are due to enter the national meet late in April.

Ward Hall of the All-Stars was high point man of the evening, with a 321-620 series. Pete Howze's 200-266 was high for the losers.

Box score:

All-Stars	Hotelmen
Hall . . . . .178 231 211	Richardson . . . . .150 189 201
Hepner . . . . .202 179 187	Loper . . . . .195 171 205
LaBieu . . . . .189 180 186	Howze . . . . .183 209 193

School Faces Big Problem Of Registration

It requires patience to sit quietly and change or make adjustments on 836 schedules, which students will follow now that a new term has begun at the Big Spring high school.

If you don't think so, ask J. A. McCoy, principal, who has spent the entire week trying to point out to Johnny Jones that algebra is a required subject and that he must study it for two years. Every student has his particular problem, thus causing a traffic jam in the office and a headache for the teachers.

Three students, Grover Blisard, Osborn Newton and Stewart Merck have completed their high school courses but will receive diplomas at the commencement exercises in May.

grand scale, and judging from reports must be quite a sight. Imagine a sporting event with not just a few contestants in the ring, but thousands of 'em.

Jake Douglas, mine host at one of the local inns, is slated to be a sort of ramrod for the Big Spring delegation to the better half of the twin cities.

Jake takes his bowling seriously but will not be lonely at the meet, because, next to a golfer, a bowler is just about the most keenly interested semi-athlete one can find. One can say that the kegler even has the edge on a diver, since sometimes one of the latter will lose control to the extent that he will give his clubs a toss into the nearest patch of cactus.

But take a bowler—he strolls over to the chalk pot, methodically rubs his hands, picks out a ball to suit his taste, gives it a push down the alley and then, hit or miss, goes back to his seat, crosses his legs and gazes into space.

The American Bowling Congress is something more than just a sporting event, though. It reaches into all classes of people for its followers. Unlike some games, the business of rolling 'em down the lanes is anybody's game.

Young or old, rich or poor, the game fits into the needs and qualifications of all groups; and they'll all be represented at the national meet.

In all, more than 30,000 teams, from Bangkok to Burbank, will be listed if the past records are any indication. Multiply that number by five team members and the total will make 150,000 set-up-and-knock-em-down boys.

Basketball activity around Big Spring has picked up considerably lately. With the Major-City League finally in the saddle and the Big Spring Steer cagers showing a bit more promise, court work might draw more spectators.

Concerning the Steers, Coach John Daniels said Wednesday that a combination of good breaks and improved playing style helped them in their win over Lamosa Tuesday night but the local lads would need more than those two things to allow them a chance in the district tournament at season's close.

Big Spring seems to have a hot on the Lamosa's, having rolled over them twice this year. If the same kind of voodoo could be used on the other members of the loop, the Herd's future might look a bit rosier than it does at the present.

Production of eggs and poultry in Colorado in 1939 totaled approximately $10,000,000.

Major-City League Tilts Set Tonight

Major-City league basketball breaks out again tonight at 8 o'clock in the high school gym when the six contenders play the second games of their loop race.

Crystal Cafeteria, Phillips' Firemen and Cities Service are on top of the list at present with victories over the Empire Gassers, Montgomery Ward and Vaughn's in the order listed.

The Gassers and Vaughn's, both clubs riding in the losers' row after dropping games last Tuesday night, clash in the curtain raiser, Phillips' having displayed a sweeping style of tactics in a win over Wards Tuesday evening, meets Cities Service, also a top-lister, at 9 p. m. Wards and Crystal Cafe close out the evening's show when they move out on the hardwood at 10 p. m.

Red Sox Will Be 'If' Team

BOSTON, Jan. 30 (AP)—Joe Cronin's Boston Red Sox will be "strictly an if club" this season. He feels they'll be right up in the pennant battle next September "if" his young pitchers can come through.

The "if" is the pitching because, Joe said today, he expected to stand pat with his power-laden infield and outfield and get better backstopping with Frank Lytlak behind the plate. He "hoped" some of his younger hurlers would stand the gaff of big league competition.

"This American league race will be a real dog fight," declared Joe. "Those Yankees will be back hitting again. Cleveland will be lot better after that year of experience for Boudreau and Mack. The second division clubs have strengthened and don't believe that hokum about Detroit falling apart."

"We're strictly an if club in this one. We'll give them all a tussle if the young pitchers come through for us. We've got to go along with the youngsters and I'm hoping we'll find four or five who can deliver for us."

This doesn't mean Joe has given up entirely on his older hurlers. He expects "Lefty" Grove to win some games. He's banking on Emerson Dickman and Jack Wilson to live up to earlier promise. Joe Dobson, Mike Ryba and Joe Heving still fit in the picture.

But our hopes right now," Joe continued, "rest in following Mickey Harris, Earl Johnson, Woody Rich, Larry Powell and Charlie Wagner. They can make us a factor."

Joe isn't going to stage any more bull pen parades, either. His hurlers will start and finish their games from the opening bell, making as few errors as they need that competition to prove themselves.

Joe isn't going to stage any more bull pen parades, either. His hurlers will start and finish their games from the opening bell, making as few errors as they need that competition to prove themselves.

Demaree, the defending titleholder, who won top money in the pro-amateur prelude to the event, and Oliver, holder of the 18-hole record for the Phoenix Country club course, believe they have reached top form in the winter links tour.

How Good Is This Guy Frank Kovacs?

COAL GABLES, Fla., Jan. 30 (AP)—There seems to be a slight difference of opinion among Frankie Kovacs' tennis rivals as to whether the California clown is just another "winter flash" or a potential national champion.

Kovacs himself, who has won three straight winter tournaments and is after his fourth in the University of Miami invitational, thinks he will be champion.

So does Jack Kramer of Los Angeles, co-holder of the national doubles crown, but with reservations.

Bobby Riggs of Chicago, who lost the title to Don McNeill of Oklahoma City last summer, isn't so sure.

Texas Open Golf Tourney Has Had Interesting History

By FELIX B. MCKNIGHT
DALLAS, Jan. 30 (AP)—Cuff notes on the Texas Open 45,000 golf scramble, starting Feb. 6, over San Antonio's picturesque Willow Springs' picture:

Crooner Bing Crosby has flirted with the idea of playing, and Crystal Cafeteria, Phillips' Firemen and Cities Service are on top of the list at present with victories over the Empire Gassers, Montgomery Ward and Vaughn's in the order listed.

The Gassers and Vaughn's, both clubs riding in the losers' row after dropping games last Tuesday night, clash in the curtain raiser, Phillips' having displayed a sweeping style of tactics in a win over Wards Tuesday evening, meets Cities Service, also a top-lister, at 9 p. m. Wards and Crystal Cafe close out the evening's show when they move out on the hardwood at 10 p. m.

It was in 1922 that Gene Sarazen finished thirteenth in the Texas classic, went directly from there to win the National Open and P.G.A. titles. Only three former winners, Denny Shute, E. J. (Dutch) Harrison and Lord Byron Nelson, are expected.

Incredible as it sounds in this day of low scoring, WRD Bill Melhorn came staggering through the rain and muck with a last round 79 to win the event in 1928 with a 73-hole total of 297. Next year the tournament was switched from Willow Springs to shorter Brackenridge Park and Melhorn marched through sunshine on his last round for a 67 to total 277 and win the meet by four shots.

The first seven Texas Open tournaments were won by grand old veterans of the game who are now drifting into golf's memory book — Bob McDonald, Walter Hagen, Joe Kirkwood, Joe Turnesa, MacDonal Smith, Bobby Cruikshank and Bill Melhorn.

The pros got their stiffest run from an amateur in 1933 when Gus Moreland, the greatest amateur Texas ever produced, was at the peak of his game. He recorded a sensational last round 66 to finish second to Clarence Clark by a single stroke at 288.

Record score of the event was set in 1939 by E. J. Harrison at 271 strokes, thirteen under par, and equaled last year by Byron Nelson and Ben Hogan, two former Fort Worth caddies. Every winner who competed in the 24 major golf tournaments of the United States last season—the men who were 150 strokes under par in winning those events—will compete in the San Antonio classic.

Off the notions counter: Wallace (Red) Boat, former McMurry college assistant football coach who turned golf pro to assume new duties at the Las Cruces, N. M. country club, worked in a hole-in-one on his farewell round at Abilene country club. General Jack Curfio, the West Texas State football coach, rosetta giv recognition, dangles a Phi Beta Kappa key while making all those banquet hits out on the plains. Fans of West Texas have nominated him as the top after-dinner speaker of their section—football or otherwise. Slender Ed White, the former Walker Cup star, will make an infrequent links appearance in the Houston country club's annual tournament. White went out to get the feel of the course and set a new record at 64 shots. The rumor that Henry Frka, the new football coach at Tulsa University who has been trying to land a big college job since he left Greenville High some ten years ago, received more money at Greenville than the Tulsa job pays. The Texas High School Football Coaches association is beginning to wonder if Clark Knaughnessy actually will appear at their coaching school.

The Texas Tech football coaching job won't be filled until next week, advises say. President Clifford Jones is in Rochester, Minn., where his wife is ill, and doesn't plan to be back on the Tech campus until next Monday. The guess here: Dell Morgan, Rice Institute's line coach.

Redheads Beat Phillips' Tire Team, 27 to 25

Playing before a capacity crowd in the high school gym Wednesday night, the All-American Redheads, one of the nation's outstanding girls' teams, defeated Phillips Tiremen, 27 to 25.

Vivian Hobbs, titan-haired guard, took high score honors for the visiting lassies, while J. E. Harland copped the basket-tossing top spot for the hosts.

The Redheads turned in a cautious, conservative brand of court work, but worked a flock of maneuvers and shined on hitting the basket. Hobbs' throws came from well in front of the hoop and were not attempted until the setting was to her taste.

Ted Phillips, Tiremen manager, said Hobbs was one of the best performers he had ever seen in these parts.

In a curtain-dropper Garner's girl cagers defeated Forman's girls in a tussle that was fast throughout.

Red Burman One Of Best To Go In Ring Against Louis

NEW YORK, Jan. 30 (AP)—The fighting record of Clarence (Red) Burman, while it is not particularly inspiring, reveals at least that Red has more business getting in the ring with Joe Louis tomorrow night than had several alleged contenders who wangled bouts with the heavyweight champion.

Far be it from this corner to attempt to build up a quick case for Jack Dempsey's former chauffeur. Not in the face of the 10 to 1 odds being quoted against him. He'll probably get slugged silly. But it is only fair to give Red his due now, before it happens to him.

Red has been a good, but not brilliant, journeyman fighter for nearly 10 years, starting as a banal lightweight and building himself into the big class by eating regularly. Since 1934, when he began meeting the better heavyweights, he has won many more fights than he has lost. He last was knocked out by John Henry Lewis in 1936, when he was a light-heavy.

Offhand, Red is more deserving of a championship title than Jack Lopez, Harry Thomas, Johnny Faganek, Al McCoy and John Henry Lewis, to list a few of Louis' victims. Nathan Mann, Arturo Godoy and Tommy Farr might be added to the list. Lewis had been a great fighter, but he was washed up when he met the bomber. As for Tommy Farr, Burman was a decision over him in the Garden after the Welshman had gone his heroic 15 rounds with Louis.

So Burman is a long way from being the softest touch the hard-working champion has encountered. While a veteran in experience, Red still is young enough and strong enough to take a lot of beating, and there is nothing in his record to indicate he is a fold-up.

Sure, Louis probably will pop him good. But, just the same, this has been a remarkably good season for the boys who are known as "club fighters," the ones who have trounced the country's smaller cities, scrapping every week or two and piling up experience.

Burman belongs to this bunch, and it is becoming dangerous to bet against them. Two of the ringleaders, Frits Zivic and Ken Overlin, recently dropped into the Garden between sleeper jumps and grabbed the waterweight and middleweight championships, respectively. The ring-wise old birds are making it tough on the youngsters.

This is about the best that can be said of Red's chances. He has considerable on his side, including a stout heart, but he happens to be meeting a great fighter tomorrow night. Louis probably got a poor fight out of his system against Al McCoy two months ago and will be razor keen for this one. When he's that way, it's simply not in the cards for him to lose to a man who is only good.

Missouri Mile Runner Looks Like Champion

COLUMBIA, Mo., Jan. 30 (AP)—A year of workouts as a sprinter have transformed John Munksi from a so-so runner to an Oh! Oh! mile.

The recent Missouri graduate went last year ago and up-toed into almost immediate obscurity by finishing in the ruck at the Wanamaker mile.

He returned to the Tiger campus more chagrined than heart-broken and by the time of the Princeton invitational had revamped his running style to the extent that he won.

That started a string of mile victories — on the puddle-dotted track at Minnesota in the 1940 National Collegiate, the recent Sugar Bowl games and at Boston two weeks ago.

Back here on the Tiger campus his coach, Jack Matthews, predicts his protege will be unbeatable in the future if the former Lewiston, Mont., youngster comes through the ordeal without a too badly blamished record.

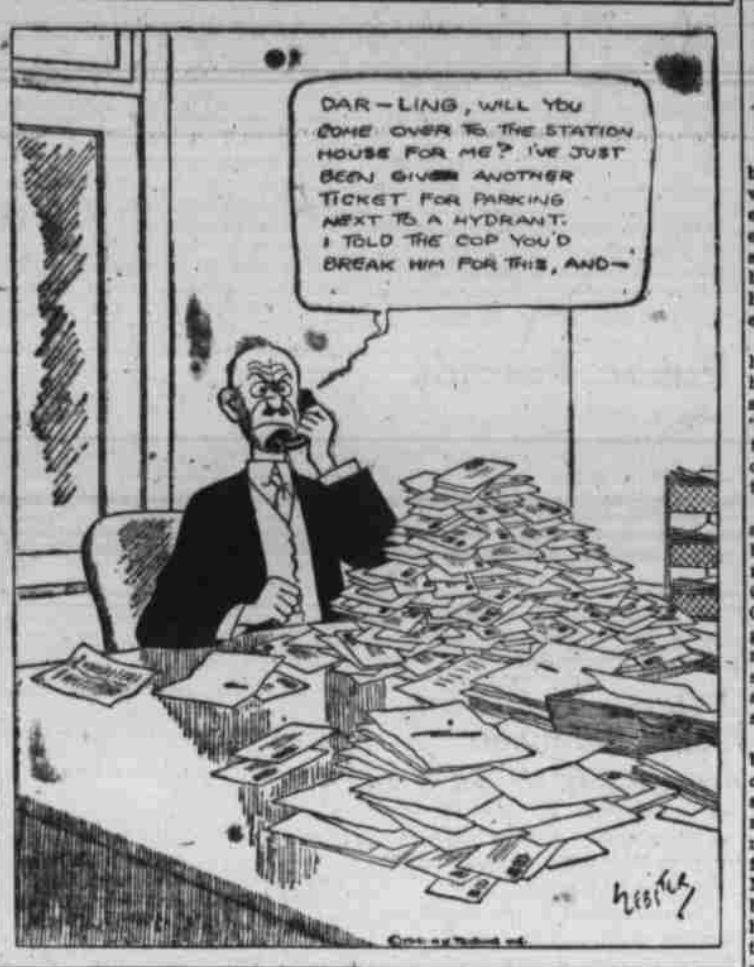

"For a year now Munksi has practiced only on sprints and the shorter middle distance races in an effort to develop a finishing kick," said Matthews. "John won both his big races this winter by outpacing the boys to the tape."

Matthews fears that Walter Meil and Chuck Penka, two former Wisconsin whirlwinds who have been Munksi's most persistent foes on the boards, will retaliate by running the opening quarters a bit faster.

"But John was clocked in 5:03.7 for three quarters of a mile last week and had enough left to finish in about 4:08.5 or 4:09."

CONTRACTS SIGNED
BROOKLYN, Jan. 30 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers announced today that pitchers Curt Davis and Tex Carleton had signed their contracts.

How To Torture Your Husband

Treasury Plans Promotion Of Sale Of Savings Stamps

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30 (AP)—Children's dimes and housewife dollars will help finance some $3,000,000 of America's defense program, if a joint savings stamp campaign under consideration today by the treasury and postoffice departments is finally adopted.

The postoffice department, it was learned, has given favorable consideration to a treasury proposal that the existing postal savings system be used to borrow money from persons of moderate means.

Here's how the plan would work: Anyone with loose change and a desire to invest it in defense could go to any postoffice in the country and buy savings stamps in denominations of 10, 25 and 50 cents, and $1. Persons with more money or who had accumulated a number of the small stamps could buy savings "certificates" in denominations ranging from $1 to $1,000.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

NEW YORK, Jan. 30 (AP)—Only Leo Durocher's o.k. is needed to land a Brooklyn coaching job for Otto Miller, the old catcher, who was one of the boys when the Dodgers were really daffy—back in Wilbert Robinson's days. . . . Keep an eye on Jimmy (Kid) Hatcher, a featherweight out of Lake City, S. C., who has won 13 straight bouts since turning pro. The kid is the rave of Florida. . . . There was too much alumni (or political) interference to suit Tom Stidham of Oklahoma. Anyway, he's a top flight coach and Marquette is the winner. . . . Our North Carolina editors might check to see if there is a shake-up coming around Durham.

Ford G. Erick, president of the National league, has been invited to be the guest of honor at the northwest curling championship at Superior, Wis., this winter. . . . Lots of letters coming in here wanting to know the Florida winter address of Jack Doyle, the Broadway betting commissioner. Maybe Jack will send it along. . . . We are glad to note business is picking up for the Guthrie (Okla.) high school basketballers. They are turning 'em away. . . . One night last winter, we recall, they played to exactly one paid admission. . . . Larry "Moon" Mullins (as nice a guy as ever lived) will be twice as much for being an assistant coach at Florida as he got for the No. 1 job at St. Ambrose out in Iowa. . . . Because of an infected foot, Lou Ambers had to cancel tonight's bout with Irish Eddie Conlay at Barra, VI.

You don't hear any National leaguera popping off in the Pellet-Newcomer salary dispute, do you? No, that's out of their league, in more ways than one. . . . A regular at Santa Anita these days is Marion Hollins, former golfing star—she's in the race horse business, now, and doing all right. . . . To date we have received three big league baseball rosters. Only one—Washington—classifies the players as married or not. . . . About Louis and Burman—it all depends on how the guy is feeling. Don't forget he looked pretty bad against Bob Paston, Tommy Farr and Arturo Godoy.

Today's guest star—Jerry Mitchell, N. Y. Post—"The news from New Orleans that Zerk Stowers may be called in the draft is the best Jimmy Wilson has had in some time."

DENTON, Jan. 30 (AP)—Texas Christian university defeated the North Texas State Teachers cagers 54-44 here last night. It was the Frogs' second victory over the Eagles this season.

Deer Hunters Bag Rancher's Hereford

RUIDOSO, N. M., Jan. 30 (AP)—First day of the open season on doe deer 175 hunters roamed the Bert Bonnell ranch. Their reported bag was four does, one Hereford bull.

Rancher Bonnell said he might take his cattle to Roswell if the Hereford bag increased.

Doctor Says Odds Favor Longer Life For Women

DETROIT—Do men live longer than women? Dr. Arthur B. Elliott, of Chicago, says no. Scouting the age-old theory about the "survival of the fittest," Dr. Elliott told members of the Michigan State Medical Society at a convention here that women are less emotionally intense than men and, consequently, have a better chance of survival. "Women live longer and a higher percentage die of causes not connected with their blood pressure," said Dr. Elliott.

Defense Heard
In Texarkana
Kidnap Trial

TEXARKANA, Ark., Jan. 30 (AP)—William Jesse Miller said today Mrs. Dorothy Crawford Garner, whom he is charged with having kidnaped, went to Texas of her own free will.

The woman claimed Miller and his wife, Artilla, took her to a farm near McKinney, after luring her from her DeQueen, Ark., home with the story that her grandfather was seriously ill.

Miller took the stand in federal court yesterday after testimony had been introduced intended to support Mrs. Garner's charge that she was forced to pick cotton and was beaten when she failed to reach a certain quota.

M. O. Patrick of Snyder, Tex., had told of twice witnessing beatings of Mrs. Garner by Miller and added that when Miller began a third attack he and a friend intervened and stopped him.

"She left DeQueen of her own free will and came with my wife and me to Texas and I treated her with the same kindness as I did my wife and own children," Miller said.

Scientists estimate that the Carlsbad caverns in the Southwest were 60,000,000 years in the making. Traces of human occupancy trace back 4,000 years.

Ickes Again
Asks Federal Oil Control

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 30 (AP)—Secretary Harold L. Ickes denied today that he wants to become "dictator" of the petroleum industry but he asserted that some form of government control over production was necessary.

Writing in the annual edition of the Oil and Gas Journal, which also carried statements by several prominent oil men expressing strong opposition to federal supervision, Ickes declared:

"I believe that some form of central co-ordination for the prevention of avoidable physical waste (in oil production) is necessary."

"Although I have been accused of wanting to be the 'commisar,' the 'ossar,' the 'dictator' of the petroleum industry, I state positively that that is all inspired nonsense."

"Even if I were assured that I could be made the umpire for the oil industry, the knowledge that I have gained and the experience that I have had would make me extremely cautious before rubbing any magic lamp."

The secretary of the Interior said he believed the Cole bill, now awaiting congressional action, offered the best plan for production conservation that has yet been proposed.

He pointed out that petroleum not only was vital to national defense but has become "the dominant energy factor in virtually all phases of the nation's transportation."

"It should be axiomatic," his article continues, "that to avoid the possibility of future want of a material that supplies about 60 per cent of the transportation power of the country, waste should be reduced to the lowest possible level."

Ickes conceded that some states had adopted conservation laws but declared there was a lack of uniformity, "not only in the laws but in their administration."

"The fact that the federal government, the oil-producing states and the oil industry are not cooperating toward the effective production and utilization of x x x petroleum, should be a challenge to all public-spirited citizens."

February, the birth month of the Father of Our Country, is the time to make Americanism the theme for party refreshments and decorations.

Let "Cherry Bridge Soda" for instance, play the leading role at your next bridge party. It's made by putting canned cherries, vanilla ice cream, and your favorite carbonated beverage in a tall glass, and topping with whipped cream. For a supporting cast, have a plate of sugar cookies that are decorated with patriotic motifs.

Another drink that would add the right note of color and festivity to a "patriotic" party is "Ruby Fruit Punch." It has a bottled carbonated beverage for a base, being made like this:

1-2 cups sugar
2 cups boiling water
3 cups cranberry juice
1-3 cup lemon juice
2 cups orange juice
1 quart ginger ale
Mint sprigs
Orange and lemon slices.

Dissolve sugar in hot water. Add cranberry juice, lemon and orange juice. Chill. Just before serving turn into punch bowl, add ginger ale and orange and lemon slices. Serve decorated with mint sprigs. This recipe makes 3 quarts.

GOOD THINGS TO EAT

Editorial— Deaths Increase Faster On Roads Than Traffic

Travel in Texas increased about six per cent last year, but traffic fatalities increased nearly 11 per cent. The death list grew by 174, to 1,754. Obviously the death rate is growing again, whereas it had steadily been declining for several years. Traffic increase due to national defense efforts will be tremendous in Texas this and subsequent years. Cars are faster, drivers progressively more careless.

Only possible answer to this trend: stiffer laws. Various organizations have endorsed a five-point program of legislation designed to improve conditions. They include a standard driver's license law (the present one is decidedly sub-standard; in fact, it is a shameful fraud); an increased Texas highway patrol (now dangerously under-manned, a fact that many account largely for the rising death rate); a strengthened drunk driving law (by prescribing penalties that juries won't hesitate to impose, whereas under present law they let many drunk drivers go free rather than impose drastic penalties for offenses not involving injury to persons); revision of the speed law, to place full responsibility on drivers; and finally, uniform reporting of accidents.

Twenty-one statewide organizations have approved this legislation. The provisions forth set in this group of laws represent the best thought of the state's leading citizens, persons who are qualified to know. Surely in the face of the disastrously rising accident toll the legislature will be shamed into taking action it has avoided taking at several previous sessions, and write into the statute books a sane and sensible traffic code under which Texas may tackle the problem with some chance of success.

The people have a right to expect prompt and effective action. This legislation should be expedited.

Folks In Washington Forget Many Former Rivalries As Unity Grows

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—This unity business seems to be spreading. When "Big Bill" Knudsen is out on official business, he rides in a big, fine-looking black sedan, with one of those low-number tags that give visual evidence of a man's importance around here. But in this one of the General Motors chief's own makes of cars? It is not. It's a Packard.

That sort of thing apparently is going on all over Washington. If you go into a store and they don't have what you want, they'll send you to their closest competitor. If you can't get a room at one hotel, the clerk invariably will tell you where you can get one. The president dips into the Republican fold to get his Secretaries of War and Navy and a good many other officials in the defense set-up. Wendell L. Willkie, titular head of the G.O.P., throws his weight (with some reservations) behind the Democratic administration bill that has promised to give rise to more controversy than any issue before Congress in recent years. And he carries a personal note from F.D.R. to Winston Churchill.

Even in Congress, where the battles rage fiercest and the situation is causing strange unities. In any anti-administration huddle on foreign policy, two of the principal huddlers are bound to be Sen. Burton K. Wheeler and Sen. Bennett Champ Clark, both Democrats. Then there are Republicans who have added their nods to Mr. Willkie's in favor of administration plans.

Capital oldsters are mumbling in their beards. They want to know what the world in general and politics in particular are coming to when you can't tell who a man works for by the kind of car he's riding in?

UNWELCOME OFFER

The Nazi propagandists are shooting wild—so wild that they are dropping billets on the doorstep of the President's son-in-law. John Boettiger of the Seattle (Wash.) Post-Intelligencer recently got a long billet doux from Hamburg, Germany. It was signed Oscar C. Pfau, of the Deutsche sichte-Bunde, 20 Jungfernstieg, Hamburg.

After Herr Pfau points out that he's a graduate of "a Chicago college," he wants to know if Mr. Boettiger wouldn't be happy to have the Fichte-Bunde's reports coming along regularly. "Trusting that also your paper is interested in unbiased reports concerning the political situation in Europe," he says, he would be glad to put Mr. Boettiger down as a regular sub-

Hollywood Sights and Sounds— Frank Lloyd Doesn't Like To Call Productions Epics

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—You'd better smile, stranger, when you say "epic" to Frank Lloyd. "No, no, no, that—don't call it an epic," said the bushy-browed director-producer of this new one, "The Lady From Chayenne." He made a mock gesture of ducking, as if to avoid brickbats. "A good western story—romance, color, comedy—that's what it is," he said. "Not an epic."

I could take it, then, that the screen's inveterate creator of "epics" is tired of "epic-ing?" How about his latest, "The Howards of Virginia?" "It did all right, not as well as I hoped," he said. "I think the costumes hurt it. Men in silk stockings—the public doesn't seem to like anything on costume."

I glanced around. There was Loretta Young, the pretty, demure, fighting schoolmarm, in a period hat and a long period dress; there was Gladys George, the cabaret lady, whose cabaret dressing room on the set for the next scene was gas-lit and plastered with period adornments. "Oh, this is Western," explained Lloyd. "Western is standard movie stuff, not costume."

When he started "The Howards of Virginia," Lloyd thought he could break the supposed jinx against movies with American Revolutionary background (and costumes) and he did, in fact, make a fine picture. But the jinx didn't bend as much as he had anticipated.

"When I say the public doesn't like costume pictures," he amplified. "I mean any costumes prior to long pants for men."

That neatly sidestepped "Gone With the Wind" and closed the subject—leaving us free to catch up on two ladies newly returned to films: *

Gladys George closed her road-

tour with "Lady in Waiting" and flew back to Hollywood for the picture—arriving, incidentally, after a forced landing in a cornfield. She is, as usual, full of gusto and earthy good spirits. "The road," she paraphrased the old gray mare's unhappy status, "ain't what it used to be but we did all right. I'm glad to be back—why, I was the star in the show and I'm not the star here, but the money's better and that's what counts. And I'm home!"

Miss Young, returned from her eastern honeymoon with Tom Lewis, the radio man, had a headache. "Always get one after a crying scene," she explained. "Are you any good at massage? Rub my neck, will you? There. . . Ah, that's wonderful. It really helps. Thanks."

"Yes, I'm going to make just one or two pictures a year. Mr. Lewis's work is in the East, and I want to be with him. . . No, that wasn't just talk about my plans to adopt another baby. I would have—if I hadn't married."

Could that mean. . . ? I mean, was she meaning to say. . . ? But she didn't elaborate.

Manhattan—

New Plays Give Broadway New Rise In Spirit

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Broadway has a liveliness and a cockiness today that wasn't there before the Christmas holidays. A number of new plays is the answer. There never was anything the matter with Broadway; that's a few good dramas wouldn't cure, and now that they're here the street seems more sure of itself, the lights across Shubert alley seem to twinkle more provocatively, and all's right with Manhattan.

It is my impression that the most cockeyed stimulant show-going has had is a charming little piece that goes under the entirely adequate name of "Arsenic and Old Lace." The tempo to this idyll is set by two sweet old ladies who just can't stand to see nice old men hungry and alone in the world. So in a Christian spirit of helplessness they quietly dose them up with arsenic. Presently there are bodies all over the place, and you go on from there.

If I didn't know better I would suspect George S. Kaufman of having a hand in this. Then the new Gertrude Lawrence show, "Lady in the Dark," has had people running around in circles, and it is said that $75 was paid by many for opening night seats. Personally I question the sanity of anybody who would pay more than a tenth of that, but then it is their money, and spreading the wealth in this fashion makes Roosevelt's task just that much easier. When you come to analyze it, it is only extravagant and supreme egotism who would lay out money like that in times like these for premiere seats. It isn't that they want to see a show—they can go back the next night and see all there is to see for $4.40. They want themselves to be seen, which is their business too, though I must confess it seems a stupid business to me.

Now that I have panned all the people who paid (to scalpers) high coin for the privilege of witnessing Miss Lawrence's premiere, let me tell you what you already know. . . that she is a lovely person, and most highly regarded by critics, by producers, by managers, directors, ticket-office helpers, ushers, and, what is more important, by her dear public. It was Noel Coward who once explained the "dear" by saying that any public that paid $8.80 for a pair of tickets was inexplicably dear to him. He said this to Miss Lawrence. It was an effective speech, and I never forgot it.

And then there is Sonja Henie. It will be a long while before New York forgets the thrill it has once each winter of seeing Miss Henie and a gorgeous ice show at the Garden. You see other people skate and think it pretty and forget all about it. But when you see Miss Henie skate you feel that it is so easy you rush off and try it yourself. It is then that you know you have been duped, and that Miss Henie is really a beautiful enchantress who has made the almost impossible feats seem childish and simple. But what you think as you are doctoring your bruises is another matter.

In Nebraska the state game and fish department sets carp from lakes, cans the meat and feeds it to trout in state fish hatcheries.

CHAPTER 11
PETER FALLS

Polly watched him disappear into the shadows of the tree-tunneled street. A film of tears came to her eyes. She told herself that she had done the right thing. David ought to be free to marry someone who could be a great help to him; someone like Margo Powers, for instance. It wasn't right for a girl who was as poor as a church mouse to hold up to a man like a leech.

Maybe she was getting her metaphors slightly mixed, but what of it? She felt that what she was doing was best for all concerned, and especially for David. So that was that.

She got up and went into the house. "That you, Polly?" Aunt Susan called from her bedroom. "Yes, Aunt Susan—Anything wrong?"

"My stomach's hurting me again," said Aunt Susan. "Would you fill the hot water bottle and bring it to me?"

"Yes, Aunt Susan," said Polly. She went out to the kitchen. And as she put the kettle on, she found herself thinking of all the hot water bottles she had filled. It was horrible—horrible—horrible. Hot water bottles for this aunt and that aunt, for this uncle and that uncle. She had probably put enough water in hot water bottles to fill that swimming pool out at Freddy's Folly.

Life for her was just one hot water bottle after another—on and on—endlessly.

There were many things in the Wiley cottage on Elm Street that fascinated young Peter; such things as the iridescent glassware in the dining room, and the pictures on the walls of birds hanging by their pathetic little feet, and flat fishes with bright fins and dead eyes, and the many, many books, including a complete set of J. Fenimore Cooper's works, and a highly-illustrated copy of Dante's "Inferno." But the object that he especially admired was the large painting of a long dead Wiley that hung high over the mantel in the parlor.

"He's a Great-great-great-Something-Other of yours," David told him. "He did heroic things during the Revolutionary War, and helped establish the Wiley family here in the South."

"Gee!" Peter had said. "He looks swell on that horse—and with a sword, too!" Then, after a thoughtful pause, he had said: "I wonder if I'll ever be able to ride a horse."

He was wondering that now, as he stood in the parlor gazing up at the painting. He studied the crimson-clad right leg of his ancestor, that leg that looked so strong and well-shaped, and then glanced down at his own right leg. He touched the iron brace that reached from angle to thigh, and shook his head slowly.

"No," he told himself. "I guess a fellow with this on couldn't even get up onto a horse, much less ride him."

Then he suddenly made a decision. He reached down and began to unfasten the straps and buckles of the brace. He was there in the house all by himself, and it was a good time to try walking unaided. He had been told not to walk without the brace, but if he was ever to learn to do without it, he had to start practicing. Cousin David wasn't due home from the lumber plant for a little while yet, and there was no one to stop him from doing what he felt he should do. Just think how swell it would be, if he could start practicing in secret, and later surprise Cousin David by walking without the brace.

He unfastened the last buckle, the last strap. He leaped against an old half-cloth-covered rocker while he slipped out of the contraption of iron and leather. Then, when he was free of it, he straightened up, drew himself to his full height. He slowly let his weight down upon the shrunken limb—carefully, cautiously—glancing now and then at the man on the horse.

One step forward—and such a feeble little step; two steps, three. And then it happened. He toppled over into a heap upon the rough surface of the faded carpet. And there he lay, a crumpled small form, sobbing—sobbing—

It was thus that David found him when he came in a few minutes later.

"Peter!" he called. He ran forward, sank to the floor and gathered the small boy in his arms. "Peter—don't cry like that! You mustn't!"

Peter looked up, his eyes swimming in tears. With difficulty he got hold of himself.

"I—I wanted to practice walking—without—that—thing," he said brokenly, glancing toward the iron brace. "I—I wanted to get so I could ride like my Great-great-great-Something-Other. I wanted to—surprise you, Cousin David, and—have you come home one day and find me—walking—like other boys."

David couldn't think of anything to say for a moment.

All he could do was to hold the boy close to him.

With 'Immortal 56' Backing— Omnibus Tax Bill Offered In State House

Herald Austin Bureau

AUSTIN, Jan. 30.—During the current legislative session you will hear much talk about the Morris-Bell omnibus tax bill designed to raise $20,000,000 new revenue to finance the social security program and balance the state budget.

Backing this measure are four leaders of the "Immortal 56" house members who two years ago blocked the sales tax constitutional amendment. They are G. C. Morris of Greenville and John Bell of Cuero, co-authors of the bill, and Dorsey B. Hardeman of an Angelo and B. J. Isaacs of El Paso, who signed it along with 20 other members.

At this stage of the session, the Morris-Bell omnibus tax bill has more backers than any other tax measure yet proposed. Most of its supporters are opponents of a general sales tax, and capital observers believe it will provide the working basis for the first house effort to raise more money.

The eighth bill introduced in the house of representatives, this measure will be first on the docket of the house revenue and taxation committee.

Governor W. Lee O'Daniel wants $31,000,000 in new revenue, but there seems to be a general lack of enthusiasm among lawmakers for such a tax bill because of the certainty of higher federal taxes to pay for the national defense program.

Judged by last session's stand of the sponsors, the Morris-Bell bill seems like a compromise measure except for one new section which proposes a new gathering tax on natural gas.

This section, which would levy a tax of one cent per thousand cubic feet of natural gas, will probably create more debate than any other. The authors estimate that $8,000,000 annually could be raised by the gathering tax on natural gas.

Other levies proposed in the bill are:

- 1. Boost the cigarette tax one cent per package.
- 2. Increase the oil tax, on a graduated scale, to four cents per barrel on wells producing more than 20 barrels per day; three and one-half cents on wells producing 10 to 20 barrels per day; three cents on wells producing 5 to 10 barrels; leaving the present tax of two and three-quarters cents per barrel on the output of wells producing less than five barrels.

3. Boost the severance tax on natural gas from three to four percent of value.

4. Increase various levies on insurance companies.

5. Increase the sulphur tax from $1.08 to $1.25 per ton.

6. Increase the franchise tax on corporations.

7. Increase the gross receipts tax on telephone companies.

8. Increase the gross receipts tax on utilities.

9. A new tax of one percent on sales of new autos, bicycles, and tractors.

10. A new tax of one-fortieth of one cent per gallon on all distillates or condensates produced from natural gas.

Detroit Housewife Heads Women's Guard Drive

DETROIT—A 36-year-old woman who describes herself as "just a mother and housewife" is mobilizing Detroiters for membership in the Green Guards of America, the "first women's army in the history of the United States."

Mrs. Pauline E. Smith says the Green Guards is the "answer to all my dreams" and she is using her apartment as temporary headquarters for the organization's branch here and trying to find a place for members to drill.

The Green Guards, formed at Washington last summer, is designed to train 1,000,000 women for home defense. Its program includes instruction in rifle shooting, ambulance driving, military drill, and canteen cooking.

Odd Ingenuity Reveals Body Lost In River

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa.—Burgess Thomas of Phoenixville remembered some Tom Sawyer ingenuity and recovered the body of Benjamin Pogozelski from the Schuylkill river after police efforts failed.

Thomas dropped a loaf of bread covered with lard into the water and said, "When that bread stops and turns around, that's where the body is."

Sure enough, when the bread twisted around several times, police discovered Pogozelski's body.

Phone Poles Protected From Idle Whittlers

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Traveling salesmen coming in from rural towns in Arkansas, Mississippi, and Tennessee report that township authorities have found means to thwart telephone pole whittling by loafers.

They say that the poles are being wrapped with wire from the bottom to a point higher than men can reach.

One town reported that three telephone poles had been cut down by men who carried pocket knives to whittle in their spare time.

"Listen, Peter," he said finally. "It takes time to learn to do without the brace. Don't try to rush it. I'm just as certain as I can be that you'll be—well, like other boys one of these days. Don't let it worry you. You're David's boy just as you are."

"Gee, Cousin David," Peter said, brushing the back of his hand across his eyes. "I sure don't know what I'd do without you."

"Forget it!" David said brusquely. He got up, and helped the boy over to a chair. "Now," he said. "I've got some good news for you. Mr. Seawell's given us a lot of pipe to fix up the swimming pool."

Peter's eyes widened. "You—you mean we can fix it so we can take swims?" he asked.

"Yes," said David. "The lawyer tore down an old house he owned, and he told me I could have the plumbing fixtures. There's a lot of pipe we can use to replace the rusty ones out at the Inn. Before you can say Jack Robinson, we'll be diving into that pool and having us a world of fun."

"Gee!" It was all Peter could say.

He began putting the brace back on. David helped him.

"Now," said David, "let's go fix ourselves some supper. I've got to put on my white pants and dark coat—and keep a date."

"Oh, boy," said Peter. "I bet you look swell all dressed up. Just like a picture in a magazine." He followed David out to the kitchen.

"I'll bet Polly'll be tickled when she sees you."

"The date's not with Polly," said David. "I'm going out with Margo Powers."

"Oh!" said Peter. "But—I—I thought Polly was your girl."

"She is. But this evening I'm going out dancing with Margo. Polly understands. She doesn't mind."

Peter worried.

Peter busied himself setting the kitchen table for two, since they very seldom ate in the dining room.

"You're not going to change your mind, and marry Miss Powers, are you Cousin David?" he asked.

David laughed. "Of course not!" he said. "And then: 'Would you prefer me to marry Polly?'"

"Sure," said Peter. "If—if you must marry anybody."

"You like Polly better, now you've got to know her—don't you?"

"Yes," said Peter. "She's not bad. She treats me like I was grown, and not just a kid. We have lots of fun working out at the Inn. We worked out there this afternoon, and got two flower beds all weeded. They're full of violets and funny-looking bulbings."

"Good!" said David. "We'll all three go out there Saturday afternoon. I'll have a look at what you and Polly have done, and start fixing the pipes for the pool."

Peter looked up from setting the table.

"Even if I can't ever learn to ride a horse," he said, "I guess I can learn to swim. Can't I, Cousin David?"

"Of course you can!" David said. "Lots of folks like me." Peter went on, "can swim well with their arms—even if they don't have good legs."

"Your legs are going to be all right," David said, placing several slices of bacon in an iron frying pan. "But swimming mostly with your arms will develop them—and your shoulders, too. You'll grow up to be one of those athletic looking men, with narrow hips and great wide shoulders. A football fitter; that's what you'll be, Peter!"

"Gee!" said Peter. "Then maybe I can have a horse, and—ride in parades?"

"Parades?" said David. "Why parades?"

"'Cause I can wear a sword like

Road Bonds To Be Discussed At Gathering

Officials and representatives of various organizations in West Texas have been convoked by C. L. Lincoln, judge of Terry county, for a meeting Friday noon at the Lubbock hotel in Lubbock to rally around a plan for extension of the road bond assumption law.

Judge Lincoln, in an appeal received by the commissioners court here, said that county judges, commissioners, representatives of oil companies, the West Texas chamber of commerce, the Permian Basin association and other agencies were being urged to participate in the meeting to "perfect a permanent organization for extension of the road bond assumption law."

It was conceded that Howard county was either opposed or indifferent to such a proposal since this county has voted no bonds in hopes of extension of the law, a device by which proceeds from such bonds could be turned over to the highway department for road construction in turn for assumption of the indebtedness by the state.

Committee In House Approves Anti 'Bat' Bill

AUSTIN, Jan. 30. (AP)—It's organization complete, the 47th Texas legislature today stood face to face with problems ranging from abolition of the prison "bat" to oil conservation laws.

Many house committees met for the first time yesterday for organization purposes and one, the penitentiaries committee, plunged immediately into its calendar approving a bill to end the whipping of Texas convicts.

The lone dissenting committee-man, J. B. Sallas of Crockett, served notice he would raise a point of order against the bill on the floor because insufficient notice of committee hearing was given.

He agreed whipping should be eliminated from prisons but was not certain discipline could be maintained otherwise.

He added the state prison board at its next meeting intended to do away with "the bat."

Rep. Sam Hanna of Dallas, sponsor of the bill, read the committee statement from an ex-convict alleging mistreatment of prisoners by guards.

"Forty-two states have abolished the bat and no federal prison tolerates it," Hanna asserted.

Sallas countered that the only alternative was solitary confinement and if a widespread revolt against discipline developed thousands of dark cells would have to be built at great expense.

Rep. Frank B. Vought of New Braunfels who moved to report the bill favorably asserted the bat breeds resentment and is an enemy to prison rehabilitation.
