TRADE PROGRAM TO BE OCT. 5-7

PLANS ABOUT COMPLETE FOR CELEBRATION

Committees Appointed To Visit Various Outlying Communities, Towns

Plans are going forward for the great celebration to be held in Littlefield Saturday and Monday, October 5 and 7, in connection with the opening of Highway No. 7 and the trade expansion program, sponsored by the local Chamber of Commerce.

The Steering Committee, composed of Pat Boone, J. S. Hilliard and Joe Hale, met Monday morning, and appointed the following committees:

Rules and Regulations—Dr. Ira Woods, Chairman, and Mrs. T. S. Sales, J. O. Garlington and Raymond Renfro.

Identification Committee—W. D. T. Storey, Chairman, and Sam Hutson and Albert Anderson.

Publicity Committee—Joe Hale, Chairman, F. O. Boles, Mancil Hall, W. J. Aldridge, and L. B. Stone.

J. C. Elms of the First National Bank was chosen to serve as Secretary-Treasurer.

The Rules and Regulations Committee met immediately after appointment and outlined the following rules:

That celebration in connection with the local trade expansion program would take place every Saturday and 1st Monday running through until January 1, when goodly sums of money (amounts to be announced later) would be given away—two different sums of money at 10:30 a. m., and 2 sums of money in the afternoon at 4:30, one a capital prize and other two smaller amounts.

The money will be given away at four different locations, alternating each week, which will be permanent, as follows:

The first money will be given away

Will Prosecute For Destruction Of Mail Boxes

Olaf Baldwin, post office inspector, with headquarters in Lubbock, visited the Littlefield post office Friday.

Mr. Baldwin informed the Leader that special efforts are underway at this time to discourage the practice of the destruction of rural mail boxes in this section. A reward will be paid for information leading to the arrest and conviction of person or persons willfully destroying mail boxes. Sometimes boxes are pushed over and frequently they are destroyed by car operators using the bumper of their car to push the boxes over. Another practice is the using of mail boxes as a target in shooting.

Mr. Baldwin said that the maximum penalty for the destruction of mail boxes is three years in jail and a fine of $1,000.

NATIONAL YOUTH ADMINISTRATION TO HELP 35 COUNTY ELIGIBLES IN GETTING A HIGH SCHOOL EDUCATION

Superintendents of Lamb County schools met here Tuesday to consider the county's 35 youths eligible under the National Youth Administration to receive financial help in attending school.

Requirements are that a youth must be aged between 16 and 25, must come from a family certified as needing relief, must have a good school record, must prove his need for financial help in order to go to school, and must be classified as a student eligible for high school instruction.

Work, based on 10 hours per week, would pay $6 per month to help each student. This part-time work would be created under the national program. Those eligible under the above requirements are urged to see the school superintendent in their district.

Quotas are, Littlefield 12 (seven of whom have already applied), Olton 5, Sudan 5, Amherst 4, Spring Lake 3, Spade 2, Hart Camp one and Fieldton one. Two extras allowed will be allotted where needed to fill in.

ADAM RESIGNS OFFICE TO GO TO YOUNG CO.

Departure of County Agent Is Universally Regretted

D. A. Adam, county agent of Lamb county for more than seven years, has resigned to become county agent of Young county with headquarters at Graham.

A. R. Bateman of Farwell, and W. W. Rice of Knox county, are mentioned as his successor. No decision has been made in this matter, however.

Mr. Adam came to Lamb county from Post, where he was engaged in co-operative marketing work. He has made a wonderful record in Lamb county, and regret at his departure will be universal.

Mr. Adam will leave Saturday for Graham, but will return here for a week.

OUT OF TOWN GUESTS AT C. OF C. LUNCHEON

E. Kancher, Division Freight Agent, Santa Fe Railway Addresses Group

Due to Harley Sadler's Circus being in town Tuesday, the weekly Chamber of Commerce luncheon was postponed until Wednesday, when a large representation of local establishments were represented, as well as several visitors.

Dr. Ira E. Woods, in the absence of both the president and vice-president, presided over the meeting.

E. Kancher, Division Freight Agent for the Santa Fe Railway and L. M. Robinson, Traveling Freight Agent, both of Lubbock, T. L. Leach, Vocational Agricultural Teacher, local high school, and Jack Rowan, local auctioneer, were guests at the luncheon.

Mr. Kancher, after expressing his appreciation for the splendid dinner, outlined plans of the Santa Fe to run a special train October 23 at a round trip fare of $35 to carry Texas Tech football fans to the Tech-Loyola game at Gilmore Stadium, Los Angeles, October 25, stating the special would leave Lubbock Wednesday, October 23, at 8 a. m. and roll into Los Angeles Thursday morning, that the trip would last five days. The return train leaving the coast metropolis Sunday morning, Oct. 28, and arriving at Lubbock Monday morning.

Mr. Kancher said pullman rates had been reduced to $9.00 for lower sleepers and $7.00 for uppers; that pullman car patrons are allowed to occupy the pullman car from the time they leave Lubbock until they

Dixie, Scout and Jack Hoxie Visit An Old Friend While In Littlefield

In most towns Jack Hoxie, his wife, Dixie Starr, and famous horse Scout, all western screen stars, (above) find their daily visits offer little more than hum-drum routine of the circus, but on their visit to Littlefield Tuesday with the Harley Sadler Circus they met an old friend, E. M. "Eddie" Botsford, a well known Littlefield man. Mr. Botsford was with the 101 Miller Brothers show for over 23 years, traveling with many screen and stage stars known throughout the world. Other than Mr. and Mrs. Hoxie, he was with Tom Mix for over two years and played in Madison Square Garden and other places with the late Will Rogers for over a year.

Tody Is Dead Peace to His Bones; He Has Earned A Rest

Tody is dead. And "Main Street" will know him no more.

In passing on, Tody leaves behind him a record of friendliness to mankind, particularly children, and countless fights nobly won.

Tody never said much about his family, but it was generally conceded that he was bull and police.

When Tody was a good sized pup he came to the P. W. Walker home. That was about 11 years ago. In the course of events, and as those things happen among neighborhood children, Tody was accepted into the Boone household. He played with Virginia Walker, Pat Boone Jr., Jane Wicker, and other neighborhood children, when they were very small. As the years rolled along he became their companion.

With advancing years Tody wasn't as spry as in other days. And in the last days of his life he was blind.

Chloroform is a merciful death. Tody inhaled it into his nostrils and Tody passed on in peace.

Bo, a negro employed by Pat Boone, dug Tody's grave in the back yard of the Boone home.

Peace to his bones. He has earned his rest.

Mrs. Mary Gregory of Oriando, Fla. arrived Saturday to spend a month with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cooper.

CHILDRESS UNITS ARE WINNERS OF SECOND HONORS

Lamb Scores 943.5 Points at Panhandle-South Plains Fair

Lamb county, with a score of 943.5 points out of a possible 1,000 was awarded first place in the county agricultural contest at the 22nd annual Panhandle-South Plains fair. Childress county, with a point and a half difference, was second and Terry, ten and a half points below first place, was third.

Congressman Mahon Visits Friends In Littlefield Saturday

Congressman Geo. Mahon, who returned to his home in Colorado City from Washington about Sept. 2 was calling on friends in Littlefield Saturday, and incidentally paid the Leader a pleasant visit.

Congressman Mahon had spent Friday at Brownfield and Levelland in connection with matters pertaining to his office, and drove over to Littlefield Friday night, where he remained until Saturday afternoon. From here he attended the Fall Fair at Morton.

Mr. Mahon said he had business matters "here and there" to take up, hence his trip to the South Plains at this time.

In speaking of the passing of Sen. Arthur Duggan, Mr. Mahon said: "Express my deep regret of the death of Senator Duggan, and my great respect and admiration for him."

This was the first trip to this section for the Congressman in the past nine months.

ATTEND CONVENTION

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Wiles of Olton, and Marshall Kelley, postmaster at Earth, left Saturday noon for Fort Worth, where they left by special train for Chicago to attend the National Convention of Postmasters.

PUBLIC DISCUSSION

The United States Commissioner of Education, John W. Studebaker, said the other day, that what America needs most is free and general public discussion of public questions. We heartily agree with Mr. Studebaker. Our whole American system of democracy has its roots in the old New England town meetings, in which every citizen has a right to express himself freely on any public question. Out of that system of town meeting discussion grew the idea of popular representation in the Federal House of Representatives. It was felt that the colonists had demonstrated their power of intelligent reasoning and self-government by the experience of a century and a half in managing their own affairs through the medium of public discussion.

There has not been in many years such a great variety of questions concerning the common welfare of the American people, calling for public discussion, as are presented today. Not only are the numerous new elements which has lately been introduced into our political system still too little understood by most folk, but there are numerous groups and voices advocating still further and more basic changes in our entire system of Government. If, after full and free public discussion, the people of America make up their minds to change the whole system of Government, nobody can quarrel with that decision, for there is only one source from which our Government derives its powers, and that is from the people themselves.

Keeping that thought in mind, we should not only be tolerant of every exchange of views and opinions upon public affairs, but should encourage their discussion in schools and colleges, in debating societies and in town meetings, and in the press. And beyond any doubt, we are going to have more of just that kind of public discussion, not only on current questions, but upon fundamental issues which may reach down to the very roots of our democracy.

We would not hazard any prediction as to the result of the political campaign of 1936, which has already begun and which will increase in intensity and vigor from now on. But we don't hesitate to assert that before it is over, everybody in the United States will have had a chance to hear every side of every question debated over and over again.

That is the American method.

Many Receive Treatment At Local Hospital

The Littlefield Hospital report the following parties entered for treatment, X-rays or surgical aid, during the past few days:

Dr. H. E. Grupe, Dentist of Sudan, who had been in a car accident near Sudan Friday, September 13, had an X-ray taken of his left arm, but it was found to have no broken bones, but badly bruised.

R. E. Bird had a tooth extracted at the hospital September 15.

the elbow Tuesday of last week when threshing broomcorn, had his arm operated on, and a further portion amputated. He is getting along alright, but will be in the hospital several days.

Mrs. T. A. Cowan of near Littlefield underwent an appendicitis operation at the local hospital Tuesday of last week, and will be able to return home in a few days.

W. H. Berry, of five miles north of town suffered a fracture of his left forearm when he fell Friday at his home. He had his arm put in a cast at the Littlefield hospital.

Dennis Heard, ten year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Deck Heard of Spade Community had his tonsils removed Friday and returned to his home Saturday.

Miss Lavern Dement underwent an operation for removal of his tonsils Saturday morning, returning to her home the same afternoon.

Rev. Jno. Denning Has Returned From Revival Campaign

Rev. Jno. R. Denning returned Friday from a three weeks evangelistic campaign in Hill County, Texas, for both the Bethel Baptist and the Mayfield Baptist church. In spite of constant rainy weather, thirteen day without sunshine, it failed to dampen the interest in the meetings, and several outstanding conversions were experienced.

Rev. Denning said he had the joy of baptizing the oldest person in the experience of his ministry, a dear lady 81 years of age, and her daughter, who was 53, was among those who were gloriously saved during the meeting. Two young men, twins, and who were reckoned among the most wicked of the community, were both saved the same night. The Mayfield Baptist church is the oldest church in Hill county, having been organized for more than 67 years.

Cats Stomp Cowhands, 32-0; Oct Set For Jaunt

HOME BOYS HOT IN ALL BRANCHES

Passes, Line Bucks Bring Wildcat Touchdowns

Oiled with new strategy and added strength, Coach Bill Sanders' grid machine flattened the line and checked as well by air in smashing Ross Ayers' Hub City boys, 32 to 0, in a non-conference affair at Wildcat Field Friday night.

Passes brought two of the six Wildcat scorers and paved the way for two more. Flips by Gibson, McKnight and Lambert resulted in huge catches, while McKnight, playing only a small part of the game, ticked his way repeatedly through the line Cowhand wall for 10-yard gains.

Cats scored in the first three minutes after an exchange of punts when Moore recovered a mishandled Cowhand kick on the Lubbock 30. Gibson passed to Pierce for 8 yards, a line buck failed and Gibson again passed to Pierce for 10 yards. Foust smashed the line for four, then Gibson's flat lob was taken in by Pierce who fell twisting across.

Late in the quarter, after Gibson's pass to Brantly carried to the Cowhand 13, Gibson found a hole to the Lubbock four and Foust smashed over center for the score. Brantly converted.

Bob McKnight went in in the second period, and with Brantly alternating with the ball, smashed his way from midfield to Lubbock's

CHAMPIONS Grand Golf Slam

CLEVELAND... William Little of California (above), scored a "Bobby Jones" grand slam in golf in winning the U. S. national amateur golf championship for 1935. He is monarch of the amateurs of Great Britain and America for the second year in succession.

In the last period, Gibson passed to Foust to the 10-stripe, Littlefield was penalized to the 15, and McKnight passed to Moore who was trapped two yards from the pay-off. McKnight hammered right guard for the counter. Brantly's kick was good.

Coach Ayers brought down only 20 men, most of them under 145 pounds. Coach Sanders worked almost every squadder for a few minutes of the game. Wildcat passing, blocking and handling was a hundred per cent better than against Antos.

Kinard, Guy Barnett, Williamson and Stockton stood out in Cowhand performance. Lineups: Littlefield, Moore and Pierce, ends; Howe and B. Melton, tackles; N. Tubbs and C. Tubbs, guards; Neely and Walker, centers; Gibson, quarter; Brantly, Smith and B. McKnight halves; B. McKnight and Foust, fullbacks. Other substitutes: Swanner, James, R. Melton, Lambert, Brazeal, Carter, Beavers and Falls.

Lubbock, Gantz and Tapp, ends; Leaverton and Williams, tackles; Morrison and Kimard, guards; Woods, center; Ince, quarter; Williamson and Stockton, halves; Guy Barnett, fullback. Subs: C. Barnett, White, Spikes, Nugent, Roberts, Horne, Robertson and Simmons.

Anton Eleven To Be Hosts To Muleshoe Footballers Friday

(Special to The Leader) Anton, Sept. 25.—Coach Fred T. Rich's Anton Bulldogs will engage the powerful Muleshoe eleven on the Anton gridiron in a Class C match Friday afternoon.

Five pounds heavier per man, Coach Roy Stevens' Bailey county lads are fast and experienced. The game will be the third in the new Anton team's grid history.

Kick-off is set for 2:30. The forty-piece Anton band, directed by Miss Mary Frances Dale, and the snappy Anton High school pep squad will lend support. Several members of this band were also members of the original Anton Gypsy band, three times official West Texas Chamber of Commerce band.

Probable starters for Anton will be Survoick, le (other end to be named later) Jones and Rucker, tackles; Richards and Grant, guards; Fikes, c; Hedges, quarter; Roach and Samples, halves, and Stephenson, fullback.

For Muleshoe, Briscoe and Lambert, ends; Hart and Jennings, tackles; Parsons and Spivey, guards; Prescott, c; Elrod, quarter; Faulkner and Brooks, halves, and Beatty, fullback.

Pontiac Motor Co. To Reopen Foundry

Pontiac Motor Co. is preparing to reopen its iron foundry which has been idle since the spring of 1932. It was made known by H. J. Klingler, president and general manager of the company.

Littlefield Motor Company are dealers for the Pontiac car in this city. Pontiac in common with other divisions of General Motors has been obtaining motor blocks and other castings from the Corporation's foundry in Saginaw, but with the increase in the business of all divisions and the still greater schedules contemplated for 1936, the capacity of the Saginaw plant will be overtaxed.

"It was only when Pontiac production fell off in 1931 in connection with the decline in all other businesses, that common sense dictated that it would be wise economy to close the foundry," said Mr. Klingler. "A foundry is the type of plant that must operate somewhere near its capacity to be profitable. And Pontiac realized it would be money ahead to keep this plant idle and take advantage of the huge production of the Saginaw plant."

"Now that our sales have jumped ahead at such a fast pace this year and with almost every business factor pointing to a continued increase for 1936, we fully expect to be able to use the full production output of our own foundry."

Friday Press Day At Lubbock Fair

A dinner for West Texas newspaper editors attending the Panhandle-South Plains fair Friday, which will be Press day, will be given Friday at noon in Lubbock hotel by the fair association.

Harry Hines of Wichita Falls, chairman of the state highway commission, will be principal speaker. Impromptu speeches will be given by others.

Is Connected With J. H. Ware Dry Goods

Eulys Barbee, formerly of Hattiesburg, Miss., experienced shoe fitter, is now connected with the J. H. Ware Dry Goods.

Mr. Barbee was in charge of the department of the London Dry Goods, Hattiesburg, for four years, before coming to his home at the M. Ware residence.

SPORT WORLD

Wildcat camp news: Mumps, heretofore thought to be a children's ailment, has put a fat finger on several of Coach Bill Sanders' gridders...

Against Brownfield, the Wildcats have, at least, an even chance to win. While Sanders' boys turned in a bigtime performance against Ross Ayers' Cowhands last week, the embroilment with Johnnie Bost's Cubs might be a worm in the local stew.

The Cubs opened their season two weeks ago by knocking over Meadow, 13-0, and last week handed Bill Stevens' Levelland Lobos a 6-0 whoopin'.

Says Coach Stevens, who ought to know, "The Cubs have some fine strategy and plenty of power to back it up. They can sweep the ends, buck the line and make passes count."

Brownfield will be easily the toughest foe the Cats will have to face to date. In the rear garden, such men as Burnett and Duke will heckle Wildcat defense, and in the line will be Pharr, another standout. With such Cat backs as Jim Foust, J. Lee Gibson and Kanny Brantly, and such linemen as L. V. Pierce, Cecil Tubbs, Walker, Rowe, Moore, Charley Jones and others will be able to stop them Friday.

Why don't you fans toss that pile of work into a desk drawer, climb aboard old Bess and go down there and find out? Your going to Brownfield might turn the trick for the home boys.

Does anybody know where Max Baer could find a good set of knee-pads?

(Being a hazardous guess about how this column will read on Sept. 26, fifteen years from now.)

Prof. W. H. Madden got his thumb smashed when closing his confectionary doors in a hurry to get to the Littlefield-Brownfield game last week.

Ernest Cudiff got back last night from officiating at the Army-Navy game. Cudiff's services as a football official have been heavily in demand since the night back in 1935 when he called, without getting a scratch, the game between the Abraham Lincoln Ghosts (colored) and the Italian Spaghetti-benders Association.

Believe it or not, we saw a fellow wearing full-length trousers on the local tennis courts the other day!

John Smith, local blade, was seen making the rounds of the right clubs last week with Shirley Temple. Looks like a romance.

J. A. Lilly, who runs a harness business here, has tapered off now to 72 holes of golf a day.

H. Carl Arnold, national amateur golf champion, was once secretary of the school board here.

Bill Pass, national skeet champ, broke 99 clay pigeons out of a hundred with a BB gun in the Indianapolis matches last week.

Joe Louis Whips Max Baer In Fourth Round Tuesday

Joe Louis, sensational 21-year old Detroit negro, belted Max Baer to his knees in the fourth round of their scheduled 15-round go in New York, Tuesday night and won the right to battle Champion James J. Baddock sometime next year.

Max went down twice in the third round under Louis' lightning left jabs, once taking nine counts to clear his head. The other time, the bell cut the count short.

Knocked down again in the fourth, Baer was still on his knees when the ten-count ended, shaking his head to the crowd to indicate he couldn't take any more of the big negro's crippling left jabs.

More than 90,000 paid over $1,000,000 and packed into Yankee Stadium to watch the Livermore, Calif. flash and the Brown Bomber fight, Jack Dempsey was in Baer's corner.

Louis, son of former cotton-picking parents of Fayette, Ala., had risen to logical championship calibre in 14 months of sensational knockouts and decisions.

Chesterfield Cigarettes Sponsor Radio Program

An outstanding musical radio program, sponsored by Chesterfield Cigarettes will start Wednesday, October 2. Broadcasts will be given every Wednesday and Saturday nights from 8 to 8:30.

Man To Be Chosen Saturday To Fill Senate Vacancy

The special election called by Gov. James V. Allred to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Arthur P. Duggan will be held Saturday to elect a successor to Mr. Duggan, as the representative of the 30th Senatorial District.

There are five candidates in the field. They are: G. H. Nelson, Tahoka; Wm. H. (Bill) Evans; Jess Mitchell, Muleshoe; Pink Parrish, Lubbock; and B. Reagan, Big Spring.

Voting will take place at the usual polling places and at the usual hours.

ADDS TWO ROOMS

Mrs. J. H. Mathews of West Washington Street is adding two rooms to her place in the west part of town.

MUMPS DAMPEN BROWNFIELD TRIUMPH

Loss of three regulars through lack of mumps has cut down on the chances of Willett gridders who journeyed to Brownfield for a conference with Coach Johnnie Bost's Cubs Friday afternoon.

The Bostmen, reported to score more than 12 letters back last year, whipped Meadow 49-0, Levelland 6-0 in their two starts this season. They are said to be on the most versatile offensive lines in the district, much stronger than the eleven which the Wildcats whipped, 19 to 0, here in 1934.

Coach Bill Sanders will take full teams to Brownfield, here by bus about noon. Kick-off is scheduled for 2:30.

Making the trip will probably include Moore and Pierce, tackle; Wilson and Rowe, guards; C. Tubbs and B. Melton, center; Neely, center; Gibson, halves; Brantly, Smith; fullback; Lambert, O. who will probably see action; McKnight, Lakey, R. Melton, W. Graham, G. James, R. Swanner, Carter.

THE DIVORCE COURT MURDER

by MILTON PROPPER...

FIFTH INSTALLMENT

SYNOPSIS—Six persons are in an office of the law firm of Dawson, McQuire and Locke at Philadelphia. A master hearing in the case of Rowland vs. Rowland is under way. Mrs. Rowland, seated by her lawyer brother, Willard; Mr. Rowland, the defendant, and his attorney, Mr. Trumbull, the court clerk and Mr. Dawson, the master, are the six persons. There is a new development in the case. After failing to defend against the charge of adultery in earlier hearings, Mr. Rowland produces evidence and asks the permission to produce witnesses and resist the suit. Judge Willard overrules the heated objection of Mr. Willard, and orders the witnesses brought in. Rowland's lawyer goes to get the witness but she is dead—chloroformed. She is Barbara Keith, wife of a prominent Philadelphia business man. Dawson phoned for the police. Tommy Rankin is assigned to the case. He is now questioning all of the parties involved in the case. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

he receive due notice of the libel, so he may be represented if he desires to defend himself. I don't need his evidence and hardly intended to call on him. Naturally, he'd be a hostile, difficult witness; he'd never willing confirm Mrs. Keith's story and admit an illicit affair with my client's wife. "Is he here? Did he answer the summons or disregard it?" Rankin asked. "I noticed him in the outside office, after Allen and I both arrived," Mr. Trumbull stated. "But I've had no reason to speak with him. If he didn't leave before I — before the tragedy was discovered, he should still be there."

"That's none of your affair, Rankin," she replied, her mouth curled scornfully.

The detective absent-mindedly drew lines on a sheet of paper. "And who is he Mr. Trumbull?"

"I know little more about him than that his name is Hugh Campbell. He isn't a Philadelphian; he comes from New York and has some sort of connection with night clubs. I believe he supplies talent and produces entertainment for them."

Had he been watching Rankin carefully, he might have observed that he gave an abrupt start.

"Hugh Campbell?" Abruptly he changed the subject. "With regard to Mr. Willard and his sister," he queried; "as far as you're aware, did either of them enter fifteen-o-five before the meeting, if only for a minute?"

Mr. Trumbull pondered. "Not while Mr. Rowland and I remained with Mrs. Keith, I'm certain. Of course, I can't say what happened after we left the library and Allen went below. As I recall, Mrs. Rowland preceded us into the main office and talked briefly to Mr. Campbell. Then she returned to this room for about two minutes, I suppose to rejoin her brother. And while I was phoning my own office out there, she came out again and rather hurriedly left the suit altogether, by the center door."

"She went into the corridor? Have you any idea how long she stayed away?"

"More than five minutes, certainly — closer, perhaps, to eight," the lawyer replied slowly. "Mr. Rowland had rejoined me over three minutes before she came back. Then she spoke to Mr. Campbell again and re-entered the library. Mr. Willard stayed in here throughout and did not come out."

Rankin pushed back his chair as a signal to conclude the interview. "Thank you, Mr. Trumbull, that will be all now," he dismissed him. "Will you please ask Mr. Rowland to come in next?"

A brief space after Mr. Trumbull departed, his client dropped into the chair he had vacated. A bronzed giant, still under thirty, Allen Rowland had the broad shoulders and stalwart physique of an athlete. He had silky and blond curly hair, a broad nose and full lips, which with a twist might easily relapse into sullenness. Attractive though his virility was, thick hands and a heavy neck betrayed a natural crudeness and uncouthness. He was fully cognizant of his pleasant appearance.

He carried himself with perfect ease, yet Rankin sensed that his poise was acquired. He was not "to the manner born." Mr. Dawson inroduced them; and appreciating the gravity of the situation, he acknowledged the detective's greeting somberly. Then, his face pale and anxious, he lighted a cigarette and waited for the first question.

Rankin opened sympathetically. "I realize this is a most regrettable affair to you, Mr. Rowland. But I must ask you to bear with a few inquiries, mainly about Mrs. Keith's movements this afternoon. You accompanied her to the meeting, didn't you?"

"Yes, I called for her at the Aldrich Apartments at two o'clock," Allen Rowland answered. "We drove to town in her car, with Mr. Keith's chauffeur; the trip took us about half an hour."

"Did Mrs. Keith ever say anything, either then or before, to suggest she anticipated any danger to herself or that she had reason to fear some one?"

"No, I had no warning anything so terrible might happen. Naturally, she was a bit anxious about the hearing; but otherwise she seemed perfectly normal."

"And after you arrived," Rankin queried casually, "did you remain with her the entire time until the hearing started at three o'clock?"

Mr. Rowland's answer accorded with that of the lawyer. "Oh, no. Mr. Trumbull and I both left her in that empty office next door, after about ten minutes. She wanted to be alone and preferred not to wait outside. Then I went below to dismiss her chauffeur, since Mr. Trumbull had consented to escort her home in his car; I didn't return to her again."

Rankin was satisfied at this check, through Rowland, of Mr. Trumbull's account and movements.

"I think that covers the points I'm interested in at present," he said. He turned to Mr. Simpkins: "Be good enough to request Mrs.

Rowland to come in."

With a nod, the court clerk rose to do his bidding. Adele Rowland followed him from Mr. Dawson's chamber. She was a large woman, in both body and features, yet perfectly proportioned; and, without being beautiful, was extremely handsome and striking. Willful and dominating, Rankin clearly perceived she was accustomed to command.

"I only wished to ask, Mrs. Rowland, if you entered the office where Mrs. Keith met her death, after Mr. Trumbull and your husband left her there?" asked Rankin.

Taken unawares, at the abrupt query, as though to gain time to recover her poise, she repeated it slowly.

"Did I enter that room? No I never went near Mrs. Keith; they had closed her door between, and I stayed in here with my brother, waiting for Mr. Dawson."

"How about the outside door in the corridor, when you quit the suite altogether? That was unlocked; why did you go out?"

Mrs. Rowland caught her breath nervously. "I went below to the stand in the lobby to purchase — a newspaper," she answered. "That was the only place you

Morton Applies For Two PWA Projects

Morton—Application for two projects—a sewerage system and city hospital—are being made to the Public Works Administration.

Both of these proposed projects are to be financed by revenue bonds which are to be paid by the net earnings of the plants.

With the present rapid growth of the town and that which is now evident in the immediate future, a sanitary sewerage system is one of the urgent necessities and is a project that should be hastened.

With only the agricultural resources of this country as a foundation, the town within the next few months should double in size; but with the oil development which now seems imminent, it might grow to several thousand within a few weeks should the town equip itself with the essentials of modern life.

The fifth oil test is now going down a few miles south of here, and the major oil companies do not throw their money away so lavishly in what might be termed as unproven territory. The nearest town with conveniences will undergo a swift permanent development while other towns are getting ready.

TWO ARE FINED

Two men, giving Oklahoma as their home state, were assessed the minimum fine for petty theft when they pleaded guilty before Judge J. B. Sikes Saturday of taking five watches from a display card on a Bryan Drug Company counter.

One of the pair was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Sam Hutson shortly after the loss was discovered, and the other was apprehended by Constable L. A. Ratliff a few minutes later. The watches were found hidden in weeds alongside a road near the Littlefield hospital.

ADDS ANOTHER TRUCK

Another new truck was added to the school transportation system of the Morton School District recently, making a total of seven now in use. The new vehicle was purchased from the Moore Chevrolet Co. and was made necessary on account of an immense increase in the scholastic population.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Rev. Fred S. Rogers of Brady, Texas, will preach at the First Presbyterian Church here Sunday morning, September 29.

All members are urged to be present.

Prizes aggregating $2,500 in cash are offered for the best architectural plans for a model concrete home to be erected in the Better Homes Division of the Texas Centennial Exposition.

Cotton Seed Flour New Source Of Farm Revenue

Fort Worth, September 25.—A new money for Texas farmers and a valuable addition to the human diet promised by the development of a palatable flour from the press of the cotton seed, goal of researchers for three decades.

Credit for the discovery and perfection of the flour, which has the approval of the American Chemical Association's committee on cottonseed, goes to G. W. McMath, young chemist, and T. J. Harrell, past president of the Texas Cotton Seed Shers' Association.

Practical feeding tests have shown that the new basic food is rich in proteins, contains Vitamins and "G" and furnishes the body much needed phosphorus.

Harrell sees in the new process a great potential source of revenue to cotton growers through the State.

"It is entirely possible that a large amount of cotton will be produced mainly for the seed within a few years," he says. "Even larger better seed may be developed."

Harrell had the cotton seed question in his mind as long ago as 1926. He wasn't the first. Hundreds of others had thought of it, but even worked at it, for more than 20 years. However, no urgent need for experimentation struck Harrell till he, like others, was faced with dwindling markets of the depression. He sought a way out.

Determined to go after the problem scientifically, he went to the Agricultural & Mechanical College and there singled out McMath as the man he needed. The young chemist specialized in cotton seed research and, after completing two advanced scholarships, came to Harrell here in 1932 to begin his work.

For six months McMath applied himself to learning operations of mill from the time the seed enters the warehouse until it was taken out in one of its many final forms. Harrell then provided with a fully equipped laboratory experiments were begun in earnest.

McMath lived with his problem, the laboratory for eight months, the end of that time, he was confident he had attained his goal, a palatable human food from the press of the cotton seed.

But test tube and commercial reduction are two different things, reversed the procedure and started again. Days and nights of work lightly resulted in success. A flour in texture came from the laboratory.

The next and largest problem, according to Harrell, was development of machinery capable of turning the flour in large quantities.

To this end, then, McMath has his efforts. As a machinist he worked designs he believed would accomplish his aims. Experts were skeptical, but Harrell put $10,000 into the revolutionary machinery.

Special Booths for School Children To Register Sat.

Registration booths for entry of children 12 years and older, to participate in Littlefield's Expansion program will be near the First National at these booths only children will register.

Booths for adults have been operating on Phelps Avenue all this week, and over 2000 names have been entered. Misses Vanita Seely and Mary Ruth Newgent were in charge of these. These lists are being kept separately, so that at any time later the members may use same for locating people or their addresses. It is only necessary to register once to participate in all trade programs from now until January 1, and if any person is found registering twice, his name will be stricken entirely from the list.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Lubbock County Singing Convention meets at Shallowater, Texas, Saturday night, September 28th and all day Sunday, September 29th.

There will be many visiting singers at this convention, among which will be V. O. Stamps, Treddie Martin, L. M. Brooks, formerly of Lubbock, and more quartets than space will permit the listing. All Lamb County singers are especially invited to this convention. Clyde Burleson, President, Lubbock County Convention.

Methodist Ladies To Be Hostesses Federation Meeting

The Federation of Church Auxiliaries will be held at the Methodist Church Monday afternoon, September 30, with members of the Missionary Society as hostesses.

A splendid program is being arranged, and all members are urged to be present.

CHURCHES

CHURCH OF CHRIST
Littlefield Drive

Bible Study—9:45 a. m.
Preaching—11 a. m. and 8 p. m.
Lords Supper—11:45 a. m.
Little Folks Meeting—7:30 p. m.
Young Peoples Meeting—7:30 p. m.
Ladies Bible Class—3 p. m. Monday.
Prayer and Praise—7:45 p. m. Wednesday.
Teachers Training Class—8:45 p. m. Wednesday.
The officers of the church report capacity crowds Sunday, with two additions to the church at the evening service. Many were present from distant towns with about one hundred visitors from Lockney at the evening service. There were sixty-two in young peoples meeting. Come and grow with us.
G. A. Dunn, Jr. will fill the pulpit Sunday as usual. We want you present.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE
East Fifth and South Herral
Eugene Wood, Pastor

Sunday School—10 a. m.
Morning Worship—11 a. m.
Sermon theme—"God is Light."
Evening service—8:00 p. m.
Perhaps someone who is not a regular attendant of any church or Sunday school will read this announcement. If such is the case won't you begin this very Sunday to attend the church of your choice. Should you choose to attend the services of this church you will find a friendly welcome awaiting you. We seek to rejoice with those who rejoice and weep with those who weep, to help those who are in sin to find pardon, and those who are Christians to walk in the light.

METHODIST CHURCH
John W. Hendrix, Pastor

It looked better last Sunday. The church school registered more and the periods of public worship was better attended. Maybe you were not out, after all some were not out. We can think of some that were not; it might be we have you in mind. Some one may visit you about it. It isn't too late to begin—might be late for some!
Church school begins its opening exercises at 9:45 a. m. Your part in it begins at that moment—9:45 a. m., Supt., Floyd Hemphill. The morals of the church school is building up considerably, growth is certain.

The choir will meet on Wednesday evening and rehearse the music for the morning hour of worship. At this service the pastor will deliver a sermon using as a subject, "SHIELDS OF BRASS." It is practical, timely, to the point. Do you, in these days, the last few years, see shields of brass? Yes, and you see a lot of people who won't carry any shields at all!
The young people meet in their program at 7 p. m. And it is getting to be a real program. You'll profit by the next meeting. The substance of the lesson is of the very highest order. Calvin Brazzill is leader.

The evening worship will come on immediately after their session is over. The Choral club will furnish the music and the pastor will preach, using as a theme, "Limpin' Enroute." Lots of limping in our day. We have clubs which do all they can for crippled children; other institutions which make it their major project to treat crippled children, etc.; but in spite of all this we're a host of people halt and lame. The road is crowded with lame travelers! Suppose you hear them described and pointed out Sunday morning.

TABERNACLE BAPTIST CHURCH
Premillennial, Missionary Evangelical
Jno. R. Denning, Pastor

We are expecting a peak attendance in our Sunday school next Sunday, and we invite everyone who is not attending regularly in some Sunday school to come and visit with us. We teach the Bible only, and you will enjoy the study, as well as our preaching services.

At eleven o'clock the pastor will bring the third, and last, of a series of sermons on "The Sermon on the Mount," preaching from the seventh chapter of Matthew.

The evening song service will begin at 7:30 p. m., after which will follow the evening message from Mark 5:41 "What Manner of Man is this, that even the wind and the sea obey Him?"

Conducts Revival At Walters, Okla.

Bro. G. A. Dunn, Jr. Church of Christ pastor returned to Littlefield Friday following a two weeks' revival meeting at Walters, Okla. Bro. Dunn occupied the pulpit as usual Sunday.

Divorce Court Murder—

went?" the detective asked incredulously. "That little errand took you the eight minutes or more you were gone."

"No — on the way back, I stopped in the lady's retiring room on this floor."

Though the reply came too glibly to be convincing, Rankin appreciated her self-possession in producing an excuse he could neither investigate nor disprove.

"I believe you are acquainted with Mr. Hugh Campbell. Before you left these offices, you spoke to him and then returned to the library. Could you tell me what you talked about?"

Haughtily and disdainfully, the woman drew herself to her full height.

"That is none of your affair, Rankin," she replied scornfully, her mouth curled. "I don't care to discuss my connection with Mr. Campbell, which is wholly private and has nothing to do with Mrs. Keith's unhappy death."

Rankin nodded, unabashed. "As you wish, of course," he agreed, unpleasantly amiable. "Then I may as well have Mr. Campbell in next and question; perhaps he will be less reticent."

He observed a sudden flash of alarm and fury illumine her eyes. They hardened and she had to bite her lip to restrain a resentful retort, as Rankin stepped to the office entrance, still smiling provocatively.

"Jenks!" he called, and when the detective approached, he said, "I think there is a Mr. Hugh Campbell waiting out there; ask him to join us, please."

For a moment, his assistant's features puckered in a puzzled reflective frown.

"Hugh Campbell?" he repeated, "There's no one —" Abruptly, his eyes lighted. "Oh, yes, the phone clerk did say a Mr. Campbell arrived for the hearing just around 2:40. But he isn't here any more. A few minutes before three he got a phone call; he left the joint right away and hasn't come back."

Tommy Rankin was more than ordinarily interested in Hugh Campbell. For he was a power to be reckoned with in the bootlegging business, commanding an organization to import liquor from Canada to a chain of roadhouses and "joints" in Connecticut and Long Island. Though he had never met him, Rankin knew he was no gangster; on the contrary, urbane, shrewd and well-bred, traveled in good society, a picturesque and somewhat mysterious individual. He had influence in political circles and never personally participated in the aggressive activities of his agents. But it was his audacity and ambitious management that developed an effective and profitable smuggling ring, controlled the racketeers in his employ, arranged for the acceptance of his wares and paid the necessary protection.

Then this was the man Adele Rowland had chosen, her husband claimed, to be her lover. If she contemplated a fresh martial venture, her new choice, the detective reflected in grim amusement, was certainly more romantic and exciting than either the late Tom Marshall or her present incubus.

He received quietly enough Jenks' announcement of Campbell's departure.

"Did he leave any message to explain the call," he inquired, "or indicate where he was going?"

"No, he didn't," Jenks replied. "All I learned is that some chap rang the office and inquired for him; and the phone clerk summoned him to her desk, where there was a connected instrument, to take the call."

Rankin's interest quickened. "At her desk Then she might have caught some of the conversation."

"Yes, she could hardly help hearing several things this Campbell said, he spoke so loudly and — well, violently. First he shouted, "What?" and then, very much alarmed, "Oh, my God!" Next he cried, "You fool!" and said he'd join him; he hung up, greatly upset, and hurried out without a word."

"Perhaps Mrs. Rowland," Rankin turned inquiringly toward the woman, "can offer a reason for his disturbance or has an idea where he went."

He could not judge from her diffident manner, whether she was relieved or troubled by Campbell's absence.

"I don't know anything about it,"

TODAY'S VERY LATEST FASHION HINTS

Designed in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20; 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32. Size 16 requires 4 5-8 yards and 35-inch material with 1 1-2 yards of 1 1-2 inch bias binding.

SMART APRON FROCK

PATTERN 8533 — The wrap-around, tie-on style of house frock is very popular with busy Mothers and home-makers of many good reasons. First because its long, slenderizing, princess lines are attractive and becoming; second because it is very easy to slip into and is shadow-proof, and another reason because it is so easy to make and launder.

The style sketched has all these good points—a round high neckline, with a panel from shoulder to hem, slashed sleeves and a sash tied in the front.

For PATTERNS, send 15 cents in coin (for each pattern desired), your NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE to Patricia Dow, Lamb County Leader Pattern Dept., 115 Fifth Avenue, Littlefield, Tex.

Junior Study Club Entertained by Miss Johnnie Pace

Miss Johnnie Pace was hostess last Thursday evening at the home of her parents, two and one half miles west of Littlefield, when she entertained members of the Junior Study club.

Miss Evelyn Garlington was leader of a very interesting program on parliamentary law. Miss Laura Virginia Bells discussed the importance of order in a meeting.

A round table discussion on parliamentary law was led by Miss M. Jorie Sanders. Miss Ruth Mathews reviewed the constitution and by-laws of the local club.

Those attending this meeting were Mesdames W. W. Mason, Laura Virginia Bells, Thelma Killough, Evelyn Garlington, Mary Bell Montgomery, Edna Douglas, Ruth Mathews, Eva Gertrude Chisholm, Major Sanders, Eddythe Walker, Nora Belle Grizzle, Mesdames Roy Young, William Jefferies, Jack Johnson, Quinton Bellomy, and the hostess.

Miss Nora Belle Grizzle will be hostess for the next meeting, in Amberst, October 8.

Dr. Nelms and Mrs. Nelms Have Out Of Town Guests

Dr. Nelms and Mrs. Nelms local chiropractors had as their guests Thursday and Friday of last week, Dr. J. E. Nelms' father, S. C. Nelms and brother W. K. Nelms and two daughters, Mary Joe and Imogene from Whitesight, Texas. Also a brother, A. T. Nelms and wife and two daughters, Evelyn and Sarah Louise from O'Donnell, Texas. This was the first visit to the West Texas and also the first to the country since they left the most prosperous looking country they ever saw. They report no such crops in their part of Texas.

Courtney White Recovers From Painful Accident

Courtney White, small son of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. White of 15110 Vandebilt, Dallas, had quite a painful accident about ten days ago. He was playing with a small flag and had one end of the stick in his mouth. Turning around abruptly he struck the other end of the stick, forcing the sharp end into his jaw just above the lower teeth for about half an inch. Courtney was treated at an Emergency hospital and the injury is healing nicely and giving no trouble. The accident did not prevent Courtney entering his first school year at Victory Place School on September 16th. He tells his mother his teacher has taught him to say "May I" instead of "Can I", which his mother thinks is quite enough progress for the first week of school.

Mesdames Higgins and Smith Hostesses At Bridal Shower

Mesdames J. D. Higgins and O. B. Smith were joint hostesses at a bridal shower given in honor of Mrs. Caroles Sanderson in the home of Mrs. P. H. Smith, Tuesday at 2:30 p. m.

The bride was seated by the beautiful decorated table where she received the many nice and useful gifts as the guests arrived.

Several games were played. Each member was requested to tell their happiest and their most embarrassing moments, also ways to hold husbands love.

A piano solo, "Side by Side," was played by Mrs. Fielton Smith.

"Adieu," "Forever Under the Pine," sang by Miss Mamie Brewer and Mary Edith Roberts.

The next game played was "Do Be and Don't."

The bride sang, "Satisfied." Then every one was asked to join in the game of Thunder and Lightning. After the games the guests gathered around the table to enjoy the gifts with the bride.

Mrs. Fulton Smith and Mrs. Sulo Sanderson assisted with the serving of chicken sandwiches, cookies and ice cream to the following:

Mesdames C. W. Willis, Myrtle Roberts, Leva Cook, Fred Lichte, Chas. Luchon, Roy Gattis, E. J. Swanson, Jack Easley, J. M. Blessing, Charlie Byers, G. W. Bridges, P. H. Smith, Frank C. ## COMMUNITY GARDEN

Amarillo, Tex.—(UP)—A 225 acre community garden to furnish food for unemployed families is among WPA projects asked for here. The project would cost $17,000 estimates indicate.

The garden would be cultivated by the unemployed workers. Land, water, and labor would be furnished by the city.

It is estimated that the garden would produce enough foodstuffs to absorb the greater part of relief roll costs during the coming year.

"I've spent almost half my life around here, and I ought to know a winner when I see one."

PRYOR HAMMONS TO OPEN FURNITURE STORE IN LITTLEFIELD VERY SOON

Pryor Hammons, who was in the furniture business in Littlefield for a number of years, will reenter that business within a week or two. Mr. Hammons went out of the furniture business several months ago, and since that time has devoted all of his time to his undertaking business. With the reopening of a furniture store Mr. Hammons will divide his time between his furniture business and his undertaking business. The Home Furniture Co., owned by W. A. Anglev of Portales, this week discontinued the Littlefield store and Mr. Anglev moved the stock to the New Mexico city. Vernon Eagan, who has been manager of the Littlefield store, will return to his former connection as bookkeeper for the Lowmore & Irvin Gin. Mr. Hammons has leased the building which has been occupied by the Home Furniture Co. as the location for his new store.

Trade Program

ay Saturday, October 5, in the center of the block on Phelps Avenue about opposite Madden's and Stokes-Alexander Drug Stores. On the first Monday, October 7, the money will be given away at the intersection of XIT Drive between Cicero-Smith and Jeffries Mercantile. The following Saturday money prizes will be given away in the block on Phelps Avenue between the Lamb County Leader and W. J. Aldridge Grocery store. The Saturday following the money will be given away in the center block between Higginbotham-Lumber Company and the Hamburger King Cafe. Every person is eligible excepting the business and professional men of Littlefield, their immediate families and the employees of these firms. All others over 12 years of age are eligible. The money will be given away through registration in the presence of three witnesses at the same time each Trade Day, as given above. A registration booth has been located on Phelps Avenue for this purpose. After receiving a capital prize, that person is barred entirely from all other awards. Those receiving minor amounts of money are still eligible until they receive a capital prize. The publicity committee met Monday afternoon in the offices of the Hall Motor Company, with L. B. Stone, Mancil, Paul W. J. Aldridge and Joe Hale present, and arranged committees and outlined the program over which publicity matter would be distributed, inviting the citizens of those various communities and towns to attend the big celebration Saturday, October 5, in Littlefield, and all subsequent trades days, and also to make Littlefield their trading center. A large number of extra copies of the Trades Day special edition of the Leader will be distributed by the various committees appointed Thursday and Friday, October 3 and 4. Those serving on these committees, and the places where they will visit are as follows: Valley View, Pep and Morton District—Sam Rumback, T. S. Sales and Morris Morgan. Bula, Enochs, Goodland and Causey, N. M.—Mancil Hall, Joe Hale and W. J. Aldridge. Beck's Gin, Circle Back, Baileyboro—Jack Brannen, Raymond Renfrow and Bob Cox. Whitharral, Anton and Hodge—John Porcher, Joe Hale and Horace Moody. Spade, Cotton Center and Newhome—L. B. Stone, Archie Dale and G. M. Shaw. Earth, Fieldton, Hart's Camp, Circle and Spring Lake—J. M. Stokes, Joe Replin and Joe Hale. G. M. Shaw, who is working hard to make the celebration a huge success, stated to the Leader Monday that "we are progressing nicely with the budget. The business men are receiving the plan whole heartedly, and are certainly interested in a program of this kind."

return, thereby eliminating hotel bills, and are also given tickets for the Tech-Loyola game. He also stated that the Exposition was on at San Diego, and the fare was only $2.00 from Los Angeles to that city. He suggested that reservations on the train be made with H. C. Pamphrey, local agent, or at Lubbock. G. M. Shaw, in charge of the Trade Expansion program being sponsored here, reported fully on the trade budget, registrations, committees and other matters relative to the celebration October 5, and following trades days. Dr. Ira Woods spoke on the value of advertising, suggesting that all merchants get behind the plan of bringing Littlefield to the front as a shopping center; stating this would be a good time to advertise their merchandise. W. H. Cunningham suggested the reopening of the County Cannery here, and J. S. Hilliard urged all who could to attend the Littlefield vs. Brownfield game at Brownfield Friday.

Asks Restrictions On Liquor Sales

While a senate committee approved a bill banning sale of liquor by the drink, the house liquor traffic committee discussed a state monopoly measure. Simultaneously other committees heard county officials protest allowing county commissioners to set salaries and arranged for public hearings on various pension bills. The senate state affairs, approved, 9 to 8, a bill by Senator Clint Small, of Amarillo which defined an "open saloon" as a place where liquor is sold for consumption on the premises. It was the first test on a legislative definition of the repeal amendment's prohibition against the open saloon. Senator Small said it would simplify the legislature's task or regulating the liquor traffic, for under the definition either private package sales or a state monopoly system could be invoked. The wet bloc protested committee action prior to a sub-committee's report on a license system bill authorizing sale of mixed drinks by hotels and restaurants. "That bill would encourage the very conditions which have existed for 15 years," said Senator T. Holbrook of Galveston. "Don't you think the people wanted to get away from that?" Small said it would "keep fifth with the people" and he was unable to understand "how the legislature can pass a bill letting liquor be sold in a saloon." Senator Frank Rawlings of Fort Worth argued that definition of a saloon was left to the legislature and Small's bill would "put out .2 beer and lighter forms of wine." He said provision barring sale for consumption on premises accessible to a dispensary would be impracticable. Representative George Joffett of Chillicothe and Alfred Beach of Fredericksburg, authors of a monopoly bill, told the liquor traffic committee it would guarantee the largest returns from the traffic would be economically operated and remove liquor as a political issue. Thomas H. McKee of Venon, former relief administrator in Washington, advocated a monopoly as the best way to supervise liquor sales. Sale at state stores in unbroken packages was conducive to home drinking and temperance he said, as well as lower prices. A three percent retail sales tax on gross receipts and a $2 per capita tax were proposed in the senate to pay old-age pension costs, while a house sub-committee completed revision of pension measure. The house sub-committee approved restrictions denying pensions to persons whom others were legally liable for and able to support. It included a minor tax feature to permit submission of revenue amendments from the floor. Senator Roy Sanderford of Belton estimated his three percent sales tax would produce up to $3,000,000 annually, while the maximum cost of pensions would be $6,000,000. Senator Allan Ehivers of Port Arthur calculated pensions authorized by his plan would cost more than $12,000,000 annually. The house revenue and taxation committee Monday recommended 17 to 3 a graduated tax on chain stores. The levy would range from $1 on single stores to $750 on stores in chains of 50 or more. Rep. J. Manley Head of Granbury, author, estimated the tax would yield approximately $1,500,000 annually. The bill was supported by Governor Allred. The committee amended the bill to exempt public utilities and concerns selling oil and gas well supplies but included wholesale chain stores, Gasoline filling stations and retail lumber yards were excluded originally.

Candidate For State Senate

Mr. Reagan, a resident of Big Spring for the past 37 years and president of the First National Bank in that city, is a candidate for state senator. He has been active in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce; is a past president of the South Plains Bankers association, and a former national official in the Woodmen of the World. Mr. Reagan visited Littlefield last week in behalf of his candidacy for the state senate.

Vaugh's Dairy Now Delivers Pasteurized Milk In Littlefield

George Vaughn has just finished installation of a pasteurization plant at Vaughn's Dairy here. The new plant will enable Mr. Vaughn to bring to Littlefield homes milk that is absolutely pure from any taint which might occur in milk between milking time and delivery. The process involves heating milk to a prescribed temperature, then cooling it, thereby destroying all pathogenic germs which might be in the original milk. The process, discovered by Louis Pasteur, French scientist, in the early 19th century, has been successfully applied to milk treatment in cities and towns all over the world. Vaughn's Dairy is thought to be the only dairy between Lubbock and Clovis where milk is pasteurized. Mr. Vaughn, who serves the milk by federal demand at the CCC camp here, invites everyone in Littlefield to visit him and inspect the new plant, which has been in operation since Sunday. Vaughn's Dairy delivers both pasteurized and Grade A raw milk twice daily. The establishment is located about a mile northwest of town on Highway 7.

1936 BUICK WILL GO ON DISPLAY AT LITTLEFIELD MOTOR CO. SATURDAY

The 1936 Buick will be on display this Saturday at the Littlefield Motor Co., Buick and Pontiac dealers for Littlefield and territory. Four new lines of automobiles, the result of two years of preparation involving complete redesign of the product and sweeping changes in manufacturing facilities, are announced by the Buick Motor Company. Styled and engineered to meet every requirement of the modern motorist, the new Buicks have exceptional speed, maneuverability and economy; unusually attractive style treatment, and rugged construction that provides characteristic dependability in a group of cars that will be noted for their flashing performance. Buick for 1936 offers a standard production car in the $1,000 field having the qualifications of a specially built racing automobile. At the same time, the company offers three other lines ranging from the low medium through the medium price brackets. Two straight eight valve-in-head engines of Buick design, developing 93 and 120 horsepower, are the power plants for the four lines of cars. Among other features are new streamlined styling with a speed motif throughout, solid steel "Turret Top" Fisher bodies, slanting Vee-type windshields, anodized alloy pistons of light weight and the hardness of cast iron, sealed chassis, improved independent front wheel suspension and hydraulic brakes. The four series of cars, ranging upward in wheelbase, weight and price class, are the Buick Special, the Buick Century, the Roadmaster and the Limited. Numerical designations of the four groups are the Series 40, Series 60, Series 80 and Series 90 respectively. A total of 14 body types are listed for the four lines of cars. Speed is the motif followed throughout in the new Buick styling. Radiators are high and wedge-shaped with die-cast chromium grilles. Fenders, entirely new in design, are speedlined and attached to a flat running board. The long hoods are carried forward to meet the grille at which point is mounted an attractive modernistic radiator ornament. New bodies by Fisher are streamlined from cowl to tail, featuring sharply slanted split Vee-type windshields with double windshield wipers mounted at the bottom. Outstanding 1936 Buick body feature is Fisher all-steel "Turret Top" with which all cars are equipped. Besides being an important structural and safety factor, the "Turret Top" is regarded as one of the major appearance features of the cars.

Joe Childers Is Establishing Tire Parts Business

Joe Childers, who was in business in Tulla for seven years, has his business in that city, establishing a business in Littlefield. Mr. Childers has taken a store building owned by Higinbotham and located on Phelps Avenue opposite the Higginbotham Co.
