

QUALIFIED VOTERS SHOULD CAST BALLOTS

Building Of New Court House To Be Voted On Saturday

Important bond election in Lamb county next October 11. On that day every Lamb County voter who has rendered a qualified vote, and is a qualified voter, has the privilege of a final decision as to whether or not the new Court House will be built. The purpose of the election is to determine whether or not the new Court House will be built. The purpose of the election is to determine whether or not the new Court House will be built.

Saturday, so that all farmers could more conveniently vote, with a minimum of interference with the cotton harvest, now in full force and swing.

Decision With Voters

Over a period of nearly 30 years, this paper has served the people of Lamb county. During those 30 years, we have found that they invariably have been able to make the right decision as they have voted upon numerous bond issues, and other issues which have come up for decision by ballot in the county. The enormous growth and progress of the county during those years stands as mute proof of the soundness of their judgments, as expressed by their ballots. The good projects have been approved—the bad ones rejected.

We also believe that their sense of good judgment has not now deserted them, and that again, next Saturday when the matter of the $600,000 bond issue for a new court house is up for their decision—they will again vote and make that same "right decision"—in the best interest of both self and county.

Voters Capable Of Decision

Having that kind of confidence and faith in the sound judgment of our people, we have not felt that any propaganda campaign was either called for or necessary. We did not, and do not, wish to insult the intelligence and proven good common sense of any of our people, by even suggesting how they should vote. Their own good common sense will dictate their ballot, and its marking, come next Saturday.

There are really only two questions that the voter needs to ask him or herself before voting on this bond issue:

1. Does Lamb County need a new Court House?
2. Can Lamb County afford a new Court House?

And there can be no argument, that the overwhelming evidence supports a "YES" answer to both of those questions.

Fire Hazard Immense

In support of that "yes" answer, we would like to emphatically point out one pertinent fact. If a fire were to sweep the present Court House, with its wholly inadequate, and fire-hazard type storage vault where county records are kept, the loss would cost ten, twenty times the amount of this bond issue, in addition to invalidating and jeopardizing the titles to practically every piece of property in the entire county. But that isn't all of the story of the need. The jail built to accommodate less than a dozen persons, frequently holds 30, 40, and up to 50 persons, and often and all too often, some of them are boys, under-age, thrown in with hardened criminals. Every office is overcrowded. As a result no office operates with full efficiency. The Court room is inadequate in size and facilities. There is no place for a Justice Court except a cubby-hole. There are no facilities for juries and jurors; no place for female prisoners; no place for juveniles or mental delinquents, and those are only a small part of the deficiencies and inadequacies of the present Court House. Dozens more could be listed.

The building now serving as a County Court House, was built many years ago to serve Littlefield as a City Hall, when Littlefield was a town of one-fourth of its present population. It is totally inadequate now, in both size and equipment to house our county government ten times bigger than when this building was built. Lamb county, therefore does not have a Court House—it just operates, inefficiently, in a second-hand City Hall building. And we can no longer afford to operate that way.

Can Afford Court House

And for the second question "Can Lamb County afford a new Court House," there is conclusive evidence that it can. The natural growth of the county, all sections of the county both rural and towns, has added millions of dollars of assessed valuation to the tax rolls of the county, through each succeeding year, but sharply increased since World War II—several millions of dollars more valuation will be added when the new multi-million dollar

Southwestern Public Service plant goes on the tax rolls for the first time this year. The tax on this latter piece of property alone will far more than be enough to service the $600,000 bond issue if voted. These added valuations, automatically provide and bring in an ever-increasing tax income.

There is no need and no thought of raising tax rate or valuations in the county, for the Court House bonds, or for any other purposes. Actually, the prospects are good that the county will have the biggest surplus of receipts over expenditures, despite a Court House bond issue, in its entire history.

Our taxable valuation is due to jump from around fifteen to probably more than twenty million dollars this year. And we will continue to have one of the lowest tax rates, and low dollar property valuations, (Continued On Back Page)

Police Are Active Over Week End

City police and the sheriff's department had a busy week end.

The city police made 18 arrests Saturday night on drunk and disorderly charges. Part of the group paid fines Sunday morning, and others continued in jail, very temporarily or indefinitely.

Eleven arrests were made in the colored section on gambling charges. Police said there were cards and money on the table. Fines of $14 and costs were paid.

One arrest was made on a charge of possession of beer. This case was turned over to the county, and a fine of $100 and costs was paid.

Two tickets were given for alleged reckless driving.

Charges of driving an automobile while intoxicated were made following two arrests by the county. One of the men paid a fine of $75 and costs, and the latest report was that the other driver was still in jail.

The county also made several arrests and filed charges of drunkenness.

9,500 Bales of Cotton Are Handled to Date

The date of the arrival of the first freeze and first killing frost, for this year of 1952 is no longer a matter of speculation. The normal average date is November 4, although sometimes earlier and sometimes later. This year it arrived almost one month ahead of schedule in Lamb county. Tuesday morning, October 6, a heavy white frost covered the county at sunrise hour, and thermometers registered 28 degrees—with some reporting recording even lower at or near ground level.

It was considerably warmer a few feet off the ground, as the recording gauge atop West Texas Gas offices in Littlefield registered a low

Work Underway In Erection Of New Jail Building For Earth

Earth, the growing little city in northwest Lamb County, has never had a jail, but according to Earth Deputy Sheriff L. H. Randolph, but has needed one badly, for many, many months. The situation is now going to be corrected.

The Earth City Commission has authorized the building of new City Bastille, at Earth, and work got underway on construction this week, with completion expected in the next ten days.

The jail will be complete in every detail, including both bars and cells. Two confinement cells, eight beds, and a "run-around" will be housed in the new 20x24 ft. building, at the rear of Earth City Hall. Herman Galloway is contractor.

Lawrence Kelley, local constable, is also pleased that the new jail is being built.

In the past, Earth officers have been forced to bring their prisoners to Littlefield, where the jail is invariably overcrowded.

"In one 24-hour period we had to bring over 17 of them," the deputy stated. "It's decidedly unhandy, and in some cases dangerous," he added.

Juanita Wells Services Pending

Funeral services were pending yesterday afternoon for Miss Juanita Wells, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Wells, 602 W. 7th street,

The family have resided here since 1942 when they moved here from Bangs, Texas.

Survivors include the parents, four brothers and five sisters.

One plane will bring General Eisenhower and party, and another ship will transport representatives of magazines, newspapers, and radio services.

A number of residents of Littlefield and Lamb county plan to be in Lubbock to hear General Eisenhower.

FFA Dairy Products Team Win Second Place Award At National

The High School's State FFA Dairy Products team, composed of Darrell Kennemer, Bill Womack, and Fields, which won their championship at College Station, Texas, and with it, the right to become the Texas National Judging contest at Waterloo, Iowa, on Thursday of last week, did not succeed in winning National Championship, but nevertheless, won honor and glory for themselves and for their school, by capturing one of six coveted second place positions in the National competitions.

As a result, they brought home with them, when they returned home Saturday morning, a beautiful silver emblem plaque, which now reposes in the front ranks of the Littlefield High School trophy case, in the entrance hall of the beautiful new High School building, alongside of other trophies which have been won by the school over the years.

Thirty-seven judging teams participated in the national judging contest from as many states. In deference to the fact that these contesting teams were all school teams, and therefore, not professional,

Old Stove Roundup Plans Made At Dinner Meeting Tuesday Night

Old Stove Roundup, an annual event with all gas range dealers and the West Texas Gas Co., will be held this year in the Panhandle-South Plains, October 27 through November 29.

This will be the fourth year for such an event, and on each occasion has been very popular with buyers and dealers. The buyers have found that they have a very special opportunity to dispose of their used ranges at a favorable price on the purchase of new, modern stoves.

In this immediate section, dealers and the West Texas Gas Co. made arrangements for the affair this year at a dinner meeting at Plah-er's dining room Tuesday night.

In addition to Littlefield dealers, merchants were present from Muleshoe, Sudan, Amherst, Earth, Olton, Anton, and other points.

Charles Duval, Littlefield manager for the West Texas Gas Co., presided, and talks were made by Bill McCarroll, advertising manager of the gas company, and Bill Dearsdorf, assistant to the vice-president in charge of distribution, both with headquarters in Lubbock.

After the general program for Old Stove Roundup was explained, there was a general round table discussion in which the approximately 40 dealers in attendance entered into very enthusiastically.

During Old Stove Roundup, as at any other time, the buyers are not restricted to any make of gas range; they can patronize the dealer of their choice and may select a stove any manufacture.

The slogan for Old Stove Roundup is: "A range to fit your needs and your purse."

Dealers will have the greatest variety of stoves this year that have ever been offered in Old Stove Roundup, and the prices will be very favorable. Such a wide selection, and exceptionally favorable prices, will be more pronounced during the five weeks of the roundup than ordinarily featured.

DECEMBER 1 IS DEADLINE FOR FILING REQUEST FOR ACP PRACTICES

The below report has been furnished by the Production and Marketing Administration office at Amherst.

1953 ACP Program

Below is the number of farms in each community to be contacted under the 1953 ACP Program and the number of contacts that have been reported to the P.M.A. Office as of this date:

Community	Total Contacts	Total Reported
Community A	391	0
Community B	412	0
Community C	177	20
Community D	477	56
Community E	253	132
Community F	336	59
Community G	293	34
Community H	301	3

We feel certain that a number of the Community Committeemen have made more contacts than are indicated above, but have just failed to report them as of this date. Everyone is again reminded that December 1, 1953, is the deadline date for filing your request for ACP Practices to be carried out during the 1953 Program Year. You are urged to make arrangements with your Community Committeeman and make known your wishes for conservation practices for 1953. Your Community Committeeman is a farmer, the same as you, and as we all know every farmer is very busy at the present time; therefore you are urged to co-operate with him in every way possible so that the work he has to do may be completed in a minimum of time.

Food And ACP

The average person eats about 1,600 pounds of food in a year. That's a lot of groceries when multiplied by our 156 million people. Most of it must come from our 5.4 million farms. If we keep the groceries coming, we will have to keep these farms producing. One of the programs to help our farms producing is the P.M.A. Agricultural Conservation Program. P.M.A. Committeemen are now signing up farmers to co-operate in the 1953 ACP.

The ACP is more than just a farm program. We all have an interest in what happens to our land. If we are going to keep on turning out 1,600 pounds of food per person, our land must be protected and improved. Today there are 2 1/4 acres of cropland per person. Back in 1930, it was nearly 3 acres. By 1975, it will be less than 2 acres. Which points up pretty well what we are up against—a greatly increased population, but not a large increase in cropland. That's the reason we are out signing up farmers to co-operate in the 1953 ACP. It is more than just a farm program—IT IS A PROGRAM FOR ALL OF US. It will take 32,403 more pounds of food to feed the people of the United States tomorrow than it takes today. The next day and every other day, we must add 32,403 pounds to our daily supply or reduce our diets.

Ground Breaking Ceremonies Held

The first annual Homecoming for the Amherst Methodist Church was highlighted by Ground Breaking Ceremonies for the new Church at 3:00 p.m. Sunday. Participating in the ground breaking event were the pastor, Rev. Darris L. Egger, J. S. Harmon, Chairman of the Building Committee, Rev. Vernon N. Henderson, District Superintendent, Rev. Marvin Boyd, Plainview District Superintendent (Amherst was in the Plainview District until last June). Others participating were the Chairman of the Official Board, Aubrey Jones, President of the W.S.C.S., Mrs. W. P. Holland, H. L. Messamore, Superintendent of the Sunday School; Mildred Gregson, President of the M.Y.F. Charter members of the original Church also participated in the ground breaking.

Dr. L. N. Lipscomb, former district Superintendent, now retired, of Lubbock, preached at the eleven o'clock worship service. The congregation joined in the observance of World Wide Communion Day, led by Rev. E. C. Raney, a former pastor, now retired, also of Lubbock. A bountiful lunch was shared by around two hundred members and former members and guests. In the afternoon special music was brought by Mrs. Joe Porter (Solo), Amherst; Mrs. Ruth Campbell Holaday, Happ (Solo), and a quartet composed of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Messamore, Aubrey Jones, and Joe Gilmore. Dr. O. P. Clark, executive Secretary of the Board of Conference Claimants, Abilene, preached in the afternoon. Mrs. Lester LaGrange delivered a history of the Church.

The Church was organized in 1924 mainly through the efforts of R. L. May, a charter member and a present teacher of the Men's Sunday School Class.

The Building Committee has set November 3 as the date for beginning the foundation of the Fellowship Hall and Educational Building. J. S. Harmon is the Chairman of the Building Committee, and working with him are Aubrey Jones, I. N. Griffing, W. P. Holland, Virgil Hinds, and I. N. Griffing.

IN FOR LIFE: War Dog's Hero Jobs Permanent

AP Newsfeatures

WASHINGTON — Some Korean war heroes will never get out of the Army until they are physically unable to serve.

They are the war dogs—signed up for life, unless they are disabled or become incurably ill.

In Korea and other parts of the Far East, 187 of the dogs are serving. In the combat areas, their supreme tests come in scouting and patrolling. The Army says that in some cases their presence on patrols has reduced human casualties by 60 per cent.

When they are rotated from combat duty in Korea, they usually are sent to Japan. The big war dog detachment there is at Camp Kobe, where 72 of the canine soldiers are on guard duty over government warehouses.

They walk their beats with the soldiers from 5 p. m. to 8 a. m. every other night. As a reward for duty well performed, they receive a three-pound breakfast. They take a daily run in the nearby fields to break the strain of keeping constantly on the alert. They also have a physical fitness program—jumping hurdles, practicing commands and performing other exercises.

The Army now has 1,511 war dogs. In World War II there were 20,000, and in the demobilization period the number dropped to 500.

They must have very special qualifications: Be German Shepherds, preferably male; 22 to 28 inches tall; weight between 60 to 90 pounds; be from one to 2 1/2 years old, and be unusually intelligent.

War Dogs perform their mission in the fields of Korea.

Once selected for the elite corps, they are sent to the Army's Quartermaster Corps War Dog Receiving and Holding Station, near Alexandria, Va. There for six weeks they learn correct habits of community.

Then they are sent to Camp Carson, Colo., for military training, lasting from four to 21 weeks. First they are given basic training, to teach them military behavior and basic army commands. After that they go on to specialized training in such fields as scouting and patrolling.

In a battle conditioning course, they are taught to be heedless of all types of gun fire and other war noises.

Most of the dogs are serving overseas. Besides those in the Far East, 1,499 are in Europe, 27 are in the Far North and 187 are in the United States.

NO PLANE FOR DANE

OMAHA (AP)—The woman talking to an air lines official was planning to send her dog to Tokyo by air before making the trip to rejoin her husband, and she wanted to know the cost.

TEEN TALK

By VIVIAN BROWN

AP NEWSFEATURES

A boy is pretty much the same the world over—even if he happens to be a king.

So . . . two of the prized possessions of 17 year old Feisal, King of Iraq, going back with him on the Queen Elizabeth to his homeland area portable radio and a rifle.

Why would the young king, who has been traveling in America, be intrigued with an American rifle when he can take his choice of elephant guns? The answer is simple to an American boy—he admires the small bore of the rifle.

This and other interesting news about the king is passed to us by Clifford McCall, jr., who as a member of the U. S. State Department traveled with the king on his trip around America. McCall, who is in his twenties, and can well understand the whims of a 17-year-old, comments on his "King and I" role:

"It is amazing to see the wonderful poise and the variety of interests that King Feisal displays. Everything he saw in America fascinated him. He enjoys mechanical things—such as farm machinery and cars—and he was intrigued with the Ford assembly line, particularly in the riddle of how hoods and bodies are slapped together with the colors always coming out even."

More than anything, perhaps, the king enjoys his portable radio. He loves Latin music in particular, and dances the Samba and the Mamba. He's mad about American jazz, and Louis Armstrong is his favorite, McCall says.

On the other hand he is a fan of Western movies and loves cowboys. His antique gun collection, which had been added to in this country, now includes a Kentucky hunting rifle and a .45 frontier pistol, which to him is symbolic of the West.

Another hobby which the king and American boys have in common is photography. He took hundreds of pictures on tour, says McCall, and varied the interest by using black and white and color film, and movie cameras. At the Giants-Dodgers baseball game he showed unusual skill in clicking the shutter at just the right peak action each time.

He is not without a sense of humor, and at one point, confronted with a battery of photographers and reporters, he turned the tables on them by asking them to "hold it" while he snapped his own pictures.

Feisal makes it plain that being a king is serious business, but he doesn't let the fact that he is a direct descendant of Mohammed interfere with his fun. Says McCall:

"The king manages to play and enjoy taste treats like any young boy—he drinks the favorite American cola drink at the drop of a hat, loves our steaks and was par-

New Body Shop Being Built By Jones Motor at Highway 51 and Eighth Street

Construction is progressing rapidly on the new body shop, which is being built by the Jones Motor & Tractor Co. on their property at Highway 51 and Eighth street.

The new building is 35x140 feet, and is being built on the south side of the Jones property.

With the completion of the new project the Jones building will be U-shape with the used car department occupying the out-of-doors inside of the "u."

The new structure is of brick and tile construction.

The present body shop will be used in the extension of other departments of the business.

McCall enjoyed playing table tennis with the king, although he found it slightly embarrassing to beat him. Feisal's favorite sport is cricket, which he learned to play while attending Harrow in England. Hunting is another exciting pastime for him and he enjoys swimming.

And if you envy a king's life—keep in mind that his role is no royal bed of roses. He must spend his life being groomed as a king and watched over like a king, but fortunately for him, enjoys the role.

He enjoyed meeting American teenagers and things most young people are "interesting" wherever one meets them. He believes that young Americans should spend their youth exploring politics and not "making up their minds about candidates" until they have analyzed the subject thoroughly.

Feisal's favorite subject is history and he was well acquainted with the history of America—wars, heroes, and culture. One thing on his trip he didn't accomplish and sadly regrets is not having seen an American football game.

But practice scrimmages and exhibition games being played around the country at this season were just missed by a hair in each city.

Ballyboo Truck Advertising "Lure of the Wilderness" To Arrive At Palace Today

A ballyboo truck advertising "Lure of the Wilderness," an outstanding feature, which will be shown at the Palace Theatre Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week, will arrive in Littlefield this morning and be parked in front of the Palace Theatre.

The point-of-playdate concentration, which commenced last week when the quartet of 40-foot flat-bed trucks departed from the exchange cities of Cleveland, Indianapolis, Detroit, and Cincinnati, is spanning over 50,000 miles during the campaign.

Simulating the dense undergrowth of Georgia's Okefenokee Swamp, the trucks are each bedecked with two 20-foot paper-mache alligators, actual foliage from Okefenokee, Spanish moss, replicas of cottonmouth and water moccasin snakes, and film accessories.

In addition, the vans are stocked with special jungle sound effects records to be played over the trucks' public address system. Twenty strategically placed spotlights enable night exhibitions in all areas visited.

There are four trucks, which are operating out of the exchange cities of Cincinnati, Cleveland, Detroit and Indianapolis.

"Lure of the Wilderness" will feature Jean Peters, Jeffrey Hunter and Constance Smith.

Beautifully photographed in Technicolor, directed for its human interest story rather than for speed and action, though there is plenty of action, this drama holds appeal for action addicts and the more sophisticated. A young hunter falls in love with the bow-and-arrow girl of the swamplands, a romance that is acted very naturally and engagingly by Jean Peters and Jeffrey Hunter. Miss Peters acts the natural, unsophisticated girl very humanly, engaging audience sympathy. Hunter turns in a good job but with less distinction than Miss Peters brings to her role. Walter Brennan as Jean's father gives another of his excellent character interpretations. And Constance Smith is beautiful and attractive as Hunter's quick-tempered fiancée, who loses out to the simple swamp maiden. Good acting is contributed by Tom Tully, Harry Shannon, Will Wright, and the two villains, Jack Elam and Pat Hogan. Without cast names of importance, aside from Brennan, the picture will get word-of-mouth that will build attendance in practically all theatres.

Bible Words to Live by

The following is a scriptural text of special significance to me.

LUKE 9:23—"If any man will come after Me, let him take up his cross daily and follow Me."

Some time ago, I had the opportunity to visit the Tower of London. I was particularly impressed by a single, meaningful sentence carved by a prisoner on the wall of a cell over three hundred years ago. It read: "It is not adversity that kills, but the impatience with which we bear adversity."

In merely rebelling against trouble or affliction we often do little more than make a bad situation worse. It is much more sensible to do something to correct an evil insofar as you can and take the rest with patience.

Christ, Who gladly suffered so much for each of us, expects you and me to be cheerful in meeting adversity.

Lane Department Store To Open Here In Garland Building About November 1

Littlefield, generally recognized as the shopping center and headquarters for a score of counties surrounding the South Plains, and already being able to boast of its predominance in the number, quality and sizes of its retail mercantile establishments, with especial emphasis on Dry Goods and department stores, will have still another establishment added to its present predominant position on or about the first of November.

Announcement was made this week that Lane Department Store chain of Dallas, had leased the Garland building, which for years has housed the Garland Motor Company, which business has recently been moved to a new building at a new location, and after complete remodeling, including a complete new front, will occupy the same and establish here, an ultra-modern department store.

Arriving here this week was Jack Lagar of Dallas, who has been named as resident manager of the new store, and who will supervise the installation of interior trim and modernistic fixtures, which will be unveiled here at a formal opening on or about Nov. 1. Mr. Lagar will make his home in Littlefield, and will be joined by his wife as soon as a home can be secured.

Mr. Lagar, in commenting on the plans for the new store, said that it will be complete in every detail, modern, to the very last minute, both inside and out.

The exterior surfaces of the building will be finished in the new glazed tile, which will be the second building on the entire South Plains to utilize this beautiful surface material, the other being the new First National Bank in Lubbock.

A sound-proofed Celotex ceiling will be installed inside, with quadruple rows of fluorescent lighting fixtures, super modern wall cases and floor fixtures, all designed toward the end of easy selection of merchandise, displayed openly for the convenience of shoppers, and featuring lines for men, women, and children.

He is busy this week interviewing prospective employees, and stated that about 30 persons would be employed in the new store.

He stated that the cost of building improvements alone to the 7500 square foot building would be in excess of $50,000, and with fixtures investment in proportion.

zonal, first and second place awards were made to each of six top scoring teams for both first and second place award. No individual winning team or second place winner being announced.

Announcement of the winning contesting teams was withheld from all participants, until the closing night of the big national judging event, when a banquet was given in the big Carnation milk plant, attended by more than 300 FFA club members.

This banquet, highlight of the National meeting, was attended by school and dairy notables from throughout the country. Acting as toastmaster was the National vice president of the Future Farmers of America, attending from his home state of Utah.

W. W. Hall, Vocational Ag teacher in the local schools, and FFA advisor, accompanied his judging team to Waterloo, Iowa, the group making the trip in a specially equipped truck owned by Mr. Hall.

The school and the local FFA chapter, took care of the major expenses of the trip, but received an assist through supplemental donations made by Lions Club, the Jaycoes and Wayne's Creamery.

The trip was a most enjoyable one for the group, as well as of inestimable educational value, giving the local judging team members, their first look at the great corn state of the middle west, and many interesting visits to intermediate cities and towns along the route of travel both ways.

But aside from their winning of the coveted award, the real thrill of the trip was when the group stopped in St. Louis, to see their very first big league baseball game, a contest between the St. Louis Cardinals lose to the touted Chicago Cubs 2 to 0.

Commissioners

Twenty Dollars per square foot of floor space, depending on how much fancy design, materials and trim desired.

We are only interested in a building that is as permanent as possible, durable, serviceable, modern and one that will be commensurate with the School, Church and Hospital buildings of our County, and give adequate protection for the important records of our County.

We have been asked why the Commissioners' Court has not hired an Architect and had the building already designed so the voters could see the design of the building they were going to vote on.

The Commissioners' Court have had the opportunity to enter into contract with a number of Architect and Engineering firms. However, it would have been upon the price or fees set by them, thus eliminating this service from competitive bidding.

We have over twenty firms requesting permission to bid on this service, when and if, the issue materializes. We think money will be saved by the County by having competitive bidding for this service, rather than let them set their own price and terms.

We have been asked about the sale of the bonds. We have not entered into any contract for the sale of the bonds, for the same reason that we did not hire an architect or engineer: And too, it is forbidden by Law, to enter into a contract for the sale of Bonds prior to them being voted.

However, we have assurance that bids will be offered, when and if, at 3% or less.

The Commissioners' have requested the help of two men from each of the four precincts, to work with them from beginning to end, if the issue materializes. The Court knows with the cooperation, thinking and experience of these additional men, that the people of our County will receive a better and more economical investment.

Third:
How much will these bonds increase taxes?

All members of the Commissioners' Court are about average tax payers of the County, and we are not interested in increasing taxes, because we too would be effected thereby.

It will take approximately $38,000.00 per year beginning in '53 to service this issue of bonds. Certainly this must be paid each year if the bonds are voted. And must be paid with tax payers monies.

The present assessed valuations of Lamb County, for County tax purposes is approximately 15 million Dollars. Our present tax levy, County Wide, is 95¢ on the Hundred Dollar valuation, and has been for a number of years. (This does not include the Road District tax in various Road Districts which is levied in amounts sufficient to meet the maturity of the bonds voted for roads in each District.)

This 95¢ levy is the maximum that can be levied under the law. The maximum that can be levied is allocated as follows:

County General Fund	.....$ .25
Permanent Improvement	..... .25
County Jury Fund	..... .15
County Road and Bridge	..... .15
Special Road and Bridge	..... .15
Total	.....$ .95

The Commissioners' Court can not assess an additional levy, neither can the people vote an additional levy, the maturity of the bonds if voted MUST be serviced out of the present 95¢ levy.

How can the bonds be serviced out of the present 95¢ levy?
Our present assessed valuation of 15 million at the 95¢ rate will pay into the County Treasury, approximately $137,500.00.

By January 1, 1954, the natural increase of our County valuation in industry alone, principally the Southwestern Service Company Plant X will increase our assessed valuation to 20 million and with 95¢ rate this will bring into the County Treasury $190,000.00 or an increase of some $52,500.00 new and additional revenues, for County General operations, and this does not include the new revenue that will be brought into the Road Districts.

We know that the people of the County realize the need for an adequate Court House and Jail, one that will belong to the County. And knowing too that such a project should be one of the primary objectives of the County. The Court House and Jail if built, will be built by and for the people of the County, and for the purpose of better serving you, and protecting your records.

And will be of service to the people of our county, much longer, than the present members of the Commissioners' Court.

Therefore, let us encourage you to discharge your responsibility as a citizen and tax payer of the County, by going to the polls and casting your vote Saturday.

Court House—

of any county in the entire State of Texas. That should answer the question as to whether we can afford a new Court House.

"Can We Afford Not to Build a New Court House?" would seem to be a more logical question.

The publishers of this paper have said many times before that we believe that the "good sense" of the people of the county will properly and wisely vote on this matter next Saturday.

So firmly, and so thoroughly, do we hold in that belief, that we think that propaganda or vote urging before or on the very eve of the election are both uncalled for and ill-advised, if now employed.

Everybody Should Vote
We do urge that each and every qualified voter, recognize that the matter is individually important to each—important to the extent that everyone qualified should have a part in making the decision next Saturday; that failure to do so is an evasion of civic duty as a citizen of the county.

It is true that $600,000 is a lot of money. It is equally true that it could have been built for less a few years ago. But there is no assurance that the cost will not be even more, if the building is postponed to await the return of a cheaper dollar.

Interest rates now are favorable, and the bonds, will probably be issued at interest rates of three per cent or less. That means that we can build the new Court House,

First Frost—

But the continuing dry weather conditions which have prevailed, mitigated the amount of crop damage that would normally occur under normal moisture conditions, and held them to a comparative minimum, even though the drought condition may in turn have been responsible in part for the early frost and freeze.

Hardest hit was the three big tomato project of the county owned by John Galliani, Alvin Bagwell and C. V. Sullins. Damage to the vines and remaining fruit on them was estimated at 50 per cent by County Agent David Eaton. These projects had already been picked four or five times previously, but more pickings were in the cards until the early freeze hit, to reduce remaining prospects by fifty per cent.

But the county agent was highly optimistic at the continuing cotton prospects. He estimated damage to cotton at not more than three per cent, with the bulk of the loss on irrigated cotton, and Tuesday predicted a Lamb county crop and ginning this year at 180,000 bales.

Some late feed crops have also been damaged, but some has actually been helped by the freeze the agent opined.

Thus far the cotton harvest has been slow-starting and spotting, but this week it went into high gear, and most county gins will be operating around the clock by next week.

As of Tuesday, Agent Eaton reported that 9500 bales have been picked here and ginned. He stated that there are now 6200 transients here for cotton harvest, including 900 Mexican Nationals—with double that many needed, but more arriving each day.

Late home gardens and flowers suffered from the unseasonal first frost visitation, and although a light frost was reported in some sections of the county last year on October 17, the first real killer hit much later.

We urge you to issue to the Commissioners' Court, an overwhelming mandate, either for or against this vital issue.
