Mayor Foust, Bob Cox File For Posts On New Council

Election Scheduled April 7

Mayor E. J. Foust and City Commissioner Bob Cox announced Wednesday afternoon they will seek re-election April 7 when Littlefield voters will name a mayor and four councilmen.

Mayor Foust will seek the mayor's post and Cox has filed for a spot as a councilman.

Their announcements were the first to be made for the five-man council authorized last Friday when local voters approved council-manager form of government provided by a new city charter.

City Commissioner Clint Griffin had announced earlier that he will not seek re-election.

Through Wednesday at noon, the school board election was still without candidates.

Two posts on the board will be open in the April 4 election. Terms of Byron Douglas and Carl Locke will expire. Neither has announced for re-election.

Filing deadline in the city election is March 7. Persons who wish to file for school trustee must file by March 5.

In the city election, the man who is named mayor will serve a two-year term. The councilmen will be elected for four-year terms.

Two of the first four candidates, however, will receive two-year terms, so that in the future, voters will choose a mayor and two councilmen every two years.

Members of the first council will decide which two councilmen will get two-year terms and which two will receive four-year terms.

Management Change Set For Littlefield Press

New management will guide the Littlefield Press beginning March 1 with the organization of a corporation by Sam and Betty Williams, Wendell Tooley and Bill Turner.

Tooley, present advertising manager, and Turner, editor, will purchase interests in the corporation, which will be named Littlefield Press, Inc.

The Williams will retain a majority interest in the new corporate set-up, which will include publishing both Littlefield newspapers, The County Wide News and Lamb County Leader.

Tooley will act as manager of the business, carrying the title of associate publisher and business manager.

Turner will be editor of the newspapers, as well as associate publisher.

"The two new partners will take over at a time when Littlefield Press will be capable of producing the best newspapers in its history," said Williams.

New equipment, including a machine that provides automation in type-setting, has been added and the firm's press has had a complete overhaul.

The Williams, who came here in 1953, will leave the active side of the business, turning those duties over to Tooley and Turner.

Ride In Crippled Plane Can Be No Joking Matter

Flying around in a four-engine airliner without knowing how you'll get down is no picnic.

Just ask Bill Smith of Littlefield and Sol Gann of Anton, area Massey-Ferguson farm equipment dealers.

They were in a party of 50 dealers aboard a Braniff International Constellation which circled 75 minutes with a frozen nose wheel before landing at Willow Run Airport in Detroit last Thursday.

"It got pretty quiet up there before we landed," said Smith, who returned to Littlefield early this week. The Littlefield farm equipment dealer said, however, that there was no panic.

The farm equipment dealers were enroute to Detroit to the company's showing of new farm implements.

As the huge plane circled over the airport from 3:15 p.m. to 4:30 p.m., the crew worked to free the nose wheel. Crew members finally had to crank the wheel down manually.

The pilot had everyone move to the rear of the plane just before the landing, to shift the load so that the plane wouldn't nose over if the nose wheel failed.

The plane touched down smoothly, landing safely. The pilot stopped the airliner on the runway so a ground crew could insert locking pins in the nose wheel before the plane was taxied in.

A traveling salesman aboard the plane with Smith and Gann told a lot of stories while the plane was in the air.

But the salesman said, after they were on the ground: "It's the first time I can remember when my jokes didn't go over."

"The Task Ahead in Education" will be brought into focus locally Monday night when Dr. Morris Wallace, head of Texas Tech's department of education will speak at a joint meeting of the Elementary-Primary and Junior-Senior High P-TA's.

The meeting is scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the high school auditorium.

Farm Project At Olton Get Rolling

OLTON — Farm projects at Olton rolled at high speed early this week as cucumber acreage contracts were signed and a fund campaign for a farm management survey got under way.

Olton area cucumber growers signed contracts for 500 acres of cukes with Brown-Miller Co. of Texasarkana at a meeting Tuesday night. This is double the cuke acreage contracted last year.

Several representatives of the Texasarkana, Texas, company met with about 35 farmers in completing the contracts.

Funds for the Olton farm management survey were estimated at being at the half-way mark Monday, when farmers and businessmen attended a breakfast to discuss the fund drive. A total of $4,800 is needed to assure the farm survey, which will be made by Doane Agricultural Service, Inc.

In other farm activity, the Olton Farmers Union began a membership drive Monday morning after a kick-off breakfast.

THE WEATHER

Today's forecast—Partly cloudy, cooler toward the weekend.

Temperatures — Sunday high 64, low 37; Monday high 62, low 28; Tuesday high 61, low 30; Wednesday noon high 51, low 24.

Moisture content for the year is .16 inches and for this time last year was 2.38 inches.

AUTOMATION ADDED—A new Intertype type-setting machine (below) and a Fairchild teletypesetter (above) have been added at Littlefield Press. Mrs. Bacon Jones operates the teletypesetter, which perforates paper tape that is later fed through the Intertype machine. Pictured with the type-setting machine is Owen Frey of Intertype, who installed the new equipment. For explanation of the equipment, see story at right. (STAFF PHOTO)

Press Adds 'Automatic' Type-Setting

A new system of automation in type-setting is introduced with this edition of your newspaper. The lines you are now reading were first typed on the Littlefield Press' new Fairchild teletypesetter.

This new machine looks much like a large electric typewriter with a roll of tape feeding through it. This tape emerges from the machine with small perforations, each perforation pattern denoting a different letter of the alphabet.

After the tape has been "punched" it is carried to the newspaper's new Intertype typesetting machine which has a special tape attachment. As the tape feeds through the Intertype's keyboard mechanism, the perforations cause the machine to set the proper type.

No operator is necessary for the big line-casting Intertype machine in this new system and any fast, accurate typist can soon learn to run the teletypesetter.

Mrs. Bacon Jones is now employed with the Littlefield Press as teletypesetter operator.

All in all, the entire operation performs much on the order of the old player piano.

Daily newspapers receive Associated Press news now on tape which is already perforated. This tape is quickly run on the "converted" typesetting machines.

The management of this newspaper cordially invites the general public in to see these machines in operation.

Area newspapers using this method of type-setting are Lubbock, Plainview, Levelland, Hereford, Olton and Clovis.

BUICK BUILDS NATION'S 2,000,000th HARDTOP

Edward T. Ragsdale, general manager of Buick and vice president of General Motors, presents the keys to the 2,000,000th Buick hardtop to his wife, Sarah, who inspired hardtop styling a decade ago. Ragsdale started the hardtop trend in 1948 when he built the first model to satisfy his wife's request for a new convertible, even though she never put the top down. The revolutionary body style was introduced to the public the following year. Buick is the first manufacturer to build 2,000,000 hardtops.

Control Investigates 134 Fatal Mishaps In County

Property damage accidents accounted for 84 of the total, personal injury for 41 and six were fatal accidents. These accidents caused a total property damage of $92,333.11 with 97 persons injured and nine lives lost.

In 1958 Texas recorded 1,869 fatal motor vehicle traffic accidents which resulted in 2,311 deaths, said Sergeant Lawson. "639 of these deaths were in cities over 2,500 population while the remaining 1,672 were rural traffic deaths."

The Sergeant further pointed out that these figures were not complete and an accurate account will not be known until about March 15. He estimated that when the final reports are received, the 1958 death figure should be approximately eight percent less than 1957.

Sergeant Lawson advised the Highway Patrol had investigated six rural accidents in Lamb county during January, 1959, with the following breakdown property damage two, personal injury four, and fatal accidents, none. This is a decrease of three accidents for the same period of 1958.

The Sergeant pointed out that speed continues to be the number one killer in traffic accidents throughout the State and called on all motorists to voluntarily observe the speed limits in an effort to prevent further carnage on our streets and highways.

Texans In Washington

Most Texas Congressmen Like Idea Of Owning Home In Washington

WASHINGTON, (AP) - Texas members of Congress are wedded to the idea of owning your own home in Washington.

Of the 24 members of the Lone Star state delegation, only six do not own their homes here - and with many it's a second house since they also save one in Texas.

"Maybe the word 'own' ought to be clarified," commented Rep. Joe Kilgore of McAllen with a smile. "Mortgage holders have an interest."

He voiced the feelings of several, especially the newer ones. Few are the members from any state who ever buy during their first term here. Some aren't certain they'll be back. Some don't want to seem presumptuous, and give an opponent a possible peg on which to hang a snide remark.

There has been a great change in attitude by the legislators toward owning a home in Washington. Twenty years ago, with Depression years just behind, many felt they would be charged with getting a bit too removed from their district if they bought a house in Washington.

Rep. John Young (D) of Corpus Christi, now in his second term, illustrates current thinking. "We're looking around and hope to build or buy," he commented. "It's just not practical not to own your own home, especially if you have kids. And, we have three now and expect the fourth in March."

Rep. Frank Ikard (D) of Wichita Falls said his predecessor, Ed Gosset, told him that one of the first things he should do was buy a home. He is convinced that rent here is as much or more than payments on a house.

Only non-home owners among the delegation besides Young are Reps. Omar Burleson, Abilene; John Dowdy, of Athens; Clark Fisher; Speaker Sam Rayburn and Sen. Ralph Yarborough.

Most of the Texas congressmen's homes here are attractive, brick houses in upper middle class suburban areas. Some are in Washington, others in near by Maryland and Virginia suburbs. On the whole they are about $40,000 houses.

The exception and a big one it is, is the mansion of Rep. and Mrs. Clark Thompson of Galveston. She is a daughter of the late Galveston multi-millionaire W. L. Moody Jr.

A new red brick structure, the size and elegance of the Thompson's mansion can be imagined by their invitation to 600 persons, among them the cream of Washington's society and officials, to their mid-February housewarming. They were invited in two groups, half to come Feb. 16 and the other half the next night.

The house has two drawing rooms. The solarium overlooks a rose garden and swimming pool. The dining room seats 40, and there is a marble-floor powder room on the first floor. In the basement is a "Texas Room" with a Gulf Coast motif - porcelain Geese, quail, seagulls, deer and western art on the walls. There is a mahogany bar and champagne coolers. The Thompsons acquired the house about the time she received an 8 1/2 million dollar settlement from her father's estate. Now being mentioned in Washington's society columns as a potential rival to famed hostesses Perle Mesta, Marjorie Post May and Gwen Cafritz, Mrs. Thompson has one of the capital's most-valued collection of jewels. They include separated sets of diamond necklaces, earrings, clips and bracelets. Some pieces are rubies, emeralds and among others is a giant star sapphire necklace.

When former Texas Gov. W. Lee (Pass the Biscuits Pappy) O'Daniel was here as a Senator he bought a big, six-story apartment house near the Supreme Court building. It was remodeled to reduce some 40 small apartments to 13. O'Daniel then incorporated and sold the individual units as cooperative apartments. Only recently his son Pat was here seeing about sale of some of the units which had been relinquished by former occupants.

WOLVES BAGGED—Seemingly as far as the eye can see, a wolf carcass is hung on each fence post on the Bill Yeary Ranch northwest of Denton. The wolves—12 in all—were killed within a 10-mile radius of the ranch headquarters during a six-week period. The kills, mostly the result of strychnine baits, were made by Floyd Ligon, U. S. predator control specialist assigned to the area. His score in two years work in the county exceeds 200 of the sheep and poultry-hungry animals. (AP PHOTO)

Tests At Halfway Station Reported

One hundred and twenty pounds of nitrogen applied to grain sorghum produced a yield of 6,055 pounds per acre while the non-fertilized plots showed a yield of 3,623 pounds.

The net return after paying fertilizer cost was $30.00 per acre from the application of 120 pounds of nitrogen over the non-fertilized plots. One hundred and sixty pounds of nitrogen produced a net profit of $80.71 per acre.

Dr. C. T. Longnecker, Head of the High Plains Station, reported these results on the 1958 grain sorghum research this week.

The tests were made on 4-row plots 100 feet long with each fertilizer application repeated four times in different parts of the field. Fertilizer treatments were made with nitrogen and phosphorus alone and in combination. Nitrogen was applied at rates of 40, 80, 120 and 160 pounds per acre and phosphorus at three rates of 40, 80, and 120 pounds with higher amounts of nitrogen showed some increase in yield but not enough to pay for the added cost

Anton Church Sets Dedication Of New Plant

ANTON — Members of Anton's First Baptist Church will dedicate their $130,000 church plant and at the same time hold note burning services during a day-long program Sunday.

The note burning service will signify payment of the incurred debt a full two years ahead of schedule.

The Rev. John T. Williams, pastor of the church, announced that all former members and friends of the church will be invited to attend the day-long program.

The service will begin at 10 a.m. with Sunday School.

Speaker at the 11 a.m. service will be Dr. Franklin Swanner of Plainview, district missionary.

Lunch will be served at the church at 1 p.m., with the program at that time to feature two former pastors of the church, the Rev. Lee Furrh and the Rev. W. M. Draper.

The dedicatory address will be delivered at the afternoon service by the Rev. Evert Springfield of Lubbock, also a former pastor of the church.

The note burning service will be directed by S. N. Twilley and Johnnie Harper.

Enlargement of the church plant was inaugurated in 1950 under the pastorate of Rev. Mr. Springfield. Included in the plant is a camp cabin at the Plains Baptist Assembly grounds near Floydada.

Construction was completed in 1951 and the building program was

"YOUR FRIENDLY LITTLEFIELD FORD DEALER FOR 23 YEARS"

THIS WEEK

In Washington

With CLINTON DAVIDSON

Widely overlooked in President Eisenhower's farm message to Congress last month was a sentence near the end in which he revealed plans for use of a cold war weapon possibly more decisive than all of the ICBM's.

That weapon is food for the hungry people of the world to combat the spread of communism and strengthen the ability of free nations to remain free.

"I am," he said, "setting steps in motion to explore anew with other surplus-producing nations all practical means of utilizing the various agricultural surpluses of each in the interest of reinforcing peace and the well-being of friendly people throughout the world—in short, using food for peace."

In digging for the facts back of that proposal we learn that the State Department has begun what one official describes as "exploratory talks" with several Western nations. These, we understand, includes Canada, Australia, New Zealand, and several South American nations.

World Food Bank
The idea of using food to help friendly nations remain free from communist domination is not new. Since the end of World War II we have financed out of the U. S. Treasury the export of more than $10 billion worth of surplus farm products to friendly nations.

As far back as 10 years ago bills were introduced in Congress to create a world food bank. Surplus-producing nations would "deposit" their surpluses in the "bank" and nations in need of extra food could "draw" on that account by putting in their IOUs.

President Eisenhower, although he did not elaborate on his proposal, apparently has in mind some variation of that plan. White House officials tell us it would be impractical to reveal details until other nations have agreed to specific terms.

The United States has available as an initial deposit into a world bank nearly $9 billion worth of farm surpluses, chiefly wheat, rice, cotton and feed grains.

It is estimated that Canada, Argentina, Australia and New Zealand would have available a minimum initial deposit of $3 billion worth of food and other farm products.

Free World Is Ahead
Food production is one big advantage which the West has over the communist bloc of nations. Russia and China are having, and very likely will continue to have, difficulties in raising the diet level of their 800 million people.

The effectiveness of our P. L. 480 program for selling food and other farm products abroad and accepting foreign currencies in payment was one of the big reasons back of the recent visit of Russia's Deputy Premier Mikoyan to the U. S.

His appeal for long-term credits and assistance was a fact admission that Russian farms and factories cannot match those of the United States, and that the cold war will be fought not alone in the minds of people, but in their stomachs.

It is to be hoped that we will make full use of our food surpluses and our food producing potential to give the free world the type of moral and economic leadership that offers far more than the communists can ever promise.

Sabath (Sam) Mele, cousin of Chicago White Sox third base coach Tony Lucinello is scouting for the Washington Senators.

Tommy Ivan took over as general manager of the Chicago Black Hawks in 1954. The players he had that year have since departed.

BAROMETER OF LIFE

Would it really help to have an instrument to predict the storms of life?

When the barometer falls it's too late to build a sea wall or to dig a cyclone cellar. Wise men prepare when the wind is calm. A leaking roof must be mended while the sun shines.

The Church does not claim to provide a barometer of life. But it preaches every Sunday the spiritual readiness which climaxed Christ's Sermon on the Mount:

"Whoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man which built his house upon a rock:

"And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew and beat upon that house. . . .

"And it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock."

Copyright 1958, Editor Act. Corbin, Chesapeake, Va.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
