M. M. (Jimmie) Brittain, who is employed at the Stokes-Alexander Drug Co., has been notified that he has passed the state board of pharmacy. Mr. Brittain, by passing the state board, has become a registered pharmacist.

Take Examinations of Efficiency in Masonry

A number of Littlefield Masons, and several members of the order living in Sudan, Muleshoe, and Friona, Friday and Saturday took examinations for certificates of efficiency in Masonry. An examiner visited Littlefield for the purpose of giving the examinations.

Now Facing Murder Indictments

A trial which seems certain to attract national attention is that of Libby Holman Reynolds and Albert (Ab) Walker at Winston-Salem, N. C., on an indictment charging murder of the former's husband, Z. Smith Reynolds, heir to a tobacco fortune.

Officers Looking Into Past of Pair Arrested Yesterday

Investigation is being made into the past of two men who were arrested yesterday afternoon by Lamb and Hale county officers.

The men are being held for Lynn county officers, as suspects in a burglary.

One of the men is said to have attempted to escape, and an officer fired a shot over his head in order to stop him.

Officers state that they found three pistols and a rifle, which they

Two New Gins Being Built Here to Handle Enormous 1932 Crop

Construction is now underway for the erection of two new gins for the Littlefield section.

Ground was broken Wednesday just north of the Union Compress for the construction of a sheet iron 5-80 gin, modern in every respect, for Gean Tartar of Benington, Okla., and C. N. McElreath of Durant, Okla.

INKLEBARGER MURDER CASE IS UNDERWAY

EXPECTED CASE WILL GO TO JURY LATE TODAY

Ivan Inklebarger, who is charged with murder in connection with the shooting of John Lee, which occurred on Saturday, October 17, 1931, is on trial in district court at Olton.

The shooting took place on a road four or five miles northeast of Littlefield.

Inklebarger admits having shot Lee, but pleads self defense and other causes.

The case is being tried before Judge Clements and a jury. E. A. Bills and G. G. Hazel are acting for the defense, and District Attorney Meade Griffin and James A. Gowdy are representing the state.

A crowded court room has heard the testimony of more than 20 witnesses. It is expected that the taking of testimony will be concluded this morning, and that the case will go to the jury about 4 p. m. today.

South Plains Are Visited by Showers

Rains have been drenching the Plains country almost daily this week, though Littlefield has only received light showers.

Thursday night, Friday afternoon, Monday and Monday night heavy rains fell in the plains section. The entire section from Snyder to Texico and north from Kress to Happy, were visited with showers. Littlefield, however, only received light showers, while a good rain fell at Amherst and Sudan to Muleshoe.

Heavy rains were reported as far north as Childress, with plenty of moisture at Petersburg, Lockney, Plainview, Dimmitt, Hart and Clarendon. Abernathy reported three-fourths; Kress and Tulia an inch; Lockney an inch; Shallowater half inch; Snyder one and a third inches; and Floydada one inch.

The site, which is a tract of two acres, was purchased by the ginner from Charlie Black.

The work is being done by day labor, and a portion of the machinery to be used is being moved from a gin owned by these gentlemen at Durant.

Every effort is being put forth to have the building completed and ready for ginning in six weeks' time.

According to Mr. McElreath, Mr. Tartar, who has had years of experience in the ginning business, having been connected with the Choctaw Gin Company, either in the capacity of manager of the gin, or oil mill, for the past twenty years, will manage the local gin. Mr. McElreath will return to Durant to look after his interests there, but will visit the Littlefield gin from time to time.

Mr. Tartar has moved his family here from Benington.

Construction is getting underway today in the erection of a new gin on a four acre tract, six miles north of Littlefield at the intersection of

Preparations Start For Trades Day

Extensive preparations are underway for the next Trades Day in Littlefield, which will be Monday, September 5. Special committees will have charge of the various features of the day. J. O. Garlington, president of the Retail Merchants association, is directing arrangements for the day.

Telephone Directory Will be Issued Soon

Preparations for the publishing of a new telephone directory for Littlefield and adjacent cities, are underway, according to J. G. Singer of the Southwestern Associated Telephone Co.

The new book will be issued September 1.

Mr. Singer said that persons contemplating having telephones installed should place their order immediately, in order that the phone may be listed in the new book.

DISTRICT POSTAL WORKERS TO MEET HERE

D. J. PHARES FACES CHARGE OF ASSAULT WITH ATTEMPT TO MURDER FOLLOWING SHOOTING SATURDAY

TELEPHONE SALES MEETING IS HELD IN LITTLEFIELD

A telephone sales meeting was held in Littlefield Friday night, attended by executives and employees of the Southwestern Associated Telephone company.

Executives of the company in attendance included Frank Davies, Los Angeles, assistant vice-president; R. B. Fairly, Lubbock, general manager; C. R. Hurmance, Lubbock, commercial superintendent; and E. C. Throop, Lubbock, district manager.

Employees of the company were in attendance from Littlefield, Muleshoe, Levelland, Amherst, Anton, and Shallowater.

D. J. Phares, who operates a filling station and grocery at Highway 7 and Cundiff street, is charged with assault with attempt to murder.

Phares is at liberty on $1,000 bond, set by Justice of the Peace J. B. Sykes.

The case is being investigated by the grand jury, which is in session at Olton.

The charge against Phares is the outcome of W. T. Barker, 35, having been shot and wounded at his rooming house early Saturday afternoon.

Following the shooting Barker was taken to the office of Dr. J. D. Simpson. The bullet was found lodged in the back, under the skin. It had entered the left chest and struck a rib.

Barker was wounded after Deputy

Supreme Court Dismisses Negro Vote Question

The Texas Supreme Court dismissed Monday without answering a question certified to it as to whether the Texas Democratic party was within its rights in excluding negroes from participating in its primaries.

C. A. Booker, San Antonio negro, sought, through injunction to restrain election officials of his precinct, from denying him a vote in the Democratic primary last July. The district court granted the relief, but the fourth court of civil appeals reversed and remanded the judgment, and ordered the case dismissed. The question then was certified to the supreme court.

Under the court's opinion, status of the negro's right to vote reverts back to its original form before action was first taken in the Bezar county district court.

Eden Man Badly Hurt In Mishap

Joe Russell, about 60, of Eden in Concho county, was injured when his light sedan ran into a borrow pit and overturned near Sudan at about 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Russell, other occupant of the car, suffered bruises.

BUSINESS IMPROVING IN THE FEED LINE

According to S. L. Myrick of the Myrick Feed Mill, business is showing some improvement in the feed business.

He also reported that State Inspector Reynolds, who called on the local concern last week, advised him that the Economy Mills and Harde-man-King informed him that their sales in all chicken feeds had doubled in the past week, which would indicate that the retailers are stocking up anticipating a good fall business.

18th DISTRICT MEETING IS SET FOR LABOR DAY

Local Post Office Staff Will Be Host; Big Attendance Expected

Representatives from all the different cities in this district are expected to attend the Convention of the Eighteenth District of Postal Workers to be held in Littlefield Labor Day, Monday, September 5.

The local postoffice staff will act as host for the occasion, but will appreciate the cooperation of the different clubs and organizations, and the citizens of Littlefield in general in making this meeting a success.

The morning session will be held

THE SPURT IN THE STOCK MARKET

We do not know, because nobody ever knows, all of the causes for the recent noticeable rise in prices of securities on the New York Stock Exchange. Neither do we know how long this beginning of a bull movement is going to last.

Nevertheless, this new activity in the stock market is an encouraging sign. It signifies, primarily, that capital has got over the worst of its fear of the future. Fear has been the principal deterrent influence operating against a speedy recovery in business and industry. There is more free capital in the United States today, the economist tell us, than there ever was before. But it is owned principally by people who have been afraid to do anything with it for fear that something worse was going to happen than had already occurred. Now this money is coming out of hiding. It is one thing to express such a belief in words, but it must be taken seriously when it is expressed in money.

True conviction and idealism are a little like the flag on a windy day; in the face of current skepticism, the harder the wind blows the more beautiful the flag becomes.—Miles H. Krumbine, in the Rotarian Magazine.

We can train our boys—the rising generation—to be alert and ardent. We can show them the worth of the codes we have followed, and then show no rancor if they prefer to modify them to fit their needs. Progress demands change, much as change may distress us. We must not demand of youth that it let the world stand still.—Dwight Marvin, in the Rotarian Magazine.

A "Professional" journal says there are 600 vaudeville acrobats looking for work. They might pick up a few weeks doubling for congressional candidates who are trying to put on a wet-dry balancing act.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

not by ambition. He was the primitive climbing to the top of a mountain, not for food or treasure, but for a better view. Honor and prizes, and prosperity, as Pug Malone kept pointing out to John, lay behind the direction he attempted. In several clandestine bouts, John Breen only held his own, in one, with the Philadelphia scrapper Jerry Wilke, he almost lost, until, at the very ragged edge of his downfall, Pug pleaded with him, cried to him, implored him, literally throwing the handlers from the ring, talking and arguing with John who sat sullen and preoccupied.
 The bell sounded and John Breen, a sudden light in his eyes, his face battered, stepped into the center of the ring and knocked Wilke cold with a single perfect blow to the jaw. A tremendous howl of approval greeted him; admirers tried to carry him from the ring.
 "Leave him alone," Pug cautioned. "That kid was thinkin' of somethin' when he hit Jerry, or he never would of pulled that punch."
 "What was you dreamin' about, John, when you soaked that Quaker?" Malone asked as they prepared for bed.

"I was knocking the whole prize fight game in the eye. I'm through Pug," John smiled sadly.
 "I guess you're right, Malone agreed. "That crack was too good to be true. Hell, wish I knew what to do with you!"
 "I'll leave," John stood looking out of the window.
 "Not if I know it!" Pug jumped up and grasped John's hand. "You stick around an' finish that school. I won't fight you any more, can't risk it. The next time, some low-brow scrapper will trim you good. An' then where will I be?"
 So John Breen continued to tend bar during the day, to work in the Samson Club gym, to live with Malone. Another year drew its veil of changes over the face of the growing city.

"Judge Kelly says they'll stand for anythin' an' they'll pay—pay well. The McManus looked yellow and flabby in contrast with the trainer. "If you work them guys rough they'll fall for you," and then, looking up at Pug with veined bloodshot eyes, he spoke vehemently. "Kick 'em, beat 'em up, sweat the liver out of 'em. Judge Kelly's watched you, Pug, knows what you kin do, an' he's lined up guys who'll pay. But mind Pug, you got to turn the trick, three at a time. If you set 'em up right it means a big thing for you, a damn big thing, I should say."
 "What joint did you say it was?"
 "Greenbough Farm, a fancy place, I guess, up in Westchester. Kelly owns it; got it handed to him, or somethin'."
 "I'll need Breen," Malone spoke as if to himself.
 "Take him. Him an' his books. No use fightin' that kid no more—he's a dead pan; a bust, Ain't he, Hannon?"
 "Yes, sir, yes, sir," the immaculate Hannon chimed in a Malone left the room. The McManus smiled genially. "That fixes Kelly on that," he grunted. "And I'll put Patsy in charge of the Corner."

 Greenbough Farm consisted of a fair acreage of rocky uneven land upon which a roomy comfortable old house was sinking into gradual decay.
 Carpenters from the city, working under direction of Pug Malone, converted the barn into a practical gymnasium. A farmer and his wife and son were engaged to run the place, milk the cows, tend the garden, and the chickens, and cook the meals.
 The farmhouse itself was given a thorough cleaning. The wall paper was stripped from the place, the plaster sized and coated with washable tint. Floors were painted, and bed rooms were prepared on a model of Spartan simplicity. Canvas cots and stools, without backs, were placed near the windows and a small rag rug was added by way of luxury. Three pegs were driven in the doors for the hanging up of clothes, and all closets were locked and nailed. There were no lights, no mirrors, no shelves, no pictures. There was absolutely nothing to distract from the business of sleeping, for which the rooms were designed.
 Pug also fitted the windows with cleats which prevented them from closing by a foot at the top and bottom, and of course there were no shades.
 "There's nothin' de luxe about this place," Pug remarked to John when the work had been completed, a labor in which both John and the trainer shared with enthusiasm. The green country was a refreshment to John Breen. In those brief moments, before he dropped off to slumber, he seemed to see a fading city, a vast pile of tenements flashing with lights and the jumbled voices and cries of millions, as if he had alighted in the midst of it suddenly, as he had, and as if he were then standing on the rear platform of a train, whirling him away. The quick rumble of the wheels of his ideas lulled him to sleep.
 And on Saturday Gilbert Van Horn Judge Marvin Hart and the great insurance magnate, E. K. Southerland, came under the strict regimen and spartan simplicity of Pug Malone's training farm.
 Van Horn and Johnny Breen were thrown together and unconsciously, became strongly attracted to each other.
 Two weeks after the arrival of the trio the bags with their elaborate provision for comfort, their toilet sets, silk pajamas, and fancy knickers, the country togger of city folk, were again on the verandah. The three men, strangely sober, tough and clear-eyed, marched up, took their traps down to the waiting buckboard and then, of a sudden, they rushed back yelling like Indians. They grabbed the trainer, hoisted him on their shoulders, carried him down the field and tossed him on a hay stack.
 "Boys, your better'n I expected," Pug shouted, waving at them as they ran for the buckboard, calling "good-by" to John Breen and Pug, while the grin on the face of Charlie and the frantic apron waving from the kitchen doorway, and the expansive face of the driver, told of extraordinary largess by the departing guests.
 Pug Malone became sole owner of the farm, for Judge Kelly, impulsive and liberal, sounded the full measure of his worth, and besides advertising it, he made easy terms for the trainer. Van Horn became a frequent visitor, and brought many of his friends; he seemed even more interested in John Breen than in the farm. E. K. Southerland said nothing, but sent Malone a check that almost took his breath away.
 John was approaching twenty. He was an indefatigable reader, has room, on top floor of Greenbough, was littered with books, and while the riel rules turned lights out at nine, John's blazed far into the night as he continued his explorations.
 While John was making haphazard progress in learning, the great city to the south, the city that loomed up on clear days and glowed with a cold aura of light on sharp winter nights, added another million to the tally of its inhabitants.
 Van Horn, in his own way a lover of the city, took John Breen on long rides through the width of the metropolis in his new high-powered racing car, a second French machine that sped over the poor roads with a soft purrr of chains clicking in giant sprockets.

 What was this damn thing, the city? Van Horn, in arguments at Greenbough, with men such as Rantoul, the engineer, attempted to fathom its meaning. His ancestors had predicted great things for it, and their faith had been rewarded, but their dreams were already far behind the actuality that was the city in the year 1905.
 "It's simply a natural coming together for cheaper warmth and shelter and food. It's a result of specialization in industry made possible by progress in the mechanical arts." Rantoul looked upon the city as just beginning.
 "This building will never stop," Herkimer Pratt, the auctioneer, insisted. "Ten years, twenty, thirty, fifty, a thousand years. It will keep right on until—until—"
 "Until what?" asked Van Horn.
 "Well, I guess it will continue until all the people of the world are assembled in cities." His vision was of a world cut up in city lots.
 John Breen, listening, reading, and appraising, sensed the immensity of the city.

John Breen had come up through the difficult period of life with a rush. His childhood held on into manhood, and his sudden crash from the shell of circumstance found him emerging into a world of delirious earnestness. John was twenty-two, and as he strode beside the rather tall figure of Gilbert Van Horn, on one of their long walks, in early September, a casual observer might have pronounced them father and son. Gilbert Van Horn and John Breen had become friends, close, yet miles and miles apart.
 They talked as they had long talked, on many subjects. Van Horn's interest in the prize ring and John's ability and knowledge gave them a common topic. The fights, many of which they saw together, had long ceased to be an absorbing interest with John Breen.
 "Gill," He paused for a moment. The older man was puffing as they lifted over a rise of ground. "I'm getting tired of this training game, and I haven't fought in the ring since Pug came up here. Fact is I'm not so sure there is any real fight in the business, Gil, it's a rotten business."
 "Right, John."
 "I've made up my mind to break this training, Gil."
 "I guessed you would, John."

To The Voters of Lamb County:
 Both District and County Court have been in session for the past two weeks, and will not adjourn for another week. My time has been occupied in both of said courts, and will be taken up for several more days. Therefore it will be impossible for me to see any of the voters in regard to my candidacy. I am just asking for a second term, which I hope I have merited.
 If given this second term, I shall not ask for a third term; I believe in the Democratic principle of a second term, and further I believe in the Democratic principle of not asking for a third term.
 Thanking you for your support in the past, and earnestly soliciting your vote on the 27th day of August for re-election to the office of county attorney, I am

THE MODERN FOOD STORE, NEW LOCAL GROCERY AND MARKET, WILL OPEN FOR BUSINESS SATURDAY MORNING

The Modern Food Store, the latest addition to Littlefield business concerns, will open its doors Saturday morning.

This business, in the former location of the Friendly Grocery & Market, is owned and will be operated by Otto Jones and Payne Wood, who need no introduction to the people of Littlefield and territory. They have been prominently connected with the grocery business in Littlefield for some time, and both are grocerymen with many years of experience.

The new store is one of the most attractive in this city. The entire front opens to the street. This feature is of special service to shoppers, and permits of the extensive display of merchandise. The new store will feature curb service. This special service will be appreciated by a large number of persons, it is expected.

The new store has a white front and the entire interior is white with black used as trim.

The vegetable and fruits department is located at the front of the store, making it possible for customers to select vegetables and fruits without leaving their automobiles.

The meat department, one of the most modern in this section of the state, is located at the rear of the store.

A large stock of groceries is being moved into the new store, and by Friday night the entire establishments will be stocked to overflowing with the best in groceries, meats, fruits and vegetables.

Mr. and Mrs. Eli Perkins of Brownfield spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Sid Morris.

Miss Kirby Mashburn is spending the week at Montazuma, N. Mexico attending the Home Industries Conference.

Miss Myrtle Murray, District Home Demonstration agent, spent Wednesday of last week in Amherst.

Mr. John Rice of Abilene, is holding a very successful meeting at the Church of Christ church.

The Home Demonstration Club women of the County will hold their annual encampment at the Amherst Fair Grounds August 25-26.

Rev. Watson of Lubbock is conducting a short revival at the Methodist church this week.

W. E. Hassell has returned to California after two weeks visit at the ranch headquarters.

Mr. and Mrs. W. I. McClasky and children returned to their home in Kansas City, Mo., after a week's visit at the Hassell Ranch.

Rev. R. S. Watkins and daughter, Miss Jamie Lee, of Hale Center, visited in Amherst Saturday. Rev. Watkins is holding a revival in the Janes Chapel community this week.

Mrs. Ralph Alexander and Mr. John Litrell of Electra, Texas, visited Mrs. E. E. Stagner the past week.

EDNA FERBER'S "SO BIG" TO OPEN AT PALACE THEATRE SATURDAY

Barbara Stanwyck in Edna Ferber's successor to "CIMARRON" will open at the Palace Theatre Saturday midnight, and continue through Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

This picture "SO BIG" as rightly been classified as Big as the Heart of American Womanhood. Based on Edna Ferber's world-famous best seller at last the screen has produced a picture from it worth of dedication to American Womanhood. "SO

"BIG" is woman's whole existence—revealing secrets that have been locked in feminine hearts for generations. You'll cheer through your tears at this story of a superb woman whom life—and thwarted love—couldn't conquer.

Directed by William Wellman who made such great pictures as "Public Enemy," "Night Nurse," "Wings" and "Star Witness" it has 25 screen favorites besides Barbara Stanwyck in the cast.

"COTTON" EAGAN CARRIES OFF PRIZES IN CONNECTION WITH SCOUT'S TRIP

Gilmer (Cotton) Eagan carried away both prizes given in connection with the Boy Scout's trip into New Mexico recently.

A prize consisting of a thirty day pass to the Palace Theatre was offered by W. J. (Bill) Chesher, Manager, to the boy writing the best description of the trip in general; and another prize of $1.00 in cash was offered by B. L. Cogdill to the boy writing the best description of Carlsbad Cavern.

"Cotton" was the only boy entering the contest.

The following is Cotton's description of Carlsbad Caverns:

To the best I could understand, Stelegmite meant formations growing from the ceiling, Stelegmite meant formations growing from the floor.

At the mouth of the Cavern a Ranger made a talk, telling us what to do and what not to do inside the Cavern.

The first thing was the Bat Cave that extended one-half mile back. Every evening between six and seven o'clock it is estimated that three million bats leave the cave and return about dawn the following morning.

Next we entered the Auditorium, a room about one hundred and sixty feet wide with a smooth flat bottom. The stelegmite formations looked like lights. There was also a column formed by stelegmite and stelegmite formations meeting.

All through the Cavern formations that had water on them were still growing, those that were dry had stopped growing.

On the wall there was a formation resembling the windows with bottles sitting in it.

There were big white rocks with water on them that looked like snow slides.

On entering another room the ceiling was one hundred and twenty-five feet high and looked like the clouds.

On a cliff there were formations resembling "Mutt and Jeff" of the comics.

There was a stelegmite formation of a whale's mouth. The rangers had put a light inside the mouth that would shine through the teeth made of transparent rock.

There were shadows on the walls of a duck and the devil's head.

We saw formations of a moose head, human throat, Indian women with their paposes looking over a cliff, a castle on the hill, and Rip Van Winkle.

We saw the biggest, loose rock in the world that had fallen from the Cavern ceiling. It was estimated to weigh two hundred thousand tons. On one side was a formation of Colvin Coolidge's profile.

On entering the Green Lake Room we saw the formations of an Eagle on a cliff, a giant footprint in the ceiling, frozen waterfalls and baby elephants.

Next we entered the King's Palace. We saw the King's bell cord about one-half inch in diameter and about eight feet long hanging from the ceiling. We saw several colored stelegmite formations forming draperies for the King's Palace.

Next we entered the Queen's Room. There was a colored stelegmite formation resembling an elephant's ear.

Next we entered the Papoose room, recently discovered and opened, forming another section to the King's Palace. Between the Queen's room and the Papoose room was the Queen's bath-room with a formation of a faucet on the wall.

Between the King's Palace and the "Big Room" we saw what was called a boneyard with formations of bones lying all around.

From the Big Room we entered the Lunch Room where forty-five minutes was spent for lunch period. We were seven hundred and fifty

Bill O'Fare At Jail Here Is Limited

Don't go to jail in Littlefield! The food supply is very limited. Of course, any person who happens to be a resident of the Littlefield jail is not going any place in particular, and great strength by reason of an abundant supply of food is not necessary.

The county commissioners, according to Deputy Sheriff Bob Miller, recently cut to 40 cents per day per prisoner the allowance for food.

Tom Matthews, jailer at Olton, couldn't figure out how he could feed prisoners at that price, and Deputy Sheriff Miller brought all the prisoners to Littlefield, and is now endeavoring to make the 40 cents per day per prisoner go as far as possible.

Here's the bill of fare at the Littlefield jail:

Breakfast—one egg, one piece of bacon, and one biscuit.

Dinner—One cup of beans, one onion, one potato and one piece of corn bread.

P. S. Deputy Sheriff Miller explained that iced tea, coffee, or any other drink is not served. Of course, the prisoners can have all the water they wish to drink.

feet from the surface and two and one-half miles from entrance.

After lunch we re-entered the Big Room. We saw the formation of the King and Queen of the "Hall of the Giants" on their throne. We saw the "Giant Dome," a stelegmite formation sixty two feet high, sixteen feet in diameter and sixty million years old. We saw "Fairylend" formed by colored stelegmite formations resembling a flower garden. In this we saw the formation of a Chinese hat, a fir tree covered with ice, and a Totem pole forty two feet high.

We saw formations of water lilies in all little ponds of water.

We looked down into the lower Cavern which was one hundred and fifty feet deep and the ceiling above us was one hundred feet high.

We saw the bottomless pit, estimated to be three hundred feet deep. The estimation from ceiling of room to bottom of pit was six hundred and fifty feet.

We saw the formation of some spectacles on the wall, a white slipper on the ceiling, and a stelegmite formation of a machine gun.

We saw the Crystal Springs Dome, the largest growing stelegmite formation in the cave.

The wishing pond was a still pond of water where people would toss coins and make wishes. According to the ranger the money is removed every four months and used for expenses in the Cavern. The ranger said the last amount removed was about forty dollars ($40) in pennies, nickles, dimes and quarters.

We came to the "Rock of Ages," a colored stelegmite formation estimated to be fifty million years old. The ranger made a speech about the "Rock of Ages."

We were asked to sit while lights were turned out and we were coming on the "Rock of Ages."

We re-entered the Cavern where the crowd was wishing to pay fifty cents. The elevator would get out three o'clock. Those who out would get out about p. m.

Three were three hundred and fifty one visited the Cavern one hundred and eighty of the state of Texas and came all the way from all states in the union presented with from one to people except Texas one and eighty seven.

We got out about four

ELECTION OF SENATOR PINK PARRISH TO CONGRESS URGED; ONLY WEST TEXAN IN RACE FOR CONGRESSMAN-AT-LARGE

(Special to the Leader)

LUBBOCK, Aug. 10.—Sole West Texas survivor of the first primary in the three-sided race for Congressman-at-Large, Senator Pink L. Parrish, of Lubbock, is vigorously pushing his run-off campaign.

Paired in Place No. 1 with George B. Terrell, from over near the Louisiana border, Senator Parrish carried into the August battle of ballots the standard of West Texas, deserving of two new members of the House of Representatives had the state been redistricted in accordance with law as based upon the 1930 Federal census figures. Unless West Texans line up almost solidly behind their one candidate the broad acres of the Panhandle Plains and Central West Texas will not be recipient of the added representation to which it is entitled.

Parrish Working Hard

Senator Parrish, who has represented the 30th Senatorial district in the upper house of the legislature for the past three and a half years, is letting no grass grow under his feet as he pushes his drive for the Democratic nomination which is tantamount to election. He expresses optimism and feels that he will lead his veteran opponent from the first through the last count following the coming election.

"I favor submission of the 18th amendment to the voters of United States despite the fact that I have always voted personally for prohibition," he says in commenting upon his platform. "Texas Democrats, in the July primary, expressed an overwhelming desire to secure such submission and if I go to Congress I shall always endeavor to be guided by the wishes of the Texas constituency on prohibition and everything else."

Against Debt Extension

As for extension of war debts, the Lubbock man takes a very decided stand.

"I am in favor of collecting every penny that is owed us by European nations," he declares. "And the sooner the better. If it is not possible to collect those debts without further extension, I favor, in addition to the government's extension a similar extension on the part of international bankers. In other words, if our government gives European nations longer to pay their debts, the big banking houses must do the same. I see nothing fair about the government stepping aside in favor of Wall street."

Is Native Texan

Son of a Confederate veteran and a native of Lamar county, Senator Parrish has resided in West Texas since his youth. He is interested in farming and stock raising on a small scale and "because I have had actual experience along this line" is ready to fight the battles of agriculture in the House of Representatives if he is sent to Washington.

"To my mind," he says, "it is impossible to bring about a return of normal times until agriculture and its contributing agencies are saved from the slough in which it now reposes.

"I also favor elimination of the bureaucratic form of government saddled upon us by the Republicans. It is too inefficient and too costly and if I go to Congress one of the principal problems upon which I aim to work is the reduction of governmental costs, to be reflected in decreased taxes.

"I do not mean that I will favor 'penny wise, pound foolish' economies; such a program would be harmful. But I do know that many economies can be placed into effect in the operation of the national government and that's what I'll be after," he states.

Has State-Wide Strength

Senator Parrish, who received a thumping big vote in South and East Texas in the July primary, believes the people of Texas will largely agree that the Panhandle-Plains area is entitled to at least one of the three Congressmen-at-Large.

H. J. R. No. 24. PROPOSING A CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON NOVEMBER 8, 1932.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Section 13 of Article 8 of the Constitution of Texas be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

"Sec. 13. Provision shall be made by the first Legislature for the speedy sale, without the necessity of a suit in Court, of a sufficient portion of all lands and other property for the taxes due thereon, and every year thereafter for the sale in like manner of all lands and other property upon the deed of conveyance to the purchaser for all lands and other property thus sold shall be held to vest a good and perfect title in the purchaser thereof, subject to be impeached only for actual fraud; provided, that the former owner shall within two years from date of the filing for record of the Purchaser's Deed have the right to redeem the land on the following basis:

(1) Within the first year of the redemption period upon the payment of the amount of money paid for the land, including One ($1.00) Dollar penalties, interest and costs paid plus not exceeding twenty-five (25%) per cent of the aggregate total;

(2) Within the last year of the redemption period upon the payment of the amount of money paid for the land, including One ($1.00) Dollar Tax Deed Recording Fee and all taxes, penalties, interest and costs paid plus not exceeding fifty (50%) per cent of the aggregate total."

Sec. 2. That the foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1932. (A correct copy.)

Bula School Opens Monday; Special Program

The opening of the Bula School Monday, August 15, was quite a number of patrons.

The pupils, patrons and assembled in the auditorium very interesting program presented. The program consisted of the following numbers:

Songs—"I Choose Myself," "Standing On the Promises," group, with Mr. McCormick, er.

Prayer—Rev. J. S. Johnson
Song—"I Am Thine."

The first address was given by Mr. P. O. Smith. This was followed by a brief address from Mr. Johnson, County Superintendent. E. Adams was with us, and an interesting talk on Farm Schools.

Several brief, yet interesting addresses were made by members of the Board of Trustees and the patrons.

The final speeches of the day were made by faculty members.

The same group of teachers held positions in the Bula school last year, is back in the year. One new teacher has been added to the list. This teacher, Brooks, hails from Denton. We are very sure that he will be one of the most successful years it has ever had.

With the support of the people and the cooperation of all during coming year, the Bula Independent School District promises to be one of the most successful years it has ever had.

STREET GIVES UP PAPER ROUTE HERE; WILL ATTEND TECH COLLEGE; COTTON EAGAN APPOINTED CARRIER

Bill Street, who has been agent for the Avalanche-Journal and distributed the morning and evening papers in Littlefield for the past four years, is giving up this work on Monday next, and has been assigned a newspaper route in Lubbock. He will begin his new duties on Monday next. Bill is planning on attending the Tech College when it opens in September, and he can carry on his newspaper route in Lubbock in conjunction with his school work.

Cotton Eagan, who has been Special Delivery Messenger at the Littlefield Postoffice for the past three and a half years, resigned his position Monday last, and is taking over the Avalanche-Journal agency and distribution from Bill Street next Monday. According to "Cotton," he could not take care of the distribution of the Lubbock papers and carry on his work with the local postoffice, as the messages have to be taken care of about the same time as the papers have to be distributed.

George Glenn is now Special Delivery boy, having started his duties Monday last. Congratulations — Bill — Cotton — and George!

AN ANSWER to Criminal Lawyer Lockhart's Scurrilous Circulars

THE REAL TRUTH FROM VOTER TO VOTER

ARTHUR P. DUGGAN

The WILLING WORKER for WEST TEXAS

To the Voters of the 30th Senatorial District:

We, the Littlefield and Lamb County friends and neighbors of Arthur P. Duggan, ask the voters of this district to help us elect our fellow citizen to the State Senate.

We want GOOD GOVERNMENT AND CLEAN POLITICS, just as you do.

Mr. Lockhart's attack upon our friend is unfair, unjust, and untrue. We who know are ready to testify under oath that every charge he has made against Mr. Duggan is ABSOLUTELY FALSE.

MR. DUGGAN REPRESENTS NO SPECIAL INTERESTS WHATEVER.

ON THE PRESENTATION OF LEGITIMATE PROOF TO THE CONTRARY, MR. DUGGAN WILL RESIGN FROM THE SENATORIAL CAMPAIGN WITHIN 24 HOURS. THIS CHALLENGE TO MR. LOCKHART INCLUDES ANY CHARGE HE HAS BROUGHT EVEN THAT AS TO FREE ELECTRICITY FURNISHED BY TEXAS UTILITIES.

We need a man like Arthur P. Duggan in the State Senate—a man who is constructive in his thinking; honest, able, and who will represent this entire District fairly and honorably. Can we expect such representation from Mr. Lockhart, whose highest qualifications seem to be muck-raking, mud-slinging, and positive falsehood?

Mr. Duggan has been in Littlefield twenty years, and has been on our school board eighteen years. He is NOW President of that Board.

The recent large majority given him in the Littlefield box shows our endorsement of his leadership.

As President of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce six years ago Mr. Duggan stressed the importance of tax reduction and equalization, and that was before this issue was popular as a "vote-getting" issue.

that he will regulate utilities, stop foreclosures, and make it a penitentiary offense for banks to accept deposits after such banks are insolvent. Mr. Lockhart was in the Legislature as Representative from the Lubbock District when the utilities were running wild, when foreclosures were occurring more often than now, and when banks were failing daily. AND WHAT DID MR. LOCKHART DO? NOTHING! POSITIVELY NOTHING!

His statement to the contrary notwithstanding, Mr. Lockhart DID VOTE AGAINST the Emergency Appropriation Bill providing for boilers and machinery for the Tech power plant at a time when said boilers were absolutely necessary to furnish heat for our boys and girls. The bill carried regardless of his opposition and failure to represent his own District.

MR. LOCKHART SAYS FARMERS CAN MAKE MONEY ON 5c COTTON. HE IS A CRIMINAL LAWYER, NOT A FARMER.

Mr. Lockhart told the good people of Lubbock and the farmers of the South Plains that if 99 per cent of them petitioned him to vote for the Cotton Acreage Reduction Bill, he would vote against it. Why? BECAUSE HE HOLDS EXTENSIVE GIN INTERESTS. IS THAT REPRESENTATION?

Mr. Lockhart says "that this is a fight between the common people and special interests." All right; Mr. Lockhart DOES REPRESENT SELFISH INTERESTS! As a criminal lawyer, as a corporation lawyer, as a loan company lawyer personally conducting numerous foreclosures, as a gin owner, as the owner of corporation stocks, IS Mr. Lockhart vitally interested in representing the COMMON PEOPLE as Senator? He is NOT!

The people of Lamb County showed their confidence and faith in Mr. Duggan by giving him a very substantial

Lawyer Lockhart Was Elected Vice-President of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at the Annual Convention at Plainview

Mr. Lockhart got only as far as the VICE-PRESIDENCY of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Duggan's qualifications took him on to the PRESIDENCY of the organization.

MR. DUGGAN HAS NO LAW PRACTICE TO "FEED" FROM HIS POLITICS. HE IS RUNNING FOR OFFICE UNHAMPERED BY CLIENTS.

Mrs. Duggan did suffer serious financial loss in buying stock in the American Commonwealth Power company, when said stock proved worthless. Is that a crime or a misfortune?

Mr. Duggan took the lead in the fight to reduce freight rates on cotton last fall. He was elected president of the South Plains Freight Rate Association, and there again demonstrated his leadership and ability to get what he goes after. This organization secured a hearing by the Texas Railway Commission and the desired reduction was made effective, thereby saving the farmers over the South Plains approximately $400,000.

Mr. Lockhart PROMISES the Voters of this District majority over his four opponents in the July 23rd Primary, which Mr. Lockhart did not get in his home county.

MR. DUGGAN'S PERSONAL INTERESTS ARE IDENTICAL WITH THE INTERESTS OF THE PEOPLE OF THE THIRTIETH SENATORIAL DISTRICT. HE IS REALLY ONE OF US.

We appeal to you who respect truth and honor, who love good government and clean politics, to join with us in electing a clean man as our state Senator—ARTHUR P. DUGGAN—whom we assure you possesses the virtues of ABILITY, INDUSTRY, KINDNESS, ECONOMY, and HONESTY.

Respectfully,
Friends of Arthur P. Duggan

Before returning to their home in Jarrell, the party went on through New Mexico on a pleasure trip.

SOCIETY.

Large Number of Visitors Present at Eastern Star School of Instruction

Saturday, August 13, was a red letter day for Eastern Star members in Littlefield. By nine o'clock guests began arriving from all nearby cities for the local Chapter's first school of instruction...

The Golden Jubilee colors, green and gold, were featured in decoration. Baskets of beautiful Golden Glow and ferns added much charm and color to the occasion.

Littlefield Chapter opened the meeting, and introduced the Grand Officers present. Mrs. Belle P. Tomlinson of Wallis, Texas, Worthy Grand Matron, was introduced in the East by Mrs. A. H. McGavock, Worthy Matron of the local Chapter.

Others introduced were: Miss Blanche Earl of Dallas, District Deputy Grand Matron of District No. 1; Mrs. Minnie Qualtrough of El Paso, District Deputy Grand Matron of District No. 2, of which Littlefield is a part and Mrs. Maud Ripley of Electra, Grand Examiner of District No. 2.

All Past and Present Matrons and Patrons were given a hearty welcome—also all visitors were cordially welcomed.

Mrs. Igou as chairman of Registration Committee, reported 81 visitors registered for the school.

Mrs. Ripley, the Grand Examiner, reported thirty-six certificates received, of which we were very proud. Mrs. Minnie Qualtrough opened the School of Instruction and gave a drill on Constitution and Laws—also the Ritual.

Luncheon was served in the Home Economics Department at noon, consisting of pressed chicken salad, potato chips, pickles, cake and iced tea. Saturday night the Littlefield Chapter exemplified the work by initiating Mrs. Gaston Patterson of Olton. Mrs. W. D. T. Storey was welcomed as a new member, she having just recently affiliated with this chapter.

At the close, the Rainbow Girls entered and executed a beautiful drill spelling Love and presenting the Grand Officers with muffs made of flowers which concealed a gift for each one. After thanking Littlefield for all the courtesies extended to her, the Worthy Grand Matron gave the local chapter a most happy surprise by having Mrs. Pat Boone called to the East and introduced as Grand Representative from Maine. Littlefield Chapter feels she has been greatly honored by this appointment.

Refreshments of cake and lemonade were served to all present at the close of the School.

Mrs. Ray Jones is Hostess Friday to Prayer Circle No. 1. Mrs. Ray Jones was hostess Friday afternoon to the ladies of Prayer Circle No. 1 of the Methodist Church, at her apartment on East Sixth and Twelfth Avenue.

Abernathy Will Sponsor Home Products Week

Initiating something new for a city the size of Abernathy, the local Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a home products week August 22 to 27, with an exhibit of articles made in this city and this trade territory at the end of the week.

Among industries planning to take part in the event are Rea Flour mill, Struve cheese factory, local garages, planing mill, hatchery, state certified seed growers, a marmalade manufacturer and vocational agricultural students. Products made by farmers and their wives will also be displayed.

Many Exhibits to Be Shown at Panhandle South Plains Fair

LUBBOCK, Texas, Aug. 17.—Exhibits at the Panhandle South Plains Fair, Sept. 26 to Oct. 1, will crowd all buildings to capacity, if present indications can be depended upon. A. B. Davis, manager of the exposition said here today.

Since announcement of the fair recently, inquiries from a majority of the larger exhibitors of other years in the livestock, swine, poultry and other departments have been received which indicate that practically all these old exhibitors will be back.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Zack Isbell are the proud parents of an eight pound baby boy born Wednesday, August 10th, at Waurika, Oklahoma, where Mrs. Doss has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Doss. He has been named "Jean Paul."

Registration of High School Students

To the Patrons of Littlefield High School: Choosing a course in high school is a very important matter and should not be done hurriedly. The Littlefield schools will open August 22, but we want to enroll all high school students before that date. High school students will be enrolled on the following dates:

Wednesday, August 17, all eighth grade students. Also all ninth grade students whose names begin with letters A to K inclusive.

Thursday, August 18, ninth grade students whose names begin with the letters L to Z inclusive, also all tenth grade students.

Friday, August 19, all eleventh grade students.

If students will come to the high school building at the above-mentioned dates, the high school teachers will be there and there will be plenty of time to assist each student in selecting satisfactory subjects and a good daily program. If the matter of enrolling in the high school is put off until August 22, teachers will be busy with other school duties and will not have sufficient time to assist the students in arranging their work.

Lost 20 Lbs. of Fat In Just 4 Weeks

Mrs. Mae West of St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I'm only 28 years old and weighed 170 lbs. until taking one box of your Kruschen Salts just 4 weeks ago. I now weigh 150 lbs. I also have more energy and furthermore I've never had a hungry moment."

Fat folks should take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it's the SAFE, harmless way to reduce as tens of thousands of men and women know.

For your health's sake ask for and get Kruschen at any drug store—the cost for a bottle that lasts 4 weeks is but a trifle and if after the first bottle you are not joyfully satisfied with results—money back.

ANTON

WELTY THEDFORD REPRESENTING FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA WINS THIRD PLACE AT HUNTSVILLE

Welty Thedford, of Littlefield, representing the Future Farmers of America in the South Plains District, won third place in the State Public Speaking Contest recently held at Huntsville. His talk was on "George Washington, A Master Farmer."

Under the direction of S. C. Wilson, teacher trainer in Vocational Agriculture at Sam Houston State Teachers College, many features of entertainment for their stay were planned for the boys. A trip through the prison, a concert in the prison auditorium presented by the prisoners, a trip through Sam Houston's home, and the College Museum were some of the diversions enjoyed.

Beautification Contest Entered By Cities of This Area

STAMFORD—Widespread interest in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce plan for enhancing the beauty of the West Texas landscape is indicated by the responses received to the invitation to enter the West Texas Inter-Community Beautification contest sent out three weeks ago.

over West Texas. Especially had he made himself famous in the writing of the book "I Like the Depression," which the publishers, Bobbs-Merrill Publishing Company had predicted a sale of 100,000 copies.

Mr. Ansley made the chief address at the annual meeting and banquet of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce on June 14th last, and spoke on "Why I Like the Depression."

Eleven years ago he entered the newspaper profession, associating himself with Gene Howe and Wilbur C. Hawk, owners of the Amarillo Globe and News. Recently he served as managing-editor of the El Paso Herald for about a year, it being sold a year and a half ago, when he returned to the Amarillo papers.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 Monday afternoon at the Central Presbyterian Church at Amarillo.

He is survived by his wife; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Ansley; five brothers, Paul, Ben, Forrest, and Thad, and a sister, Mary, all of Amarillo.

Long distance telephone calls and telegrams poured into the Globe-News office from all points of the Texas Panhandle as news of his death flashed over the country.

FARM NOTES By D. A. ADAM County Agent

The Lamb County Fair September 16-17 is an event that every farmer in Lamb County should attend, and bring in some exhibit of farm crops, canned goods, livestock, etc.

4-H Club boys are planning to bring 150 exhibits to the fair, according to survey made during the encampment last week.

Ancil Miller—4-H boy of Amherst, reports his cotton demonstration the best in his whole community. It was properly thinned out, and during the dry spell has been making cotton, while some of the others have been suffering.

150 calves are going into the feed lot September 1.

Roy B. McQuatters, dairy demonstrator, reports that his cows averaged 357.7 pounds butter fat for the last year from a total production of 35,990.5 pounds of milk, with an average test of 4.9.

Ninety Two Boys Attend 4-H Encampment.

92 boys representing 5 4-H Clubs in Lamb County attended the first annual 4-H Encampment last Friday and Saturday at Amherst.

The Lamb County boys 4-H Council was organized, and is composed of the president and secretary of each club, and are to have regular monthly meetings to outline 4-H Club work in Lamb County.

P. E. Boesen, of Sudan, made a talk on the relation of 4-H Club work to the banker, and also gave some vital pointers to the boys who are going to feed calves this winter in their club work.

County Agent D. A. Adam discussed records, calf club work, and held a demonstration on the selection of heads for the oncoming fair, and discussed the Annual Lamb County fair which is to be built around the 4-H Clubs of this county.

J. W. Hale, Sec'y-Manager of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, and Dr. Ira E. Woods, President made talks at the night session.

It was voted by all of the boys to have this encampment annually.

Lamb County was represented at the Annual Farmers Short Course at the A. & M. College with 23 people, and from a mileage standpoint was probably the largest delegation there.

Lamb County Fair Dates are September 16-17. Prepare your exhibits now, and let's have the biggest and best fair ever held in the history of Lamb County.

Those people in Lamb County desiring meat killing and curing demonstrations are urged to get in touch with the county agent soon, as dates will be set before very long.

Lamb County Dairy Judging team placed fifth in the contest held at the Farmers Short Course.

Grape leaf hoppers are hard to control, but can best be handled through dusting of Black Leaf 40 (nicotine sulphate) on the vines with some force.

That what's the use of talking about silk shirts, they are out of fashion.

BANKERS ENDORSE NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

The Minnesota Bankers' association believes that the local newspapers are the most logical, effective and economical medium at hand with which to advertise banks, and to build confidence in both the banks and the communities served by the banks.

The public expression of this firm conviction by a state-wide group of hard-headed, long-headed and level-headed bankers should knock into a cocked hat the foolish notion entertained by timid business men that dollars expended in home-town newspaper advertising to bring their names and their business messages before a receptive audience of their friends and neighbors each week, are just so many dollars tossed to the four winds.

Bankers, as all of us who have had experience borrowing money know only too well, are not accustomed to hurling money out the window, so to speak. When an average banker puts out money, he aims to get that money back, with interest. We have no quarrel with this formula.

The business man who hopes to keep up with the swift parade of modern days without advertising—without eternally shouting to the folks of his community the news that he is here, on earth and ready to serve them well and often—will never reach the goal which he should, considering his opportunities.

The business man who never advertises remain in business, pay their bills, eat well and keep warm and are able to buy gasoline for their automobiles. These men would go farther, in trade volume and net profits, they would be far more successful, if they wisely and consistently hewed to the advertising line, driving the story of their businesses home to the readers of their local newspaper consistently and pertinently, week in and week out, throughout the year.

Cameron Lumber Company, says that the market is beginning to look up, and that he believes there will be a building revival this fall. This company, according to Mr. Porcher, has the largest order placed with the mill now than they have had in two years.

Mr. Porcher says that prices have hit the bottom and are starting to go up in the lumber line. He says they may go down a little again, but he does not believe they ever will be as low as they now are.

He also states that he notices more activity along the building line, and that they are supplying considerable material to the farmers in repairing and fixing up their buildings.

Dick Johnson, Manager of the Higginbotham-Bartlett Company, also reports more activity in repairing, redecorating and building. His company has just completed a small house near the Texas Cotton Growers Gin; are painting and redecorating Raymond Renfro's residence, both interior and exterior; furnished the paint to Ellis Foust for the painting of the exterior of his residence and supplied the paint for the redecorating of the M. System store here.

According to Mr. Johnson, his company have just received one carload of lumber, and have two more ordered.

The Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Company also reports more activity in the building line.
