2 Incumbents Not Running

Commissioners' Court Changes Due In 1961

Lamb County's five-man commissioners court will have at least two new faces and possibly three in January, 1961. That fact became clear Tuesday as a second incumbent commissioner, Bill Jeffries of precinct 3, Littlefield, announced that he will not seek re-election in the 1960 Democratic primary. Incumbent Don Bryant of precinct 1, Olton, had announced earlier that he will not be a candidate for re-election.

Oil Permit, Appointment To Be Studied

Approval of a request for an oil well drilling permit and appointments of an alternate corporation court judge and a mayor pro tem will be considered by the city council at a meeting at the city hall tonight at 7:30. The oil well drilling permit is being sought by W. J. Chesser Littlefield. The permit request is for drilling block 65, lot 4, block 12 of the original townsite of Littlefield. The site is in the 400 block of West 2nd Street. The alternate corporation judge would be appointed to serve only in the absence of the regular judge, Joel Thomson. The mayor pro tem, elected from the council, would serve in the absence of Mayor E. J. Faust.

City Tax Collections Off Pace Of Year Ago

Collection of city taxes through Dec. 31, 1959, was off about four per cent in comparison to the same time a year ago, Tax Assessor-Collector Joel Thomson reported Tuesday. Thomson said he had collected $71,832.84 of the $119,000 city tax roll through December, 63 per cent of the total. At the end of 1958, about 67 per cent had been collected.

School Census Started; Parent Report Asked

Littlefield's annual school census is under way and the counter needs help. William Brune, who is in charge of the census, is asking that parents contact him if they have a child who will start to school next year and the child does not have an older brother or sister in school at present. Brune explained that he'd find out about any students-to-be if they now have an older brother or sister in school. But the only way he can find out about other children is by contact from parents. He asked that these parents either call him at 418-J or drop him a postcard in care of Littlefield High School. Brune said he hopes to complete the census by Feb. 1. The information Brune will need from parents includes: name and birth date of children, names of mother and father, address, and the length of time the family has lived in the school district. Children born after Sept. 1, 1957 should not be reported, said Brune, because these children will not be eligible to attend school next fall. The school census completed in January of 1959 showed the district had 2,102 students at this time last year. The year before the district had 2,101 students.

WOUNDED OFFICER CHATS WITH BOSS

Littlefield Policemen Robert Barton, wounded accidentally here Dec. 25 by a fellow officer, talked person-to-person with his boss Tuesday from his bed in Methodist Hospital, Lubbock. He told Police Chief E. A. Fitzgerald he had a "good day" Tuesday. Barton underwent surgery Jan. 2 to remove bone fragments from the spinal cord, where the bullet struck. Barton was paralyzed from the waist down after the accident. But the officer told Fitzgerald Tuesday that he could "wiggle the toes on my right foot." Although he couldn't do the same with his left leg, Barton said he had feeling in the left leg because he could "pinch it and it hurts."

School Head Resigns Post At Amherst

AMHERST — Elmer C. Watson, now serving his second year as Amherst superintendent of schools, tendered his resignation effective Jan. 31 at a regular meeting of the Amherst school board here Monday night. Watson, who was Amherst High School principal two years before becoming superintendent, said he had no definite plans for the future as yet, but he added that he will continue teaching. "I've enjoyed my four years here," said Watson. "But I've decided to get out of the administrative phase of education." Watson, who is 65, has been in the teaching profession 33 years. He has been teaching at the South Plains since 1939. Applications for the superintendent's post will be taken in the office of School Secretary Frances Melton. Interested persons should contact the school secretary or Delvin Batson, president of the school board. Watson served nine years as a teacher in the Meadow schools before coming here. Prior to that he served as principal at Sunny-side School in Castro County and was superintendent of the Mattson Rural High School.

Mercury Dips To 6 Degrees

By BILL TURNER
A moisture-laden five-inch snow accompanied by temperatures which dipped as low as six degrees turned Littlefield into a wonderland of ice early Wednesday. A bitter cold front which brought the storm appeared to be moving out of the area at noon Wednesday. However, the weatherman said it would continue to be cold today, with high temperatures due to stay around the freezing mark.

Mayor Of Olton

Unwilling Candidate Elected By Write-in

OLTON — An unwilling write-in candidate — Carl Hooper — who had warned voters that he would not take the job, wound up with a landslide majority of votes in the special election for a mayor here Tuesday. And the city emerged from the balloting apparently still mayorless, or at least that is the way it appeared Wednesday. Hooper, Wednesday, was steadfast in refusing the job, although his election as mayor was accomplished by 115 voters who wrote his name on the ballot. The only official candidate, B. F. Fitts, Olton pump manufacturer and machine shop owner, received 31 votes. Fitts' name was the only one to appear on the ballot. Course of action for the city is to be decided at a meeting of the City Council. Acting Mayor A. D. Adams said Wednesday that the governing body would meet soon to decide what to do. He said that the council would likely meet either Wednesday evening or today. However, Hooper has yet to say officially whether he would refuse the job. He was to be at the meeting of the council to tell them. If he persisted in refusing to accept the post of Olton mayor another election would be called, Adams said. Fitts told a newsmen that he was surprised at the outcome of the election. He further stated that his name would not be entered as a candidate in case the city had another special election. "I allowed myself to be talked into becoming a candidate and" (Continued On Page Four)

POLITICS: IT'S EARLIER THAN YOU THINK

The political slogan of the new year is "earlier than you think." As they greet 1960, prospective candidates have only 25 days to reach the point of no return — the filing deadline of Feb. 1. The new early primary and campaign law pinched off more than three months from the normal leisurely pace that projected into late July and the run-offs into late August. In Lamb County, things began to pick up on the political front early this week. As of Tuesday, the county had two contested races, two-man races for commissioner in precinct 1 (Olton) and precinct 3 (Littlefield). Six other candidates had announced formally for office, but none had attracted an opponent.

Clarence Davis, Littlefield concrete contractor, and J. L. "Roy" Yeager, precinct 3 maintenance foreman, have announced they will seek the post of precinct 3 commissioner. The incumbent commissioner, Bill Jeffries, told the Leader this week he will not seek re-election. The contested race in the Olton precinct is between C. M. Moss and H. A. "Alvin" Hysinger. The RELATED STORY ABOVE incumbent, Don Bryant, has announced he will not seek re-election. Latest of the incumbents to announce is Mrs. Gladys Goodwin, who faces a special commissioner election in precinct 2, the Earth area. Precinct 2 voters will elect a commissioner to a two-year term. The late Clyde Goodwin held the post until his death in October, 1959. His widow was appointed to the office until the next general election, which will be in November of this year. Other incumbents who have announced for office include District Attorney Bill Sheehan, Sheriff Dick Dyer, Tax Assessor-Collector Herbert Dunn, County Attorney Curtis Wilkinson and State Rep. Jesse M. Osborn. None has drawn an opponent as yet. Of the 10 candidates who have made formal announcements in Lamb County, only three have filed officially with Pat Boone, chairman of the county Democratic Executive Committee. They are Sheehan, Wilkinson and Dyer. Along with the new "spring" political calendar, there are far-reaching changes in some of the political procedures. And this new year brings on the double attraction of a presidential campaign along with state primaries, conventions and elections. It's Leap Year, but the candidates will have to get off the springboard before Leap Year for the first time. About the only things unchanged in the elaborate twin-bill political circus are the Jan. 31 deadline for paying poll taxes, and the Nov. 8 general election. Swept into the discard was the unwritten but traditional opening of campaigns "when the dogwood blooms" usually on San Jacinto Day, April 21. That in the past had left about three months for peak campaign efforts. The same span under the new law will put the races in full swing by early February. Politically, it will get hotter while it's cooler. Not only the dates and procedures for the primary election system have been changed. The first step in the official election procedure, looking to the November general election, will be taken by the commissioners court at its first meeting in February. This will be the appointment of the precinct election judges for the November election. Those appointed must be served with notices, by registered mail, within 20 days after the court selects them. The candidates who have filed for state office by the Feb. 1 deadline will have but three days of grace in which to pay their filing fees. Candidates for county and precinct offices have a few days longer to pay, since the county executive committee of the political party will meet on Feb. 8 to estimate the cost of the primary and to set the assessments on the candidates. Deadline for paying the assessment is Feb. 13. In the few instances where no one has filed for a particular office, or where the candidate who filed has died, an extension to March 17 is provided by law for others to apply for the place on the primary ballot. County executive committees will hold their second meetings on March 14, to set the hour and (Continued On Page Four)

While the five-inch snow was received here, Anton got about three inches, with .50 of an inch of moisture. A PTA meeting was canceled at Anton. In Littlefield, a scheduled meeting of the Lamb County grand jury Wednesday was postponed. A basketball game slated here Tuesday night between Littlefield and Lockney also was called off. Much activity went on as scheduled during the storm, however. At Amherst, six of eight scheduled games of a basketball tournament were played. At Olton, voters turned out "pretty well, considering the day," for a special mayor election. Most motorists got where they were going, but they had to take it slow. # Safe Driver Insurance Plan Forming Since '57

Seven days ago Texas motorists began operating their private vehicles under the new Texas Safe Driving Insurance Plan.

The plan draws hurras from its backers and snorts from its critics.

Whether he be for or against it, the average motorist probably doesn't know that the program represents the end product of an insurance recipe with international flavor which has been seasoned with the state's own individual needs.

comes from Canada, because the Texas plan actually is based in principle on the Canadian Preferred Risk Plan—although in the land of the Mounties they're much tougher and you pay much more if you're a safety problem on the road.

Laced liberally throughout the regulations also are principles of the insurance plans of California and Pennsylvania — states which, like Texas, have vast motoring populations and problems.

HOW IT BEGAN
None of this, the Board of Insurance stresses, should be interpreted to mean that Texas simply lumped together a few ideas from other states and Canada and came up with a borrowed program.

Chronologically, the history of the system goes back to the 55th Legislature in 1957 when the House of Representatives adopted a resolution which demanded an investigation to answer a question which had thorny local effect. The question:

Just why did the board set insurance rates for cars 45 per cent higher in Harris County than in Dallas County?

The Texas Legislative Council research agency for the legislature went to work on the issue and in December of 1958, the council recommended that:

1 The law which gives the Board of Insurance exclusive power to determine rates be left unchanged, but

2 The board be directed to make a study of various merit rating plans in use with the aim of putting one into effect in Texas.

The board, which already had made tentative studies of such plans, went to work immediately and in February of this year it dispatched three men — a board member and two staff members — to Canada, where they digested the boards of reports and came home with voluminous notes and millions of statistics on the Canadian plan.

Why Canada
Paul D. Connor, clerk for the insurance board, said the first order in devising a Texas plan was to look north to Canada because:

"Canada probably more accurately represented the best experience in terms of volume, territory covered and statistical data than any plan operating in the United States."

At about the time the insurance investigators were laboring in Canada, the legislature in Austin provided the legal base for the new plan by passing House Bill 478 which provided in part that:

"A plan or plans designed to encourage the prevention of accidents... shall be promulgated on or before August 1, 1960."

One stumbling block remained. It was the so-called "Chicago Bill" urging flexible rates for Texas. The bill was so named because insurance circles generally concede that outside companies — and most of them are headquartered in either Chicago or New York — prefer flexible rates.

It is these outside companies by the way, which are now being accused by backers of the new plan of fomenting criticism of the merit rating system.

Legislators were in no mood for tampering with the insurance board's authority to lay down a single standard for the state, and the "Chicago Bill" was tossed out.

There remained then a series of hearings which lasted from April 3 until June 18 in which everybody with an idea or a comment had a chance to participate.

What Agents Say
The Texas Association of Insurance Agents took an active part in at least 25 of these hearings. And if anyone thinks agencies are gleefully anticipating a "get rich quick" bonanza from the safe driving plan, he has only to listen to Henry D. Mason of Wichita Falls, president of the T.A.I.A.

Mason said the plan will vastly increase investigative and paper work for insurance companies and added:

"Many of the features incorporated in the plan are certainly not as we proposed."

Following the string of hearings, the board, in order to get to actual specifics for its plan system — which determines whether you'll get a cut, or pay up to 100 per cent more for your insurance — took a random sample of 40,135 drivers records.

Now Drivers Rate
From this they arrived at these percentages:

37.1 per cent of all drivers in the state have a spotless record. They will get a 20 per cent discount.

15.9 per cent have no more than 1 demerit point, which doesn't count. They will not have to pay more, but on the other hand, they won't get a discount.

14 per cent will have to pay a 20 per cent penalty because they have 2 assessed points.

5.1 per cent will pay 40 per cent more because they have 3 points.

3.6 per cent will pay 60 per cent more because they will have 4 points against them.

1.4 per cent will pay 80 per cent more because they have 5 points.

2.2 per cent of the drivers will pay 100 per cent more because they have accumulated the damaging 6 points.

With the statistics jelled the Board of Insurance last Oct. 3 signed Board Order 1938 and the Texas Safe Driving Insurance Plan was born.

Drivers Won't Get Points On Some Types Of Mishaps

AUSTIN — Texas motorists will not be assessed points under the Safe Driving Insurance Plan for certain, specific types of collisions, according to a clarifying statement issued by Joe P. Gibbs, member, State Board of Insurance.

"In order to be as fair as possible, the plan excludes accidents involving your vehicle while you are legally parked. Also excluded are accidents for which you have been paid by the person held responsible for the accident. No points will be assessed in accidents in which only the other party has been convicted of a moving traffic violation or if rear-end collisions in which you have been struck by another vehicle and are not convicted of a moving traffic violation.

"If you are the victim of a hit-and-run accident and report the accident to the proper authorities within 24 hours you will not be charged any points. Regardless of fault, motorists will not be assessed a point when the damage is limited solely to medical payments," Gibbs stated.

"Texas families whose drivers have not been convicted of a moving traffic violation nor involved in a chargeable accident during the past three years will receive a 20 per cent reduction in the bulk of their private passenger automobile insurance.

A study of 40,135 licensed Texas operators' records indicates that 73 per cent of the drivers have clear records. Considering the multiple use of an automobile by several members of the family, 37 per cent of the insured automobiles will receive a 20 per cent discount under the new automobile insurance plan. Roughly 10 per cent are assigned as follows:

Four points for driving while intoxicated, hit-and-run, and negligent homicide with a motor vehicle.

Two points for accidents involving $25 damage or more or bodily injury unless specifically excluded as above.

One point for moving traffic violations.

The plan applies to the driving record of all resident operators of a household.

All companies writing automobile insurance.

Poll Tax Sales Lag In County

Lamb Countians are going to have to "get a move on" or a whole lot of them won't get to go to the polls in 1960.

That's the word from Tax Assessor-Collector Herbert Dunn, who said Tuesday that poll tax sales are lagging far behind the number paid in 1956, the last presidential election year.

Dunn's count Tuesday showed that about 2,200 poll taxes have been sold for 1960. About 5,400 Lamb Countians had poll taxes in 1958.

Deadline for paying poll taxes is Jan. 31, but that date falls on a Sunday this year, making it necessary for people to pay by Jan. 30.

Approximately 1,300 poll tax receipts were issued by Dunn prior to December. Another 900 were issued last month.

The county tax assessor also reported that 84.1 per cent of the tax roll of $465,188 had been collected as of Dec. 31, 1959. At the same time last year, 81.9 per cent of the roll had been collected.

Rites Pending For Grady Mote

Rodeo Is Year-Round, Big Business Affair

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF AP Sports Writer

Rodeo became a 12-month proposition this year and it grew into big business in so doing. The cowboys who follow the cracked rib circuit performed for over $3,000,000, climaxed by the National Finals — the first world series of the sport — in Dallas.

Those who think rodeo belongs on the amusement page instead of in the sports section should watch the leathery cowpokes in action. It definitely is a sporting proposition — the cowboys risk their necks every time they go into the tank arena seeking money. It's a big battle against horses and bulls — and even calves. You can get hurt trying to tame any of them. Many do.

There were 422 rodeos in the United States and Canada this year and some of the riders are popers performed in as many as 50 of them.

There are 2,600 Rodeo Cowboys Association members and about 150 of them usually compete in particular rodeos. They estimate it costs $3,000 to $17,500 a year to make the circuit. Obviously not much more than 25 per cent of the cowpokes make enough money to get a living out of it. Unlike most other sports, the only income the cowboys have is the prize money and they have to put up entry fees to try for that.

There are many who follow the circuit and lose money. If they didn't work for some of the successful contestants they couldn't make it. Often there is a deal whereby the youngster trying to get his start in rodeo is furnished his expenses by the established member of the circuit and in turn will give over one-half of what he earns.

The cowboys operate differently from the youngsters on most other sports circuits. They help each other, help in paying the expense and help in economizing. That's why the young rodeo fella low can make the circuit on about a third of what is required by the golfers.

This year only 44 rodeo contestants made more than $10,000.

3. What about the moon? Eager moon-vigilators plan, like Columbus, to land on the moon, and stake out claims in their "sovereign's" name.

Is the moon terra incognita or terra nullis, like the lands of the new world on the old maps? Do first comers get moon lands? Or must they "occupy" these lands after discovery?

Already people have proposed that space craft be registered like sea-going vessels, and fly the country's flag, and report their purposes — scientific, commercial or military — when they blast off. (This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written in informal — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

In 1919 the Aerial Navigation Convention joined the Dutch in saying every power has full and sole "sovereignty over the air space above its land." The 1929 Convention on International Civil Aviation still held to this view.

This had to do with air, but what about outer space? With airplanes one could say the air space ended up there when the "air" could no longer hold up a plane. Say, thirty miles up.

Then Sputnik! Each day it crisscrossed the sovereignty of land after land.

So the law of outer space comes up again: In 1956 the American Society of International Law debated whether Blacostone would hold for "air" which could not support vehicles, whether thirty or thousands of miles "up".

No, they decided, the sky was only as high as the nations had in mind in 1919 and 1928. So we have more questions than answers, some with cold war dimensions.

The Homefront:

Everybody's In A Hurry To Worry

Every man who has ever been a father knows that his children are growing up to be a worrisome type of person. He has gotten into the habit of keeping her in a state of constant nervousness, she is willing to keep her man on a diet, providing medicine, and she agrees that it will be a disaster down. And if she says "I'm that good?" she is kidding herself. She is a worrisome type of person. She is a worrisome type of person. She is a worrisome type of person.

vegetables are dyed to look pretty. The youngsters are glued to television worrying that their parents haven't the proper supply of soap, breakfast food and candies. And why doesn't Mom's hair shine like the girl who shows you how to use the hairbrush? It seems as though Americans have so much time on their hands that they're worrying themselves silly, regardless of environment or age.

Nuts To Idea On People Studying How To Loaf

Editor's Note: The Sandhills Philosopher on h's Johnson grass farm gets the new year underway about like he left the old one, his letter his week indicates. Dear editor: I started the new year off successfully, a business man in Littlefield gave me a 1960 calendar wrapped in a copy of the Lamb County Leader and since I don't pay much attention to a new calendar, haven't used my old one yet, I layed it aside and tucked the newspaper, as soon as I got home and got my feet propped up.

Big Decade Is Completed In Texas

Economic Gains Match Increase In Population

1959, Texas lost its status as the nation's largest state, fourth in economic growth rate some slumped by the slow-down in aircraft and petroleum industries.

Overall growth pattern, however, continued at the near-boom recorded each year since the end of the first full decade after World War I period. The decade just ending winds up a span that has been the most rapid since the discovery of oil in 1901. Texas now has 9,231,000 Texans, 100 more than the official census count.

Recently, 4,943,526 of these live in only 20 of the largest three of four live in incorporated towns.

ORVEL MURRAY... Beall Manager

Murray To Be Manager Of Local Beall Store

Orvel E. Murray, formerly of Lufkin, Texas, has been named manager of the Beall Department Store here, according to an announcement by R. G. Beall, president.

A native of Tryon, Okla., he served as assistant manager of the Beall Company's Lufkin store since January 1, 1959, until his promotion to manager of the former Dunlap store here.

He also has several years experience with another chain and has an excellent merchandising record.

"We are happy to become new citizens of Littlefield. It is with much pleasure that we look forward toward meeting and making friends with everyone here. We are eager to show everyone our fine Beall quality merchandise and to show them the friendly, helpful service for which Beall's has become famous," Murray said in a statement here Wednesday.

He is active in church and civic affairs. He is a member of the Board of Stewards and as teacher in the Church School while in Lufkin. He was also a member of the Kiwanis Club there.

Murray's wife, Helen, and children, Jerry, Michael, Randall and Larry will join him here soon to make their new home.

Beall Brothers 3, Inc., Department Stores, recently purchased Dunlap department stores in both Brownfield and Littlefield.

The purchase included the entire stock and fixtures of both stores by the Beall chain which operates 42 other department stores in Texas.

Possession of the Dunlap store has already been turned over to Beall officials who arrived here this week to consummate the deal. They are as follows: R. G. Beall, president; E. W. Shank, vice president; and R. W. Beall, T. D. Stevens, B. M. McCollum, F. T. Goodson, and Royce Beall, buyers.

Employment Hits Record In 1959, TEC Reports

The local Texas Employment Commission office reported this week that employment in this area reached an all-time high peak in 1959. T. R. Jewell, local office manager, released the following report:

FARM PLACEMENTS — The local office placed 11,175 farm workers in 1959. In 1958, some 10,924 farm workers were placed in jobs. This represents a 61 percent increase over last year. An extensive recruitment program for migrant citizen workers was conducted this past year.

NON-FARM PLACEMENTS — Some 2,900 workers were placed in non-farm jobs during 1959. These jobs ranged from professional workers to unskilled laborers. During 1958, 1,218 workers were placed on non-farm jobs. Jewell stated this big increase was due primarily to the excellent employer acceptance this year of the local office's placement service.

LIPSTICK LOGIC

January is the month to test our tolerance.

During the happy confusion of the holidays, we make ourselves promises:

Never again, we say, will we be scornful of the young mother who answers an invitation to a party with, "Well-l-l, I'll see if I can get a babysitter." This particular impoliteness has always irked us. But with a baby fretting in one's arms and a three-year-old tugging at one's skirts, the front doorbell ringing, and the blackeyed peas boiling over, it's hard to remember one's manners when the voice on the telephone says: "Bring your grownup guests and come to lunch tomorrow." It's like a voice from outer space. Little wonder that harried young mothers, who live with this turmoil the year around, answer in a tone that implies, "This too, I don't believe I can stand!"

Nor will we ever, ever again be sensitive to a relative. Conversation made in the familiar vein of homefolks, without benefit of homefolks' understanding, may seem to carry a meaning that was never intended. It's easy to judge — and misjudge.

Never again, we add, will we stack the guest-room closets and drawers with a packrat variety of this-and-that, which should have been given to the junkman fifteen years earlier. In clearing for the guests, we clutter our own living area, and make the whole place seem like a forgotten warehouse.

Or so we said in the heartwarming chaos of close living with loved ones. But only after the last nine needle is swept up, the last red ball stashed away, and the last in-law waved out of sight can we really take stock of the lessons we think we learned. Will he quiet, normal months ahead help us remember or forget?

held with 532 applicants. These applicants included some veterans, handicapped workers, workers over 45, and various types of workers with a vocational problem. Some 132 tests were administered by the local TEC office. This included typing tests, clerical test, sales test, and telephone operator battery test.

The local office is area headquarters for the counties of Lamb, Bailey, Castro, Parmer and Deaf Smith, with sub-offices at Muleshoe and Hereford. The local office also authorizes the importation of Mexican National laborers for these counties when sufficient local or migratory workers are not available. Jewell further stated that less Mexican machinery-harvested cotton than in previous years.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE — Claims filed at the office for unemployment insurance dropped about 40 per cent in 1959 as compared with 1958. Some 2,724 claims were filed for some type UC benefits during 1959. These included veteran's claims for unemployment insurance, ex-servicemen's claims, Texas claims, and various interstate claims against other states.

LABOR SUPPLY — Applications for work were filed by 3,659 workers during 1959. In 1958, only 2,897 applications for work were received. The labor supply increased about 26 per cent over last year. Jewell explained that many of these workers were recruited from other areas. However, he added, there still was not enough citizen farm labor available during 1959.

TEC REPORT 1959 — Vocational counseling interviews were

Buying, Selling Or Improving Your Home

This is one in a series of articles on federal income tax. These articles are based on information provided by American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and Society of Certified Public Accountants, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.

Today's economy, with its rising prices and land values, is quite common for family man to look upon his home as an investment. Not that it is, but at least he realizes the idea of selling it, and that he could then invest it. However, if an investment, the ownership of home differs in many respects from the ownership of stocks or bonds, and these differences have important tax implications that you should be aware of.

Changing Your Residence

If you sell your house (which is your principal residence) at a profit and move to a new house, you may not have to pay tax on the profit. Let's say you bought a house five years ago for $15,000, which you sold last year for $20,000. Since you held the house for more than six months, the profit of $5,000 is taxable as a long-term capital gain at a maximum rate of 25 per cent. However, if you move into a new house either one year before or one year after the sale, and if the new house costs $20,000 or more, then you pay no tax on the $5,000 profit. If you are having the new house built for yourself and construction begins either one year before or one year after the sale of the old house, then the period of replacement is extended to eighteen months from date of sale, providing you occupy it within that period.

The important point here is that the new house must cost as much or more than the amount you receive for the old house. If it cost only $19,000 you must pay the long-term capital gains tax on the balance of $1,000.

You could actually sell your house at a profit and buy a new one every few years without paying a tax on the profit, but you aren't really avoiding the tax, you are merely postponing it. The cumulative gain will be taxed when the last house is finally sold without being replaced.

Expenses of Owning a House

A home owner is usually in a more advantageous tax position than a person who rents. This is because home owners who elect to itemize their deductions rather than use the standard 10 per cent deduction are allowed to deduct interest and property taxes paid during the year. They can also deduct the loss on damage to their house and grounds resulting from a fire, storm, earthquake, or other casualty (this was discussed in the first article of the series). Taxpayers who rent their homes from others undoubtedly are paying for these costs by rent, but they cannot claim any tax deduction.

Improvements to your house are not deductible either, but they do decrease the cost of your house. This is an important point to remember when planning to sell your house. To determine the amount you will gain from the sale of your house, add the cost of improvements you have made to the original cost of the house and subtract the total from the selling price. If you bought it for $15,000, added $2,000 worth of improvements, and sold it for $20,000, your gain would be $3,000.

When you invest in a home, it is almost like investing in a business. To be able to take advantage of the legitimate tax considerations you are entitled to, you will need to keep accurate records of your various expenses. So don't forget to save your paid bills from year to year.

Silence is the Voice of Quality

Get behind the wheel of a new Cadillac car some day soon—point its handsome hood down your favorite stretch of highway—and listen!

Except for the occasional lullaby of the passing breeze, there will be literally nothing but silence to greet your ears.

But, oh, how meaningful that silence is!

For it speaks, with irrefutable logic, of the ingenuity of Cadillac design—and of the soundness of Cadillac engineering—and of the excellence and solid integrity of Cadillac craftsmanship.

And just as silence is the voice of quality in a motor car—so quality is the product of experience.

For almost six decades, Cadillac has devoted itself exclusively to the creation of the finest motor cars that the current automotive science would permit.

So rigid, in fact, has been Cadillac's adherence to the principles of quality that the two have become virtually inseparable in the public mind.

Never before, however, has this quest for perfection been as fruitful as for 1960.

In its styling and design, in its construction and assembly, and in its attention to detail—it is, far and away, the finest Cadillac yet.

We suggest that you see this new Cadillac—and drive it—and listen to it—very soon.

You'll find, we're certain, that the quiet of a Cadillac is the most eloquent sound in motordom.

average weekly mailing of bid invitations to suppliers. It's all done according to a very businesslike system. Purchases are consolidated, standardized, scheduled, bid on and checked for specifications, value and performance. Yet all this procedure doesn't dull the element of human enjoyment with which the million printed envelopes just bought for a large state department at $2.80 a thousand. That's less than the usual cost of unprinted envelopes. Comparable pleasure can be found in housewives who have just found diapers at a dollar a dozen or tomato juice at five cents a can. Board of Control is about to have its 40th anniversary. It began operation in 1920 after a statute passed in 1919 combined in one agency a number of state functions. It is topped by a part-time policy making board whose three members serve overlapping six-year terms. They are appointed by the governor. Present board members are E. E. McAdams of Austin, chairman; F. H. Flewelling of Austin and C. F. McAuliff of Dallas. Burke, as executive director, is the top administrative officer. Under him are five divisions set up on what he terms "a check-and-balance system." A specification division works out requirements for items to be bought. Purchasing division buys them. Administrative services division handles the clerical work. Inspection division has a team of "watchdogs" who go over the state to check new purchases to be sure they're what they should be. A fifth division, building engineering and management, sees to a staggering list of housekeeping chores for the Capitol and state buildings. When the buildings now under way or being planned around the Capitol are finished, the Board of Control anticipates operating a heating system that will put out 60,000 pounds of steam heat an hour and an air conditioning system of 2,750 tons. It also sees to the upkeep of the Governor's Mansion, the State Capitol and Fannin State Park and the State Cemetery. It handles the rentals for state offices outside of Austin which do not have state quarters. Last year this required $56,000 square feet of office space. As to the state buildings going up in Austin, Burke feels sure they will save the state money over the old rental system. "Besides having to pay rent," he pointed out, "the state can only lease for two years at a time, and you never know when you may have to move, which is expensive." In the course of their myriad chores, Board of Control staffers become expert on many subjects. They learn the price of dairy cattle (for prison farms) or diamond drills, short wave radios and food mixers. Many know more about the comparative value of dishwashing detergents and floor waxes than most housewives. They make extensive tests to find out. As Burke explained, if "Brand X" can be proved to serve as well as a more expensive one in state institution dishwashers, as much as $30,000 can be saved on one purchase. Specifications people spent hours, according to Burke, proving out a floor wax they felt would save money and serve the purpose. They even applied and polished it, he said, and made periodic checks on its staying power. "We try to be more careful with the state's money than we could even with our own," says Burke. "I honestly wish I could ask every Texas taxpayer on a guided tour of the whole operation."
