Some Gauges Top 4 Inches

Farmers were counting up the damages Wednesday morning after the heaviest rains in years struck the Littlefield area Tuesday night.

Moisture of 2½ to more than 4 inches was recorded in the area, leaving young cotton damaged, lakes filled, roads blocked and nerves frayed.

The heavy rains Tuesday night followed hard showers and hail which fell at various locations in the area Monday night.

Rip Elms, Western Cottonoil manager, said reports coming to him Wednesday morning indicated 45,000 to 50,000 acres of cotton in Lamb County and nearby areas of Castro, Farmer and Hockley would have to be replanted.

A rain gauge at Radio Station KVOW measured 4.30 inches after the Tuesday night storm. Western Cottonoil recorded 2.40 inches. Other gauges here showed figures in between those two extremes.

Rainfall here Monday night was recorded at .72 by Western Cottonoil and 1.05 by KVOW.

Elms said the Tuesday night rains washed out cotton in the Bainer Switch area and struck hard at crops west of Littlefield, as far west as the Bula-Sudan farm road.

Hail damages were reportedly heavy in the Anton and Roundup areas Tuesday night.

Water was running a quarter mile wide at Bull Lake west of Littlefield Wednesday morning Elms said.

The heavy rainfall, along with hail, heavily damaged crops to the north of Whitharral Tuesday night. Areas south of Whitharral had been hit by hail Monday night.

Water filled up roads throughout the area, broke terraces and the heavy washing rain did as much damage as the hail, Elms said.

The Western Cottonoil manager said the Tuesday night rains and hail cut a swath across the southern third of the county. Monday night's hail did most of its damage in the area north of the Sandhills and the area south of Pep to Oklahoma Flat-Whitharral.

Elms estimated that 12,000 to 15,000 acres of young crops were ruined in the area from Anton and Bainer Switch across the southern edge of the county Tuesday night. Rains measured from 2½ to 4 and 5 inches.

The Monday night hail ruined 12,000 to 15,000 acres in the area north of the Sandhills Monday night, he said. About 10,000 acres were hard-hit in the Oklahoma Flat-Whitharral areas the same night.

Rain recordings Tuesday night included 1.25 inches at Olton, 3.75 at Amherst, 1.00 at Sudan. Monday night measurements included an inch in the Pep-Bula area, 2½ to 4 inches south of Whitharral, up to 2 inches in the Olton-Spring.

Fire Razes Grain Mill At Bainer

Fire destroyed the mill at the J. B. Haire Grain and Milling Co. at Bainer Switch early Tuesday, marking the third time in the past 2½ years the firm had been hit by fire.

Kenneth Haire, son of J. B. Haire, said the fire was discovered about 5:45 a.m. The entire building was on fire at the time and the roof caved in about 15 minutes later, Haire said.

Littlefield volunteer firemen were called out but the call came too late to save the building.

The loss was estimated at "more than $50,000" by Haire, who said the blaze destroyed all machinery and some alfalfa meal stored in the building.

He said lightning may have struck the building during a storm Monday night and early Tuesday morning.

Fire struck in the firm in November of 1956 and May of 1958, hitting a warehouse in both instances.

Art Asks 'Shutdown' Dumping

Commissioners have requested the sheriff's office and enforcement agencies to "crackdown" on the trash along county

A Commissioner Hubbs said this week he is instituting criminal complaints against violators. The trash is not only an eyesore but causes considerable damage to the rubber tires of equipment as well as to the paint on the equipment. More than one occasion, he has had to replace the tires on county equipment damaged by broken glass.

Attorney Curtis Willard provides for punishment of not less than $10 nor more than $200 and each day of violation is a separate offense of unlawful dumping along public roads.

City Pool Opens

Summer Play Program Gets Under Way Here

Almost 150 school-age youngsters turned out for the first three days of the city summer recreation program this week, getting the project off the ground for the 13th consecutive year.

The crowd was smaller than in some previous years, but Don Williams, director of the program, predicted the turnout will more than double by next week.

Cutting down on the attendance was the loss of the program's pool—for the first two days of the week.

But the pool opened Wednesday morning, getting the program in to high gear. Opening of the pool had been delayed while a new paint job was drying.

The city pool will be open to the public each afternoon starting at 1 o'clock. After the summer recreation program ends July 1, the pool will be open to the public the entire day.

Williams said attendance was off this week because many children are attending either vacation Bible school or scout camp.

"I think we may have as many as 350 children in the program by next week," he said.

Swimming lessons at the pool normally attract the most attention in the program, but many other activities are offered.

Some youngsters take part in games at the junior high school gymnasium while others use the city park for baseball and softball. The smaller children make use of swings, merry-go-rounds and slides located in the park.

Each child takes part in varied activities, with the children divided into sections. All have a chance to learn to swim, play in the park and take part in games at the gym.

The four-week program is operated at no cost to the children. Each morning's activity starts at 8:30 at the junior high school. The different sections scatter into all phases of the program until 11 a.m., when all the children get together for a free swim period at the pool.

The project is held each weekday and children end their activities at 11:45 a.m. each day.

Regular Meeting Of Council Tonight

City councilmen are expected to dip back into a pile of applications Thursday night and continue study of candidates for city manager here.

A regular meeting is scheduled at 7:30 p.m. at the city hall.

Archie McDaniel Jr. of Barstow, Calif., has received an athletic scholarship to Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, Texas. He's a four-sport man.

RESIDENTS of Crescent Park awoke to the croaking of frogs and a good-sized lake in the park itself Wednesday morning following the all night downpour. That's D. W. Maner's boat, parked at his home on 21st street, but he won't get to use it in the Crescent Park lake because that water in the foreground is running out of the park. Engineers laid out the streets in the new addition so that water would drain east from the park. (STAFF PHOTO)

Cavin New Olton Chief; Vice Campaign Talked

OLTON -- The City of Olton has employed Floyd Cavin, former Texas Highway Patrolman at Littlefield, as police chief, city officials said Tuesday.

Cavin went to work Monday. He succeeds Vernie Head, who was fired by the city council May 23.

Cavin was a highway patrolman at Littlefield about a year before going into the private trucking business earlier this year.

Meanwhile, Olton Publisher, Troy Martin and three Olton ministers endorsed the need for riding Olton of "bootlegged" whiskey and beer.

These developments were the latest in the controversy at Olton which arose after a $100,000 suit was filed against the city and Mayor D. Y. Ray.

Lupe Martinez, who has been convicted in seven liquor law violation cases in Lamb County since January, 1955, filed the suit, claiming false arrest.

Lupe was arrested by Mayor Ray Wednesday, May 20, in a house in the south part of Olton.

Ex-Police Chief Head accompanied Ray to the house.

Prior to the arrest, Ray and Head reportedly argued over whether the arrest should be made, with Head quoted as saying he tried to talk Ray out of making the arrest.

Martinez reportedly was held in jail about 10 hours before Ray signed a complaint charging him with "vagrancy." The mayor said he finally signed the complaint after Head refused to do so.

The vagrancy trial of Martinez was scheduled Monday in city court, but was postponed, according to Martinez' attorney, Andrew Stroebbe. No new date has been set for the trial.

Publisher Martin said editorially last Thursday, "If the people of Olton are ready to be rid of vice, then they can be rid of vice." He urged persons knowing of illegal sale of alcoholic beverages to minors to go before a grand jury to tell their story.

The group of ministers gave Mayor Ray their backing "in spirit" to the mayor's efforts to wipe out bootlegging in Olton.

Attending the meeting were the Rev. Russell McAnnally, Methodist pastor who has since been routinely transferred to Lockney; the Rev. J. W. Douglass, Nazarene and the Rev. Glen Godsey, Baptist.

County Grand Jury Returns 12 Indictments

Twelve indictments were returned last Friday by the Lamb County grand jury, including two for assault with intent to murder, five for burglary and three for forgery and passing.

Named in the indictments for assault with intent to murder were O. B. McClendon, Sudan Negro, and L. D. Johnson, Springlake Negro.

Both went free on $2,500 bonds Monday.

Indicted in two cases of burglary was Don Sparks, Hobbs, N.M. habitual criminal proceedings were lodged against Herman Whitley, also of Hobbs, in three burglary indictments. The pair are charged in burglaries at Olton April 1.

Sparks went free on two $5,000 bonds, but Whitley is in jail at Brownfield, with bonds set at $10,000 in all three cases.

A case against a third man charged in the Olton burglaries, Dale Howard of Fort Worth, was passed until the jury's next session. Howard went free on $4,000 bond Saturday.

Ray Garrett, alias Cecil Garrett, of Memphis, Tenn., was indicted on three cases of forgery and passing. Bonds were set at $1,000 in each of the cases.

Others indicted were Pete Foster of Anton on a rape charge and Gernando Christian of Littlefield on a charge of attempting to pass a forged instrument.

Foster went free on $3,000 bond Monday. Christian's bond has been set at $1,000.

Memorial Day Service Honors Deceased Vets

Littlefield area veterans of foreign wars whose graves are in Memorial Park and Littlefield Cemetery were honored at Memorial Day services held by John Henry Chapman Post 4854 of the VFW.

The service was a tribute to more than 100 veterans buried in the two cemeteries. The Rev. R. L. Young, pastor of Emmanuel Lutheran Church, spoke.

The rites were conducted at the grave of a veteran, as they are each year. This year's service was held at the grave of Charles Smith, who died in February of this year. A wreath was placed on the grave by a daughter, Teena, 15.

Smith served as a lieutenant in the Air Force in World War II.

IN BOOKS—Rest periods were enjoyed by youngsters at several vacation Bible schools throughout the city this week as some children used the time to browse through these two children are identified and other pictures of the various Bible schools shown in a picture page on page 1, section 2 of today's Leader. Male Buyer 'Models' Latest In Millinery

QUEBEC (AP) — Modelling women's hats before a mirror is part of Ray Davis' job.

He's a buyer for the millinery department of a large Quebec City department store.

A buyer like himself gets a better idea of a hat's style and value by trying it on rather than having it modelled by "a cute girl," says Davis.

"Get a pretty face and anything looks good, whether the hat is a good one or not. The same can't be said when I try them on, though."

He says there's nothing unusual about his job and he thinks men make better buyers of women's hats than women.

"Mind you there are exceptions. But a woman will buy hats for her department store with herself in mind. And that's sometimes not good."

Davis travels to Montreal, Toronto and New York to make his purchases.

ADMITTED - Robbie Langford, Mrs. Latrell Pell, Mrs. Horace Mitchell, Judy Taylor, Mrs. V. Hammonds, Sharon Brewster, tonsillectomy, W. H. Jones, tonsillectomy, Sheri Jones, tonsillectomy and Alton Brewster, tonsillectomy.

Youths Organize To Cheer Ailing

By EDDY GILMORE
GUERNSEY, Channel Islands (AP) — Five years ago a little girl picked a wild primrose — a single primrose that has blossomed into an amazing organization called the Love Apple League.

FLOWERS OF FRIENDSHIP: Youngsters on the island of Guernsey in the English Channel pick flowers for shipment to the world's hospitalized children. The plan was originated by children five years ago and is run by them, with only a bare minimum of adult assistance.

It's run by children. And it lives on an unselfish thought. Children shut away in hospitals, far from sunny fields, should have flowers. The girl who did the first picking was named Garth. She was playing with another girl named Gillian. Garth stood holding the primrose, looking at her at Gillian and thousands of thousands of primroses on this flowery island. "What a wonderful sight," gaped Garth. "A million flowers," said Gillian. "Wouldn't it children love to see them. I wish we could send just hundreds of them to children lying in hospitals." "I know it would make them feel better," said Gillian. "Let's pick them," said Garth. "Hundreds of them." "How're we going to get them to the children?" "I don't know," smiled Garth. "but let's start picking." Laden with armloads of primroses the children staggered home with their fragrant load and showed them to their father. "Look," they chorused, "we've picked them for children in hospitals. How can we get them there?" "Let's take them to the airport," said the father. So, they and the flowers went to the Guernsey airport. There they spoke to the first man they saw — Herbert Hill, manager of the airport restaurant. He listened to their story. "Come with me," he said, making his way to a waiting airliner. "Captain," asked Hill, "these little girls want you to take these flowers to England — to sick children in English hospitals. Can you do it?"

Philadelphia Girl Aiming At Top In Opera World

By ALEX BURNHAM
NEW YORK (AP) — An exceptionally pretty American girl is on her way towards challenging the exalted position of Maria Callas.

AIMING FOR TOP: Joan Carroll, coloratura soprano from Philadelphia, has her foot firmly on the ladder to opera stardom.

Well, anyway, she's made a start. Her name is Joan Carroll and she has been chosen as the leading coloratura soprano of the Hamburg State Opera of West Germany. Miss Carroll is slim, 5-foot-4, has jet black hair, dark eyes, a creamy complexion and a voice to bring droves of backstage johnnies. But they won't find her in a narying mood. "How can you get dinner for your husband and still be an artist?" she asked an interviewer a few days ago. "You get terribly lonely, all this work, but it must be so if you are to create." Joan was born in Philadelphia and admits to being in her middle 20s. Currently she's engaged in a whopping work program. This includes learning the German language and conquering eight roles which she will undertake in Hamburg starting next August. Even when she was a youngster in Philadelphia Joan knew that some day she would be an opera singer. It has been her one consuming ambition in life, and from her early teens she has studied week after week. "You've got to know where you're going," she said. "I just knew — I just knew I had to be an opera singer!" It wasn't easy. At first she had to take engagements at night clubs and Viennese-type restaurants. "It was a dreadful experience. But at least you learned stage presence. The important thing was to sing. And it kept me going while I studied." Then came a few breaks. She won assignments with the Central City Opera in Colorado and the Damage was reported worst around Circle, near Springlake. Highway 84 east of Littlefield was closed to traffic early Wednesday morning until 9 a.m. by the 3 to 4-inch fall in the Balmer Switch area. Highway Patrolman Joaquin Jackson said Highway 84 in Littlefield "looked like a river" about 1:30 a.m. Wednesday. He said the water ran two to three feet deep at the dips and drowned out his car motor. Water was also reported over U.S. 85 at points a quarter-mile south and a mile south of Littlefield about the same time. Water at the lake in the city park reached near the back of the Community Center Wednesday morning. Lakes throughout the area were full.

How To Handle Three Of A Kind

THREE OF A KIND: Mrs. Marvin Swinford of Dayton, Ohio, uses production techniques at feeding time for Amy, Bonnie and Caryl (A,B,C). "Raising triplets take any special skill or knowledge," says Mrs. Swinford, who has two other children.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The odds against having them are 8,100 to 1. But suppose it happened to you. If your doctor said, "You're going to have triplets," what should you do? After talking to the busy parents of seven different sets of triplets in this area, Staff Writer Margaret Fitzgibbons of the Dayton Daily News' Camera magazine drew up this consensus of advice from those with experience: "FIRST, get off your feet and save your strength. Triplets often arrive early, have less chance of survival than singles or doubles. "SECOND, organize. It will be a long time before you will be alone again, with time to think. Your next 18 years are laid out for you. Learn to telescope tasks. "THIRD, strip away non-essentials. Triplets will pass a cold around anyway. You probably won't worry very long about three to a dish or a spoon. "FOURTH, expand your territory. Three's a crowd. Five's an invasion. Learn to handle an invasion. Learn to handle being a human oddity. You will follow you and ask a lot of questions starting with 'they triplets?' "SIXTH, be prepared for solid threesome. Triplets are a corporation of 'We' at the expense of 'I'. When you see three cry."

Oregon Is Celebrating Century Of Statehood

OUT OF THE PAST: A stagecoach and Pony Express riders move through downtown Portland on the first leg of a run to Astoria, Ore. The ride was part of the state's centennial celebration.

By GORDON G. MacNAB
PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Oregonians passed up their first chance to celebrate the arrival of statehood. Now they're getting ready to make up for the oversight. Chackwagon breakfasts can be bought in many cities. Souvenir money will buy a round of sarsaparilla drinks behind swinging doors. Clam digging contests at the beaches. A climb to a glacier on Mt. Hood. Boat races on white water streams. A week of the San Francisco Opera Co. in Portland. Tours through the state by the Portland symphony and junior symphony orchestras. Those are the mixtures of fun and culture planned for the whole year. Events held every year have prepared for extra company. The widely known Portland Rose Festival June 9-14 comes early in the celebrating and the famed Pendleton Round-Up Sept. 16-19, near the close. Through all of August the Asland Shakespearean Festival will present its repertoire in a new $275,000 Elizabethan theater. Strangers who come to see what his 32nd state is like, will find a rich land of broad valleys between towering, forest-covered mountains, great sweeps of sheathfields, grazing land and aguebrush. Scenery Is Spectacular They will find spectacular scenery in mountain passes, on lesser plateaus, along the mighty Columbia River gorge in the heart of the Cascade Mountains, and from a broad highway that winds along 300 miles of ocean each and rocky headland. They may rest in 200 state parks and camp on the sandy ocean beaches, all of which belong to the people and are free. This varied land became a state 18 years after settlers first found a need for government. Pioneer Ewing Young died in 84. He left land, cattle and no Oregon kinsman. Settlers picked a judge and went about the business of probating his estate. That was the first Oregon government. Two years later settlers again and voted, 52 to 33, up a provisional government under United States law. The vote was from those who favored British law — or more. That vote was the last away from dominance by son's Bay Co. and its trappers. In 1856 American dictation was recognized by and Congress created Territory in 1848. Eleven later Oregon became a state. It had a population of 11,000 of these had the plains in covered with the great migration years to 1848. The rest followed by land and sea. The path began in 1849 and advanced to leave the saber to be original settlers. Portland, dominated in the days by people of another culture from New England came headquarters for a band of crimps as evidenced by an idle or bored haled none of these ever the exploits of Burned who sold a cigar store and a ship captain and a policeman to another. He and them aboard with the hope they now were drunk when make fine hands when they Spicy History This sort of lawlessness the past of Oregon which with the romance of western and settlement. The great lure to Oregon is first people to Oregon is of furs is all but gone. Careful of beavers are the each year although the "the beaver state" still calls Oregon. But those things that he settlers to come and good land, pleasant climate, slow water — are still here. Trout and steelhead and an still are found in lakes streams. Mountains and are close as head and the nation averages less than square mile after a century statehood.

We The Strength?

By SABINE ANDREA HOFER

The author of the following has just graduated Valedictorian from the Banks, Oregon, High School. This was her Valedictory address.

We emerge from our comfortable cradle of adolescence to face something that no generation has faced before. It has crept upon you, our parents, that you have been able to build up a barrier around yourselves. Are you hiding your wall of comfortable traditions and Americanism, or will you tear down that wall of complacency and use our American ideals, of which we are so proud as a weapon against our enemies?

We have given us love, understanding, and guidance. We have also given us the most wonderful count-down world in the most enlightened age since life's birth. For this we humbly thank you. But you have given us something that is hard to face: the fact that we are living under a shadow of danger. Our lives may be jerked out from under us at any moment. We may witness the most terrible destruction that the world has ever seen. You have given us all this and more; but have you given us the strength to face the world you have set? Can we survive a battle for our way of life? Will the two world wars seem like a tea party to you mentally strong enough to face this was of life? When the chips are down can we work together in a common goal despite personal selfishness and ambition? Do we have a sense of values and do we know what we are fighting for? Do we dare think!

Throughout history the forces of good and evil have been in constant turmoil. Now these battles seem more like skirmishes. Today two powerful monsters have gathered their forces for the purpose of destruction. They are separated only by a narrow strip of water. They never restlessly back and forth, snarling in each other.

The newest generation may be criticized for being too much handed to us on a silver platter. We have many material things which our parents never had. We have had at our ages. People are living in an age of luxury. But beneath the surface of luxury lies a horrible time bomb that ticks off the minutes and seconds—the seconds of our moment when we become complacent or lax. At that time come life as we know it will end.

The world you have given us upon your silver platter is far from a life of ease. Do you dare to think? Do you dare to think: we are not the generation"—we have just begun to fight. With help we accept the challenge.

Grassroots Opinion

WALTON, MASSACHUSETTS, JOURNAL REGISTER: "An Agriculture Department aide told Congress yesterday that 1959 wheat surpluses were expected to reach $3,500,000. . . . If this huge sum, for wheat averaged out among Americans filing income returns, it equals almost $50 per breadwinner."

STIGG, WISCONSIN, DAILY JOURNAL: "The radicals never 'miss a bet'. Wherever there is discontent, they be exploited, prejudice to be manipulated for their purposes, and sentiments of helpfulness and honesty to be misled and exploited, they move in. . . . Various gimmicks will be used to trick the public into donating to red charity. They will include 'Freedom Press' committees and the slogans 'Help the Civil Liberties' and 'Donate for Peace' . . . Don't give on impulse. Check on the solicitor and donations."

Carette, president of the Montana Power Company and the Edison Electric Institute believes that American business faces four problems: industrial competition from foreign manufacturers; the federal government's business; totally or partially tax-free business; and the trend to have government do everything for people, with resulting controls.

HOW BOUT THAT

Another Service Of Littlefield's Chamber of Commerce — 1959

The manager of the Texas Election Bureau, three persons named by the governor and four persons named by the national committee members of the Republican and Democratic parties. ALL ONE JOB—Two House committees — taxation and appropriations — would be merged under a resolution proposed by Rep. Truett Latimer of Abilene.

One committee of 31, called the House Ways and Means Committee, would replace the two 21-member groups. Latimer declared that since money raised and money spent have to come out even, it would be more logical to have the decisions made jointly rather than separately.

FARM-MARKET ROAD CHANGE—State's pressing money shortage may bring about a change in the favored budget position farm-market roads have had for the past 10 years.

Since the Colson-Briscoe Act was passed in 1949, the General Revenue Fund has been automatically nicked $15,000,000 a year for F-M roads. Goal was to build 35,000 miles of all-weather rural roads.

Rep. Richard Slack of Pecos has introduced a bill to take F-M road spending out of the State Highway funds rather than from General Revenue. It would not cut farm road spending, but would reduce the money available to the Highway Department for state highways.

Sen. Nevelle Colson, Navasota, co-author of the 1949 act, opposes any alteration in the program. Even though more than 29,000 miles have been paved, she said there are still school buses and mail routes that are "out of the mud."

Farm Bureau opposes, as well as others who say that it will lead to an increase in gasoline taxes to make up the cut in highway funds.

Those favoring the change argue that the farm road program has had creamy spending for a long time, but that with general revenue going $65,000,000 in debt, it can no longer be afforded. NOT YET, DOT DECIDES—Democrats of Texas threw a lot of bricks at U. S. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson at their Austin convention, but stopped short of an open drive against his nomination for President.

State AFL-CIO President Jerry Holleman headed off resolutions, saying "this is not the time." DOT did agree to change its name to the Democrats of Texas Clubs (DOTC). It had been frequently criticized for having a name that could be confused with the official Texas Democrat Party organization.

Despite their official "wait and see" attitude about presidential nominees, the delegates made

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

By VERN SANFORD Texas Press Association AUSTIN, Tex. — Whether and how the state's tax problem is met now depends largely on the Senate.

House members, apparently eager to "get the monkey off their backs," passed out most of the program recommended by Gov. Price Daniel.

Biggest milestone was House passage by a 71-to-56 majority of the governor's "package bill." As finally passed, it would raise about $150,000,000 in two years — only about $10,000,000 short of the governor's goal.

Included in the "package" would be an increased levy on natural gas, a new franchise tax on interstate corporations and bigger taxes on tobacco, liquor, automobiles, utilities, etc.

Some members bitterly criticized the bill as dangerous to Texas' industrial future and a product of the labor-liberal lobby. But most seemed to agree that it is "the only way to avoid a general sales tax or income tax."

$20,000,000 larger than the Senate's. Conference Committee's task will be to cut a little off here, tuck a little on there until an acceptable compromise is reached.

In past sessions, this piecing-together process has taken several weeks. Even on a day-and-night schedule, this committee will be hard-pressed to finish its job before the present session ends in mid-June.

More than different spending ideas separates House and Senate. Each house used the bill to express its ideas on how the State Board of Insurance should operate. House says full-time; Senate, part-time. Unyielding views have been expressed on each side.

Other members of the committee are Sens. Floyd Bradshaw, Weatherford; Ray Roberts, McKinney; Crawford Martin, Hillsboro; and Wardlow Lane, Center. Reps. John Huebner, Bay City; Truett Latimer, Abilene; B. H. Dewey, Bryan; and Jesse Osborn, Mulhouse.

ELECTION CHANGES URGED—Study leading toward a complete revision of the Texas Election Code is the goal of a House-passed resolution.

Rep. Harold Parish of Taft is sponsor. If passed by the Senate, the resolution would provide for a 15-member committee to draft recommendations for the 1961 legislative session.

Making up the study panel would be three House members, three Senators, the Attorney General,

Sandhills Philosopher Collar Won't Make Any Difference In Farming

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discusses the future of work this week. We guess that's what he's doing.

Dear editor: When a man doesn't know any more about what's happened in the past than I do, he hasn't got much business predicting what's going to happen in the future, but I'm always interested in what somebody else has to say about it.

For example, I was reading an article last night in a newspaper a neighbor handed me earlier in the day because he said he didn't have time to read it, too busy working, that predicted that in 10 years "the ancient image of work as something manual and tedious will be fading rapidly and most workers will be wearing white-collars."

This does not leave me altogether satisfied. I mean, while the ancient image of work as something hard may fade in the next ten years, I figure work itself will stay around quite a while longer.

And as for wearing a white collar, this doesn't appeal to me at all. That is, I guess I could wear a white collar now, with a tie, but going up one row and down another on a tractor would still be the same. Even changing collars at noon, because the ne you started out plowing in that morning is bound to be dusty by mid-day, still wouldn't fade any images of work, as far as I'm concerned. You can get just as tired from white-collar farming as you can from the open neck kind.

I'll admit the machine has eliminated a lot of work, but what their sentiments clear. They cheered when Adlai Stevenson's name was mentioned and applauded criticism of recent legislation designed to U. S. Senator Johnson.

even when the ending is accompanied by a touch of sadness, refreshes the soul.

Many duties of love or dedication are demanding, and leave a woman little time to herself. The pleasure of companionship, however, and of being needed, offset the lack of independence. But once the time has passed when it's necessary to tend a small child, take care of an invalid, be on 24-hour duty as a minister's wife, or teach school, the sense of 'holding on' for so long is released. Then the world opens up like the heart of a rose. "Now what?" it seems to say.

Some psychologist has said that every person should have three distinct phases to his adult career. About every ten years, he observed, one ought to pull up stakes and move on to new frontiers of activity. Well, that may not be practical for a woman, but can't she get the same feeling by finding new hobbies, working in different types of clubs, seeing things from the other side of the fence?

If every woman could realize the sense of emotional housecleaning that comes with reaching a stop sign in the daily routine of a demanding job well done, there'd be more calmness and less frustration in the world. Also, women would be more willing to accept responsibility.

Of course there are warning signs in change, too. Here may be a dead-end street. Arrows may point four ways with no hint of which to follow. Some road signs point a short journey, others a long one. There are decisions to make, but making them gives life new direction.

The only real danger is in sitting out life at the crossroads.

Health Reports, the monthly journal of the U. S. Public Health Service.

It consists simply by putting a bag of insecticide in the room during the mosquito season. It was discovered like this:

Scientists at the Communicable Disease Center Laboratory in Savannah, Georgia, left work one afternoon. Inside the large lab room when they left was an unopened bag of insecticide.

Also in the room were some adult mosquitoes on which the tests and experiments, as part of the constant international struggle against malaria and other forms of mosquito-borne disease, were being conducted.

When the scientists reported for work next morning, most of the mosquitoes were dead. Immediately they suspected that the sealed bag of insecticide—or rather the fumes from it—were responsible for killing the mosquitoes.

In days following they confirmed their theory. They found that the fumes killed the mosquitoes even when the insecticide was enclosed in a paper bag with a polyethylene liner. Subsequent work showed the method worked even in well ventilated rooms.

The most effective chemicals tested were malathion and DDT, used in combination or separately. Both have been widely used against mosquitoes in recent years.

More study will be required and specific techniques will have to be worked out before the method can be generally used, investigators say.

But once the technique has been perfected and proved safe, it may greatly simplify control of mosquitoes. Meanwhile, you'll have to go along with old methods if you're interested in a summer relatively free of mosquito depredations.

Despite being more costly and difficult, the old methods do work. They consist of spraying inside the house with aerosol bombs and keeping your back yard free of tin cans, old tires, grass cutting and anything else that can breed or harbor mosquitoes. About Your Health

There is a brand new wrinkle in the mosquito killing business. Early reports suggest that the pesky household critters can be done in without the fuss and bother or health hazard of old-fashioned fit guns or mist bombs. The new method has been described in the May issue of Public Health Reports.

CHEVY BESTS

7 (COUNT 'EM) 7

Independent experts and official facts and figures prove Chevrolet's ahead of its field in seven big ways.

BEST BRAKES... In direct competitive tests of repeated stops from highway speeds, conducted by NAS-CAR*, Chevy out-stopped both the other leading low-priced cars—and why not? Chevy brakes are far larger, built with bonded linings for up to 66% longer life. BEST TRADE-IN... Check the figures in any N.A.D.A.† Guide Book. You'll find that Chevy used car prices last year averaged up to $125 higher than comparable models of the "other two." BEST STYLE... Popular Science magazine sums it up: "The fact is, in its price-class the Chevy establishes a new high in daring styling..." It's the only car of the leading low-priced three that's unmistakably modern in every line. BEST ECONOMY... No doubt about this: two Chevrolet Sixes won their class in the famous Mobilgas Economy Run, got the best mileage of any full-size car. BEST ROOM... Official dimensions reported to A.M.A.† make this clear. For example, Chevy front seat hip room is up to 5.9 inches wider than comparable cars. BEST ENGINE... Every motor magazine has given Chevy's standard and Corvette V8's unstinted praise. As Sports Cars Illustrated puts it: "Indeed, this device is surely the most wonderfully responsive engine available today at any price." BEST RIDE... You'll be able to tell this yourself, instantly. But Motor Trend magazine expresses it this way: "... the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class."

Those who enjoy the flavor of fine foods cooked electrically just won't cook any other way. Vegetables are cooked in covered pans using just half a cup of water. Result: healthful vitamins and minerals are "locked in" and food tastes good. Roasts retain natural flavorful juices and shrinkage is less than 15% — and that means money saved.

With CLINTON DAVIDSON

Bills before the Senate and House to create a Freedom Commission deserve the thoughtful study of everyone who values his freedom under our democratic system of government.

The hearing of such a Commission would be the first step toward the creation of a national Freedom Academy that would have the same status as the military and naval academies at West Point and Annapolis.

The purpose of such an Academy would be to train "freedom fighters" of the Free World to teach and operational techniques of Communism.

Bills to establish the Commission and Academy are sponsored by Sen. Karl Mundt (R., S.D.), Paul Douglas (D., Ill.), Clifford Case (D., N. J.), and by Reps. Sidney Harkins (D., Fla.) and Walter Judd (R., Minn.).

A Third Front
The Communists are waging the cold war on three fronts—military, economic and propaganda. The last is the only one on which we are doing an ineffective job of defending democracy.

"While the Free World has developed a powerful defense establishment to prevent a hot war—or fight one if attacked—we have tragically ignored in great measure the political battlefields of the cold war," Sen. Mundt points out.

On the military front, the Communist nations and the Free World are rated by many experts as about even-up. The economic strength of the Free World is undeniably superior.

Russia's superiority in the use of propaganda is also acknowledged. The Kremlin spends billions of dollars to train propaganda agents and to finance their infiltration into the Free World nations. We have taken on effective countermeasures.

Fifth Columnists
For every Kremlin-trained agent in the Free World there probably are hundreds of "fellow travelers" who form an extremely dangerous Communist "fifth column."

Sen. Mundt said in a recent Senate speech that communist agents "have infiltrated our universities, our cultural and religious groups, our labor and farm organizations, our newspapers, radio-TV and movie industries."

Sponsors of the bills say the purpose of the Freedom Academy would be to train students "in the methods of communists, and learn techniques to effectively counter communist tactics which make use of infiltration, propaganda and espionage."

"It is not," Mundt explained, "our intention to emulate the communist conspiratorial techniques in conducting our side of this cold war into which we have been reluctantly but realistically forced. Our methods and techniques can and should be developed in full harmony with our democratic principles, our Christian ethics, and our civilized concept of morality."

"With right on our side, we should be able to evolve methods and techniques far more effective than those utilized by the communists to exploit those with whom they come in contact."

Military School Graduates Son Of Earth Couple

John Laing, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Laing, of Earth, is a member of the 1959 high school graduating class at Kemper Military School, Booneville, Mo., and received his high school diploma in the 115th Kemper commencement program, May 24, from Maj. Gen. J. P. Cleland, president.

Dr. John H. Furbay, New York City, director of Transworld Airlines' Air World Education, was the commencement speaker.

The weekend commencement program included a ceremony honoring General Cleland, who retired June 15, as Kemper's 111th president.

William Malapence Thackeray, famed 19th Century English novelist of "Vanity Fair," also was a talented artist.

Another fine rain and the cotton crop looks better all the time! A few more of these inch rains... Not the hard 4" kind... AND NO HAIL... and we've got another good crop. Fall will be here before we know it and may be another bumper crop. Some farmers were not so lucky Monday night. Many farmers at Otton, Muleshoe, and Bovina lost wheat crops that were almost ready for harvest and many lost that first stand of cotton.

And that brings to mind the immediate beginning of cotton chopping time. We've had a lot of ambitious young fellows by the office this week looking for jobs... so if they're really work brittle and want to earn some money, cotton chopping may be the answer. Some of my first spending money was made at cotton chopping for 25 cents an hour... and that was good money. Then you could take a quarter and go to town on Saturday afternoon, go to the show, get a sody pop, and still have Sunday School money the next day.

Mancil Hall is celebrating his 24th anniversary of business in Littlefield this week. He's celebrating the occasion with a big used car sale... and Mitch Mitchell has gone over to the used car lot and marked every car down 10 percent! Looks like a good deal.

The Tooleys have lived in Littlefield a year as of June 1st, so this is our first anniversary. Sam gave me a "I Like Littlefield" sticker to put on my car the first week I was here. The sticker is still on the bumper and I can very sincerely say that my family and I like Littlefield!

Bud Durham, manager of Littlefield's Discount House, says there's no reason for Littlefield folks to go out of town to buy a discount. He's holding his grand opening this weekend. The Discount House is located in the old Littlefield Drug location.

High School Grads Seeking Jobs, Employers Get Tips

During the next few weeks thousands of Texas employers will be bombarded by applications for jobs from graduating high school students. Maurice Acers, Commissioner, representing employers of the Texas Employment Commission, in a recent statement made some observations which may save both the employers and the job applicants time and money.

"Local offices of the TEC in 89 Texas towns and cities are now actively engaged in a program for placing these high school graduates in permanent and temporary jobs", Acers said. "I want personally to encourage every employer in Texas to assist the Commission in this worthwhile program by calling our nearest local office and listing job openings for students with us."

"In this manner there will be one central location in each city where the jobs can be properly classified and the applicants can be carefully screened. This will eliminate employers having to interview many applicants to get the one wanted and will save the applicant time and shoe leather who have less than a high school education. If upon the advice of a high school counselor or others qualified to advise, any high school student is found to have the makings of college or university graduate material they should let nothing stand in their way of getting a degree."

Salem Elected Church Delegate To General Meet

SUDAN - Joe T. Salem was elected to serve as one of four delegates to the General Conference of Methodist churches to be held next year in Denver, Colorado. A national church conference, the meeting is held every four years and is the law making group of the church.

Salem served as delegate to the conference three years, held in Minneapolis, Minnesota. As a delegate to this group he automatically becomes a delegate to the jurisdictional conference to be held this year in San Antonio. Salem is lay leader of the Plainview district of Methodist churches and was elected as the general conference delegate at the Northwest Texas conference held last week in Abilene. The conference consists of some 300 churches from nine districts.
