Son Of Former Littlefield Couple Dies In California

The four-year-old son of a former Littlefield couple drowned Saturday about noon when he fell into an irrigation canal near Visalia, Calif., and was swept downstream.

The child was Gary Don Bevell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bevell, who moved from Littlefield to Visalia about March 1. Bevell has been employed at Linda Loma Ranch there.

Gary Don had been missing only a few minutes when the parents began a search for him. His body was found about two hours later, after sheriff's officers had joined the search.

The body was recovered seven miles downstream from the Bevell home. The canal runs about 25 yards in front of the home.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at the Chandler, Ariz., First Baptist Church. Burial was in Mesa, Ariz.

Survivors include the parents, a sister, Beatrice, six months; paternal grandmother, Mrs. Ethel Bevell of Visalia, formerly of Littlefield, and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ricks of Littlefield.

called his band together and asked the priest who always accompanied them as a chaplain to offer a prayer for divine intervention that they might find water to sustain their lives.

"They knelt together there on the dry prairie, and the story is told that following this they proceeded in a direction which seemed natural to them, and rounding the crest of a gently rolling hill, looked down upon the waters of the Brazos River, then unnamed, in the sunlight.

"When they had slaked their thirst, the leader of the expedition said, 'We were saved by 108 brazos de Dios,' - by the arms of God. And for many years that river on all the maps was known as El Rio de los Brazos de Dios, or the river of the arms of God."

The 36-year-old Wright, who served in the Texas legislature and whose name is sometimes mentioned when there is talk about the future, spoke without benefit of notes.

Funeral Services Scheduled Today For Mrs. Enloe

Funeral services for Mrs. Viola Ruth Enloe, 53, who died Wednesday morning at Littlefield Hospital, will be conducted today at 3 p.m. at the First Baptist Church here.

Burial will be in Littlefield Cemetery under direction of Hammons Funeral Home.

Mrs. Enloe, who resided 5 1/2 miles north of Littlefield, had been hospitalized since April 8.

Survivors include her husband, A. B.; one son, Charles Collins, Littlefield; a daughter, Mrs. Bobby Tucker of Littlefield; one brother, Correll Cole of Littlefield; three sisters, Mrs. John Reed of Floyd, N.M.; Mrs. Floyd Rogers of Amherst; and Miss Hettie Cole of Littlefield; two grandsons and six step-children.

The public relations committee of the Chamber of Commerce, headed by James Lee, will meet Thursday at 7 p.m. in the C-C office.

A great portion of Mammoth Cave in Kentucky is still unexplored. The passages explored extend about 150 miles.

TOWN AND COUNTRY BY WENDELL TOOLEY

I suppose all wives are good at going through a man's pockets... and most of them re-check them before putting the man's clothes in the washing machine. Jim Joyner had on a two pocket shirt the other day when he picked up Jack Farr's check for "Littlefield Giveaway Days" and he put the check in the right pocket. His wife, who ordinarily checks the left pocket before loading the machine, failed to check the other pocket. Well, the Chamber of Commerce has the check, although it is pretty well beat up. Joyner says he'll verify the signature, etc.

With a total of forty-two merchants literally giving away merchandise, "Littlefield Giveaway Days" can't be anything but a success. Area shoppers will be registering for over $800 worth of gift certificates during the four-day (June 15-18) event and there'll be a lot of clowns giving away favors to the kiddies, there'll be main street displays of airplanes, boats, tractors, and automobiles, there'll be rides for the kiddies, and of course the Thursday night entertainment and the grand gift of a 12 piece patio set... and it all adds up to the fact that Littlefield merchants appreciate your business!

Bryson Kiser, Tom Hilbun, Claude Oliver, L. E. Sullins, Jack Brooke and Dick Carl have had all the summer outing they'll need for several years after spending a week at Tres Ritos with the Boy Scouts. It sounds like Dick took care of the food needs of the entire camp with his trout fishing... it makes a good story anyway. Bryson said he sorta figured the trip back would be much quieter, since the scouts chattered continually all the way up... but he said the closer they got back to Littlefield the louder it got. Skipper Smith was responsible for the bus... and we could go on and name a lot of parents who helped in many ways. The Scouts had a wonderful time and that's the main thing.

There is little harmony in the home where the parents are constantly harping.

It's all right to speak straight from the shoulder, providing it originates higher up.

Farmers are back in the fields, replanting cotton. Many were lucky enough to get only rain and their crops look "mighty pretty". On a trip to Bovina Sunday, I have never seen so many farmers working on Sunday. They were working with sand fighters to stich that top soil to keep the wind from burning some sand across the already damaged plants. We don't know whether the good Lord or the devil creates these hail storms... we know that hail is caused by certain atmospheric conditions, which sets up these atmospheric conditions we won't say. Just south of Bovina we saw what that would have been harvested this month completely hailed out to the stubs. It is reported that some Anton farmers had as much as 200 per acre in some onions that were hailed out... and we think we have worried!

The new Crescent Park Swimming Pool officially opens for business tomorrow. The swimming is free Friday... and even if you're not interested in swimming, go by and look over this beautiful new pool. Littlefield can certainly be proud of this modern recreational addition and owners A. C. Bridwell and Buck Oldham are to be congratulated.

While we're on the subject of water, you boat enthusiasts and water skiers will be glad to know that Bob Smith is opening Bull Lake for boating.

If you want a nice kodak and a roll of film for only $2.50, go by Dick Salzman's Humble station and get in on that good deal.

Loking at other advertisements in today's Leader we note: Ware's Department Store and Little's feature new styles in swimsuits for the new swimming pool. Howard's Feed and Seed offers everything you farmers will need for planting; A & B back some more Father's Day cards, Bill Smith Electric with some GE bargains, Dunlap's Father's Day gifts; a nd plenty of good grocery bargains.

Today's youngsters don't leave footprints on the sands of time... just tire tracks.

A new business opens in Littlefield Friday. It is the City Market located at Highway 84 and Gregg Street.

Jerry Sherley is owner and manager. He reports that the market will have fresh fruits and vegetables and he invites Littlefield and area housewives to shop the complete selection each week.

The schooner is said to get its name from a boy in 1713 who saw one of the boats skimming atop the waves. Instead of saying skimming, he shouted "Look, she schrons!"

Red Cross Board To Elect Officers

Officers will be elected and a report on the year's work will be given Friday night at the annual meeting of the Lamb County Chapter of the American Red Cross. The session will be at the county courtroom Friday at 8 p. m. The public is invited.

Present officers include: Truitt Sides, Olton, board chairman; Clovis Poteet, Olton, vice-chairman; Mrs. Lester LaGrange, Amherst, secretary; and Pat Boone Jr., Littlefield, treasurer.

50,000 Acres

(Continued From Page One) damage in hail storms last week. Kimbrough said hail got about a third of the 275 acres of cucumbers and also damaged parts of another 300 acres of onions and 300 acres of potatoes in the Olton area.

Only other vegetable area of any size in the county this year, the Spade area, got by with little damage, Kimbrough said.

Worst-damaged areas were: a strip from south of Sudan to west of Littlefield all the way south to Levelland; the Pleasant Valley area; the Earth - Springlake - Circle area; and around Olton.

Hail struck Friday around Baia and Enochs, and resulted in considerable damage Kimbrough said.

Tight Budget

In answer to a question by one board member, Dr. Schilling said he was doing his budget planning on the basis of a $1.40 tax rate for next year.

Rochester Plans Heart Operation To Restore Its Ailing Midsection

By RICHARD F. WHALEN
 ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — A shopping center, symbol of the suburb, is going up in the heart of downtown Rochester. Midtown Shopping Plaza, an architect's dream and a shopper's delight, will replace 10 acres of parking lots, dilapidated buildings and dingy alleys. This is "urban redevelopment," but not the kind that needs a government subsidy. The owners of two of Rochester's largest retail stores, although competitors, have joined forces to wager 20 million dollars of their own money that Midtown will help stop the flight of business to the suburbs. The city expects to spend about 17 million dollars to build the underground garage and to extend a multi-lane expressway across the middle of downtown and along one edge of Midtown. Work began early in April. Part of the garage will be open next year and the plaza is expected to be completed in five years. The idea for Midtown was born three years ago when McCurdy's and Forman's — worried about the flight of shoppers to the suburbs — called in architects Victor Gruen Associates to design solve the city's parking problems. Here's what the plans call for: Underground parking on three ramps for almost 2,000 cars. Escalators to the surface. About 30 stores on an enclosed mall, as big as a football field, heated in winter and cooled in summer. An office building at least 10 stories high. A bus terminal for city and suburban lines. And, of course, entrances to the two stores that are building Midtown — McCurdy's department store, the second-largest in the city, and Forman's specialty store for women, the fourth-largest retailer. THIS HOUSE AT 1018 W. 2nd was gutted by fire Saturday night which inflicted damages estimated by Fire Marshall Pickett Ray at more than $1,500. John (Curly) Shugart, who lived here, was pulled from the house by firemen just before the home turned into a roaring blaze. The house is owned by Edgar O'Meara. Firemen said they were hampered in their efforts to control the blaze by a mass of spectators who got themselves and their cars in the way. As a result one man was arrested when he drove his car over a fire hose. He was later fined $50 in city court. Shown here are two firemen shortly after the fire was doused. (STAFF PHOTO)

New Bulletin Out On Insects

A "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Corn, Sorghum, Small Grain and Grasses", is the title of a new publication released by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The insecticides to use for control of these insects are given along with the amount of the insecticide to use. Also listed are the major pests of these crops and the way to identify each.

How to make infestation counts, when to spray and seed treatments to control certain soil insects are discussed. Included is a discussion on rice pests and their control.

Farmers Warned About Illegal Seed Hucksters

The Springtime peddlers of "bar-gain basement" seed are again at work trying to dupe unwary Texas farmers into the purchase of their illegal and doubtful wares, says John C. White, Commissioner of the State Department of Agriculture.

Texas Department of Agriculture inspectors are tracking down all leads into operations of fly-by-night seed hucksters reportedly operating within the state whose misrepresented seed is a potential menace to our farmers.

Under the state's agricultural laws, all field seed offered for sale in Texas must bear a Texas

Tested Seed Tag regardless of where the seed comes from. This tag gives required information as to the value and qualities of the seed and the name and address of the person or grower offering it for sale. The exception is an individual farmer's seed production when not advertised outside his home county nor transferred by common carrier.

The seed salesmen in question are operating in violation of the law by offering unregulated seed for sale in Texas. These salesmen often operate as truckers with stock samples from which the unwary farmer may book for future seed for fall planting now being offered for sale. Very often the seed being offered is registered in fertility and purity and also contain a harmful percentage of noxious weak seed capable of contaminating good farm land. As any farmer knows, contamination of good land by such hard-to-eradicate weeds is worse than a plague of grasshoppers.

Although farmers should apply the same precaution in buying any planting seed, the major concern at present is for small grain bel-prospective buyer is told that the seed being offered is registered or certified in another state. No matter where the seed originates it must have a Texas Tested Seed Label in addition to the out-of-state registered or certified tag to be legal.

The best buy for any Texas farmer, in the long run, is seed which has been tested and tagged with the official Texas Tested Seed label.

No rest for this Chevy... round the clock the engine never stops!

At Washington's bustling National Airport, Allied Aviation fueling counts on its radio-equipped Chevy to get crews and tank trucks to the right planes at just the right time. Aside from occasional time out for the usual service, its Thrift-master 6-cylinder engine has been running 24 hours a day for the past 9 months!

Once you've got that kind of endurance working you don't worry much about lost job time. Breakdowns go out of style the day your Chevy goes into action. The fact is, Chevrolet trucks are dead set on dropping the word "downtime" right out of the English language. And they just might, if precision engineering and top-quality materials have anything to say about it. Chevy trucks are put together to stay together—incorporating the most advanced chassis developments, the most efficient 6-cylinder and V8 engine designs. They're built to last, built to keep Chevrolet's hard-earned reputation for reliability flying high.

Going into the real heart of Chevrolet advantages is where your dealer comes in. He'll show you, in feature after feature, that you can't buy more truck dependability—in any weight class—at any price.

About You?"

Executive vice president of the Baton Rouge, Louisiana Chamber of Commerce, stated some plain facts about the perils of federal aid to education. "I predict that if the people . . . of the South accept any more so-called federal aid for operating public school program we will regret it to the day."

In the first place the federal government can't do this time that they didn't extract from us in the past. So it certainly is no gift.

Secondly, the federal government doesn't spend its money wisely anyway, that is doesn't control its expenditures. At present we receive federal aid in the form of agricultural and home economics. At the time the federal government calls the tune, it concerns the course of study demanded, the number of teachers, the hours worked, the scope of studies, or whatever . . .

Thirdly, of the proponents of federally-subsidized education deny any intention of application of the Supreme Court's already ruled that the federal government may want to submit to the socialization of education without a battle. Danged if I am—How about

And Opinion

Business and financial analyst Sylvia Porter writes: "That back in 1950 you received a cool $10,000 and this lovely lump sum free to invest as you wish. You had put the whole $10,000 in a 'typical' house, your investment now would be worth $3,000. If you had put it in the U. S. Treasury 100 percent bonds due 1967 (the marketable bonds issued by the government in the war loan drive) your $10,000 now would be worth only around $1,000. If you had put it in 'typical' farm land, your investment would have grown to $16,139 by early 1958. If you had put it in stocks—the cross-section of stocks in the Standard & Poor's stock average—your $10,000 would be up to more than $25,000."

It is often argued that the American people must live a Spartan life if the Russian challenge is to be met. This is denied by a top officer of the Chrysler Corp. who holds that economic growth rather than Spartanism is the key to America's future. He says that the only logical way to think about the country is to think in terms of growth in all directions.

Food chains have announced plans for an all-American consumer campaign to move a record production of eggs into consumption. Some 100,000 eggs will participate, and the merchandising campaign will peak during two periods—June 4 to June 13, and June 18 to June 27.

In National Review, Robert M. Bleiberg offers a competitive market the goal of every entrepreneur. . . . is to increase profits not by raising prices but by cutting costs and expanding markets. He says that the dismay of those who view the economic situation in some kind of static model, the entrepreneur is seeking to turn equilibrium into dynamic order to profit thereby . . ."

President Eisenhower has proclaimed 1960 as "Visitation Year." A perfect prelude, in the view of Rev. Porter of Oregon, would be to repeal the 10% excise tax on passenger fares. As it is an anachronism to keep the tax on the books every effort is being made to encourage its repeal in this country.

In the fiscal year the interest on the national debt was $7.5 billion. Next fiscal year it will exceed $8 billion.

Over 35 species or subspecies of poisonous snakes are known in the United States. Bites are estimated at 100,000 a year, but death rate is low—10 to 20 a year. It is pointed out, however, that the hazards may increase with camping and other outdoor activities become more popular.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

BY VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex. — First called session of the 56th Legislature will end automatically June 16. It would be hard to find anyone around the Capitol who would bet on the state's money problems being wrapped up by that date.

Senators began their work on the tax bills sent them by the House with an air of deliberate calm. They even waited 48 hours before beginning hearings to give everybody time to ready his presentation. (This is the "tag" rule whereby if one senator "tags" a bill, it cannot be heard except with 48 hours notice.)

Main issue was a bill to raise new revenue for 1960-61 spending needs. Gov. Price Daniel appeared personally before the Senate State Affairs Committee in behalf of H.B. 7. This is the House-passed bill to tax natural gas, interstate corporation franchises, utilities, liquor, cigarettes, autos, etc.

Governor Daniel stoutly defended the bill on all counts, but said he would not "feel hurt" if the Senate wanted to make some changes.

Industry spokesmen and chamber of commerce representatives told the committee the bill would drive business away from Texas. "Our customers," said one company man, "will not pay a premium for a 'made in Texas' label."

Others complained that H. B. 7 not only would tax the same groups that have been hit before, but would hit some from several directions at once.

Governor Daniel's reply to those arguments is that business should bear a portion of the tax burden to keep from dumping it all "on the family budget," as in a general sales tax.

HARD GOING — Governor Daniel's abandoned property bill, killed during the regular session, made it back to the House floor, but only after a committee had attached crippling amendments.

As introduced, the bill would have allowed the state to take over property or bank accounts unclaimed for seven years. Committee changed the waiting period to 15 years. This cut the estimated first-year take from $20,000,000 to $3,000,000.

This is one of the bills recommended by the governor to pay off the $65,000,000 deficit that accumulated during the 1958-59 biennium.

House Taxation Committee killed outright Rep. Jerry Sadler's proposal to levy a one per cent gross receipts tax on manufacture goods.

THUMBS DOWN ON THESE — Governor Daniel vetoed nine of the some 500 bills passed during the regular session.

Among these was the "de novo" bill which would have provided for an entirely new trial when decisions of state agencies were appealed to the courts. Governor Daniel said it would have disrupted oil and gas conservation procedures of the Texas Railroad Commission.

Also turned down was a bill to create a Fort Bend County water district. Governor Daniel said it was in conflict with state-wide water planning. Rep. Jimmy Day of Brookshire, sponsor, made a critical speech on the House floor, contending the governor had signed a bill just like that one two years ago.

Another vetoed bill would have provided for repayment to persons who have paid fines or served sentences for crimes of which they were not guilty. Governor said the intent was good, but with no limitations in the bill, the taxpayers had no protection.

ONE SOLUTION — Many observers believe that much of the current legislative trouble — the slow start, delays, bickering between members and last-minute do or die legislation — would happen if the office of Speaker of the House were an elective post.

Certainly this would eliminate the factions that exist in the Lower House.

Evidence of the desirability of such a plan is found in the office of the Lieutenant Governor, who performs identical functions in the Senate. Both officers have apartments in the Capitol Building, but only the Lieutenant Governor is elected by the people.

Selection of the House Speaker is made by the House members themselves. This delays the start of nearly every session. Furthermore it provokes many bitter battles, divides the House, and creates deep wounds that never heal.

Also, much time is wasted during sessions by various groups campaigning for the Speakership for the session that still is two years away.

The real loser in the battle is the public and they have no choice in the matter, as things stand now.

Demands for making the post an elective one would have to come from the people, as there is considerable feeling among public officials against the idea of elective offices.

OF MOTES AND BEAMS — A resolution to add to the lobby expense reporting law brought on House debate as to who's holier than Rep. Zeke Zbrank of Daisetta and Don Kennard of Fort Worth report cost of transporting legislators. It was a jibe at several senators who recently flew to Tennessee in a gas company plane.

Rep. Jerry Sadler of Percilla reminded the House that House members had in previous sessions gone in droves on various lobbyist-arranged flights. He made the suggestion, of Biblical origin, that the House "get the beam out of its eye before we try to get the mote out of a brother's eye."

House voted 71-52 with Rep. R. H. Cory's (Victoria) suggestion of "not meddling in the Senate's affairs."

STUDENT FEES DEBATED — House members considered a bill to require students in state-supported colleges to pay an activity fee of up to $30 a semester.

Fee would cover such things as health services, parking privileges,

Sandhills Philosopher

Philosopher Has His Own Notions On Monkey Trip

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm adds his two-bits worth to the monkeys' flight into space. This is known as inflation.

Dear editor:
As a student of space, by which I mean I guess I've stared off into it as much as anybody, I have been very interested in reading about those two monkeys that were sent 300 miles out into space and successfully brought down.

That is, what has interested me most is what a lot of people have imagined the monkeys' reactions were to the flight, and while a lot of words were written about the "press conference" the two animals held in Washington, nobody seems to have hit on what the monkeys' reaction probably was.

I can tell you. It was, and I will add it's also what the first space men will say too if they ever get out there and back: WE'RE SURE GLAD TO GET BACK HOME AGAIN.

I still say travel into space may be sort of like some men going off to war. At the time, it seemed like an exciting thing to do, they were sort of bored with life at home anyway, but after home sounded like the most exciting place in the universe.

And as for the death of one of the space monkeys after it got back, I can explain that. Before it was sent up, it was put to sleep with an anesthetic so a small recording instrument could be placed under its skin, then when it got back, you know, it was given another anesthetic so the instrument could be removed.

Now here's the thing. Monkeys may not be as smart as people, although I'm not prepared to say this as I don't know as many monkeys as I do people, but that monkey wasn't so dumb and he thought just as they started to give him that second anesthetic, the first time they did this to me, shortly afterwards I was put into a capsule and blasted 300 miles into space at 10,000 miles an hour.

The thought the second time around was too much for him and he died of shock.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas
A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

Spending before juries—the beginning of jury trials—goes back to Greek colonies in Sicily about 600 B.C., in lawsuits over lands seized by tyrants.

Soon Athens itself took over such oratory, but appears to have worked out no rules of evidence or judicial control of the trial.

Juries often cheered or booed the parties. They talked together and shouted back to the speakers. What one man knew about the case he told his neighbor.

All evidence could go: Personal knowledge, hearsay, prejudice, and the juror's opinion.

The Athenian jury had power. Each "discast" (chosen by lot) was both juror and judge. Each juror got one oboe a day—about three cents.

Each accused person had to come before the jury personally to defend himself—which was especially hard if he didn't know the art of advocacy, since he was assumed to be guilty.

Indeed, many hold that if Socrates had taken independent advice he would never have offended the boisterous and biased Athenian jury which sentenced him to the hemlock there on the hillside in 399 B.C.

Less outspoken defendants in those days sought bootleg legal advice.

Antiphon (415) ghost-wrote and sold briefs to clients who had put their own cases to the jury. He set out four steps of an Athenian trial: (1) the accuser's charge, (2) the accused's reply, (3) the accuser's reply, and (4) the accused's response.

Afterwards the jury let the accused off or found him guilty. The jury sentenced the guilty then and there, allowing some-Socrates, for one—to propose their own penalties, and even to bid them upward if they failed to please the jury.

After the trial, the speakers for in Socrates' case, his friend Plato) often worked their talks over, and sent them out for friends to admire or criticize.

What appeals were used to win the jury over? Pretty much the same ones we hear today. Aristotle listed a few:

The values the jurors shared with the speaker—reverence for justice, the law, and the city's founding fathers; the sanctity of the juror's oath; the verdict's effect upon public and foreign opinion, and sometimes upon women and youth.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

THIS WEEK In Washington

WITH CLINTON DAVIDSON

I flew between New York and Miami at 15,000 feet and watched a man who had had too much to drink toss a lighted match into a container for discarded drinking cups.

No sober person would have taken such a terrible risk. If the plane had caught fire and been destroyed no one would have known the cause.

The liquor on which the man became intoxicated was served him by the airline stewardess. He made himself so objectionable to the stewardess that she had left her post near the drinking fountain to get away from him.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn, who makes frequent airplane trips, has become so concerned that he has asked for action on bills before the House Interstate Commerce Committee to ban the serving of liquor on airplanes.

Apprehensive of Accident

"I am apprehensive", Mr. Rayburn said, "that the serving of liquor in excessive amounts to airplane passengers could cause a serious disaster."

Rep. Owen Harris of Arkansas, Chairman of the Interstate Commerce Committee, expects to hold public hearings later this month or early next on seven bills before the Committee to ban the serving of liquor in the air.

The bills pending are by Reps. John Bell Williams of Mississippi, Roy Weir of Massachusetts, Thomas Lane of West Virginia, Ken Hechler of South Carolina, Carl Elliott of Alabama and Walter Judd of Minnesota.

Rep. Owen Harris of Arkansas, Chairman of the Interstate Commerce Committee, expects to hold public hearings later this month or early next on seven bills before the Committee to ban the serving of liquor in the air.

The bills pending are by Reps. John Bell Williams of Mississippi, Roy Weir of Massachusetts, Thomas Lane of West Virginia, Ken Hechler of South Carolina, Carl Elliott of Alabama and Walter Judd of Minnesota.

A spokesman for the Civil Aeronautics Board, which investigates all air accidents, told us the CAB has no evidence that any crash has been caused by a drunken passenger. But he conceded there have been many accidents for which no cause was ever determined.

The associations representing both the airline pilots and the stewardesses have urged legislation to ban the serving of drinks to passengers. The Federal Aviation Agency, which administers safety regulations, told us "the serving of drinks aloft is strictly a concern of the airlines" so long as there is no law against it.

Time for Action

The time for action is now, before a drunken passenger causes an accident. Besides the safety factor, the annoyance of other passengers by someone made noisy and boisterous by drink is reason for action.

It may be that some of the unexplained causes of airplane accidents are due to liquor being served, but whether that is so or not, it is certain that accidents will be due to the serving of liquor if it continues.

On a recent overnight flight I watched a man who had had several drinks try to light a cigarette while standing up. A pillow slip hanging from the upper rack was within two inches of the match.

I felt certain that he was going to set the pillow slip on fire unless the stewardess if the pillows and upholstery were all fireproof. "No, she said, "they are not."

I am not in favor of parents on such flights turning over a box of matches to little children to play with, but that is no more dangerous than handing them to drunks.

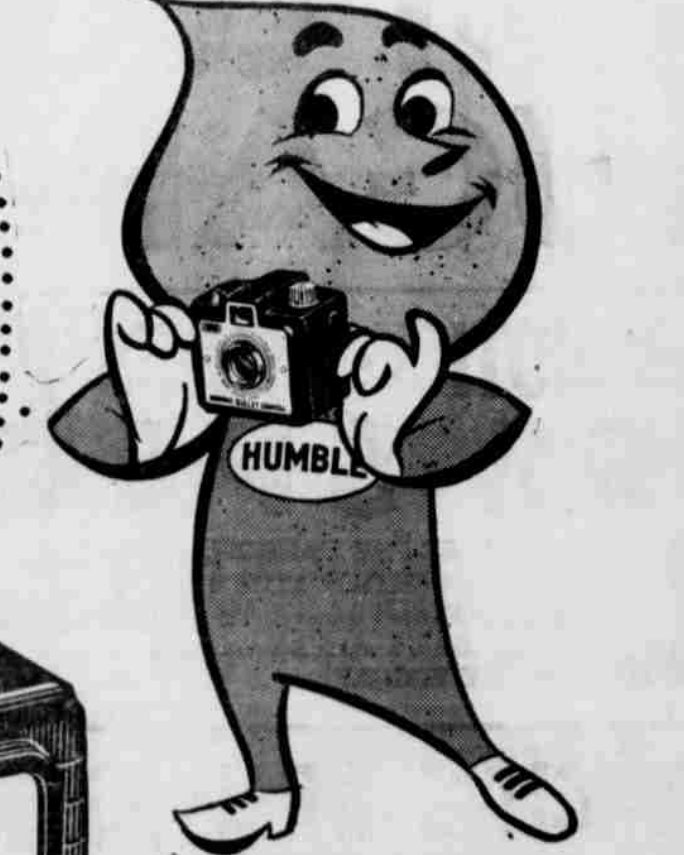

A train of 30,000 cars - long enough to extend from New York City to Richmond, Va. - is needed to transport bituminous coal from mine to market each day.

Cedarleaf oil distilled from the wood of red cedar, is used in liquid soap, polishes, sprays and deodorants.

Living In France Unforgettable Experience As Littles Start Home

NOTE — Mr. B. Little has just returned from a trip to Europe. This is the last of a series of articles by Mrs. Little, describing the highlights of their trip to Germany and Paris to the U.S.A.

W. B. LITTLE is ready to leave the city of Calburg... we Munich, capital of Bavaria, is the gateway to the Austrian Alps. About 1 p. m. it is very cold.

allowed to watch the work in the Rosenthal factory for two days and one day. Beautiful work visited the Nymphenburg and the museum of the pieces over a period of one day, which gave me time to write to my sister one letter.

one day, which gave me time to write to my sister one letter. a Remull-Dauphine home to Billie Ruth Munich... we drove first about ten miles. Here a camp where hundreds of Jews were killed and bodies burned during the war.

two buildings used as a camp until a few months ago. You could see the pits outside the camp now they have been planted with flowers. Thousands are buried here. They were going to this to get a bath. Over leading to the place is a bath. There are pipes for hot water, but gas was never used at one of their bodies were carried to another room where they were buried. Today there are many at each of these. There is also a target where many were shot and were burned.

Men Required To Notify Draft Of Status Change

AUSTIN - Selective Service officials are becoming increasingly concerned about the numbers of men of draft age who do not advise their local boards about changes in their status.

This was reported Friday by Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, who has recently returned from a conference of state and territorial Selective Service directors in Washington.

He says officials are worried because up-to-date and accurate information can be "very valuable if this country were to get into an emergency."

Men registered with draft boards are required by law to advise their boards about everything from a change of job to a change of address. The law gives them 10 days to get the information to their boards in writing.

The official regulation reads: "It shall be the duty of every classified registrant to keep his local board currently informed of his occupational, marital, family, dependency, and military status, home address, and of his receipt of any professional degree in a medical, dental, or allied specialist category. Every classified registrant shall, within 10 days after it occurs, report to his local board in writing every change in such status and in his physical condition and home address and his receipt of any such professional degree."

many and Austria. We drove around the lake... each time we crossed a border we had to buy insurance on the car.

The farm houses and the barns are built together. They do not have houses on their farms but in the village and they go to work either by foot or by wagon drawn by oxen or horses.

There is an island on Lake Konstanz from the Swiss side, owned by the King of Sweden... it is really a show place, the tulips were in bloom... looked like Holland... everything is done in design, very ornate... our gardeners would love this spot... the river Rhine starts at this lake.

Now we are enjoying our little car, we can go anywhere and stay as long as we like... much better than waiting at a Bahnhof - railroad station.

Zurich is the largest city in Switzerland and is built around Lake Zurich... it's a beautiful city. Then we went to Basel. It is on the River Rhine and is the entry point into France. As we enter France we insured the car again.

Now that we are in France, fully covered by insurance, the only thing we know for sure is that this is our last country before sailing and that we are headed for Paris. No deadline to meet. No train or planes to catch... just to drive through France and enjoy it.

First to Chaumont by Langres then to Troyes and Fontainebleau. We drove through part of the forest which belongs to the palace. There are 42,000 acres in this old hunting grounds.

Men, women and children were gathering wild Lilly of the Valley and selling it by the road. We drove into Paris at the rush hour, about 4:30 - such traffic we have never seen... Driving in Paris is driving in front of a firing squad... No really it is like a game... but one must know the Paris, as you know, is the capital of France with about 3,000,000 people and most of them on the street at the same time. I would say Paris is more than a city... it is a world all its own.

One cannot go to Paris and not visit the Louvre... It is the largest one in the world... Here hangs the portrait of Mona Lisa. The Winged Victory and Venus De Milo are also here.

We visited the Luxembourg Palace Gardens and Notre Dame... On this campus, 46 countries have buildings for their students... we can stand on our hotel balcony and see students from most of those either walking on the sidewalks or sitting at one of the sidewalk cafes, for which Paris is famous.

French food is everything you hear about and more. Paris has some of the best restaurants in the world. We went to the Opera, the largest one in the world. I can't say that it is the prettiest, Vienna takes that rating.

Oh, yes, we spent part of three days at the Flea Market. There are 125 acres of "Trash and Treasures"... this place is only open Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Everything from, I guess, fleas to lovely antiques... this place is a must on every traveler's list.

We went on a tour to Fontainebleau via Barbizon, the former home of Robert Louis Stevenson. We visited the old Palace built in 1528 and used as a hunting lodge. One of the highlights of our stay here was seeing the International flower show. It was held in the new Defense Building. The building itself was a sight to see... It has five levels and each can be seen from the one above.

There were 20 countries displaying here... it was more of a garden show with walks, fountains, lawn trees and flowers by the millions. The show lasted 10 days. They had planned on 100,000 persons each day and the first day there were 300,000 and on Friday before closing day on Sunday, there were 500,000. Each display looked as though it was permanent... rock walls with vines, waterfalls, and walks made with rock in mosaic design.

Several vegetable displays... even to a pyramid made of potatoes... seeing is believing. We have seen Paris on tours by taxi, on foot, by day and by night

...none is more charming than the other... I will say May is not a good time to visit Paris... too many "Holidays"... our first 10 days there the shops and offices were closed five days and two half days. We drove from Paris to St. Germain to Rowne, on to Le Havre to catch our ship.

Le Havre is a relatively new city, having been almost completely destroyed in the last war... 10,000 buildings so much brick dust... 2,000 more had to be pulled down... 5,000 more had to be repaired... even today buildings are still under repair.

As I stand here at the pier watching the United States steamship coming into port... knowing that soon we would be aboard... ending a most wonderful trip to Europe and the Middle East... I thought of the words from the old Bard...

"London is a man's town, there's power in the air. Paris is woman's town with flowers in her hair. It's sweet to dream in Venice. It's great to study Rome, but when it comes to living, there's no place like home... So it's, home again, home again, America for me. I want a ship that's westward bound to plow the rolling sea

To the blessed land of room enough beyond the ocean bars Where the air is full of sunlight and the flag is full of stars."
