MEMBERS FARM BUREAU ATTENDING HERE SATURDAY, ELECTING OFFICERS FOR THE COMING YEAR

YOUNG MEN AND WOMEN CONNECTED WITH ORGANIZATION MAKE INSPIRING ADDRESSES; J. T. ELMS IS MADE PRESIDENT

Members of the Farm Association, met in Littlefield, Sunday, April 21st, and an interesting and inspiring program, made possible by the presence of Mrs. J. T. Elms, of Hale Center, Lubbock, and Mrs. J. T. Elms, of Littlefield, was given. Mrs. Elms was first speaker and addressed the members a number of members were anxious to know the results of the 1927 and 1928 seasons. Ray B. McCorkle, of South Plains, made a very inspiring talk on co-operative marketing. His talk was mighty good, coming as it did from the editor of a fast growing newspaper, and especially the fact that she was last year a California farm woman. Mrs. Hudson concluded by urging those present to contract for co-operative marketing.

E. Overstreet, Lubbock, speaker on the program, made a talk which pleased the members of their association. He was loved by a majority of the members for his plain speaking and his great "fighting spirit" of what is right and just.

Littlefield people were especially interested in his talk on the co-operative gin program. After urging the importance of a strong county organization and of holding meetings at least once in each month, he told what developments and changes were taking place in West Texas.

A few short talks were made by others, after which the body of some 300 members went into election of county officers for another year. J. T. Elms was re-elected county president by a very enthusiastic majority. For their confidence, Mr. Elms expressed his appreciation.

The officers elected were: President J. T. Elms, Littlefield; Vice-president, R. N. Carpenter, Amherst; Secretary-treasurer, N. C. Chisholm, Littlefield. County Board of Directors: D. C. Lumpkins, Sudan; C. C. Preston, Sudan; V. L. Castleberry, Littlefield; F. H. Glazener, Littlefield; Mrs. J. T. Elms, Littlefield; Mrs. D. C. Lumpkins, Sudan.

It was decided to elect two more women directors at an early date, or as soon as two more could be found who would be willing to serve in this office.

The body adjourned to meet again in Littlefield, May 5, 1928, and select delegates to the district convention to be held in Plainview, May 12 for the 19th district.

N. H. Payne of Lubbock, met with the new board after adjournment and told some things that has helped the program each month in Lubbock county, since he has been working there as their able representative the past two seasons. Lamb county members intend to meet once each month in the future at a regular date.

LFD. WON PLACE IN DIST. MEET AT LUBBOCK FRI.-SAT.

Curtis Heard, of the local high school placed his school in the winning column last Friday and Saturday when he cleared the bar in the running high jump at five feet and eleven inches to win first place in that event in the University Interscholastic League meet of district No. 2 at Lubbock, Saturday.

Only two schools in the district won more than one first place. These were Slaton and Floydada. Austin, of Slaton, won three first places alone and Marshall, of Floydada, won first place in the discus throw, setting a new district record of 116 ft., 5 1/4 in., while Edwards, of the same school, placed first in the shot put. The other schools besides Littlefield won first places in track or field events were Plainview, Olton, Post, Dickens, Ralls, Idalou, Lubbock and Center.

The score of points was as follows: Slaton, 39; Floydada, 23; Lubbock, 18; Olton, 15; Post, 11; Idalou, 10; Ralls, 9; Dickens 7; Plainview, 7; Littlefield, 5; Center, 5; Keys 1 1/2; Lockney 1, and Grotan 1.

New district records in addition to the one mentioned above, were set by Harkey of Dickens in the pole vault (41 ft. 16 in), Curb of Idalou, in the javelin throw (168 ft. 1 1/4 in) and Austin, of Slaton, in the 220 low hurdles.

The track meet was well conducted and coach E. Y. Freeland, of Texas Technological College is the man to whom the major portion of the credit for its success should go.

Heard will leave for Austin for the State Track Meet on Wednesday May 1 to represent the local high school in the event in which he placed at the district meet.

In the literary events O. A. Woody won second place in declamation, his subject being "Education and Responsibility." Sue Brannen won first place in junior declamations, but owing to a confusion in decision by the judges was not permitted to enter the finals. Reports indicate there was much misunderstanding and lack of system and efficiency among the judges of these events.

SUDAN AGGIES TO ATTEND CONTEST AT A. & M. COLLEGE

At a meeting of the Business Men's Association of Sudan held Monday night of last week, $173.00 was raised to pay the expenses of 18 members of the Vocational Agricultural department to the judging contest to be held April 23rd at the Agricultural and Mechanical College, College Station, Texas.

The trip will be made in a truck. Sudan will probably be advertised more from this trip than any previous activity. The truck is to have a large sign telling where the boys are from, where they are going and for what purpose.

J. G. Bishop head of the Vocational Agricultural department in the Sudan High School will accompany the boys. Great things are expected from this group of young men. They did wonderful judging in two recent contests. They are now in a better position to do faultless judging, having two record experiences back of them.

This short stay at A. & M. will probably have as much educational value as two weeks of regular school work. This movement should claim the attention of the county as it is one step further toward the enlarging and broadening of Lamb county.

Below are a list of the business men who helped put the trip over:

P. E. Boesen, $25.00; Dean Gin Co. $10.00; H. and B. Lumber Co. $10.00; L. E. Slate, $10.00; First National Bank, $10.00; Fox-Worth Lumber Co., $10.00; J. A. Hutto, $5.00; Harry Wilson, $5.00; Clyde Robinson,

MRS. GRACY IS HOSTESS FOR AN AFTERNOON TEA

Mrs. David Gracy entertained two hundred or more callers at an afternoon tea at her home in Enfield, Friday afternoon and was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Dan Mooly and Mrs. Clifford T. Smith.

Assisting about the home were noted:

Mesdames Ben Thrasher, Watkins Harris, Stanley Finch, Clyde Hailey, Walter Bromond Jr., Boyd Wells, Harris Brush, Harry Nolen, George Hawley, O. Douglas Weeks.

The Misses Elizabeth Nagle, Mary Gracy and Frances Davis served the callers and the ice was moulded in pink American Beauty roses and the almonds were decorated with tiny flowers in pastel shades.

The tea table was laid with a cloth of Italian fllet and cut work and its unusual beauty called forth enthusiastic comment from the guests. In the center a fountain threw a silvery spray high over the bank of snap dragon, sweet peas, calendula and roses in pastel shades which surrounded the rose hued globe which was its center. Plumosa fern fell from the chandelier low enough to catch some of the pearly drops and sprays of it were laid about the table.—Austin American-Statesman, April 15.

Note: Mrs. Gracy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Duggan, this city.

CORROBORATION

The teacher had asked the class to write upon the subject, "Mother."

While grading the papers she noticed that three papers were strikingly alike. Calling the three boys she questioned them about the similarity of their work.

Two of the boys were brothers and claimed they were writing about the same mother.

"But what of your's," she asked the third.

"Well my mama wasn't home so I went over to Tom and Willie's house and wrote about their's."

TABLE STAKES

A man known for generous tipping was in the habit of always eating in the same dining room, insisted upon having the same waiter—this morning a new colored gentleman came to take his order.

"What's become of George? He's my regular waiter."

"Well sub, Gawge ain't agin' to serve you any moah. He and I done shot craps for yoah—and I wins."

BAPTIST MINISTER PREACHES SERMON ON CLARENCE DARROW'S CHURCH INDICTMENT

SERMON DELIVERED AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH LITTLEFIELD, APRIL 8TH, 1928, 8:00 P. M. BY PASTOR, REV. ROY A. KEMP.

Theme: Clarence Darrow's indictment of the Christian world.

Text: "They took knowledge of them that they had been with Jesus." Acts, 4:18.

Listen, christian friends, this world is going to know where we have been. There is absolutely no way around it. Let me repeat that this gainsaying world is going to know where we christian people have been.

I remember, during my childhood days, I would do something that I knew was wrong, and then I would appear before my mother with a conscience ill at ease, and I never shall forget how mother would look down at me with those searching dark brown eyes and with a voice, oh so sweet, she would say, "Roy, where have you been?" My mother knew. Church of God, christian man and woman, this world is going to know where we have been. "They took knowledge of them that they had been with Jesus."

I never spoke on this text before, and the reason I use it this evening is because of a statement by that noted atheist, Clarence Darrow, who has won world wide fame because of his defending the worst of red handed criminals. He was recently interviewed as to his religious views, and here was his statement given to the National Press: "I am not a christian. I have never seen a christian. Had I ever seen a christian perhaps I would have become one myself." Think of it! It makes our hearts bleed.

My friends, I don't appreciate the spirit of that statement, but there is something about it that stings. Here is one of the brainiest men, so far as intellect is concerned, that this twentieth century has produced, so far as we know, on his road to an eternal hell of night and doom. What is his testimony? "I have never seen a christian." God help us! Oh, I know it isn't true—I know that—but there is just something about it that makes me weep my soul out. I worked on this sermon the other night until the quietness of the midnight hour and when I had finished and turned out the light, for two hours I could not sleep. In my imagination Clarence Darrow walked up to my bed—it seemed I could see him as he pointed his index finger in his face and said, "Preacher, I have never seen a christian, I think if I see one I can become one myself." What emotions stirred my soul! What heart ache! What anguish! On to be a New Testament Christian! I said, "O, God, above everything else in this world, I want to be a christian." Don't you? Let every heart answer that searching question in the stillness of this hour. Don't you want to be a real christian? It will do your soul good to say "Yes, I do," and those of you who feel it in your heart, will you please raise your right hand. Thank you.

"They took knowledge of them that they had been with Jesus." These words of commendation were uttered by an enemy concerning the apostles. Here were a group of Jewish Rabbis who for three years had hated Jesus. They had got their heads together and conspired time and again to hang him on a Roman tree. At length they finally succeeded. He was betrayed by one of the inner circle, and bloody cobble stones marked His trail to Mount Cavalry. Suspended between earth and heaven, crucified between two thieves, forsaken of man, and—shall I say it?—forsaken of God, He dies. The mangled Galilean hangs bleeding and lifeless on a tree. The cohorts of hell begin to gloat over their seaming victory. I see them, one after another as they come and pat the soldier on the back who had driven the nails through our Lord's innocent hands. I hear them as they converse with each other. "We are through with him now." "Through with whom?" another one asks. And, pointing to the cross, he answers: "That man, that Jew, that carpenter, that blasphemer,—the son of Mary and Joseph." The black demons from the bottomless pit rush back, with the rapidity of lightning, to bear the good news that Christ Jesus is vanquished, and not only so, but that every son of Adam is lost. So hell begins to enlarge herself, making room for the teeming millions that will soon come thundering in thru her open mouth.

Ah, sad picture. Is there any hope? Yes, praise God! there is hope. I would be a traitor to my God and his Christ, and His book to leave this death bound congregation on such a boisterous sea with rudder broken and compass gone. Where is there hope? Why, just before our Savior was rushed to the cross, he chose twelve men to be his representatives on earth. These twelve men go out into a frowning pagan Roman empire carrying the good news of salvation to a lost world.

A few years after the crucifixion and ascension of Christ, these same men who crucified him are grouped together and up walks these twelve disciples of the Lord. Look at the scene! One of the men who had crucified Jesus turned and said to another, "Say, you remember, a few years ago we killed that blaspheming Jew who claimed to be the Messiah?" "Oh yes, but what of it?" "Why, you know there is something about these men that makes me think of him." "Why, we put Him down," answered the other. "Yes, but he is reappearing in these men, and all that troubled us in the Nazarene himself, has got to be put down in these, his disciples." What a testimony of these primitive witnesses! I don't want to be downed, do you? They took knowledge—they perceived, that they had been with Jesus.

Oh, my friends, this evening, do you want to know what is the deepest yearning of your pastor's heart? I will tell you. I want above everything else in this world, that there may be something about me, even the giving of a cup of cold water in His name, that will make a gainsaying world think of Jesus. That is my desire for this membership. God bless your hearts, that we will live such a life before a crooked and perverse generation that sinners will see something real in the religion of the Lord Jesus Christ.

You know we christians are the sinners' Bible; that is about the only Bible that he reads, but he reads us every day on the streets, and at our places of business. What if the type is blurred? I confess I don't understand the full meaning of what Ezediel meant when he said, "If you see a sinner sin a sin unto death and warn him not of his sin, he shall die in his sins, but the blood will I require at your hands." You know my friends, there is a great day of judgment coming. The books are going to be folded. (Rev. 20:11-14) "And I saw a great white throne, and him that sat on it, from whose face the earth and the heaven fled away; and there was found no place for them. And I saw the dead, small and great, stand before God; and the books were opened, and another book was opened, which is the book of life; and the dead were judged out of those things which were written in the books, according to their works. And the sea gave up the dead which were in it; and death and hell delivered up the dead which were in them; and they were judged every man according to their works. And death and hell were cast into the lake of fire. This is the second death."

When that hour comes and come it will as I stand under the illuminating rays of the flaming bar of God's judgment, I will elbow with sinners dressed in black; now and then they will pray, not to Jesus, but to the rocks and mountains, "fall on us and hide us from the wrath of him that sitteth on the throne." I will see him walk up to the throne and hear his sentence read by the supreme judge of the universe, "I find—guilty of spiritual suicide, by the rejection of Jesus Christ as his personal Savior, and assess his penalty at eternal death. He reaches out and takes his doom in his hand—listen! I hear the chatter of teeth. Why, millions are weeping at the same time. Look, there he is telling wife goodbye for the last time. His children dressed in spotless white, are holding to his black vesture—now they are torn loose, and that old demon, with the coolness of an iceberg, rushes his victims into midnight darkness, ready for the slaughter house. They keep going to the left—left—left—while the saints of God are going to the right carrying palm leaves and dressed in spotless white.

A final goodbye is said to every sinner. Goodbye to everything that is high and holy. Goodbye to lost opportunities. Goodbye to mother's prayers. Goodbye to a saved wife. Goodbye to darling children. The darkness thickens. Hell opens her mouth, and, like a man falling from a hanging scaffold, they are gone. The curtain falls. This question: What transpires in that abyss of night and doom? I don't know, nor do I want to know, but this much I do know: it is eternal.

I can tell you what transpires on the right hand of my Lord. Here it is: "Come ye blessed of My Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world." And another statement—I often wonder if Jesus could say that to me, "Well done thou good and faithful servant—enter unto the joy of thy Lord. Oh, the joy of an eternal home! I confess to that gates of Jasper, capstones of amethyst, thrones of dominion, do not thrill my soul like that thought of home. Once there, let earthly sorrows howl like storms and roll like seas. Home! Let thrones rot and empires wither. Home! Let the world die in earthquake struggles and be buried amid procession of planets and dirge of spheres. Home! Let everlasting ages roll in irresistible sweep. Home! No sorrow, no crying, no tears, no death but home! Sweet home! Beautiful home! Glorious home! Everlasting home! Home with loved ones! Home with God! Home, Home! Christ is offering that home for sale this evening absolutely free, by "Repentance toward God and faith in the Lord Jesus Christ." Who wants it?

HOW ABOUT IT!

Some towns, or some citizens in some towns, think they can get along without either a chamber of commerce or a newspaper. And some towns do—but just look at 'em. Good roads are making it difficult for small towns to hold their own. When it is a difference of only ten minutes or half an hour between towns, the fittest will survive, the other becomes a place with weeds holding carnival on Main St. When two towns are equal which is the fittest and will be the survivor? The one with the most enterprise. That is the answer. And the one with the most enterprise is the one with a newspaper and a chamber of commerce—anyhow a newspaper. But no newspaper can sustain itself on the handshakes given the editor by a few of his faithful fellow-townsmen. If they do not give him advertisements, printing jobs and subscriptions to his paper he will have to move his outfit to a livier community. After he moves and no successor takes his place, good-bye town! It is doomed to become a reminiscence. But if the newspaper is sustained, hello, town! You are set to stay. A town that keeps its newspaper will keep its place on the map. It costs you a h money to carry on even a small newspaper business these times. The capital investment can hardly be less than $5,000. If the office is machine equipped it can hardly be less than $10,000. And the income of a machine-operated office must be several hundred dollars a month—nearly all of which is spent in the towns. Hard work and good business management are now absolutely necessary in publishing. Many publishers are more eager to get out than stay in. Towns which are indifferent to the press will find the world indifferent to them. It works out that way. No two ways about it, no dispute about it.—State Press in Dallas News.

SERIAL COUNT IN MILK PLANTS

by the United States Department of Agriculture. The effort to help the average operator locate the cause in "hops" in the bacterial bottled milk, Ernest Kelly, in market milk investigations of dairy industry, United Department of Agriculture, is a study of at least 100 repetitive plants. It is important to count be kept as low as possible and although increases during may be relatively small it is a considerable help to the plant operator to know where and why any increases are likely to take secured from 20 plants studied show that certain operations in plant, such as sterilization of and storage, are more apt slighted than others, and that increases in bacteria take as a result.

discovery that decided jumps in serial count often take place after milk has been bottled and while storage awaiting delivery has led to further study of temperature in the average storage room men are now engaged in this and are making observations in number of storage rooms, noting the changes in temperature in all parts of the room. Daily variations as great as 4 degrees Fahrenheit have been

is expected that the complete will reveal the specific operations that need to be watched with particular care to keep the bacterial count of the bottled milk at a minimum. Such a guide as to possible areas of trouble should be of considerable value to the milk plant operator who is not in a position to employ a specialist.

Buckwheat and Products Make Good Dairy Feeds

Ground buckwheat and other buckwheat products are valuable feed for cattle for they may be used as a partial substitute for, or as a supplement to, wheat bran and gluten feeds, according to the department of animal husbandry at the New York State College of Agriculture at Ithaca, N. Y. The total digestible nutrients in ground buckwheat are worth about the same as those in oats or wheat bran, providing the buckwheat is properly mixed with other feeds. A suitable, medium-protein mixture, containing ground buckwheat, may be made of 300 pounds of ground oats or barley, 300 pounds of ground buckwheat, 200 pounds of cotton-seed meal, and 100 pounds of oil meal.

Buckwheat middlings contain 1,500 pounds of total digestible nutrients in a ton and more than 24 per cent of digestible protein. This refers only to the middlings from which the hulls have been removed, and, in this form, some dairymen consider them equal to or better than gluten feed for milk production. A mixture containing buckwheat middlings may be made of 200 pounds of bran or oats, 300 pounds buckwheat middlings, and 100 pounds cottonseed meal.

When comparing the prices of buckwheat feeds with other standard feeds, ground buckwheat may be compared to wheat bran and buckwheat middlings to gluten feed.

Milking Cows Require Some Grain on Pasture

Under average New Jersey conditions, pasture alone is not adequate for cows in milk. Experience has shown that they need a grain mixture containing 12 to 16 per cent protein, says Carl B. Bender, assistant dairy husbandman at the experiment station, New Brunswick.

Many of the more successful dairy men follow the practice of feeding sufficient grain to keep the animals from losing flesh because of production stimulated by the pasture grasses. Care is taken not to turn the cows out until the grass is five inches high, and for the first few days they are left out only an hour or two. This is to avoid grassy and garlicky flavors in the milk and to avoid intestinal disorders.

As a means of prolonging the life of pastures the experiment station suggests dividing the area into four or five lots and moving the cows from one to another every five or ten days. In this way the animals are assured of a good supply of fresh grass throughout the season.

Even where pasture grass is ample and fresh, a good supply of clean, fresh water has been found highly desirable.

China Buys Dairy Cows

Apparently the revolutions in China are not expected to upset the demand for dairy products. A Vancouver firm, acting for a large dairy concern at Shanghai, reports that within the next two years the Shanghai dairy will add 200 head to its herd of 300 and British Columbia as well as Western Canada breeders will be called on to supply the new stock.

Orders have been received for 30 cross-bred Jerseys and 10 Holsteins to be shipped at an early date.

MAYOR OF LITTLEFIELD VISITS LEVELLAND FRIDAY

Jess Mitchell, editor of the Lamb County Leader and Mayor of Littlefield, was here Friday, accompanied by other City officials, making a study of our water and sewerage system for the purpose of gaining a few ideas that might be of value in a $15,000 extension to their water system.

The locating of Gunter College in Littlefield is giving that town a great boost, and the construction work of that institution and the building that has been encouraged by late developments is estimated to call for an expenditure of several hundred thousands of dollars. The water and sewerage systems as well as other public conveniences will also have to undergo a substantial enlargement to keep pace with demand.

Mr. Mitchell is a good editor and is making his town a progressive mayor, which was needed at this particular time.—Hockley Co. Herald.

RETURN FROM EL PASO

Jimmy Singer returned Saturday night from El Paso, where he went to take the Consistory and Shrine rites of Masonry. He was accompanied by Jess Mitchell.

Mitchell was chosen vice-president of the class of 126 members. He was also unanimously selected as the class orator to deliver the annual address at the occasion of the banquet held Thursday night of last week and which was attended by more than 1,000 32nd degree Masons, their wives and sweethearts.

Jimmy is reported to have roared the camel all the way from Juarez to Mecca, blistering its feet across the hot sands of the desert and filling its cavernous stomach with Rio Grande joy juice at the end of the journey. Of the Editor the reporter of this newspaper is not permitted to make any comments.

In 1920, according to the United States census, Texas had 946,629 dwellings and 1,017,413 families.

Texas has the third longest coast line among the states of the United States.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

All is vanity and vexation of spirit.
 —Ecc. 1:14.

There are two things which will make us happy in this life if we attend to them. The first is never to vex ourselves about what we cannot help; and the second, never to vex ourselves about what we can help.—Chas. Field.

AN EXPENSIVE PEST

It is pretty hard to realize that common, ordinary house rats destroyed $200,000,000 worth of property in the U. S. states last year. Yet that is the statement the government is sending out, and it has no reason for magnifying the destruction. In this new and interesting bulletin, dealing with a pest which every Littlefield citizen is familiar with, it is pointed out that the rat is not only a deadly enemy of mankind, but he is one of the most costly, when his destruction is measured in dollars and cents.

Rats kill and destroy far more than they eat; they increase fire hazards by carrying matches to their nests and chewing them until they burst into flame; and they carry fleas which are often loaded with disease germs, thus starting epidemics which sweep entire communities. They multiply rapidly and quickly overrun any place in which they are allowed to gain a foothold. Last year, it is stated, the loss in corn alone, consumed by rats, reached a total of $7,000,000.

While the government is glad to furnish advice on getting rid of these pests, the suggestion is offered that school pupils be encouraged to hold rat-killing contests, with prizes offered by local merchants to those bringing in the greatest number of dead rats. It has been worked in scores of communities with good effect, according to the bulletin. And on second thought it might not be a bad idea to try it out in the rural school districts of this community.

We've always noticed that the advice people offer us shows no signs of ever having been used.

GETTING TUNED UP

The old custom of taking a "spring tonic" is neither due to superstition nor habit. Ask your family physician and he will explain that along about this time of year one's blood commences to thin, and the return to warm temperatures brings on muscle changes that we often attribute to laziness, and refer to as "spring fever." The doctor will tell you it is natural, and while not serious should have attention. Especially is this true among those of mature years.

The market is flooded with "spring tonics," and many do what their makers claim for them. But old nature hasn't been asleep on the job. She has furnished a few that man has never been able to excel. Along about this time of year mouths water for "a mess of greens." That is one of nature's spring tonics—greens and all the early garden truck you can get hold of. Sulphur and molasses serves the same purpose in the juvenile world; sassafras tea meets the requirement in many localities. But nothing takes the place of greens two or three times a week, and sauerkraut is recommended as being fully as efficacious.

"That tired feeling" and "spring fever" are common complaints among Littlefield citizens just now, and the spring tonic is in order. Everyone must do his own prescribing of course or leave it to his own family doctor. But nothing can beat nature's own remedy—and nothing is easier to obtain than "a good mess of greens."

EVER TRY THIS ?

Just what to do with household articles she no longer has use for is a worry to more than one Littlefield woman now engaged in the annual task of house-cleaning. We know house-cleaning is a big job, and we are anxious to make it as light as possible. For that reason we again want to offer a hint that many have taken advantage of in the past, and solved their problems.

Someone would be glad to have the old stove, chairs, bed or floor-covering you are discarding for something new. And they would be glad to pay a fair price for it. But without knowing what you have, how are they going to bring about an exchange?

A few cents—much less than you would think—will tell everybody for miles around just what you have to dispose of, when those few cents are spent for a little reading notice in these columns.

In that way you get actual cash for what you do not want, and someone else gets what they do want at a bargain.

Drop in and let us explain how this end of house-cleaning problems can be solved at little cost.

We see where a prisoner in Germany has started serving a sentence of 211 years. He will probably find the first 100 years the hardest.

AN OPTIMIST GONE

No man has for the past fifty years been more familiar to the American people than Chauncey M. Depew, and the death of few prominent men could have created as widespread sorrow.

It is due to the fact that Chauncey M. Depew spent the latter years of his life in preaching optimism; in arguing that there are more good people than bad ones in the world; in asserting that the world is growing better instead of worse; in proclaiming that we have the greatest of all nations and that we should show our appreciation of it by working to improve our own condition and the condition of our neighbors.

He uttered messages of cheer, and newspapers carried them to the millions. Chauncey M. Depew's death comes at the age of 81. No man ever crowded any more happiness to others into the years allotted him.

Another reason for so many divorces is due to the fact that too many girls get hitched up before they are able to support a husband.

STICKING TO IT

Littlefield citizens will be interested in an announcement by the Department of Agriculture that while 604,000 persons moved away from the farms to towns and cities in 1927, that was 230,000 less than moved off the farms in 1926. The movement has released a vast army for industrial labor, while the farms have not suffered because motor-driven machinery has replaced them and prevented a labor shortage.

The decrease also indicates that those who stick to farming are becoming better satisfied; they are doing more work with less help and should, therefore, find the financial returns slowly growing better.

There is no longer heard in this country the old "back-to-the-farm" cry. Those who succeed far outnumber those who fail, and when that is the rule, in farming or in any other business, there is no cause for alarm.

My idea of a lucky man, is the one who has dyspepsia while his wife is on a strict reduction diet.

LITTLE LEADERS

The Littlefield woman who says without using grace never had to work for the money.

An optimist is any Littlefield motorist who can smile at a flat tire and be thankful that it isn't a broken axle.

Some Littlefield people make you wonder what they would get out of life if everything was so perfect they couldn't do any knocking.

What has become of the old-fashioned Littlefield girl who used to go into a "decline" when she was disappointed in love?

Nothing surprises a Littlefield family more than to learn that the bad boy who used to live next door has turned out well.

There is no use to talk economy to a Littlefield man who pays two dollars for getting his car washed while his wife is doing the family washing at home.

It's the dangerous age when a Littlefield girl gets so she doesn't care any more about what the neighbors say than she does about what her parents say.

One of the hardest Littlefield husbands to live with, is the one who thinks his wife was lucky to get the husband she did.

Sometimes a Littlefield woman gets so hurt up for something so busy about that she will boast that her husband since had his picture in a patent medicine ad.

When a Littlefield married woman falls out with her sister-in-law the sister-in-law goes to it that the neighbors learn the real age of the married woman.

DOCTOR FRANK CRANE SAYS

THREE THINGS

Gabriel Wells had a Christmas card in which he says that there are three things that constitute a rounded out life: Power, Pleasure and Peace.

The more we think of it the more this seems to be a very good definition. There is not much satisfaction in a life of no power. What gives zest to sport is the employment of our powers and we all applaud the victor, that is, the man who shows the most power. This includes both mentality or mental lacumen and skill.

As for pleasure, they have learned a great lesson who have found out the abiding pleasures of life are those that come from serving others. The pleasures that we experience in merely receiving gifts or benefits, merely enjoying things that are our own, the pleasures of possession and amusement are temporary and they fade.

But one who devotes his life to bringing joy into the lives of others has an unending source of satisfaction.

Peace comes from the firm establishment or connection of life with certain fixed principles. There are some things which, when we have decided upon them, we lay on the shelf. They are not to be reopened. One who is continually arguing the fundamentals is always in hot water and unsatisfied.

That is the advantage of a belief in God. It is something fixed and settled, a central sun about which all of our other thoughts and opinions may revolve.

Of course the belief in God does not imply any congeries of fantastic connotations. One's belief in God may take many forms, but it must have a central core of repose. A life without inner repose is constantly buffeted to and fro by contrary passions.

One who has power sufficient to enjoy his ability to overcome obstacles, who takes pleasure in giving pleasure to others, and who has enough to keep him centered of his being, can be said to live a somewhat complete life.

Texas leads all states in production of natural gas for producing electricity. Last year plants of this state consumed 220,000 cubic feet, which was per cent of the total amount in the United States.

—a Six of Long Life and Advanced Design

Judged by even the most critical standards, the New Series Pontiac Six is months—even years—ahead of its field. Its style is the height of fashion —achieved with low, graceful, modish lines—emphasized by magnificent new bodies by Fisher.

Its big, economical motor has the G-M-R cylinder head, for smoothness, power, snap and speed. It introduces the cross-flow radiator into the low-price field for elimination of engine cooling cares. It has every other really worthwhile feature that progressive engineering has devised! And in addition, it has that great fundamental which has been the basis of Pontiac's ever-growing success—the great fundamental of long life!

As a result the Pontiac Six will continue to assure owners a resale value which is the marvel of the industry. When you buy a Pontiac Six you know you are getting—not only a car that is new today—but a six so advanced in style and engineering, so famous for long life that its inherent value will always be consistently high!

CO-OP MARKETING ASSOCIATION WINS AMONG GROWERS

About 40 people interested in co-operative marketing of eggs were present at a meeting held in the Vocational Agriculture room at the high school Thursday night, April 12. The principal speaker was Mr. Hatch, the manager of the Association. He explained the purpose of his association how it is to be run, and discussed many points of interest concerning successful poultry raising.

How this organization can assist the poultry industry in this section was discussed which brought up the point that for the people of Littlefield, Amberst and Sudan to derive the benefits of this co-operative marketing move it is necessary that 20,000 hens be signed up by these three towns to make it profitable to gather the eggs from these points. At the close of the meeting 2,200 hens were signed up and quite a number have signified their intention of becoming members immediately.

This co-operative Egg Marketing Association with headquarters at Plainview is a worthy organization, and will in a few months time show a nice profit to those who are members, according to N. A. Donges.

This association covers Lamb, Briscoe, Swisher, Hale, Floyd and Motley counties and by covering this large territory the number of eggs handled will be enough so that the various grades obtained may be shipped in carload lots to markets that demand a certain grade of eggs in large quantities and are willing to pay the price of receiving them in large quantities.

Anyone interested in becoming a member of this association should see N. A. Donges the Vocational Agriculture teacher. He has a supply of contracts and will give as definite information as possible concerning various points of the association.

There are also some of the contracts at the Plains Electric Hatchery where those interested may read them and sign them.—Contributed.

were married in Lubbock by one of the local pastors.

Miss Davis is well known in this community having resided here with her father, Henry Davis, farmer near Littlefield. The past few weeks she has been attending business school in Lubbock.

COUPLE FIRST TO MARRY IN THE NEW COURT HOUSE

The distinction of being the first couple to marry in Hockley County's new Court House belongs to Arthur Beardlee, an employee of the City Bakery, and Mrs. Jessie Sneed, who were united in marriage in the Sheriff's office in that structure Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, Justice L. N. Graham officiating.

The news had leaked out that this couple desired to dedicate the new structure as a temple to the son of Apollo and Urania, by having their vows the first official act to take place within its walls, and quite a few were present to witness the ceremony.—Hockley Co. Herald.

BEN-NAK COMPANY OFFERS UNIQUE PROGRAM

Are you bored with the stereotyped forms of entertainment even though beautifully done? Have you ever given up feeling that "there's something different" which is so satisfying? The Ben-Nak entertainers, Chautauqua's second day attraction, will come as a plausible answer to that searcher.

The Ben-Naks offer one of those brilliant, stimulating programs the effectiveness of which depends so much on the personality of the players and which makes it so indescribable.

Miss Mauden Harper, who heads the company, has for eight years played on Chautauqua platform. She is a young lady whose talent shows itself in many lines. As a violinist, her playing shows remarkable technique and finish. But it is in her monologues and character impersonations that the audience revels.

One paper writes of her, "As an ignorant country girl in the big city Miss Harper brought down the house. Keen observation and a deep, sympathetic understanding of human nature are the foundation of her success. Her characters are absolutely lifelike in gesture, inflection and action, and find spontaneous response in the audience."

FARM STOCK

ERADICATE SCRUBS TO IMPROVE HERDS

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)

"Scrub-bull eradication campaigns are rapidly gaining the favor of enterprising county agents as a means of improving the cattle of their counties says the United States Department of Agriculture. Fifteen dairy bulls of quality were added recently to the bovine population of Hopkins county Ky. Prior to the campaign in this county two committees from each community made a survey of their school district to determine the number of bulls, cows, and heifers on the farms, what breed they were, and whether scrub or pure bred. The survey covered 850 farms and showed a dairy cattle population of 1,924 mature grade cows, 536 grade heifers, 191 mature pure-bred cows, and 31 pure-bred heifers; also that more than 80 per cent of the farm herds were being bred to scrub or grade bulls, and only about 19 per cent to pure-bred bulls.

For the organization meeting the Hopkins county farm bureau arranged a banquet for the community committeemen and business men. One hundred and fourteen attended. An executive committee of five men was selected. During the week of the campaign 30 meetings were held in all sections of the county with a total attendance of 1,632, averaging about fifty-four persons at each meeting. The bulls were selected by the purchasing committee in Chelation and Todd counties, Ky., and brought to a local garage for exhibition and sale during the campaign. Fifteen bulls were sold by the end of the week. The majority of the bulls purchased were from dams with advanced registry records.

The stimulating influence for better bulls never ends with the close of the campaign week. In Buncombe county, N. C., where a similar campaign was conducted early last fall, at which time 12 bulls were placed during the week of the campaign, the county agent reports a total of 29 bulls being placed, 17 after the close of the campaign.

A campaign was also held in Chester county, S. C., where 16 bulls were placed during the week. The county agent reports that he has several more prospects for pure-bred bulls, also that a number of communities have pledged themselves to eliminate the scrub bull.

THE PROPER FARM LEASE

The following are important questions concerning any farm lease:

1. Is it in writing?
  2. Do you understand it before you sign?
  3. Is it written so the meaning will be clear at any later time?
  4. Is it fair to you—and to the other party?
  5. Does it give the tenant a reasonable opportunity to make a living and get ahead?
  6. Does it require proper and conservative care for the leased premises?
  7. If there are reservations are they in writing?
  8. Does the lease state what each party is to do and to contribute?
  9. Does it define clearly the rights and privileges of each party?
  10. Does it provide for a settlement of differences of opinions?
  11. Does it provide for procedure when the tenancy is to be ended?
  12. Does it contain the following essentials of a legally complete lease? (a) the date; (b) signatures of both parties; (c) definition of the term; (d) description of the property; and (e) an agreement as to the amount of rent to be paid; the time when and the place where it is to be paid.

CITY PAVING WILL SOON START IN LFD.

Of course, it's nice to roll along over nice new paved streets. Any town with such modernism must be progressive in its nature and habits and is duly appreciated. Folks like to trade in a town that is up and coming.

But there are other marks of progress that are more vital to the country folks than paved streets. One of these is scientific feeding of their livestock. That is what Bellomy is particularly interested in, and that's just why he put in that mammoth grinder—to render more efficient service to his numerous patrons who are endeavoring to get the maximum value from their labor and money.

Anyone who knows very much about stock feeding know they require a balanced ration of the proper proportions of nitrates, carbohydrates, ash, etc., and that it should be fed in such a manner that the highest digestion and assimilation is made possible.

That is just what our machine does. It grinds properly and with just the desired mixture for highest efficiency in feeding poultry, hogs and other livestock. Step in and let us tell you more about it!

EDITORIAL

There are several chaps in this town who sure can do a lot of thinking for the other fellow, especially along the line of how to run a newspaper, but we welcome their suggestions and would welcome them still more if they would sometimes come across with a small news item or two for Sawdust and Splinters.

Some slight modern additions might make a much more salable house. We'd be glad to talk the matter over with you.

"ONE IN 15,000,000" (Sign seen on the back of an old Ford.)

Modernize your home in the spring. Its an investment, not an expense.

Be there a man with soul so dead, who never to his spouse hath said, "I've got to go to lodge tonight You might as well turn out the light, and trot along to bed."

No! Hardwood floors are not a luxury. Health demands them. Let us tell you how cheaply they can be laid.

"My class" said a long-suffering teacher at a Littlefield School the other day, "is like the McNary Haugen Bill, it won't work."

Mr. R. Patterson, of the Enochs neighborhood, has put up a real windmill. Of course, its a Self-Oiling Monitor.

The path of progress is strewn with the wrecks of fools and fogies.

But alas and alack;
They had to walk back,
