THE WALRUS

IS FOUND ONLY IN THE FAR NORTH... IN THE ARCTIC OCEAN AND ITS ADJACENT COASTS. NEXT TO THE WHALE, IT IS THE LARGEST OF ALL SEA-GOING MAMMALS, REACHING A WEIGHT OF 1½ TONS.

WALRUSES ONCE ROAMED MUCH FARTHER SOUTH, BUT CONSTANT PERSECUTION BY HUNTERS, WHO HUNTED THEM FOR THEIR IVORY TUSKS, THEIR BLUBBER, AND OIL, DROVE THEM INTO THE POLAR REGIONS.

THE TUSKS, WHICH GROW TO A LENGTH OF THIRTY INCHES, SERVE THE ANIMAL AS WEAPONS, LANDING HOOKS, AND AS TOOLS FOR DIGGING CLAMS.

POLAR BEARS

ARE THE ONLY FOUR-FOOTED CREATURES IN THE LAND OF THE WALRUS THAT DARE ATTACK IT.

SEA LIONS AND SEALS ARE COUSINS OF THE WALRUS... ALL BEING ANIMALS THAT ARE CHANGING INTO MARINE DWELLERS.

WALRUSES ARE NOT FOUND IN MANY ZOOS, BECAUSE OF THEIR APPETITES! ONE ANIMAL CAN EAT SEVERAL HUNDRED POUNDS OF FISH DAILY!

LAMB COUNTY LEADER

TENTH ANNIVERSARY EDITION TENTH ANNIVERSARY EDITION

Official Newspaper of Lamb County, Texas

VOL. 12 LITTLEFIELD, LAMB COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JULY 19, 1934 NUMBER 49

LITTLEFIELD ONE OF MOST ADVANCED AREAS IN U. S.

When Littlefield celebrates her tenth birthday as a city this week, she is also celebrating ten years of progress that have brought developments of which any town could be justly proud of.

Just as Littlefield was incorporated in 1924, that year also marks the beginning of her development, giving a period of development paralleling her birthdays.

In 1920 the U. S. census figures show that Littlefield had a population of 225. Figures up until 1924 were practically unchanged, but the report for 1930 show the city to have a population of 3,218, not including two additions which were not at that time incorporated within the city proper.

Lamb County for the last seven years has produced more bales of cotton per acre cultivated than any other county in Texas or the whole United States. In 1931, Lamb County produced about 81,000 bales of cotton. In 1932 it produced 52,449, and in 1933, 53,500 bales after the plow-up. Even after the plow-up approximately 100,000 acres were given to cotton, which was as much as the year before.

Out of the plow-up of last year Lamb county received $1,438,000 which was more than any other county in Texas. For 1934 the estimate acreage is about 84,500. Her cotton contract payment this time is about $178,000.

Lamb County received about $50,000 more than any other county in Texas on the hog reduction contracts. She leads any county in the United States in the production of grain sor-ghums, growing about 160,000 tons per year over a 5 year period, not to mention hay crops. She leads all counties in Texas in the production of broom corn, planting about 10,000 acres last year.

Vegetables and fruits canned in Lamb county last year were estimated to be worth nearly half million dollars.

Vast numbers of cattle and sheep are fed out in the Littlefield vicinity. The largest feeding project in the southwest is located there.

The variety of her products and the success with which they are grown place her in the top ranks with diversified farming counties and with the most progressive regions in the United States.

CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS

Senator Arthur P. Duggan

A resident of Lamb County since the pioneer days, Senator Arthur P. Duggan is a candidate for Congress from the 19th Congressional District. He has given very liberally of his time in the interests of the people of this section and in assisting in carrying out those projects for the development of this county and territory.

LAMB COUNTY TO RECEIVE PRIMARY AID

Relief Will Care for The Purchase of Cattle Feed, Road Projects

That Lamb County had been placed on the primary drouth relief rolls was made certain Tuesday when D. A. Adam, county agent, received a telegram from C. W. Warburton, director of the Extension Service at Washington, D. C.

Though Lamb County has been on the secondary list for some time, it was the last county in this area to be placed on primary relief. Since a survey showed that approximately 90 per cent of the farmers in the county would need to buy feed for next year if it does not rain soon, and that cattle are suffering, the County committee, the Commissioners court, and other groups have given serious attention to the matter and rushed through applications for relief.

Under the Emergency list, Lamb County farmers and cattlemen will be able to dispose of all surplus cattle to the government. A county veterinary and appraiser will be appointed and shipping points on the railroad designated. The veterinary will examine the cattle offered for sale, and the appraiser will set the price.

The farmer can either accept or reject the offer. Cattle will be divided into three classes, 2 years and older, one and two year olds, and all under one year. The appraiser is to pay $12 to $20 for all two year olds and over; $10 to $15 for all stuff one two years old; and $4 to $8 for all under one year.

Government feed and seed loans will be made to farmers and cattlemen who need to buy feed. These loans will be made on a plain note due in the fall of 1935.

McDonald To Attend Littlefield Picnic

J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture, will attend the Littlefield Tenth Anniversary celebration or send a representative according to a telegram from him to W. H. Cunningham, of this city. The Chamber of Commerce had also invited Mr. McDonald to attend the picnic.

LITTLEFIELD TO OBSERVE BIRTHDAY

Ten years of progress have made Littlefield one of the leading towns on the South Plains. Hundreds of people come here to transact their business. This view, looking toward the railway station from the upper end of North Phelps, shows a part of the crowd in town one day last week. Friday and Saturday will see this throngfare crowding with picnickers attending the celebration.

We Do Our Part

TEN YEARS OF PROGRESS

July 20 and 21 have been set aside by the citizens of Littlefield on which to celebrate the Tenth Anniversary of the incorporation of the city.

Ten years which have witnessed the growth of Littlefield from a village to one of leading towns on the South Plains. Ten years which have developed a friendship between the people of this area and established a confidence with the buyers in the business concerns of this city.

And now the people of Littlefield wish to express their appreciation for the united effort which has made this expansion possible. They join together in giving a picnic for their friends. Two days of entertainment in which every one will have the opportunity of meeting his old friends and making new ones.

Political speaking, airplane stunts, polo, rodeo, band contests, old fiddlers contest, free barbecue, baseball, and a carnival will be presented for the entertainment of all who attend.

Preparations are being made to care for 25,000 people and everyone is invited to take part in this birthday celebration.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—They had one of those highbrow musicales at the White House the other night, organized by Mrs. Roosevelt, who likes to entertain and make everybody happy.

Mr. Roosevelt, whose favorite song is "Home on the Range" and who is always up on the current slang, walked into it on the arm of a colored servant.

"You know," he confided to the servant, "I'm not very strong for this sort of thing. But I can take it!"

Who's Crazy? Your Guess

A MAN walked into the Senate gallery the other day and he was very nearly nude.

To be exact, he wore sandals, a loin cloth and a short white cape over his shoulders. (Later he described himself as "the American standl.")

Anyway, he wore so little that he caused no end of consternation and was promptly hustled out of view by Sergeant-at-Arms Chesley Jurney and half a dozen policemen.

It was at that point that Senator Frederic C. Walcott of Connecticut, a Republican if ever there was one, demanded: "What do you want to arrest him for? Probably he's the only sane man in Washington."

There's a certain amount of evidence that Walcott was giving voice to an opinion widely held not only in Washington, but also in the country outside. To be brutally frank, however, one must admit that nearly all congressmen, as well as most New Dealers, harbor an idea that the rest of the nation is not crazy, but just plain dumb. (Neither idea is completely true.)

RAREST sight in Washington, Miss Frances ("Robbie") Robinson, in an NRA corridor, without her boss, General Johnson. Reason: She had been out to powder her nose. Willard Thorp, chief of Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce until Chairman Stephens of Commerce Committee scuttled his confirmation, working with sleeves rolled up in office of Dexter Keezer, brains of NRA Consumers' Advisory Board. Thorp is doing temporary job for his close friend Keezer before taking big job with National Emergency Council—after Congress adjourns.

Willard hotel, fourth floor: Clarence Darrow and Charles Edward Russell, his adviser two aged, inveterate Socialists—tottering to the elevator toward lunch. Darrow unkempt as usual; Russell dapper in straw hat, tropical suit, cane and sport shoes.

Don Richberg, biggest NRA shot next to Johnson, sticking his head out office window to signal to Mrs. R., waiting in automobile across the street, that he's ready to go home. (Just at that point, I heard later, a sudden conference broke out and Mrs. R. had to wait an hour and a half.)

Jim Farley's house-warming for the press, beginning at his office in new postoffice building and continuing long at Hotel Raleigh's top floor ballroom: Jim, who doesn't drink, said the newspaper boys had been nice to him and he wanted to do something nice for them.

Twenty-five Hundred Head Cattle to go To Government

CANYON, Texas, July 18. (Special to Leader.) — Practically 2500 head of cattle have been sold to the government by the farmers of Randall County and 2,000 more are ready for inspection as soon as the veterinarian can get to the job. About 100 head are being received daily since one of the federal veterinarians was taken from the county Monday noon and transferred to another county.

According to the figures of County Agent W. H. Upchurch, the farmers are selling 25.6 per cent of their heads. At the beginning of the buying the percentage ran over 30 per cent but this was soon reduced to 25 per cent. This indicates that the farmers are doing a splendid job of cutting their herds.

Checks in payment for the cattle are being received almost daily. 37 checks had been distributed up to Tuesday.

Took CARDUI During The Change of Life

Cardui is purely vegetable, harmless, for women of all ages. Many women who have used it advise their daughters and friends to try it. "I took Cardui for weakness during the change of life," writes Mrs. Clara C. Allen, of Enfield, Ill. "It helped me and built up my strength. I also gave it to my two daughters and they were helped. I think Cardui is a good medicine during the change and for girls."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

In A Couple O' Nut Shells

A Letter to the Editor From The Secretary of the Lamb County Ministerial Alliance

Just a few weeks ago there sprang into existence a new organization in Lamb County. This new institution has been discussed pro and con, questioned and prophesied about. Some have ventured the assertion that it is the nucleus of a new political party swinging out into the great western atmosphere, others that it is not a new party but a halter to be placed on the old party to lead it whithersoever the institution may desire, while others have wondered if it was the N. R. A. of the ministers of the territory. As a member of the new institution let me answer both Yes and No, mostly no, and may I give you some of the deep secrets of the organization.

To the Yes part of the answer we have organized what is known as the Lamb County Ministerial Alliance. This institution takes in all preachers whether pastor or not in Lamb and Bailey counties. Our meetings are held each Monday morning. We do not have a special place of meeting, but pass our meetings around with the different churches and pastors of the two counties. The institution is non-denominational, so arranged that all may have a part and get better acquainted, learn each others problems and carry them to the many different churches of the counties. We are non-political; politics has no place in our meetings. However, we are American citizens and will vote for and if need be use our individual influence for men we believe will best fill the offices of our counties, but as an organization it is not our intention to place our indorsement on or run any candidate for any office. We feel, however, it our duty, as we feel it is the duty of every law abiding citizen in our counties, to stand by and encourage our officers in the enforcement of all law.

As to the N. R. A. we have no word of criticism, but stand ready to do all we can to see the movement succeed in the circles where it is intended to function, but for the past two thousand years christian ministers have had to be content with small salaries and a twenty-four hour day and a seven-day week and we have no word of criticism for the rule and no intention of even attempting to break it.

Thus you have the secret of the new organization, and its intentions in a couple of nut shells.

The above was written by the secretary, and was not read before the alliance previous to being published.

Sincerely,
JOE F. GRIZZLE
Secretary

Negroes Not To Vote in Election

The question of negro voting became a campaign factor Thursday with a ruling by the attorney general's department that negroes were not entitled to participate in the Democratic primaries.

It had been indicated in several counties that negroes would be permitted to vote in the election after failure of the state Democratic executive committee to adopt a resolution restricting the primaries to whites.

ALEXANDRA NEWS

The 4th was very quiet around here as most everybody went to the picnic, others visited wife's kin folks and a few families gathered at Buffalo Bill Well, in fact it has several names, so I can't give all the names for it, but any way it was a big pool of water with some big trees around it for shade and in the middle of a big pasture and was a fine place for a day of rest and enjoyment for the youngsters. Swings were made and lots of cold drinks were served during the day, and of course dinner wasn't skipped, no supper either, for we stopped at Willie Jryor's and spread supper. There were 7 families represented and in the afternoon lots of people from Morton came down. The boys went in swimming some of them gave some high diving stunts.

So the Alexandra Pioneers will long remember their first 4th spent in Cochran county.

LITTLEFIELD H. D.

Club to Meet at Church July 19

The Littlefield H. D. Club met Thursday July 5th 1934 in the basement of the Presbyterian church with Miss Westbrook teaching how to serve a formal dinner.

This proved to be quiet an interesting occasion. Not a mock dinner, but real food, with Mrs. Carl Lambert acting as host and Mrs. L. L. Massengill hostess. The hostess was very graciously assisted by her pretended daughter, Mrs. Tom Matthews in serving dinner. Mrs. Bill Roberts enjoyed the occasion as honor guest, while Mrs. Gregory posed as second guest of honor.

Miss Westbrook brought quite a nice display of table linens, some very expensive while others less expensive but still very pretty, also a type for every occasion.

Mrs. Honea was surprised to know that it is now considered good taste to leave the selvage sides or edges of table linens unhemmed and only a narrow hem on the other edges. When she prepared her hope chest all table and bed linens had to have wide hems.

The club voted to send two delegates to short course last week in July.

Mrs. Lambert and Honea were appointed as a committee to devise some method of raising the remainder of funds for the trip to short course.

Mrs. Mike Brewer's resignation as secretary was accepted with regrets, and Mrs. Honea becomes secretary. Mrs. Bill Roberts was elected as assistant secretary.

LITTLEFIELD IS BUILDING UP IN SPITE OF TIMES

New Buildings and Remodeling Suggests Confidence In Recovery

Ten years of progress in the past has not marked an end to the development of Littlefield. At the present time considerable building is taking place.

The Arnett Motor Company is now occupying a new building, one of the largest and finest in town, just completed and adding a distinguishing touch to North Phelps.

The Building vacated by Arnett Motor Company is being remodeled and will be occupied by Garland and White Auto Supply.

J. T. Bellomy is just finishing on Fourth Street a new brick store building to be occupied by a grocery concern and an adjoining stucco to house a cafe.

Recently the Big Sign Cafe moved to a new building next door to the Vogue and changed its name to the Manhattan Sandwich Shop. The building was constructed by the Chesher interests.

Burleson Furniture and Undertaking Company moved their business to the building vacated by the Big Sign. The building vacated by Burleson's home made into a new theatre by the Chesher.

The Underwoods have constructed a three room stucco dwelling house on the southeastern part of the city. Other building projects are being discussed, pending rain in the near future.

With all this building going on Littlefield presents the view of a prosperous and progressive city.

Post Office Shows Increase of 43 Per Cent in Business

Receipts at the Littlefield post office for the first half of this year ending June 30 showed an actual increase of 43 per cent more business than was transacted for the same period of last year.

General postal receipts for the first half of 1933 were $5668; for the same period in 1934 they were $8095.51. The increase of this year over that of last totals $2427.51.

The money order business for the Littlefield office during the first six months of 1934 totaled $51,831.75. The receipts for the corresponding period of 1933 were $30,792.16. The increase was $21,039.59.

Post office receipts and bank statements are usually considered good indicators of business conditions, and in this instance would indicate that local financial conditions this year are better than they were last during the same period.

Postal authorities here wish to call to the attention of customers that all money orders cashed at an office other than that on which it is drawn or at the office of issue will be assessed the same fee as charged at issue.

Also they warn people from putting handbills, circulars, etc., which are mailable into mail boxes without paying postage. The offense being punishable by a $300 fine, they state.

DONKEY BASEBALL WILL BE PLAYED HERE

Littlefield Meets McAdoo Saturday in Mounted Contest

The first game of donkey baseball ever played in Littlefield will be presented before the Celebration crowd Saturday morning at 9 o'clock on the local soft ball diamond when the home boys meet the players from McAdoo.

None of the Littlefield players know much about this type of playing, but it seems that it follows closely regular soft ball rules except for the use of donkeys.

The game requires 12 of the animals. All the infield and outfield are mounted except the pitcher and catcher. When a batter strikes the ball, he jumps on his donkey and makes a run for first base. The fielder must go after the ball, recover it, mount his donkey and then throw the ball. Basemen receive the ball while mounted and attempt to put out the runner — the rider.

The Law In Our County

SHERIFF LEN IRVIN

In asking your vote and influence in my candidacy for re-election as Sheriff of Lamb County, do so only on my record of service. I have been on the job day and night, faithfully serving you, and would like the opportunity to continue this work.

I have endeavored at all times to give the citizens of this section a Progressive, Clean, Impartial Administration of Law without thought of the long hours such a program of law enforcement entails. As a result of the progressive program of the Sheriff's Department, this county is as free from crime, petty offenses, and disturbances as it is possible for a county to be.

In our work we have received splendid cooperation from the citizens of the county, and appreciate this friendship very much.

If I am returned to office, I pledge to the people of our county a continuation of Clean, Efficient Law

Sincerely,

LEN IRVIN

CITY'S HISTORY RECALLED

WITNESSES EARLY DAYS

Years Witnesses Great Development In Littlefield

Littlefield was founded in 1912 by George W. Littlefield, on the Yellow House ranch, of which he was owner. The Yellow House ranch was a 300,000 subdivided tract, or Capitol syncline. This was the land which was bought by the State legislature and the Capitol building at Austin. The city was laid out and largely built by A. P. Duggan who is here and who is this year a candidate for Congress. The development of Littlefield began in 1912 when the first house was built by B. F. Smith, father of Carl, Robert Smith who are all here now. The house was on Fourth street where the weather home now stands. The first child born in Littlefield was Isabelle Wharton, daughter of Effie Wharton who was a daughter of B. F. Smith. She was the home of Mr. Smith which was the first residence.

After the building of the house by Mr. Smith, Mr. Richards was a residence where the Garman now stands. Mr. Richards had a grocery store on the spot where the present bank. The home was the third residence and a few temporary shacks

Pioneer Merchants

Among the pioneer merchants of Littlefield are W. G. and J. T. Street who had the first general mercantile store in town. F. G. Sadler opened the first drug store and is still in business here.

C. E. Willis who now operates the Littlefield Tailor shop opened the first barber shop and dry cleaning establishment in the new town.

The first farm in the Littlefield community to be improved was bought by Herman Paul and is located one and one-half miles east of the city.

C. J. Duggan, brother of A. P. Duggan, was the first postmaster and opened for business in the office of the Littlefield Land company. Mrs. V. V. White, who is now Mrs. Vernie Wright employed by the Yellow House Land Company, was Mr. Duggan's assistant in the new post office.

First Mail Leaves 1913

At that time the railroad had not reached Littlefield and the mail was carried in a buggy from Bartonville on the Santa Fe about 18 miles East of town. A round trip was made each day carrying over the local mail and bringing back incoming mail. The regular school, received state funds of and hired another teacher and ran the school in a regular session. Mr. J. P. Hatchett was the first principal and was assisted by Miss Page who had taught the spring before. Mrs. Wright's son and his wife, who before her marriage was Vivian Courtney, and who are visiting in Littlefield now, were two of the original pupils in the school. Littlefield's first wedding was in the summer of 1914 when Miss Tommy Wallace and Mr. John Hall were married. They now live in Phoenix, Ariz. Mrs. Wright, in telling of some of the early conditions in the city, said that most of the early marriages stuck, maybe because there were very few people to choose from and little to cause dissatisfaction.

Churches Organized

The Methodists were the first to have an organized church. Mrs. Wright reports, and they were followed by the Baptists. However, before either had organized, union services were held in the school building. The Presbyterians were the first to build a church of their own. This first school building is now used by J. E. Brannen, with some remodeling, as a residence. The first high school was built in 1915 and was added to in 1922. It is the middle building of the group of three which now makes up the school system of Littlefield. From a mere handful of pupils in the first school, the system has grown now to accommodate hundreds and is recognized as one of the best schools in this section of the country.

J. C. Whicker who still operates the Whicker Land Company opened the first real estate office in Littlefield other than that of the Littlefield interests. He sold out the holdings of a group of Mennonites who left during the war.

Trains Come To Littlefield

In 1913, July 4, two trains came into Littlefield for the formal opening of the city. These were the first trains to enter the city. The Santa Fe had completed the Lubbock to Clovis line only as far as Littlefield. One of the trains originated in Amarillo and brought in a group of Santa Fe officials. The other originated in Sweetwater and brought a group of passengers. Both trains carried about 350 persons to the big barbecue and rodeo which marked Littlefield's first celebration. J. H. McHugh, who brought the first train into Littlefield, is still riding the local which comes through town each day.

Though the town was laid out in 1912, it was not incorporated until 1924. In 1923, the first Chamber of Commerce was organized with J. C. Whicker as president and Jess Mitchell who now lives in Muleshoe as secretary. It was under this administration that the town was incorporated. B. L. (Josh) Cogdill was first mayor and L. R. Crockett and J. M. Stokes were the first commissioners. All the citizens join in inviting everyone to attend the two-day Anniversary Celebration July 20 and 21.

Littlefield's First School

The first school in Littlefield ran for two months during the spring of 1913. It was operated on a subscription basis. Mr. Littlefield paid a part of the expenses and the parents of the pupils paid the rest. Miss Ola Page was the first teacher. During the spring term, she only had eight or ten pupils.

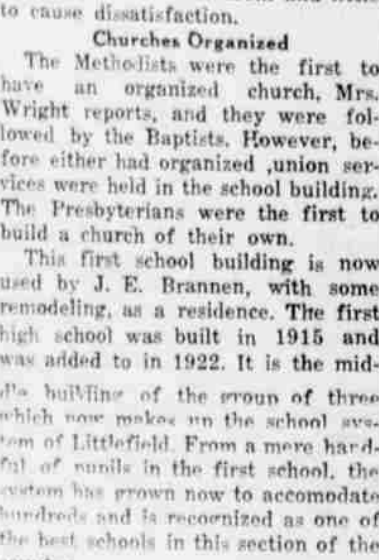

By the fall of 1913 and the spring of 1914, Littlefield had organized a

There were approximately 350 passengers aboard the two trains. Conductor J. H. McHugh, who now operates local train through Littlefield daily, was the conductor on the first train operated into Littlefield.

L. E. Bowman was the first Santa Fe Agent, serving for three years. Succeeding him was E. C. Cundiff, who is now operating a dairy here. Mr. Cundiff was succeeded in 1917 by H. C. (Clay) Pumphrey, present agent, who served as operator for 1-2 years. Mr. Pumphrey was then transferred to Lamesa, as agent, later to Sudan, and then to Southland, returning to Littlefield in 1920, and has been Santa Fe agent here since that time with the exception of a short time spent in Lamesa. Mr. Pumphrey is one of the most energetic and progressive citizens of Littlefield, and is known all over this section for the courteous and efficient manner in which he conducts his duties at the local depot.

To meet the needs of a growing district, the present high school was constructed and compares favorably with fine schools in any part of the country.

LITTLEFIELD'S FIRST CHRISTMAS WAS COMMUNITY AFFAIR

(Reprinted from 1930 Christmas Edition of The Lamb County Leader.)

"By C. J. Duggan
"I arrived in Littlefield on the afternoon of December 5, 1912. My brother, Arthur P. Duggan, drove the old Buick car, and I had the job of opening the 21 gates between here and Lubbock. The railroad was not built at the time, and there was only one residence in Littlefield. It was occupied by the late B. F. Smith and was located where Dr. W. H. Harris' home now stands. The first night I slept on the ground in a tent located about 75 feet west of the company farm house, which is now occupied by J. E. Eagan. The townsite and land office of two rooms was being built on the site now occupied by the M. System, at the southwest corner of Phelps avenue and Second street.

erection of the Littlefield Hotel.

There was only one windmill, it being located at the company farm, about 100 feet north of the tent where I slept was a one room shack with a tent adjoining, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Burge, and small daughter, Rebecca.

Community Christmas Dinner

There were five women in the entire community, and all agreed to put their dinners together for Christmas Day. The dinner, which consisted of turkey and all the trimmings, was served in the Burge shack. There were 22 present for this sumptuous meal including two babies and one old negro man. The only persons now living in Littlefield, who were present for this meal are Ben, Bob and Carl Smith, and their sisters, Mrs. Effie Wharton, Mrs. Laredo McKnight, and Mrs. Gladys James. Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Duggan were in Lubbock for the day.

After the meal we took kodak pictures, and a number of us went rabbit hunting through about six inches of snow. That evening the three Hensley brothers, who were working on the Littlefield Hotel, furnished violin guitar and banjo music in the tent, where we all gathered.

There have been many happy Christmas days spent in Littlefield since that time, but none could compare with that first Christmas.

A short time after I arrived in Littlefield a house which is now the two west rooms of the J. J. Eagan place, was moved to its present location from South Camp, 18 miles distant, making a second house for Littlefield. It was later occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Duggan and family.

The first church services was held in this house. The sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. Wagner, Methodist Pastor of near Redland, N. M. The first Sunday School was organized and held in the land office, and church was also held there for some time. The first public school was conducted in what is now J. E. Brannen's residence. The first baby to be born in Littlefield was Ina Belle Wharton, daughter of Mrs. Effie Wharton.

The townsite of Littlefield, part of the LFD Ranch of 300,000 acres, was named after the owner, George W. Littlefield. The closest house to Littlefield at that time was the two-room unpainted box house known as East Camp, located near where the concrete silos are situated now, about 5 miles southwest of town. Mr. and Mrs. Sid Clark and baby, Roscoe, now living in Lubbock, occupied this house and they participated in Littlefield's first Christmas dinner.

This house has since been moved.

and is now occupied by C. O. Koeberts. The closest farm was J. Frank Norfleet's, about seventeen miles east of town.

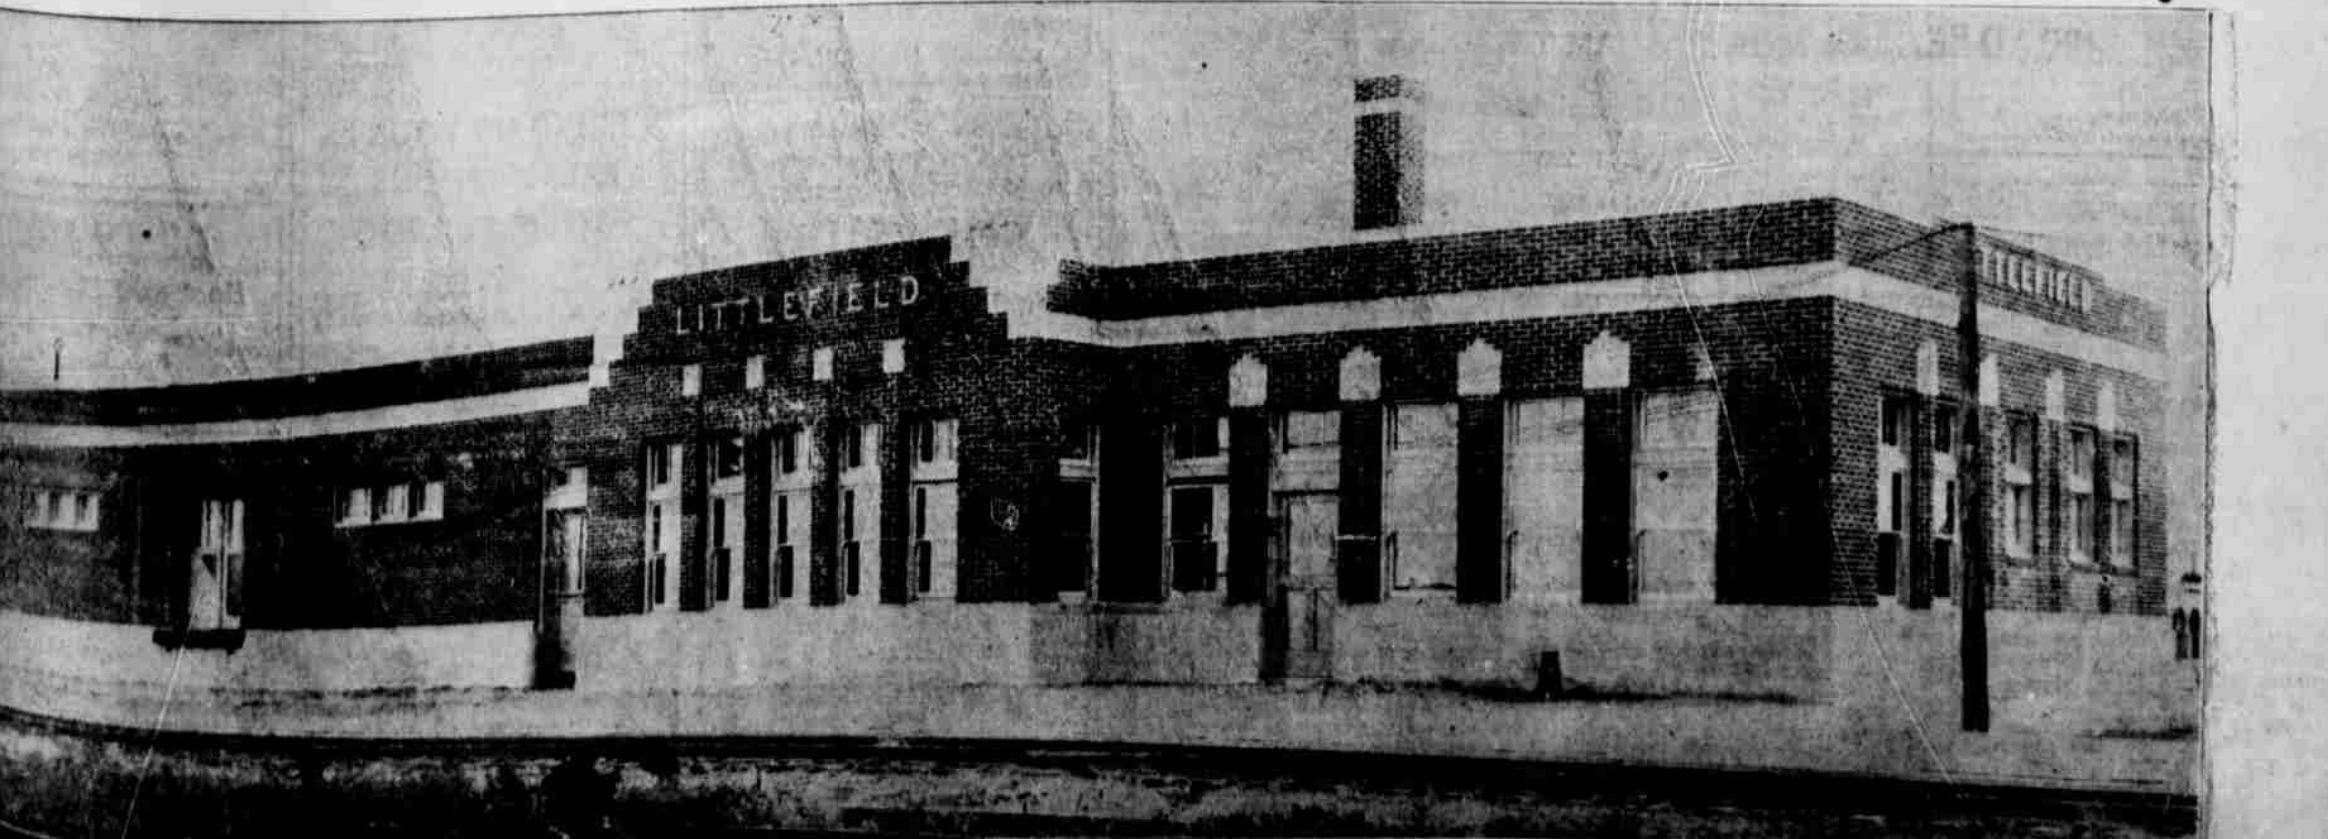

I served as postmaster for five years until I resigned and entered the service during the World War. Mrs. V. V. White (now Mrs. T. P. Wright) served as the first assistant postmistress. The first mail sack was brought in by horse team from Bartonville, about 25 miles due east of Littlefield, the carrier being paid for his services by public subscription. I was a "first class postmaster in a fourth class office" my friends said.

This postoffice which was the only one between here and Lubbock served a tremendous ranch country, easily forty miles southwest and that far northwest of Littlefield."

PAT BOONE

Mr. Boone is one of the present city commissioners and has served several terms in that capacity.

Littlefield's modern railway station constructed in 1931 is a long step forward from the time the first train came into town July 4, 1913 for the formal opening of the town.

Currency Expansion For Nation Looms

WASHINGTON, July 18, (Special). — Administration officials believe the new silver purchase plan will cause a currency expansion of at least $940,500,000, with corresponding increases in commodity prices, by the end of the year.

This was disclosed recently after Representative Dies (D-Tex.) co-author of the plan, announced the treasury already had bought around 70,000,000 ounces of silver. The exact amount he said, could not be ascertained positively because the metal was being purchased on markets all over the world, and the treasury tabulations were not up to the minute.

Average Price Paid
It was reported elsewhere that the average price paid for the silver already purchased was 44 cents an ounce.

The law now requires the treasury to buy silver until that metal constitutes 25 per cent of its monetary reserve. Against all silver purchases the treasury must issue certificates based on the price paid for the metal.

Dies said the treasury estimated it would have to buy 1,254,000,000 ounces of silver to comply with the new law.

Two Billion Ounces
"Counting the silver now owned by the government, this will give us about 2,000,000,000 ounces of silver," he said. "Under my bill, the treasury can issue $2,058,000,000 of new silver certificates based on the silver we must acquire."

Home Demonstration Notes

By Bernice Westbrook, C. H. D. A.
"We turn water in our tile only once per week this dry weather and it keeps them moist," says Mrs. R. L. Drake, farm food supply demonstrator of the Center Club. Mrs. Drake has tomatoes over her tile and they are doing fine. In order to get the tile on a level it was laid diagonally across the garden. The rows having been already laid off will not be changed until another year, but the plant over the tile make a line across the garden. She will be glad to have you visit this demonstration. Mrs. Drake has been filling her canning budget. She has canned 8 pts. of English peas, 6 pts. beets, and 50 qts. of plums. She is planning to can more plums and plenty of peaches and grapes from her orchard. Tomatoes are thriving beautifully over the 240 feet of tile laid for sub-irrigation in the garden of Mr. and Mrs. John Lance, near Amherst. Mrs. Lance states that they are well pleased with the results. "They are just fine but that is all I do have in my garden for everything else is dried up," replied Mrs. Baker, farm food supply demonstrator of the Westbrook Club, when asked how the plants over her tile were doing. "I have a good garden," says Mrs. S. L. Davis, farm food supply cooperator of the Westbrook Club. She has begun filling her canning budget by saving everything that ripens in her garden and orchard. 2 qts. black berries, 6 qts. cherries and 25 qts. plums is a good start toward filling her canned fruit budget. You don't need to go out of town for your office supplies; come by the Leader office.

PALACE CONFECTIONERY INSTALLS NEW MODERN ICE CREAM MIXER AND FREEZER

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Thedford of the Palace Confectionery have just installed an up to date ice cream freezer and hardening cabinet and now make their own ice cream instead of having it shipped in. The machinery is exactly like that used by big icecream plants but adapted to a smaller business. It makes the same quality ice cream, freezes it just as hard, and assures absolutely fresh cream all the time. The machine is a three-gallon power mixer and freezer with a hardening and storage cabinet holding fifty gallons of cream. The capacity is approximately 20 gallons per hour, Mr. Thedford said. By mixing his own cream, Mr. Thedford states that he can offer a wider variety of flavors than he would ordinarily keep otherwise and can be assured of a constant supply. He uses only pure ingredients of specified quality and the whole operation is conducted in a thoroughly sanitary manner. Mr. and Mrs. Thedford invite everyone to come in for some of their new cream and also to take advantage of the special offer they are making this week. The Leader gives you complete news of the entire Littlefield territory with up to the minute new pictures and special features.

MASS MEETING TO BE HELD MONDAY NEXT

All Farmers are Urged to Attend Whether or Not Contract Signers
A Mass Meeting of all Farmers is called for Monday afternoon, July 23 at 2:30 o'clock. The meeting will be held at Palace Theatre and all farmers are urged to be present. It matters not whether you are a contract signer or not. It will be to your interest to be there. D. A. Adams county agent will address the meeting and all who want Tax-Free Exemption Tags for their cotton or have any surplus cattle to sell to the government under the Emergency Drouth program should be on hand then and the details of the Bankhead Cotton bill and the Emergency Drouth Relief measure will be explained and put into operation. It will be a real educational meeting, something different from what farmers are used to in the past. Our Leaders of the New Deal feel that the Farmers know and understand the many good features of these measures, they cannot but feel they are for our good, and it is our duty to support them. Do not fail to attend this meeting as this is the last of a series of educational meetings being held over the country. Remember the date, Monday 2:30 P. m. July 23rd. at Littlefield. He Has A Long and Creditable Record of Service In Behalf of Lamb County and West Texas

SENATOR ARTHUR P. DUGGAN Candidate for Congress, 19th Congressional District

In asking your support of his candidacy for Congress, Senator Arthur P. Duggan presents for your consideration his record of service, and asks that you let merit determine your action. Mr. Duggan is a West Texan. He was born and reared in this section, and has the interests of the people of West Texas at heart. Always he has been active in securing better conditions and fairer deals for the citizens of this section. While active in all matters in the best interest of this territory, Senator Duggan has been particularly active and interested in educational matters, and in doing those things which are in the best interests of the homes of this section. He served for 18 years as president of the Littlefield School Board. Mr. Duggan arranged the first refinancing of the Littlefield school bonds, which was affected while he was president of the Board. Senator Duggan appeared before the State Board of Education at their Lubbock meeting, at the request of J. W. James, who succeeded him as president of the board, and represented the school board in the second refinancing of school bonds. Examples of Mr. Duggan's active interest in school matters are the sponsoring in the Senate of an emergency appropriation for schools, and the rewriting of the Rural Aid Law, which resulted in increased aid for the schools of this section. Early in 1933 the schools all over the State were in a desperate financial condition. One of his first acts as a member of the Senate Finance Committee was to sponsor Senate Bill No. 242 making an emergency appropriation to the schools of $1,620,041. Of that amount $131,536 came to the schools in the 30th Senatorial District, the schools of Lamb County receiving $17,713, and additional saving to the taxpayers. Page 37, Bulletin No. 314, State Department of Education, 1933, shows that the total State Aid granted Lamb County was $12,877, not including the per capita. For 1934, under the Rural Aid Law passed by the 43rd Legislature, for which Senator Duggan worked diligently, the schools of Lamb County have been granted $39,400, exclusive of the per capita. Other West Texas counties have fared similarly. This big increase of $26,523, a saving to taxpayers of Lamb County of that amount, was made possible because this district had a Senator on the job personally interested and working. Higher Farm Land Appraisals An example of Mr. Duggan's interest in the homes of this section is contained in his efforts to obtain higher land appraisals on the farms of this section. A year ago practically all applications for Federal Land Bank Loans were being turned down. In July, 1933, Senator Duggan went to Washington, D. C., and asked the head officials of The Federal Land Bank for better appraisals and "normal values" for our West Texas lands. Approximately 728 loans have been made by the Local Farm Loan Association since June 1, 1933, amounting to about $1,654,750. Not only have the farmers been able to refinance their land loans, but delinquent taxes have been paid, helping the State, Counties, and Schools. Through the obtaining of higher land appraisals, one third of the farms of this section have been saved. Federal farm loans granted as a result of the higher land appraisals also are, in large measure responsible for the improved financial condition of the Littlefield schools, as delinquent taxes were paid. These, and many more examples, establish the fact that Mr. Duggan is a man who is on the job for the people, a man who understands the needs of this section, and a man who is willing to work zealously in the interests of this section. Senator Duggan asks your vote and influence solely on his record of service. Senator Duggan understands and knows the needs of Lamb County and West Texas. It is to the advantage of this section to send him to Congress. Vote for your County and West Texas next Saturday. Send Senator Duggan to Congress. (Paid Political Advertising)

The Dollar Bride

THE STORY SO FAR
 Nancy Gordon trades herself in for a thousand dollars—to save herself from the disgrace of her father's theft of that amount of money. Nancy loves penniless Page Roemer, and Richard is a young woman, a sophisticated, young married woman, King-hedon, Helena's husband, sees her, but holds his counsel. At the ceremony, Nancy returns to her parents' home and continues to Page, who urges her to divorce her husband. Mr. Gordon, to release her from what he considers a disgraceful marriage, sells his house and moves to the city. He rents the house to Major Lomax, who rents it to the original owner, Helena is of Richard's interest in Nancy and she knows nothing of the sale, and tries to make trouble. Page comes to Nancy's home and tells her, Nancy is frantic and loves Page but refuses to let her bargain with Richard's money.
 Go On With The Story
 He stood still; a shock of it shook him out of his preconceptions. He was not a vain man, but he had never misunderstood her or her manner. He drew her hands into his. He sat down.
 "Heaven's sake, Helena, don't do that," he said. "Command yourself. It's all indeed."
 He caught the note in his voice and laughed suddenly and wildly. "Better die," she said. "Why do you say so, Richard?"
 He looked darkly, still holding her. "Helena, I'm King's friend, his son; he trusts me. In God's name, what can I say? It can't be as that," he groaned. He could not tell her now that he and Nancy were married, not until Nancy gave her consent.
 Helena felt the chill of his eyes more bitterly than his words.

words. She rose slowly to her feet, looking at him a little wildly.
 "Go and tell her!" she panted furiously. "Go and tell her I came to you for help and you froze me stiff!"
 "Helena!" he cried, aghast.
 But she continued to laugh wildly, hysterically. Then suddenly she straightened herself.
 "I'm crazy, Richard. It's the chloral—forget what I've said, forgive me—" She caught his hand and pressed her hot cheek against it. "Forgive an unhappy woman—who is your friend!" she cried, and made her way unsteadily past him to the door.
 He turned conscience-stricken, and sprang to help her. "Helena, let me go with you. I—"
 But she waved him back, evaded his outstretched hand and went out alone, shaken from head to foot with an emotion that seemed to tear at her very heart. She hated Nancy. She blamed it on Nancy. But for Nancy she would have had his love to heal the cruel wound she had inflicted on her own heart.
 Bravely Nancy neared her own home. But she got no farther than the back door when all the misery—physical and mental—came to a climax. She crumpled up against the door-post.
 "Mandy!" she cried faintly.
 "I declare 'ter goodness!" The colored woman strong and broad-shouldered as a man, stopped and picked the girl up. "Dere—yo' keep still, honey; yo' ain't gwine-ter walk any more now." Amanda bore her into the library and laid her down on the lounge.
 "Yo' wait, Miss Nancy; I reckon I can fix yo' up as good as a doctor!" Nancy, cuddling down in the old pillows with her first feeling of relief, smiled. "It's been done already, Mandy; Dr. Morgan's bandaged it."
 Mr. Gordon had just come from the bank, his day's work done, and he had some papers in his hand. He had in fact, succeeded in selling out some old shares in a copper mine. He would be able to pay Richard Morgan another five hundred. He was half way to the center-table before he discovered her, and he stopped short, looking at her over the top of his spectacles.
 "Hello Nancy! Got a headache?"
 "I hurt my ankle—twisted it—that's all, Papa."
 He came across the room and stood looking down at her kindly.
 "Which ankle? Whereabouts did you twist it, child?"
 Nancy blushed. "Richard bandaged it. I hurt it in the field as I left Angie Fuller's. He saw me fall, and"—she drew a quick breath—"he's bound it up."
 Her father eyed her shrewdly. In the field? Nancy, you were running away from Morgan?"
 Her eyes fell under his, and she winced miserably. He sat down in an arm-chair beside her and sighed heavily.
 "Child," he said gently, "don't you want a divorce?"
 He felt her start of amazement and fancied it was one of relief. She did not look up; she seemed to be considering his question.
 "How can I get one papa?"—her voice sounded smothered—"without telling people I'm married?"
 "You might—there'd be some talk of course. I put it up to Laverick the other day. He pointed out that it was not a marriage in fact; there was a possibility of annulment. He said it might be suppressed a good deal if Richard—if the man would agree to keep his mouth shut, too."
 Nancy stirred sharply, averting her face. She remembered Richard's cry "I swear it, I won't give you up!"
 She drew herself up on the couch, clasping her arms about her knees; a huddled figure. "I sha'n't ask for a divorce—I did it myself, Papa, and I've got to stand it."

He turned and looked at her, and she saw the tears in his eyes.
 "Good for you, Nancy!" he said, and put his shaking hand on her bright head.
 He was holding her silently when the telephone bell rang sharply. Nancy started violently. Even Mr. Gordon looked startled, but he rose heavily, crossed the room and took up the receiver. His daughter saw his whole figure stiffen.
 "No sir, she's not at home to you!" he said sharply. "Yes, Mr. Gordon speaking. My daughter's not going to answer you. Good day! and he hung up.
 Then he turned and stared at Nancy, his face utterly transformed. The emotion of a few moments ago was lost in the wrath of his discovery.
 "You're flirting with that Roemer boy still! He's been at the phone—thought I was out! Nancy, I'm ashamed of you."
 She said nothing, still huddled on the lounge, her knees cradled in her arms.
 "You said you wouldn't get a divorce, didn't you?" he went on with rising anger. What d'you mean? You can't play fast and loose with two men. I—good, Lord girl, where's your mother? She's got to teach you sense—d'you hear? I won't have two men about. I'll—by the Lord Harry I'll shoot 'em both if you don't stop! D'ye hear me?"
 Nancy winced again, but this time not from the pain in her ankle. "I hear you, Papa."
 These were better days, too, for Page Roemer. He had been sure of Nancy Virginia. Then suddenly, out of a clear sky, the bolt fell.
 She had married Morgan against her will, she had married him secretly, and she refused to confess her motives.
 He walked the floor at night, his nails biting deep into the palms of his hands. Out of these vigils of agony he emerged haggard but determined. Morgan shouldn't have her! He would take her away from him now by main force.
 Love and Hate contended for his soul, and the love that he made his god was more dangerous to poor Nancy than hate.
 But she did not know it. Stinging from her father's denunciations, shrinking from her mother's reproachful eyes, uncheered even by letters from Roddy, home was intolerable to Nancy. As soon as the hurt ankle let her walk without wincing she went out again, and she met Page. He was always lying in wait for her in his hours of leisure.
 Not even Angie Fuller, who had taken a sudden unaccountable dislike to him, could prevent those encounters. One day, when the two girls were down in the river meadow, Page had joined them. The two were so intent on each other that the girl left them, a little hurt and angry.
 A storm was gathering, too, behind the hills. Angie saw it. She shook her head and went into the house, aware that her own heart was sinking. She had had no word of any kind from Roddy.
 Nancy and Page walked steadily out on the old river road. There was a pungent fragrance in the very air. Nancy drew a long breath. "How peaceful it is out here! What a beautiful world Page."
 He did not answer. Hate, that was working in his heart against Richard was suddenly swept aside by love. She looked so beautiful today.
 They had walked a long way now and suddenly she realized it. She hesitated, looking about her.
 "Where are we going, Page?"
 "We're going to the end of the rainbow, Nancy."
 She laughed faintly, startled, looking at him now, her eyes wide with surprise.
 "We sha'n't find a treasure there," she said sadly; "it looks like a storm. We'd better turn back."
 He caught her hand and held it fiercely.
 "Nancy, will you come on with me, or will you turn back to him?"
 She stood still, and, instead of blushing, she turned white and her lips tightened.
 "Don't ask me," she said faintly. "Don't talk of it now—I was happy here. Let me be happy for a little while, Page. I've been—so miserable."
 They walked on silently. Nancy was trying not to think. She drew long breaths of the fresh sweet wind that

Introducing the JUNE BRIDE

Married just one month... honeymoon is over... budgets begin... and hubby's theme song is, "We gotta watch our pennies." So let's listen in as Bob tells Mary, in six easy lessons, how to save money when buying gasoline and oil:

LISTEN, MARY—PHILLIPS IS ONE OF THE BIGGEST COMPANIES IN THE BUSINESS. WHY THEY ARE THE WORLD'S LARGEST PRODUCER OF NATURAL HIGH TEST GASOLINE

GRAVITY (OR HIGH TEST RATING) 60.5 TO 65.1

LOOK HOW THEY PRINT THE OFFICIAL HIGH TEST FIGURES OF PHILLIPS 66 EVERY MONTH. NO SPREAD-EAGLE WORDS, PLAIN FACTS. WONDER WHY OTHER COMPANIES DON'T PRINT THEIR GRAVITY FIGURES!

AND WHAT MILEAGE! THIS PHILLIPS 66 IS A GREAT GAS ALL YEAR ROUND. NOT JUST SUMMER OR WINTER. BUT MORE MILES TO THE GALLON EVERY MONTH IN THE YEAR. CONTROLLED VOLATILITY DOES IT. SOUNDS KIND OF TECHNICAL, BUT IT SURE WORKS WONDERS

NOW FOR ANTI-KNOCK QUALITY, ONE SURE WAY OF KNOWING IS TO LOOK FOR THIS PLATE ON THE PUMP. IT'S REQUIRED BY LAW IF THE GASOLINE CONTAINS LEAD TETRATHYL—AND THAT'S THE FINEST ANTI-KNOCK FLUID DISCOVERED UP TO NOW

BUT DARLING DOESN'T SUCH A WONDERFUL GASOLINE COST MORE MONEY? ISN'T IT 2¢ EXTRA A GALLON?

THAT'S THE BEST PART OF IT PHILLIPS 66 DOESN'T COST A SINGLE CENT MORE THAN ORDINARY GASOLINE

AND DON'T FORGET, ALWAYS GET PHILLIPS 66 MOTOR OIL THE SAME PLACE YOU GET GAS. IT IS JUST RIGHT FOR OUR KIND OF HIGH SPEED MOTOR. IT'S A GREAT OIL AND VERY ECONOMICAL

Phill-up with Phillips for GREATER MILEAGE

had risen suddenly. As suddenly the sun had gone out and a purple-black cloud was rolling up on them. It had an effect at once glorious and terrifying, for it was torn with jagged flashes of lightning, and the edge of it curled like the froth of the sea.
 Nancy loved it; it had no terrors for her, the very fury of it helped her lift up her soul. Then a rush of wind came, torn leaves whipped about them, the rain began to fall in great drops.
 "Come—we'll have to go into the inn over there," he said briskly, "you'll get wet, Nancy."
 Nancy yielded to his guidance and ran across the lane into the old tavern that had been made into a road-house for the convenience of summer motorists.
 The inn dining-room was long and barren, with here and there a group of small tables. As yet there were but few summer visitors. Only a few people were in the room, driven in by the coming storm.
 "You'll take something, Nancy, just for form's sake? People notice—there's Hailon over there. His wife, too! The storm must have driven them in, too. He's been down to his racing stables I reckon. They're always quarreling, poor fools, I wonder they're together."
 Their alcove isolated them. Page put his hand out suddenly and laid it over hers.
 "Such a Good Laxative," Says Nurse
 Writing from her home in Festus, Mo., Mrs. Anna LaPlante says: "I am a practical nurse and I recommend to some of my patients that they take Black-Draught, for it is such a good laxative. I took it for constipation, headache and a dull feeling that I had so much. A few doses of Black-Draught—and I felt just fine."
 Because so many people know from having used it that Theodor's Black-Draught is a good, purely vegetable laxative, millions of packages of it are sold every year.

"Nancy, are you going to endure it? You're wretched, I see it! Break with him now—right off—before it is too late."
 "Too late? What do you mean, Page?"
 "I know what to do. Trust me, Nancy, let me—set you free!"
 "Free?" she sighed. "Oh Page, if I only could be free, as I used to be!"
 "You can be—you shall be!" he said in a choked voice. "Nancy, I adore you—I won't give you up, I swear it, he sha'n't have you."
 She did not look at him now. "He won't let me get it," she said faintly "he won't give me up."
 "You can make him give you up," he said in a voice of smothered passion.
 She shivered, shaking her head. "I can't see how—he's like granite, Page I can't make him yield."
 "You can."
 The girl lifted her head and looked at him questioningly.
 "Come to me," said Page thickly passionately. "I love you—you love me. Come to me, Nancy, we can go away from it all together. He'll know it's useless then. He'll get a divorce."

She stared at him innocently, bewildered.
 "What do you mean, Page?"
 He bent nearer, his face flushed, his eyes glowing, love triumphant and determined and unscrupulous, love without pity or remorse. He was sure of her now.
 "Come to me, I said," he panted. "come now—today—let us go away together. The world's a big place. He can't follow us. We love each other. We have a right to our love—he has robbed us. It's like life—love is life—we'll be together—and Morgan" he laughed wildly—"Morgan will get a divorce then!"

Portrays "Sadie McKee" in Stirring Drama Based on Vina Delmar's Novel Starting at Palace Saturday, Midnight

Joan Crawford plays one of the outstanding roles of her remarkable film career in the title roll of "Sadie McKee" new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film which opens Saturday Midnight at the Palace Theatre, continuing through Sunday afternoon and Monday. The story, adapted to the screen by John Meehan, is one of Vina Delmar's most popular novels. It ran serially in a national magazine before being published in book form and translated to the screen.

With Franchot Tone playing the dramatic male lead stimulation is automatically aroused. For the private life romance of these two famous lovers is thus reflected on the screen in a whirlwind drama. In "Sadie McKee", Tone for the first time in his triumph, according to critics, as the butler "Trump" in "The Green Bay Tree." Miss Dixon plays Opal, Joan's friend, and Carroll the "heavy" role of the butler.

Ether Ralston returns to the American screen more beautiful than ever in the role of Dolly, blonde vaudeville headliner and torch singer, after appearing in their British-made hit, "Rome Express."

Clarence Brown, who directed Miss Crawford in "Possessed" and "Letty Lynton," two of her biggest successes was at the megaphone in "Sadie McKee."

Adrain Designed Wardrobe

Adrain designed the breath-taking wardrobe which Joan, in the later sequences is given the opportunity to wear.

Franchot Tone and Joan Crawford in "Sadie McKee" three pictures with Miss Crawford "wins the girl" in the final sequence.

Two Other Leading Men

The producers of "Sadie McKee" billed the two other important roles with men known to every film goes, Gene Raymond and Edward Arnold.

Raymond won over 100 competitors the prized part of "Tommy" the crooner, who wins Joan's heart with songs accompanied by a ukulele and a charming smile.

It is the veteran actor Edward Arnold's distinction to enact the role of Brennan, dipsomaniac millionaire and Joan's husband for a time.

The New York stage offered two of its most beloved actors to the supporting cast. They are Jean Dixon and Leo G. Carroll. Miss Dixon is famous for her portrayal of dryly humorous parts in "Once In A Lifetime," "June Moon" and other major hits of the New York stage. Carroll scored this year's greatest theatrical Brown and Freed, ace songwriters contribute three hit tunes to the new picture, "All I Do Is Dream Of You," "Please Make Me Care" and "I Looked in Your Eyes." These songs, when released promise to become nationally popular overnight.

Gene Austin, popular crooner, and his "boys" provide musical entertainment for one of the most sensational night club scenes ever to reach the screen.

The story deals with a small town girl in love with an amateur crooner. They elope and rush off to New York where the crooner, a weakling, deserts her for a vaudeville singer. She fights her way through various stages and finally marries a dipsomaniac millionaire whose life she ultimately saves from excessive drinking. In the close of the picture she discovers that her love lies, not in these two men, but another, her childhood friend and onetime enemy.

LOCAL BOYS TRIM AMHERST IN 10 INNING CLASH, 21-20

The winning ways of the Littlefield boys almost failed to hold Sunday in the hardest fought game of the year when Amherst sought to avenge the defeat of the previous week.

A ten inning game ended with a 21-20 score, the whole tilt being a battle of hitters. Littlefield has been hitting heavy for the last five games, and Amherst managed to find the secret of Lumpkin's pitching Sunday and laid out plenty of good hits for themselves.

Hardy led the hitting with two home runs, a triple, a double, and a single. All the players found contact plenty of times during the game.

At the end of the eighth inning, the score was 14-10 for Littlefield. At the end of the first of the ninth, the score was 19-14 for Amherst. And at the end of the ninth, the score was 19-19.

As they went into the tenth inning, Aldridge and Lumpkin changed places at pitching and third. Goo of Amherst knocked a homer for their last count.

Lowe hit and got on bases. Aldridge hit to score him, again tying the score. Hanks hit and Edgar doubled to score Aldridge and Hanks. However, only one of the scores counted as it was an inning to break the tie.

The lineup for the game Sunday was: Hanks, catcher; Lumpkin, pitcher; Hardy, first; Lowe, second; Aldridge, third; Edgar, short.

Business Men Fall Before Onslaught Of Scholars 10-5

Friday afternoon the school faculty took the business men's club in tow to raise their averages and go into a tie with the Legion club for third place in the league standings. With one more game each to go and a chance for a four way tie for first place honors the All Stars, firemen, the School and the Legion are the likely four who are putting up a strong bid for the top berth at present.

The game proper played between the School and the skidding business men's club had plenty of pep and rivalry mixed with the usual routine of the game. Otha Key, starting chunker for the business conductors, lasted well until the 4th when he was shelved as all parts before the side was retired netting the school enough scores to cinch victory. Jordan who relieved him in the later innings fared much better and will soon be back to give all opposition food for thought when the last half gets underway. The business men will amend their ways, according to Captain C. O. Stone.

Interest from the sidelines has been very noticeable and with the teams in a near deadlock for first place it is to be expected that future play will be of the type to justify loyalty from the fans who have made possible good play and better entertainment. With the assurance of lights for the last half and a heavier schedule of games to be booked, will be further incentive to witness some of these snappy contests.

LOCAL CLUB TO PLAY TWO GAMES AT CELEBRATION

Littlefield's next baseball tilt will be Friday at the Tenth Anniversary Celebration when they meet the combined Circle Back — Sudan aggregation before an anticipated record crowd.

Saturday they will renew the duel with Amherst. With the other games scheduled for the Celebration the baseball program promises to be one of real interest and high competition. Some of the strongest teams on the plains will meet during the two-day affair.

As County Superintendent of School, F. O. Boles will give impartial service to all the schools of the county. (Adv.)

LEGION NOSES OUT FIREMEN BY 5-4 LEAD

Game Becomes A Battle Of Hitters As Score Mounts

With keen competition prevailing and friendly antagonism galore the firemen and Legionaires battled for seven close rounds to determine who is to climb up the ladder in the league standings. With the game going scoreless in the third frame only to find the count knotted in the fourth when Bob Cox and company registered a score. Again in the 5th the Legion found the key to another tally and held this lead until the sixth when the firemen cut loose and counted three times with Lefty Dyer, Alph Wright and Jim Roles wielding some heavy blows into the cars in left field to help their cause immensely. With the Army toppers scoring a tally in the 6th and two more in the seventh with one out, these runs being due to some fast bat work from the willow of Fly Thornton, outfielder deluxe, and Ben Purcher who has been filling the left short stop for the veterans in a very pleasing manner. These boys spelled defeat for the fire crew.

The pitching assignment was filled by T. W. Potter with Otis Scott in his usual role for the firefighters as the enemy chunker. Both fingers pitched creditable ball.

Junior Soft Ball Getting Under Way

The Junior soft ball league has got under way in fine form and have been playing several games the past few days.

With three teams in the league at present, interest is running high and already plans have been made to add more teams to the group.

Rev. Joe Grizzle has been umpiring most of the matches and working with the other leaders in getting the boys lined up.

League standings up to date is:

Cubs	1	3	250
Acers	1	3	250

Business Men Fail To Cop From All Stars

With a Revamped Lineup and hopes of victory over the league-leading All Stars the Business Men found this force a bit inferior to establish the strong going All Stars, who not only won their game with apparent ease after the third inning but cinched honors for the first half of league play by taking this contest.

For the first three innings the game had all the pep and the earmarks of a championship affair. But when the side was retired the score stood at 4 to 2 this being sufficient to settle the argument so far as the title was concerned.

Captain Jim Davenport did the harrying for his winners while Happy Jordan and Jimmie Britain tried in vain to hold the bat wielders in check. Errors committed at critical stages cut the businessmen's game and broke down their fighting spirit as the game progressed.

Coblighty hit for the circuit with two men ahead in the third to put his mates ahead and give them a commanding lead never to be equaled.

Oilers Smooth It Over School Team 11-10 Wednesday

Wednesday afternoon out on South Phelps Ave. the School Faculty's softball entry had as their match the UP-AND-DOING Oilers who have for some reason found the going slow until lately. Their playing of late has been outstanding and the least that can be said is that they are no easy mark from here on out.

The School Club piloted by Earl Hobbs, who by the way is the only member of the School Faculty who is here at present and plays the initial position for his club, is doing a fine job of holding his playing machine in the first division with so many of his original lineup gone for the summer. The game Wednesday was one that will long live in the memory of all who attended and real excitement prevailed for the full seven innings and into extra innings to decide the issue. It took five extra sessions to settle things with the Oilers showing the best fight and setting the pace each time for their opposition.

With the first half of the playing season ending July the 18th and but a few more games to decide the winner, the final six weeks of play gives promise of keener competition and a better brand of ball played in the first six weeks the assurance of a light possibility of two more added to the present already spell a heavier schedule final stretch of play.

Ball Tournament Is Suggested Littlefield

Baseball fans of Littlefield suggesting that Littlefield tournament the latter part of the Plains.

The haphazard playing the season has not been a reach any sort of a climaxing definite as to the various teams can be. With two day invitation in which all the teams part definite elimination series worked out.

Plans for such a fray cussed with the various announcements made later son.

F. O. Boles will approve vote for County Superior Schools.

Matching Progress With Progress

Across a wide open prairie where once the Buffalo and the Red Man roamed, now follow the plow and the builder. And homes have arisen and a civilization blossoms where only the grasses grew.

Out of this wild prairie land, I. C. Enochs bought 100 sections some 20 years ago, located in Bailey and Cochran counties. For a number of years this was used as a ranch and stocked with high grade cattle. But civilization continued its Westward movement.

In the fall of 1924, Mr. Enochs had the land surveyed into farm tracts, giving the Blalock Company of Littlefield the contract to sell the land, and continued the sale of same until January, 1927.

During the year 1925, only 1000 acres were put in cultivation, but hundreds of other farms were sold, and farmers from Texas, Oklahoma, and other states settled the new country.

During the year 1926, after numbers of farmers had settled on this land, it was necessary to build a gin, stores, and a blacksmith shop, and this was the beginning of the town of Enochs, located on the old Ozark Trail.

Seeing the need of a school in that part of the country, Mr. Enochs built and maintained a school there for a period of years until that section of the land was included in the Bula School district. Now that territory is served by a network of school buses and the school building at Enochs is now being used as a church.

In 1927, Mr. Enochs took over the sale of the land and operated from his office in Littlefield and also from his field office at Enochs, J. H. Lucas and G. P. Howell having charge of the sale of the land. Since that date, many more farms have been sold and settled with first class farmers and at this time, some 20,000 acres of this one time noted ranch are now in cultivation, improved and with farmers living on the land.

From September 1, 1933 until February 1934, 15,000 acres of Enochs land was sold on the crop payment plan with only small cash payment. These sales included all improved farms available, and much of the raw land.

All of the unimproved lands have, since the date of sale, been broken out, put in cultivation, and improvements made on same.

Mr. J. H. Lucas who now has charge of the Littlefield office of I. C. Enochs, has been with the company since 1925. In that year he joined with the Blalock Company in the selling of lands in this section. And in 1927 when Mr. Enochs took over the selling of the land, Mr. Lucas became office manager at Littlefield and has continued in the service up to the present.

Mr. Lucas has established for himself and his company a reputation for fair dealing with the many farmers and customers who have bought Enochs land and also in the handling and looking after other interests for the Company in and around Littlefield.

It is likely that Mr. Enochs will continue the sale of land on a similar plan to that of last year.

There are still a number of available tracts of choice farming land yet for sale. Inquiries regarding the land and plans of payment will receive prompt and courteous attention.

G. P. Howell, who lives at Enochs, began his connection with the company in 1926 when he bought a farm near Enochs and in the fall of that year when the Enochs gin was built, Mr. Howell became manager of the gin, and also farm manager, looking after the interests of Mr. Enochs and has continued in that service to the present time.

Mr. Howell is known as one of the best farmers in that section of the country, and also he devotes part of his time to the raising of registered hogs and high grade cattle.

WARDROBE DEMONSTRATOR'S REPORTS

Mrs. E. L. Yarbrough, Amherst, Class 1 of Blue Bonnet Club, who won first place in wardrobe demonstration, makes the following report:

"You don't think I intend to stop in front of any drug store with you looking like a wreck and Dorothy worse than a little Mexican," replied my husband as we were out for "a supposed-to-be" pleasure ride one Sunday afternoon.

About one-fourth mad and the rest broken hearted, I decided definitely to be a wardrobe demonstrator that afternoon on the way home.

Even though we were living through the depression years and I was trying to save and wear old clothes, my husband didn't appreciate me any the more. The real fact is, the clothes of my college days were beginning to lose their influence, for styles change and my old clothes were all too short.

Each time I was in public I could feel that feeling of inferiority due to improper dress. During the past eleven months, I have only spent for outer clothing $20.44, under clothing $10.27, dresses $18.45, headwear $1.69, footwear $15.67, accessories and cosmetics $3.00, a total of $62.38 but I have, I think, a well balanced wardrobe and have lost the inferior feeling. I never reply to my husband or my friends "I can't go for I haven't anything to wear," but now I say, "Let's go, I'm ready," for I know I have within my closet a dress for every occasion that I have an opportunity to go to.

To have a place for everything, and everything in its place has been my greatest help after laundering my clothes in the new power washing machine we purchased this year in order to put clothes in a good clean condition.

In order to get my husband really interested in a closet, I just piled my clothes, his clothes, bed linen, table linen and all in an old box we had for storage. Every time he wanted clean clothes the things in the box had to be turned over and over and we were lucky to find desired articles within thirty minutes. My husband has said it's worth $25 a month to get rid of my clothes in his box and for me to be ready to go anytime. It took lots of petting to get my husband interested but now he is almost as proud as I am of my closet. Another great help of my closet is that when company comes we can go all over the house without having to shun the junk room of old clothes.

I finally decided after many hours of thinking to build my storage space with a solid front in order to have all space useful. Therefore I decided to build a closet on the north solid side (excepting a door in the corner) the closet to have a solid door front.

My husband built a closet 7 1-2 x 8x28 1-2. The closet has two doors in center with space for hanging rod, hat space, hat racks, tie and belt rack shoe rack, hat boxes, and shoe shine box. Above the two doors in center is a space clear across the two doors across the top for quilts. On both sides are two compartments with three shelves each and at bottom of shelves are a bin on each side, one for dirty clothes and one for quilt scraps. The entire closet is finished, the outside varnished, and the inside paneled (excepting doors are varnished). I divided one of the lower shelves into compartments for purses, flashlight, hose, brassieres, handkerchiefs, slips and clothes brush. I have five hat racks, a shoe rack, hanging rod, a shoe shine box for storing polish in bottom and a stand the shape of a shoe too.

I have made bound button holes, have sewed for others. I have also held open house and shown and explained my closet and wardrobe as to the arrangement and how I made each piece of equipment.

My Kitchen aprons were almost as scarce as Mother Hubbard's Cupboard, so I purchased remnants at a very small cost and made 5, also made apron from an old pique coat that was too small. I made a blouse from a short silk dress that now looks like new in the form of blouse. I also made a short spring coat from a supposed-to-be long coat. The results were pleasing. I have rit all lingerie and they appear fresh and new. I have made three slips, nine dresses and five pair pajamas.

The total cost of my closet space is $7.12.

Small Supporters To Visit Every City In District

AMARILLO, July 18. — The "big push" in the final drive to secure an avalanche of votes, the greatest majority ever cast in the 31st Senatorial District for Clint C. Small was started by campaign workers of the Panhandle last week. An intensified campaign, designated to reach every nook and corner of the district is well under way.

Motor caravans of Small supporters will visit every city, town and village in this district before the election date of July 28. Small forces see for the Panhandle's gubernatorial candidate complete victory in the coming primaries if the "home folks" stay by their Senator this time.

The first of a series of motorcades went out from Amarillo last week, bearing a large number of Panhandle citizens, who are urging the election of Senator Small as Governor of Texas. They are spreading the news that the Panhandle needs only to signify its intention of staying with the home man this time as the other sections of the state are daily rallying to his support in large numbers.

In addition to the motor caravans scheduled to go out from here this week and next. It is announced that a prominent East Texan will be brought to the Panhandle within a few days and will be carried on a whirlwind speaking tour of Panhandle cities.

To Take Place On Laboratory Staff of Krepps

CANYON, Texas, July 18. — Robert Rowan of Canyon has conducted a Paint Farm for two years. As a result he left this week for Wilmington, Delaware where he will take a place on the laboratory staff of the Krepps Corporation, a part of the DuPont organization.

For several years a paint experiment has been conducted near Canyon by this company in an effort to find what kinds of paint are best suited to conditions of the Southwest. The experiment is under the local supervision of Dr. C. A. Pierle, head of the chemistry department of the West Texas State Teachers College. Here Rowan, a major in this department received the training which resulted in his offer of a position in the eastern plant of the paint concern. He was president of his class, and received the degree this year.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rowan and a member of one of the pioneer families of this section.

F. O. Boles is a friend and girls.

Bed Coverlet Is Made of Silk Handkerchiefs

CANYON, Texas, July 18. (Special to Leader). — A bed coverlet made of silk handkerchiefs has recently been loaned to the Panhandle Plains Historical Society to be on display for a short time.

The coverlet, made of silk handkerchiefs with a brocade-like finish, is 45 years old. The handkerchiefs were presented to Mrs. D. E. Keith on Christmas Day, 1889. They were a gift from all of the old Matador ranch. The cowboys knew Mrs. Keith would appreciate their gifts and on each handkerchief, the initials of the giver are embroidered. Upon the death of Mrs. Keith in 1922, the handkerchiefs went to her daughter, Miss Mary Keith of Matador, who made them into a bedspread.

Shown with the spread are pictures of Mrs. Keith and her husband and some of the cowboys who worked on the Matador Ranch long ago.

This interesting spread was brought to the Museum by Professor L. F. Sheffy, secretary of the Panhandle Plains Historical Society, who is spending the summer collecting manuscripts of the Plains country.

Another display of great interest is that of a case of guns which were presented to A. Dumont by the Thirtieth Texas Legislature in 1873. They were given as a token of respect for his bravery in one of the Indian battles of Southwest Texas. Mr. and Mrs. Dumont were residents of the Paducah country for many years. Mrs. Dumont came there in 1877 and was the first white woman to settle there.

Farm Purchasing Power Increases Twenty Five Percent

Farm purchasing power on the average throughout the United States has been 25 percent higher during the first nine months in which benefit payments have been distributed thru the provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act than in the corresponding period of the previous year.

This is the conclusion reached by L. H. Bean, economic advisor to the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, following a study of the prices farmers receive for their products, compared with the cost of commodities they buy. Cash income, including benefit payments, during this nine month period increased 38 percent but this increase was partially offset by an increase in the cost of commodities farmers buy.

Benefit payments on production adjustment contracts contributed nearly one-fifth of the net increase of 25 percent in purchasing power. For the first four months of 1934, the net increase in farm purchasing power was 28 percent over the first four months of 1933.

Mr. Bean's study also shows that the purchasing power of the farmer increased somewhat more than the purchasing power of the country as a whole during the first four months of 1934. During this period, the total national money income, including the distribution of emergency funds, was about 20 percent higher than in the corresponding period of 1933, but the cost of living for the country as a whole increased eight percent, leaving a net increase of 12 percent in the national purchasing power. The net increase in farm purchasing power was 28 percent for the same period.

Candidate For Re-Election

As

COUNTY JUDGE

Of Lamb County

In asking for re-election to the office of county judge of this county, I again wish to thank you people for your support in the past, and to assure you that I appreciate it.

I hope that you feel that my record will again gain your influence and support. It always has been, and is, my sincere desire to treat every community and citizen fairly and squarely.

I believe in building up, in improvement, and not in coming down; at the same time mindful that in all things public and private, we should not spend beyond our means.

I hope the day of good roads is not far off, and I wish to thank all citizens and officials who have worked to get this about in Lamb County.

I believe in right living, and in fairness toward all citizens, and to my country.

If you see fit to return me to office, I pledge you an honest, efficient administration.

Government To Buy Thousands of Head of Cattle

Plans for the purchasing of cattle by the federal government in its relief program was outlined Thursday at a meeting of more than 200 South Plains men, and it was announced that the work would probably begin at once.

It was estimated that between 50,000 and 100,000 head might be sold in this area.

The meeting was held in the district court room, Lubbock and was started soon after ten o'clock.

O. G. Tumlinson, district county agent and former agent of Lubbock county, presided and opened the meeting with a brief statement.

He then called upon G. W. Barnes, College Station animal husbandryman of the extension service and in charge of all cattle buying in the state. Dr. H. L. Darby, U. S. bureau of animal husbandry veterinarian at Fort Worth and C. B. Braun, assistant director of the Texas Relief commission also spoke. Each man outlined his part of the program.

NRA Sets Price On Cigarettes

NRA Thursday last fixed the prices of popular brand cigarettes at a minimum of 13 cents a package of 20 or two packages for a quarter.

Cartons will cost the smoker not less than $1.20. The twenty-for ten cents variety of cigarettes will continue to sell for ten cents. The price limitation begins July 16 and was set for a ninety-day period in two orders by Hugh S. Johnson, declaring "an emergency has arisen tending to defeat the purposes" of the recovery law.

The emergency named was the extensive use of cigarettes as "loss leaders" by large retailers and chain store distributors not primarily engaged in the retail tobacco trade. NRA said such stores were using cigarettes as "bait" for other business "a practice which has practically eliminated small enterprise from tobacco distribution."

In some instances, popular brands were said to have been selling for as low as two packages for 23 cents and from $1.08 to $1.15 a carton. During the 90-day period of the orders, NRA's research division will study operation of the price requirements.

Johnson's wholesale order said the total percentage added to the wholesaler's purchase price need in no case be greater than 3.1 per cent in the case of sales to retailers and 2.1 per cent in the case of sales to sub-jobbers.

The order relating to the retail tobacco code fixed the minimum price to the consumer at the manufacturer's list price plus 5 1-4 percent on cigarets for which the manufacturer charged less than $5 a thousand on cigarets for which the mark-up was fixed at 6 1-2 per cent. In multiple sales of less than a dollar a five per cent discount would be allowed; in multiple sales of more than a dollar an eight per cent discount would be proper.

The price to the every-day smoker would be figured like this:

The manufacturer's list price of the popular brands of cigarets is $6.10 a thousand adding the 6 1-2 per cent mark-up would mean $6.50 a thousand in round numbers or 13 cents for a package of 20. On this basis two packages would cost 26 cents. But the five per cent discount allowed on multiple sales below $1 takes off a cent and makes the price 25 cents for two. Likewise, the eight per cent discount allowed on multiple sales of more than $1 makes the price of a carton $1.20.

CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION

AS

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS OF LAMB COUNTY

It has been a pleasure to serve the people of this county as your school superintendent, which office I have filled to the best of my ability.

I have given my entire time to the duties of the office, and have worked conscientiously in the interests of Lamb County Schools.

My experience in school matters before election as County Superintendent coupled with the experience gained as your school superintendent, fits me, I believe, to serve you even more efficiently than in the past.

I am asking for re-election on the record of service rendered. I sincerely ask your support at the polls, July 28.

L. D. ROCHELLE

I AM NOT ASKING FOR RE-ELECTION . . .

I AM SEEKING A PROMOTION IN SERVICE TO OUR COUNTY

Under the New Laws of our State, the offices of Tax Assessor and Tax Collector have been abolished and a New Office created — that of Assessor and Collector of Taxes.

Therefore, in asking your support at the polls Saturday, July 28, for election to the New Office of Assessor and Collector of Taxes, I am not seeking re-election, but rather I am asking a promotion in the service of our county.

My four years of experience as your Tax Assessor has given me the knowledge and experience necessary, I believe, to carry out successfully the duties of the office which I seek.

The fact that a New Office has been created is established in a written opinion of the Attorney General's Department.

Excerpts from the opinion of the Attorney General's Department are quoted herewith:

"The amendments in question have the effect of creating a new office into which are merged the offices of Tax Assessor and Tax Collector."

"The effect of these amendments taken together was to abolish the offices of tax assessor and tax collector, and to create a new office, to wit, that of assessor and collector of taxes—"

"For reasons herein pointed out and in view of the fact that the effect of the amendment under consideration was to create a new office and to abolish two existing offices—"

Folks, in view of the above stated facts, that there is now a New Office in this county, one which has never existed in any county in the state of Texas before, I do not consider that I am asking for a third term of office, but that I am asking for promotion to a bigger and better office than that held by me for the past two terms.

I have tried at all times to serve the people of Lamb County in a Fair, Just Courteous and Efficient manner. If I have performed the duties of my office according to your expectations, then I ask you for your vote and support for election as Assessor and Collector of Taxes, and assure you that I will fulfill the duties of that office in an Efficient, Courteous and Economical manner.

INFORMATION IN REGARD TO FRAZIER-LEMKE AMENDMENT, FED. BANKRUPTCY ACT

J. C. Whicker, County Chairman of the Farm Debt Conciliation Committee of Lamb County, handed the following information for publication:

The passage of the Frazier-Lemke amendment to the Federal Bankruptcy Act is bringing many questions from farm-debt adjustment committees. After a careful study of conditions in many States and the provisions of the amendment to the Bankruptcy Act, the following comments to the committees seem important.

1. The passage of the amendment increases the importance of the county committees in securing equitable adjustments between debtors and creditors.

2. Most debtors will not want to make use of the provisions of the amendment until all other efforts at handling their debts on a voluntary basis have failed.

3. It should be clearly understood that the Frazier-Lemke amendment outlines the further procedure for handling cases brought to the conciliation commissioners when the method of settlement provided under Section 75 of the Bankruptcy Act of March 3, 1933, has failed. This section of the Act as it applies to farmers was discussed in News Notes, No. 5.

4. Many creditors have carried debtors along without making final decision as to how a case will be settled. The passage of the Frazier-Lemke amendment should have the effect of causing farmers with excessive debts and their creditors to arrive at necessary adjustments upon a friendly voluntary basis rather than resort to bankruptcy.

5. Many of our successful committees have closed from 60 to 80 per cent of the cases brought to them. Many of the remaining cases will be settled on a voluntary basis when the provisions of the Frazier-Lemke amendment are understood.

6. Farm-debt adjustment committees report that most of the creditors have taken a reasonable attitude in making adjustments. It is only an occasional unreasonable creditor who has been taking unfair advantage of distressed farm debtors for the purpose of selfish gain and who disregards the loss to the community and nation by dispossessing worthy farm families.

7. An analysis of the Frazier-Lemke amendment shows that it offers no protection to the debtor who is seeking, by sharp practice, to take advantage of his creditors. In the end he will find that he is left without an adequate basis of refinancing as far as the provisions of the Act are concerned.

8. Most debtors and creditors will prefer trying to secure a voluntary settlement with the assistance of county farm-debt adjustment committees before bringing a case before conciliation commissioners with the prospect of bankruptcy proceedings. 9. When a case is submitted to a conciliation commissioner and settlement is not secured under Section 75, the Frazier-Lemke amendment specifically states that a debtor may petition to become a bankrupt in order to obtain the help provided under the amendment.

10. It should be borne in mind that the amendment to Section 75 of the Bankruptcy Act under date of June 7, 1934, made the appointment of a conciliation commissioner in each county mandatory, which means that there should be available in every county, from this time on, a conciliation commissioner to whom the county farm-debt adjustment committees can refer any debtor or creditor for handling a case which they feel is beyond the help which they can render.

11. Since any settlements obtained through the help of local committees are purely voluntary on the part of both the debtor and creditor, there should be no reflection on the debtor in securing such settlement. Neither is it believed that there is on the basis of the provisions outlined in News Notes, No. 5, covering the original Section 75 of the Bankruptcy Act, applying to the settlement of farm debts. The Frazier-Lemke amendment definitely states that the debtor failing in securing a voluntary settlement after having his property appraised must petition to become a bankrupt in order to secure settlement as provided for under the amendment. There is, therefore, danger of a settlement under this amendment being a reflection upon the future credit standing of the debtor.

12. Under the provisions of the Frazier-Lemke amendment as later outlined, a debtor who attempts to settle his debt difficulties under the Act faces the possibility of delay through court action and a five-year period during which his final status as a debtor remains undetermined, that is, the amendment does not provide a permanent basis for refinancing his property.

13. The committees may rightly regard the Frazier-Lemke amendment as providing the element of force which they have felt was necessary in order to get the debtor and his creditors together in serious consideration of a voluntary adjustment of distressed debt cases. It seems desirable, therefore, from the standpoint of both debtors and creditors that settlement be secured without resorting to the use of the amendment.

14. There would seem to be every reason for a close working relationship between the county farm-debt adjustment committees and the conciliation commissioners. The majority of cases will be handled voluntarily between debtors and creditors with-no outside help, or with the help of the county farm-debt adjustment committees. Only occasional cases will need to be handled as bankruptcy cases.

15. If many debtors in a given county resorted to bankruptcy, it probably would prove to be a reflection on the credit risk of that community for many years.

16. If bankruptcy is resorted to by a debtor, the operation of a farm under the direction of the court for a five year period is not apt to prove satisfactory from the standpoint of maintaining the farm improvements or of carrying on a desirable system of farming.

Digest of the Frazier-Lemke Bill The Bill approved June 28, 1934, commonly known as the Frazier-Lemke Amendment is designed to permit a farmer who is unable to meet his debts as they mature and is unable to secure a settlement with his creditors, to take certain steps as a means of composing his debts, and to remain in possession of his property for a limited period, under the control of the court, while doing so.

The law is an amendment to the Act of July 1, 1898, entitled "An Act to establish a uniform system of bankruptcy throughout the United States," and supplements earlier amendments thereto of March 3, 1933, and June 7, 1934. Under the provision of section 75 as added by the Act of March 3, 1933, a farmer who is unable to meet his debts as they mature may at any time prior to March 3, 1938, file with the Federal court a petition stating that he is insolvent or unable to pay his debts as they mature, and that it is desirable to effect an extension or composition of his debts. Before his proposal could be approved by the court, it was necessary for him to get its acceptance by a majority (in both number and amount) of his creditors. Prior to the Frazier-Lemke amendment, the law provided no definite solution if the majority of the farmers' creditors in both number and amount, failed to accept a composition or extension as proposed through the conciliation commissioner.

Under the Frazier-Lemke Amendment to the bankruptcy act, a farmer who has made such a proposal to secure a composition or extension of his debts, but has failed to get the requisite acceptance by his creditors, or feels himself aggrieved by the proposal of the court that he be adjudged a bankrupt; that his property be appraised; that his exemptions under state law be set aside (subject to any liens thereon, to the extent of the appraised value of exempted property), and that he be allowed to retain possession of all or any part of the remainder, either by (1) paying its appraised fair value under the liberal terms of a six-year purchase agreement, provided the holders of the liens on the property consent, or (2), if the secured creditors make written objections to that arrangement, by paying a fair annual rental during a period of five years, with the right to purchase the property at any time during that period by payment of the full appraised price of the reappraised price determined as the result of a reappraisal made at the request of the lienholder, whichever sum is the greater.

The Frazier-Lemke amendment thus provides two means of settlement; but under either arrangement the debtor may remain in possession of all or any part of his property during the period of settlement, under the control of the court.

Under the first means of settlement the trustee, at the request of the debtor and with the consent of the lienholder, agrees to sell to the debtor or any part, parcel or all of the remainder of the bankrupt estate at the appraised value. The purchaser is required to make full payment of the appraised purchase price over a period of six years. During this period, he must pay interest annually on the then unpaid balances of the appraised price at the rate of 1 per cent per annum. Within two years from the date of the agreement he must pay 2 1-2 per cent on the appraised price; within three years, 2 1-2 per cent more; within four years, an additional 5 per cent; within five years, an additional 5 per cent; and within six years, all of the balance of the appraised price. All taxes to be paid by the debtor. The proceeds of the sale of the property of the appraised price and to the trustee of the sale of the property, as their several interests may appear, according to the provisions of the law. Since the law provided all proceeds on the property shall "remain in force and effect" for the benefit of the creditors. Continued on back page.

I had to Tie Him up Boss to Keep him off the Hook A state game warden in the southern part of the state happened to be passing a lake during the time that it was out of season for bass fishing. Off shore in a boat fishing sat a negro. The game warden accosted Sambo with the query of if he did not know fishing was out of season, Sambo replied that "I'se just catching sun perch boss." A big commotion suddenly occurred in the rear of the boat and the warden had Sambo row into shore. There tied to the stern was a large bass. Upon further questioning it came out that, according to the negro's story, "the fish just kept swimming around "boss" trying to get on my hook and I had to tie him up to keep from catching him. 'Windy Kansas has a few that would do for Ripley' Some years ago when the writer's father was a comparatively young man a cyclone came up during the nite. He being asleep (in a bed) and the breeze was so strong that it picked the house off the foundation, the bed sailing out the window and carried man and all for about two miles where it was set down softly to earth and no injuries were incurred outside of a good scare.

During this same storm straws were driven several inches into the trunks of trees. An old rooster was found with his head in the neck of a jug (must have been some moonshiners around in that vicinity) alive and seemingly none the worse for wear after the jug was broken and he was released. Now its your turn to tell one.

Recommends Cut In Oil Production

AUSTIN, July 18. (Special). — Indications that the Texas Railroad Commission might make a substantial cut in the overgrown allowable of the East Texas field, but would be reluctant to apportion this cut out in increases for other areas, was seen by observers in the statewide proration hearing here recently.

The indication of a cut in East Texas came from the recommendation of the commission's own chief engineer, Gordon Griffin, whom the commission placed on the stand, and who was the only witness for East Texas.

Griffin recommended 400,000 barrels as the allowable which experience indicated was the most efficient production rate of the field. He indicated that he would bring this about by cutting the well allowable from the present 5 per cent of hourly flow allowed each well for a day's production, to 4 per cent. The total legal production permitted in the field has grown in recent months from about 400,000 barrels to well over half a million through allowances to successive new wells.

Griffin testified that in the last month the bottom hole pressure in East Texas has dropped 18 pounds, and contrasted that with the experience some time ago when lower outlets resulted in building up pressure.

Candidate For County Treasurer

In my campaign for County Treasurer, I have told you people that I am qualified to fill the office and that I am not afraid to work. I still say the same things and sincerely ask your support and influence in the coming primary.

If you see fit to put me in office, I pledge you an honest, efficient, impartial administration. Give me a chance to prove my statements.

Mrs. W. P. McDaniel

Candidate For COMMISSIONER Precinct No. 4

If I am returned to office as commissioner of Precinct No. 4, I will continue to be as active in serving my precinct and county as I have been in the past.

I feel that there is much to be accomplished in the interests of our precinct, particularly in the matter of projects which will give employment. There is no matter of greater importance to our county than keeping our citizens employed.

I have been active in all steps in the interests of aid for the needy and employment for our people. And I feel that such experience is important in doing those things which must be carried out in the future.

I sincerely urge your vote and influence in the coming election.

Ellis Foust

THE FIRST TEN YEARS

Anniversaries of cities are of more than passing interest in that civic development is unable to stand still.

In a survey of civic growth it appears to be of far less importance to review what has been accomplished in the past as to determine what may reasonably be done in the future. We have all heard the fisherman's story that "the big one got away."

In ten years Littlefield has grown substantially and is doubtless now a more substantial city than it has ever been. There is embraced in Littlefield's territory a widely diversified economic area and extensive natural resources.

Among contributions made to Littlefield's development, the Texas Utilities Company has furnished dependable electric power to both the large as well as the small consumer. We are deeply interested in making this company of increasing benefit to Littlefield's future growth by continuing our policy of adequate and dependable service at reasonable rates.

Four Graduates of Lamb County Serve With U. S. Marines

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 18.—(Special to Leader). — Until Congress the Naval appropriation bill... the Marine Corps did not have the funds to keep its ranks filled. The navy appropriations will enable the Marine Corps to fill the vacancies which occurred during the period of enforced economy.

Major P. D. Cornell in charge of the Marine Corps District of New Orleans with offices and examining rooms at 535 St. Charles St. announces that two hundred of these vacancies have been assigned to his district which includes Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Mississippi.

Most of these vacancies will be filled from waiting lists of applicants who have already submitted evidence of their qualifications. Under the new appropriations, however, vacancies will be regularly filled so that the opportunity to serve in the Marine Corps which has been practically closed during the last year will be opened to qualified young men.

Applicants must be graduates of high schools or have equivalent or superior education, must be over 18 years old and over 66 inches tall. Evidence of educational and physical qualifications and also of character and standing in home community must be submitted by mail before applicants are admitted to the examining offices.

Four graduates of Lamb County high schools are now serving with the U. S. Marines. They are: Beaumont K. Anderson, John W. Keithley, and Edgar S. Arnn, graduates of Littlefield High School, and Charlie T. Cartwright, who graduated from Sudan High School. All were accepted for this service at New Orleans during the past year.

The Marine Corps is essentially an expeditionary force and its men are trained and equipped for duty on either land or sea. They are serving on the battleships, cruisers, and aircraft carriers; they are ashore in China, Philippine Islands, Hawaii, Panama, and the West Indies; they are serving at home station, such as San Diego, Cal., Quantico Va., Philadelphia, Pa., and Bremerton, Wash.

Driving With Worn Tires Is Hazardous Practice Says Garland

Squeezing the last mile out of that badly worn tire is costly and hazardous practice, according to B. D. Garland of Garland and White Auto Supply, Goodyear dealer here.

"Especially is this true, in the summer months," Mr. Garland says. "The danger of blowouts increases with rise of temperatures. Hot roads sap the elasticity and life from the fatigued cords in old tires. Cuts and bruises that have escaped notice are very likely to announce their presence with a loud bang at the most inopportune moment.

"The Supertwist cord used in construction of the Goodyear G-3, Airwheel, Pathfinder and Speedway lines is the best protection against blowouts that has yet been devised. This cord has up to 61 per cent more elasticity than ordinary tire cords and will stand terrific abuse.

"The tread of a tire must provide traction and protect the cord carcass or body, but it is this cord body that gives protection against blowouts. The tread may appear in excellent condition, but it will not keep a tire from blowing out if the carcass is cut inside or if the cords are badly fatigued from long use.

"Goodyear's new G-3 tire was designed especially to provide long wear for modern high speed automobiles and it has a Supertwist body of the strongest and most elastic tire cords that will give maximum protection against blowouts.

"A set of new tires put on an automobile now will eliminate the probability of tire trouble for the rest of the summer. It is no pleasant job to change tires on a hot dusty road—and that is the mildest consequence of a blowout," says Mr. Garland.
