Futures Market Versus Forward Contracts

Recent prices of cotton, wheat and grain sorghum have been the highest in over 100 years, according to Spencer Tanksley, County Extension Agent.

Farmers concerned about marketing this year's crop can use one of two methods to take advantage of these high prices even for crops that are not yet harvested. One method is to hedge on the futures market.

The other method is to forward contract with a buyer.

Hedging on the futures market is taking a futures market position equal to and opposite the producer's cash market position. For example, a farmer planning to sell wheat in December will sell December futures contracts to cover his inventory. In December, the farmer would then cancel this commitment by repurchasing the futures contracts and deliver his grain to his normal market.

A forward contract is a written agreement between the producer and the buyer to deliver a certain quantity at a specific future time for a particular price. Usually, these contracts are only fulfilled through actual delivery of the crop.

Both of these ideas have some advantages and disadvantages, and which method to use depends on how much you plan to produce, availability of local buyers who contract and several other factors.

"To explain both hedging on the futures market and forward contracting, we have some new publications available at our office prepared by agricultural economists of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service," says Tanksley.

Bob Cunningham, Professor of Theology and Bible Doctrine at the Arlington Baptist Schools, Bible Baptist Seminary, located in Arlington, Texas, will be conducting a series of Bible Centered Meetings at the Calvary Baptist Church located at the corner of 18th and Avenue C in Muleshoe.

The services will be held nightly September 19 through 22 beginning at 7:30 p.m. There will be singing furnished by groups.

Friday night the Gospel Tones from Plainview will furnish very special singing. Rev. Cunningham is the pastor of the Central Baptist Church in Arlington. He has three children, Carla, Paul and David. Rev. Cunningham is a relatively young man considering the accomplishments that he has attained. He received his bachelor's degree from Wayland and his masters from Bible Baptist Seminary. ## Pioneer Applies For Change In Adjustment

Pioneer Natural Gas Company has made application to all incorporated cities and towns served by its West Texas Transmission System to change the cost-of-gas adjustment provision of the general service rate, according to an announcement by K. Bert (Tex) Watson, company president.

For the last three years, the general service rate has been adjusted annually in April to reflect increases in the average cost of gas for the prior year. Pioneer's request would allow making this adjustment each month for the current monthly average cost of gas. According to the company, this change would more closely meet the objective of the original adjustment provision.

"Annual cost-of-gas adjustments," Watson explained, "will shortly penalize the company for aggressive competition for new gas supplies because of the lag between increases in the average cost of gas in the field and the time these increases may be passed on to the customers."

Watson made note of the increasing demand for natural gas and the critical gas supply shortage which has developed within the last few years. "There is increasing demand in the company's gas supply area for new gas that is being developed at much greater costs than existing supplies. Pioneer must be able to buy this new and more expensive gas and participate in more costly drilling and exploration activities in order to assure an adequate gas supply for its system customers. Fortunately, Pioneer has pipelines into two areas of good potential gas supply, and since the acquisition of new gas will be necessary to continue serving existing customers, this advantage should not be lost to Pioneer's service area by failure to meet going prices," Watson said.

If approved, the effective date of the new rate adjustments would be October 1, 1973, and the first adjustment would be applied to all bills rendered on or after that date. Since the end of 1972, the company's cost of gas has increased by about 2 1/2 cents per thousand cubic feet (MCF) and the first adjustment would therefore be about 3 percent of the average domestic price.

"In 1970, when we reached the original agreement on the cost-of-gas adjustment with the cities, it appeared that an annual adjustment would be appropriate," Watson said. "At that time, it was not predicted that the energy situation would develop so rapidly accompanied by the accelerated increase in the field cost of gas which makes it necessary for us to request this more current provision," Watson continued. "I think the spirit of the original agreement, to permit Pioneer to recover its increased costs for gas, is reflected in this request," Watson concluded.

Sec. Butz Describes New Agriculture Bill

The 1974 feed grain program provides producers with the opportunity to expand production, Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz said in announcing program details today.

There will be no set-aside requirement and no restriction on planting for the 1974 crop program and there will be no conserving base requirement for the 1974 through 1977 crop years, the duration of the Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973. These provisions were announced also for the 1974 wheat program on August 16 (see USDA press release 2543-73).

Barley will be included in the feed grain program for the duration of the Act.

The new legislation provides for establishing allotments for feed grains in the same fashion as for wheat. The allotment for 1974 is set at 89.0 million acres. The allotment for the feed grains is approximately 68 percent of the base acreage used in former feed grain programs. However, any payments will be paid on the full allotment; whereas, previously, payments were based on only 50 percent of the feed grain base. The feed grain allotment for 1974 does not represent a limit on acreage, but is computed only for the purpose of distributing payments to producers should such payments be required.

This allotment represents the number of acres, harvested for grain, of corn, grain sorghum, and barley based on the estimated national average yield, which would result in production equal to estimated domestic and export disappearance in the 1974-75 marketing year.

Should the average price received by farmers for corn, sorghum or barley be below the statutory target price for the first five months of the marketing year the difference

Moist, Damp Air Lags Over Area

Cool, damp air has lagged over the Muleshoe area for the last several days bringing a hint of fall weather to the area.

Cloudy skies have persisted for the last three days in the area bringing small amounts of moisture in scattered places.

No significant amounts of moisture have been recorded in the southern part of Bailey County this week, while the eastern part of the county have recorded over a half of inch of moisture this week.

Muleshoe had a shower Thursday which dropped about a .10 of an inch of rain, and another shower Friday night that again dropped about a .10 of an inch.

More showers were predicted for this weekend in this general area.

Oscar Allison, nine miles east of Muleshoe on Highway 70, recorded .6 of an inch of rain this week. He stated that the cotton was dry and needed the rain two weeks ago.

John Blackman of Bula reported that he had only received a light shower Friday and had not had any rain lately.

G.W. Wheeler who lives six miles west on FM1760 and a half mile north, reports that he has received .2 of an inch of rain during this wet spell.

W.L. Welch who lives three miles west of Enochs, reports that he received only a few showers which didn't even settle the dust.

Delbert Watson who lives 20 miles southwest of Muleshoe in Baileyboro, reported that he had not received any rain at all. He said the cotton was holding up, but it was really needing rain on it.

Mrs. H.C. Toombs who lives at Maple, reports that they only received a light shower on Friday.

Farmers are needing some rain on their crops at this time to finish the 1973 crops. With the lack of moisture these last few weeks, some

Duck Hunting Regulations More Restrictive This Year

Duck hunting regulations more restrictive than last year were announced today by Secretary of the Interior Rogers C. B. Morton.

Ducks experienced poor production on summer breeding grounds because of drought and fall flights are expected to be down 12 to 30 percent in the various flyways. Largest decreases are predicted for the Mississippi and Central flyways, with lesser decreases in the Atlantic and Pacific flyways.

The tightened regulations do not apply to geese. With favorable weather on their Arctic breeding areas, most goose populations experienced good production this year and fall flights are expected to be good. The season, however, will remain closed on Atlantic brant in order to rebuild the population of this species.

"Duck hunting regulations this year are designed to reduce the harvest in each flyway in proportion to the predicted decrease in fall flight," Secretary Morton said. "These reductions in harvest are necessary in order to return an adequate population to the breeding grounds in 1974," the Secretary added.

Officials of Interior's Fish and Wildlife Service caution that next year's regulations could be at least as restrictive as the 1973 rules, and possibly more so, depending on habitat conditions and duck production.

Framework regulations, within which States select their hunting seasons, are established by the Fish and Wildlife Service after recommendations are made by State wildlife agencies, flyway councils, and major private conservation organizations.

For the coming season, hunting of canvasbacks and redheads is forbidden entirely in the Atlantic flyway and in high harvest areas of the Central and Mississippi flyways. If enough high harvest areas can be identified to significantly reduce the kill, then limits of one canvassack and one redhead will be established for the rest of the Central and Mississippi flyways. Decisions will be made by the Fish and Wildlife Service in cooperation with State fish and game agencies.

In the Pacific flyway, the high harvest area policy will apply to canvassacks, but not to redheads, which have shown no decline in this flyway.

Copies of the Service's regulatory announcements, which appear in the Federal Register, may be obtained from its regional offices in Boston, Denver, Minneapolis, Albuquerque, Portland, and Atlanta, or from State fish and game agencies.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhill Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm thinks he has discovered a new international strategy.

Dear editor: Some people can't understand why the U.S. should have spent ten years and 100 billion dollars fighting the spread of Communism in Viet Nam and then turn around and sell the Communists in Russia all that wheat, but that's because they don't understand international strategy.

Russia right now, according to an article I read last night, is on the verge of the automobile age. The country now has 2 million private car owners, expects to double that by year after next, and is opening up new automobile plants.

All right. You can't build more cars unless you're well-fed, can you? The wheat deal was sound, although I know a banker or two around here who wouldn't have recommended selling it on credit.

But the point is, if we're going to maintain a balance of power, Russia has got to be overwhelmed with as many cars as we are.

How can you have a polluted city with only a fraction of the population driving cars to work? How can you even have a gasoline shortage? How can we maintain our balance of power if two-thirds of the Russians aren't tangled up in traffic jams?

No sir. Anything we can do to keep the Russians building more cars we ought to do. Ship them food, send them some technicians, teach them about assembly lines, and above all let them in on $100 down and 36 months to pay.

Then after they get their cars flowing off the assembly line by the thousands, get some road building equipment to them. There's no place on earth that won't attract a steady stream of traffic if you'll build a road to it. It's a proven fact: the more cars you build, the more highways you need, and the more highways you build, the more cars that'll show up to over-crowd them, from here to the setting sun.

No person in this country should rest easy till Russia is criss-crossed with multi-lane highways backed up with bumper-to-bumper traffic, with radiators boiling over. Balance of power demands it.

Yours faithfully, J.A.

Solutions To Cotton Diseases Sought By Research Scientists

LUBBOCK--Scientists at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station here say that research is turning up some answers to preventing heavy cotton losses on the South Plains.

Two diseases known as root-knot nematode and fusarium wilt, which often combine to wipe out entire crops on the High Plains, have been found vulnerable to soil fumigation practices using control chemicals, says Dr. Calvin Orr.

A nematologist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Orr says that field studies conducted from 1965 to 1972 in ten counties on the South Plains reveal that soil fumigation can increase cotton production yields an average of 150 pounds of lint per acre.

"Root-knot nematodes appear as galls or knots on the roots of cotton plants," he explains. "They cause a stunted growth pattern because the disease attacks the root tissues. The nematode also acts as a means of entry for the fusarium wilt."

"The fungus caused by the wilt will spread through the entire plant causing it to turn yellow and eventually die," he adds.

According to the researcher, the best results in abating these problem diseases were control practices which used soil fumigation.

"We applied the control chemicals using one chisel per row in soil with adequate moisture," he explains, "and when soil temperature was above 50 degrees."

"Another important aspect of the soil fumigation practice," he points out, "is pure economics. The total cost is less than four dollars per acre, and that alone should be enough incentive for saving a promising cotton crop."

Turning to fusarium wilt, Orr explains that the disease is much like a side effect of the nematode disease.

"Total crop losses have been known to occur when both diseases attack the plant," says the nematologist. "But, usually, the severity of the fusarium wilt is reduced when the disease damage wrought by the nematodes is brought under control."

"Some cotton varieties," continues Orr, "have a tolerance to the nematodes. However, many of these varieties are open-boll types and typically have a weaker fiber strength."

Rotating to grain sorghum was found to reduce nematode infestation in some cases, he adds. The sorghum is more tolerant to the disease than cotton or vegetable crops.

"However," he concludes, "root-knot nematodes will live and reproduce on the grain sorghum roots. If enough nematodes survive, the disease will almost always reoccur in next year's crop, even after the sorghum rotation."

South Plains Fair Offers Something For All Ages

LUBBOCK--Senior citizens will be honored guests at the 56th annual Panhandle South Plains Fair here Sept. 22-29, as directors of the non-profit exposition have carded a fifth "special day" for this year's eight-day run.

All area residents 60 and older will be admitted to Fair Park free on Sept. 27. Fair officials are arranging free entertainment in the bandstand area for the honored guests.

Fair general manager Steve L. Lewis pointed out that the other regular special days also will be observed.

"Area school day" will be Monday, Sept. 24, followed by two "Lubbock school days" on Sept. 25-26. "College day" and "military day" will be on Sept. 28.

Thousands of free gate passes are distributed annually to schools throughout the South Plains and eastern New Mexico. Area youths traditionally flock to the fair on the opening Monday, mostly because of the Parade of Bands, which officially launches the exposition.

Although the fair will be getting underway two days earlier this year, the parade is again scheduled on Monday. More than three dozen area high schools bands are expected to participate in the formation again this year, competing for $1,250 in cash awards being offered as premiums. Trophies are awarded to all participating bands in all UIL classifications.

Lubbock high school units participate but do not compete for the cash awards.

ATTEND CHURCH

"For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also"

The RESPECTED WORD

The bible is a book translated into every known language. It is the word that men have died for, in order that it may be available to all men. It is the textbook for God's people.

The bible, itself, is not worshipped, but is respected, for it is the story of God and his relationship to man. It is man's guide for worship and daily living.

Attend church regularly, study, and seek God's will in your life.

"I wait for the Lord, my soul doth wait, and in his word do I hope."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News

Farmcast

Compiled From Sources
Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

Add Another Three Million... It's One Hundred Million Above 1972... Fifty-four Per Cent More.

Crop production records in Texas continue to climb. For example, you can add another 3,000,000 bushels or so to the 1973 Texas wheat crop; add 100,000,000 bushels more to the grain sorghum crop; the corn crop in Texas is up 54 per cent this year from a year ago.

Latest estimate now on the wheat crop in Texas is 98,600,000 bushels. This is the second highest ever. Back in 1947-26 years ago-the Texas wheat crop totaled 116,960,000 bushels. Yield this year will be a new all-time record high of 29 bushels per acre.

Texas, the leader in the nation in grain sorghum, is out-doing itself this year in that commodity. Expected production now is forecast at 414,800,000 bushels. This compared with 319,780,000 bushels in 1972.

This year's estimate (it could even go higher) is the largest ever. Yield this year will average 61 bushels per acre, another record high. That means an average of 3,416 pounds per acre. Several reports indicate 5,000 to 6,000 pounds grain sorghum on dryland in Texas this year.

ADD 54 per cent on to the 1973 corn crop compared to 1972, says the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

Corn production in the state this year is forecast at 60,800,000 bushels. A record per acre average of 95 bushels per acre is expected for Texas this year, the highest ever.

COTTON crop for Texas this year is expected to reach 4,500,000 bales, which would be the largest crop since 1965. Acres for harvest are estimated at 5,500,000 compared with 5,000,000 acres in 1972. Yield is expected to average 400 pounds per acre, which is only the third time in history when Texas produced that much on a per acre basis.

TEXAS also continues to be ahead of the rest of the nation in cattle on feed. The latest report shows that there are 2,302,000 head of cattle and calves on feed in Texas. This is nine per cent above a year ago but one per cent below the number on feed a month ago.

Marketings of fat cattle during July totaled 389,000 head, which is five per cent above July of last year and three per cent above June, which again proves that Texas cattle producers are not holding cattle in spite of the price freeze.

Texas had almost 700,000 more cattle on feed as of August 1 than the second-ranking state, Iowa.

Nationwide, the number of cattle and calves on feed in the seven major cattle feeding states totaled 9,122,000 head. This is four per cent less than a month ago but two per cent more than a year ago at this time.

JULY milk production in Texas is up by only one per cent from a year ago, and is one per cent below the previous month, which continues to bear out predictions of lower milk production.

Nationwide, milk production during July is 3.3 per cent less than a year ago. The number of milk cows is also down 2.5 per cent from a year ago.

Pasture and range conditions over most of Texas are rated good to excellent. However, a large portion of West Texas is rated as poor to fair.

When we pray we should go to God unreservedly with our deepest need and what we desire is in our best interest, he is ready to help us. The reason is simple, he loves us. This little prayer verse is written by Ruby Jones, Daleville, Indiana.

"God grant me patience, let me be untroubled wait upon thy plan for me, Teach, me Lord, submission of my stubborn will to thine in sweet serenity. What a wonderful peace fills our hearts when we humble to God in prayer we are so filled with 'peace that passeth understanding' and find renewed courage that all is well with us and our God and we have renewed hope and faith to carry on each day as it comes."

Library News

by Anne Camp

New fall books are now arriving at the Muleshoe Area Public Library.

For the sports fan we have several good biographies, among them are "Jabber, Giant of the NBA" Lou Alcindor; "Great Upsets of the NFL" by Richard Kaplan; "Baseball's Greatest Sluggers" by Bill Libby; "The Jackie Robinson Story" by Arthur Mann; and the best seller by Lance Rintzel, "When all The Laughter Died in Sorrow".

Several very good non-fiction books have also been purchased; "Eleanor: The Years Alone", continues the story of the Roosevelts begun in "Eleanor and Franklin" by Joseph P. Lash. "Hour of Gold, Hour of Lead" by Anne Morrow Lindbergh will interest those who read her book "Bring me a Unicorn". "Ward 402" by Ronald J. Glasser, MD is the true and moving account of a young doctor's involvement in the life of an enchanting 11 year old girl afflicted with leukemia. On the lighter side, the author of the hilarious "At Wit's End" the irrepressible Erma Bonbeck reveals herself at her best in her new rendition of the daily domestic scene called "I Lost Everything in the Post-Natal Depression", you will enjoy it. "A Ranger Legacy" by D.E. Kilgore is a full account of the activities of the Texas Rangers from their formation in 1823 on through their years of service to Texas.

"Citizen Power" by Senator Mike Gravel challenges the American people to change political and social institutions, national priorities and economic relationships. He advocates among other dramatic proposals--a single tax, no deductions, no loopholes; public financing of elections--an end to the buying of politicians and a national referendum--citizen power to make the law.

Two great books of fiction, "The Music Within" by Elizabeth Borton DeTrevino, author of "My Heart Lies South", and Mary Stewart's latest, "The Hollow Hills."
