50 CANS ARE COLLECTED BY THE BOY SCOUTS

A clean-up campaign might not be very intensive for some but it meant much to the Boy Scouts of every variety and were in demand.

The Scouts had been around, getting cans lined up around Thursday and Friday. For any boy or girl got a free picture show Friday night. At 10 o'clock the empty cans began to pile up, and before seven o'clock 50,000 cans were on the street of the theatre.

This was only the beginning, since they were competing for the $8.50 in prizes offered by the Chamber of Commerce. It was previously agreed that all cans would be pooled and a flag purchased. The winner would have the honor of the flag to the troops.

50,000 cans collected, 45,000 collected by Scouts. Harry with his patrol, had 13,000 credit. Leo White, Harvey Harry Lucas, came in the lead. Allbright has donated a state flag to the Scouts of Lamb County and they will use the money to get a Scout flag.

INSURANCE RATE CASE IS SET FOR HEARING, MAR. 31

"Final hearing will be held March 31st by the State Insurance Commission on the application of the fire insurance companies for rate adjustments which will, in effect, increase fire insurance rates in Texas approximately five per cent. The decision to be rendered by the commission will be epoch-making and will be determined whether Texas insurance is to be handled in a business-like constructive manner in the future, or whether we shall continue the process of pyramiding rate increases in order to encourage millions of dollars worth of preventable fires," according to President Arthur P. Duggan, of West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

"The West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be on hand at the hearing to fight the battle for West Texas," said Mr. Duggan. However, we cannot win this fight alone. We must have the support of all West Texas towns as we never had it before. We are calling a conference of West Texas men interested in this all-important fight to be held in the Stephen F. Austin hotel, Austin, March 30, at 8:00 p. m., and all interested parties are urged to be there at that time. It is urged that all cities have a representative there. The East and South Texas Chambers of Commerce have been invited to join in the conference, and it is planned to formulate there a definite plan of procedure to be followed at the hearing the next day.

This is a matter that affects every property owner in Littlefield, said Mr. Duggan, and this city should have a representative at this conference and hearing.

TO ATTEND W. T. C. MEETING

Several of Littlefield's leading citizens are planning attending the Lower Plains convention of West Texas Chamber of Commerce, to be held at Crosbyton, April 7th.

It is stated by President T. S. Sales, of the local chamber of commerce, that a large number of cars have been engaged to go, and anyone not having transportation and desiring to join the party, if they will see Secretary C. E. Gatlin, accommodations will be furnished them.

Horses and mules are in sufficient supply now to meet farmer's needs the coming season, but the number of young stock is only large enough to replace about half the number of work stock now on farms.

BAPTIST REVIVAL SWEEPING ONWARD IN GREAT SUCCESS

The revival meeting at the Baptist church, under the direction of Rev. Charles E. Matthews and Prof. Jerry Cox, of Fort Worth, continues with cumulative interest and results. The services are all well attended and definite results are attained.

The day services, held down town, reach a large number of men. Practically all business houses are closed between ten and eleven o'clock, many of the business men attending. Up to the first of this week there had been 57 to unite with the church.

Sunday was a banner day. There were three services, all well attended. At the night service many were turned away for lack of accommodations, even standing room was not to be obtained. There were 35 to unite with the church during that one day.

At the Sunday school that morning there were 334 in attendance. Leading members say it was the biggest day in the history of the denomination in Littlefield.

Rev. Matthews is preaching some soul-stirring sermons that grapple at the very gates of human hearts yearning for admittance to lives that would be cleaner and holier. His appeals have a wide range and far-reaching effect, including all ages and classes of people. The music, under the direction of Prof. Cox, is a feature of the revival. There is a male quartette that renders special music each evening, and a choir of about 60 voices that leads in the general music, while the congregational singing is said to be the best ever heard in this section of country. People are coming from numerous surrounding communities to hear, participate and enjoy the service, and, aside from the special benefit to individuals, there is a general uplift coming to the entire community as a result.

EAGAN HOME IS BURNED

The J. J. Eagan home, five miles east of Littlefield, known as the old Pat Boone place, was destroyed by fire last Friday evening.

The fire was occasioned by an oil stove running up while Mrs. Eagan was absent from the house. Upon her return the entire room was in a blaze. Mr. Eagan, at the time of the fire was at the Yellow House gin, but seeing the blaze rushed quickly home. Only a little clothing, a table and a dresser were saved from the ruins.

Texas has ranked fifth among the states in population for the past three federal census periods.

SATURDAY WAS BIG BOOM DAY FOR THE LFD BUSINESS MEN

Last Saturday was a gala day for folks in Littlefield. Seemingly all the farmers for miles around had kicked off from their work and come to town, to trade, talk and generally enjoy the day. Main street was in a crowded condition for three blocks with vehicles and pedestrians, while on the side walks in many places it was next to impossible for people to pass each other, so dense were the throngs.

Many of the Littlefield business men declare it was one of the best, if not the best day for business so far this year. One business man, who may now be classed as an "old-timer," said the day reminded him of the boom days nearly three years ago.

With the opening of the spring weather everyone seemed to be optimistic regarding the future. As far as crop prospects go for the present, everything looks good. Winter grain crops are doing finely, thousands of acres are now ready for the planting, while numerous farmers are still picking their last year's cotton crop.

Many of the farmers are going in for diversification this year more than ever before. "I am sure going to live at home this year," one farmer said to a Leader representative. Another declared he had put all his eggs in one basket for the last time. One farmer told of borrowing money with which to buy stock, while still another explained how he was starting a system of crop rotation on his farm.

Practically every business man in Littlefield is looking forward to increased business during the coming months. Many of the larger mercantile stocks of this little city are quite complete, and some are already placing advanced orders for fall goods on the strength of the present future outlook.

In an interview with more than 50 people found on the streets last Saturday afternoon, the Leader representative failed to find a single person whose future outlook was gloomy. Everyone seemed to be looking forward with high hopes for a profitable year.

STORES CLOSE AT 6:30 P. M.

Beginning April 1st, several of the leading mercantile establishments of Littlefield have agreed to close their places of business at 6:30 p. m., in order that the proprietors and assistants may have the evenings off from duty.

Those agreeing to close are: Lamb County Mercantile Co., Cuenod's Dry Goods Co., The Fair Store, Burleson-Mason Co., C. E. Ellis, Clark & Haile, and City Barber Shop.

It is understood that the lumber yards have agreed to close at 6:00 p. m. Some other business concerns agreed to close, but some of their competitors refused to sign the agreement, thus forcing them to remain open in the interest of their own business.

TODAY'S FORD CAR

Before You Buy Any Make of Automobile, Let Us Show You Today's Ford Car

You may consider that you know Ford Cars. You may have been a Ford owner for years and think you are familiar with the splendid satisfaction which the Ford gives, and yet unless you have made it a point to examine the Ford Car as it is BUILT TODAY—to drive it and note its improved engine performance —relax in it over rough roads, and experience the increased comfort which it affords, and to learn of the many recent improvements, you do not know the Ford Car as it is built today.

Many of the new Ford Car features are obvious—balloon tire equipment—wire wheels—pyroxylin finish—a choice of colors—improved upholstery, etc., but the big satisfaction to you, as the owner of Today's Ford Car is to be found in the way in which it will fill your expectations of what a modern motor car should be. You will be amazed at the increased power resulting from the new Vaporizer, the smoother engine operation, the increased gasoline mileage, the improved riding qualities, and above all, in the way in which the car handles and performs in traffic and on the open road.

In short, you must drive a new Ford Car to be a fair judge of present-day motor car values.

PURITANISM

By Charles Faust

The Puritan age covered a period of about 57 years. James I was the king of England at the beginning of the Puritan age. His stubbornness and folly not only ended the intense patriotic feeling of previous reign,
but laid the foundation for the deadly conflict that resulted.

James I believed and ruled by divine right, he also believed that no one could deprive him, no matter how outrageously he ruled, and that he was not responsible to Parliament or the people in any way. This believe caused him to drive hundreds from the church, he trampled on the religious liberty. Charles I succeeded the throne, he was a son of James
I and was a much worse ruler.

When Charles I came to the throne
people began to go to New England
in order to maintain religious freedom. In 1642 a civil war broke out between the Puritans on one side and the kings, nobles and adherents of the church on the other. The Puritans were victorious under the wonderful leadership of Oliver Cromwell.
At the close of this struggle Charles I was beheaded and Cromwell became protector of the Commonwealth, and John Milton, greatest writer of this age, became secretary. The Puritan age ended in 1660 when Charles II came to the throne.

The period was called the Puritan age because they wished to establish a pure form of religion. The people of this age accepted the policy of Jno.
Calvin, which was No human power could intervene between any human soul and God, that life was an individual struggle, the outcome of which should land in heaven or hell eternally.

The literature of the Puritan age
may be said to be the strictest literature we have record of. The literature of this age was very serious and melancholy. The prose of this age consisted of religious and philosophical subjects. One may get a good example to all kinds of literature of the Puritan age by reading the works of John Milton.

The poetry of this age consisted mostly of lyrics, the writers of this age were opposed to sonnets. John Milton and Ben Johnson were some of the most important poets of this age. There was also a group of poets of this age called the Cavalier poets.
They were so called because they sympathized with the cavaliers or the followers of Charles I. Robert Herick was the greatest poet of this group.

Life of Milton

John Milton, the second greatest writer of England, was born in 1608 in the city of London. Milton was from a wealthy family, his father followed the business of a scrivener, and drew wills and deeds and investment money for clients.

Milton proved to his parents to be a very smart boy, he acted like he was guided by high ideals. His parents employed the best teachers to instruct him at home. At the age of 16
he was fully prepared to enter Christ College at Cambridge, where he got both B. A. and M. A. degrees.

When Milton had finished at Cambridge he went to Horton to live with his father, but he felt that he had another mission to perform. His father provided sufficient funds for him to maintain five years at Horton. These years were spent in studying and in writing early poems. Later he went abroad, he went to Italy, where all Englishmen thought the center of art and culture. His visit was short, as he had to return and take part in the Great Conflict that was going on at home. Milton became totally blind in 1660. In his old age he was cared for by his friends.

Milton's work is the best literature of the Puritan age. Some of his most important works were: "Lycidas,"
"L'Allegro," and "Il Penseroso."
Taken from the High School Wildcat.

The Methodist missionary society met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. F. Arnn, the lesson for the day being taken from the Missionary Voice. Mrs. E. H. Williams was the leader.

Mrs. Francis Tolbert favored the ladies present with a reading.
Refreshments were served.

The next meeting will be held at the church, with Mrs. B. L. Cogdill, leader, and the subject will be "Moslem Women."

The Henderson, residing on the Spade lands, east of Littlefield, was taken as an attached witness to Sweetwater Monday night by Sheriff
Len Irvin, to testify in the L. A. Kirk murder trial transferred to that place from Rannels county.

CHURCHES TO JOIN
IN A REVIVAL HERE
BEGINNING APRIL 3

Under the auspices of the Christian churches of Lamb county, an evangelistic campaign will be launched at Littlefield, Sunday, April 3rd,
to continue one week.

A similar meeting was conducted at Amherst in March which resulted in 32 additions to that church.

The members in reach are requested to help make the Littlefield meeting a great success. On opening Sunday the churches throughout the county are urged to have early services and come to Littlefield for the 11:00 o'clock service. Dinner will be served on the ground to take care of the visitors, while the afternoon will be spent in singing, praying and special talks of interest to the work in this county.

Services throughout the week will be held at ten o'clock a. m., and at eight p. m., at the Christian church located two blocks east of the last brick, going south on the main business street in Littlefield.

STATES DO HAVE FLAGS, SAYS THE
CHICAGO TRIBUNE

States do have flags, officially adopted, says the Chicago Tribune,
in reply to a query sent that newspaper by C. E. Gatlin.

Whether or not such was a fact
has been rather a disturbing question in certain local circles recently. Not that it makes any particular difference, so far as Littlefield citizens are concerned, but just the satisfaction of having one's curiosity gratified after the question has been raised means something. Some said each state had its own official flag, others declared contrariwise; a large number didn't know. Now the information is at hand, furnished by the Bureau of one of the great metropolitan newspapers considered authority.

States having official flags are Alabama, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Delaware, Florida, Georgia,
Indiana, Idaho, Illinois, Louisiana,
Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana,
Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire,
New Jersey, North Carolina, North
Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Washington,
Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island,
South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

Iowa, Arizona, Kansas, New Mexico and Kentucky have no state flags.
Indiana and Washington have adopted the regular U. S. flag as their state flag.

BOOZE FLOWS WHEN RAIDS MADE BY THE
SHERIFF AND DEPUTY

The hand of the law, in the person
of Sheriff Len Irvin and his deputies,
made two near captures of booze Saturday.

Late Saturday evening Irvin, accompanied by his deputy, Walraven, gave chase to a suspicious looking Chevrolet coupe, overtaking it about a mile east of Littlefield on the state highway. Two men were in the coupe, but when they arrived they found only the remains of three quart whiskey bottles in the car,
according to Irvin, while the contents were slowly seeping out through the floor boards.

That night Irvin and a couple of deputies surrounded a house in Littlefield for the purpose of making a raid, but when the signal was given it was discovered, too late, that 20 gallons of whiskey had been destroyed.

The highest yearly record for milk
production is about 37,000 pounds, or some nine or ten times as much as the average cow weighs. Some cows, it is estimated, give as little as 1,000 pounds of milk a year.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Woe unto them that join house to house, that lay field to field, till there be no place, that they may be placed alone in the midst of the earth.

Isa. 5:8

The self-sufficing man suffers more from his selfishness than he from whom that selfishness withholds some important benefit.—Emerson.

UPSETTING COURTS

Practically every state in the Union is interested in the decision of the U. S. Supreme Court, handed down a few days ago, to the effect that mayors of villages who receive a part of the fines assessed in liquor law violations are without jurisdiction and cannot try such cases. So far as it affects the wet and dry question it is interesting, but it is far more interesting to know that an attempt is to be made to extend it to cover magistrates and justices of the peace throughout the land. The court is also expected to hold at an early date that any officer who receives as a fee a part of the fine he imposes is without jurisdiction.

For one thing it means a general breaking down of the old system of magisterial courts, and trials conducted by justices of the peace. Many Littlefield motorists claim to see in it the abolition of auto "speed traps" the bane of the motoring public. If a justice depends on the fine for his fee there isn't anything left for him to do but quit the job, serve without pay or else some provision be made for him to receive a stated salary for his services. And in these busy times when keeping the wolf from the door is harder than it ever was, few men are so patriotic as to be willing to serve for nothing. Hence if the legislature cannot help the justices, they are in a bad fix.

It is a widespread decision, and we are certain to hear a great deal about it from now on. The fact that it may have a direct bearing on the taxpayers of the entire country, thru a reduction of state and county expenses, makes it worth watching.

A New York paper says more women are buying more dresses on the installment plan than ever before. And more of them seem to be wearing them that way.

WATCH THE CHILD

Children are supposed to be taught not to leave the sidewalk unless they are holding the hands of their elders, and it is also supposed that all parents point out to their offspring the danger of walking in the street or road. Most children try to obey instructions, but their little minds are apt to forget about danger; it is hard for them to think of anything but play.

This is especially true now, when there is a little touch of spring in the air and when it is real punishment to keep them indoors any more than is absolutely necessary. It is therefore necessary that our auto drivers exert unusual vigilance. No matter what the children may be doing on the sidewalks or along the roadsides now, even if they seem to be sitting quietly, motorists should play safe and keep as near the center of the street as possible. A child might suddenly jump up and dart out unaware of consequences. Blowing the horn may be more confusing than it is a warning. This should be avoided and, instead, extreme caution prevail.

It will be well for Littlefield motorists to keep their minds on the children, because the children do not always keep their minds on danger.

They think only of play, and for that reason drivers must think for themselves and the children, too.

You can't always tell. Some men are ruined because they can't get credit and others are ruined because they can.

NEVER TOO OLD

It ought to be joyous news to the Littlefield man who has passed his 50th milestone to learn that the University of Pennsylvania has just concluded a survey in which it is shown that the nation's biggest business organizations are in the hands of men whose average age is 60 years.

The average age of the presidents of financial institutions is 64; railroads, 63; manufacturing plants, 59; and banks, 55.

So, perhaps from now on this talk about this being a "young man's world" won't be accepted as much of an argument. There are, of course, greater opportunities for the young man than ever before, but it is poor judgement to assume that a man is ready to be shelved and that he is no longer useful after he passes his fiftieth birthday.

In fact, there is a lot of truth in Henry Ford's statement that "It is unusual for a man to have much judgement until he is around 50."

One thing you learn in the School of Experience is that the quickest way to find out a man isn't to be trusted is to trust him.

HOUSEHOLD REMEDIES

No matter how it strikes you, there are still a lot of old-fashioned household remedies that should be perpetuated, and the approach of spring is a good time to see that they are in the house.

Every medicine chest should contain materials for making mustard plasters; castor oil ought to have a place on its shelves, and there should be all means a bottle of turpentine. Then, too, a good healing salve and a bottle of Jamaica ginger for use in cramps or stomach ills should not be overlooked. No medicine chest is complete without some good liniment, or a bottle of arnica for sprains and bruises.

These items are the "staples" in every medicine chest, and the Littlefield family that spends a few cents now in order to have them on hand in case of emergency is spending just that much for protection.

Another definition of a "high society woman" is one with nothing to do and who wouldn't do it if she had.

LITTLE LEADERS

Our advice to citizens of Littlefield is never to put off mending their ways until their ways are worn out.

About the finest compliment that can be paid to any Littlefield boy is to say he is a comfort to his parents.

About the first thing a Littlefield boy learns about girls is that they won't scream as often as they threaten to.

When a Littlefield girl's mother weighs 250 and her father 125 she delights in arguing that she takes after her father.

We are continually hearing about "permanent waves" in Littlefield when what we really need is more permanent waves.

Another reason why most Littlefield boys prefer winter to spring is

Dr. Frank Crane Says

Give Them Credit—These Flappers

Mr. Bruce Findlay, assistant superintendent of Los Angeles schools in an address the other day asked:

"Why should we assume that the flapper of 1927 will make a poorer mother than the 'flapper' of yesterday, who has been her mother?"

There is just as much to the modern girl as there ever was to her ancestor. The fact that she wears short skirts and bobs her hair is not against her. She wears less clothing than her ancestors and is consequently much healthier.

She is more addicted to outdoor sports with beneficial results. Altogether the modern flapper of today is just as well prepared for motherhood as was her mother, and better than she.

There is no more danger to a girl from taking an automobile ride than there was from taking a buggy ride.

Of course dissipation and late hours are bad for anyone, and in proportion as a woman indulges in this is she endangering her health and endangering her posterity.

But take it all in all, the girl of today is quite as sensible as her mother of yesterday, and we may look forward with confidence to the future of the race.

It never was in better hands. Those of today are just as serious-minded as their mothers were the day before.

Virtue is not to be founded upon ignorance but upon knowledge, and if the girl of today knows more than her mother did it helps her and does not hinder her.

She is prepared to be a man's partner and equal, and not his slave and plaything, and in this respect she has the advantage over former years. As far as I am concerned, the girls of today are healthier, better looking and more desirable as companions than were the girls of yesterday.

This old world is bumping merrily along and some things about it some people don't like, but on the whole it is improving.

TEST O' TEN QUESTIONS

Here is a test of memory, intelligence, and general knowledge, that will provide fun and entertainment for all by giving you an opportunity to test your knowledge in competition with others. These questions will cover a wide range of information. How many of them can you answer without seeking recourse to the encyclopedia or dictionary? The answers will be found on the last page of this newspaper.

1. How many oceans are there? What are they?
2. Who was the first woman to swim the English Channel?
3. Who said, "To the victors belong the spoils?"
4. What is the Latin phrase for "Whether God or Thoo?"
5. Who is the president of the United Steel Corporation? Who is chairman?
6. Who wrote "So Big?" In what year?
7. Who is Secretary of the Treasury of the United States, and where is his home?
8. What famous art gallery is in Washington, D. C.?
9. What colleges are referred to as "The Big Three" in football?
10. Who was the composer of the "Unfinished Symphony"?

there's no such thing as sulphur and molasses in winter.

What has become of the old-fashioned Littlefield girl who was referred to as a "Tomboy" just because she was unusually active?

With the coming of Spring weather again, the Leader suggests the re-instituting of Trades Day. This day is a good feature, and should be made much of every month.

Saturday auction sales are becoming quite common in Littlefield. They are a good thing, in more ways than one, affording an excellent medium of exchange for town and country people as well as better opportunities of becoming better acquainted. Let them continue!

It seems that the real trouble with the city ordinance requiring refuse to be burned in wire or iron containers is that it should require every business man and householder to use that container at least once a week. Only by constant burning of waste material can the town be actually kept clean.

Now that the legislature has passed a bill providing 15 year certificates at five and one-half per cent for paving purposes, perhaps there will be a chance to pave Main street in Littlefield. This would figure out only about 18 cents per day, and what business man would begrudge 18 cents daily for the benefits of paving in front of his concern?

Now that spring is coming, the tourists have also begun coming, and with them comes the opportunity for courtesy from Littlefield citizens. Most of them will spend a little money in our midst, and they will ask lots of questions. To say the least, it will be good advertising for our town for us to be as courteous as possible to them. As they journey onward, or should they ever return they will have a kindly feeling toward our town.

Just now this town is being flooded by numerous agents and solicitors who keep housewives busy answering front door knocks, and some of them are buying, thus depriving local concerns of their rightful patronage. Why not the Chamber of Commerce make another round of the residences, posting up the little placards, "No Solicitors Wanted," or words to that effect. It would cost nothing but a little time as they already have the cards.

Apparently the country patrons of the Littlefield independent school district are determined to elect an all country ticket at the trustees election to be held next Saturday, and largely on the grounds of past needless expenditures. If such are true, it should be as much to the interest of the town patrons to cut out the needless expenditures as it is to the country folks. Whether the trustees elected come from town or country they should be people capable of giving the very best school possible at the lowest required expense.

Lubbock seems to be having a bunch of trouble with a certain state traffic officer operating in that municipality. So much so, in fact, that the chamber of commerce, of the Hub city, has seen fit to advise the public generally that the city is not responsible for his purported rash acts, and "guest cards" have been sent out to numerous citizens of surrounding towns, advising them of their immunity from traffic rules broken through ignorance. The Leader received one of these cards, and we will take particular pains to see that we have it on our person whenever we travel in that direction. Coming from the country, as we do, we realize the need of all protection possible. Thanks to our friend Davis, he always did know we were somewhat countryified.

Ninety-four and eight-tenths per cent of the population of Hartley county lives in the country, that county leading in Texas in percentage of rural population.

Two Irishmen, recently arrived in America, were traveling along a country road one cold morning when, as they were passing a house, their conversation was interrupted by the sudden appearance of several dogs. Everything you expect from your MOTOR FUEL

MOTORISTS who drive the year 'round with Conoco Gasoline know they are getting their money's worth. They know it because Conoco never fails in any of the three important tests upon which Gasoline should be judged.

Conoco starts without overtaxing the battery; it delivers a snappy pick-up for traffic driving; it releases full power to the pistons with the resulting extra mileage.

Is it any wonder that car owners who know invariably fill their tanks at the Conoco sign.

QUESTION~
 What is it that makes the difference between profit,
 and loss to the Dairyman?

ANSWER~
 "The Extra Cream that either Goes into the Cream can or into the skimmilk"

THERE is a question whether or not you are getting all the cream from your milk. You can answer it easily and without cost. Just ask us to bring out a new De Laval Separator and run your skim-milk through it.
 You may be surprised at the cream recovered. Hundreds have tried this plan and have found they were losing from $25 to $200 per year.

The new De Laval is the best separator ever made, since Dr. De

 THE ONE THEY TALK ABOUT

Here I Am!

Now It's Up To You.

I am a baby chick just out of the egg. Nature has filled my little bread basket with enough food to last 72 hours. Then it's up to you.

If you feed me a dirty mash or table scraps, I'll probably die.

But if you start me on Purina Chick Startena and feed me according to the Purina Plan, the chances are nine to one that I'll grow up and make you money.

Don't feed me anything for 72 hours. Then start me on Purina Chick Startena, the dependable starting mash containing buttermilk and cod liver oil.

WHAT IS DOING IN WEST TEXAS

By West Texas Chamber of Commerce

BARSTOW—A 4,200 acre tract has been opened here recently for colonization by farmers.

ROPEVILLE—Work is progressing nicely on the new Ropeville high school. The school is under direction of Superintendent C. V. Roberts and is working for state affiliation.

EASTLAND—The Eastland County News has made its appearance in the press of West Texas. It is a constructive sheet devoted to the interests of the farmer, rancher and poultryman.

CRANE CITY—A large delegation of McCamey Chamber of Commerce men visited here recently to help organize a local chamber of commerce. It voted to affiliate with the West Texas body. This town is now one of the West's leading activity points.

SWEETWATER—Monte Owen, former secretary of the Colorado Chamber of Commerce, is on the job as secretary of the Sweetwater Board of City Development. Owen succeeds W. Scott Barcus who now holds the secretaryship at Pampa.

CROSS PLAINS—Pres. Arthur P. Duggan and Manager Homer D. Wade of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and party, initiated a tour of the "Heart of Texas" district here March 23, following the banner Baird convention. The good will trip embraced from that point, Rising Star, Cisco, Gorman, Comanche, Brownwood, Mercury, Brady and Lampasas.

DUBLIN—R. H. Milhollin, vocational agricultural teacher here, has resigned his position to become Hale County agricultural agent. He takes the place left vacant when Paul Huey went to Dallas as field editor of the Progressive Farmer. Milhollin has scored a number of successes in boys club work and animal husbandry since he has been at Dublin. He will continue the monumental dairy project undertaken in Hale county.

FORT DAVIS—The major projects of the Fort Davis chamber of commerce, recently affiliated with the W. T. C. of C., are: securing a designated Federal highway, which shall connect with the Bankhead at Pecos, running through Balmorhea, Fort Davis, Marfa, and Shafter to Presidio; increased hotel facilities for tourists; increased school facilities; building cottages for the benefit of tourists, and a golf course.

BAIRD—Record-breaking crowds thronged the streets of Baird, March 23rd, at the Oil Belt district convention of West Texas Chamber of Commerce, which was declared by officials of the organization to be the most largely attended and the most enthusiastic district meeting ever held. Flags, bunting and town colors streamed from every corner. Seven live bands, from Abilene, Ranger, Moran, Dublin, Cisco, Cross Plains and the host town kept Baird alive with music. Luncheon was served to a mammoth crowd in the Baird tabernacle; some 700 guests were banqueted, while only 500 were expected. A number of distinguished West Texans were present and on the program. Dublin won the 1928 district meet of the "Oil Belt" after a close struggle with Moran for that honor.

FAT IN BEEF

Yellow fat in a beef cut or carcass usually denotes low grade beef from a grass-fattened animal. Firm white tallow in a beef cut, with small veins of this fat appearing throughout the substance of the meat, denotes beef of a superior grade, and such meat is usually tender and palatable.

C. W. Toews Tells of Journey Northward to Canada Visiting Friends

The Leader is this week in receipt of the following letter from C. W. Toews, one of the older settlers of this section who, with his family, is spending the spring months in Kansas:

Inman, Kansas, 3-22-27
 Lamb County Leader,

Dear Editor: Will drop you a few lines to let you and your readers know of our whereabouts.

We had a good trip coming here. The roads were good with a few exceptions. We stopped off at Chickasha Okla., where we visited a few days on our way, coming through some fine looking wheat fields. The best wheat we saw was around Enid and Kingfisher, Okla. Wheat also looks very good here and at Hillsboro. People here sure have faith in chickens. Nearly every farm has a modern chix house, housing from 300 to 600, and some up to 1,000 chickens. There are also some very good cows, altho we have just as good cows in our Jerseys in Texas, and chickens, too around Littlefield. We sure have the Kansans beat when it comes to water.

We are making side trips from here, where we have rented a house, and are going to Montezuma, in the western part of Kansas, to visit some friends next week. As soon as the roads are safe we are going north.

We have had lots of rain since coming ere; had a heavy rain and sleet storm on the 18th, which did damage to telegraph, telephone and to early fruits.

Will close for this time. With best wishes to Editor, friends and readers of my home paper—the Lamb County Leader, I am, Yours truly,

—C. W. Toews.
